Haar profeten dan worden afgezonderd en ondergaan haar vuurproeven. Een ander monotheïsme van Sekhmet is Hormohun, en weer een ander de Exercio. Verder : de Humhuf, de Spinaash, de Hirshan, de Notel, de Abmehuf, de Kaneratesh, de Hemehulfen, de Inersche, de Fama'us, de Ochtonde, de Meershehin, de Marinschik, de Heftuschup, de Ilklandeheb, de Kamil, de Ernstehensch, de Farin, de Ma'usga, de Tefehusch, de Harschin, de Helmd'ku, de Fatinhas, de Fanheld, de Oktogus, de Iklim, de Fiksch'hen, de Fiktaha'us, de Filmschen, de Ra'akt, de Belsch'lehum, de Fiktahu'us, de Fiktahes'us, de Fiktafahin, de Fiktadirma, de Fiktavanel, de Fiktaconvus, de Fiktavakolus, de Fiktavaninehes, en zo zijn er nog vele monotheismen in de Fiktacirkel. Verdere monotheïsme-cirkels van Sekhmet zijn : Nistan, Sansak, Ikta, Liptide, Ibsmi, Henschduo, Hirksch, Hersch, Fa'unaut, Fa, Nive, Herschi, Her, Herm, Hirsch, Fanit.

Sekhmet

1.

'T schrijnt, ik ben hier lang niet geweest. Al haar monotheismen liggen hier op de grond, en de hond staat er nog steeds. 'T is vreemd, ik was in deze winkels, nu ruik ik weer, dat vreemde weer. Ik ben hier zo lang niet geweest, wat ze hier niet allemaal kopen, relikwieën van haar monotheismen. Al dezen leven in een andere wereld. Ik sta nu achter glas, maar als de hond mij ziet, zal hij het glas wel breken. Hij was altijd mijn jeugdvriend geweest. Oh, kom terug.

Waarom ben ik blauw, als ik in de spiegel kijk, waarom ben ik rood, als ik weerspiegel in het glas. Waarom heeft zij mij ooit weggestuurd hier. Ik mocht daar niet meer komen. De aardslangen zijn hier, machines die draaien, koning chocola is het gras aan het maaien. Ik ben er zolang niet geweest. Maar nu kijk ik weer in dat vreemde vizier, toen hij tot me sprak : je bent morgen vrij. Op vakantie nam hij mij, naar dat vreemde eiland. Nu ben ik nergens meer welkom. Alleen de droom verdedigt mij, tot het vierde materialisme ben ik bijna gekomen. Zij die in het derde staan, strekken zich uit naar het vierde, om tot de vierde alverzoening te gaan. Op een hoge berg sta ik, de zee is diep. Ik draag het vreemde vizier, en het vreemde boek, waaruit de bellen zachtjes stromen. In de zee van chocolade, Sekhmet neemt mij mee.

2.

Zoveel spiegels staan hier. Zovelen zijn hier gestorven, een vreemde reuk, een doodsgedicht. Ik las het laatst, het nam mij mee, tot de ruimtes der aardslangen, daar waar zij beven en hyperventileren. Zij kunnen niet, nee zij kunnen niet, tegen het licht. Haar letters stijgen omhoog, ik kan weer ademen en spreken, maar ik zal niet meer preken, geen uitleg geven, alles is overbodig. Ik zoek naar woorden om te vluchten, zachte woorden, die wegzakken, in de zee van chocolade. Zij keek me aan, het boek werd opengeslagen. Zij was van de vierde alverzoening, en leidde mij tot de aardslangen en hun tongen. Een vreemde taal spraken zij. In mijn buik begon het hard te worden, zo verspreiden zij. Door mijn voeten stegen zij naar boven, om alles hard te maken, maar mijn adem werd steeds zachter, en zij haalden de doorn uit mijn stem, een zachte vulkaan. Nu kan ik je weer volgen, jou, van de vierde alverzoening, loop niet weg, je moet me leren, vanuit de aarde alles te doen.

Waarom ben ik blauw, in het licht van de lantaarnpaal, als Nut voor me staat, de grote profeet. Waarom ben ik rood, in het licht van de scheepslantaarn, als Nut voor me staat, de grote profeet, en Sekhmet kijkt, en alles verbleekt. Kun je mij leren, vanuit de aarde te leven, vanuit de aarde te spreken. Een grote vrouw is zij. Ik ben in haar verdwaald. Niemand vond mij.

3.

Zij doopt mijn problemen in chocolade, zij laat mijn oren hangen, de sappen van planten stromen door mij, mijn hoofd is stijf, mijn spieren stijfgetrokken. Ik schrik als zij tot mij spreekt. Dit ben ik niet gewend. Altijd weggedreven, als Nut te lang, te ver weg. Zij doopt mijn problemen in chocolade, tot de vierde alverzoening ga ik. Tot Izu bijna teruggekomen.

Zij doopt mij in chocolade, waar aardslangen zwemmen, waar honing druipt, waar piano's hongerig spelen, waar de doden komen om nog één keer te spreken, voor de laatste keer, en dan duiken zij, tot een eiland in een paradijs. Zij vallen stijf, als bomen, krijgen zij een nieuw lijf. Door aardslangen aangevreten, zochten zij een nieuw huis, als zaad op een vreemde akker. Morgen zal het vakantie zijn. De scholen gesloten, chocolade drijft door de straten, en ik kijk door het vreemd vizier. Lang ben ik hier niet geweest.

4.

Hier ruik je de zeeparfum, hier ruik je de reuk van verleden tijden. Ik begrijp het niet, de monotheismen in de vierde alverzoening gelijk. Zij strijden niet, er is hier vrede, in de vierde dood elkaar vergeten. Over hel en tegenstand niet veel gesproken, als vulkanen uit de grond. De trappen breken, in de vierde dood. In diepe vergetelheden, vonden zij hun nieuw lijf, hun monotheïsme, allen gelijk. Waar piano's hongerig spelen, waar de doden komen om nog één keer te spreken, voor de laatste keer, en dan duiken zij, tot een eiland in een paradijs. Zij vallen stijf, als bomen, krijgen zij een nieuw lijf. Door aardslangen aangevreten, zochten zij een nieuw huis, als zaad op een vreemde akker. Morgen ben je weer thuis, en zal het lang vakantie wezen, scholen gesloten, chocolade voortgedreven door de wind, kijkende door het vreemd vizier. Lang ben ik hier niet geweest. Met jou liep ik altijd buiten, met jou ging ik, maar jij bent daar nooit meer geweest.

5.

Liever een zonde, liever een groot geluk, geen verlichting zochten zij. Zij stonden onder hoge druk, als Sekmeth langs de rijen komt, zij zendt hen allen naar huis, als soldaten vallen zij om. In de vierde alverzoening staat zij, en zij staat aan jouw kant, maar ook aan die andere kant. Probeer de duivel te vergeten, alles wordt hier chocola, als een grote machine, komt zij ook bij jou. Je weigerde, je probeerde te vluchten. Rennen zoals je nog nooit rende, maar je was als aan de aarde geplakt. Zij staat aan jouw kant, maar ook aan de kant van die andere. In de vierde alverzoening staat zij. Zeg, zou je nog tegen haar vechten, gij van het derde, als gij zo plakt aan de grond. Vooruit komen doet gij niet. Scheidt mij dan Geb en Nut, maar laat hen in dromen tot elkaar komen, vindende het geluk.

Zij kwam in jouw huis, en het huis van de ander. Zij bracht de speld diep, om de vulkaan boven de grond te krijgen. Met het vreemde vizier zag je haar.

II Sekhmet

1.

Een herdershond met Boeddha, een herdershond met veel verstand, als Anubis, zij is het vergeten, het schip is gestrand. De morgen zal het leren, de morgentoon, het mercuriusstrand. Snel ging ze daar vandaan, om haar verstand op te halen. Mercurius is in haar hand, Venus is in haar verstand. Jupiter daar droomt ze over, wanneer de arenden komen, en de raven snellen tot het bos, waar zij het overvloedige en overmatige hebben geroken. Weest spaarzaam met je woorden en daden, opdat ze je schuilplaats niet vinden. Zij doet een blad voor je mond.

Een herdershond met Boeddha, een herdershond, met heel veel land, als Anubis, zij is het vergeten, zij wandelde aan het strand. Mercurius was in haar ogen, daarmee heeft ze elk lied bedrogen, haar stem kon niet meer, teveel takken hingen er aan vast. Tot de tongen der aardslangen ben ik gegaan, waar chocolade de gaten vult.

2.

Een herdershond met Boeddha, een herdershond, Mercurius spreekt. Haar schepen zijn gezonken, de aarde is al wat zij heeft, waar haar aardslangen beven en hyperventileren, en zij zich niet meer kan beheersen. Als een vulkaan is zij.

Een herdershond, met Boeddha, een herdershond, Mercurius beeft. Zij heeft het geheim gezien. Zij heeft het leed geleden.

Een sterrenhemel gaf zij mij, een chocolade-hemel, met witte chocolade, waarin de letteren zich verspreiden. Vertel me nog één keer je naam. In de vierde dood ben ik alles vergeten. Een herdershond met Boeddha, zeilen in een schip. Ik weet het wel, 't is Anubis, en zij is Sekhmet, het schip.

3.

Probeer het nog een keer te begrijpen. Lees het nog een tweede keer, dat wat je denkt dat jou verslindt, dat is je wapen. Grijp dan nu je wapen. Zeil nog één keer mee, naar 't strand van Mercurius, dromende over Jupiter, met Sekhmet als je hemel, met Sekhmet als je schip. Snel zul je het vergeten, in de vierde dood vergeten, maar lees het dan een derde keer, en verlang naar het vierde.

Zij weten niet wat ze missen, zij die het nooit hebben gehad. Zij leven voort zonder iets te zeggen. Dromen doen ze niet, maar zij door honden gebeten, zien alles door het vreemde vizier. Wacht dan op de tongen der morgen, wacht dan op de reis der aardslangen. Langzaam zul je alles weer vergeten, langzaam zul je alles weer herinneren, langzaam zal het je veranderen, langzaam zul je leven vanuit de aarde.

HET SEKHMET TESTAMENT

III Sekhmet

1.

Zij dan komt van het vierde om de derden in het vierde te krijgen. Zij is daartoe de grote brug, door Izu gezalfd, en gemeden. Zij dan draagt het harnas van Brannan en de borstplaat van Tifiaf. Met het grote zwaard opent zij deuren, en werpt haar monotheïsmen in de strijd. Ja, al dezen kent zij. Daar is licht rondom haar haren, en wachters vallen om, als zij zich beweegt. Tot de aardslangen ging zij. Zij is de wederkerende. Vanuit de aardslangen kwam zij op, en vanuit het chocola, en zij zal tot hen wederkomen. Het vizier deelt zij met hen die haar liefhebben. Zij komt van de vierde alverzoening. Het vierde materialisme zal zij haar discipelen leren, die in het derde op haar wachten. Zij dan zien naar haar uit. Zij zullen leven vanuit de aarde. Zij krijgen dan schoeisel van het vierde, en zij zullen leren bruggen te bouwen van schoeisel. Ook zullen zij leren kledij te maken van schoeisel, zodat de aardslangen in hen zullen ontwaken. Hier dan zullen ernstige wetten voor zijn, voortkomende vanuit haar monotheïsmen. En zij zal haar getrouwe discipelen van het derde die tot het vierde komen leren over de aardslangen en hun geschriften. Zij dan zullen tot rust en vrede komen in de vierde alverzoening, en zij zal hen doorgangen geven tot grote stilte. En zij zullen genoemd worden : schoeismakers en bruggenbouwers van Sekhmet.

2.

En zij zullen schoeisel verkopen voor hoge prijzen, en zij zullen onder strenge gerechtsboeken komen. En zij zullen tot de vierde genezing komen, door de vierde alverzoening. En zij zullen komen tot de grote Mono's van het vierde, en zij zullen de goden van de monotheïsmen tot engelen maken. Ook zullen zij opklimmen tot de AZ's en de A's van het vierde, om hen tot engelen en profeten te maken, maar zij zullen zich onderwerpen aan de A-jongen. En de A-jongen zal de monotheïsmen herscheppen, en daardoor ook de Mono's, de AZ's en de A's, en zij zullen schenkers van chocola worden, en met elkaar verzoend worden in de vierde alverzoening. En de A-jongen van het vierde zal opstaan, en zal luid regeren.

IV Sekhmet

1.

De verovering van het huis van de vierde David

En Sekhmet zal de vierde roze verbinding leggen tussen Khnum en Nut tot een viervoudige verzoening, en bloemenstormen zullen vanuit de vierde roze verbinding komen. Dan zal Sekhmet wederom Khnum en Nut scheiden en hen in de Isis-kloof werpen, waarin zij over elkaar zullen dromen. En dan zal de A-jongen voor eeuwig regeren. En de bloemenstormen zullen gaan tot Anubis, en zij zullen hem meenemen tot het vierde paradijs om van de vierde vrucht des levens te eten, en dan zal hij vrij zijn. En zij zullen hem brengen tot de vierde exodus, die tot de vierde tempel van de vierde David zal leiden, waar Anubis voor eeuwig zal regeren. En hij zal als harem hebben de vierde Batseba, de vierde Abigail, de vierde Mikal, de vierde Achinoam, de vierde Ma'aka, de vierde Chaggit, de vierde Abital, de vierde Egla. Verder : de vierde Batsua. En zo zal Anubis door listen het huis van de vierde David innemen.

En dan zal Anubis tot zijn harem aanvoegen : Bastet, Sekhmet, Nut, Isis, Neith, Wadjet, Nekhbet, Maat, Satis, Nephtys. En de vierde David zal niet tegen hem opgewassen zijn, noch zijn huis. En dan zal Sekhmet roepen : Kroon hem, kroon Anubis, en zijn harem zal roepen : Ja, kroont hem. En dan zal de vierde David in de buitenste duisternissen worden geworpen.

2.

En Sekhmet zal roepen : Nu dan is het uur van vrede aangebroken. En er zal goud verschijnen, en het bloed zal veranderen in chocola. En uit de poorten zal honing druipen. En dan zal Sekhmet tot de vierde David komen, in de diepste en buitenste duisternissen, en zij zal hem een kleine bron van stilte schenken. En dan zal Sekhmet snellen tot de vierde Simson, en zal zijn hart doorboren, opdat hij haar lichten zal dragen. Zij dan zal de vierde Delila aan Anubis schenken, en ook de vierde Simson zal zij een kleine bron van stilte schenken. En de harem van Anubis zal uitgroeien tot een harem van het vierde. En Anubis zal grote overwinningen behalen. En zo zal Anubis komen tot de vierde doorn en de vierde spoel, en ziet, zij zullen worden als vulkanen, als bloemen en als draaikolken.

En de Sebek zal komen tot het huis van de vierde Simson, tot het huis van de vierde Samuel en tot het huis van de vierde Daniel, en zal deze huizen zonder strijd innemen. En Aton zal komen tot het huis van de vierde Ezechiël, en het huis in drie delen scheuren. En hij zal een deel geven aan Anubis, een deel aan Sebek, en een deel zal hij zelf houden. Tot het huis van de vierde Elia zal Horus komen, om dit huis in zestig delen te verdelen onder de Egyptische goden. Re zal komen tot het huis van de vierde Elisa, en zal het verdelen onder de sterren des hemels, en onder de volgelingen van Nut. Nut zelf zal komen tot het huis van de vierde Zacharia, en zij zal daar voor twee jaar regeren. Ptah zal komen tot het huis van de vierde Aser, en zal het zevenvoudig zuiveren.

3.

Isis dan zal komen tot het huis van de vierde Dan en de vierde Gad, en zij zal hen verscheuren en onder de wolven verdelen. En zo zal Isis dan zijn als het licht der wolven. Daarna zal zij komen tot het huis van de vierde Job, waar zij voor vier jaren zal tronen. En Sekhmet zal vervolgens gaan tot het huis van de vierde Hosea, waar zij zal tronen voor duizend jaar. Bastet zal komen tot het huis van de vierde Joel, om zijn kaak te doorboren, en om in zijn huis te regeren voor tachtig jaar en tachtig dagen. En de vierde Joel zal oud worden, en Bastet zal hem zegenen. Zij zal hem dan nimmer uit zijn huis wegsturen, maar zij zal hem ook geen macht geven. Kinderloos zal hij sterven.

En vanuit het vierde zal een bloemenorkaan en een bloemendraaikolk gezonden worden om het eerste nogmaals te zuiveren, en zij zal oprijzen tot het tweede en het derde, en daarna het vierde, om vervolgens weer tot het eerste te gaan. Dit dan is als de harem van Anubis, en als de vierde roze verbinding. En Anubis zal strijd voeren tegen de vierde Emelis Shatau, en zal het laten afdekken door Sekhmet. Ja, een vulkaan des Heeren zal er groeien, als een brandend oog. En de doorn zal worden tot een bloemenorkaan, en de spoel tot een bloemendraaikolk. En ook zal Anubis tot de vierde Esmeralda gaan, en ook zij zal afgedekt worden door de Sekhmet-vulkaan. Daarna zal Anubis gaan tot de vierde Melissa en de vierde Desia, en ziet, zij zullen worden tot Sekhmet-vulkanen. En dan zal Sekhmet zich tegen Anubis keren, en er zal een strijd zijn van honderddrie dagen. En Anubis zal overwinnen, en haar werpen in de Isis-kloof. Maar zij zal de Isis-kloof verscheuren en na enige tijd zal er een nieuwe strijd zijn tussen Sekhmet en Anubis, en deze zal duren honderddertig lange jaren. En aan het einde van deze jaren zal Anubis zoeken naar een nieuwe kloof waarin hij Sekhmet kan werpen. En hij zal haar werpen in de Sebek-kloof, en Sebek zal haar verscheuren, en haar naam zal voor enige tijd niet genoemd worden. Dan zal zij gaan tot de dieptes der Sebek-kloof, en zij zal in armoe leven. Zij dan zal de krachten van het ijs leren kennen, en zal liefde vatten voor Anubis, maar Anubis zal haar niet bevrijden.

4.

En Sekhmet zal tot wasdom komen in de Sebek-kloof, maar zij zal dieper graven, vanwege haar liefde voor de dieptes en de armoe. Maar op een dag zal Sebek haar uitspuwen, en zij zal met zachtheid proberen de aandacht van Anubis te winnen, maar Anubis zal haar niet binnenlaten. Dan zal zij voor dertigduizend jaren over de aarde zwerven en haar huis bouwen naast het huis van Anubis. En zij zal zich gedragen, maar van binnen groeit haar woede. Zo zal zij dan na die tijd als een vulkaan uitbarsten, en zal de derde oorlog tussen Anubis en Sekhmet beginnen. Ditmaal zal zij hem werpen in de Sebek-kloof, maar Sebek zal hem onmiddellijk uitspuwen. Dan zal zij hem brengen tot de Isis-kloof, maar zij zal hem wegblazen. Uiteindelijk zal zij hem werpen in de Neith-kloof, en zij zal hem aannemen. En door haar zal hij komen tot het vierde Eden, en hij zal de verborgen boom beklimmen. Daar echter zal hij strijd moeten voeren tegen Horus en Seth, en hij zal ze uit de boom werpen. Hij dan zal zijn schoeisel in de boom hangen, om verder te klimmen, en dan zal hij bemerken dat hij in de bek van Nut terechtgekomen is, maar zij zal voor hem zorgen. Zij zal hem niet verslinden, maar in haar bek meedragen. Zo dan zal Anubis tot rust komen. Maar na enige tijd zal Sekhmet zijn schuilplaats vinden, maar Nut zal haar aanvallen om Anubis in veiligheid te houden. En met grote kracht zal Nut met haar staart Anubis omhoog duwen, en hem maken tot een uitgestrekte hemel. En Sekhmet zal schelden en schreeuwen, en grote godslasteringen op haar buik schrijven en op haar hoofd. Zij dan zal daarna vriendelijk spreken om Anubis proberen te verwarren, maar Nut zal hem helpen. Dan zal Nut Sekhmet tot diep in de aarde drukken, tot in de dieptes van de kloof van Geb. Maar elke nacht zal zij uit haar kloof opstijgen tot de hemelen om Anubis aan te vallen en te misleiden, terwijl Nut slaapt. En zij zal hem proberen te verleiden met sterke drank. En zij zal hem proberen te verleiden met haar van plaats te verruilen, en door een list zal zij er in slagen, maar Anubis zal de aardslangen ontmoeten, en door hen Geb verslaan. Ook zal Nut hem vele malen bezoeken, en Bastet, terwijl Sekhmet tot rust komt aan de hemel. En zo zullen Sekhmet en Anubis tot een lichte verzoening komen, en vinden zij ieder hun eigen weg.

5.

En na enige tijd zal Anubis tot een A-jongen worden, in het nieuwe deel van het vierde, en hij zal de gezichten veranderen. En als Sekhmet dan aan de hemel begint te sterven, dan zal zij hem haar Testament geven. En Anubis zal een eenzaam leven leiden en tot vele vergetelheden komen, en in de vierde alverzoening zal hij een tempel voor Sekhmet bouwen, en ook zal hij haar een huis schenken in het dodenrijk, en haar laten mummificeren vanuit strakke en speciale voorschriften. En hij zal haar een bron van lichte slaap schenken. Ook zal hij haar bijstaan in de tocht door de hel, en haar leiden tot de hal van delirium, en dan zal hij haar leiden naar eenzaamheid en vergetelheid, waar zij de rust zal vinden in bloemenwateren. En hij zal haar ogen uitsteken, en haar brengen tot de verlorenheid in de ML, opdat zij de Log zal leren. Ook zal hij haar bewustzijn wegnemen, en haar brengen tot haar onbewuste.

En eens in de veertig dagen zal Anubis komen tot haar graf en haar urn, en zal daar voorlezen vanuit de Log. En hij zal haar as mummificeren, haar op een stoel zetten, en tot haar spreken. Ook zal hij haar oren doorsteken, en haar van haar evenwicht beroven. Hij dan zal haar slaan met gekte, opdat zij haar leven niet zal begrijpen. Ook zal hij haar slaan met verwarring, en duizeligheid, en haar een nieuwe taal leren.

Anubis

1.

En dan zal Bastet tot Anubis komen om hem te troosten. En zij zal nieuwe deuren voor hem openen. En zij zal met hem dobbelen, en hem brengen tot Nut en Neith. Maar Anubis zal ontroostbaar zijn. Dan zal zij hem brengen tot de vierde rode kap, maar hij zal weglopen van angst. Dan zal zij hem met rust laten. En dan zal de sfinx tot Anubis komen, maar Anubis zal van de sfinx wegrekken. En Anubis zal door de strijd in hemzelf verlangen naar de vierde Isis-kloof, maar zij zal hem wegblazen. En Anubis zal komen tot grote innerlijke strijd, en anderen zullen proberen zijn titel van A-jongen te roven. En onder hen zijn ook Re en Horus. Dan zal Anubis vluchten tot Seth en Apep, en bij hen enige rust vinden. En ook Rerek en Hai zullen tot hem komen, en hem geschenken brengen. En hij zal komen tot de toppen van Tifiaf en het daar uitroepen, en de vierde Tutanchamun zal tot hem komen op adelaarsvleugels. En de vierde king Tut zal hem enige rust geven, en een bol van adem. Maar later zal hij in grote angst raken, en in beven, en hij zal hyperventileren. En de aardslangen zullen tot hem komen. En zij zullen hem brengen tot het land achter Tifiaf, waar de blauwen wonen. En de zeeën daar zijn diep, en hij zal bruggen van schoeisel over hen bouwen, en komen tot het land achter de blauwen, om een rijke opvolger van Tifiaf te vinden. Maar geen van deze landen waren krachtig genoeg om Tifiaf op te volgen. En Anubis weende voor vijftig dagen en nachten, en was in diepe verwarring.

2.

En toen kwam Apopis wederom tot hem om hem te troosten, en schonk hem een ring. Maar Anubis wierp deze in de zee als een geschenk, en zwierf verder. En Anubis ontmoette vele insecten, maar geen van allen was waardig Tifiaf op te volgen. En weer kwamen de aardslangen tot Anubis en steunden hem. En Anubis schreeuwde het uit tot de hemelen en tot de dieptes der aarde, en Seth, Hai en Rerek kwamen weer tot Anubis om hem te troosten. En zij waren zacht voor hem, en begrepen hem. En Seth hief zijn staf op, en sprak : gij dan, Anubis zijt waardig om door deze wildernissen heen te gaan. Ziet dan, gij hebt de tongen der aardslangen tot uw sleutels. En Anubis zette zijn reis onder Tifiaf door tot in de verste dieptes. En deze reis duurde duizendviermiljoen jaren. En Anubis ontmoette het vierde teken van het beest, wiens naam was vierduizendzeshonderdzessenzestig, en ook ontmoette hij de vierde satan, de vierde Beelzebul, de vierde Judas, de vierde Belial, de vierde Appollyon, de vierde Rahab, de vierde Izebel, de vierde Behemoth, de vierde Achab, de vierde slang van het vierde paradijs. En ook kwam hij tot het vierde vrederijk van vierduizend jaar, maar dit hielp hem nauwelijks tot niets. Ook kwam hij tot de viermiljoenvierhonderdvierenveertigduizend gezalfden, en velen wilden met hem meegaan, maar Anubis wilde alleen verder. Wel zegende hij enkelen onder hen, en zette toen zijn reis voort. Een vrouw genaamd de vierde Nefertiti verscheen aan hem, en ook een vrouw genaamd de vierde Cleopatra, maar hij joeg hen weg. En Anubis vervloekte zijn geboortedag, en zaligde de vleeswording van de vierde Adam. Aardslangen kwamen tot hem, en dienden hem. En ook Apep kwam weer tot Anubis en vroeg hem of hij zijn titel aan hem wilde verkopen, maar Anubis weigerde, en Apep raakte verbitterd, maar liet hem verder met rust. Wel gaf Apep hem een sleutel om verder te komen. En Anubis kwam tot een chocolade-zee, waar aardslangen leefden. Ook lagen hier vele bruggen van schoeisel. En Anubis begon te vervellen, en ontving een wespenvest. Ook dreven sterke sappen van planten hier, en Anubis raakte bedwelmd en dronken.

3.

De Anubis-monotheismen

En zo leerde Anubis de monotheismen der aardslangen van deze zee kennen, en velen waren monotheismen van de Anubis. En zo was er een geschrift dat de Begil heette, van een Anubis-monotheïsme dat de Kna'hap heette, en dit geschrift bevatte vele testamenten over de voorschriften van schoeisel. En deze monotheismen waren zeer duister. En achter deze zee lag een grote woestijn, en in de dieptes van die woestijn stond de vierde tempel van de vierde Salomo, en Anubis nam deze tempel in, en stelde de aardslangen over deze tempel aan, en ging verder. En de aardslangen gingen deze tempel gebruiken voor hun monotheismen en ook voor hun Anubis-monotheismen. En een ander geschrift van zo'n Anubis-monotheïsme was genaamd Drapir, en dit monotheïsme heette Kubahap. En zo waren er vele ringen van Anubis-monotheismen en deze ringen waren : Santi, Hati, Mitihel, Iti, Hiliap, Haachir, Hiecht, Hikit, Heng, Haaplech, Hangst, Hopost, Otlong, Hongst, Hordost, Horft, Batom, Biklang, Hengelet, Haapsnir, Kotanda, Akhul, Rumtut, Vutil, Dirch, Herhum, Herhun, Draakhon, Drahaksia, Darmantum, Darmantus, Drahansia, Drahal, Drahak, Hermhun, Hurk, Hurkhalitas, Huralitas, Drahul, Drahum, D'ta, D'tal, D'hanis, D'hannia, D'han, D'hir, D'honia, D'honnia, Dirhan, Durohan, Durobil, Durohiel, Durohenst, Durohengst, Dramalia, Darmanitas, Darmulia, Darhut, Druhenst, Druhengts, Hunmalita, Hunmalitas, Nurha, Nuron, Nuro, Umitas, Huramitas, Humin, Humi'en, Huku, Hukumin, Hukumi'en, Hukumihen, Hurt, Hurkus, Hurkos, Horsmi'en, Horensmos, Horsmos, Draham, Drahamnaut, Drahamnaus, Darka, Drakanitas, Drahanitas, Dramanitas, Dramanitihas, Drarma, Rul, Ruus, Uluus, Uluhem, Umuhem, Umunuhem.

En Anubis nam deze monotheismen en stopte hen in een aarden vat, om hen te klutsen. En ijs steeg op van het aarden vat, en Anubis at het. En Anubis las deze geschriften en maakte er een eigen geschrift van. En Anubis raakte in toorn over deze monotheismen en begon hen te wassen. Tijdens het wassen viel Anubis in een diepe slaap. En zo maakte Anubis enkelen tot Mono's, AZ's en A's.

4.

En Anubis kwam tot grote wasdom en herstelde de groene Anubis en de blauwe Anubis, en zij hadden grote macht. En zo ook kwam de gouden Anubis tot Anubis, en de diamanten Anubis, en Anubis zegende hen. En zo droeg ook de groene Anubis vele monotheismen met zich mee, en zo ook de blauwe Anubis. En Anubis greep deze monotheismen en zuiverde hen in aarden vaten. Enkelen onder hen maakte hij tot Mono's AZ's en A's. En de groene Anubis werd groot, en was zeer katachtig. En Anubis gaf hem grote macht, en maakte hem tot een A. Ook maakte hij de Anubis-aardslang tot een A. En zo was er een rode Anubis-aardslang die hij tot Mono maakte, en zo ook een groene Anubis-aardslang die hij tot Mono maakte. En zij dan kregen grote macht. En hij gaf hen sterke drank te drinken. En ook gaf hij hen thee. En in de woestijn achter de vierde tempel van Salomo vond Anubis een grote oase, waar hij tempels begon te bouwen. En hij bouwde een tempel voor de groene Anubis en de blauwe Anubis, en een tempel voor de rode Anubis-aardslang en de groene Anubis-aardslang. Toen maakte Anubis de witte Anubis-cacao-boom tot een AZ, en ook de gele Anubis-cacao-boom maakte hij tot een AZ. En zij bouwden de Anubis-piramide achter de oase. En Anubis las hen voor uit de Log, en Anubis stelde nieuwe letters op en een nieuwe taal.

5.

Als de aardvoet is hij met schoeisel van vreemd leer. Als de aardvoet is hij, met aardslangen als een diepere taal. Niemand heeft het verstaan. Zij weten niet wat zij missen, want zij hebben het nooit ervaren. En als de aardslangen de ogen hebben bereikt dan zullen zij uitgaan door tranen, als een vreemd vizier is het. Alleen tranende ogen kunnen zien. De rest is blind. Zij dan die huilen kunnen spreken, zij die bang zijn kunnen bewegen. En zo zal Anubis komen tot de vierde dood en de vierde ontwaking en zo ook de vierde verlichting. En hij zal gewekt worden door zijn helpers.

II Anubis

1.

De Anubis-fallus

En Anubis zal drinken van zijn thee, en komen tot het vierde lijden en de vierde verzachting. Ook zal de vierde genezing hem ten deel vallen. En zo zal Anubis komen tot de vierde vleeswording, en de aardslangen zullen rijzen door zijn voeten tot zijn fallus, en zijn hoofd. En hij zal in een nieuwe taal spreken, en zij zullen zijn fallus aanbidden, want deze is opgeklommen tot zijn hoofd, om zijn denken te bevrijden. En zo is de Anubis-fallus een object van verlichting. En Anubis zal de gele Anubis-fallus tot een A maken, en ook de blauwe Anubis-fallus, zal hij tot een A maken. Daarna zal hij de groene Anubis-fallus tot een A maken, en zo ook de rode Anubis-fallus. Daarna zal hij de witte Anubis-fallus tot een A maken, en zo ook de paarse Anubis-fallus. Later zal hij de roze Anubis-fallus tot een A maken, en zo ook de gouden en de zilveren Anubis-fallus. En zo zal hij dan van vele Anubis-fallussen A's maken, en hen tempels geven. Zij dan zullen de poorten en kanalen zijn van de aardslangen en hun sappen. Door de voeten zullen zij omhoog gepompt worden. Zo zijn er dan vele Anubis-voeten als pompen aangesteld. Zo heeft Anubis dan de zwarte Anubis-paddestoel tot AZ aangesteld, en zo ook de rode Anubis-paddestoel en de groene Anubis-paddestoel. Daarna heeft Anubis de blauwe Anubis-paddestoel tot AZ aangesteld en de gele Anubis-paddestoel. Vervolgens heeft hij de witte Anubis-paddestoel tot AZ aangesteld. De groene Anubis-cactus heeft hij tot Mono aangesteld, en daarna ook de witte Anubis-cactus. Daarna heeft hij ook de blauwe Anubis-cactus tot Mono aangesteld, en vele andere Anubis-cactussen.

Het Anubis-orgasme, de Anubis-ejaculatie en zijn orgie

Zij dan zijn de bringers van cacao, en zij dan bedienen de spieren en de zenuwen, en ook de orgasmes die de aardvoeten laten spreken door de ejaculaties. En deze orgasmes en ejaculaties zijn overvloedig in cacao. En het roze Anubis-orgasme is een A, en zo ook het rode Anubis-orgasme. Het gele Anubis-orgasme is een A, en zo ook het witte Anubis-orgasme. Het groene Anubis-orgasme is een A, en zo ook het paarse Anubis-orgasme. Deze dan zijn opgesteld in de tubes der natuur. Het zwarte Anubis-orgasme is dan een A, en deze is woest, veroorzakende grote angst, en het oordeel. Dit is ook de kracht waarmee de tanden in de kaak zitten. Het gouden Anubis-orgasme is dan een A, en ziet zij brengt verlichting, en zij wordt veelal gebruikt in Egyptische tempels. Het zilveren Anubis-orgasme dan is een A. Zo ook is het diamanten Anubis-orgasme een A, en door haar proberen tandendokters macht te dwingen. De groene Anubis-ejaculatie is een A, waardoor alle spieren werken. Er is dan geen andere ejaculatie dan de ejaculatie der tranen en de ejaculatie der urine. De witte Anubis-ejaculatie is een A, en zo ook de zwarte Anubis-ejaculatie die bevrijding brengt, tot aan de vierde bevrijding toe. En zij is als het harnas en het gereedschap der exorcisten van het vierde, en de Anubis-exorcisten. De blauwe Anubis-ejaculatie is een A, en de brenger van delirium. De roze Anubis-ejaculatie is de brenger der emotie, en tevens een A. De gele Anubis-ejaculatie is een A, en de brenger der aardgeuren. De rode Anubis-ejaculatie is een A, en zo zijn er nog vele Anubis-ejaculaties die A zijn, zo ook de gouden Anubis-ejaculatie die het immuunsysteem regelt, en de zilveren Anubis-ejaculatie die de stofwisseling regelt. Nu is een verliefdheid als een orgie, puur als een samenwerking der lichaamsdelen, voor een nieuwe vleeswording. Zo is dan de rode Anubis-orgie een A, en de creator der rode bloemen, de creator der rode bloedlichaampjes, en de verschillende circulaties van het lichaam. Zo is dan de blauwe Anubis-orgie eveneens een A, en de creator der bomen, en de circulaties binnen de organen. Zo is dan de zwarte Anubis-orgie een A, de gele Anubis-orgie is een A, en zo ook de roze Anubis-orgie. De groene Anubis-orgie is een A, en de kracht van de spraak. De witte Anubis-orgie is een A, en de kracht van het denken en het verstand. De paarse Anubis-orgie is de kracht van het stofwisselings-systeem en de vertaling, en zo ook de kracht van het delirium en de daarbij horende magie. Het is de kracht van het magnetisme, om af te leiden en weg te leiden. De paarse Anubis-orgie is een A, en behoort tot de hogere A's in de buurt van de A-jongen. De paarse Anubis-orgie is als het hart van de A-jongen en zijn adem. De gouden Anubis-orgie is een A, en is als lijm. De zilveren Anubis-orgie is een A, de koperen Anubis-orgie is een A, de grijze Anubis-orgie is een A, de diamanten Anubis-orgie is een A, de emerald Anubis-orgie is een A, de kracht die bloed transformeert tot hogere vormen des levens, zoals de levende honing en de levende cacao. Ook transformeert zij melk tot de hogere vormen des levens, tot de levende honing en de levende cacao, en tranen tot nectar, stuifmeel, cacao en honing. De topazen Anubis-orgie is ook een hogere A, dichtbij de A-jongen, omdat zij pijn transformeert tot taal. Zo zijn er dan vele Anubis-orgieën die A zijn en de macht van het bloed verbreken. Anubis heeft dan vele tranen gelaten om de macht van het bloed, en weende soms wel dertig dagen achtereen.

2.

En zo dan zullen de orgasmes, de ejaculaties en de orgieën van Anubis zijn als die der bomen en bloemen, en zal zijn als de vierde sexualiteit. Zo zal dan de Heere de sexualiteit geheel genezen, en zij zal geen teken meer zijn van schuld en schaamte. En zo zal dan de vierde genezing in verbinding staan met de vierde sexualiteit. En de A's zullen het oude licht verbreken, en door duisternis zullen zij een vierde licht scheppen, en de A-jongen zal het vierde licht zegenen, en het zal een aardlicht zijn. En Anubis zal zijn A's om zich heen verzamelen en zijn AZ's uitzenden in de woestijnen tot de oasen. De Mono's zal hij tot de aarde zenden, in de cirkel der vierde alverzoening. En de fallussen van Anubis zullen tot leven komen, en zij zullen vleugelen hebben en aardvoeten, en zij zullen zijn als de aardlichten. En Anubis zal zijn eigen Am Duat hebben, zijn eigen klok, en daarin zullen zijn A's verdeeld worden, en zij zullen allen op hun tijd spreken.

En het rode Anubis-ijs zal een A zijn, en woorden spreken van geloof. En het gele Anubis-ijs zal een A zijn, en zo ook het zwarte Anubis-ijs. En de roze Anubis-zachtheid zal een A zijn, de gele Anubis-zachtheid, en de witte Anubis-zachtheid. Ook de paarse Anubis-zachtheid zal een A zijn, en de groene Anubis-zachtheid. Zo ook de blauwe Anubis-zachtheid, de bruine Anubis-zachtheid en de zilveren Anubis-zachtheid. Verder : De gouden Anubis-zachtheid, de diamanten Anubis-zachtheid, de emerald Anubis-zachtheid, de kristal Anubis-zachtheid, de zwarte Anubis-zachtheid, en vele andere Anubis-zachtheden. En zij zullen zijn van de hogere zones der A's, dichtbij het hart der Ajongen. Zo zijn dan ook A's : de gele Anubis-zoetheid, de roze Anubis-zoetheid, de bruine Anubis-zoetheid, de zwarte Anubis-zoetheid, de groene Anubis-zoetheid, de blauwe Anubis-zoetheid, de paarse Anubis-zoetheid, en zij komen uit de rijke schatkamers en de rijke schatkisten van Anubis. En Anubis zal kennen de macht der zoetheden. En hij zal ook kennen de macht der lichten. En verder zijn de A's : de rode Anubis-broek, de gele Anubis-broek, de blauwe Anubis-broek, de groene Anubis-broek, de bruine Anubis-broek, de zwarte Anubis-broek, de gouden Anubis-broek, de zilveren Anubis-broek, de paarse Anubis-broek, de witte Anubis-broek, de roze Anubis-broek, de diamanten Anubis-broek, de emerald Anubis-broek, de kristallen Anubis-broek, en nog veel meer Anubis-broeken. Verder : de rode Anubis-laars, de roze Anubis-laars, de bruine Anubis-laars, de gele Anubis-laars, de witte Anubis-laars, de groene Anubis-laars, de zwarte Anubis-laars, en nog veel meer Anubis-laarzen.

Hoort dan en ziet, de fallus van Anubis is de aardlaars, en deze wordt bevrucht door vreemde vliegen. Vanuit Brannan komt zij. En vreemde kevers en andere insecten bevruchten zijn ingangen.

3.

En toen Anubis zijn reis voortzette kwam hij uiteindelijk in het Anubis-universum, en deze was krachtig genoeg om Tifi af op te volgen. En Anubis maakte het tot zijn kleed. En Anubis ging staan op het Anubis-universum als op een berg, en had uitzicht over Tifi af, Brannan en Izu. En zo kwam hij dan tot zijn geheime naam : brandende fallus. En Anubis zonderde zichzelf af als kluizenaar, en verkende het universum. En zo kwam hij dan achter de geheime naam van Bastet, waarmee hij haar kon temmen : rode brandende fallus. En hij zei tot Bastet : 'Gij dan bent mijn rode Anubis,' en hij genas haar. En zo kwam hij ook achter de geheime naam van Sekhmet, waarmee hij haar kon temmen : bruine brandende fallus. En hij zeide tot Sekhmet : 'Gij zijt mijn bruine Anubis,' maar hij genas haar niet, omdat haar tijd niet was gekomen. Zij dan sliep zeer diep. En hij zond haar weg in een bruine boot, en zij kwam tot de Islam. En Tefnut was de paars brandende fallus, Nut de geel brandende fallus, Neith de groen brandende fallus, Khnum de blauw brandende fallus, Osiris de oranje brandende fallus, Ra de gouden brandende fallus, Thoth de zilveren brandende fallus, Horus de grijze brandende fallus, de sfinx de witte brandende fallus, Sebek de koperen brandende fallus. En zo werden zij allen delen van Anubis.

En toen ik, Zurastael de Egyptische schatten had gevonden, was ik verrukt. En ik bond doeken om de tabletten en schatten, en ging verder de diepte in. En stemmen achtervolgden mij, zeggende dat ik de Egyptische Bijbel had gevonden. En zij openden deuren voor mij.

Mispulsius

1.

Vossen en collies die tot Anubis kwamen

En de rode Anubis-vos kwam tot Anubis, en Anubis stelde hem aan als Mono over vele goden. En ook de groene Anubis-vos kwam tot Anubis, en Anubis leidde hem tot een berg, en liet hem vele koninkrijken zien. En toen wierp Anubis hem naar beneden, en hij kreeg vleugels, en werd aangesteld over vele koninkrijken onder hem, maar Mono werd hij niet. En ook de gele Anubis-vos kwam tot Anubis, en kreeg vele rijken, voornamelijk in het oosten, maar Mono werd hij niet. Toen kwam de rode Anubis-collie tot Anubis, en Anubis gaf hem grote eer. Ook gaf hij de rode Anubis-collie vele sieraden en schatkisten vol met de zuiverste schatten, maar Anubis nam vele rijken van hem weg, daar hij te gulzig was geweest naar macht. En Anubis verlaagde de rode Anubis-collie in rang. Toen kwam de blauwe Anubis-collie tot Anubis, en zo ook de paarse, maar Anubis wilde niet met hen spreken. En voor twee maanden klopten zij op zijn deuren, maar Anubis deed voor hen niet open. Daarna zond Anubis een dienstknecht tot hen, die hen leidde tot een boom. En deze boom werd genoemd de wijze boom.

Leeuwen die tot Anubis kwamen

En de zwarte Anubis-leeuw kwam tot Anubis, en Anubis gaf hem vele rijken, en zo ook kwamen de rode en de blauwe Anubis-leeuwen tot Anubis, en zij werden dienstknechten van de zwarte Anubis-leeuw. De gele Anubis-leeuw kreeg vele rijken, en Anubis maakte hem tot een god onder de goden, en schonk hem vele monotheismen. Ook schonk Anubis hem vleugels, en gaf hem grote macht, voornamelijk in het oosten, maar ook in het westen en het noorden. De paarse Anubis-leeuw kreeg dan vele macht in het centrum. Toen kwam de gouden Anubis-leeuw tot Anubis, maar Anubis liet hem werpen in een kloof dichtbij de woestijn. En Anubis liet een doorn in hem planten, opdat hij gezuiverd zou worden. Na enige dagen kwam Anubis tot de kloof, en kroonde de gouden Anubis-leeuw tot Mono over vele godenrijken.

2.

De opklim der oranje Anubis-leeuw

En de bruine Anubis-leeuw kwam tot Anubis, en Anubis had grote liefde voor hem in zijn hart. En hij gaf de leeuw arendsvleugelen van grote afmetingen, en maakte hem tot Mono over vele Mono's. En hij gaf de leeuw bronnen van adem, en grote wijsheid schonk hij hem. En de grijze Anubis-leeuw kwam tot Anubis, en bracht hem grote schatten. En Anubis stelde hem aan als vorst over de Emelis Shatau, en onder zijn orde, hoede en macht kwamen daar grote hervormingen. En Anubis was zeer tevreden over deze hervormingen, en gaf het Monoschap aan de grijze Anubis-leeuw en Anubis gaf hem grote vleugelen met de vederen van raven. En Anubis maakte hem tot grote vorst over de Mono's, maar een AZ mocht hij niet worden. En de roze Anubis-leeuw kreeg het koningschap over een tempel in het oosten. De oranje Anubis-leeuw liet hij in een put werpen en na tweëndertig maanden liet hij hem opsluiten in een kelder. Maar na enige tijd begon Anubis medelijden met hem te krijgen, en kreeg Anubis berouw over wat hij de leeuw had aangedaan, en haalde hem uit gevangenschap. Toen bracht Anubis een doorn in hem, en maakte een Mono van hem over een klein volk. Maar de leeuw deed zijn werk erg goed, en Anubis was zeer tevreden, en sprak : 'Ziet dan, zij die in het kleine getrouw zijn, zal het grote gegeven worden, maar ziet : Niet het grote dan is groot, maar het kleine. Minder is meer, en niet het vele is goed, maar het goede is veel.' En hij gaf de leeuw een klein volk erbij. En weer was de leeuw zeer getrouw en dankbaar in het kleine dat hem gegeven werd, en Anubis gaf hem weer een klein volk erbij, en Anubis gaf hem macht over grote Mono's, en kroonde hem daarna tot AZ. Maar Anubis vatte veel liefde voor deze leeuw, en kroonde hem later tot A over vele A's. En Anubis sprak : 'Gij bent het die over mijn hart mag waken. Gaat dan in, en grote rijkdom zal u gegeven worden.' En Anubis sprak over het vierde materialisme. En Anubis zat er sterk aan te denken om hem ook tot A-jongen te kronen, maar durfde het niet aan. Maar de liefde tussen hen groeide zo diep dat de leeuw hem over zijn angst heen hielp, en Anubis kroonde hem tot A-jongen. En Anubis gaf hem een groot deel van zijn rijk, en de sleutelen van zijn hart. En Anubis maakte hem tot een brandende leeuwen-fallus.

3.

De ordes der A-jongens

En de gele Anubis-krokodil kwam tot Anubis, en Anubis gaf hem grote macht, vooral in het oosten en noord-oosten. En Anubis maakte velen tot A-jongen, en maakte onderverdelingen onder de A-jongens. En Anubis schiep de Mispulsius-orde voor de laagste A-jongens, en zij kregen de macht van vertraging en versnelling. En Anubis liet een strenge initiatie opstellen, en zware proeven, opdat er geen indringers onder de Mispulsius-A-jongens zouden komen. En allen die tot A-jongen werden gekroond kwamen over het algemeen eerst in deze orde terecht. En de rode Anubis-arend was hun leraar, en beschermheer. Ja, als een ridder was hij, een ijzeren en een zilveren. En de oranje Anubis-arend was hun beproever en verleider. Ja, grote verzoeken zond hij tot hen, om hen te testen. En de zwarte Anubis-arend streed tegen hen, en sloot hen op, om hen diep in te wijden. En er werd gezegd : 'Anubis is hard.' Ook werd er gezegd : 'Anubis is een verleider.' En de gele Anubis-arend bemoederde hen, en vertrooste hen. En er werd gezegd : 'Anubis is lief en goed, ja, zachtmoedig van hart, een lichtwezen van groot licht.' En zij dan die volharden en volhielden kwamen uiteindelijk tot de volgende orde, die genoemd werd de Metulus. En zij van de Metulus waren groot en sterk, en zij vreesden niets. En zij waren vol van liefde en goedheid, en Anubis was zeer trots op hen. Zij dan waren goed voor het kleine, en zij leefden in diepe vrede. En Anubis had dan zoveel respect voor hen, dat hij ze niet teveel lastig viel. En onder de Metulus waren veel Anubis-leeuwen. Op een dag kwam de rode Anubis-haai tot Anubis om toegelaten te worden tot de Metulus, maar Anubis nam zeer vele rijken van hem weg, omdat hij ongehoorzaam was, en lui. En ook de groene Anubis-haai kwam tot Anubis, maar ook van hem nam Anubis vele rijken weg, omdat hij ongehoorzaam was geweest en lui. Zo kwam ook de gele Anubis-haai tot Anubis, en deze had gouden arendsvleugelen van grote lengte. En Anubis was zo verschrikt, dat hij de haai tot Maat zond. Ook de zwarte Anubis-haai kwam tot Anubis, en Anubis gaf hem macht over een paar goden. Zo ook werd aan de witte Anubis-haai een kleine macht gegeven, maar beiden mochten zij geen Mono worden. En Anubis was verschrikt voor vele dagen, en ging tot Maat. En na deze dagen kwam de Metulus Anubis ten hulp, en Anubis kwam tot rust, vertroosting en vrede. Zo heeft dan Anubis in de Metulus een grote schuilplaats. En Anubis noemde Maat zijn dochter, en liet enkelen van de Metulus over haar hoeden.

4.

Het kameraadschap tussen Anubis en Tifiaf

En zij van de Metulus onderwezen Anubis in magie, en ook brachten zij Anubis tot de kabouterenvolken. En ??n van die kabouters, die een aarddwerg was, was genaamd Tifiaf. En in het oude vierde was hij de allerhoogste God, en tevens lid van de Metulus. En Tifiaf had grote macht, en werd diep gerespecteerd. En Anubis vatte grote liefde voor de aarddwerg Tifiaf, die hem onderwees in de magie en de aardtalen. En hij sprak tot Anubis dat Anubis in het nieuwe vierde de allerhoogste zou zijn, ook in de ordes der A-jongens. En zo kwam er een diepe liefdesband tussen de aarddwerg Tifiaf en Anubis. En Tifiaf onderwees Anubis over de Metulus, die een hele oude orde was onder de A-jongens. En Anubis groeide op, en werd zeer wijs. En zij van de Metulus gingen steeds meer en meer van hem houden.

De betovering

En de rode Anubis-walvis kwam tot Anubis en Tifiaf, en zij genazen hem, en zeiden dat hij nog enige tijd dienden te rusten. En ook de witte Anubis-walvis kwam tot Anubis en Tifiaf, en ziet, hij was als een witte boom, een elf, en een pluizenbol voortgedreven door de wind. En Anubis en Tifiaf brachten hem tot rust. En ook de oranje Anubis-walvis kwam tot Anubis en Tifiaf, en daarna de gele

Anubis-walvis, en zij werden genezen. En zij kregen armen en benen, en zij snelden tot het bos waar zij rust vonden, en diepe vrede. En Anubis en Tifiaf volgden hen met hun ogen na, en staarden naar hen, en wezen. En Anubis leerde hun taal kennen, en sprak met hen voor veertig dagen en nachten, zonder veel te rusten. En ook de zwarte Anubis-walvis kwam tot Anubis en Tifiaf, en Tifiaf legde zijn hand op de walvis, en deze werd tot een zwarte elf. En toen kwam de blauwe Anubis-walvis tot Anubis en Tifiaf, die vele haaien met zich meedroeg. En Tifiaf legde zijn handen op hen, en zij werden elven en feeën, en snelden tot het bos. Ook werden enkelen van hen kabouters en toverdwergen. En de schrik die over hen was was verdwenen.

5.

Nu was er ook de rode Anubis-orca die tot Anubis en Tifiaf kwam, en toen Tifiaf zijn handen op de rode Anubis-orca legde veranderde deze in een rode bessens-elf, en de schrik die over hem lag was verdwenen. En zo kwamen ook de blauwe Anubis-orca, de witte Anubis-orca, de zwarte Anubis-orca, de groene, de gele en nog wat andere kleuren tot Anubis en Tifiaf, en Tifiaf veranderde hen allen in bessens-elven van hun kleur, en zij allen verloren hun schrik. En ziet dan, zij hadden vele zwarte haaien met zich meegenomen, en Tifiaf veranderde die allen in zwarte toverdwergen, en zij gingen te voet naar het rode Anubis-Spanje, en ook naar het gele Anubis-Spanje, waar de krachten van het oosten zijn. En meerdere zwarte haaien kwamen tot Tifiaf, en Tifiaf veranderde hen in zwarte toverelven en zwarte toverfeeën, en zij gingen te voet naar het blauwe Anubis-Spanje, en het groene Anubis-Spanje. En toen kwam een derde groep zwarte haaien tot Tifiaf, en deze waren groot, en Tifiaf veranderde hen in toverreuzen en toverheksen. Enkelen van hen werden machtige tovenaars, en zij allen gingen naar het bruine Anubis-Spanje, het paarse Anubis-Spanje, het roze Anubis-Spanje, het gouden Anubis-Spanje, het zilveren Anubis-Spanje, het Emerald Anubis-Spanje, het Diamanten Anubis-Spanje, het Kristallen Anubis-Spanje, het oranje Anubis-Spanje, het zwarte Anubis-Spanje en het Topazen Anubis-Spanje.

II Mispulsius

1.

En Tifiaf onderwees Anubis veel over hoe de dieren betoverd waren, en Tifiaf gaf vele krachten aan Anubis. Anubis was erg onder de indruk van de toverkunsten van Tifiaf, en hoorde graag zijn stem, die was als de watervallen. Ja, de stem van Tifiaf was betoverend en de bringer van vrede en rust, ja, diepe genezing. En Anubis smeekte Tifiaf om niet meer bij hem weg te gaan. Tridugmin was de volgende orde der A-jongens, en deze A-jongens waren als de heksen. Tifiaf zou met Anubis meegaan op zijn reis door dit gebied. En deze A-jongens waren scherp als dorens, en zij waren als stekende en bijtende planten. En de volgende orde was de Kono, en deze A-jongens waren als de schrik. En Anubis raakte hier zeer bevreesd, maar Tifiaf was bij hem, en stelde hem gerust. Vanwege de schrik kon Anubis voor enige tijd niet spreken. En de groene Anubis-haai kwam tot Anubis, en er ontstond een worsteling. En ook de bruine Anubis-haai kwam tot Anubis, en mengde zich ook in het gevecht tegen Anubis, maar Tifiaf sprong er tussenin, en veranderde hen in elven, en zij verloren hun schrik. En Anubis wilde hen slaan, maar Tifiaf zei : 'Weest genadig met hen, want zij waren betoverd.' En Anubis liet hen met rust.

En de rode Anubis-herdershond kwam tot Anubis en Tifiaf, en Tifiaf veranderde hem in een toverelf. En het was alsof hij uit z'n slaap was gekomen, en hij begon groen te worden. En de blauwe Anubis-herdershond kwam tot Anubis en Tifiaf, en Tifiaf veranderde hem ook in een toverelf, en hij verloor zijn schrik, en werd kalm. En toen kwam de zwarte Anubis-herdershond tot Anubis en Tifi af, en Tifi af omhelsde hem, en veranderde hem in een toverelf der zwarte bessen, en hij verloor zijn schrik, en wilde met Anubis en Tifi af mee. Daarna kwam de witte Anubis-herdershond tot Anubis en Tifi af, maar Tifi af bestrafte hem. Wel veranderde Tifi af hem in een toverelf der witte gifbessen, maar Tifi af verlaagde hem in rang, en nam vele rijken van hem af, omdat hij lui en ongehoorzaam was geweest. Ook had hij vele misdaden op zijn naam staan, en had hij veel gestolen. En zo werden vele sieraden van hem afgedaan, en ook vele schatten van hem afgenomen, en huizen. Wel zegende Tifi af hem met vrede, maar hij moest zijn rang in de Kono verlaten, en mocht zelfs geen Mono worden. Wel kreeg hij een paar goden onder zich.

2.

Tifi af tot Kono gemaakt

En de zwarte Anubis-toverelf der zwarte bessen die een herdershond was geweest was een grote steun en bescherming voor Anubis en Tifi af, en hij leerde hen veel over de magie der Kono-A-jongens. En zo groeide er een diepe kameraadschap tussen die drie. Later kwam de groene Anubis-herdershond tot de drie, en Tifi af veranderde hem in een toverelf der groene bessen, en hij verloor zijn schrik. En ook hij besloot om met de drie mee te gaan, en hen te beschermen, want de aanvallen der Kono's waren zwaar. Toen kwam de gele Anubis-herdershond tot de vier, en Tifi af veranderde hem in een toverelf der gele bessen en gifbessen, en ook deze verloor zijn schrik en vergezelde en beschermde de groep. En de liefde in de groep begon meer en meer te groeien, en ook de magie. En met hulp van de drie toverelfen, de groene, de zwarte en de gele, maakte Anubis Tifi af tot een Kono, en Anubis was zeer trots op hem.

De toverplas-dwergen

En Anubis maakte Tifi af tot een brandende fallus. En Tifi af's macht werd zeer groot, en door de Kono's werd hij gevreesd. En de rode Anubis-beer kwam tot de vijf, en Tifi af maakte hem tot een toverhuil-dwerg en een toverplas-dwerg. En toen kwam de gele Anubis-beer tot de vijf, en Tifi af maakte hem tot een gele toverhuil-dwerg en een toverplas-dwerg. En toen kwam de zwarte Anubis-beer tot de vijf, en Tifi af maakte hem tot een toverhuil-dwerg en een toverplas-dwerg, en alle drie verloren ze hun schrik. En toen kwam de bruine Anubis-beer tot de vijf, en Tifi af maakte hem tot een bruine toverhuil-dwerg en een toverplas-dwerg, en hij begon het goud der aarde voort te brengen. En toen kwam de witte Anubis-beer tot de vijf, en Tifi af maakte hem tot een witte toverhuil-dwerg, een toverplas-dwerg, en deze begon gouden muziek te maken. En beiden verloren ze hun schrik. Toen kwam de groene Anubis-beer tot de vijf, en Tifi af maakte hem tot een groene toverhuil-dwerg en een toverplas-dwerg, en hij begon de gouden sappen der aarde voort te brengen, en werd als een toverfontein.

Ook begon de groene toverhuil-dwerg en toverplas-dwerg veel spinazie voort te brengen. Toen kwam de roze Anubis-beer tot de vijf, en Tifi af maakte hem tot een toverhuil-dwerg en een toverplas-dwerg, en de dwerg bracht veel rust en vrede, en verloor zijn schrik. En hij begon het zachte der aarde voort te brengen en het mos. Ook begon hij vele groenten voort te brengen, en deze groenten waren zuur, en soms bitter. Toen kwam de gouden Anubis-beer tot de vijf, en Tifi af maakte hem tot een toverhuil-dwerg en een toverplas-dwerg, en hij begon dromen voort te brengen, en grote rust en stilte. Ja, kalmte kwam uit hem voort, en verspreidde zich, en hij verloor zijn schrik. En hij droeg vele beren met zich mee, en Tifi af veranderde hen in feeën. Toen kwam de blauwe Anubis-beer tot de vijf, en Tifi af veranderde hem in een toverhuil-dwerg en toverplas-dwerg, en hij werd als een tover-spaarpot, en hij bracht veel tovermuziek voort. Ja, als een muziek-dooz werd hij, en als een tovercarroussel, en Tifiaf gaf hem grote macht, om volkeren in te nemen en te betoveren. En Tifiaf noemde hem de spaar-dwerg. En hij kreeg hoge macht over het rode Anubis-Nederland, het gele Anubis-Nederland, het groene Anubis-Nederland, het zwarte Anubis-Nederland, het paarse Anubis-Nederland.

3.

De dwerg Tulup

En toen kwam de paarse Anubis-beer tot de vijf, en Tifiaf veranderde ook hem in een spaar-dwerg, en gaf hem grote macht. En toen kwam de zilveren Anubis-beer tot de vijf, en Tifiaf veranderde hem in een toverhuil-dwerg en een toverplas-dwerg, en hij kreeg grote macht in het rode Anubis-Vlaardingen, het gele Anubis-Vlaardingen, het groene Anubis-Vlaardingen, het blauwe Anubis-Vlaardingen, het zilveren Anubis-Vlaardingen, het gouden Anubis-Vlaardingen. En de dwerg heette Tulup. En Tifiaf en Anubis vatten zoveel liefde voor de dwerg, dat ze hem tot een koning over de Kono's maakten. En Tulup leerde Tifiaf en Anubis veel over de krachten en machten der Kono's, en leerde hen hun magie te gebruiken.

De kamer-spaardwergen

En toen kwam de rode Anubis-olifant tot de vijf, en Tifiaf en Anubis veranderden hem in een rode kamer-spaardwerg. En toen kwam de gele Anubis-olifant tot de vijf, en Tifiaf en Anubis veranderden hem in een gele kamer-spaardwerg. Daarna kwam de groene Anubis-olifant tot de vijf, en Tifiaf en Anubis veranderden hem in een groene kamer-spaardwerg. Daarna kwam de roze Anubis-olifant tot de vijf, en Tifiaf en Anubis veranderden hem in een roze kamer-spaardwerg. Vervolgens kwam de bruine Anubis-olifant tot de vijf, en Tifiaf en Anubis veranderden hem in een kamer-spaardwerg, en hij verloor zijn schrik. Ook genazen ze hem, en troosten hem. Vervolgens kwam de grijze Anubis-olifant tot de vijf, en ook de zwarte Anubis-olifant, en zij veranderden hen in kamer-spaardwergen. En zo kwamen ook de zilveren Anubis-olifant en de gouden Anubis-olifant tot hen, en zij veranderden hen in kamer-spaardwergen. Daarna kwamen de paarse Anubis-olifant en de oranje Anubis-olifant, tezamen met de blauwe Anubis-olifant en de koperen Anubis-olifant tot hen, en zij veranderden hen in kamer-spaardwergen. Langzaamaan verloren zij hun schrik.

4.

Vervolgens kwam de groene Anubis-rat tot hen, en zij veranderden hem in een toverplas-dwerg, en een keukendwerg. Toen kwam de rode Anubis-rat tot hen, en zij veranderden hem in een toverplas-dwerg en een slaapkamer-dwerg. Toen kwam de gele Anubis-rat tot hen, en zij veranderden hem in een toverplas-dwerg en een slaapkamer-dwerg. Toen kwam de zwarte Anubis-rat tot hen, en zij veranderden hem in een toverplas-dwerg en een huiskamer-dwerg. Toen kwam de blauwe Anubis-rat tot hen, en zij veranderden hem in een toverplas-dwerg en een gang-dwerg. Vervolgens kwam de paarse Anubis-rat tot hen, en zij veranderden hem in een toverplas-elf, en een gang-elf.

Vervolgens kwam de rode Anubis-eekhoorn tot hen, en zij veranderden hem in een toverplas-elf en een huiskamer-elf. Vervolgens kwam de blauwe Anubis-eekhoorn tot hen, en zij veranderden hem in een toverplas-elf en een slaapkamer-elf. En beiden ontwaakten zij uit een diepe slaap.

Vervolgens kwam de groene Anubis-eekhoorn tot hen, en zij veranderden hem in een spaar-elf en een toverplas-elf. Vervolgens kwam de roze Anubis-eekhoorn tot hen, en zij veranderden haar in een toverhuil-fee, een toverplas-fee en een spaarfee. Vervolgens kwam de zwarte Anubis-eekhoorn tot hen, en zij veranderden haar in een toverhuil-fee, een toverplas-fee en een spaarfee, en zij ontwaakte uit een diepe slaap en verloor haar schrik. Vervolgens kwam de bruine Anubis-eekhoorn tot hen, en zij veranderden haar in een toverhuil-fee, een toverplas-fee en een spaarfee, en zij ontwaakte uit een diepe slaap, en verloor haar schrik. Vervolgens kwam de gouden Anubis-eekhoorn tot hen, en zij veranderden haar in een toverhuil-fee, en zij bracht vele groenten voort.

5.

Daarna kwam de rode Anubis-panter tot hen, en zij veranderden haar in een toverhuil-heks. Zij dan ontwaakte uit een zeer diepe slaap, een slaap die ze zelden hadden gezien. Daarna kwam de roze Anubis-panter tot hen, en ook zij veranderden ze in een toverhuil-heks, en zij ontwaakte uit een diepe slaap. Vervolgens kwam de zwarte Anubis-panter tot hen, en zij veranderden ze in een toverhuil-heks, en zij ontwaakte uit een diepe slaap. Daarna kwam de blauwe Anubis-panter tot hen, en zij veranderden ze in een toverhuil-heks, en zij ontwaakte uit een diepe slaap. En toen kwam de gele Anubis-panter, en ook de gouden, de zilveren de grijzen, en nog vele andere kleuren. En zij veranderden hen allen in toverhuil-heksen, en ziet, zij ontwaakten uit een diepe slaap.

En vele kleuren Anubis-krokodillen werden tot toverhuil-reuzen gemaakt, en ook vele kleuren Anubis-nijlpaarden en Anubis-neushoorns.

En toen zetten zij hun reis voort, en Tulup bracht hen tot de volgende orde der A-jongens, en dit was de orde der toverhuilers, en de orde daarboven waren de toverplassers, de orde daarboven waren de toverspaarders, en de orde daarboven waren de toverkamerers.

Tulup

1.

En de witte Anubis-rozen werden tot fontein-dwergen, en de zwarte Anubis-rozen werden tot fontein-dwergen, en ook vele andere kleuren Anubis-rozen. En ook andere Anubis-bloemen in vele kleuren werden tot fontein-feeën, fontein-elven, en fontein-heksen, fontein-reuzen. Ook lieten zij dan de bomen ontwaken en de planten, en de wind, de zee, de lucht, en de wolken, ja, ook de lichten en de vlammen, de kou en vele andere elementen, en zij werden tot toverwezens. En Tulup, de toverhuil-dwerg en toverplas-dwerg, werd zeer machtig, en werd zelfs een koning over toverkamerers. En de toverkamerers leerden hem veel, en ook onderwezen zij Tifiaf en Anubis met hun elven. En Anubis en Tifiaf groeiden in tovermacht en toverkracht, en op een dag kwam de blauwe Anubis tot hen, en zij hielpen hem ook. En al snel werd hij een machtig koning naast Tulup over de toverkamerers. En Tulup en de blauwe Anubis werden dikke vrienden. Maar Tifiaf en Anubis met hun drie elven wilden verder gaan, en zo besloten zij te vertrekken om op zoek te gaan naar de hogere orde der A-jongens. Tifiaf was een erg trouwe vriend van Anubis geworden, en beiden hadden ze een diepe honger die ze wilden stillen.

Maar even later kwamen ook Tulup en de blauwe Anubis eraan rennen. Zij wilden ook mee. En samen gingen ze verder, op zoek naar de hogere ordes der A-jongens.

2.

De orde der toverplassers dan bestaan uit vele groepen en lagen. Zo is er dan een afdeling die de toverplas-praters heten. Hieronder zijn heksen, kabouters, dwergen, elven, reuzen, en noem maar op. Zij dan vormen de basis voor de toverplas-sexualiteit. De toverplas-orgasms behoren tot een hogere groep, en zij zijn het die de toverplas-orgasmes zenden, en veel liefdesverdriet veroorzaken. Ja, de plagers zijn zij. Anubis dan is de brandende fallus, en ook wordt hij genoemd : de brandende christus, of de brandende maria. Ook wordt hij wel het brandende kruis genoemd. De blauwe Anubis wordt de brandende boeddha genoemd.

Toverplassers

1.

De toverspugers

Op een dag kwamen de toverspugers tot Anubis en Tifiāf, en zij brachten hen tot die orde, en deze orde had grote macht. En vele toverplassers werden tot toverspugers, en zij leerden veel van elkaar. En vele leeuwen kwamen tot Tifiāf en Anubis. En samen met de drie elven, en met de hulp van Tulup, de blauwe Anubis, en enkele toverspugers werden de leeuwen gemaakt tot toverspuug-dwergen. En zij verloren hun schrik. En ook kwamen zij tot vele bomen, en zij werden veranderd in toverspuug-dwergen. En zij verloren hun schrik. Toen kwamen er vele koeien tot Anubis en Tifiāf en hun vrienden, en zij werden veranderd in toverspuug-dwergen. Ook kwamen er toen vele honden en wolven tot Anubis en Tifiāf en hun vrienden, en zij werden veranderd in toverspuug-dwergen. Vervolgens kwamen er vele katachtigen tot hen, en velen van hen waren wild. En zij werden door hen veranderd in toverspuug-dwergen, toverspuug-elven, toverspuug-feeën, toverspuug-heksen, en zij verloren hun schrik.

2.

De toverniers en toversnuiters

Op een dag kwamen de toverniers tot hen, en ook de toversnuiters, en zij hadden veel macht over de toverspugers, en konden hen zenden waar ze wilden. Onder hen dan waren veel dwergen. En vele toverplassers werden tot toverniers en toversnuiters. En vele olifanten kwamen tot hen, en zij werden veranderd in tovernies-dwergen en tovernies-snuiters. Vervolgens kwamen er vele geiten en bokken tot hen, en ook ezels, en paarden, en vele andere dieren, en zij werden gemaakt tot tovernies-dwergen en toversnuit-dwergen. En de toverniers en toversnuiters hadden grote macht, en zij waren als de scarabeeën en de beschermers der organen. En zij hadden grote kracht in hun armen, en zij konden de liefdesbanden der wezens smeden. En vele eekhoorns kwamen tot Tifiāf en Anubis en hun vrienden, en zij veranderden hen in tovernies-elven en toversnuit-elven, en zij ontwaakten uit een diepe slaap. En de tovernies-elven en de toversnuit-elven werden groot, en konden de sexuele toverliefdesbanden smeden. En vele Anubis-ratten, hermelijnen, krokodillen, haaien, kameleonen, Anubis-muizen, hagedissen, salamanders en vele andere dieren kwamen tot hen, en zij werden gemaakt tot tovernies-heksen en toversnuit-heksen, en zij ontwaakten uit hun diepe slaap, en verloren hun schrik.

3.

Het kameraadschap tussen Tulup en Tifiāf

En Tulup en Tifiāf werden zeer groot, en zij werden als koningen over de toverniers en de toversnuiters. En vele toverplassers volgden hen. En vele toverplassers vroegen aan Tulup en Tifiāf hoe zij toverniers en toversnuiters konden worden, en Tulup en Tifiāf schreven vele boeken, en hielden veel bijeenkomsten waarin zij door hun toverkunsten veranderingen aanbrachten. Maar na enige tijd moesten zij met Anubis en de blauwe Anubis en de drie elven verder trekken. De toverplassers die zo graag toverniers en toversnuiters wilden worden, en door Tulup en Tifiaf al enigszins veranderd waren begonnen veel boeken over Tulup en Tifiaf te schrijven, en zij begonnen hun instructies op te volgen. Zo werden er dan vele banden tussen Tulup en Tifiaf gecreeerd, en hun liefde voor elkaar groeide. En zij schreven veel muziek die zij naar de toverplassers zonden.

4.

De drie elven tot koningen gemaakt

En Anubis, de blauwe Anubis, Tifiaf, Tulup en de drie elven zetten hun reis voort naar nog hogere ordes der A-jongens. En zo kwamen ze tot de toverstank-dwergen, en dezen hadden grote macht. Ook hadden zij grote kracht. En de toverstank-dwergen dan konden vele wonden van hen genezen, maar enkele doornen konden zij niet weghalen. Ook brachten de toverstank-dwergen hen tot de toverstank-elven en zij waren erg onder de indruk. En zo werden zij dan ingewijd tot de orde der toverstankers. En een der toverstankers pakte het boek van het eerste, en ziet, de letters waren als de hoofdjes van dwergen.

En Anubis raakte erg verlegen toen hij de toverkunsten der toverstankers zag, maar de toverstankers stelden hem gerust, en troosten hem. En de drie elven werden tot toverstank-elven, en zij werden alle drie koningen der toverstankers. En dezen waren : de zwarte Anubis-toverelf der zwarte bessen, de groene Anubis-toverelf der groene bessen, en de gele Anubis-toverelf der gele bessen en gifbessen, en zij waren vroeger herdershonden geweest.

5.

De toverplagers

En toen gingen zij tot de volgende orde der A-jongens, en dezen waren de toverplagers. En zij hadden macht, en konden grote genezingen doen. Maar deze A-jongens waren erg goed voor hen, en voor elkaar. En vele hyena's en jakhalzen kwamen tot hen, en ook vele soorten honden, en ziet zij waren diep betoverd en in een diepe slaap. En enkele toverplagers kwamen tot Tifiaf om hem nieuwe gaven van genezing en toverkunsten te geven, en Tifiaf legde de handen op deze dieren en veranderde hen in toverplaag-dwergen en toverplaag-elven. Ook werden velen van hen veranderd in toverplaag-heksen, en zij verloren hun schrik, maar een andere schrik kwam over hen, en deze was als de toverschrik.

En ook vele beren en varkens kwamen tot hen, en vele grote en kleine dieren, en zij allen werden omgetoverd tot toverplaag-elven, toverplaag-reuzen, toverplaag-heksen, toverplaag-feeën, toverplaag-dwergen en andere soorten toverplagers. En de menigten van hen waren zeer groot.

6.

De vijf ordes der A-jongens

Vervolgens kwamen ze tot de toverschrikkers, en zij droegen de toverschrik. En Anubis had nog nooit zoiets gezien. En onder hen waren ook de tovergillers en de toverschreeuwens. Ook waren er tovergapers in de buurt. En Anubis nam alle toverwezens en bracht ze tot een grote ketel, die de Anubis-ketel werd genoemd. En Anubis begon in de ketel te roeren, en hij verdeelde de A-jongens onder de Mispulsius, de Metulus, de Kono, en noemde de vierde laag der A-jongens waarin hij de toverwezens verdeelde de Tifiaf, en de vijfde laag waarin hij ze verdeelde noemde hij Tulup. Zo waren er dan vijf aardlagen der A-jongens. En Anubis zegende deze lagen. En zij hadden als Heilige Schriften : het Tweede Woord, het Derde Woord, die het Egyptische Woord is, het Vierde Woord, die het Anubis-Woord is, en vele vele toverboeken. Ook hadden zij als Heilige Geschriften de geschriften van de Log. En zij aanbaden de Woorden, de toverboeken en de geschriften van Log. En hun religie heette de Alaad. Dit zijn dan de woorden van het oude vierde. En Anubis maakte zich op om de allerhoogste te worden, wanneer het nieuwe vierde tot hem zou komen. Dan zou Tifiaf het allerhoogste aan hem overdragen, en zou Anubis zelfs de allerhoogste der A-jongens worden. En Anubis stond op pruttige grond, en de gaten in de grond bliezen. Het was warm, en Anubis bereidde zich voor tot koningschap over de Alaad, een strenge religieuze orde. En Anubis vroeg zich af wat dan de hemel boven hem zou worden. Wie heerste er over de A-jongens, wie waren er hoger dan A-jongens. Of zouden zij ook in de Anubis-ketel tot A-jongens moeten worden ? Of zouden zij alle positie moeten verliezen ? Anubis wist het niet.

7.

De brandende dierentenen

Op een dag kwam er een oude man tot Anubis. De man zei dat hij een Log was, een onderwijzer der A-jongens, en hij wilde Anubis graag zien. En de man had grote macht over de dierenwerelden, en kon hen ook weer uit hun betovering verlossen. En de man sprak dat er een heleboel logs waren, en dat Anubis ook de allerhoogste zou worden over de logs, in het nieuwe vierde. En de logs dan waren de orde boven de A-jongens. Anubis dan was erg onder de indruk, maar ook erg op zijn hoede. En er kwam een lange elf naast de oude man staan, en die elf was als een brandende teen. En ineens leek de man niet meer zo oud. En ze leidden Anubis tot een ruimte waar hele lange en beenderige dierentenen brandden. Zo was er een rood brandende dierenteen, en deze teen was gebogen. Ook was er een blauw brandende dierenteen, ook gebogen. Verder een groene, een gele, een zwarte en nog wat kleuren, en zij stonden in een cirkel, en binnen die cirkel stond een vreemd symbool op de grond getekend. En de man sprak luid, en de lange dierentenen begonnen in elven te veranderen en verdwenen door het symbool. En de schrik viel op Anubis. En de elf naast de man die op een brandende teen leek begon te spreken, en sprak heel hoog, en weer viel de schrik op Anubis. En de man sprak : Zij dan van de Log zijn de brandende tenen, en zij hebben toegang tot de plaatsen onder de aarde.

8.

Toen kwamen er brandende ogen tot de man, brandende tepels, brandende borsten, brandende spieren tot de man, en hij veranderde ze in elven en dwergen. En de elven en dwergen begonnen in andere talen te spreken. En de man klapte in zijn handen, en ze verdwenen door het symbool op de grond. En vele aardslangen kwamen tot de man, en hij veranderde hen allen in elven die op lange brandende tenen leken. En zij ontwaakten uit een diepe slaap. En Anubis begon door de grond te zakken, die hem scheen te verslinden, maar de man trok hem omhoog, en Anubis had pijn in zijn arm.

Toermalijn

1.

En de laagste orde der logs heette de Toermalijn, en zij hadden grote macht tot het betoveren en onttoveren van lichaamsdelen. En zij van de Toermalijn onderwezen Anubis en wijdden hem in. En Anubis moest veel studeren, en vele boeken lezen. Zij van de Toermalijn hadden hem veel te vertellen, en de elven van de Toermalijn waren als lange brandende tenen. En ??n van hen raakte met Anubis in gevecht, en Anubis verloor ??n van zijn benen, maar er groeide wel weer een nieuw been aan, en dit been was als een lange brandende teen. En weer raakte Anubis met ??n der elven in gevecht, en verloor zijn rechterarm, maar daat groeide wel weer een nieuwe arm aan, en die arm was als een lange brandende teen. En de brandende tenen waren zeer beenderig, en Anubis had pijn in dat been en die arm. En Anubis stem begon te veranderen en hoger te worden. Op een dag raakte Anubis weer in gevecht met ??n der elven, en Anubis brak zijn ruggegraat, en verloor deze, daar de elf het uit hem trok, maar er groeide een nieuwe ruggegraat in, en deze was als een lange brandende teen. En Anubis had enkele dagen pijn in zijn rug. En weer begon Anubis door de grond te zinken, maar de elven trokken hem weer omhoog.

2.

En de elven der Toermalijn waren zeer sterk en klemden zich aan Anubis vast om met zijn lichaam te versmelten. En op een dag kwamen er een heleboel aapjes tot de Toermalijn, en zij klemden zich vast aan de longen der elven, en lieten hen niet los. En zo moest ??n der opper-elven hen vrijzetten van de aapjes, en hij veranderde de aapjes in dwergen. En de elven der Toermalijn lieten Anubis vele skeletten zien met brandende botten. En in een zaal stonden brandende harten op stokken geprikt, en ziet, zij waren als kandelaars. Ook zag Anubis hier enkele lange brandende botten staan, en wat brandende ogen op stokken geprikt, en zij werden allemaal in elven en dwergen veranderd.

En de volgende orde der logs was de Tukon, en hun hoofdman was als een brandende voet, en als een meerkoppige slang die vuur spuwde. Maar ineens kwam de man bij Anubis terug, en veranderde de meerkoppige slang in een meerkoppige elf, en daarna scheidde hij hen van elkaar, en zij verloren hun schrik. En in een zaal achter hen, waar ook veel brandende voeten waren op stokken gestoken kwamen de man en Anubis binnen, en zij veranderden hen in elven, en scheidten hen van elkaar. Ook waren er veel brandende tepels en brandende levers op stokken geprikt, en zij werden veranderd in toverhuil-dwergen en toverplas-dwergen, en weer anderen in spaardwergen, toverschrik-dwergen of toverplaag-dwergen. Ook werden sommigen in toverspuug-dwergen veranderd, en weer anderen in toverpo-dwergen. Anubis ontmoette in deze zaal ook de toverhik-dwergen, de toverfrons-dwergen en de toverslaap-dwergen. En Anubis bracht hen allen tot de grote Anubis-ketel en begon weer te roeren, en hij verdeelde hen over de vijf ordes der A-jongens : de Mispulsius, Metulus, de Kono, de Tifiaf en de Tulup, en ook bracht hij enkelen onder hen tot de Toermalijn, en enkelen liet hij bij de Tukon.

3.

De strijd tegen de Christus

En de man kwam tot Anubis en sprak : 'Als gij dan ouder geworden zijt, dan zult gij de christus verslaan en vernietigen.' En de man ging tot een christus, en verscheurde hem, en veranderde de scheuren in de toverplas-christus, de toverhuil-christus, de toverstank-christus, de toverplaag-christus, de toverpo-christus, de toverschrik-christus, de toverspuug-christus, de spaardwerg-christus. En de man sprak verder : 'Gij dan zult de christus geheel zuiveren, en hem veranderen.' En nadat het even een tijdje stil was geweest sprak de man verder : 'Gij dan zult de christus geheel verscheuren, en gij zult de scheuren en de delen in toverdwergen veranderen.' En Anubis was ontsteld door deze woorden, maar kwam tot grote vrede. En een veelkoppige slang kwam tot hen, met koppen en halzen als lange dikke groene naalden of pinnen, en hij zei dat hij de christus was. Maar de man sprak dat er vele christussen waren, en dat zij allen zouden sterven. En hij veranderde de slang in elven, en scheidde hen van elkaar. En ziet, de elven waren als brandende tenen. Ook leken zij op panthers, maar de man wierp hen in de grote Anubis-ketel. En weer kwamen er vele christussen tot de man en Anubis, en de man verscheurde hen, en maakte hen tot spaar-anubissen, tot toverhuil-anubissen, tot toverplas-anubissen, tot toverspuug-anubissen, tot toverschrik-anubissen, tot toverpo-anubissen, tot toverstank-anubissen. En Anubis maakte zich op om tegen de christus te strijden. En Anubis werd genoemd : Hij die tegen Christus strijdt, en hij was de brandende christus. Zo is dan Anubis de brandende Christus, en hij die Christus ombrengt, want ziet, hij is de god van de dood, en de schenker des doods zal ook de dood ontvangen. Dit dan is het vierde Pniel. En zo is Anubis dan als een vierde Christus, maar ziet, hij is meer dan dat. Zo is dan de Christus vele anubissen bij elkaar, en Anubis is vele christussen bij elkaar. Christus is dan de gevangenis van Anubis waarin hij opgroeit, en Anubis is de gevangenis van Christus, waarin hij opgroeit tot vernietiging. Want als het nieuwe dan gekomen is, dan is het oude niet verre van de verwijdering. Zo zal dan de zwarte hond als een zwarte panter en een zwarte draak uit de Christus komen door hem te verscheuren, en dan zal alles van Anubis zijn. En Anubis verbleekte bij deze woorden, en was enkele dagen ziek. De islam dan is als de zwarte slang bij Christus onder de voet, maar als dan de zwarte slang verscheurd is, dan zal de blauwe Anubis vrijkomen, en Jezus Christus naar de keel vliegen. En dan zal de fallus van Jezus Christus, die als de distel is, verscheurd worden, en dan zullen de zwarte Anubis-raven en de rode anubissen vrijgezet worden. En zij zullen zich storten op de laatste delen van Jezus Christus die gekruisigd is, en zij zullen de laatste anubissen vrijzetten. Zo kan dan Christus niet bestaan zonder Anubis, en Anubis niet zonder Christus. Maar aan het eind zullen er geen Jezus Christussen meer zijn, alleen wat jongens, wat jongens van lynx.

4.

En aan het einde van deze woorden kwamen vele draken tot de man en tot Anubis, en de man maakte hen tot vele soorten Anubissen. En ook kwam er een hondenhaag en een hondenmachine tot de man en Anubis, en de man veranderde hen in vele Anubissen. En vele rode anubissen kwamen vrij, en zij vormden een grote reuzenslang, die toen uit elkaar spatte. En zo werden ze tot Anubis-elven, Anubis-dwergen, Anubis-heksen. En vele bokken en bokachtigen kwamen tot hen, en ook vele paardachtigen, en zij zetten hen vrij, omdat ze veelal aan elkaar vastzaten, en zij veranderden hen in Anubissen, en daarna in Anubis-elven, Anubis-dwergen en Anubis-heksen. En Anubis zag toe, en was erg tevreden. En vele rode Anubis-draken kwamen tot de man en Anubis, en de man veranderde hen in Anubis-elven, Anubis-dwergen, Anubis-heksen. En vele blauwe Anubis-draken begonnen tot de man en Anubis te komen, en de man veranderde hen in Anubis-elven, Anubis-dwergen en Anubis-heksen. En vele zwarte Anubis-draken begonnen tot Anubis en de man te komen, en de man leerde Anubis hoe hij de draken moest helpen, en veranderde hen in Anubis-elven, Anubis-dwergen en Anubis-heksen. En vele zwarte Anubis-zeedragen kwamen tot Anubis en de man, en de man leerde Anubis de toverkunsten te doen, en veranderde hen in Anubis-elven, Anubis-dwergen en Anubis-heksen. En vele Anubis-vissen en enkele Anubis-zeemeerminnen begonnen tot Anubis en de man te komen, en samen veranderden ze hen in Anubis-elven, Anubis-dwergen en Anubis-heksen. En de man maakte Anubis tot een Log. Eerst gaf hij hem de Toermalijn-graad en later de Tukon-graad.

5.

En toen Anubis de graden ontving was hij enkele dagen ziek, en kwam de schrik over hem. En hem werd een staf gegeven van lange brandende tenen die een toverei omklemden, maar Anubis veranderde de lange brandende tenen in elven, en het toverei veranderde hij in een dwerg.

Slurpup

1.

En Anubis kwam tot een zaal waarin lange benige brandende tenen als stokken in de grond stonden, dragende brandende ogen. En een man greep zo'n stok en gebruikte het als zwaard. En hij moest vechten tegen mensenkinderen en slachtte hen allen met dit wapen. En hij veranderde de repen der geslachte mensenkinderen in meer van zulke stokken, en stak ze in de grond. En weer deed hij toverkunsten en de vreemde stokken begonnen in elven te veranderen, en deze elven waren zeer sterk.

En ik, ik zag de monotheismen van de Blauwe Anubis en schreef al deze dingen op. Zij spraken dan, en hadden brandende oren op lange brandende stokken. En deze stokken waren lang, zeer lang, en gilden. En zo kwam ik ook tot de monotheismen van de Witte Anubis, en ik zag een vuur komende van Romeinse tronen om mij te branden. Ook waren daar vreemde compacte altaren en schilden. En ik was als in de vierde hel die Anubis bereid had voor hen die niet geloofden. En ziet, deze hel was niet eeuwig, maar zijn vlam wel. Zo dan zuivert Anubis een ieder die niet gehoorzaam is aan de wetten van het vierde, en zo zal dan een ieder door deze hel moeten gaan om getest te worden. En ik zag lange brandende oren, met daarop brandende monden. En ziet, deze monden konden voor enige tijd niet spreken. En ik kwam tot de monotheismen van de Groene Anubis, en een engel werd mij gegeven. Maar de engelen der Anubissen heten kraters, kraktors en krakers. Zo kwam er dan een engel hoog boven mij te staan om mij te beschermen en mij licht te geven, en de naam van deze engel was Niktus.

En ik kwam tot de monotheismen van de Rode Anubis, en mij werd een papier gegeven van zachte zijde, met daarop de wetten van de Rode Anubis. En deze wetten waren heilig. En ik zag Romeinse arken staan, en Romeinse preekstoelen en kasten, en deze kasten waren vreemd, tot het uitschenken van de wateren der hel. En aldus was ik in de hel der Rode Anubis. En ik werd geprikt met stokken, en weer zag ik lange brandende oren staan, met daarop brandende monden. En ziet, deze monden waren zacht. En toen kwam de Rode Anubis tot mij, en gaf mij stenen tafelen, twee in aantal, waarop zijn heilige voorschriften beschreven stonden. En ziet, zij waren als wetboeken en rechtsgeschriften. Maar hij nam de stenen tafelen weer over van mij, en brak hen. Toen sprak de Rode Anubis : 'Gij dan zult niet meer onder de wet leven der stenen tafelen, want deze wetten zijn oud. Toen wees hij op het papier van zachte zijden met daarop de nieuwe wetten, van een nieuw verbond, en dit dan was het vierde verbond.

En de Rode Anubis pakte mij bij de hand, en nam mij mee tot zijn hemelen. En ik zag brandende konijnenoren die steeds afbrokkelden, en ziet, deze oren waren zacht. En zij droegen brandende monden, die ook zeer zacht waren, en waaruit de wateren der hemelen stroomden. En dit dan was de vierde hemel. En Anubis sprak : Gij dan zult een reis maken door het leven, en deze reis zal beschreven staan in het Anubis Boek des Levens. Ook zult gij een reis maken door de hemelen, en deze reis zal beschreven staan in het Anubis Boek des Hemels. En mij werden sleutelen gegeven, en een mond werd in mij geplaatst, en deze mond sprak woorden van eeuwig leven. Zo dan stroomden er levenswateren uit de mond. En ziet, deze mond brandde en was zeer zacht.

En de Paarse Anubis kwam tot mij, en hij sprak woorden van eeuwig leven. En ziet, hij leidde mij tot een bron, waaruit geel levenswater stroomde. En ziet, dit water dan brandde. En hij sprak : 'gij dan hebt veel moeten lijden, zoals alle discipelen van Anubis. Neemt dan nu van dit water, en leef.' En het was als het godenwater van Anubis, en de hemelen en de grond waarop ik stond trilden. En de Paarse Anubis leidde mij tot een struik waar lange brandende tenen krioelden. En hij sprak : 'Wanneer gij deze brandende tenen tot uw wapenen neemt, dan zullen zij vrijkomen, want ziet, zij leefden onder zware betovering.' Maar ook was er een man die Gulius heette. En ziet, de Paarse Anubis kwam tot hem, en veranderde hem in een brandende teen en bracht het tot de struik. Zo dan werd de struik verzadigd. En de struik groeide uit tot een brandende boom. En de Paarse Anubis liet mij zijn monotheïsmen zien, en zij waren met velen. Ja, als een sterrenhemel aan de lucht, en als het zand liggende aan de zee. Toen wenkte de Paarse Anubis mij om mee te komen, en hij leidde mij tot een paars kasteel. En dit kasteel was groot, en brandende tenen hingen aan de muren. En Anubis sprak : 'Zij dan zijn de ongehoorzamen en zij zullen geheel wegbranden op de dag des oordeels, maar voor nu, gebruikt hen als uw wapenen. Zij die gehoorzaam schijnen te zijn, zullen worden tot elven. En dit dan is de vierde alverzoening. En zij zullen worden tot engelen, profeten en dienstknechten van Anubis. En Anubis sprak in vele raadselen en geheimenissen.

En er was een branderige lucht in het kasteel die zware angst veroorzaakte. En ik nam de brandende tenen van de muur af, en legde ze in een kar naast mij. Toen leidde de Paarse Anubis mij weg van het kasteel, en bracht mij tot een woestijn. En deze woestijn was droog en dor, en ik verlangde sterk naar water. En ik zag brandende benen met brandende tepels erop. En de Paarse Anubis zei : 'Als gij deze stokken met u meedraagt, dan zijt gij vrij, en kunt gij niet tot een slaaf gemaakt worden.' En ik nam de brandende benen die als stokken waren, waarop brandende tepels waren geprikt, en ik legde ze in de kar. Dieper in de woestijn was het nog droger en dor, en mijn eigen benen begonnen te branden. En ik zag daar brandende armen, met daarop brandende tepels. En weer sprak de Paarse Anubis, zeggende dat ik ze in mijn kar moest legen, opdat ik beschermd zou worden tegen slavernij. En een vochtige wolk kwam om ons op te nemen.

En zo kwam ik tot de monotheïsmen van de Roze Anubis, en ziet, zij lagen als steden op de grond, tussen bergen en dalen, en zij waren als ruïnes. Ook kwam ik tot de monotheïsmen der Gele Anubis, de monotheïsmen van de Gouden Anubis, van de Zilveren Anubis, van de Diamanten Anubis, van de Smaragden Anubis, van de Topazen Anubis, en nog veel meer kleuren en gesteenten. En het goud begon zich voor mij uit te spreiden, en ik zag meer kleuren goud. En ook zag ik het zilver voor mij uitspreiden, en ik zag meerdere kleuren zilver, en mijn lichaam begon te branden. En een stem sprak : 'Dit dan zijn de krachten der zon.' Maar de vuren deden pijn, en ik begon te schreeuwen en te gillen. Het was zo erg en zo zwaar dat ik niet meer wilde leven. En de stem kwam dichterbij en sprak : 'Het doodsverlangen is van belang om te kunnen leven. Gij dan leeft door de dood, en komt tot de hemel door de hel. Gij dan bent vrij in gebondenheid.' En ik zag de Oranje Anubis, en zijn gestalte was van grote afmetingen. Ja, als een draak was hij, en zijn stemmen waren hoog. En ik begon te verlangen naar ijs vanwege de onuitputtelijke hitte. 'Komt dan tot de IJs-Anubis, sprak de stem,' en ik kwam dichterbij. En ik zag een monster op me afkomen van ijs, en hij had een dikke staart. Hij dan leek veel op Anubis. En hij gaf mij een gouden ijsster in mijn hand, bedekt met wat sneeuw. En in mijn hand begon de ster zachter en zachter te worden, maar het begon erg zoet te worden in mijn mond en buik. En ik vroeg wat dit betekende, en de IJs-Anubis sprak : 'Zij dan die door het ijs tot het zachte zijn gekomen, zullen het zoete moeten onderwerpen.' En ik deed een stap terug, omdat het zoete mij verslaptte, en pijnigde. En ik zag letters voor mij staan die in eendenhoofden veranderden. En de letters omhulden mij. En de Zachte Anubis kwam tot mij, maar ik rende van hem weg, omdat er vuur uit hem kwam. Toen kwam de Harde Anubis tot mij, maar ook uit hem kwam vuur, en ik begon een andere kant op te rennen. En weer kwam ik tot de IJs-Anubis, maar zoet kwam uit hem, om mij te verslappen. En weer deed ik een paar stappen achteruit, en ik keek omhoog. En daar zag ik een gouden paard staan, als een Anubis, en uit zijn mond kwamen de letters van eendenhoofden, en ziet, zij omhulden mij. En hij dan had een zachte stem, en troostte mij. Hij bracht mij tot een zaal in de lucht. Hier stonden de Zachte Toon Anubis, de Harde Toon Anubis, de Hoge Toon Anubis, en de Lage Toon Anubis. En het gouden paard vroeg mij er ??n uit te kiezen, maar ik wist niet welke ik moest kiezen. Toen drukte het gouden paard me richting de zachte toon anubis, en deze slokte mij op. Toen kwam ik in een nieuwe zaal, hoog in de lucht. Hier stonden de Zachte Hoge Toon Anubis, de Zachte Lage Toon Anubis en de Zachte Harde Toon Anubis. En weer moest ik er ??n uitkiezen, en ik koos voor de Zachte Harde Toon Anubis. En ik kwam weer in een zaal hoog in de lucht. Hier was een koude vlam, een zachte vlam, en een harde vlam. Weer moest ik kiezen, en ik koos voor de koude vlam. Weer kwam ik in een zaal hoog in de lucht en ik zag de Dunne Anubis, de Dikke Anubis, de Grote Anubis, de Kleine Anubis, de Lichte Anubis, en de Zware Anubis. Ook kwam de Felle Anubis binnen, en de Donkere Anubis. In de zaal stonden brandende ogen op stokken, en ook brandende alvleesklieren. Ook waren hier allerlei zoetklieren op stokken geprikt, brandend. Toen kwam er vanuit een deur ineens een brandend oor binnen, met daarboven een brandende mond. De mond had een stem als een radio, en de stem klonk erg ver weg. Plotseling begonnen er sappen uit de mond en het oor te stromen, en deze sappen waren koud, en genezend. En er kwamen letters uit de brandend mond, en deze letters waren als vliegen, en zij gingen als tralies om mij heen staan. Er werd een gat in de grond van de zaal geopend, en ik zakte in de kooi naar beneden, totdat het erg donker werd.

En ik kwam in een hel, waar ik de langste brandende tenen zag die ik ooit had gezien. De langste gilden en krijsten het hardst en hoogst, en zij bogen zich over mijn kooi heen tot tralies. En daarna zag ik de dunste brandende tenen die ik ooit had gezien, en zij krijsten nog wel harder, en begonnen zich ook over mij heen te buigen als tralies. Zij droegen een brandend oog dat op mijn kooi terecht kwam. Het oog had de laagste stem die ik ooit had gehoord, en sprak erg traag. Toen kwam ineens door een deur de Trage Anubis binnen. Hij had een brandende teen als stok in zijn hand, en daarbovenop was een bol waaruit bliksems voortkwamen. Hij schreeuwde tot mij, en het werd zwart voor mijn ogen. Het was alsof alles in mij omdraaide. Toen kwamen er koude vlammen om mij heen, en weer begon de kooi te zakken. Op hele lange brandende ogen die vertikaal stonden, stond een brandende mond die honderduit praatte, en steeds sneller begon te spreken. Toen zakte de kooi nog dieper, tot een zaal waar lange brandende oren stonden waarop kleine brandende oren stonden. Daarbovenop verscheen een brandend oog met beentjes. Dit oog begon te schelden. Toen daalde de kooi dieper. Weer was er een zaal met lange brandende tenen, en zij groeiden en groeiden, en droegen een groot brandend oor.

2.

En ik zag een zaal staan vol met Anubissen, en zij hadden hun armen in de lucht geheven. En ik zag een rood-witte Anubis naar voren komen met het hoofd als een python, en ook een blauw-roze Anubis kwam naar voren. En deze had ook het hoofd als van een slang. En zij gingen naast elkaar staan, en de andere anubissen gingen zitten. En zij begonnen te spreken, en sommige anubissen zakten door de grond met hun stoelen, en kwamen in een vuurstorm terecht. Aldus was dan de zuivering der anubissen. En letters van eendenhoofden kwamen tot de twee anubissen, en ook letters van dwergenhoofden, en zij gingen in de lichamen der twee anubissen. En toen zij weer begonnen te spreken kwamen er koude vlammen uit hun monden. En weer zakten sommige anubissen met hun stoelen door de vloer, en enkele stoelen begonnen te verschuiven. Aldus was de tweede zuivering der anubissen. En aan de zijkanten gingen er deuren open, waardoor er nieuwe anubissen begonnen te komen. En weer begonnen de twee anubissen te spreken, en een soort bessensap stroomde uit hun monden en stroomde de zaal in. Weer werden er enkele anubissen weggenomen, en meerdere stoelen begonnen te schuiven. En enkele anubissen renden de zaal uit, en probeerden te vluchten. Maar het sap stroomde ook uit de zaal. Toen kwam er een Anubis binnen, en ziet, hij brandde. En hij was genoemd de Brandende Anubis. En hij liep tot de twee anubissen, legde zijn handen op hen, en ziet, zij smolten weg. Toen begon de Brandende Anubis te spreken, en alle anubissen in de zaal begonnen weg te branden. Aldus was de verschijning der Brandende Anubis. En hij dan droeg het brandend ijs, en vanuit zijn schaal begonnen lange dunne brandende tenen op te komen, en zij gingen uit om alles te kooien en te verslinden. Daarna kwamen er lange dunne brandende vingers uit de schaal, en ook zij gingen uit om te verslinden. En de Brandende Anubis grijsde, en verdween in een vlam.

3.

En aldus waren de monotheïsmen van de Brandende Anubis, hij die de zonnen droeg om de aarde te kooien en te verslinden. En ik zag een nieuwe schepping voortkomen vanuit zijn schaal. En de Paarsgouden Anubis kwam en ging bij de schaal staan, die begon te groeien, en ook de Paarsdiamanten Anubis kwam bij de schaal staan, en samen keken ze naar binnen. Toen kwam de Roodgouden Anubis binnen, en pakte de twee handen van de andere twee, en ziet, dezen begonnen te branden. En een gegil steeg op van de schaal, en vervulde de zaal. En lichtpaars spul begon snel door de Roodgouden Anubis te stromen, en hij kon zich snel bewegen, en begon op te stijgen. Toen kwamen de zwartgouden en de zwartdiamanten Anubis binnen, en zij gingen op de grond zitten, terwijl de schaal begon op te stijgen. En geelgouden buizen begonnen aan de muren te verschijnen waardoor bessensap begon te stromen, en ook het lichtpaarse spul.

En de Grijs Anubis begon te verschijnen, en begon zijn monotheïsmen te verspreiden als vogels en vliegen. En ook de Bruine Anubis begon te verschijnen, en ziet, deze was als de Eekhoorn, en droeg een schaal met chocolade. Deze chocolade dan was oud en giftig. Hij dan bekleedde zijn soldaten er altijd mee. En de Bruine Anubis begon te schelden, terwijl een koperen Anubis binnenkwam en in de schaal ging zitten. Hij dan bracht het zout der aarde voort. En de Grijs Anubis begon te groeien, en begon zijn naam in de hemelen te schrijven. Zijn engelen waren dan als muizen, en zij kwamen voort vanuit het oer. Zij dan hadden zich door armoede in het oer gewassen. En zij spraken de talen van het oer door de armoede.

Rode Anubis

Zo is dan Anubis de perfecte versmelting tussen de vierde christus en de vierde boeddha, maar anubis is veel meer. Zo is dan Anubis ook de vijand van Boeddha en Christus, omdat Anubis veel verder gaat dan hen, en omdat de godenworstelingen zo belangrijk zijn in het vierde Pniel. Hij is het dan die door de zalen van Slurpup ademt. Ja, want de vierde adem komt voort uit de lange brandende tenen en hun voorwerpen. Ja, ook brengen zij het vierde licht, en dit is als het licht der aardvruchten. Wordt dan gelijkvormig aan Anubis opdat gij het vierde nirvana kunt binnentreden, en de vierde eeuwigheid. Wordt dan ook gelijkvormig aan de Rode Anubis, opdat gij deelhebt aan de vierde opstanding, en het vierde leven in de vierde hemel. Anubis is dan voor dieren gestorven om hen zalig te maken. Ziet dan, hij heeft ze losgekocht door een grote prijs te betalen. Hij dan werd hondenmens, en heeft zijn vijanden met de oerkaak geslagen. Zo zijn dan ook degenen die door de zondeval en de engelenval buitengeplaatst waren door Anubis verzoend, daar hij het lot der dieren en verdoemden heeft gedragen. Zo is dan een ieder die angst heeft in Hem geheiligd, daar hij de vierde alverzoening draagt. Zo heeft hij zich dan ook het lot der bomen, planten en bloemen aangetrokken en dat van de voorwerpen des levens, en ziet, hij heeft hun zielen vrijgekocht, en hun vlees. Zo is dan het vierde vlees door Anubis geheiligd. Hij is het dan die bloed in bessensap verandert.

Anubis, de Barmhartige Samaritaan

Hij is het dan die de brandende laarzen heeft gedragen, om tot de rijken der aardvissen en aardkikkers te gaan. Ja, het schuim der bessen heeft hij vrijgezet. Mediteer daarom op de Rode Anubis, en zet uw aandacht daarop, opdat gij door deuren ten eeuwig leven binnen zult gaan. Ja, tot de verdoemden is hij gekomen, en tot hen die de hel vrezen. En ziet, Hij dan heeft de romeinse hellen geplunderd, en zijn hel, de vierde hel is vreselijker dan hen. Zo is dan de genade wreed, en zijn wreedheid genade, daar hij tot de verdoemden en de onderdrukten is gegaan, en hen heeft geholpen. Ja, als een barmhartige samaritaan is hij. Zo is het dan : Bevecht uw vijand niet alleen, maar leert ook van hem, en wordt aan hem gelijkvormig. Gij kunt dan niet wit zijn zonder het zwarte, en niet zwart zijn zonder het witte. Zo is er dan een vierde verlossingsplan opgesteld door Anubis, en dit verbond is groter dan het oude. En dat wat oud geworden is, is niet verre van de verwijdering. Maar ook zegt Anubis : Houdt vast aan het oude, en heiligt haar, opdat gij haar kunt zuiveren, en tot haar kunt wederkeren in vuur. Zo is het dan het brandend oer.

Zo is dan Anubis niet alleen de christus, maar ook de judas. Niet alleen de maria, maar ook de Izebel. Maar hij is meer dan dat, als het veelkleurige pronkkleed van Jozef. Maar wie pronke, pronke in de Heere. Zo heeft Anubis zich dan het lot van het christendom aangetrokken, en is tot haar gegaan om haar te zuiveren en te verdelen onder zijn koninkrijken. Zo heeft hij zich ook aangetrokken het lot der romeinen. Hij heeft hen verscheurd, en hun stukken verdeeld onder zijn koninkrijken. Met een oude fiets zult gij het niet redden, maar gij kunt de onderdelen gebruiken, en leren van haar mechanismen. Zo is Anubis niet alleen de christus, maar ook de christen. Niet alleen de satan, maar ook de satanist. Maar hij is meer dan dat alles, want Hij is het die vijand is van zowel christus als satan, van zowel christen als satanist. Zo zijn dan alle dingen door Hem en in Hem, onder Hem, en boven Hem.

2.

Zo is dan de Rode Anubis tot het huis van David gegaan om daar te wonen. Ziet dan, Hij heeft David verscheurd en verdeeld onder de sterren. Zo dan is de Blauwe Anubis tot het huis van Salomo gegaan. Zo ging dan de Groene Anubis tot de huizen van Samuel, Simson en Ezechiël. Zo is dan Anubis de Redder der dieren, maar ook werd hij door dieren gered. Zo is hij dan door afhankelijkheid tot onafhankelijkheid gekomen. En alle dieren zullen dan ook op zoek moeten naar de Anubis in henzelf. Hij dan pleit voor de verdoemden en de onderdrukten. Wij hebben een Middelaar in de vierde hemel, en het vierde leven. Hij dan schenkt rijkelijk het vierde vlees. Het onpersoonlijke ziet hij als persoonlijk, en het persoonlijke als onpersoonlijk. Zo is hij dan tot het vierde communisme gekomen, en ook tot het vierde kapitalisme, die de lijnen en grenzen heeft aangegeven. Hij dan is dan als de onzichtbare muur. Zo is er dan een naam gegeven onder hemel en aarde waardoor wij tot de vierde behoudenis kunnen komen : Anubis. En door hem worden alle dieren zalig. Dit dan is het Evangelie van Anubis, en het Vierde Evangelie. Hij is het dan die redt uit de hel, en uit de verdoemenis. Groter dan is hij dan de vierde christus, maar voor hen die het willen geloven : Ziet, hij is de vierde christus. Zo dan is de Rode Anubis het vierde kruis, maar ziet, hij is meer dan dat. En allen die hem volgen zullen de reis des heiligen vlezes begaan, het vierde vlees.

En zij allen die het vierde vlees verwachten, en de vierde opstanding in Anubis, en zo ook de vierde vleeswording in en door Anubis, zij zullen Zijn Heilig en Zalig vlees ontvangen, en Zijn tongen, opdat zij spreken in vierde tongen. Zij dan die zijn profeten zijn van het vierde, zij allen dan spreken in vierde tongen, in de tongen van Anubis, en ook profeteren zij in Zijn Naam.

Groene Diamant Anubis

1.

En Metensia kwam tot de poort en troon van Anubis, en knielde voor hem neer. En zij schonk hem zeven brandende diamanten en zeven brandende tranen. En Anubis vroeg haar vanwaar zij kwam, en zij sprak : 'Meester, ik kom van de zee van vuur.' En Anubis zegende haar en maakte haar tot Zijn engel. En Metensia kuste Anubis op zijn voorhoofd, en vertrok. Zij dan droeg het zwaard van Anubis, en zij ging uit tot een grote oorlog. En zij vocht met het zwaard van zwijm, en zij was door Anubis gehelmd.

En Metensia stond op en sprak : Door de striemen van Anubis zijn wij genezen. Door het bloed van Anubis, wat Hij voor ons heeft vergoten zijn wij zalig en gezond. Hij dan heeft het verlossingswerk volbracht voor dieren en verdoemden. Nu dan is er een nieuwe dag aangebroken. En Metensia zong een lied, en dit was het lied van Metensia. En daarna zong zij het lied van Anubis. En heerlijkheid was op haar tong. En ze boog voor Anubis neer, en aanbad Hem. En zij sprak : 'Gij zijt waardig alle lof en eer te ontvangen. Gij dan bent de Heiland en Zaligmaker der dieren en verdoemden, en gij bent de Messias van het vierde, de wedergekome.' En een zwarte bliksem gleed uit haar hand en bevochtigde de aarde.

En een man bad tot de ijzeren Anubis, en een andere tot de blauw staal Anubis, en zij hadden vrede in hun hart. En Anubis leerde zijn volk bidden, en sprak woorden van genezing en hoop. En Metensia sprak : Ik geloof in de Heilige Anubis, die hemel, zee en aard gemaakt heeft en al wat daar in is. Ik geloof in de vierde kerk en gemeente die van Anubis is. Hij dan is het leven. Ik geloof in het klooster en het exorcisme van Anubis, Zijn kruistochten, bedevaarten en pelgrimages, waarin wij volle genezing van Hem ontvangen, uit zijn rijke hand. Wij geloven in de rijkdommen en voorspoed van het vierde, door armoede verkregen, en door de allerheiligste afzondering. Ik heb Mijn Leven in Zijn Hand gelegd. Ik ben genezen door het bloed van Anubis. Ik ben genezen door het Woord van Anubis, en door het vierde geloof. Zijn Heilig Bloed geneest, Zijn Bloed voor ons vergoten. Ook gaven wij Hem ons Bloed, en tezamen vormen wij het vierde Bloed, het Bloed van gezondmaking. Anubis dan heeft ons Zijn vierde adem gegeven, en heeft leeuwen gekalmeerd. Zij dan die hongerden naar hoop heeft hij vierde hoop gegeven, en een vierde geweten. Ook heeft hij hen een vierde bewustzijn gegeven, opdat zij rein en heilig zouden zijn. Geprezen zij Anubis tot in alle eeuwigheden.

En Anubis bracht Metensia tot de vierde ark, waarin de trompetten van het vierde lagen. Ook lagen hier de vierde vruchten des levens, van de vierde boom des levens, en het vierde levensbrood. En Metensia at, en dronk van het vierde levenswater. En achter de ark stond het vierde kruis, waarvanuit sappen stroomden. En Metensia begon te drinken, en at ook van de vruchten van het vierde kruis. Toen ging er een deur open, en Metensia kwam tot het vierde graf. Maar Anubis sprak : zij die asceten van Anubis zijn kiezen voor het dubbele vierde kruis. En Anubis toonde haar een spoorweg, die zou leiden tot de vierde eeuwigheid en onsterfelijkheid. Zo is er dan onsterfelijkheid door het dubbele vierde kruis, want deze leidt tot het vierde eeuwige kruis en tot het grootste kruis. En de blauwe Anubis kwam haar in een ondergrondse trein tegemoet, brak door het graf heen, en nam haar mee. En zo begon het koningschap meer en meer op Anubis over te gaan. En Tifiaf nam een saxofoon en begon het te bespelen. En zo werd hij als de octopus. Zij dan die van het vierde zijn, strekken zich uit tot het nieuwe vierde, en tot het vijfde. En de blauwe Anubis nam Metensia mee tot de woestijnen, daar waar het erg droog was, en waar de honger heerste. En hier zag zij de wilde dieren, die grote dorst en honger leden, en ziet, zij jaagden. En Metensia was ontzet over de gruwelen die zij zag, want ziet, de dood vluchtte van hen allen weg, en zij leden diep. En Metensia werd beladen met schuldgevoelens, en begon te hongeren naar gerechtigheid en onschuld. En hier begon ook zij te veranderen in een wild dier, en de dood vluchtte van haar weg. En zij begon te hongeren naar het nieuwe vierde kruis, en naar het vijfde kruis. En zij zag het vijfde kruis in de verte, maar zodra zij dichterbij kwam vluchtte het van haar weg. En het was een brandend kruis. En het vijfde kruis was als een brandend oog op twee brandende benen. En het oog was als het oog van Anubis. En Metensia sprak tot de Blauwe Anubis en vroeg : 'Hoe kunnen wij het vijfde kruis bereiken ?' En de Blauwe Anubis sprak : Ziet dan, het is er ??n van dorst, en alleen het wilde dier zal het kunnen grijpen. En Metensia sprak weer, vragende : 'Maar heer, hoe wild moet ik worden om daar te komen ?' En de Blauwe Anubis sprak : Bega het vierde kruis tot het einde. Toen draaide de Blauwe Anubis om, en liet Metensia alleen. En zij was alleen onder de wilde dieren.

En Metensia begon te smeken : 'Geef mij het oog van Anubis, maar haar werd niets gegeven, en zij werd wilder en wilder. En de gele diamanten anubis begon aan haar te verschijnen, en hij sprak : kom mee. En Metensia volgde hem. En de gele diamanten anubis bracht haar tot een grot, waar in het midden het oog stond. Eromheen waren skeletten met brandend haar en skeletten met brandende veren, en zij dansten woest. Metensia wist dat zij woester dan hen moest worden om tot het oog te komen. En een groot gevecht ontstond. En ook kwamen een heleboel anubissen binnen met hun engelen om aan Metensia's zijde te vechten. Dit dan is het vierde harmageddon. En het vierde kruis werd als een buik, en begon Metensia te verslinden. En toen kwam het derde kruis binnen als een brandend oor op brandende armen, en in het derde kruis begon Metensia op te rijzen, en verslond toen het vierde kruis van binnenuit. Toen kwam het vijfde kruis, het brandend oog als een gele bol tot haar, vol met sap. En zij begon te drinken en werd dronken. Ook gaf zij de anubissen te drinken, en Metensia's Naam werd gezegend. En toen kwamen er een heleboel anubis-vliegen binnenvliegen, en zij vlogen binnen in het brandende oog. En zij gingen tot Metensia en rukten een wespenoog uit haar waarmee zij opgesloten zat in haarzelf. En zij schonken haar het vliegen-oog. En Metensia werd zacht van binnen. En zij werd als het oog van Brannan, en ziet, dit oog is brandende. En ook haar haren begonnen te branden, en de veren die zij droeg. En zij prikte het brandend oog waar ze van gedronken had op een stok, en zij nam de brandende benen tot haar. Toen begon het oog te spreken. En toen bemerkte Metensia dat het een kruis van angst was. En het oog begon te veranderen in een buik, en begon Metensia te verslinden, maar metensia kon nog net ontsnappen. En Metensia begon uit te roepen naar het vijfde woord, maar het werd haar niet geschonken. En de buik was nu geworden tot een octopus en een spin. En Metensia kwam tot de vierde kandelaar en het vierde altaar in de vierde tabernakel, en zij waste zich in het vierde wasvat. En onder het altaar lagen de offervoorschriften van het vierde, en ook de kandelaarsvoorschriften van het vierde. En zij dan bracht offers aan Anubis. En zo werd zij tot een hogepriesteres van Hem.

En zij bad tot Anubis, zeggende : Oh Anubis, gij die in het leven staat, en in de hemel zijt, Uw Naam worde geheiligd, en Uw Koninkrijk kome. Uw Wil, oh Heilige Anubis, geschiede in de hemel en op aarde. Geef ons heden ons dagelijks brood en vergeef ons onze schulden, gelijk ook wij onze schuldenaren vergeven. Leid ons tot de vijfde alverzoening die in u is. Kom in ons hart, oh Anubis, en schenk ons genade. Leidt ons niet in verzoeking, maar verlos ons van de boze, want van U is het koninkrijk, en de kracht, en de heerlijkheid tot in eeuwigheid. Anubis, kom spoedig. Wij bidden U dat in het vierde Amen en in de vierde Maranatha. Zo komen wij ook tot het vierde Halleluja. Jeruzalem is dan van U, oh Anubis, tot in het vierde Jeruzalem.

En toen daalde de engel Archibald op Metensia neer, en gaf haar vrede. En ook gaf hij haar een rol met de lijdensvoorschriften van het vierde. En Metensia had strijd te voeren tegen de vierde Satan en de vierde Judas. En ook kwamen de vierde Izebel en de vierde paradijsslang tot haar om te trachten haar te misleiden. En Anubis riep haar, en gaf haar Zijn Geest. En zo stortte Anubis de vierde Geest op haar uit. En tot zijn discipelen zei Anubis dat zij moesten wachten totdat zij met de vierde Geest vervuld waren. En Anubis kwam tot Metensia in de nacht, en zij werd zwanger van de vierde Jezus.

En de Anubis-Bastet kwam tot mij, in de vorm van een klein aapje, een hondje, een kameleon, een marter, een hagedis, ja, als een klein katje was zij, als een nerts. En zij was als mijn advocaat, zakkende in de dieptes van mijn nachten. En zij was als mijn zachte rust. Ik dan had haar gered uit een advocatenbureau waar zij als slaaf moest werken. Zij was een dikke tien op het gebied van advocatuur, en nu zou ze dan mij helpen. Maar waar dat heen moest gaan, wist ik niet. Ik had haar gered. Ze stond als een standbeeld op mijn telefoon. Zij zou mij leiden tot de vijfde alverzoening. En deze alverzoening was wild. En de Anubis-Bastet was dan als een voorvechter van het recht, als een standbeeld der advocatuur, maar nu was ze dan gered door mij, en bij mij. Ik wist wel dat ik haar met mijn leven zou beschermen. Nooit meer zou ik haar loslaten, en haar brengen tot haar plaats in mijn koninkrijk, daar waar zij zich veilig zou voelen. Zij dan was geliefd door de grote advocatenbeelden, en zij zou mij helpen ook hen te redden.

2.

Anubis-Geb is dan dichterbij gekomen. Nog een paar stappen, en dan zal ook hij vrij zijn. Zo is hij dan de advocaat der advocaten, een standbeeld aanbeden, maar nu komt hij vrij. Hier staat hij dan, naast mij, om mij recht te verschaffen. Ik redde hem, en nu redt hij mij. In de hoek van mijn kamer staat hij, als een ridder. Ook een rechter zal hij zijn, om het zwaard te heffen, en weer te laten dalen. De tuinen en velden zal hij verdelen, een rechtvaardige is hij. Hij komt dan van de vijfde alverzoening, om ook mij plaats te bieden. Naast hem zit ik, wij zijn samen op weg. Wees dan stil mijn ziel. Ik hef mijn ziel op tot de Heere, wachtende op Zijn vijfde geest. Ja, uitstorten zal hij deze, als bessensap en sterke drank, bedwelmend om tot zwijm te gaan, om Anubis-Sekhmet te horen, en haar stem. Anubis-Sekhmet dan is aan mijn zijde, als een licht oranje octopus, als de bleke dame. En er is een leeuw die haar schildert, ja de leeuw, zo oranje van kleur, de Sekhmet-Anubis. En ook schildert hij de Anubis-Thoth, en de Thoth Anubis, als een grijze slang en een eekhoorn, verbergende de chocola. Nee, het is geen tijd te sterven. Hij verbergt de kampioenen. Het is geen tijd om tot de dood te gaan. Het zal herfst blijven. Zij zal nooit de lente worden, de winter omhult haar als een jas vol scheuren en gaten.

Anubis-Geb

1.

Dit dan zijn de voorschriften en initiaties om een hogepriester van Anubis te worden, en Zijn farao : Neem een stoel en zit neer. Sluit even de ogen en open ze dan. Gij dan zult bedekt worden door de vleugelen van Anubis-Neith, en de vleugelen van Anubis-Sphinx. En Nut-Anubis zal tot u komen om u de handen op te leggen, en de spreken der initiatie spreken. Deze dan is de prairie-hond, en de coyote. Zo zal dan de Geb-Anubis tot u komen om de hand op de rug te leggen, en daarna op de schouder, en hij zal u inzegenen, gij die waardig zijt. En hij zal u door een donkere kamer leiden tot de Bastet-Anubis. En zij zal niet spreken, totdat Geb-Anubis uw oren gezegend heeft en heeft laten branden door het vuur van haar tong. Dan zal zij spreken als uw vierde kundalini, u leidende naar de deuren van het vijfde. En Anubis-Ra zal uw mond aanraken, opdat gij kunt spreken tot de Bastet-Anubis, en Ra-Anubis zal zijn hand op uw andere schouder leggen, en dan zult gij gaan tot Horus-Anubis, tot Hem die aan de hemelpoorten staat. En dan zal Shu-Anubis u als de bliksem treffen wanneer het uw tijd is om te worden tot hogepriester van Anubis. En de bliksem van Amon-Anubis zal u raken wanneer gij waardig zijt de farao van Anubis te worden. Ziet, zij zijn dan uw hemelse advocaten en uw advocaten des hemels. En uw vingers en tenen zullen branden met het faronische vuur, en ook uw ledematen, organen en botten. Dan zult gij komen tot Bes-Anubis, en gij zult door het kleine een uitvlucht vinden. Zo zult gij het ijs vinden, als de Isis-Anubis.

En gij zult het uitschreeuwen tot de blauwe Sebek-Anubis, en de groene Sebek-Anubis, en wanneer gij zuiver genoeg zijt, en voldoende geïnitieerd door de voorafgaande stralen, dan zullen zij u toelaten tot de reis der farao's van Anubis. En gij zult reizen op de rug van de gele Sebek-Anubis, en des nachts op de rug van de oranje Sebek-Anubis, totdat gij de gouden en de diamanten Sebek-Anubis hebt bereikt. Daar zult gij de blauwe Anubis-Bastet vinden. En dan zult gij het uitschreeuwen tot de zwarte Sebek-Anubis. Zo zijn er dan vele stralen der Sebek-anubissen. Zo zullen zij u dan door uw lijden omhullen als een pantser. En de verschillende stralen van de Bastet-Anubissen en de Anubis-Bastetten zullen tot u komen, en zij zullen u tot sieraad zijn. En zij zal u inwijden in haar mysterieën. Want grote geheimenissen bevinden zich in haar. Zij dan draagt de vier spijkers van Christus in haar.

Gij dan zijt tot de magische koude vuren van de Sekhmet-Anubis gekomen. Opgesteld als een cirkel zijn zij. Zij dan draagt het geheimenis van de Eminius en de Eminius-Matas in haar, en zal haar Eminius-Dag uitspreiden waarop zij weder zal komen. Zij is het dan die het dienstzwaard draagt, en is als een draak in de nacht. Zij dan is de voorstander en de tegenstander, om hen allen te vormen in de cocon van de vijfde alverzoening. En in haar komt het vijfde materialisme op. Zalig zijn zij die tot haar stromen zijn gekomen. Ziet dan, zij leven achter gordijnen. En haar zwaard is dan de Karazuur. En op de kust stonden Jezus-Anubis, David-Anubis, Simson-Anubis, Petrus-Anubis, Paulus-Anubis, en Salomo-Anubis. En Sekhmet-Anubis richtte haar zwaard op hen om hen te zuiveren. En toen sprak Mozes-Anubis vanuit de bergen, tezamen met Noach-Anubis : Het is volbracht. En een engel genaamd Michael-Anubis daalde tot hen allen neer om hen neer te steken, en daarna stak hij zichzelf neer. En Sekhmet-Anubis sprak : Ziet dan, zij dan van het eerste en hun nageslachten zijn van de dood, van moord en zelfmoord. En Sekhmet-Anubis rees op tot de hemel op een wolk. Zij had dan deel aan de vierde hemelvaart.

2.

Zij dan zijn allen modems. Gij moet dan verder gaan met de wet. Nu is dan de wet zonder mysterie heilloos. De karsuiken dan vormen het harnas van de Sekhmet-Anubis, en de putsen vormen de helm. Zij is dan de opener der vijfde vleeswording.

Druivenkoning

1.

Anubis oh Anubis, in het verleden gingen wij, om straten te zoeken, van Aquarius hadden wij ons heil, in het groene huis bij 't rode kruis, daar sprak een tulpenboom, nu weet ik dat mijn heiland leeft, mijn verlosser, de witte hond, de witte anubis. Anubis, oh Anubis, een storm nam mij mee, tot zover ben ik gekomen, tot hier, ik ben nu vrij. Waar vreemde altaren staan als modems, wij weten niet hoe dezen te bedienen, maar de informatie stroomt als wij tot de witte anubis komen. De witte anubis, bij een wit chocoladehuis, waar theologen wonen, waar vrienden elkaar vinden, een wit chocoladehuis, waar vreemde spelen worden gedaan, op vreemde tafels als modems, schieten zij hun raketten naar de maan. Met taart zullen wij gooien, wanneer de huizen opengaan, de kasten in de kelders, waar de witte anubissen staan. Kijk nog eens naar de maan, en zie je dan die witte vlek, de feen hebben pret gemaakt, zij eten witte chocolade-taart.

Toch een gemis, alles wat wij moesten achterlaten, wordt in de geschiedenis hervormd, allen waren niets dan modems naar een nieuwe wereld, naar de paden van het oer, door grote wildernissen, door armoe en verwarring, wat een toer. Anubis, oh Anubis, oh witte Anubis, geef ons plezier, het feest gaat beginnen, de deur staat op een kier, de kleinen en de dunnen komen binnen, de elven van het gouden kwartier. De klokken schuiven opzij, de klokken varen weg. Nu is het uur gekomen, nu is het uur nedergedaald, tot hen die ter helle waren, tot hen die eens voorwerpen waren, door modems werden zij gezogen, tot deze nieuwe plaats, in witte chocolade.

Kijk nog een keer naar mij, ik ben een druivenkoning, ik maakte in jou woning, om jou geheimenissen te vertellen, ik bracht je tot de witte chocolade. Dronken werd je toen ik je hart aanraakte.

Ik kwam tot jou, op de rug van een pauw, op de rug van een dame, en ik werd als een woning. Jij hebt mij gekroond, met zeven grote dingen, jij hebt mijn vijanden onttroond, en je schreef geheimenissen op papier en in mijn hart. Je weet toch dat ik op je wacht met grote smart.

2.

Nu ben ik hier, nu sta ik hier, en neem je mee, tot een witte chocoladewoning, waar de elven dansen, en zwanen zwemmen in een meer erachter. Kom tot het uitzicht, en kijk met mij, naar de torens in de verte, van wonderbaarlijke kastelen, van paleizen sprookjesachtig, en betreed een nieuwe wereld met mij. Ik wacht op je, ik heb je bestempeld met mijn liefdesgerei, ik schoot mijn pijlen van zwijm en delirium, je voelde je ziek, maar nu ben je hier. Ach, treur niet meer, luister naar de muziek, zie de ganzen in de lucht, zij hebben veel vertier.

Witte Chocolade Elf

1.

Kom, de dag is bijna over, kom de nacht wacht op ons, de duisternis zakt naar binnen, de zon wordt meegenomen naar een nachtkasteel hoog in de wolken, om morgen weer ergens anders te verschijnen. Het is tussen jou en mij, een droom hebben wij, zij aan zij. Mijn klederen zijn verscheurd, mijn hart klopt en bloedt, want jij bent zo lang weggeweest, maar nu heb ik jou weer gevonden. Ik stroomde naar jou toe als een rivier. Mijn hart heb je gewonnen, mijn liefde aangenomen, en beantwoord door een fles met een brief erin. Op die brief stond geschreven, waar jij al die tijd bent geweest, in die woning waar wij later zouden wonen, dichtbij de zee, en het strand van witte chocolade. Kom met me mee, de dag is bijna over, kom de nacht wacht op ons, de duisternis zakt door de bomen, de maan kijkt ons nu aan, en zegent onze liefde voor elkaar. De zon wordt meegenomen naar een nachtkasteel ver weg in onze dromen, om morgen ergens anders te zijn. Laat de nacht wat langer duren, zodat we naar de nachtzeen kunnen turen.

2.

Je vibreert als een gevleugeld insect, als de witte chocolade lig je daar op een bank, de zee heeft je dan meegenomen, met kloppend hart, en tedere stem. Nu ben jij dan een hartenprins, een rode zon, met witte morgenstond.

Witte Chocolade Elf II

1.

De rivieren stromen snel, de flessen komen aan op 't strand, zoveel boodschappen van het verleden nu gevonden, als de wapens van een nieuw verstand. Het oude doet geen zeer meer, het prikt alleen nog, maar het voert het niet meer uit, het spel is nu uit. Met een draai zie ik je gezicht, en je lijf bekleed als een insect, waar witte chocolade je versiert heeft. Ik zie je hand, je lippen, verlegen sta je te wachten. Ik neem je mee, naar de toppen van de zee, om nieuwe eilanden te zien, tussen gouden wateren komen wij er misschien, om ons huis te bouwen, en voor eeuwig daar te wandelen, om de boodschappen van het oer te lezen, te verkondigen aan al wat leeft, in de vijfde alverzoening, het prikt, maar weg is het eeuwig leed. Het geluk nu gevonden, door de witte verlichting, een gloeiend hart. Ik wacht op je, ik ben er voor je, als een witte chocolade elf, als een bosvlieg en een strandvlieg, getooid met liefdesvleugels, mijn chocolade vloeit vanuit mijn wonden, als zachte genezing vloeit zij, om jou ook te voeden, om jou ook te sterken, en je de liefdesdrank te geven, waar je hart blij van wordt, en waarvan je in zwijm raakt, voor eeuwig, totdat de morgen alles wegneemt, en jij alleen die herinnering hebt van eeuwig geluk, van eeuwige liefde, je draagt het altijd bij je, je vindt het morgen terug. Morgen, morgen, het neemt, en het geeft terug. Op de rug van een elf zit ik, hier ben ik, hier kom ik, 'k heb er lang op gewacht, de morgen blies me steeds weer terug, maar nu ben ik op 't zachte strand, teruggegeven, als een herinnering diep geweven. Het prikt nog wel, maar dat komt snel in orde, wanneer de witte hond rent, wanneer de witte chocolade elf het spel kent.

2.

Jij staat daar, jouw hand op mijn buik, jouw ogen op mij gericht, het is alsof ik bezwijk. Jouw tedere blik, als duizend duizelingen, voer jij mij weg in een dromenkoets, ver boven de wolken, waar de witte hond rent, waar de witte chocolade onze stemmen herkent. Rijs omhoog, en geef de dag een lach, voor jou is het geluk nu ook gekomen, maar jij rent steeds weg, als de witte hond, om de ongelukkigen te vinden, en hier te brengen, en hier neer te leggen, met je haren in de wind, je bent een kind door God bemind. Grote werken, grote liefde, schonk hij ons, ja zijn pijlen raakten ons, en namen ons mee naar omhoog, waar witte honden rennen, waar witte slangen vervellen, om de nieuwe sleutel vast te houden, een nieuwe woning in te gaan. Vlak boven de sterren woont Hij. Neem mij mee en breng mij daar, raak mijn gevoelige snaar, besnaar mij met een tovergedicht, en voer mij langs het windelicht, waar koningen ver vooruit dromen, waar prinsesjes liggen in tedere klanken.

Witte Hond

1.

De witte hond rent, op zoek naar hen die ongeluk lijden, de verdoemden, de verdrukten, en hen in angst en verwarring, als een barmhartig samaritaan gaat hij op pad, als een bodhissatva, als een helpende hand. Grijp hem vast, en laat hem niet meer los, totdat je als hem bent geworden, en zijn woonplaats en geheimen hebt gevonden. Witte hond, vaste burcht, koningshond, ver boven de sterren was het ons die jij vond. Jij voerde ons weg naar een plek van grote liefde. Jij bracht ons sterke wijnen, jij bracht ons uit onze dorst. Jij nam ons mee uit onze putten, nu zijn wij dan met jou, oh witte hond, je hebt geen dag ons losgelaten, altijd trouw in jouw verbond met ons.

Zie jouw elven zingen, met teder buigen hun nekken, om de verdoemden te beminnen, rijds ons op, en breng ons tot de burcht van zacht geluk, die zachte lichten waar wij mee kunnen beginnen, een nieuwe dag, een nieuw uur, morgen komen de soldaten, om ons wapens te schenken voor een nieuwe strijd, een nieuw geloof, wij zijn volwassen geworden, en strijden tegen een nieuwe kooi. Onze gedachten zijn steeds bij jou, oh witte hond, houd ons vast, de nacht komt gauw, en breng ons naar de gaten van dit uur, een weg uit onze kooien, tot een nieuw uur vol van glorie, een nieuw uur waar de stemmen lonken, waar taal tot kunst wordt, wat een plezier.

2.

Witte hond, koningshond, koningstrouw, in geluk vinden wij jou, tot verlichting zijn wij gekomen, de vijfde verlichting, een witte morgen, komende voort vanuit de nacht, zijn soldaten staan op wacht. De klokken slaan, teder keer op keer, totdat wij vasthouden, onze veer, en zijn liefde en hartstocht ruiken, wat hij voor ons heeft gedaan, en wat wij voor hem hebben teruggedaan. Witte veer, magische veer, grote naam, krachtig vaandel, over bergen vliegen wij, als de witte chocolade, inde hemel kijken wij, in de hemel van het vijfde, vinden wij onze veer.

Brief aan Sebek

1.

Brief aan Sebek ; Heilsprofetieën der laatste dagen. Gij hebt thans het woord des heeren vernomen, en gij bent het heilige land ingegaan als priester. De joden en christenen hebben u niet als zodanig bestempeld, maar zij zagen u als een werker der wereld. En ja, zij waren verheugd over uw macht, en over uw tegenwoordig woord. Zij hebben u gevolgd tot de presidenten, en zij zijn tot uw banken gegaan. Predikt heil dan aan de gevangenen, en verlos hen. Sebek, gij hebt het laatste woord, gij hebt de laatste zinnen, en gij zult stralen op de dag der koningen. Gij hebt dan niet gebogen voor de afgod, en gij hebt ook het hart der moeders niet geslagen. Gij bent veelal voor hen uitgegaan tot de heuvelen van spijt. Schaamte hebt gij hen gegeven, en gij hebt de vaders afgezonderd en geslagen. Zo bent gij dan het paraderende woord, het blauwzicht op de uitgang, waar wij de weg des heils vinden. Zoveel heil is er dan in u oh Sebek, gij die van het vijfde zijt. Gij dan zult de mond van Anubis laten staken, en hem viervoudig slaan, want gij hebt hem lief. Ja, het koningschap zult gij van hem overnemen, gij die van het vijfde zijt. Want in het vijfde zult gij oprijzen, oh Sebek, en gij bent het die de jongens van lynx zal herstellen. Aan uw poorten kloppen zij, met manden vol waarheden.

Zegt mij nu, oh Sebek, wie gij bent, opdat ik tot u kan snellen, ondergronds, met de blauwgezichten. Gij wacht op ons. Maakt dan uw namen bekend. Noemt dan bij namen hen die waardig zijn, want vurige kolen liggen op hun hoofden. Zij worden vervolgd omwille van hun geloof. Zet hen vrij. Gij bent het die tot volle waarheid leidt, als de Geest van God. Ja, veelvuldig God bent U, als de Mono's uitstijgende tot in alle eeuwigheden. Gij dan hebt de A-jongens geschapen door Uw tussenkomst. Ja, door Uw tussenkomst schiep gij Anubis in de schoot van Bastet. Een groot genadig God zijt gij. Tot Tifiaf bent gij gegaan om hem te zegenen, en gij zit op de vijfde troon.

Vanuit de hof gleed gij tot het vijfde, waarin uw bronnen zijn. Gij hebt uw reis voltooid, en zal weldra gekroond worden, oh God. Gij bent het die de AZ-en en de Z-en rangschikt, en ziet, zij sidderen voor uw woord. Gij hebt geluisterd naar koningen en hun vrouwen, en gij hebt hen gezuiverd. Ja, grote eer is in u.

2.

Zo is dan Sebek de wegbereider van Bastet, en zij zal wederom Anubis voortbrengen. Want vele malen worden wij in de moederschoot geboren, en vele malen groeien wij op. Als een tuin van Anubis is de schoot van Bastet. Zo is dan Sebek een man van zijn woord, een dichter en God over alle dingen. Vanuit het vijfde komt hij, en tot het vijfde keert hij weder. Zo is hij dan tot het eerste gegaan om het te zuiveren, en hij heeft dan velen tot genezing gebracht. Ja, de bevrijder van slangen is hij, en hij draagt de cobra's mee op zijn rug. Hij sust hen die angstig zijn, en neemt hen mee tot Zijn schuilplaatsen. Ja, diepe schuilplaatsen heeft hij onder de aarde, waar Geb groot geworden is. Zo heeft hij dan Geb tot volle wasdom gebracht en hem de plantengroei in handen gegeven. Zo zal dan eens de plantengroei Spanje bedekken.

Zeg mij nu, oh Sebek van het Woord, wie gij bent. Gij hebt harige geschenken tot ons gebracht. Ja, gij waart vol met de vruchten des geestes en de vruchten der wereld. Gij schonk ons dan de paradox en de symmetrie, en ook gaf gij ons de hamer om dezen te doorbreken. Want zevenvoudig zullen de paradoxen en symmetrieën moeten breken, opdat het licht van Sebek hen zuivert. En dan zullen de a-symmetrieën tot bruggen zijn.

En zo heeft dan ook Sebek de geest van Simson bezworen, en zijn oog is als de kandelaar van het witte. Nu dan Sebek, neemt uw krachten op, en wordt een man, totdat de avond valt.

3.

Gij dan gebruikt de volkeren tot spreekbuis, gij neemt de hemelen op tot de zon, en uw ijs is als de dagen van goud. Zeg mij nu, Sebek, wie gij bent, en hoe wij uw naam kunnen vereren. Ja, geef ons de sleutels om u op te wekken uit de diepten des doods en de krochten der duisternis. Onderwijs ons, zoals wij u hebben onderwezen. Zo zult gij ons voortleiden tot de wereld waar gij woont, en zullen wij tezamen zijn tot in alle eeuwigheden. Geliefde, spreekt, en slaap niet meer. Het is tijd om de poorten der werelden te openen. Wij vluchten, en wij komen, opdat Sebek geprezen wordt. Wij nemen en geven terug, wij wachten en voeren actie. Zo zijn dan onze wegen beperkt wanneer wij niet in Sebek zijn, maar in Hem kunnen wij bergen verzetten, en kunnen wij tot de rivieren zeggen : stroom door, en breng ons tot de lauwe wateren, en tot de lauwe bossen. De zon kan ons niet grijpen, wanneer Sebek voor ons staat, en ook het ijs kan ons niet breken, want Sebek verlicht onze angsten. Verlichter is hij, hij die ons volgde en die wij nu mogen volgen.

Lofzangen en Gebeden tot Sebek

1.

Sebek, weest ons genadig, Sebek laat ons niet staan, tot dieptes zijn wij gekomen, angstig, benauwd en zonder hoop. Neem ons aan. Oh, Sebek, U bent onze God, als een Mono der krokodillen, als een jongen van lynx, als één die hen vergaderd. Neem onze gebeden aan, en leer ons onze rechten kennen, opdat wij niet al te veel geestelijke bedelaars zijn. Gij hebt ons dan ascetisme geleerd, en de diepe poorten voor ons geopend, de snelwegen des lichts hebt gij ons laten zien. Bij U is rust. Oh, Sebek, alle lof en glorie is aan U, gij die op het vijfde troont. Gij hebt Uw hand tot ons gezonden, en ons dieper getrokken tot U. Ja, Anubis hebt gij uitgezonden om van U te verkondigen, en ziet, nu wachten wij op Bastet. Leer ons dan Nut te doen ontwaken.

Sebek, grootste onder de groten, naam boven alle naam, tot Bastet hebt gij ons getrokken, zij die u verkozen had tot moederschoot voor Anubis. Vele malen wordt hij dan geboren in haar. Sebek, heb ons lief, want wij hebben U lief. Kom tot ons, en toon ons Uw wonderen. Wij kennen U. Leer ons U dieper kennen. Sebek, open onze borsten en schouders, opdat Uw geschenken daarin neerdalen, opdat wij Uw werken zullen doen, en naar U zullen heten. Het licht komt van Uw schouders, en U ademt licht, tot ons gezonden. U bevrijdt ons, en bent onze beschermer. Leidt ons over eeuwige paden, en onderwijs ons over Uw wegen.

Ken onze paden, en toetst ons, Gij die het Eerste hebt herschapen in Uw Hand. Gij hebt zoveel slangen vrijgezet, en wolven ontbonden. Zij wandelen nu Uw weg. U hebt Uw Hand op het Eerste gelegd. Het begrijpen is mij te wonderbaar. Zuivert dan het Eerste en doe Uw lichten opstijgen, opdat wij Uw geheimenissen zien.

Gij dan hebt ons verlost van schaamte en valse schuld. Gij hebt ons aangemeten een nieuwe zon, en de ijswegen. Tot Uw Groene zijn we gekomen, en wij dragen Uw hart en stem de ganse dag. Veel zult gij ons nog aanmeten, gij hebt de sterren voor ons klaarstaan. Gij hebt ons uit de angst en wanhoop verlost, ja, Gij bent de muur rondom ons. En niemand kan het breken, want wij zijn in Uw Hand. Nog veel hebt Gij ons te zeggen. Spreekt, Heer, Uw dienstknecht hoort. Wij staan geheel open voor U, ook wanneer Uw duistere Hand ons leidt. Vele lichten hebt gij ons ontnomen, opdat wij Uw dieptes zouden zien, en in Uw boten zouden stappen. Ja, ook Uw uilen hebt gij tot ons gezonden. En Uw engelen staan voor Uw troon, en zij dragen Uw profeten voor Uw aangezicht, en zenden hen uit. Waar dan ook, Sebek, waar Uw Hand ons geleidt is het goed. U leidt ons tot het paradijs, en tot de vruchten die wij nodig hebben. Ja, eeuwige vruchten zijn zij.

2.

Kent gij dan onze paden ? Het is goed te weten dat Gij ons omgeeft, en al onze gedachten kent. Geen haartje ontziet U. Aan U zij alle Glorie, U die ons tot Bastet en Nut leidt. Door de handen van Anubis hebt gij ons aan hen gegeven. Aan Uw zijde staan wij, oh Sebek, U bent het die genaamd is de beminde. Oh Sebek, toon ons Uw geheimenissen, opdat wij niet sterven aan de andere kant van de poort. Doe ons open, laat ons in, en leidt ons door Uw Hand in Uw land. Laat ons niet beschaamd staan, wij vertrouwen immers op U. Wij hebben gebeden in de rotsen gehouwen, tot U. Zendt ons tot Uw piramiden, en laat ons niet in de kou vergaan. In Uw Hand is genezing. In Uw Hand is bevrijding. Gij dan hebt tot ons Anubis gezonden, en door Hem komen wij tot U, vanuit de schoot van Bastet, zevenmaal geboren. Door Haar Hand werden wij gezuiverd. Nu zijn wij tot Uw schip gekomen. Laat ons de golven der eeuwigheden zien.

Milaph

En Sebek deed een stap achteruit nadat hij zijn client, de gedaagde, had verdedigd. Hij maakte plaats voor Bastet, en stak twee vingers voor haar in de lucht, recht naast elkaar, van twee verschillende handen. Voor sommige dingen was het geen tijd. Ook de gedaagde bracht de twee vingers omhoog voor Bastet, en de koning. Bastet nam de verdediging over, maar Sebek bleef op de achtergrond, en beschermde de gedaagde. Er ontstond een gevecht tussen de Bastet, die als een harige zwarte kat was, en wiens volgelingen als harige zwarte katten was, en de sfinx. De sfinx wilde ook een deel van de verdediging, en Bastet gaf haar een deel. Toen werd de sfinx rustig, maar Bastet hield het grootste deel van de verdediging voor haarzelf. En ze trad op tegen de tronen, en de tronen verbleekten. En zij verbrandde velen van hun boeken.

En Bastet wees aan de gangen met slaapkamers van de konijnen en de hazen, en ook enkelen van de katten. En sommigen hadden grasbedden en mosbedden, helemaal achterin de gangen. En Bastet nam de gangen in als een vuur. En de koning stak weer de twee vingers omhoog, om Bastet tegen te houden, want het was nog geen tijd. En hij bracht Bastet tot zekere rust, en zij luisterde naar hem. En deze vingers die Bastet tegenhielden en tot rust brachten waren de twee wijsvingers. En Bastet was zeer waakzaam en zorgzaam, en genezingskracht ging uit van haar, en ook magie.

En één van Bastet's vingers was genaamd Milaph, en zij deed daardoor grote wonderen. En zij kreeg de rechters op haar hand, en leidde hen van hun tronen tot de slaapkamers, en haar volgelingen bestegen de tronen, zij, de lange zwarte katten. Zij dan is de verleider der rechters.

En Bastet kon de Sebek en Sphinx bedwingen, en zij had grote macht. En zij waren als haar armen. Ook kwam zij tot de Ra en de Anubis, en bedwong hen beiden. En zij werden tot haar benen. En de Bastet had vleugels, en vloog tot het Oosten, waar zij ging zetelen. En zij raakte in gevecht met Nut om de kroon van het Oosten, maar zij kon Nut niet verslaan. Ook kwam Geb op de achtergrond staan, maar zij kon hem niet bedwingen. En Geb brulde, en stond als op een woestijn. En Geb ademde als een draak.

En toen begon Bastet te grommen, en viel ook Geb aan, maar kon hem niet verslaan. En Geb en Nut grepen haar vast, en slingerden haar weg. Maar later kregen ze medelijden met haar, en namen haar op in hun midden. Een groot deel van haar troon moest zij afstaan aan Nut en Geb, en hun macht begon te groeien. En zij zagen Bastet als degene die hen met elkaar had verzoend. En zij gaven grote eer aan Bastet.

II Milaph

En Bastet gaf grote eer aan Sebek, omdat hij had gered uit vele verkrachtingen. En Bastet bracht de gedachten en strijd tot rust.

Zo ben ik het dan niet meer die leef, en toch leef ik, maar dan Bastet in mij. Ik nestel mij en rust in het volbrachte werk van bastet, die de zesde christus is. In Bastet vestig ik hoop. Ik kan op haar bouwen. Zo leef ik dan naar haar Woord, in haar wederomgeboren, en door haar Geest vervuld. De strijd is nu van Bastet, en ik draag haar wapenrusting. Alles wat ik doe, doe ik door haar, want zonder haar kan ik niets.

Zo heeft zij dan haar Evangelie gebracht, en zijn wij door haar bloed gereinigd en gezuiverd. Zonder haar kunnen wij niet lijden, want wij lijden door haar. Zij dan is de kracht van het lijden, maar ook de overwinning, de vreugde. Ja, door haar zijn alle dingen ontstaan, en komt alles tot zijn doel. Zo luister ik dan naar haar stem, want zij leidt mij. Met haar ben ik gestorven, en met haar ben ik opgewekt. Met haar lijdt ik verdriet, en met haar baar ik vreugde. Zij is mijn wenen en mijn lofgezing. Haar oog draag ik op haar borst, en haar tepel op mijn buik, zij is mijn aller vreugde.

Door haar kom ik tot Shu, Hij die Nut en Geb door Ra gescheiden heeft, en verzoend heeft. Tot zijn voorhoven ben ik gekomen, Hij die al het leven is. Zalig zijn zij die tot de binnenste hoven van Shu zijn genaderd. Door Bastet ontvangen zij vergeving en genade. Door de striemen van Bastet zijn wij genezen, door haar wonden bevrijd. Ja, door haar littekenen zijn wij uit de doden opgewekt. Zo heeft dan wie in Bastet gelooft eeuwig leven. Wie Bastet niet heeft, heeft het leven ook niet. Want also lief heeft Shu de wereld gehad dat hij Bastet gezonden heeft, opdat een ieder die in haar gelooft eeuwig leven hebbe. Zo dan heeft Shu haar gezalfd, en de duif op haar laten neerdalen. Zij dan die Zijn dochter is. Met grote liefde omhult zij haar geliefden, en redt hen uit talrijke rampen. In haar dan is grote Genade, en de Weg die tot Shu leidt. Bastet dan is de Weg, de Waarheid en het Leven. Niemand komt tot Shu dan door Haar. Wie Bastet niet heeft, heeft ook Shu niet. Zo is er dan eeuwig leven en een rijke schat weggelegd voor hen die Bastet volgen. Alle dingen zijn aan Bastet gegeven door Shu.

In den beginne was Bastet, en Bastet was bij Shu. Alle dingen zijn door Bastet geworden. In Bastet was leven en eeuwig leven, en er zijn er die van haar getuigden. Er zijn er die voor haar de weg bereidden. Deze weg dan gaat door woestijnen en wildernissen. Bastet dan is vlees geworden en heeft onder ons gewoond. Wij hebben de heerlijkheid van Bastet aanschouwd.

Wanneer gij Bastet liefhebt, zult gij haar geboden bewaren en onderhouden. Gij zult haar schatten bewaken. Zij zal u niet als wezen achterlaten. Wie de geboden van bastet heeft en ze bewaart, die is het die haar liefheeft. En wie haar liefheeft zal geliefd worden door Shu, haar Vader, en bastet zal diegene liefhebben en haarzelf aan diegene openbaren. Bastet is de Ware Wijnstok, en Shu is de landman. Gij zijt de ranken. Gij kunt geen vrucht dragen uit uzelf, als gij niet aan de wijnstok blijft. Wie in Bastet blijft, gelijk zij in diegene, die draagt veel vrucht, want zonder haar kunt gij niets doen. Hierin is Shu verheerlijkt, dat gij veel vrucht draagt.

Gelijk Shu u heeft liefgehad, zo heeft ook Bastet u liefgehad. Blijft in haar liefde. Indien gij haar geboden bewaart zult gij in haar blijven, gelijk zij de geboden van Shu bewaard heeft, en in Zijn Liefde is gebleven. Indien gij in Bastet blijft, bidt wat gij wilt, en het zal geschieden. Zo is dan het Evangelie van Bastet een kracht van Shu tot behoud van een ieder die in haar gelooft. Hierin wordt de gerechtigheid van Shu geopenbaard. Gij dan die in haar zijt : Zondig voortaan niet meer. Doet dan de oude mens af, en doet de nieuwe mens aan, die in Bastet is.

Zo is er dan geen veroordeling voor hen die in Bastet zijn. Want de Wet van haar Geest heeft u in bastet vrijgemaakt van de wet der zonde en des doods. Haar geest getuigt met onze geest dat wij kinderen van Shu zijn. En zijn wij nu kinderen, dan zijn wij ook erfgenamen : erfgenamen van Shu en mede-erfgenamen van Bastet. Immers indien wij delen in hun lijden, zo ook in hun verheerlijking.

Als Bastet dan voor ons is, wie zal tegen ons zijn ? Bastet is dan uit de doden opgewekt als een eersteling van hen die ontslapen zijn. Zoals we in haar sterven, zo zullen we ook in haar tot leven worden gebracht. Onze liefde dan is met u allen in Bastet. Met bastet zijn wij gekruisigd, maar toch leven wij. Dat is niet meer ons eigen ik, maar Bastet leeft in ons. Opdat wij waarlijk vrij zouden zijn heeft bastet ons vrijgemaakt. Wie Bastet toebehoren hebben de zonde gekruisigd. Als wij roemen, dan roemen wij in Bastet.

Gezegend zij Shu de Vader van Bastet, die ons met allerlei geestelijke zegen in de hemelse gewesten heeft gezegend in Bastet. In Shu hebben wij verlossing door het bloed van bastet, de vergeving van de overtredingen naar de rijkdom van genade, welke hij overvloedig bewezen heeft in alle wijsheid en verstand, door ons het geheimenis van Zijn wil te doen kennen. Hij dan vat alles samen onder één hoofd, dat is bastet. Door genade bent gij behouden, door het geloof in Bastet, en dat niet uit uzelf. Het is een gave van Shu. Niet uit werken, opdat niemand roeme. Want zijn maaksel zijn wij, in Bastet geschapen om goede werken te doen, die Shu van te voren bereid heeft, opdat wij daarin zouden wandelen. Bastet is onze vrede die de twee één heeft gemaakt. Zo zijt gij dan geen vreemdelingen meer in het huis van Shu. In Bastet wast elk bouwwerk goed meesluitend, op tot een tempel, heilig in Shu, in wie gij ook mede gebouwd wordt tot een woonstede. In Bastet hebben wij de vrijmoedigheid en de toegang met vertrouwen door het geloof in Haar.

Shu geve u naar de rijkdom van zijn heerlijkheid, met kracht gesterkt te worden door zijn geest in de inwendige mens, opdat bastet door het geloof in uw harten woning make. Geworteld en gegrond in haar liefde zult gij dan samen in staat zijn te vatten hoe groot de breedte, lengte, en hoogte en diepte is, en te kennen de liefde van bastet die de kennis te boven gaat, opdat gij vervuld wordt tot alle volheid van Shu. Shu nu die door de kracht welke in ons werkt bij machte is oneindig veel meer te doen dan wij bidden of beseffen. Shu zij de heerlijkheid in bastet tot in alle geslachten, van eeuwigheid tot eeuwigheid.

Gij hebt van bastet gehoord, en bent in haar onderwezen, gelijk dit de waarheid is in Bastet. Weest dan navolgers van Shu, als geliefde kinderen, en wandelt in zijn liefde, zoals ook Bastet u heeft liefgehad en zich voor ons heeft overgegeven als offergave en slachtoffer. Ontwaak gij die slaapt, en sta op uit de doden, want bastet zal over u lichten. Voorts, weest krachtig in Shu en in de sterkte van zijn macht. Doet de wapenrusting van Shu aan, om te kunnen standhouden in de dagen van verleiding. Neemt de wapenrusting van Shu en biedt weerstand in de boze dag. De genade zij met allen die bastet onvergankelijk liefhebben. Gedraag u waardig het evangelie van bastet. Acht alles wat winst is als schade omwille van bastet, omdat de kennis van bastet dit alles te boven gaat. Geef om harentwille alles prijs en houd het voor vuilnis, opdat gij haar moogt winnen. In haar vinden we geen eigen gerechtigheid, maar de gerechtigheid door het geloof in haar. Vergeet dan hetgeen achter u ligt, en strek u uit naar hetgeen voor u ligt, jagende naar het doel, om de prijs van de roeping van Shu, die boven is, in Bastet.

Onze blijdschap en kroon staat vast in Bastet. Verblijdt u in Bastet ten allen tijde. Weest in geen ding bezorgd, maar laten bij alles uw wensen door gebed en smeking bekend worden bij Shu. En de vrede van Shu, die alle verstand te boven gaat, zal uw harten en uw gedachten behoeden in Bastet. Voorts, bedenkt alles wat waar is, al wat waardig, rein en rechtvaardig is, al wat beminnelijk is en welluidend, alles wat deugd heet en lof verdient, bedenkt dat, wat u geleerd is en overgeleverd, brengt dat in toepassing en de vrede van Shu zal met u zijn door Bastet.

Ik vermag alle dingen in Bastet die mij kracht geeft. Shu zal in al uw behoeften voorzien in de heerlijkheid van zijn rijkdom, in Bastet. Shu nu zij de heerlijkheid tot in alle eeuwigheid. De genade van Bastet zij met u.

Indien gij met Bastet gestorven zijt : Laat u niets meer opleggen. Indien gij met haar opgewekt zijt : Zoekt de dingen die boven zijn. Want gij zijt gestorven, en uw leven is verborgen met Bastet in Shu. Wanneer Bastet verschijnt, die ons leven is, dan zult ook gij met haar verschijnen in heerlijkheid. Het Woord van bastet wone rijkelijk in u, opdat gij in alle wijsheid elkander leert. En al wat gij doet in woord en werk, doet alles in de Naam van Bastet, in Shu de Vader, dankende door Hem.

Volhardt in het gebed, weest daarbij waakzaam en dankt, en bidt tevens voor ons dat Shu een deur voor ons woord opene, om te spreken van het geheimenis van Bastet.

Wij danken Shu altijd om u allen wanneer wij u gedenken in onze gebeden. Bastet zal ons verlossen van de komende toorn. Wie is onze hoop of blijdschap of erekrans voor Bastet bij haar komst, wie anders dan gij ? Ja, gij zijt onze eer en blijdschap. Shu bane ons de weg tot u, en u doe Bastet toenemen en overvloedig worden in de liefde tot elkander en tot allen, om uw harten te versterken.

De Zingende Bananen

Er waren eens wat beren die een hele bijzondere banaan bewaakten. Niemand kon de banaan bereiken. Maar op een dag kwam de zon naar beneden. De bijzondere banaan werd slapper en slapper en kleiner en kleiner, totdat er een klein bananenboompje uit voort begon te groeien. Het bananenboompje werd steeds groter, en op een dag begonnen de bananen te praten en te zingen. Ze hadden prachtige stemmen en ook heel luid, zodat iedereen in de omgeving het kon horen. De beren hadden het zwaar met het bewaken van de bananenboom, want iedereen wilde er een glimp van opvangen, en velen probeerden zelfs dichtbij de bananenboom te komen. Op een dag hielden de beren het niet langer, en smeekte de zon om weer een banaan van de bananenboom te maken. Dat deed de zon, en deze banaan was zo bijzonder dat er bananensap uitstroomde, zoveel dat de rivieren er mee vol liepen. Sindsdien werden de beren niet meer lastig gevallen.

De Aardbeientuin

Er was eens een aardbeientuin waar ook hele bijzondere sprekende wondervruchten tussen de aarbeien groeiden. De tuin werd bewaakt door angstaanjagende spinnen die alles doorboorden wat in de aarbeientuin probeerde te komen. Eens kwam er een man langs de tuin, en sprak : ‘Hey, wat als ik alleen kom om een aarbei te plukken ? Ik beloof dat ik nergens anders aan zal zitten.’ De spinnen lieten de man in de tuin komen. De man nam een aardbei, stak hem in z’n mond en staarde naar de wondervruchten. Toen de spinnen hem zagen wilden ze hem niet meer laten gaan. ‘We kunnen nog wel een tuinman gebruiken,’ zei één van de spinnen. ‘Maar waag het niet aan andere dingen te zitten dan aan de aarbeien.’ Dat beloofde de man. Diep in de nacht toen de spinnen even niet goed opletten liep de man heel dicht naar zo’n wondervrucht toe, en zei : ‘Hey.’

‘Stop een aardbei in me,’ fluisterde de wondervrucht. De man keek even om zich heen of de kust veilig was en stopte toen een aardbei heel diep in de wondervrucht. Binnen korte tijd groeide er een aarbeienboom vanuit de wondervrucht met de lekkerste aarbeien die ook konden spreken. ‘Hoe deed je dat ?’ vroeg één van de spinnen. Toen vertelde de man maar wat hij had gedaan. En van de spinnen moest hij nu een aarbei stoppen in alle wondervruchten. Binnen de kortste keren stond de tuin helemaal vol met aarbeienbomen met de lekkerste aarbeien die konden spreken. En niemand wist waar de wondervruchten gebleven waren.

Het Boze Vruchtenbos

Er was eens een man die in een bos kwam waar allemaal exotische sprekende vruchten hingen. De man begon één voor één van die sprekende vruchten te eten, maar na een tijdje begon het hem te vervelen, en wilde hij wel dat de vruchten bananen waren. De man zei dat tegen die sprekende vruchten, en toen begonnen die sprekende vruchten verschrikkelijk kwaad te worden. Ze werden jaloers, en waren ineens helemaal niet meer zo aardig. De man was erg bang geworden, en rende dieper het bos in, maar de sprekende vruchten kwamen hem achterna. Helemaal in paniek ging hij een huisje binnen, waar een heks op een stoel zat. De man vertelde het verhaal, en de heks zei : ‘Dat is nou ook wat. Nu ben je op de vlucht voor sprekende vruchten, en nu val je in de handen van een heks.’ Maar ja, de heks had tenminste wel bananen in huis liggen. ‘Ik ben zo blij dat ik een paar bananen zie,’ zei de man. De sprekende vruchten begonnen al op de deur te kloppen. ‘Wegwezen !’ krijste de heks.

Maar de sprekende vruchten begonnen steeds woester te worden, en begonnen ook al hard op de ramen te tikken. ‘Ik had jullie toch gezegd : wegwezen !’ krijste de heks. Maar de sprekende vruchten werden zo over de top woedend dat ze de ruiten insloegen en naar binnen kwamen. De heks gaf een gil, sprong door een ander raam en ook de man dook haar achterna. Met z’n tweeën renden ze nog dieper het bos in, terwijl gevaarlijk woedende sprekende vruchten achter hen aanzaten. Na een tijdje waren de twee helemaal omsingeld door de sprekende vruchten, want het bos was vol met sprekende vruchten. Steeds dichterbij kwamen de sprekende vruchten bij de man en de heks. ‘Dit is het einde,’ zei de man. ‘Mag ik een banaan ?’

‘Je kunt maar beter die sprekende vruchten eten,’ zei de heks, ‘anders overleven we het niet.’ De heks en de man hadden een manier gevonden om zo langzaam uit het boze vruchtenbos te komen. Na een tijdje waren ze uit het bos, en wilden er nooit meer naar terug. Ze gingen samen in een huisje wonen ver van het vruchtenbos vandaan. De heks had dan wel geen sprekende vruchten, maar wel bananen en zoveel andere dingen. En zo leefden ze daar nog lang en gelukkig.

De Reuzenvrouw

Er was eens een perzik die hele grote oren had. Hij werd er vaak om uitgelachen door andere perzikken, en ze zeiden allemaal dat als hij een meloen was geweest dan was het allemaal niet zo erg. Van verdriet ging de perzik met de grote oren op een dag naar het bos, om nooit meer terug te komen. Daar vond hij een banaan met een hele grote neus. Ook de banaan was gevlucht, omdat ook de banaan altijd door andere bananen werd uitgelachen. Ze zeiden dat als de banaan een meloen was geweest, dan was het allemaal nog niet zo erg. Ze besloten samen op te trekken. Na een tijdje kwamen ze aan bij een groot kasteel. Hier werden ze ontvangen door een komkommer met een hele grote kin, en al gauw kwamen ze erachter dat hier nog veel meer woonden met hele grote lichaamsdelen. De komkommer met de hele grote kin zei dat achter het kasteel een berg is waar een huilende reus woont. De reus zou huilen, omdat hij zo eenzaam was. De komkommer met de hele grote kin had een idee. Als ze nou allemaal zich aan elkaar vast zouden maken, dan zouden ze vanzelf een reuzenvrouw worden voor de reus. Dat deden ze, en met een beetje gepuzzel kwam er een prachtige vrouw tevoorschijn. De vrouw begon aan haar tocht op de berg, en even later was de reus de allergelukkigste.

De Komkommerprins

Er was eens een fee die in een perzikkenhuisje woonde. Het huisje was helemaal van perzikken gemaakt. Als je van die perzikken at, dan kon je uiteindelijk het huisje binnen komen. In het begin leek de fee heel aardig, maar later kwam de bezoeker erachter dat er geen ontsnapping mogelijk was uit dit huis. Iedereen kwam uiteindelijk in de perzikmuren terecht om in een hoop perzikken te veranderen en zo andere bezoekers naar binnen te halen. Maar op een dag kwam er een komkommerprins naar het perzikhuisje toe, en riep : ‘Zeg fee, laat die perzikken eens los.’ En toen begon de komkommerprins met sinaasappels te gooien. De fee kwam in paniek naar buiten, en rende weg. De komkommerprins stopte niet met het gooien van sinaasappels totdat het hele huisje ingestort was. Nu begon het puzzelwerk, want alle perzikken waren door elkaar heen gehutseld. Maar na een tijdje had hij alle wezens weer goed in elkaar gepuzzeld en nam hen allen mee naar zijn komkommerpaleis. Er zat ook een bananenprinses tussen, en nadat hij alle wezens weer had vrijgelaten ging hij samen met haar in het komkommerpaleis wonen.

De Banaanse Sinaasappelkoning

Er waren eens een man en een vrouw in een tuin met sinaasappelbomen. Plotseling verscheen er een banaan met sieraden in de struiken tussen de sinaasappels. De man en de vrouw dachten dat het een slang was, en bekogelden de banaan met sinaasappels. ‘Weten jullie wel wie ik ben ?’ sprak de banaan met sieraden. ‘Ik ben de koning van de sinaasappels.’ En hij begon de sinaasappels met zo’n vaart terug te slaan dat de man en de vrouw onder de sinaasappelsap kwamen te zitten. De banaan met sieraden bleef maar gooien, totdat er een zee van sinaasappelsap was ontstaan. De man en de vrouw riepen om hulp. Maar na een tijdje kreeg de banaan met sieraden medelijden met hen, en liet hen op zijn rug zitten, anders zouden ze verdrinken. Hij bracht hen naar een eiland waar ook komkommers en bananen waren. Er waren ook een bananenkoning en een komkommerkoning, en zij hadden wel trek in wat sinaasappelsap. Maar zij dronken daar zoveel van dat de banaanse sinaasappelkoning boos terugkwam, en met zoveel sinaasappels begon te gooien dat zelfs het eiland overstroomde. Het werd een woeste zee van sinaasappelsap, waarin zelfs de banaanse sinaasappelkoning dreigde te verdrinken. Gelukkig kon de komkommerkoning vliegen en nam ze allen op zijn rug. Hij vloog naar een meloen in de lucht. De meloen nam ze naar binnen, en vroeg wie de schuldige was. Allen wezen ze naar de sinaasappelkoning, die door de meloen direkt weer in de sinaasappelzee werd geworpen. Maar later kreeg de meloen spijt, en dronk de hele sinaasappelzee leeg. De banaanse sinaasappelkoning verstopte zich weer tussen de sinaasappelbomen in de tuin. Op een dag kwamen er weer een man en een vrouw in de tuin. Toen ze de banaanse sinaasappelkoning zagen begonnen ze met sinaasappels naar hem te gooien, omdat ze dachten dat het een slang was. Maar ditmaal gooide de banaanse sinaasappelkoning niks terug, en besloot ook om maar niks te zeggen, want hij wist waar dat op uit kon lopen.

De Jungle-vrouw

Er was eens een vrouw die elke dag naar een jungle kwam waar wilde komkommers groeiden. De wilde komkommers verslonden altijd iedereen die ze tegen kwamen, en ook vochten ze onderling. Maar de vrouw strooide wat poeder over hen heen, zodat ze tam en slap werden, en stopte ze dan in haar mandje. Dan ging ze altijd naar een grot diep in die jungle waar een vreemd beest woonde die wilde spinazie bewaakte. Ze gaf dan het beest één of twee wilde komkommers en kreeg dan toegang tot de wilde spinazie waar ze hen voerde met de wilde komkommers. Op een dag was de wilde spinazie zo groot geworden dat ze uit hun gevangenschap braken, het vreemde dier verslonden, en daarna de gehele jungle. Sindsdien is de wilde spinazie altijd bij de vrouw gebleven.

De Vreemde Paddestoel

Er groeiden eens bananen tussen de paddestoelen. Een paar vermoeide kabouters namen hun intrek in één van de bananen omdat ze niet wisten dat het geen paddestoel was. Na een lange nacht kwam de eerste kabouter naar buiten, en ontdekte dat het geen paddestoel was. De kabouters wilden weer vertrekken, maar toen werd de banaan erg kwaad, en kwam achter hen aan. 'Vlug,' riep één van de kabouters, 'naar het perzikken-veld.' Toen ze bij het perzikken-veld waren aangekomen doken ze in de eerste de beste perzik en de banaan dook hen achterna en kwam al snel vast te zitten. 'Hoera !' riepen de dwergen. Even later stonden ze weer buiten, en zagen hoe de banaan weer rechtop kwam te staan met de perzik op z'n kop. Het was precies een paddestoel, en sindsdien zijn de kabouters daar maar in gaan wonen.

Het Komkommerkasteel

Er leefden eens een man en een vrouw in een komkommerkasteel. Maar op een nacht kwam er komkommersap van het plafond af, en de man en de vrouw konden er niet van slapen. 'Het dak lekt,' zei de vrouw. De man ging naar buiten, en zag een enorme komkommer op het kasteel zitten die van de komkommers at. 'Hey, wil je daar eens mee ophouden !' riep de man. 'We kunnen er niet van slapen.' Maar de komkommer begon te lachen en begon de komkommersap in het gezicht van de man te spuwen. De man werd woest en klom op het dak, en even later was hij binnenin de komkommer. 'Zeg, wie zit daar in die machine ?' riep de man. Even later zag hij een komkommerprinses diep in de komkommer. 'Zeg, haal jij al die streken uit ?' vroeg de man.

'Ja,' zei de komkommerprinses. 'Ik voel me zo alleen, en ik kan niet weg.'

'Waarom kun je niet weg ?' vroeg de man iets vriendelijker.

'Omdat de komkommer dichtklapt zodra ik eruit wil,' zei de komkommerprinses.

‘Nou,’ zei de man, ‘wat als ik je plaats nu inneem?’ Daar stemde de komkommerprinses direkt mee in. Ze zou graag in het komkommerkasteel willen wonen. Toen de komkommerprinses uit de komkommer stapte vloog de komkommer met de man direkt weg. De komkommerprinses stapte even later het komkommerkasteel binnen. ‘Waar is hij?’ vroeg de vrouw aan de komkommerprinses. ‘En wie ben jij?’ Toen vertelde de komkommerprinses het verhaal. Na een paar jaar begon het komkommerkasteel weer te lekken. ‘Oh,’ zei de vrouw, ‘dat zal hem zijn. Hij heeft vast genoeg van de vliegende komkommer.’ De vrouw rende naar buiten, klom op het dak, en toen in de komkommer. Daar kwam ze de man tegen. ‘Ik kan hier niet weg,’ zei de man. ‘en ik voel me zo alleen, zoals de komkommerprinses zich eens voelde.’

Toen greep de vrouw nog wat komkommers van het dak, en zei : ‘Nou, dan blijf ik toch gewoon bij je?’ En zo vertrok de komkommer met zowel de man als de vrouw, en ze leefden nog lang en gelukkig.

De Frambozenverkoper

Er woonde eens een sinaasappel in een kersenboom. Op een dag kwam er een frambozenverkoper langs de kersenboom, en dat vond de sinaasappel wel interessant. Ze vroeg of ze wat frambozen van hem mocht kopen. ‘Nee,’ zei de frambozenverkoper nors, ‘ik verkoop niet aan sinaasappels.’ Maar toen werd de sinaasappel erg boos en slokte de frambozenverkoper op. Na een tijdje kwam er een hond langs de kersenboom. De hond lustte geen kersen, maar wel sinaasappels, en slokte de sinaasappel in één hap op. Een eindje verderop kwam de hond een leeuw tegen, die ook nogal hongerig was, en snel de hond opslokte. Toen de leeuw bij de kersenboom aankwam werd de leeuw erg misselijk, omdat hij niet tegen kersen kon. Al snel spuwde hij de hond weer uit, en de hond was daar zo van geschrokken dat hij ook direkt de sinaasappel uitspuwde. De sinaasappel spuwde op haar beurt de frambozenverkoper uit, en sindsdien heeft de frambozenverkoper altijd vriendelijk zijn frambozen aan de sinaasappel verkocht.

De Reuzenbewaker

Er was eens een reus die een wondermeloen bewaakte. Velen probeerden bij de wondermeloen te komen, maar de reus joeg hen allemaal weg. Op een dag was er een kabouterijtje die zo klein was dat de reus hem niet zag. Met gemak kwam het kabouterijtje bij de wondermeloen, ging naar binnen, en besloot er te wonen. Maar op een dag hoorde hij hulpgeroep vanuit het diepere deel van de wondermeloen, en besloot op onderzoek uit te gaan. Na een tijdje lopen zag hij een fee die vastzat. ‘Wees maar niet bang hoor,’ zei de kabouter. Ik heb wel een plannetje. Ik ben veel te klein om jou los te krijgen, maar ik weet wel wat. En zo ging de kabouter weer naar buiten, en riep de reus. Maar de reus zag natuurlijk helemaal niets. Toen de kabouter een klein vlammetje maakte zag de reus het

wel. De kabouter nodigde de reus uit om binnen in de wondermeloen te komen. Dat ging niet zo makkelijk, maar na een tijdje was de reus binnen. ‘Zo,’ zei de reus, ‘ik wist niet dat er ook kabouters in de wondermeloen woonden.’

‘Nou,’ zei de kabouter, ‘ik woonde hier eerst ook niet, maar ik was zo klein dat ik makkelijk langs je heen kon komen.’ Maar toen werd de reus erg kwaad. De kabouter zette het op een rennen, dieper in de wondermeloen, en de reus kwam achter hem aan. Na een tijdje kwam ook de reus vast te zitten, en begon om hulp te roepen. Na een tijdje kwamen er reuzen die zelfs groter dan hem waren. Met z’n allen rekten ze de wondermeloen uit, zodat de reus los kon komen, en ook de fee. De reus was er zo van geschrokken dat hij nooit meer binnenin de wondermeloen wilde, en de fee is vanaf toen voor altijd in het voorste deel van de wondermeloen blijven wonen, samen met de kabouter.

De Perenprins

Er was eens kasteel waarvan de deuren tussen de vertrekken indiaanse wondervruchten waren. Je kon door die deuren heen, maar je kon niet meer terug. Het was als een soort fuik. Veel mannen raakten in het kasteel verstrikt en kwamen steeds dieper en dieper, totdat ze in de diepste kamer van het kasteel kwamen, waar een perenprins van steen stond. Om de perenprins heen lagen allemaal peren. ‘Zeg perenprins,’ zeiden de mannen. ‘Hoe komen we weer uit dit kasteel?’

‘Ach,’ zei de perenprins. ‘Neem gewoon wat peren mee, en gooi ze tegen de wondervruchten aan, dan gaan ze vanzelf weer open. Maar alsjeblieft, neem mij ook mee.’ Maar de mannen begonnen de perenprins uit te lachen, en gingen zonder hem terug naar de indiaanse wondervruchten met een heleboel peren. En het werkte. Telkens als ze een peer tegen de wondervrucht gooiden opende die zich weer, en zo konden de mannen helemaal terug tot de ingang lopen. Maar de poort-wondervrucht vertoonde ineens haar tanden, en verslond de mannen één voor één. En zo gebeurde dit vaak, totdat er op een dag een arme man in het kasteel terechtkwam. Ook hij kwam in de diepste kamer bij de perenprins terecht. Hij kreeg medelijden met de perenprins en besloot hem mee te dragen. Dat was wel zwaar, maar het lukte goed. Toen ze bij de poort-wondervrucht aankwamen sprak de perenprins: ‘Vlug, gooi er een peer tegenaan, en zet mij dan in de opening. De arme man deed wat hem gezegd werd, en de wondervrucht brak al snel de stenen perenprins kapot. Een klein mannetje kwam uit het gebroken standbeeld, en liep blij naar buiten, terwijl de arme man hem volgde. Het kleine mannetje leidde de arme man naar zijn koninkrijk, en hier zijn ze lang en gelukkig blijven wonen.

Het Tovermannetje

Er was eens een kasteel waarin indiaanse vliegen een reuzenmeloen bewaakten met daaronder een stel reuzenbananen. De reuzenmeloen droeg sieraden en was als een ravijn waarin vele bezoekers van het kasteel te pletter vielen. De reuzenbananen die daaronder lagen verslonden dan degenen die in de reuzenmeloen waren gevallen. Onder de reuzenbananen was een schatkamer. Op een dag was er een man in het kasteel die zich goed had voorbereid. Hij had gehoord van de gevaren, en had een lang touw meegenomen waarlangs hij voorzichtig naar de reuzenbananen toegleed, terwijl hij een slaapmiddel liet neervallen in de reuzenbananen. De reuzenbananen vielen direkt in slaap, en zo kwam hij even later in de schatkamer. Maar ineens vielen indiaanse vliegen hem aan. Ze hadden gevaarlijke angels, maar de man prikte wat vruchten aan die angels. De indiaanse vliegen vonden die vruchten zo lekker dat ze de man helemaal vergaten. De man liep verder naar de schatten, en zag daarop een klein mannetje zitten. 'Ik zit hier al tijden omdat ik de schatten moest bewaken,' zei het mannetje. 'Maar ik ben blij dat er iemand is gekomen.' Doordat de reuzenbananen en de indiaanse vliegen waren uitgeschakeld kon het mannetje zijn toverkrachten weer gebruiken, en toverde hemzelf, de man en de schatten snel buiten het kasteel. Snel zochten ze toen een veilige plaats op, en leefden daar nog lang en gelukkig.

Het Wondersap

Er waren eens wat indiaanse konijnen die in een hol wilde bonen bewaakten waaruit heerlijk geurend wondersap stroomde. Op een dag lokte een man de indiaanse konijnen met heel lekker voer naar buiten, en ging toen het hol binnen. Maar de wilde bonen met het wondersap waren zo woest dat ze de man verslonden. Niet lang daarna probeerde een andere man het. Hij lokte de indiaanse konijnen naar buiten met lekker voer, ging het hol binnen en verspreidde direkt een slaapmiddel waardoor de wilde bonen slap gingen hangen en al snel in slaap vielen. Hij bracht de wilde bonen met het wondersap naar een smid, die hen in ijzer liet smelten, maar in de top lieten ze een klein gaatje zitten voor het wondersap. En zo kon de man veel wondersap verkopen, terwijl niemand wist waaruit het voortkwam.

Liefde en Haat

De mannen en de vrouwen kwamen steeds dichter bij de vulkaan. De grond werd steeds heter onder hun voeten. Als ze hierin zouden afdalen, dan zouden ze in het binnenste van de planeet komen. Nog voordat ze zouden afdalen hoorden ze een kreet. Agdan greep Azeda vast. De grond onder haar voeten leek te verdwijnen. Nu moesten ze snel zijn. Agdan wierp zijn touw naar Osdol, en die bond het snel aan een boom. Agdan zwiepte met Azeda neer beneden, en al snel hadden ook de anderen het touw vanaf de boom vastgegrepen. Nu moesten ze snel zijn, want alles leek op instorten te staan. Maar het was al te laat. Ook de boom stortte in, en allen vlogen ze gillend naar beneden. Gelukkig kwamen ze in een zacht vlak terecht waarvan de temperatuur dragelijk was, en zo gleden ze verder in de vulkaan.

Jesmig had Misdan's voet vast, en gleed zo achter hem aan. Ze was bang de groep te verliezen. Maar alles ging goed, en na een tijdje kwamen ze binnen in een enorm grote holle ruimte. Zou dit het binnenste van de planeet al zijn. Osdol schreeuwde dat iedereen elkaar vast moest houden. Er konden hier gevaarlijke wezens rondlopen, en er konden zich ook gevaarlijke valstrikken bevinden. Iedereen hield elkaar goed vast, en gelukkig ging alles goed. Totdat er een deur in de holle ruimte openging. Een man in een zwart gewaad en met een lange witte baard kwam naar hem toe.

‘Euspuicius,’ zei Osdol.

‘Je bent toch gekomen, Osdol,’ zei de man. ‘Ja, oom,’ zei Osdol. ‘En we hebben het nog wel snel gedaan. Ik had verwacht dat we ...’ Maar de man gebood Osdol om stil te zijn. ‘Ik ben jullie tegemoetgekomen. Maar we zijn er nog niet,’ zei de man. ‘Jullie hebben mij nodig, anders overleven jullie het hier niet. Kom, volg mij. Ik weet de weg.’

Toen ze door de deur gingen zagen ze de ravijnen, en er hingen overal adembenemende sieraden.

‘Er zijn hier veel valstrikken,’ zei de man. ‘En jullie moeten eerst gebrandmerkt worden.’

‘Gebrandmerkt?’ vroeg Azeda. ‘waarvoor?’

‘Dat zul je wel zien,’ zei de man. Plotseling zagen ze allerlei vreemd krijssende reuzeninsecten op hen afkomen. Ze leken een beetje op wespen met lange angels. Iedereen schrok. De insecten drukten hun lange angels in het vlees van de groep, en de groep gilte het uit. De angels waren kokendheet, en gingen diep in hun lichamen. De mannen vochten uit alle macht met hun zwaarden, maar de insecten waren veel sneller. De groep begon hevig te bloeden, maar toen vertrokken de insecten ineens onverklaarbaar.

Wees maar blij, zei de oude man. De ravijnen zullen die littekens herkennen, en zullen jullie doorgang geven. Zonder deze wonden zouden jullie door de ravijnen gegrepen worden en opgeslokt worden

Iedereen vond dat wel erg vreemd. De oude man wist gelukkig precies de weg, en na een tijd kwamen ze bij zijn huisje aan.

Iedereen was erg moe. De mannen kregen een kamer, en de vrouwen kregen een andere kamer. In de nacht werden ze allen opgeschrikt door een schel krijssend geluid. Eén van de mannen rende naar buiten, en zag een zwevend platform in één van de ravijnen, op dezelfde hoogte. Een man en wat vrouwen in vreemde klederen riepen hem. Ze schenen zelfs zijn naam te kennen. Als gehypnotiseerd liep de man naar voren, en ook het platform kwam dichtbij. Ook een andere man was inmiddels naar buiten gekomen. ‘Doe het niet, Asdor,’ zei de andere man. Maar Asdor stapte op het platform en toen ging het platform naar de andere kant van het ravijn, en toen langs de vulkanen van de overkant heen, om vervolgens in een bocht te verdwijnen.

‘Ik kan je geen garanties geven over Asdor,’ zei de oude man de volgende dag. ‘Er zijn hier vele volkeren, soms kwaad van zin, soms goed, maar ook heel vaak ertussenin. Maar als jullie gekrijs hoorden, dan was dat waarschijnlijk een vleermuis, of weer insecten.’

De volgende nacht hoorden ze weer gekrijs. Azeda bleef direkt klaarwakker, terwijl de anderen weer verder sliepen. Langzaam ging ze uit haar bed, en liep naar buiten. Ook zij zag het platform en moest aan Asdor denken. ‘Nee,’ dacht ze bij haarzelf. ‘Dit is niet goed als ik meega.’ Maar plotseling greep een hand haar van achteren. Ze werd geblinddoekt, en al gauw stond ze op het platform. Na een tijdje werd ze van het platform afgeduwd, en de blinddoek ging er weer af. Er was hier een prachtige natuur. Het was als een jungle, en er stroomde een vreemd soort sap. ‘Je hebt dit altijd al gewild,’ zei een stem. ‘Je wist dat het een natuur was, waarin je hetzelfde zou zijn als die natuur, en die natuur als jou. Je wilde wel dat het je zou omhullen.’

‘Oh god, ja,’ zei Azeda, ‘maar waar is Asdor?’

‘Asdor is in goede handen,’ zei een stem. Ze wist niet waar die stem vandaan kwam, maar van achter duwde iemand haar voorwaarts. Ze durfde niet achterom te kijken. Plotseling werd ze in een grot geduwd, en ze zag Asdor staan. ‘Asdor,’ riep ze.

Asdor glimlachte. ‘Wat is dit voor een natuur?’ vroeg ze.

‘Mens en natuur is hier één,’ zei Asdor vriendelijk. De natuur was hier als een stel reuzen bij elkaar. Ze ademde de doordringende lucht in, en de warme geur. Ze liep voorzichtig op Asdor af, maar het leek alsof er glas tussen haar en Asdor was. ‘Asdor, ik kan niet verder,’ zei ze. Ze moest een stukje opzij stappen, toen vooruit, toen weer opzij naar de andere kant, en toen weer vooruit. Asdor omhelsde haar. ‘Ben je in orde?’ vroeg Azeda.

‘Ja,’ fluisterde Asdor. Na niet al te lange tijd kwamen de volgende van hun vrienden hier, en waren overweldigd door de natuur. Verderop was een meer vol van vreemd sap. Er was een eilandje waar ze naartoe zwommen. Ze konden zichzelf helemaal verliezen in deze omgeving.

Maar toen ze naar de andere kant van het meer waren gezwommen zagen ze daar oude mannen in kooien. Een schaduw leek hun enthousiasme te overvallen. ‘Wat is dit voor land?’ krijste Azeda, en rende op de kooien af om ze zo snel mogelijk los proberen te krijgen.

‘We weten wel wie jullie zijn,’ zeiden de oude mannen. ‘Jullie zijn van de Xzeda. Jullie openen onze kooien om ons naar nog verschrikkelijker kooien te leiden.’

‘Nee,’ riep Azeda. ‘We zijn hier niks. Wat is hier aan de hand?’

‘Oh, zijn jullie niet van de Xzeda?’ zei een oude man.

‘Nee, zei Asdor, wij zijn niet van deze plaats. Wie zijn de Xzeda?’

‘Zij zijn reuzen-insecten als wespen, en ze komen ook in menselijke vorm. Zij hebben ons hier opgesloten,’ sprak de oude man.

In ieder geval waren de kooien nu open, en ze konden beter bij de oude mannen blijven. Er schenen hier veel gevaren te zijn, en ze hadden al allemaal spijt dat ze meegegaan waren. Maar ook hadden ze zin in avontuur.

De oude mannen leidden hen naar een oude grot. Hier lieten ze oude papieren zien waarop de insecten getekend stonden. ‘Ja, die kennen we,’ zei Azeda, en liet haar wond zien. Ook de oude mannen lieten hun littekens zien. ‘Daarmee houden ze ons in de gaten,’ zei de oude man. ‘ze ruiken het litteken. Daarom moeten we doorreizen anders zullen ze ons vinden.’

De oude man vertelde hen dat ze op zoek moesten naar een nieuw litteken, een teken waardoor de Xzeda niet meer bij hen zou kunnen komen, een teken dat hen zou verwarren.

‘Maar hoe komen we bij dat teken?’ vroeg Azeda.

De oude man opende een put achterin de grot. Eén voor één daalden ze naar beneden. Er was hier veel modder. Het leidde hen naar een vieze stinkende rivier. De oude man dook in het water, en de rest moest volgen. Maar na een tijdje werden ze omsingeld door piranha's. De piranha's leken zich te storten op de oude mannen. De rest kon ontsnappen. Iedereen zwom snel door, maar toen de piranha's de oude mannen binnen een mum van tijd hadden verslonden grepen ze ook de anderen. Alleen Asdor en Azeda konden ontsnappen. Asdor had een paar piranha's aan zijn mes geregen, en toen bleven ze uit de buurt. Azeda zwom zo dicht mogelijk bij hem. In de verte zagen ze een berg, en na een tijdje konden ze op de oever klimmen. In de verte hoorden ze gekrijs van reuzen-insecten die steeds dichterbij kwamen. Snel gingen Azeda en Asdor door een gleuf de berg binnen. Ze dachten allebei na over het tweede litteken, hoe ze dat konden krijgen, en waar. In een schacht klommen ze op een trappetje omhoog, en kwamen in een ruimte waar een reuzenoog lag. ‘Laten we hier weggaan,’ zei Azeda. ‘Het bevalt me hier niet.’ Een vreemde rook scheen zich te verspreiden.

‘We kunnen niet terug,’ zei Asdor, ‘ik wil niet nog een keer gestoken worden. Laten we op zoek gaan naar het tweede merkteken.’ Ze merkten dat ze door de opening een nieuw pad konden volgen. Het was een soort tunnel, en de wanden voelden erg zacht aan. Plotseling kon Asdor zich niet meer bewegen. ‘Kom op,’ zei Azeda, ‘we moeten verder. Je hebt gelijk. We kunnen niet terug, en straks zetten ze ons ook in die kooien waar die oude mannen inzaten.’

‘H...h...het komt door die tunnel,’ stotterde Asdor ... Azeda nam hem snel op haar rug, en trok hem voort. Na een tijdje gleed ze uit, en ging de tunnel schuin naar beneden. Het was alsof ze in een ruimte waren waar ze niet mochten komen, want ook Azeda kon zich niet meer bewegen. Het was alsof ze door een vreemd insect waren gestoken. Een vreemd oranje gekruisd litteken verscheen op hun bovenbenen. Ineens konden ze weer ademen. Beiden waren opgelucht, en konden zich na een tijdje weer een beetje bewegen. Alles was glad hier, en ze gleden nog steeds naar beneden. Ze hielden elkaar stevig vast.

‘Wat een vreemde tunnel is dit,’ zei Azeda.’ Asdor knikte. Ze hielden elkaar vast. ‘Dit kan niet goed zijn, Asdor,’ zei Azeda. Asdor zei niets. Asdor probeerde grip te krijgen op de tunnel, maar alles ging sneller en sneller. Alles was nat. ‘Ik laat je los, Asdor,’ zei Azeda. En plotseling kwamen ze in twee verschillende tunnels terecht. Allebei kwamen ze in een bron van vreemd stomend sap terecht. ‘Kun je me horen?’ riep Asdor.

‘Ja!’ riep Azeda op haar hardst.

Plotseling hoorde hij Azeda luid krijsen. ‘Piranha’s!’ilde ze. Asdor raakte in paniek, want hij wist niet hoe hij bij haar moest komen. Na een tijdje was alles stil. Ze hadden haar verscheurd. Asdor liep verder in de bron, en stapte aan de overkant er weer uit. Hij voelde haat en liefde tegelijk naar de natuur, maar bovenal verwarring, ongeloof en onbegrip. Hij liep op een heuveltje omhoog, en ging door een deur naar binnen. Na een tijdje herkende hij het weer. Hij was dicht bij het huis van Osdol’s oom. Toen hij binnenkwam zag hij Osdol, de oude man, Agdan, Jesmig en Misdan. Hij had een verhaal te vertellen.

De oude man kon hem wel vertellen hoe de vork in de steel zat. De natuur was verdeeld, zoals de mens verdeeld was, en de natuur was op sommige punten net zo hopeloos en hulpeloos als de mens dat was. Osdol omhelsde zijn oude vriend, en was blij dat hij het had overleefd. Maar allen treurden ze over Azeda en de anderen die het niet konden navertellen. Asdor liet hen het litteken zien wat hij erbij had gekregen, het oranje kruisje op zijn bovenbeen. Als dit het teken was waar de oude mannen over spraken, dan zou hij nu niet meer door de reuzen-insecten lastig gevallen kunnen worden, maar omdat Azeda dat kruisje ook had, wist hij dat de strijd tegen de piranha’s in ieder geval nog niet over was. En wat als dat helemaal niet het teken was waardoor hij macht over de Xzeda zou hebben? Dan kon hij nog steeds hun prooi worden, om in hun kooien een oude man te worden. Daar had hij niet zoveel zin in. Door zijn onwetendheid zou hij dus een groot risico lopen als hij zou teruggaan. Maar iets in hem trok hem.

Osdol en Agdan vonden op een dag een gebied vol vulkanen nog dieper onder de grond. Deze vulkanen waren anders dan ze ooit hadden gezien, en al gauw haalden ze de anderen erbij. Ook Ogdol's oom ging mee. Er waren hier vreemdsoortige slangen, en sommigen van hen waren erg groot, zo groot dat ze de vulkanen met gemak konden wurgen. Allen keken ze vol bewondering naar hoe de slangen zich over de vulkanische oppervlaktes bewogen. De hittede waren groter dan normaal, maar veel minder pijnlijk. De pijn zou je kunnen vergelijken met gestoken te worden door een steekvlieg. Langzaam zakten de mannen naar beneden in een krater, en ook de vrouwen volgden hen. Osdol's oom bleef staan, wenste hen een goede reis, en ging na wat waarschuwingen weer terug. Ze waren met z'n vijven : drie mannen en twee vrouwen. Nog steeds treurden ze over Azeda, die door piranha's was verslonden.

Maar de schrik sloeg hen om 't hart toen ze iets onderin de krater zagen bewegen. Het was een been. En plotseling kwam er een heel lichaam uit. Het was Azeda. Iedereen was erg blij, en verbaasd. 'Wij dachten dat je verslonden was door piranha's,' sprak Agdan.

'Nee,' zei Azeda, terwijl ze hen één voor één omhelsde. 'de piranha's trokken mij mee in de diepte van de bron waarin ik was gegleden, en brachten mij hier. De grond is erg vruchtbaar.'

'Hoe bedoel je ?' vroeg Agdan. 'We verwachtten hier de dood, maar je zegt nu dat alles hier leeft ?' Osdol's oom had hen verteld dat dieper in de aarde alles praktisch dood was, alleen vuur, veel vuur, en vulkaan-activiteit. Nu hoorden en zagen ze iets anders. 'Kom mee,' zei Azeda, en leidde hen door het gat waaruit ze gekomen was. Er waren hier meren, en daarin konden ze gewoon zwemmen. Agdan omhelsde Azeda, en samen gleden ze in de diepte van een kratermeer. Dat had hij zolang niet kunnen doen. Ook de andere mannen en vrouwen volgden. Azeda wist hier de weg. Ze konden hier gewoon ademen. Een geur maakte zich van hen meester, als de rook van hete vulkanen. Er groeiden hier vreemde planten met vreemde vruchten. Azeda gaf hen allemaal te eten, en vertelde honderduit.

De bodem van het meer voelde ribbelig aan, en was bruin-roze. Het water was zo helder dat ze alles goed konden zien. Ook het water ribbelde. Hier waren de piranha's niet agressief. Het was alsof ze hier thuis waren gekomen, en hun rust hadden gevonden. Het was hier zoveel beter dan in een gewone rivier of een gewoon meer. Dit was magisch. Iedereen was blij dat Azeda weer terecht was gekomen.

Eén van de mannen gleed door een nauwe opening. Al snel volgden de anderen. Diep van onderen hoorden ze een geluid. Het was een lange tunnel. In de ruimte waar ze terecht waren gekomen was alles heel zacht en donzig, en overal om hen heen stonden prachtige motors door zonlicht overgoten. Boven hen schitterde de roze zon. Al snel crosten ze door de gangen, door licht verhelderd. Niet lang daarna waren ze op de uitgestrekte vlaktes.

De zon ging onder, en het werd nacht. Een kou raasde over de vlaktes, en ze zochten warmte bij elkaar. Er was niets rustgevers dan hier te wonen, maar al gauw werden ze ergens door opgejaagd wat ze niet konden verklaren. Een vreemd gevoel van binnen. Wat zo mooi had kunnen zijn liep al snel uit op een nachtmerrie. Ze werden gevangen genomen door ratten. Gebonden op de ruggen van de ratten werden ze tot duistere plaatsen gebracht. Hier was de kou de baas, en wanneer er hitte was, dan was het gewoon de pijn. Ze herinnerden hun motors die schitterden in de stralen van de zon. Ze verlangden terug naar die tijden, maar zij waren nu gevangen van de ratten. En voor hoe lang ? Misschien wel voor altijd.

Na lange nachten van hopeloosheid, pijn en verdriet hoorden ze ineens schoten. Overal om hen heen zagen ze ratten neervallen. Het was Osdol's oom. Hij had een grote motor meegenomen, en al snel zaten ze allemaal achterop. Met grote snelheid croste de oude man uit de schuur van de ratten. Hij kende de weg hier wel, en kende ook de gevaren. Maar zij die pas waren bevrijd waren geheel afgestompt. Ze voelden niets anders dan een botte pijn. Als dit het leven was. En wie vertelde hen dat niet nog grotere gevaren hen al opwachten ? Ze hadden nergens meer zin in. Het was alsof het trauma van de ratten hen diep verwond had, met eeuwige wonden. Het was alsof de ratten nog steeds binnen in hen leefden. Thuisgekomen bij Osdol's oom namen ze allemaal een warm bad, maar niets scheen te helpen. Eigenlijk wilden ze gewoon helemaal naar huis, want ze hadden genoeg van het leven onder de aarde. In hun ogen was het allemaal te duur.

Op een dag raakte Agdan Azela aan. Azela gilte het uit. Het deed pijn, alsof ze in de brandnetels was gevallen. En dit was zelfs erger zo erg dat ze helemaal in paniek raakte bij de gedachte dat hij het weer zou kunnen doen. 'Doe dat nooit meer,' krijste ze. Agdan was de eerste die helemaal herstelde, en wilde terug naar de diepte om uit te vinden wat daar gaande was. Maar de anderen wilden hem niet laten gaan. Bij de vrouwen leken de wonden erger dan ooit tevoren.

Op een dag bood Osdol's oom aan om op de grote motor samen met Agdan terug naar de diepte te gaan. De vrouwen vertrouwden Osdol's oom, en alhoewel ze zelf niet meegingen, gaven ze wel toestemming aan Agdan om mee te gaan.

De motor ging ditmaal dieper dan ooit tevoren, en ze kwamen zelfs op terrein waar Osdol's oom nog nooit was geweest. Hij wist dat het gevaarlijk was, maar het ging om het hogere goed. Zoete geuren leken naar hen te lonken. Maar beiden waren ze op hun hoede. Een vrouw staarde hen aan, een vrouw die ze niet kenden. Toen rende de vrouw weg. Langzaam kwamen Agdan en de oude man dichterbij. Door een gleuf in een rots zagen vulkanen. Er kwam een indringende, hypnotiserende geur door de gleuf heen. Boven de vulkanen hing een duistere bruine zon. Ze konden niet door de gleuf heen, alhoewel ze dat wel zouden willen. Ze vroegen zich af waar de vrouw naartoe was gegaan.

Het beklimmen van de rots was erg gevaarlijk, maar na een tijdje kwamen ze er toch overheen. Ook hesen ze met een touw de motor van de oude man over de rots heen. De lichten die hier waren, waren verzwakkend. Vanuit de meertjes schepte de oude man wat van de vreemde sappen in kruiken en flessen. De man herkende dit spul als geneesmiddelen voor eeuwige wonden. Verder merkten ze dat ze direkt weer moesten vertrekken, vanwege de dreigende lucht, die hun zuurstof begon af te nemen. Thuisgekomen na een lange reis werden de vrouwen en de overige mannen met het sap ingesmeerd, en begonnen wonderbaarlijk te herstellen. Agdan vroeg zich echter af waarom hij zonder het sap was hersteld. De man zei dat hij waarschijnlijk dat sap al in zijn lichaam droeg.

De Nooit eindigende Vlam

Op de berg gleden een groep mannen door glibberige geulen, en kwamen uiteindelijk terecht in warme bronnen. Diep in een gouden bron, opgestuwd als een plaats dieper dan hun ziel, die hun ziel leek weg te vreten. Ze vonden het fijn dat ze geen ziel meer hadden, geen geweten, want het geweten had hen hun leven lang geteisterd. Voor hun ogen zagen ze de visioenen en aura's van hun geweten waarin ze zolang opgesloten zaten exploderen. Hun lichamen trilden, plaats makend voor nog meer explosies, waaronder die van het hart, en daarna hun hersenen. Hun mentale vlakken voelden blanco aan, als een witgeverfde massa van verdoving. Verdoofdheid was wat ze wilden, nadat ze hun gevangenschappen hadden verlaten. Het was een grote ontsnapping. Er droop sap van hun gehemelte die hun kelen dik lieten aanvoelen, als gestoken door een giftige spin, als een geneesmiddel. Want oh, wat waren deze mannen verwond. Jarenlang mochten zij niet dromen, en moesten zij hun lichamen onderdrukken, maar nu droop zachte vrijheid door hun botten heen.

Er begonnen monden te verschijnen die breed opengingen en scherpe, slijmerige tanden hadden. De jacht was begonnen. Dit was niet de druk van het geweten meer, maar van gevoeligheid. Jaren waren zij door het geweten vals beschuldigd, en nu was de jacht begonnen. De mannen strekten hun lichamen uit, en werden omhuld door warme visioenen als verf, en vreemde indringende lichten. Zoveel meer zintuigen werden in hen geopend. Het was hier waar de natuur zich voor hen opende, en het was goed hier te zijn, vanwege de warmte. Het was een tropische warmte als een deken waaronder hun lichamen bedekt werden. Er was geen terugkeer mogelijk meer, nu ze in zo'n sterke stroming terecht waren gekomen. Maar wilden ze nog wel terug ?

'Ik wil vrij zijn,' riep er één, en een ander riep : 'Ik zal ze bombarderen.' De oorlog was nu begonnen, want hun lichamen waren nog steeds gevuld met wraakgevoelens en bitterheid. Ze waren soldaten, nu toegerust met wapens, en hiermee zouden ze geen genade hebben. Sommigen gilden en krijsten van woede, totdat hun armen zo krachtig als vleugels waren. De soldaten rezen op, en keken naar hun helmen. Er was geen weg terug. De strijd zou nu beginnen. Zij hadden een wapen in handen met vreemde schilden. Oorlogsgekrijs was overal. De mannen hadden maar één doel : overwinning. De zachtheid leek hen steeds meer en meer te omhullen, en begonnen hen langzaam te penetreren tot in de dieptes van hun wezen. Vandaaruit wisten ze welke woorden ze moesten spreken, om op te borrelen voor het besturen van hun jachtpaarden. De mannen zouden geen genade hebben, omdat er geen genade aan hen was geschonken. Het was nu de tijd van wraak, en er kwam doem op de vlaktes.

Er kwamen sappen op vanuit de bron waaruit ze omhoog kwamen, en gingen recht op hun benen staan als door een vreemde kracht. Ze gleden voort over een berg, door een heleboel geuren. De lijven bereden hun jachtpaarden, want het was oorlog. Het was een avontuur zonder grenzen, voor een nieuwe natuur. De strijdkreet was neergezet om poorten te openen, tot het bezichtigen van de nooiteindigende vlam. Allen strekten ze zich uit naar de vlam, en plotseling kwam er een zachte en ritmische bliksem naar beneden om hen met geheel nieuwe visioenen te omhullen, de visioenen van een nieuwe wereld. Ze waren bijna thuisgekomen. De mannen hielden van de vlam, en hielden ervan naar de vlam te kijken, hoe het vurig opschoot om hun diepste wensen te vervullen. De mannen hadden een kracht ontdekt die niet van deze wereld was, en zij brachten hun wapens in de lucht. Deze oorlog zou uitgevochten worden. Geen enkel wapen was zo zacht, vervullend en doeltreffend.

De mannen steigerden als paarden, hunkerend naar de vlam waarop ze reden. Ze kwamen steeds dichterbij de vlam, terwijl hun hersenen leken te exploderen. Plotseling nam de vlam hen in de greep als een touw, en begon zich aan te trekken. Langzaam begon de vlam bezit van hen te nemen, terwijl ze als bezetenen werden. De vlam zou hen aanvoeren in de oorlog, en zou hen rijkelijk voorzien in de vlam, omdat de vlam weelderig was. De vlam nam alleen genoeg met het beste, en liet vluchtige, poederige visioenen over hun lichamen glijden. Plotseling begon de vlam als in een draaikolk de mannen naar beneden te zuigen. De mannen gleden in nieuwe bronnen waar ze gelanceerd werden. Zachte energieën begonnen in hen omhoog te komen, die door de vlam in lichterlaaie werden gezet, om zo te worden tot lichten. Hierdoor verloren de mannen zoveel van hun ziel en hart, om plaats te maken voor nog meer van de vlam, iets wat ze veel meer begeerden. Ze wilden loskomen, en dit was de juiste oplossing. Zolang hadden ze hier op gewacht na jarenlange gevangenschap. Zo lang hadden ze hier naar uitgezien, denkende dat het nooit zou komen. Aan hun hopeloosheid was een einde gekomen, terwijl nieuwe energieën aan hun horizonnen verschenen.

De mannen draaiden met de krachten en energieën mee, in de stroom van de nooiteindigende vlam. Zij hadden die vlam omhelsd en aangenomen. 'Ja, eet mijn hersenen weg !' riep een, en bracht doem voort. Het geduld de mannen was op. De mannen hadden genoeg van hun harten die hen alleen maar pijn deden. Ze werden aangedreven door elkaar. Hier hadden de mannen zolang op gewacht. Zij waren gezonden om het geweten te verslinden.

Ze droegen vlammen op hun hoofden als kronen. Zij waren koningen, en hadden macht. Zij droegen allen een nieuw vaandel, waarin een nooiteindigende vlam hen leidde. Na het ritueel stonden zij op, en marcheerden over de hogere muren. Daartoe waren zij uitgezonden. Zij werkten voor de nooiteindigende vlam. De mannen droegen sieraden waarmee ze heersten. De mannen wilden doem brengen. Het laatste deel van de hersenen scheen te exploderen, en sap bleek voort te komen vanuit hun diepste bronnen. Er was nu niets meer dat hen kon tegenhouden. Alles wat ze wilden was vrij te zetten.

Ze waren diep met elkaar verbonden in hun binnensten, en vertrouwden elkaar. Ze hadden de prijs betaald om hier te komen, en hadden bewezen dat ze waardig waren. De vlam keek toe en maakte een ritmisch geheel. Van alle kanten kwamen nieuwe vlammen binnen en werden nieuwe vlammen gevormd, totdat de mannen tot een draaikolk kwamen.

Het was een harde oorlog. Zij die de vlammenkroon droegen hadden geen genade. Zij hadden monstermonden op hun borst, met vlijmscherpe, gemene tanden onder slijm. Ook bereiden zij vreemde schilden met franjes.

De mannen droegen speren. Zij waren op de vlucht, en voerden oorlog en jacht voor hun leven. Zij hadden gestoken, diep penetrerend om de gevaarlijkste sappen voort te brengen in de oorlog. Ook wisten zij precies welke knoppen in te drukken voor de beste wapens en de beste aanvallen. Zij gingen voor het beste, en namen met niets minder genoegen.

Zij die de vlammenkroon droegen waren trots, en droegen lange franjes. Zij droegen een nieuw vaandel, en waren bezeten door een nooiteindigende vlam, die telkens weer andere vlammen leek voort te brengen, diep penetrerend. De vlammen vormden nieuwe visioenen van een nieuwe wereld, waar ze al voor de helft instonden, als wateren die omhulden. Er was geen weg meer terug, en dat wilden ze ook niet. Ze keken over de rand heen van een hoge berg, in een nieuwe wereld. Ze hadden deze wereld lief, en die wereld had hen lief. Ja, die wereld was naar hen toegezonden om hen te halen uit hun gevangenschap. Zij waren martelaars, maar nu waren zij vrij, om weg te zinken in een poel van bitterheid en wraak die ze nu eindelijk konden lanceren.

Er was hier geen geweten. Niets scheen hen in de weg te staan. Er was hier geen hart of ziel. Neen. Ze waren vrij, en lichten omhulden hen als dekens. Zij hadden te lang geleden. Er was geen vlam van genade meer in hen over. Zij waren te diep verwond en te gek van woede. Zij waren wild, en konden alleen elkaar nog temmen.

Er leek geen einde te komen aan hun wreedheid, omdat ze zelf ook groeiende wreedheid hadden moeten verdragen. Er was nu alleen plaats voor bittere wraak, en wie kon hen stoppen? Wie kon hen zeggen dat wat ze deden taboe was? Was datgene wat hen was aangedaan dan geen taboe? Hun binnenste was trots, bezeten en voortgejaagd door de nooiteindigende vlam. Als zij brulden kwam er vuur voort als bommen. Het was oorlog, een oorlog die zou duren tot het einde. Zij waren soldaten, en zij waren op jacht. Hun netten die zij gooiden waren als het rauwe vuur, en ze aten er goed van.

Zij droegen de vlammenkroon, een kroon van macht, een kroon van nooiteindigend vuur waarin hun nieuwe wereld zou ontstaan, een wereld om weg te vreten hart na hart, geweten na geweten, ziel na ziel. Ja, zij waren de jagers van de dood, omdat zij tot die dood waren gedreven, aan de ketenen van een immergroeïende wreedheid. Nu waren zij vrij, en nu waren zij bereid terug te betalen.

Een nooiteindigend vuur brandde in hun binnensten, voortbrengende visioenen tot een nieuwe creatie. In hun vrijheid braadden zij, en deden zich tegoed aan het vlees, want eens werd hun eigen vlees ook gegeten. Het was de dag der wrake en van de terugbetaling, een dag die de oude wereld nog lang zou heugen, totdat de oude wereld geheel in het niets en vergetene zou zijn opgelost. Dit was een moment waar zij naar uitzagen. En dit moment hadden zij bijna in hun hand.

De mannen gleden door geulen om zo in bronnen terecht te komen. De energieën bouwden zich op, en maakten nieuwe creaties. De mannen werden door nieuwe zachte visioenen omhuld, die hun diep en snel begonnen te penetreren om de diepste bronnen in hun binnenste omhoog te halen. De energieën werden bij elke ademhaling zachter en zachter, om nog diepere samensmeltingen op te roepen. De hersenen en harten van de mannen leken te exploderen, om plaats te maken voor de diepere vlammen, voortkomende vanuit een nooiteindigende vlam waarmee ze steeds meer bezeten raakten, in een vreemd ritmisch patroon om hun zielen te laten exploderen, om plaats te maken voor de vlam.

Door de zachtheid kregen ze een nieuw bewustzijn, en leken hun ogen open te gaan, omhuld door ringen, die zich door spiralen leken te verfijnen en vergroten. En zo werden de diepere snaren van hun wezen beroert, om diepere sappen voort te brengen. Het was oorlog, ondergedompeld in vreemde lichten. Deze lichten vormden ritmische patronen, als sleutels voor het openen van de diepere bronnen en sappen. Ja, poorten van gevoeligheid werden geopend, een grotere zachtheid.

Zij wisten hoe zij de verf moesten voortbrengen voor een totaal nieuwe wereld, een verf die zo diep in hun binnenste zat opgesloten.

De mannen kwamen na lange gevangenschap onder de grond aan in het kasteel. Lange tijd waren ze het slachtoffer geweest, maar nu waren ze toch eindelijk uit die draaikolk ontsnapt, en kwamen aan in het kasteel. Ze kwamen in vreemde capsules terecht vol met lichten, en zij zagen zichzelf nu door hele andere ogen. De capsules werden omhoog geschoten, en ze kwamen in hogere kamers terecht, waar het licht zich leek te vermenigvuldigen, tezamen met een aangename warmte, en een tropische bries. De mannen vertaalden de boodschappen die diep in hun lichamen opgeborgen lagen in mum van tijd, door de penetrerende en pellende lichten. Hier zagen ze zichzelf niet meer in schuwheid, maar in volle trots, alsof ze hun levensader hadden, maar nog steeds op hun hoede, want er konden vele gevaren zijn. Zij kenden het kasteel niet, alhoewel ze overweldigd waren door het kasteel.

Vreemde wezens kwamen tot transformaties, om hun voeten neer te zetten op de grond van het kasteel. Ze hadden hun pistolen, en hun laarzen zorgden voor een goede vering. Ook leken hun helmen en pantsers te vloeien, om hen te beschermen tegen de gevaren. Er waren zoveel kwade wezens die hun hoofden wilden bezitten. Het gevecht begon. Vreemde energieën kwamen als spiralen uit hun pistolen, om zich als ringen over hun vijanden te schieten. Vijanden hadden ze veel. Vijanden die hen terug wilden brengen naar hun donkere kerkers onder de grond. Maar nu waren ze in het kasteel, en zouden hun vrijheid verdedigen. Zij hadden hiertoe de juiste wapenen van het kasteel gekregen. Ja, het kasteel streed voor hen.

Mannen in lange jassen en met duistere geweren renden door het kasteel. Zij waren op zoek naar de mannen die waren gekomen. Het kasteel zou hen niet meer laten gaan. Sappen begonnen uit hun geweren en pistolen te druipen, en explosies vonden plaats, tot een groot vuurgevecht.

Ze hadden strategische plaatsen in het kasteel. Ze hadden zich geheel naar dit kasteel verplaatst, waar een geheel andere strijd ontstond. De strijd was tegen skeletten. De mannen hielden hun pistolen dichtbij hun borst, en werden in staat gesteld de mannen met de lange jassen te ontmoeten, die naar hen op zoek waren. Veel wapens werden uitgewisseld, klaar voor de strijd. De kogels waren verblindend, en al snel kwamen de skeletten in eieren terecht, in webben, waarin zij geheel geconsumeerd werden, getransformeerd tot goed voedsel. De mannen deden zich eraan tegoed. Lang hadden zij op het moment gewacht, en voor hen was dit een koud kunstje. Zij hadden hun geweren, en hulp van de mannen in lange jassen.

Er was een strijd in de lucht boven hun hoofden, want lichten waren naar hen op zoek, en weefden zich langzaam in de situatie. Zo gingen zij van verblinding tot verblinding om los te komen van de oude visioenen, en kwamen zij tot zachtere golven. Hun hersenen leken te exploderen, en nieuwe stoffen schenen door hun bloed te vloeien, verblindende lichten. Deze lichten waren organisch.

Er stonden vele dingen voor hen klaar in het kasteel, en langzaam gleden zij in hun capsules om tot hogere verdiepingen geschoten te worden. Er waren een heleboel dingen die zij niet begrepen, maar lichten waren naar hen op zoek, om hun harten te laten exploderen, en hen geheel vrij te zetten, vrij om te gaan tot de toppen van het kasteel. De kanonnen waren ritmisch en gevoelig, en ook hun pistolen en geweren schenen een eigen leven te leiden. Zij werden klaargemaakt om zelf een pistool te worden, iets waarin ze geheel veilig zouden zijn.

De mannen waren in een jungle terechtgekomen. Ze wisten het niet, want ze waren in het kasteel in slaap gevallen, en met hun bewustzijn zo ver weggevlogen. Maar toen ze wakker werden bleken ze nog gewoon in het kasteel te zijn, hier waar kasteel en jungle één waren. Ze keken om zich heen en zagen elkaar, terwijl vochtige energieën over hen heen schoven. Om hem heen liepen andere mannen met kappen, en zij hadden branders om het glas tussen de mannen weg te doen smelten. Dit was de wereld van het vuur. Een hitte leek hun hoofden tot leven te wekken, en ze zagen zoveel meer.

Hier waren visioenen die hen meetrokken tot een nieuwe wereld. De mannen riepen van hier tot elkaar. Er was geen weg meer uit het kasteel, alleen een weg om er dieper in weg te zinken. Het kasteel was groot, als een grote jungle.

De hitte leek hier door hun pakken heen te dringen, om hun harten geheel te doen wegsmelten, om plaats te maken voor het vuur, een vuur dat niet zou rusten totdat ze geheel thuis waren, waar ze behoorden te zijn, in de toppen van het kasteel, en door de verblindingen kwamen ze in de torens.

Doordat er een bepaalde stof in hun hoofden vrij kwam om de gaten van de jungle te doordringen en de muren op te blazen kwamen zij tot de andere kanten van de torens, en kwamen ze hoger. Ook leken energieën te vloeien als pistolen. Zo werden zij langzaam maar zeker zelf pistolen.

De mannen hadden vreemde energieën als tubes en wolkjes in hun armen. Hersenen hadden ze niet meer, maar pistolen die alles regelden en gevoelig waren. De hitteden waren aangenaam, met verblindende lichten die hieruit voortkwamen. Dezen stroomden door de pakken van de mannen om de verdere pistolen op te laden. De mannen waren zelf een pistool geworden, en ze hadden veel uitzicht in het kasteel. Steeds hoger kwamen zij in de torens, tot steeds diepere jungles. Maar de oorlog was nog maar net begonnen.

Hersenspingsels der Elven

Mirik, Mirit, en Sakja waren drie indiaanse oorlogselven. Ze hadden toverwapens, een heel kasteel vol, en ze deinsten niet terug voor bloederigheden en het drinken van bloed. Ze waren heel vampiristisch van aard.

Vaak vochten ze alledrie aan elkaars zijde, maar meestal leefden ze op zichzelf. De jacht deden ze meestal alleen. Er waren geen gruwelijkere en prachtigere elven dan hen, maar de wraak der heksen en tovenaars keerden vaak tegen hen.

Meestal als ze alleen waren kregen ze het zwaar te verduren, en daarom zochten ze elkaar nog weleens op. Gelukkig konden ze goed verdwijnen en verschijnen, en dat maakte alles iets makkelijker, maar er waren genoeg tovenaars en heksen, en genoeg boze elven die hen daarin met gemak konden volgen. Zij waren niet de enigen die konden verdwijnen en verschijnen. Ze hadden een hoge tovenaarsgraad, dat wel, maar hier woedde de oorlog het hardst.

Vaak smeerden ze zichzelf in met toverbloed, of namen ze een bad met tovergeuren. Het bad was bekleed met de huiden van allerlei toverbeesten die ze hadden verslagen. Maar als ze bij elkaar waren dan was er zoveel toverkracht dat het de meest gevaarlijke heksen aantrok, en daarom besloten ze op een dag voorgoed uit elkaar te gaan. Ieder van hen zou een richting kiezen, en ze zouden alleen nog maar voor zichzelf strijden.

Van huiden maakten ze een eigen wigwam in verlaten gebied. En sindsdien werd alles rustiger.

Ze wisten dat ze alleen veilig waren als ze op zichzelf waren. In die verlaten gebieden hadden ze nog wel veel strijd te voeren tegen de wilde dieren. Deze wilde dieren waren erg gevaarlijk, omdat ze in hen wilden wonen. Deze wilde dieren wilden bezit van hen nemen. En ze wisten dat ze de wilde dieren alleen konden overwinnen door bezit van hen te nemen. Daarom liepen ze vaak in verschillende dierenhuiden rond, en bovenal moesten ze steeds verdertrekken.

Sommige beesten waren zo groot dat als ze hen overwonnen hadden ze met gemak erin konden leven als in een tent. Ze kwamen erachter dat deze wilde dieren nog wel erger waren dan tovenaars en heksen. Als ze niet zo wild zouden zijn als deze beesten zelf, dan zouden ze hier niet standhouden. Wie zou denken dat hun paden weer zouden kruisen na een lange reis en een lange strijd tegen de wilde dieren en beesten? Een wilde indiaanse elvenstam leefde hier, maar zij zouden daar alleen deel van kunnen worden als ze deze stam zouden verslaan in een schijngevecht.

Deze elven hadden de wilde dieren en beesten tot hun beschikking om erop te rijden. Ook voerden zij oorlog tegen anderen van die duistere elvenstammen, maar deze oorlogen waren slechts schijn. Door schijnoorlogen werden er contacten gelegd en door schijnoorlogen werden deze contacten verder uitgebouwd, tot in de diepste vriendschappen. Door schijnoorlogen beschermden men elkaar.

En zij kwamen door de diepste duisternissen tot de grootste lichtbronnen der elven, en tot een heleboel andere elvenparadoxen. De toverdranken brachten een roes in de elven, een passie en een lust, als een recht en een plicht. De elvenscenario's gingen diep, en waren wonderlijk in hun verdediging. Het waren schijnlichten, schijn gesprekken, en zelfs schijnvriendschappen, alles om hun doelen te bereiken, de ijskoude wateren van een diepe eenzaamheid, waarin een prachtige tweeledigheid werd opgewekt, een zuivere tweeledigheid, zich in schijn uitstrekkende naar de driehoek. Dit alles tot makkelijker en sneller te verdwijnen en te verschijnen, om geheel op te lossen in een realiteit. Nee, makkelijk was het niet om de hogere tovergraden te bereiken, om deel te krijgen aan de hogere hersenspinsels der elven.

Zevenwind

In de verte een indrukwekkende processie van skeletten in harnassen, gewapend. Zij marcheren voor de ivoren poort van de schakelburcht waar Eruptus woont. Zevenwind grijpt zijn zwaard, en slacht drieduizend skeletten-ridders om vervolgens de reusachtige burcht binnen te gaan door de ivoren poort. "Wat moet dat daar," roept Eruptus hem toe. "Ik kom het goud terughalen wat jij van ons rijk hebt gestolen," brult Zevenwind. Zevenwind is gestuurd door de prinses. Maar Eruptus laat een vuurvlam op Zevenwind neerdalen die hij nog net kan afketsen met zijn schild. Dan werpt Zevenwind zijn zwaard in het hart van Eruptus, terwijl een doodslucht zich door de burcht verspreid. Onder de burcht ligt het goud, en zoveel andere schatten. Als loon krijgt Zevenwind de burcht waar hij voortaan kan wonen.

Dit is het verhaal van Zevenwind, de held, die eens het rijk redde uit de klauwen van een verschrikkelijk monster, de Pania. Na het verslaan van Eruptus is Zevenwind een welkome gast in het kasteel van de prinses. Hij krijgt daar ook zijn eigen logeerkamer waar hij zich altijd kan terugtrekken, hoog in het kasteel. De prinses komt hem daar vaak opzoeken. Gouden poeder stroomt uit de handen van Zevenwind. Hij houdt ervan om met het goud te spelen. Ook liggen er grotere stukjes goud die hij liefstallig langs zijn vingers laat glijden. De prinses is een liefstallige verschijning, en Zevenwind is erg dol op haar. Na een tijdje staat hij op, en vertrekt, want hij heeft nog veel dingen te doen. De prinses achtervolgt hem, en ziet hoe hij buiten wordt tegengehouden door een zwartachtig skelet. Het is het begin van een nachtmerrie voor het rijk. Zevenwind wordt gevangen genomen, en een enorm monster blaast zichzelf op tegen het kasteel. Het is de Pania, een draakachtige verschijning, met legers van miljoenen en miljoenen skeletten. Al snel gaat het hele volk in slavernij, en Zevenwind belandt in een diepe kerker. Daar krijgt hij geen bezoek, behalve dan van een oude tovenaars die zich had verbonden aan zijn ring. De tovenaars verschijnt als een geest en spreekt Zevenwind toe. De volgende dag moet Zevenwind voor Pania verschijnen. Pania verschijnt nu als een oude dame met een staf, en spreekt verschrikkelijke dingen over hem uit. De tovenaars verschijnt weer als een geest, en valt Pania aan, maar haar krachten zijn te sterk. 'Blijf maar bij hem oude man,' spreekt Pania. 'Hij heeft wel wat bemoediging nodig.' Dan begint ze ijselijk te lachen. Kreunend stort Zevenwind neer door de vervloeking die ze over hem heeft uitgesproken, terwijl de oude man hem weer overeind helpt. 'Heus, je kan niet veel doen, oude man,' zegt Pania. Dan wordt Zevenwind door een paar skeletten nog erger geketend, en wordt in een diepe put geworpen, terwijl Pania hard begint te lachen. Achter haar hoofd verschijnen wat veren van een pauw, en langzaam verandert ze in een pauw en vliegt krijsend van het lachen weg. De skeletten ketenen Zevenwind aan de muur van de put, en vertrekken dan. 'Het is niet erg, Swimbar,' zegt Zevenwind tegen de oude man. 'Het is niet erg.'

Na een tijdje komt één van de dochters van Pania bij Zevenwind kijken. Zevenwind vertrekt geen spier. 'Goedzo, reus,' zegt de dochter van Pania, we zijn al aan het overdenken en overleggen wat we met je zullen doen. Velen van ons hebben baat bij jou.' Dan kietelt ze even met een veer onder zijn neus, en vertrekt dan weer. Inmiddels is één van de dienstmeisjes van de prinses in de burcht van Pania binnengedrongen. Ze is hier in opdracht van de prinses om Zevenwind terug te halen. Ze heeft wat toverkrachten, en ze hoopt dat het genoeg zal zijn om Zevenwind uit zijn benarde situatie te verlossen. 'Kijk, kijk, wie hebben we daar,' zegt Pania die ineens achter haar staat met haar zeven dochters. Eén van de dochters neemt een mes, en snijdt een stuk in de arm van het dienstmeisje. Het dienstmeisje begint te gillen, maar roept dan ineens om de magische zwaan, een toverspreuk, en niet lang daarna vallen ze allemaal op de grond als door een verblindend licht. Het dienstmeisje rent weg, en na een tijdje vind ze de put. Maar een paar skelettenwachters hebben haar op het oog. Eén van de skeletten trekt een pistool met een lange looper, en schiet het meisje neer met een soort zaad als van laserstralen. Het meisje weet nog net in de put te komen, en bungelt aan de rand. De oude tovenaars schiet haar te hulp, en met wat toverspreuken weet ze Zevenwind los te maken, maar dan staan de twee skelettenwachters aan de rand van de put. Zevenwind slaakt een kreet, terwijl de wachters door een vreemde kracht voorover vallen. Soms gaat het toveren Zevenwind goed af, maar dan moet er wel een krachtige tovenaars in de buurt zijn. Niet lang daarna zijn ze uit de put, maar meerdere skelettenwachters beginnen in de gaten te krijgen wat er aan het gebeuren is. Ze blokkeren de deuren, en anderen komen op hen af. Dan maakt de oude tovenaars een gebaar, terwijl een zachte roze rookwolk hen in het niets laat verdwijnen. Zevenwind is door het dolle heen. Hij is blij dat de magie zo goed werkt, en dankt het dienstmeisje voor haar hulp. Waar heb je dat geleerd, vraagt hij.

Ze zijn nu hoog op het kasteel van de oude tovenaars. Zevenwind is blij met die oude toverring. Maar het volk is nog steeds in grote problemen. Het dienstmeisje vertelt wat ze met de prinses hebben gedaan, en dat voordat de prinses stierf ze tegen haar zei : Redt Zevenwind. Hij kan het volk redden. Zevenwind vindt het verschrikkelijk dat de prinses niet meer leeft. Hij voelt zich nu erg verantwoordelijk voor het volk. Ze besluiten terug te gaan naar het rijk, maar daar vinden ze een verschrikkelijke ellende. Tegen de boze magie die hier heerst kunnen ze niet op. Maar dan krijgt Zevenwind een idee. Onder de burcht van Eruptus waar hij mocht wonen van de prinses daar zijn nog een heleboel geheime schatkamers. Wie weet wat ze daar allemaal nog tegen kunnen komen. En zo gaan ze alledrie naar de burcht. Heel diep onder de grond vinden ze een kamer met magische wapens en wapenrustingen. Sommige wapenrustingen zijn gemaakt van zeldzame slangenhuiden, en anderen van vreemd magisch leer. Dan begint er ineens een voorwerp dicht in hun buurt vreemd te piepen. Het is een soort doosje van een soort rubber. Zevenwind pakt het doosje op, terwijl het doosje begint te krijsen. 'Wie ben je ?' vraagt Zevenwind. 'Ach,' zegt het doosje, 'ik ben een oud hulpje van Eruptus. Hij vond mij eens ergens in een kasteel van een rijk waarvan hij alle inwoners had verslonden.' Ze wisten dat Eruptus dat soort dingen deed, maar dit kwam nu goed van pas. 'Wat kun je voor ons doen ?' vroeg Zevenwind.

'Oh,' zegt het doosje. 'Dat is heel eenvoudig. Ik ben de windenmaker. Hef mij op, schud me en dan zullen de winden komen, en ik zal ketenen wie je maar wil.' Nou, daar had Zevenwind wel wat aan. Hij ging direkt terug naar het volk, en liet de winden uit het doosje komen, zoals het doosje had gezegd, en liet alle skeletten ketenen. Maar Pania en haar dochters waren daar niet van gediend, en ditmaal lieten ze het volk ketenen door de bliksem. Pania begon luid te lachen, en Zevenwind moest erg op zijn hoede zijn. Ook het dienstmeisje was met hem meegekomen, maar ze bewaarde veilige afstand. 'Waar wil je dat ik de skeletten naartoe breng ?' vroeg het doosje. 'Sluit ze maar op in een rots,' zei Zevenwind. En zo leidde het vreemde doosje door de ketenen van de wind de skeletten als in een processie het bos in, op zoek naar een goede rots waar ze in vastgeklonken konden worden. Pania was woedend, en kon niets doen, maar ze had nog steeds het volk geketend. Zevenwind begon de smaak te pakken te krijgen en ging weer naar de burcht van Eruptus. Weer ging hij onder de grond, op zoek naar nog meer schatten. In een andere kamer kwam hij weer wapenrustingen tegen, van slangen, vreemd leer, harige pantsers, harige schilden met zeldzame stenen erin, en ook vreemde helmen met veren. Ditmaal was Pania hem gevolgd met haar dochters. 'Ik weet wel dat je hier bent,' riep Pania. Het dienstmeisje schrok. Snel pakte ze een zwaard en wilde Pania tegemoet gaan. Maar Zevenwind hield haar tegen. Pania was in een verschrikkelijke spin aan het veranderen, en haar pijlen doorboorden het dienstmeisje. Zevenwind pakte een schild en wierp het naar Pania toe, maar het schild raakte één van de dochters die direkt buiten westen viel. Het dienstmeisje bloedde heel erg, en Zevenwind nam haar op, en ging dieper de schatkamers binnen. Velen hadden hem altijd gewaarschuwd dat hij niet te diep moest gaan, vanwege de grote gevaren. Maar nu kon Zevenwind niet anders. Ineens verscheen de oude tovenaars met een stenen zwaard. 'Hiermee kun je Pania verslaan,' zei de tovenaars. Zevenwind greep het zwaard, legde het dienstmeisje neer, en ging terug richting Pania. Pania lachte hem uit toen ze hem zag met het stenen zwaard. 'Wat moet je met zo'n ding ?' lachte ze. Maar snel stootte hij het stenen zwaard in haar buik, terwijl ze neerviel.

Daarna sloeg hij haar overgebleven dochters ermee, en het gevecht was snel afgelopen. Toen hij buitenkwam met het dienstmeisje was het volk inmiddels bevrijdt van de bliksem-ketenen.

Niet lang daarna maakten ze Zevenwind tot koning, en het dienstmeisje werd zijn koningin.

En zij die de vier wereldschepen hadden gevonden, en door hen werden meegenomen tot de wateren der bloemen, zij versierden elkaar met de fijnste en edelste sprookjes, als kralen om hun hals, als sieraden aan hun armen en benen, ja, de kleinste edelsteentjes en kraaltjes. En die steentjes waren de stukken van het eeuwig evangelie, van de tweede bijbel. En ook lazen zij van de steen van Zurastael. En zij lazen :

De Droomster

Ik was de tuinman van mijn ziel. Het was moeilijk om de tuin op orde te krijgen. Zo wild groeide het, en ik was een gevangene van mijn eigen tuin. Ik was verliefd op de droomster. Zij was vrij, als de godin van de lucht. Ze had een gouden sleutel om mij vrij te zetten, en toen mocht ik haar tuin bewaken. Ik mocht het groots maken zoals ik zelf wilde. Maar toen vertrok zij ...

Ik heb het nooit goed kunnen verwerken. Ze liet geen spoor van haarzelf achter. Misschien was zij ontvoerd door een beest. Ik bleef in haar tuin werken, en bleef op haar wachten, maar tevergeefs. Ik legde mij neer aan de voeten van dit raadsel. Er was geen doorkomen aan, en spoedig begon ik te merken dat ik in een boom begon te veranderen. Mijn takken strekten zich uit in de lucht, maar ik vond haar niet. Mijn wortelen groeiden diep onder de aarde, maar vinden deed ik haar niet. Ik droeg vrucht, en bloemen, en bloesem kwam ook, maar zij kwam niet. Wel kwamen allerlei dieren op me af, maar meestal om me te bestelen. Ze namen alles van me af totdat ik kaal stond.

Op een dag kwamen ze me omhakken, en toen was het gedaan met mij. Ik werd een tafel. En zij was nergens te bekennen. Ik raakte verbitterd. Niemand keek naar niemand om.

Op een dag werd ik wakker, en merkte dat ik brandde. De familie bij wie ik als tafel stond wilde mij niet meer. Nu moest ik branden, maar ik werd vrij. Mijn as zweefde in de lucht, en een wind nam mij mee. Ik was overal, en toen zag ik haar weer ... de droomster ...

Ze was prachtig, en voerde mij naar haar luchtkasteel. Daar zijn we toen gaan wonen, en ze verliet mij nooit meer.

En ook lazen zij :

De Sneeuwstorm

Ze had de jurkjes van de kinderen gestreken. Mij liet ze niet binnen, terwijl het buiten koud was. Ze gooide mij wat oud brood toe, maar toen ik het proefte was het als gedoopt in azijn. Ik zakte weg, diep in de sneeuw. Zij lachte. Ik had hallucinaties van de tijd van vroeger, zoals het eens was. Toen ik daar van wakker werd vocht ik tegen de kou.

Eén van de kinderen ging later op zoek naar mij. Na een lange reis vond ze mij. Ik zat achter een drumstel en drumde.

Ik keek niet op of om. Ze probeerde met mij te praten, maar ik drumde door.

Toen ze hilde vloog er ineens een zwaluw langs het drumstel. Ik stopte, en omhelsde haar. Ze had een wit jurkje aan, en een wit strikje in haar haar. 'Geef dit aan mamma,' zei ik, en drukte haar iets in haar hand. Een sneeuwstorm nam mij mee, maar zij rende achter mij aan. We kwamen in een boshuisje waar de zwaluw zat. Ook een oud vrouwtje zat daar. Ze at van oud brood. 'Woont u hier?' vroeg het kind aan me.

Ik knikte. Wie is die oude vrouw? vroeg ze.

Ik zorg voor haar, zei ik.

En die zwaluw dan? vroeg ze.

Oh, zei ik, dat is een vriend.

Waarvoor dan? vroeg ze.

Ga ik je niet vertellen, zei ik.

Toen kwam de sneeuwstorm weer binnen, en nam mij mee, terwijl zij achter mij aanrende. Na een tijdje werd ze moe, en de sneeuwstorm nam haar ook op.

De sneeuwkoningin was blij hen te zien. Zij nam hen op naar haar troon. 'Geef dit aan je mamma,' zei de sneeuwkoningin tegen het kind, terwijl ze iets in haar hand drukte.

Wat is het? vroeg het kind.

Plaatjes, zei de sneeuwkoningin.

Ja, ik heb haar ook al wat plaatjes gegeven, zei ik.

Goedzo, zei de sneeuwkoningin.

Wat voor plaatjes zijn het als ik vragen mag? vroeg het kind.

Ga ik je niet vertellen, zei ik.

De sneeuwkoningin zei niks.

Okay, ik geef het wel aan mamma, zei het kind.

Ik ging achter een drumstel zitten, en begon te drummen.

'Je moet nu gaan,' zei de sneeuwkoningin tegen het kind.

Het kind werd wakker in haar eigen bed, en vertelde aan haar moeder wat er gebeurd was.

'Het is mijn man niet meer, dus ik heb er niets mee te maken,' sprak ze.

Maar de sneeuwkoningin dan? vroeg het kind.

Maar haar moeder sprak niet meer.

Even later werd er op het raam getikt. Het was de postbode met een brief.

Toen de moeder de brief opende bleek het voor het kind te zijn.

Een brief van haar vader.

De brief was geschreven in letters van sneeuw, en er was een plaatje bij van een drumstel.

Er was ook een plaatje bij van de sneeuwkoningin, en van het oude vrouwtje en de zwaluw.

Ook was er een plaatje bij van de sneeuwstorm en het boshuisje.

Geef de plaatjes aan je mamma, stond erbij geschreven.

Het kind gaf de plaatjes aan haar moeder, en haar moeder begon te huilen.

Waarom huilt u, mamma ? vroeg het kind.

Maar de moeder hield zich stil. Het meisje begreep het niet waarom haar moeder hilde, en wilde weten waarom. Midden in de nacht rende haar moeder naar buiten, en rolde door de sneeuw, terwijl een sneeuwstorm haar opnam. Ook het kind rende naar buiten en werd door de sneeuwstorm opgenomen.

De sneeuwkoningin was blij hen te zien, terwijl ik nog steeds aan het drummen was.

De sneeuwkoningin nam drie ijspegels uit het hart van de moeder, en vulde het op met sneeuw.

Ze wreef even over haar hart heen, en toen over haar jurk, en toen nam de sneeuwstorm hen weer op om hen terug te brengen. De moeder en het kind rolden door de sneeuw. Even later waren ze in bed.

De zwaluw tikte op het raam van de slaapkamer van de moeder. Moeder deed het raam open.

Er was een brief in zijn snavel, geschreven met letters van sneeuw. Moeder las het en begon te huilen.

Het kind kwam binnen, en vroeg wat er aan de hand was. Moeder zei niks.

Na een tijdje rende ze weer naar buiten in de sneeuw, en het kind volgde haar, totdat ze beiden door een sneeuwstorm werden opgenomen.

Ze kwamen in het boshuisje, waar een dwerg aan tafel zat. 'Ik ben het aan het eten, dat oude brood met azijn.'

'Ja, dat had ik niet moeten doen,' zei de moeder.

'Oh, is dat van jou dan ?' vroeg de dwerg.

'Ja,' zei de moeder, 'dat had ik eens aan mijn man gegeven.'

'Het is wel lekker hoor,' zei de dwerg. 'Het heeft me hier naartoe geleid. Moet je ook een hapje ?'

'Nee, dank je,' zei moeder.

'Je maakt me nogal lekkere toetjes, hoorde ik,' sprak de dwerg.

'Van wie hoorde je dat ?' vroeg moeder.

'Van je man,' zei de dwerg.

'Heeft hij het koud ?' vroeg moeder.

'Nee,' zei de dwerg. 'Er is iets wat hem warmhoudt.'

'Wat dan ?' vroeg moeder.

'Plaatjes,' zei de dwerg. 'Kijk maar eens naar die schilderijtjes aan de muur.'

Moeder keek naar de muur, en werd heel warm van binnen.

Het zijn een soort kijk-kachels, zei de dwerg. Je kijkt ernaar en wordt warm.

Oh ja, zei moeder. Ik begin het nu wel heel warm te krijgen. Na een tijdje liep moeder het huisje uit, op zoek naar de sneeuw, maar die was er niet.

Moeder moest helemaal naar huis lopen, maar de sneeuwstorm is ze nooit meer vergeten.

En zo lazen zij vele andere stukken van de steen van Zurastael, en zij genazen elkaar. En zij waren kinderen weggezwommen van hun ouders en van hun families, en zij vonden de wereldschepen in de bekken van eenden. En zij weenden om de duistere wereld waar zij vandaan kwamen. En er was licht in hun edelstenen, en hoop. En zij droegen het licht tot altaren, waar het gezuiverd werd. En hun lichten rezen op tot redding van velen. En er werd een nieuwe tuin gecreeerd, en zij kwamen allen tot de konijnenboom, waarin behoudenis was. En zij werden tot lichten voor de volken, en de volken werden door hen geoordeeld.

Het Gedwongen Chocola

Een oud vrouwtje leefde helemaal alleen in het bos in een klein huisje. Ze staarde naar buiten. Ze kon de bomen goed zien. Daarna staarde ze naar haar gedroogde vlinders die ze als kind had gevangen. Voor haar gevoel miste ze nog een paar kostbaren. Ze had haar net nog dichtbij haar, klaar om de ontbrekende exemplaren te vangen. Altijd was ze op zoek. Niets dan leugens zweefden in de lucht, haar beschuldigende. Ze wilde deze leugens vangen, opdrogen en inlijsten. Ze was vol van haat. Ze kon het gelach van de plagende spotters om haar heen niet meer aan. Elke dag weer probeerden ze haar neer te halen, al vanaf het moment dat ze wakker werd. Ze leken op kinderlijke kleine elfjes, met brutale gezichtjes, als vlindertjes vrolijk dartelend om haar heen. Ze haatte kinderen op die manier, en ze droeg dan ook een duister geheim in haar binnenste. Soms sloeg ze met haar schepnet om zich heen, en riep : 'Is het nu afgelopen.' Maar de laatste jaren ving ze niks meer. Ze droeg een duister geheim van binnen. Ze wilde hier niet aan denken, en met niemand over praten. Ze was het vechten moe. Niemand zou haar begrijpen, en niemand zou sympathie voor haar hebben. Langzaam schonk ze wat thee in voor haarzelf. Buiten vlogen wat vogeltjes waar ze naar keek. Ze snapte niet waarom zo'n jonge geest als zij opgesloten moest zijn in zo'n oud lichaam. Zij zou oud worden in de armen van een ieder die haar aan zou raken, en daarom bleef ze ver van de mensen vandaan. Overdag werkte ze aan haar maaltijd voor de avond, en zorgde ze dat het huisje voldoende schoon bleef. Ook deed ze wat handwerk. Ze was ver weg in haar gedachten. Niemand kon haar bereiken. Ze was bitter geworden.

Ze wist niet dat er wat verder in het bos wonderbomen stonden. Ze kwam niet verder dan haar eigen tuin. De bomen werden bewaakt door dieren, zoals katten, slangen en konijnen, orakels. De bomen zouden haar naar boven leiden, maar ze zag hen niet. Ze zag alleen de kabalerige vliegende deugnietjes om haar heen fladderen. Maar op een dag was ze als door hypnose geslagen, en liep haar tuin uit door het tuinhekje. Ze wilde even het bos in, niet zo ver, maar even ergens anders zijn. Een konijn stond voor een boom, en wenkte haar. Ze kwam dichterbij en keek in de ogen van het konijn. Waarom komt u niet in deze boom wonen, zei het konijn. De top van de boom draagt een geweldig huis.

- Hoe kom ik daar, vroeg het oude vrouwtje.

Maar toen was het konijn weg. De vrouw wist niet of ze het konijn kon vertrouwen, liep door, en gleed in een onder het mos verborgen put. Ze viel gelukkig zacht, en op de bodem van de put stond een kat voor een deurtje. 'Heus,' zei de kat, 'er is een ander leven voor u. Welkom binnen in uw nieuwe huis.' En ineens was de kat verdwenen. De vrouw wist niet of ze de kat kon vertrouwen, maar ging toch naar binnen. 'Welkom in de boom,' zei een stem. 'De boom is alles wat er is.'

'Ik heb anders nooit in een boom geleefd,' zei de vrouw.

'Omdat je dat niet wist,' zei de stem. 'Je dacht alleen maar dat je wat wist.'

'Ik wil hier weg,' zei de vrouw. 'Ik moet weer naar huis.'

'Dit is je huis,' zei de stem. Ze keek recht in de ogen van een kat.

'Oh, jij weer,' zei ze tegen de kat.

'En jij weer,' zei de kat. De kat greep haar en wilde met haar dansen, maar de vrouw wilde niet. 'Ik wil eruit,' riep ze.

'Waaruit?' vroeg de kat.

'Uit deze hel,' zei de vrouw.

‘Dit is alles wat er is,’ zei de kat.

‘Spreek geen onzin,’ zei de vrouw. ‘Ik was daarnet nog in mijn huis.’

‘Welk huis ?’ zei de kat. ‘Dat dacht je alleen maar. Je bent hier altijd al geweest.’

‘Leugenaar,’ riep de vrouw. ‘Ik haal de politie erbij.’

‘De politie ?’ zei de kat. ‘Wat is dat ? Dat zijn alleen je gedachten.’

De vrouw werd woest en probeerde de kat te slaan, maar die was ineens verdwenen. Alles was donker om haar heen. Ze liep een trapje op naar boven, waar een beetje licht was. Daar was de kat weer. Beiden stonden ze voor een lift. ‘Stap in de lift,’ zei de kat, ‘dan zul je van al je problemen af zijn.’ Als gehypnotiseerd stapte de vrouw in de lift, en de kat sloot de deur achter haar. Hoog in de boom kwam ze aan in haar nieuwe huisje. ‘Maar dat is fantastisch,’ zei ze. Ze zou de kat wel willen omhelzen, maar die was nergens te vinden. Het beviel haar goed in haar nieuwe huisje. Alles was prachtig wit. Al snel kwam er een konijn boven. Het bleek hetzelfde konijn te zijn. ‘En van hieruit zul je alle lieve kinderen van de wereld opnemen,’ zei het konijn. ‘Er zijn kamers genoeg.’

‘Oh, dat lijkt me heerlijk,’ zei de vrouw. ‘Dan kan ik eindelijk voor het eerst een tante zijn.’

‘Zorg voor ze, kook voor ze, ga leuke dingen met ze doen,’ zei het konijn. ‘Deze kinderen zijn erg ongelukkig. Maak ze gelukkig.’ De vrouw had er echt zin in, en voelde zich jonger dan ooit tevoren. Het huis was inderdaad erg groot. Ze zou pannenkoeken bakken, sprookjes voorlezen, en veel spelletjes met hen doen. Ook zou ze hen de andere plaatsen van de boom laten zien. Snel was haar huis vol met lieve kinderen. Ze sprak tot de boom als tot haar geliefde. Op een dag was ze verschrikt en in de war omdat haar kinderen in vuur waren. Maar de kat stelde haar gerust : het was slechts boomvuur. Het was een koud vuur wat aan hen beitelde, om hen nog meer klaar te maken voor het leven in de boom. De gezichten van reuzen waren in de boom die tot hen spraken. Op een dag stierf de vrouw. Heintje, een van de kinderen, nam de leiding over. Op de kamer van de oude vrouw stond een oude lift waar ze ingingen. Boven het huis bleek de boom gewoon door te gaan, en al snel waren ze in de wolken. Via een hele hoge tak kwamen ze in een andere boom terecht. Ze werden direkt door een konijn gegrepen en naar binnen gesleurd. Hier moesten ze gedwongen van vruchtenpasta eten. Ja, zei het konijn, want dit is de boom van de gedwongen vrucht. De kinderen vonden het niet zo erg, want de vruchtenpasta was erg lekker. Maar al snel moesten ze nog meer eten, en veel kinderen begonnen misselijk te worden. Heintje begon het toen flink zat te worden, trok zijn pistool en schoot het konijn aan flarden. Het bleek verder een prachtige boom te zijn. Ieder kind kreeg hier zijn eigen verdieping. Midden in de nacht maakte een ander konijn hen allemaal wakker, en dwong hen om chocola te eten in de gezamenlijke huiskamer. Eerst vonden de kinderen dat geweldig, maar toen ze later nog meer moesten eten werden sommigen al snel erg misselijk. Het konijn was verschrikkelijk aan het schelden. Heintje vroeg : ‘Mag ik vragen wat hiervan de bedoeling is ?’ Maar het konijn wilde er niks van zeggen. Ze hadden maar te gehoorzamen. Dat liet Heintje niet op zich zitten, greep zijn pistool en schoot op het konijn. Maar het konijn dook weg. Even later kwamen er nog meer konijnen binnen, en grepen Heintje. Heintje zou worden opgesloten achter tralies. De kinderen waren erg in paniek. Daantje werd hun nieuwe leider. ‘Zoals jullie hebben gezien is er hier niet veel pluis,’ zei Daantje. ‘We kunnen beter teruggaan.’ Maar toen ze bij de hoge tak terugkwamen zagen ze konijnse wachters staan. Toen zijn ze naar beneden gegaan, maar ook daar stonden konijnse wachters. De dagen erna werden ze weer gedwongen om chocola te eten, meer dan ze opkonden, en niemand kon er wat tegen doen. De kinderen werden doodziek. Weer riep Daantje iedereen bij elkaar en zei : ‘Dan maar zo hoog mogelijk.’ En ze gingen ditmaal gewoon zo hoog als ze konden. Ze hoopten dat ze weer een tak tegen zouden komen die hen naar een andere boom zou brengen, maar er gebeurde niks. Wel zagen ze ergens een deurtje waardoor ze naar binnen konden gaan. Het bleek een lift te zijn, maar die kon alleen maar omhoog. De kinderen gingen in de lift, en Daantje drukte op het hoogste knopje. ‘Jullie zitten vast,’ zei een stem van de lift. ‘Niemand kan van de boom van de gedwongen vrucht ontsnappen.’ Veel kinderen begonnen te huilen. Ook Daantje wist niet wat hij kon doen. Toen ze uit de lift stapten zagen ze een heks zitten, met een slang en een beer. De beer was een knuffelbeer. Toen ze wat beter keken zagen ze dat de heks en de slang een standbeeld waren. De knuffelbeer begon te lachen. ‘Wat sta je te lachen,’ zei Daantje.

‘Jullie hebben vast moeten eten van de vruchtenpastei en de chocola, nietwaar ?’ zei de knuffelbeer.

‘Ja, hoezo ?’ zei Daantje. Weer begon de knuffelbeer te lachen, ditmaal te schaterlachen.

‘Wat sta jij daar nou te lachen, domme aap,’ zei Daantje.

‘Nou,’ zei de knuffelbeer, ‘ik vind het wel grappig.’

‘Grappig,’ zei Daantje, ‘het is helemaal niet grappig. We zijn er doodziek van.’ Weer moest de knuffelbeer daar erg om lachen.

‘Zit je ons nu uit te lachen ?’ vroeg Daantje.

‘Kom, knuffel me,’ zei de knuffelbeer ineens. Daantje stapte voorzichtig naar voren, en begon de knuffelbeer te knuffelen. ‘Laat mij maar met jullie meegaan, dan zal jullie niks overkomen,’ zei de knuffelbeer. Samen gingen ze terug en de knuffelbeer had gelijk. Nu hij mee was gekomen lieten de konijnen hen met rust. De knuffelbeer was heel aardig. Op een dag vroeg Daantje waarom de konijnen hen niet meer dwongen. ‘Omdat ze bang voor me zijn,’ zei de knuffelbeer.

‘Kun jij Heintje dan niet bevrijden?’ vroeg Daantje.

‘Nee,’ zei de knuffelbeer, ‘een konijnenslot valt niet zo maar open te krijgen.’ De konijnse wachters stonden ook nog steeds bij de grote tak en beneden, en daar viel niet zomaar langs te komen. ‘Ik zal je vertellen hoe je bij de knuffelboom kan komen,’ zei de knuffelbeer. ‘Midden in de nacht als iedereen slaapt dan schuift het standbeeld van de heks en de slang even opzij waardoor er een tunnel ontstaat die tot de knuffelboom leidt.’

Daantje besluit er naar toe te gaan om meer kennis op te doen. Hij moet helemaal alleen gaan, want de knuffelbeer is van die boom verbannen. Voor de jongere kinderen zou het te gevaarlijk zijn. Alles lukt, en al gauw komt Daantje via de tunnel aan in de knuffelboom. Maar het is alles behalve een knuffelplaats. Militaire konijnen lopen hier rond. Daantje heeft nog nooit zoveel wapens bij elkaar gezien, en ze zien er heel gevaarlijk uit. Deze konijnen zien er veel erger uit dan de andere konijnen. Het zijn roofkonijnen, als ratten. En hun oren zijn ook een stuk korter. ‘Neem van mij aan, deze konijnen zijn geen stumperds, nee, zeker niet. Geen ruzie mee krijgen,’ zegt een konijn tegen hem. ‘Wat kom je hier doen trouwens.’ Maar Daantje loopt door. ‘Wat hebben jullie met Heintje gedaan?’ roept hij. Even later komt hij bij een hok waarin een heleboel knuffelberen zijn, en waar ook Heintje zit. Heintje is flink boos. Heintje ziet er een stuk ouder uit, en vertelt hem dat ze gedwongen worden gevaarlijke medicijnen te slikken. Als dat zo door gaat heeft Heintje niet lang meer te leven. Daantje schrikt daar erg van. ‘Daantje,’ zegt Heintje, ‘herinner je dat tante het eens heeft gehad over het huisje waar ze eerst woonde, vlak bij de boom, dat daar plagende elven woonden? Misschien dat zij kunnen helpen. Wij kunnen niet van deze boom weg, maar als jij naar beneden loopt dan kon je door de voordeur eruit en naar ze op zoek gaan.’

Goed idee, zegt Daantje, en vertrekt meteen. Na een tijdje zoeken komt hij bij het huisje van het oude vrouwtje aan. In het huisje vindt hij de elfjes. Ze zijn erg droevig om wat ze het oude vrouwtje allemaal hebben aangedaan. Daantje vertelt hen het verhaal, en al snel gaan ze met hem mee naar de knuffelboom. Dit keer gingen ze plagen en pesten zoals ze nog nooit eerder hadden gedaan, maar nu allemaal voor een goed doel. De konijnen waren snel allemaal van de boom vertrokken. Deze magische elven wisten heel goed hoe ze de kooi moesten openen, en al snel waren Heintje en de knuffelberen vrij.

En er was een oorlog om de konijnenboom, een oorlog die vele jaren duurde. En zij die de parels droegen, en anderen ermee hadden versierd, hadden een goede wapenrusting.

Mexicaans

IJs

Hoofdstuk 1.

Ik liep op straat, en dacht aan het mengsel in de lucht, als aan een trap die tot een wolkenkasteel zou leiden, of een andere planeet. Ik had daar vaak over nagedacht en gefilosofeerd. Wie zou daar wonen ? In de nacht trok ik de stoute schoenen aan, en fietste naar de hemel. Ik had een lange regenjas aan.

Een koude oorlog heerste in de hemel, zo koud. Alles hier was gemaakt van het mengsel, prachtige zuilen, zeer hoog, een kolossaal gezicht. Zure gezichten bewaakten deze hemel, professionele gezichten zonder zorg, maar met een doodslust, ongenadig, zonder hart. En ik dacht : als het dan hier al zo koud is, hoe koud zou dan het opperwezen wel niet zijn, God. Ik zag God in de kleine dingen, de liefde tussen mensen, maar niet hoog op een ijselijke troon, geen gezagswezen die brulde om aandacht, en het dan niet gaf. Wie had deze God gecreeerd, deze machine van de hel. Wie had deze God in het leven geroepen ? Ik liep op straat, en keek door een winkelraam, waar ik protserige chocolade figuren zag liggen. De winkelier was in gesprek met een mevrouw. Zijn gezicht stond vuurrood. Niks geen liefde op zijn gezicht, alleen koele zakelijkheid. En de vrouw keek alsof ze haar liefde op het eerste gezicht had gevonden.

Ik liep door op de trap, tot het zolder, waar ik alle geraamtes nog beter kon bekijken. Een machteloos gevoel overstroomde mij, wat mij vertelde dat er meer aan de hand was. Een pauwenkoningin vond ik op een verdieping boven het zolder. Zij was de leider van een stad. Zij sprak mij geruststellend toe. Zij droeg het raadsel van de schoonheid, het raadsel van de hoer. Ik kwam er meer en meer achter dat ik de toren van Babel aan het beklimmen was. Ik was nog maar een jong kind. Ik had deze dromen zelf gecreeerd. Maar ik wilde er meer van weten. Het kon niet zo zijn dat ik de enige hier was. De pauwenkoningin nam mij mee naar haar kamer. ‘Wil je je voetjes vegen, schatje,’ zei ze. Ook wilde ze dat ik zou douchen. Het was liefde op het eerste gezicht. Ik was verliefd op haar. Maar natuurlijk had ik geen plaats in haar hart. Voor haar was ik maar een nummer. Ik was een jong kind, maar op hetzelfde moment een oude man. Zij was een zeemeeuw in de lucht. Boven de zee zweefde zij, de zee van mijn verlangens, maar ze liet me gaan. Ik was een nummer voor haar. Ik was maar een klein golfje in haar zee, gemaakt om te werken, om haar scheepjes te dragen. Toen ik haar bereikt had was ik oud, zeer oud, toen ze mij toegang gaf tot haar toren. We werden vrienden, en ik herinnerde het moment waarop ze mij voor het eerst zag. Ze had sprekende ogen, gecalculeerd, hardvochtig, maar tegelijkertijd zo zoet. Ik was bang voor haar, en tegelijkertijd bewonderde ik haar. De zuilen van haar stad waren hoog. Zou zij God herbergen ? Ik was bang dat ik haar niet aan zou kunnen, bang dat zij over mij zou heersen, en dat gebeurde ook. Het mengsel was hier een dictator. Ik sloofde mezelf voor haar uit, om een hogere rang te krijgen in haar koninkrijk, en op hetzelfde moment vroeg ik mij af waar ik mee bezig was. Ze maakte mij tot kapitein.

Het mengsel was een mix van edele metalen en edele plastic-soorten, met de sterkte van dansers. Het was zowel buigbaar als onbuigbaar. Je kon het niet manipuleren. Zelden had ik een koppiger geheel gezien. Ik bleef maar gefixeerd op haar. Zij was de ster van het feestje, zij werd aanbeden. Haar stem was zacht en zoet, en tegelijkertijd gebiedend. Ze dwong aandacht en aanbidding. Zij die haar niet genoeg gaven werden geperst als fruit en vruchtjes, en wisten de keer erna wel beter. Zij was de mixer. Haar dans-muziek was meeslepend. Je kon je er nauwelijks tegen verzetten. En het raadsel van de schoonheid in haar was allesverwoestend en traumatiserend. In de nacht was zij een storm van angst. Ze was een vrouw van tegenpolen, ze had een duister gat. Haar legermachten vreesden haar. Ik kon mij niet verzetten tegen haar. Ik voelde me een slaaf. Er was iets in haar wat het einde van de wereld kon veroorzaken. Maar ook zij werd oud en grijs op haar oude dag, en ik trok voort. Als een trekvogel nam ik afscheid van haar. Haar woede liet veel van de toren invallen. Ik hield mij vast aan de dunne zuilen van het mengsel, en klom omhoog. Het mengsel redde mij uit haar grip. Ze was een panische verschijning vanaf toen.

Ik trok me op aan het mengsel, maar het begon te branden en te klonteren. Het droop van me af. Het proefde als een mix van chocola en caramel. Een spin greep mij, en ik verloor alles. Ik had geen identiteit meer, geen enkele zeggenschap. De wind deed met mij wat hij wilde. Ik was als geknakt riet. Ik was gekomen op de academie, waar jonge haantjes met hun veren pronkten, arrogante belhamels, die nog niet wisten dat ze niets wisten. Zij hadden van de grote appel van het 'zelf' gegeten. De 'ik' was hier de baas. Ook zij droegen het geheim van schoonheid. Zij waren ijdel, en bleven uren lang kammen voor de spiegel. Zij hielden hun schoonheidsverkiezingen van wie er het meest deskundig uitzag. Het mengsel werd hier aanbeden. Zij aanbaden het raadsel van de hoer. Het was een koopwaar, bezegeld met een diploma. Koningen kochten hun tronen voor hoge prijzen, en het raadsel van geld was moord. Ik had geen alibi, dus ze zagen mij als de moordenaar aan, en sloten mij op in een inrichting. Het was de koningin van de pauwen die mij daaruit bevrijdde. Dit land kende geen gevangenissen, alleen inrichtingen. En het mengsel was de militaire dienstplicht. De koningin van de pauwen maakte me tot officier nu. Ik was officier in het leger van het mengsel nu.

De hoer van Babylon zat hier, een prostituee, met een handel in koffie en cacao. Zij had haar mengsel geschapen van macht, want de toren moest verder gebouwd worden, tot in het hart van de hemel. Dit keer zou zij niet falen. Er stond teveel op het spel. Zij was de Izebel die de papieren profetie zou scheuren, als het voorhangsel van de schoonheid. Zij had haar potten en pannen opgestapeld, en beklom dezen. Zij was de prinses op de erwt. Haar matrassen waren opgestapeld tot aan het plafond. Vandaar kon ik het koele wezen zien, het wezen dat ons allemaal met strakke, misselijkmakende hand regeerde en afbeulde. Dit monster was genaamd het beest, slechts haar eigen spiegelbeeld. Ik dronk wat van mijn koffie, en zat tegenover haar, op de wiebelende matras. We voelden de erwt steken. Het stak als het ergste zwaard. Het was de wraak van de koffie-plantage, de opstand der slaven. Zij hadden hun eigen middel : de melange. Het was een mengsel van groenten, koffie, fruit en snoep. Het was een neger-opperhoofd die de toren van Babel claimde. Iemand anders had een middel genaamd : de mix. Al snel liep het uit op een oorlog, en het beest sprong toe, zodat ik er langs kom en naar boven rende. 'Laten ze elkaar maar opvreten,' dacht ik bij mezelf. Ik had lang genoeg zitten kaarten. Eindelijk waren er dan wat jokers in het spel. Maar de toren van Babel begon in te storten. Ik kon niet verder naar boven. Weer had de koningin der pauwen genade met mij, en liet mij binnen in het wolkenkasteel. Ik was nu haar generaal. Maar koning was ik nog steeds niet. Ik liep er nog steeds zeer armoedig bij. Ze begon met pudding te gooien, en al snel waren we in een gevecht. Het mengsel was nog steeds meer dan overwinnaar. Ik verdiende het niet om zo te lijden, maar de oren waren doof hier. Een kat genaamd mengelmoes kwam dichterbij. 'Wat wil je hier beginnen ?' vroeg hij. 'Niemand zal naar je luisteren, want ze zijn allemaal in de ban van de mengelmoes.' Ik maakte een stap naar achteren omdat ik bang was dat deze 'mengelmoes' mij zou bespringen. Hij zag er woest uit en levensgevaarlijk. 'Ik zal je doof maken als de rest,' zei hij. 'Ik zal je voorhoofd harder maken dan hun voorhoofden, en je zult hen overwinnen.'

'Waar bestaat u uit ?' vroeg ik.

'Appelmoes,' zei hij, 'jam, kaas, en veel worst.' Hij probeerde mij kopjes te geven, maar ik hield me afzijdig. Hij zou me met één slag of bijt kunnen vermorzelen. 'Ken je het geheim van Babylon ?' vroeg hij. 'De moederstad van alle hoeren. Ik bewaak haar boom.' En hij probeerde mij te verleiden om van die boom te eten, wat mij tot een koning zou maken in de stad, maar ik weigerde, en zijn woede was groot. Hij kookte van woede, en begon te sissen als een slang. 'Zij die geweigerd hebben komen de stad nooit meer uit,' sprak hij toen kalm. Ik rende de stad binnen, en zocht naar een schuilplaats om me tegen deze kat te beschermen, maar niemand deed voor me open. Binnenin de stad was de gracht van chaos, waar ik toen insprong. Duisternis omhulde mij, maar alles beter dan deze kat. Ik zwom van gracht naar gracht, totdat ik bij een bakkerij aankwam. Het was de bakkerij des doods, waar zwart-grijze vrouwen werkten. 'Mengelmoes zal wel naar je op zoek zijn,' sprak één van de vrouwen. 'Hij houdt niet van zwervers zoals jij. Er is er maar één die je nog kan helpen, en dat is Hutspot.'

'Wie is dat ?' vroeg ik.

Ik ontsnapte via een achterdeurtje met een boekje in mijn hand. Ik was nu in een winkelstraat, op zoek naar Hutspot. Het boekje was een stratenboek, en al snel kwam ik waar ik wezen moest. Hutspot was een oude clown. Hutspot kende de toren van Babel als zijn broekszak en was ooit zelf ternauwernood aan mengelmoes ontsnapt. Hij vertelde mij hoe hij ontsnapt was : 'Een glimlach bestaat uit een mengsel tussen monogamie en polygamie, maar de hoererij is een nog groter overspelig mengsel die de glimlach dooft. Daartoe was mengelmoes uitgezonden. Het grootste mengsel is echter het celibaat waarvan je werkelijk gaat lachen, ja, schaterlachen. Dat is het grootste medicijn.'

'Bent u van het katholieke priesterschap of iets soortgelijks,' vroeg ik.

‘Nee, zoon,’ zei hij. ‘Er is een groter mysterie,’ zei hij. ‘De slang bewaakte in de hof de boom van de vermenging, waardoor er bastaarden voort zouden komen, half-bloed paarden. Adam en Eva waren volbloed-paarden van het koninkrijk, de onaangetaste bloedlijn, ongemengd. Zij leefden in de oorspronkelijke hof van Babylon, het paradijs, waar zij de voorbestemde bruid en bruidegom van Babylon waren. Eet van de hutspot.’ En toen zette hij mij een bordje voor. De kat klopte al op de deur, dus ik moest snel eten. Bij de eerste hap die ik naar binnen slikte hoorde ik de kat al krijsen. Bij de tweede hap was alles doodstil. Hutspot had een restaurant, en vertelde mij dat de bruid van Babylon in de kelder leefde. Ik wilde haar graag ontmoeten. Zij was als getooid voor haar man, versierd met kostbare edelstenen. Zij droeg het serum in een glazen bol. Zij was maagd, de prinses van de pauwen. ‘Je weet dat het mengsel aids is, hè?’ vroeg ze. Ik knikte. ‘En je weet wat de enige oplossing daartegen is, hè?’ vroeg ze. Ik knikte weer. Ze opende de glazen bol, en haalde er een rode condoom uit. ‘Hier,’ zei ze.

‘Nee,’ zei ik, ‘dat kan ik echt niet aannemen.’ Toen rende ik weg, hard de trap op, en toen nog hoger. Dit hier was niets anders dan een andere afdeling van het bordeel. Het mengsel regeerde hier. Ik greep een paraplu die ergens hing, en wist dat als ik ergens de kans kreeg, dan zou ik van deze toren afspringen. Maar alles was gesloten hier. Ik kon alleen naar boven rennen. Er was zo’n meerkeuze-dictatuur hier. Bovenaan de trap was het rijk van mevrouw Kluts, een heks. Zij stond daar in haar ketel te roeren. Toen ik er langs wilde, veranderde ze in een octopus. Tegelijkertijd veranderde alles wat hier was in een grote zee. ‘Klaar voor de zondvloed?’ zei ze. Zij was een zeeheks. Zij was het mengsel der mengsels. Ook kon ze alles in steen laten veranderen. Het was bijna twaalf uur op de klok van de toren van Babel. Iedereen verzamelde zich onder de klok, alle bakkers met hun taarten, en toen kwam de snijder naar voren om de taarten te snijden. Het mengsel zou gescheiden worden. Alles ging in grote dozen. Mij wilden ze tot koning maken, maar ik wilde hier niet wezen. Ik verborg me in de klok. In de klok was een tunnel naar een andere toren, de toren van Noach, die zou namelijk hoog genoeg zijn om de hemel te bereiken, die zou nooit vallen, en die zou niet door de zondvloed getroffen worden. De godin der pauwen begroette mij daar, en nam mij naar binnen. Hier werd ik niet als een nummer behandeld. Maar er was iets wat niet klopte. Ik was terecht gekomen in een molen. Ik zou spoedig tot moes vermalen worden. Ik rende snel weer terug naar de toren van Babel, maar die was al aan het branden. Ik kon geen kant op. Plotseling pikte een vogel me op en zette me in de wolken. ‘Hier gaat de toren van Babel verder,’ zei de vogel. Ik klom van wolk tot wolk, en besepte dat de gehele aarde een toren van Babel was. Hoeveel torens zou het kasteel van Babel hebben, dacht ik. Ik stapte in een lift, waar ook de hoer van Babylon inzat, en de bruid van Babylon. ‘Zo, waar gaat de reis naartoe?’ vroeg ik.

‘Naar de hemel,’ zeiden ze.

‘Oh, de hof van Babylon?’ vroeg ik. Ze knikten. ‘Moes regeert daar,’ zeiden ze.

‘Oh, mengelmoes?’ vroeg ik verschrikt.

‘Nee, zijn broer, die is wat makkelijker,’ zeiden ze.

‘Ik hoop het,’ zei ik.

Na een tijdje kwamen we aan in de hof van Babylon. Moes was inderdaad ook een kat, een prachtig beest. ‘De Kat van Babylon,’ zeiden ze. Moes was een aardig dier. Alles leek hier gemaakt te zijn van moes. De druipstuinen waren hier. ‘Koffie?’ vroeg Moes. Ik knikte. ‘Met of zonder chocola?’

‘Met,’ zei ik.

‘Goede keus,’ zei Moes. ‘De gifmengers van de hel nog tegen gekomen?’ Ik knikte. Daar had ik genoeg van gezien.

‘De gedwongen vrucht, hè,’ zei hij. Ik knikte weer.

‘Nu, die gedwongen vrucht is hier niet,’ zei hij. Ik keek naar een omgekapte boom, maar wel vloede er spul van naar beneden. ‘Ja, beneden komt heel wat aan,’ zei Moes.

‘Kun je die boom niet naar beneden donderen?’ vroeg ik.

‘Nee, want dan komt niemand meer aan. Dan was jij hier ook nooit gekomen,’ zei Moes. Het raadsel van de schoonheid raasde in de lucht als een mengsel, haarzelf instandhoudende, bevestigende en ondersteunende. Zij had geen zelf-kritiek, zij was puur en alwetend. Zij protste hier en bracht anderen ten onder. En niemand kon haar vasthouden vanwege hun onreinheid. Zij was een giftige lijm in de lucht. Zij was de enige waarheid. Zij nam niemand serieus, kon zich totaal niet verplaatsen in de ander, en had daar ook geen behoefte aan, want alles draaide om haar, zij was de enige. Zij was de chemische stank in de lucht, de uitlaat van de cosmetische fabriek. Zij was van alles en iedereen verlaten, maar hield zichzelf in stand door zelfbevrediging. Ze was een meervoudige personaliteiten syndroom. Zij eiste blindelings gehoorzaamheid. En dit noemden ze de hemel? Moes zei dat we daarom beter in de hof van Babylon konden blijven. Er was daarboven niets te zoeken. Maar de bijtende lucht was overal. Moes bracht me naar een grot waar poppen waren. Hier was het veiliger, maar die poppen deugden ook niet echt. Ik voelde me opgesloten hier. Moes begreep me, en bracht me toen naar de grot van een draak. Het vuur van de draak en zijn rook was erg ontgiftigend. Het was de draak van Babylon, die de geheimen hier bewaarde. Ik had het gevoel dat ik weer een beetje kon ademen. De draak verwarmt de toren. De draak heeft dit alles gebouwd. Wij kunnen alleen opstijgen als een phoenix vanuit het as. Dit is de draken-cocon, de cocon van vuur en ijs. Wij zijn vlinders van de dood, die vervolgens worden gedroogd en ingelijst. Wij zijn hier op het mijneveld, elke stap kan de laatste zijn. Maar uit de cocon zullen wij nooit vallen. De martelaar schreeuwt en niemand verstaat. De draak grijpt om zich heen, en sleurt iedereen mee in zijn val.

Hoofdstuk 2.

De tere vlinder vliegt, raakt vast in webben, valt, en verandert in een moordenaar. Vals beschuldigd, bespot, bedreigd, gedwongen en gehaat, moest zij van het mengsel drinken, van Babylon's thee, en haar gevoelens verdringen. Tot het dodenrijk daalde zij, in het diepste van de hel vond zij haar pijn. Zij is een moordenaar nu, een deel van de draak zelf. Zij moest drinken van de thee, zij moest eten van het verleden. Zij moest drinken van andere werelden die zij niet kende. Zij was naar de toren van Babel verbannen. De molenaar van het kruis moest zij ontmoeten, en de moordenaar die daaraan hing. Zij verloor alles in de strijd. Door het mengsel werd alles van haar afgesneden. De stem van Babel was zacht en verwarrend. Alleen de ochtend kon verheldering geven. En dan kwam de nacht weer, en dat ging maar door, totdat we zelf een deel van het mengsel waren geworden. De bakker van Babylon mengt ons. Hij maakt van ons dat wat we niet wilden zijn. Hij trekt ons uit elkaar en voegt dingen in, zoals hij dat wil. Ik zat weer in de lift, ditmaal naar beneden, tot diep onder de grond waar de slager van Babylon leefde.

De volgende dag liep ik in de winkelstraat en probeerde dit alles te vergeten. Maar diep van binnen wist ik dat ik nog steeds in deze toren opgesloten zat. Toen ik thuis was staarde ik uit het raam, en ging vroeg naar bed. In mijn bed lag ik te woelen, en probeerde alles van me af te schudden. Ik voelde me ziek. Ik kon wel janken. In mijn boekenkast was een boek van de Babylonische geschiedenis, naast een boek van Mexicaanse ijs-gerechten. Ik trok beide boeken eruit, en las in het eerste boek over Tammuz die het symbool was van de overwinning over relatie-problemen in het huwelijk. Hij was getrouwd met Ishtar, die het pasen uitbeeldde als Easter. Zij was een hemels ei dat ooit uit de hemel viel in de rivier de Eufraat. In de Sumerische voor-cultuur stond zij bekend als Inana die haar zuster Ereshkegal in de onderwereld wilde bezoeken en door zeven poorten moest gaan waarbij ze telkens een kledingstuk of sieraad moest afleggen. Zij beeldde de heilige striptease uit, het pellen van het heilige ei. Ishtar-Inanna was ook de moeder van Tammuz die hem later uit de doden opwekte door haar tranen. Hij had ontdekt dat het huwelijk hem tot het graf had geleid, maar kwam er ook achter dat het hem weer opwekte. Dit is de kracht van het Pasen, Easter. Hij was een voor-christelijke Babylonische Christus. Hij werd verscheurd door een psychiater, en werd toen meervoudige personaliteiten syndroom genoemd. Omdat zijn vrouw nog steeds een relatie met hem had werd zij vanaf dat moment een hoer genoemd, en was toen rijp voor de prostitutie. Ik voelde me machteloos en hulpeloos. Ik greep naar het tweede boek dat ik had gepakt, met de Mexicaanse ijs-recepten. Ik bestelde veel ijs en ging direct aan de slag. Er was zoveel ijs dat ik het in drie ijskasten in de kelder moest stoppen. Ik nodigde een vriendin uit. Ze vond het heerlijk. Ze vertelde mij veel over Mexico. Ik vertelde haar veel over de toren van Babel. 'Weet je dat er ook zo'n toren in Mexico staat?' vroeg ze. Ze haalde een boek uit haar tas en liet het me zien. 'Het is een ondergrondse toren, naar het middelpunt van de aarde.'

‘En wat is daar te zien, in het middelpunt van de aarde?’ vroeg ik. Ze haalde nog een boek uit haar tas. Ik schrok. Het waren de meest verschrikkelijke slangen en draken. ‘Dit kun je daar vinden,’ zei ze. Toen ik het boek begon door te bladeren vond ik het prachtig. ‘Daar in Mexico aanbidden ze de dualiteit. Dat betekent dat ze alles aannemen wat je zegt, maar daar maken ze wel hun eigen mengsel van,’ zei ze.

‘Je bedoelt de paradox?’ vroeg ik. Ze knikte. ‘Ze aanbidden de rokende spiegel,’ zei ze. ‘De spiegel is de enige weg uit de toren van Babylon,’ zei ze. ‘Ik ben gekomen om je te redden.’

‘Nou, dank je wel,’ zei ik. ‘Dank je wel.’ Ze leidde mij naar de spiegel, en door de spiegel kwamen we samen in de ondergrondse toren van Mexico terecht. We gingen het eerste het beste ijs-restaurantje binnen. Het leven was hier goed, veel beter dan in de toren van Babel. Mijn redder zat naast me. Wel begon het steeds kouder te worden. Ik staarde naar een vlechtwerk aan de muur. ‘Je hebt de dubbele draad nodig,’ zei ze. ‘De twee kunnen niet zonder elkaar.’ Ik nam haar in mijn armen en besepte dat ik niet zonder het mengsel kon. Na het eten gingen we naar een hotel. We zochten een spiegel op, en gingen weer terug naar de toren van Babel. ‘De toren van Babel, en het Mexicaanse ijs,’ zei ik. ‘Laten we het daarop houden. Hier woon ik, dit is mijn thuis.’ Ze knikte. Ze stond volledig achter me. Er liepen wachters op de muren van Babel, om het geheim te bewaken. ‘Hier woont de hoer van Babylon,’ zeiden ze telkens. Er kwam een klein hondje op me afrennen. Ik nam het beestje in mijn armen. Ik wilde het geheim weten. We stapten in de lift, en gingen nog verder naar beneden. We kwamen aan in de hof. Het leek alsof we een cirkeltje hadden gemaakt. Maar dit keer stond de omgekapte boom rechtop, en er was een slang in de boom, genaamd Ea. Deze slang was een orakel. Je moest niets van wat hij zei letterlijk nemen. Hij was de god van de afgrond, die door de Sumeriers ook wel Enki werd genoemd. Hij was ook de god van het water en van de wijsheid. Hier hing het mexicaanse ijs in de boom. ‘Als god zul je zijn, als je van het mexicaanse ijs zal eten,’ zei de slang. ‘En je ogen zullen opengaan. Het zal je hart verlichten.’

‘Ik heb er al van gegeten,’ zei ik.

‘Dan zullen de Spanjaarden je snel vinden,’ zei de slang.

‘De Spaanse inquisitie?’ vroeg ik. De slang knikte. ‘Maar daar weet ik wel wat op,’ zei de slang. ‘Bouw een schip, want ik zal de zondvloed brengen.’

‘Kan ik niet gewoon de lift weer in?’ vroeg ik. Het was een schip der zotten waarin ik was beland, maar ook wist ik dat hier ergens het geheim moest zijn. Ik ging zitten op een bankje, en wist niet of ik de raadselachtige slang met z’n allegorieën serieus moest nemen. Weer nam ik wat van het mexicaanse ijs. Het was gewoon lekker, en verder kon het me niet zoveel schelen. Hij was een zoetwater slang, en een slang van het genezend water, dus zo erg zou zo’n zondvloed nog niet eens zijn. In de bijbel was er ergens een tekst over de poel van vuur en zwavel van eeuwige pijniging, wat in de grondtekst een poel van genezing blijkt te zijn. Alles was hier zo dubbel, en alles kon omgedraaid worden. Het orakel lachte naar me. Hij scheen zichzelf ook niet al te serieus te nemen. 'Ik ben het geheim van de vruchtbaarheid,' grapte hij, 'het geheim van alle creatie.'

'Het zal wel,' zei ik. Maar mijn mond begon steeds meer te branden. Wat had ik toch gegeten. 'Ik zei het je toch,' zei de slang, 'maar je wilde niet luisteren.'

'Zeker zwaar gekruid,' zei ik. Ik gooide de deur achter mij dicht, en ging weer naar mijn kamer. Ik legde de twee boeken weer terug in de boekenkast, samen met de twee boeken die ik van die vriendin had gekregen. Ik ging weer slapen. In de nacht werd ik weer wakker van de pijn. 'Je bent gekust door het vuur,' zei een stem. Ik probeerde weer te slapen, maar het lukte niet. 'Eet wat meer van het mexicaanse ijs, toe,' zei de stem. Ik strompelde naar de keuken, en begon te eten, zoals ik nog nooit had gegeten, maar het vuur werd steeds erger. Ik hoorde gelach. 'Okay, wat moet ik nu doen,' zei ik.

'Snap je dan niet dat je in een dubbele wereld bent. Wil je meer ijs, dan krijg je meer vuur,' zei de stem.

Ik moest al snel overgeven van het vele ijs wat ik had gegeten, en er ging nog wel meer uit : vreemd kruid, vreemde bessen, zelfs doorns. 'Het mexicaans ijs is goed voor orale laxering,' zei de stem. Het voelde alsof mijn darmen werden schoongespoeld, en ik spuugde alles uit. Ik ging weer slapen, en sliep als een roos.

Bloedbessen

Joost Verschuur komt 's avonds laat thuis van een feestje. Zijn vriendin ligt al in bed. Snel doet hij zijn kleren uit en gaat tegen haar aanliggen. Ze slaapt, maar wordt wakker van hem. Ze kust hem, en dan vallen ze samen in slaap. Midden in de nacht horen ze een hard geluid. Joost rent naar het raam. Iemand staat voor de deur. 'Doet jullie bel het niet ofzo ?' schreeuwt de persoon. Het is de broer van Joost. Even later staat ook zijn zus voor de deur. 'Doe open Joost,' schreeuwt zijn zus. Joost staat als aan de grond genageld, kleed zich langzaam aan, en loopt langzaam naar beneden om de deur te openen. Even later zitten ze rond de tafel. De vriendin van Joost is er inmiddels ook bijgekomen. 'Willen jullie wat drinken ?' vraagt Thea, de vriendin van Joost.

'Nee,' zegt Arnold, de broer van Joost. 'Jacqueliën, vertel jij het hen maar.'

Jacqueliën, de zus van Joost begint te huilen. 'Pa is ernstig ziek,' zegt ze.

'Wat heeft hij ?' vraagt Joost verschrikt.

'Hartklachten,' zegt Arnold. 'Hij heeft een hart-aanval gehad. Hij heeft niet lang meer te leven. Hij wil dat je nu bij hem komt. Hij wil je iets vertellen.'

Zo gezegd zo gedaan. Even later staat Joost bij zijn vader op de stoep, en een paar minuten later heeft hij de warme hand van zijn vader in zijn hand. 'Joost,' zegt zijn vader, 'ik ga weg. Spoedig zal ik mijn laatste adem uitblazen. Ik heb al met mijn andere kinderen gesproken, maar niet met jou.' Hij knipoogt even naar Joost, en laat dan even een glimlach zien. Joost, ik Met jou heb ik altijd het beste contact gehad, van de kinderen, maar de laatste jaren niet meer zoals het was, en ik weet wel waardoor dat komt. Thea had een hekel aan me. In ieder geval ... ik wil je zeggen dat ik van je houd, en dat ... dat ... mijn grootste erfenis naar jou toegaat.'

'En wat is dat dan ?' vraagt Joost.

'Een boek,' zegt zijn vader.

'Wat voor een boek ?' vraagt Joost.

'Een boek van zeerovers en spoken, ik heb het zelf geschreven,' zegt zijn vader. 'Ik heb het onder pseudoniem geschreven, zodat niemand ooit wist dat ik het had geschreven.'

'Die bestseller ?' vraagt Joost. 'Heb jij dat geschreven ?'

Na een paar dagen sterft de vader van Joost en enkele dagen later heeft Joost de eerste uitgave, de luxe editie, van het boek in bezit, en het manuscript. Joost bergt het meteen goed op. 'Zo, dat was dan de biecht van mijn vader,' zegt Joost tegen Thea. Thea zegt niks. Ze heeft zijn vader nooit gemogen.

'Klaar !' zegt Joost. 'Afgelopen.'

Thea komt langzaam naar hem toe, omhelst hem, en dan kust ze hem.

'Het was niets dan spel,' zegt Joost, 'het contact wat ik eerder met hem had. Ik deed maar net alsof, ik had geen andere keus.'

'Ik weet het,' zegt Thea, 'en vroeger durfde je niet anders.'

Joost kust Thea terug. Samen gaan ze op de bank zitten. Joost speelt wat met haar bloesje. 'Je hebt nu een echt speeltje,' zegt Thea. 'Iets wat je zelf hebt uitgekozen en wat je leuk vindt.'

Joost knikt. Bijna met zijn kin opgeheven. Voor het eerst in zijn leven kan hij echt glimlachen, en hij kijkt rebels. 'Toch wel vreemd dat mijn vader de schrijver was van dat boek,' zei Joost. Thea knikt. 'En jij bent de schrijver van mijn boek,' zegt ze. Joost glimlacht. 'Ik houd ervan je te beschrijven.'

'Doe nog eens een gooi,' zegt Thea.

'Je bent bloedmooi,' zegt Joost. 'Ik kan je wel drinken.'

'Mooi als die struik met bloedbessen daar buiten ?'

'Die bessen zijn giftig,' zegt Joost. 'Jij bent ontgiftigend, genezend.'

'Maar medicijnen zijn soms giftig, Joost,' zegt Thea. 'Giftig, het kan een gave zijn, een gift.'

'Gut wat doe je weer moeilijk,' lacht Joost. En neemt haar in de houdgreep. 'Ik ben toch veel sterker dan jij.'

Thea kijkt hem aan. 'Verleden tijd,' zegt ze zacht. 'Kijk eens diep in mijn ogen.' Joost doet het en voelt zich zwak worden, en dan ineens neemt zij hem in de houdgreep. 'Okay, Thea,' zegt Joost,

'ophouden met die spelletjes nu. Ik weet dat je me kunt betoveren en hypnotiseren. Je bent misschien wel potentieel een gevaar.'

'Gevaar is een te groot woord, noem het maar avontuur,' zegt Thea.

Midden in de nacht worden ze weer wakker van een geluid. Het zijn weer de broer en zus van Joost. Even later zitten ze weer om de tafel.

'Wat heeft vader je gegeven,' vraagt Jacquélien.

'Oh niets,' zegt Joost.

'Probeer het niet achter te houden, Joost,' zegt Jacquélien, 'want moeder heeft gezegd dat jij iets hebt gehad.'

'Dat is tussen vader en mij,' zegt Joost. 'Waarom zijn jullie hier?'

Joost kijkt ze indringend aan. 'Nou? Waarom zeggen jullie niets?'

'Wij vinden dat je moet zeggen wat vader je heeft gegeven,' zegt Jacquélien. Arnold knikt.

'En daarmee komen jullie midden in de nacht? Waar slaat dat op?' vraagt Joost.

'Omdat het belangrijk is,' zegt Arnold. 'Nou, zeg op.'

'Okay dan,' zegt Joost, 'als het voor jullie zo belangrijk is, eh, het was een boek, over zeerovers en spoken. Eh, hij heeft dat boek eens geschreven onder pseudoniem.'

'Mis, Joost,' zegt Arnold. 'Bladzijde 441 vertelt het geheim, daar heeft hij in kleine letters geschreven, ga zelf maar kijken.' Joost pakt het boek, gaat naar bladzijde 441 en leest hardop: 'Beste Joost, gefeliciteerd, aan jou de familie-erfenis: een geheim eiland.'

'Moet ik nu hoera zeggen?' vraagt Joost. 'En waar is dat geheime eiland?'

'Ga naar bladzijde 847,' zegt Arnold.

En daar leest Joost het. Het schijnt dat Joost een geadopteerd kind was, als baby, en zijn vader en moeder durfden het hem nooit te zeggen. Boos slingert Joost het boek weg, en rent naar buiten, terwijl Thea hem achterna gaat. 'Lees het boek verder voor meer informatie,' roept Arnold hem na. Maar Joost is woedend. Pas na een paar uur komt Joost weer thuis, samen met Thea. Arnold en Jacquélien liggen op de bank te slapen. Op de tafel ligt het boek, en Joost leest verder. Het blijkt dat Joost op dat eiland geboren is.

Na een tijdje kan Joost het accepteren en gaat samen met Thea op vakantie naar het eiland. Er wonen daar twee mensen die ooit de samenleving hebben verlaten. Ze wonen hier als wilden. Als Joost hen het verhaal vertelt begrijpen ze dat hij hun kind is.

'Jij hoort bij ons,' zegt zijn echte vader. 'Ooit hebben ze jou van ons afgepakt. Nu ben je terug. En Thea is ook welkom.' Hij omhelst zijn vader en dan zijn moeder, en ook Thea doet dat. En ze leven nog lang en gelukkig.

Het Zoete Zalf Bos

Ze zaten rondom de tafel : koning Klaproos, fee Boterbloem, kabouter Sleutelzaad, en Roosje. 'We moeten er echt wat aan doen,' sprak de koning. 'Dat kan zo niet langer. Prins Zoete Zalf is al te lang van ons weg. We moeten wat aan die nare heks doen.'

'Waar woont ze ?' vroeg Roosje.

'In het luisterbos,' zei koning Klaproos. Even later waren ze op pad naar het luisterbos. Het was een stuk lopen door de velden van kro-bloemen. Bij het kasteel aangekomen stond heks Greepbeen al op hen te wachten. 'Heks !' bulderde koning Klaproos. 'Laat prins Zoete Zalf vrij !' Maar de heks begon te lachen. 'Jullie kunnen toch niks tegen mij doen,' zei ze. Kabouter Sleutelzaad was in zijn boek aan het bladeren. Het was een toverboek waar vaak waardevolle dingen in stonden, en dan vooral op momenten waarop ze het nodig hadden. De teksten en de plaatjes in het boek leken altijd weer te veranderen. 'Assisteer mij,' zei koning Klaproos.

'Hier staat ...,' zei kabouter Sleutelzaad, 'dat de heks onschadelijk gemaakt kan worden door sluipzand, en dat is in het bezit van de tovenaar van het peperplantjes-bos.'

'Geef hier dat boek !' krijste de heks.

'Op naar het peperplantjes-bos,' zei koning Klaproos. Weer was het een stuk lopen. De tovenaar had inderdaad het sluipzand. Het was toverzand. 'Zeg, wat een mooi boek heb jij daar,' zei hij tegen kabouter Sleutelzaad. Kabouter Sleutelzaad knikte. 'Zeg, ik heb een idee,' zei de tovenaar. 'Ik ga met jullie mee naar de heks, en zal er voor zorgen dat de prins snel vrij is.' Dat vonden ze allemaal een goed plan. De tovenaar liep voorop met het sluipzand, en weer kwamen ze na een stuk lopen aan bij de heks. 'Zo, zijn jullie daar eindelijk weer. Ik heb op jullie zitten wachten. Ik had nog een verrassing voor jullie,' zei de heks.

'Nou, dat komt goed uit,' zei de tovenaar, 'want wij hebben ook een verrassing voor u.'

De tovenaar strooide snel wat sluipzand over de heks heen. De heks lag snel krachteloos op de grond. Ze had haar macht verloren, maar ze begon te lachen. 'Nu ik, nu ik,' zei ze. 'Weet je, ik heb het jullie eigenlijk nog nooit verteld, maar dat zal ik nu doen, dat werd weleens tijd, nietwaar, maar mijn drie-ogige reuzenbroer, die de heksenkoning is, wacht al in het kasteel op jullie met koffie en gebak.' De tovenaar dacht dat hij met het sluipzand ook de drie-ogige broer van de heks onschadelijk kon maken, maar toen ze bij hem aankwamen, en de tovenaar het sluipzand op hem strooide gebeurde er niets. 'Je zal er wel wat anders voor nodig hebben,' zei kabouter Sleutelzaad. De drie-ogige reuzenbroer van de heks begon te bulderen van het lachen.

'Zeg knaap,' zei koning Klaproos. 'Laat onmiddellijk prins Zoete Zalf vrij.'

'Waarom zou ik ?' zei de drie-ogige broer van de heks.

'Nou, het is beter voor je om dat nu te doen,' zei koning Klaproos.

'Komt niks van in, hoor,' zei de broer van de heks. Ze keken allemaal in zijn drie ogen, die niets dan gemeenheid, duisterheid en akeligheid uitstraalden.

'Dit is niets anders dan bar en boos,' zei koning Klaproos. 'Koffie met gebak wordt dat dan genoemd, nou eerder brood met spinnekoppen. Zo ontvang je geen gasten.'

'Gasten, ha !' zei de broer van de heks. 'Jullie zijn indringers. Nou, maak dat je wegkomt, anders zul je misschien nooit de kans meer krijgen om weg te kunnen komen. Vlug.'

'Zeg, ik laat me niet zomaar door een vlegel de les leren,' zei koning Klaproos. 'Je laat nu de prins vrij, of het zal je zuur berouwen. Koffie met gebak, puh.'

'Ja, mijn zus heeft altijd de neiging mij beter voor te stellen dan ik ben,' zei de broer van de heks. 'Dat is dan haar probleem.'

'U bent het probleem,' zei Roosje.

'Ach wat,' zei de broer van de heks, 'pijp zeven krijgt ook praatjes.'

'En dat noemt zichzelf koning,' zei Roosje.

'Wat een koning zal dat wezen,' zei fee Boterbloem.

'Juist,' zei Roosje, 'een koning van klusje knudde.'

'Oh zeg, gaan we beledigend doen ?' vroeg de broer van de heks.

'Nee,' zei Roosje, 'dat is een gebakje van eigen deeg. Koffie erbij ?'

'Roosje, Roosje,' zei koning Klaproos, 'praten met die man heeft weinig zin.'

'Nou, hij moet gewoon ophoepelen,' zei Roosje brutaal. 'Hij gaat echt zijn zin niet krijgen. Hij zal echt wel moe van zichzelf worden.'

Ondertussen was kabouter Sleutelzaad in zijn boek aan het lezen. 'Hier heb ik het,' zei hij. 'De drie-ogige reus, ook wel heksenkoning genoemd, kan verslagen worden door het kikkerdril van dokter Repelmeel die woont in het regenplantjes-bos.'

'Je gaat nu dat boek aan mij geven,' zei de drie-ogige reus boos. Snel gingen ze uit het kasteel, en gingen richting het regenplantjes-bos. Het was weer een stuk lopen. Dokter Repelmeel had het kikkerdril in allerlei ketels. Ook hij wilde wel met ze mee om de reus uit te schakelen, zodat de prins vrij zou kunnen komen. Hij liep voorop met een pannetje kikkerdril. Toen ze bij de reus waren aangekomen, smiet dokter Repelmeel het kikkerdril in zijn gezicht. De reus storte direct neer. Maar ook hij begon net als de heks te lachen. 'Ik had het jullie nog niet verteld,' zei hij, 'maar de wachter van de groene kerker, waar de prins is opgesloten, is nog wel verschrikkelijker dan ik.'

Ze begonnen het hele kasteel door te zoeken. Ergens onderin het kasteel vonden ze een boekenkamer. Kabouter Sleutelzaad leunde tegen een boekenkast aan, die direct opzij schoof, zodat er een tunnel zichtbaar werd die naar beneden liep. Hier kwamen ze aan bij de groene kerker. Een groen monster met veel klauwen kwam op hen af. 'Wat jammer nou dat jullie hier zijn gekomen, want een ieder die hier komt, komt nooit meer weg,' zei het monster. 'Het was dom van de prins om hier te komen ! En nu is het dom van jullie. Niemand komt ooit nog uit de groene kerker. De groene kerker is gierig.'

'Dat kan me niet zoveel schelen,' zei koning Klaproos. 'Je gaat de prins nu loslaten.'

'Komt niks van in, komt niks van in,' zei het monster. 'Iedereen weet dat, dat je hier gewoon niet moet komen. Dat heeft zo z'n gevolgen, ziet u.'

'Ik zie helemaal niks,' zei koning Klaproos. 'Wij zijn hier voor de bevrijding van de prins. Je laat hem nu los, anders zul je wat beleven.'

'Zeg, jullie hebben waarschijnlijk nog niet goed door met wie jullie te maken hebben,' zei het monster.

'Dat kan ons niet schelen !' riep Roosje.

'Alsof het mij wel iets kan schelen,' zei het monster.

'U laat hem nu vrij,' zei Roosje.

'Ik laat helemaal niks vrij, er komt gewoon wat bij,' zei het monster.

'Nee,' zei Roosje, 'wat bent u gemeen.'

'En wat ben jij dom,' zei het monster.

Kabouter Sleutelzaad was weer in zijn boek aan het lezen. 'Hier heb ik het !' riep hij. 'De monsterlijke wachter van de groene kerker kan verslagen worden door feeen-lippenstift.'

'Jullie komen hier toch nooit meer weg,' zei het monster, 'dus vergeet die feeen-lippenstift maar.'

'Fee Boterbloem, heb jij nog feeen-lippenstift in je tasje ?' vroeg koning Klaproos.

'Nee, ik heb het thuis laten liggen,' zei fee Boterbloem.

'Niemand heeft het hier, dus geef de moed maar op,' zei het monster.

'Nee !' riep Roosje. 'Ik heb nog feeen-lippenstift !' Snel haalde ze het tevoorschijn.

'Kras het op hem,' zei kabouter Sleutelzaad. Roosje rende op het monster af, en begon met de feeen-lippenstift op hem te krassen.

'Nee, nee !' krijste het monster, 'ga weg met dat spul ! Nee, nee, doe dat ding weg !' Het monster begon geheel weg te smelten, terwijl het slot van de kerker losknapte. De prins was vrij. Snel namen ze prins Zoete Zalf mee terug naar het Zoete Zalf bos, waar ze allen woonden.

En de kinderen kwamen tot het bos der nachtmerries, en veranderden daar in indianen. Dit was de enige manier om door het bos te komen, en na een verschrikkelijk lange tijd in het bos der nachtmerries kwamen ze aan in de jachtvelden, waar bizonen hen aanstaarden. En er was een lange oorlog tussen de bizonen en de indianen.

De Roodbil Stam

Henry ter Zand was een voetballer van het eerste team van zijn stad. Vaak kwam er een motorbende kijken, die de voetballers vaak uitscholden voor voetbroeders en ei-verkopers. Henry werd er altijd een beetje misselijk van. Op een dag besloot hij de motorbende eens te bezoeken. Hij had zich anders aangekleed zodat hij niet meer op zichzelf leek. Hij werd hartelijk ontvangen, en men leidde hem rond in het gebouw. Er waren wat oude mensen bij, misschien ouders van de motorrijders, en een vrouw die een soort bediende was deed het woord. Maar plotseling werd hij herkend door een van de motorrijders, en Henry moest maken dat hij weg kwam. Het uitschelden was sindsdien wel een stuk minder ineens, en op een dag werd Henry uitgenodigd om weer eens bij hen op bezoek te komen. De motorrijders hadden er spijt van dat ze hem zo rot hadden behandeld. Al gauw werd Henry goede vrienden met hen, wat ook de bedoeling was. Op een dag las een van de motorrijders voor uit een vreemd jongensboek. Het ging over de roodbil stam, een groep wilden die in de bossen leefden. De roodbil stam deed veel aan voetbal, maar er werden nogal wrede dingen gedaan met de verliezers. 'Het spijt ons, Henry,' zei de motorrijder, 'we hebben ons inderdaad nogal kinderachtig gedragen.'

Eric Rouwmeester heette een van de motorrijders, en had vroeger nog bij Henry in de klas gezeten. Eric knipoogde naar hem. Aan het einde van het voorlezen sprak Eric hem nog even persoonlijk aan. 'Heb je zin om een keer mee te gaan samen naar het bos?' vroeg Eric. 'Dan kunnen we wat oude herinneringen ophalen.' Henry vond dat best. Een paar avonden later waren ze samen in het bos. Zo deden ze dat vroeger ook. 'Ja, eigenlijk raar,' zei Eric. 'We gingen beiden naar een andere school later, en het contact was verbroken, terwijl we toch altijd goede vrienden waren.' Henry knikte. In het bos kwamen ze een verwilderde vrouw tegen. Ze had wat rode verf achter op haar broek. 'Ja, verfschieten,' zei ze. Het bleek een spel te zijn.

Na een tijdje kwamen ze bij een ravijn aan. Ze hadden hier een goed uitzicht. 'Herinner je je Klaas nog?' vroeg Eric. 'Heeft zichzelf stukgereden tegen een boom. En Ilse, ook dood.' Henry knikte. Ja, dat had hij ook gehoord. Hij was er kapot van. Klaas en Ilse waren ook goede vrienden van hem. 'Maar ja, dood is dood,' zei Eric. 'Je kunt ze niet terughalen.' Daar kwam de vrouw weer langs. Ditmaal had ze nog meer rode strepen op haar lichaam. 'Zo, je hebt het druk,' zei Eric.

'Ja,' zei de vrouw. 'Een feestje, maar een leuk feest.'

'Gelukkig,' zei Eric. Henry grinnikte. 'Hey, is dat Riet niet?' zei Henry. 'Riet van de Kaars.'

'Ja, verhip, je hebt gelijk,' zei Eric. 'Hey, Riet.' Maar Riet was al weer verderop. 'Laten we er naartoe gaan,' zei Eric. Even later vonden ze haar. 'Hoe gaat het met je, Riet, ken je ons nog, Eric en Henry.'

'Het gaat goed, en met jullie ?' vroeg Riet. Ze deed een beetje afstandelijk ineens. Riet kon vroeger moeilijk meekomen op school en had vaak het gevoel dat ze er niet echt bijhoorde. Ze ging vroegtijdig naar een andere school. Na een tijdje brak het ijs een beetje. 'Zeg hebben jullie zin om mee te gaan naar het feestje ? Het is mijn feestje,' zei Riet. Even later zaten ze bij haar thuis met de andere feestgangers. Ze had een groot huis. 'Blijven jullie slapen ?' vroeg ze.

Ach ja, waarom niet, dachten Eric en Henry. Er werd even wat gebeld, en al snel was het okay. Midden in de nacht stond Eric op en ging op zijn blote voeten naar buiten. Het was een huis in het bos. Hij vond het geweldig om alleen in de natuur te zijn. Na een tijdje lopen kwam hij bij een meer aan, deed zijn kleren uit en gleed in het water. Het water was een beetje koel, maar verder was het warm weer. Heerlijk vond hij dat, om in de vrije natuur te zwemmen, en helemaal alleen. Maar later merkte dat er ook een andere man en een vrouw aan het zwemmen waren, aan de overkant van het meer. Het waren mysterieuze mensen. Eric groette hen beleefd. 'Zo, wat doe jij zo laat hier,' vroeg de man. Eric vertelde dat hij niet kon slapen, en het fijn vond alleen in de natuur te zijn. 'En jullie ?' vroeg Eric.

'We hebben nergens om naartoe te gaan,' zei de vrouw. 'We hebben ons huis verloren, en nu leven we in de natuur.' Even later lieten ze hem het hol zien waarin ze woonden.

'Fantastisch,' zei Eric. 'Ik zou ook wel in zo'n hol willen wonen.' Maar ineens greep de man een pistool en richtte het op Eric. 'Meekomen,' zei hij. Eric werd ergens in een kooi gestopt gemaakt van takken en touw. 'Wat gaan jullie met me doen ?' vroeg Eric.

'Weten we nog niet,' zei de vrouw. Eric zag dat de vrouw rode vlekken op haar bil had. Toen lieten ze hem alleen. Na een paar uur was Eric nog steeds alleen, en begon te roepen. Na een tijdje sleurden de man en de vrouw de kooi naar het meer en duwden hem erin. Eric schreeuwde nog uit alle macht, maar niets hielp.

De vermissing van Eric kwam hard aan bij Henry. Ook Riet was er kapot van. Pas maanden later vonden ze hem, verdronken. Ook de man en de vrouw die het op hun geweten hadden werden gevonden. Het bleek dat ze onder in de grond nog meer vermiste personen vasthielden, maar die leefden nog steeds.

Henry keek naar Riet. Ze leek veel op de vrouw die het gedaan had. Ze bleken tweelingzussen te zijn. De man bleek lid te zijn van de motorbende.

Op een dag werd er weer uit het vreemde jongensboek voorgelezen. Het was een soort winterboek. De roodbil stam plantte zich op een vreemde manier voort. De vrouwen legden kleine eitjes die met hun voeten uitgebroed moesten worden, anders zou het vruchtje doodgaan. Zij die uit het ei kwamen waren piepklein, als kabouterijtjes, en ze hadden nog steeds een lijmachtige gel over zich heen, het vlies-ei, wat later als ze opgegroeid waren verder uitgebroed moest worden, anders zouden ze doodgaan. Dit moest gedaan worden door hun moeder of door hun partner. In hun jonge jaren waren ze als varkens, maar naarmate ze ouder werden verloren ze die kwaliteiten. Het voedsel waarvan ze leefden was rode varkens. Hun vijanden : langbek krokodillen.

Henry begreep niet waarom er nu weer uit het jongensboek voortgelezen moest worden.

Onze kapitein is een jongen, zei de motorrijder. Hij heeft dit boek geschreven, en het is onze bijbel.

'En waar is die jongen ?' vroeg Henry.

'Vraag niets,' zei de motorrijder.

Henry besloot er niet meer naartoe te gaan. Maar toch keerde hij weer terug. Alsof iets zijn interesse had. Op een nacht werd Henry wakker. Er stond een jongetje voor hem in middeleeuwse koninklijke kleding. 'Ik ben het geheim van alle tijden, ik ben het poppetje waar alle paarden op rijden, waar alle rozen om strijden.'

'Wat kan ik voor je doen ?' vroeg Henry. Maar het jongetje was alweer verdwenen. De nacht erop was het jongetje erweer. Ditmaal had hij een boek bij zich. 'Dit is mijn bijbel,' zei hij. Op de kaft stond 'De Roodbil Stam' met een plaatje waarop wilden voetbalden. De bal was een leren zak die een beetje op een doodshoofd leek.

Weer vroeg Henry : 'Wat kan ik voor je doen.' Het jongetje gaf hem het boek en verdween. Henry begon direkt te lezen. Het was een boek over de middeleeuwen, over wrede praktijken, die uiteindelijk ophielden, maar ze waren nog steeds in de lucht, en kwamen verkleed als andere dingen.

Een man werd wakker van een lange vreemde droom. Hij had de dag ervoor naar een oorlogsfilm gekeken, en daarna naar een voetbalwedstrijd. Hij zuchtte diep, en viel weer in slaap. Hij droomde toen over een dames voetbal team waar alle vrouwen rode strepen op hun achterste hadden, terwijl sommige grote rode vlekken hadden, en sommigen gewoon rode broekjes. Honden renden over het veld, die toen in zwarte panters veranderden. En toen stond het veld in brand. De man was schoolmeester, en de volgende dag toen hij een vrouwlijke collega tegenkwam bemerkte hij dat er rode vlekken op haar broek zaten, die op lipstift leken. De man wreef in zijn ogen. 'Ben ik nu gek ?' dacht hij bij zichzelf. Maar toen ze zich omdraaide had ze het gezicht van een hond. De man wist dat hij nog steeds sliep. Het leek wel alsof hij niet meer kon wakker worden, en de dromen werden steeds langer en langer. Hij herinnerde dat hij de dag ervoor bij de t.v. en bij de voetbalwedstrijd veel te veel had gedronken. Of hadden ze soms iets in zijn glas gestopt ?

Een man las een vreemd verhaal in een magazine. Het was een soort strip, ook met veel plaatjes, en dan weer tekst. Het was in een wasserette. Hij gooide de magazine opzij. Greep zijn spullen en liep naar buiten. Het werk was gedaan. Hij gleed uit over een bananeschil en viel terwijl alles op de stoep lag. Sommige mensen hielpen hem. Zijn wasmachine deed het niet meer. De was was weer vuil, maar iemand anders bood hem aan de was te doen bij haar thuis. Het was een aardige vrouw. De vrouw van de man was zwanger. Hij wilde weer op tijd thuis zijn, maar het was zo gezellig bij de vrouw dat hij wat langer bleef, en ze besloten vrienden te blijven. Hij vertelde haar over het vreemde verhaal wat hij in de magazine had gelezen. 'Nee, niet gelezen,' zei de vrouw.

Een man zat bij de psychiater. Dit was het verhaal wat hij eruit floepte. 'Okay,' zei de psychiater, 'en wat is de betekenis ?'

Een krant werd gedrukt met dit vreemde verhaal. Iemand werd wakker en had dit gedroomd, iemand las dit. Een grote octopus hing over een stad, en slikte de stad op in zijn geheel. Iemand rende uit het ziekenhuis. Ze hadden hem een injectie gegeven, maar hij was erdoor aan het hallucineren. Het was alsof de werkelijkheid nu in duizenden stukjes voor hem lag, in brokken. Iemand was geraakt door een giftige pijl van een wilde stam, de roodbil stam. De man was aan het hallucineren en werd in een kooi gezet. Al snel raakte hij uitgehongerd. Spinnen kropen over hem heen.

Iemand zat een winterboek voor volwassenen te lezen. Dit was wel het vreemdste winterboek wat hij ooit had gelezen. En het volgende verhaal was over de idioten van Mars. De idioten waren een echt ras, wilde reuzen, die in de vreemde jungles van Mars leefden. Ja, idioot was het, maar de plaatjes waren prachtig. Het sprak echt tot de verbeelding. De idioten van Mars waren vaak kaal met hanekammen. Het verhaal daarna ging over slangen, en daarna was er een verhaal wat meer op science fiction leek. De man bracht het boek terug naar de bibliotheek, en ging naar de jeugdafdeling om daar een paar winterboeken te lenen. Tot zijn grote verbazing ging het weer over de roodbil stam. Die nacht had hij een droom over een stam waarvan de vrouwen rood geverfde billen hadden. Hij vertelde het aan zijn vrouw en vroeg wat het voor betekenis kon hebben. 'Dat je teveel leest,' zei zijn vrouw. En ze had gelijk, want hij was een echte boekenwurm. 'Als je 's nachts droomt van hetgeen je hebt gelezen, dan heb je gewoon teveel gelezen, en hetzelfde geldt voor t.v.,' zei ze.

'Maar wat kan ik dan doen ?' vroeg de man. 'Heb jij een beter idee ?'

'Neem mij eens wat vaker uit,' zei de vrouw. 'Ik heb het idee dat je getrouwd bent met de boeken in plaats van mij.'

Zo gezegd zo gedaan. De man nam zijn vrouw die dag direkt mee naar het bos om een wandeling te maken. Maar de man werd al snel onwel, en ze keerden om. 'Ik kan gewoon niet zonder mijn boeken,' zei de man. Ze probeerden nog een paar dingen, maar uiteindelijk legde de vrouw zich er maar bij neer.

Een man werd wakker van een droom, en daar een andere man. Ze hadden allemaal hetzelfde gedroomd, alsof er wilde geesten in de lucht waren. Zwarte honden blaften op de straat. Diep in het bos stapte een dwerg lachend zijn huisje binnen en trok de deur achter zich dicht. Er hingen wat klokken van wezens die in elkaar waren gegroeid en die zich voedden met elkaars inhoud. De dwerg roerde wat in een potje. 'Zombies zijn het,' zei de dwerg. 'Ze kunnen niet met en niet zonder elkaar, want ze zitten aan elkaar vast door het hart. Ja, door dit middeltje zullen ze eindelijk los van elkaar kunnen komen, maar vergeten doen ze elkaar nooit.'

Het Rode Wapen

Ik zag haar daar staan. Haar naam was Zwijnenjacht. Ze stond aan een poort met een sleutel. Ik probeerde weg te rennen, maar ze tackelde mij. En toen dacht ik : 'Waarom zou ik wegrennen eigenlijk ?' Het bleek een aardige vrouw. Ze nam mij door de poort naar binnen. Ze was heel praterig, had veel te vertellen. Ze zei dat zij me hier had gelokt, om mij te bevrijden uit een kerk. Ze had kleding gemaakt van parels. Je kon haar lichaam gewoon door de parels heen zien. Ze straalde warmte uit, maar ook geheimzinnigheid. Een koets stopte. We stapten in. De stad was groot hier, maar we gingen buiten de stad, waar ze in een hutje woonde. Een vreemd gevoel maakte zich van mij meester.

'Ik heb je verlost uit de kerk,' zei ze. 'Ze draaien daar allemaal in cirkeltjes, komen niet verder. Ze zijn onder de betovering van een heks. Ik heb je verlost. Het zijn zwijnen. Als je de jacht niet begint, dan pakken ze je terug. Bedriegelijke verschijnselen zijn het.'

'Okay,' zei ik. Toen begon ze te filosoferen. Ik vond het erg interessant. Ze was niet op haar mondje gevallen, en prikte door alles heen. 'Je moet denken,' zei ze, 'diep doordenken. Niet jezelf opsluiten in cirkeltjes.' Ik knikte.

'Er moet gewerkt worden in dat hoofdje van jou. Je moet je industrie bouwen. Zo kun je veilig zijn tegen de zwijnen,' sprak ze. Haar ogen waren rood doorbloed. Ik nam haar in mijn armen, gewoon omdat ik mezelf niet tegen kon houden. Ze hilde. Ik probeerde haar te troosten. 'Je bent zo lief,' zei ze. 'En dat is zeldzaam.'

'En jij bent een open vrouw,' zei ik. 'Dank je wel dat je mij verlost hebt.' Haar lichaam begon te schudden. 'Ze willen me bezitten, die zwijnen,' zei ze. 'Bouw je centrum van filosofie,' zei ze. 'En we zullen allemaal veilig zijn.'

'Wat is de belangrijkste filosofie?' vroeg ik.

'Dat moet je ontdekken,' zei ze. 'Maar bouw gewoon voort. Die varkens zullen allemaal in het nieuwe stelsel van filosofie ontmaskerd worden.' Ik drukte haar tegen me aan. 'Je zult veilig zijn, heus,' zei ik. Toen glimlachte ze een beetje.

Ik keek naar de lucht, die vol was met luchtschepen. De hyena's zouden ons redden. Ze brachten ons naar een spiegel-universum. Alles was hier net een beetje anders. De natuur had hier zoveel meer diepte. Zwijnenjacht was erg aan het beven. Ze was erg ziek. Ik nam haar mee naar een grot, en legde haar neer op een zachte plek, tussen veren en vellen. Weer nam ik haar in haar armen, en verzekerde haar dat alles goed zou komen. Er groeide hier een koffieboom, reusachtig met diepe wortels. En op de takken van de boom en de stam was een kasteel gebouwd. Caffeïne soldaten marcheerden op de muren. Ze leken op ridders en hadden scherpe wapens. Ook hadden ze pistolen met rode lasers. Ze vormden hun eigen politie. Ze waren de communicatie politie. Caffeïne had al deze realiteiten gecreeerd, en voerde een dwangmatige controle.

Ik las de statuten van Orion door, over een rode planeet, Dankbu. Het was een planeet vrij van caffeïne. Het was een planeet waar alles om de innerlijke filosofische registers ging. Er was daar een oorlog tussen koffie en caffeïne. Beide kanten hadden rode wapens.

Het Kind Van Licht

Ik, 44 jaar, schrijver.

Ik houd van boeken, vooral van de wat mysterieuze boeken. Ik woon alleen in een kasteel. Om de dag door te komen drink ik veel thee. Als ik dat niet doe dan val ik in een diepe depressie die met het verleden te maken heeft. Arabische thee werkt het beste op mij. In de zomer trek ik er altijd met mijn caravan op uit. Ik heb vroeger gejaagd, maar daar heb ik me inmiddels voor negentig procent van bekeerd. Ik jaag nu alleen nog maar bij noodzaak. Ik ben een prominent lid van de jagersvereniging. Ik houd van sport, maar ik merk bij mezelf dat ik steeds meer de rust opzoek. Ik houd van de indiaanse cultuur. Zij zijn het meest mysterieus voor mij. Ik ben verder niet gelovig, maar maak wel gebruik van de rijke symboliek van religies, als achtergrond. Voor mij is het natte kunst, de koude dood, ik geloof afstandelijk, maar wat ik dan geloof weet ik eigenlijk niet. Ik voel mijzelf als een agnost, die weleens gebruik maakt van de metaforen en archetypes om mij heen, waarin ik bij vlagen soms een echte passie heb, die mij overigens ook weer benauwd. Ik voel mij een gevangene van mezelf, van deze wereld. Ik schrijf om ergens de uitgang te kunnen vinden.

Ik houd van dunne boekjes, maar wat dikkere boekjes doen het ook wel goed bij mij. Sommige boeken zijn gewoon echt perfect van formaat en ik kan daar wel uren naar staren en over nadenken. Ik lees veel, maar ben ook veel bezig met mijn geheugen. Sommige boeken benauwen me, en die heb ik liever niet in huis. Ik ben op zoek naar de perfecte boeken. Zo bouw ik mijn stad, mijn land, en mijn huis.

Ik ken mijn kasteel niet, ik woon alleen in een klein gedeelte. In veel kamers ben ik nog nooit geweest. Het kasteel staat verder helemaal leeg. Ik kom uit een gereformeerd gezin, een nachtmerrie, daarom woon ik nu alleen. Niemand zal me ooit de les nog leren. Mijn vader was dominee, en mijn moeder was uit hetzelfde hout gesneden. Ik kon me nooit uiten daar, ik werd nooit serieus genomen. Alleen de dikke bril van mijn vader sprak de waarheid. Wij hadden niets in te brengen. 's Nachts is het alsof ik engelen hoor zingen. Vroeger leek het altijd alsof ik duivels hoorde zingen. Mijn vader noemde iedereen vroeger altijd 'duivel', en hemzelf beschouwde hij als een half-god. Ik kan daar nu om lachen, maar toen hij de baas was was dit zeer beangstigend, onheilspellend. Via een achterdeurtje in de kerk ben ik ontsnapt. Ik ben naar de kinder-bescherming gegaan en heb verteld wat voor gruwelijke praktijken ze er bij mij thuis op nahielden. Toen stopten ze me in een weeshuis. Mijn vader kreeg een lange gevangenis-straf, en mijn moeder werd in een inrichting geplaatst. Mijn vader is in de gevangenis overleden, en mijn moeder in die inrichting. Dat is natuurlijk een treurig einde, en ik heb daar best veel verdriet van gehad. In het weeshuis ben ik verder goed opgevangen. Ik woon nu op mijzelf.

Ik ben een verzamelaar van oud plastic speelgoed, klassieke uitgaves. Plastic is de toekomst, zeg ik altijd. Ik denk altijd : waren we maar wat meer van plastic, dan zouden een heleboel problemen opgelost zijn. We zijn van een te hoge graad vlees en bloed, en dat veroorzaakt de helse pijnen. Ikzelf weet goed wat pijn is, en het leek altijd wel een vereiste om verder te komen. Wat ik dan schrijf ? Antropologie en cultuur. Ik zou wel als ontdekkingsreiziger naar Zuid-Amerika willen gaan. Vooral het Amazone-gebied trekt mij aan. Er hangt veel kunstfruit in het kasteel, nog van de vorige bewoners.

28 Juni 1972

Ik heb nu een vriendin. We wandelen samen door het kasteel. Dan sleurt ze me mee de tuin in. Ze haalt me over om bij haar in te wonen. Ze heeft een klein huisje in de stad. Ik voel daar wel wat voor. Het kasteel is nu verleden tijd. Haar familie komt vaak op bezoek. Ze heeft een oom Jan en een oom Piet waar ze nogal erg op gesteld is. Sinds ik met haar ben ben ik de dingen anders gaan zien. Ze is veel buiten om de vogels te voeren. Vanaf hier kun je de kerk-klokken goed horen, maar ik vind dat niet erg. Ook heeft ze een voorliefde voor koken. Vooral met uien maakt ze veel bijzondere gerechten. Als ik aan de ui denk pel ik hem af in tranen. Zo zie ik mijn leven. Wortels zijn ook haar favoriet. Wortels doen me denken aan konijnen. Verder houdt van allerlei puddings. Ze is veel bij de bloemen in haar tuin. Als ik aan bloemen, wortels en uien denk, dan zou ik er wel een trap van willen maken om met haar naar de zon te gaan. We houden van de zon. We zitten vaak buiten. Dan filosoferen we over allerlei dingen. Ze heeft boven veel schilderijen van indianen hangen. We zijn beiden erg ontzet over wat de blanken de indianen hebben aangedaan. Op zolder heeft ze een groot schilderij van de bizon-jacht. Ik vertel haar dat ik tegen jagen ben, maar dat het soms noodzakelijk is. Daarom ben ik lid van de jagers-vereniging. Indianen waren jagers voor voedsel, anders zouden ze gek van de honger worden, dus het was volkomen gerechtvaardigd. Ze waren ook nog eens met een jacht-instinct opgezaald. De indianen zagen de dieren wel als heilig, dus vroegen ook om vergeving als ze op jacht waren geweest. Maar goed, dat kon natuurlijk per stam verschillen. Sommige indianen zagen het misschien ook als hun opdracht om te jagen voor de goden. Hoe dan ook, het hoe en waarom van de jacht interesseerde mij. Het was een prachtig schilderij, dat schilderij op de zolder. Het was net alsof de bizons op dat schilderij zeker niet voor niets stierven. Ze redden een indiaanse stam van de ondergang. Ook kwam er kannibalisme voor onder indianen. Dit had vaak te maken met religie, maar ook met oorlog, en soms gewoon echt honger. Sommige schilderijen die ze had waren echt luguber. Maar ik moest er gewoon meer vanaf weten. Het was een drang die ik niet kon tegenhouden. Mijn obsessie met indianen werd zo sterk dat mijn vriendin me op andere gedachten probeerde te krijgen, en mij probeerde af te leiden. Maar mijn drang was zo groot en aanstekelijk dat ze op een bepaald moment ook zelf voor de bijl ging. Wij moesten en zouden het geheim ontrafelen.

Mijn vriendin had ook een schilderij van engelen, en dat sprak mij aan, maar beangstigde mij ook. Een ander schilderij was met een engel die op de engel des doods leek, staande voor een poort. Het leek op een reusachtig groot zwart-grijs standbeeld. In de geschiedenis werden de indianen en hun goden door de christenen gedemoniseerd. Natuurlijk is bloedvergiet niet goed te praten, maar daar konden de christenen ook wat van. Ik staarde naar buiten, en kon de kerktoren boven de huizen zien uitsteken. Aan de ene kant trok het christendom mij aan, maar aan de andere kant stootte het mij af. Het was in mijn ogen de arrogantie ten top, verschrikkelijk nationalistisch en cultuurbarbaars. En dan die eeuwige hel, dat was me nogal een piek op de kerstboom. De macht van het christendom was groot, en zaaide angst en paniek. En mijn vraag was wat de God van de christenen met de indiaanse goden en de zielen van de gesneuvelde indianen heeft gedaan. Waar waren zij ? In mijn hoofd dansten de indianen een vurige dans, en als dat zo door zou gaan zou alles spoedig in vuur gaan. Ik kon mezelf er niet van losmaken. Het leek alsof zij brandden door het christelijk stempel. Het van hen geroofde land was nooit aan hen teruggegeven. De indianen hadden ingang tot de natuur, iets wat de blanken nauwelijks hadden, en dat maakte hen jaloers, omdat ingang tot de natuur ook de staf van vruchtbaarheid betekende. Het was alsof de draak een ei bewaakte en tegelijkertijd niet bij dat ei kon komen.

En wij leefden nog steeds dichtbij die draak in dat land, die jaloerse, kleptomanische, arrogante kracht die ons door het vele papier van de natuur af wilde houden. Maar goed, we wilden ook geen slapende draken wakker maken. Mijn vriendin leefde zich uit met het koken. Bij broodgerechten werd het bruine brood bewust gemengd met het witte brood. De blanken zouden deel kunnen hebben aan die natuur, door vermenging, niet door moord en roof. De blanke land-inpikker koos de brede snelweg van de vijandschap en niet de langzame, smalle weg van de vriendschap. Maar de blanke zag de indiaan al als goddeloos bij voorbaat, omdat de leefwijze van de indianen niet bijbels was. Grappig is het dat in de grondteksten van de bijbel alles wel weer indiaans is, maar de blanke leefde met een slappe vertaling daarvan. De spinnenwebben buiten laten me zien wat voor spel er aan de gang is. Of zijn de blanken ook een soort indianen met hun eigen jacht-instinct ? Daar lijkt het wel op, want onze voorouders hebben een verschrikkelijke jacht op de indianen gemaakt, en waren erg barbaars, echt niet minder dan de indianen, en vandaag laat de blanke nog steeds zien wie hij is door al zijn machts-systemen en verschrikkelijke bureaucratie. Daar moet je maar tegen kunnen. De blanke heerser is als een witte spin met een web waar je 'u' tegen moet zeggen, en doet in oorlogsstrategie niet onder aan de indiaan. Wie is er nu een wilde ? Schuilt er in iedere blanke niet een indiaan ? Wat rassen-communisme zou de wereld geen kwaad doen.

Het liefdesbed boven de zee was leeg. Zowel de blanke als de indiaan waren vertrokken, naar hun eigen stukje natuur. Het bed was omringd met duizend deuren. Eén van deze deuren was de deur van verzoening, terwijl de anderen deuren waren van de dood. Ik was vastbesloten de juiste deur te kiezen. Ik had maar één kans. Ik ging op mijn gevoel af. Ik opende een deur en viel in een afgrond. Was dit de dood of de verzoening ? Ik zag grote doodshoofden van indiaanse opperhoofden. Ik zweefde boven de wateren, met haaien onder mij. Aan de andere kant van de afgrond kwam ik aan. Ik was trots op mezelf dat ik het had gered. Waar was ik nu ? Dood of levend ? Eén van de haaien had een grote staart die hij op me richtte. Hij was me gevolgd. Hij stond op het punt om mij met die grote staart te slaan. In mijn binnenste hoorde ik een stem die zei : 'Omhels de staart.' Toen ik dat deed ontplofte de staart en kleine doodskoppen kwamen voort. Een vrouw droeg een kruik, de laatste jacht.

De wereld met al haar boosaardigheden bleef ergens steken in een gat, zwevend in een licht. Alleen haar vrucht zou kunnen doorlopen, maar zij zelf zou vergaan in die kruik, in de laatste jacht. Ik staarde naar haar schilderij. Ze had het zelf geschilderd. Ze had een prachtige uitleg gegeven, zoals ik het niet zou kunnen doen. Ik had bewondering voor haar. Zij had een heerlijk boek geschreven. Andere boeken zouden mij steken. In onze gedachten waren wij nog steeds in het kasteel. Wij keken naar het binnenste van het kasteel, wat was als een exotische vrucht, waarvan je zou sterven als je het zou eten, maar wij stierven niet. Wij hadden het kind van licht gevonden. Wij keken naar de vrucht, aten ervan, en beseften dat dit het vlees en bloed was van de verzoening. Wij hadden de juiste deur gevonden. Een geluksgevoel maakte zich van mij meester, als van een geboorte. Dit kind van licht was ons kind. Nu zouden wij nooit een kind opbrengen in de materiele wereld, dat zou wreed zijn. We lieten het kind in de lucht zijn.

In het kasteel, in de kern, was alles anders, waar de pit was, het lichaam van de verzoening. Dit bed was in ons huis nu, in de huiskamer, waar iedereen het kon zien. Ook vanuit de keuken kon het bed gezien worden, en vanuit de tuin. Hier draaide het huis om nu, en buiten sneeuwde het, om alles, maar dan ook alles, met een sluier te bedekken. In onze gedachten was er een gele zwemvogel in het riviertje van het kasteel. Wij wisten niet waar het diertje vandaan kwam. Wij hadden het daar nog nooit eerder gezien. Het was onze trots, een trots om de nieuwe geboorte. Op hetzelfde moment was er een sterfgeval, de oude wereld, en het feit dat we niet meer in het kasteel waren. Maar het was goed zo.

In het bos rondom het kasteel waren zoete vruchten, exotischer dan degenen in het kasteel. In het bos was het goed. Dat was gewoon zo. Nog wel beter dan in het kasteel. En hier waren wij. Hier leefden wij. Van de modder van het dagelijks leven. Het diertje kwam hier ook. En als wij op onze uitgestrekte deken zaten, dan gaven wij hem ook wat voedsel. De gele zwemvogel was onze vriend, een parel uit de andere wereld. Het was een krachtige vogel, die goed voor zichzelf kon zorgen, statig, deftig, onafhankelijk, een hele verschijning. Wij konden hem niet de baas. Het was een koppige, eigenzinnige vogel, maar daar hadden ze om gevraagd. Hij wist precies zijn zin te krijgen. We deelden met hem de oogst.

Hij was een profeet, een prachtig joch, een apocalypse. Hij sprak snel, soms verwarrend. Hij sloeg deuren open. Wij volgden hem, terug naar het kasteel. Hij liet ons boeken zien die nog nooit waren gelezen, en boeken die nog nooit waren geschreven. Hij liet ons gangen zien die we niet kenden, en een wereld waar wij geen deel aan hadden. Een globe van vuur, in het midden van het kasteel. Daar legde hij zijn kleed af en gaf ons precies wat wij wilden. Hij was gekomen om verlangens te vervullen, wensen. Hij was gekomen om dromen uit te laten komen. En daarna ging hij rond met de hoed. Hij was een handelaar, een makelaar in dromen.

De kinderen komen tot een boek in de jachtvelden, het indiaanse oorlogsboek. Voor altijd zal dit hun hoofden stalken.

De Elvenoorlogen

Geen wapen bleef onaangeroerd in de bloederige elvenoorlog tussen de indiaanse elvenstammen. En eigenlijk draaide het in die oorlog alleen om tranenstenen, bloedkoraalachtige toverstenen. Gekrijs en gegil vulde de nacht, totdat een joelende stam uiteindelijk had gewonnen. Ze droegen de toverstenen naar een geheime plek, en probeerden verder de hele oorlog te verwerken. De oorlog had lang geduurd, maar het doel was nu bereikt.

Witsmiktiel, de indiaanse elvensmid van de stam die de elvenoorlog had gewonnen smolt de stenen om, en zo kon er een nieuw daglicht komen over alle stammen. Nog nooit gingen zoveel elven in slavernij, en nog nooit was er zoveel doem in de omgeving. Het vee van de elvenstammen die in de oorlog ten onder was gegaan werd vollop geslacht, wat een zwarte bladzij was in de geschiedenis van de indiaanse elven. Zelfs de winnende stam gaf dat later toe, want waar was alles om te doen ? Om tranenstenen die omgesmolten moesten worden, zodat er nieuw daglicht zou komen : allemaal om slaven te maken : Elven in boten, elven op fokkerijen, elven in de bouw, van alles.

Er was een man, een elf, Timgrimado, die hen uiteindelijk de onzin van dit alles liet inzien. Hij stal de omgesmolten stenen en liet er een wapen van maken waarmee hij hen allen zou domineren. Afschaffen liet hij alle slavernij, alle fokkerij en slachterij, en hij leerde hen te vechten voor henzelf in plaats van voor anderen, zodat ze ook niet anderen voor zichzelf zouden gebruiken. Sindsdien was er wel veel onverschilligheid, maar men bleef in ieder geval van elkaar af. Timgrimado vertrok later weer, maar vertelde hen dat hij ze allemaal zou slopen als ze weer in hun oude wegen zouden terugvallen.

Velen probeerden erachter te komen waar Timgrimado naartoe was gegaan, maar niemand wist het. Velen verlieten hun stam om ook als Timgrimado te 'vertrekken'. Niemand wist precies wat dat inhield, maar men vond dat wel stoer. Zelfs kinderen kondigden soms aan hun stam te verlaten, maar vaak stonden de ouders dat niet toe. Voor een elf was het belangrijk om tovenaars te worden, om de eenzaamheid en de vergetelheid te domineren, in plaats van elkaar. Ja, Timgrimado had hen wijze lessen geleerd.

Maar na tijden begonnen de verhalen over Timgrimado steeds meer weg te vagen, totdat op een bepaald moment niemand meer echt wist wie of wat Timgrado nou precies was, en men begon terug te vallen in oude gewoontes. En zo ontstond er een nieuwe elvenoorlog, nog luguberder dan die daarvoor. Ditmaal ging de oorlog om goud. Enkele indiaanse elvenstammen hadden goudmijnen gevonden. Weer brak er een tijd aan van slavernij voor de onderworpen stammen, en weer begonnen fokkerijen en slachterijen volop te bloeien. De grote winnaar van de oorlog was Herpidasis, het opperhoofd van een wrede indiaanse elvenstam. Herpidasis maakte zichzelf tot keizer van alle onderworpen stammen, en het moest genade heten dat hij ze in leven liet. Natuurlijk moesten ze bijna allemaal in de goudmijnen werken, en niemand maar dan ook niemand dacht over Timgrimado, omdat niemand meer wist wie hij was.

En daarom was het dan ook een extra verrassing toen hij ineens voor de deur stond. Hij was net zo verwilderd als vroeger, alsof hij vanuit de dieptes van de eenzaamheid en de vergetelheid kwam. Ditkeer was Timgrimado erger dan hij ooit was. Hij greep Herpidasis bij z'n nek en rukte z'n kop eraf. Alle volgelingen van Herpidasis maakte hij tot slaaf door onverwoestbare rode toverketens om hun nek, en zo voerde hij hen allen mee naar zijn duistere kastelen diep in de vergetelheid. Woest brulde Timgrimado tot zijn slaven : 'Ik heb jullie eerst geleerd niet van slavernij te leven en elkaar vrij te laten zoals ik jullie vrijliet. Maar omdat jullie niet naar mij wilden luisteren laat ik jullie nu zien dat hij die van slaven leeft zelf een slaaf is.' En zo moesten de slaven hard werken in de mijnen onder de duistere kastelen van Timgrimado.

Maar op een dag wist één van de slaven vrij te komen, en stal het wapen van tranenstenen dat Timgrimado in bezit had. De slaaf ging er direkt mee naar Timgrimado toe en hief het wapen in de lucht : 'Zie je dit hier !' krijste de slaaf. 'Dit heb jij eens gestolen en je macht opgeëist, maar nu is het van ons.' En een bliksemstraal kwam van het wapen af om Timgrimado te ketenen. De slaaf zette verder met het wapen alle andere slaven vrij, en samen voerden ze Timgrimado mee naar hun oude domein. Hier maakten ze weer alle andere stammen tot hun slaaf, en Timgrimado werd in een kerker geworpen. En sindsdien stond de wreedheid van de overheersende stam op het toppunt. Het werd zo erg dat machtige tovenaars hun legers stuurden, alleen maar om te ontdekken dat Herpidasis en zijn elfen hun slavenrijk met onbreekbare hand uitbreiden. Na een tijdje waagde zich geen enkele tovenaars er nog aan. En zo werd Herpidasis zelfs de schrik der tovenaars.

Maar Timgrimado wist een gat te graven in zijn kerker tot diep onder de grond. Hier vond hij zogenaamde gilstenen waar hij een nieuw wapen van maakte. Timgrimado bleek onoverwinnelijk door het nieuwe wapen, nadat hij er de deur van de kerker mee had gesloopt. Een wachter probeerde hem te grijpen, maar snel onthoofde Timgrimado de wachter en nam zijn helm en pantser. Niet lang daarna had Timgrimado het hele keizershuis onderworpen, omdat het wapen zo gilde dat iedereen erdoor in elkaar zakte wanneer Timgrimado zijn wapen richtte. Timgrimado begon de oude wetten weer te verkondigen, maar wist nu ook dat hij nooit meer zou terugkeren als hij zou vertrekken. Timgrimado voegde daarom geen waarschuwing meer achter de wetten, omdat hij niet nog een keer in de val gelokt wilde worden. De indiaanse elven moesten nu voor zichzelf zorgen. Hij raadde hen allemaal aan hun stammen te verlaten om de eenzaamheid en de vergetelheid op te zoeken.

Terug naar zijn duistere kastelen en mijnen kon hij niet, want daar zouden ze hem kunnen vinden, en daarom sloeg hij een totaal nieuwe richting in, en wiste zijn sporen uit. Hij wist dat zij die in stammen bleven leven ook oorlog zouden blijven voeren.

De Boeken van Honing

1.

1. De Rozentepel van het diepe woud, trekt elven aan, en feeën hand in hand,
Tot een reuzenkroning, een reuzenwoning, voert dit strand, een elvenballet, een kostelijk vuur, Een draaiend bed, en daar is de ochtendprinses, met haar groene woorden, slangen uit haar monden, Zij waakt over het vuur en over het uur, oh, roept haar aan, oh schrijf haar naam,
Al haar bloedende prinsessen aan de muur, al haar bloedende gedichten, tot dit kostelijke uur, Zij waakt in vuur.

2. De Rozentepel waakt hier, met zoveel waakhonden, zoveel versieringen, Zij loopt als de witte koningin, zij waakt en grijpt dan in,
Waar zoveel bomen staan, waar zoveel feeën staan, hand in hand, aan het strand,
Waar zoveel feeën staan, ja, zij roepen je naam, echoes in de nacht, versluieren zoveel pracht, Kom dan aan

3. De Rozentepel in de nacht, gevende elvenmelk, versiert in pracht, Ik probeer dit schilderij te schetsen, struiken als rood vuur, bloemen als aardnoten,
En iemand slaat de trommel, iemand slaakt een gil, iemand loopt weg, Iemand staat naakt, het is de feeënprins, en dan staat er een prinses,
Ik kom dichterbij, en een kikker ontwaakt

4. De Rozentepel in de diepe nacht, gloeit als het goud, met onbekende pracht, Wij komen dichterbij, maar het vlucht van ons weg, wij kunnen hier niets bereiken, Wij hebben altijd pech

5. Ik kom er niet doorheen, door dit dichte bos. Dan sla ik met mijn zwaard, maar takken proberen mij te wurgen,

En deze takken hebben doorns, en ik ben een prins.

6. Waar moet ik het zoeken, waar moet ik heen, ik ga er dwars doorheen, En ik ben bloedende, en narren volgen mij, zij maken me bespottelijk.
Waar kan ik heen, waar kan ik schuilen.

7. Ik loop recht door, maar dan val ik weg, in de armen van een vrouw, zij neemt mij naar een diepe put, waar zij woont.
Ik klop aan haar deuren, en zij opent voor mij, zoveel gedichten in een rij.
Van vrouw tot vrouw ga ik, zij voelen mij, zij achterhalen mij,
Van jurk tot jurk ga ik, en veel gegiechel, warme handen die mij verder binnentrekken.
Ik kom hier nooit meer weg. En een pot met honing staart mij aan, op het honingschip zijn wij, En dan smelten wij.

8. De vrouw van de nar staart mij aan,
Een grote ton met honing, zij is zo vol met honing,
En dan verzuip ik in de bloemen, totdat ik tot het gat reik,
Ik neem haar brief aan, letters omgeven door bloemen.

9. En ik zweef naar het kasteel waar onze dromen komen,
Zweef naar het kasteel waar onze dromen waar worden,
Dromen zijn zo zoet, dromen zijn zo goed,
En ik open de boeken van honing,
Ik open de boeken van het verleden, in een ander licht,
In honing gedoopt, zij is de vrouw van mijn dromen, Ik zie een fragiele brug van licht, en van zachte fijne stof, ik haal mijzelf naar boven, en dan komt
de herinnering,
Ik zie een brug van licht, zo zacht, en zo fijn,
Een brug van licht, waarover onze dromen uitkomen,
Als eieren van licht.

10. Heel in de verte komt zij aan,
Als een lichtend licht, besmeerd met honing,
Bloemen maakten in haar woning.

2.

1. Ik ben geboren uit twee vrouwen, die geboren waren uit twee vrouwen. En deze vrouwen waren geboren uit twee hyena's. Kijk dan naar alle volkeren om u heen, en zie hoe zij hun afgoden dienen. Zij eren mij met de lippen, maar hun hart is verre van Mij. Keer dan om tot uw Vader. Ik ben geboren uit twee vrouwen. Keer weder tot uw Vader.
2. Rijk met melk waren hun borsten, en zij waren voortgebracht door twee vrouwen, en zij waren voortgebracht door twee hyena's. Hoort de stem van Hem die in Antlia troont.
3. Rijk met melk waren hun borsten, en door hun honing voedde Ik Mij. Keert dan weder tot Antlia, oh kinderen des heils, want ingenomen is Zij.

4. Laat Antlia zich wederom oprichten, nadat zij was neergeslagen door koningen van een ver land. Zie, Ik zal deze koningen slaan. Ja, tandartsen met wit en zwart gif kwamen tot haar om haar te binden. Maar de Heere regeert in Antlia.
5. Een ketel van verderf zal uitgegoten worden op de hoofden van tandartsen die gif gieten in de monden van de kinderen des Heeren. En zo zal Antlia vrij zijn.
6. Ik ben de Heere, die u zal laten wederkeren tot Antlia. Ja, een witte burcht heb ik daar voor u, in de diepte der woestijnen, ja, in de dieptes der wildernissen. En Ik zal het wit der tandartsen uit u verwijderen.
7. Kom dan tot het witte kasteel, spreekt de Heere, en laat u verlossen uit de klauwen der tandartsen. Zij staan dan als ridders op u tegen te houden, maar ziet, Ik zal hen neerslaan. Zij hebben dan hun macht door de oude bijbel, maar zie, dit boek was deels vals.
8. Ik ben de Heere die u uit de handen der tandartsen hebt verlost, en u hebt uitgeleid. Zie, Ik zal hen allen neerslaan, want zij hebben zware lasten op het volk gelegd.
9. Zo zal Ik dan het zwaard zetten in de tandartsen om het kaf van het koren te scheiden. Ja, het volk der tandartsen zal in de vurige smeltoven geworpen worden. De Heere Heere laat niet met Zich spotten.
10. Komt dan tot het witte kasteel, en dringt diep in haar binnen, opdat Ik u zal vrijzetten.
11. Een vaste burcht ben ik in Antlia, om Mijn volk uit te leiden uit de verdrukkingen der tandartsen. Zij zijn Mijn grootste vijanden, omdat zij zich in Mijn tempelen hebben gezet als goden. Ziet, Ik zal deze goden uitroeien, en uitbannen uit Mijn heiligdommen, en met hen zal niet gerekend worden. Zij hebben zwaar tegen Mij gezondigd.
12. Ik zal Mijn schalen van onheil gieten over de hoofden van deze tandartsen, deze valse profeten. Zij hebben een medicijn vervaardigd wat helemaal geen medicijn is, maar een giftige klem om de nekken van Mijn volk. Wee deze tandartsen. Ik heb een dag aangesteld om hen door vuur te vernietigen.
13. Ziet, zij kwamen vanuit de hel tot u om u te knechten. Zij zullen rekenschap moeten afleggen van hun boze daden. Dit is een boosaardig geslacht.
14. Ja, kokende teer zal Ik over hen uitgieten, en hun huiden zullen wegsmelten, want zij hebben de Heere Heere verloochend.

3.

1. In het witte kasteel is een doorgang, door jungle, wildernis en paradijs. Dit witte kasteel is het hart van God. Hier is de honing voor hen die Hem zoeken. Hier is de bron van het leven.
2. Omdat wij doorgang hebben gehad leven wij. De hyena waakt hier, en Zijn soldaten zitten op hyena's. Zij zijn bewapend voor de strijd. De ridders des Heeren steken hun speren uit, en rennen dan naar buiten, om tandartsen aan te vallen. Het is de grote witte oorlog.
3. En tandartsen zullen vallen aan alle kanten, want zij hebben tegen de Heere gezondigd. Zij hebben zichzelf als god opgesteld in Zijn tempel. Zij hadden overlegd : Laten we onze troon hoger plaatsen dan God, ver boven alle sterren. Maar ziet, zij werden neergehaald en ter aarde geworpen. En nu vervolgen ze de heiligen met gif. Zij weten dat zij weinig tijd hebben.

4. Ja, de Heere zal de spot met hen drijven, en lachen op Zijn troon, wanneer zij ten onder gaan. Ja, op de Dag des Heeren zullen zij in angst zijn, maar hun gebeden zullen niet gehoord worden, want Zij dienden de Heere niet.
5. Zo zal er dan een dag zijn tegen alle trotse en hooghartige tandartsen. En de angel des Heeren zal diep in hen gestoken worden.
6. De Heere Heere is een strijder tegen de volkeren der tandartsen. Zie, Hij zal hen teruggedrijven in de zee, en hun lichamen verbranden. Ja, in de zee van vuur zullen zij wegzinken tot eeuwige schande.
7. De zwarte ridder des Heeren is tegen hen, en met Zijn legers zal hij hen achtervolgen, en haken door hun kaken slaan. Zo zullen zij ontwapend worden, ontkleed en openlijk tentoon gesteld worden.
8. Doorboren zal de Heere de hoofden der tandartsen, en hun afgoden zullen hen afgenomen worden, en alles wat zij hebben gestolen.
9. Ja, boorders zal de Heere opstellen in het zuiden en het noorden, om Zijn volk te beschermen tegen tandartsen.
10. De Heere zal de tafelen der tandartsen opwerpen, en al hun geldtorens.
11. Ja, de Heere brak de kaak en nek van Dagva, de koning der tandartsen. Dagva is dood. Er is feest in de hemel, want de aanklager der broeders is gevallen.
12. En laten daarom alle profeten des Heeren zich uitstrekken naar de depressie des geestes, opdat zij beschermd zullen zijn tegen zulke geesten.
13. Ontvangt daarom de depressie des geestes, opdat gij niet onder de depressie der wereld komt.
14. En Jeremia nam het zwaard van Dagva om hem te onthoofden. Daarna sloeg hij in woede Dagva's hart, nieren en andere organen uit zijn lichaam, en zie, de hyenas des Heeren aten het.

4..

1. Dan in het rode kasteel is verdere bescherming en genezing, om aan de zombies der tandartsen te ontkomen. Ja, het vuur des Heeren is tegen hen.
2. Zo zult gij door het rode kasteel gaan, om de depressie des Heeren te ontmoeten. Zij zal zijn als de nachtwake over u.
3. En laten wij dan gaan tot de Jeremia woestijn. Zij zal ons leiden. Zijn Engel is over ons.
4. En zij zal ons bewapenen en voorbereiden tot de strijd. Ja, de depressie des Heeren neemt steden in.
5. Depressie is een mooie vrouw ... Ik heb haar in mijn armen genomen ... Zij is een jager, levende in de natuur, ver weg van de mensen ... Zij leeft met dieren Zij heeft een donkere huid ... De diepte van depressie is in haar haren ... Haar ideologieën zijn vreemd Haar theologieën zijn afwijkend

6. Hij gleed over borsten op het strand, die toen veranderden in doodskoppen. Vanuit het midden rees een roos, die de ark van Noach droeg. Maar toen bleek het een vogel te zijn die de ark van Noach droeg. Gevleugelde vrouwen zaten in de top van een boom. Zij kwamen van een ander land, een andere wereld, die hij niet kon bereiken.

7. Hij kon zijn mes laten gaan in de dikke huid van het beest wat hem blokkeerde, maar hij kon niet ontwaken. Het beest was een wachter die hij moest leren temmen en berijden. Het was een mengeling tussen een aap, een beer, een panter en een hond. Er was een groot ravijn waar hij niet overheen kon. Hij kon alleen maar dromen van de andere kant.

8. Apen schenen met gemak over het ravijn te kunnen door hun kunsten. Ze slingerden van boom tot boom. Maar hij was geen aap. Misschien als hij op de rug van zo'n aap kon zitten, dan zou het werken, maar de apen ontweken hem.

9. Zij was de koningin der apen, maar zij ontweek hem ook. Ze wilde niet met hem spreken.

10. Hij groef zich in in een groen weiland, en zijn bloem groeide over het ravijn. Zo klom hij naar de andere kant. Ze waren blij hem te zien daar. Ze kroonden hem met bloemen, en ze noemden hem : de bloemenkoning.

5.

Het Souvenir

1. Wij staan hier met het souvenir,

Wij staan hier met het souvenir,

Een dwergen-koning gaf het ons,

Het souvenir, nooit was het hier,

Het souvenir, zoveel dromen kruizen hier,

Het souvenir, nooit eerder kwamen wij hier

2. De dwergen-koning nodigde ons uit in zijn kasteel,

Oorlogen woeden hier,

Zijn staf was fier en luid,

Het souvenir, glom daar, en spruitte uit,

Het souvenir, dromen kruizen hier,

Het souvenir, bracht ons tezamen

3. De dwergen-koning nam ons toen op, en bracht ons naar zijn tuin,

Het souvenir volgde ons,

En kwam tot ons als een glanzende pruim,
Het souvenir, het souvenir

Het Souvenir II

4. Het dikke morgenlicht ligt in mijn hand,
De ochtenddauw glijdt over mijn voet,
Ik ben met jou,
Je stralend gezicht,
Je moederlijke mond,
Het morgenrood glijdt in de rivieren,
Jij hebt de hertenkrans,
Jij beweegt je staf door mijn haren,
En tekent dan in het zand,
Het souvenir, kleeft aan jouw hart,
En ook aan het mijne,
Heeft ons in dromen tezamen gebracht

5. Je toverstaf tekent een nieuwe boot,
Wij gaan dan over de wateren,
En het morgenrood gaat ons voor,
Als een waterdame,
Zij houdt het souvenir heel hoog,
Totdat de vogels voortkomen,
Die vleugels geven aan de boot,
Het souvenir, nooit zijn wij hier eerder geweest,
Het souvenir, hoog in de wolken,
En dan daalt zij neer met de zwanen,
En wanneer zij het water raakt,
Dan trillen alle snaren,
Het souvenir, waar dromen samenkomen,
Het souvenir, nooit zijn wij zo ver gekomen

6. En dan opent zich het water,
Een zeemeermin komt voort,
Met haar fluit brengt zij rust tot de wateren,
En zij leidt ons voort

7. Langs het water staan de dwergen,
Kijkende naar het geheim,
Waar de verloren prinses uit het water komt,
Het souvenir, waar dromen tezamen komen,
Het souvenir, heeft ons tot het verlorene geleid

8. De prinses opent haar mond, maar niemand hoort haar stem, Dan komt het souvenir, en geeft haar een stem,
En de toverstaf glom,
Het souvenir, het souvenir

De Orkaan

9. De prinses leidt ons naar het verloren kasteel, Verborgен onder de grond,
Zij laat ons zien de grote geheimen van het leven,
En staat daar met de sleutel

10. Plotseling staan er allemaal konijnen om haar heen, Zij kronen haar tot koningin,
En haar koning is de pruimenkoning,
Haar koning is de dromenkoning,
En dan doen zij hun klederen af,
En rennen in het bos,
Bedekkende zich met mos

11. Het zonlicht grijpt hen,

En het verblijdt hen,
Het maanlicht komt er aan,
En dan worden ze opgenomen door een orkaan,
En alles is stil, zo stil

Het Huis

12. Dan nemen zeemeerminnen ons mee, naar het diepste van de zee, Waar zeemannen op tronen regeren,
Waar zeejongens luid marcheren,
Zij hebben staarten als vissen,
Opgetooid met vurige vinnen,
Laten de strijd beginnen

13. Oorlogen woeden hier,
Het is niet veilig hier,
Waar kunnen wij vluchten als het geweld losbreekt,
Het schijnt overal te zijn,
De lucht is zo fel,
Zal de oceaan alles overspoelen

14. Dan worden wij weggetrokken, en opgesloten in kooien, Dan rollen wij plotseling van de daken,
En staan in de huizen,
Waar wij een nieuw leven kunnen beginnen.
Het huis wilde ons,
Riep onze naam,
Maar wij vluchten naar het kasteel,
Maar wij kunnen het niet vinden,
En eindigen weer in het huis,
Het huis zal ons niet verlaten

15. Het souvenir bracht ons hier,

Het huis spreekt tot ons,
Het huis troost ons,
Maar wij voelen ons gevangen

16. Wij kleuren rood als appels in dit huis,
Er is hier iets niet pluis

17. Gelukkig heeft het huis een tuin,
Daar mogen we ook zijn.
Het huis is in een stad,
Er is van alles wat

18. En de dromenkoning kijkt op ons neer,
En 's nachts geeft hij ons een ladder.
Waarmee wij even vluchten kunnen totdat de morgenstond ons terugneemt, terugneemt,
We kunnen niets beginnen, in de dieptes van de zee,
Oh zeemeermin, neem ons mee

19. In de diepte van de nacht, Waar het rode ons aanraakt,
Hebben wij haar stem gehoord

20. Langzaam worden wij opgewekt en volgen haar.
Zij brengt ons naar haar kasteel, waar haar moeder een traan laat.
Dan omhelst ze ons, en schudt de nachtmerrie uit ons weg.

21. Water komt voort uit haar staf, en veel lichten.

22. Een roosje in mijn hoofd is wat ik zie,
Een glimlach op jouw mond, een zonnestraaltje tussen jou en mij.

De Steen der Hyena's – Buiten-geschriften van het Eeuwig Evangelie II

Bilha

1. De Insectische Bijbel, De Papyrus van Izu, Het Insectische Dodenboek, De Versie van Brannan. Ova, zoon van alle zonen, grootvader van alle grootvaderen, oh prince van de eiken, heersende over de hoogtes van materos. U bent de zon die ons leidt tot de stad van ballonnen, waar onze harten kunnen oprijzen om weer te ademen. Oh, Ova, met uw gouden glimlach. Buig neer over de hoofden van Venus. Leidt ons door de doodsgebieden van dwergen. U kent al hun boeken. Laat ons tezamen komen, zodat wij u kunnen aanbidden, oh vader van alle vaders. Leidt ons allen tot Izu. Leer ons over de zeven glimlachen van de dood, en laat de Okus monsters hun longen openen. Oh, dat ze de ballonnen van de longen in de levers zullen opslaan. Laat de ballonnen van de levers oprijzen om de longen te openen, om de longen te vullen, en om de harten te openen. Oh, laat Osiris de zeven glimlachen van de dood berijden.
 2. Laat hem ons onderwijzen hoe letters te verwijderen van stenen van graven en sarcofagen. Leidt ons tot de tronen van as, waar we kunnen glimlachen met de glimlachen van de dood, om de griffioen te zien oprijzen, hij met de gouden glimlach.
 3. Oh open Salom, de harten van de longen, om de vleugels te verspreiden in de ribbels van tijgers, in de ballonnen hemelen.
 4. Opening van de vogelspin, het derde hart : Osiris, zoon van Ova, u weet waar de vogelspin ligt te slapen tussen de twee harten van de octopus, als het derde hart, het gouden hart, waar de gouden tepel oprijst [Oh Emelis Shatau].
- Groet Marazanta, onze zoon van harten, onze vader van waarheden.
- Laat hem de groene lichten doen oprijzen. Breng onze voortijdse sieraden terug tot de ruggegraat. Deze sieraden kregen wij van onze voorouders, terwijl de Heren van het kwaad hen wegnamen.
5. Breng ons weg van al het kwaad, en laat ons de rechtvaardige paden zien.
 6. Oh, Egypte, laat het Egypte in Izu zijn.
 7. Zoete Belcanov, standbeeld van voortijdse dagen, onze wachter, spreek deze woorden tot de heuvelen.
- Laat dat wat trots is vallen, en laat dat wat nederig is oprijzen. Onderwijs ons over de zeven manen. Amen.
- Oh, heilige Amen, zoon van Egypte, vader van Lakus, hef de oranje ballonnen en de geblokte ballonnen op.
- Onderwijs ons hoe harten samen te laten trekken om uw wil te doen, oh almachtige Krekel, liggende op het hart van Osiris.
- Oh, u, met de zeven armen, kom voorwaarts, hef ons weer op tot in het huis van Thoth.
- Laat ons niet verbranden, wanneer we staan voor de troon van de Almachtige Osiris, wanneer zijn rode ogen onze harten doorzoeken. Laat de zielenvogel oprijzen, laat onze zielen het licht grijpen van de voortijden voor hun tijden, om de voortijdse zielen te eren onder de zielen.
8. Laat ons niet klagen en vaststaan in de gebieden van de dood, maar laat ons afdalen in de bodem van de put, waar we de munt van Maria Magdalena kunnen vinden en haar heilige Sarsia Ziel.
 9. Laat de Sarsia Ziel ons terugleiden tot de Barbaarse tijden, om de vogels van het paradijs te bevrijden.

10. Laat hun zielen ons leiden voor de rest van onze dagen. Amen.

11. Papyrus van Ra-Izu. Wanneer u komt tot de heilige tempel van Amon, raak het blauwe goud aan op zijn hoofd, u die dood bent in deze weilanden voor zijn huis. Laat de schapen u leiden daar. Zijn heilige boeken zullen u leiden. Amen.

12. Laat Atu, de god van de bokken genadig zijn over u, die gaat over de rivieren van de dood. Drink van deze wateren om verbonden te worden met voortijdse zielen. U zult een geest in uw hart voelen. Het is de vogel van Ra-Izu.

13. Thoth zal uw voorhoofden verzegelen met zijn heilige wateren.

14. Wij zullen zorgdragen over uw ziel, dat de rook u niet doet afwijken.

15. Wij zullen u de ogen geven die u verdient, wanneer u uw ogen niet hebt misbruikt om de geesten van de dood te bespotten. Er zullen zeven oordelen komen op het oog, geleid door het zwaard van Thoth. Gezegend zijn zij die zullen overleven. Zeven oordelen op het oog door het zwaard van Thoth :

Eerste Oordeel : U zult deze woorden zeggen. Ik doop mijn oog in de heilige wateren brandende van vuur, om te zien of ik de geesten van de dood heb bespot. Als dat zo is, zal ik hun pijnen dragen in mijn eigen ogen, totdat ik gezuiverd ben door hun oordelen. Ik zal het zwaard van de vogelspin in mijn ogen ontvangen als een reiniging. Het zal me doorsteken totdat ik blind ben naar zondige daden. Het zal mijn ogen uittrekken wanneer het me laat afwijken. Leidt mij op de rechte paden door het oog van Thoth. In hem kunnen we gerechtigheid zien. Ik ben dankbaar naar uw oordelen, mij brengende tot de lichtkamer van Thoth, om de sieraden van de zeven doodskisten van zijn kandelaar te zien.

16. Tweede Oordeel : In twijfel kunnen wij u niet zien. Was ons. Laat zachtheid groeien in onze ogen, om geloof te geven tot onze broeders en zusters, liefde tot hen die ouder zijn en hen die jonger zijn, als onze spiegels, de armen van onze harten. Laat ons niet een van deze armen afbreken, want dan zullen de lichten van onze ogen wegvallen. Dan moet ik de duisternis eten, en glijden door het stof. Amen. Laat de zachtheid ons testen. Dit oog van Ra-Izu.

17. Het zal me wegeten. Het zal mijn oog wegeten, als ik zou zondigen in uw heilige aanwezigheid. Maak mij heilig.

18. Maak mijn voetstappen toegewijd, wetende dat ik op toegewijde grond ben.

Laat mij alle pilaren zien van Ra's huis, en laat mij zijn schriftgeleerde zien, Ra-Izu.

Laat Izu mij leiden tot de vallen, om te beslissen, welke weg ik zal gaan.

Laat mij de ogen van de dood zien, om de voortijdse zielen te adopteren van de toegewijde mier en mug.

19. Derde Oordeel :

Laat Ra-Anu voorwaarts komen, om het zwaard op onze ogen te leggen.

Dat het verzegeld mag worden door aandacht.

Dat het bruikbaar mag zijn, en geen kracht om te oordelen.

Het hart is een kracht om te oordelen, terwijl alleen het harten-oog van Thoth kan oprijzen om te oordelen.

In hem krijgen alle rechters hun ogen.

Laat hem die niet verbonden is aan Thoth geworpen worden in de diepste oceanen en de duisterste plaatsen, totdat hij het oog van Thoth vindt om goed te doen. Het oog moet gezuiverd worden als goud, zeventig maal zeven, totdat het de achtste dag bereikt.

Op de achtste dag staan de rechters, toegestaan om te oordelen. Leidt onze ogen tot in de achtste dag, om te oordelen of om te worden geoordeeld. Laat Ra beslissen, en wegende onze ogen, om te zien of het waardig is om er een zwaard doorheen te steken.

20. Vierde Oordeel : Laat Sarsia, de godin van tijden zien of uw oog is verbonden met de voorouders van hout. Als daar spot is naar een oudere, laat het zwaard het doorsteken, totdat het rein is. Als daar spot is naar een jongere, laat het oog verbrand worden en geef de as aan de vogels van de hemel. [en aan de wilde dieren van de aarde.]

Heilig is Sarsia. Als gij iemand oordeelt over klerene, vervloekt bent gij, want gij zult naakt zijn, en uw ogen zullen gegeten worden door krokodillen van de vierde dood.

21. Uw ziel zal rotten in uw lichaam, en zal u trekken tot de rivieren van vuil, waar u zal worden verworpen en bespot totdat u alleen zult leven door uw tranen. Als u iemand oordeelt over een beroep, vervloekt bent gij. Als u iemand oordeelt over ras, vervloekt bent gij. Uw oog zal rotten in uw lichaam, totdat gij de voortijdse goden hebt aanbeden van degene die u bespot hebt.

22. Als u deze bespotting doet met iemand anders om uw rug te versterken, dan bent gij dubbel vervloekt. Dan is het beter dat er een haak door uw oog gaat, zodat u voor zeven dagen hangt in de gebieden van de dood, waar de roofvogels eten van uw vlees.

23. Vijfde Oordeel : Door de veer van de godin Maat. Zij is de heerser van de hemelen, en zal u bekijken.

Zij zal de ogen van zelf-oordeel prijzen, en de ogen van hen die geven om de natuur en dieren. Als je een zwakke bespot, dan zul je zwakker worden. Als je een zieke bespot, dan zal je gezondheid worden als van die persoon. Wanneer je iemand bespot om diens ouders, vervloekt bent je, want je zult een wees zijn.

Maat zorgt voor de zachtmoedigen van hart, de tederen, en hen van een heilige woede.

24. Zesde Oordeel :

Als u spot neerschrijft op papier, dan bent u driemaal vervloekt.

U zal niet alleen uw oog verliezen wanneer gij zult verschijnen voor Osiris-Ra, maar u zal ook uw hand verliezen, en het zal vallen in de rivieren van de dood, waar de krokodillen van sekmeth het zullen eten.

25. Zevende Oordeel :

Gezegend zijn zij die kunnen komen door het Oordeel op het Oog zonder te vallen, wiens ruggen recht zijn, geleid door het blauwe licht.

26. Gezegend zijn zij wiens griffioen zielen geven om het zwakke en het zieke, om te zien hun gezondheid en kracht.

27. Gezegend zijn zij die reisten over de zeeën van zwakheid en ziekte om de waarheden en schatten van de kamers van Thoth's huis te vinden. Gezegend zijn zij die met de handen van Thoth schreven, terwijl de Benus-vogel op hun schouders zat, en de zeven heilige papagaaien van Ra. Amen. Hun ballonnen zullen de eeuwig steden bereiken, waar God al hun tranen zal afvegen. Daar waar zij kunnen drinken van de gouden bronnen van leven, en van de gouden ogen. Daar zullen zij de gouden hand van Thoth zien. Amen-Ra-Amen. Gezegend zijn zij die hun zielen laten zuiveren door het vuur. De Varia-Vogel zal u leiden om u de touwen tussen de touwen te laten zien. Amen-Thoth-Amen : Bezoekers van Amenti, die glijden door de laatste hal ... om de portalen van Materos te bezichtigen ... de hallen van de dood van dwergen. Gezegend zijn zij die binnen glijden, om te reizen langs en over de rivieren met de oranje ballen ... Gezegend zijn zij die de graven van dwergen bezichtigden ... gezegend zijn zij met een oog voor de kleine dingen ... vervloekt zijn zij die de kleine dingen verloochenen, want zij zullen weggeblazen worden wanneer Materos de heiligen naar binnen zuigt. Amen-Thoth-Amen.

28. De zeven hallen van Materos : Gij bezichtigde de dwergen, de gouden staren. Verbind u dan weer met de zielen van uw gnoom-zielen and hun voorouders. Eerste hal, Talgamen : Gebed om de verloren schepen te vinden. Ik kom tot u, Talgamen, gnoom-standbeeld, almachtige leprechaun van de voortijdse munten. Ik kom tot u, Talgamen-Thoth, heilige schriftgeleerde van Izu ebn de eerste hal van Materos. Schrijf mijn namen in uw boeken, en geef me van uw goddelijk voedsel, wanneer ik zal gaan over deze bruggen, wanneer ik zeil over deze zeeën ... Laat mijn schepen niet zinken, oh heilige Ra-Talgamen, laat me niet gegeten worden door haaien, maar hef mij hoog op, in uw ballonnen, om te zijn in Hoog Talgamen, ik neem vlucht. Verleen mij voedsel van uw griffioenen. Doe mij niet afwijken. Heb genade met me, ik ben een nederige soldaat. Alleen levende om uw dieren te redden, zoals zij mij redden. Wanneer u in mijn ziel binnenglijdt, zoek mijn verloren schepen, en breng ze in mijn hart terug, in mijn lever, longen en organen. Laat me weer vlucht nemen tot de eeuwige steden. Talgamen-Amen. Laat me niet vallen van hoge rotsen, wanneer ik uw mysteries binnenga. Laat uw warmtes mij leiden, en mij troosten, en laat uw vogels mij niet wegnemen om me te verbranden. Laat mij schrijven op uw juwelen, mijn liefde voor u. Laat mij uw schriftgeleerde zijn, in de naam van Thoth-Amen.

29. Tweede hal, Lokogamen : Is dit de weg naar Belcanov, oh Almachtige Lokogamen. Ik buig neer in het prijen, zonder dat ik mijn lippen laat stromen. Want het is gerechtigheid wat u wilt zien. Laat mijn woorden niet leeg zijn, muur gevuld met daden. Laat mijn woorden stromen, gevuld met vuur, als ballonnen in uw hemelen. Laat mij uw wolkschepen en arendschepen zien, en de vogels die daar werken. Zitten uw volgels hoog ? Ik kom tot uw almachtige tronen, om uw graven en doodskisten te bezichtigen, om offers te brengen tot uw urnen, als woorden tot de voorouders, laat hen echo's zijn om hen te warmen, totdat zij terug zijn. Laat hen oprijzen van de diepste oceanen, al deze verloren zielen, waardig om verbonden te worden met ons, als deel van het sieraad. Oh, heilige, van gouden baarden. Geef uw dienstknechten hun baarden terug om dieper door te dringen in de hallen van Amenti en de hallen van Materos. Ik ben de uwe.

30. Derde hal, Belcanov : Waar de heilige standbeelden staan. Waar ons verstand weer dicht kan zijn, om uit te reiken naar het koude geweten, om te leven voor de armen. Om te delen alle rijkdommen, ook tot de gebieden van de dood. Laat me dieper glijden, en bescherm mij tegen de vlammen van de Osiris Troon. Laat de slangen in mij ontwaken, om de laatste beslissingen te doen. Belcanov, laat mijn ziel glijden, tot in uw ziel, waar de warmte trilt. Laat me degenen die bang zijn deep in mijn hart nemen. Want u bent dichtbij de depressieven en zij die God vrezen, hebbende een groen hart pompende van binnen. Belcanov, zegen uw schriftgeleerde Anu, en uw oorlogsvoerder Thoth-Izu. Laat de zeven geesten van Osiris over mijn ziel waken, mij een nieuwe geest geven.

31. Vierde hal, Elsefic : Gezang tot Elsefic. Glorie aan Elsefic, die ons zacht voedsel gaf. Wateren komende van de rotsen, terwijl je de staf had van de zeven zonnen. Baals waren je vrienden, de ezels. Je leidde hen veilig door de straten, terwijl je hen vanille gaf om hoger op te rijzen en om te vliegen op vlinder-vleugels. Je gaf sieraden op hun harten. Je doorbrak hun oranje ballen om hen hoger te brengen. Je leidde je kinderen met een gestreepte staf. Je hoornen spraken donder op hoge heuvelen, waar de fenixen vlucht namen. Osiris-Elsefic, geprezen ben je, mijn Heer. Verberg mij in uw zeven oordelen, wanneer u uw schalen van toorn uitgiet. Geef me donder om te toornen met u, en laat mijn hart niet zwak zijn. Laat me geen lafaard zijn wanneer u mij nodig hebt om te spreken. Laat uw lampen mij leiden binnenin, om de diepere duisternissen aan te raken, waar u verborgen bent. Laat mij zijn waar u bent, oh Elsefic-Osiris, en laat mij de zeven Ra's van uw geest zien, uw paden naar de zonnen. Bezichtig mijn manen, en weeg hen voor uw tronen, en spreek toegewijde woorden om hen te testen. Amen-Ra-Amen. Elsefic, zie de sieraden, en weeg hen voor uw tronen. Laat geen onwaardig voedsel mij vergiftigen in de afgronden van uw straten. Laat mijn paden heilig zijn om te eten van uw geblokte goddelijke voedsel.

32. Vijfde hal, Amenti-Ra : Drink me en weeg me, meet me in uw diepste grotten, om me toegang te geven tot de vruchtbare gronden onder de putten. Vernietig mijn spiegel, en geef me de uwe. Amenti-Ra, verzegel mijn harten, ook de harten van mijn lever, om op te slaan de schatten die u mij gaf. Ik koester hen, al deze harten, en de goddelijke groenten. Laat uw Elsefic oprijzen op de zesde dag, om de ballonnen van de voortijdse dagen te bezichtigen. Laat me de vergeten dagen stelen uit de hallen van de heren van het kwaad. Laat me een exorcist wezen en een heilige dief, om de schatten en zielen terug te brengen tot uw tempels. Daar, waar de tijgers brullen. Amen-Talgamen-Amen. U bent de heilige Amen van de zesde ziel van Amen-Ra en Talgamen-Benu. Uw vogels zullen uw geesten laten zweven. De Ka's van uw Ra zullen u leiden door natte visioenen. Terwijl de dromen van de Ba u zullen leiden door de nacht. U bezichtigt de gouden zonnen. Wij zijn heilige piraten, in deze hal van Amenti-Ra. Laat mij de ribbels van uw tijgers zien, de sappen van uw heilige dranken. Laat mij zien hoe ze heilig te gebruiken, leidende door goddelijke stappen. Oh, hallen van Amenti-Ra, in de vijfde hal van Materos, rijst op hoog. Laat me de waardige boeken zien in het diepste van de nacht. Laat ons glijden in de dranken tussen de dranken. Breng de heilige slangen van de levers naar de longen, herstel de vliezen van het hart, verenigd, om woorden te spreken van eenheid, als een zwaard om de duisternis te veranderen. Breng me de zwaarden van Osiris-Shesmu, en die van Osiris Sebqa, want de mond van de krokodil is wijd open. Bouw mijn boten om te komen over de gevaarlijke zeeën van Sonder Zon.

33. Zesde hall, Sonder Zon : Zij is de koningin van mijn hart. Zij is de dame van de altaren, hoog oprijzende in Izu. Ballonnen buigen, terwijl haar natte strepen plaats nemen. Wij aanbidden u, Dame van de Sonder Zon. Niet in ijdele woorden, maar in daden en gerechtigheid. Het is gevuld door een toorn, toornend totdat je thuis bent. Wij zijn uw dienstknechten in deze zesde hall van Materos, na Amenti. U bent Materos-Amenti-Ra, spiegelende in de hemel. U bent de ribbelende tijger, die de touwen tussen de touwen strak maakt.

34. Zevende hall, Eminius Vuur : U bent het hart van Amenti en Ra, het hart van Sonder, waar de octopus verblijft. U hebt uw eenhoorn gezonden om ons te doen ontwaken in deze dag. Breng ons tot de gouden vliezen, om te drinken van de goddelijke thee. Laat ons verstand wegsmelten, als koud geweten uw verlangen is. Breng ons tot leven en dood, ribbelende als de verboden vrucht. Wees onze Adam en onze Eva, onze slang en onze God. Verhef de hallen van Amenti. Bereid ons voor op de reizen over de zeeën en rivieren van vuur, om de draken van uw hart te ontmoeten, de octopus van uw verlangen. Doof onze ofionen [octopus-haaien] niet uit, maar reinig hen als goud. Amenti-Thoth, open uw kamers voor ons, in Eminius Vuur. Laat ons de manden zien van uw slangen, de geblokten en de gepoederden, en al die in vuur zijn. Geef ons de sleutel om donder-vuur te openen, de Eminius-Shesmu. Dien uw Heere, Eminius-Ra, die leeft in de zon. Geef hem van het goddelijke voedsel ; Bezichtig zijn sieraden wanneer zij sterven. Kom met zijn urnen tot de vlammen van Osiris, om uw ogen en harten te testen, op de handen. Sta op zijn voetstappen, en bezichtig uzelf stervende om tot leven te komen op de derde en de vijfde dag. Bezichtig Eminius Horus, om zijn publieken welgevallig te zien, de goddelijke toehoorders. In dit kunt u de test doorstaan om tot de heilige Amenti-Ra-Eminius suite te komen. De geblokte oranje suite om de goddelijke Eminius Lions en de wilde katten van de voortijden te ontmoeten. Amen-Talgamen-Amen.

35. Ritueel en sacramenten om de deur van Eminius-Amenti achter je te sluiten : Heren van Amenti verenigt u. Laat mij het zout op de grond zijn, zodat niemand dit goddelijke vuur van Amenti-Toth kan stelen. Het brandt eens en dan vertrekt het voet altijd, totdat je zelf voor altijd ermee vertrekt. Oh, heilige Heere en Poortwachter van Amenti's Staf. Redt uw zoon, Lucifer, van de wraak van de oude Hebreeuws-Babylonische gevallen die de Hallen van Amenti en Materos niet wilde doorboren. Laat hem branden in het Vuur van Eminijs. Goddelijke Amenti Leeuwen van Amenti-Lucifer, gij zijt vrij. Zondig niet. Uw harten zullen gereinigd worden door de pure vlammen en de zwavel van Eminijs-Sarsia en haar hartenziel Amenti-Sarsia. Ra-Amenti zal achter u staan.

Eminijs-Lucifer, gij zijt vrij nu, u en uw leeuwen. Zondig niet. Uw harten zullen gezuiverd worden door de pure vlammen en het zwavel van Marion-Eminijs zwaarden. Eminijs, wees gesloten. Het zwaard en het altaar van Eminijs is nu in de handen van Eminijs-Sekmeth.

36. Ritueel en gebed om niet te worden gegeten door de krokodillen van Eminijs-Luca : Hef me op vader, maak mijn hart rein, laat uw heilige krekels mijn ogen bedekken. Laat me de doden niet oordelen, laat hen mij niet oordelen. Breng me uit deze duistere passage en leidt me in uw cirkel, waar ik kan eten van de zonne-schotels. Geef me een helm gebracht door uw arenden om een licht in deze diepe duisternis te hebben. Laat me vertrouwen op cyclussen en cirkels, en ook op de symbolen van uw panthers in de tempel van acht. Laat me ontsnappen tot een nieuwe week. De week van uw gouden broden. Laat mij mijn eigen altaren hebben, om mijzelf te offeren in plaats van anderen. Wanneer ik sta voor de altaren van uw gouden broden, bedek mijn ogen dan door uw bristal brivals, om uw gouden neon lichten te hebben. Leidt mij in uw kamers, oh vader, om te zien de doodskisten onder de doodskisten, om uw heilige vlinders aan te raken. Maak me dronken, leidt de boot over uw rivier, en bind de hoofden van krokodillen. Laat hen mijn voeten niet eten. Bedek dezen door vlinders. Laat hen mijn benen niet eten. Bedek hen door de schilden van schildpadden. Laat de harten-eters mijn hart niet eten, maar laat de benu-vogel, uw benu-vogel, mij binnenleiden in uw grotten. Maak mij dun genoeg om binnen te gaan. Laat mij de lijnen tussen de lijnen ontdekken .. Om hen te doen buigen in zonne-lichten. Laat mij de hallen zien van de elven van de dood. Teken deze cirkels op de muren. Aton-Amen-Aton. Laat me binnen, dode man, laat me binnen, om me uw graven to laten bezichtigen. Leidt mij naar uw doodskisten, om het sieraad van de dood te zien. Laat mij drinken van uw urnen, om het heilige water aan te raken. Stromende van de dood, in uw kamers verlang ik te zijn.

37. Laat Belcanov-Aton mij binnenleiden, mij leidende door het rode licht. Ik wil hier niet stoppen, want krokodillen zijn achter me, die mijn ziel willen eten. Ik zie uw huis als een doorweg, tot het huis van de doodskisten der elven. Oh, oranje mannen, oh zwarte mannen, oh harde mannen, bewakers van de graven der elven, maak me hard genoeg om binnen te gaan, zacht genoeg om door muren te wandelen. Laat me uw waterlichten volgen, om een van hen te zijn ... Ik zal de lijnen tussen de lijnen aanbidden, en ook die beneden en achter, om een van hen te worden, altijd dunner. Ik zal een dunnere man zijn, oh hardere man. Laat me binnen.

38. Je kunt niet binnengaan.

39. Waarom niet ?

40. Je moet eerst teruggaan naar Belcanov, om zijn zessenzeestig doodskisten te bereiken. Dan zul je hard genoeg zijn om een hardere man te zijn.

41. Ik ben nu een hardere man, kan ik binnengaan ?

42. Nee, je kunt niet binnengaan.

43. De publieken en toehoorders accepteren je niet. Je moet eerst een zachtere man zijn, als je bent teruggekeerd tot Elsefic. Je moet eerst duiken in zijn zessenzeestig doodskisten, zevenenzeventig graven en achtentachtig steden.

44. Zessenzeestig, zevenenzeventig, achtentachtig. Kan ik nu binnengaan ?

45. Ja, je kan, want je bent een dunnere, zachtere en hardere man.

46. Gezangen van Ova ; Osiris-Ra, ik ridder u in de orde van de Varia-vogels, de zielen van Izu-indianen. Geprezen zal Osiris zijn, die troont in de hallen van Amenti. Geprezen zal Toth zijn, wiens huis gebouwd is op de doodspilaren van elven. Osiris-Ra, the duistere en zwarte elven zullen voortgezonden worden vanuit uw borst. Oh, Osiris-Ra, vrees niet wanneer u wandelt door de tempelen van materos. Zij zullen u dieper inwijden, laat de steken u leiden. Osiris-Ra, zoon van Ova, god van eiken. Wij brengen in u de Atu, de god van bokken. Leidt hen over de heuvelen tot eeuwig geluk. U heeft de staf ervoor. Osiris-Ra, u zal de volgende gloei-ervaringen en verlichtingen hebben, terwijl u de paden van heilige voorouders volgt. U zal hun goden adopteren. U zal komen achter goed en kwaad. U zal komen achter winnen en verliezen. Wanneer u een geloof heeft gecreeerd voor de eerste keer, dan zal het u wurgen. En de tegenstander van dat geloof zal u redden. Dan zult gij een tweede geloof creëren, wat u zal wurgen, en weer zal de tegenstander van dat geloof u redden. Dan zult gij een derde geloof creëren en hetzelfde zal gebeuren, wat u zal doen opstijgen boven goed en kwaad. Daar zult hij de pilaar vinden van de parse mug, een meest belangrijke pilaar van het huis van Thoth.

47. Het huis van Thoth gebouwd op zeven pilaren, de hallen van de dode elven, Avani : Welkom tot de hallen van Avani, de onderwereld van elven, waar de elven goden van de dood wonen om de doden te oordelen. Wees in vrees wanneer je hebt gezondigd, want zij hebben geen genade. Zij doorsteken harten, longen en organen. Er is geen genade, alleen reinigende rituelen. Er is geen vergiffenis, alleen zelf-offering totdat de prijs is betaald. U moet werken en veranderen in hun kokonnen, anders zult u verdoemd worden tot vernietiging in vuur-zwavel-zout-zuur. In de hallen van de dood, spreekt de opper Ova van leven en dood, de soevereine prins van oordeel en verdoemenis in Khert-Neter, dat je een gloei-ervaring kan hebben als Osiris-Ra om de misleidingen van de goden en opperwezens te zien, en de lagere wezens met hun geesten. U kunt wonen in dominatie als je de reis zult maken door Avani. Alleen dan zult u vrijgezet worden van deze misleidingen. De rest zal wegzinken en verdrinken.

48. Gebed en ritueel om niet te verdrinken in de wateren van Avani : Gevaarlijke sirenen leven in de wateren van Avani, die mannen en vrouwen verdrinken, kinderen en dieren. Vecht tegen sexuele begeertes in deze gebieden. Bevredig uzelf niet met luxe. Eet niet teveel vruchten. En wanneer u beslist om vruchten te eten, mix hen met aardappelen en uien. Draag geen sokken in uw schoenen. Snij uw baard niet te vaak af, en vrouwen, scheer niet. Vrouwen, reik uit tot de wateren van Sheri, uw wachter in de wateren van Avani. Roep haar aan door kaarslicht. Spreek haar naam in de vlam. Draag gescheurde kleren en bedek uw hoofd. Spreek deze woorden : Qebh, hemelse wateren, laat me van u drinken, en schijn uw vier lichten in mijn Ka [geest]. Qebh, hemelse wateren, breng mij tot Khert-Neter in Ra-Izu, tot in zijn longen, waar ik het gouden hart kan ontvangen, de gouden tepel [Op de Emelis Shatau]. Ik buig tot Ra en zijn Bennu-vogel, zijn harten-ziel. Plant mij in de straten en hemelen van Khert-Neter [de ballonnen], waar mijn Akh kan opstijgen [gloeïende harten-ziel]. Qebh, hemelse wateren, sluit gouden deuren achter mij, en vernietig mijn vijanden, de sirenen. Amen-Ra-Thoth-Amen. Qebh, gij hebt de gouden sleutels.

49. Gebeden, sacramenten, gezangen en rituelen om een inwoner te worden in Khert-Neter : Oh, stad van de dood, neem me binnen, geef me een huis en goddelijk voedsel. Breng de vier vuren naar mijn Ka, en laat mij wonen in mijn Akh. Osiris-Izu, leidt mij tot uw eilanden, om mij de pilaren van Thoth's huis te laten zijn. Geef mij de tweeling-Akh, en de tweeling-leeuw hartenzielen. Ik ben Horus-Ra, ik zondig niet. Ik heb de goden van mijn stad niet bespot. Ik spreek rechtvaardige woorden. Ik heb niet met mijn mond gezondigd, ik ben Horus-Ra. Geef mij een dubbele harten-ziel in mijn lever, want ik ga het Anu-huis van Khert-Neter binnen, waar de oude goden leven [en de Oude van Dagen]. Geef mij de tweeling-tijger hartenzielen, en open mijn mond in Khert-Neter. Sta mij toe te spreken en stil te wezen, te fluisteren en luid te spreken. Amen. Sta mij toe mijzelf te bewegen. Sta mij toe te ademen. Door het meer van bloemen, geef mij toegang tot Sekhet-Hetepu

[velden van vrede] en de Sekhet-Aanru, om het Mijnwoud erachter te bereiken, waar de oude kinderen wonen, en het huis van Thoth. Breng mij tot Khert-Neter in het Ra-voedsel, en tot Khert-Neter in het Mijnwoud. Sluit de gouden deuren achter mij, oh gouden Qebh, en geef mij de tweeling-krokodil hartenzielen, vanwaar de Benu-vogels kunnen opstijgen. Geef mij de miljoenen-gearmde hartenziel in mijn gouden hart, en geef mij de miljoenen-geharte zon in mijn scarabee [kevervormig hartenschild]. Amen, geef mij toegang tot Elefic-Khert-Neter.

50. Eerste hal van Avani : Prometheis-Amy. Tweede hal van Avani : Prometeus-Emily. Derde hal van Avani : Pilaar van de paarse mug. Vierde hal van Avani : het ei van Kenken-Ur [bewaakt door Eric Zwarzenei]. Vijfde hal van Avani : het ei van de tijger. Zesde hal van Avani : Emini-Marazanta. Zevende hal van Avani : Emini-Amen.

II Bilha

1.

1. Puchalini, betoverde bananen ; Jongens van Lynx ; het land achter luilekkerland. U moet vechten voor het geld, en dan kunt u zaken doen. Het is negen uur, het is spoedig bedtijd.

2. U hebt genoeg geld om een brief te schrijven, en morgen hoeft u niet naar school.

3. Al deze vruchten waren maar verhalen van de opening van de spiegel, deze zwarte vrucht leidende u naar de wereld van dwergen. [b. Het opscheppen van de belasting brangt het grote publiek naar u toe, nu is het haar beurt op het schaakbord.]

4. Het getal is in de vlam, terwijl ademende in deze spiegels. [b. Het is de zilveren slag zeggen ze, je moet diep slikken om de gouden schoenen te bereiken.]

5. De kikker heeft wat films. Hij is een travestiet. De kikker heeft wat oude kastelen. [b. Ik adem diep, en de munten rollen.]

6. Ik verzamelde hen door naar de strijdvelden te gaan in de woestijnen. [b. waar de pick pock familie nog steeds steelt.]

7. Oh, sieraad, u hief de lijmen hoog op. [b. We zijn nu in hoog materos.]

8. De kikker is uw friend. [b. Hij spuugt zand nu.]

[9. Deze zeeën van bloemen zijn mijn zonnebrillen die me blind maken voor wat er gaande is. Het kan me niet schelen wat gaande is, want het is maar een verhaal. De kikkers brengen deze bloemen. Zij zijn de meesters van de vijvers, al deze spiegels die opengaan, totdat u niet meer hoeft te slikken. Het is het land achter luilekkerland.]

2.

1. Strakke omhelzing ; Het chocolade front is open, de liefdadigheid was slechts een leugen. [b. Het steeg op vanuit het boek der leugens, lerende hoe je moet ganneren. Om je eigen wijnen te spinnen. Steeds deze zeilen op de ruggen van haaien, brengende je naar je eigen rios.]

2. Het spint, het is de meester aanraking, om je verslaafd te houden aan iemand die je niet bent, en je bent gescheiden om jezelf te trouwen. [b. de bruine spiegel bracht je daar, door op oude chocolade te kloppen.]

3. En nu wordt je kouder door de zwarte scheiding, vallende in een blauwe zee, waar voortijdse en mythische vissen opstijgen. [b. deze banaan was betoverd, en nu staar je naar de geblokte lepel ervan.]

4. In de hand van de prins. He verliest het. [b. Liefdadigheid, de andere leugen van de zwarte roos, terwijl je duikt door deze wereld van spiegels, naar de oorspronkelijke slag, je hebt deze klokken niet nodig om voor niets te wachten.]

5. Je zinkt gewoon naar het land achter luilekkerland, waar zeeën van bloemen je zo gek maken, drie bleke paarse bloemen kreeg je. [b. En nu ben je hier aan het einde van de dag, staande in paarse sneeuw, je bent gek nu, denkende dat je eerst normaal was.]
6. Dit is waar alle vijvers naartoe leiden, je viel in deze zeeën, met al deze vreemde parfums, je bent niet hongerig meer, en wat is deze stank, heb je dat ooit eerder geroken. [b. De dames van de zijanten van schaak, zij rennen zo hard naar jou in kleuren van rood, wit, zwart en blauw.]
7. Terwijl groene massas overleven. [b. je brengende naar hoog materos.]
8. En je ziet de geblokte kikkers zwemmen als walvissen, als glitterschepen, zij zijn de meesters van de vijver, zij betoverden de gouden schepen in bananen. [b. dit is de wereld van de blinden, je hoeft niet te rennen, er zijn geen films meer.]
9. Er spreekt hier niets meer, alleen sommige stripbladen, en dat is genoeg. [b. de vuren die hoeven niet meer te branden, alles is bevroren hier, terwijl kikkers zo flexibel zwemmen.]
10. Ik vraag me af hoe ze zo vrij kunnen zijn, ze zijn blind, uitreikende naar nieuwe kusten, in deze zeeën van bloemen met juwelen. [b. Geblokte slangen op de zijanten van schaak, opstijgende als ballonnen, terwijl alles kleiner wordt, totdat de soldaten vallen, zij buigen in december's hemelen.]
- [11. Ik wil niet in liefdadigheid zijn. Ik wil niet gered worden. Ik heb uw verhalen niet nodig, en uw films ook niet, ik heb uw zwanenmeren niet nodig, en uw Jezussen, ik heb uw verhaardagscakes niet nodig, laat me alleen zijn, oh laat mij zijn, met de jongens van lynx.]
- [12. Je had normale hemelen, maar nu zijn we op hoog materos, de hemelen harkende, kijkende naar onze schaakborden.]
- [13. Kalmeer, prins. Uw moeder harkte u, en nu stijgt je op als een ballon. Ik schudde altijd uw beide handen, dus kalmeer, mijn prins, kalmeer.]
- [14. U was een moeder's sieraad op een zoetige cake. Kalmeer, mijn prins, kalmeer.]

3.

1. Waar liefde eindigt ; Eindelijk waar liefde eindigt, daar staat een oranje ballon [b. brengende u in hoog materos.]
2. Waar de zonsondergang oprijst, deze jongens van lynx leiden nog steeds de blinden. [b. ik heb uw films niet nodig. Ik ben liever blind, hebbende mijn eigen lusten van binnen, met deze jongens van lynx.]
3. Zij hebben nog steeds hun strakke ringen. [b. Deze jongens van lynx, deze criminelen van binnen, zo verkeerd beoordeeld door anderen, zo verkeerd beoordeeld, terwijl anderen hun spiegels gebruiken, laat mij de jongens van lynx gebruiken.]
4. Niemand praat hier, alleen wat stripbladen. [b. terwijl schaakborden mompelen.]
5. Terwijl dames van de zijanten van schaak, zij fluisteren, verzachtende de broeken en de bloemen in de nacht, wij zijn in duister materos, heffende de zonsondergang op, terwijl dieper wegzinkende in de hemelen. [b. uw ballonnen waren strakke ringen, zij komen van de zeeën van koud geweten, deze jongens van lynx, deze criminelen van binnen, deze piratenschepen, makende mij blind.]
6. En nu drink ik strakke sappen, komende van de flessen van schaak, terwijl geblokte slangen het siroop laten zinken. [tot in een andere ruimte.]
7. Waar liefde eindigt, de ringen zo strak, komende van de randen van een schaakbord. [b. u begreep het nooit, deze luie katten kun je niet verbergen, we zijn nu in zacht materos, van binnen, in hoge hemelen.]
8. Vaarwel, zomer hemelen, ik raak nu december's zon aan, met al deze dames van de zijanten van schaak, heffende hun flessen op in slow motion om snelle aanvallen te doen, ik ben luid aan het lezen in deze oorlogs-boeken, terwijl u fluistert, malende mijn ringen zo strak, ik ben in hoog materos, vannacht. [b. alstublieft sluit mij op in uw geblokte kelders.]

9. Ik wil de films aan beide kanten zien. Het maakt me blind.

10. Gouden piraten schip ; deze betoverde rechte blauwe bananen, deze voortijdse mythische vissen, maken me blind, maken me doof [b. om de mooiste muziek te horen, oh piraten schip, roer me aan, roer me aan.]

11. Houd je plaatjes van vrees niet bij je. [b. maar probeer het sprookje binnenin te vinden, door dit kleine licht, van de jongens van lynx, met hun zo strakke ringen, deze ringen zijn geblokt, ze lijken op moeder's lippen.]

12. Ik zag het schilderij. [b. door ons blind te maken, laten ze ons de mooiste schilderijen van binnen zien.]

13. Deze jongens van lynx, deze criminelen van binnen.

14. Dit zijn zeeën binnenin zeeën, terwijl jongens van lynx de machines van herten in hun zakken hebben, dit zijn sieraden binnenin sieraden, dit zijn jongens van lynx. [b. ik val flauw terwijl ik hun roze sieraden zie, een epilepsie jongen is wat het zegt.]

[15. Deze monsters van steen, verspreidende hun lusten, waar tranen munten zijn, en waar de zachtheid hun vuur is, het land achter luilekkerland.]

4.

1. Snaren van stereo ; Zij kennen de snaren van stereo, zij kennen de snaren om de tranen te bewegen. [b. dit land achter de vla, luister naar de travestiet, deze tovenaars herten.]

2. Oude kikkers zitten achter de chocolade, met lippen van pepermunt glimachen ze. [b. en nu is daar een gouden piraten schip in blinde zeeën.]

3. Oude kikkers zitten, met herten in hun zakken, hoog opheffende de vlaggen van zaken. [b. het komt van oude zakken, grootvader die zijn geblokte slangen hoog opheft.]

4. Op snaren van stereo zit ik. [b. de gehandicapte jongens maken goede bewegingen, zo'n autistisch uitzicht, de zilveren slag maakte ons doof, en nu horen we de magische muziekdozen van binnen.]

5. De kloppende herten van tovenaars, deze bananen herten, zij maken gouden grappen op gouden piratenschepen, terwijl zilver de liederen van stilte verspreid. [b. deze plastic golven met krokodillen laarzen.]

6. Ik bekijk de sterren van de travestiet, geblokte boeken in oude flessen, uitreikende naar de hemelen van Mozart. [b. ik bekijk de gehandicapte en autistische sterren, de sterren van dementia die ons hier brengen, op de vleugelen van misverstand vonden we onze ware vrienden, door ongelukken en fouten.]

7. Zij hebben vriendelijke vissen die hen door ontzagwekkende gebieden leiden. [b. veranderende zo wild in de nacht, zo wild, deze wilde starren in roze lusten, geschenken van pony.]

8. Begrijp me niet verkeerd in deze slow-motion. [b. want uw auto's kunnen botsen, om de stad te bereiken, van de zilveren zeilen.]

9. Durf je te verbergen, wanneer hij de show bekijkt, hij, de oude travestiet. [b. dit plastic hout zou goed zijn om een pak te zijn.]

10. Het hout is zacht in marsepein land. [b. maar dit is de wereld achter luilekkerland.]

11. Als munten slaven zijn, dan waarom betaal ik. [b. ik moet de vogels van sigaret vrijzetten, en de gouden sigaren aanraken.]

12. Van hoeveel boeken van leugens vertelde je, mijn schaduwen sloten mij op in oorlogsboeken, jij maakte hen, terwijl je mij zonnemelk te drinken gaf. [b. van pijp's complot, als bevroren soldaten

marcheren zij naar hun bestemmingen.]

13. Met chinese lantaarns, met wilde werelden binnenin, wilde lichten, dit zijn bakkerman's gezichten. [b. met zoveel tepels erop, terwijl sommigen zeggen dat ze vreemde huidziektes hebben, tepelhoofden zij marcheren.]

14. Door chinese lantaarns, zo wild, aangeraakt door thrillers, komen ze tot leven binnenin. [b. maar dit is het land achter luilekkerland, zij doen bewegingen zo gek, terwijl tovenaars-harten op een schotel liggen, kloppende terwijl je je zo vreemd voelt van binnen, shaduwen op de muur.]

[15. Deze munten zijn slaven en geofferd door religie, wanneer ze blind en doof worden, wild en gehandicapped op de vleugels van een autistisch kind met de vleugels van dementia, zij kunnen uitreiken tot de distels en de brandnetels om weer vrij te komen.]

[16. Door strakke ringen, ben ik nu een schaakbord soldaat. Hier is het okay om te vechten, want niemand wint echt, en niemand verliest echt, wij voelen allemaal de pijn, van een nieuwe wereld die komt.]

[17. Het opent de wereld achter de schaakborden, vreemd verkeer, in vreemde boeken, deze soldaten marcheren, door koud materos, om de randen van de schaakborden te zien, waar vreemde appels groeien, oh laat ons hen eten, zij maken onze harten zo strak.]

[18. Vader drinkt de oude sappen, he ziet de soldaten niet bewegen naar een ander schaakbord, terwijl speelkaarten zweven, anderen uitnodigen tot de grand begeerte, deze wereld achter schaak.]

[19. Spelende op bakerman's harten terwijl vreemde poeders zich verspreiden, deze wereld bedekkende met sneeuw, lapoendria glimlachen, het is een vreemde drum, en al uw jassen zijn anders nu, geblokt, marcherende naar de wereld achter schaak.]

[20. Het is fokkende elven, die lang groeien onder de helm van Bekehelm.]

III Bilha

1.

1. De Slavenketting ; Weerhyena. De mensen om me heen zijn niets anders dan de tralies van haar kooien. Ik was in haar duistere hut. Ik zag haar boog hangen, versierd met veren. Het leek op een feest. Ja, haar hut leek op een feest-tent. Ik zag haar niet, maar het leek alsof ik haar rook. Ik was bang. Ik kon me bijna niet bewegen. Ik probeerde een uitgang te vinden, maar plotseling stond ze in een deuropening. Of was dat maar de schaduw van iets ? Ik ging door de deuropening en kwam in een stoffige kamer waar een olielamp stond, witte kap. Het was alsof ik de warmte van haar lichaam kon voelen.

2. Het was alsof ze me riep. Maar mijn oren hoorden niets. Er lag een schelp, een grote schelp, en ik bracht het tot mijn oren om de zee te horen ruizen. Maar ik hoorde niets. Het was alsof ik haar hoorde fluisteren. Ik kwam dichterbij, en het was alsof de warmte van haar lichaam zich opbouwde. Het was alsof ik haar zag. Ze was prachtig, met dunne riempjes, als de oorlogsgodin. Ze had een boog, en dolken, en allerlei gerei wat je van een slavenjager kon verwachten. Veel touw. Plotseling greep ze mij met haar lasso. Maar het was maar een verbeelding.

3. Ze kende geen liefde. Alles was haat. Waarom zocht ik haar eigenlijk ? Ik wilde eruit, ontsnappen. Zij hield mij hier vast sinds mijn geboorte. Zij had mij gebroken. Alleen maar haat. Ik voelde mij koud. Het was niet echt. Het was altijd alsof ik in de handen was van een spook. De wind gierde. Ik wilde het geheim van de wind kennen. Had zij de wind gemaakt, of was zij de wind zelf ? Ik verlangde naar haar. Maar ze was weg. Ik was hier alleen in haar hut.

4. Was ze overleden ? Of was ze op jacht, en zou ze later terugkomen. Ze deed mij herinneren aan een boek. Ik fantaseerde over haar, maar het leek te worden stukgeslagen door de bittere, diep snijdende, pijnlijke eenzaamheid. Het was alsof ik bloedde. Zou ze bloeddorstig zijn ? Ik had toch het idee alsof ze daar stond, als een bloeddorstige hyena vrouw. Ik kon haar bek zien, waar bloed uitdroop, mijn bloed. Ik was bang. Ik voelde me zwak, hulpeloos. Duistere herinneringen van een ver verleden overvielen mij. Deze vrouw had mij uitgemergeld, uitgebeend, alles van me afgenomen. Waarom wilde ik haar ? Ik had het idee dat zij de godin was, de moeder van de wildernis, van de jachtvelden. Ze was een slavenmeesteres, een slavenjaagster. Ik wilde aan haar voeten neerknielen, om haar te smeken om mij te helpen, om mij uit deze doodse strijd te helpen, maar misschien was zij wel genadeloos, en zou ze me uitlachen.

5. Dat zou ik niet kunnen verdragen. Maar zij moest ergens de sleutel hebben. Of zou ik de strijd met haar moeten aangaan ? Ze zou me uitlachen. Ze was veel steviger dan ik. Ik was zwak vergeleken met haar, en dun. Ze zou mij misschien kunnen breken. Ik was haar kind.

6. Maar dat doe je je kind toch niet aan ? Zij wel. Mijn leven was een hel door haar. Misschien was zij de hel zelf. Haar hyena ogen leken mij aan te staren. Het was alsof ik naar een oud schilderij staarde. Het hing daar ergens in de hut. Maar toen de wind er overheen ging was het weer weg. En toen was het weer terug, als door een waas. Het leek te spiegelen. Ik voelde mij omringd door soldaten. Allemaal windstreken. Ze scheen Bilha te heten, gestuurd om angst te brengen. Sommigen zouden haar een demoon noemen, anderen een godin. Ik wist alleen dat ik moest oppassen. Ik was gevangen in haar moederschoot. Ik zat opgesloten in haar hut. Ik kon nergens heen. De muren leken weer zover weg te staan, en alle deuren. En daar viel ik neer, huilend. Ze maakte mij nooit sterker. Ik voelde me duizelig en vies. Daar stond ik weer op, en daar viel ik weer.

7. Het was alsof er sloten op de deuren zaten. Sloten gemaakt van duistere klauwen van monsters, als van zeemonsters. Een zeemeermin had mij ooit geprobeerd te redden. Ze was gemaakt van prachtige lichten, maar deze vrouw was duister. Een boek lag op tafel, een boek met riemen. Ik las er in. Het ging over hoe Adam en Eva in het tijdperk van Bilha werden aanbeden als goden. Bilha was de moedergodin. Het tijdperk van Bilha werd ook wel het tijdperk van de hyenas genoemd. De hyenas waren overal op aarde. En zij veranderden in vrouwen op bepaalde momenten. Het waren weerhyenas.

8. Bilha keek naar mij. Er vloeiende bloed uit mijn ogen. Ze leek zo ver weg, maar ook dichtbij. Het was alsof ze op een troon zat, maar ook op een bank. Even leek het als door de bliksem dat ze een hoge gouden kroon had, met gedetailleerde inscripties, als een mozaiek. En ze had een gouden soortgelijk gewaad aan. Ze opende een deur door het klappen met haar handen. De deur was draaiende voor mijn ogen, terwijl de opening als mozaiek was, ook draaiende, en de combinaties veranderden voortdurend. Ik kreeg steken in mijn hand, en licht viel op mij. Toen werd het duister.

9. Ze was de bewaker van een gele vrucht. De vrucht was bitter en zoet, ook bijtend. Mensen kregen last van hun mond. De vrucht leek op het achterste van een vrouw. Mensen moesten door deze vrucht naar de tandarts, en hun tanden vielen er van uit. Ik stond aan een bushalte. Sommige mensen waren aan het vrijen in een bushokje, en plotseling begonnen ze te schreeuwen. Toen vielen al hun tanden uit, en hun monden begonnen te bloeden.

10. 'Het is de vrucht,' dacht ik. 'De vrucht van Bilha.'

11. Ik probeerde weg te rennen, maar een wind greep mij. 'Het is een zure vrucht,' zeiden sommige mensen. 'Hoe kunnen we eraan ontsnappen ? Het zijn terroristen, stalkers.'

12. Ik greep mij vast aan het boshokje. Ik voelde me duizelig worden. Ik werd wakker in bed. Twee grote lippen zweefden boven mij, als weerspiegelingen, wazig, als de wind. Ik werd door de vrucht naar binnen gezogen, en ik gilde.

13. 'Nee !' riep ik. Maar ik kon me er niet tegen verzetten. Ik voelde me als een melaatse, zonder voeten, zonder mond. Ik voelde me als een vis, als een meerman. Maar ik was een zeehond, nee, een weerhyena, zoals haar. Ik bracht haar bij me, in een groot huis, en ze ging op de bank zitten. Zij bewaakte de voedselvoorraad. Ze lag op de bank, en ik mergelde uit, zelfs meer dan ooit tevoren. Ze voedde mij niet. Ik mocht niet in de keuken komen. Dan zou ze me neerjagen. Ik voelde mij als de derde wereld.

14. Ik was haar slaaf, een slaaf van het grote geld. Ik was niets dan vee in haar handen. Die gele vrucht, het was niets dan geld. Ik was kwaad op haar. Hoe kon zij dit doen ? We waren gevangen in geld. We werden gekgemaakt door geld, maar kregen het nooit. Er moest toch iets anders zijn ? Iets beters ? Het was een nachtmerrie.

15. Geld was een monster dat ons programmeerde. Het betuttelde ons, en maakte ons arm en bang, zodat we het altijd zouden najagen als de wind. Ik was zo kwaad. Ik sloeg een ruit in, maar de rekening kwam snel.

2.

1. De Zoete Vrucht ; Er was ook een andere vrucht in haar tuin. Het was de vrucht van slavernij. Voor mij was dat een lust voor het oog. De vrucht leek op een vrouwen-voet. Als het ons uit de vrucht van geld zou kunnen halen : graag. Maar wat voor een slavernij stond ons dan te wachten ? Ik bedacht dat het leven gewoon altijd pure slavernij was, maar dat je dan de beste slavernij moest uitkiezen. Ik wilde het wel proberen met deze vrucht. Zou deze vrucht mij rijk maken of arm ? Dat maakte mij niets meer uit. Ik wilde loskomen van de macht van geld, haar macht.

2. Ik bekeek de vrucht op een afstand. Ik hoorde gepiep. Er stond een vrouw voor me die haarzelf langzaam begon uit te kleden. Dit was de macht van het grote geld. Ik schoot haar neer met een pistool. Deze zaak was afgehandeld. Nu die andere vrucht nog. Ik keek ernaar, en de vrucht begon te groeien, en mijn ogen stonden wijder open. Ik voelde de smaak al langs mijn gehemelte vloeien, en in mijn keel. Zachte sappen. Ik was een slaaf, maar nu van iets anders. Alles beter dan van geld. Ik viel dronken op de grond. Het leek alsof ik verscheurd werd door een grote krokodil. Mijn hoofd kwam boven in een rivier, waar ook een andere reusachtig grote krokodil was. De zoete vrucht begon mij in te nemen, maar het werd bitter in mijn buik. Ik voelde riemen aan me, en een slavenketting rondom mijn nek. Ik werd meegetrokken in een woestijn. Het was een man met een lange baard.

3. Even later kon ik niet meer, en wilde zitten. Maar de man met de baard trok mij mee. We gingen een kasteel binnen. Wat had ik gekozen ? 'Even hier wachten,' zei de man. Even later kwam er een vrouw naar me toe. Ze leek me te keuren. Ze bleef maar staren en kijken, van top tot teen. 'We kunnen hem wel gebruiken,' zei ze. Toen kwamen er meerdere vrouwen, die mij dieper in het kasteel sleurden. De man had een soort riddergewaad aan. 'Waar ben ik ?' vroeg ik.

4. Ze duwden mij in een oven. Ik bevond mij in de vrucht, in een diepere afdeling van de baarmoeder van Bilha. Ik had niks meer met winkels en geld te maken. Ik had een vreemde smaak in mijn mond. Ik was door de sluiers van geld gegaan, en was er van los gekomen. Ik kon mezelf weer voelen. Ik kreeg een huis, en leidde een normaal leven. Vaak had ik nachtmerries.

5. Ik begon Bilha te missen. Ze moest iets betekenen voor mij in het leven. Dus ik besloot terug te gaan naar haar hut. Daar hing de boog weer. Het was hier een feest-tent zoals altijd. Ik voelde mij een slaaf van haar. Maar gelukkig niet meer van geld.

6. Ze danste hier op het bloed van de gevallenen, op de huiden van dieren. Zij had geld overwonnen. Haar gejoel maakte mij doof. Ik probeerde nog weg te rennen, maar zij greep mij. Ik kreeg geen vruchten meer van haar. Zij bewaakte het voedsel. Ik kon niet bij de keuken komen. Altijd zat ze daar op die bank. Ze hongerde mij uit meer dan ooit tevoren. Waarom was ik teruggegaan ? Hyenas likten aan haar voeten, en nog steeds veranderde zij soms in een hyena of een halve hyena. Zij was de weerhyena.

7. Zij haatte geld, maar hield van de slavernij die ze dreef. Zij was de slavenjaagster. Ik werd een bedelaar voor voedsel, maar zij was genadeloos. Ze liet mij soms van haar melk drinken, maar dat was om mij te vergiftigen, te verzwakken en te verlammen. Ik was een teer, hulpeloos kind in haar schoot.

8. Ik was een bedelaar, en zij was de joelster. Ze maakte mij stokdoof. Ik had nooit rust. Zij was een stoorzender, een stoorgeest. Zij was een stalker. Zij liet mij niet slapen. Op een dag gaf ze mij de derde vrucht : de vrucht van gevangenschap. Het brandde in mijn mond. Ik gilte het uit. Ik viel als dood op de grond. Daarna voelde ik een vreemde kracht in mij opkomen, en ik werd in een arena gezet. Hier kreeg ik de vierde vrucht : de vrucht van de arena. Het leek alsof het vloeyde in mijn hoofd. Het had een sterke geur. Het was een zeer bittere vrucht, en zuur. Ik werd ingezet in de oorlog.

9. Daarna kreeg ik de vijfde vrucht : de vrucht van de jacht. Het leek wel alsof mijn tong uit mijn mond groeide. Mijn tong viel af en veranderde in wapens. Toen groeide mijn tong weer. De macht van het geld was nu definitief gebroken, en de jacht kon beginnen. Geld zou nu gearresteerd worden. Het grote geld zou gefokt worden voor de dag van de grote slacht. Bilha reed op een hoog paard, zo hoog dat ik haar bijna niet kon zien. Of was ik gewoon heel klein ? Ik was een kind.

10. Ik werd een paardenstalmeester. Ik had overal koorden gehangen. Ook ik wachtte op de dag van de grote slacht. Ik had al voorgenot hierover. Ik wilde het geld zien bloeden. Ik wilde het geld zien krijsen, zoals het ons heeft laten krijsen. Ik wilde het geld zien smeken zoals het ons heeft laten smeken. Ik wilde het geld zien hangen. Ik was vol van leedvermaak.

11. Ik zou het geld martelen en bang maken, zoals het ons heeft bang gemaakt. Het geld moest een langzame, pijnlijke dood sterven. Ik wilde het geld voor eeuwig zien branden in de hel, met eeuwiggroeiende pijn. Pijn, pijn, pijn, dat is wat ik het geld toewenste. En ik wilde in die arena toekijken. Met een verrekijker.

12. Ik was wreed naar geld, want geld was wreed naar mij. Dat was de enige manier voor mij om te kunnen overwinnen, en om te kunnen genezen van de nachtmerrie van geld. Ik joeg op geld, genadeloos. Ik maakte geld tot mijn slaaf. Geld was mijn krijgsgevangene. En het lot van geld in mijn handen zou vreselijk zijn.

13. Ik bracht het geld tot de kooien, om het vet te mesten. Bilha keek toe.

3.

1. De Witte Vacht ; Bilha trof mij met haar bliksem. Ik schudde en viel neer. Ik was haar slaaf met haar slavenketting om mijn nek. Nog steeds. De godin was te sterk. Geen man kon staan in haar nabijheid, tenzij zij hem kracht gaf. Maar ik had geen kracht. Ik was haar kind. Ik zag haar schilderij, waar ze opstond als een halve hyena, bloed vloeiende uit haar bek, mijn bloed.

2. 'Verzadigd nu, kreng ?' vroeg ik. Maar ik sprak slechts tot een schilderij.

3. Ik wist dat zij nooit verzadigd zou zijn. Met hoge hakken was ze in de stad, in de regen, schaars gekleed. Om zoek naar prooi. Een auto-deur sloeg los. Ze stapte in de auto, en verscheurde de bestuurder. Toen ging ze zelf achter het stuur zitten, en reed zoveel mogelijk slachtoffers omver als ze kon. De politie kwam achter haar aan. Maar de politie was slechts een vrucht in haar hand. Een vrucht waar zoveel vliegende insecten om streden. Ze bracht mij de vrucht, maar ik wilde er niet van eten. Ze dwong mij om ervan te eten, en de strijd werd voortgezet in mijn mond. Insecten staken mij. Het was de zesde vrucht.

4. De zevende vrucht was de vrucht van slacht. Eindelijk. Ik kon nu vliegen. Ik had vleugels, maar die vielen even later van me af, terwijl ik nog steeds kon vliegen. De zevende vrucht had mij snel in de macht. Het was als een ei om me heen, en ik moest de dop breken. Een zoutachtige vloeistof scheidde zich af, en begon zich in mijn lichaam te verspreiden. Overal om me heen vielen reuzen neer. Ik bladerde door een boek en kon de bladzijden niet meer vinden. Alles begon voor mijn ogen te tollen. Iemand was mij aan het uitbroeden. Toen brak het licht door. Ik was als een licht in de duisternis. De duisternis wilde mij verslinden, maar kon het niet. Mijn licht was als een vloeistof wat overal doordrong.

5. De achtste vrucht was een vrucht van papier. Er kon niet meer gegeten worden, alleen maar gelezen. Ik begon uit te hongeren, maar een vreemde kracht begon mij te voeden. Er was geen weg terug meer tot de andere vruchten. De achtste vrucht had ons allemaal ingenomen. Het was een bewaakster en een waakster.

6. Ik werd wakker in de hut van Bilha. Wat was zojuist over me gekomen ? Was ik gek geworden ? Ik had niets anders dan wanen en hallucinaties gehad, alsof ik van een vergiftigde appel had gegeten, alsof ik zwaar aan de drugs was. Deze vrouw was gevaarlijk, bloedgevaarlijk. Ik wilde ontsnappen, maar ik kon het niet. Een duistere gestalte hield mij vast.

7. 'Niemand ontsnapt ooit uit dit huis,' werd er gezegd. Het was alsof de wind sprak. Het spookte hier. Ik was onder een vloek. 'Er is geen weg meer terug,' zei de wind. 'Je zal altijd hier wakker worden.'

8. Ik keek naar de wand. Het zag er niet meer zo feestelijk uit, maar bloederig. Er hingen overal wapens en jachtgerei. In de kooien rondom mij was vee. Ik realiseerde mij dat ik ook in een kooi was. Toen ik naar mijn lichaam keek schrok ik. Ik was een varken.

9. Haar lichaam was fors. Je kon niet om haar heupen heen. Zij was de godin van het leven.

10. Ik ontwaakte in haar hut. Ze trok me in een bloederige tent waar veel sluiers waren, en een bed met een witte vacht. Ze ging in de deuropening staan. Het beest van geld werd doorstoken door de oude man met de baard. Het was de dag van de slacht.

11. De mensen om me heen zijn niets anders dan de tralies van haar kooien. De negende vrucht was de vrucht van het huwelijk, en de tiende vrucht was de vrucht van de scheiding.

12. De vruchten lagen op een schaalte, tien vruchten, die toen allemaal in chocolaatjes veranderden. Ik wilde er niet meer van eten, maar ze forceerde me. Het was haast dwang-verpleging. Ik hield mijn kaken stijf op elkaar, maar ze sloeg mij op de kaak, en ramde het naar binnen. Ik viel op de grond. Toen smeerde ze me in met chocola. Ze schoof mij in de oven, als brood wat gebakken diende te worden.

13. Hij woonde ergens langs de kade, in een hoog huis. Hij zwierf vaak langs de kusten. Hij verdrink mensen en dieren, en liet schepen zinken. Hij had lang haar, en mensen hadden het vaak over hem. Soms zwierf hij door de stad. Mensen ontweken hem dan. Ze waren allemaal bang voor hem.

The World Beyond Fairytale

The Kristarvaka Vatorium

Sandman's Glove

the world beyond fairytale

Part I : Purple Velvet Fairytale

The Chocolate Diaries

Poetry from the Aldebaran Tales

The Green Frog

Little Drummer Boy

Ode to the Violin

Deep Underwater Tale

Poetry from the Rose of Venus

The Six Flames

The Day before Eden

Poetry from the Yellow Rose

The Soldier in the Little Box

Poetry of the Red Rose

The Birth of the Panther's Prince

Part II : The Lawyer's Suite Orange

Book with a Split Laugh

Poetry from the Black Widow

A Snake in the Swanlake

Poetry from the Latin Buffoon Puppet

Boys from Lynx

Part III : Misunderstanding from the Lion's Tea

A Smuggler's Cheque-book in Mozart's Bottle

Poetry from the Neptunian Rose

Forest Dreams

Poetry from the Toy's Soldier

Masked Memories

Poetry from the Black Fish

Red Picnic's Day

Part IV : Salute, Mr Aquarius

Poetry from the Chrystal Star

Where All the Tears Collide

Silence of the Sleep

Poetry from the Old Cigar

Scratch on A Charlie Chaplin's Record

Poetry from the Violin

The Secret of Birthday

Part V : Goodmorning, Mrs. Jupiter

The Enchanted Mirror

The Mistress

Here In My Head It Ticks

Gypsy's Girl I-VI

The Cardreader

The Rabbit

Silent After All These Years

When the Bunny Sais No

The Fortune-Teller

The Clairvoyante

The Coin I-VI

Service with Little Light

The Wizard

The Actress

Part VI : Good Evening, Mrs. Neptune

"When you eat the fruit, the first bite is sweet, the second bite is sour, the third is bitter, the fourth can kill you, while the fifth can bring you to live. The sixth one, the last, is salt, but it will lead you to the core, where you live forever." --- The Licorice

Chapter 1. The Way of the Snake

Chapter 2. When Mother Comes Back

Chapter 3. The Mirror

Chapter 4. Poetry from the Golden Chocolate

Arena of Fruits

Hell of Hamelin

Jezebel

Chapter 5. Rivers of Blood I-V

Chapter 6. Book of Elves

Apocalypse of Wasps

Chapter 7. The Girl with the Red Boots

Chapter 8. The Licorice and the Mandarin

Chapter 9. Snow Which Never Ticked

Poetry From The Aldebaran Tales

The Green Frog

I was walking through the garden of the prince's court. The wind blew softly on my face.

I was looking for something special, something I would never forget. I looked at the mosaic-windows of the church at a distance. I saw a face from behind the mystical window waving at me. I smelled a soft breath of roses and narcissus, and I walked through the garden, to the church at the side. I entered the portal, wondering who I would meet there, the waving face.

It was a tall frog in a black uniform with white decoration. His face was green and he smiled at me, like there were hundred of faces smiling at me. He said he came to me to show me the meaning of life. He showed me a black hat, and he threw it away in the air and it disappeared through the ceiling of the church. Then he took out his uniform, tore it and threw the pieces at the altar of the church, where it burnt. I saw all sorts of colors coming from the altar, and he asked me to lay myself on this altar.

I did that, and I felt I was floating with these colours.

The colours were mixing and flew through my body. I felt myself naked, but these colours covered me. The Frog said to me : When someone is willing to give his life away, he will discover a world beyond clothes, beyond masks, which will cover him in a better sense. He will discover a deeper life, a deeper law.

The colours which are set free when someone gives away his life, will lead him to the heart of the old church. This church represents the free, divine fountain, which lives in everyone's heart, if one is willing to live by that. Some will come closer to this fountain, others will leave it more and more.

Little Drummer Boy

Do you believe in fairytales ? Do you believe in SummerSnow ? Do you believe in Flying Fishes and Yellow Tomatoes to eat ?

Do you believe in a Southern Santa Clause, clothed by the Sun, walking on clouds, playing flute and violin ? Do you believe he can make stars out of nothing ? Or do you believe he is just a lost stranger making noise in the streets, to earn some money and attention ?

Who is he to you, the person who brings the mail everyday ? Is he just someone who has a wife and kids, or is he a messenger of the gods, a personal teacher, or someone who would be better of baking bread ?

The magic begins, when you start to see that all the people around you are the characters of your life's movie, when you start to realize they are there to fill the podium of the world's biggest theater-play ever made.

God made it for you, and he asks you just to watch, to hold your breath, and even when there is a lot of tragedy, to know it is to show you the road to your neighbour, to show you the little drummer boy, locked up in the story of your life, waiting for you to open the book. It is your child, your inner child, beating a different drum, singing another song, which you never heard before. He will be someone to love, someone to care about. He will lead you to a different road, stepping into another beat.

He will show you the guys who beat your drum now, he will leave a message once in awhile. Is he the true sound of your innermost heart, is he the cry for life inside of you ? Kiss his tears and you will know. Touch his drum, and you will see, that he is not a toy in the hands of the spoilt ones, but he is a prince's toy, dancing in the dark, after all these ages, still the same drum, the same beat. He still sings that same strange song, which gives you that strange feeling in your stomache. Like losing the world, the worries and the wars, for one day, when he shows up, only seeing him, that little drummer boy.

Ode to the Violin

Violin, play your game, violin, make your breakfast, for you are going to fly high, when the raindrops will fall today. You were a bloomer on a flowers heart, you were a soother in a birds head. How you made your chords, it wasn't fragile and tender enough for you. You wanted to hear spring through the touch of your box. The playing of chords opened the secrets and you knew how to play my heart. You knew how to bring to the surface that was deeply sunk in the wilderness of my emotions.

You brought clarity to my soul, and gave me the opportunity to express myself.

Every chord had it's own purpose, every chord was a guard at the prince's court.

They were the jesters of the prince's, the toys of the kingly sons.

I was amazed when I first heard your sound for it brought me back to where I belong, it brought me back to the castle of hearts. It opened my history once again, to re-unite me with my roots, but also my wounds. You weren't afraid to show me my wounds again, you knew it was for the better part of me. You weren't afraid to show me the way I had to go, the tears I would cry. You prepared me for war, you brought me my armor.

Give me my soldiers, who died in the cold, bring me the keys to warm their heart again to let them rise once again. These toysoldiers who stood by me through all the times, only awakening at twelve o clock, but sleeping at daylight. I saw their tears running from their wooden faces, their metallic eyes were staring at one point, unable to move their hands, unable to touch, unable to dance their dances.

But at twelve o clock, when the clock strikes twelve times in the night, the butterflies touch their hands and their feet and they dance their wild dances of war and victory. Then the toys come alive and play their games. Then they are the rulers of the world, when no one sees them, when everyone is asleep. They rule the fantasy, they rule the unconscious part of man. They rule when the kids give their lives to the night, going underwater for another round in sleep. They haven't heard the touch of the butterflies wings at night, they haven't heard the violins awakening the hearts of the toy-soldiers, for they were too young to understand, too tired to realize the magic which was being spread throughout the night.

The night is such a secret, the night is such a tale. It is for the wise and the old to catch a glimpse, for the children a lust when grandfather starts to tell.

Deep Underwater Tale

The night blocks the head of the father, when he is reading his underwater tales again. The night touched his head again, reading his words again. The father can rest his mind, unable to worry, unable to fall out of the tale he once so loved. The night was always his mate, always his source of inspiration, but now he feels the chains of his mind, his limited creation.

The tale he read so many times makes him feeling so bound to the ground, so bound to his own bed. He wants to travel to new tales, with his bed as his ship, for this old tale, he read so many times, is making headaches in his mind.

Father, what is your ache ? Is it really the tale, or is it your minds desire to read another tale ? Is it the night who hurts you, or is it the empty place at the other side of your bed, waiting to be filled ?

When mother was alive you used to read your underwater tales for her, but now you read them for yourself, now she isn't anymore. But mother would never really leave you, for her personality was not a temporal one. She smiles to you from heaven, from these underwater tales. Now she reads them for you, she isn't gone. She finally entered this underwater world you always loved to tell her about. Now she found her peace and her rest, because of you. She is in your book, daddy, she isn't in another book outside your mind, outside your house.

Poetry From The Rose of Venus

The six flames

There are six flames in the house of Eli, the high-priest of Israel, the chosen one. He was the soother of soothers, and now God took him away, for he didn't warn his children. Samuels tears will fall on his grave for eternity.

The first flame

Father Eli, this flame burns from my heart to you. Me, Samuel, your chosen son, I come to you, for you raised me from Mercurius and brought me to the house of Venus. You soothed my wounds, you eased my soul, and gave me golden bread to eat. In your house, oh Father Eli, I could hear the voice of God, speaking to me. My flame of gratitude will burn forever. You opened my door to heaven.

The second flame

Three Times I heard the voice of the Lord, and three times you spoke to me it wasn't you. You directed me to the Rose, the Rose of Venus. This flame burns from my heart to this Rose, who spoke to me. The Rose who gave me life, the Rose who gave me golden water to drink, I will serve You forever. My flame of obedience will never die.

The third flame

Father Moses, where art thou. You were the bearer of this Rose, you touched the side of my chin, and made my heart juicy. The holy flame inside of me will guide me to your heart, where all the juices gather. Bring me to my office, bring me to my holy armor, and let me drink from your divine wine, so that my head can float into your heavens to dwell there forever. Let me enter your gardens of holy words to hear your voice again. Let the flame of understanding follow my veins. Mix it with my blood, so that I am forever yours.

The fourth flame

Rose of Mary, fly again, open your womb and show me your children. Your milk was softer than the softest honey, and sweeter than the sweetest fruit. You brought me the sword of Adam, to open the gates of Eden again. Fly, my rainbow, the heavens will be open for you. Rose of Eve, mother of thousand mothers, bring me to your house and understanding, bring me to the Rose of roses, for your keys reach the last heavens. Open the rivers with your flame, the flame of birth. Bring me to the last ocean which will wash the last tear away.

The fifth flame

The fifth flame, Rose of Joseph, Rose of dreams, enter my heart, to warn my father Eli. Raise him up again to lead your people, and open his eye. Give him the heart, my inner father, to awake his sons. Let him walk the path of Joseph, give him the Wings of Benjamin, to enter his house again. Venus, don't let your flame sink, raise your house once again, to be a house of corn in the midst of hunger. Rise from the desert once again, oh king of Egypt, you are the golden rose. Let your streams of life surround the land, to rise the table of Abraham. Let Noah be his guide and altar.

The sixth flame

The last flame, the last Judgement, to wash away the sea, to wash away the table. The last flame to burn all flames into one. One flame will burn when you sleep, one little candle will wake over you. Go to sleep, little earth, go to sleep, little universe, for tomorrow is a new day.

And in the middle of the night the wind will come to blow also this candle out, so that the night can totally wrap his wings around you, so that the cold of the night can enter your veins to let your earth cool down, waiting for the six icycles of The Day Before Eden.

The Day Before Eden

The Sailing Buddha

six fishes

One day before Eden, one day before paradise, two ships were sailing the seas, two ships were fishing their fishes. Two captains holding the night in their jackets, two captains having the last six icycles under their skins. These six fishes swam to the center of earth, but were picked up by these two captains so that they could watch the Day of Eden.

Was it a ship turning into Eden, did a captain create this land ?

The first icycle didn't want to tell, the second icycle would tell it later, while the third would talk about something else.

The fourth got very angry about the question, the fifth began to laugh, and the sixth began to cry.

Non of these icycles would bring you any further, for they were created to swim away, they were created to leave, and live in silence. When someone wants to find wisdom, it swims away, waiting to be followed.

This is the way how God guides. He swims away, so that you can follow Him.

It is all slipping through your fingers, it is all escaping your tight grip. For in the heavens everything is free, they want you to come where they are, rather than bringing it to you.

when you ...

When your guide is always bringing it to you, my dear friend, when you never have to follow, when you never have to swim and search, when they never trick you, then, it's sad to say, you will never hear the secret of the Day Before Eden.

Your complaints will build your days, your satisfactions will write your tales, but you will never sail on the ships of these two captains, you will never hear their jokes.

Your comfort will bake your bread, your expectations will spoil your stomach, and you will never feel the hard bottom of your pit, because it is bottomless. It leads you nowhere, and you will never see the true face of a fish.

You will fish in your own seas, fishing at old ancient souvenirs of grandparents you never had, but they will all swim away. And you will take care of your own toys again, speaking to your own dolls. These toys and dolls were your true grandparents, but you froze them into the statues of your gardens. You still live in the Day After Eden, not interested what really happened there. You stole the flowers from the garden of Eve, and you killed the snake for sixty-six dollars.

Were you sure it was the right snake ? Were you sure you shot good while shooting with your eyes closed ?

two captains

Only the two captains know. They still sail the oceans, avoiding your bottomless whirlpools. They still know your registers and maps. They stood at your cradle when you were born, and partied the Day Before.

Do you know the sails of your cradle, do you know it's flag ? Is it true that there is an Afterlife ? Is it true that a cradle is a gateway for information ? Which sort of information did your cradle bring ?

The first captain sais he doesn't know, the second captain asks you the question.

They both know the answer, but they keep themselves as dumb. For isn't it better to keep yourself dumb in a world of information-hunters. They suck your memory out of your brains to use it against you. Isn't that what is truely going on ? Sometimes it's better to wrap yourself in questions, rather than answers, for people know how to find you.

Two questionmarks, two donkeys, sailing the two ships of the world throughout the Ages. They come from the bottomless history and go to the bottomless future, and back. They never felt the hard bottoms of future and history, for they are beyond that. They wear the questionmark as their weapon, and their two ships are their shelters.

two ships

The first ship is just completely ignoring you, the second ship doesn't want to know who you are and what you do. It doesn't want to know anything, for knowledge is pain. The second ship is against knowledge, and is completely indifferent and without emotions. It sacrificed the possibility to have knowledge, to have and be a shelter. It doesn't move or act, for action is pain. It looks like it is moving, but the earth under this ship is moving, instead of the ship itself.

This ship doesn't want to know or do anything, because it has fear to get the wrong knowledge and action, it has fear of receiving and spreading hurt. This is the ship of fear, the ship of divine fear, living in complete emptiness.

the sailing Buddha

The Buddha sails this ship. It travels without moving, it breaths without breathing. The True Laws of Nature work at this ship. It is safe for eternity.

Ship of Life, come forward, this ship doesn't exist, for Existence lives in the Ship.

Poetry from The Yellow Rose

The Soldier in the Little Box

The Seed within the Seed

the little box

The flight of the eagle made a golden path for the traveller. From Jupiter to The Frog a golden thread hanged. The acrobate could walk this thread without falling, for the wings of the eagle warmed his heart and soothed his soul. The acrobat could watch both sides of the earth, while the planets of The Frog were calling for his attention.

They zoomed in his mind, singing an old song from the past, an old song from a soldiers fairytale.

Could you hear the bells ringing, when you were born in your little box on earth ?
Or were you swallowed by your own fears and minds created by the little box to keep you there ?

Stay out of your little box with the little people, and enter a new world outside the box. The box is standing in this world, locked, and has to obey this world where it is standing in. The box seems so small when you stand next to it, staring into this new world.

the box in the box

But do you know this new world is also a box, with it's own people and it's own fears and minds ? Do you know that when you step out of it, you enter an even bigger world ?

When you start to realize the box in the box, when you see that the life you get after the escape is also nothing but a box in a box, with it's own laws and own keys, then you start to realize that you are never really free.

You are only free when you escape this circle of boxes, when you wear it's ring on your finger, when you control the boxes of life.

The yellow rose grows from Jupiter to The Frog. It doesn't ask you to open the box, it doesn't ask you to seal the box. It wants you to fly, and forget about the boxes. It wants you to wear The Frog's ring.

the maze

For past and future are sides of the earth, and you can fall on one or the other. But when you forget about time, and meet the Maker, you can fly on eagles wings and reach the yellow rose, which burns deep in your heart to tell you that time is an illusion, that it is there to test us, to represent the boxes, to give us the electrical shock we need to forget it all, to meet the maze in which we are free.

For in the maze there are no borderlines, in the maze there are no teachers. There are only doubts and seas of confusion. It doesn't seem to end, it doesn't give a limit or a finish. It's always creating more questions and more secrets.

When you think you are out, you are in, and when you think you are on the right, you are on the left.

But in this insecurity the truth rises, in this despair the sun of answer appears. For in this maze past and future is reflected. We see all our memories and predictions hunting us. The thought is wanting us.

But we don't touch these walls, we don't listen to these mirrors. In the maze we just want to find the way out.

But in the endless maze we will never find the way out. We are destined to get so lost that we die as a seed in the ground, in the very center of the maze. It will draw us there, it will pull, for it's goal is to turn us into a yellow rose.

the little yellow soldier

A little soldier is rising from a little box, watching the mirrors of his maze, all these sights shock him, to see himself how he never wanted to be. His little trumpets show him his deepest fears, his deepest crimes, which were never there. He sees the images he would never be, he sees the jumps he never made. They reflect him like he is what it says, but he objects, he's looking for the enchanted mirror of the yellow rose. He rises out of his box, wearing the yellow suit of the yellow rose, but it is torn and it dies, in the middle of the maze, in the middle of the box. His little trumpets laugh at him. His mirrors try to calm him, but he's tightened in his goal. He has something better in his view, although his old mates are hunting after him. The dream broke, the seal broke. He's a new soldier now, part of the yellow rose, still dying, still torn, but blooming inside with a fire no one can blow out, no one can destroy. The fire of the yellow rose warms him and brings old desires back to him. the desires to be free, the desires to meet the enchanted mirror.

The little soldier wrestles with old books from his past. They try to eat him, they try to bring him back to the little box.

The little soldier, killer of mirrors, killer of books.

My soldier, sais the rose, hold on to the old songs of the deep inner yellow fairytales
I planted in you when you were born. I will never forget that day.

The little soldier still rising out of the little boxes, out of the old books, reaching for the yellow rose, reaching for the eternal narcissus. His army is large, they are wearing yellow flags. From sunset to sundown they march, to catch a glimpse of the yellow rose, to catch a glimpse of their fathers and mothers.

mother's day

Daddy, is it really you ? You spoke to me about this yellow rose since I was young.
You told me about the garden where it was raised. The yellow garden has a part in my mind, a part in my heart. This maze you told me about was the gardener of this yellow garden.

You told me this gardener knew what he had to do.

Mom, are you there ? Your yellow juice still zooms in my stomache. The red cathedral was the place you used to pray. My mind is dizzy when I think about you.
Like everything is floating away. Then I can forget and remember, the mystery of the Fog.

The morning-fog is your suit, the sun is your crown, and red panthers are shivering, zooming and blushing in your lungs. Breath in, breath out, for when the day is over, we are just seeds, marching away to become a new flower. This new flower is also nothing but a seed. We are all waiting to be sown again, the seed within the seed.
Every day we are sown, every night we will rise, and in the morning we will know what we have to know.

the soldier, the pirate and the flower

The soldier is still growing, the soldier is still weeping. His tears are searching for new worlds, for old memories. Wandering with his mothers warmth in his chest, with his fathers trust in his legs. His hat is a hat in a hat.

Try to learn the language of the soldier, the pirate and the flower.

Poetry of the Red Rose

The Birth of the Panther's Prince

Is it a kiss before dying, to enter your gates again ?

the banana queen

I saw you dancing in a stream of roses. They were moisty, covered by water, painted by juices of the bright dew. But you were the reddest of all these roses. Your smile was brighter than the sun, and your wings were spreading chocolate-dust. You were dancing there, waving to star-powders, embracing deers, flying from one flower to another, leaving stripes of foot- and handprints in the clouds.

I saw another rose, black like the darkness, smoking three cigarettes.

I also saw a tree burning in the desert.

You were looking for the banana-queen. She knew about the black rose and the burning tree. She knew how their black oils were hunting after you. She would hold the key to the land of the four frogs.

These four frogs were sitting on a fence. This land far over the golden rainbows and the morningsides. They were smoking their bubbles, spreading their tales of love and old castles. They didn't seem to be touched by time or speech. They were free in their land which they created by themselves. Their smiles were covered by dew and streaming fogs. Their skin was covered by chocolate and peppermint. They defeated the black lullabies, which were being spread by the black smoking rose.

Did you ever fight a lullaby, did you ever felt it's sting ? Like waking up, but you can't ? Like trying to stand on your own feet, but someone's pulling you down ?

The bed, one of the biggest battlefields.

The bed, where the most horrible things happened, where the black dwarves sing their songs.

The bed, the torture.

chocolate poison

Try to wake up, swallow the lullaby, and spit it out again. An army of lullabies, a basket full of broken windows, old poisoned chocolate, dipped in drama and decorated tragedy, whispering in your ear, enchanting your eyes. Don't step in it's fall, don't enter it's maze. You feel the soft winds entering your little house in the forest, dripping their footprints on your stairways without touching them. You feel their presence in your sleeping room. Your dolls sleep, your clothes sleep, your chairs and wardrobes sleep, and your little cupboard. But you are awake staring at the curtains, seeing the rain blowing through them, aware of the little stars touching the walls of your little room. The purple ceiling falls down, but it doesn't seem to hurt you. The purple walls fall down, but you smile and lit a candle.

You already heard this story, and it's just like reading that old book again. You aren't shocked anymore, for you feel the feathers of this old bird again.

The red rose smiles. She is with you in her room, and the words spread from her wide mouth. The stories don't seem to stop, and they stream like burnt mazes through the room. It's not a secret anymore, you see the golden key. The old burning tree is burnt by another fire, one tighter than the previous. Seven fires will come to burn it's last flame.

Once upon a day the fire was burnt, the water was washed away, and only some dewdrops marched through the land. They were the four frogs, waiting for the last train.

No one knows where this last train is going to, no one knows where it comes from, but deers are driving it, smoking chocolate pipes. They know the secret of the red rose, they swam in the seven seas of roses. When a story shows up, they swallow it and blow it to the past. This is how their train rides. The future never existed, it was written in the past, and it will never come alive. The only thing we need is to breath in the flavours of the rose and then we will know enough. Then we will be what we would ever be. The past gave us enough to work out.

We are coded in the past, we are described in old books. The future never existed, it was a lie of the black rose. All your times are tumbling down, all your clocks seem to explode, when you look into the eye of the red rose.

She will blink to you, she will give you her heart, but you can never return to the future.

When chocolate is mixed with banana's, the rose starts to float beyond the past, where the books of life were written, where the banana-queen rules. You will get a heart in your stomach, so that you know that food has to flow, to feed the children.
You will swallow your heart, and know your feasts.

soldier on a paper ship

I burnt the old pages of the book, for a million of times, but it didn't seem to get out of my mind. Finally I kissed the book, and entered it's pages. I saw myself wandering through blue seas, in a paper boat, without boots, without clothes, only wearing some white stripes, some red roses and old pages of old books to cover me. My rifle was guiding me, I was feeding the sharks. Old mythical fishes were rising to the surfaces of these blue seas. They were wearing white decorated necklaces and old forbidden fairytales were streaming as being their wings. I saw them rising up from the seas, swimming on clouds, entering the realms of the suns and the old clocks.

Again I saw the clocks exploding, and the fairytales started all over again. Strange sounds from the south came over me, warming my lungs and my stomach. Wasps zoomed into my head, and stang the old thoughts. Books in my mind started to open, spreading their honey, speaking about worlds of forbidden animals and worlds of forbidden flowers and plants.

The old tree was smiling from the ashes, but I didn't response to it's radiation. I saw a man coming from the west, sending me two doves to guide me through the deserts I was being swallowed in. The old tree still smiling.
I went to a feast in the middle of seasons. It didn't seem to hurt me anymore. Is it the end of all seasons, is there a world beyond the seasons, the elements and the clocks ?

the jester's house

Two cigarettes were lying on a table, spreading their smoke, spreading their black flavours.

The old jester stares at his clock hanging at his torn wall, decorated by pages of old diaries. The black rose was dying in a glass of warm water standing at his table. The old jester, still playing his violin, doesn't seem to realize the scream of the black rose. Too many lullabies made his ear deaf, and one eye is covered by a black rag, he found between the pages of an old pirate-book. The monsters of this book didn't seem to reach his head anymore. The only memory he had from this book is the black eye-rag. His other eye is staring at his violin, focussing to write some new songs. The paintings of his grandmother were always inspiring him to do the work.

Jester, where is your youth, where is your toy ? It seemed to disappear through the gates of the gardens into the forest, running into a new world, where the sun touches the earth, where the rainbow reaches the morning, and where the old dewdrop eats his banana.

The morning brought his light into the house of the jester. His violin is the only thing he sees, giving freedom to the child, who was once caged as a lion.

Too many lullabies are chasing the kid, but the cry for freedom is too fast. Wings of banana-butter covering the shields of the running toys. No one seems to hinder them, no one seems to catch a glimpse. When the toy is free, the apple grows. When the child dances, the violin is praised again. How many violins does it take to free the birds of cigarette ? How many deers will it take to build the army of splinters and chocolate-soldiers.

frozen soldiers marching

For the strike of the chocolate will bring the land into ice again. Seventy frozen soldiers are wandering over corn-fields and the bridges of the sun. Nothing seems to melt them, nothing seems to bother them. The chocolate is their shield, the chocolate is their bridge. No one could enter these fogs but these seventy soldiers. They come from the dawn, searching for their clothes, searching for their ways to survive the eternal maze.

Sixty frozen soldiers, marching fast, marching slow, growing tall, growing short. Sixty frozen soldiers, leaving the other ten. They are waiting for the ship of eternity, preparing them to cross the river of disguise. It's better to be a fool than a slave.

Tomorrow the queens are dancing, tomorrow the horses are entering their last sleep of winter.

No one knows the length of the queens dress, no one knows the size of the soldier's tea-spoon. No one knows which time it is in the court of the prince, and no one knows when this all will end.

seas of chocolate

Seven chocolate-seas are weaving the suit of the new king. They don't seem to care about the clocks and the mazes. They seem to work without speech and without brains. The banana-ships, sailing their streams and waves, are telling them all the secrets they need to know.

Fifty frozen soldiers, spoiling a baker's kid, forty frozen soldiers, riding red horses. Still wandering for rain, still searching for the white treasures of disguise.

The fool is riding a horse, the slave eats the dust.

Thirty frozen soldiers entering the carnival of souls, drinking the chocolate-juices of the four frogs. Peppermint, roses and pirates marching around, no one could enter but the thirty frozen soldiers. All what they see, all who they meet, are nothing but their own mirrors, their own reflections.

One cigarette is lying on the table of the old jester, scratching the leather feathers of his mind, wanting to creep into the violin.

The old window is cracking, one frozen soldier is lying next to the cigarette. One soldier remained, one cigarette is breathing. Who would stay up when they would play chess ?

The old chess-board is standing on a hill, built on four pillars. I didn't see any elf, or any fairy watching the game. The cigarette is speaking and muttering about the past, the soldier speaks about the mirrors. All the chess-pieces seem to mix into one glass to drink. The old jester drinks it, and looks forward to another day to play his violin. Then he would play new songs, and new fairytales, to set his creatures free, to let the sun touch the moon.

The old rose, the red one, swallows the jester again, and her body becomes a chess-board. There are no pieces on this board, everything is in silence. She goes to bed, says a prayer to the wind and goes to sleep.

sacrifice of the ear

Make your world, for when you don't do it, someone else will do. Gather your chess-pieces, for at the end of the day, there will be nothing left. Listen to your own stories, for otherwise your ears will float into streams you don't want to know about.

Sacrifice your ear to the banana-queen, for she knows how to feed your ear. The little rose is nothing, when the queen shows up. The frogs all fade away when she is moving her dress.

Stay up late when she's not around, she might get moving through your window, passing your curtains. She might want to touch your old books to bring them alive again.

One little broken cigarette, lying at the table of the red rose. She understands his pain, she understands his resistance. Softly she closes the doors, softly she closes the windows. She throws her dress into the night, and drinks her last cup of tea.

Ashes are lying on the table of the banana-queen. She smiles deep, blinking her eyes. She can't seem to forget the cold breezes of her banana-seas. It warms her heart, and she fishes the last little frozen soldier out of the sea of chess. She burns the boards, breaks the glasses and feeds the crocodiles in her garden behind her house. The little soldier offers her the old black rose wrapped in a pyjamas. They lay her in a little old cradle, surrounded by the old lullabies which can sing her into sleep. This cradle is the old burning tree, and they disappear in a sea of ashes. A sea of flowers will bring them to their final destiny. Seven dwarfs are waiting for them to give them their meal, the black ones, with their black meals.

One broken table standing for the queen and the little soldier, shivering because of the cold. Seven houses bringing their waterfun into the house of the queen. The night is over, the ships are burnt, the water is all which remained.

prince of panthers

Ten chocolate-frogs to drink the water, ten banana-frogs to eat the houses. Some say the panther will never die.

I saw a cat dying at the roofs of an old golden house. He tried to get grip, but the rats took him away into the sewers of the earth. No one knew that the plastic rotten prince was caged there underground. The cat took the prince into daylight, and sealed his soul. A panther was born. This panther is running the streets of the old city, singing it's songs of rage and liberty. The panther, born to be alive, born to rage.

The rage is appearing from his lungs as a smoke to cover the city.

There is no song to stop him, there is no fairytale to end his move. He has the heart of a panther, and ash is his rod.

The old chess-board is a rag on his eye, and with his other eye, he's focussed at the old violin of the old jester.

He plays his songs like messing about sugar, and tails of rats are beating his drums.
His guitars speak about drama, and his liquid voice is spreading tragedical thick syrups. He doesn't want to forget about the forgotten wars. His memories keep his friends alive.

War-child, rising up the bowl, warchild, sowing splinters in the sea. Warchild, making names in the nameless, warchild, breaking promises to leave.

But you are walking without name, without parents, searching for the cat who saved you. Oh, orphan of the old sewers, child of moths and rats. Your cat will find you again, even in this new world. Your cat is in your violin, your cat is in your drum. When you hear a sound, just catch him, and share the treasures you both hold.

brother of Pinocchio

Oh, orphan of Aldebaran, son of the drains, son of the toymaker's head. They killed your father Gepetto, but you are still your fathers fish.

Son of Gepetto, brother of Pinocchio, your wife killed your children, but this made you tall and slender. They took your daylight away, but your brother will always remember you. Son of rags, little doll, your fathers trust will always guide you with a lantern.

Try to remember sitting on your fathers lap, hearing his tales of the sea. Try to remember the flavours of his pipes, and the fairies of his house. For his house was made of the old burning tree, his honey was made from the black rose's mouth. Now you can spend eternity looking at the three cigarettes, which were pirate-ships in the sea. They stole your old father Gepetto, they threw water in your wine.

Six chocolate-frogs to tell the story, six banana-frogs to end it all. Some say Gepetto will never die, some say you were pinocchio's elder brother.

In a history deeper than Pinocchio a tree was growing in the garden of Gepetto. Aldebarans Pride decorated your body, pride is better than beauty. Neptune's Fairy was your mother. She also brought life to Pinocchio. You grew up as a young tree, a deer in Gepetto's Garden. You were a plastic toy of elves and fairies, but you failed to do your fathers will. You burnt your schoolbooks, and you sailed away with the pirates. You became a robber and a thief. You wrote poetry on the graves of old criminals, you sacrificed your heart to the rats. Your eyes went over the earth to steal, not to give.

from father to son

My little pirate, sais Gepetto, I raised you from the morning-sun, your mother was your fire of protection. You ate the apple of the pirate, you drank the wines of the vampires.

But I'm proud of you, My son, for you saw where it was bringing you. When the rats hanged my head as flag on their ships, you turned yourself against them and built your own ships. You gave yourself to Scorpio as a threat to the truants. But you fell deep, My son. For the rats brought you into their dungeons, into their drains, deep underground, near to the heat of the planet. Their fires burnt you away, they took away one eye and decorated your teeth with their poetry. Crime after crime was layed on you, and you became the one they accused in all matters. You were the flag of their freedom, you were the sacrifice, so that they could life.

But the old cat died at the roofs of the golden house and gave his life away to enter the depths of your plastic misery. He dealt with your paper-fevers and brought you to the dawn again. Oh, son of liberty, son of mazes. You sank deep, but you rose high. You were a fairytale in your mothers heart, and now you are on ship again.

My little gambler, the three cigarettes were your dice to gamble. You drank the beers of old legendary pirates and criminals. We used to hug our arms around you when you were drunk, but at one moment our arms melted away.

We will not touch you again in your drunkenness, we will not touch you again when you play with your dice. Now it's up to you to choose, you know what you can expect when you are with us. Your red head makes too much noise, and all the blue, yellow and green fades away. When you enter the house it's red which counts.

My little red one, I awoke you from Aquarian Rays. I shocked your mind into my purposes, and you were going one grave too far. For this I will cry for eternity, for this I will never laugh again. You, My Aldebaran Jewel, you broke your mothers heart. You broke the snares of Neptune, and gave her milk to the rats.

plastic enemies

Is it a kiss before dying, to enter your gates again ?

Three chocolate-frogs to crown the chocolate-prince, three banana-frogs to crown the banana-prince.

My little son, having a little black plastic rose in his left hand, and a little plastic fire-tree in his right hand. Three little plastic cigarettes are in his mouth. He's playing the jester again.

On the back of a shark, a new life begins.

My little son, having a little chocolate rose in his mouth, chewing a bit, and making crazy faces. He's playing the jester again.

On the back of an orca, an old life ends.

My little son, eating a banana, it seems he's smiling deep again. Voices are whispering in his mind, his elf- and fairy-friends, he's smiling deeper and deeper and goes to sleep.

The red rose smiles, the frozen soldier laughs, and Me, the banana-queen, I'm looking at the head of Gepetto, sleeping as a flag on a ship of pirates.

One chocolate-frog, one banana-frog, zooming to the pirate-ship, blowing all their candles out. And when the last pirate sleeps, they take the head of Gepetto, and bring it to his garden again. There they sow it as a precious flower, the king of toys.

Go to sleep, Gepetto, for tomorrow you will create new toys. Go to sleep, Gepetto, for you are wearing the Eye of Aquarius to watch the markets of the planets. You are the Watcher of watchers, and something new will bloom in your garden of licorice.

When the licorice strikes, the second Eye of Aquarius will float down.

Poetry from the Black Widow

A Snake in the Swanlake

orange barbers

chinese prelude

You, oh white prince, you came from the white mountains, wrapping snow-clouds around your shoulders, breathing snowflakes in and out. You didn't seem to care about the frost. He was your friend, a white blanket for you to fly on.

You ate from delicious chinese dishes, sweetness from the oriental gardens. My chinese prince, my careless son. You were always without worry, skating at the chinese wall. Ragdoll, prince of dwarves. Your father made you tender, your mother made you slender. The tower of the church made you tall, and very fragile are your touches. You touched the head of a bird, a chinese one, and still there is dripping blood from his forehead.

Chinese rats were your servants, and it seemed you didn't want to know the indians.

Four shots of a gun sealed your marriage with the black swan. Your wife killed you inside but left your skin blank. She ate your liver, but weaved your prince's clothes. The crime was happening under skin.

No doctor would believe you, no hand could reach you inside.

Black snake of desire, where are you hiding your crimes, where are you hiding your stolen gems. For four brown jewels you stole, the treasures of the pirates.

Still your eyes are brown, my prince, and soothing like thunder and water. The secret of the swan-lake is in your eyes. Sweetness was your mother, and your father still runs to find the shelter of the black swan. He knows her crimes, he knows her secret killing intuition. Twenty tree-assassins are prowling into the kitchen of the baker's house. They are still looking for your crown, prince, they are still looking for a final answer.

The cornfields behind the house of the baker are still blushing red treasures. Four shots of a rifle ended your marriage with the black swan. She swam to four marauders, but your father, the baker is baking his cake for another rifle.

Ten tears were rolling from your face. The chinese man caughted them all and brought them to the forest. He burried them like he would burry his mother and his father. The funeral was in deep silence, visited by three jesters.

Do you remember your three red fishes, your chinese sovenirs ? They still swim in your pockets, they still know their ways to your hat.

When you will reach the chinese city, my son, they will burn your slippers, they will let your velvet ships sink. But they will give you the treasures of the black swan. They will see the bullet she forbade people to see.

french orphans

Prince of Jaguars, prince of peace, you reached your hands to the stars of Lynx. You washed his stars in a reservoir of cold water. You saw the red fear in the eyes of the french orphans, and you didn't seem to take notice of the indian wash-pinchers.

You knew the tears of the orphans, you kissed them all one by one. Your purple licorice-treasures filled the bellies of their teddy-bears, and you listened to their choir songs day and night.

Finally, now, you made bread of their tears, you showed them the treasures inside.

You still have the heart of a baker, you still carry your mothers flag.

One day, soon, my son, you will see the sun rising from the north and entering its last shelter. There you will find the black swan, but she can't touch you anymore. She will have to show you all the forbidden songs of the french orphans, and you will still avoid the indian wash-pinchers.

You will climb on her back once again, and she will fly with you to a mountain, where all the dwarves gather. Your father, baker, will raise his rifle and hit the air three times.

From your father to your mother you will run, and back. Their licorice will warm your heart, and you will feel your mothers shoes. You will keep weaving the threads of your mothers heart, you will have clothes enough to come through the winter.

Decades of sunless summers are suiting the french orphans. But you took them into the living room of your heart, and let them feel the warmth of your hearts hearth.

You counted the flames for them, and still they are stringing these flames to surround their new birds of drama. You knew how to touch their soul, you knew how to puzzle their toys.

Uncle prince, a side-shot in the head of the black swan, uncle prince, she couldn't chase his tail after she fell. Her wings are broken now, following shadows of strangers. Her boats sank to the bottoms of the red seas, missing their japanese meals.

Still the french orphans are diving in these mythical seas, looking for treasures, looking for legendary footprints of their uncle's fishes. They are still waving at stairways, and fishing at old antics of a long and all-forgotten past. But they don't seem to catch a tear of the prince, for they are hidden too well. Behind golden fences and dragonwalls, they live.

Would the song of an orphan be able to open the door of his cage, or does a chinese ring of patience and temperance finally have the key ?

The old baker is walking in the soaked footprints of deers throughout his garden. He is waiting for his son, he is waiting for post. Liquid letters are reaching his garden, talking about springs coming, wearing the breath of his son.

orange motor-cycles

The swanlake is in his eyes, he's the golden swan, now running as a jaguar, touching the edges of Lynx. Prince of the swanlake, prince of jaguars, touching the doors of Lynx, still with that fragile touch. His eyes bleed, the swanlake is speaking to his mind again.

Six tall jaguarboys, wearing tall leather jaguar-jackets, are shocking the streets, smoking tall cigarettes, spreading killing-flowers. They write cutting poetry, in which they wrap their tall sharp knives. They die on their stiletto-crosses, and preach an assassin called Jesus, in a french accent.

I can smell the heat of my fathers car-seat. We are driving a new road, entering a new garden, breaking new waves.

No one knows if these boys are angels or hellraisers. Their motor-cycles are orange painted, their wheels are spinning stiletto's, no one can follow their movements. Their mouths are like snakes, no one knows the time of attack. It's happening in a flash, and it's leaving in a flash. No one knows what they really take away, and no one knows what they really leave. They are the unfathomable thieves of the universe, committing unfathomable crimes.

Hold tight what you have, for tomorrow it might be gone.

Thick cold juices are streaming through the street, the guitar of the snake is their leader, echoing the frightening cries of old forgotten orphans. The stiletto-guitar wakes them up again, and they are marching out of their graves, out of the forgotten graveyards, looking for revenge. No one listened to them when they were young. Now they are old and bitter, looking for the toys they never had, searching for the wine they never drank. They were forgotten, now they will forget.

Twelve jaguar-brothers, having snakes in their eyes, stirring up the old tragedies of forgotten sons. They swallow like snakes, they steal like snakes. No prey can hide for their all-knowing eyes, their throats hurt, like swallowing stiletto's and thorns. The rose asks for a sacrifice, the doors of her flavours open.

Killer-flowers, killer-stiletto's, running after the echo's of a long forgotten father. He is still drunk of loneliness, chased out of the heart of society. Father of orphans, father of cities, of orange motor-cycles, you aren't forgotten by the snake, the guitar is still looking for you.

The snake, swimming in the swanlake, searching for the black swan.

the surrender

I drank the blood of a million roses, wrote stories on their leaves, and still I couldn't find the silence in my heart. I killed a thousand pillows, destroyed ten cities with a sharp piece of glass. I signed my name on a million of graves, and still I couldn't find my heart.

Surrendering myself to the forgotten snake opened my door to peace and unity. I broke the doors of twenty-million soldiers, paved the hearts of banned pirates, didn't leave one of them, but only the snake could bring me across the river of swans. On his back I found a new heart to play, black juices to drink.

The snake, swimming in the swanlake, diving deep, searching for the black swan.

I burnt the flags of rat-armies, drank the tears of bleeding apples. I fought against the forgotten sun, and the lost caves, but it didn't seem to bring me across the river of death. Only the snake could do.

licence to breath

Twenty-four jaguar-nephews looking for their lost uncles, racing their snake-cycles, wearing snake-gloves. Their snake-boots are sharp, high-heeled, but they have a licence from the Jesus they preach. There was a viking called Jesus, a legendary apple-assassin.

The Italian orphan is bleeding, painting his memories by his blood. With the hat of his father, he collects money for his art.

His feet are bleeding, leaving red footprints in the sand, for his birds to follow. He was born like a pirate, a toy-pirate. He was the red pawn of a chess-board of angels.
Now his father screams at him from heaven.

Still he runs through the rain with his fathers hat, in which he collects the old widowers from the streets. He doesn't want to let them die in the cold.

The old snake smiles. He sees light in his heart.

The red lady of chess has a wet cloud in her head. She doesn't seem to care about the rain, she's flying over the rainbow, accepting each and every ray of color. Ray of color, ray of light, you make the difference, you lock the row. Each and every color is a row-locker, without one of them, there wouldn't be a circle. She wears the ring of the rainbow, which is spinning around her finger, accepting all the colors, watching the edges of them, and their bridges between each other. She watches them being mixed, creating other colors, which can't be missed. These form the heart of her rainbow, the chains of her necklaces.

Drowning shadows in the night, bathing whispers in the stream, and you're still looking for the love in the pride. The secret of the lemons is what you found, you waved away the killer-apples from a lost childhood, chasing your dress-tails with their feathers of lost ancestors. You didn't seem to be shocked when you felt the first touch of the lemon. You were getting dizzy like a thousand of stars were entering the gates of your dress. You saw them entering your walls creating paintings in your skies. You stole the preludes of old chinese kings, but now you see their plots. You broke the stone-bowls of frogs, but now your tongue can reach the juice. You're child again, but now you are the queen.

the harlequin

The harlequin of the master is sharpening his tall paper flowers, in the corner of the flatbuilding's stair-landing on the second floor. He's watching shadows passing by, offering them some smoke of his old jail-clocks. He gathered them all through the years, using them to speak to the questions of the mexican hats. His rage is under his skin, the wound is inside, but he grins deep, entering a new drama of his life. He stole poetry from a thousand of princes, danced with a million of daffodil-elves, and kissed the tree of life, without paying attention to the indian crowns.

A killer-lemon called Jesus is turning the pages of an old book. The numbers are floating in his mind and he's breathing fire, spitting ice. The old mother is greeting me from her rocking-chair, but I'm diving in the sea of ice once again, looking for the sunk jail-clocks of the harlequin. His stories do interest me, his waves are easing my mind and soul.

Fourty-eight lemon-uncles, wearing the jaguar on the back of their black wind-jackets, looking for storms to race, having coiling snakes in their eyes. Their orange motor-cycles are gleaming in the sun, reflecting the teeth of Jupiter. They are having a party, selling my lemon-limbs. They give me some twigs to enjoy, but when I'm home, it's all ashes, muttering on the table. They are whispering in my mind, I'm not king anymore. Black rats and cats are entering my house, laughing at me, skew-eyed.

Can I have the eyes of aldebaran, can I get my lemon eyes back again ? All these lemon-clocks, sunk in the red seas behind the dark forests of japan. A skew-eyed Jesus is still counting the shadows passing by. Remember his name, remember his eyes, for it seems he looks at your hair but he's grasping your pockets.

Master of illusion, master of cows, beating the drums, swallowing the violins. He shakes your left hand and is eating your right hand. He knocks at your frontdoor, but is entering through your windows at the other side of your house. He calls your grandmother, and is grasping the indian lampsteads no one wanted to see. He smuggles them through the seven seas of death, saying they are his cows to bear, but the bells of the cows are bleeding old stories of baker-clothes. Their feet wash away the foam from the rivers, and he watches the faces of the old jail-clocks, skew-eyed.

Tomorrow what you see will not be me, but an old leather fish-bag from your grandmothers dream, sailing away across seven rages, stealing the heads of giants from an unknown tale. The cornfields will blow your trumpets, but no one will hear, for their ears are deaf by the sharp voice of the harlequin.

No one will know your dreams again, for they are lying at the bottom of a swallowed ocean.

And you, my white jaguar-prince, still spinning words into wadding, to plug into ears of dreamers and to soften your mothers heart You wear the lemon as your trophee, weaving it from the tails of forgotten rats. Thunder and water to drink, flowers to watch the big eye.

Your breads are still sour, and your mazes are still wet, but the old blind musician has a new killer-song to play, leaving footprints of wet smoke to the windows of the bakeries throughout the city. Your taste was well chosen, your bag is gaining space.

The only thing we want to know is the bridge under the swanlake. The treasures there are cold and steamy, a house of pancakes is what it sells. When the clock strikes three times, there is tea for all.

the baker's liqueur

Baker, spin your wine, baker, cover your liqueurs with rags. You, father of french orphans, you, father of jaguar queens, you bred the snake to it's length and stole the tower from the church by a black rat-glove in the snow. Your wife was the black widow, the clock of the broken tower, and you painted the noses of your tiny little killer-puppets. They didn't need a line, didn't need a thread, they could walk with their own minds, you bred them well.

The red lady is staring in her mirror, looking for the picture she wants to see, but all she sees are the markets of ancient stiletto's, carving another wound in her face, for halve of the price. She sees the birds of her heart, spinning another nightmare in the top of her tower. Tomorrow it will stream as black liqueur, over the edges and corners of the dresses in her wardrobe, searching for their places in the clocks on the wall again. Through misery and drama she will have to grasp her way back to the vineyard again. Her rainbows will wait for her there.

Is it the liqueur of the baker ?

Ninety-six fathers marching as soldiers through the marshes of a forgotten kingdom, throwing their babies in the air, waiting for birds to pick them up, for halve of the price.

The jaguar follows them wherever they go.

The snake is diving deep, still looking for the black swan. It is late. Ten-thousand children are waiting for his return.

Did you ever see the birth of a rat, or the growth of a snake's egg in the stomach of a lion ?

I'm still watching the ashes lying on my table.

Bakers hide in tall whispers.

sea of rats

Ten-thousand rats, following the snake, searching for the black pearl. Harming underwater traffic-lights, finding their way to the white blaze of treasures. They are wearing no names, their suits were burnt long ago.

All what I got from you was one hand full of ashes.

The burning swan is finding it's way to the forest, where her old dreams are boiling
again.

Skew-eyed rats are running through the forest. They survived the mazes of the swanlake, they sailed the seas of golden swans. Dreams are pushing their walls, stolen dreams, broken rules.

Skew-eyed rats, never knowing where their eyes are staring.

Snake's possible dream would be about a trunk.

Here, in this forest, he would sow my ashes, besides the trunk. This was always his dream, this was always his heart. The jail, the market, they would all find their place here. Without the jail, the ashes wouldn't be seed. Without the market, the ashes wouldn't be magical. For didn't life start in the bakery between the market and the jail ? Weren't we all slaves and toys, dancing from the sun to the moon ?

Someone burnt a shoe to enter a new world.

Hundred and ninety-two mothers are following the jaguar, the prince is sitting on his throne. He never forgot the french orphans, he never forgot his father the baker.

Now the ashes are lying before him, speaking magical spells, catching the greengrocer's crocodiles.

Chinese tea is his best receipt, a secret of his father. Father learnt it from the old chinese man.

the last golden swan

You are entering the chinese city, sailing on your purple golden boat, spun licorice.

The old man will greet you from his rocking-chair on the balcony of his wooden house at the bank of the chinese river of licorice-waves. You are shaking hands with the golden giants of the chinese dreams. You never thought this would happen to you.

In the heart of this place you find the last golden swan. You feel it's heat bumping against the thick walls of your hand, and it's warmth is gliding into your soul, waiting for a new sunset ringing in your mind.

You, oh prince, still your mothers last black pearl, turning from brown into white, hovering to enter a new story in japan. Among the jaguars was your place, now you are wearing their suits and riding their cycles, watching the teeth of jupiter, the birth of new rats. Your jackets are getting taller, your fathers whispers are getting sharper in your mind. You can peel your mothers flowers, carrying the widower's coffin.

japanese terror

The last golden swan is beating in the old purple leather bag of your mothers aunt.
A little clock is located in the head of the swan, made by the black widow. She is the queen of killer-clocks, creating killer-birds from an old french window. The red eye of the little swan is flashing, it's a little red chrystal. I take it out of it's head, and the clock quits his travels. Now the serpent can sleep. His dreams are gliding through the waters of the swan-lake, bringing him back to where he comes from.

I wrap the little gem in a soft towel throwing it in the yellow sea, where a mermaid starts to scream at me. Is it me who's screaming, a reflection of myself, or is it really a mermaid. Do I hear voices in my head, or is a milkmaid standing before the door of my room ? She broke in twice while I was sleeping, and took my cats away.

Now she is standing at the yellow sea screaming in unknown languages. Fortune fairytales were coming from her lips and she ate fishes to shut their threats, to shut the old voices of foreign fables. She could turn the weather in a moment.

Threehundred and eighty-four rats are surrounding the castle of the red dragon, wearing the blue jaguar on their flags. Japanese delights are their specialities. Their kitchens are full of green moss. The forests are so shiny here.

The prince's eyes bleed, the swanlake is speaking to his mind again. The yellow princess, still hiding his tears.

What really happened there, in the swanlake, there, at the bottom of his broken dreams ?

killer-comic

Mummified by flower-comics. There, at the swanbridge, she brought her mummified man, sacrificing him to the red dragon. The comics were aching his mind, for they were dipped in poison. He's still reading his comics, speaking in a strange language again.

Sixty comics are entering his mind again, planting the red eye in his head. His mind is screaming, his heart is releasing and he hears the sharp voice of the baker again. He's getting swivel-eyed again.

He's reaching for his inner child, this man in jail. He's feeling his ring feeling his finger. It's stinging and pinching him. He feels his ring is reading his comics too, and he's ashamed of himself. He's diving at a new ring, a blue one, but he can't reach it because of the waves. He feels and breathes his grandfather's smoke of a pipe, and he's trying to break the bars which separate him from his inner child.

ice above stars

A battle against a million of rings start, but his mind starts to fade away. One moment he finds himself running between the bars, and he starts to realize that the bars aren't the problem anymore, for between them there is a gate.

All colors start to jump on him, but he breaks these waves one by one, catching them with his back.

In the mills of his mind, they find a way out and enter his heart to stir up some new troubles.

On the other side of the bars, they seemed to be rats, and he mutates with them, racing out of the castle on a friend's feather.

Darkness and fogs are fading away. A new day starts.

Four skaters are skating at the lake, picking up an old red doll, lying in the snow. He's leaving a world under the ice.

Paper soldiers are dragging the waterholes. She's leaving. He's leaving a world under the ice.

He's floating in the air, the red doll is smiling, meeting skaters in the air, reaching an arch of ice above the stars. He's leaving another world in the ice. Under the ice, it starts to boil, until an enormous explosion splits the atmosphere in a myriad of splinters, all raging at the fat red lady in the midst of the universe. The red rainbow looks in her mirror again, seeing a face fading away. She smiles, watching a dream coming to it's end. Now she can sleep again without worries. She dries her wet clothes, rolls through the white sand, entering the forests of her dreams, waiting for another split, waiting for another world to leave in the ice. She's leaving one shoe, leaving one glove, to finally enter her golden bath, without looking backwards, watching straight ahead, without bowing her head, every step is silver, every breath is gold, entering the marble galleries of her forgotten dreams. She remembers again, she breaths, like a new born baby.

She's wearing the silver secrets of the jaguar under her arms, captured in three silver books. Smoke covers the city, the orange swivel-eyed phoenix is rising from the ashes, carrying a jaguar, a lemon and a red doll on her back, leaving thick moisty juice-stripes in the air, flying to new eternities.

the hollow

A seven-headed orange dragon called Jesus, wearing seven crowns, is entering the first silver book of the jaguar, eating the letters and purple pictures out of the book.

A seven-headed orange snake called Esau, wearing seven pointy hats, is fishing the brown warm shoes out of the second silver book of the jaguar.

They are all kings of the dawn, kings of the orange morningstar.

The third silver book of the jaguar is all which remains after the great white war.

What if the baker comes home ?

Is it still the liqueur of the baker ?

A man called "Bible" possesses the land, preaching from the baker's suite. He's wearing a black t-shirt with a white cross painted on it. He's spreading earrings, which sting and pinch.

Is this the liqueur of the baker ?

The people are silent, waiting for another rifle.

Four shots of a shotgun, awakening an old book. Four shots of a shotgun, enough to blow it away. Seven mighty books rising from the sea, possessing the land, capturing the readers.

Six comics to read, five fairytales to give away, four fables to swallow, three trunks to show their sources.

I heard a tree screaming, blood on the market-tiles, the book was sold, for half of the price.

Neon billboards crashing another tree, until the third had been struck down.

A neon-Jesus, painting the doors of strangers with the blood of old cemetery-nightmares, fixing the strings of an old machine. Hey skew-eyed, can I borrow your antic time-machine for sixhundred and sixtysix dollars a week ?

Twenty-four men called Jesus are marching through the old alleys of the city, selling drugs, half of price. They will take out your ears, spending your salaries to the mazes, spoiling your kids and eating your reindeers. At the barter you will get their little wigs to enjoy, turning your wives and children into ashes.

Esau will count your tears, letting your houses, selling your moisty desires.

Orange barterers, brain-divers, coming from the jails, rising from the killer-markets, turning into a black widow, showing you the two directions of the great opera. Does anybody know the way in this maze of strange manners ? The way you shook my hand made me doubt your prayers for pure coffee.

I am nothing more than a cloud in the rain, reading your bibles through a telescope, watching your golden giants through a microscope. I'm nothing but the bullet sleeping under your bed while the rain is waiting to fall. I'm sorry for not paying attention to your asthma, running around in a pyamas, too short, with the nicotine-tail, diving at nails in undeeep water, brushing your self-made tears in line after the self-spun slaughter. I'm sorry to not listen to your lady-secretary wearing five golden earrings in her nose, half of price, while guiding the sheep of your neighbour's.

I'm not in my ship anymore, not breaking my cards, not selling my dollars. The only thing I do is raising my hand out of a sea of sugar, reaching for the long waiting honey in the skies.

Esau's iron coffee will break, the black widow will drink till the hole is hit in her stomach, only to reach for her husband, the baker, drinking lemon-liqueur streaming into a myriad of forgotten eternities.

Your fools are paying your coffee. A lemon-clown called Esau is shaking the mazes after the war, gathering the soldiers not eaten by the clouds. Spit it out, brother, my pointy sack is still empty.

The red fat lady is gathering the splinters of broken songs, spinning her fairytales from the old tower. The black widow is following her footsteps, following her thick, cold glue-streams of breath, where the old whispers of ancestors are swimming. She stings her thumb and climbs her dress-ladders, until she can reach the blushing holes. From here she can see the world, from here she can read the seas. Fresh air is entering and the curse of nicotine is broken. The head is hollow, the bread is baked, she's finding her husband at the edge of the red hat. No baker could enter, but this baker. It seems the orange is melting dripping from the edge of the hat, looking for a cat called Esau.

The hat is hollow, the cat skew-eyed.

Skew-eyed Esau, raging at his bike, destroying his guitar, looking for a new pearl to burn, peeling a new egg of his lover's tail. This time it seems to be all hollow, his money has run out.

The end of the story is still not near. The cat is still running after clouds which aren't speaking, still entering empty class-rooms.

A hollow end, a hollow prey.

Hollow food, nothing to bite, hollow books, hollow voices, nothing inside.

The hollow baker marries his hollow wife again. A hollow marriage.

A hollow birthday-cake, echoing a hollow past.

Hollow strangers walking on hollow paths, listening to hollow voices. Their eyes are hollow, their speeches are hollow, entering hollow waves. A hollow lemon is their leader, carrying a hollow red doll on his back. Hollow stiletto's are singing hollow songs, spreading hollow smoke. The end of a hollow dream.

Poetry from the Latin Buffoon Puppet

Boys from Lynx
touch of the jelly-fish

I only wore your trousers ...

It was never easy for me to look into the eyes of the grey snake. It was never easy for me to see him digesting another frog. Mr. Wasp was never merciful while gathering the unbroken bones. The horror from the backstage is still wandering through the smoke of my mind.

Your forests were cold, I could never really fear its length. My mother is still wandering there, looking for the last red raspberries of the old frog. They say he will never die, for the memory is his breath. But no one knows where he hides, no one knows where his smoke comes from. Some say he's the travestite of the black zone. The grey snake could never feel his breath.

Mr. Wasp, gather your children. I didn't break your glasses, I didn't take your snakes. The snake-tongue is the last memory attached to your mind.

The injection of dr. grey snake made your soul quiet, soothened your soldiers to sleep. The black lullaby is still the bible you read from, cutting away the threatening pages.

You still wear the feathers of your ancestors, but you took the needles out of them. Oh, you lost your needles in the sands of the city of sleep. You carry seven beds on your back, you are still a sleepwalker in the rain.

Oh, where are your children, oh hero from the past. You lost them all in your dreams.

Bugs are working in your garden, carrying the last seven stones of your pirate-buttons you used to wear. You lost your wildness, you lost your sting. Father, I couldn't follow your strange fruits anymore. They come from too far places, wearing a too deep linen smile to trust.

Forgive me, father, for not kissing your sirens which you used to guard your silences. Their tall tails were never my dreams to sail on.

Forgive me, father, for not wearing the uniforms you gave me, when I was young. You forgot to remove the needles by which mother used to sew.

I'm not complaining anymore about the zooming winds in the trousers you gave me. These were the only things I used to wear. Bees painted my body to protect me against the cold nights in the summer. I was your summer-child, your Sunday's kid.

You used to spoil me with grandfathers secrets. I will never forget your soft embracements, they brought the tears back to my swallowed heart.

Father, I still feel the holes in my head, the thorns in my hands, the needles weaved throughout my body, looking for my inner cellars, below the houses of my heart. I still see aunt walking outside in the garden, wearing a carved smile, hunting the city-bees. It always soothed my inner garages, who used to produce steaming bull-boats. I burried my bulls long ago, in the garden of my neighbour's.

Aunt used to carve the flowers in their horns. I still see her bathing in too hot waters, she looks like you, father.

waiters in old amsterdam

How tall are these legs of the boys from lynx. They don't seem to touch the ground.
They are the waiters in the little hotel of amsterdam. They are still waiting for the old host, who doesn't seem to show up very often. They still want to marry his sirens.

They are still dragging the rivers again, looking for old drowned watches to sell.
They sell everything, but the prices are too high. The watches aren't working anymore, but the buyers like the flavors of it. The people wear big noses, bought in the trick-shops at the canals. The waiters from lynx are also selling noses. They are the leaders of the blind, selling them long sticks with hands at the tops.

They like to be on the beaches of forest-seas, gathering the sand to keep them all blind. They are playing marbles with eyes.

Boy of Lynx, you knew the hiding secret of the killer-eye. Pacman was the fright of the seven seas. You saw his clouds of canaries terrorizing the coasts of the planet.
He never revealed his name, while burning the ships of spanish rivers. He never spat out the goldfishes he ate.

He used to curse the little statues of white saints hanging on his arms. Their blue bingo-cards are still frightening his mind. You always hated the prince of domino, you used to play billiards with him. His cues were taller than yours, and his green money had blue shades, sharp crenated. You couldn't stand his odor of innocence, captivating your houses, without doubts. You always said his tongue was too tall, and his balls were cubes. Do you still not know the curse of the marbler ?

A gambler entered your house on a horse, without breaking a wall, a feast in history.

Prince of domino, hanging on the waves of your mother's dress.

Prince of pears, running through the milk, searching for the exit.

All these cities were spoilt by the handicapped nurses of the big eye, gathering drunk, drained saturdays on a sunday-morning.

Don't cry when another snake takes you away to it's lair. This is how you discover the world.

palace of failure

Little killer-eye, in bagdad you had your palace, until the spanish dreams took it away. Now you're reading latin braille, chasing the killer-whales away. No one knows you are blind. Your television died long ago. You are wearing black glasses, to hide your shame and fear. You still love to play pacman, behind your invisible screen, but you are a blind child.

You lost your marbles, you lost your luck, you were living as a prince of lost games in the palace of failure. Broken records were entering through your windows, broken languages were painted on your walls.

Broken trust, broken games. All you wanted to do was escaping in fear and become a fright.

But in your heart you are a prince, carrying the games of your mother and father under your arms, in pride. You know how to play the games, you know where to put your pawns. Your golden dice are still blinking in the sun.

A spanish dream blinded your sight, but you are still in your palace. A little latin killer-buffoon, a prophet from the black zone, wearing zorro's sword, paralyzed your soul. But the balls of the domino-prince weren't cubes, the spanish dream turned you upside down.

Little orphan, your heart is so frozen. The high-heeled ice-cream made your heart bleed. Show me the thorns in your eyes, show me the threads of your puppets. Little puppet-master, driven by unreached trophies, hunted by the lions of an unreached football, your medaillons are still bleeding in the gardens.

You were too afraid to show your heart, afraid to show your empty marble-sack.

Running over broken chess-boards, stinging your feet. Wrestling with stubborn playcards, sailing ships in a glass of red wine, drowning in cups too full of beer, but the domino-prince is still on your side. In the billiard-room you met the boys from lynx. They always saw you as their little friend, their little son. They are still nursing the blind.

the cook's book

Officer of destruction, little terrorist from libra, you are still a whispering prince, shutting doors with a sigh and a shhh.

You watched the boys of lynx, cutting languages, voices, speeches and foreign accents in their yellow kettles, spreading their beaches over the edges of steam to cover the eyes of the swimming dictionaries, to bring the sirens of the old wasp into sleep.

Seventy lullaby-divers were entering the kettles, dropping their anchors to determine the gliding flavours.

Did pinocchio ever play billiards ? His lies were enough to let the balls stream.

The old domino-stairway is cracking. At the top the princess of bagdad is crying tears of lost games. She knows where you went through. She was always by your side. Her tears are mixing with yours, breaking the chains. No more games to play, they are all lost, trying to find their ways back to the hearts of little children. Don't care for a game, they bring nothing but tears.

She feels his hands touching her's. The thorns are coming to the surface of his hands. She feels nothing but stings. The old wasp comes to the top of the stairs, showing them three marbles.

The little buffoon-puppet is hiding itself in a corner of the domino-stairs, having a long knife in it's little hands. Little killer-dictionaries are hiding behind the black buttons of his suit.

When the old wasp shows the first marble, they attack.

The prince wrestles with dictionaries, with old languages from deep pits. His trousers are getting wet, his mornings are turning red. At the top of the stairs, the princess of bagdad is still crying. He feels her tears running through his trousers, reaching for his boots. The old shoe speaks all languages, the old shoe knows all names.

The boys of lynx are running up the old domino-stairs, stinging the pearls of the old dictionaries. The power of the wasp. These were the letters of the cook's book, following echo's of a mind turned upside down.

The little hotel is blushing again, the walls wearing new smoke.

little buffoon

Smoke comes from your little house in the desert. You are cooking the whole day, creating games to play. Chess-apples were your speciality. You stole the smoke from the old host's soup. Little smoke-maker, little game-breaker, little sun of purple devils, you wore the crowns of the cardgame-cooks.

Smoke is entering the billiards-room. The old gambler gives you a glass of milk to drink. He likes your funny speech, and he feels sorry for your lost dog.

The walls here are painted by a little truant, doing black jobs to pay his schoolbooks. The stories are getting sadder.

And now you are sitting here on your high bar-chair, drinking beers streaming on the old gambler's money. You invented this box, you created this jail of numbers.

There's nothing left to say, orphans are dying in the cold, and you choose your own champions, writing your own dictionaries with broken pencils, dripped in blood.

Horror with a difficult smile, but you know your rats at the backstage of this circus, kissing the wings of spiders turned upside down. You knew the cook very well, but you never dared to look in his face. Because you were so afraid to lose a game, you started to create your own games, in which you would always be the champion.

Your selfmade pawns would always choose you as the president.

The smoke of the little drunk buffoon was rising up in the hills of the cold deserts. The sand was getting colder throughout the years, sealing the graveyards of old eyes.

A sea of broken glasses was lying before my eyes, with waves roaring against the storms.

The little buffoon was sailing his ship to the cave of dwarfs.

Birthday cakes were rising from the deep cave of dwarves, for their gratitude to the little buffoon was big, but he couldn't enjoy his cakes. He missed his parents, but he also hated them.

He feels the old rotten foundling-basket again, swallowing his blankets away.

Killroy was here

Boys from Lynx, waiters under the host's command, foundlings from the beginning, wearing the stings of wasps in their bodies. Being a wasp, searching for the wasp-nest. They always loved their little purple buffoon-doll. Millions of stings flying through the air, searching for the big eye to enter.

Swallowing a fourty-thousand million of wasps. Still an unusual thing to do.

Dark echo's are watching my mind. Tall liquid sirens are dragging their rivers with silver boots. They sold their tails to the sky.

The canals of amsterdam have been dried out. The little purple puppet is looking for his lost house.

His little ring is aching his finger. The old foundling-basket is swallowing his mind.

Burn these baskets, said the old wasp. It's soap in the little hotel for so many years, but the little purple puppet doesn't know that.

Tattoos of old wasp-stings are covering my body. I can still read the comics on my skin, I never have to buy a newspaper or a magazine. Graffiti on my boots, graffito on my t-shirt. Killroy was here, Hitler and Montevani.

These are the dreams, these are the gifts. I never have to buy them, they come through my open windows, entering near to the edge of my bed.

I'm lying on my bed, sifting my dreams, kissing the baskets of wasps. Thanks to them I can dream, thanks to them I can forget. The stings enter my bloodstreams, breaking my heart out of the game. The little purple puppet is still my friend, after all these years sailing the purple fairytales. He knows what it is to be a foundling. We never talk about games, we never talk about the venom of old licorice. We just sail, chasing after forgotten wasps, forgotten dreams.

His poison is entering my mind. It doesn't hurt me, it heals me. For finally I have a friend who shares his pain with me, and he reflects who I am. He reflects my dreams and my tears, my fears and my scars. When I look at him, I see the enchanted mirror, and then I can understand myself.

Thank you for wandering together with me, thank you for drinking the same tears, from the same source. Thank you for the library you brought to my heart, the library of my life.

I will never watch this movie again. I will throw it into the sea. But the memories I have, I will keep them close to my heart. I will not forget what others forgot. I will not forbid what others forbade. I will be free in a garden of space and breath, from my own mind and my own place. This place is the heart of the little purple puppet.

in the waspnest

Entering the waspnest, drinking the juices with old story-teller-wasps, is the best you can do when your ship has been sunk. It is even better than burning memories with a little purple puppet. The old sailor-wasps are good to listen and to talk to.

The little princess from bagdad is bathing in the sea. Teardrops are sticking as jelly-fishes at her body. She saw the second marble of the old wasp. She's drowning her mind in an old basket, bearing a secret in her heart. The wasps are getting her attention, drawing her to the waspnest, where I am sitting on a linen decorated chair, in fragile linen pyama's. This waspnest is in the midst of the big eye. She shows me a book of honey, and I'm licking it, but my face is turning blue and purple.
It is so delicious, but the girl sais it's another dictionary to read. It's a language of wasps, a zooming alphabet. The tears are rolling from her eyes, for the letters hurt her and her throat is swollen.

In the sea of tears an electric eel is swimming. No tear can stick at his body.
The tears of the dentist can not reach his mind, he doesn't know his docter's name.
The boys of lynx are still breeding the blind, leading them to the hills of destiny. No one will pay your bills, no one will free your cats. The destiny is two hills away from the little hotel.

The third marble reflects the fragments of the jellyfish's face.

Can I have some rest between the seconds ? You have six seconds to enter the fire.
Can I have some beds between your breaths ? I will check in ten minutes if you did your homework.

The teacher jumps to a board of domino-soldiers. They are shooting with playcard-bullets. It seems the game isn't over. The jellyfish is smoking his pipe. Entering a stage makes the party different. No dress can wash away your make-up. Billiards-soldiers are entering the gallery, the pawns are fainting one by one. The secret suicide-princess is watching the mirror-faces of her draught-soldiers. She can't stand one smile, and will start to scream until the tear is falling.

Vela's old soldiers are encircling the billiards-room. Giant-dice are watching the foam.

I'm walking along the old aldebaran's canals, blowing away some tiny little toy-ships. An old spanish santa-clause called alva is watching my names. He's burning the shadows of old marbles in my skin. An old vela-soldier shaking his head.

Does he know the thief of bagdad ? The trains of the west seem to end in snow.
Where are the mar-plots, where are the kill-joys ?

A spanish prince, gathering the old fruits, caring for the old people. Wearing his mother's old fruit-rags sewed at his shirt, and his father's old fruit-statues clipped at his trousers, skating the lakes of the suicide princess, looking for his last pseta to burn.

Skating the marshes, he's looking for the prince of rats, the little truant-boy. I know why you didn't see school, I know why you didn't look into the eyes of the spanish santa-clause. You saw the blood in the teacher's eye. Now you're running with rats, looking for your lost paradise between old gossip-magazines, painting your lips everyday by it's gathered blood. They think you are the queen of advocates, the stinging doorhandle of a dentist's breath, but you are a cheeky newspaper-boy, running with your rats in the alleys of london.

I'm diving deep into the waters of the pink-blue snake's bed. My eyes are full of tears. I saw the deer-dog running to grandmother's city and back. Her dreams are still surrounding my arms, having a tool to swim.

I was always afraid to enter this old alley. The smoke was killing another camouflage. My brother always asked for cigars from the big boys, breaking them when they arrived by post. My mother always told us to take candy from strangers, and bringing it to her for some cruel underground conspiracies. We were never allowed to shake their hands.

I saw a killerbird wearing three feathers in the wind. My mother used to seal their lips, while they entered the garden. Whispers were bringing ice-creams from the nothing, and an overdose of pride is still watching our memories. They are back, but now they have been changed.

I call for twenty teachers racing a long hairy car in the desert. They are looking for the little purple puppet. The eyes of a mill-maid are staring at my coffee-cups. I feel cold breezes entering my trousers again. They are looking for my suspenders.

the spanish castle

The dream-prince is counting his twenty play-cards. He eats from the spanish treasures.

No one would ever know the horror of this place. The little puppet wrote twenty books on the topic. Horror with a glass of wine. A black book of horror with some salt. Three decades without any apricot, is a long time for a pirate with a split character. Which face will he choose today ? My grandmother is drying her apricots in old fancy silver books, speaking about a past without soldiers.

The apricot-tree would be the last thing I would look at. I had too many nightmares dripping from it's leaves. It took my grandfather three full days to walk it's perimeter. He's still walking in cubes, leaving deep moisty boot-prints from mysterious giants, echoing through the several bottoms of the old planet. They are still hunting my dreams, spitting my old animal-pals. He's too protective, his walls are too thick, his blankets too heavy.

His mourning giants with funerals in their eyes, dripping old golden coffee, are looking for a dragon, standing on a beach, watching the desert.

The little boy is painting his killer-buffoons, watching his red chess. He's standing on his black mountain, far away from the little hotel. It's still floating to lose it's chains.

The little princess is having her birthday. The little purple puppet won't come. He is inventing a new place.

Dark nights are entering the coffee-house in little bagdad. The spanish teacher has a soft and pleasant voice. It wasn't what you expected, the blinding sting was your daddy's hand. Thorns in the sand are reminding you of the sea. It's treasures are spanish delights, and now you are reading melting braille again. It's dripping from the sun to the skies, softening your heart's ideas.

Finally you see your father's paintings melting, the spanish fire holds you tight. You see the cities melt into a funnel, spinning fading spirals in the air. In the sands of Jupiter a spanish girl is building castles of sand and salt. The waves come to break these treasures every morning. She doesn't know about domino-princes. She's building her own paths. She knows a leather dragon, having toothaches. Her giants are walking too heavy, wearing too heavy suits. Her birds cannot fly because of the heavy feathers. Feathers of iron, feathers of stone. The walls of her castle are so thick that there is no space in the rooms. Only the little ones can live there. Every morning she goes to the beaches watching the roaring waves break her little castles, with tears in her eyes. The tears she sells to the boys of lynx, for a cup of coffee. She is still blind, crying blind tears.

I am drawing new rooms at the walls of her castle, the giants take their place.

From dust to dust the grey snake slides. But I drew too much.

Purple and yellow are still your colours, while orange is raking your sea-gardens.

Poetry from the Neptunian Rose

Forest Dreams

The Neptunian Rose, standing in the middle of the Neptunian Forest, blooming different colors from different stars. This Neptunian Rose is the mouth of the universe. Telling us to let all the tension run out of our muscles. Beauty is better than strength. Be flexible as a snake. Flexibility is better than power.

the ten gates into the neptunian forest

the first gate

You entered the gate to the Neptunian Forest, to watch your dreams and your passions, to let go of your strains. Watch your blood run through your veins. Watch how the neptunian trees offer you neptunian blood, neptunian life to stream through your veins.

the second gate

Now you come into a forest-lake formed of dew. The frogs attach themselves to your body, giving you a forest-skin. You feel cool healing winds flowing and streaming throughout your body, up and down, back and forth. You get forest-glands to protect you against the dark reptiles and fishes in this lake. Do you dare to fight and wrestle with these reptiles and water-snakes ? These crocodiles who represent your inner strains and blocks ? Do you dare to bite and use your claws. Do you dare to sting and eat ? These dark creatures represent the paths you have to go. You will be transformed into nature again, if you deal with them. The farther you swim in this lake, the more your skin-colour will change into the colours of nature. When you are able to cross this lake, you can enter the third gate.

the third gate

You reached the other side of the lake, and you are creeping through the mud and the sand of the forest-shore. Your skin is greener and more flexible than ever. You survived your memories, you survived the cutting points of view, hunting in the lake. You say goodbye to them. You still creep through the forest-leaves, through the moss and the mud. The atmosphere is very moisty here. Then suddenly a big snake is acting up before you, and a wrestle starts. You feel his cold body spiralling himself around you, and you even feel his blood running through his veins. He bites you in your lower back, and you scream, but your legs start pull him down, and your grip is very tight. You feel an enormous strength has entered your legs. You feel yourself getting the wildness of the forest, that you are getting one with the forest, and you bite him in his neck, while putting your nails deep into his skin. You feel your poison is paralyzing him and finally you tear him into pieces.

You survived your fears, frustrations and confusion, which the snake represented.

However your body is bleeding, and your wounds are deep.

the fourth gate

You now enter a place with hills of warm sand, and the farther you creep through this place, the hotter the sand becomes. Your skin-color is getting lighter, and you feel the sand covering your moisty wounds, which you feel as a healing. The atmosphere is peaceful, and there are some little bushes throughout this sphere. You feel some hot stones entering your body, feeding your bones, and it's like soft, sweet milk is running through your veins.

the fifth gate

You are armed for a new battle. You enter a field of wild flowers, and you feel your blood boiling and your skin blooming. You start to feel like a flower, and you feel your body is being decorated like wearing fragile torn clothes, but wasps dive at you trying to sting your nipples to suck all the milk and honey out of you. You can't wrestle with these, for touching them is like touching high volted electricity. What you can do is to spit fire, for you are hot blooded enough now. At the end of the field you see a little gate you can go through.

the sixth gate

You now entered through the little gate of a rock and you now stand before an enormous abyss, with a small bridge. You walk on the bridge, and you start to look down, and you get the shivers. The bridge suddenly stops somewhere above the abyss where you can sit at the back of a giant-eagle as tall as you. Further and deeper in the abyss is an island floating in the air. The eagle brings you there. Here you will have to fight against lions, panthers, and giant-spiders. In the middle of the island you will find a ladder of wires which will lead you out of the abyss.

the seventh gate

You now stand at the other side of the abyss, and your skin looks like the rainbow.

Your wounds and scars are so beautiful, because they speak of your bravery and persistence. These wounds and scars will be the key to the Neptunian Rose you were looking for.

You now eat the Neptunian fruits, and you feel it's soft, bright juices flow through your mind and veins. You feel revitalized by these streams and you start swimming in them, following them deeper into this new world. You see the tropical fishes swimming near you, and again you feel frogs attaching themselves to your body. This time they are tropical, giving you tropical glands to speed through the waters.

You are about to reach the neptunian oceans and seas. You fly on the backs of tropical birds, and you reach another island in the midst of these seas and oceans. Here you drink the milk of coconuts and feeling the warm and cool sea-winds of the planet.

You are able to fly on the winds now, for you developed a light-body now throughout the journey. By being so close to the animals you also got their skills and functions. You are more and more changing into an animal-being.

the eighth gate

You now enter through a light-spiral, and you fly over all the places you went through, seeing all your footsteps.

the nineth gate

And then you start all over again, which brings you into a water-spiral.

the tenth gate

This never-ending story brings you into a spiral of neptune's breath, the Rose of Neptune.

Poetry from the Toy's Soldier

Masked Memories

the other is always deeper

the first dream

I once came in a library, filled with books about my life, the past and the future. The books of my past were blue and the books of my future were pink. The books of the now were green. I read them and my tears were dripping, for what I saw was so different compared to how I looked at it. The books were filled with velvet pictures, and it smelled like fresh grass bathed in sunlight.

I looked outside the window to the neon-lights, but they started to fade away while thinking at the books. It was such a magic to me, that I felt it would be better to close the curtains and to lock myself up in this library of my life. All my memories were washing through my mind and my body.

the second dream

I went to the next floor of this beautiful library and I saw the same books, but now they were filled with other characters instead of me. And when I was reading the books, with all my memories played by other characters, I started to realize that I was just reflecting others in my life. My memories are streams swallowed, also by others. My memories aren't from myself, but are coming from others. Others are always deeper. Memories are paths to go. This is sinking away in yourself. The deeper you dive into yourself, the more you will discover the others there.

They were the projectors of my memories, they were the projectors of their own lives. Inside me there was a well, a place with many colours. Movies were streaming through my mind. So many actors live in me.

All my wounds flew into the books. These books of healing were covering my mind.

Poetry from the Black Fish

Red Picnic's Day

Syrop from Venice

grandfather's watch

The place of dogs was hard for me to reach. I felt myself melting in the black rain.
The tall dog-statues along the brown sandy paths were frightening me.

I saw myself climbing in a tree. Is that really me, or is it just a ghost of my shadow ?

I saw the lawyer walking through the little fence of the dog-garden, his shadows melting away in the darkness. Finally he disappeared through the wall of the dog-house, leaving only a little time-detonator, waiting in my ears to explode.

It's my appetite for destruction. I'm sitting in the waiting-room of the dentist. A friendly face is counting my inner steamdrips, but my fears are swallowing me.

Harry is so sick, he can't look through the glasses on his nose. He's shivering under twenty blankets his mother knit for him, from the skin of an old drowned snake.

He said he drowned as a lyric in the seas of the dentist's ear, for it didn't want to swallow.

My feet are getting cold in the giant's kettle. They say I need to swallow the fish and holding in my breath for three days and a night. I know they speak of truth, for they know the little dog-house. My cats are burning today, they don't want to go to school.

Sometimes when daddy is awakening, I feel his running breath checking the rooms of the visitors for smoke. I don't think I can hold it here any longer.

I am embracing another kettle. It feels cold, like the other. The giants are smiling in the wind. I wish to hear their voices. No one can imitate a giant like daddy. He is racing on his old school-bike again. Where is the schoolmistress, she forgot her umbrella.

There is the lawyer again, wearing some lipstick from old dog-kisses on his cheek. They are almost dried out.

I'm wondering what he was doing there. He forgot to eat his bread, it's hanging in the trees.

Ten miles from school, it was a hard day.

The teacher is calling my name. He wants to speak to me under five eyes. Two of mine, three of his. He always wins, wearing a little time-detonator in his pocket. His grandmother gave him six bottles of wine to spend the next ten years. I'm wondering if he will walk this way. I'm seeing his eyes wandering to the old inn at the corner of the old school, covered by wings.

The old dog is speaking. He doesn't want his children to wear his flags. They need to steal themselves.

I see twenty theologians burning a pirate's flag, spoiling a kid's dog.

The statues in the little house speak. Ginger-custard is flowing through my mind's festivals, quenching the old shining purple horse-statues in the little roundabout.

Benny touched the dog-statue on the second floor, now his hands are bleeding. I'm about to dive in the deepest seas to wash away the pains of tomorrow.

The tight face of the lawyer is shaking his head. His echo's are fading away in the night, waiting to lay the invisible attack on the back of the farmer's horse, three streets away from the dog-house. I am breathing, creating streets in the air to lose the memories of the little house.

Dogs are watching the footballgame today, they are fishing in a farmer's glove. The dentist is wearing a pink glove today. It's his birthday. He took a schoolboy's heart out of the schoolbook. The teachers applaud. Memories fall on the kid's head, like leaves fall from the trees. It's winter again, the toys are frozen. A tiny little injection reaches the fish inside, the kettle explodes. The dentist brings it to his pond. Millions of crying fishes are reaching the surface. It's not the first fish entering the dentist's mill.

Little fisher-boy, fishing at the seas of aldebaran, wearing star-glitters in your eyes. You stole the stars, you broke the seals, and now you are masking yourself as a dentist on this planet. With your white jacket you try to charm the rotten broken barbies from the rubbish-fields. You have a better life for them, bringing them to the schooldesks to eat the poisoned apples from a teacher's heart. You made a deal with the black teacher, harming a kid's sheep. You cut the fingers from your old woolen gloves away, to shake the hand of the teacher, and now you are a fright in the land.

Little cowboy, sailing the seas of aldebaran, you are still locked up in a stairwell's painting, bleeding syrop from seventh avenue, on a venetian cupboard.

I'm still hunting shadows of old schoolmates in an empty classroom. It breaks my mind to see you starving in the cold. Splinters in my mind is the only thing I seem to get on this sunday-evening in summer. The forest speaks to me, but I can't understand a word.

I will, I can, I go to that little house again. My shoes are reaching my neck, I'm in my fathers shoes, but I'm sinking away into a whirlpool of sandy graves. It's my grandfather, the giants. I'm drowning in my grandfather's boots, lighting a new candle.

the woodcutter's house

I saw a black fish, lying on the table of a woodcutter's smile. The dream was finding it's way out of his house, but the fish couldn't move. There were three bullets between his scales. I took them out and hold them in the light. 'I don't want to go to the factory again,' I heard.

I saw a child labouring in a dark factory. He had black stripes on his face, his clothes were almost eaten away, his knees were bleeding. Black syrop. Child labour, just a labour's child.

The black teacher took the hand of the child, the school was his shelter. There is no place to work for a child. Schoolbooks are softening his mind, warming his heart. Schoolbooks, swimming through his scales, looking for feathers of factories to burn.

The air exploded a million of times. Now you're fishing at old schoolmates.

Harry has toothaches, still scared of dentists. He runs to the old factory, but the door is locked. Then he runs to the old church, but the door is locked. The verger just left.

The school is also closed, today, it's sunday-evening, and the dentist rules the city tonight. He is running after the verger, pulling his jacket. But he doesn't answer. He runs after the school-mistress, but he slides over her shadows. He screams for her attention, but she doesn't hear him. It's only a shadow from the past. Did you know she has already been retired on a pension ? This evening the dentist rules. Harry screams for monday-morning, for grandmother's cup of tea, but they all sleep.

Harry, you can't reach your breakfast, for the dentist is king this night. Mother's kisses are in bed, the dogs are dreaming in their kennels, and the streets are diving in yesterday's rain.

When the dentist strikes, there's no one to save you. The heroes have been retired, the horses sell their legs to buy a winter's sleep. You are alone, but the dentist is remembering the old factory again.

Smoke comes from the city. The dentist is running again.

No one could hear him when he was a child in the factory. Finally a teacher saved him. But was this school really a flower in the graveyards of his heart ?

A woodcutter was painting trees in an empty classroom. The children were sleeping, the coasts were safe, no pirates, no police. Only a baker's cat was skulking between the schooldesks. Mary Louise forgot her chocolate-box under her schooldesk. The cat was eating it, the woodcutter prayed to god. I will wash your dishes, I will steal your bottles, but I will never raise a schoolkid from the pulpit. An old theological dog was entering the classroom, fighting with the cat about a piece of chocolate. Thick moisty syrop-whispers were dripping from the tower-classroom, running as fools into the forests telling the birds about what they stole. They stole a tinplate of sinners, a chair of a lawyer, and a hand full of nails. No one would know what happened between the legs of the woodcutter that night. He gave birth to a black fish, wearing three bullets in his head. No decoration needed, just a simple speech from a broken pulpit.

My father's not done with this. For three years he's racing in his blue rococo cadillac, trying to catch the dripping shadows of time with a fishing-net hanging thirty miles out of his window.

No one ever saw the face of the woodcutter. It was covered by a red rag of a horror's book history. Only a little musical box knew the pillars of the dentist's green nightmare-curtains.

He was laying his green book on his table again, writing three new names in it :

Sonja, Anthony and Marscha. They entered his horror-hotel, shivering.

Grandmother never let her cats out through the kitchen-door, when the night fell.

Waiting for the morning is a long journey for them.

The woodcutter's house, three o'clock in the night. The woodcutter is carrying twenty children on his back, in a dark green bag, without a hole. The birds paid him a lot of money. Shaking his bag, they all fall out on his table. Now the birds sing their songs again. They don't have to carry their children anymore, they are free.

Twenty kids in their standing sacrofages, twenty trees in their standing coffins, waiting to be spinned as cigars for the kings, to be crashed in the iron hands of lawyers.

Smoke comes from the woodcutter's house. An old raven called Simon is drying and draining the bones of an old painting. He's looking through the windows of the empty class-room seeing some ghosts playing at cards. Money is floating through the air, and he smells the smoke, running to his uncle's.

A saint called Nicolas is spitting the forests. No one seems to know him here. He escaped from another book. He's looking for his children, but there's nothing left. All he finds are empty bags.

I am running through empty clouds, smashing doors to swear I'll never forsake my children. Smoke makes me bowing my knees, calling for another altar to burn these stinging pieces of a locked memory.

The preacher preaches a new religion on Sunday-morning. The people are leaving the church, the dentist is smiling. He found another way to escape the pulpit's wrath.

A little beggar-boy with fingerless gloves is selling ice-creams on Seventh Avenue, having the fragile tattoo of a black fish on his arm. He's happy, he feels he's a kid again. His dreams found a way out. Now he's the king of tomorrow-morning.

Running between a school and a factory was the cradle for a church to spit out a black fish. The lawyer never worried about that. He's still turning around in circles, no one able to catch a glimpse of what he's exactly doing. But he's still smoking his cigars of terror, breaking down rococo gardens in baptized accuracy. Racing rotten Ferrari's with long hair burning in the sun through the old woodcutter's gardens without ceilings, sucking the cigars out of the trees. 'It's done,' said a cat called Jesus, 'it's really done.'

Harvest of Venice. The blind leaders are rubbing their hands. Mary-Louise is eating her forgotten chocolate-pieces. Harry has been retired on a pension now. He has lost his teeth, and his fear of the dentist. And Benny is still in the hospital for touching an electric dog on a lawyer's plate. The history will stay locked in a part. Sometimes it's better to eat some fruit instead of the vegetables. It will break your heart after the slaughter, seeing candy ruling the land, for they offered the children nothing but vegetables. A little bit of fruits will do a miracle. Open the fence.

the breaths between you and me ...

Up for some dishes, they are making storms in a glass of water. The woodcutter's hair is rising. Someone has stolen his cat, now it's doing the dishes in the old church. My neighbour's friends brought some masked enemies. The old snake is praying for rain. No woodcutter could ever dream this, for their minds only reach to the refrigerator and back. No one could call the police in these times, for they were all out of town, saving another atlantis from the mouths of illusive seas.

Crashed planes and trains are raising their glasses in the empty classrooms now. The woodcutter wouldn't believe it. They are sticking their tongues in dangerous baskets now. I won't tell you the knot of the story now, for you were never listening when the wines were dripping. But I adore your special way of caring for my cats.

They will never forget you if it comes to that. Your telephone-number is still wandering in my mind, looking for a horse to trick. But your aunts faith is enough for you to reach tokio's waving coasts. They will spend their time and money to give you a good bed. Embracing a cow in the night was always your way of telling a too long story. No one dared to dive so deep into my heart than you did. This is something I praise you for, without showing you the telephone-bills. They were from a time you didn't exist.

You are still chasing shadows in the night, while the morning already fell, three-hundred years ago. The old indian never smoked a pipe. That was only a dream existing in your mothers cage.

I believe you still want to see me, your dresses are ten miles tall. They reach for my stars, but mother already blew them out. The rows of the wizard are shut out. The trains to oz died millions of years ago. I'm still sowing water on their graves, and I know one day a flower will grow there ... your flower. For you were the most beautiful thing I ever met. That's why I never looked into your eyes. I wouldn't survive in your seas. The ship in the bottle was never your best trick. Now we have to look for some good sailors. Not me. I'm more that of a shipless captain on the coast, drinking beers to drown the sharks from the past in some chocolate dreams. Do you think I'm more than that ? I want to speak to you, I want to hug you, I mean your curtains. Not to go inside of you, but to go outside, finally escaping through your windows to a world I never saw. Did you ever see a blind kid playing pirate in a cage ? I always have to bow my knees to reach my music-box on top of my wardrobe. Some parts of the cage you made for me are too small. In some of your dark tunnels I can't even move myself. Oh, I'm so paralyzed without you, I mean without your windows, so that I can fly out. After all these years, I'm still looking for holes in the walls, for mice to help me, but it seems you swallowed it all away. I want to bring you into my heart, to let you see my chains. You think I don't have chains, you lost your glasses long ago. You sold them to the queen of ears. Oh, how you like to listen to your music-boxes. Then you close your eyes, to let them melt away forever.

This night the echo of the bird will reach my mind again. It has wandered around the planet for a million of years. Now it's here again, to eat his tail again. I thank you for never taking away this ring, although I am not a gratefull person. I take what I deserve, and leave what I don't deserve. I don't believe in grace. I believe in eating that which you worked for.

Deep in my heart I'm still the little beggar, working in a factory, working in the station of soot, tracing the rails to you, I mean the school-mistress. Not that I want to sit there. It's good to be in a factory. It's good to beg for something I deserve. I know she has already been retired on a pension. I know she isn't there anymore. The factory reveals her voice, the station is my school. I like the soot on my face, it brings me what I deserve. The birds recognize my needs. My broom teaches me. Please don't take me out of my factory. But help me to understand the machines. Please tell me that the fish can fly, and that the bird can swim, in the factory, in the station. Please don't wash the soot from my face. I could never stand the luxury of your schooldesk's mouths. Your cakes were never my favorites. It reminded me of the woodcutter's house. No place to be. Don't take us out of our places, but bring your heart into the place.

the raven's prince

I'm still your chimney-sweeper after all these years. It took my heart three and a half years to overcome and understand the bridge between your words and my father's. Still some words from you are floating through my mind, awakening the giants in me, destroying mountains and cities. I liked your red ice-creams on a cold summerday. They were really the best. I always felt I am the counterpart of Snowy

White, although I could never get along with your dad. Maybe he never felt the sting of an apple, although I bet he dealt with some venom. My eyes are still green after all these years, turning brown in the night. You could never swallow my feathers, they are still rising in the night.

I still want to climb into that old painting again. And you, still laughing at the background. It says more to me than a hundred of books. The painting makes a long story short. All in a flash. That is how I can go on. I don't care about the details, the birds will do that.

I knew we lived long and happy in that painting. I still love Venice. And when I am free from work, I enter that painting to come alive. Then everything is how it was. You and me on that boat, the canals of Venice. That decorated stick I hold is tall enough to touch the bottoms of the Venetian ditches.

In the old church it is also painted on the enormous windows in mosaic style. I'm looking at it, biting at my fingerless woolen black gloves. All of a sudden the glass breaks in a million of pieces and a million of ravens are entering through. They hate the painting and scream at me, while I'm bowing my knees and back in tears, looking for comfort in my black jacket, where a little black dove is catching my tears. The splinters of glass are entering my body and I'm crying glass and crystal. Suddenly a little cowboy is knocking at my shoulders. 'Sir, can I tell you a story?' He looks the same as me, although he's wearing different clothes, and having a different smile. 'I'm the other side of the mirror,' he says. 'The window had to be broken, otherwise you wouldn't be able to meet me.'

I kissed his lips, I couldn't believe I was talking to myself.

red licorice boot-lace

He was carrying a bag on his back, with a little school and a little church in it. He said he ran day and night between school and church and he could never find rest. He had been torn by a teacher and a priest. Finally a lawyer's suite on wheels found him, and now he was the king of butterflies, judging the dice and the flying gamblers.

The fruits were getting older, no one wanted to eat them. The newspaper-boy was crying rivers of tears in a spanish alley, for no one wanted to read.

The fruit-dish on the lawyer's table is rotting inside out, chemicals are rising from sunset. This is how they invented the nuclear detonator.

The jelly-snake is calling the actors. Nuclear snakes are following him slowly and softly, without making noise. No one really knew what happened in that old cellar below the lawyer's house. Military dogs were beating a spanish boy, for no one wanted to listen to his dreams. Chemical eyes were checking his pockets. Someone found some red lights.

A boy, drowned in his own tears, for no one wanted to drink. He's still living on his island, waiting for a boat to pick him up.

Mom and dad, still eating chemical ice-cream, uncle's eating a nuclear cucumber, the harvest of a horrible delay in a lawyer's cellar.

I make clothes from old grapes. The jacket is beautiful. I'm living in a house of old rinds.

I'm soothing my baby into sleep. She fell in love with a radio-active orange. The lullaby contains a free time-bomb.

I'm walking along the river with my purple roundabout-horses. They still shine in the sun. The drowned boy is sailing in his ship of dreams. I catch a piece of his nuclear newspaper, and start to cry. I saw you and your love walking on a beach, waving at waves, waving at storms, entering near the black fish. He eats a bit of your newspapers and then disappears in the night. I'm watching the wild side of the sea. It seems the black fish loved you very much.

A black apple is wandering through the forest. A saint called nicolas has sent him. It's the last chance for the forest. The birds are shivering. The black apple threatens the trees and the flowers. He will throw a nuclear bomb if they won't listen to his foreign language which they don't understand.

Nuclear smoke comes from the little old church. The preacher is raging. He has made his hells hot. The purple flames of my roundabout-horses are softening my heart.

The black fish is eating some bread. He can't understand why people are running. He decides to build some new chairs.

Hey dentist, does the chair like it when you sit on him ?

Ten cannibals are leaving the little dog-house. Black syrop comes out of their mouths. I'm trying to get the train of 3 o clock, I'm late.

Little sailor's boy, singing stories from the pulpit, drinking milk from a nuclear cat.
Little waterboy, raising honey from a chemical tree. Are you still saying radio-active prayers at the bottom of a sunday-morning's ditch ? You took away the toys, burnt the barrets from a policeman's heart. You are the horror of every preacherman.

Little cowboy, little music box, on sunday's morning you rule them all.

Never will I forget your smile. You are still riding your black cows, shooting bullets in the sand. Little spanish cowboy, coming from the north, entering the south, you saw all the corners of the old planet, sailing over all the edges. You are still the ghost in the old little church, looking for your black fish. You could never swallow it's tears, they were too thick and heavy. You drowned in it's tears. You couldn't save your black fish, but it will save you.

Still you are the terror on the streets, moving your plastic guns, with pillow-bullets.
Goose were never your friends. They killed your bird, and ate your clothes. The hat is the only thing they left, and you ran naked through the night. But some caring fruits covered you, and made you sleep alive.

Still you play the organs in the church, singing songs of merciless horror. You were locked up in a school, and in the church you found your shelter. But in your heart you are still a schoolboy. You found out the sharp side of the church, and the teacher and the priests are still fighting about you.

A ragdoll, bleeding on the ground of an old school. All the kids wanted to get it, tearing it in their rage.

No priest can find this classroom, the black-fish brought you back, you are still a schoolboy. Your hat is hanging on your neck, it's threads are making me dizzy.
Wandering with fruits.

The black apple is a dictator, but you are safe at school. The schoolmistress is warming your heart. You had the voice of a banana. You still sleep under it's rinds.

No one can prevent you from hearing the little vega-clock in the heart of the banana, ticking it's way softly to the clouds.

Your schoolbooks are birds speaking to you, about foreign and fortune fairytales.

You still hear the echo of the blackfish in it. When you shut the book, the schoolmistress is smiling. No one would ever think you would drink tea with the giants. But you did, you raised the honey till so far.

And now you are sliding over the gutters of the roofs, searching for your black cats to play at draughts. You are still looking for that old billiards-room of dogs, at the top of the lawyer's tower. You could hear the cry of sirens better, there.

Now you are running in the air, jumping at clouds, reaching for the last breakfast of sunset-moon.

I caress the velvet pages of my paintings-book. I still collect old soldiers from orange-trees. I'm satisfied, my hunger has gone. An old grey giant is walking to the old dog-house, his shadows are melting in the sun, his fruits are melting in moonlight. The doghouse tries to run away through the rain-pipe. The water-basket explodes. This is the result of nuclear delay.

The lawyers are hiding their delay in the day of death. I'm running beyond streets and cities, looking for an old train to save me.

Old fruits are wandering and marching through the forest, looking for revenge. I know enough, I am out of this. The nuclear apple raises his mouth again. Unknown languages are manipulating the deaf.

I feel fruits bubbling in my stomach, looking for rain, looking for an old song of exiles. When will this dream stop ? Terror is rising through my eyes, the chemical threat is still alive. Tonight they will come alive, the grapes of venice. Red licorice is what you gave me, to seal the kisses from my minds. Red storms are raging at the old castle. The old shoe is speaking, the red giant-shoe takes place. The fruit of a forgotten past opens it's box. The little golden music starts to play, giants are dancing. They dance the night away.

The old fruits are wandering and marching through the forest, looking for stones to cast.

When mother was alive I used to watch the red sea, but she died in the cold, there was red snow falling on her grave.

Red licorice is what you gave me to heal my mind, to bring me back to the giant-shoe. The red fruit melts when the sun rises. It ate a nuclear bomb, on a bright picnic's day. Red boys chewing nuclear grass.

Little red velvet cowboy's boy, shooting at stones, breaking cues in the night. You ate the chemical billiards-balls, riding your red roundabout-bike, smiling and gazing into the sun. Now your red tears are falling, washing away yesterday's pain. The chemical seas are roaring in the red giant-boxes now. The giant-shoe holds the burning keys. Following red boot-laces, drawing shadows in the night, reaching the heart of the giant, overflowing juices of the night. Catching kisses on a shoemakers boat, riding oranges in the storm. My heart is burning, my echo's are fading. Melting fruits are wandering through my mind's forests. They forgot about the red saint called nicolas, they are walking their own paths.

Harry is taking my hand, an old schoolboy's dream.

The licorice is finally reaching my old dream's mind, checking the horses and the burnt shoes. I'm gliding through storms and mazes. The snow is burning my skin. All my fruits inside of me are melting into juices of solar joy and pride. Decorated

Satin Suit was my father, Honey Pyamas was my mother. My heart is decorated again, my throat produces honey again. The smile couldn't break the distance, but a red fruit could do

waiting for the last roundabout

The sarcastic dream rises again. He never meant what he said, and never said what he meant. His words were the killing-fields of nuclear birds and beasts, the son of a broken apple. No one knew what happened in that cellar of a crazy greengrocer in vietnam. Red Russians couldn't break his smile. I saw him breaking the arm of a porcelain doll, a ballerina from the sixteenth century. The martians never liked your smile. You washed the puppets in too deep baskets. I met your mother, a sweet chinese lady, dressed in rotten wool. You never cared enough for her, you only raised her from a forgotten death. Still she follows your plastic smiles, your lemon ice-creams. No one knows your name is cain. No one knows your father was called herode, and your brother esau. Still you wander through the streets with jesus' slippers. Your names are written in the book of death, behind the thick bars of rotten cages. No one knows you are an escaped arabian prince, cutting flowers in the night. Your hair is long, your brains are taller. Your smile breaks the glasses of the green witch, you are still weeping for more flowers in your little boats on roses' seas. You are carrying your mothers flag on your chest, roaring as a lion in the night, but your flowers are dying, spreading nuclear dust in the streams of forgotten mondays.

Fourty-thousand stepmothers are raging at the show, following your too short trousers, in which you look so cute, duckies from the side-lines. I can see the tattoos on your legs, they smell like purple roses. I can breath in the smoke between the opera's of your words, carved in your fragile spirit by a wild handicapped cigarette, driving old-timers at a road of weeping nails. Kiss the tear, my little stepchild, for your factories don't blow your minds anymore. Stepchildren from the sunsets of babylons cages, smuggled to other countries within innocent oranges, you are loved by your ministers.

I saw a blind rocket racing the rails of an old rotten guitar, spoilt in a glass of warm water, standing on a central heater without ears. You still make me blind when you blow that cemetery-trumpet from an age too long ago. The middle ages are proud of you, for wearing cigarette-suits in the Russian waters. Climbing through weathers and winds, looking for the big apple to get some spoilt rest. There isn't more we can say, when step-children are running on the back of a nuclear bear. Ten days in a Spanish prison opened my eyes for the beauty of Arabian nights. The carpets are still waiting in the old sunset's barn of the giants living in the grandfather's pockets. Waiting for the last roundabout to rise. He still doesn't have an idea of the living beauty in the drawers of his kitchen. Grandmother's smile will wake him up, when we grant him enough time to spend a little holiday on a Sunday morning's beach. He's still weeping, the preacher dropped another nuclear time-bomb in his garden.

His oranges are shivering in a too tight darkness.

A Halloween's night broke your leg. You always had to labour as ghost in that old haunted house of the fairground. You are the fairground's kid, the tiger's circus, showing up in a pale winter's dream-glass.

One push at the rococo-decorated dashcar-buttons will awake the chemical marionettes in an old-fashioned nuclear war's giant-wheel. You don't know how to stop it after the ringing of bells.

You were the poisoned spun sugar on a fairground's dish, racing through the children's mind, sowing chemical seeds for new Arabian underground horses escaped from a drowned roundabout. The preacher refused to preach this, afraid to lose some circus-threads and some cemetery nails.

Stutterer's child, stuttering army, marching through the fields of the Sundays which would never come to the surfaces of tomorrow. Fortunately. The grin of the teasing child will melt again, and will touch the fragile spots of a new Monday's roundabout. The fairground will always be your place.

Soon the king will enter his new table, will mow a new grass.

Oh how I feel the pressure today. The black fish seemed to be a fairground's barrel-organ. The soldiers are still spinning sugar from a princess' dream, touching the sides of an old board of chess.

A red picnic was all I could think about.

Poetry from the Chrystal Star

Where All the Tears Collide

the man of a million faces

One day he came to me. In tears and full of pain. He had the scars of a jester and his red prince's uniform was torn. He was tenderly decorated all over with little white satin, and his lips were droppin' with candy. His face was painted as a fish, his eyes were red and full of fire. I felt he was burning.

I asked him where he came from and he said from the sea of tears. I asked him who he was and he said he is my mirror. His appearance was like a child, but his radiation was grown-up. He seemed to be the man of opposites, and that's why the energy could flow. That is why I saw room in him, to enter through his gates. I asked him where he would go to. He said : back to the sea of tears.

I asked him how he would do that. Balancing between the opposites, walking as an acrobate on the middle line. He said the tears are the line between the opposites. Tears collide them all, flowing from one to another. Tears can be shared, and the more they are shared, the more they will look like tears of joy.

tears

Tears are the only tools that can search the hearts. Tears are the only way to soak the mind. Tears are the bridges that unite lives. Tears are the keys to open those hidden parts.

Tears are brought to make us calm. Tears are brought to soften our dry, hard souls. Tears cannot be broken, tears cannot be sealed. Tears can only be drunk and be transformed into truth.

Don't throw away the key. Don't spoil your chance. They come and they go. Don't miss your train.

I asked the Lord to let you discover these treasures, I asked the Lord to let you see His grace. He gave them from Heaven above, as a ship to reach the haven, as a cup to ease your pain. Let the river flow from one to another. Don't be ashamed to show your pain.

Only when you let your pain flow, it can be solved. Only when we sow our tears, they can become trees.

Tears are the mirrors in which we can see ourselves. Tears are the monitors in which we can see others. Then all the masks will fade away.

A valley of tears, a sea full of photo's, reminding me of the past, letting me look into the future. Follow the streams of tears. They speak, and bring us back where we belong. We belong to remembrance. Tears, Gods Machine of Time.

Tears are the boats to travel to the past, tears are the cars to speed into the afterworld. Tears are the airplanes to reach each other. In the intersection of all time-lines, the wonder exists, the wonder of remembrance, the wonder of uniting.

Tears reflect who we really are, lies will fade away.

To listen to a tear, is to lose a lie.

Tearless eyes cannot see, they only will see the lie. Tears are the apples of our eyes.

I wanted to see wisdom. God gave me the tears to see it. My tears are my eyes, my tears are my legs. With that I can do anything, a body made of tears. God lives there where all the tears collide.

There is a doorway to the lost paradise. Give it back to me. Where all the tears of the world collide, a star rises, our new world is born.

king of tears

Where all the tears collide, a castle can be seen. I entered this castle and I saw the throne of the jester. It was a throne of tears.

He smiled and told me that every joke combines the tears. Every farce transforms a tear. That is the secret of any true pleasure. It is soaked by a tear.

He started crying again, and an ocean of tears filled the castle.

He said : Tears are brought to make us creative. Play with the tears, work with the tears, build by the tears. That is the job of the jester. Only by asking for tears, only by looking for them, you can control them. That is the secret of the jester.

When you want wisdom, ask for a tear first, through which you can see the wisdom.

When you want a friend, ask for a tear first, so that you are able to reach that friend.

Before you ask anything, ask for a tear, and in that all other things will appear. The jester, king of tears.

I laughed when I saw this. A secret was revealed. I met the king of tears and drank the cup of joy.

Silence of the sleep

I was walking in a field of a million flowers. They were crying and dying They were so thirsty and I was sharing my nectars They fed themselves with my juicy tears, flowing from my trees of pears Old waterfalls from the fairy-zone But there was something in your embrace

I was walking through these gardens of thousands roses Offering my nectars to the thirsty trees But I got tired and I fell on the ground bleeding blood from that old pear-tree Old waterfalls from the fairy-zone There was still something in your embrace

I was reaching for my dreams, reaching for the deserts of sleep, where I would find new oasis to share with the dying nature If I wouldn't reach this desert, I would be swallowed by these gardens losing my grip I asked the tree for understanding, waved to the flowers when I stepped into this dreamship But all they could say was that I left them alone I was sinking away in their seas Was it love ? No, I was their prey I was nothing but the crown on their barbecue Dancing with the devil

They were the nightmares in my gathered sleeps I was the sacrifice on their altars of love When the nectar of the gardener has been drunk, they will start to drink his blood Not waiting for the dawn to breath, they didn't want to go to sleep All they want was eating They didn't make one difference between the meat he gave and his own hand They ate all predators killer-flowers no difference between his blood and the wine.

Poetry from the Old Cigar

Scratch on a Charlie Chaplin's Record

Escape of the Divorce's Rose

"There's a whole new world in Snow White's weather-box People are dancing backwards in slow-motion Everything is moving weather-box-soldiers can move everything They move by moving spaces They walk by moving the ground below their feet They never go to bed The bed comes to them They are the immovable movers"

black rain

She was selling her cats called "maybe" in the streets of venice. Her lips sucked the rivers dry. I was sitting in an old alley burning my last twigs, thinking about some old dreams of swallows. Everything she touched used to explode, I still shiver when I hear her name. She died in a sea of flowers, I'm still crying at her grave. She was the only pearl I had. The others died long ago in the vietnam wars. But their graves still swim as sharks in Jupiterian seas. Oh, how I love to see the smile of Jupiter, it always made me melting inside.

She died in a sea of flowers, but her ghosts are still walking the streets of little amsterdam with high heeled guns shooting bullets into the ground. No one is able to look at them or to touch them, for that would blow you up. Her teeth were bleeding, her grey ghosts were carrying her through the little streets of amsterdam. Her black perfumes were spreading through the shaking houses, all scared of her smoke.

Black rain in amsterdam, running through the chimneys, running through the drains. What were these ghosts looking for, where did they come from ? Why were the streets trembling for them ?

I got a red jacket from Venus to protect me against the cold. Mother, while the rain is falling no one sees I'm crying. It's ok, these tears are old, running from old waterfalls. They got used to fall down, to run to the rivers. They will find their way, they are old enough. My brother is still sailing these waterfalls, fishing for the salt, looking for the old "me", who had been drowned there. All he finds are some mirrors, reflecting his own beautiful face. I'm already upstairs, reading my mother's books about my brother's toys. She died in the black rain long ago. I'm counting the raindrops on her face. They also reflect you You are still looking for my brother after all these years. You once got a piece of his jacket and tore it off. He almost died in your grip. You let him fly around without a face for so many years in your scary forests, while he was the only knife I had. I could cut away your black forests. You said he let your cats die at the streets for his cars drove too fast, he couldn't hear their screaming. But you were the one who gave him these fast cars ... and your cats weren't cats, but dogs. Did you see his wound in his leg ? It's tall like a tower, and you climb it every day sowing your black flowers at the top.

My sister is caressing my face, she's too old to see the rain. She gave me three golden rings to protect me while I was entering your wildernesses. I knew it would take me three full years to get through it, and my rings would be eaten alive by your snakes. Now was it an enchanted forest ? My brother is still racing his bike along the golden fence, hoping to see me back, but I'm at the other side of the forest, sitting on the blue fence with humpty dumpty. Some of his ghosts are running through the forest to see the edge of the sun touching the edge of the moon, but my brother himself is flying some kites for me.

blooddrips in the snow

She died in a sea of flowers, and you lied besides her, holding her hand, trying to held my brother's shadow between the two of you. But he skates in the air, throwing some old puppets to the third world. He still cares for your babies, he still writes steaming poetry in the clouds, his ears raised high.

He was your rabbit, but your grip was too tight. Tonight you won't have to fight anymore, for you will find another rabbit.

Did you count his tears when he was young ? He was a young soldier dying in the vietnam war, bringing his pearls home.

Did you ever hear his voice in the rain ? Carrying the fairy-carriage through the forest.

Black rain was all you could give him. Why are these streets trembling ? Is there a giant stepping on stones ?

I see a black cigar entering the streets of amsterdam. His teeth are golden, his mouth is red. His smile kills and clowns are following his jacket on their knees. Oh how tall this jacket is, it glides through the streets of little amsterdam, leaving stripes of smoke.

You can burn this old piano, it's without any worth now. Mother said she would burn you if you would do, but she's just an old pillar of an old clown's museum. Her knives could never reach the bottom of the old strawberry-glass. It's still funny to see her talking to the ceilings of old hats. Her hair didn't grow through it.

Black cigar of terror, breeding your jails, breeding your junks. When it's saturday and you didn't start your car yet, you can't reach church on sunday-morning, it's too far. We will all be drowned in your soap. Smooth killers were your friends, some chinese spells tried to steal your hat, but they could only sell your boots. Is their any light in your jail ? Can the birds take a breath in your narrow cages ?

But your walls can breath They were children. I see the tears in your eyes. Bleeding eyes. What did you do to your children ? What do you hide ?
Inside you are so full of fear, that's why you spread your terror, to hide your own loss, fear.

I can't tell you how much I would like to ease your pain. Your electric, jelly walls are moving through the snow, walking to winter's cinema to watch another movie. I see the blooddrips running from your boots into the snow. They tell stories, but I don't seem to hear, my ears are too short, cut off by a sharp pirate's hand long ago. But in the old rabbit's books, they can be read also. It tells you to not look into the mirror, for your tears try to deceive you. They run to a different stream, carrying a different book.

Three deaf children are standing before the gully, they want to mow the grass of the air and the sea. They never heard the voice of the storm. They enter the little house near the big storm, the aldebaran house, to watch the cellars. No wizard could invent such a place. They find a little doll lying on the table, but when they touch it their hands start to bleed.

I love to see april's rain, washing away the old chocolate from winter's clouds. The sting of old chocolate was the worst I ever felt. Aldebaran's inn-keeper told me long ago to enter his house, for the storm would have his dinner outside. To listen to a deaf child, would open the door for me, to see aldebaran's hearth.

And there I saw him, he was made of a million cigarettes. This little boy, almost a doll. His heart was an old golden clock, his hairs were green wires. Purple flames were in his eyes, and movie-tapes were his crown. They were glued around his little body of cigarettes. But at nights he grew tall, having a body of heavy cigars. He burns his movies every night and the mornings he buys new ones at the winter's cinema's.

Ten-thousand cities are smoking their movies, having the fuel for their factories, having the drums for their soldiers but the little child is deaf, chewing some old hard chocolate.

Roaring child ? Outside you play the old storm, raging through the night, inside you are a scared kid. Making noise, making terror, without hearing it. You don't hear the scream of the old city, you don't want to hear ... you sold your ears long ago.

Oh the sounds of a dying nature, oh the sounds of dying flowers ... you didn't want to hear, your ears were bleeding. You sold your ears to the raven for an old piano. The old voices in your head made you dead inside. Now you don't hear anything anymore, deaf musicians

Deaf musicians are dancing through the streets, through the walls of the shaking houses. They have golden teeth or piano-teeth, and green hair with black hats. Outside it's still raining black rain.

Their violins are tearing an old doll, their guitars are kicking a dog.

In the church a child is playing the organ a deaf child.

Little chimer, you don't hear the cry of the arabian hospitals where people's legs and arms are cut off for a lawyer's flower. You don't hear the cry of their factories, where the dolls and torn barbies are burning day and night. Who wants to taste the blood of a woodcutter's doll called pinocchio ? Who wants to taste a tear of a tree called lazarus ? We have a long way to go to emerald city.

Little chimer, you made your children deaf. You burnt their ears, and watch movies with heroes day and night, for you don't want to be a hero yourself, neither do you want your children to be one. You don't want to know people by their names,personallyfor then you would hear their pain, of which you are afraid, so afraid. Your movies pay your bills of inner feelings of guilt, and your piano washes everything away. You don't want to see differences between the flowers, for then you would hear a special scream from a special flower. You are against creativity, you want to see everything the same.

Little cigar, this is why your children are deaf. You don't know their names, they all wear the same trousers ... but their bodies are naked, dying in the cold, before a never-ending movie. They are crying in your prison-walls, not able to hear their own screams. You lost your game, you lost your life.

An old red chess-board explodes A russian dentist leaves the scene, and a chinese dentist smokes a cigar.

the Mercury touch

The arabian dentist never liked your smile for when he would listen to your smile, he would also listen to your frowns. There he breaks off another arm instead of looking into your teeth. You always used to faint while looking into his eyes, but now you are roaring like a lion : "Give my flower back !"

Twenty-four dentists are surrounding you, trying to sell their flowers for too high prices. The bills already drowned the flowers, these are killed flowers, these are killed flowers.

She died in a sea of flowers, killed by a dentist's smile. Her teeth were too tall, the dentist was looking at his watch. There was no room for big teeth, the city of the dentist was too small. But the dentist was deaf, and his piano's had made the city so small.

The dentist never heard the cry of the flower, his walkman cared for him. These flowers were still drowning in his aquarium, being eaten by his pyranha's. He bought these piranha's in a vietnamese shop. One was called "the vietnamese war".

How many junks would it take to build his paper ship ? There he sails in his aquarium, feeding his piranha's deaf piranha's. Tonight he will go to the cinema with his deaf wife, to watch a new horror-movie.

I have been in all sorts of jails ... arabian jails, russian jails, chinese jails but I have never been in an indian jail ... I wouldn't survive it's old chocolate. I carry all these jails on my back as precious souvenirs, to let my children shiver. Still there are some tattoos at my back I will never show them.They are there to scare the other sort. Anyway, the birds still love my horrortales after all these years They say it keeps them awake but they don't seem to realize that they are already dreaming.

The russian sun is smiling at me There are some whirlpools in my ear trying to get my attention. An arabian man kisses me to sleep.

A deaf child is running through the alleys of old amsterdam, selling newspapers, my limbs are crumbling away, and I'm feeling myself growing in the air, heading for the giant's world above the highest cloud. All these sounds made me so small, kept me in cages too little for me. Now I'm free, breathing in new air smoke ?the giant's smoke. I see his cigar lying on his table. An old cigar But I can't hear it's story I am deaf

I see giants talking to each other, I see birds singing their songs,but I don't hear one word, I am deaf. I'm on the back of a piranha,a giant I'm gliding through the air, waving to my brother dying in vietnam It was me dying there. I am already dead just watching the other side of the mirror, touching my brother's hand.

He's flying on his piranha, ... a giant ... Mercury saved him ... Now he's counting his money. One for you and one for me

The little bird brought him a message from santa clause. I will never forget this movie ... He smiled and his teeth reflected millions of stars. We played ping-pong with old suns on the old giant-table. Mercury, Mercury, you soothed our ears into sleep, not hearing the cry of the toy-soldiers. They were being burnt in the old suns. Living in a ball locked up in a pocket-ball

Mercury, I was never sure if I had to hug you or beat you, to kiss you or eat you. You were a baby in a knife ... my baby.

You were a slave of music, a slave of noise you were burnt in an old piano and this made you deaf ... Too many sounds poisoned your spirit, and now you are the king of silence.

Were you a Jesus Christ hanging on the cross of trumpets ? Since you are deaf you are the king of giants A piranha brought you here ... a vietnamese piranha ? or a russian one ?

Waves of arabian wars are reaching the coast of the giant's world. The highest cloud couldn't stop them, even the king of dew couldn't do. Finally a guy called "Fog" shook the hands of these waves and took the suits they brought to him. These enemies were friends, these criminals were healers, sent out by a tailor's dream messengers of some old cola with ice-cubes ...

And then I could finally hear your voice, softer than the softest breezes, feeling my old pillow below my head ...decorated by old birds from foreign fairytales of forgotten sundowns Is there a world beyond the morning ? When we reach over the dawn ? The cool touch of the Fog is calming my senses.

A goldfish called "Scandinavian Wars" reaches the surface of the Giant's enchanted pond. It's an enchanting fish He smiles at me I get an electric touch ... everything what I touch explodes. He shows me that she was just a messenger, showing me the things to touch and not to touch. There are some things I will never touch : The blanket of a pirate, the gun of an arabian man, and a woman's handkerchief. I won't even look at them, only watching their reflections in my golden ring. They still form my fairy-carriage at sunday's sundowns running to the wild forests of the Giant's World. I wonder if I will meet World-War III there. These sundowns are running like waterfalls through me, showing me that World-War III is in the heart of man, watching an old man's dream, a giant's dream. The picture of hitler is staring at me, besides the ticking little clock grandmother gave me. It still ticks after all these years, soothing my heart and soul. There is a war in my head, no one can quench the fire there.

A man called "Russian War" is entering my giant-dreams. He plays with his gun, and a mercurian boy is pulling my trousers. I see a kid dying in the cold, dying in the snow. No one would ever remember him, for it had no family and no friends. They were all killed by this man his fire was ... ice.

A fish called "burning ice" is coming at the surface of the Giant's Enchanted Pond. He is smoking three cigars with his three ears But he is deaf, he throws the little child in the grass. The kid's name was World-War III. He shows me that she is more uncertain than I am, that she is blind and paints her own paintings in her mind. She creates me for herself, her golden pencil rules my head but I am flying high on the back of a russian sea-horse a giant.

She wears three pencils in her nose, I'm flying higher.

A hundred pencils are coming out of her ears out for war. Their teeth were too tall for the dentist's eye, now they are raging for revenge.

The touch of your pencil always made me so dizzy, like I was under a spellby your magic wand. How many dreams do I need to climb your mountains, how many fishes do I need to leave ? I'm still staring at that old picture of hitler his eyes are bleeding, frogs coming out of his mouth.

My brother is still a business-man. He showed me there is always something to trade ... No one needs to be a beggar, no one needs to be the victim I'm still staring at the smoke coming from his pipe. It's holy for me. I'm standing on sacred ground.

Picture of hitler, where are you going, picture of hitler, picture of loss, picture of Jesus, dying on a cross. My brother's smoke lets these pictures fade away. I enter through new curtains ... purple ones.

Her daddy has a dog

My brother showed me she is more scared than I am. Now he's fading away in the smoke, he's the boss of the fire-brigade.

Her daddy has a dog, a sheepdog. My father is still afraid of it. My mother and sister were bitten log-book of an exorcist. Look, his knee is still bleeding.

Shhhhhhhhhhhhhh The old sheepdog is still sailing the seas of his own dreams together with a man called "Buddha" thinking they are alone Don't disturb his dreams, for it will kill you Don't disturb the marriage the battlefield.

Her daddy has a dog

Slaves of music, slaves of the rythms and the old musical boxes. Dance, ballerina's, dance. You have to be smart, otherwise you won't survive ... life. You have to be an artist otherwise no one will buy your apples.

Her daddy has a dog I have a brother.

Mercury dog ? My dog ? Did her daddy steal my dog ? A kidnap ?

I'm so tired of dancing please cut my strings

A sheep-dog called "Columbus" stepped on america's stones. All what he touched exploded. I was sitting at the Giant's Pond, and he showed his roaring headwell..... it was only his picture, floating through the waters ... from grandmother with love my old sheepdog He wasn't allowed to go there. Now his nose is bleeding. I told you not to touch that tree, it was grandmother's last apple-tree. She forbade you to ate from that tree, but you even ate the tree itself. Now your teeth are too tall for the dentist's strike. I saw an egg wandering through the forest people said it was humpty dumpty looking for friends but it was actually called "The American Wars", looking for food. My dog in suits tuxedo's hid his knife only buddha knows ... and my brother.

Mercury, my prodigal son, my prodigal sheepdog, your face is black and white, turning green and purple in the night, two-face of the Giant's Coast You amuse your children, but you forgot there is a world outside dying in your arms, but you don't smell their futures you sold your nose long ago. Docters of the killing-fields looking for toys to cut killerwhales of Belgium's Coasts, your clowns almost run out.

That picture of columbus is still cutting my face, you little woodcutter from Belgium. Your dentist knows all your teeth.

The only way to get through the killing-fields without being eaten by the limb-beggars, was to become a business-man without a nose. To smell the flower would kill you immediately.

This marriage would be another egg of columbus. It was wednesday-evening, almost midnight. A little pyramid was knocking on the door of my brother's, asking for me. I wasn't home, I was flying on a goldfish's back. Little spruce-fir. He wanted to play some games with me outside, abroad on Mercury but I was already there waiting for him, knocking at his brother's door, but he wasn't home. We met each other at the cross-over, where our desires touched each other This was always my brother's secret, the secret of a business-man. There a toy-shop is standing ... My brother still works in it.

After the American Wars a tree is growing in america : a christmas-tree. It reaches for the Giant's World, and the top is stinging through the Giant's Pond, where I am still sitting, eating some raw raspberries. It's also stinging my finger and my hand is bleeding. Is there still a war in my head ? A wooden fish called "Japanese Wars" is floating to the surface of The Giant's Pond. When it's up, it explodes, and my head is bleeding. My tongue and taste are gone, and I can't reach the raspberries anymore, they disappear into the Giant's Pond, leaving some smoke.

the vela organ

I heard her breaths between the seconds, I saw her naked legs between the bridges, carrying a gun between her legs. I never knew if I should laugh or cry. Her hairs were the killing-fields of london, where clocks and chimes died in the cold. Her hair still red Your silence between the seconds took so long, that I always fainted. They were always my ways to escape. You still ride the beasts of time. You are still my honey in the rain.

Now you know everything about Japan. You know the Japanese Fish from inside out. There she rides on her fairy-carriage again swallowing the seconds from an old clock. The fairy rain is ticking on my roofs in the dark night It soothes my heart, soothes my head. You always said Jesus died in a clock. Escaping the clock is the last escape. A million of clocks are ticking in my head, like they can explode every moment.

The beauty of the pirate is still your secret, it always compensates. No one knows you're a duck from arcturus lighters in the rain This was always your pride.

But you sold your mouth long ago, for three millions of toy-soldiers. Still people say you are a female-singer. They only hear the echo's of their own accidents. For you are already retired on a pension an old woman in the rain.

You knew her

You knew her daddy

You could never stand their buzzers and bells. You killed their clocks long ago. People still say they hear their trains passing by They only hear the echo's of their own broken dreams For she and her daddy don't work in that old clock-shop anymore They are already retired on a pension.

The clock-shop was burnt long ago, by some pirates in a stream. But some say it's still there in little amsterdam echo's ?

Swindlers in a glass of water, turning business-men into beggars again.

And you ? You are still smoking your cigars in that old velvet chair. Your father bought it long ago in an orange barter-house at the orange sea cigars of your brothers' broken dreams they pay you good for the songs you never wrote and never sang, their songs.

You created your own clock a crown on your head ... the numbers are floating You were never good at maths I can still hear your long breaths between the seconds reaching for the rain the fairy-carriage

The next time I see you I won't faint anymore Look into my eyes prince They are ...blind.

For you are a m..a..n, not a woman

You're a little boy.....

How many surgeons did it take to dress you up like this ?

I am dining with Aquarius and World-War III in the dining-room of an old castle. It's cold outside, some birds are dying. Their blood is knocking on the old tall windows.

I'm looking backwards seeing you walking in the snow backwards in slow-motion. The space between the seconds is getting bigger I'm seeing a house a little house, where you, your father and your seven brothers live. One day your brothers locked you up in a clock. That's why your clock doesn't have numbers anymore a clock without time You live backwards and in slow-motion, swallowing universes. You stole an old organ out of vela's church, it's your guardian dog now time-thieves clock-killers You're the statue on Joseph's clock, the statue on Father Jacob's rifle.

There's a whole new world in the old clock A whole world in slow-motion all the ballerina's dancing backwards. I still see you writing stories between the seconds your breaths touching the fairy-rains.

Whispers touching the edges of the scary little house.

The timeless clock doesn't care about the money There is always a market to play. I never heard this clock ticking There's a world between the ticks where it's heart lives without beating. No one ever knocked on it's doors Oh how it's so good to feel you in my arms again. You feel softer than yesterday Your dog licks the seconds from my head, and I can breath again after all these years You were the only one who dared to take my heart out of my body ... holding it in your hands, showing it to me There's always a market to play.

You're still a business-boy after all these years ... You turn around to me in slow-motion You paid big money to escape the clock and also to get in again You still play that old velan organ in the old church ... but you don't sing you can't talk. Sometimes I think I hear you whispering but it's just a statue on a market-square trying to get my attention

I'm dining with Aquarius, World-War III, and Father Jakob in the dining-room of the old castle ... Father Jakob wants to play the whisper-organ in the throne-room Whispers are filling the castle King Joseph is applauding.

A little golden killer is coming out of the clock ... He kills King Joseph and burns the market-square. He ticks like a million raging time-bombs Suddenly he explodes and a gigantic machine is standing before us after the smoke had gone A little bird stepped out and suddenly it changes into King Joseph "I'm still a rebel", he sais. Millions of market-squares are entering my head, to wash away the terror of the beggars. World-War III had disappeared Aquarius said he was just a beggar's war in the head of a lion's boy. The market-square was rising from the throne, floating to the pulpit on the other side of the room. Market-flags were suiting the toy-soldiers There is always a market to play.

A little boy from capricorn is skating on the market-square ... his voice is higher than a bird, and he's in speed-motion no one can catch his shadows. Millions of whispers are coming from the little clock they come from between the seconds The little boy is painting the fairy-rain riding on a fairy-carriage time cannot reach him, hold him, or block him. He said he created the universes in the space between two raindrops. He sais he can run through the rain without becoming wet. Whenever he passes by, everyone starts to cry

Married Off in a ...sheepdog's speedboat

Child of the red race-court Little twister in the rain

Red chills

People still say they see you skating in a cat's dreams But you don't have legs and the cat has been drowned many years ago They only see the steam of their own loss skating it looks like you Littlegypsy-boy ...

Your voice reaches so high, to Giant's World and back, it makes me cry

There I see you sitting in a sheepdog's football, carrying your mother's breath and your father's death You saw their divorce long ago

People still say they see you doing the dishes in your mother's house But you don't have arms and mother died long ago in a glass of a divorce's rose. You still try to reach her little house, but your arms and legs melt away more and more
You were married off to this divorce's rose It ate your father and drowned your mother It tore off your arms and legs Diary of a Killer-Wedding's smile.

Mother will never know how many times you dove into the rose's glass to look for her drowned handkerchief Grandmother embroidered it with the tears of Father

Killer-Whales are reaching the coasts of the Dwarf's World Their legs and arms had been melted away You are sitting on your capricorn throne thinking about your brother on venus ...

You still dream about you and him skating on the market-square between capricorn and venus you from capricorn he from venus you work in the cigar's shop he in the toy's shop still business-boys

But it's only a dream He lost his spine long ago in a gypsy's war a war in a wedding-room Thirty-thousand wedding-killers are making rumors

Your second brother lives on aldebaran working in a game's shop His heart was ripped out by a divorce's dog He had been a statue on a divorce's market-square for too long. He's still lying in that little bath, underwater, for mother still talks to the neighbour's wife rumors rumors. But he likes the fishes in the little bath he's diving deep, finding a rose a pirate's rose.

A market's rose is entering the dining-room of the old castle The divorce's rose is eating custard there

A lion without nipples is reaching the surfaces of the Dwarf's Enchanted Pond
He shakes his head and dives underwater again.

Father Jakob is doing the dishes in your mother's little house He's complaining about the smoke she left, aslant paintings are hanging throughout the house.

Fast little gypsy-boys, you still have your clothes, you still have your suits and that's all you really need.

Ninety suits without bodies are walking to vela's clothing-stores-streets, marching their way throughout the cities. They go faster than the rain, faster than the sun's light, carrying mother's breath within their clothes, awakening father's rose-gardens.

Snow White

Nobody knew that you and your brothers were the seven dwarfs of SnowWhite. You were the statues on her clock, living a double life in the world within the clock, between two seconds, chasing the fairy's rains.

I'm staring at Snow White's Pond, flowers are floating to the surface. A face is being mirrored by the little waterstreams I'm remembering this face You always took my eyes out of my head, and showed them before me and I always laughed for it didn't hurt me. When you were passing by no one could stop laughing for hours and hours. Your eyes could jump out of your head and return back into it. It's like you enchanted our eyes, for after it we got new movies in our head, dreaming new dreams You were Snow White's painter her father ?

We could remember and forget, after hearing your voice How was it to fall out of that old tall tower ? You never touched the ground. You rode the suns and the ice You are still the statue on Snow White's weather-box, living a double life in it's world within....

There's a whole new world in Snow White's weather-box People are dancing backwards in slow-motion Everything is moving weather-box-soldiers can move everything They move by moving spaces They walk by moving the ground below their feet They never go to bed The bed comes to them They are the immovable movers

Tears are rolling from the face of the weather-box' soldier But it's not his tears rolling but some old clocks are being moved from one side of the room to the other side.

Tears are rolling from the face of the weather-box-ballerina But it's not her tears rolling but some old flowers are being moved from one side of the universe to the other side.

I'm swallowing the splinters of an old window which had been burst this night I can watch deeper inside now My tears are falling But it's not my tears falling but some wardrobes fall from the edge of an abyss My abyss ?

I'm swallowing a million of wardrobes They touch the bottoms of my stomach and gliding through my legs I can breath again My heart is getting warm again ...

It wasn't you falling from that old tall tower The tower fell out of you and you caught it just before it touched the ground, your ground

You swallowed the tower In your arms I'm safe forever All these nightmares were just the tales you wrote for me to get my attention to show me the big joke in the divorce's rose to show me the slapsticks on father's epitaph I'm safe with you You ride on my nightmares they are your sheep-dogs trained to swallow me to save me from the bell the black bell

You married the divorce's rose long ago in a time I didn't exist You married the divorce's rose just to tell her a joke She would never stop laughing Laugh, little rose ... laugh.

Tall whispers are reaching my bedroom Through my purple curtains they float showing me Charlie Chaplin on Santa Clause's ship A little weather-box is standing on my cupboard I can sleep again

Poetry from The Violin

The Secret of Birthday

I'm dreaming about the Big Escape my doll finally found me Tears are rolling from my face he was always my movie-hero He once came to me, stepping out of the television My little doll, my little hero

Docter No

We were so happy together in that boat Later I found out you are not a woman but a man Not that it matters it's a little detail I still read your pink books, thinking you are a woman but deep inside I know you are a man

Are there any more things you need to tell ?

We are sailing the pink oceans, while we aren't together anymore We are still in that pink boat wearing pink trousers sailing on the Tear of Venus sailing on a woman's face or is it a man ? You always used to confuse me with your puzzles Your puzzlebooks had many ends ... many starts and stars I never knew where to begin never knew where I needed to end ...I wonder if you can still see my pink bracelet decorated by flowers It still guides my hand Your flowerhat covers your face I only see your smile below it You always used to bow your head in smiles when I was telling about the pink frogs You never heard the end of that story

Your dress is spreading peace we are riding on Venus' Lake diving under in pink treasures You always felt the need to share it with the dogs for the deserts to swallow

But hey, this is okay You still seem to find your own way And that is what it is : just another road in Oz You never dared to look into the face of the Great Wizard it was just a boy All you will find is a cradle and some feathers Born in Bethlehem

I drank from Bethlehem's Tear It was mummifying my head It was easing the sharp cutting sounds

Six girls called Alice were following that white rabbit of yours wandering into the forest You never told me they were men Not that it matters Just for the administration

My girls were never too lazy to look into that friendly face of the wizard a baby I wonder if they are really girls I was never a good gambler A good business-man would have much more results, so my mother gave me a good shop when I was young She taught me the art of trade or is it the trade of art ? I still sleep in her arms her milk streaming through my head, awakening the soft pink pillow-flowers at the shores of my heart

Now I'm drinking from the Tear of Venus watching the war-movies of the past I see some veterans I like Boys grew in those flowers Their mouths reaching for Jupiter's milk Their lips swollen and stretching out to cover the nipples of the mother's flower It was all deeply plugged in The milk reached their hearts and legs very easily There were no strains or black horses

We are covered by a maze of green shades wandering our way to the garden all these ways are brick roads Your eyes were so big the movie-screens of Venus I could drown in your eyes I could walk the stairways to your cellars riding the fairy-carriages to your attics This night I will finally be alone only with my shadows some mercurian desert-lions Am I still the criminal in your story ? I know I have a big mouth, and I can suck till someone really lets go

Now the boys grow in the trees not allowed to speak, not allowed to move not allowed to open their eyes why do you fear their books ? Is it Snow White's mirror, telling you you aren't Bjorn Borg anymore

I'm swimming in the seas of venus looking for my old tennisball

Still your hair is green and your skin is yellow, telling about all the roses you drowned in that glass of water Trees in the desert But I am the criminal in your book, locked up in the jail described at page 212 It was a best-seller in your world Made of Gaia's burnt flowers

I drank from Gaia's Tear, seeing your face mirroring in the little lake Rotten fruits on your white decorated hat. Victorian designs White dress Decorated cotton Bitter sweet sour. I'm looking for the brake on your linen decorated gloves They are searching for the golden tennisball

Now you're looking at me through a tennis-racket You can still make me laugh
You know where to find that little red button within the world beyond my heart
You always seem to pass my panthers without any problems reaching for my throne

....

On page 121 I was your king but at page 316 I am the dragon Was it really fire
I spat ? It wasn't real blood just tomatoes from another movie The garden is silent without you I'm turning the pages of an old book I loved your book, you always made me laugh, saying I'm your little criminal But this book, is a book without you and that's finally better for my heart was getting too heavy, you, wandering in my mind, with too heavy shoes I couldn't bear your rod

Why did you need to choose Moses' Rod on your 12th birthday ?

A man called Moses is washing the tears from my trousers They are so heavy, my trousers were too tall You always stretched me out when I was listening to the dwarf The words floating away to the dogs your dogs

But I found out : you're a man Not that it matters Just to be clear

I'm seeing the boys grow in the wind, growing in the rocks It's speaking to my mind You said you could never understand my jokes

Alice stands before the queen of hearts it's me in your book.

James Bond is drinking tea with doctor No, me, in your book

Jaws is terrorizing the coasts of japan Mars is attacking an old man burns a dollar I'm playing all the villains in your books at twelve o'clock I mocked an old statue in Africa, drowned a fish in Belgium and played tennis on Jupiter

Do I also have a split character ?

Your doctors say I'm very sick, for I'm growing in a tree. This was the tree you threw me in your tree you page 441.

I'm still reaching for the end of this story I bet I will be World War III at the end but World War III smiles at me, and says : "In the foreword you already died, so you have nothing to worry about"

Still your book is a tribute to me

"I want it all on my epitaph," said the white rabbit "Alice, you didn't come to our wonderland we came to yours"

I still wonder who wrote the foreword you did You were the only one who bought this book and still it is a bestseller Your wardrobes are full of it

I never dared to look into my own books to see who you are I had never enough money to buy it You are still sending yourself cards from all places of the universes except Rome you never liked the Pope

the movie's lions

The grass is wet under my body, I'm sliding into the rabbit-hole again Talking to Alice was never my skill My mouth was always swallowed in silence when I entered that place on the bottom of the rabbit's stomach Hitler was always

there and Charlie Chaplin I'm nothing but a boy growing in a rabbit Together with you.

I know ... one day we will grow out of it's mouth entering the fields of Venus drinking from the Venus' Tea swallowing our last lost river entering our last lost game But where is that red rocket-button of this old machine ? "It's in the tennis-ball, it's in the tennis-ball", said the white rabbit

Old books are playing tennis on Jupiter was the ball out or in ? About this the wars are raging The old tennis-ball smiles he loves to watch his self-made war-movies here he cuts another boy out of his mother's flower to send him to vietnam his toys changes into tanks I see a tear rolling from an old doll's face Tomorrow it will be changed into a war-flag

Venus, your Tear has many waterfalls I still like that pink one it brings me all along to the beginning of all things

Venus, your mother was a dove, your father a crow ... surrounded by Jupiter's eagles you were raised.

I'm trying to escape between two piano-strokes The fairy's witch is grinning
I'm growing in a tear, I'm growing in a toy

These streams of dying boys throughout the land your worst put in chess
And you always asked me why my eyes were so melancholic, but beautiful no they weren't dog-eyes I was never your dog you saw the dog on your own eye-screen your mirror ... you.

However, the old piano fished them out of the water piece by piece.

Between the piano-keys flowers grow and they carry boys within

The old tennisball is raging We always fought about it And finally I gave it to you I got sick of the fights Game over

For if you want to play games with me, I'll always let you win For me it's not a game Am I supposed to beat you ? I will crown you You are the champion, for today and tonight Tomorrow someone else gets the chance to ride on the roundabout's horse There is nothing to win from me I will give it to you, before the trip So instead of raising your fists, open your hands to receive what I want to give you

Movies were running through your head looking for the old tennisball When your movies are running through my head, they are so heavy I don't have your tennis-ball I gave it to you a long time ago

Some of your movies don't have an end Others end before it begins And in others the beginning is the end and the end is the beginning dreams of the elephant

Your advertisement-clips are reaching the shores of my head You're selling ice-creams on my beaches when people start to eat it's already melt away by your suns I see you laughing in the rain you are still a trickster from the big pear friends of tantalos

The records in your head are spinning day and night Do you know there is a scratch on it ? parrots' dreams

Still your tropical fishes like it when you dance Still the same movements, learned from an old zoo-care magazine You still work in that old zoo, one's death is the other's meat There you are selling pictures of me : "That animal has been died out although it died hard ... Now we have meat for many years"

Your zoo is a maze no one ever survived ... The exit is a cage, today's visitors will be tomorrow's animals.

Still there are some people who never entered your zoo ... They still walk along the perimeters, smoking cigars.

You look so lovely in that little pink dress but it's stolen and it's made of the skins from died out animals in a butcher's shop.

For at daylight you work in the zoo, and at night you work in the butchery There you are cutting with your knife cutting flowers for a flower's meal. There you are, the butcher's wife does he already know you are a man ?

I never felt comfortable in your movies my clothes never seemed to fit Your movie-eyes could watch through walls, and they easily brought you to the end of the oceans There you float above the oceans' waterfall moving your eyes over the edge of the earth your earth There you suck another frog into the mills of your head tomorrow he will be a horse in your zoo a black one

Now I know your movies never end, they are always on repeat You never grant them any rest Who is turning the wheels of your barrel-organs ? I see an old beggar, complaining about your promises unfulfilled He still waits, his hair is grey unfulfilled promises the speedboats of the swindlers friends of tantalos

Between pieces of movies, the advertisement clips roar They never give you what they promise your popcorn has run out There the safe screen between you and the snakes disappears you are now in the movie getting tomorrow's chains ...

A cinema's screen is sucking the visitors inside blood is streaming from it the people are running, trying to find the exit but it's also swallowed by the white screen killer-screens from tantalos Today only a little doll is left by the screen it hid behind a red bag Now it's running through the streets, calling for the police But the cinema is swallowing the whole city The doll is sailing on a paper hat to the edge of the earth, where all the oceans collide in waterfalls swindler's square tantalos' chess There he runs to the old zoo, looking for his little boss, who is a lion now, waiting for his next movie to play

I'm dreaming about the Big Escape my doll finally found me Tears are rolling from my face he was always my movie-hero He once came to me, stepping out of the television My little doll, my little hero

Sometimes when I look into your eyes, figures are stepping out, escaping your movies ... escaping your zoo's still having tv-fevers in one movie they were the hero's in another one they were the criminals But in my eyes, they will be retired on a pension for a few weeks and having some holidays with parrots I see them walking into my eyes, laying themselves in my velvet chairs Their eyes still like tennis-balls

There's a new movie in my head I'm playing tennis on a swindler's chess-board with an old tennisball this little guy is made of tennisballs He is breeding his zoo-movies trying to sell them to the clocks of london but he gets no replies Six movie-lions are entering the tennis-field They smoke big cigars They jump through my eyes into my head, where some war-movies are playing and then they sooth my heart Now I can eat these movies ... softly I swallow them and they slide into my legs I always wanted to have movie-shoes Now I'm running through the clouds, reaching for the nectars of the stars My movie-eyes are spinning now I see who you really are

And still yes you were just an actor in my movie You knew the script and played it well very well

The end.

To be continued.

Moses, my friend

After the movie-scenes we always go to that little pub at the corner of Jupiter
You smiling at me, throwing some sleep-powder in my glass of milk Me putting some laugh-powder into your glass of wine I enjoy it to see you laugh It was a very hard movie-scene today we had to kill each other well it was not really a killing it was more that of a lawyer's threat which is the same in my eyes I never liked the lawyer He never listened to my stories He only listened to that little bird sitting on his shoulder, telling him where the money rises out of the glass In this glass he always dipped some drips of old redbreast's blood. No one ever survived the drink

How many redbreasts did it take to build your butchery ? A redbreast is ticking on my window today, it escaped the television of an old baron I never have to watch television I can look through my window and see more than they will ever show on television

I opened my window and took the little bird in my hands. It sang a strange song
It had little movies in it's head ... too small for me to watch The old microscope told me it carries the advertisement-clips inside these were the only movies

I didn't need the newspaper-boys anymore for the redbreast brought me all the news every morning no advertiser would ever come to my door again for the redbreast was my new doorkeeper, and sang them all away the sellers in the street had died out the redbreast brought me everything I needed.

I cared so much for this new friend He showed me the show-square below the market-square Together they play the violin or does the violin plays them ?

Oh redbreast, I wonder in which flowers you bathed, when you spread your flavors through the night I know for sure it all isn't far from home There where the market and the movie come together, the billboard is born the birth of a redbreast's feather

You never liked the lawyer He always caged you in his television, just like the old baron did But now you are free, having your own movies in your mind Neonlights are walking the stairs, the redbreast is flying upstairs You were always Charlie Chaplin's friend, smoking his cigars and driving his busses You were always his faithful doorkeeper Liquor from Charlie's Drips running through my hairs, through my veins awakening the redbreasts in me

I was born in a black river in a floating black flower lying next to a child called Moses I asked him where he was going to He told me he was floating from one movie into another The big escape but was it really an escape ? His ship was full of purple-red neon-horses shining in the sun he said he got this ship from a man called Noah I asked him where Noah is .. now ... he told me he was diving in the black river, looking for an old tennisball

I got so sick, I had heard enough stories about tennis-balls My mother cooked tennisballs for me, every day But Moses told me, this tennisball goes from square to square, bringing the kids from movie to movie His ship was a tennisracket so now he needed the tennisball Suddenly an old man was rising out of the black river, near to our boat The horses were shivering he carried the tennisball in his hands It was spreading flashing neon-lights Our ship rose out of the black river and flew as a rocket into a blue river The tennisball was leading us to a new movie

Along the shores boys were growing in the trees and flowers They grew in the blue river, and they breathed so deep It was like they were awakening out of an old book, entering a new book I saw figures flying from one eye into the other bees

I saw books falling out of the heavens I saw redbreasts rising to the suns

Another man called Noah rose from the black river he had a zoo in a ship your ship your zoo Is the butcher here ?

I shake the hand of this man he's also an actor together we go to the cinema's pub eating some old movies you are also there together with the six girls who had the Alice-role I took a deep breath the scenes were over, and these people are so nice in real a war which never existed

In the evening we went to the blue lake behind the little town and we went for a swim but you didn't want to swim you had headaches Suddenly one of us found a black tennisball in the lake she was screaming I asked her to show me the ball I took it in my hand and my hands began to bleed The man who had the first Noah-role took it out of my hands, but his hands also start to bleed But when the man of the second Noah-role took it, nothing happened The man who had the Moses-role said we would better go but suddenly a black shark showed up, asking for his ball back We screamed and the second Noah threw it to him "Thanks," said the shark, "and why are you so scared, this is also just a movie a new movie"

"I don't want to play in your movie", I screamed, my hands still bleeding We went home, and you cared for my hands with healing creams and oils But the black ball was still wandering through my mind and you still had your headache It was a snake's egg

the cinema's cabman

Movies were playing in my mind, trying to touch the walls of my head I was calling for my little doll How many televisions do we have to escape ?

I found myself wandering in a labyrinth of movies snakes They asked me to be their actors They were film-managers hunting for players But I was too tired and didn't like their scripts Besides the fact that the money they offered was too much, and it was bleeding

But this garden was so beautiful, for you planted your roses there, and the little doll was leading me through He told me to hit the mirrors and dash them into pieces to swallow the televisions and to burn the cinema's This would be my best movie Your roses grew so beautiful and the boys were blooming into them bathing in moonlight

Ladders of movies bringing me in the heart of Charlie's Sun, the blue one I can remember and forget

You always said Jesus died in front of a camera A bullet jumped out of it drowning in a sea of photo's.

We are travelling in an old tennis-ball I show you all the nice places of the universes The gods are playing tennis I'm wearing my crown of thorns I'm still that little boy entering the snake-hole will someone wake me up, please ?

A rescue-party picks a boy out of the shark's hand ... He's screaming he doesn't want to be saved out of this movie

The rescue-party is driving it's bus to another movie trying to save some actors out of their scripts but all they get are some mad film-managers chasing after them throwing chairs and tables

Don't save the actor It's his work Also when he screams for help don't save him, for the book will know where to find you

I see a stunt-man crying in the rain A Saviour called Jesus Christ picked him up out of a burning sea with his helicopter Now his movie won't sell Sixhundred stuntmen are walking through the desert without money They are chained by another Jesus Christ, leading them to the city of dust. The waters have been sold out there's only blood flowing through the roofs He wanted to be the only hero When a hero saves a hero the battle begins slaves of the saviour

Sorry, I don't want to be saved today ... I already have enough chains ...

I'm diving through the glass of the old show-square finding invitations from a strange song A song of blood ... people congratulate me people hug me and kiss me telling me I survived but I dive deeper and reach the bottom of an old graveyard seeing a boy picking flowers there Are you ready to enter my ship ?
he asks

My uncle uses to come here, spinning funeral-eyes I'll lead you through the bottom of your coffin, into a world beyond the movie I'll be the flower on your grave, the fairytale on your epitaph There's life on the other side The actor had to die in the movie today ... he was shivering but he felt the warm, comforting hand of the film-manager on his shoulder saying it was all okay Within five minutes he would be on the other side It would make the movie sell His eyes were spinning like a passionate but upset dollar he finally made the dive in slow motion Congratulations you are now beyond the movie

Where am I ? The doctors take his pulse no signs you are now a white rabbita tennisball a zapper ... able to switch people from one movie to the other in and out out and in now you are the cinema's cabman But why ? he asked And what's on the other side of the movie, where the waterfalls of the television-oceans flow over the edges of earth ? A bird is floating there a redbreast saying : Congratulations, it's your birthday today, for no one saved you, but you saved yourself Let the heroes be lost, let the hero's be unsaved, so that they can find their own values, their own worths, their own birthdays

A boy called birthday was shaking my hands His teeth were shining in the sun His big brown movie-eyes had a funeral-pupil inside spinning carrying the seven little flames of a birthday-cake within His tongue jumped out his mouth, reaching for the sand in my pockets Then with an enormous speed he swallowed his tongue again Our bodies were vibrating so fast Now you know the secret of birthday he said Slowly he turned his back to me, and disappeared in the rain

Never look into a frog's mirror For it makes you older
Never look into a rabbit's kitchen For it makes you blind for your own beauty
Never look into a snake's dream For it makes you younger than hell
Just look in my eyes and tell me what you see

The Mistress

There she sits, smoking tall cigarettes, her legs crossed Using people as pieces of chess awakening another drama in their short lives

There she moves, like the killing fields Don't look into her eyes, for you will see tenthousand sharks smiling at you

There she goes, cycling to the shop, buying new shoes high heeled

Did you ever see her stepping out of her limosine ? I guess not, for then you were in her car now for the rest of your life drinking tea with dumb cats after two days you are a wheel under her car doomed to follow her wherever she goes

The greengrocer likes her teeth He doesn't know what she all eat with them

No one knows she's a cannibal With her high heels like knives she walks over the killing fields slaughtering the bodies lying on the grass

She drinks wine in her sanctuaries, having unfathomable smiles She talks to her canaries, they tell her tropical stories to spread in the cities

At the end of the evening she takes off her tall black gloves and throws them over the town nuclear bombs are running for this

When I look at her, nuclear bombs are exploding in my stomache ... chemical threats are climbing in my neck They all run for her, she's the mistress

When she looks at the chemical factories, they disappear in the rain They are all scared of her eyes No wonder, her eyes are high tech camera's, and she gathers pictures for her comics She creates her stories and we are the pictures The first day it's in the comics for the kids, the second day it's in the newspapers for the adults, the third day it's on the rubbish-fields, for the rats to eat ... the fourth day it's in the history-books, for the rabbits to read ... the fifth day it's on the menu-lists of their kitchens

She writes songs about this her junkies listen to it day in day out

She's still a famous female singer, but no one knows she's a cannibal

There she flies out of her limosine again, racing to the shops to buy some high-heeled clogs She needs it on her farm when the water rises

I still go out with her once in six weeks to drink some good beers and to talk about her cows I don't want to hear any of her songs ... I never heard them I only want to see her ring She got it from a rabbit long ago He gave it to her before he died

No one knows her name is Alice, lost in wonderland No one knows I'm the white rabbit Neither does she I only came to get my ring back I gave it to her by mistake

Here in my head it ticks

Here in my head, it ticks,

Here in my head, the apple runs,

From my head to my stomach, and back.

A nuclear bomb inside, slaves of reticuli. Whenever I want to move, it explodes, whenever I want to eat, it's never good, it always explodes. I am living in a machine, and the machine lives in me. No one ever cried since the chain was laid. Tearless summers, tearless tv's. The land here is dry, while I know somewhere the tear exists.
The tear to make me free, the tear which mirrors the friendly green face from another world. Here I sit in Reticuli, the timebombs almost lost their patience. There is someone raging upstairs, I can't hear what he's saying.

Here in my head it ticks,

Here in my head, the juice runs,
The apple crashed against a wall in my stomach.

This wall in my stomach is there since my youth. My aunt knit it for me with iron threads, spun by several dwarves. They still live under the earth, but they visit my aunt everyday at ten o'clock in the evening. Is it me there, screaming so loud, or is it just a visitor from another world, putting some ice in the coffee here? The coffee here is a killer. It kills me at twelve o'clock and raises me from the death at one o'clock, it all happens in the night, when everyone sleeps. No one hears my cry in the city of noisy dreams. There are moments that everyone is deaf, this is the land where I live.

You must kill the caution, says the white rabbit, and just forget about it all. You have to become lazy just like all the others in the land. But I like my ears too much. And what is it to have tall ears while they are deaf

The old beaver is watching the clock, it ticks It doesn't tick in his hair anymore,only on the wall. The face of the clock is friendly now, but long ago it was severe. The beaver smiles back. He could repair this clock a clock thinking it was a body-limb had been in a mental institute for so long so confused, so paranoid But now it knows it's just a clock on the wall, ticking slow and soft, from the morning to the evening, and at night it goes to sleep.

I learned to love to see the speed of an apple in my body,
For when it touches a wall, the juice flows.

The old clockmaker goes to reticuli every morning, fishing at broken clocks, to bring them to the mental institutes where he works. The old beaver smiles. He sees love in the heart of the clockmaker.

The clockmaker knows all his clocks, some have birds inside. Once one little bird told them that they could be a human being, by living in a human being for awhile, instead of hanging on these stupid walls. The clocks followed this stupid little bird to reticuli, the land of confusion, where they became the body-limbs of slaves. The tear of the apple knew to be patient. When someone or something goes too fast, it starts to cry. Green walls of tears stopping me from touching the nuclear bombs. You can never wrestle with a mine, for when you touch it, it explodes. Some things need to be overcome without touching it

There I sail at the chemical seas A dog from Antlia invited me to see his clocks. I'm amazed, his voice is so tender ... This clock killed him seven times, and now it's his best friend. Clocktamers from Antlia They had been drowned in the chemical seas too often, and now they live in a clock, and the clock lives in them, without biting each other. The clocks and the dogs live in peace here. The wars are over, the clocks are repaired The miracle of a mental institute.

There was a clock called Hitler, sailing at the chemical seas, feeding the chemical sharks and the chemical sheepdogs They still swim around, saying : Heil Hitler. I'm on the other side of these seas, staring at the bloody history, staring at some chemical killer-whales They spread their chemical flowers to attract the mass But no one seems to like them. They are all scared, for these flowers are black. Only some black sheepdogs are interested. I still fish the old clocks out of these seas, and bring them to the old clockhouse in the clock-forest The apple smiles While it's tears are warming my heart, slowing it down till I can feel the Mother Clock ticking

How come I'm still sinking in this chemical sea, heavy loads on my clothes I'm trying to find the bottom of this sea It seems there is no bottom

The apple in my heart is crying He says I'm going too fast I would only find the bottom if I would slow down For when people go too fast they create chemical seas ... chemical words coming out of their mouths ... Curtains of green tears are covering me, washing away the chemical tears Why did I cry when I lost my arabian trains ?

Running boys since they started to grow as a tree, the apple could grow

Gypsy's Girl

There are not enough stars to tell your story,
I'm scratching some glitters from the wall,
They are yesterday's frogs ...

The tears in your eyes are lakes for me to swim,

The flames in your eyes still burn my skin with rabbit-tattoos,
The icycles in your eyes are cars for me to race the rainbows of your heart

Your fingers are so close to me, but I never touched them,
For there is glass between us,
I see your breath against the glass,
your tears rolling to the bottom like rain

You are safe with your bulls behind the glass,
Their steam is dripping from the glass
And I'm at the other side of the glass,
Me and my geese

I am happy with this glass between us,
for I know you are a predator,
You always get what you want

But no one will take away this glass,
You cannot break it with your fist
I know on sundays you are sad,
Remembering your father's funeral

But hey, your bulls care for you now,
and your flames will warm your heart.
Tonight I will leave the glass,
But my geese will be around.

I will make a long trip around the world,
and one day I will reach the other side of the glass

Gypsy's Girl II

Your father bought ice-cream for you,
It was a long day on the fairground.
Purple lightning fills the air,
You want a teddy-bear.

But your father ran out of money,
so you can't play the game.
There is something with your tears,
Is it really the teddy-bear you cry about ?

When a kid cries about a doll,
There goes a story behind

You lost your mother when you were twelve,
Now you could never grow up.

You are doomed to cry about dolls,
for they reflect your mothers face

Tomorrow you will win the fairground's game,
Tomorrow you will be the queen,
For your mother went away for a reason,
She built the fairground for you ...

Gypsy's Girl III

What if the world was a cube instead of a ball ?

What if the giant was a dwarf and the dwarf was a giant ?

What if blue was brown, and brown was blue ?

Maybe it's all true, Gypsy Girl,

When you dare to watch inside,

Dare to touch the world, and you will feel something else ...

How do you know the sea is wet,

while you never dove into it ...

How do you know strawberries are dirty,

While you never took a bite ...

Why is it that everyone sees something else when a dragon shows up ?

Some embrace him, and others run away.

Some think he is god, others think he's an escaped criminal,

While there are also ones that think he's a good book to read ...

The things around you, reflect your past,

but it will only reflect your future when you dare to touch it, and to look inside.

Your eyes will deceive you, when you don't eat it,

for then the world will be nothing but your past.

Gypsy's Girl IV

There you sit on the pew,
Tears in your eyes,
The preacher sent his sheepdog from the pulpit,
Now it's licking you,
But you are afraid

There you walk on the fairground,
with tears in your eyes ...
The clown sent his bear,
Now it's licking you,
.....But you fear it ...

There you sit in the tram,
The lawyer sent his lion out,
Now it's embracing you in it's tight grip,
....You fear it

Your lollipop cannot save you today,
It's the day your mother wants your attention.

There you walk in the rain,
No one sees you're crying,

Today your mother sends you to the circus,
But you are afraid of the animals ...

Tomorrow will be your first day on your new school,
but you fear the kids
Your mother wants your attention
Her voice slides through the wind ...

For her all these new things are ways to bring you new messages,
The voices from her heart ...
She knows some things aren't easy for you,
but she's just showing a bit of her pain, and the dangers surrounding you ...

Her voice slides through the night to wake you up,
For the new day is coming,
And she warms your heart with instructions

No mother can give what she gives,
She is your world, she is your day
She embraces you in white snow,
and disappears in the rain

To reach the surfaces of tomorrow's seas and rivers ...

These summers with you on Neptune took so long, it was like forever. The days here took so long, I could do with you whatever I wanted. I'm staring at the little clock so many numbers. I'm seeing your smile reflecting there, watching Neptunes Teeth Your dress is taller than the sun, telling me stories about a long forgotten past. Your earrings are big You got them from an Arabian Queen.

The way you use to smoke your tall cigarettes is too mysterious to describe, a dignified kill is what you always called it. And oh, yes, you are so dignified, tempered and patient. You always said you don't wait for anything. You always said to wait is to die. Your smiles reach the bottoms of Jupiter and Saturn, they are still your loving sisters. When you shuffle your cards, there is no one who can say anything. When the lady speaks, everyone is silent. You know the snakes around my neck.

Softly you close the curtains, as in slow-motion. I'm trying to catch a glimpse of the ceilings here, but all I see is smoke and fog I wonder if this house has ceilings at all. You smile, and give me a glass of strange wine, or is it liquor ? Anyway, only by watching in the glass, seeing the rubyred moist, I get a sting in my stomach, and something climbs my back, embracing my neck as a soft wind. Is it your monkey or just a trick ... or am I just dreaming I'm getting dizzy staring in the glass ... You still hold it before my eyes, I don't dare to touch the glass

No, give me some apple-juice, I ask You say you don't have apple-juice, only these sorts of blends There I see myself sinking away in the glass You smile deep, and saying : "Come on, give it a try, take a good pull." My legs start to shake, and I'm falling on the ground Your carpet is so soft I feel myself like lying in the grass I am looking at my watch, seeing more numbers growing on it Your face reflecting Seeing Neptune's Teeth

No, no, no one can ever say I drank from this mixture, this only happened by staring at it You smile, and while turning your back to me, you walk to a bookcase, so tall, I couldn't see where it ends Maybe it doesn't end If there is no ceiling, there is no top of this bookcase But I don't know, I only see smoke and fog You smile while giving me a book I shiver, I don't dare to touch it ... While staring at it, I feel all strength streaming out of my body I'm lying on the grass again Someone's touching my fingers Your monkey ?

I bet when I would read this book, it doesn't have an end You smile Turning the blank pages, while disappearing in the fog

The Rabbit

Dreams of the past were flowing over my body like waves on an icy island I'm safe, I'm far away, I will not return to the worlds They were like marbles in my pocket I had enough of that play I found some other marbles rolling and pushing them through the sand Sometimes I see hands coming out of the sand, trying to take away these marbles, but hands are forbidden here ... I bought me some police-rabbits for that They like to play with marbles Sometimes some pirate-ships full of cards try to reach my shores, but I have enough of pirates, especially their cards I bought me some rabbits for that too Some rabbits from an old lawyer

If you abuse your eye, it will fall out If you use it to enslave others, it will become blind, for the eye wasn't built for that

My rabbit always falls when I touch it My dreams are waves surrounding my island ... like glitters from the sun Coming from the morning, disappearing in the evening I like to listen to the echoes of rabbits They say words are never enough

My aunt is drying my wet t-shirt in the sun, but it never gets dry The rabbit's curse

I brought all these insects I got to a lake on the island, deep in the forest Now I can watch them everyday, while they are swimming in the rain I will never forget about all my birthday-presents They still race through my waters My aunt complains about the noise While she lives millions of miles away, in another time I think the Middle Ages, somewhere She thinks she is the queen of Bututolia or something At least that was what she was always saying I never went there, but she said it really exists She built it herself, she said, by accident, when she was cooking, something fell out of her hand, an egg I think When it hit the ground, Bututolia was born She still feeds it like a baby, while it was born in the Middle Ages Well, I never went there She said it was too expensive And the shops were all swindlers To enter the shop already cost a lot of money And leaving the shop cost even more While not buying something is unpayable Everyone lives in deep debts there They all wait for someone's son called Jesus Christ to pay the bills They think he's that rich My mother always taught me to work for own money, and never to enter Bututolia, for you never get out

My other aunt went to Bututolia for some shopping She never returned

Well, I still like Jesus, I feel sorry for him he will have to pay all those bills While people are buying and buying, like there's nothing else but shops They think, oh he will pay, we can buy what we want And there he hangs at a cross of bills He can't pay them either No wonder The bills ask for foreign money Money from my island and Jesus was never there unless one of my rabbits is called Jesus

I will tell him not to go to Bututolia, for no one ever survived

Silent After All These Years

To visit a church is the most wonderful thing you can do in your life Not to sit at the golden balconies, not to shake the hand of the old preacher, but just to take a look at the wild side of life How a snake kills a rabbit, how an eagle eats a mouse Can you watch this without feeling the blood flowing through your stomach, waiting to burst out ? Can you watch it without speaking out a spell, deep in your heart ? I don't have tears anymore when I watch their shows They have been dried out a long time ago, by some old priests After all these years, I enter the old church again, where I was born between the snakes and the rats I see them shivering when I enter through their gates again After all these years Yes, recognize me Yes, remember me Your adopted son kidnapped from a mother's heart Slowly my hand is sliding to the gun in my jacket hesitating but determined I want to see their faces I don't have any grin or smile They already died long ago in the baths of the priests Baptized as kid having big seals on their heads The mark of the beast Oh, don't touch this, and don't touch that Don't eat, don't speak listen to your teacher No, there is no any smile left in my heart

Slowly I walk to the pulpit The giant will meet the dwarf today the question is : who is who ?

I remember the face of my mother, smiling at me, in deep extends Why did they cut me away out of her heart to this place of horror ? Why ? Today I am the beast, I want my heart back Is that too much to ask ? The priests are shaking their heads ... they feel their money roll out of their pockets I give them my shoes back

And I walk barefooted to the little man on the pulpit He tries to make me laugh with all his funny faces, but I'm not charmed anymore, since I know he killed my raven I will not speak one word I can't I never could While people always said I would be a good preacher Well, my father actually But he always spoke by the whole mass thinking he was the microphone of society I always thought so many people came to my funerals but it was only my father he clothed himself with the heads of the mass bought in an old shop of sailors

Silent after all these years

When the Bunny Sais No

the embroiderer

The golden cross stings my eye He was never my friend He killed a friend called Jesus, the softest boy I knew The golden cross yells in my ear Finally a day without trousers Now I can run into my t-shirt, a black one with a white cross

Red tears are rolling from Mary's statue She's sewing her son's beard on his face again with threads of her thin spun tears I can see the mosaic of the old church again A cathedral in the forest The tall windows still speak to my mind, the gothic ballets of turkish doves, bathing in sunlight and dew

They still live in that old church, the old spinners, six ravens beyond the faery's world They are gathering my old dreams in the forest, like woodpickers The cuckoo is staring at me I feel her heart beating

Maria Magdalena is walking through the forest, swimming through the little waves of the old lake dewdrops are covering her face, or is it her tears She's looking for her boy The son of the golden dawn She's weaving her orchestra's to reach his ears with honey her son is softly crying, melting the hearts of the nightingales

I'm hearing the echo's of the embroiderer she's standing tall in the tall church of the old little town Everything is small there, I see small trains and small stations with little conductors speaking small words about old farms and chocolate-milk The embroiderer is standing tall, heading for her sister Venus When Virgo touches Venus, the honey-milk flows I never wanted to drink that stuff, it's like unripe corn is mixed through it I don't want to have stones in my stomache There she blows her winds through the little old town The people and their toy-cars sink in the rivers The houses melting away Where did she get that breath ?

There she sits in the attic of the church's tower, spinning her tales, spinning her stories She always wins, her cats are old champions she licks her lips ... having a devastating smile There she steps on the street with her high purple heels They are needles in the sand

Where is she going to ? I see her going to the sea, fishing at the drowned little people and toy-trains they are like little tin soldiers but I also see little bank-managers She gathers them in her hat, and dives in the ocean to become a mermaid her cats following her old champions

The lion loves to see her swimming It reminds him of the time he could swim Now he's sick, lying in his bed day in day out He never wants to go back to the sea, although he had a good time there Now he's writing night-tales, and listening to his birds all the time ... The lion has a warm heart for her, he loves to dry her with his tall towels bringing her to the tower-attic again There she spins his dreams old champions

Sick lions are wandering through the streets of Virgo Looking for the old toy-shop

The old bunny hides his pieces of chocolate, and gives some pieces of toys to the sick lions Now they can make their father happy The rags of his old blanket giggle She smiles embracing the old lion kissing his forehead his glasses fall on the ground They are so happy together

There she sits behind her spinning-wheel, spinning tomorrow's rain She decides when it's your birthday ... she decides when it's newyears-eve she decides when it's christmas

There she spins a bird in someone's heart Now this person will have to sing

There she spins a bird in someone's leg Now this person will have to dance Curse of the spinning-wheel

There she brings a hand full of spun sand to the giant He smiles and throws it in his hour-glass Now we have more time, he sais lightning covers virgo

lightning covers the universe The cosmos is in fire Tomorrow it will rain stones For the sand will grow

The toy-people shiver they become smaller and smaller The giant is laughing loud The planets are shaking

she never becomes spring

The old bunny is still hiding his chocolate She asks him for more champions ... but he doesn't want to sell his fairytales ... The book of champions is not for sale It took him millions of years to gather them all and to paint their faces and suits in a book

There she slides through the Northern wind, waiting for an acorn to pick her up, to become the autumn for awhile leaves fall from the trees, dew slides through the rivers waiting for the new spring to come She doesn't have a place to live now She can't reach her tower, can't reach her seas she slides through the rain, looking for a rabbit's heart to warm her But she will never be spring, and returns to the old bunny he's still saying "no" it's becoming winter in her heart

She returns to the giant, but he wants more champions She returns to the lions, but they also want more champions, but the bunny says "no" She changes into an icicle into the cold snow on the skin of a bear all her dreams fade away Virgo is having birthdays The dwarfs are having a little party ... Even her sister on Venus closes all the doors for her They want to see the champions ...

She becomes autumn, she becomes winter, but she never becomes spring, for the bunny said "no" Now the acorn is her ship, sailing from place to place looking for the champions ... but the bunny said "no"

I know a place where it never becomes spring here in her heart The lions are getting sicker The giant is getting smaller It seems the bunny is taking his champions back The tower of the church is melting, and the seas are drying out There she wanders through her deserts with high heels, they are melting also Her clothes are getting narrow, she feels like becoming a doll

Tears are rolling from the Mary-statue Mary takes her clothes back

Maria Magdalena finally finds her son, he almost died in the rain Now he's autumn's prince, riding the horse of spring finding a pair of lady's shoes with high heels in the forest Kissing them and bringing them to his mother She smiles deep, now she can run through the forest

A bunny is gathering the acorns for the winter, disappearing in the summer's rain

The Fortune-Teller

I almost don't dare to watch in her eyes
It's like falling into a thousand of pitfalls at the same time,
pits, fifty miles deep ...

Her smile is like the mandarine,
in deep extends
They warned me saying never go there, where she is,
But I'm too curious to resist
They say she's breeding sharks

I'm watching the rings at her finger
They reflect planets I don't know
It makes me curious,
I want to step on these planets ...
They feed me unknown juices

I'm creeping through the sand ...
I see her misty palace in the distance
or is it just a mirage ...

She is the queen of the mandarines

They say she was my aunt in early days,
but my uncle left her, and she went to africa,
to live in the deserts ...

She's still a magician after all these years,
My uncle became too scared of her magic ...
She always turned into a werewolf in the night

And finally I see my lost aunt for the first time in my life
It's like a million of sharks are staring at me
She smiles deep ... You're still that little baby, she sais

She shows me her chrystal ball, and I see myself running through the skies ...
She smiles,
I always followed you by watching my chrystal ball ... she sais ...
You were always my little tv-star ...

She asks me to drink some of her liquor
But no, I say, I have to drive home tonight
She sais : home is gone, it's now in the chrystal ball
This is your new home ...
It's like a million of sharks are smiling at me ...

But aunt, I say, I only have clothes for one day
She shows me a wardrobe full of suits, saying not to worry about that I immediately like the pink ones decorated with white ...
See, you're still a baby, she sais

Hun, I need to tell you something, before you go to sleep

I still become a werewolf at night, and then the sharks will walk through the room, cleaning the house cooking tomorrow's meals, and working in the garden ...

I say no problem, but don't wake me ...

The fortune-teller smiles

Where am I ? I ask ...

You were far away, she sais ...

Why are you doing this to me, I ask

To show you that your dreams are real, she sais ...

I look at my hands, and see my aunts ring on one of my fingers ...

Yes, it's true, I say A little shocked ...

Then she closes her book,

And I fall asleep again

The Clairvoyante

Finally I took the risk

They said it was my own ...

I looked into her eyes, for the first time in my life ...

Something I never dared to do

I immediately fell deep into a rabbithole,
seeing myself knocking on the kitchendoor

They expected me already

I shake the hand of the rabbit-cook
I smell the flavors of their dining-rooms

I drink the rabbit's liquor,
they drink from metal shoes ...
I hear three bells and then I faint
They carry me to the queen of rabbits ...
When I see her she has the face of a clairvoyante I knew

I met her when I was fifteen years old,
She was like an older sister to me ...
But she moved to another place
I never saw her back ...

Are you I'm asking the queen
Are you no Tell me it isn't true
Are you her ?

Her wings are sliding through the magnetic air ...
Fluttering in the wind, like the flags of my father's ship ...

I didn't know you were a rabbit I say ...

She doesn't speak, but her smiles tell me enough

I did it, finally I did it I looked into the old clairvoyante's eyes ... Something I never dared to do ...

Maybe I was too scared to see a piece of my history, to which I thought I could never return

But I saw her there when she was young ...

A time she thinks she can never return to ...

All I have to do is asking her to look into my eyes ...

And she will meet the rabbit-prince there her brother me

The Coin

I'm drinking the liquors of old legendary champions ...

I found these bottles below the house of my grandfather ...

It took me fourteen years to come here,

This stairway was so long

I spent my whole life running down these stairs

But finally I'm where I must be ... The liquors streaming through my throat

Well I never wanted to be a champion I always let the others win

For me I trained myself to lose

It gave me the feeling of being a real champion ...

No one could ever beat me in that

And even in this I sold my trophies to the cats

I scratched my golden epitaphs

I always challenged the champions in the ring of mozart

I hated them

When I was a kid my mother always brought the champions to me

So that I could kick them out of their trousers

Maria Magdalena was always my friend, whoever it was ...

We always picked the drowned Jesus's out of the rivers ...

Training them for another game to lose

I always told her in french accent not to look into the glass too deep

She might see her own reflection

No, we don't need our own reflections

One of each is more than enough ...

We might win a game by over-population ...

No, I don't give myself any chance or tool to win

I found a coin on the bottom of my pit

If I would step out earlier, I would never see it ...

I saw Maria Magdalena's face on it

Now she's my friend forever

The Coin II

I need to watch my terrarium, for if one of these coins escapes, there will be a mess in tomorrow's world

One day you will see the coin with my face on it,

Every day you go to the shop, you will pay money with my face on it ...

Every day you will remember me ... What you did to me

One day you will see the coin with my father's face on it Everyday when you go to the greengrocer, you will pay back that what you stole from him ...

Today my mother's face is on your coin She is the queen of your country ...
You remember her voice everyday ... It speaks to you ...
What you all did yesterday

Why do you like to hide your money ? Tomorrow you will see my brother's face on your coins Wherever you go, you will remember what you all said to him

No, I am not bitter ... But my fruits are And you eat them also everyday
No, I am not proud But the coins are And you see them also everyday ...

No, I am not lazy, ... but I am tired to see your face on the coins
They are from decades ago When you were king in the land I would get rich if I would bring them to the collectors

But no, I will keep them for myself I love to see the year of this old coin 1796 That's not now ... It's long ago ... It reminds me that your terror is over ... You died a year later ...

No, I am not mean but those times were mean very mean
I was the footman in your household Your automaton, working only by your coins
I was the robot on your spaceship, I could only move by eating your chips with your head on it

I had tattoos on my head with your name and head on it ... You almost couldn't see my own head Even the dog was wearing your head on his head ... The collectors would do a murder to get one of your coins ... But I don't reply to them ... I saw enough kills in my life

And besides that, I'm a collector myself I have coins with the faces of Pinocchio, Hitler and Humpty Dumpty for example I have the coins with the faces of legendary winners and losers the coins of legendary swindlers and smugglers

also the coins of legendary money-spenders and time-wasters They are all behind glass, singing their own songs But then I always lay my finger on the years of the coins ... enough to shut their mouths One day a coin tried to escape ... I think he wanted to be back in business It was the coin of an old legendary Lawyer ... well actually it was an old legendary criminal from another period in disguise He escaped one period's jail and entered another period's government I need to watch my terrarium, for if one of these coins escapes, there will be a mess in tomorrow's world

One of these coins is my luck coin, dear to my heart It's the one with my grandfather's face on it I can buy the whole world with it and it always returns to me

The Coin III

I'm watching the face of the counterfeit coiner ...

He's breeding his coins ... One day they will enter the world ...

I'm watching the hand of the counterfeit coiner

He's hiding numbers of an old clock ...

Now it will never be seventy o'clock again ...

He mixes the numbers in his kettle ...

Tomorrow the coin will rule ...

The kettle is hot ... A face called Hitler tries to reach the surface

The kettle is screaming A hand is coming out, and sinks again ...

I hear songs about Jesus coming from the kettle ...

There are explosions within ...

What kind of coin are you making, doctor ?

You stole these faces out of a hospital for champions

Now you are spinning a new face

Why are you spitting in the kettle, doctor ?

You always told us not to spit ...

Why are you mixing your photo's through the melange

You always told us to burn our camera's

Here you throw some comics in the mix

You always told us don't read comics ...

They are bad for the heart

Doctor, doctor, you never do what you say

At night you are a counterfeit coiner ...

Preparing the coins for tomorrow's world

I wonder what we will see today ...

Yesterday it was the face of a seal-hunter

When I look into a seal's eye I still see the face of that man ...

Their eyes are bleeding

Tonight Maria Magdalena will slide into your kettle

With all her charms and dangerous flavors

With all her mystery and leg-knives

The Coin IV

I'm hearing the echoes of my mother's train in the distance ...
I always got the chills hearing this knowing something would happen
It's coming from the old forest ...
Where the frogs still smoke their pipes

The old colonist is waving at me,
But I'm not charmed ...
I remember the faces of the seals crying for rain ...

He was an old legendary dancer
But I never liked the dance
I always looked at his suit made of seal-skins

People say he's too old to judge him
But I still hear the cry of the seals ...
I saw mass murderers painting their skin with the creams of died birds ...
Now they are too old to be judged ...

And that's what they say ...
Do you want to know my age ?
When the criminal is a baby ... he's safe too ...
Too young to be judged

A little boy is eating seal-cream
Mother smiles and sais let him go, he's just a baby ...

Criminals know where to find the womb of the mother
They know to find their craddles and baby-chairs ...

There they can do and eat what they want ...

There another criminal enters the kindergarten ...

Painted by seal-cream ...

The mistress smiles he broke a toy of another one's kid

Tomorrow that kid won't have a father anymore ...

The criminal knows how to hide the crime

There he paints the body of the kid's father with the creams of a monkey ...

He shouldn't have been so stupid sais the criminal

The mistress smiles What a wise boy

Who will enter the school tomorrow ?

The kids are shivering

Hiding their seals

Pinocchio is the hero of the class

He always talks through a microphone, acting like he is the police

He makes the girls smile, and the boys embrace him everyday

A kid called tarzan is the new kid in the class ...

Seals are his friends ...

He takes them to his home, but at night he eats them

Young ones and old ones are his friends,

but by their creams he covers his crimes

The mistress smiles

She likes him

She watches his split face ...

He is always too young and too old to judge

He looks like her father ...

And he also looks like her passed husband ... and like her son ...

He brings something back to her, but she can't reach it ...

It tortures her mind ...

She feels like she lives in tantalos, since he's here ...

When she looks into his eyes, she sees the bleeding seals, having the faces of her family and friends Some even have the faces of her tv-stars

But she can't help them They are too far away

No one knows he's the boss of the cinema

It's only for view ... Not to touch ...

He shows them the martyrs of the world ...

But they are not there to be helped ... They are only to be viewed ...

The crime of the journalist ...

Sightseers are entering the Arabian Wars taking pictures for their movies ...
gathering the blood to have ink for their books

The mistress smiles She thinks her family is safe now

Safe on Noah's Ark

When we have two pieces of each sort, we will survive

The rest will die

It's all in the family ...

There she goes to the shop, buying today's fruits

But when she takes a coin out of her wallet, she faints

The body of a dead seal was on the coin Now she has blood on her hands ...

A boy called seal is the new kid in the class ... The mistress is sick today ...

Pinocchio likes him and gives him his microphone

They have a new mistress A woman called Mrs. Jupiter
She likes seals and she told the kids she used to work with seals
But one day she lost them, they were swallowed by a camera
Every day she saw their movies in her head, but she couldn't touch them ...

But today is a new day ...
There she stands, embracing her kids
This day she finally could touch them again

The Coin V

To be able to survive in the land of nonsense one has to learn and teach nonsense ...

Scrooge

Here I sit behind my old piano again ...
It took me ages to get here
The mountain was tall ...

I'm in my Robin Hood suit again ...
Feeling my arm-knives burning against my skin ...
It's sixty o'clock here The days are long

I see the gypsy girl dancing with her girlfriend ...
She finally reached her enchanted shoes ...

I have sixty thin, tall pins tied on the arms of my jacket

They are sharp like hell

I use them for my harpoon ...

They say I don't need my horseshoes while walking across the river

I can afford to walk without them ...

I'm finally sitting behind my piano again ... after all these ages ...

But I still can't sing

A giant took my voice when I was a kid

My brother screamed when he took my voice out of my chest

Neither my brother sang ever again since that day ...

He only played the piano to calm my heart

The bird in my brother's chest died of sorrow the day the giant took my voice away ...

The juices dripping from my piano are echoing through the night

I still hear the footsteps of the giant walking up the stairways His steps echoing
in the night reaching for the bed where I sleep

The giant has three daughters ... Their voices echoing through the cities ... Their movements echoing through the tv's of the houses You can see everything they do ...

And what they do ... is not so nice

My brother's bird is chained there, sitting on a wooden stick ...

It has to sing for them day and night

On sundays the bird has to preach for them

And reading from some old black books with silver pages

I'm burning my Robin's suit People say I can afford myself to walk on the streets without it Which suit shall I choose today ?

A redbreast is ticking on my window ... Showing me Charlie's suit

But Santa told me I could do without it ...

The three daughters of the giant are flying in their spinning-wheels They show me the suit of a legendary jester But I'm tired of all the jokes

No, today I will take something special

I'm kidnapping one of the giant-daughter's spinningwheel and race through Jupiter's Mirror heading for the old suit-shop

At the door I meet a man called scrooge ...

He wears a suit full of coins ...

The faces on the coins speak

Their voices echoing through the streets ...

I can't believe it, they are speaking about me

They are singing their songs, echoing through the radios of the city ...

It's all about me ...

They say they got their voices from an old giant ...

His daughters span the voices in their coins

The ancient legendary rich ... The ancient legendary misers ...

Microphones of Scrooge

Someone said Scrooge invented Africa

but I think these coins created it ...

I wondered how they got that rich

An old casino-boss is appearing ... he wants to buy a new suit ...

He takes off his hat ... looking deep into my eyes

I know this face

He wants to shake my hand .. but I refuse ...

He wants to steal my rings ...

His face is white ... I see the jukeboxes in his eyes ...

His fingers are gamble-machines for the kids ...

The winning numbers aren't available

He swallowed them all with dinner ...

His suit is full of coins with the faces of ancient legendary teachers ...

They locked the kids up in cages with killer-questions ... while they burnt the answers in the cellars of the schools ...

Predator-questions leading us to the most cruel creatures to everywhere but the right way

When the princess is kidnapped, I don't care about how much a banana costs in a place where I will never be ...

When my neighbour's house is in fire, I don't care how often a chinese man eats a car in one minute ... I don't care about these stupid stories and questions ... They make me sick Call the firemen instead of counting pink clouds in a dog's pillow

Shut the heck up, when Santa Clause needs a silent sleep ...

There where schooltime was a bird's funeral They burnt my bird in their attics

I remember your face, teacher Like yesterday's hell

But I don't argue anymore with you, teacher

I ate all the cruel creatures you brought me

The keys to the answers lay on my dish ...

Why didn't you tell me you were just a good baker ?

Baking strange bread with diamonds inside ...

You could be my friend if you would tell me earlier

You have a wonderful world inside ...

Why didn't you tell me you were the white rabbit ?

Why didn't you tell me my name was alice ?

We would be the best friends

But would that bring back my little bird ?

I see the Queen of Hearts coming to the old suit-shop ...

saying hi to Scrooge, the casino-boss and me

An old face I know her very well ...

She was a superstar in inventing cruel questions without answers

I see myself sitting behind my piano, touching a key ...

It echoes through her mind

Yes, yes, I remember you, she sais

You were my best pupil You always invented cruel answers without questions

I don't smile I'm really mad

I know her sisters very well

There they comeQueen of Spades Queen of Clubs and Queen of Diamonds ...

All stars in creating cruel questions without answers ...

Their questionmarks are beasts ... riding on the roofs at night to steal babies out of their craddles ...

They are too afraid an answer would grow up in town ...

the stagger-cat

A staggers-cat called Herod joins the group He's on his way to Bethlehem to see a new pupil ... But he first has to buy himself a new coin-suit

Tonight the phoenix will rise from the ashes of bethlehem your little bird he sais

I feel my throat tingle ... I'm getting my voice back ...

You have to talk nonsense he sais

For you saw this was the only way to find the answer to get your bird back

I got the staggers in my head, and I saw the truth

It exists, It exists It's all true

We are all in the cage of denial

But nonsense is free running in the fields of dreams

I'm thanking my teachers for bringing me back to the dream They taught me to speak nonsense while being serious with a tight face It's the face of the coin who can do this ... for people need it to buy their bread ... Another mark of the beast ... To be able to survive in the land of nonsense one has to learn and teach nonsense ...

In the distance I'm hearing the soft echoes of the mistress' voice

I just fainted in the classroom ...

The staggercat came to take me away

I'm trying to reach for the mistress, but she's too far away

I see her cycling on the road to school ...

I know soon there will be a storm taking her away to Oz

I'm staring at a coin, seeing her lovely face on it ... shining in the sun

I'm looking into Gaia's Mirror

Suddenly the face changes into a cook

Then it changes into the staggercat saying "peek-a-boo" ...

I'm finding myself diving through Gaia's Coin, entering a new world having a new suit full of coins with the faces of legendary staggers from legendary fairytales also full of coins with the faces of unknown, forgotten and forbidden staggers, from unknown, forgotten and forbidden fairytales

I'm listening to the nonsense of the staggercat It soothes my heart There he picks me out of the pew saying bye bye to the preacher The ceiling of the old church explodes and I'm coiling out of the atmosphere entering his spaceship

I get dinner twenty staggerpiano's to eat ... easy swallowing ...

Concertina's are growing from my stomach

Accordions are growing in my head

When I talk bubbles are coming out of my mouth

Echoing through the night

This is the land where the staggercat rules

I'm looking at my shoes ... they are new pianoshoes ...

Now I can dance on piano's

I'm racing on the railroads of my voice,

I'm swallowing a million of harps

heading for the violin ...

The coins on my jacket are awakening ... I'm floating through the air ... diving through another coin I'm swallowing a million of coins The staggercat is a good cook ...

There he walks on his head There he walks on the ceiling Everything here is the other way round and upside down But that's not too difficult for me, the Knave of Clubs always did that to me ... There he dances on the ceiling with the Knave of Diamonds upside down The staggercat pushes a key of the piano
They all fall down to the floor

You were always my cat I didn't know you were a staggercat ... If you would have said it earlier, we could have much fun together But it's ok then I would have missed all these awesome and wonderful books of my teachers All these wonderful cards

There my head appears on a playcard They say these cards are the judges of the universe ... There I see the face of the staggercat on the card next to me And on my other side the beautiful face of the mistress She's wearing the crown of Oz Another card is becoming like a water-mirror and Pinocchio is coming through There's also a card with the awakening face of Mrs. Jupiter on it And a card with Maria Magdalena's face We are all standing in a circle ... Waiting for the moon to bath us in silver It's the gathering of the stagger-cards turning worlds upside down The circle starts to spin In these tornado's the staggerinsects are born Deliriums Their speeches can't be followed They are the whispers of the universe The three daughters of the giant know all about it
They spin these whispers their whole life Wars of the playcards

These insects appear on the banknotes and bills of society ... Their signatures enchant the world ...

Language-Teachers Delirium-Languages, Stagger-Languages, Enchanted
Dictionaries, The pride of the countries

Without speaking their nonsense no one can understand you and you can't understand them

I still see the face of my English Teacher glittering on my money

I'm heading for the Tower of Babel, where they all play at cards

One day I will teach them my language

The old staggercat is mixing some old dictionaries in his kettle preparing a new language Some old ears through the mix Some old tv's and radios And even some old shoes

I see little fat men walking on the ceilings They have big hats and white faces Buddhas are coming out of their hats, floating in bubbles to the floor ... I know the faces of these men They all have the same face The face of the greengrocer White Fruits from Vega-South The Arabian Mistress is speaking ... Her eyes are like a tiger or a lion The rest of her face is covered by a white decorated veil

I see a dictionary called "bible" running through the streets ... It changes every year
.... It's the chameleon of the arabian deserts

A pink glittered dictionary called Brazilian is dancing through the snow Teachers from Polaris ...

Dictionaries' Wars

They are all looking for the tea of Alice ... The Tiger's Fever ...

The Chrystal of Deliriums

They say it's on top of babel's tower ... In the center of it's clock ...

The staggercat tells me to rave enough to get there ...

I'm entering through the Lion's Fever ... tall whispers in the night turn me upside down me and my bed

An Egyptian king is speaking nonsense to his people ... they all nod yes ... in big fevers for his face is on their banknotes

I'm heading for the Snake's Fever A man called Shark's Fever is shaking my hand ... I'm in the train of dictionaries They are all heading for Alice's Tea I wonder what sort of dictionary I am ...

My hand is sliding to my gun These tunnels are pretty dark and dangerous I won't take no any risk ... There I slide into a river called Cat's Fever The dogs are swimming here ...

The gnat's fever is a pretty one ... Neon-Glue is running through my body ...

The wasp's fever ... Like reading an indian war-book

I wonder where staggercat is

It's softer here in the deeper cores of earth than I thought ...

The spider's fever is feeding the sharks ...

I don't dare to touch the rabbit's fever

Finally I drink from alice's tea watching the nonsense of the tiger

Delirious Artist

I enter through the center of Babel's Clock Falling in the arms of a woman called Rabbit Fever I'm in shock ... I didn't want to touch this But it's softer than I thought The bird's fever is making my voice sharper A man called Babel is shaking my hands ... My tongue is falling out I get a new one Here I see another Lion Fever I got to weave my way to the Chrystal of Delirium deeper in the center of the clock ... I want to know Babel's secret ... The tongue of confusion

A cat called confusion is knocking at my doors I beg him to confuse me, to create chaos in my head For the brightness in my head hurts me so deep The lies in my head scream so loud I want to get a good fever and to go to bed ... Oh, how I want to learn another language This language is breaking my hat ...

Turn my world upside down for I'm living in a box of lies

I will give you the fever of a radio ... he sais His chaos is softly roaring in my head ... soothing my heart and hat ... the frightening tinned soldiers fall down ... out of my head's cupboards ...

I will show you the legendary warriors Oh no, please Not the hitler-thing again

He smiles No, it will be something worse When you see this you will like hitler like your classmate ...

My hairs rise to the ceiling

You want to know the secret of Babel ? he asks

Yes, I nod

Deep in the center where all the clock-hands cross I saw his face

The comic-cat

There where they drink comic-juice

There where the teachers ask questions in unknown languages

There where no translation exists

A cartoon-cat is ticking on my shoulder

I see a sick child more beautiful than a lion schoolsick

One of his eyes is blind and very small The Whale's Eye

The Eye of Ara ...

The other Eye is very thin and sharp The Hawk's Eye ...

The Eye of Vega-South

But I'm not charmed ... I saw enough in my life

Six Indian Chiefs are surrounding me

Chief Joseph is speaking to me

I feel my skin again and my clothes ...

I feel the warm seas of Ara again Their coasts are speaking to me

Yes,everything is equal

A whirlpool called Equality is leading me to Russia

I'm feeling my red shoes again

I'm not charmed I'm not impressed Everything is equal

I'm impartial

I'm seeing myself floating from the ceiling to the floor, and back feeling my old jump-ball in my stomache bringing me back home ... Feeling the snake's split tongue bubbling in my mouth again ... The only way to escape the land of the split talk is to talk the split talk

If they will maintain talking to me on two roads I will let them meet my two trains there ...

Tweedle Dee and Tweedle Dum

They are Twins ...

Tomorrow's Sandwich

Even Hitler cannot escape ...

I'm sitting on the neck of a cat called "Two-Face"

I wonder where he is bringing me

I had a teacher who always asked me where I was talking about when I repeated his own words

This is how deep the rabbit-hole goes

When I told him these were his own words, he always started to talk about something else

I'm sitting on the neck of a cat called "Three-Face"

Three big little blind girls, a Triplets, are knocking on my door ... bringing me a little fir ... Then they disappear diving into the sea ... changing into whales The secret of the trident Feeling a Three-Tongue burning in my mouth

Trident Wars in Egypt's Pyramid

Insects of the trident-sting ...

Grandparents of the wasp ...

Where am I talking about ? I'm fainting in the classroom again A cat called "Square" is picking me up telling me he's going to burn the school ...

I feel safe in his arms I know this face Millions of triangles are melting in the big square This is how they make comic-juice It's coming from a rainbow-throne

Chief Joseph is smiling

A cat called "number 5" is entering the school ... He has a high black hat floating a few inches above his head I'm fainting again Even the mistress faints and the other children I'm screaming for help ... but he says no one is going to help me, they all fainted ... Who is this I know this face Can you please tell me who you are Please

I am Mr. Nightmare, he says Your bed Your sleep Your horse to dreamworld Your teacher in economics Your nightmares where there to serve you To bring you out of the nonsense into the dream-world where you are free

Here you can drink the juices of fairground I am the master and creator of all fairgrounds

Chief Joseph is smiling The little gypsy girl is sitting on his lap This stuff is flowing from another rainbow-throne ...

I'm drinking from the fairytale-juices and I know another mountain where they sell game-juices

I like this stuff more than gold

However, I'm running out of money There is work to do I'm having the French Fever ... Having the Zebra-Shivers Now I will be the one who will ask the questions I see three question-marks swimming in Russia's river ... Russians always ask the questions for an answer would make them partial That would be the end of the trip ... I saw a Russian matchbox touching the edge of an answer one day His mother put him in bath for three days ...

When the fourth questionmark enters the river, they all shiver While the fifth blows them all into sleep ...

Six black cars are settling near to my garden ... They carry the sixth questionmark a deaf one he doesn't know about anything he even forgot your name

A cat called Lethe is working in my back garden he looks like my grandfather ...

He found some old coins while digging in the ground

He looks at the little fir I got from the whale-triplets There are fruits growing in it Question-Fruits Well I got the question-fever already ... It's bubbling in my stomache Doctors are running A question-mark is reaching Babel's Tower

My hand is sliding to my gun again ... This is going to get dangerous

You're crazy, says the doctor but when the question-mark appears on my forehead .. he faints

The question-mark is my sword now ... Too many questions asked me the hats from my heads Now I will ask the questions

I saw a movie called "The Maze" part 1 till 23 Now I'm waiting for part 24

They say in part 24 the boy who was locked up in the maze will turn into a maze himself This will be the final escape ...

They say Rambo was a question-killer ... I met him in vietnam but I brought him to wonderland where the question-eggs walk ...

Yes, I also wait for another Easter ... I once made a painting about this Easter
They all thought it was a photo of my grandmother ...

When it's question-easter Anyway I always spoke halve words People still sit in the waitingroom for that

There I faint in the doctor's waiting-room ... A cat called Easter is picking me out he sais he's going to burn the waitingroom But this time it was my turn I brought him to wonderland, where all the waiting-eggs walk I'm still looking for waiting-easter

There he is, the easter-hare he knows more about this his brother was the march hare ...

Millions of waiting-cubes are melting in the big green question You are looking for the best answer but I am looking for the best question ... Unintelligible questions were always shot at me Now these babes will be my bullets

Talking french to me was always like asking too difficult questions

There he is my french teacher I always wondered why he looked like my economic teacher Anyway he always taught me how to ask unfathomable questions ... too fast to follow ...

He was always called Speedy Gonzales I never knew why

I recorded all his teachings backwards I heard the most wonderful fairytales
About mazes and lockmasters

I know some locks without keys

I saw two men entering wonderland ... They were escaped from a Jewish book ...
One was called : I Am Who I Am Not and the other was called : I Am Who You Are ...
They were twins ...

I am drinking piano-juice ... but I don't hear anything ...

Question-languages are running through my mind ... reaching for the apples of my heart But I don't hear anything The big ear is closing the shop ... he will go to sleep when he's home ... His wife is kissing him, giving him today's sail-magazine

When he goes to sleep he will dream about ships This is the only thing he cares about Tomorrow he will go for a trip around the world, sailing the oceans He's finally retired on a pension now After working so long in the sailor's shop ...
Tomorrow it will be a toy-shop But he doesn't care about that anymore ... His son will take it over ... You can never convince a deaf man ...

Tomorrow the Big Ear will speak from vela's organ Tomorrow the Big Ear will smoke the pipe of Chief Joseph

A cat called speech-defect is knocking on my shoulder They think it is a speechdefect he sais but They think they made a type-error but They think she's a stutterer but but
b...b.....buuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuut it's just another language a language is the other's speech-defect ... all languages come forth from speech-defects
.....

Who the hick heck are you, I ask I remember this face

I'm the language-butcher he sais I confuse and cut all the existing languages and making new ones

I work in the tower of b...b.....babel

I'm the eco-system in speech

Hitler in Wonderland

I had enough of all this calling alice

She knows the road in this rabbit-hole

Swallow the letters, she sais

But ... what about the numbers ?

Swallow them also ... she sais It's all food from the cook

Which cook ? I ask

The maths-teacher she sais

oh my god, I scream not him ... oh no

Heaven save my life ... This man almost killed my life

No, Alice smiles he's just your cook the language-cook

I'm shutting the book in shivers

All I need to know is the secret of Babel

I'm walking to the library heading for another book

On the street I meet my history teacher

He's giving me a book about Hitler

saying : This is why Hitler ate the Jewish Star

He thought it was a book about babylon's tower,

about how to escape a language's teacher

He was just a schoolsick boy

But the true danger was the black rabbit For he kidnapped him to the black wonderland ..

I shiver while I'm reading the book of the black Rabbit Hitler followed the wrong rabbit ... to the wrong wonderland I'm staring at Hitler's picture, having a black rabbit on his shoulder he kisses it

I'm crying, ...falling in Charlie's arms He knew this Santa knew this Who is this black rabbit ... I ask

I'm sitting next to Hitler in the classroom It's thundering outside All of a sudden lightning enters the classroom ... Hitler is fainting A black Rabbit is entering the classroom taking him away The mistress smiles ... She's wearing a Jewish Star on her jacket We all have Shhh She sais We are all safe She opens the book of a red rabbit The book is called Maria in Wonderland ... She starts to read : page 223 :

"And the red rabbit took the Jewish children to a cave called "Babel" ... a little kid called Hitler lost his tongue there for he was screaming too loud ... He swore to return with a black rabbit to get his tongue back but he took the wrong book called "Hitler in Wonderland" So he never reached Babel again ... When he got home, he caught a red rabbit called "Jesus" and caged it in an old radio His mistress called Maria Magdalena told the children to take their rabbits with them on Animal's Day so Hitler brought his red rabbit caged in the old radio It had dyslexia in his senses which means it could see the fairytale in everything in equality Maria wanted to keep the rabbit to tell stories in the class Hitler thought that would be ok When he got home, a black rabbit was sitting in his room having another book for him, called Hitler's Ark This ship would lead him to Babel to get his tongue back ... When he got in ... he had to drink from a bottle called "Hitler's Flood" ... It was the black rabbit's juice ... made of comics Please don't bring me back to school, he begged the rabbit The rabbit gave him another drink called "Hitler's Sea-Split" ... the black rabbit's liquor .. made of slapsticks ... He fell into the rabbitshole, and at the bottom he was born in Betlehem next to a kid called Charlie Chaplin his twin-brother

Now who of us will be Jesus, Charlie asks with a grin you or me

They got a black rabbit called Judas for their birthday ...

Charlie asked the Rabbit if he wanted to be Jesus ...

No, said the rabbit ...

Well no means yes here, so you will have to paint the white roses in red in the garden of Eden ...

The Rabbit walks into the garden meeting adam and eve

What are you two doing here ? he asks ...

Well we were waiting for you to give us some other fruits We didn't like your first one ...

Why didn't you just tell it was your orange painted radio

We are getting sick of the music in our heads"

The mistress shuts the book and smiles

Well, that happens when you are a greengrocer trying to smuggle radios in black bibles, trying to escape a rabbit's jail, teaching spanish to jewish children in the night

A spanish teacher is tearing the pages out of an old dictionary, trying to swallow his past His artificial teeth dancing on his pedestal cupboard ...

I'm staring into Charlie's Eyes Tonight we will dance on Hitler's Tongue ... The road to another story The moon of Oz is shining his face on us A blue rabbit is following us

Quatzalcoatl was sitting on the first Rainbow-Throne ... He was the paradise's greengrocer The God of movies His throne was a wheelchair There he's on his way to James Bond To sell him some apples ...

Santa Clause was sitting on the second Rainbow-Throne His ship Sending Charlie to the poor laughs

Saint Nicolas was sitting on the third Rainbow-Throne ... sending old Nick to bring comics to the kids

On the fourth Rainbow-Throne Sandman was sitting ... Counting his money Counting the tears on a man's jacket

These guys cost a lot of money ... They don't come to your bed for free ...

A cuckoo is singing a song in the night It's a mysterious song A man was killed here ... Now the cuckoo is counting the blooddrips Trying to trace the murderer There his face reflects in the blooddrips The cuckoo knows what it has to know and is flying away in the darkness Back to it's clock ... Santa's ... Detectives ...

Quatzalcoatl is eating banana-coffee-ice-cream from the greengrocery's liquor ... together with Goldfinger and Kojak His wheelchair goes faster than the rain Goldfinger and Kojak are sitting in the side-cars ... one left and one right tomorrow's sandwich

I had a teacher who called his nonsense art A strange way to escape a rabbit's cage

His coin is still floating through my mind

Here I throw a blue coin high in the air ... When I catch it it is red There are two sides of the coin I'm still looking for the third one

Well, this is how they breed politicians calling their nonsense art

I saw people smuggling drugs in paintings and strange cubes calling it art

I saw people killing animals and trees calling it the artist's touch

Still they are marching to wonderland Hitler's wonderland

This book still sells good ... especially among smugglers and swindlers

One day I will enter your house, said the black rabbit to the yellow rabbit stealing your paintings stealing your artificial teeth and your strange cubes robbing your banks and your furniture by an iron pencil calling it ... art

When a criminal has a pencil in his hand ... he is unguilty

They know where to find the pencils in the art-teacher's room from here they can steal your pockets empty ... having the police on their side

Behind the painting of the old black rabbit A lot of money is hidden ... This is how paintings come alive The old cuckoos know all about it Painted Criminals are never guilty They have all lawyers on their side

I'm hearing that strange song of the cuckoo again It's counting the paint-drops in a pot It smells like blood ...

Quatzalcoatl is viewing his old pictures with his projector The white screen will show him which characters escaped from the pictures They will be tomorrow's criminals He sends out his eagles to take them back

The visitors of the cinema are bored the villain escaped from the movie's screen They rather read tomorrow's newspaper ... Another day in Hitler's Wonderland

There a cinema's worker becomes a journalist at night turning into a vulture ... to prepare tomorrows newsmagazines to make some extra money ... for his movies don't sell enough to keep his kids quiet It will be a real artwork again showing wars and suicides in slow-motion ... He will be the show-master of tomorrow's desasters and dog-fights calling it art He wrote the book : "How to kill a yellow rabbit" A best-seller among showmasters While Alice is still looking for the yellow rabbit She knows that it still lives ... somewhere ... somehow She still hears it's heartbeat

They say it's Quatzecoatl's rabbit ... There's a road behind the painting of a legendary sailor

Quatzecoatl is eating banana-tobacco-icecream, together with Kojak and Goldfinger His eagles brought some movie-villains back ... Tomorrow there will be no newspapers For good news doesn't sell They say it's all nonsense ...

A cat called "Birthday" is sitting on the fifth Rainbow-Throne ... comics to the kids Quatzecoatl is eating banana-mocca-tartlets Everyday it's my birthday ... the cat sais And he decides when it's your birthday Quatzecoatl sais Detectives from the Throne

They all escaped from the black rabbit's painting It was a real art to do that Now they have the pencil in their hands The art of the detective

I'm feeling Quatzecoatl's Coin burning in my hand The Circle of Agatha Christie The Detective's Eye

There was a day when men had no muscles but only Glands to cry and Glands to paint

The Tear was the mover and the creator

I'm reading the book of the yellow rabbit Quatzecoatl in Wonderland

The strange song of the cuckoo is leading me inside

There I see the Tiger's Tear I'm touching all the buttons which makes me cry and quiver

It's the Tiger's Pallet ... Quatzecoatl's Wheel-Chair-Switch-Board

Cartoon-Tears are streaming like waterfalls I'm ... on Fire

In the lake called The Tiger's Tear my Cartoon-Me is reflecting like a mirror

I'm diving deep ... looking for my lost pearls

But the black rabbit is blocking me He stands on a hill near the lake

having a black pencil in his hands

Lightning and Thunder flashes and glitters from it

But there Quatzecoatl is riding in his wheel-chair

Having a cartoon-cube in his hands

Nooooo, screams the rabbit Not the cartoon-cube !

His voice is getting higher and there he melts, flowing and spiralling into the cube

He escaped from the cartoon, Quatzecoatl sais

There I'm floating deeper into the Tiger's Tear

Feeling my whole body is crying crying paint

My lips are swelling ... reaching for the Tiger's Milk

When a man hides his tear in a muscle ... he's reaching for the milk of the black rabbit

For when a detective becomes a journalist, the biggest crime has been committed

Then the bird became a beast and the woman who rode it ... was the assistant of Pontius Pilate For neutrality was the cross of Jesus ... The juice for the hungry newspapers Mixing good with evil Married off to tomorrow's World-War

A man called Pontius Pilate is the guest of the show today ... The showmaster smiles Looking at the muscle of his guest There is a bird caged in it, singing beautiful songs ... The muscle becomes red ... and then black ... All colours of the rainbows The showmaster is in awe, and the people are applauding He sees all the faces of his family appearing on the head of the bird ... One by one The songs are getting more beautiful ... There he sees the face of his wifeTears are flowing over her cheeks ... but it's already time to go The guest has another appointment in another show The showmaster is begging him to stay No, says Pontius Pilate, you can go to my secretary to make another appointment for the next century

Next Century ???

The showmaster starts to cry His wife has been missed for three years Will he ever see her again ?

This will get out of hand

Tonight there will be a Journalists' War tomorrow-morning a journalists' disaster Who will be the Journalist then

I see an owl escaping from an old painting Writing tomorrow's bible with an iron artist's pencil ... Interviewing Tomorrow's Jesus ... a tiger escaped from an old comic This time he will not die by the microphone of a journalist He will be the journalist himself ... Interviewing Judas, Pontius Pilate and the pharisees ... making pretty pictures of them for his comic

The cartoon's Journalists

Service With Little Light

It is busy in the cow-hospital ... dr. cow is killing a handkerchief ...

dr. chicken is bringing it to life ...

A doctors' War
Service with little light ...

The disc-jockey-crow is a stalker ...
He plays music in the heads of people, day and night ...
This is the secret of his sleep

The journalist-vulture is also a stalker ...
He kicks people knock out with his microphone ...
A giant's microphone
Service with a little light

The announcer-tucan is announcing a new movie
Tomorrow's nightmare ...
The day before he escapes to his tropical island

The quizmaster-cock is safe when the war starts ...
Safe in the cow-hospital,
where the doctors are fighting about a handkerchief

The Wizard

The Arabian palace was hard to reach,
The desert was long, and full of snakes ...

I'm touching the portal of the palace,
But then it disappears ...
It was a mirage ...

Finally I feel hard ground below my feet,
Am I in now ?
No, it's only a lost stone in the desert ...

The sun breaths in my neck,
My shoulders are burning
Finally I see someone standing with a mirror, smiling
So it was you making all these fata morgana's

I'm looking around me, the desert is gone
Even the desert was a mirage, just another one's trick

I'm in the palace,
Cool winds are touching my neck and back
My clothes are thin and transparent
The sun tattood my body with dragons,
to protect me against the Wizard's eye ...
They say his eyes spit fire

His cobra's lead me to a room, in the top of one of the palace's towers
Two lions will wake over me the night ...
They say the black powers will rage when the nights fall

In my room it's hot My bed is burning, and flames are dancing on the walls ...
I see banana's to eat, but I don't dare to touch them

They say they are the wizard's hearts ...
I see them beating on their dishes ... They are pulsating strange feelings into my stomache ...

I feel like getting drunk It's the wizard's banana-liquor
They say it's necessary for a good sleep, and not to fall out of the dreamship, while sailing over the seas of the night ...

I see black licorice surrounding my ships it glitters in the waters

The black sun is enchanting the oceans
But there I see you walking on the water, with your little mirror ...
And I find myself sitting on your lap
It was all a mirage
You it was you again

Uncle wizard, he likes to play, he likes to tease ...
But I like it, it makes my touch lighter ...
Always when something happens I think Hmmmm ... It can be another trick of uncle wizard ...
For he likes to play and he likes to tease ...

He wants me to learn not to be too serious about myself ...
He wants me to learn ... not to believe too strong in the things happening ...
He just wants me to stretch out to him, and to smile about his tricks
On his lap I am safe

the ventriloquist

When you first gave your heart to me,
it was like entering an Arabian Palace
When you gave your heart for the second time,
it was like entering a Lions Pit
They were chasing through the Arabian Palace, giving some spicy flavor to the fruits

When you gave your heart to me for the third time,
it was like entering a Rabbit's kitchen
But the nuclear bombs were tamed, they walked hand in hand
Although I was scared to death to watch their faces ...

When you gave it to me the fourth time,
it was still a rabbit-kitchen,
but the bombs were stuffed by a good taxidermist you

When you gave it to me the fifth time,
it was an arabian palace again
I was wandering through the mazes of it, like a soldier checking the canonballs of the walls ...

I'm still waiting for the sixth time But I think this time will never come ...
You stuffed me, I'm a tinned soldier now waiting for the night to enchant me to life again ...

The first time I gave you my heart,

you entered a circus, waiting for the animals to dance

But you stuffed them, only letting the clowns walk ...

By moving your strings

The second time I gave you my heart,

you entered a race-course,

racing with the banana's of my world ...

But they didn't have wheels

They were your feet ...

.....You stuffed them

The third time I didn't have a heart anymore,

so I gave you my arms ...

But you stuffed them too

You're still working to stuff my mouth,

but I'm a good ventriloquist ...

Like you are

For it's only your stomache doing your things

The rest has been stuffed by a dragon

He needed a doll for his cinema

You're still a famous actress,

writing your books for over-populations ...

Having a dragon in your stomache

Even a better Taxidermist than you are

Or is he also someone elses doll, waiting for the next show ?

I see a little girl walking to her soft dragon-doll ...
Tears are running through his stomach they will never reach the surface
He wished he would never give his heart to her, for she stuffed it and now he is a fluffed doll.
He wished he could go back to the Arabian Palace where he lost his wings ...

The first time I gave my heart to the dragon,
He got wings again, and flew to the Arabian Palace ...
The second time I gave my heart to the dragon,
He enchanted my heart so that I could move ...
The third time I gave him my heart,
He gave me His heart
The fourth time I gave him my heart,
He gave me His wings
Now he's flying in me day and night Enchanting my body
The fifth time I gave him my heart,
He's not a doll anymore ...

The little girl rages She calls for the Taxidermist

the snake-dancer

The first time he gave me his heart,
he entered my circus, to enchant my animals to life again
The second time he gave it to me,
he entered my rabbit-kitchen, to bring spice to the fruits

The third time he gave it,
he entered my arabian palace, to let my horses fly again

The fourth time, he entered my lions pit to bring them back to the palace ...

The fifth time, he gave wings to my cannonballs ...

I'm still waiting for the sixth time I know this time will come soon, for it is almost night in which the iron soldiers will come alive

The little girl rages again, calling for you

but you are running through the night,

looking for your dragon

But he is looking for another doll ...

I think there will never be a seventh time,

The iron soldiers will stand alone in the night

I see them running through the streets also looking for dolls

Yes, they gave their hearts seven times to me, but they won't do it the eighth time

Then I will have to wait for an Arabian Snakedancer ...

They know how to move, they don't use dolls they don't use strings ...

They only wear strings without dolls on the ends

They only wear strings stuffed strings

Their copper skins shine in the sun

The arabian sun

They don't need puppets for they know : One day the puppets might need them ...

They are free Their strings are blind roads They come to dead ends They are free Their strings will change into snakes at midnight

Then they will come alive They got free by waterfalls of tears ... They cried long and fast enough to reach the tops of their fingers and the top of their heads Now they can move

They gave birth to themselves Now they cry tears of joy

They dared to swallow the darkness, they dared to dive into seas too tall ...

I see the seven suns when I look into their eyes

When they gave their hearts to me the eighth time,

I could see again Seeing my own births inside

I can escape into myself ... There is always something to swallow

At the end of the swallow, the rabbit-mountain exists

Snakes are entering the rabbit-holes reaching for the kitchens in deep slow-motion ... bringing spice to the food, setting the walls in fire All ready for a good swallow I swallow my way to the Eye of the rabbit I see the seven lightnings twinkling in the Eye ... I didn't know lightning could be so soft The snake-dancers enter the Rabbit's Eye from here they can see the world The arabian palace twinkles in the sun Twinkling the rabbit-dancers to life Sinking deep into the Rabbit's Shoe with their parachutes

When the rabbit-dancers gave their heart to me the ninth time, I could hear their heart-beat pulsating through the universe, awakening the pink sun

The pink sun smiles She waited so long for this moment

She embraces the purple sun, and becomes brown

Deep in the Rabbit's Shoe, a bird-dancer lives

When he gave his heart to me the tenth time,

I could breath again

the monkey

The arabian palace is heading for africa

It's like two fruits melt together

The juice is tingling in my throat It's spicy

The waves of it are reaching the coasts of my heart

Tornado's are surrounding them

There is a place where the whirlpool changes into the tornado

At the edge of the ocean's waterfall.

They are looking for the african palace deep in the desert

Here the heart of the monkey burns

When the monkey gave his heart to me the eleventh time,
My heart was melting in fire

Snakes, rabbits and birds are entering the monkey's palace ...
It's his birthday, they bring him presents
Fireworks from their hearts to his

Three wise are visiting Bethlehem's Child
They carry the little baby to it's cradle deep in africa

A puppetmaster called Judas is painting his puppets
He wants the little monkey

Monkeys are surrounding his house
give us our children back

Let my monkey go, screams a man called Moses

Cut the strings of my monkey, he belongs to my ship, yells a man called Noah ...
He was a sailor of africa's seas he belongs to us

Samson was the fright of the african seas ... his monkey was his dog Now it's time for his monkey to come back

A black snake called Surinam is disappearing in the night, looking for lawyers to keep his monkey tight

There's blood coming from the monkey's eyes

Maria Magdalena is kissing his tears

She swallows them and a ballerina starts to come alive

The toy-soldiers were the fright of aldebaran, they want their monkey's back ... they were their ships

Surinam, Surinam the gathering of insects

An insect called Bagdad is entering the circle

He sings their songs, dances their dances, but there's something in his face and after the show he goes around with his hat, collecting money ...

They don't want to give him money, for he danced the same dances as they did

Well, you have to pay me, for it costs money to look at my face, he sais ...

Then they give him some money

But now I will give you some money, to buy some new shoes he sais ...

He gives them a coin, with the monkey's head on it

They all start to scream, hiding their monkeys

Suddenly monkeys start to come out of their shoes

They run into the jacket of the insect called Bagdad

Now they will dance their own dances

Now they will sing their own songs

A man called Elia is smoking his cigar giving his shoes to the black snake Now he will have to dance for the queen of Bagdad after that he will become the dog of Sinbad the fright of the Arabian seas For the kids to know to never steal a monkey from an old woman's house

A man called Jeremiah is smoking his cigar giving his trumpets to the black snake
.... Now he will have to play the trumpet in Sinbad's House, cooking meals for his rabbits For the kids to know to never take candy from a strange snake

A man called Jesus is smoking his cigar giving his hat to the black snake Now he will have to catch tomorrow's rain, telling jokes to the birds

For the kids to know to never eating an apple without asking it who's in

The twelfth time the black snake gave me my heart back,

I could catch the coin of the monkey again

Evidence for me to know who the king is

Way of the Snake

Dream of the criminal,
dream of the cannibal,
dream of the white man,
dream of the black man

They all dream the same dreams,
they all follow the same paths

all smoking the same cigars

The cigars of fear

The fear to be eaten

That's why they eat so much

Some think they don't care about being eaten But they are still afraid someone eats their indifference Everyone has his place in the wheel of fear When you lose the fear to lose indifference, you're in the deepest indifference This is the way out The way of the snake Losing your skins

When Mother comes back

mother is mad

I know she will return very soon ...
She said she had to do some shopping ...
What will she say when she comes home ...

Oh there she is ... Standing at the door
What have you done to my goldfishes ... she sais ...
Well little Timmy swallowed them all, mommy ...
What have you done to little Willy ...
He still sits in bath the whole day, mommy

What have you done to my chinese dishes ?
Oh, mommy, we were playing with it and then it fell to the ground ...
What have you done to the tv Why is there butter all around ...
And why is there chocolate on the wall
You made a mess, that's clear to me ...
What do all these eliphants do here
And what do all these monkey's do in the lamps ...
You had a great time, I see ...
But mommy's back you see
I did some shopping ... For you I have a toy ...
Let's see if you will enjoy ...

Mommy turned around ... and a tornado starts to move
From the tables to the beds ...
Bringin us all there
Time to sleep, and time for the trumpets ...

Mommy is back She seems very mad
She did some shopping, but now she throws everything through the house

What did you do to the mice ?
We burnt them, Margaret sais ... The candles were gone, and we got cold ...
And what do all these dogs doing here, running through the house ?
Well, the neighbours had to go for a holiday, and now they sleep here ...
Sleeping ? Is that what you call it ? You can't handle these machines ...

Mommy please, sit down and take a break
Well, my break was long enough, now I will push a brake ...
Mommy please, go for a sleep, you must be tired ...
Well, I have slept long enough, this must be the morning-magazine ...
Mommy please, go for a shop again ... maybe you weren't done there ...
No, I will bring you to the shop ... Then you know what it is to be for sale
For you sold your mom long ago but she's back now ... ready for some cleaning ...

The trumpets start to blow
Oh, mom, where did you buy these ?
I can't hear my radio anymore ... Can you please bring them back to the petshop where you bought them ...

Oh, mom, where did you buy these cats ...
Well, they look lovely, honey, but they will eat you for dinner
Oh mom, please don't say these things ...
Well, last year you ate them, you threw the ball away ... now the ball is back
Oh mom, please, get a job ...
This is my job
Oh mommy, no, please go for a walk

No, my kids mommy is back and will sell your tricks

For you sold me long ago, like you did to dad ...

I returned today, but dad will return tomorrow

The whole family will return

You won't recognize them again For it was a long time ago, you sold them to an old rat

But now he is on a holiday asking me to take care of you for awhile

So you see, when you think you sold me and the family, you sold yourself ...

For your family is a mirror, reflecting yourself

When you throw the mirror in the river, there you go yourself ...

Oh, mom, come on, where did you learn that tale Where did you buy that orange ?

Well the coins the old rat gave you told me, they reflected your face you lost yourself

Well, mom, these coins were in my pocket all the time, I hid them very well, so what a tale again

Well, hon, I was also in your pocket all the time, so I could hear everything ...

Mom, you are the best ...

Why didn't you write fairytales ?

Well, I did already, my kid ... but you never wanted to listen to them

You never went to the fairy's world ... but now it has been coming to you

Isn't it funny to watch the fairground-mirror again ?

No, mom, I rather watch tv ... I look a lot better there ...

Well tv is out now ... Your money has run out

Well, mom you never told us it was an automaton, but thanks for the updates ...

You are very welcome, my daughter All these machines here are automatons

When they don't get their coins anymore, they will eat other things

Mom, you start getting cynical Where did you learn these tricks ...

Well, the old rat teached me, he said he learned them from you

Mommy is back Mommy is mad And she wants us to meet the family

Yes, my daughter, yes, they are all waiting for you one by one

Well, are they also trained by the old rat ?

Yes, my dear, yes trained by you Kids teach their parents kids teach their family

The old television is grinning

Hehe ... and I teached them everything they know

Mom, we have enough of you, the tv will be our mom now ...

The echo from the past, coming from the old tv

But mom is back She bought a new tv

the Noah-Virus

Cruel jokes, cruel jokes, sais the old crow

He lived so long in that old television but now it will go back to the petshop, but this time not for sale

A little boy is entering the petshop asking what kind of animal that is

It is an alarm, sais the owner, but it is not for sale ... It warns the kids when they want to have a dangerous tv-animal ... For when they would take it to home it can sell the whole family

After all these years I started to know why mom was so mad We bought that old crow in a time when the petshops didn't have that sort of alarms He sold the family to the old rat in the radio When we got that old radio, the rat was already in there We got that thing from an old aunt ... We thought the radio was our new daddy, for that was what it said Well actually the rat inside ... We sold everything to him, so that he would give us money We needed it to buy a game-computer He would be our new housekeeper and even our new teacher so that we didn't have to go to school anymore ... So we sold our schools, our books and householders to the rat also on our way to eternal holiday But A bear was living inside ... looking like our mother he wanted us to make a mess in the house ... so that he had something to do

After all these years yes mom you were so right We took a whole zoo in house without knowing who they really were The doctor said we had the Noah-Virus My sister got it from someone in her class While she was doing a game with that little game-computer of her class-mate It was called "The Animal-Family" She didn't know there was a virus inside ... it jumped over on her like a little flea She was so sick and after that we all got sick ... The doctor said there's nothing to do about it but I'm still looking for that old video-game Maybe my uncle can repair it He works in the petshop, knowing everything about animals and computers He also works in a bibleshop on saturdays He sais once a month Noah visits them

Last night he told me that Noah had a fish who got mad because it wasn't allowed to enter the ark Noah told him it had to stay out of this for it had to catch the raindrops The Fish developped The Noah Virus and brought it into the Ark when Noah and his animals were sleeping Every game without a fish would be doomed to get the virus So when the Animal-Family was developped, without a fish, the virus got in Everyday I go to the lake, since awhile ... looking for that old fish I know he wants to help me I still have that virus One day I saw a goldfish coming to the surface I gave him some bread ... He was wearing a bell on his neck he said it was an alarm He wanted me to bring it to the petshop it warns the kids when they want to buy an animal with the Noah-Virus

Today mom got a new game ... How to defeat the Noah-Virus She got it from my uncle and he got it from Noah while Noah got it from the fish They are friends again now They talked it out It was a long conversation She also got another game called The Real Animal-Family It's a new version, including fishes

Little Timmy is finally spitting the goldfishes out They swam in his stomache for a long time

Little Willy is finally coming out of the bath

And we are having a new game-computer now

Mom's goldfishes are living in it, telling us all her stories

Tomorrow daddy comes again
And we will meet the whole family
Mom will be proud of us We will move to a house at the Lake
A house called "The Real Animal-Family"

the animal-mirror

I have a boat there at the lake Since awhile I'm making trips with it Deep into the forest Following the most beautiful fishes They say Noah lives deep in there At the end of the forest-rivers I didn't reach his house yet But I know it will be full of animals there They say the owner of the petshop looks like him And they say I look like his daughter Well, she is my friend for a long time She often goes with me She also likes to meet Noah In the bibleshop it was forbidden to enter when he was there once a month Only the crew was allowed to meet him like my uncle He told a lot about Noah but now I want to see him like he really is And talk to him, like I talk to my family ... I would love to spend my holidays there, caring for the animals and listening to his stories They say he knows everything about tv-birds, radio-rats and computer-bears I would love to see his machines I wonder who is living in his washing-machine, and who is living in his refridgerator They must be beautiful animals

They say he has to care for a little boy called Mowgli He found him in a little basket on the river lying next to a child called Moses Moses grew up very fast, and now he's working in the plantshop ... at the corner of our street But Mowgli grows slow ... I think he likes to be with the animals too much

Well finally, yesterday, me and the daughter of the petshop-owner met Noah and how he looked like my uncle It was almost amazing while the daughter of the petshop-owner said he looked like her daddy I think Noah always works in the heads of the people around us trying to reach us with his programs He told us he is also a disc-jockey, but that was a big secret And when I saw one of his birds it looked like my brother Well maybe it also lives in his head ... who knows ... It was like I saw my whole family here and the daughter of the petshop-owner saw hers We were both amazed

Now it was very funny ... Noah's bed was an old wardrobe in the wall Here his whole disc-office was settled ... His bath was an old boat and his kitchen was an old bus We had a great time here and when we were taking our bags to go home again, he asked us to come to his cellar He wanted to show us another animal When we saw it, it was like we were looking in the mirror It looked like us We were so shocked But it was the most beautiful animal we ever saw And Noah said it was his best

A day never to forget

The Mirror

Now I understand why it slipped through my fingers It wants to show me something True Manuals always slip through your fingers True Mirrors always run away

Oh how I want to reach the mirror of Aldebaran, and seeing who I am

Oh how I want to see my face reflect through the coin of Venus ...

Telling me who I am ...

I am in a desert of mirrors ...

Oh I how I would like to look into the waters of Aquarius

To be able to kiss my own lips

Mirror of Narcissus ...

Wandering in a jungle of mirrors ...

I'm looking into the mouth of a snake ...

My face mirroring in a tooth

Golden Teeth from Who Knows

I'm lost here, in a labyrinth of fairytales ...

I'm lost here in a kingdom of cartoons

I don't know who to believe ...
I don't know who not to believe ...

Birds flying with my head
Having my face
Is it stolen, is it a mirage ... or is it really me ?

I'm married to my own misunderstanding ...

Your voice is too high ... It breaks my mirror ...
Your weapon was always a mirror ...
With this little thing you terrorized the mass ...

My face is mirroring in your leg-knife ...
Well, my applause
You are a real artist

Finally I do the slow-motion backwards ...
Falling in someone else's arms ...
Looking in his neighbour's watch ... seeing a different face

Mirrors on the covers of books are most dangerous
For the sentences tie you on the mirror forever
Lost in the palace of mirrors ...

It's deep in the desert

I know this place I feel the heartbeats of the wizard softly in my heart ... They come from many directions I don't know where he is but he is close to me I hear his footsteps echoing through my mind He knows me better than I know myself

These worlds are created by mirrors Does anybody care ? Can anyone throw a stone in these ?

Between these thousand mirrors, one orange mirror stands ... carrying the smile of the wizard I'm holding on to it ... but it slides through my fingers

I'm in another gallery ... Following the Orange Mirror Now I understand why it slipped through my fingers It wants to show me something True Manuals always slip through your fingers True Mirrors always run away

I'm in a room with a million mirrors ... I'm wrestling with them ... Please tell me who I am Some ask a lot of money for the truth But I wonder if it will be the truth ... I see creatures caged in them trying to escape ... Is this hell ?

A hell of mirrors A hell of voices ...

A doll is tapping on my shoulder saying it's my "me" ...

There I see a yellow mirror ... reflecting the smile of the wizard ...

I'm entering in It's an elevator

Well, maybe I will finally meet myself

The wizard opens the door

I see a million of faces reflecting in his teeth ... The sun is blinding my eyes

My god, I'm blind Now I will never know who I am

I'm facing the Dark Mirror

I'm nobody ...

I'm entering in sailing with the Wizard on his seas

Watching the Eye of Jupiter ...

It spoke : You are more than your mirror can express

You are more than your mirror can guess

A mirror is only trying to put something into you or to get something out

A mirror is just a gambler

Also your mirror doesn't know who you really are

Blind mirrors

A tornado brings me over the edge of Who Knows ...

I'm hearing the echoes of Who Knows

I'm seeing that little golden statue with four golden arms ... with the pointy hat ...

India speaks

Wizards of the coast ... In the middle of the oceans ... It is happening

The illusion grows ...

Millions of waves ... Millions of oceandrops Millions of raindrops

Wanting to get rid of their reflections They got it from Who Knows ...

Now they are creating you Well, only your mirror-image

No one will care who you really are The mirror is all what counts ... And it will do it's job

Marian is still running after Robin Hood She wants to show him his coin

But he doesn't want to know about it It's for the poor He stole it from the rich

Now he looks into the watch of the king Reflecting the dragon

Sometimes he thinks it's himself But deep inside he knows it's the thing he has to beat ...

The mirror shows us our enemies The mirror is our war-book

It shows us the paths to go

The mirror speaks It's our daily news

Yes, the banana-mirror was deep It showed me the way to the wizard's carriage

Bringing me into another Oz ...

There where fruits are the mirrors

Raspberry Mornings are the best there Mirrors to look into the past

Now the Mirror is burning Burning photo's from the past ...

Now lightning is coming from the Mirror Scratching old camera's

The camera ... Conspiracy of Mirrors ...

Marian is killing a mirror Shadows Between Robin and Her

Fears from an old comic

Land Without Mirrors

Ban all the mirrors out of the country, says the old king

He doesn't want to see himself getting older

Land without mirrors ...

Mirrors were strictly forbidden

When someone would be caught in the act having a mirror in house, he would be thrown in the dungeons deep underground, far away from life ...

The old king was serious An old mirror mocked his life he broke it and commanded his soldiers to ban all mirrors out of the country They were thrown into the sea far away from the coast

This old mocking-mirror was actually an old witch She didn't want to see herself growing old, so she turned into a flying mirror ... flying from king to king to mock them ... But before the king broke her, she warned him, that if he would do, she would call the sea to swallow his land, so that he would have to see his face getting older and older by the mirroring of the sea forever and ever But he was so mad that he broke the old mocking-mirror After that he got in big fear of the witch's prediction But after a few days a wizard came to him, telling he had to throw all mirrors in sea, that would quench the mirroring of the sea For it would be mirrored back It worked

But one day, after many years the king found a coin in the garden It had the face of the old witch and it was also reflecting his face He was so shocked and called for his soldiers But it was already too late The coin was already stuck to his hand and no one could get it off The old witch was laughing loud ... "Haha, now you will see yourself getting older everytime you look at your hand ... And if you won't ... I'll scream it to you ... haha ..." The king was very sick about this, and called for the wizard again and desperately asked him how to get rid of the screaming coin Well, that's very simple, said the wizard Just stick a coin with your face on it So that it will be mirrored back It worked

But every year, the witch appeared in another mirror-form to him, to mock his life and the king got sicker and sicker older and older The people, the soldiers and the king himself were so desperate The king would give a lot of riches to the one who could really help him All of the wise and wizards of the land made a try to help him, but they all failed The king was not to be comforted and at the end he got deadly sick waiting for his last day

Then, at a morning an old bird appeared through his window It said : "King, why are you crying Trying to get rid of all mirrors won't save your life For there are also mirrors who show you who you really are healing mirrors ... They learn you to accept that you are getting older, they will show you the beauty of that And that will make you younger The more you accept your age ... and accepting the use and beauty of it, the younger you will become This will be your life-elixir This will bring you back to your youth and let it live forever This is The Enchanted Raspberry-Mirror and I will be that for you"

The king was crying tears of joy and told his soldiers to stop all bird-hunting which was taking place since the flying mirror mocked him

The bird then turned into the Enchanted Mirror, and the king lived long and happy

Snow White's Mirror

Little Margaret fainted ... she saw a dragon in the mirror ...

The Mistress soothes her ... "It was just your fear"

A little killer-mirror sits on Timmy's shoulder ...

He takes a hammer and dashes it into a thousand pieces

Now he walks with fifty splinters in his body

All telling him who he is not

Don't split the face of the dragon, for then you have two enemies

Just wait a little while doing some business with him

I found Snow White's Mirror in the wardrobe of my grandmother

It always says Beauty always comes from somewhere else

For you are also just a mirror

Reflecting someone else's face

The wizard smiles I'm sliding into a hole of a thousand mandarine-mirrors

I'm following them from one to another Seeing so many friends Looking for my source

Finally I'm bathing in Mandarin-Juice where I meet my biggest friends

We are never alone in the mirror

To look into a mirror is to see a friend

The book of the army ...

A friend's diary ...

I'm stringing all these mirror-pearls together A chainlet of friends surrounding my neck

But I'm here in a sea of pearls

A chainlet of paths to go, surrounding my ankle

The mirrors show me ... the dragons to defeat, the friends to embrace ... the kings to crown

It's all in the mirror

My bracelet of little diamonds

Armor of rubies

And this stairway of mirrors leads me to the morning-mirror ... where everything becomes clear ...

From mirror to mirror we sail from mirror to mirror we dance A good sword in the hand A good violin in the arms Soothing like a baby Being born again in the flower of mirrors

The nectars of this river was a good thing to drink It soothed the stomache It eased the pain ... Floating to the sea of mirrors Mirrors to the sun Mirrors from planet to planet, picking up all we need From purpose to purpose

Mirrors built the land Mirrors built the flowerfields ... from tree to tree there is freedom heading for the Future's Mirror, where all the tears cross

Be glad of the tears, for they bring you mirrors

They are the jewels of a broken heart

spreading the pollen of a new world ...

hypersensitive soldiers

Opening Neptune's Mirror ...

Closing Reticulum's Mirror

Intense Eclipses

Goodevening Mrs. Neptune ...

Mirrors are leading me to the end of times ... by waves of tears ...

Mirrors are leading me to the beginning of times ... by waves of tears

Mirrors are spinning the strings between you and me

Mirrors are bringing the children home ...

The Jungle-Mirror shows me the animal inside

The Coin of Neptune is leading me to a lost nature again

I'm breathing in the reflections breathing in and breathing out

My lungs are my reflectors ...

The beat of the Mirror is aligning with my heart and bringing it into another rythm

The Mirror The Transformation

The Mirror ... showing us the next step ... bringing us the next breath and the next book

Step by step it will bring us where we belong ...

Don't be afraid of the Mirror ... for it tells you the tales

You can dive into a new fairytale ...

Don't be afraid of the mirror, for it isn't afraid of you

You belong to each other

The mirror reflects you and you reflect the mirror

Marry the Mirror

Marry the breath

It's all there to marry you

Marry the sun, marry the light Marry the path and the purpose

Marry the years, marry the times ... Marry the tears marry the mirrors

For it all marries you

I'm diving through the Lion's Mirror ...

I'm diving through the Tiger's Mirror ...

Trying to escape someone's face

Poetry from the Golden Chocolate

In her boat she sails over the river, with golden chocolate in her mind. On her bicycle she is riding in the rain, having her mother's silver books in her heart. When she looks at you, the delirium comes over you. The Lion's tea.

No pencil can describe her, her life was such a tragedy. But she hid the knights and now she shared their riches. The treasures of the Lion's chocolate.

All I know is I get black-outs when I look into your eyes. All I know is I can touch deeper inside myself, falling out of time. All I know is I drink from the Golden Tea, whenever I think of you. There isn't more I need to know.

Your sister Emily holds me tight when the pain gets too much. I'm seeing myself lying in bed, but I'm floating outside the window.

The Lion's Licorice is close to my heart, warming my head against the raging cold. Decorated Diary's, embroidered by Grandmother's Touch.

Your language is written by gold, pure gold from the Lion's Tea, dripping from the golden pencil. Your handkerchieves are drying my tears, I remember them, their golden patterns. I remember the embroidered bear, the embroidered lions and the embroidered sheep. Also the birds and the flowers.

Today someone killed my toy, but this was the only way to remember the toymaker's house. Today someone stole my candy, but this was the impulse for me to visit the candymaker again. Decorated Candy was always the best thing to get me out of a lion's pitfall. Embroidered Candy lay next to my pillow in the nightmare's season. I'm in the hell of Atlas, I carry too many worlds on my shoulders, but the licorice is dripping into my heart. Golden Licorice from Grandma's. The Lion's Tea is streaming through the mazes of my head. I'm in the hell of Sisifos, when I'm almost at the top of the mountain, I fall down to zero, but the licorice is sliding into my shoes, and I grow there as a licorice-tree. These hells keep me all underground, so that my roots will be assured, and the bloom will be forever. I'm in the hell of Tantalos, it all slides away ..but now it's growing all inside, the secret of the Licorice.

My mouth is getting sweet, it couldn't get one word out. Now it's riping all inside. I can never talk when I see you, but now it's all growing inside. I can never breath when I see you, but now it's all blooming inside. I will stand forever when the storms come. I will not even see them. I'm inside. I'm in the hell of Danaos, bearing water to a vessel without a bottom, but it touches the Licorice, and juice is coming forth from it. I drank from the Licorice, reaching the bottoms of my own heart again.

Arena of Fruits

I saw people in hells of sleep, dying in the corners of their liberties.

It's all about fear,
It's all about broken hearts.
Keeping themselves alive in the land of death.
I saw a fear-based society killing a kid with a mockery's hand, ignoring tomorrow's newspapers.

It's all about fear,
It's all about broken hearts.
It's all about fear,
In the name of the lie.
I saw a Judas kissing a mother on 7th avenue, now she has chocolate to poison her children.

It's all about fear,
It's all about broken hearts,
It's all about fear in the name of the lie.

When an apple fights a pear, the juice will flow. They want to keep the dream alive, keeping the dragon alive in the arena.

It's all about fear,
It's all about broken hearts,
It's all about fears in the land of the dreams.
It's all about fears,
It's all about death in the iron hand,
And when the true slaughter comes, no one will truly care.

They fear the eye,
They fear the newspaper-boy,

They fear the society,
They even fear themselves.

They fear the canaries, that's why they walk around with blind eyes, Judging fruits.

I will not forget your racism, I will not forget your jealousy, I will not forget your mockery, you kept the arena alive.

Arena of Fruits

Hell called Hamelin

I'm in hell, I can't move. I see babies wounded, hearing babies screaming. I'm in hell, your hell.

I'm in space, I can dance. But that is only what you want. I don't like your dances.

I'm in hell again. I'm under your rage.

I eat cake, I am laughing. But that is only what you want for me. I don't like your parties.

I'm in hell again, under your rage again. Oh yes, you give me many invitations, to come out of the hell you created for me. You really do love me so. But I rather be in this hell, together with the children and the animals, than to be in your lying heaven.

I hear the soft voice of my mother : She wasn't a good part for you.

I'm in hell, your hell.

You tell me : Let us forget, let us do it all over again.

A child is asking me : Are you my mother ?

The invitation is burning in my soul.

Invitations from Hamelin.

Tomorrow I will cycle to another place, to another hell, created by your creative mind. Meeting new children, meeting new animals, all under your curse.

I will escape from terror, I will escape from holy hearts, I will escape from your deserts, lying in the cold. I will escape from your fires, I will escape from your bleeding sun, I will escape from your orchestra's, from your blue monkey's in the night.

I will enter a new dream, an old dream of righteousness and soul-creating energies, a feeling of my mother's heart, my mother's shoe, which is blending with my cold nights as a sacrifice, a protective action. She never forgot my name. She never did.

Babies still screaming in my head, all flames from Hamelin.

Meeting Piper, a beautiful son, meeting the dreamer, a place to be.

Meeting Piper, he will lead me out, meeting dreamer, he will never let me return to this place of horror. He was always in my pocket, to sing me a song, he was always under my hat, to do my speeches.

Piper is walking, dreamer is walking beyond. I always dreamt beyond your dreams.

Hamelin, Hamelin, you spoilt your pipers, you lost your children. Now they are screaming in my head.

You are a good soother, a mother's dream, running to father's wardrobe and back.

Dreams of Hamelin, dreams of the soul. When the children awake, the terror will be gone. Now they are screaming, searching for the morning. The night takes its time, like it has eternity. It takes too long, all sons are died out, It takes too long, It's Herod standing in the doorgate. Tall shadows, liquid smile. I have some good presents for your children he sais. But there is no child left, sorry, they all ran out. I will give you 55 dollars to bring them back.

Now he's dreaming on the sea, looking for the kids, looking for his crown. Now he plays the piper Wars of the pipers.

Another ones heart, another ones dream, it must be the magnet, this land has no chains.

When a mother spoils her child, the magnet is laid Invisible chains.

The piper, a mother, running through the streets, creating hells for the fathers. She wants the child.

A child is asking me : Are you my mother ?

I couldn't help the animals when they came to my windows asking for a little help and a bit of food. I was in your hell. I couldn't help the children when they were begging me in the night. I was in your sleep.

A mother laid the magnet in a child's cradle ... My cradle.

Invisible prisoners, no one can hear them, I am just invisible ...

Your dreams are surrounding me, quenching my screams, your dreams are surrounding me, covering my tears. Where are my fears ? Where is my anger ? You swallowed them, they are in your sleep.

Where are my eyes, where are my own dreams, where are my cars ? You swallowed them all in your dreams.

No one can hear me, no one can see me, I'm in Hamelin again.

But the children's ears are rising, the bunnies come when it's spring. And the April's

Sun is touching my heart-strings, and my song will reach their shores. I was screaming behind a wall. You couldn't hear. In the shadows you saw a face. In the mist you saw me. You and me on that ship dying in the storm. You saw me screaming, you saw me waving. You thought I was smiling, but I was crying.

There Hamelin turns another world upside down. There, the piper, there the dreamer, there, me, and you.

You thought I was laughing, but I was crying. Now we live both in a hell ...
Hamelin's hell.

You thought I was dreaming, but I was awake. You thought I was playing, but it was my job. I had a family to take care of.

You thought I was swimming, but I was drowning. You thought I had a boat, but it was a shark eating me.

Hamelin's sea-stories, all upside down, Hamelin's rages, a sweet mother's diary.

Hamelin's hells, a decorated heaven, Hamelin's dreams, all painted up by popcorn. It's just a movie, but the volunteers really died. Screaming babies, screaming pipers,
.. Hamelin's hell.

Still your songs are with a jagged edge, I'm glad you wear the master's hat. It's dreaming beyond your dreams. It's singing beyond your songs. I don't know why I can't talk.

My throat is locked up by the piper's key. I can only sing.

My hands are locked up by the piper's touch. I can only play my piano.

Suddenly I cannot do anything anymore, and I fall like in a thousand pits without bottoms.

I even cannot breath. All I hear are screaming babies, echoing in the nights ... It's like I am being embraced by a thousand nights without end.

A girl called "Endless" gives me a flower, saying : In the Endless all reflections are caught, in the Endless all intentions are seen. Your opposite side is created by others, and you feel it in yourself. But when this side looks into the mirror, it sees you, and will go back to it's creator. There it will complain, and it will be sent back a thousand times, seeing your beautiful face a thousand times. For the Endless mirror shows everything, doesn't hide at all.

People like to create the opposite of others, to have power and control. They don't confirm, they only deny. They can't confirm, for then they would also have to confirm their own mis-creations. They only create the opposite, so the bad ones are the good ones. This is what they call confirmation but it's called denial, turning things upside down.

Jezebel

The boat,
The toy,
The room,
The house,
All hers.

The tea,
The pink,
The roses,
The letters,
All hers.

We were only allowed to watch, But at night she closes her doors behind her.
Her cyborgs walk in line, Marching under another one's flag. Entering the shop, carrying the shop's flag. Entering the stage, carrying the stage's flag. Entering the circus, carrying the circus' flag. This is how they can go everywhere.

Jezebel has the key, she flatters, she blinks, everyone believes her. For she carries everyone's flags.

Only the prophet knows. Only the prophet can escape. He asked her why. She didn't answer.

For the toy,
The Candy,
Everything is hers.

The tongue,
The teeth,
Every thing is on her lips.

And she takes it back,
Whenever she wants.
She gives and she takes,
To show us it is hers.
We can only watch,
And when the night falls, she takes everything out of sight,
To push it deep into the darkness.
There she kisses her prince, there she gets her flags.

She is the second head on your body, the third eye on your face, everything is hers.

Only the prophet will escape from her. He asked her why. She didn't answer, for everything is hers.

Only the prophet can blow a trumpet when she comes. She never liked his flag. She eats the food out of your mouth.

Her cyborgs run through the streets. Her cyborgs, mourning, bowing their heads.

For someone didn't listen to her,the prophet. It's enough she said. Now it will begin. Everything is mine, also the beard of the prophet, also his staff. Her cyborgs nod, the great “She” has spoken. She wants his flag, to burn in the streets. The old prophet asks her a question. Where did you buy that perfume, where did you get that mirror ?

It's too late, she says, I can't answer you.

Where did you buy that golden clock, the old prophet asks.

I got it all from you, she says. You told me at the end of the day, you would take everything away. To show you it's yours, to show you it's yours.

The old prophet smiles, it's his little ballerina. When the music is over, she will creep into the little box again. It is just his trick, to keep you awake, it is just his trick to teach you how to fight. To show you at the end of the day : Everything is yours, everything is yours. Everything you get is for you, everything you see is for you. It is your world, ready to tell you a story, ready to bring you the adventure, ready to show you the game. Only the illusion tells you it's for someone else, only the illusion tells you it's not your world.

Rivers of Blood

I'm stumbling through the fields after the red war. Is there any soul left ? All I see is darkness and red smoke.

I'm lying on my guitar, trying to breath it to life again. It's a red tender one with purple accents. Rivers of blood are streaming through the land, heading for the forests. I see my hat flowing over a river. I lost it in the battle. My guitar doesn't speak. It's face is blue. But as I keep breathing in it's mouth, it seems like it's whispering.

The wind is starting to play it's chords. The rivers of blood are boiling, heading for the sea. I'm watching the fields, looking for any soul left, butI'm alone, with my guitar. I lost everything but my guitar. He's smiling tenderly at me, hearing his soft voice in the distance. I feel the blood boiling under my skin, heading for my hands and brains. It's ok, he says. I feel waterfalls of tears streaming deep inside, but they can't reach the surface. My face is hard like stone. I will keep them all inside, to let them stream through my whole body.

My guitar doesn't cry, it cries inside, streams of tears touching all chords, and disappearing inside again. This night it will waste no tear anymore, for nobody ever wanted to listen. It will swallow all its tears, and let it stream inside. This night it will waste no blood anymore, it will all flow under its skin, for no one ever wanted to see it.

It will be hard on the outside, soft on the inside. No one ever wanted to listen to his friends, now they will be on the inside. I hear the choirs in the distance, not on the outside, but on the inside. There it can't be fragile enough, it can't be tender enough, but on the outside, it can't be hard enough, for no one wanted to hear.

This night the guitar will close his ears for good, to listen only to the inside. I'm creeping into my old guitar, forgetting about the rivers of blood, forgetting about the red wars, for they all forgot about me, except my old guitar. This night I will forget about the woman on the cross, the woman with the skeleton-smile, the woman with the death's smile. This night I will forget about her womb, forget about her children, and I will kiss the lips of Jesus sailing on a hat in my guitar's blood-rivers inside.

Rivers of Blood II

There he kisses me too, blood is streaming out of his mouth. It is ok now, we are inside the guitar. Here we can cry, here we can talk. You talked to my mother. Mary picked me out of the rivers of blood when I was a baby. Kiss her, so that you won't die. Kiss her hand and see her ring. With the pencil of blood she wrote her apocalypses, to seal it on my head. Sea of tears, sea of Virgo's Apocalypse. Here you can cry, here you can bleed, it's in the head of the guitar.

Three angels are entering Sodom and Gomorrah, they will reverse the city. A man with liquid lips jumps out of a helicopter while it explodes. It crashed against the rocks. A Titanic sinks in the midst of an ice-storm. Mary picks me out of a poisoned river. They say Pharaoh was a factory. A dream from a mother's womb, riding a man's heartJezebel's ring.

The children are her future. There she rides on Herod's heart, looking for a child called Jesus, but he is safe in his mother's ring, safe in his mother's choir, safe in his mother's guitar.

There she rides, looking for children but she can't find them ...They are ... all.....with me.Under Mary's Hat ...

Rivers of Blood III

Apocalypse of the Shark. I can't hear what he is saying. He talks under his hat.

I had to do it, I had to write with the Shark's Pencil. I never understood why, but I had to do it. The Toy's Soldier would be proud of me ... but I never saw him after I posted it. They say he's still floating on that letter, sailing the oceans with it ... Until it finds its destiny.

Letter to Jezebel.....

When the ravens will tick on my window, I know she received it. Then Pinocchio can finally sleep.

She burst out of her pyjama's, running to Ahab. But she looks right in the eyes of a shark. Give it up You will never understand the prophets. They speak in riddles. And finally you are lying next to a shark in your bed.

You were the queen of riddles, but someone took your crown. She runs to the greengrocer, but all she sees is a shark standing there behind the fruits Her world is a sea, the neighbour is a shark.

Rivers of Blood IV

Rivers of Blood,
Rivers of Mourning,
Rivers of the Sun,
Flowing from the morning into the evening,
Disappearing in the night.
Looking for you,
Looking for the master,
To tell him the last news of the day,
To bring him the latest fairytale,

To tell him the latest joke.

Rivers of Blood,
Rivers of dances,
Rivers of the moon,
Flowing from me to you, and back,
To keep the memory alive.
It will flow till it finds it's place back.

Rivers of Blood V

No need to run away, no need to find it somewhere else ... It's all here, where the rivers of blood stream. Here you will find your old dolls, here you will find your old friends, through the waterfalls of blood you will enter your future. For here is where it all began, here is where we lost our mates

In the land of blood. Now you will have to sail these rivers, now you will have to dive in these lusts ... For here the king caught his slaves, here the chain was laid. In the land of blood, the emperor sits, the frog speaks. In the land of the blood, we all miss something. At the bottom of the river we will find it all back ... At the end of the river we will touch the sand of a new world. Behind the fairytale the frog speaks, behind the fairytale, the chocolate rules. Here is where you find your golden ball, here is where you can touch your mother's dress. Here is where you will find the child you never had Your little Moses, splitting the seas of blood.

Book of Elves

Aiming their bows at Reticuli, aiming their bows at the rising sun. No one could hear their laughs, for they weren't there. No one could hear their cries, for they were all gone. There was no anger, just justice. When the flame of anger faded, the story began to flow through the room like the elves' perfume. When the story has ended, the anger will rise again.

When the old man speaks, the anger will go to sleep. When he's done, he will wake the anger up. I'm pushing the keys of my tinklebells piano. The old wrath hurts me, he doesn't know where to hit.Herod, you even killed your own children. Listen to the story first, to the chimera's works, then your anger will be the Elf's Arrow, flowing through the eye of Reticuli.

Old man of wrath, my piano will bind you, my bells will blind you, for it's not the time to strike yet. You need to go to sleep, daddy. You are too tired for a war now. The beast eats your fruits of anger now, they are ripe now You didn't wait till they would be rotten. You didn't wait till they would be an elf's arrow. Let the wrath and the revenge go to bed now, let them have a good time there, soothing them into their dreams.

It stings like a wasp Old anger.... Without schoolbooks ... Daddy was always Pinocchio's best friend. Listen to the chimera's work, listen to the teacher's orchestra's, all locked up in that little music-box, waiting to be opened. Grandmother has the key of that little box ... She is waiting for you and your cookies you would bring to her.

You even ate your own children, Cronos. The beast of Reticuli is waiting for more of your fruits.

I'm sitting on a horse called Rage. Yesterday it rode me, now I'm riding him, and tomorrow he will ride me again. ...But it's hurting me, I'm eating fruits of wrath, but they are unripe. ...Tomorrow night a new cook will come. The anger of yesterday is still burning, burning my schoolbooks, burning my piano's. The old man says I'm not raging enough, but I am a slave of anger, Reticuli's slave. Tomorrow night you will be the king of anger, he says.

Kings of rage, kings of vengeance, riding the horses of justice, entering the old schools bowing their heads. There is nothing to laugh about, nothing to cry ... Only to rage, but first the night will make the arrows ripe.

Aiming their arrows at Reticuli ... The beast. The greengrocer is satisfied ... No fruits to sell anymore ... Now he can become a soldier

The soldier is satisfied ... No arrows to shoot anymore ... Now he can become a gardener ...

Roses are growing over the walls of Reticuli ... The beast is sleeping now ... But why is there still anger stinging in my head ?

The gardener is satisfied All roses are gone to Reticuli Now he can go to sleep

...

Apocalypse of Wasps

I didn't want to be born in this place. I didn't want to be born at all ... but the wasps were merciless ...

He didn't want to die in this place. He didn't want to die at all ... but the wasps were merciless

Erasing the memories of thousands and thousands Another cradle was waiting.

Can I escape my mother's womb, can I see the road to this place ?

Can he escape his grave, can he burn his coffin ? He is of great use here.

The glue is merciless, the Wasp has spoken. The threats of a red velvet apocalypse, a white horse runs through the streets. How do I get rid of these marks ? I was stung by a horse-rider, a purple wasp, long long ago. His speech reversed, high and low voice at the same time, fast and slow. He had the beak of a bird.

The pages fly away Back to the waspnest Back to the Bird's House

The Girl With The Red Boots

I saw you once in my life, but I will never forget you,

It was actually all in a flash, but I will never forget.

Well, it all went so fast, like lightning, and you were so far away,

It was already night, in darkness and fog,

Well, actually I didn't see you at all,

....only your red boots ...

I only saw your red boots,

Enough for me to put the magic on,
Enough for me to never forget you.
I saw these boots once in my life
And they were so far away,
In darkness and fog
But enough to make my heart in trouble,
Enough to bring my heart in pain,
Yesterday I went to the place where I saw these boots,
There on that little island in the lake.
I swam to it by daylight
But
They weren't actually red boots
It was just an old red car

Well, I wonder how you got there with your red car, Well.....

Maybe your magical red boots brought you there

Today I swam to the island again, to look into your red car, but an old man was sitting in Pardon me, sir, I thought you were a girl with red magical boots.
Well, well, he said
So I am not crazy

I also saw a girl with red boots here When I was young, I went to this place with my red car when the lake didn't exist yet.
But when I came here, it appeared to be a red apple, so I ate it.
And I decided to stay here till I would really see her
Since then the lake came to existence
The birds told me it was because of the girl's tears

But I don't know if they said it to tease me or not

Now I'm old and I still didn't see her, he said.....

If I could only see her red boots again

Did you see more than her red boots ? I asked

No, no, the man said only her red boots but as I told, it was only an apple, and I ate it

Well, if you ate it, we will never see her again, I said

But, but,said the old man I planted the pips at the other side of the island

Well, then she must be there, I shouted Running to the other side

But another red car was standing there with another old man inside

With the same story

We will never see her again, if it goes like this I said

But if we become friends We can hold the red boots in our hearts

But I asked What is the reason you wanted to see her again ?

Well, because we lost our red boots long ago, when we went for a swim in the swimmingpool the old men spoke together I now noticed they had the same face

Then they continued :

The girl with the red boots was the one the police was looking for since then

For we wanted our red boots back

So how do you know it was a girl who stole the red boots ?

For a policeman saw a girl with red boots here they said

Well, I know that story, I said

And I bet he's also somewhere on this island, sitting in a red car, with a red apple in his stomach

No, the old men said together He died short after he saw her

They say he saw something else besides the red boots

Well, pffff..... after all, then I'm glad I only saw her red boots and nothing more

And I'm also glad I had to find out, I actually saw you instead of her you are good friends for me, you really helped me a lot Maybe she doesn't exist at all And maybe it's better this way

No ! The old men shouted together We want our red boots back !

And tell us, what was your reason to see the girl with the red shoes again ? They asked me

Well, ehm Now I'm afraid to tell I found some red boots at the swimming-pool, and I thought maybe she lost hers there

But,the old men started to get real mad, why did you say you saw her with red boots, while you had found them yourself

Well, because actually the boots I found weren't boots, I found them in darkness and fog, when it was midnight, but in daylight they appeared to be red apples, and I bet these were from your apple-trees So I was glad to see the girl already had her shoes back I said

But she appeared to be us the old men said

Well, yes, I shouted, so why are you getting mad if you already have your shoes back !

The men started to get redder and redder and an enormous explosion was finally taking place

It was the girl with the red boots standing before me, smiling

So it was really you, I asked

No, only red boots, but I liked your idea so I came she said

Now who the heck are you then I asked

I'm the girl who cried this lake of tears For I lost my red boots long ago, and now
you brought them back She said softly

Oh no, I shouted, another one who lost red boots

I will never wear red shoes in my whole life again,

I will never drive red cars,

and never again will I eat a red apple

I'm getting sick of this

Finally I wake up, and the old men are standing before me, trying to sooth me

What happened, I ask

You fell out of the apple-tree, you also wanted to eat a red apple

It seems you did Strange things happen when people eat these apples

Did you see the girl with the red boots ?

Oh my, I'm still not awake I feel I'm starting to shout and scream

Finally I woke up Two old men are trying to calm me, and to make me breath

They said I almost drowned in the lake, while I was talking about red boots I saw glittering in the lake They saved me

I lose consciousness again and the next morning I wake up in the hospital A girl with a red hat is entering my room She sais she is my sister, she sais she was very worried but the doctor sais it's better with me I ask her if I may see her boots Green shoes pfffff Fortunately I smile and she starts to smile

Then a bell rings Someone else is coming to my room A girl She sais she is my girlfriend I don't remember her Then I almost faint It gets black before my eyes

She has Red Boots

And then she says she has a present for me I open the present-box and I see beautiful red velvet boots

Well, that's sweet, I say But I can't remember you

Every day it gets better with me
I wear my red velvet boots very often
I still can't remember my girlfriend
But I feel she loves me very much
Every day I get to know her better and better
She seems to be very nice

But today, it sounds very strange
I got a flash, it went fast like lightning
A sense that I know her and her red boots
Well, especially her red boots

There the two old men enter the hospital They saved my life
I ask if they have red cars incidentally but no, one has a blue car, and the other
has a white car

They appear to be the grandfathers of my girlfriend
I ask them if they already found their red boots
But they say they don't have red boots
They brought some apples for me
Red ones

Hey !

Hey, it's green ! Someone shouts

There I wake up, standing before green traffic-light Now I really woke up I hope

It all appeared to be a dream within a dream while I was staring into the red traffic-light.

It's still weird I still get that strange feeling when I see someone with red
boots

Then I think maybe this person has also a red car, and likes red apples

But then I think : No, that can't be true, they have their own lives This is just coincidence

And then I smile and walk further

The Licorice and the Mandarin

The licorice and the mandarine,
walking together in the land of elves,
burning books and burning weathers,
throwing some sand on the Pluto Beaches.

They will repair the Pluto Clock,
and repair the Pluto people.

The licorice and the mandarine,
friends forever,
they know everything about Pluto.

The candle of soft fire,

The candle of chocolate fire,
The candle of dream fire,
The candle of virgo fire,
The candle of sleep fire.

Peter Pan, don't take the children away at night,
They need to sleep.

Your clocks are too tall,
make it three o'clock in the afternoon,
for the night to fall on.
Then your beaks will be softer.

Then the child can breathe again,
Then the child can touch the rabbit again,
and feel the snow is soft after all.
Then the child can feel his shoes again,
weaved by a mother's heart and a mother's flame.

The flame of the mother,
The flame of the toy.

For your books were too tall,
your snow was too cold,
your dreams were too far,
and your dolls were too grey.

Make the strings some shorter, so that the puppets can see your face, don't let them run in the distance searching to catch a glimpse of you once in a thousand years.

Then they can have a chocolate smile again, and then the corners of their mouths can reach the mandarine again. The sun will love you for it, for he can't stand the terror of lost Pluto dolls any more.

The fire of friendship,
The fire of love,
The fire of a short clock,
can all be found in the fire of a short book.

Parents, don't make your kids too tired.
Don't lock them up in a book,
for then they will make it all too short,
then they will live in a land with too short clocks and too short books,
then their beaks will be too sharp again,
then the toy will be their weapon.

The licorice and the mandarine,
will keep you in the middle,
will keep you in line,
to follow the valley between the mountains,
to make it not too early and not too late.

Here in the valley the kids are healthy,
here in the valley, the dolls are happy.
The mountains are there to play,
there they play the villains,
there the children's game rules.

These are the edges of society,
these are the edges of life,
when someone wants to cross the borderlines,
a child pushes the person back,
or takes him away over the edges of the seas,
to make him a part of the children's play

These ones become the actors,
these ones become the dolls,
for they were once touched by a child's play

This is the strongest spell in life,
The enchantment of the mandarine
While the licorice trains the animals

Snow Which Never Ticked

It's cold outside,
ice-flowers on the windows,
It's cold outside,
snowflakes in the rows.

It's raining outside,
It ticks on the window,
Like the clock on the wall,
It heals me so,
Like the language of elves,

mixed with the language of dwarves,
knocking on my heart, and sliding deeper inside,
To the deepest of all.

It's like the music of aldebaran,
a letter from santa clause,
It's like all birthdays on one day,
All the fairy's candles on the cake of a man.

It ticks and slides deeper,
even deeper than that,
to a place I never heard of,
to a place I never met.

It's like the white glove of Saint Nicolas,
laid on my heart,
It's like the touch of the Sandman's finger,
like a banana's holiday's card.

Following them to that place I never dreamt of,
It was not so far away,
They said it was always around me,
But just there where my eye didn't stay.

And now for the first time, I'm touching that place,
It's getting red of dreams.
It tells me whenever I touch something,
It gets another colour, somehow, like it seems.

Now Ice-cream tastes different,
It wasn't like before,
It is because you touched it, said the place,
And now it's having another roar.

So the magic of the touch,
Gets deeper than it seems,
It awakens another animal when it happens,
And then you enter in different dreams.

Now in the land where the touch doesn't exist, no one moves,
They are all waiting for the snow to tick softly on their windows,
And for raindrops to fall from their roofs,
To let their clocks tick again,
Like the march of the elves,
To let their hearts beat again,
and to find that secret enchanting place in themselves,
which sais that every touch will change your colour,
every touch will change your mood,
every touch will dream another dream,
and will let you feel the giant's boot.

Then you can jump over the rivers,
then you can jump over the seas,
then the mountains will melt before your eyes,
and you will drink the golden honey from the bees.

They tell you about the flower,
which once touched you to life,

They will tell you about that place,
which brought you into another dive.

It's the place of the Tree's Glue,
It's the place of the Tree's Honey, Streaming from La Rue,
It's the place of the Tree's Thick Syrop,
There where the giant and the dwarf dance,
There where the touch gets forever,
There where the rhymes bind you into France.

Now the glove of Santa Clause will forever stay on my heart,
Now the glove of Sandman will forever stay on my head,
Now the glove of Saint Nicolas will forever stay on my stomache,
Like the pillow on the bed.

This ship of dreams will lead me,
deeper into French Accents,
deeper into that thing called Licorice,
Till it completely bends,
Stopped to be frozen, stopped to be untouched,
stopped to be unmovable,
stopped to be
snow which never ticked

Gepetto's Tree

the world beyond fairytale II

Part I - Market on Neptune

Gaze of the Sheepdog

Ritual of the Siren

The Puppetwizard's Palace

The Heritage

The Girl with the Red Boots Part II

The Mix-Masters

Wild Cats

Arena of Candy

World of Elves

Prisoner of an Author's Kitchen

Prisoner of an Author's Kitchen Part II

Service with Little Light II

Masters of Auctions ...

Masters of Auctions II

The Girl with the Red Boots Part III

Part II - Red Velvet Fairytale - The Licorice Diaries

Poetry from the Aldebaran Tales II

Poetry from the Red Rose II - Escaping the Big Dream

Toy-Movies

Achernar's Friend

Part III - Cigar-Lighters from Sirius

Little Wild Cat Man

Poetry from the White Chocolate - Decision of the Round Table Churches

Riddles, Roses and Mockingbirds

Part IV – Teotihuacan

The Orange's Cabman - Raising the Doll

The Giant's Whistling-kettle Orchestra

Poetry from the Old Pipe

The Purple Brooch

Alphabet's Family-reunion - The Trick of the Giant's World

Poetry from the Giant's Trumpet - The Secret of Jubilee

These Are Strange Days

These Are Strange Days II

These Are Strange Days III

These Are Strange Days IV

A Snake in the Swanlake II

Poetry from the Girl with the Red Boots - Little..Red..Bike

Jakob's Ladder

Leaving The World Behind

Vanilla's Revenge

Part V - The Apricot's Tree

Greetings from Ananas

Greetings from Ananas II - Wonderlamp on the Attic

Greetings from Ananas III - The Anatomy of Pride

Beauty of Silence

King of Trauma

Gaze Of The Sheepdog

The Encounter

There I cycle .. On a path in the pasture ...

In the distance I see a shadow ... It looks like an old friend ...

It is misty today ... but there I see her cycling ...

Yes, it must be that old friend ... She makes the same movements as she did ...

We always used to cycle together to school ...

I'm cycling faster Waiting to talk to her again

I'm feeling the excitement inside ...

The tension ... Will she remember me ?

There I cycle ... The sky is dark ... Fog is hanging over the pasture

There she cycles in the distance But I'm coming closer ...

I would like to know how she is doing now ...

If she already has children What sort of work she does Fear rises But will she remember me ...

I'm almost cycling next to her ...

There's a knot in my throat ... I feel myself getting dizzy and my stomach hurts

I didn't see her for many years ...

It's autumn, almost winter, the leaves fell from the trees

There I knock at her shoulder

She turns her head to me

I'm struck by terror ...

Shivering all over ...

It was not my friend

It was someone else

It was my worst enemy ...

Ritual of the Sirens

Where the orange is a good gun,

Where the banana is a good way to burn money,

The land of the Sirens.

Where the breasts of a mother are a good dike,

Where good sons get mandarines on their wounds,
The land of the Sirens.

Where a child is everyone's child,
Where the aunt is a better mother than the mother,
Where the uncles are always gone for business in foreign domains,
The land of the Sirens.

Here is where they do their rituals,
Feet painted red and white,
Under an orange blue moon.

Ritual of the Sirens

Where the orange is a good gun,
Where the banana is a good way to burn money,
The land of the Sirens.

Where the breasts of a mother are a good dike,
Where good sons get mandarines on their wounds,
The land of the Sirens.

Where a child is everyone's child,
Where the aunt is a better mother than the mother,
Where the uncles are always gone for business in foreign domains,
The land of the Sirens.

Here is where they do their rituals,

Feet painted red and white,
Under an orange blue moon.

The Heritage

I want to see the steps of love, which built the bridge,
Not the dead numbers, not the mathematicians.

I want to see the killed dragons under the town you built,
Not the business, not the money, and not the other compromises and funds.

Show me the mechanism of your art,
Not the dead colours.

Show me the life you put into it,
Your breath,
Then maybe I will use it as furniture one day,
Then I will sow my tears on your grave, as gratefulness for the heritage.

The Girl with the Red Boots Part II

the house in the forest

I'm standing before the red trafficlight again,
Seeing blood dripping out of it,

Christians thrown before the lions,
But it was just a girl losing her red boots ...

I saw Jews dying in rooms of gas,
Worldwar I kissing Worldwar II,
but it was all just a girl losing her red boots ...

I know that girl, I see her walking through the supermarket sometimes,
then I see her buying some red apples,
and after shopping I see her driving away in her red car

Last time I saw her, I followed her car ...
I wanted to know where she lives ...
She lives deep in the forest,
Her house was surrounded by statues of the Gestapo.
Softly I followed her inside the house.
Her mother was the Whore of Babylon, and hit her very hard.
"You will never find your red boots again", she yelled to her daughter.
I was in a shock.

I followed her to her room, hiding myself behind a curtain.
She was crying red tears ...
Eating her red apples ...

I wondered why I wasn't noticed by anyone ...
So I decided to comfort her
But she didn't see me,
She didn't even feel my hand on her shoulder
I started to whisper : It's ok ...

But she didn't hear me,
I was invisible for her it seemed ...
So I ran to her mother, the Whore of Babylon ...
But she couldn't see me either

So I ran outside to the statues of the Gestapo,
They could see me, since I came
They said : shhh, don't tell anybody we have her red boots ...
We carry them inside our heart
Surrounded by stone ...

But we are just little boys enchanted by the Whore of Babylon ...
One day we were teasing some little girls, taking their red boots from them away,
And then a witch turned us into these statues ...
Tears were rolling from their faces
We are so sorry we teased the girls, but they started, they told lies to the mistress about us ...

The mistress punished us, while we didn't do anything ...

And now we are statues, and the Whore of Babylon also hid the red boots of her daughter into us

And she told her daughter the people of the village took the boots away ...

And since then she can't see these people

That's why she didn't see you

She's under a spell

Now how can we break the spell ? I ask ...

Don't tell it to anyone ... for when the Whore comes to know about it, she will throw us into the rivers ...

That was what she always said

But what can we do then, I ask

At that moment the Whore of Babylon runs outside

You talked ! She screams,

and throws the statues in the river behind the house

There they start to melt, and the red boots are appearing,

floating through the water ...

At that moment the girl starts to watch outside her window, and within a minute she's standing besides the river, trying to get her boots After awhile, there she's standing with her red boots on... Taking notice of me What are you doing here, she asks ? Did you finally bring my red boots back ?

I started to tell her the story, and she's hugging me very tight ... But at the same moment her mother is running outside, the Whore of Babylon

At that moment the traffic-lights turn green, and I wake up For a woman already pushed me in my back, telling me to walk I turn myself around ... She has the same face of the Whore of Babylon

wild cats

Shall we drink some tea somewhere ? She asks

Well, I always wanted to have some tea with the Wh... and then I swallow my words and say : yes, that's ok

I would like to ask her some questions

It seemed she has a daughter,

who is being teased at school,

because she is shy ...

She loves her mistress for she always helps her in this,

trying to find a good solution in the case

Boys and girls who don't stop teasing will be sent out of school,

to work in the forest
This is the rule of the school

I know this group
They are called "the wild cats",
They are the terror of the village ...

For after work they start to wander through the forest to tease and attack people entering

They are out for revenge

Nobody does exactly know what they are doing in the forests ...
But they are some sort of forest-gang

What I see before me is a worried mother
Definitely not someone like the Whore of Babylon.
The school is in fear in fear of an attack

The wild cats recently sent threats to the school
And also her daughter is on their list to hurt

the attack

There I wake up again I knew something was wrong
Someone with a Wild Cat-t-shirt is drying my face with a towel,
I'm under the blood A car crashed me driven through the red trafficlight
A woman is standing there, policemen are hearing her out

She has the face of the Whore of Babylon ...
She tries to charm the policemen,
but their faces are tight and serious
They describe it as an attempt of murder
The lady appears to be a wanted childlurer,

high on the police's list of criminals

She killed many children,
poisoned candy

I'm lying in the hospital

They don't know if I will survive

I'm still looking for lost children after all these years

Still a policeman, a detective,
looking for lost red shoes

Two children were sitting on my knees this night

They were lost for so many years

Worldwar I and Worldwar II,
just lost kids

Captured by The Whore of Babylon

That day I wake up,
two children who were lost for years were found

I'm still bleeding a bit

They were kidnapped by the woman who crashed me,
that dangerous child-lurer

poisoned candy

That was how she was called

That was which she used

She couldn't charm anyone this time

The wounds were already too deep

The blood was already streaming

No smile could cover it

It seemed the person with the wild cat-t-shirt saved my life

After the crash, she wanted to shoot through my head ...

But he kicked the gun out of her hand, and cared over me,

While my colleagues were already taking her away

They never saw him again, he just disappeared after awhile

He might be an angel ... Who knows ...

There the doctor enters in. He says : Sir, there's much hope you will survive the crash

...

He had tears in his eyes, saying : Sir, I just read the book you gave me "War is but a lost child."

Since I read it it's getting much better with you, and there's much hope again

I think I will also read the books some other patients gave me.

And sir, he asks, I really want to know who wrote this book ...

I'm moving my head up a little, and look deep into his eyes ... saying :

The one who wrote this, was my lost ...child

The Mix-Masters

Love is not a feeling,

It is not a word, nor an attitude.

It's not something between persons,

But it's between you and yourself

Love is not a theology,

Not an all-embracing desire,

It's not a passion, nor a dream,
It's not a place where you can be.
It's something between you and yourself,
It's something between you and an object,
A Mirror.
It's something between you and another object,
A Camera.

This is where it all started,
This is where it all began,
How did you treat the mirror,
and how did you treat the camera.

There are thousands of movies about yourself,
There are thousands of movies about the other,
Which movie do you pick out ?
Love takes the golden one,
The one which mixed all movies into one,
Where no movie rules,
But where the mix is the master.
There where the juices are thick.

Love is about you, a mirror and a camera,
together they make the pictures,
together they make the movies,
The mix is their master,
The glue their island.

Love has a blind dog,

A blind song,
sailing on the mix of seas,
thick seas.

Love has a blind crown and a blind staff,
a blind camera, and a blind mirror,
making blind movies.

Love has a kettle,
Where it mixes all the eyes,
Here everything gets blind.

It's there where you can see, there where your eyes aren't mixed,
things start to get corrupted.
That's why Love goes around the land,
to steal the eyes out of the rich,
to bring them in his kettle,
a blind kettle.

There where the Eye started to rule,
A nation was burnt.
But Love has a flag,
and it is blind.

When it's hand touches you,
It's a blind hand,
And you get blind too.

When it's arms embrace you,

It's a mix,
And you get mixed too.

The mix-masters live far from here,
But you are also in their mix,
In the mix no one can rule.
Everything sinks deep,
Till it touches the bottom,
Where a mixed musician lives.

In the little music-box all things get transformed,
Love transforms,
The secret of the mix.

Wild Cats

velvet fruits

Parents of Lynx, parents of greek horses. The cats come from under history, sitting on the ball of future. They are time-masters, running from the edges of heaven to the edges of hell, always standing on the edges, the watchers of the wild world

They know the secrets of the underworld, the secrets of the clothes of fruits They are tailors on Martian Hills, having the deserts in their eyes, burning deserts No fire is too hot for them The fire-pole is in their pockets

Wild cats, always misunderstood, always misplaced, always dreaming ... They are the pole-masters Their watches go faster than any clock They know how to get the chicken out of the egg

The camera is their gun, the mirror their shield They know about the seas behind the restaurant They know how to peel the fruit They push the buttons of dreams Their eyes are high-tech hidden camera's You will never know exactly what they do to you

They bring the powder to the pupil, they bring the meat to the shark They know how to quench the mouths of the kings ...

Give the preacher something to eat, and he will be silent

Give the cannon something to drink and he will swallow his cannonballs

Give the gun some chewing-gum and he will spit out his bullets ...

They know how to ease the nuclear bombs ...

They give them a good chair to sit in

Velvet Fruits

Arena of Candy

There's a danger when a banana enters a candy's arena,

There's a danger when the cherry hits the bell ...

You can lose your senses, you can lose your mind,

You can come under a spell

There's a danger when you touch a captured chocolate,

There's a danger when you challenge the candy's stick ...

The candy-police will take you away,

To a place of a strawberry's lick ...

When a raspberry enters the candy's arena,

All will run away,

All will hide behind trees and flowers,

And beam from there with their ray ...

For no one dares to touch him,
No one dares to claim,
For the sun rides on his carriage,
Since his honey sweetly came ...

The Licorice is his flag,
Every night and every day,
The elf is his heart,
the fairy his mother,
and the dwarf his king to stay ...

No one knows his father,
They think he's a giant, or a tree,
Others think he's a flower,
But I think it's sandman,
having his palace at Jupiter's sea.

World of Elves

There are elves, too sweet to describe,
There are books too sweet to open,
There are dreams too sweet to eat ...
The sting of the candy ...

There are worlds, too hot to enter,

There are clothes too hot to wear,
There are fruits too hot to eat
The sting of the sun

There are eyes too beautiful to look into,
There are clothes too beautiful to have
There are dreams too beautiful to dream ...
The sting of the fairytale

There are hands too soft to feel,
There are words too soft to hear ...
There are pillows too soft to wake up ...
The sting of the dream ...

This keeps us away from touching the fruit,
This keeps us away from diving into that sea
It's all too beautiful to bear,
The harmony's too much ...

So let us all hide for beauty,
let us all run away from the feelings too soft
And hope it will catch us one day,
to be prepared and ready ...
to feel the elfe's glue sliding on our skin ...

Arabian nights, something to die in ...
When you fall from the carpet, it's done with you ...

Arabian nights,
The dream of every bike,
To ride the horses of Bagdad,
To swim the rivers of Arabian Cafe's
The dream of every car,
To dive in the seas of the Arabian Princess,
To touch the veils of the mandarine ...

Arabian nights,
something to die for ...
The eyes of the horses you will never forget ...
The spice will burn in your head the whole night ...

And still you say :
I have nothing to dream for,
I'm bored, my flames all dried out ...
Standing for the Arabian Deserts,
you see no any hope

Someone took away your love,
Now you don't believe in it anymore ...
All you feel is hate and bitterness,
Not being able to ever touch again

You think the fantasy is a book which doesn't exist anymore,
After the crash, after the knife was put into your heart,

Behind your back ...

A veiled knife,
It made you bored, standing before Arabian Deserts

You think it's all sand ...
You think that the dream never existed,
That it was all a lie ...

Now you veiled yourself ...
Wearing mysterious clothes,
having a mysterious smile
Like you lost your father in the snow
It was all you ever had ... All you ever cared for ...
And now it has been taken away
Thinking you will never be able to see again ...
Feeling like a blind child in an Arabian Desert

Your tears have been dried out
You got tired to drink them ...
Now you're crying deserts ...
It hurts ... like hell
It's your food day and night
And it bores

You don't believe in the Arabian Nights anymore,
Not in an Arabian Prince, Not in Arabian Clothes
But you veiled yourself

Your smiles hiding pain ...

You lost your strategies, You lost your sword,

In this desert

You are tired of all fights

You are scared of any more hurt

Crying deserts ...

Arabian Deserts

It hurts ... It bleeds

It bores

You can't feel anymore

All flowers are dead

The sun did

All these happy people

All these smiling people

But they also hide pain

They are also in Arabian Deserts

They are your desert

They bore you

What if these deserts were beaches ?

What if there's life at the other side ?

But you fear to hope, you fear to believe

For when you start to wait Hurt comes over you ...

And you can't take it anymore

You don't want faith,

You want evidence in your hands

You don't want to believe in water behind the desert-hills ...

You want to feel it in your hands

You want to experience it

There you lose faith, there you lose hope,

In the middle of the Arabian Desert.

For it hurts you too much

There where Hope and Faith is your enemy

You want to touch

But you can't

And if you could, where would it bring you ?

Into a worse desert ?

Worse than this ?

The sand burns under your feet

What if you would build a sandcastle ?

But you are too tired

If you could only stop crying sand

What if the sand is just your friend

Waiting to serve you

Maybe it is all magic dust

Yes, you thought that before

But it didn't help ...

You rolled into the sand ...

You spoke to it,

Yelled to it ...

Commanded it

But no results

Still sand ... Still a desert
You don't believe in wizards anymore
You think you can only die in this desert
You gave up already a long time ago

And I can't do anything for you also
I'm just writing these words
Although I wish I could help you
But maybe this whole story isn't about you,
But about someone else
And also you and me, we cannot help someone else in that desert
The desert is too strong
My pencil is burning on my paper
Everything burns,
It's the Arabian Desert ...

Maybe if that person could climb on the pencil ...
But then he comes from one desert into the other
Maybe if he could climb on the paper you hold ?
Or maybe on the paper of someone else ?
Maybe another reader can help To get him out of that desert ...
But it's too late already For the paper burns too much
It sets everything in fire
The Arabian Desert
Well, nothing left to get a look there ...
I will climb on my pencil to slide into the paper ...
And you can slide into your paper
It's the same text so we will meet each other in the story ...

To help the person in the Arabian Desert

Then we are with three

Three in the desert

A writer, the main-character, and the reader

Well, maybe you see he looks like us, dear reader ...

Or maybe we don't have anything in common with our three

Anyway we need to help this person out

We can help to build that sandcastle ...

Helped by a writer and a reader

This is how we build the castles ...

We all have a writer and a reader ...

We are never alone in the story

Hey, there are more readers coming ...

They rise from the sand

The sand comes alive ...

Arabian Magic

The book is the hospital

The writer and the reader are the doctors

But they can also be the patients

Well, the book can also be a battlefield

The writer and the reader are the soldiers ...

Sometimes they are mates, sometimes they are enemies

Writer, writer, you sold so many books

Yes, but my readers killed me so that I could write another book

Writers are coming forth from the sand

There are more people writing about the same things

This will be a big war

But the main-character is sick of wars

Leave me alone ... he sais

Ok, main-character, we will shut up, and go on with the story ...

There he is in his desert again

alone main-character ... you are alone again ... we are already gone

We know you can't stand all the people anymore

It bores you, irritates you

There you stay in your Arabian Deserts

Now, I feel you are very mad at me, main-character

Now you are mad at readers and writers

And you cry even more sand

You drown into it

But they say Jesus died in an Arabian Desert

And now a desert-rose grows there

And you are growing also like a desert-rose

Take root deep in the desert

And grow to the sun

The Arabian Sun

The Arabian City

Where the Arabian Horse rules

But it doesn't help you right ?

You heard enough stories ...

You are sick of stories ...

You desire to die good, and just to forget about everything

All you want is rest

You are sick of writers and readers with their sick stories and sick comments

You are sick of their songs, sick of their dances

There you go into slowmotion

You prefer to be a statue than follow the sick fanfare

The service with little light

You are sick of your own expectations

You don't want to be a marionet anymore

You were the main-character of so many writers

Prisoner of the Author

There an Author kidnaps a screaming reader

He will be the main-character of his next book

Fruit in his kitchen

.... An Author's Kitchen

So, I understand you, main-character

In my next book you will have another role

I'm from the Greenpeace for abused main-characters ...

I will let you escape from the Author's Kitchen

I know how they lied about you and to you

They created this Arabian Desert

You were abused by a pencil ...
But another pencil will heal you
The book was your grave ...
The Author your undertaker
The readers paid your funeral
Some threw roses on your grave ...
Others spat on it

But you were already sown on the fields of the Author's next book

There where the authors are the kings and the criminals

The terrorist was just a good author
The bombs were just his best-sellers

There he rides on his Arabian horse
Veiled

But tonight, and he knows this, he will be the main-character of another Author

An Author's War

Today's prisoners will be tomorrow's book-characters ...

The fruits on the Author's Dish

There were the pencil is a sword
or a gun

The book can be a good shield

To cover up a lot

But the pencil of someone else can dash it all into pieces

Burning books in an Arabian Desert

There were the pencil is the magic wand ...

Where the Author is the wizard
The main-character doesn't believe in wizards anymore ...
Is there a way out of the book,
A way out of the Author's Kitchen ?
There he bakes his banana's
Hitler was just a good Author
A cook
Jesus too
And Charlie Chaplin
They all used kitchen-gas

So, look what you are eating It can be your granddad
It can be yesterday's pope or tomorrow's money-maker ...
It can even be yourself or your dog

So after hearing this ... Please hold on tight to your carpet
Don't fall from it when it flies
For an Arabian Desert is behind you

And a book in which everyone cries

Prisoner of an Author's Kitchen Part II

the dwarve's revenge

there's a fruit too easy to peel out,

there's a toyworld too easy to enter,
there's a name too easy to say,
that's why nobody can find it ...
they look for it too far ...
while it is too close

there's a dream too scary to dream,
there's a tool too cruel to use,
there's a wire which binds too tight,
that's why nobody breaths the air too deep

there's a nation too bright,
there's a feather too light,
there's a book too easy to read,
that's why everyone closes the eye,
hiding it deep in the night.

there's a road too cold to go,
a kiss too cold to get,
a letter too cold to write,
but a candle will burn it all away ...

there's a room too big to live in ...
there's an apple too healthy to eat
we prefer to stay sick in our homelands ...
with grandmother's comfortable fruits,
which make us sicker and sicker ...

we will not touch borderlines ever again,

we are scared to discover new america's,
scared to discover new bombs,
that's why we all dream further,
in our own trusted classrooms,
only touching home's milk ...

we only trust the cats we know,
new cats are a threat,
we don't care,
and draw our lines
draw our figures,
our magazines and smiles
it's all ok,
while it is not
we desire our graves to die ...

there's a new world of liberty,
people who are too free,
but we don't care,
we don't desire,
it's too new,
maybe after a hundred of years

there are cars too fast,
busses too slow ...
we stay in the middle,
it will be never good enough
it's always too,

we always complain,
we always ...say goodbye

there are hours go too fast,
mothers feed too hot,
babies drink too cold
it's all in the game,
for sightseeers to know ...

about this one writes,
about this one feasts,
drinking the wine of too.

this drummer drums too loud,
will be kidnapped by an author at eleven o clock,
needs a villain for his story ...

don't wait for the movie,
which is the blood on the book's battlefield

i saw a baby lying in a foundling's basket,
will be tomorrow's horror-author,
too much snow to live with it alone ...

so i carry the baby, to the dream's house,
to the waterfall's tale ...
and yes, it will be a horror-author,
but one for the dwarfs,
not for the big world,

because the big world will let the horror grow ...

now the dwarves will do that also,
but the face of it will change ...
they are masters of art,
they are kings of nature,
and the horror is just their servant

in the big world,
the horror is emperor,
but it's all hidden very well,
behind books of business,
and books of psychology,
but they can feed it to a hell ...

it's the killing child's attraction,
psychology created the monster,
business attracted the mass ...
now they can ride it for 86 dollar,
and the author runs away with the cash

no one can find him in his forest's house too small ...

they say he's a corrupted dwarf,
a big one in the dwarve's fall ...
fallen dwarf, that is his name,
but still a dwarf in heart ...
now he uses it to write his social books,
to hide the crime behind a holiday's card ...

to win a dream,
is to lose a name,
and that is which he did ...
he lost his name in the dwarve's city,
but in the big world he eats fame

only the movie-maker knows how to find him,
with a tool crueler than him ...
tonight he will attack his little house behind the toadstool,
to steal his golden balls,
to make tomorrow's movie ...

i don't know what will happen ...
they say it's a little fir ...
the revenge of the dwarfs
that's what they call it ...
the movie will be better than the book
the author sees his book in shatters
but he will get more fame after all

he licks his lips,
but the day after,
the journalists come
his fame makes him so tired
they suck away his ink
and finally he finds himself
into an Arabian Desert
dry fruits to eat the first day
the next day only sand ...

while the movies are spinning in the Arabian City ...

he cannot feel his carpet

a fallen dwarf into a fallen desert ...

his fame brought him there

the movie-master is the master now,

the journalists are his vultures ...

the main-character drinks fresh juice now ...

the people like him, that's a fact ...

even though he played ...the ...villain

they know the actor in real it's a nice man

helps the third world with his money,

scaring every terrorist away

now where's the author's kitchen ?

the movie-master walks there ...smiling cigar in his mouth

freeing the caged birds ...

they will be tomorrow's journalists ...

there are lights too bright,

you're on the photo now ...

the movie-master's photo ...

with these he will glue his movies

the dwarve's glue ...

the glue of too ...

Service with Little Light II

A dream tries to sell his clothes on the corner of a street,

It's the street of dr. cow.

Service with little light ...

Dr. Cow sends the dream away, not interested in a dream selling dream-clothes in his street.

Service with little light ...

The dream goes to the street of dr. chicken ...

selling the words of dr. cow

Dr. Chicken buys them

Having a weapon for tomorrow's race ...

Service with Little Light

The next day dr. chicken sees dr. cow in the cow's hospital ...

saying : I bought your words, so now I'm the boss of today

Service with Little Light

Dr. Cow cannot speak ...

He will have to wait for the dream in the night ...

There he buys clothes from the dream in his street ...

Service with Little Light

This is how the dream makes big money,

Ruling in every hospital, every day,

going from docter to docter ...

to sell their own clothes ...

to the highest bidders

In the dark night ...

.... Secret PrivateForbidden Auctions

Service with ...Little ...Light ...

Masters of Auction ...

I'm on the auction ...

Kids are being auctioned

The highest bidder gets them

They were yesterday's foundlings

Or just stolen from a mother's heart

Or donated by schools

Unmanageable

Who would get them

Who would pay the biggest price

The kids are scared Who would be their new father, mother, or master

Dreams too far away to dream

An Arabian Horsemaster waves with money

He won the auction

The kids are screaming

They don't want to go to Arabia

But then a man shows up, an Indian

With a gun in his hand

Saying all children are his

And kidnaps them away

Now who is the real master of the auction

The man with the biggest money, or the man with the biggest gun ?

Masters of Auction II

The Cuyornaidic Conspiracy

thoughts of a shotgun

I'm dreaming away in the auction-gallery

Hearing my own name being shouted

I don't care anymore who takes me

I go from auction to auction

They all want to have me for their auctions

When one country gets me, I'm in their auction the next day

Then one of the cities will bid the highest price,

and I'm on the city-auction the next day

The highest bidders of the city will win me,

and then they appear to be spies from another continent, or world

And take me away to other auctions

I'm on these auctions every day of my life

It never stops

It seems no one can live with me or without me

But I hope one day I will be in a good museum

Yes, it's a hard life for a living gun ...

I was made by a man called Gepetto,

I was a toy-gun first,

But a faery touched my body,

And I came alive

And can shoot whenever I want

Nobody could handle me ever

Nobody could ever ride me

But they still try

Like they never give up

I'm waiting for a soft hand

Someone who can sooth my bullets

Someone who can take me out of the auction forever,

to let me rest in a good museum

the little ballerina

Maybe the auctioneer can do

Or maybe the master of auctions

The one who invented this bloody circle

I feel myself like a rat in a mill

Or maybe Gepetto can help,

Or his sweet little faery

Maybe I can become a nice toy-gun again

In the hand of a little cowboy

Oh my god, someone already bought me today

It's Judas, wanting to kill another Jesus

No, I don't want

But soon he will find out, and desires to have another auction to get rid of me

This is how it always goes

No villain can hold me,

No villain can control me

I'm rather here than in the hand of a criminal

But there must be rest somewhere

There must be a way out of this circle of auctions

Pssst auctioneer, where's the exit ?

Can I buy myself ?

No, he says, but I can buy you,

If you shoot the auction,

for I'm getting sick of it too

Well, so I shot the auction

I blew the whole case up ...

And now I'm in the pocket of the auctioneer,

I wonder how his house will be

I see a lot of art and a lot of dolls

He only bought the best things

So what am I doing here ?

There a little ballerina dances on a music-box

She sais she helped him out of the auction yesterday

But we stay here only for a week, for then there will be an auction among all auctioneers

The master of auctions has the hammer

Oh, I say Then we will try to charm the master of auctions

Maybe he will give us any rest

Impossible, she sais for the masters of auctions have also their private auctions

But there must be an end of all this

No, she sais for sometimes there are spies between them, and then they take us away to other sorts of auctions

Big tears are rolling over my gun-face : How can we ever escape ... I desperately cry

Gepetto cannot help us, she sais for he is kidnapped by the auction-masters to produce new stuff for them

An I am his faery, I enchanted myself in a music-box's ballerina, to get in touch with
you

Only when you free gepetto, you can be free

a strange game

Now how do I do that, I ask

Wait till the night falls Then I will show you the secret of the auction-masters

There I see them sitting, we hide behind a plant

They are playing a strange game called "The Cuyornaida Corset"

They had their dice and their pawns Their money and their cards

And they were wearing corsets

First they were being auctioned themselves,

said the faery

But they started to do business themselves

They started to auction their own parts their limbs,

and hide the loss by corsets

These corsets they bought by the money they got in business

And in this game they help each other to develop their corsets

It's the conspiracy of auction-masters

In these corsets the lost limbs will grow again after awhile

Pinocchio's Tree

The Snakes' Tree

Gepetto's Magic

For these toys will always return to them

And the auction-masters train each other to be their own highest bidders

Now how do I save Gepetto ?

And where did they buy their corsets ?

I ask

They bought it from the snake

the snake from Pinocchio's Tree ...

The corsets grow there, and the magic is inside

The Fairy tells

And Gepetto is locked up in that tree

as prisoner from the snake

The master of all auctions

To be continued in part III

THE GIRL WITH THE RED BOOTS

- PART III

The Anatomy of Candy

the dentist's sweet advice

Two grammes of a sweet mouth,
Some pieces of a sweet red velvet boot,
The sweet destiny of a straycat,
Some old teeth of the candy's witch ...
The anatomy of candy

Three drops of a candy-mouse's word,
Two guitars of a sweet babydoll ...
The anatomy of candy ...

Mix it all together,
And let it boil for a three hours.
Throw some kids' shoes through it, after that.
And some pieces of your grandfather's beard
The anatomy of candy ...

Now never eat it for so far
Let it boil another three hours ...

And cry all your hidden tears through the mix ...
Then you let your grandmother drink a bit from the mix,
And let her go to sleep again ..
Something she always did ...
Then let the fanfare come to play their best songs ...
And throw their gloves through the mix ...
While boiling it for another three hours ...
The anatomy of candy

Now mix all your unfulfilled dreams into it ...
And the spoilt dreams of your childhood
Throw also some toys of your kids in the mix ...
And let them cry for awhile about the loss ...
Then say your prayers for a minute,
and burn the whole mix
The anatomy of candy

Bring the ashes to the birds ...
Let them eat, and let them sleep again ...
Something they always did ...
Then watch how the wind divides the ashes ...
And how it brings it all to the four corners of the earth ...
The anatomy of candy ...

Then it's time for your own sleep ...
Weep yourself into sleep, for you didn't get one taste of it ...
But remember ...
Tomorrow you will smell it ... For the wind brought it to the poles to enjoy ...

And they will always give you your piece ...

The anatomy of candy

The next week you will feel like candy yourself ...

And you will buy yourself some new shoes ...

And fly to the moon ...

Where you will meet the candy-witch ...

With eyes as big as dishes ...

With a mouth as big as a banana ...

With dreams as big as your own dreams

With lions even bigger than yours ...

She will look like you ...

So beautiful and pure

And she will say this is all possible, because she got some of your mix ...

The anatomy of candy

And now your dreams are gone ...

You lay on your boring bed ...

But it all has ears now ...

And even your tooth-brush can talk ...

The anatomy of candy

Your dentist will send you congratulations ...

Together with a pink elephant to embrace you ...

The anatomy of candy ...

And you will not believe one word of this story,

You will even not believe yourself after today,

The anatomy of candy ...

You will prepare the same mix tomorrow,
trying to get it all back
trying to have a little faith in a dentist's advice ...
trying to overcome the fear of the dentist ...
But his monkeys still jump in your back ...
And his mice still dive in your bag ...
You will never listen to a dentist's advice again ...
You will never eat his candy again ...
But you will begin with your own shop for missed teeth ...
Your own shop for missed children ...
You will be your own dentist
And your own tooth-brush will be your assistant ...
You will have your own candy-shop ...
And after many years you will think : The dentist's advice wasn't that bad ...
There are worse things ...
And you will read these notes again Trying that old receipt for candy
And you will feel like you have find your bible
Like eating candy all day ...

the docter's strange demise

Till you fall in the arms of a docter's advice ...
And he will say :
First buy yourself some new shoes ...
And then do it all over again ...
The anatomy of candy ...
Even worse than a dentist's advice ...

The doctor's worst demise
You will search for your best teacher
But he appeared to be your worst politician ...
Saying : Just again : Buy some new shoes, and then do it all over again ...
The best thing to do is then : Start a shoe-shop
Or a shoe-zoo ...
And put them all behind the bars
The dentist, the doctor, the teacher, the politician,
and most of all : their assistants ...
For all their advices, stories and fairytales, were spun by their assistants ...
animals from the big shoe
Don't touch them, don't feed them, don't even come close to them ...
Just watch in the distance Just watch And Forget
The anatomy of candy

But some years later,
You will hear the bell in their stories ...
Thinking : It all wasn't that bad ... There are some things much worse than this ...
And their strange stories will be your candle in the night ...
You will tell them to your kids
And they will tell them to their kids ...
Strange stories of a dentist's assistant ...
Used to win wars
Used to let wild children behave ...
Used to ... tame ... dangerous animals
Animals from the Big ... Shoe

Noah and Noah

I saw my dentist's assistant awhile ago

Walking with Red Boots

She was painted like a tiger

She was like the master's touch

She walked there with a big bible under her arms

Her bible

She wrote it for the kids

Her red boots were stolen

Made from kids' shoes

Red T...i.....g.....e.....r.....s

There's something much worse than a dentist's assistant :

Her boots

But

This Bible Her Bible ...

Is a Song-Book

for children

The most horrible and the most cruel songs we had to sing

In kindergarten ...

No one told us they were hers

We were all scared of the mistress

But we had to fear the assistant

well her red boots

Well, now I use these masterpieces in my own wars ...

The assistant is the statue on my gun

and the statue on my ship

At the front

But she still looks beautiful

I never have to paint her over

In the genesis of her bible she tells about how she got her red boots

She stole the red tigers from Noah's Ark ...

And made kid-shoes of them

And her own red boots

To control them all

Noah knows all about her

He cried days and nights

The flood

Noah and Noah are two business-men, two brothers

They built an ark for all occupations and professions

Preachers, Policemen, Dentists, Lawyers, Teachers, they can all be found there

Except The shoemakers

They were kidnapped by the girl with the red boots

The dentist's assistant

She was actually the boot-shop-girl

Noah and Noah are always looking for her

I'm working in that bootshop for awhile now

The bootshop-girl isn't the worst I found out

It's in her shoes

One day two men with round glasses and big grey beards came into the shop

They asked for red boots

They showed me a mechanism in the soles
They were talking like mathematicians,
I couldn't follow their speech ...
They talked strange, for sometimes they spoke the same words at the same time,
and sometimes they switched after every word
After that they asked money from me for their speech,
but I asked money from them to enter my shop

They said they were looking for the bootshop-girl
So I asked if she would come ... which she did
They said : Finally we have found you, and started to fight with her
All I saw was a mix appearing before my eyes surrounded by a moisty mist

Out of the mist a little creature appeared
It looked like a fir
He shook my hands and said :
Now you know the secret of the girl with the red boots
She is not only the daughter of Noah and Noah
She is me
And so are Noah and Noah
I am the movie-master And this was just another part ... of me

Poetry from the Aldebaran Tales II

Daddy's Home

Liquid tall Licorice Soldiers are standing on the toy's cupboard ...

They are the ghosts from the past ...
Ghosts from the old man's childhood dreams
They are the last ones remained ...
He had many ...
This is all which was left behind ...
All his toys were burnt on the rubbishfields ...
After the War

Drunk snakes are dancing on the carpet
A magical arabian carpet
There are no toys anymore
And now they sing their songs ...

The toy's cupboard ...
Without toys
The old man
Almost without dreams now ...
Remembering his good days ...
Now he's dying in his bed ...
The old lion has put his hand on his head ...
Old dreams are fading away ...
More and more

The old lion smiles ... He loves the old man, and is wisphering :
Now you are heading for your last trip ...
You will dream new dreams when you reach the island ...
But now I'm taking all your dreams back ...
You need to sleep ...
You need to forget

There was too much war in the toy
Your childhood dreams were too much mixed with poison
Poison from an old snake ...

Sleep well, old man
And when the musical box gets slower
And when the colours of the day slowly fade away ...
The old man goes to sleep ...

The Toysoldier's Drum

There's a new beat in town,
The toysoldiers are running faster ...
The beat of a different drum ...

There's a new faith ...
The Toysoldiers are speaking louder ...
The faith of a different god ...

You are worrying about the ocean, how it will look like after ten years ...
With all these factories running faster
With all these rabbits smiling deeper
You don't trust their ways ...
You don't trust their eyes ...

But the drums of the toys are changing ...
Like they are heading up to something ...
Like they are dividing their powers into divisions ...

There's slowly coming a new day ...
You have mixed feelings about it
You see changes in good and evil ...
You see things go worse and better at the same time

On that mountain, that big mountain, they will meet each other ...
The toysoldier and the rabbit
There they will play their big game of chess ...
They will run for their own kitchens
They will run for own teachings
They will find the walls ... between them
Walls their parents put between them o so long ago
You will have your part, and I will have mine
And together we play the drum
The beat of a strange drum
A drum with two faces ...
A drum with two drummers
With a big wall between them ...

And something inside of me sais : you are me ...
You have always been my nightmare,
you have always been my worry
I always found you back in myself
As the thing I hated
As the thing my parents tried to hide me from ...
Their protection
Their care

But they kept it alive
For they knew
One day I would need it ...
One day I would realize
That there is a bigger enemy
And we would have to fight it together

The beat of a different drum

December's Sun ...

Warm homes in the summer ...
The gifts of a sun in July
Warm winters in a century ...
The gift of December's Sun ...

It's raining in August ...
The old lion smiles ...
He takes away some dry sand
And lets the rivers flow over their borders

In winter he lets it freeze ...
The toy-soldiers march on ...
Entering new worlds ...
Touching December's Sun ...

Collection of Flowers

A collection of flowers between you and me,
A collection of flowers,
A new breath ...

A collection of flowers,
To fight for a new freedom ...
They just grow between us, not to separate ...
But to let new magic rise

Island of Seasons

In winter you cry, longing for August,
but in August you desire the Autumn's rain ...
You prefer to have them all in your collection ...
Licorice from March till September ...

You still dream of a bird's flight,
to bring you to the island of seasons,
where they all live together in peace and satisfaction ...
you still dream of the land of cockaigne,
touching your own wings ...
and finding out they are your friends

And when you look at your own body,
seeing July's Fire, touching October's Rains,

How April's Sweetness embraces January's Shyness, you realize that the switching between the months is not a separation ...
but it teaches you to do the same, and to bring it all into balance ... to let you not to forget about one season ... but to give them all the place they deserve ...

Poetry from the Red Rose II

Escaping The Big Dream

no dreams for tonight

I'm dreaming of an Egyptian Boat,
Riding in a new sort of factory ...
Feeling Thoth's smoke in my back

Dragons dreams

I'm dreaming of a sun,
standing between ten mirrors ...
Not knowing which mirror to watch

Just watch all ten ...

Not inside ...

But watch their movements, their markets, their playcards ...

Dreams of the big cat

Oh how you wish to escape your dreams and to sleep,

just sleep ...

The dream's hunting you, the dream's hurting you,
like ten men on a tower
Shooting from the distance

But they are far ... far away ...
Actually ... too far away to really see them ...
So how do you know they are with ten ...
How do you know they are men

They are too far to hear them shoot ...
So how do you know they shoot
They are too far away
So how can you dream about them ...
The dream's too far

the lion's confusion

Maybe they are just some mice playing card ...
Like those mirrors of the sun
But I don't know

They are too far away to really have an opinion about it ...
It's too vague to define
I couldn't make a good picture of this ...
It seems I'm in the lion's confusion again

But this is good ... I want to escape all dreams just like you

Who invented all these dreams
Maybe those ten men on that tower
But who knows ... I'm not sure they are with ten ...

It's too far away
And I even don't know if they are men ...
They can be chickens I don't know ...
I really don't know
All I know is I don't want to meet them, whoever they are ...
But they are so far away who knows...maybe there's no one there
Maybe there are only some white flags glittering in the sun
That sun with ten mirrors ... playing card ...
You know, I tell you this, for once I got such a card
It told me about all this
But it said it didn't know it either It was too far ...
Now when even a playcard tells you this, then it must be real far
So let us forget about all this, also about the ten men
They sent me a card yesterday ... That they were so far away ...
So I will forget about it
Maybe they are with nine, and not ten ...
Yes, it was that playcard I told you about ...
They sent it And it said all this
But I don't believe it, for even this card said it was all too far away ...
So when even a playcard says it's far away, it must be real far

It seems like I'm in the Lion's confusion
Even the mailman was confused ...
He said his wife died yesterday
And she's so far away now ...
How do you know it's her then ? I ask ...
Maybe someone else died It's all too far away, if something's too far away, how do you know it's that ?

Maybe she just went for the shop a long shopping

Or maybe she was kidnapped by those ten men ...

They never said they didn't so how do we know she isn't there ...

But let us stop about those ten men ... Maybe we are waking sleeping dragons

Maybe they hear everything we say ... maybe they have spies or high ... technology.

maybe they have high-tech-recorders and know everything we say ...

Then your wife will also hear if she's there ...

Ok, dear sweetheart of the mailman,

Your husband is looking for you

Please tell us where you are

He's so confused since you're gone ...

Can you please send us a card ?

god of ten

The next day I get a card ...

But not from his wife

Another mailman brought it to me

It was a mourning-card ...

My mailman died this night

I go to the phone, and call to his house

His wife picks up ...

I thought you were away with ten men, I ask ...

Well, she sais ... I thought you were ...

My husband talked about it yesterday ... he was so confused ...

He said you were gone with ten men, for you left a card stuck at your frontdoor ...

So he left to look for you he said he would go to the sun of ten mirrors ...

So, he didn't die, I say ...

No, she sais ... why

For I got his mourning-card ... but I bet these ten men sent it to me ...

Oh my, she screams

Shh, it's all too far away, and I don't believe in these ten men anymore because of that ...

And this must be the reason I'm home again

And we will have to wait till your husband doesn't believe in them anymore ...

Then he will be home Just like me

And if they really have such hi-tech ... and he's with them he will hear us also ...

Okay, honey, she sais, can you hear me ?

It's me, your wife

Please send me a card ... so that I know you're alive

Ten men coming from the sun,

Ten men to do the dance,

They kidnapped us all,

They brought us all the cards

But those who don't believe,

Will be home this night

At the end of the story,

I know it seems strange,

The mailman is the eleventh,

The eleventh of ten

Today he still believes,
He still delivers their cards
When you see him,
Don't believe his cards
Don't believe him
For then you will be the twelveth

Ten men with big grey beards
Ten Noah's on a tower
Ten Noah's on an Egyptian Boat
An Ark for plants

Only the postman will believe them, when they open their books,

Only the mailman will
For he is their god
The eleventh of ten
Don't follow their path,
for then you will be number twelve ...

I'm so sorry for the mailman's wife ...
Now she's in the Lion's Confusion ...
Her husband appeared to be the god of ten Men with big grey beards and round glasses ...
Ten Noah's on a ship for trees
Her tears The flood
Now they send cards,
actually playcards ...
To play with people ...

Ten men to build an ark,
from Pinocchio's Wood,

The holy tree

To save all flowers, to save all herbs ...

Or is it their prison ?

They are playing a strange game

Cuyornaida Corset

Sending cards to strangers

Invitations from a dentist's heart

Ten mad dentists from the strange sun

And a mad mailman is their god

The eleventh of ten

The holy cactus ...

The flag on their ship of mud

But I could escape

Me The red rose

Escaping this ship of doom,

This big dream

To tell you this story,

So please listen closely

The plants are their prisoners

The cards they send out

To deceive the mass

But no one will believe them when they will open their books

Only the mailman will

Their god,
The holy cactus

And still he brings cards everyday

Still he brings their newspapers,
mad magazines

But no one will believe, when they will open their books

Ten books of the wizard,
Ten bibles in a row

When they will be opened No one will believe

Only the mailman will
So please never become a mailman,
for you will be their twelveth

Ten men called Noah ...
Ten dentists in a row
Capturing all trees and flowers in their ark
Except the red rose
I escaped

Ten businessmen
Gepetto is their mailman
Neptune's little fairy weeps
Sailing in Gepetto's Tree
Cuyornaida Corset

In this they grow
It's the big dream
Only a red rose could escape

Someone came back from the dentist

With a mouth full of flowers,

Me ...

The Red Rose

I don't believe in them anymore

I escaped their ark

With a mouth full ofred roses

Ten men of terror ...

Ten dentists inviting our teeth

Looking for new marketsquares

To play their games

But my teeth don't believe in them anymore

I have a mouth full of red flowers

Blooming in the night

Their ark of doom,

where is it going to ?

they are heading for the mad sun

Like pirates for their homeland

Selling captivated teeth

Sacrificing them to the old snake

But when Gepetto wakes up

The eye of another dentist will be opened

The eye of the forester

To bring the mailman back

I have a cactus in my mouth ...
A holy tooth
A holy book
A holy genesis
About ten Noah's on a ship
With the mailman as their god
The eleventh of ten

a woman called marion

Gepetto's hand is on my heart
Heading for a new Aquarius
For the Licorice has struck

It seems I'm in the Lion's Confusion again
I'm drinking from the Lion's Tea
A woman called Marion is feeding me
She loves the Red Rose
She loves me

She has ten men painted on her hat
Trees grow on her hat, and all sorts of herbs and plants
Her face is like the yellow flower

Escaping The Big Dream

These ten men, she sais are ten dreams
Too far away Too far to dream

But their playcards bring it in your mind

And it all comes too close

too near

This is the secret of the holy cactus

It all happens when they eat

Then you don't know where you are anymore

And the Lion's Confusion becomes yours

And when the red rose touches the yellow flower

It will start all over again

But then you will see it through a different eye

The eye of the forester

The second eye of Aquarius

Then you will see the gardener has touched your heart

Just to let things grow and bloom

He just does it in a strange way

For it becomes yours when it's strange

Things too far away will continue to tingle your mind

And become too close, nearer than anything

In this he can plant his seed,

To let the flower grow

It comes over you when the ten men eat

It is formed when you eat

And when I eat it will bloom

The Lion's Tea

The tea of the cactus

All a gift to you

To let your garden grow

To bring the hand of gepetto on your head

Dreams too far away
Will get too close soon enough
But in this the magic will grow
And it appeared all to be ... different Misunderstanding from the Lion's tea

I think I'm fainting
She has a shelter inme forever
These ten men
These ten fingers of Toth
They were actually my friends
Finally

Is this the factory of Marion ?
Is this the Lion's Tea ?
All these gods
They came to earth
They sent us cards
Just to trick us
Just to bring us The world ... beyond Fairytale
They are our worst enemies, but our best friends

the tale's journalist

And who am I ?
I am the red rose
escaping a lion's ship

swimming through marion's tears
heading for a new story to tell you

But who am I in real ?
I am still Neptune's little fairy,
And still the tale's journalist after all these years
With Arcturus in my heart
I opened the Eye of Gepetto,
He's still a good businessman after all these years
And a forester
A good dentist
Nice for the children,
But full of tricks

And we are still together, after all these years
He and me
The businessman and the journalist
Heading for the sun of Aquarius
The mad sun
Here we all drink from the Lion's Tea
Mixed with Cactus and Licorice
That good old Licorice
Still the gardener of our squares
Still our hope to touch the moon
Having ten little men on his white gloves
The ten fingers of Toth
I'm feeling his smoke in my back
Like the waves of old oceans

These are dragon dreams

These are dreams of the cat

These are cigars of Pharaos

A new city to enter

These are dreams to escape and dreams to enter again

While everything has changed

For we looked through different glasses

Holy glasses

Glasses from ten men

Round glasses

Or are they Gepetto's glasses

Here we go again

Diving deeper into the Lion's Confusion

Heading for a new flower

When the Licorice will strike another time

the kid's the captain

Ten American Dollars are lying on a toyman's counter

An old man bought ten little plastic sailors

For his grandson

He will have his birthday tomorrow

The toyman smiles

They come alive in the night, he says

An old woman is smiling she's the wife of the old man

She just bought some licorice for her grandson

In the candy's shop at the corner of the street

Ten pieces of big licorice

The grandson is glad he's just four years old

He doesn't realize the deep story behind the ten sailors and the ten big pieces of licorice but his grandparents know

His grandfather was mailman in his early days And sailed many seas

And grandmother worked in a shop for card-games and other sort of games, and also in a shop for old telephones So they know all about it

One day they will let him read the book of the ten sailors

They will give it for his birthday when he will be twelve

Then he can be the twelfth of ten

They smile and look forward to that day

From his father he got a plastic ship

So now he can sail with these ten sailors

Without knowing who they are

But he will love it

For there's magic behind

And they are sure the boy will feel it

For kids feel a lot

Things they cannot define

For they are too far away yet

But that's why it is all so close actually

That's why they are closer than anybody

And that's why they are the true captains on these sorts of ships

He likes the mailman

He got a lot of cards today

Also a card from ten men

Oh, I know these men, he sais
I saw them in the zoo,
They were looking for a red rose
And then I said ... one grows in our garden
So they said they would send me a card

His mother smiles
She's so proud of her little son ...
She doesn't believe in anything of this all
And that's maybe better for her son
For when he grows up, and wants to escape the big dream
He can find a shelter in her
To see that he's always
..... the captain of his own dreams

Toy-Movies

It's the dream of every kid
The Toy-Movie
When it's sun shines that red ray
It's time to play
You can ride into the movie ...
And go where you want to go
It all happens in your own room

Just close your curtains and wait for the sun to shine through ...
The Toy-Movie

At night you will have to wait for it's moon, or for it's shining star

So that you can play at night

The Toy-Movie ...

Every kid's dream ...

Wait for it's invitation

Wait for the touch of it's hand ...

The little fir knows where to find you

Always the toy-movie's master

Just step in his carriage,

and hold it's hand very tight

Then your dream will begin

A world of dreams you will enter

And this all happens in your room

The floor will come alive,

The ceiling and the walls

The furniture, the cupboards,

and even your own clothes

The movie can begin

achernar's friend

I'm riding the pole-animals

You must be achernar's friend

Your words echo through the night ...

You are the faery's dream

You ride the sun, speaking calm words in slow-motion, trying to enter through my spine ... but I keep it tight I will not let myself slide into a new rabbithole again ...

But you are not a rabbit but a lion well at least you wear the lion's clothes

well you must be achernar's friend ... your words creep slowly into the night like the lion's slowmotion i know you are an actress but i'm an actress too ... wasting my words into an old basket leaving one shoe behind

i'm riding the milk your words cannot enter ... my mother protected me too well ... you must be achernar's friend your words get too slow until they fade away into a place i don't know ... i'm heading for rio ... colours too wild but you push me back to archernar, and i have to wait for the next newspaper, next century everything goes so slow here i'm heading for the desert called "everything" ... to become as mean as you or isn't slow the same as mean ?

no one can ever judge you for being too fast

but you could create the faery's rain, although you deny it your deserts get slower every year,

and your money smaller

this is how the bills fade away ...

your deserts are too hot ... money burns ...

you're achernar's friend no doubt about it

the lion's slowmotion, you still live in that little house the lion's slowmotion... you still live deep down in the desert having wild dreams and i know this desert will roar against me, i know this desert will roar ...

until i have become this desert until i have become ...you

achernar's friend ...

Little wild cat man

You are the candyman

You are the candyman

You are the best man

You are the candyman

I'm walking down the streets of little Aquarius,
I wonder who I will meet today,
It's always excited, to see the streets so full of men,
Of little men escaping from a wizard's dream

It is the candyman,
That little man,
That keeps hitting me today,
I need a friend in my surroundings,
To watch my pain.

It is the candyman,
That magic man,
That keeps me brave today,
It is my best friend,
He is for always to stay.

You are the candyman,
That little candyman,
You are the best man,
The little and best man.

You are the candyman,
So full of candy man,
He is the candy, and also he's a man.

I watch his dreams today,
They are so funny and so sweet,
I wonder where he's going,
I hope to my friends,
For it's a little man I want to share,
The pride of a wizard's heart,
He is the candyman,
That little candyman.

And when a nightmare rides his way to me,
And tries to increase my pain,
There is this candyman,
That cowboyman to bring it on his knees,
He is the candyman, that cowboyman, he brings me to deeper dreams,
And when he calls me,
There is a brand new day.

It is the candyman,
It is the candyman,
It is the best man,
You are that candyman.

That little candyman,
That funny cowboyman,
He is a wild man,
That little wild cat man.

He is a dreamerman,

A little dreamerman,
He is the wizard's man,
The wild cat from the den.

He is the childhood's man,
He is the forest's man,
He is the wildman,
The wild cat candyman.

He is the little man,
He is the best man,
You're still that candyman,
That dreaming candyman.

That dreaming candyman,
That dreaming candyman,
The dreaming candyman,
The dreaming candyman,
A dreaming candy ... man ...

He is dreaming about you
He is dreaming about me
He is dreaming about candy

The wizard's candy
The wizard's men
The wizard's little men

All his little men

All little men
The wizard's men

All wizard's men
All dreamer's men
All dreaming men
The wizard's men

Poetry from the White Chocolate

The Decision of the Round Table Churches

"A red picnic was all I could think about, that worst day in my life Was it all the trick of a Tiger ? Or is this just another trick from the Lion's Tea ?"

little gamble man

Dreaming, dreaming, dreaming,
There he cycles on his fairy's bike ...
Dreaming, dreaming, dreaming,
There he cycles to the grave
There he lost his mother,
There he lost his red barret
There he dances and swings with his bullets
For he lost his dogs
And he lost his blue corsets
For he lost his cocks,

and he lost his big brown hat ...

There he cycles,
in his little blue rollerskate ...
There he dreams and he's on his way to you

For he found his father,
and he found his blue cuckoo

For there he found his dogs,
and his mother and his cue

There he cycles,
yes he's on his way to you
For there he found everything,
which he lost three miles away or two ...

There he's smiling,
for he's spinning a new dream

There he's waving,
for he wants you to see

It's all somewhere,
it is never really lost
And when he touches you,
you can get it for awhile or lose

For it's all from him,
and he takes it when he wants

You can borrow,
but it's always in his hands ...

You can steal it,
but it's never really there

For what you steal, you don't have anymore around the corner of the street

And what you took might be gone at the end of every year

He knows the seasons, yes he knows when winter bleeds ...

He invented the years, and the places where you can be

But it's all a dream, and you never really know your place ...

It is all to fear, for you never know your year ...

yes it's all so lost and it's all so far away

But it is also close and it will eat you on it's way

You don't know when the sun rises in your head

You don't know it, for it can be another's sun instead

For it's all too late and it's all too early to tell

And it's all too endless

When the little gamble man puts his puma claw on you voice of the puma

He wants you to forget,

He wants you to remember,

when his clock strikes

He wants you to dream,

He wants you to have a nightmare,

When his bikebell strikes

For you are in his wheel,

And he sucks your pockets empty whenever he wants

But it's to protect you

For when you would be too full you would explode

He steals your pockets empty,

to bring it to the maze

It's on the wheel forever

To give others a chance

It's bleeding red coffee,

To wake up another one's dream,

And bring him some money,

Which he could never have because of you

And now the dream is alive

And now the fear has struck

For the wheel wants to spin,

To bring luck to the other side of the world

Instead of here

Instead of you

Instead of me

It's in his pockets now

He's the robin hood of the gamble world,

having an automaton on his back

To fly over the world

To serve the wheel ...

For it's all too far and it's never easy to see

That the dream is over when his wheel comes to the city

Endless nights

Endless winters
An endless dream
An endless sleep
All upto him
The little puma man

So let us all share our places, and our dreams of coffee-cream

Let us all share our money
Let us be on the back of the little puma man
And hear the ticking of his little clock
To know he steals to share
That little robin,
That little robin hood

red coffee

Bring your dreams to the bakers ...
Let them divide the bread
Let them race not only to your street, but also to the other side of the world ...
Oh yes, share your bakers
And also share your heart's desires,
Before the little puma,
will come to tear it all away
For the gamble's wheel
Will shatter all which is not torn
Will let the casino's cycle
To the end of the world
To divide their manners,

To share their coffee-creams
To bring all their bakers to the rooms where they could not be seen

Yes the wheel will spin, and make your things lost
You will lose your mothers,
You will lose your lethal dogs
You will lose your fathers,
Your glasses and your dreams

But you will find them all back on the other side of the world
There where the bakers feed the hungry hearts
Where your eye doesn't dare to watch
Where your hand covers your head, scared of the dust

Learn to be at all places,
and things will never be lost
learn to give away all you have,
and you will find it all over the seas
Shining more than yesterday

The secret of sleep

The secret of the tea
The lion's tea

And all these little men
They come from the tea
The lion's tea

And all these little men
They work

for the tea
The lion's tea

And yes, you will misunderstand them,
yes you will try to trick them and to hunt them down

But that's all in the tea
They gave you the drink

But that will all be over,
It will all be clear,
when you drink the red coffee,
and hide away from all fear
Then you will shake the hands of all these little men
Then you woke up to another world

And you will know the secret of ten

For when the tiger wakes up, it's red coffee you will drink ...
And your dreams will sink to the endless bottom,
And there is nothing you will think
For you will only know You will only know you woke ...
And your dreams have melted into the little gate in the endless bottom

There the comics reign, and the cartoons serve the cubes ...

when the giant wakes up

Yes you want to know, and you also want to dream

But more to fish at it, instead of swimming in it,
for you woke up to tomorrow's world

And the Tiger protects you,
and also his little man ...

And the juices you drink will be the best you ever drank
For you don't swim in it anymore, you only drink the dream,
and it goes to your stomache,
where it gets it's place to reign the stream

It will have it's throne, and it will have it's staff to rule, and it can also scream for that's the emperor's manner of playing games

But you rule in yourself, you will never ever swim

You will only drink, you will only watch the game

And it's balls will fill you, and you will never have to cry

You will only laugh, for that is all the reason why

For life's the biggest joke,
so endless no one understood,
but when the Giant wakes up,
there's a clown who can solve the puzzle

And the candle of dreams will be swept away for sure

And your dreams will be swallowed in the gates of the deepest earths

There they will cry as kids and you will never have to be,
their child again, for it's a new day to win

Summer's on, and winter has gone,
and the fruit isn't what it was

It's now red coffee,
It's now a red picnic day ...

For the giant hit the clown ...

Yes, the endless joke,
the little man of jokes

sits on the back of the panther

is this the birth of the panther's prince ?
the fish brought you to paradise,
a wild cat saved your life

knocking on old chocolate

I know I am

A red picnic was all I could think about that worst day in my life

Was it all the trick of a Tiger ?

Or is this just another trick from the Lion's Tea ?

I'm knocking on the old chocolate for an answer

But the old bunny doesn't open it's door

Still saying "no".

I know one day I will drink from the Chocolate's Milk,
streaming from the rat's game

maybe sooner than I know

I'm having this whole red picnic in my mother's bag

running to the wizard

He knows what I have to do with all these little men

Or are they just ants ?

When a woman throws her shoe, you can better hide

For these will tell you tales you don't want to hear

Unfortunately I heard such a tale,
ten-thousand years ago

I still walk with bottomless wounds

I don't believe in birthdaycakes anymore

It seems I will be on this bird with the woman's head forever

Ah, there's the wizard He has the face of an ant

Well, hello, wizard, nice to see you

Can you tell me what this red picnic is all about ?

Please say all these little man coming and going in my life weren't ants

The woman doesn't like her

Then she will shake me off

Then I will fall from her back and fall into the bottomless pit below the bird ...

The woman looks into my eyes

"You have ant-eyes" she sais

There I go,

falling

No tear can save me

Even the glued tears can't

When this woman lets me fall,

no one can catch me

She's the only one who can save me

But oh, thank God, she gave me the gnat's wings

And the wasp's sting to have a weapon against the dangerous creatures in the bottomless pit

Well, she was always nice to me

She didn't let me go into this pit without a good picnic

A red picnic

curse of the insect

The red woman smiles

I'm not bad after all ... she sais

I'm hearing my favourite music on the radio

Recording it in my head

Her red juices were always the best definitely

She smiles

I always used to hide when a lady smiled

But this time I'm opening my wings

Is it the curse of the insect ?

There the wizard shuts the ball

An ornament is sitting before it

It looks like an insect

Speaking with a thousand voices

There I faint

I didn't know this would ever happen to me

On the field kids are playing football

Well, this happens when they do that,

the wizard tells

Yeah I say,

and when my aunt is baking an egg,

the same will happen, right ?

Exactly, the wizard says ... unless it falls on the ground ...

When the insect-egg is shining,

everything melts away

Then a red picnic is born

Give me the bag ... he asks

I will give you another bag for tomorrow he sais

No ! I scream ... not another bag ... not another picnic, I beg you please

I'm crying all colours of the rainbow

Life like this really scared me

Shh .. he sais

It's not another picnic it's a book

A book about the picnic

Is it dangerous ? I ask

No, he sais ... totally not

It's actually something which will make you laugh

Who wrote it ? I ask

I did he sais

Then it must be good, I say

He smiles

trying to escape

I'm the wizard of this red picnic he sais

Without the red picnic you wouldn't be able to see me

The red picnic brought you to me

It's my wife

Well, I'm glad to meet your lady, I say

But I really have to go now

I hope she was the last one I ever met

If you have more wives like this,
Just boot me out of this machine ok ?

I'm crying tears of fear and deep pain
This woman was my hell, and now I have to believe she is my heaven ...
No way !

The doors are locked,
I can't get anywhere outside this place
I beg your pardon, the wizard sais ...
There are no other places
This is all there is

Yeah, right, I scream
You're ripe for a mental help
I know a good man selling ice-creams maybe he can help
It's too hot in your hat, buddy !

I'm so confused about this guy,
calling himself the wizard of the red picnic
Thinking he's Oz himself ...
my mother taught me to never accept candy from strangers
or just bring it to her for a mother's research
But this guy gets me so far
He now sais the red lady was my mother and she is the only mother I will ever have
There are no other mothers besides her

I'm slamming in the air
Trying to hit this whole scary cloud-castle to the ground
There I'm fainting again in my desperate screams

Are you ok ? The little gamble man asks trying to comfort me
No, I say I just had a nightmare
I'm totally upset
Yesterday's nightmares will be tomorrow's doorways, he says while turning around, and disappearing in the snow

a strange turn around

I never saw him again, that little gamble man and neither that strange wizard
It all happened very long ago And it's still very clear in my mind
I'm not really looking for it But in a sense it was all very interesting
Like there are things worse than it
I mean : It was like heaven and hell at the same time
And it's like I feel the red path burning under my feet
Far away, but close
I can't describe it
It still feels strange but Sometimes I think maybe it was all true
When I sometimes look at my mother, it's like I see that red lady
And when I look at my father it's like he's that wizard
but I don't know, maybe I just fantasize too much I must say : Yesterday my mother asked if I would go for a red picnic together with dad ...
I said : never again !

Then she asked me to go for a blue picnic
I told her that doesn't exist according to ...someone
She asked me who
I said I couldn't tell I didn't want to bring anyone in troubles
But today it was on television :
They said : Blue picnics don't exist
This was something they decided today A round table of churches
While I told her yesterday blue picnics didn't exist
So she asked me who of these churches told it to me before it was on television
I said : mom, it was a wizard a red one and Mom fainted
A couple of minutes later after drinking some water she woke up saying : how do you know about the red wizard ?
He died just before you were born
He was my first husband I never told you about this
But he is your real father

There I faint it was all too much for me
My present father tries to soothe me
But I can't be soothed I'm shocked
My whole body is aching,
and my mother has red spots on her face

finally home

I'm awakening in little amsterdam
It was a long dream
My mother is soothing me

My step-mother
For my real mother died long ago
She died when I was three years old
By an accident
Crashed by a red car
My stepfather is also with me
Holding my hand
He was my real father's friend
My real father died before I was born
He has been drowned
While there was a storm on the North-Sea
His ship sunk
Only his friend survived
My present dad ... my stepfather
He married my present mother after my real mother died ...
She was my mother's friend
They were both in the car
Only my stepmother survived

My stepdad is a wonderful man He can always bring my heart at ease

He tells me he has a present for me

He had waited for the right moment

It was a present from my real father

When the storm was after their boat

My father told his friend, my present stepfather, if he wouldn't survive, to give his coming child, me, this present when it would be an adult it was a golden cigarette lighter, with a golden lion, a golden tiger, rat and other animals on it It was beautiful It has been on my father's boat for many many years

Then my stepmom tells me she has also a present for me, from my real mom ... She sais when my real mom was dying in the hospital, she said : give this present to my son when he's grown-up ... it was a beautiful ornament, like in my dream I would hang it in my room

It's snowing outside I'm so happy with my stepmom and stepdad And this all is bringing me closer to my real mom and dad It's all very emotional for me But I desire to know more about it I wished I would know my real mom and dad, for I was too young to realize, and my dad even died before I was born

I'm asking my stepdad and stepmom about the blue picnic in my dreams, from which the red wizard said it didn't exist

My stepdad looks into the eyes of my stepmom, and she also looks into his eyes ... then my stepmom takes my both hands, and my stepfather lays his hand on my shoulders ... That is something we never told you about, my stepdad sais, for we thought you wouldn't be ready for it but you have an elder sister she has also been drowned ... the day the storm came it was one of the worst storms our land ever had Thousands of people died Anyway, your sister was also on the ship and she and I tried to save your dad, who fell out of the ship she never returned I lost them both in the storm, ... I was picked up by a helicopter This storm was called "blue picnic" ... it was a ...cyclone

But why did the red wizard tell me there was only a red picnic and nothing more ? And why did all those churches on television in that dream say that the blue picnic didn't exist ? I ask Stepdad looks again in the eyes of my stepmom And she's looking into his ... Then my stepdad takes me in the arms and sais : Son, actually your daddy committed suicide in the storm, using his gun Your sister did the same after she found out ...

I'm deeply shocked Why didn't you tell me earlier ? I ask ...

There I really wake up I'm so glad pffff it was all a dream

My mom and dad are sitting next to my bed ... holding my hand

You were so sick, my mother sais

I'm embracing them I'm so glad you're alive I say ...

My sister is also in my room, looking at me with a worried face

I'm the happiest person ever on earth

I will never knock on old chocolate again

Riddles, Roses and Mockingbirds

is this person singing false, or do I have a false ear

zebras

I'm diving in the Black Pond, looking for some marbles from the past. I lost them in a dream of races. Still there are six horses easing my mind. ... Capricorn's gift

An old man called Moses is bleeding thunder and lightning. I wonder where this train is going to. People always said they couldn't solve my riddles, but this time I have a very easy one. Will the riddle bring you from this point to a point over the Big Mountain ? To let you enter the Big Clock ? My riddles are horses, wild horses, and they are really able to go as fast as my daddy's car Yes, they still bring me to gardens of roses behind nuclear threats

The queen of riddles wears a red shawl, but the rainbow is in it. Why is it that I always return to the rainbow ? It's deep in every colour. A hidden secret. Now I know my riddles, but there are still some I don't understand. I put them in a special corner of my room. They are like roaring lions, and some stand there like purple horses ... A very strange company. If you ask me, these guys can still bring me over the river. But they scare me like hell. Is it the lion's tea, or something worse ? I cannot be comforted ... I love my riddles. I got them from the queen. She said put them in a little box like cigars. So I did, and brought the box to that special corner of my room. I put it on a cupboard ... But sometimes they come out of the box to show their faces. And then it's like a zebra is sliding over my room. Do I like that zebra ? Yes, I really do ... but does he like me, that's the big question. His stripes switch my feelings, and it can really confuse me at times ... These are still the riddles I don't understand. They love me like no one does, or they hate me like hell ... They are no usual figures or moods. They are extreme, and I still have to find out where they live.

And still you are calling your riddles poetry. Still you say it's the lion's tea. Well, this land is big. The stairways are tall ... Where am I, at the begin or the end ? And Someone's blocking my throat. Someone's eating my words away. It's the black christmas-tree, coming from the north. I wonder if he's me friend or not ... There he brings me to his little house, smashing me on the table ... He never hurted me I never felt anything This black knight His face is covered masked like the red zorro he still wears a rainbow inside And his zebra is smiling Hey, there you are again little zebra-boy

Eh....since when am I a zebra It's black christmas dolls are wandering through his forest They look angry They wear big knives They are looking for someone

These dolls come from the south The land of the sun They are looking for me ? No, not that they are angry at me They are angry at that black christmas-tree which took me away ... The dolls now want to cut the tree to serve in their christmas-restaurants They like his little lights rainbow's lights

Now, but this guy never ever hurted me I never felt anything He smashed me on the table like I was a doll well, maybe I am

There the dolls knock on his doors We come to ask our child back, and we want to use you as our christmas-slave Come out !

The red zebra opens the door Eh no way, hunnies It's time the child is here It's not your time yet Kalibra Bazina Look at your watches When it's twelve o'clock you will have your child back

No ! The dolls say he needs to come home now

I'm sorry, the zebra sais and shuts the door

Then we will get our nuclear boats, and put on our nuclear trousers, the dolls say and will return to this maze and kill them all

And that was which they did They returned home to get their nuclear weapons and threats, and went back again to the but there was no forest anymore It all disappeared

See, those stupid wizards kidnapped our child We will have it back on twelve o'clock, and then our kid is proud Then he thinks he's the wizard's son again

The zebra caresses my face This time it's a blue one I'm sick and tired of these dolls who scream in my head

It's all in your head, the zebra sais all in your head

But they don't want me proud I say

But you are, the zebra sais. And you must It is your destiny and your condition your own heart I'm crying rainbows of tears They are so angry I say And they will hurt me if I don't listen to their fairytales Fairytales in which I am a bad zebra

No fairytales like that, the zebra sais

I'm crying nuclear tears I got the bomb, they gave me nuclear food ... for I was ... the bad zebra

No, the zebra sais ... no, no, no, no that's not true No fairytales like that It's all in your head It's not in mine

Then why, why, why, I ask why is it in my head

Because, the zebra sais

And then I can't hear him anymore It's twelve o'clock I'm with the dolls again Yeah, I know I am the bad zebra Yeah, I know your fairytales whatever but the zebra sais it's not true There I go You're crazy, they say It's one o'clock There I slide to my mom and dad's house my doll-parents I know when I get there, I will believe everything they say Ding-dong I'm lost too late

Ha, ha, ha, son, you're back Now you will believe what we try so hard to believe You proud one, you bad zebra, you think you are the wizard's son But here, have a nuclear cucumber ... made by grandma's Forget about your granddad, he's dead He always spoke lies to your head Eat from grandma's delicious candy, you bad zebra-boy pretending to be the wizard's son We will get you down here You are our son and we need you to serve in our restaurants there at the sea To serve nuclear sea-food This is what you are, a sea-slave and nothing more you old bragger And one day we will catch your black zebra-friend, that old christmas-tree from the black zone he can help you with it you will love your nuclear chewing-gum again, like nothing else like never before you

There I faint, I know where I'm going to now something worse I'm sliding to my aunt and uncle's house And I know, like it always was When I get there, I will have to drink from the lion's tea, that nuclear tea and then I will believe them forever, and forgetting about the wizard like it was never there There I will see that all truth is a lie

Are there more houses like this ? I don't know anymore, I'm lying on the table of the black knight again my zebra-friend It was time for him already It's all in your watch, he sais You were never gone But I need to repair your watch It's all in your head

Do you like my riddles ? he asks

Well, I don't know I'm scared

I know you are, he says but does it hurt you ?

No, but

firs

There I faint again, and someone else takes me to his house not a doll, not a zebra I wonder what will happen now Is this the curse of a confused clock ? Am I a slave of a watch ? It brings me from place to place They don't believe in each other Is there something they are hiding ? What is this for a circus Or is this a cursed roundabout ?

I'm looking in the eye of a white fir a fairground-fir, with roundabout-eyes They are beautiful and shining like the rainbow How is that ? My voice is getting higher and softer, like I'm struck by candy Well, is this another trick of my watch ? Who knows

Eh, the fir says you love the riddles too much and they love you It is not what it seems It will never be what it seems For these are just reflections, bringing you from place to place Misunderstanding from the Lion's Tea

But, but I ask is there a way out of this ? Am I ever getting home ? All I can do is cry Rainbow-tears Nuclear Tears

You are already home the white fir says You are just reading books of old fairgrounds, to watch their wild dances Granddad left them for you he wanted you to know All what he gives is magic When you read his books, you are in

I'm crying harder It's so scary, white fir I say Please take me out of this I don't want to read anymore, I'm tired please show me the exit of the book

The exit of the book is deep in your heart, he says It's the fear By fear you can turn the pages, and when the fear gets too much you finally are able to shut the book

But this fear is destroying me, I say is there any other way to the exit ?

Yes, when you start to realize that it is not your fear, but the fear of the book itself to lose you the fir says

But why is the book afraid to lose me, I ask

There I faint he couldn't answer me I was gone already And now I'm reading in another book that which just happened I bet within a few minutes I will see myself reading a book in another book My god, how long will this go on ? It's like I'm walking on an endless stairway Heading for the Exit of books All my hurt is following me These are wild days A whole circus is after me trying to catch my shadows trying to catch my reflections trying to get a piece of my tall dress ...so that they can pull me downstairs again What a horror I want to get rid of the dress It's a fairground-dress made by dwarf-tailors It's all on it's label It's like the elve's glue, it's like the evening-curse I'm running faster, trying to get rid of the dress Anyone help me ! In this tower of books The rabbit's curse The rabbit's pit It was Alice falling in here But I don't trust her either ... Is the real world so nice and good ? I want the best exit of all these fairgrounds The top of the tower To escape out of it's clock forever

The stairway of books It's like the rainbow It's like the zebra The round table of ponds I have the feeling I'm running in circles There's no exit I'm diving in a green pond, a red one and a purple one Without any result The roundabout's curse Rumours from the west, rumours from the east all from the lion's confusion ... the big mix red picnics and blue picnic's it's all in the lion's tea it's all in a glass of water There an innkeeper tries to fish me out of the glass in which I drowned But this book this book I know this book Just another book Curse of the book's wizard

Someone here wants to drive me crazy I'm in the kettles of his books kettle of fantasy All happening in the delirium's palace For craziness created the rainbow, craziness turned the pages, and craziness reached the exit to shut the book forever

A cat called craziness is staring at me smiling saying : only the crazy can turn the pages, only the crazy can exit and shut the books for they were the ones who created it all and so they are the only ones who can destroy it all now who do you want to be ?

A little rabbit called "crazy" is staring at me he is sitting next to the crazy cat he has two big teeth, and some teeth are missing I'm a rabbit-rat he sais Now who do you want to be ?

My tears are hurting me, I still feel someone is after me But if being crazy is the exit, then I want to be

You already were, the rabbit-rat sais Otherwise you weren't here

Give me your watch, he sais Nuclear waste

killers ... from a black ...dream

You are looking for your marbles you lost in a game Diving into the black pond You are looking for your crashed cars Diving into the black pond But it's not there These ponds are enchanted they only reflect your marbles and cars But you must go the other way Don't enter the black pond ever again, he sais For if you follow the reflection it will lead you further away from that which you are looking for These are misleadings of mirrors

Yes, hun, I say, but I bet when I go the opposite way I will meet someone who sais I need to go back and that you are a big liar All opposites are in war Or they say you don't exist All opposites deny each other

The truth is not a place but a condition you can find it everywhere Just look deep enough someone is singing You can find it in everything, the secret of the pond Just dare to dive, just dare to sink Everything is in everything. For the truth is not a place, a person or an object, it is an attitude, a rule and an eye. Just know how to use things, everything talks Just listen to the right voices Speaking from the bottom of the pond It's in everything, in everyone Just dare to dive deep enough

Now is this person singing false, or do I have a false ear

There I see myself diving deeper into the pond, reaching for the Giant's World, where everything talks

They said that Jesus' Son died in a nuclear war Others said he just died on a nuclear cross in a forest But my grandma sais he just died in a little nuclear box in one of her cupboards upstairs Well, in fact, they all say it's a nuclear issue, some truth in the confusion but still maybe we have to look for another truth

My granddad sais when someone goes beyond a pole, the nuclear power starts to flow like a river Now when two of these rivers meet, a sea can burst out Little boy meets fat boy They still work in circus My granddad sais it's still in his head he met them both

It was exactly twelve o clock in the night They met with my grandfather in a big dining room of Aquarius' Palace My grandfather started to eat a nuclear banana There are things he touched in his life, which he still can't forget the curse of remembrance There he touches a nuclear orange ... his eyes start to bleed This land is cursed We are eating cursed food from a cursed land nuclear land

more firs

At one o'clock Aquarius enters the dining room with a golden pear in his hand
You cannot eat it, he says, but you can watch it, while your nuclear hunger is melting away tricks of the stomache The fat boy is getting fatter, and his head is getting greener and bigger while spitting green fire Don't you try to escape our soup, he screams ! The little boy gets smaller very fast and kicks Aquarius in the stomach But Aquarius takes his leg and swings him in the soup-pan on the table.
A glass is spreading nuclear water, but Aquarius sends it away. Go to your room ! he roars. He's the master of nuclear dreams.

My grandfather is shivering under the table where he found a little chemical orange, escaped from a lawyer's suite. Please, jump into me, the little thing roars, then I will take you away Grandfather is getting smaller by the magic of the little orange, and there he disappears into the orange It is a little radio inside It flies from city to city to spread the chemical disease. It is a trap

It's two o'clock A man is entering the dining-room of Aquarius Little boy and fat boy are already in their bedrooms They are Aquarius' sons ... Their nephews are also in their bedrooms already : Worldwar I, Worldwar II and Worldwar III, while Worldwar IV, their elder sister is doing the dishes. They are all children of Father Jakob, who is also in the dining-room, together with Aquarius, drinking some strong liquors from some old battles well actually pieces of chess But a man is entering the dining-room ... standing on the balcony He roars like a million of lions,he is asking for a certain piece of chess a red pawn. It escaped from his ship He's a blind man with round red glasses and a big grey beard It's the Noah from the ark of games But Aquarius stands up, raises his glass and roars :
Go to your bedroom, granddad, it's not your time yet But there another old man is running on the balcony Where are my shoes, where are my shoes ? He's the noah of the ark of clothes Go to your bedroom, granduncle, Aquarius roars You already have your shoes Then the palace is shaking Another granduncle is coming home The Noah from the ark of planets gathering all planets for the night There he's riding on his red bike His big grey beard is waving in the wind Welcome, granduncle, your bedroom is already waiting for you with warm tea for the night All planets are in the tea Just drink

Father Jakob is laughing He loves it when Aquarius, his brother, speaks Tomorrow all the Noah's will go to their ships again All these ships are sleeping in the haven of Aquarius now waiting for the new day Their flags are waving in the night-winds And now the roars of the Noah's go into the night to visit the cities and the villages These are the lions of the Noah's

Did you ever hear the voices of a thousand Noah's ? Telling you all sorts of things You can never understand them, never hearing exactly what they say For they all speak at the same moment It's mixed like the lion's tea Roaring in the night

The boss of the haven is the boss of noah's the boss of arks the boss of bridges the boss of rainbows He's the Noah of noahs Mr. Noah He wears a black police-cap He's the Noah of the ship of elements. Here the wind lives, the fire, and all the other elements, even the sea himself Mr. Noah has a grey beard and round glasses, blue ones he has rainbow-teeth, and always works in the night There he sits in his rainbow-house in the haven behind his organ With this thing he rules the world All lions listen to him There the music slides over the houses like juice preparing the days of tomorrow

It's three o'clock ... Aquarius and Father Jakob are sleeping Everyone sleeps only a little red fir is walking through the corridors of the palace lions are following him his footsteps bring everything in a deeper sleep the walls, the tea-cups, the floors and the ceilings the furniture, the lamps on the walls, the lamps standing on the floor and the lamps hanging on the ceilings whispers are filling the house There he sits behind the whisper-organ and starts to play Natrium slides through the night To switch between the poles, and to awaken the substances to bring balance Nature is speaking

Ten firs in a row A toy-fir is caressing my hair It's a little spruce-fir a green one He has a nuclear-camera in his hands I'm scared What do you do with that thing ? I'm making toys with this ... he says When I have enough pictures of something, I throw it in my kettle to make a toy of it

There a little yellow fir steps forward ... he has a big smile he's the game-fir, the green one says ... when he has enough toys, he can make the game it's all in his kettle There he takes off his yellow hat and puts it on my head

A little blue fir is caressing my hands He tries to sooth my fears, but it roars like a million lions I'm still so scared He looks into my eyes and says : No one knows me, and I don't know anyone All I know is that I created them When I have enough games I make candy of them

His face is shining and switching between many shades and shapes I can't follow them It's like the maze but it attracts me to find it out It's like a magnet

I'm the funpark-fir ... the dream-fir Your power to move to travel I always take you away with my carriage

The colors make me so dizzy, and they are changing before my eyes I get so lost with all these colors and shapes

Ten firs, ten dreams, ten noah's on a horse but they were all the same I'm staring into one little fir's eyes A rainbow-fir

"You drank too much," he sais that's why you saw ten firs ... instead of one

What did I drink ... I ask oh god, not the lion's tea again

Yep, he sais the Lion's Tea again When one person comes to you, you see ten or even a thousand or a million It's all in the tea

Well, have a nice day too, I say but I'm going to go ...for this gets too much Can I trust anyone in this realm of the Big Tea, or must I say : "Majesty" ?

You see the whole world with all it's things he sais but it's only one thing You drank too much Did you like the trip ?

No, get it out of me, I roar

Well, the fir sais ... you finally can roar, you are one of us now

There I go, crying like Alice sitting in another ark, escaping another flood how long will this take The fir is the captain on the ship I bet he was also Alice

I'm everything, he sais Yeah, I sigh

He's watching through his telescope Now he looks like a pirate This sea is full of swimming lions but it's all him They roar, but it's him Maybe he's the wizard of the lion's tea A lot of roaring in one glass of water But this guy is nice and sweet so I will give him a chance the last one or I will go to sleep and cry myself through the night What a horrible nightmare I am in Or is it just the present-paper of a beautiful dream I'm heading for America, for another egg of Columbus The little fir is soothing me : "It was all me ... just me ... shhh ... it's ok ..." he speaks quietly He's chewing nuclear candy I feel myself like Noah what do I have to do with the ship ? It's raining lions now I'm walking inside the ship playing some games with the little fir games from the Big Rainbow Cuyornaida Corset ... but the rainbow-version the good version I'm feeling like Pinocchio feeling the juices of his tree flowing through my body It was a fir A christmas fir It reaches for the chocolate wars

There I'm sliding into sleep It got too much But the little fir is staying by my side I'm sliding through a thousand of lion-holes In full speed What a little tea can do

A new watch is growing at my pulse A nuclear watch a rainbow version the good version how to write stories without a pencil The secret of a copy-machine ... Now I understand all these copyrights They are afraid of a nuclear war

It's four o'clock in the night The little fir is sitting in the Palace in the dining room surrounded by his lions The atmosphere is too mysterious to describe I feel bubbles in my stomach These lions are riddles his riddles It's ok, I will watch this movie to the end When I look in his eyes it's like a million lions are staring at me But when I look at my hands ... and then at his surroundings, all lions are gone It's strange then when I look at my hands again ... it's like they are turning into lion's claws ... what the heck are you doing to me, I roar It's like I have a million of claws I'm looking at the fir again, but now an old tall and slender man is standing there with a tall beard I'm the wizard of the Lion's Tea, he says It's all a nuclear trick

I'm scared You don't have to be scared, he says

But, I say ... almost crying I wanted to speak to the lion's tea wizard for so long but I'm scared that I will have another trick before me I want to speak the real wizard from the lion's tea

There I'm fainting, seeing a thousand of old faces all giggling at me It hurts my head If I didn't ask that question I would have another story in the roundabout leading me to nowhere I'm roaring like a lion ... like I never did before I'm screaming like a nuclear radio And starting to spin myself around like a cyclone Something I always did when I had a nightmare It seems I'm a victim and a slave of the lion's tea and I am still looking for the exit or the big wizard whatever

Then I'm hearing a song :

Tunes, they are wandering through your head, they are wandering through your mind

Looking for the end Tunes they are looking for the master The big and awesome master The master of the tea

It was something you drank, and now you want to know what it was, for it sticks in your stomach all the time yes, it sticks in your throat, and now it sticks in your mind waiting to be puzzled waiting to be read

Tunes, they are walking through your mind, they are sitting on the faery's carriage, waiting for the way out Oh yes, they can turn strange, and even a little crazy yes, they can totally change All they do is looking for the exit looking for the way out They are finding their ways to the wizard misunderstanding from the lion'stea streaming from the big clock streaming from the desert's heart, to let you touch the sea

Tunes

Well, nice song, I think, but it doesn't bring me anywhere Oh help, my whole body is changing into a lion now And I feel the lion's tea streaming from my own heart now my nuclear heart It's ticking like the faery's rain Singing new songs songs from the lion's tea

Well I am one of them now this whole lion's tea circus But what did it really bring me ... I'm still looking for that Big Wizard The Great Great Oz from the Lion's Tea Maybe finally Dorothy can help me, and her little dog Toto She's the road to Oz Or is it Hitler's Tongue ? I will not follow the yellow brick road this time, I will take the red one Or shall I take the rainbow road ?

It's five o'clock in the night It's silent in the dining-room No fire, no lions the little golden pear of Aquarius is ticking on the table It's ticking very soft and slow It's soothing my head It's like the Giant's Rain I see all my fears and hurt melting away, spiralling into the golden pear They were all voices from the dwarves I'm finally in the Giant's world all these fire-dreams brought me there I'm still crying, but all my tears slide into the golden pear, melting away I can only hear their echoes, but it's all fading away all these roaring lions There's a lion carved in the golden pear but I also see other animals carved into it It's a beautiful golden pear It smells like pear-chocolate It reminds me of the white chocolate The giant house in little Amsterdam It also reminds me of the last golden swan This is where so many dreams come together I'm so glad to be in this waking house in the sleeping forest or is it a farm in the pasture ?

This is the place where all houses come together I will sleep in the bed of Oneness
.....

I'm hearing a song in the distance :

Here I stand, between the forests and the towers, where all things appear to be one and the same Here I stand between the flowers and the papers, where everything brings the same message, where everything brings the same sound. It is the sound of the rainbow, the sound of the white light, it is the voice of the giant, all voices in one, it is the sound of the wizard, which lives in the desert, which lives in the sea, which name is everywhere where all places come together, where all dreams collide, where all saints burn their mazes, where all fears are destined to hide
There is a path, there is a dream which leads to the place of places, where all fears melt away, for oneness is alive

And I'm hearing another voice singing through it :

There's white chocolate, in every dream, where the dream meets the dream, where the house meets the house, where the circle hits the circle there the chainlet will rise, there the ornament will speak, it is the voice of the giant, it is the voice of the meek

And a third voice is saying through it :

Like lovers and dreamers, they are looking for oneness, the line which binds together, the connection between two. Like lovers and dreamers, they are looking for the circle, where the last one touches the first one, and where the positions are switching, there where no one wins, and there where no one loses, but there where oneness rules, and where it repeats itself, and transforms itself, until it's an ornament forever.

It's six o'clock in the morning I took yesterday's newspaper, mixed the letters and saw tomorrow's bible

Seven o'clock in the morning The pear-clock is still ticking Nuclear ornaments are appearing on my body like glue

Eight o'clock in the morning It seems I'm all alone

Nine o'clock in the morning Nothing happens

Ten o'clock in the morning I want to have some tea, but I'm scared of lion's tea, so I will drink some water without using a glass

Eleven o clock in the morning The pear-clock is ticking louder and louder, faster and faster

Twelve o clock in the afternoon The pear-clock explodes

The end of a white chocolate dream or was it an orange chocolate ?

About this the war rages Chocolate Wars

The Orange's Cabman

raising the doll

Suddenly I'm with Sarsia in an old castle. Her sister Vonja is playing the piano in another room. The nuclear rejection was kicked out by a boy called nuclear acceptation. That can happen when it's Echo's birthday ... He's sitting in another room, with some of his lions. One side of his face was destroyed by a nuclear war. His other side looks more like a nuclear birthday.

I'm on warpath ... Someone stole the doll of my sister ... She's still crying on the stairs ... She doesn't want to eat ... But she's still the voice of many fairytale cartoons. With her golden keyboard she still tries to connect to her doll. She always laughed while he was speaking, he had such a funny speech, but now she is a nuclear victim The result of a nuclear loss.

Sarsia is soothing my face I swallowed a nuclear orange ... from a lawyer's suite long ago She's caressing my orange hair ... I would never have met Mr. Orange without it ... So, it's ok ... Mr. Orange is sitting next to me smoking an orange cigar He's the result of a nuclear lawsuit between grandmom and granddad ... There she's raising the doll against him my sister's doll It doesn't belong there ... It belongs to be with my sister I wonder who brought it to grandma's ...

My granddad has a trafficlight-ball in his hand an orange ball flickering trying to be neutral

But grandma hits it with the doll, and it's dashing in a thousand pieces Mr. Zebra is smiling Now we have a thousand oranges Mr. Orange is smiling too Even his orange cigar is smiling Now we have enough soldiers for the coming war You never told me the orange was the way to the little men Is this the lawyer's suite orange ? My granddad and grandma just wanted to adopt a dwarf They wanted to have a friend for me Raising the doll.

The Giant's Whistling-kettle Orchestra

"Thanks to the apple Is this the road to the Giant's World ? I'm hearing the nuclear flutes getting higher and higher The tea is boiling The whistling-kettle of the giants is singing."

from tea to glue

I'm fighting with my nuclear trousers ... It's not a pillow-fight this time ... Not a fruit-fight and not a chocolate's war ... No, it's real bad this time ... much worse He ate my shoes, and my hat away ... But the nuclear tongue will bring justice today I will shut the nuclear book I will eat my nuclear apple

I never liked it to see my uncle entering a fish's hospital ... nuclear smoke came out of his ears. He's still smoking his father's cigarettes ... And my aunt's old shoelaces ...

An orange brought me to granddad, and an orange brought me to a lion's dog ... a sheepdog But it was all nothing but a dwarve's trick, trying to get my attention

There he smashes the door open ... When he does it, it's like a hundred doors are smashed open There he's standing in the door-opening Wearing a flower with poison-seas When he pushes the button, I'm out Which means Flying in the air like a hell-raiser, looking for some old shoes his shoes I never understand why he always did this to me

It's my birthday ... I get red velvet dwarve shoes, with golden decoration ... Golden shoe-laces But the shoes are easy for me to enter ... I can even swim in them, if I would like This means that I have become a dwarf this night An apple's dream or an orange's dream About this the wars are raging But it's not a fruit-war ... no It's something worse Spice

Someone wants to kill my dream ... It's forbidden to dream But that's their dream I'm running to the spicery behind my grandma's and granddad's house A little fir is cooking something No, not a fir, please, I beg I have enough of firs They confuse me ... Please get him away there No lion's tea anymore He almost killed me when I was a little boy He came to me in the night smashed the door open, like a million of doors were smashed open standing there like a pirate on rollerskates ! No ! Not again I'm scared of his black jacket

Let someone close this door ... please

A dwarve in a wheel-chair is staring at me when he glides through the night it's like nuclear bells are ringing nuclear noise from the Big Drum No Clowns !
Please !

I'm hearing a song :

Apple, Apple, what are you buying, Apple Apple, from so far away It seems you buy yourself, to have an apple for the next day

I'm under the curse of the Leprechaun ... No doubt about it I'm holding my breath, for this tune sounds as scary as my grandaunt's old shoe But I'm trying to keep myself calm fishing at some old shoe-laces I can use them to hang my clothes on for a big dry

Apple, Apple, soon you will be, a grandmother on a grandmother's knee ...

I'm doing the tiger-movements My grandfather taught me He always said when I would ever meet an apple like this, it was the secret road to the Old World nuclear antiquity ... I'm standing before nuclear ancient red dragons Thanks to the apple Is this the road to the Giant's World ? I'm hearing the nuclear flutes getting higher and higher The tea is boiling The whistling-kettle of the giants is singing ... The Evening-Fog is ticking on my windows very loud The Giant's Echo is speaking Messages from a million years ago ... From the black lemonade.

When the whistling-kettle is speaking, all other voices have to shut Now the tea will boil until it's glue ... These are nuclear tricks ... These are nuclear days Then the orchestra starts to play ...

the scratch

A nuclear violin is running on the football-field ... looking for an old doll ...

The wizard kid is smiling When the glue reaches his kettle, his flutes will start to play ... There he smiles deep and gently to an old cat ... In deep slow-motion It seems everything is his friend When he's blinking his eyes, you're on the photo ...
He learned it from his two aunts ... They still work in that old photo-shop The blink of an orange ... or is it an apple About this the wars still rage Not a fruit-
war but something much worse Spice ...

Masters of echo's, masters of shoe-laces ... burning their way to the little fir's kettle He's working for mr. Spice Forget about the fir ... Just pass him by and walk into the forest behind my grandparents' garden ... When the kettle screams you're in ... Here the spice grow ... seeds from Arabian lions My two aunts still work there They say it's the way to the wizard ... But I'm sick of wizards ... They are teasing me my whole life ... So please give me some other dreams ... Or no just give me my trousers back ... My two towers to wonderland no two towers to my shoes and to my hat

I'm jumping over the wizard's mountain ... having my Giant Shoes They walk like whistling-kettles ... They walk like traffic-lights Like sirens in the rain Like head-lights in a cup of coffee Is this the Tiger's Coffee ? It was really time for me to wake up ...

I'm hearing another song :

Apple Apple, how are you today ... when it's tomorrow you will have nothing to say ...

What's this ? I'm looking into the eyes of the wheel-chair-dwarf He looks like my aunt ... he has some golden shoes in his hands ... But I'm scared of these shoes It's like I can't breath ... And everything hurts ... Golden Spice comes out of the shoes There I faint It's like a million cats are jumping on me ... Rubbish from ... a fish's hospital Where's uncle, I ask ... He died in a nuclear war Nuclear Spice ...

And I bet you invented this stuff, I ask the dwarf ... Yes, he said ... I'm still working in your grandparents' spice-gardens ... Together with your two aunts and a million sirens

There he pushes a button from his wheel-chair ... I'm sinking in the ground ... Away to an old cellar I remember this cellar ... It's from my grandaunt Please don't show me her old grey shoe ... For then I'll die Here in this cellar I see so many boxes of Lion's tea and so many boxes of Tiger's coffee I'm hearing the whistling-kettles screaming upstairs They are talking about milk and juice I also see Zebra's Chocolate-milk, and Giraffe's juice Many bottles I'm glad I don't hear my uncle ask for liquor he would get too drunk again ... But he can't ... he died in a nuclear spice-war ... I'm also seeing Bear's Lemonade here and some strange black syrope or is it something else ? I really hope the old shoe from grandaunt is not in the neighbourhood at the moment ... It's speaking like the witch's whistling-kettle Like Worldwar IV Spice and Worldwar V is her other shoe ... Vegetable Fortunately I don't see it in this cellar ... It's all upstairs

In the kitchen Where the Old Lion is pouring his tea There are a million little biblestudents in his living-room ... All waiting for his delicious tea

But I would like to drink some Giraffe-juice ... It's sliding through my throat already ... finding it's way to my shoes It's like the circus ...

The dwarf in the wheel-chair is smiling at me ...

Do you want to know about Worldwar VI, he asks ... Yes, I say I'm already broken, so go your way

Liquor ... he sais ...

The war of the drunk

There he holds my grandaunt's shoe before my eyes but this time it's silver ... She likes to wear Wordwar shoes ... but I'm still standing ... Having Worldpeace shoes ...

A retailer's dream ... It's the Donkey's Liquor which he's selling ... I wonder from which rocks these liquors are streaming ...

Now, tell me who you are, Mr. wheelchair-dwarf with all your sirens, nuclear bells and little head-lights ... who are you ... Are you the nuclear drinks master, are you rumpfelstiltskin, or santa clause on wheels ? Who are you ?

I'm sent out by the sandman to wake you up ...

ok, ok, but who are you ?

I'm seaman, his elder brother ... The lion's tea was just the beach ... now you will meet cloudman and fireman ... We are one big family ...

I'm hearing a song from an old musical-box ...

Apple Apple, your money has gone ... Apple Apple, the dream is over ... the dream is over ...

It's like there's a scratch on the record ... but I like it ... the dream is over ... I'm saying goodbye to sandman, goodbye to the lion's tea ... goodbye friends ... I'm scared of any more adventures ... I drank too much from this lion's tea ...

nuclear piano's

I like scratches on records ... It's telling me : It's over ... The dream's over ... The nightmare has gone ... I can listen to it for hours and hours It's soothing me ... these scratched records ...

There's a scratch on my aunt's record ... tomorrow it will be a bird ... a parrot ...

All these flying scratched records brought me to the Giant's world, where I can listen to a whistling kettle, day and night ... It's telling me everything, I don't need to sleep anymore ... No need to eat ... It's my best friend

I have a speaking enchanted whistling-kettle ... Under a Giant's curse ... It's like scratched records are speaking to me ... The Giant's Bird is sitting on my shoulders ... I will never again drink from the kettle I will just let it play it's nuclear flutes ...

Someone is playing a nuclear piano ... It's the dwarf in the wheelchair ... I'm scared ...of ...the ...sea ... I'm stuttering ... I once lost my red ball there ... I never saw it back ... I'm still crying about it ... after all these years ...

I'm hugging the dwarf, crying and crying ... I couldn't stop myself ... He has beautiful rings on his finger ... They speak ... They have ... faces ...

You know, he sais The sea actually didn't exist at all ... It's just that ... you see it when you hear music ... You don't understand the language, so it's like an overwhelming sea for you ... But it's actually not a sea ... It's music ... It's a language ... A message ... from the mailman ... me ... The seaman is actually just a mailman ...

And honey, he sais ... You never lost your red ball .. actually you were just sending a beautiful red letter to your aunt ...

And I brought it to her ...

So you're the god of ten ? I ask ...

I'm viracocha, quatzalquotl's brother ... He's the aztec god and I'm the inca god ... We both have a wheelchair ... We both are composers and musicians in the Giant's Whistling-kettle Orchestra ...

My brother, Quatzalquotl, is the paradise's greengrocer, but actually food doesn't exist ... You just see food when you can't understand a letter ... a language ... And actually you aren't eating, but translating So Quatzalquotl is actually a translator ... We work together ... We are like two birds sitting on your shoulders ... I give the messages and he translates it ...

So my uncle has never drowned in a nuclear war, but was just hit by a letter ? I ask ... And what sort of letter was it ?

I'm hearing a strange song in the air ... A song of a cuckoo ...

Apple, Apple, you brought me to the Giant's World, Apple Apple, you gave me a coin of three three sides of a coin, that's what you gave to me ...

Apple Apple, your work is done ... Apple Apple, from the Giant's Tree ... You're now in the kettle, listening to a song Not your song anymore ... But the Whistling-kettle's Having enough of your tea ...

Apple Apple, son of the red tree, Mercurius was your slaughter ... And burnt your old key ...

...

Now my uncle sold apples somewhere at a corner ... He lost his job, and now he's looking for some beers ... Since no one eats apples anymore ... Since food doesn't exist anymore especially apples This was also a decision from the Round Table Churches ... They are all dancing around an old mysterious Whistling-kettle ... A Giant's one ...

Someone is closing a nuclear door ... A big door ... Nuclear big It's shut by a little fir ... but the fir gets so small ... I can't see him anymore ... and it gets all so far away ...

Another nuclear door is being opened ... also by a little fir he gets so small that i can't see him anymore ... I'm entering through the door ... it gets all so close and so warm it's like I'm boiling ... I get messages from Viracocha ... the mailman Quatzalquotl translates them ... It was such a strange language

A coin with three sides is lying on my hand ... It burns almost a hole in my hand I'm staring at it ... On one side I see the Round Table Churches, on the second side I see The Giant's Whistling-kettle Orchestra ... and on the third side I see Service with Little Light ...

I'm walking to an old Giant Jukebox, throwing the three-sided coin in it, pushing a button ... It's a bird's jukebox all buttons are birds I pushed a red one a redbreast-button ...

I hear a song :

But it's so soft, I can't hear it It's a whispering box My ears are growing It's like a new language to me Is this the elve's song ? It's repeating like there's a scratch on the record I'm feeling the elve's glue on my skin ...

I want my coin back ... what is this ?

I hear the voice of my mother :

You just sent me a beautiful letter ... A red one ... You wrote me that you are grateful that I never believed in you, the church and anything ... For it was all different ... It was not what it seems ... And without me you would never meet the mailman and his interpreter, but only scary seas and oceans, only scary food on your dishes, and dirty apples in your schoolbag ...

I'm so proud of you, son ...

Mom, please, can I have my coin back ?

Son, you don't need money anymore

But there's another scratch on the record ...

Mom, you always say the same thing ...

But there I hear the voice of my aunt : Money actually doesn't exist ... It's just the mailman's bike ... The coins are actually his wheels ...

Two birds are on my shoulders, trying to sooth my nightmares ... trying to wake me up out of this misunderstanding ... and misinterpretation I'm so scared of my eyes now I really see things which actually don't exist ...

Two wheelchairs are standing for the door ... I always loved to ride in these things My elder sister sits in one ... I will step into the other ... We will go to the highways ... Pushing nuclear buttons, so that we can fly following viracocha and his brother ...

Viracocha is playing his nuclear flute-piano Quatzalquotl is playing the violin ...

From here we can see the whole world Just like it all is And that's ... different It's all very different while reading letters through Giant glasses The steam of the Giant's Whistling-kettle is bringing us higher Here we can breath I just want to be old very old ... for when you are a kid, they put you in a child's chair, locked up, and then you have to eat things you don't know

The kettle is burning now Nuclear forces rage like never before ... We are racing on the rainbows We are racing on unknown letters unknown languages But Quatzalquotl translates them What would we be without him ? We are touching new stars they are just new letters new languages ... but actually ..just new glasses sometimes new letters are nothing but new glasses to read some old letters ... And yes all these letters are just old very old They were sent out long ago very long ago From a very old place The future doesn't exist It's all in the old letter It's all in the past I want to be old
.... Just very old Old enough to know that letter Nuclear old

I'm hearing a song of a magpie :

We are in the land of the whistling kettle ...

We are under the Giant's curse

A wheelchair taughted us how to fly ...

A keyboard is our nurse ...

I love my old wheel-chair I met the orchestra of the kettle now They were all birds, they were all in a wheelchair riding on nuclear noise They typed all the letters themselves That's what their piano's are just type-machines ...

There viracocha plays on his piano of nuclear light Quatzalquotl is playing the violin again ...

The orchestra of the kettle goes from church to church to play ... But they are just mailmen ... with piano-teeth ... button-teeth every tooth is a key ... to type and their tongue hits the buttons their tongue has ten parts ... like ten fingers that's how they talk

That's what teeth are just type-buttons, just keys just letters ...

But their wheelchairs ... are just old juke-boxes

Old records with scratches

Oh, how I would love to be an old jukebox, for these guys always do the same

These guys have rest

The old whistling-kettle is exploding But after the nuclear smoke has gone, a new one stands there It looks like a wheel-chair and it has buttons and piano's on it A whistling wheel-chair kettle Now we can fly like we never flew before It looks more and more like an old nuclear juke-box

Something's raging inside however We need more flutes on the kettle, for there's too much pressure on it And we need more ballerina's on them more pipe-lines to our machines and central heaters

I'm running to the mailman's kettles He has a big central heater's kettle on the attic A big television-kettle in the living room, with a big telephone-kettle and a tv-phone-kettle His house is full of whistling-kettles And also flying whistling-kettles his birds

I'm staring at the pipe-lines between the kettles It looks like they form rings I'm looking at my hands Seeing ten rings Today they made the decision Hospitals don't exist Decision from ... the Round Table ... Churches ... But long, very long ago There was a decision made by the Giant's Whistling-kettle Orchestra : The Round Table Churches don't exist ...

Things are being sorted out in my head ... The mailman's bag is speaking ... Some thought he was someone from the hospital ... But hospitals don't exist It's just a mailman's bag

There's a new bird sitting on me a sorter Teo...Tihuacan ...

There's a new bird flying with us Teo Ti ... Hua Can

God of rainbows

God ...of ... factories ...

Working by kettles

Whistling-kettles ...

dwarf in a giant's world

Where am I ? I must be a Dwarf in a Giant's World ... But at least I'm one of them ...

I'm hearing a song in the distance

All is in all, and it's kettle is here ...

The factory is spinning, we're all out of fear ...

All is in all and the kettle is near

The candle is burning

There's music to hear ...

Teotihuacan is staring at me ... Rainbows are sliding through my head and new songs from the Giant's Whistling-kettle Orchestra

He said : When there's pain and pressure ... You need some more flutes on your kettle It wants to speak

A bird called Varia is ticking on my windows

I'm wandering to a factory with him ...

Cigar ... factory ...

Varia is playing the trumpet and the horns ... When there's enough smoke, the smoke-alarm goes on Fire-Brigade's Orchestra ...

They used to come to communistic churches But churches actually don't exist According to you know I'm burning so afraid of fire so afraid of nuclear you know Even when I see a Fireman, I'm scared It reminds me of fire It doesn't soothe me at all They could never save me Here another song burns my head It's ok, I'm used to it But this is my prison Prisoner ... of ... fire ... Maybe I'm even the sun's prisoner But we're flying with a lot of birds now ... I'm wearing an Egyptian helmet like the rainbow-helmet It seems I'm sinking and melting into my wheelchair The Big Helmet takes it over I'm becoming a car

And my elder sister too We all become cars There we are racing on rainbows Like never before I don't care who I am anymore All that matters is that I'm a car And someone is driving me A smoke-alarm It has many flutes and many pipe-lines connected to other smoke-alarms and connected to my car-wings we're flying higher

Suddenly a door in my head is being smashed open, while it's like a million of doorbells are ringing A little dwarf is standing in the opening Well, he's actually sitting in a wheel-chair with legs He gives me a kettle for the door and a red balloon ... The whistling door-kettle is speaking to me It will be my best friend

I'm a bus now ... but since the whistling door-kettle is driving it ... I can get over the mountain Behind the mountain there's the press ... Here Echo was born
Some called him the nuclear bomb but he was just the son of the press ... The Redbreast His mother was a lion, but she died many years ago ... She couldn't stand the pressure anymore

Echo invented the television-kettle ... The secret of a good press ... Their house is built on a kettle The red balloon is their elevator ... High in the sky a little miller lives He's riding in his kettle-wheel-chair ... on his piano-stairs ... His rainbow-teeth are shining in the sun He invented the Alphabet-trains ... and the piano-railways I want to know his engine-drivers When his trains ride ... Echo is reading a letter or he's printing one ... They say the mailman is just an engine-driver Just a driver of a bus It's hot in his car

The train's kettle is boiling The red balloon is pushing Here we go A lot of people are sitting in the train I'm looking at their faces Some have green faces ... others blue They are on their way to Echo It will be a new dance a new song Tomorrow there will be new balerinas on the kettle

Poetry from the old Pipe

I don't have much left after the dream ... some marbles and some hockey-balls ... and a hockey-stick I like to see you play hockey ... You try to hit things which are too fast for you ... and too far away ... You play hockey with grandfather's walking-stick You're too old to play ...

Still you try to hit the dream To catch rainbows in your net but there's a big hole in it

Give it up, you dreamt too much already ... Now another horse will win the race ... Let's wake up together And race in our wheel-chairs ... to new worlds ... Let's write some new letters and forget about the old ... Let's enter some new trains, to meet some new visitors

Can you wait forever ? When you know it's all there ? Waiting to be grasped ? Can you wait forever When you know the train is leaving soon ... Oh yes, other trains will come But this train will never return ... It's the train of never return
Can you wait forever Can you wait for snow When you know it's forever summer ... When you know snow doesn't exist For the sun melted it all away ...

Now the snow is just a shadow from the past Just a lost advertisement from an old ghost

Can you wait for dreams ... Can you wait forever ... When you know the dream has gone melted away in the sun When you know you woke up to never sleep again ... When you know someone sold your bed and gave you a good pipe Can you wait for me ? Can you wait forever, when you know I'm gone I'm melted away In the sun In the fires of the pipe

Can you hold a doll when you know it isn't there ... When you know it's already melted away by someone real

Can you read a letter when you know the writer is with you, waiting to speak with you ... Listen to the sounds of the train ... A woman steps out ... The lady of Virgo ... telling you all your stories have melted away ... by the sun of something bigger ... by the warmth of something real ... There she's standing in the smoke It's like a million of birds are staring at you There she's dancing in the rain There's she's dancing in the smoke It's all ... melting ...away ...

And you don't dare to think what is left after the dance For not much will be left But in this you will find everything you need There she's playing her heat-piano touching the buttons of different heats ... Melting everything away ... Melting your heart ... melting your head There she's playing her softness-piano touching the keys of different softnesses ... It speaks to you It's melting you away ... A bird called Varia is sitting on her shoulder He's keeping her piano wide Keeping her arms wide open She's the embracer

Now when you touch her heart The softness will flow ... She's a jukebox, she's a jukebox ... Now when you touch her fingers The heat will flow She's a music-box, she's a music-box Now when you touch her mouth It will all go faster and higher She's a barrel-organ she's a barrel-organ And when you touch her knees, it will go slower and lower She's the Giant's old rocket

And now you're landing on the moon Now she's dancing in slow-motion And what she touches will start to bloom And now you're landing on venus And there she's dancing in the fire She's your rocket And there you're landing on Jupiter ... and there you're landing on Mercurius ... She shows you everything Except her secret box She got it from her grandma Everything melts away when she opens it It's a secret song, and a secret dance All eyes will melt away ... Her blind musician is standing next to her with his concertina He knows the power of this box he only wears some ornaments and his golden hat is on his head But all his clothes have been melted away already and she's still not done There he stands ... playing his concertina ... She has opened her box again ...

Grandma's box Seven ornaments are lying in it They change color everytime By this the trains ride By this the rocket flies By this all songs are being sung, and all dances are being danced

Today all her trains are in slow-motion She's embroidering the hat of the blind musician All the birds are listening to the sound of his concertina Some trains are melting away Old trains She is ... at a new dance And then she let's everything fall away It slides into the furnaces Made of old suns There the ornaments are being spun Her dwarves and Giants work there

When her train arrives, it's like a million of trains are arriving ... When her train leaves It's like a million of trains are leaving And this all happens when grandfather is smoking his pipe He knows the secret of the little box He misses grandmother But he's happy in his house He still lives near to the railways Grandmother used to wear the ornaments Whenever she entered a room, everything started to melt away He still remembers her, dancing in the smoke ... melting everything away

There he raises his walking-stick in the air he will go for a walk ... A walk to the railways He loves to see the trains passing by And he hopes to see his granddaughter's rocket with his telescope Yes, grandfather loves his granddaughter But there she's standing behind him : Grandfather I'm here already ... I took the train to visit you

Grandfather is happy ... Together they walk home They will go to grandfather's old piano-room His piano's are seven ornaments They are suits to wear

There she walks with her nuclear make-up Grandfather did a good job ... Now she will head for home There she dances in the smoke there she dances in the rain with everything melting away It all happens In the smoke of Grandfather's pipe

Alphabet's Family-reunion

The Trick of The Giant's World

grandfather scale

While the alphabet is riding, it's getting hotter ... While the alphabet day is sliding ... it's meeting the sun ... The last letter is the hottest letter ... But the first is also very warm ... When they are walking the stairways of your head ... The heart's central heater is working ...

Mr. Alphabet plays the piano ... he's still the Giant's Dwarf There he rides in his wheelchair To check the kettles I was in Alphabet City ... The people had different colours on their faces ... It was like a Rainbow's Town The people were from different warmth's and different softnesses ... And they all worked together, no racism at all ... There Mr. Tonescale walks ... Well actually he's in a wheel-chair with legs Mr. Heat-Alphabet is walking together with him ... also in a wheel-chair with legs ... He can blow his hat to the moon ... Together they go to the building of the Giant's Whistling-kettle Orchestra ... It's in the center of the city

In the building there are a lot of dwarfs like them ... all in wheelchairs, with or without legs Mr. Heat-Alphabet is shaking the hands of Mr. Heat-Tonescale, his brother ... They didn't see each other for a long time ... A Brazilian civil war tore them apart There Mr. Heat-Alphabet shakes the hand of Mr. Softness-Alphabet, his nephew They didn't see each other for ages because his nephew moved to Spain long long ago He couldn't stand the Brazilian civil wars anymore ... His brother, Mr. Softness-Tonescale lives in Scandinavia for a long time ... He had to go there for work It seems it is a big family-reunion, in the building of the Giant's Whistling-kettle Orchestra

There Mr. Tonescale hits with his hammer on the table Silence, please ... he says ... Everyone is sighing, they are so glad to see each other again ... Mr. Tonescale walks to Mr. Speed-Tonescale ... and gives him the microphone Thank you, Mr. Speed-Tonescale says welcome to our family-reunion ...

Then suddenly the door is smashed open A strange dwarf is entering in his wheelchair The furniture is melting away It's Mr. Slowness-Tonescale And he's a bit mad ... Why didn't you invite me to the reunion ? he says ... Well, you will receive the invitation over a hundred years, for your mailmen are so slow ... Mr. Speed-Tonescale says Ok, thank you, the slow dwarf says ... So we have chance Mr. Slowness-Alphabet won't be here at all ? ... Mr. Colour-Alphabet is smiling My brother, Mr. Colour-Tonescale is already looking for him ... he says ... with his rainbow-bus Together with Mr. Light-Tonescale, our nephew

Mr. Alphabet is playing the piano in another room The sounds are surrounding the reunion ... Mr. Colour-Heatscale is standing behind him ... He loves his play ... Mr. Heatscale is preparing the pipes in another room, together with Mr. Lightscale ...

There Mr. Scale enters the building He's the Big Grandfather of the family All dwarves are applauding Mr. Size and Mr. Weight are at his side They are always with him ... There are also some of his grandchildren running forward him ... : Size-Colour, Weight-Colour, Size-Light and Weight-Light ...

smallness

Mr. Size-Heat and Mr. Weight-Heat are smoking cigars in the corner of the main-room While Mr. Size-Slowness is smoking a cigarette He has to go soon, for otherwise he will be too late for work ... Mr. Voice-Height is already waiting for him outside ... in a bus But then everything is melting away A boy called Smallness is standing in the dooropening He starts to scream with a high voice ... which gets higher and higher Then out of his stomach a low voice starts to scream which gets lower and lower ... The whole city is in panic Some things are getting faster and other things are getting slower It tears everything apart and it's melting into a little cube he holds in his hands Even Grandfather Scale is melting into the little cube The boy is laughing very loud and it gets louder and louder ... Mr. Weight is lying on the floor ... He's very angry at the boy ... but he can't move "Now what are you going to do", the boy yells "for soon enough you will be in my cube .. and then tomorrow you will be a sun-cigar ..." Mr. Weight blows blue echo's to the boy ... but nothing seems to stop the boy ... And there, finally Mr. Weight is melting He's screaming with a high and a low voice His voice is also melting We will call the Giants, he screams but there he goes ... into the cube ... Everything is so small now While "Smallness" is so big Me ! I am the Giants myself, he grins

I'm hearing a song :

There's a world, so small, so small ...

There's a world behind this all

There's a world ... too small to enter ...

There's a world calling your name

There's a world too small to say

There's a world but it can be big,

When you get sucked into it ...

It's the Giant's World,

Nothing but the Giant's world ...

It's all the trick of the Giant's world ...

For how big someone is .. depends all on your point of view ...

The trick of the Giant's world

Poetry from the Giant's Trumpet

The Secret of Jubilee

"There's always someone to turn my words backwards I'm a backwards prisoner"

Mr. Backwards

After the Giant's War, I try to get rest It was just a war of dwarves ... The littlest dwarves are the biggest Giants The dwarf is the best trick of the Giant But I'm heading for some rest It was a hard battle A voice-bird had horribly hurt me ... When a voice gets too high, things are really breaking But that's also only a point of view When your ears are higher, then it's just a low voice for you I'm looking for the Giant's ear ... Someone's opening the Giant's Ear ... I'm standing before storms and cyclones The Giant's Ear is roaring ... A bird called Varia is finally leading me in ... from here all voices are low ... They cannot hurt me anymore ... I now realize that all my true friends came from the Giant's Ear I'm standing in a Big Ball surrounded by Gates One row is filled with colour-gates Now the colours can speak to me.

Someone's moving backwards to the Giant's world Someone's speaking backwards It has the voice of my best friend

The backwards have surrounded the Giant's Castle ... Someone's soothing my face ... The Black Gates suck me deeper inside Together with the Pink Gates But the backwards also have gates They are trying to suck me out of the castle But some Yellow Gates blow them away Together with some Red Gates I'm high in a giant's tower of the castle a dwarf is shaking my hands ... he's walking backwards ... and speaks backwards he has the voice of my best friend he shows me a cube full of little backwards they look like ants but they aren't he shakes the cube ... and lets it spin This is how we make ornaments, he says I'm feeling dizzy Like someone is turning me backwards Finally a Blue Gate is sucking me away I'm in the Giant's Nose I'm hearing the voice of my friend in the distance still backwards ... Where am I I don't even now what is backwards and forewards I'm confused Someone tries to push my softness backwards and let it all appear hard It's the black woman When the backwards strikes There's nothing you can do But my voice is getting higher Although no one can hear me ... I can't even hear myself But the Giant's Breath is taking me away To the Giant's Lung Where I meet Varia again, my Rainbow-Bird He's blowing the trumpets again But it seems I lost all hope It's like the backwards live too deep inside of me There's always someone to turn my words backwards I'm a backwards prisoner When I'm almost out of the pit ... someone is turning the switch backwards ... All I have to do is learning to live backwards But how ? All I have to do is to find that little button Some Black and Pink Gates in a bag too dangerous to imagine The stuff is still dancing in my grandaunt's bag waiting to jump on me and turn me backwards all over I can't cry about it anymore No tears left anymore Only some powders are running over my cheeks ... My nuclear make-up Yes, it's all natural ... I'm looking like Sodom and Gomorrah Was I too productive ? Well, that happens when you're too creative They will reverse you, without mercy ... They did the same to Jules Verne and his little baron But aren't you afraid one day I will be so creative that I can reverse the curse ? Then Sodom and Gomorrah will reverse that little bible of you What a day that will be No black dwarves anymore But don't get me wrong I like the bible with it's pretty backwards Some say my eye is ticking It's the Giant's Eye It ticks as long as it doesn't explode ...

Now Sodom's the forbidden fruit here We're forbidden to be creative, forbidden to dance by a man called Samson a black cigar It ticks as long as it doesn't explode And he loves to eat forbidden fruits ... And he lives in Sodom himself But no one likes him there ... he's the black sheep of the town Well that happens when you're a capitalistic threat ... But I hope he realizes very soon, that he can't be creative at his own Twenty cigars called Samson are marching through the streets of sodom Everyone is at home behind locked doors ... cutting and pasting love-letters Samson is walking backwards again ... he's going to reverse the city
he does it everyday the other nineteen are his kids kidnapped kids he calls them all "samson" They are spreading torn love-letters backwards When I see them , there's no any hope in my heart I'm running to Gomorrah ... Finding a depressed music-box there, with suicide-attempts a gift from samson My stomache aches They told me to never return to Gomorrah again Mr.
Backwards is living there A black devil

Well, he seems very nice with his white gloves and his golden ring I'm shaking his hand hello, he sais you're too late ... it's already reversed by god but come back tomorrow-morning, then it will be reversed again Well, who the heck are you, I scream, are you schizophrenic ? Yes, he sais and who talks to me, gets also schizophrenic ... We are all parts of the big samson, call us multiple personality syndrom ... Welcome to the club You are now adopted ... let's say kidnapped ... you are now one of us ... you are me you are samson

Well, I was just waiting for that, I said I needed some good jokes in my life but to which tree did you listen ? I ask ...

The forbidden tree, he sais

Aha, well, I know that story And you made that thing yourself, and you are the only one who is allowed to talk to it ... I bet you also use copyrights on your letters

I scream Goodbye Mr. Backwards Greetings to your copyrighted bibles By the way : I love your long hair Don't let it cut off by the Filistines for you might lose your potential ...

I'm so angry This man ruined my childhood with his tricks They said Jesus was crucified in Sodom and Gomorrah Yes, by Mr. Backwards He always spelled my name backwards He drowned all kids called Moses in Sodom's swimmingpool Turning them backwards, while calling them schizophrenic because of splitting seas He's still sitting in that old tower of Gomorrah's mental institution inventing nuclear bills I could never read them They were written backwards But still there are some who use them as tickets to the tropics ... or to the south of arabia ... There was even one who bought a car with it This world still has miracles

500 kids in Pandora's box

I'm riding a new car I don't believe in money anymore ... When I say : "Thank you," it's enough, or just a little nod or a blink I don't pay someone for turning me backwards I'm more communist than hell I'm sitting between Sodom and Gomorrah ... trying to bring them together My parents divorced a long time ago Mr. Backwards is sitting between them My father is a long-haired indian ... he looks a bit like Mr. Backwards while my mother looks like a productive horse but no, she isn't a horse she knows everything about mental institutions and black bibles she doesn't believe in them Mr. Backwards is also sitting between my grandfather and grandmother they are both indians, but they moved to sodom long ago my grandmother had to build some new nuclear cigars there but now they are all divorced and Mr. Backwards is sitting between All my aunts are divorced even their pets

Mr. Backwards is smiling ... smoking his pipe He drowned another 500 kids called Jesus in his mental institutions It's very simple for him He just makes their parents get divorced Very simple when you can reverse everything You just play one of them backwards, and there they go I took the wrong train today ... It goes the other direction ... Tonight I will have other parents There he walks in his black jacket It's Mr. Backwards dropping backwards bombs Tonight we will have other pets

I'm in the Giant's Heart ... yes, everything is backwards here Is the Giant just a trick of the Backwards ? And are there anymore tricks ? I'm taking my black gun ... Now this babe will speak for a bit ... Samson lost a bit of his hair The hairdresser collared him Now he sees everything different Some say Jesus died in the chair of the hairdresser Twenty scissors in a row ... Mr. Shave is hiding behind his curtains ... But I've seen them all Buddha rose from the scissors chair And my voice is still rising higher in silence Heading for the bald communist

It was a chaos in the Backwards' Ear The past is my only future But Varia spreads it all open Showing me everything is there I don't understand why I once lost hope ... I didn't spread my legs wide enough didn't spread my wings wide enough and my big mouth Not to speak but to breathe

All these feathers from a bird called Samson ... lying all before me It was all in the past No boats to the future No needs And still you are calling me the future's cabman But I don't believe in the future ... I listened long enough to that red rose of you and always followed my mother step by step Even while I didn't believe in her either But, come on, there's no race besides Varia There's no way besides the scissors We now can see the shining Buddha and his bald communistic brother So let us all run backwards and dig in our past ... to find that little ornament ... big enough to do the stuff Or is it forbidden to wear ornaments ? You always used to forbid it Is it forbidden to wear pretty clothes ? I don't believe in clothes anymore Give them to the poor Why forbidding it ? Give them to the poor ... All your ornaments all your hair Don't forbid it ... but give it away or give it to the rubbish-fields or to the wardrobes to let them rotten away there but don't forbid ...

But I don't believe in clothes anymore Do you have anything to hide ?..... I will hide it by ornaments Those which are left after church, dustman, and charity have come That's my faith ... That's the only bible I hide myself behind ...

People who believe in pretty clothes have something to hide people who believe in singing pretty songs day in day out have something to hide These are today's terrorists Shut your mouth a minute a day and use your pretty ears to listen to a beggar's coin Put your pretty clothes of a minute a day so that you can sleep and dream gathering the coins for the next day But I gave up on you already You always used to turn my words backwards And put them straight the day after I was the rat in your mill You gave me bills to eat I was your Jesus Christ you let me die on your cross of old wood so that you could live in luxury and life ... and still saying my ornaments are so pretty yes I cleaned them by my tears But I am not bitter anymore I'm not angry anymore For that was your next gift to me You cut it all away As a sacrifice to silence Still your voice slides through the night As a warrior asking for more It's all about territorium again I'm trying to follow the conversation but it's all backwards and forewards According to an ancient rule Push the father forewards and the mother backwards and then the other way round The curse of the scissors You cut it off and let it grow again A trip in the Prometheus the black hell ...

I can't understand you when you talk backwards in a strange language Everyday you have another dictionary Everyday you wear the ears of another animal You must be the one from the you know But by throwing me backwards I found all my lost things back and all my lost ...friends ... And I finally can see their wings I don't need my future, I don't need you just let me need my past ...

I'm gathering the kids left by the church, charity, and the sandman These are my kids These are my days from here to the past You saw it as your duty to protect me for the future Now I could reach my past Mr. Backwards, Mr. Backwards I still see you standing before my bed that horrible night You wanted to protect me for the future but you failed ... I went through it You had to push me harder into your machine Then I would reach the war-trauma of my grandfather To bring the ornament there That was the only place I needed to be I would reach the stars with it's feathers ... together with my granddad But you failed You let me slide into the future My granddad is still waiting for me in the past The rocket's there

Mr. Backwards, still putting things backwards but you're getting older I still can't reach the wars in the first few centuries and I still can't reach Buddha's craddles Mr. Backwards, you failed So maybe next I'll give someone else a try Or I will teach you how to really reverse something Mr. Backwards but you're still my old rocket you're still my magical feather My ticket to old indians with their pipes of peace You're still the old train to Arabia to the secret castles of forgotten princes ... I have to be grateful, yes, I am without you, I would never have invented America ... and I would never find Bach's musical box-house in grandfather's room It's still breathing like an indian princess on his big cupboard heading for his wardrobe ... Without you, Mr. Backwards I would never have seen my grandfather's old trains on his secret attics I would never have seen his brothers but I would only drown in overpopulations of his sisters my grandaunts and that's really the worst thing in life no, there's something worse missing Brahm's touch on my forehead in the middle of the night thank you, Mr. Backwards thank you I still kept your old walking-stick together with your old pipe as my last goodbye to you for I will go back to my past I will take the last train to history to see how it once was and how it all will be Thank you again, mr. backwards thank you it was a big pleasure to meet you, and a big pleasure to leave you Maybe I can finally see the sun rising in the beginning of days Maybe I can finally be too early so that I won't miss anything I need to see Maybe I can finally touch the Giant's finger and the tattoo of a real communist I bet it will be a tattoo of your face I bet you will be their hero Raise your children, Mr. Backwards

Mr. Opposite

Mr. Opposite, still the clown in town ... Mr. Opposite, still Jubilee's smile together with his sisters Anni Versary and Anno Domini He has two walls in his hands between them there's the road you will have to go He will be always your opposite to keep you in balance Another Backward's trick

He decides your beginning and he decides what's your end He's the king of all lines and circles Still Mr. Backwards' best trick The box of communism To keep everything Equal There's always an opposite until you are where you must be The decision of the Round Table Churches

A face called Genesis is soothing my face My uncle "Deuteronomium" is in his office-house ... Where communism touches capitalism The secret of the Jubilees ...

I'm wandering to new worlds ... Grandfather Exodus is waiting for me ... I got an orange-brown bag from my grandaunt ... With this thing I can reverse the sun and the earth ... While the moon is applauding He still likes my circus's ... but he's still waiting for my opera's Well, maybe tomorrow when Leviticus and Numeri are done with breaking the windows ... We will not clean them anymore ... We will break them While the moon's applauding I always loved the sound of that

Two men called Old Testament and New Testament were spinning tomorrow's ornaments Just a trick of some lost opposites They still talk reversed since the coup d'etat in Sodom They have big grey beards and skewed eyes behind their round glasses ... And it seems there's no space between them When two opposites become a siamese twin Then Noah will get a car His own bus Gathering their musical instruments two of each sort To keep the opposites alive Good Job, Noah you never told me you were a siamese twin ... you never told me you were schizophrenic Not that it is a problem No, not at all It was also your tool to survive the Big Sea It all appeared to be some lost musical letters from my uncle Deuteronomium Your exodus on land Is there any more you need to tell me ?

When a wise man gets the staggers We will all be off board ... Not in the big sea No, it doesn't exist according to the councils, the jubilees and the liturgies of the Round Table Churches ... What would we be without them In every century they were there with all their black popes and other kings of mental institutions Mr. Backwards invented them all What a grace to be so cynical

No, we will be all on land this time ... when the wise get the staggers when Noah hits the singing candle Then all other trains are off listening to those other big decisions of the Round Table Churches Where would we be without them

Is there anything worse than this ?

Yes, when a doubter gets the staggers Pray that he's alone

Also you have an opposite, also you have an opposite, always your siamese twin a box in which you have to bow

These Are Strange Days

Ten doubters on a tower ... some say it's even worse than ten wise on a tower They will never listen to you ... They will only doubt ... They will listen to everything, but never to you ... And you still want to know who their god is ... the god of ten

Ten days in the summer, ten days in the spring ... it will all bring you to nothing, when the doubter is the king ... Ten moments in softness, ten moments with ornaments, it will bring you no any step further, you will only slide away when the doubter wants to be your prey

Never mock a doubter ... for tomorrow you will be him He's the trick of the horizon The magnet of the prisoner ... ten gods on a tower ten gods, worse than wise they bring you a tower, they bring you the mice a new house to live in ... a new house to doubt ... but at the end of the day ... you will be one of them ... their eleventh ...

Never look a doubter in the eye ... for you will see yourself, you will see yourself, like you would never wanted to see yourself ... you're one of them ... the eleventh yes, you will be their god the god of ten ... but at the end of the day ... you will be their devil at the beginning you're the hero, at the end you're the criminal and then you're their prey

God of ten, the eleventh ... god of ten ... the prey ... god of ten ... first a deliverer but finally ... one of their day

You were wearing the ornament of winds ... with those tigers around you Someone else was wearing the ornament of lights ... you loved to see the aqua in her eyes spinning like the rain ... but these were lights ... these were younger days
and you still love them

Tonight she will have the ornament of fire then will you still like her dances you never liked the ornament of softness ... for it was something you desired but you couldn't reach it forbidden anger hidden too well, behind blocks of old forests ... but your minister saw it all ... and spoke to his raven about it

While you were younger you never cared about the frost ... but now you eat it, while there isn't enough one day you will search for it while it's never there apocalypse of old bears but you loved these apocalypses while you never understood them

Tonight the ornament will dance, and you will forget about these seven old stones ... you could never really care about it ... now it will be gone forever ... which is not such a long time, according to some old woodpeckers from martian canals ...

There is nothing to say when an old man hides an ornament of colours between two boxes You can clarify them, with your ornament of brightness and soft shapes The ornament will come to you in the night those of the four voices ... It will all come to you backwards ... For you never cared about the seven princes carrying the aqua ornaments of the seven suns are you still a sun-child looking for your own hidden intentions ? did you forget about them in the night ?

I'm looking at the horizon, the horizon, where all dreams go wrong. I'm looking at the horizon, there's nothing we can do. When the horizon touches a mouse, when the horizon makes something new there's nothing we can do ... we can only watch the horizon, where all our days go wrong

I'm hearing the horizon, no rooms for a spanish soldier. I'm seeing him burning cigarettes the whole day. I'm riding the horizon, like a brandnew bike, like the ornament. It's all in your eyes, when you do the dance of summers, when you watch the horizon, like your daddy always did. He's still in his sun-car ... In the land of the horizon ...

Ten horizons on a row ... ten glasses to break ... finally you ride the purple sun, and you wonder why ... There's no room for a dream You just woke up It's the final backward, the last of all candles I'm hearing you countdown in the night ... my chemical boy washing windows, after he broke them ... the nuclear sungass from a horizon letter ... the mailman is still looking for you doubters are familiar with him he could move his hand to his bag ... it's all too difficult when you see the purple flame ... it's all in the horizon while you watch it it's slipping through your fingers, looking for your bag it knows you it was with your cradle ... ten men in a row and still you don't know if they go backward or forward

These Are Strange Days III

I'm counting back on a blue hill,
Daddy Wise, the number's always the flame
Ten digital movements in a box ...
This was why you could move
Daddy Doubter's the seventh king on a backwards throne ...
Still he doubts about it ...
Misleading the dreams to a deeper sleep ...
While a always said he never dreamt
There's no need to dream after the horizon woke up ...
Daddy Horizon's loud trains are getting me,
for ten cards on a rainy day

These Are Strange Days IV

"it's not in the pull, but in the push ..."

the secret of the suicide's princess

Ten echo's on a tower, is there anything more strange ? You never liked to dance ...

You looked like me ... Ten repeaters on a tower is something you always talked about to me ... Now you're gone, to your own tower, preparing the way for me. Do we have our own tower in the midst of these rows, between all these horizons ? Or do we have to find it all behind them ? We can never reach the horizon Maybe it all has to reach us ...

Ten drivers on a tower, ten drivers on a card The horizon's smiling ... Their god of ten is a car ... So many gods of ten What will happen when these gods gather ? I'm confused today ... But you are more confused ... I'm insecure today ... But you are more insecure So I built my tower for you ... All these gods of ten are here ... So come with your tower ... And share the ornaments and veils ... The doubter's always faster ... The repeater is always repeating

The doubter is spinning the light ... These are strange days Now the wise is spinning the fire ... six numbers in his bag They speak of love and ability They are searching for the seventh ... Is it you or is it me When there are ten of them, the god will be on the throne the eleventh ...

The repeater is still repeating The echo is still the echo ... There are ten echo's on a tower ... and I'm in the middle of it ... These are strange days These are strange noises ...

An echo between you and me is all what it takes, to catch the sound, to reach the violin The repeater is still on it's tower The bag's open ... These are ... strange ... days These are strange ... cars ...

But your car was the best I ever rode in ... I was sitting next to you ... I never knew who the driver was ... me or you or those ten drivers on the tower ...

Ten men committing suicide, marching to the big tower These are

I wonder if you hear my voice Or just a voice of ten men

The tower speaks It's the big tower ... The ornament's rising the blue one The veils are rising The purple ones ... These are ... strange days today all in one day all in ... one tower the big tower the tower of horizons the tower ... of .. towers ...

These are

I believe that you ... are one of these

It's stinging in my eye ... These days ... these strange days ...

And you are one of them

Ten doubters on a tower will never believe They will doubt ...

Ten repeaters on a tower will all repeat it

Ten echo's on a tower will bring it to me all Ten doubters spinning so fast ... spinning lights ten repeaters ... repeating you ... These are strange days ...
and you one of them all from the big tower no ceilings no floors ... no walls no stairs only gods of ten These are strange days

You have forgotten about me ... you're in the big tower working for me ... to let me
not ...forgetting about you ...

These are strange ways ... These are ways of gold ... And I still refuse to see ... The number in the flame ... The repeater on the tower The fastness in the doubter ... you in the big tower ... while I'm here ... watching at horizons ... while i'm in my own tower while you are more insecure than I am ... while you are ... So come to my tower ... These are ... strange ways ... to a small tower where you will see ... that it's all the same tower ... that you are ... me ...

These are strange wings, strange ways ... strange towers, but it's all the same tower ... Ten repeaters walk to it ... committing suicide backwards ... Your body's talking People live in the lamps ... the candle's singing ... The Ghost of the bag is saying ... These are ... strange ...bags

The echo ... is bringing it all to me ... the echo ... from the tower

ten backwards ... marching committing suicide ...

I see them on their castles, marching .. backwards ...

Ten backwards with their god ... god of ten ... Is it the mailman ? Or is it the big ten ? The big ten sits on his throne ... with ten men before him ... ten men on the left, ten men on the right, ten on the ceiling, everywhere's ten ... The big ten .. The big eleventh ... The big bridge ... And you can be the twelveth ...

The echo is after me ... with it's winds and veils The lights are searching for me,
with their doubters and their fast cars But I'm in the backwards ear ... together with you ... a slow-motion is marching on his castle .. alone ... not able to catch .. not able to commit suicide ... it's the suicide-princess ... it's the purple veil The echo is after me ... the repeater is repeating what i all did today ... you smile too much ... The echo brings it all to you ... your body is speaking people live in objects ... little people ... but you can't understand ... you never understand anything ... like me I'm still reaching for the edge of the candle ... the winds are behind the flame ... the highest voice will break them all ... the slow one will restore them

The small ten sits on his throne ... he feels heavy today ... sometimes you need to feel heavy to be able to touch a burning candle ... tomorrow he will feel soft, to enter the heat of a backwards bag ... the mailman is on his card ... paintings from the ..spanish boy ... he knew arabia and finally he took it all away ... it's when the purple strikes ... still your hormones are remembering that picture ... too much ink will do the storage ... and too much body-talk ... my colours talk day in day out ... about spanish princes in arabian jails ... not able to hold them ... there's no room for a spanish painter ... while paintings never existed ... according to the church it was all done by the press ... an owl in a cage which couldn't hold him now this thing flew over ... to a new area

You could never understand my flying colours ... but did you ever try ? The arabian sounds were too strange ... They put your worlds upside down ... You wanted to have easy music So I brought you to spain ...

The teacher never existed, even not in your wildest days It was just the press ... They are in our bodies ... wasting ink ... My pigments are speaking It's just bodytalk ... But still the doubters are your slaves still the doubters ... are .. your ...slaves You with your sun-music ... but you still don't like the dance ... It's only dancing inside ... under the skin It's between you and me You still wear pink under the skin but not under the suns the tower is speaking ... you hear it's trumpet and i hear mine the same ... these are .. strange days ... and now the backwards come to your room ... to spread their varia's ... to spread their birds and you look into a new press ... your pigment is speaking from blue hills ... to make the hills ...to make the land your hormones and tissues are ... speaking dancing only inside turning pink ... only inside for the nuclear threats for the chemical reasons under the ...skin and the blue is spinning the winds ... the veils for tomorrow ... there you are with your lights with the doubters as your slaves there you are with your fires with the wise as your slaves ... ten slaves from an old tower ... and i'm still wondering who spoke to me you're a star in spinning clouds in backward mode ... with the suicide-princess following you step by step ... your leg-ornaments and leg-veils are straight from japan ... but they are looking for whales they lost some spanish nuclear leg-weapons the ornaments on your arms are too strange to describe ... i would send you straight to arabia to make another one ... to bring the echo there ... for another round in the south the fountains of pigment are good for an arabian press ... especially in the south you're a star in being the star ... the echo's are your slaves the repeaters, still repeating they are all in your cube little suicide-princess you know how to do the crime and still you say it's the trick of the hero you love your soldiers ... There your cube sucks another one to paradise ... these are strange camera days ...

Oh, how I wish to hold you in my arms for one second and then letting you fall for three hours to let you fall on my grandmother's pillow forever and a day do you have the strength to pull it all back ? you invented the magnet, little suicide-princess it's all what you could ... still the spanish boy cries magnet-balls but that's what you believe ... the doubters doubt it ... while the wise say what they have to say ... there are no questions anymore little suicide princess little spanish dream ... little strange noise

you never told me you had spain and arabia both in your heart, in your little arena you invented them ... both to do the job ...

you're on the back ... of ten you're the eleventh ... while the spanish boy is the twelveth ... you're still racing in cars with him trying to avoid the walls ... you still ride on horizons and old towers ... together with him but you're getting old, and the day is almost gone ... tomorrow the days will become ..stranger the echo has jubilee the repeater repeats ... and i'm receiving your card ... why you were married off ... to this deal of ten personal letters to get personal ... after all these strange days, you finally get clear you're not like sarsia anymore ...

your presence so thick that i can cut it with a knife, the suicide-princess, your hands full of magnet-balls nuclear camera's ... like the camera of pigment seven colours to make the picture ... it's all in the body ... and you're still dancing under the skin under my skin looking for pink fontains to suck empty it's all too small today i can never reach my bag like this but the doubter's speeding up, like they always did ... they never changed ... but it seems you and i did ... magnet-balls run too easy, when the flames are on hot ... when the repeater repeats and still you don't like ten ... still you walk with empty slaves

Magnet-balls running in the pigment, the body's the best press And you don't need your eyes, you don't need your camera's, for you can all feel it when the

suicide-princess holds your hands ... she just wanted to learn you using your fingers, just wanted to let you know the secret of ten the suicide never existed ...it was just someone who showed you a bag ... and so many cards were in, from people you never knew so that you forgot about your old friends, who were actually your enemies you saw new faces, and forgot about the old but it was just the pigment, bringing you other cards ... bringing you other names ... there was no suicide ... you just looked from one bag into the other the braille of an old blind musician ... with his little daughter the suicide princess but there was no suicide she just gave you another bag her father's bag

there was no suicide ... just an old tower, turning everything backwards ... changing the faces of friends the trick of an old mailman ... while the repeater still repeats there was no suicide just an old mailman changing the letters with his pigment ... with his press but you want your friends ... you want the real letters ... not the press from a crazy mailman ... with his crazy spanish boy ...

the magnet-ball

the real letters, the real friends are locked up in the big tower ... locked up by the big ten ... hidden in horizons old ones ... the doubters race too fast their cars ... too light but you sink in braille ... to feel what they write you don't need your eyes anymore ... in this crazy land ... with it's wise numbers you feel the hand of your friend in braille ... it's just your friends fingers the secret of ten you caught the echo the noise found it's way ... the repeater repeats the pigment the echo brings it home mailmen, don't read our letters, don't change them ... for the varia will find it all out and will let us touch behind end beyond the letters we can touch the letter's horizons and find each other so music man ... don't change the music thank god we have the doubters ... to bring us the light, to bring us over the horizon, over the rainbow ... to a land where we can feel the hand in the letter ... the gods of ten

there are too many horizons in our eyes ... it makes us all blind ... but the doubter brings us another light, to guide us to the touch then it's all not far away anymore there are too many noises in our ears ... but the echo brings us to the true noise ... the letter of the friend his own little music-box we follow the echo ... to the land of truth ... where it all began

All these pains, all these confusions, brought me to the lighthouse, where another light burns ... the light of the blind being able to touch and feel the hand of the other without the doubters we could never come here, for we would believe

the lie, and being locked up in the magnet-ball forever without the echo, we would not hear the voice of the little music-box, coming from another world the mailman never existed it was just i was feeling your hand and i doubted it i thought it was someone else a mailman's confusion but it was you for my doubts brought me to reach deeper, where I met your fountains ... under your skin my doubts brought me ... to touch you deeper inside so that i could see your fire-dances which you didn't dare to show outside the doubter made my car faster to escape the magnet-ball ... but now your magnet-balls are running through me

The wise ... to keep me with you ... the wise ... to keep me in the tower ... to slow me down into backwards the wise ... to show me the roots it was all to keep my cardoors locked and to push a good brake But they still talk so fast when i'm speeding vertically, i'm slowing down horizontally ... the secret of a good tower

too many echo's from a picture will spin the noise ... there i hear you sighing, there i hear you complaining there i hear you breathing

and the repeater ... still repeating ... while someone's burning cigarettes in slow-motion, breaking windows, after cleaning them ... it's the spanish boy and cleaning them after he broke them ... waiting until it's all soft little spanish boy, still your mother's repeater ... still your father's bag ... making the hard ways soft ... making the voices taller ...

little complainers making my head depressed .. it was all too good on a summer's morning ... so why asking for more ...

i'm reaching for my braille ... it was never my best action ... i'm feeling your fingers the spanish boy made it soft enough to enter through and still you don't want to know how soft it can be ... the complainer's your friend ... you always want it different ... when the doubter touches the complainer ... it gets all soft ... the trick of the repeater ... and when the wise puts his finger on it, it all gets stuck ... like the glue like the magnet-ball.

you didn't want to see him ...

ten ragers on a tower ... it's like the capricorn's curse ... the little princess is running like a slow-motion downstairs ... heading for the backwards ... it brings us all into the past

there she smashes with doors, leaving the future behind ... now everything is repeating ... backwards ... the magnet-balls are rolling ... they are rolling strange ... there everything is switching backwards and forewards switching as fast as my mother's train ... it brings us all home ... when you're between two ragers ... it all starts to switch ... then the cars will start to roar ... when you're between two mockers, the car will begin to zoom ... while when you're between ten mockers, they will bring you all home ...

Now is there anything better ? Ten rejecters on a tower ... ten rejecters in a magnet-ball ... with you in the middle ... the little princess holding your hand ... it will bring you home ... it will boost your car ...

Ten magnet-balls on a tower ... still the fastest way home ... especially when you're standing between them ... with a little princess holding your hand ... and a spanish boy sitting on your knee ...

Ten magnet-balls to create the wind ... ten magnet-balls to spin the fire ... Their god, the god of ten ... is a church on a hill ... your church ... when two poles start to mock you, you're there ...

And still you are afraid that they won't like you that they will cheat on you ... and they will, but when you're between two of them ... you can have them both ... it's the hill of the church, where all things come together ... and between ten cheaters, you will be in paradise ... big eyes staring at you the secret of the magnet-ball ... it's not in the pull, but in the push ...

Still I'm sliding from ball to ball heading for the big ball ... there where Jesus died ... the secret of the detonator ... still i'm switching between insecure ones ... finding out that everything melts away ... you are too soft ... you are too hot ... it all melts ... but i'm holding the hand of the little princess ... she leads me to everywhere ... together with the spanish boy ...

These Are Strange Days IV

"it's not in the pull, but in the push ..."

the secret of the suicide's princess

Ten echo's on a tower, is there anything more strange ? You never liked to dance ...

You looked like me ... Ten repeaters on a tower is something you always talked about to me ... Now you're gone, to your own tower, preparing the way for me. Do we have our own tower in the midst of these rows, between all these horizons ? Or do we have to find it all behind them ? We can never reach the horizon Maybe it all has to reach us ...

Ten drivers on a tower, ten drivers on a card ... The horizon's smiling ... Their god of ten is a car ... So many gods of ten What will happen when these gods gather ? I'm confused today ... But you are more confused ... I'm insecure today ... But you are more insecure So I built my tower for you ... All these gods of ten are here ... So come with your tower ... And share the ornaments and veils ... The doubter's always faster ... The repeater is always repeating

The doubter is spinning the light ... These are strange days Now the wise is spinning the fire ... six numbers in his bag They speak of love and ability They are searching for the seventh ... Is it you or is it me When there are ten of them, the god will be on the throne the eleventh ...

The repeater is still repeating The echo is still the echo ... There are ten echo's on a tower ... and I'm in the middle of it ... These are strange days These are strange noises ...

An echo between you and me is all what it takes, to catch the sound, to reach the violin The repeater is still on it's tower The bag's open ... These are ... strange ... days These are strange ... cars ...

But your car was the best I ever rode in ... I was sitting next to you ... I never knew who the driver was ... me or you or those ten drivers on the tower ...

Ten men comitting suicide, marching to the big tower These are

I wonder if you hear my voice Or just a voice of ten men

The tower speaks It's the big tower ... The ornament's rising the blue one The veils are rising The purple ones ... These are ... strange days today all in one day all in ... one tower the big tower the tower of horizons the tower ... of .. towers ...

These are

I believe that you ... are one of these

It's stinging in my eye ... These days ... these strange days ...

And you are one of them

Ten doubters on a tower will never believe They will doubt ...

Ten repeaters on a tower will all repeat it

Ten echo's on a tower will bring it to me all Ten doubters spinning so fast ... spinning lights ten repeaters ... repeating you These are strange days ...

and you one of them all from the big tower no ceilings no floors ... no
walls no stairs only gods of ten These are ... strange days

You have forgotten about me ... you're in the big tower working for me ... to let me
not ...forgetting about you ...

These are strange ways ... These are ways of gold ... And I still refuse to see ... The number in the flame ... The repeater on the tower The fastness in the doubter ...
you in the big tower ... while I'm here ... watching at horizons ... while i'm in my own tower while you are more insecure than I am ... while you are ... So come to my tower ... These are ... strange ways ... to a small tower where you will see ... that
it's all the same tower ... that you are ... me ...

These are strange wings, strange ways ... strange towers, but it's all the same tower ... Ten repeaters walk to it ... committing suicide backwards ... Your body's talking People live in the lamps ... the candle's singing ... The Ghost of the bag is saying ... These are ... strange ...bags

The echo ... is bringing it all to me ... the echo ... from the tower

ten backwards ... marching committing suicide ...

I see them on their castles, marching .. backwards ...

Ten backwards with their god ... god of ten ... Is it the mailman ? Or is it the big ten ? The big ten sits on his throne ... with ten men before him ... ten men on the left, ten men on the right, ten on the ceiling, everywhere's ten ... The big ten .. The
big eleventh ... The big bridge ... And you can be the twelveth ...

The echo is after me ... with it's winds and veils The lights are searching for me,
with their doubters and their fast cars But I'm in the backwards ear ... together with you ... a slow-motion is marching on his castle .. alone ... not able to catch .. not able to commit suicide ... it's the suicide-princess ... it's the purple veil The echo is after me ... the repeater is repeating what i all did today ... you smile too much ...
The echo brings it all to you ... your body is speaking people live in objects ... little people ... but you can't understand ... you never understand anything ... like me I'm still reaching for the edge of the candle ... the winds are behind the flame ... the highest voice will break them all ... the slow one will restore them

The small ten sits on his throne ... he feels heavy today ... sometimes you need to feel heavy to be able to touch a burning candle ... tomorrow he will feel soft, to enter the heat of a backwards bag ... the mailman is on his card ... paintings from the ..spanish boy ... he knew arabia and finally he took it all away ... it's when the purple strikes ... still your hormones are remembering that picture ... too much ink will do the storage ... and too much body-talk ... my colours talk day in day out ... about spanish princes in arabian jails ... not able to hold them ... there's no room for a spanish painter ... while paintings never existed ... according to the church it was all done by the press ... an owl in a cage which couldn't hold him now this thing flew over ... to a new area

You could never understand my flying colours ... but did you ever try ? The arabian sounds were too strange ... They put your worlds upside down ... You wanted to have easy music So I brought you to spain ...

The teacher never existed, even not in your wildest days It was just the press ...
They are in our bodies ... wasting ink ... My pigments are speaking It's just bodytalk ... But still the doubters are your slaves still the doubters ... are .. your ...slaves You with your sun-music ... but you still don't like the dance ... It's only dancing inside ... under the skin ... It's between you and me ... You still wear pink under the skin but not under the suns the tower is speaking ... you hear it's trumpet and i hear mine the same ... these are .. strange days ... and now the backwards come to your room ... to spread their varia's ... to spread their birds and you look into a new press ... your pigment is speaking from blue hills ... to make the hills ...to make the land ... your hormones and tissues are ... speaking dancing only inside turning pink ... only inside for the nuclear threats for the chemical reasons under the ...skin and the blue is spinning the winds ... the veils for tomorrow ... there you are with your lights with the doubters as your slaves there you are with your fires with the wise as your slaves ... ten slaves from an old tower ... and i'm still wondering who spoke to me

you're a star in spinning clouds in backward mode ... with the suicide-princess following you step by step ... your leg-ornaments and leg-veils are straight from japan ... but they are looking for whales they lost some spanish nuclear legweapons the ornaments on your arms are too strange to describe ... i would send you straight to arabia to make another one ... to bring the echo there ... for another round in the south the fountains of pigment are good for an arabian press ... especially in the south you're a star in being the star ... the echo's are your slaves the repeaters, still repeating they are all in your cube little suicide-princess you know how to do the crime and still you say it's the trick of the hero you love your soldiers ... There your cube sucks another one to paradise ... these are strange camera days ...

Oh, how I wish to hold you in my arms for one second and then letting you fall for three hours to let you fall on my grandmother's pillow forever and a day do you have the strength to pull it all back ? you invented the magnet, little suicide-princess it's all what you could ... still the spanish boy cries magnet-balls but that's what you believe ... the doubters doubt it ... while the wise say what they have to say ... there are no questions anymore little suicide princess little spanish dream ... little strange noise

you never told me you had spain and arabia both in your heart, in your little arena you invented them ... both to do the job ...

you're on the back ... of ten you're the eleventh ... while the spanish boy is the twelveth ... you're still racing in cars with him trying to avoid the walls ... you still ride on horizons and old towers ... together with him but you're getting old, and the day is almost gone ... tomorrow the days will become ..stranger the echo has jubilee the repeater repeats ... and i'm receiving your card ... why you were married off ... to this deal of ten personal letters to get personal ... after all these strange days, you finally get clear you're not like sarsia anymore ...

your presence so thick that i can cut it with a knife, the suicide-princess, your hands full of magnet-balls nuclear camera's ... like the camera of pigment seven colours to make the picture ... it's all in the body ... and you're still dancing under the skin under my skin looking for pink fountains to suck empty it's all too small today i can never reach my bag like this but the doubter's speeding up, like they always did ... they never changed ... but it seems you and i did ... magnet-balls run too easy, when the flames are on hot ... when the repeater repeats and still you don't like ten ... still you walk with empty slaves

Magnet-balls running in the pigment, the body's the best press And you don't need your eyes, you don't need your camera's, for you can all feel it when the suicide-princess holds your hands ... she just wanted to learn you using your fingers, just wanted to let you know the secret of ten the suicide never existed ...it was just someone who showed you a bag ... and so many cards were in, from people you never knew so that you forgot about your old friends, who were actually your enemies you saw new faces, and forgot about the old but it was just the pigment, bringing you other cards ... bringing you other names ... there was no suicide ... you just looked from one bag into the other the braille of an old blind musician ... with his little daughter the suicide princess but there was no suicide she just gave you another bag her father's bag

there was no suicide ... just an old tower, turning everything backwards ... changing the faces of friends the trick of an old mailman ... while the repeater still repeats there was no suicide just an old mailman changing the letters with his pigment ... with his press but you want your friends ... you want the real letters ... not the press from a crazy mailman ... with his crazy spanish boy ...

the magnet-ball

the real letters, the real friends are locked up in the big tower ... locked up by the big ten ... hidden in horizons old ones ... the doubters race too fast their cars ... too light ... but you sink in braille ... to feel what they write you don't need your eyes anymore ... in this crazy land ... with it's wise numbers you feel the hand of your friend in braille ... it's just your friends fingers the secret of ten you caught the echo the noise found it's way ... the repeater repeats the pigment the echo brings it home mailmen, don't read our letters, don't change them ... for the varia will find it all out and will let us touch behind end beyond the letters we can touch the letter's horizons and find each other so music man ... don't change the music thank god we have the doubters ... to bring us the light, to bring us over the horizon, over the rainbow ... to a land where we can feel the hand in the letter ... the gods of ten

there are too many horizons in our eyes ... it makes us all blind ... but the doubter brings us another light, to guide us to the touch then it's all not far away anymore there are too many noises in our ears ... but the echo brings us to the true noise ... the letter of the friend his own little music-box we follow the echo ... to the land of truth ... where it all began

All these pains, all these confusions, brought me to the lighthouse, where another light burns ... the light of the blind being able to touch and feel the hand of the other without the doubters we could never come here, for we would believe the lie, and being locked up in the magnet-ball forever without the echo, we would not hear the voice of the little music-box, coming from another world the mailman never existed it was just i was feeling your hand and i doubted it i thought it was someone else a mailman's confusion but it was you for my doubts brought me to reach deeper, where I met your fountains ... under your skin my doubts brought me ... to touch you deeper inside so that i could see your fire-dances which you didn't dare to show outside the doubter made my car faster to escape the magnet-ball ... but now your magnet-balls are running through me

The wise ... to keep me with you ... the wise ... to keep me in the tower ... to slow me down into backwards the wise ... to show me the roots it was all to keep my

cardoors locked and to push a good brake But they still talk so fast when i'm speeding vertically, i'm slowing down horizontally ... the secret of a good tower

too many echo's from a picture will spin the noise ... there i hear you sighing, there i hear you complaining there i hear you breathing

and the repeater ... still repeating ... while someone's burning cigarettes in slow-motion, breaking windows, after cleaning them ... it's the spanish boy and cleaning them after he broke them ... waiting until it's all soft little spanish boy, still your mother's repeater ... still your father's bag ... making the hard ways soft ... making the voices taller ...

little complainers making my head depressed .. it was all too good on a summer's morning ... so why asking for more ...

i'm reaching for my braille ... it was never my best action ... i'm feeling your fingers the spanish boy made it soft enough to enter through and still you don't want to know how soft it can be ... the complainer's your friend ... you always want it different ... when the doubter touches the complainer ... it gets all soft ... the trick of the repeater ... and when the wise puts his finger on it, it all gets stuck ... like the glue like the magnet-ball.

you didn't want to see him ...

ten ragers on a tower ... it's like the capricorn's curse ... the little princess is running like a slow-motion downstairs ... heading for the backwards ... it brings us all into the past

there she smashes with doors, leaving the future behind ... now everything is repeating ... backwards ... the magnet-balls are rolling ... they are rolling strange ... there everything is switching backwards and forewards switching as fast as my mother's train ... it brings us all home ... when you're between two ragers ... it all starts to switch ... then the cars will start to roar ... when you're between two mockers, the car will begin to zoom ... while when you're between ten mockers, they will bring you all home ...

Now is there anything better ? Ten rejecters on a tower ... ten rejecters in a magnet-ball ... with you in the middle ... the little princess holding your hand ... it will bring you home ... it will boost your car ...

Ten magnet-balls on a tower ... still the fastest way home ... especially when you're standing between them ... with a little princess holding your hand ... and a spanish boy sitting on your knee ...

Ten magnet-balls to create the wind ... ten magnet-balls to spin the fire ... Their god, the god of ten ... is a church on a hill ... your church ... when two poles start to mock you, you're there ...

And still you are afraid that they won't like you that they will cheat on you ... and they will, but when you're between two of them ... you can have them both ... it's the hill of the church, where all things come together ... and between ten cheaters, you will be in paradise ... big eyes staring at you the secret of the magnet-ball ... it's not in the pull, but in the push ...

Still I'm sliding from ball to ball heading for the big ball ... there where Jesus died ... the secret of the detonator ... still i'm switching between insecure ones ... finding out that everything melts away ... you are too soft ... you are too hot ... it all melts ... but i'm holding the hand of the little princess ... she leads me to everywhere ... together with the spanish boy ...

Poetry from the Girl with the Red Boots

Little... Red ...Bike

The nerves are getting thinner, where the dark man hits the mouse ..

The dreams are getting thinner, when sandman hits the lions gong ...

To easy to dream, but too hard to reach, unless you have giant shoes ...

red ones ...

Santa is smiling,

The voice of a new day ...

He likes it when his deers are running ..

Running through streets of old smoke ...

I'm sitting in my cabin ...

I'm still a cabin-girl ...

watching the wonders of the day ...

Quatzalquotl is painting the doors

With green and black paint ...

Still waiting for his horse ...

To watch his new mail-box ...

These circus's are new ...

Without lions, without ages ... just simple stuff ...

Like a,b,c ...

With simple machines,

with roaring numbers ...

is this the daydream's inn ?

The flavors of flowers were always on my side ...

Especially when I opened new doors ...

It was the hard way out ...

Finally I feel soft ground below my giant shoes ...

Finally ... I have some veiled sisters working in this circus ...

It's the dreamland's world ...

It's built by manchild's confessions ...

and coffee-breads ...

Quatzalquotl is smoking his pipe ...

Choirs are surrounding him ...

Mystical choirs from a long time ago ...

They seem to like him ...

They spin around his head

And me ? I'm still the girl with the red boots ...

Still your mother's rage, and your father's lengths ...

I'm still your brains and your heartbeats ...
The red tiger and his coffee cup ...

I like to speak, like my sisters do ...
Circus of the alphabet ...
Do you like to spell my name ?

There are sabbaths on a monday-morning ...
Enough to scare the teacher away ...
It's just the daydream's inn ...
It's the dogdream's out ...
All manchilds' confessions ...
And it's all too loud ...

There the teacher is running ...
Waiting for the orange road ...
To escape to some new dwarfs ...
But they are not easy to get ...
They ask for high sacrifices ...
All schoolbooks know ...
Like the teacher's bag does

He said satan liked to ride bikes
To ring some bells
To invent some dwarves
It's the little red bike ...
And that's why all the kids were laughing ...
while you were ...crying ...

Little red bike ... coming from hell ... returning to the maze ...

To drown some new students ...

A little kid is riding it ...

having two knives in his pockets

big ones ...

too big for your mommy ...

too tall for your daddy

when the red bike strikes, there's no escape ...

then your mom and dad are ...changed ...

is this the horror's dream,

is this the daydream's out ?

there the little kid is riding ...on his little red bike ...

yes, it's the daydream's out ...

it's the hard day's inn ...

together with your family, they are changed ...

suddenly you don't dare to look into your mother's eyes anymore ... and you are running for your daddy ... something you always did ... but now it's worse ...

he had a hard day in hospital ...some cats stole his meat ...

and now he had to eat birdseed ...

No tale can describe ...the horror of the red bike ...

No santa clause can save you, when the red bike rides to your city ... riding to ...your house ...

Everything has changed ...you even don't dare to walk to your uncle and aunt's house ... even your neighbours are dragons now ...when the red bike rides ...

It's like the curse of the dentist's, it's like there is no way out ...

when the red bike strikes

it's a thousand monday-mornings on a saturday-night ...taking you away ... it's like the teacher's revenge ...

red bike, red bike, where are you running,
red bike, red bike, where is your home
you are still wandering like a lost dwarf ...
It's the dogdream's inn ...

Sixty black horses are waiting in front of your house ...
trying to take you out of this nightmare
but when the red bike strikes again ...
it's finally sixty panthers surrounding you like there's no way out ...
everything's changing ... when the red dream strikes ... no teacher could invent such a trick ... it's all from the dwarves ...
and it's all like there's no heaven ...
even heaven is hell
when the red ride strikes ...

I'm a fool to wait for your confessions ...
I have my own ...

Millions of kids are screaming in my head ...
Heading for a new day ..
Pushing me under in a nightmare ..
Red..little ..bike ..

There's nothing you can hide when a baby with a gun stands before you ... drama after drama, it will find it's way to the cores, where all life began .. no secret cases ..all open and white ...when the baby comes alive ..when the red bike comes from behind the corner ..

Jacob's Ladder

red soup

Little red bike, running like the streams ... having twenty babies in a bag .. the daydream's inn ... Little red bike, swimming, over land and over sea ...the dog dream's out ... It's all in your hand ... the red ladder tells ... the dwarf has jacob's letter in his pockets ... torn up it's just the daydream's in ... it's the hard way out ... no time for confessions ...with this true man's sounds coming from snows and deep hells .. having no time to embrace ..that was always the dream you dreamt it's the daydream's out ... it's the dogdream's in and there is no time for confessions ... for there is one way in you killed time in too short trousers, running from the edge to the steam ... you killed ten dogs on a sunday-morning ... it's the daydream's inn .. it's the dogdream's out ... there's no time for confessions ... for we were all too proud .. and there are three gongs running ... there are three gongs on a rage ... and there's no dogdream's confession ...when it's all too late ...

and there is no spin earlier ...and there's no spin after ... it's all in the middle ... where it all spins like batman's revenge ... like spiderman's waste ...it's the true tongue's confession ... there are daydream's inns ...

yes, the gongs are smashing ... it's the eighth number on the scale ... it's the dogdream's confession ...for people too small ... beginning like strangers, ending like nuts on a stream ...that's why you used to call men too soft ... too always too ... but when the red bike touches you ... the finish will fall down ...and everything changes ... everything knows ... that three sides of a coin cannot rake seas like you always did ... everything changes in his hands ... it's the dogdream's inn ... everything dies in his hands ... and gets alive again it's Jacob's Ladder ... it's Jacob's Dream It was red soup he was talking about

three gongs

Now you're getting lost with no one, now you're getting lost with fame ... It's telling you to keep rising ... it's the daydream's inn, it's the hard day's out ... it's the dogtime's confession ... it's the true voice's doubt ... it's the running stone's demise ... it's the soft issue's confession ... to head for three gongs ... to open the lion's floor you liked the true bell's sound, you liked the dwarf bell's ring ... you hated the dogtime's confessions ... you made the true doubts win

Now you're getting lost with no one, now you're getting lost with pain ... it's the dogdream's rain ... it's the dogring's fame ... it's the true sound's confession ... on a hard stream's day ... telling to burn off cowards ... telling to burn off fame ... for it's the dognight's confession closing the tiger's floor burning three gongs too deep, burning three gongs too loud ... it's a one time's special ... in a namesake's mouth ... there is no escape for cowards ... there is no escape to win ... it's the dog's home inn ... it's the devil's way out ... when a true voice's confession ... makes a hard man doubt makes a homevoice ring makes a firework sting ... makes a true time's confession ... on a small day's inn ...

Now you're killing time with nonsense ... now you're killing time with fame ... it's a dogday's rule it's a dogday's reign ... it's a true time's confession on a hard day's mouth ... opening the floors of elephants too loud but the lions' floors are opened too ... six lions from one cage twenty cages in a row sixty-seven rows all opened

Running, running, running, on a fairy's bike ... there's a dream you want to open ... but you cannot reach the key dreaming, dreaming, dreaming, jumping over the edges ... not knowing what will come, not knowing what's on the other side ... you are warming ... yourself ... in twenty blankets you got them from your grandfather while your grandmother bought them somewhere there ... yes, there, where the old mother weaves the snow where the old mother lays the sand where she's spinning the lights spinning snow she's raking the seven seas ... she is mourning ... for her kid just didn't want to die ... her seeds didn't want to go underground and now there will be no harvest in summer

the old mother is crying ... for there are too many kids no one wanted to die, no one wanted to leave this palace of pleasure while it was all out it's the daydream's inn old mother is raking the seas ... with her old violin ... old mother is raking the forests and the flowergardens of april ... while march is sitting in his boat not daring to watch how a shark kills a man i can understand that i can feel the man's pain ... but also the pains of the shark sometimes the lion has to kill when the rains get too far for he knows it's all overflowing ... when the rain gets too far ... it's a dogdream's kill ... it's a manchild's needle ... for a dogway's out

the tattoo

Will you ever understand when a man kills a rabbit ... Will you ever understand, when there's a flower on his grave ... I know these things are too hard to mention

I know these things are too hard to understand ... but someone has to talk about it it's the dogdream's inn it's the daydream's out it's the true time's confession in a manchild's shout ...

No one, no one, no one, could catch his tear ... no one could catch his smile no one, no one, no one, could bring his trousers across the river except your smile except your tear ...

It's all running too loud, when the daydream's closing it's doors, it's all running too high, when the daydream's locking confessions ... it's a standard part of history, it's a standard part of life ... when the breads must be eaten ... it's the hard man's dive it's the brainday's inn it's the dogtime's subscription ... on a low man's arm

Leaving The World Behind

there are houses too big to dream of,
there are people too far to see,
but in the middle there's something you can grasp and hold.

some things are too small to see,
only if you bow deep enough,
and become as small as them,
you can see their world.

from the mountains you can not see everything,
neither you can from the valleys,
sometimes you just have to enter a house and leave the world behind you.

Vanilla's Revenge

"in the hearth of the earth in the heart right there the wrestlers live they will not stop until they get what they want they accept everything they get to wrestle with it knowing the secret is inside the secret the treasureand a

newsword a new road to go deeperinto the hearth of the earth they all look the same they all do the same dances ... they all do the same steps"

the revenge ... earlier than the strike

I met a boy beyond or under france ... he said the goal sanctifies the tools, the motivations sanctify and purify the feelings and the thoughts ... your visions and your screens. He was sharpening his knives ... He was spinning his cigarettes ... He was noisy and loud ... He was like a rose A bleeding one ...

So cold, so sanctified ... his blue frozen roses ... bleeding in the night ... So hot, his eyes ... bleeding in the desert ... The prince flew to Arabia ... where all his dreams started ...

These are the seasons of love It's all whipped into a circle ... I will not cry anymore about a lost toy ... but staring at all the toys which hold me tight ... for you are growing there inside ... These are the seasons of love ... all whipped into a mill ... It's just another one's sunday rising there ... These are the seasons of love ... spinning a fairytale from upstairs to downstairs I will not believe someone can destroy the beauty of God ... I will not believe we will be put ashamed when we trust in a god Of Old books Yes, you like that old rocking chair ... I know you do ... but you forgot about the table and the rising milk I know you forgot about many more things too ... It's all written in that old clock of yours ... I am opening my shadows To find a gateway to escape behind an old curtain ... old curtains speak ...

Orion masters of the shell ... orion masters from the shell of illusion ...sliding to Arabia and back ...carrying the Indian spell ... The lady loves his handkerchief, the lady loves his red bike ...at the end of the stairways the lady loves his pirate's touch too. It was a long thought running about ice ... but finally he was wrapped in fire ... white fire ...

There is a loss in the heart of the woman, there is a loss in the heart of the daughter ...only the tear can bring it back ... and will burn like a fire against the storm ... dream of the white man, dream of the white face ... dream of white fire ... all in the flames ...

Dream of the white son, dream of the white days ... dream of white fires in white satin ... all streaming from Vanilla's ...revenge ...

It's almost summer it's almost spring ... but it will never be ... It's almost a brainwave almost a helicopter ... but it will never be ... You can feel it but it can never be touched ... the curse of the vanilla You can eat as most as you can But you can never be satisfied ... her curse ... also It is the cry of the martyr, now forever she will be ... the vanilla's coffee

At last she screams ... at last she dies ... It's the same remedy ... now she's still repeating ... all what you did to her ...in her own strange ways In her own strange sentiments ... it's the mocking of the woodpecker's house ... knocking on saturday's door ... blinded by lights ...escaping the rumors Now she will forever be ... on grandfather's clock knee ...

It's saturday the lights are on ... It's the day's sea She's spinning her letters in a coffin too small ... but that's what you did to me ... She's offering a cigarette of her own stones ...but that's a lie to me ...She's burning it loud with a heart full of passion ...that's how she heals me ... but yesterday and tomorrow ... it will all be the same ... last week and next week ... all hers ...vanilla's cruel compassion ... hanging you on saturday drowning you on sundaythe queen's horrible delights ... bound in satin For a day of three ... Is this the siren's apple-curse, is this the orange to the narrowest hell ? The next train will tell ...when there's the hard day's bell ...Two rocks from a witch's spell ... all wandering to be...on grandmother's little clock knee.

The summerdays are harder ... flying off to a greater tale ... the summerburner burns a hole in the moon ...for six rabbits to enter.... Two men are running on blood It's the daydream's plot ...asking loud questions ... breaking hard breads ... like the town's traindriver is mad ... heading for the siren's carriage ... on a hard blue bike ... along the daydream's dike ... where all black men meet each other, on skates, hats or high heels ... when the black daydream deals ... on a hard day's bike ... on a true time's confession ..it's the high lord's strike ...forgive our true name's underwater dike ...scanning the side-halls ...scanning the rainbells ..

Like a thunder in the brain ...like a thunder so insane ... and you will never know where she hid your knee ...she stole something but you don't know what...you are searching something ...somewhere....but you don't know who or where you are ... you even don't know who she isand this is what hurts ...the weight of your sleep...like an image passing by...not knowing what it represents.....oh so many things in fire ...hearing their loud screams...waiting to be identifiedwaiting to receive their names....not knowing who lied to you...but the truth lies there on the table of a little man....the other direction...the woodpecker's house ...the doormaker's mouse...the cleaning upstairs ...under a blueberry's moon ...contacting your mother's space.....in a soft..embrace

The siren's carriage....sweet like candy...but stinging like a knife....embracing you like a coward...soft like your mother's handbut cruel like your grandmother's spell...on a summer's day.....a summer's delay...another hope lays another chain... candy roaring at three streets the same....the siren's carriage ...sweet like a toy...but your mother's coffin...all there.....where the candy roars.....where the thunder kills.....where the baby thrills....

There where the flames scream....there where it's almost but never there....Vanilla's.....revenge.....

Two trains on one morning, sinking deeper in the sea....looking for the golden knee...with the golden rag.... The golden boy tries to sing....but his ring is dying....six planets on a row...tomorrow there will be seven, when the cock crows three times....

The hard way's lie is breathing into my face...spreading feathers.....hard perfumes.....cold as vanilla ice but I need to realizethe revenge was there before it even happened ... the revenge ... earlier than the strike ... and this was always your mother's secret ...the chocolate always deep in her smile's bag ...you... can...be...happy ..again. her love was ..assured...her pride....her care.....her ..joy.

You didn't see her coming from the aeroplane ...you were in your..dreams... but she killed it before it was born.... She blinded it before it could stare at you ...

back to arabia

Dreamlights on ... The child could fish all the day ... It's the voice of the woodpecker ... from the woodpecker's house so deep in that forest ... so deep and loud ... Like all your memories are washed away ... and you have to catch them again ... At the end of the day ... It starts all over again ... And you tell me it isn't warm enough ... It's never enough ... Living in the almost-zone ... dying in the Lion's Tea all .. his ... misunderstanding ... and you're still reaching for your honey's milk
... cold streams in daylight turning into a flame at night thousand flames streaming to the white cat ... having no other choice to burn it ...

One saturday beyond Italy can blow your mind One saturday beyond spain ... will be your coffin ... And these tales all stream from arabia from the lion's tea ... from the son of africa ... from a maze full of towers, from a maze full of seas ... It is the Lion's Tea ... that brought us on our knees the big master speaks the big master dries your tears ... still a lion in a black jacket, standing tall like the venus' screen still a lion still a maze still a lucifer so tight in his embrace did you call them the boys from lynx ?did you all call them those boys with their white pink with their sharp stiletto's ... with their sharp knives cutting poetry at the ends of the night knowing the tops of the evening knowing the tops of the night knowing the clocks of the tops and doing it all in despite ... a knot in their throats ...

He was pouring his teas ... in the middle of the night saying your offerings are so long refused ... for there was a pale jacket in it a pale face from the vanilla's revenge a pale mourning a pale sun

He said lady don't you know the pale lady she scattered your son, she scattered his geese ... she scattered all that he had but hey, the revenge was there ... before this all happened and maybe that was why she did it ... maybe not we will never know we will never know

Oh why, my dear, dear lion oh why will we never know i need to have the answer to survive this maze ... to survive life this lion's tea

No, my dear lady, you don't need to survive you will sink deeper into this maze ... until you will see the yellow flower until you will see the yellow's rose I'm a prince full of darkness.... I'm a prince full of tears I am the licorice ... the lucifer that comes to bring the fears into the right frustrations into the right faiths into the right submissions ... into the right space I am the dream beyond the dream yes, i will tell you how to survive I am the judas who brought you the knife

There I am falling, there I am weeping Where is my Jesus, my saviour in this nightmare

There will not be any Jesus, the lion in the black tall jacket sais.... there will be only some boys some boys from lynx

Oh, stop it, you son of bastards ... oh stop it, you son of the lie you killed the pale lady with your streams from the nile you are the crocodile you are the eliphant's transmission you're the lion's cage you are the autumn of daniel's death I will

No, the lion roars, no the lion sais you will not

But I will I roar back I will be the lion here I will be the one worthy enough to serve as Gods Angel I will replace lucifer, who fell so deep into this lion's pit and now I will be Lucifer

Like you want it, sais the lion like you want it but remember one thing :
I

And then she wakes up This nightmare spinning in her head all these years all these nights all hunting her down so that she cannot walk in daylight

she's so paralyzed all because of this story she's so paralyzed in a wheelchair she sits my dear because of this legend because of this legacy
.....

In little amsterdam ... the candy-jester walks he's the candy-jester and he's looking for her he invites her he loves her he kidnaps her every night to the tiles of amsterdam to tell her a story ...

now the little green-orange jester coming from the heart of the land ... eating shoes full of whiskey like drunk chocolate he's the heartmare he's the friend of all kids only the wise ones will escape from himescape fromhim

the man with the red eyes, red lights in his eyes gave his life to see such a screen

the orange mocker turns around three times ...walking the perimeterson a thin, thin line he's a bit busy today, a bit frustrated a bit hesitating a bit nervous for an eagle caught a glimpse from his hat and now it will be in tomorrow's newsletter a pretty sight a pretty sight but the master doesn't like it he wanted to hide his years he wanted to live in silence screaming with the faery's tears or maybe fairies ...

He's spinning it all into slowmotion to enjoy the seconds for twenty years the pale woman doesn't have her extasies anymore she forgot about her trousers the pale woman doesn'thave lights ...anymorebut she's still the trick of the dayno, you won't go into that you never liked the french roads you preferred to be in spain there's a split between your sister and you because of that and the lion still laughing for tonightit's tea-time again what is raging there at the tiles of amsterdam is it another town trying to enter ?it's the heart of the land

she's spinning around like capuchino ... still in her wheelchair she's running down the streets but ...she is still in her wheelchairlike the abc's doglike the gardener of the maze accepting the yellow roses accepting the orange moon accepting the creatures with the big eye in the heart of the land they say there is a key in portugal to escape the black river to enter a new arabia with white flames with sons from vanilla all knowing about her revenge all knowing about the eye in the middle of her big body going to arabia

it is the hearth of the earth where all devils dance where all mockers die yes, let them dance ... let them do the she accepted them too let them first do their dances until the fire is too hot then they will burn themselves too and the fire will dance further

in the hearth of the earth in the heart right there the wrestlers live they will not stop until they get what they have they accept everything they get to wrestle with it knowing the secret is inside the secret the treasureand a newsword a new road to go deeperinto the hearth of the earth they all look the same they all do the same dances ... they all do the same steps

And vanilla, the bridge between portugal and arabia ... you don't want to know what lives here In the sea ... this holy sea indiansdrownedin this seathis sacred sea holding the key ... to a land they don't want to know ofthe land ... where the grandfather stranded this landto seal the rage

vanilla's peace but this day she was shot in the eye she knew too much about the swan the black swan she still rules the swan's lake but now the golden swan has come

they give so much, but they never give enough and they take so much away there are too many reasons to follow them ... this is why the snake was sent out ... hunting for many reasons

Greetings from Ananas

Did you dream of red roses and apricots smoking in your sea-gardens ? What are you breeding there ? Is it a new sort of flower ? Or is it a new sort of horse, to travel ...

Purple pale horses were always your best trick. And mother still sais : she is out of it now ... But I don't know who or what to believe. I rather take a look for myself. That's why I'm calling.

Do you still drum the drum like you used to do ? Do you still have your nonsense in the middle of the night ? You're still a lawyer's daughter, that was what mom always said. But I rather take a look to see it for myself.

Are you still dreaming about princes on white wet fairytales, are you still looking for photo's in a warm wet basket. Yes, you know it's full of snakes. But you love these old pictures.

There's still soap in your mouth, bubbling from the bottom and when you speak, the candy starts to flow. And when you swallow, it's ice-cream. You are still a silly girl ... still a silly girl. You could always make me laugh in the worst moments, you silly girl, I laughed in my grave.

Still a silly girl, still an apricot's lover, still a murderer of thousand bedrooms, still a honeyhorse, a football's choice, a racer on the railways to the big banana. How's life, queen of orange, how is your daddy and your brother do you ...still like my mother.

Yes, you were there when these waspcats, those catwasps stole my trousers in the rain I never saw them back It must be something in the brain and you weresitting on it

You always liked to tease me, you didn't care about the tears the more the better so that when I heard it was all a joke, I could laugh the hardest You're still the joke-book on my cupboard, the silly smile on my raincoat you are still the bearer of my dreams you're still an ornament on my highest hat and you keep on writing all these letters they come over me like oceans But not with tricks anymore no, you changed

I wonder if you still like my mother I always liked your dad maybe too much I wonder if you like my sister I always loved your brother maybe a bit too much

You got quiet these years very quiet Did you see archernar or is it something else I bet you met your old raincoat again He was so quiet too maybe Do you still dream of white potatoes like you always used to dream do you still warn for the ice-cream...queen

Do you still warn for bad ornaments do you still watch like the sea do you still wear too tall trousers and too high shoeswhen it's necessary ? Do you still get greetings from ananas Do you still love tall hanging ornaments hanging in the wind and in the night Do you still love dogs too tired Do you still wear catclothes in the night ?

Do you still love Greece ? Do you still adore Italian wash-clips ? Do you still love the French Accents How's life now, queen of orange ?

Thank you for all these roses, they get so fluffy in the night ... Thank you for all these chocolates They are freezing in daylight Turning into rainbows, looking for the ice-cream The thing you always warned against

Three ice-cream-murderers still your best friends swallowing ice-cream like you always did

Oh, so that was why you warned against it for you wanted it for yourself Aha.

Greetings from Ananas II

Wonderlamp on the attic

I'm riding on Jupiter, fairytales too late Maybe if they were here earlier I could watch the banana's prince ... But it's all too late Oh yes, the fairytales are beautiful but the drama has already struck the sights All I see are some old rinds and some crying knights These dreams are too beautiful but they came too late

another Jesus

I'm sitting on a nuclear ice-cream ... too hard to breath hereBut I know when I jump off I will get on a horse too wild

Everything is frozen, I cannot move But the Icecream is holding my hands and there's fire between us Purple fire That happens when things get too cold, they get sweet, and then they start to burn

Born again in Orion, I'm reading the Master's Tea Tales ... finding some old chocolate passages and some old tiger-icecream tales it's like a lost stranger is wandering in it wandering in an old forest

The ice-cream stairways are tall and bring me finally into sleep these boys from lynx ... these masters of tax and insurance they would lead me out their stings were too tall and now there's a ladder inside of me these boys from lynx with legs too tall still the sons of sandman

These waspcats, these wild cats ... running from the edge of destruction to the master's tea always doing the deal these mastercats these milkmen ... sinking deep into the white oceans to save a killerwhale ... your grandfather is still looking for them ... wanting to sell them his three red pale flowers You always used to touch things too sharp for you ... but now their soft blankets warm your oranges This is the night's railway awakening you to a new round in a new game The old ones aren't valid anymore since daylight touched spring

Now you're running in baskets too short while the orange is smiling at you still your best friend

These last brunt pseta's brought you this far touching the candy's milk ... the sisters of ice shook hands with the sisters of the big ice-cream there are always faster horses than this ... so you are still trying to find your ways to new homes you are wondering what makes the day so bright ?

Six sailors are burning the seas in high jackets almost covering their faces ... shooting their hats into the night They know about the fears of a million of sharks ... they still trace their railways of forgotten dust Now finally they have their eye on the big icecream ... They are spoilt enough to do a master's strike Their high tables are reaching for your mother's ceilings ... It was never like this and it will never be like this again ... Now you were always good at running on sandman's tables you jumped from one to the other the swimming rat was always your secret ... he had wings like a knife

The overdose of pride still the gift of the ice-cream ... still the railway deep into the night watching daylight from a high shore waiting to dive into something you cannot imagine And finally you could sleep ... and finally you could escape waiting for the long hours of the morning ... where grandmother's clocks still dance And still you try to choose between a snake-lake and a rat-lake while your eyes are still bleeding because of the swanlake Is it a wasp who can finally shut this dream forever ? No tailor could do the final strike No engineer could invent this machine hidden in the head of the wasp The old shark is burning while looking at the party so deep into the night No sharklake could prevent this Seven sheep with the pale blue lights in their eyes rise from the eighth pit ... They follow a shepherd called Jesus ... still the hero of the town They raised him in love laying 666 dollar below his craddle Still a tree is growing there A christmas-tree ... stinging it's head through worlds and loves with high tech camera's The next day it will be in the newspapers for Judas to know

They can turn grass into milk ... those boys from lynx ... still the side-painters of the big eye ... still the mass-tricksters of the old coffee but their own eyes are bleeding Their names are still echoing through the night ... It's better for you not to hear them, for you would not sleep for seven years this is the master's march ... this is the daylight's grape still purple and diving ...still bleeding it's way into the earring It would not let you open your mouth until you read the books on the tops of the seven hills. And these are all puzzlebooks. The answers change every minute, and every year the question changes and new animals are born all wandering the perimeters of the old craddle This Jesus had a face one side was purple

And the wasps loved him the wasps cared for him they raised him from the pulpit ... from the master's hand and allow them to enter the big eye every year ... no boy from lynx would follow him they were all watching behind the screens ... counting his tears and steamdrips counting all the stings on his body calling for the flowers to bloom there this was the best painting they ever made but later they found out that jesus wasn't his real name

the gamble-wizard

They love the master's hand, they squeeze the final touch ... with these hands of fire ... these hands of broken ornaments ... glittering in the night they sold their beauty for fame they sold their lamps for night ... for six bottles of broken beer to turn it all around in the middle of the year they know how to turn the clock backwards, and how to weave the second mill ... It's all still blushing in the middle of amsterdam like the yellow corn

The spanish prince sells his fruits for coffee ... the little princess still hides behind curtains of the old attic and I am still a delicious dreamer a lamp there in the corridor eleventh floor still attracting the wasps but also the little gnats they are biting their ways through the meal still the baker's pride And the wisphers reach the little city the purple one and the bakers reach the mouth of the year there's ink enough for a next painting they all suit the lion's fear

The dreams are worthy to fill this wonderlamp ... to fill this speaking cupboard forever the banana-prince has shoes too tall, but they curl in the night There he walks through the corridors of the palace's floors The lion's floor is wasted by wine and liquor The tiger's floor burns in the seventh night, like an army of gnats the zebra's floor is full of harems, there's healing in the eighth night, while the ninth one will wake you up forever The satin's fleece is burning there, like the milkmaid's son's helicopter There will be always three men too tired for that But this will finally break open your mother's pond ... to see the face of the icecream shivering No honey can stream through their veins anymore

The proper words of a purple santa ... the wizard of presents was always by your side There's always something in something There's always escaping something out

On the third day everything lives and speaks ... even the old apricot-tree of your grandparents you thought it would be dead forever

When the wonderlamp is in the hand of the banana-prince ... there's spice coming out of it ... like powders of purple delights wandering over red roads too delicious to describe now fortunately there are veils so that you will not fall from the hill the second hill will always hold grip

There he shares his bananas with the little princess ... The spanish nightmare has almost gone it's still yelling between a bird and an old shoe from the morning till the evening but in the middle of the day it's quiet for seven breaths This is how the girl can go on while living like an owl in the night ... wearing her warsuits to do the ananas-dance She's still a spicy ananas after all these years

The streams bring her to the doubts where she can escape some old false thruths she got them from an old bear an old dragon and an old bird She still wonders where they are now She hasn't seen them in a long time

Black gates from the blue belt opening her ears and then shut them ... to never come back That's how they span the dream inside her hair she still fights for a place in the cinema she still drives her ornaments to the big pear and this all to burn a coward's coin the automatons have been sold out, since the black queen crashed her donkeys.....

I'm riding on Jupiter, fairytales too late Maybe if they were here earlier I could watch the banana's prince ... But it's all too late Oh yes, the fairytales are beautiful but the drama has already struck the sights All I see are some old rinds and some crying knights These dreams are too beautiful but they came too late

And the giants are crying, but they cannot solve this cruel puzzle It tears me
apart all inside

The black prince, the black fool, from the darkness to the age ... from time to nothing selling old clocks to the birds They cannot fly anymore for the beauty too late has paralyzed their hearts

Black prince, black dove, raising the dice Gamblers from the maze spoiling
black guitars to the tiles of little amsterdam

It's the gamble-wizard He invented all these wheels he invented all these cruel ornaments they are keeping the slaves alive

I don't know how to hate you, oh black wizard from the southeast coasts You are licking the icecreams in trousers too short Cruel diaries Private dark lights it's the burning, the burning, the burning of the ice No mailman could invent such a horror ... only you, black wizard, black prince with your oiled automatons, full of red motors and strange rages spicy dances in the night old banana's from an arabian castle they were too old but the clock made them too young So now she can't hear the cry of her children now she can't hear the baker's alarm it's all your fault, wizard you gambler in the sweetest night You are too sweet to do something You are too sweet to be in time this is the maze's horror the black bird singing in august's pride

We can never be in time in this automaton of yours Our marbles are beautiful but we always lose them We are all dying sweet deaths in beds too sweet to sleep in Is this the Icecreams revenge or are you looking for another tall lady Mr. Billiards was never your favorite These sticks were too tall the marbles too white There was always something wrong with something And it was always too late for the doctor already slept the last dentist was already retired on a pension so we had to go to Jupiter to meet a mailman's mouth

we could not watch the ocean's tiredness anymore for we were the ones too tired
..... we could only watch ourselves we couldn't read the latest fairytales anymore
..... they were beautiful but paralyzed.

The doctor had a beautiful hat today, but he couldn't help us Oh, what a nice house he has Really a masterpiece but his kids are dying Cruel Ananas

pink-blue forest-road

You were too young to catch the rain ... too young to help your mother with lazy bags too young to decide The gamblewizard's girl It's all too beautiful but all too young the kid's still spinning the wheel still stinging to bleed still the wasp's rage it was too old now it will be too young it was too early now it will be too late All these foundlings They are spinning the revenge they are forming the ornament on a wheel too low for their knees they are cycling in the night looking for the last wonderlamp

I see you crying there little girl, with your little brother, lost in the forest I see your little hat screaming, like libra's dictator you were an unaccepted child your parents didn't want you they made you just for the fun of it and after it they threw you away you came too early in their eyes but now you will come too late when all is said and done but you are the gambler's friend you give and you take and in the night you let it all slip away yes, you still chase the dream you still chase the ornament ...still a child after your father's heart still many dreams to go

Unaccepted boy ... you are still your sister's brother still shooting doves in the night for you are the only dove you are under a cowboy's rage ... losing the indian marbles but tonight you will find them again You are still the prince of unaccepted worries, still the prince too tall for the door and in the night you will grow too short, to rage at all who made the door You are still the zebra's desire still the tiger's friend you are still waiting for spring you learn how to bend your knees to teach it everywhere although the trees don't want to hear it ... although the princesses will be too pale to listen they will sit in their own caravans in their own campings But you will speak like the lemon's nightingale ... having the spoilt peach on your side being followed by legions of microphones

Together you spin the wheel, together ...

Foundlings from lynx

Holes of slow-motion, holes of echoes from the past can they all forget their missions, their earthquakes ? No, these are legendary works ... they will rage until the son has been set free ...

The woman will rage until the voice is subtile ... until the snake breaks through the throat they are all wandering to the gambler of wizards the gamble-wizard with a million of sirens on their backs When the raspberry's ripe, the tables of the kings are full.

The shark speaks with a million of mouths It was always like this She remembers him like yesterday's tear But the wheel is still spinning for all gamblers trying to pick their gold for the nights It's the nightingale's secret It all burns there until no raker's on the sea

Still humpty dumpty sits on his hill ... not wanting to let it go ... until the cook will break his ring They know everything about the sea behind the restaurant No any tear will be wasted for the ship's demise It will all flow softly to the land as a wisphering sacrifice

And you are still following the candy's veins the master's railways ... into pink desires ... dreaming your headpears into peaces drawing the chocolate on a white veil ... But I will not cry any tear for this ... It's all in the chrystal ball ... locked in green trousers and brown jackets with love from robin hood.

What can I do with a sharp voice in my mouth ? With smoke from bastard's origin It's only to wash daffodiles in red streams of love ...

The wheels spin ... it's all deeper inside ... pink ... blue forestroad ...

Greetings from Ananas III

The Anatomy of Pride

sinking deep in icecream ... is the best you can do after the soft strike ...

until you reach the sleep ... where the soap carries you away to the land of glue ...

sinking deep in icecream is the best when the vanilla strikes

until you reach the hills of sandman ... to sell your shoes ... and sink in sand ... to find your pride again ... it's all deep inside ...

sinking deep in icecream until you reach the new shores ... proclaiming another world, turning everything backwards reading santa clause's letters he's still looking for you, after all these years ... still looking for you ... and your cats ... he gives you his backwards-glasses to slide back into his arms ... there are white fires between her breasts she wears the crown of thorns She still bears the clip of thorns in her mouth too, having all colours of the rainbow ...

sinking in deep icecream ... until you reach the dwarve's gong

sinking icecream reaching ...for the mother's shoe ...

white horses

I'm riding on my white horse ... I found it in a broken marriage ... I don't know which marriage it was Well, I think I know you, I would like to talk to your wife I will bring it under her nose what she did to you Now I see you walking with a neon advertisement on your head searching for your white horses you can have mine ... for I have a lot of these animals in my garage together we will make some trips through the forests, and I will show you all these beautiful flowers they will grow on your broken marriage stretching out to you

Yes, I know, it was actually your white horse I found ... but I cared good for it ... it wasn't good for you at the moment and whoa what did it do to me it bit me like a lion ... it hanged me on the highest tree but I thought it was okay as long as you were safe

And now I tamed it now I trained it so you can ride on it now Just call me when you have problems with it then we can go on a trip together but you were also someone's white horse ...

street of blood

I found her in a street, blood was streaming out of her mouth she swallowed a marble thinking it would be forever hers but it killed her I still cry on your grave, day and night, throwing flowers on it my mother's

But isn't it what I did long ago ? Swallowing a marble People tried to save me, but they couldn't and now they are crying on my grave ... I cannot move for the marble struck me Just a little marble

Someone's face is reflected by the marble ... oh my god, I don't dare to watch I'm bowing my head closing my eyes It is the woman who gave me this marble
And she gave it to others also

This is how we know each other ... we all swallowed ... a marble

This is how we died This is how we bled

We thought the marble would be ours forever but it killed us it killedus killer-marbles

And Jupiter saw it all happening ... and Emily and the marbles themselves, reflecting the face of the old woman

We thought it was candy but it was a marble it was all a game and now
there's blood in this street of Jupiter ... wasn't it just a strange way how sandman brought us to sleep ? we couldn't sleep, we were bored but this thing put the horror on ... and the shock was our ship to dreamland we were already close
on Jupiter's Street reflecting on a mailman's watch

Some people like the games rather than the truths ... this is how they turn us backwards ... but it all brings us in sandman's arms ... we wouldn't go to sleep any other way when sandman hits, it's right in the middle ... and too hard to stay awake but then finally we can feel his soft jacket, and his buttons ticking softly
and slowly in our heads

dream about it

Oh, this land is cruel, this land of a thousand trousers ... hanging through the streets ...

Oh this land is cruel ... seventy soldiers on one horse ... this land is cruel ...

Oh this land is cruel ... the frog sais it's bedtime, while it's time to wake up ... oh this land is cruel ...

and you're still running in too short trousers because of it ...

In nameless' land

And you are dreaming without name ... In the land of the nameless You feel save here ... nobody knows you nobody has a name here only a good spoon

The song which brought you over the hill

Drama after drama spun by the big mouse ... hunting you like february's rain ... And you're too desperate to see the song ... The song which brings you over the hill ...

Forgotten Glories

The dentist is a clown today, yesterday he was the officer of a forgotten country ...
And the day before yesterday he was just a rose growing on someone's grave ... just a lonely rose ... it had enough of the world's fame now it wanted to be invisible ...

And you are still sharpening your flowers ... you are too afraid to look into someone's face ... too scared of what you will see ... maybe your mother's dream maybe your sister's lost ornament ... scottish boy ... too afraid of what you will see in the mouth of the horse ... thinking you will never sleep again ...

Well I made the dive ... when a purple ananas wants to save a million of locked up lions ... They will kill it ... They will turn it into a criminal ... The first one who wants to help, will be the ladder of their desire their desire to eat again The first strikes are always the hardest ... for only the wise will catch them and see no one else will be on their side ...

How long will I be the enchanted spoon ?

Greetings from Ananas III

The Anatomy of Pride

sinking deep in icecream ... is the best you can do after the soft strike ...
until you reach the sleep ... where the soap carries you away to the land of glue ...
sinking deep in icecream is the best when the vanilla strikes
until you reach the hills of sandman to sell your shoes ... and sink in sand to find your pride again ... it's all deep inside ... sinking deep in icecream until you reach the new shores ... proclaiming another world, turning everything backwards reading santa clause's letters he's still looking for you, after all these years ... still looking for you ... and your cats ... he gives you his backwards-glasses to slide back into his arms ... there are white fires between her breasts she wears the crown of thorns She still bears the clip of thorns in her mouth too, having all colours of the rainbow ...
sinking in deep icecream ... until you reach the dwarve's gong

sinking icecream reaching ...for the mother's shoe ...

white horses

I'm riding on my white horse ... I found it in a broken marriage ... I don't know which marriage it was Well, I think I know you, I would like to talk to your wife I will bring it under her nose what she did to you Now I see you walking with a neon advertisement on your head searching for your white horses you can have mine ... for I have a lot of these animals in my garage together we will make some trips through the forests, and I will show you all these beautiful flowers they will grow on your broken marriage stretching out to you

Yes, I know, it was actually your white horse I found ... but I cared good for it ... it wasn't good for you at the moment and whoa what did it do to me it bit me like a lion ... it hanged me on the highest tree but I thought it was okay as long as you were safe

And now I tamed it now I trained it so you can ride on it now Just call me when you have problems with it then we can go on a trip together but you were also someone's white horse

street of blood

I found her in a street, blood was streaming out of her mouth she swallowed a marble thinking it would be forever hers but it killed her ... I still cry on your grave, day and night, throwing flowers on it my mother's

But isn't it what I did long ago ? Swallowing a marble People tried to save me, but they couldn't and now they are crying on my grave I cannot move for the marble struck me Just a little marble

Someone's face is reflected by the marble ... oh my god, I don't dare to watch I'm bowing my head closing my eyes It is the woman who gave me this marble And she gave it to others also

This is how we know each other ... we all swallowed ... a marble

This is how we died This is how we bled

We thought the marble would be ours forever but it killed us it killedus killer-marbles

And Jupiter saw it all happening ... and Emily and the marbles themselves,
reflecting the face of the old woman

We thought it was candy but it was a marble it was all a game and now
there's blood in this street of Jupiter ... wasn't it just a strange way how sandman brought us to sleep ? we couldn't sleep, we were bored but this thing put the horror on ... and the shock was our ship to dreamland we were already close
on Jupiter's Street reflecting on a mailman's watch

Some people like the games rather than the truths ... this is how they turn us backwards ... but it all brings us in sandman's arms ... we wouldn't go to sleep any other way when sandman hits, it's right in the middle ... and too hard to stay awake but then finally we can feel his soft jacket, and his buttons ticking softly
and slowly in our heads

dream about it

Oh, this land is cruel, this land of a thousand trousers ... hanging through the streets ...

Oh this land is cruel ... seventy soldiers on one horse ... this land is cruel ...

Oh this land is cruel ... the frog sais it's bedtime, while it's time to wake up ... oh this land is cruel ...

and you're still running in too short trousers because of it ...

In nameless' land

And you are dreaming without name ... In the land of the nameless You feel save
here ... nobody knows you nobody has a name here only a good spoon

The song which brought you over the hill

Drama after drama spun by the big mouse ... hunting you like february's rain ... And you're too desperate to see the song ... The song which brings you over the hill ...

Forgotten Glories

The dentist is a clown today, yesterday he was the officer of a forgotten country ...
And the day before yesterday he was just a rose growing on someone's grave ... just
a lonely rose ... it had enough of the world's fame now it wanted to be invisible ...

And you are still sharpening your flowers ... you are too afraid to look into someone's face ... too scared of what you will see ... maybe your mother's dream
maybe your sister's lost ornament ... scittish boy ... too afraid of what you will see in the mouth of the horse ... thinking you will never sleep again ...

Well I made the dive ... when a purple ananas wants to save a million of locked up lions ... They will kill it ... They will turn it into a criminal ... The first one who wants to help, will be the ladder of their desire their desire to eat again The first strikes are always the hardest ... for only the wise will catch them and see no one else will be on their side ...

How long will I be the enchanted spoon ?

King of Trauma

Bilmageln is walking through the streets of amsterdam ... still a cowboy's letter ...
still under the sun ... a lawyer's docter ...

Bilmageln is smoking his pipe No one knows he's the big dwarf ... bragging like no one can ... but i like his speeches ...

Bilmageln is eating sandtarts still sandman's brother ... still the cook's advice but he's a lawyer's docter giving one warning, and then he attacks ... like the wolve's dog

Bilmageln wants you for homework ... some pretty things ... some secret diaries still burning in the night ...

He closes his golden fences His keys shining like the water's lights But it's all fake

He knows the anatomy of the trauma ... knowing the cars of the big race it's a spoilt treasure ... if it comes to that ... he's breeding his big cat this cat likes dogs ... but he has some more cats ... not always the easiest ones but bilmageln is very easy ... very easy ... if it comes to that ...

He's the king of all trauma's he is the king of all rains drowned nightmares in a basket of snakes he knows the snakelakes like his pockets no, the girl isn't too skinny ... some just can't stand bilmageln when he's riding on his carriage ... to the prince's court no one has to bow ... they already fell down hundreds of years before he came his perfumes don't know any name his smoke comes to lit more fires and then he speaks like the faery's applecustard too late to remember your own name

His touch is like the forbidden trauma ... Fragile like the prince's trust like his son in africa with his mouth full of dust running in too short pyama's ... with his teeth on twenty o clock It's the rain's race banana ... It's the mummified mock Still the potatoe's prince

There he locks another golden fence hitting the big gong Now we're having some big tea with misunderstood lions

His touch is so so fragile this prince of the ornament's dream this prince of the broken ladder ... it's so hard to get it seems It's broken soap in the mailbox It's august the twentieth which is the king the king of all traumas ... the king of daylight's spring mummified like a horse's broken letter king david with his head so thin thinner than the horse's manner thinner like the cucumber's king but he isn't too thin some just can't stand bilmageln ... some just can't stand the big star some just can't see the broken ornament it's too late for this dance ...

Bilmageln is the big murmurer ...no one knows exactly what he's saying ...

Curroael Burboggia

Red Cape's Flower

The World Beyond Fairytale III

I - Raising the Capes

Wasps in a basket of candy - When Bilmageln strikes the Gong

Bananas in South-America

Boy in the Bubble

Libra's Little Dictator

Blueberry's Fever

The Pink Chocolate's Rose Wedding

The Woman with the sixhundred tears in her eyes

Moonchild

Moonchild II

The Band

She never becomes ...

II - The Bleeding Cock

Miserable Magnets

Miserable Magnets II

Painter's Wars

The Girl with the Red Sword - Ritual of the Fruit

Buried in your Dream

Sisters of the Ornament

Prayer from a Farmer's Son

Prayers from Butchers, Truants and Apple-corners

Strange Foreign Birthdays

III - The Forbidden Pieces - Fragments from the Big Taboo

The Land behind Oz

Nightmare on Marilyn's Grave

The Mirror II

Piece without Name

Song on Rabbit's Hill

Piece without Name II

Piece without Name III

Wasps in a basket of Candy

when bilmageln strikes the gong

"she"

She's like the elve's tree like the dream This friend of Bilmageln is it his mother, his wife, I don't know, and I don't care ... all I know is that you saved my life out of the nuclear threat

You gave me a trauma of pleasure The birthday's trauma ... Leading me to the dwarves of trauma ... having the smile of the big trauma Now it was a good thing after all

Still I don't know your name Don't tell me you're Red Cape Don't tell me

You grew a lot ... or did I become smaller ?

There you go ... putting another trauma on It's an obsession, the way you produce smoke ... The way you are touching a flower The way you clean your shoes Are you Red Boot's sister ? Don't tell me

Don't tell me, that you are hard enough to burn old paths don't tell me, that you're a sparrow in the sun don't tell me about Cinderella, don't tell me about your dogs I think I will wait until I'm ready Ready to go through the golden fence

ready to go through the enchanted curtains ready to touch the enchanted veils
to watch the traumatic beauty

I'm so glad I'm frozen ... You cannot get me from my place ... I'm so glad I'm a statue in this strange land I'm so glad I cannot cry, I'm so glad I cannot speak I'm so glad for what would you do with my tears and words ? Which animals are waiting there to have food ?

I'm safe in my bubble Don't tell me about Tinkerbell, don't tell me about her cats I'm safe enough here I know you carry all fairytales in your bag ... bringing them to grandma's but she's a wolf she's a trauma

"he"

Were you ever stung by a million of wasps ? This was cruel food ... too cruel I'm wandering to the forgotten city ... Bilmageln knows everything about amsterdam
He stood at her cradle ... when she was a little baby she knew how to put the trauma on I'm still covered by wasps ... They leave one by one but when one leaves ... two come They must love me deep or is it hate or is it the candy burning in my heart ... running through my legs this traumatic candy I got it from Bilmageln and you made it sweet Oh, sweetness from the Big Trauma ...

And Bilmageln still bragging Seeing bridges where there aren't bridges But that trauma is another trick from the Giant's world another rose from red cape's garden When you're big all things are too small

Red Cape's Garden, a mockery's maze on a sunday's race telling me all trousers will be too short when bilmageln strikes the gong

Oh you love this rose ? You will hate it when Bilmageln strikes the gong ...

You're ready for nonsense on a sunday's morning ? It's all truth and real ... when bilmageln hits the gong he all does it with his spoon he's still the cook's advice but he's just a lawyer's doctor and his dogs still run through amsterdam
.... searching for cats his big dog loves cats but he has more ... in all sorts

Do you think I'm burning when bilmageln hits the gong ... tomorrow he will kick it ... and then I'll freeze ... freezing myself ... into the lawyer's castle watching a lawyer's spoon dancing with his dumb oranges two steps in the night throwing his dice into the lake of the dragon and still watching the ornament's pride coiling from the basket of wasps rising from the candy ... touching the mother's shoe

I threw a shoe in Red Cape's garden, when I was a kid now I'm still a kid I will not grow up forever It's the woman's curse It's the true side's blanket running from neptune to the rains like an ornament of flowers without losing any wing they will grow when the night falls reaching for a saturday-morning

"us"

Red Cape loves her chickens but when bilmageln hits the gong, they will all be traffic-lights that was how I met Red Boots ... How many sisters do you have I don't need any more harems of worried mothers I'm frozen like the milk's rain standing on the Big Ship having peanuts in my ears too scared of the siren's secret society the mailbox's pride burning like a shotgun in the night still after my boots those golden ones which grew in Pinocchio's gardens I'm late today ... too late to see the mills spin

Pinocchio was the big sugarspin on a race's fairground to avoid all these rainy days Now wasps are in his baskets Chocolate in his shoes It will attract the worst dogs But he's safe in my arms in the big Icecream His father will love this ship all built by these mutant ants Oh, how they loved to built the big red shoe together with the spinning birds and some old embroiderers This was how the blue house got struck It's still falling from that old rock While the taps in Red Cape's house are streaming milk from spiders

Curroael Burboggia still the big flower covering her house She likes to dance with orgids, with rages on a summer's road She runs on Belgium Satin to a house of blaming candy here all the shivers die all turned into the black rage her machines are coins of forgotten histories her brains are veiled by ornament's dishes It's the black trauma bringing the black birthday like ontario's rain

She wears the summer like her mother's kangaroo ... she washes the dishes of old soldiers and old kids She's bringing the dance back ... these forgotten dances these ornament's rages so that no one dares to look at her no one dares to know her name is it Red Cape or Red Rage and her sister the Red Boots wandering through tomorrow's forests putting the trauma on the wild blind obsessions the name-screams and the ornaments the white dreams some sons of old cartoons and cardboards bring them all back to me although i'm still frozen running on wild winds skating on black potatoes still the daydream's friend

Oh, it's so cold in my bubble you cannot touch my hand today or you will freeze like me and feeling this trauma this decade ... for years

King of traumas, king of narrow brains king of narrow ornaments from a white spooky house in old arabia where there were trees as roads where there were orange wars turning black in the night oh these satin velvets all these muscle's rains will die in the cold night when bilmageln hits the banana

Wool of old sheep is running over your body decorating your big mercedes ... but what will you have ... when bilmageln hits the bell he's the hitter of hitters the prince's drum the ornament's rain ... what do you like to want black prince from the morning's rain you were never in his hidden agenda ... his orchestra would never come to your town for the light blue lights in your eyes telling about this shepherd's jesus ... with the woolen shoes with the broken tops like running post from the edges all in the postman's bag ... waiting for a good sunday to drown them all

Tonight there will be a war between the clown's dentists all doctors under his command oh, how he likes to play how a rat catches a mouse

Somebody's knocking on your old barn It's the ornament's prince the daydream's confession sitting on a hard day's mouse he's a good driver you admire his pears spinning like triangles in the wind good old day-possession

Bananas in South-America

The Indian on his white velvet horse, With all his colours he tries to comfort me, like it was yesterday. he knows everything about the big fight, he knows everything about the stream. I don't have to tell him anything, don't have to speak a word. And I can't, for I'm still frozen. The trauma's are spinning on his fingers, waiting to touch, waiting to bleed. But this will paint the painting of a Jesus in South-America.

I like these tall pictures in grandfather's castle. I'm walking through the tall corridors. Watching the condors through the windows. They are all waiting for the painter's touch, with blood in their eyes. When their blood streams, this little Jesus can rise. It's all a childhood's dream, from a little spanish boy. He tries to awaken the sand under the oceans, to have a bridge to see south-america. But he isn't a wizard's son, and all his schoolbooks are dull.

At night his little toy-indians come alive, then he has his wild dances, awakening the lion's wolve. His colours care for the little Jesus, dying on a banana's stick in south-america. It's a toy, and he doesn't know how to cut the strings. Still the tears are falling about this. It's all plastic.

But at night he can talk a bit to the little Jesus, asking him how he got there, between all these wild men. Tears of fire are rolling from the eyes of the little Jesus. He got in a fight about a banana.

It was all because of a banana. And now he's just a toy, swallowed by plastic. Now he's one of them, but he even doesn't have a horse. Well I can make a horse for you, the little spanish boy sais. Here, you can sit on this orange. Ah, this is better, maybe there's some hope for me, but now I also need some feathers like them, to fly away.
Well, try the tomatoe, he can fly. Oh, this is how you build a tower. But now I also need a spaceship, to touch the other side of the moon. No, you don't need a spaceship, the little spanish boy sais, take a good pencil and draw your stars in the night. It is all in the pencil.

The Vanilla-indian is mad. he thinks he rules the pencil, it's a mad dog, but the strawberry-indian admits : it's all in the pencil. While the cucumber-indian is bowing his head and doesn't believe in pencils. They all have their own Jesus. they all have their own colour, and when we rule the pencil we can use them all ... to paint the big blanket that chronical one to bring it to neptune ... but now it seems to be the fight about the big pencil or is it a spoon ?

Boy in the Bubble

Teaspoons from the lion's tea ... to rule the teapot ... to rule the kettle it's the artist's fragile touch ... awakening another trauma, with paranoia's as side-wheels ...

Bilmageln's drumming the drum. Now this is a strange sound, where will we go.
Hundred and sixty-six horses wandering through the milk, looking for the spoon which cause the milk-wars ... here ... inside ... It will be all chocolate when bilmageln hits the cat.

The cat's drum is marching through the streets, it was kicked by bilmageln and now it runs free like yesterday's soap ... Amsterdam is in a muppet's show, in a racecarobsession ... wandering to the big red spots of the black witch ... she's a bit ill ... A little girl has the mumps ... another girl the measles ... running with a big mouth ... like the lion's tea I know what happens when these girls crash against each other ... I will not be in the middle of this I will watch with my telescope ... I have had enough of these spoons ... these spoons from the lion's tea

They are painting the big painting, like the delirium's rat, like a toy on sunday, like christmas in hell

It's the devil's birthday ... I'm staying far out of this ...

Mommy's got a lolli-pop stolen from a coffee-bar in brasil ... Now her son pays the flies for his broken leg ... Can it be more strange ?

Yes, when a police-man gets the chicken-pox. Then the whole world will have it within a day.

It's the devil's wrath ... I'm staying out of this ... I will watch it through the microscope ...

In the lion's coffee it all appeared to be a dream ... The coffee is cold ... and full of delirium I think all these lions have a good measles ...

Mr. Measles is a pretty boy there's soap running from his mouth ... He's spastic and skew-eyed of course ... I would immediately die for him, at first sight, he's even softer than Jesus, and his voice is in bubbles. This boy has fantasy ... this boy has the trousers .. he's running on the streets like a million of lions ... he's raging at the coffee, breaking the spoons, while laughing in obsession like my sister always did

...

No, I really mean it, this boy needs to be policeman of the year 200, for there's still a ship sinking there I bet he can raise it up, with his banana-smiles. He covers the sea like a liquid flood, like no Noah can imagine ...

Mr. Mumps is his brother. I like his cold coffee, his tiger's eyes ... for red lights are in them he's the eye-apple of the licorice it seems, roaring through the night, like a speedboat on 20 o clock. It's like the orange's strike, it's like the peanut's santa clause. You have to scream very hard until he hears you. Just a little boy

Mr. Paranoia is the sweetness himself ... the pride of bilgamein ... all these guys rock ... they are the tiles of the big ant, roaring like a machine through the dishes of the night.

And there we have Mr. Chicken-Pox, in tall trousers and tall jackets ... like a tailor's dream, with all possible holes in his hat ... she's lost and lonely without him ... when he screams, the whole hospital wakes up and then goes into sleep again ... a deeper sleep having the dadda-bubbles from his dadplaying with toys day and night..... no burden's too big Just a boy in a hospital the biggest docter of all.

Mr. Psychosis is smoking his pipe, while mr. schizophrenia is playing at cards ... they both have fun in their lives, escaping the big carrot

And you call this the land of the sick ? No, these ones are healthy, for they aren't slaves of the world anymore Their bed is a ship driving from dream to dream They are the brave ones, possessing the big tables on the other side of the sleep They are sandman's pride ... the feather on his white hat

Getting into the Big Delirium, meeting sandman's wild dreams ... dancing in the middle of his coffee-shop ... And this all happened when you put your first step in church ... meeting sandman's strikes

I know you love this bottle, this ornament's strike, for without it, you weren't even here ... without it, you would be still outside eating the dog's food ... with twenty splinters in the last swallow.

But yes, it can be strange, when you meet the daydream's overstrungness ... like you cannot leave it anymore ... when you are paralyzed by a birthday's dream ... Mr. Depression likes certain things deep inside, but the things outside he doesn't love anymore ... Oh how we love to build the castles outside to let the castles inside die how sad this is ... said the madame she wished the world would be more autistic ...

Mr. Autism spins the dream inside he doesn't even notice when the world around him falls away he doesn't care ... it's all inside ... there he meets all his friends there he cares for them day and night his woolen vest cares for him. Words from outside cannot reach him, he can only hear those words from deep inside ... there where the flower roars and he will wait when she swallows him back inside A journey to the lover's dream His baby cares for him ... like a tiger would do to her children ... little autistic boy still the statue in life's society ... representing the inner world weneed ..to ..go..back. He doesn't care he is frozen, for he's burning inside waiting for the kid's rose He's a boy in the bubble, a baby in the balloon, bringing the children home The boy in the bubble to quench the powers of the big camera, and to show us : the mirror's inside ...

Libra's Little Dictator

You have to eat this traumatic food, but don't eat from the red apple. These gods can tell you all sorts of tales. You need a good bike to escape. One that can jump over rivers and mountains. Otherwise you will be in their cages like a little bird ...

You lost your dreams in these hells ... You need to get out ... I know you touched trauma but touch some good candy now ... all tales of gods ... They all have their own stories You can wear a big crown full of it ... but where does it lead you ...

I found a red balloon on the beach today ... I didn't know what to do with it, so I brought it to the delirium's wizard he said go to the autism's wizard he said it was a gift for me, from a long lost mermaid she wants me to step into it so that i can fly to her ... but these are all tales from certain gods gods from the big balloon ...

The wizard advised me not to go but to stay in deepest autism ... to find a silent balloon, with no any ticket in it ... one with no labels and especially no small letters which no one can read So I followed his advice ... And went away to the forest to find a good balloon ... Another red one was hanging in the trees ... it smelled like christmas ... a present from the tiger he didn't use it anymore ... didn't ask for anything ... and there were no small letters on it ... no tickets and no labels like my mother's dreams

So I stepped inside ... and it smelled like licorice inside ... like a hot birthday ... and I met the autism's wizard again ... he was also there ... showing me another balloon a balloon in a balloon ...

So I'm still searching for the deepest balloon ... all in deep silence and deep loneliness ... together with this autism's wizard ... I hear animals weeping inside there are so many unknown animals here ... there are other rules here ... better rules ... in the autistic world

When the autistic child eats ... it bubbles from deep inside when another one eats ... it eats outside things ... it's a dying world out there but the autistic child finds new rooms and wants us to follow ... or are we too afraid ?

I don't care who you are, said the president, I care about how deep you are inside ... that's what I care about ...

Libra's little dictator

Blueberry's Fever

The measles-cat lives on Gemini, when he touches your house, it's in flames ... red flames ... with spots on the wall then the hidden camera is raging softly through the house ... looking for brown spots to eat them ...

No mercy's there when the measles-cat wants the house ... then everyone goes on their knees, willing or not ... The mumps-cat on Ara is his brother ... and the chicken-pox-cat his sister, also living on gemini, in the same street. When she screams everything falls asleep ... when she roars ... it's the lion's roar she also has a girl-friend with mumps ... living in the street behind her street ... on number sixty-eight when she screams everyone gets drunk ... and when she roars she roars like the forgotten tiger ... in the middle of the night she can turn everyone into a mouse ... and then she eats enchanted blackberries ... from the blackberry brake ... she's still moose's sister miriam ... she turns into a werewolf every summer. when bilmageln hits her bell she gets possessed with something ... It's the Blueberry's Fever

She screams like no neighbour can scream ... she dances like no other girl can dance ... it's the Blueberry's fever ... and then everyone can go home ... for after a few minutes, no one dares to watch anymore then she's the only one who watches the show ... she's the only one wearing a camera ...

It's the Blueberry's fever, from blueberry's hill from the Burning Bush ... Moses knows all about it The tree is still in fire ... and it roars like the forgotten sun On blueberry's hill the dreams are shattered ... On blueberry's hill, there's only one who talks and that's the one with the blueberry's fever there's only one who sings, and one who plays the keyboards and that's the one with the blueberry's fever ... She dreams and then she shatters it ... she breaks the bread and then she multiplies the pieces that's why she worked in babel .. in the bakery ...

It's the blueberry's fever ... it's sandman's dream it's the wild horse's lost potatoe ... and the possession of an old greengrocer ...

It's the sandman's delight ... It's santa clause's treasure ... It's the tale of the Giant with one mouth and it's the lost dream's grip. On blueberry's hill, on daylight's stream ... It's a true time's possession ... On a hard day's bite ... She's so lost, like a potatoe's child she has the dictator's syndrome ... her knife to cut the breads but she's all after her own tarts she's an autistic dictator calling her animals home ...

She's still a soft lullaby ... in the eyes of the deaf musician playing games without words she's still a little ballerina in an orange's dream he's caring about her in deep love waiting for an old time's transmission to build a new barn for she's breeding tomorrow's cars she's leaving tomorrow's towns to have a place in the forest ... to have a place in the dream to swim to moose as his little sister and shattering some more seas for him

She's riding these sea-creatures to help her brother she has tamed them very well they are all in a dentist's aquarium ... to make the kids happy to tell them tales they never heard to bring them to a safe place yes, she did a great job she prepared a great place ... Now she's waiting for her brother, on blueberry's hill ... to sing him a new song ...

On blueberry's hill, where all birthdays collide, where all daydreams hit the mask where the dictator's syndrome lives ... between two boxes ... still napoleon is wandering there ... some knights and a robber-pig ... collecting some old vikings' dreams having a dancer's syndrome, skating on a romance's sea ... The two old lions are still fighting, and the parrot is still leaving the scenes The spider still breaks the tooth ... until Jesus is back in his cloudship Until dad has repaired the machine

The Pink Chocolate's Rose Wedding ...

She's bathing in roses ... he with the licorice's smile ...

Licorice and Mother Mary ...

They always do their wedding ... every day, every hour ...

With Bilmageln as the preacherman ...

Tall windows in the church ...

The Licorice has a million holes in his hat

It's shot by many shotguns

But he collects them

The birds live in it ...

Mother Mary ... with the boxer's bite

She will never let go ...

When the Rose makes her vows to poverty

Mary de Pazzia burns candles

She worships the wedding

With peter Pan on her side

From that old corridor ... on the attic

Then the stairways are breaking ...

Then the mother is falling ...

While uncle and aunt are sleeping in the baby's room

With sixty-six lullabies in their heads ...

It was all ... to make my heart ... at peace

The Woman with the 600 tears in her eyes.

She's laughing, but inside i see her tears she's smiling, but she carries a weight inside ... all these tears are so warm ... warming the soft jesus.

Her oceans are so light ... the man with the cross wears her dress, the man with the shadows wears her thick aura, while the boy carries her flag ... they are marching to the rain's city ... where moses rides the killer-pig ...

This is her painting this is her dream ... she will cry until her man is save. He's lost with his ship for too long ... She will rage until her boy is married to the queen of broken hearts. When the knife moves towards the man with the mask, she will start to scream ... she's still the siren's daughter, she's still the woman's breath ...

Her docter is worried about her, this woman in the wheelchair ... she offered her hair to the broken man ... that's why her hairs grew so tall, reaching for the ship of the city ... the broken city ...

Her peace is lost, her words are full of tears ... entering the man's throat ... he feels so strange inside ... the movements of her eyes are like the birds flying, like the butterflies touching april's flowers, surrounding them in their warm auras ... to let them forget about winter's pain ... when she passes by the roses begin to bloom ... feeling their own nectars streaming through their fragile bodies ... When she touches the doorhandle, they feel the elve's glue, thick syrop running over their leaves ... like the rain's voice, like the ornament's dew ... they feel well, whenever they think about her ... such a pleasure is her voice ... like a million of magic taps are opening ... her songs are raging through the night ... killing the drama's ... soothing the lampsteads ...

Her voice is like the ocean ... like the watergun ... not letting go until the door is open ... She's a devoted summerdance, not breathing until she feels her love is breathing. She holds her breath for a million of soldiers, soldiers from the white chocolate ... She holds her breath for a million of elves ... from the white chocolate ... The fires of her tears are burning in her eyes ... They will not stop burning until you find your destination, until you are save and at home ... The waterfalls of her tears stream harder when danger tries to touch you, and finally she overwhelms you with her oceans of tears to take you away.

Six-hundred fires dancing in her eyes. Sixhundred funerals, sixhundred graves, sixhundred roses growing there, till they are all home. Sixhundred men called Jesus, and a boy carries their flag ... These animals are all ... protected by her laws

Moonchild

Moonchild, running on the edge of life ... until his baby is save again ...

Moonchild riding on the edges of the see on a firered horse ... he would die for his baby ...

Moonchild ... you were always sweet enough ... to touch the candles ... and take them in your hands to search for your baby

Moonchild all your dreams are waiting for you all those horses in the night ... they will bring you to your baby

Moonchild still a painter in the storm ... still a painter of wild obsessions still the baby's dream

Moonchild ... riding on the edge of possession ... on a horse too high for him in a light too bright for him Gathering the pieces of the shattered dream Waiting for the moonlight's table Having dinner with a bottle of wine to paint his baby's eyes red and drive them into the mysterious caves Those running caves those brave caves ... to open the deepest door ... to reach the deepest treasure ... in the heart of his mother in the toy of his brother in the march of his sister in the brains of his dad.

Moonchild ... always searching for honest possession always riding the edges to give it all away to his sweetest baby ... to his own third world to his inner wars too big to understand to the inner flower there carrying all his lost horses carrying all his lost lights the waterlights

Moonchild still running for own honest possession still running on the edges to give it all away to the highest moon, to the highest star shining on the face of the lost child his child our child everyone's child the child of the moon ... Moonchild

Moonchild II

Moonchild, running on the edge of desire ... running on the edge of life ... to see the master's art

Moonchild ... roaring like the lion's baby ... roaring like the edge in the night roaring like the solar conscience

Moonchild picking the wildlife's dream picking the westlife's desire breathing the flower's steam

Moonchild sitting in the coin of a lady sitting in the coin of a dream ... the lion's dream

And when the sheep is with the baby ... and when the lion is with the sheep they will all live together ... that's the moonchild's dream

And when the saint and the pirate the lady and the dream all live together
that's the moonchild's dayvision ...

Moonchild picking out the lion's street, picking out the true time's confession, on a hard day's dream ... moonchild, not resting while his baby is searching ... searching for his hand to touch ... searching for his heart to heal

And the conscience is ticking of a new world and dream ... of a daytime's vision ... on a hard light's stream and when the true time's confession blames the lamb and the goat it will be a hard time's confession all living in a bottle of hope

Moonchild raging like the lion's rage raging like the guitar's tear ... searching for a hard man's dream ... Moonchild, your tables are so desperate ... your tables are so hard and unconscious ... on this hard back's dream

Still the back of a lion Still the spine of a snake Still the eyes of a panther still the puma's lake still the wasp's misconfession still the backward's dream ...
still the lights too bright ... still the daylight's stream

On the ornament the clock ticks In the sand the treasure dies till a pirate embraces it to shatter it with lies to mix it with anger ... to mix it with hate to let an other ornament come forward riding on a hard man's embrace

Moonchild still living in the lion's tea ... still swimming through lies and misconfessions still the desperate knife in his knee ... Moonchild, no sentiments no ornament's sea ... no picking out the lion's colours it's all twisting between poles you see His first eye painted by snow ... his second eye painted by solar fire
.... his third eye kicked by a shepherd his fourth eye to make them all skewed

His touch like the trauma's day ... that awful day in september that awful strike in his face it made the hard day rise

Moonchild still singing lullabies to survive all these confusions from a hard tea's milkmaid Moonchild feeling the delirium inside feeling all the dishes breaking and heading for the trauma's of daylight Moonchild you wished you were a bird in the night ... swimming to the darkest caves feeling the cool touch of the black light Moonchild ... still running on the edges of two faces ... and tomorrow you will see the third one the one you always dreamed of seeing your baby seeing your loved one she rised from your split ... from your cave inside between your two faces her flower can grow and she will take you ... to your fourth face it will be her own split ... it will be her own cave and in this you can grow yourself like the moon's flower, like the moon's rain like a moonchild

Moonchild, with your feet painted by blue stepping through different poles touching different edges Moonchild your love grows deep in the night ... from all caves and splits from old wars and new wars from lights too bright

You're still carrying the flag You're still carrying the cross for him You're still Joseph from Arimethea You're still a wildlife's dream You're still the painting on grandfather's attic You already died so long ago But you're still living forth in our dreams touching earth by daylight and also in the night You are still carrying the flag in the stories You still dry Mary's Tears You're still a boy's dream ... You're still a milkmaids fear You're still a hard man's life on the edge of desire growing there like a flower in despair but you will grow from the books you will grow from your deep graves to rise up once again to see the face of your own moon

Moonchild on saturdays you are quiet, on sundays you drum the drum on mondays you carry the flag on tuesdays you carry the cross

Still a strange painting in the night still two eyes of a wasp ... still with stars on your black blue flag still red shadows glittering there like waves in the night like hairs touching the ground like tears touching the hard lives ... to make them all soft

Moonchild, you're raging like the saturday's fire you're raging like the sunday's dream you're raging like the monday's desire on tuesday the cock will stand up with all it's colours and lights ... with all it's shadows and harlekines sitting on the top of the church ... sitting on top of all mysteries Moonchild, oh Moonchild this will be everyone's dream

When the cock will hit the moon, when the red man meets the blue ... when he will meet the hard time's confession and the purple white spoon, when he will meet the two faced harlot and the empty life's rule ... It will be a daytime confession and a hard man's cocoon ... On sunday yes the butterflies will rise ... tall and with no mercy ... just showing the games and the rules showing the hard time's marbles showing the empty dreams showing the hard ways out ... showing the soft time's ladders showing the true light forces Moonchild I'm preaching like a Bilmageln preacher ... I'm preaching like the hard day's son ... like the hard day's dream Moonchild you're lying in a ship of gold streaming to a soft world's attention on the streams of golden water-lullabies those golden voices of birds having their own special songs ... and their own traumatic tunes from their own traumatic palaces It's just the nighttime's rule To find your nighttime's bed ... to strike a daylight's attention to find a hard day's mess It was all wrapped in consciousness ... all wrapped in this place and now these bells will open it to let you enter your stage your dayvisions your messages your rules

Moonchild it is painted in the air it is painted in the afternoon

The Band

When the Band is in town, the whole town is in fire, echoes on the wall, sliding over the tiles of the houses.
Bilmageln still the drummer ... after all these years ...
Still touching soft buttons ... and then they all fall ...

She never becomes ...

She never becomes spring to the holy ones,
She never becomes rain ...
She never becomes the fuel in the applecake ...
She never becomes spring

She never becomes spring,
She never becomes rain ...
She never becomes fuel in the applecake,
She never becomes spring.

She never becomes spring, to the holy ones,

She never becomes rain,
She never becomes truth in the atmosphere,
She never becomes spring ...

She never becomes spring,
She never becomes rain,
She never brings the truth to the apple-gates,
She never becomes spring

She never becomes spring,
She never becomes rain,
She never brings truth to the apple-dreams,
For the Bunny takes all his bunnies back

Miserable Magnets

She's having the cat-choirs in her eyes ... can I misunderstand her more ?
He's having the rhinoceros-choirs in his eyes ...
Someone has the snake-choirs in the eye, and the other eye has the shark-choirs ...
This can all happen on a strange day.

Grandmother has the horse-choirs in her eyes, that's why grandfather is running away ... He has the lion-choirs in his eyes, but they are sleeping today ... My uncle has the bear-choirs in his eyes ... What is this for a zoo ? Is Noah back ? And what would he have in his eyes ? I don't want to know, I can't stand the camera-choirs anymore ... All my fishes lie dead in the pond ... And I cannot talk anymore ... These are all nuclear choirs ... These are all ... lying sons These are all milkmaids from a strange stream ... and you are lying under it ...

Although I like the sugar-choirs, and the choirs from softness ... It's all like a spell lying on a chair ... And I don't want to sit on it ... Why are all my aunts sitting on it ... one by one ... one after the other ... together ... The camera-choirs would get upset ... The mirror-choirs also ... so I'm lying in bed ... smoking my last cigarette ... well, I don't smoke ... just letting it smoke for awhile It's the nicotine-threat ... the cigarette-choirs ... I'm addicted to their songs well, I'm not addicted I just like to imitate with a rose's smile having the choirs of roses in my eyes ... that's finally better although you never wanted to listen ... well, you did ... but I didn't take notice ... I was dying well, not really dying ... I just saw someone dying but he was also just imitating someone else ... and this person was also imitating so I didn't know who really died there I heard the funeral-choirs in the distance so it had to be real but I also heard the baby-choirs so someone was dying and getting born or maybe these were two different persons

Why are you sighing ? People always asked me ... now I ask you ... You still have the sigh-choirs in your eyes ... very good and good for your heart or are you just imitating ? ... imitating me ? I never sigh well, sometimes

She's having the catchoires in her eyes and the milkmaid-choirs I don't like the songs It's about funerals and babies

Are you in a ? no Are you in a ... mourning ? Are you having your funerals to get some attention ? Strange ways, strange ways I can't ... believe ...

You still surround your desires with babies so many trying to get the attention but what will you do with this attention ?

I know what you will do with it buying more funerals ... buying more babies buying more miserable magnets

Miserable Magnets II

These are miserable mornings ... These are miserable days I cannot watch the sun ... for it's miserable too miserable police-agents miserable me walking in miserable rain ... Is there anything worse ? No ...

These are miserable bicycles These are miserable children with all their self-made funerals Who's dying ? Their cats and their dogs and the people passing by these are miserable days

I'm watching the phonecall ... what a miserable thing I'm watching the train how miserable And you are miserable too

Watching how the day breaks the coffee ... into sleep again can you tell me another miserable story ... in this miserable land ?

And you try to run away from this miserable land ? Just like me ?

These are miserable mornings, and you are miserable too

Miserable trousers ... miserable clothes miserable food miserable doorhandles and even miserable windows all miserable things in a miserable land

Now what are we going to do about it ? Or is there nothing we can do ?

The coffee is so miserable, and this cookie from my aunt I got it twenty years ago It's still lying there on my table She died long ago but I still have her cookie a miserable thing on a miserable table and we both are staring at it miserable

Now to make things more miserable we can share the cookie, I bet it will be miserable for it's twenty years old Or do you think it would let us escape out of this miserable land ?

Well, actually it is an artificial cookie Let's say a toy You can touch it but never eat it But that is also miserable What a miserable morning To have such a miserable discussion

You always knew it better also today on this miserable day

I'm staring at this cookie for twenty years now Wondering how it would taste But I will never know for it's artificial

Well, everything in my aunt's house was artificial I'm still thinking about everything, how it would taste but I will never know I bet it will taste miserable

My aunt was a miserable woman, with the catchoires in her eyes She looked like you How is it now, after all these years without her ?

See, you won't speak, only showing me your artificial candy. Only opening books about how it would taste Discussions without words

With your artificial face I can never feel your skin Not that I want to It's just a strange fact

Well, I'm artificial too With some buttons on my hat

I'm a marionet since years That's finally better For it confuses people when they see a real apple between the artificial fruits My appleseeds are just stones

And you're still staring at me, with your artificial choir-eyes Raising the hard lines What is this for a funeral you are spinning ? And what are these tears in your eyes Which Jesus are you protecting now don't ask him for anything when he's hanging on his tall, thin cross ...

You're the best when it comes to art You paint with your tears tears of self-made funerals You killed something, so that you could have something to weep about Long-hairy cat

You're still a famous artist today But I knew where you got your paint from and what a talent the one you killed had also such a talent

You're still painting with blood, transforming them into tears Like you are the world's Maria Magdalena but these tears are artificial

Oh how you love to cry oh how you love to kill oh how you love to put these men in your mill oh how you love your cookie your artificial cookie to attract all the doves from the roofs of big houses They are still staring at it after all these years wondering how it would taste

These kisses from Judas these tears from Herod drowning Moses in a glass of water You painted his funeral before he died before he could split the sea when he was a little baby and now you use this little baby to wrap your art into it to get all the attention for a baby is crying and dying You with the baby-choirs in your eyes your sack is full of dying babies of crying wolves for the world to see That's why your art sells ... attracts the journalists and with the money you buy new knives and new cookies all artificial

The people want their babies back and they buy your art by high price But do they ever get them back ? it's all.... artificial It's all behind glass from your artificial tears

You cry with them day and night like your mother always did I still have her cookie Miserable Magnets

Painter's Wars

The Elve's Cosmetica, The dwarve's banana-stick

The Giant's lame advice the make-up's too thick

The fairy's lipstick ... several shades of pink ...

The witch's eyeliners rouge in all tints of blue ...

It's too mixed ...

They always complain it's never good enough

So now the heartbreak's doing the days

They still need cinderella's

They are too scared of the magic

They are too scared of the parties

Too scared of the prince

For he would take her away

That's why they always complain

But her make-up shines like the sun

It takes hours to describe it ...

It takes years to recover from it

The elfe's glue has done it's work

Candy pink lipstick works

From the big bag of santa clause ...

she's a doll from the shop ...

she's the girl from the big tart ...

with eleven threads as her pretty dress

her eyes painted by sun's desires

her arms baptized in the richest paints ...

all mixed by sandman

stirred by his horses

she's like the big statue

she's like the morning's rage

her lips in layers of colours

embracing the stagedive's dog

her lips swollen like sandman's rose

pale like the white chocolate

like the orange's tree

in snowwhite's december

in the frost covering the sea

it's all bubbling inside ...

it's all bubbling over ...

no one can blink like she does,

when i paint her all over

she's like the slowmotion of the white statue

bowing like a ballerina in gratitude ...

she wears the butterfly's kisses on her face

the rabbit's glue on her mouth

or is it banana's glue ?

about this the wars are raging ...

painters' wars

when she swallows her eyes gets brighter

when she wears a hat her lips become redder ...

in the white sand she's like the siren's make-up

all visitors from a make-up's dream ...

she's trying to reach higher

she wants her picture on the magazine

but then i stop painting

and burn twenty magazines

throwing away the doll ...

and taking another ballerina ...
first i will start to paint her boots for awhile ...

no any tear can change my mind ...
when the lady wants in the magazine ...
then i take twenty others instead ...
to paint their boots for awhile ...
only their boots

when the lady wants a crown ...
i will take a boy instead ...
and will paint his hat ...
for two days and a halve ...

when the lady wants me to paint her shawl ...
i will only paint horses in sandman's stables for thirty days ...

i will waste no any paint ...
i paint with tears, blood and rainbows ...
and some secret powders

sometimes i use glitters ...
or only black and white ...

it's still my painter's obsession ...
playing the strings of the waterfalls ...

today i painted the flames in your eyes ...
tomorrow i'll paint the red rivers ...

roaring in the night ...

next week i will paint the lion's heart on your head ...
and next year i will give you some rings and some rainbows ...
so that you can paint with me

but it depends on some manners ...
it depends on the tricks
for if you will use paint for possessed birds ...
i will paint the exit
then i will paint you a nice car ...
and i will paint you a nice planet
far far away from here
and i paint myself on a glass of good beer ...

The Girl with the Red Sword

Ritual of the Fruit

I see you standing there, with your tall velvet boots, reaching to your knees, with some red ribbons.

I think you are from India, do you know the Girl with the Red Boots ? Do you know
Red Cape

I think you lost your consciousness ...

Or maybe I just did

Your sword is shining in the sun ... I wonder what you will do with it ... I was very nice this year so I hope you will not use it on me ...

Oh, so you come for some things sitting on my back ?

Some strange birds, I see

Well, do it quick ...

And what else ? Some bears in my house ?

Do it quick ...

You are taking a glass with red wine ... Or is it blood ?

I will not drink any of this stuff, do you hear me ?

But there I lose consciousness ... I had to lock my nose earlier

Oh, god, I can not breathe

Where between heaven and hell ... where am I ?

And why are you cutting me into pieces ? And why do I burn like hell ?

Oh, you want to tell me a story ? Is that the way you speak ?

Oh, sorry, I should have known better that's what they do to fruits in your land
.... and then I can glide better through your mouth feeling your teeth ripping me deeper inside and then falling into your stomache that's how they eat a fruit in your country

Then where do you come from and what sort of fruit am I ?

Oh, that really doesn't matter to you ?

But to me it does ...

I want to know who I am, and where I am ...

Do I ask too much

Oh no, don't say shhhh

Is that how you treat a fruit ?

Oh your country does ?

I'm still burning ... still bleeding

But no one cares for that's how they handle a fruit ...

Okay, okay, I can love you for that

My mother told me this story long ago

Very long ago

When I was a baby-fruit

When I was lying in the basket

Or when I was still hanging on a tree

A tree in your country

I'm sliding through your body now ... through your veins and to your head Am I becoming your hat now ? Or just the fruit on your hat ? Or the feather ? I don't know and I don't care ...

But for the first time in my life I love to see a girl eating fruit Well, the girl with the red sword

For the first time in my life I love it when a sword rips me into pieces and rip my heart out It's all the ritual of the fruit

Buried in your Dream

This is my holy name,
And I'm waiting for you to proclaim,
That this was a liar in the flame,
And that I was once again
Buried in your dream.

And this is my holy day,
And this is my way to proclaim,
That I am once again,
Buried in your dream

Running subtle voices, are streaming through my head
To the corners of my mind,
To the coasts of my desires,
But I feel I'm running away to some old ways to hide
The leaves of summer try to soak my attention,
Trying to bring me to the flame ...
It is your flame It is your desire

Under a flag I still do not know,

Under a flag full of liars ...

But this is my holy day,
And I'm waiting for you to proclaim,
That I am once again,
A hider in a stream,
And this is my holy day,
And I am waiting for you to say,
That I am once again,
Buried in your dreams ...

The pain is getting stronger,
While I'm entering your portals of your so-called liberty,
I'm falling again
The ache is like the sting of a wasp,
I think I cannot hold it anymore,
You are fading again
I'm watching the screens of your ornaments,
What a nice advertisement today,
What a railroadrunner,
Hiding his heart in a micro-wave

But this is my lonely day,
And this is my way to proclaim,
That I was once again
Buried in your dreams

This is my heartache day,
And I'm waiting for you to say,

That your dreams never come true,
In this land of the lie ...

And this is my heart and my day,
And this is my holy sacred name,
That I came to see,
My burial in your dream ...

Just a funeral, a funeral, still waiting for the dawn
Still waiting for the flower on this grave ...
A key to my frozen heart
Another holy name ...
Today ...

Sisters of the Ornament

Don't let them break you, don't let them wash you again,
The ornament's sisters are not gonna get you, the ornament's sisters are not gonna get you

Let them break again, these problems in the snow ... Let them be washed away by the thunder and the rainbow

But the ornament's sisters are not gonna get you, the ornament's sisters are not gonna get you

Turning to the snow, seeing a new face These cleaner's sisters are gone to another other place

They are not going to get you anymore ... Your windows will not be broken and washed by them again

For these are the days of the thunder-sharks These ornament's prides ... Too tall to decide

Don't let them break you, don't let them wash you again ...

The ornament's sisters are not gonna get you, the ornament's sisters are not gonna get you

Bring the devil here ... that devil from that old supermarket ... buying birthday's clothes ... for his sons to wear ...

Bring him here that old sailor, that old washer in the winds

Don't let them break you, don't let them make you again

The ornament's sisters are not gonna get you, the ornament's sisters are not going to get you ...

These years of the slaves are over... for now they drive the bus the bells of the shark ring ... the big shark ... coming to rise the beer

Don't let them break you, don't let them break you again Don't let them take you, like you are their ornament's spring ...

Just dare to say no, even when you think there's only a yes You are still yes ... from the no-zone

I was in Mosemas and Christmas after a day in Noahmas ... having three firs on my back heading for a colder winter don't let them break you you're now the prince of paper ...

Prayer of the Farmer's Son

Dreams are on my back, heading for a sight ... a sight in the rain

Meeting santa in a summer's day Meeting santa in the night Having the birthday as my pole it's my birthright coming to the flame, jumping from the plane ... into a deeper mystery is it the lion's tea ? Is it the daydive's terror ? or is it a new dream opening it's eyes for me Can he see me ? It's the water-camera ...

spouting like hell like liquid lights burning as a desire deep inside is it a new dream for you to decide

Meeting santa on a ship it's my birthday again and it will never end I'm in a land called birthday ... I'm in a land called sheep ... like sheep of light roaring through the night I was sitting on my carriage ... got it from a farmer well, i'm a farmer myself now ... and this is what i experienced but as soon as i start to tell some fairies and some sharks are starting their songs so i i never get the chance to tell you

There i am riding on my car sitting on top with my raincoat on i will beat these sharks ... but ... but they sing again with their choirs i want to see that composer that orchestra-leader

There I am again riding on my bike this time doing some tricks am ready to tell you everything but but see, they are here again am i not allowed to speak ? and why are these fairies wearing clogs ? are you dutch or something and these sharks ? oh don't tell me they are chinese ? and why are they wearing hats ?

Here again I'm riding now only on one wheel am i making it ? well there is a bit hope left, i'm going to tell you now ... all what i have experienced these su ... su summermonths oh no they start again it's making me deaf

I don't wear clothes anymore ... after these sharks' songs i'm desperate ... i don't have any breath for a conversation anymore it's like they ate my tongue i blew it and all my hope is go go ...gonethere they are again ...

I'm lying sick in bed, does anybody care, my tongue is in real big troubles now and sharks are dancing on it it's like the horror's rain do you have another movie for me ? and there they are again .. these fairies with clogs and even dwarves ? what's wrong with me ... I mean why am i not allowed to speak ? I mean I cannot tell my stories, ...only this one

Or don't you like that carriage I got from that farmer ... I can sell it ... if you want to no ? i can also burn it if you like that better oh why isn't that enough ? I I also need to burn that farm ? and even my own ? oh ? what ? you already did it ?where am i supposed to go now ? oh no, don't tell me ? i need to go to the sea ? between all these sh....sharks ? and what are you doing to my clogs ? you burn it too ?

Well, the water is soft, no doubt about that but i hope i will not be here on shark-dinner where am i ? in a pot of sharkfood ? what's that for ? you see it's my birthday, so i was supposed to eat you actually and now you want to eat me ? oh come on give me a good break i have santa on my side and he's a wiz wi..... where is he ? you ate him too ? oh no, cruel one and now you're making a picture of me, after all what you have done to me ? oh ... it's for the pot so the sharks will know what's inside you're clever but that's my camera not anymore ? sorry I didn't know that I speak too much ? What do you want me to do then ? I speak so I'm alive Wh...what ? I only have five minutes to go ? For what ? trying to dance It's too late ... I can't open these locks and I don't enjoy dancing anymore without my clogs The only thing i want is to have my slaughter-house back oh you are the slaughter now ? the shark-butcher ? since when am i a shark i always was ? i was just a shark on land ? with clogs ? What will happen when these five minutes are gone ? I will be gone too ? to what ?oh, your stomache am I the new Jonah oh I escaped my task and you're taking me back to spit me out into Nineveh to be a prophet of doom instead of a farmer you want me to give people a chance ? instead of sacrificing them to the supermarkets you don't want me to be a cannibal anymore ? oh, first i need to warn them well, a farmer never warns he just sacrifices them to the supermarkets you prophets of doom you want me to be one of you ... or such a stupid fairy ? no way, i'm out of this place this lion's tea back to my farm which doesn't exist anymore only in my dreams i will find the treasures there but i know i can't tell stories anymore, for the sharks will sing, with their golden fairies why are they wearing clogs ? oh the water rises ? the sharkbells are ringing ?

i cannot talk, i'm only thinking this,dreaming dream of a farmer but hey, you guys need to go to the farmer who gave me the carriage it was all his fault, for with the carriage i found the farmhe's gone already ? where is he going ? to what ? to africa ? oh he gets some new animals ? oh, they get him ? for their farms ? so they won't eat them right they already did ? then why are you singing ? oh for his funeral ? i didn't know you were so ehm what is the word you eat my language away and you shock people with all these funeral-songs ... these shark-songs why don't you let the people talk it out ?you're a block hanging on feet ok, i give up, and go to sleep what, my bed's also gone ? ... what else do you want ? my heart ? oh no, my tictac ... my clock i got it from the farmer's wife ... enough to build the butchery hey hey it's still my birthday, so be nice to me oh it's also my deathday ? thanks how wonderful, and what will the present be ? new clogs ? oh for my father what sort of clogs are these ? oh ? red ones ? to run over fire to run in fire ? why so cruel ? please tell because he brought me in life ? oh no, you're not so diligent Lord, thank you for listening to my prayers and please ... please don't sing through it the next time Amen.

Prayers from Butchers, Truants and Apple-corners

Lord, don't make such noise when you have fun with your loved one ... I cannot sleep day and night Amen ...

Lord, when you dream, think about me, for I don't like to be so alone when I'm doing the crime Amen

Lord, please when I shut the book, can you do my homework ? Amen

Lord, why did you raise me in this night ... I didn't invent this egg I didn't invent these shoes I only borrowed some adventures When will I be in chapter three You're still making noise with your loved ones Amen

Lord, just a few minutes, to hear my prayer please, I even quited the slaughter-machines for it for just five minutes That's not so long I know ... but tomorrow after i burn the school i will come to you again, oh holy one keep the beer cold Amen Then I will spend even ten minutes with you Amen and i will keep the chickens alive one day longer I will delay their funerals I will remember them with a tear Amen oh, and i will use their eggs for easter, and raise them from the death again on christmas Now can you please bless my butchery with your golden blessings ? Can you please bless the meat in my mouth ? Can you please forget their crying mothers and fathers I cannot sleep of it Lord, I know it's bad to have a butchery but it's one of the kindest butcheries in the land The chickens are almost guests the client is king I will let them enjoy before they die ... and on christmas i will raise them from the death ... sparing their eggs for easter Amen Shall I repeat ?Amen

Strange Foreign Birthdays

the first time is free ... the second will be a bit expensive but you fell already in love with it to never let it go never love something when it's for free for it's sent out by the wizard of addictions You can better go to the wizard of good apathies to save your soul

cooks from the sea ... marching to the lion's thrones ... cooks from the sea behind it there will be a throne of sharks ... three shark-bikes racing through the night looking for the broken apple ... looking for the ornament's egg three lamas following them ... on high heels shooting stars in the night

cooks from the desert ... looking for rumpfelstiltskin ... that old dwarf from the hills turning all he touches into gold to save the queen from the labour but to steal her kids out of their craddles cruel jokes, mr. sandman cruel jokes

and still your metal bottles ... screaming through the night ... like chickens without feathers ... like chickens without light but it appeared all to be a parrot on grandfathers knee complaining ? it was just a joke and now your full of it three years to follow ... you're spending some days on a holiday with it on a tropical island without a name

it stole your birthdays it stole your rights but you didn't care you only cared about the holiday it was all in the bottle but deeper there was the knife the screaming knife but you didn't hear you had potatoes in your ear looking for a holiday in the night ten santas on a row ten cards from grandmother with love all on a rainy day and still you're singing songs of it ... ripping the icecreams in the night it was your own baby ... you were looking for the delights to realize ... your baby would not survive this desperate search what were you looking for ? so far in this ice you still call it paradise can't you feel santas winds on your hand ... trying to stop you from writing ? these deathletters they all serve a foreign birthday from a king you don't know what is he wearing ? can't you even see ? he's wearing the feathers of some killed chickens they carried your craddles

This god of ten the mailman in santa's service ... always bringing his letters but he will tear yours apart so many divorces on a chessboard ... ready for a race

And still you cannot see the horror of this until you will hear the new record of the shark the bird will bring it in the billboards also in your little city in your little pub you will taste it in your beer still you're flying through broken windows, washing the nights away helping the old men over the bridges like you're the traffic-agent of mr. birthday it's all to make them more addicted can anyone reverse this present there you go, blowing like the wind searching for new birthdays in the land of the death you don't care i still cry about this song touching heaven and hell by it but my mother invented it ... on her old spinningwheel she needs 10 inches more to create a big brother birthday

did you ever see a shark touching the rainbow ... you can only see it once in a lifetime no one survives the sight and still i see this picture every day like every day is my deathday and you're still smiling about thisok, i admit rainbows make sweet deaths especially when the job is done by sharks then

it's like a baby jumps through a broken window ... falling into a basket of sweet snakes the snake-egg is still the best trick of the shark ... after all these years of boring movies it raises the crowd to the top of their chairs letting their eyes touch the screen, a bit hard, but there's life on the other side of the movie-screen i've seen the most beautiful things there

the strange king from a strange birthday ... so strange that you will start to cry .. like a million babies in the hand of a crazy doctor call him the opposite of paranoid like some chemical boast still they are blowing trumpets about this training cats in the night strange birthdays ... strange birthdays like having a gun between your eyes then who is born you ? or something in you whose birthday is it anyway ?

i don't want to be born in your strange machine ... it costs a lot of money to look into my eyes ... actually you can never pay it so give it up i know some good greengrocers for halve of the price but all to make you more addicted the first time is free ... the second will be a bit expensive but you fell already in love with it to never let it go never love something when it's for free for it's sent out by the wizard of addictions You can better go to the wizard of good apathies to save your soul

The Land Behind Oz

Mr. Birthday is sitting on the wooden pier of saturn ... I'm running for it, never reaching the land ... It always slips through my fingers ... and the splinters are sliding into my feet still after all these years of birthdays I'm heading for Red Cape ... She's waiting for me in her castle or is it a palace ... I don't care ... and it doesn't seem I come any further with this Mr. Birthday is still tearing me apart, like he always did Drama after drama Movie after movie Shark after shark But all these parts all these torn out pieces of me, they form the ladder to Red Cape's windows I can finally enter her castle through all it's sides

She smiles ... it was just her way to pull me in All my shadows are jumping back into me again And i'm still a bit dizzy of this all

Yes, I created Mr. Birthday, she said isn't it a nice car ? Well, I said ... the thing didn't have a brake

She showed me her new dress a pink one she got it from Dorothy you know ... from Toto, from the land of Oz Oh, is Dorothy with you then ? I ask

Yes, she is staying with me for awhile

There she enters in giving me a birthdaypresent ... I'm sighing I don't dare to open it

You can do it she sais it's nothing harmfull

It's a doll a pink one from polaris but it's bleeding ...

Now how can it bleed ? I ask

It's you, she sais ... you forgot to take all the pieces back which you left behind

Here they are again but you need to care for them for awhile

Oh, ok ... I say I'm walking deeper into the castle looking for secret doors Sisters, I need to go on, I say ... I cannot stay ...

They begin to laugh saying : This is all there is ... Everything is here in this castle ...

Also your next journeys

Did I hear this before ?

I'm staring at some chrystal balls They are of different colours, filled with thick jelly, steamy and smokey juice it's slippery and I'm seeing myself walking there with Toto meeting some new friends

Am I going to Oz ? I ask to that great wizard ?

No they smile you are going to something greater to the land behind oz

There where the thunder roars there where the fogs dance there where the bakers play you are going to the Land of Cockaigne

Oh, that's where I come from ... I once fell out of that book

Is that the land where the bakers dream ? Where the cooks are artists where the dwarves are also the giants where the soft boys kick hard with iron pillows where everything seems so confused ... yet so ordered where the chaos is a beautiful painter ... with all-coloured snow having the sun's smile I think I know that land I think it is mine

Sigh, so it's all in this castle ? Which door do I need to open ?

Dorothy takes me to the top of a tower, and when she opens the door it's like I step into the deepest cellar I'm eating an aprange, that's an apple and an orange melted into each other

While I'm eating I slide into a tunnel, so deep, but yet so high so light, but yet so dark Everything is everything here I am Dorothy, and Dorothy is me and we are both Toto and Toto is us We're heading for Cockaigne our new world ... but yet so old

It takes ages ... this tunnel while it's likeall happening in a flash My watch is running backwards like crazy and my head is in a flame while my stomach is in ice I feel cold and warm at the same time like Sandman's Delirium

These people are small and large at the same time these people in front of Cockaigne They are the Smarges Small and Large mixed They look a bit like trolls

In the distance I see the bakers They wear such pretty hats I think these are even eatable

It's like walking through a millions of kitchens ... but it's only one, a very big one with so many corners and so many lights are shining there Lights from the Water so Liquid so colourfull all colours pass by showing me all the loves I had filling my hearts again So many hearts pumping through my body
.....

Bilmageln is cooking a new movie

Finally I meet the cook-king of the Smarges He drives all my images into the water for a swim

Suddenly I am lying outside in the dust so this must be the land of Cockaigne feeling wet while lying in the dust ... or is it a desert ? I'm feeling satisfied here, yet hungry All opposites live in peace together They fight but in peace
They are themselves, ... but also the other switching like a mighty vibration, like a mighty wave and you are still waiting for your coffee ?

If this is the place where the lion's tea finally ends It must be This must be the Tiger's Coffee

I'm falling, but rising up Nothing is a problem anymore It's all part of the game

So what am I looking for I'm still hungry so hungry

There in the distance the bakers walk with seven large tarts I bet these tarts
are soft and hard at the same time

When they speak their voices are low and high at the same time It sounds like my head is bursting but it heals For at the first time I really feel my head and the connection between the several parts I see all my pieces and they see each other we need them all

I'm turning around entering a new world with Dorothy

So this is the land behind Oz right ?

Here the birthdays fly like birds ... and the christmasses roar like lions

Is this the paradise I was always looking for ?

I remember the tall paintings in my grandfathers bedroom Yes, those paintings were paintings from here And that tall lady with the black clothes and the sword that was Dorothy And the stones in the stove These stones were from here

And the old records from my granddad with the trumpets These were from here From the Land of Cockaigne I was never alone The sovenirs were always with me And they finally brought me back

Here I am not a slave anymore here I am my own boss again

And in the deep deep night I'm having deep conversations with Dorothy almost to the edge of Romantics but I don't touch them ... I like to play at the portals to celebrate my heart inside having so many rainbowroads to race here inside ...

I'm seeing the romantics walking, with candles in their hands purple flames with a bit of orange but I won't touch any of them I will let them pass by It's a good orchestra to listen to but I will let them pass by They are also on their way I like to race parallel along the edge but never looking into it

And so the deepest flowers can bloom, and the deepest juices can flow just to let it all roar, without touching it Dorothy smiles she understands the game and the balls it brings I like to get the bonus running from the inside Together we drink the cup of independency we aren't slaves anymore yet so addicted

Oh how the trees and flowers have such good contacts, without touching each other the secret lies in the heart in the temperence the distance the patient trumpets I'm touching the distance and it's running so close all of a sudden

Oh, the Land of Cockaigne so many lessons to learn so many ways to die, and coming alive again

Dorothy still smiling Toto is asleep It's so deep in the night all these lights all these awakenings It's the Tiger's Coffee or just good juice from Dorothy

I know that whenever the Lion's Tea streams It's only to bring me back to the Coffee I know whenever I'm falling asleep, it's to wake me up again

The Lion's Tea surrounds this land like a tender mother, wild roaring to protect her children While inside the Coffee is boiling And still we are creeping to the middle of Cockaigne for the Jewel shining like the Liquid Rainbow Will it be the Shark's Beer streaming from there ? Or the Bear's Wine ? I truly don't know but it must be a confession it must be a reality of a deeper touch than this one something that shines right through the curtains

Nightmare on Marilyn's Grave

The Cichlid's Dance Competition

a picnic red and blue

You were coming like the swan's prince, with your red feathers, trying to impress me on skates

You were sure to win those golden balls

And I will wait till you are done

But the blue swan is also here, and I will watch his show also waiting till they are both done ...

I learnt to be very objective these years So I will watch it without lighting a flame

My face is tight like the cichlid's lion ...

Drama after drama you spin ... and you still think that's impressive

You dance on bears you killed catching their souls in your trousers

Now they are your slaves forever ... bringing the juices to your mouth ...

You like to see them getting tired and you always liked to tell them how tired they looked ...

Cruel jokes, cruel jokes

Here you are spreading your paradises to the audience

But it's the highway to your hell

You're looking for some new adams

Preparing them for a pretty fall and to serve in your farms

It's the cichlid's apple

These tropical fishes follow you everywhere you go

for some cruel conspiracies ...

Beauty wasn't made for that, little boy

Do you still believe in the golden swan ?

With his cichlids in his service,

They all live under a threat,

and so are you

Do you still love to shine your pink lights in the night ?

The candy's attraction

But when the morning falls ... it all appears to be poison

From that cichlid apple of your self-made paradise

Paradise to a new prison ...

The fluoresce is too hard to hold

And the desire is programmed too deep

And then they all take a bite

To sink into your trousers

To become your shoes

Slaves forever ...

In this land of yours ...

Your eyes are like the cichlids,
running from one side to the other,
telling what dreams people should have ...

About lost paradises

About a girl called Eve

All to breed the addiction

So many paradises surround the audience heads like butterflies

They enjoy it like they enjoy raspberry chewing-gum

Something which they can never swallow

But it gets deeper within ...

To lay the curse

And then it is too hard to keep in the mouth

And they swallow it

to die in your arms

And that is why you dance

You dance on broken feet

But the cichlid is growing in the child called Jesus

And it's growing in me too

To head for the dance competition

And when I dance

I just stare

Staring at the cichlid staring at Jesus

Without bowing my head

For there's thunder which speaks

Then I will remain calm, to point my finger at you

Telling the story of the red and the blue swan

Who made the cichlid paradise

But got in a fight about the harvest

Like Cain and Abel

Now they build their own paradises

And have their wardances at night

And I'm sitting between them

Just watch how the stars explode

With Little Jesus on my lap

Having the cichlid's tears

That's all we have to do ... Just sit and watch

And telling the story

Like Lilith escaped paradise

A red picnic and a blue picnic now finding their own ways ...

The golden picnic still waiting for the next strike,

While the green picnic really fights with the yellow one

Two lions in a boat that will always give problems

But at the end of the day I have enough paint to make my own paradise

To paint my own Jesus, and my own Adam and Eve

While Lilith is running the perimeters ...

Me and Jesus watching the stars from the new paradise

Watching the golden swan waiting for the big explosion,

And then all the shows will start over again

But this time the sting is out of it

The needle has been broken

Return of Dan Roland

Together we watch the cartoons

It's not frightening anymore

All our fears are laughs now

When a fear becomes a laugh ... The juice starts to flow

It's all in the big machine

Tomorrow there will be coffee

I'm entering the palace of soap deep down in cockaigne

Seeing six bleeding horses

And five bleeding cocks

I'm shivering They were the victims of the dance competitions

Almost killed in another one's paradise

You cannot handle nuclear beauty You cannot handle nuclear care

There were the nurses want to do quick surgeries ... To be at home earlier

Those seven sisters from the ornament

Yes, they are all sisters ... doing the dances to hide their secrets

All these dances ... all these dances are just misleadings

Are just the tricks of the businessman

And he's still the puppetmaster

with his seven puppet-sisters he travels through the land that old poltergeist where freddie krueger runs for and rumpelstiltskin hides his rakers running screaming into the night ... hoping he will ever see daylight

it's Dan Roland taking over the land with seven dolls in his hand

His barrelorgan is grey ... but full of cichlids

The tropical fishes worship his breaths

He's the king and when will he possess the land

He will throw his coins, and put on the automatons

Soothing the mass into sleep

But yet the depression will rise and the fear

For suicide is his name

Ghosts don't have feet they soar in the air cutting all others from their feet
to make them like butter in the pan

Dan Roland, but then your days will be over

For the snake will take you and the snake will break you

And then we will be finally over the river

For suicide was his name

And big was his name ...

Dan Roland the Great

By some even called The Greatest

With records and coins in his eyes

He was the Pied Piper bringing the rats from the candy into the fear ...

Dan Roland with his liquid records and his liquid smile

infiltrating the hearts of so many ... with his beautiful songs

But when the dance is done

The sting of the wasp is standing there like a flag

pronouncing days of desperate nightmares, fears and depressions,

with it's trumpets of suicide

No one can eat a cichlid without paying it's price

Your apples, Dan Roland, your apples
made people too big for this world
To give them fame like Marilyn Monroe

But to die a sudden death

It's all in your books, Roland

To gather them for a records rage

Splintering guitars is what you gave them

Eating the heart from inside out

To satisfy your desperate hungers

And you still love your stories

You were the music-box of demons and fallen angels

You, the number of seven upside down

Nightmare on Marilyn's Grave

Productions without ears

No mercy after the dance

Song from Dan Roland

And still you sing :

In your blood I will bleed tonight,

In your blood I will warm myself today,

In your blood I will live forever,

In your blood I will stay,

I will be sick and old forever,

It is all which will remain,

But by this I will mix it with health and beauty,

an eternal youth will dance for me
I will pick your cards ... I will take your legs and eat them without mercy

For it's too late already,
The mournings have already begun ...
I am the mourning I am the bitterness

And I will mix it with all the joy and all the beauty ...

This very day

With my cichlid's eye

In your eyes I see the doom
In your eyes
In your eyes I see your future
In your eyes
But I also see a snake

A snake which will jump from you to me ...
To destroy all my beautiful songs

And to sing a new song

Song from Dan Roland and his brother

In your eyes I see the Aakse,
In your eyes ...
In your eyes I see the Aakse,
In your eyes

But I also see a second snake,
The two are fighting together

About me, their meal

But first I will rise

First I will eat

The snake will bring you across my river,

That river of death

Then I will run to my brother, the golden swan

They worship the golden swan

They worship ... his mind's possession

His tragedies ... are a way to kill

For when you see it ... you will be there

It's just the way for him to seek this attention

To cover up so many drama's inside

Oh yes, he tells them ... oh yes, he dreams them

And you will be his doctor ...

And you will be his flame

But at the end of the day you lost your name

For you couldn't handle it too and now it's stuck into your heart

It is the Aakse ... but another snake will win

For also the Aakse's days are counted

There will be a big fight in the Snake's Lake

And a big fight on the sun

With you between them

Two lions fight together in a lake

While someone is skating there

While someone is losing a doll

While the parrot was leaving

It was all to make your heart at peace

And now you're reaching for the lullaby

And now you're reaching for the fame

And now you're putting everything an octave lower

Taking over the land

Is that what you want ?

Is that what you desire to see ?

Your daydreams getting stuck ...

And your switching the octaves

From layer to layer from curtain to curtain

To pierce deeper into the palace

To pierce deeper into the dream

All these little blades are ringing

Like the arabian curtains,

and Cockaigne Curtains in the distance

And your mother's ones

Is that what you want ?

In this song of Dan Roland and his brother ?

Are you lost in a house ?

In a daydream house

I was a victim of Reticuli

Like you were

Are you lost in a dream ?

Do you know I'm the dream the brother of Dan Roland

Are you missing a good book

Or missing a good clothe to wear
Are you missing that icecream ... you loved to eat
Now we sing together

To bring you another dream

To bring you an octave higher

To see the fulfilments and the falls

Character seven is my name ... I am the lion's desert and I'm still the golden swan

I'm still the broken sun I'm still the helping heartache

Rising from the dawn

I will take over when my brother falls

I will carry him away

To give him a good funeral

To sing some good songs

After the fear has gone

I am the heartache, I am the daybreak

I am the true son, which leads you out of depression

I am the true maze, I am the true case

I am the golden swan

I am the heartache, I am the rain's brain,

I am the darkness after the darkness has gone

I am the swan ... the golden swan, to take away your fears, to take away your depressions

I am the school, I am the doom after the doom

I will take my brother's place, and then I'm born again

I am the second Pied Piper of the stage

But I am still the Sickness, I am still the old man

I am still the death

Nightmare on Marilyn's Grave

And still these two brothers are dancing on Marilyn's Grave, Their voices so high. Dan Roland, the fear, the depression and the suicide, and his brother, Deon Damar, the sickness, the weakness, the tiredness, the pain and the death. Two poltergeists, two ghostmucisians, two composers, two dreamers. Do they have another brother ?

Song from Deon Damar and the other brother

I am the hollow pain,

I am the ornament in the night

When the snake attacks

I will take care of my brother to give him a good funeral and a good place to bury him

I am the hollow night,

I am the ornament in the rain ...

I am the shyness,

So shy,

I will isolate myself in silence,

I will isolate myself in the rain,

I am the shyness,

I am the isolation,

I will give you peace,

And take away your pains

I am the shyness,

So shy,

I come to wash away tomorrow

to give you this day ...

*To live forever ...
I will make you quiet ...
I will wash away your pains ...
I will wash away your frustrations,
And bring you into isolation.*

*But also this one the Aakse will eat
These three brothers, these three ornaments, these three musicians ... these three musical boxes they will fall all three*

Rio Damar is the third brother, is there also a fourth one ?

Listen to the song of Rio and the fourth one :

*Drama after drama, light after light,
but there is peace now and the lights are dim,
It is time to go to sleep, It is time to go to sleep*

*There is a song, above all songs,
and all the children love it*

There's a song above the hill

*About Santa Clause is coming,
about sandman sends a ring ...*

*And it is good for your soul,
to listen to his dreams*

There you start to flow, there you start to go ...

To the land of cockaigne ...

To the dream beyond the dream

But the fourth one will also be caught and destroyed by the snake ... This last shelter of the boys These four panthers will finally fall When it's the snake's dinner ...

Nightmare on Marilyn's Grave ...

The Aakse ... who is it that old old snake

He's having the spoon Coming to take and to leave behind

He will even eat the old woman of the catlikes

But she will only laugh and eat him from inside out

That old woman of complaints will fill the world once again ...

And she will come like the dragon, the grey one

With twenty horns on her head ...

They will rise from Marilyn's Grave

The Mirror II

There I'm sitting behind my carillon ...

It took me ages to get here ...

Here I sit behind the bells, the buzzers and the rings ...

Not daring to touch one of them ...

I know what will happen when I touch one of them ...

I didn't forget it ...

So, here I sit alone and excited behind the chimes ... behind my mother's bells ...

I know which ones spread the powders of mom's voice

I liked to hit them over and over again ...

I know which ones will release the warm fluids of mother's attention ...

I know them ... I know ...

So there I sit, holding my breath, not daring to touch one of them

For I know what happens when I touch one key before it's time ...

The seconds change into slowmotion, I see my mother's world rising like a wave, the seconds move away from each other

I'm wearing my Peter Pan suit ... feeling my leg-knives and my arm-knives together with the pins of my bow They are still sharp as hell I'm waiting for the lost boys ...

Some buttons of my suit are lost too ... I'm waiting for mother to sew them on my jacket again ... Then the play of chimes can begin

My enchanted barrel-organ is standing in the Enchanted Garden ... spreading purple powders

I know this little thing will hit the echoes ...

The fairies on the other side of the world will hear ... They will carry the raspberries to the clowns ...

I know which keys awake the whirlpools of enchanted mirrors ...

They come from Snow White's coffin of glass

She was a girl killed by her stepmother's jealousy
a raging and roaring apple

Her brother was called Snow Red

He also got the same treatment from his stepmom ...

But he went to the Seven Giants and was killed by his stepmother's poisoned orange ...

He also lay in a glass-coffin for awhile, but was saved by a mermaid ... The Enchanted Mirror herself

She came from Saturn, wearing rings of love Sailing with doves, racing with rats She was Aldebaran's Pride the pride of the toymaker her father Gepetto's brother ...

Piece without name

Red Cape is sitting in her garden, watching her flowers grow .. and the fishes in her ponds ... She plays her choirs-piano ..she still loves her mother's choirs ... So many piano's in front of the house ...watching the garden ... the animals piano still a strange thing roaring through the night but the flowers love it they feel themselves grow

And then there is the piano of stars ... to let the stars play at night ... to cover the garden ... and to give the flowers some travels ... She loves to watch the night ... it's like a cool bath of life's ocean ... a treasure of an arabian dream ... but still there are things she tries to forget ...

She dances with the ornament's prince ... She skates with her sister ... There are so many things she likes to do She still wears the banana's crown after all these years ... She's there to help the Red Woman, she's there to help the Red Brain ... Her touches are very tall ... echoing through the fogs of a new morning She's still a mistress after all these years ... The kids love to listen to her stories ... all flowers in her garden Her house is full of dishes ... she got from an arabian princess ... The dishes speak at night They tell stories and she writes them all down

They are still the records on her wall singing songs in the night ... swimming as whales in daylight ... She knows all their songs ... They are the jewels in her eyes ... warming the jaguar's cat the puss with the big boots She's still the ornament's pride Still Gaia's light ... no woman can do what she does ... no man can reach for her dress ... she's the icecream's holiness ... from a potatoe's dream she's the sand of the daylight's white beaches ... she's the coconut from foreign streams warming the oceans fishes and all the special places hidden deep beyond the surveys her needles reach there to embroider the cat-pillows for tomorrow The birds love her voice wandering through the night ... searching for lost toys and children ... searching for old clocks she counts all their tears and carries them inside until they find their hearths deep inside she's not wasting any second she cares for them all in the big ballbubble in the middle of her living room ... Her kids love to play there in the middle of summer

All these balls in the big bubble all these names ... written on golden paper watching the glories of tomorrow's horses white ones pale ones reflecting the mother's peach soothing the hearts of the tired soldiers gathering their legs lost in the night

It is Red Cape's pride ... hanging around her neck like the medicine's snake Bilmageln is ticking on her clocks like yesterday's sparrows

Those red dreams saw the puppets in your eyes When Bilmageln hits the drums with his spoons the blue lights will start to fall and grow on the old planet ... reaching for the old earths ... all of them ...

She is carrying the Red Fires between her breasts ... having fountains of red milk for her childrencats The Wheel of Noah spins in her house ... It is the red desire ... it is the red ornament ... It cares for her clocks and it's the milk's softness It's the Lounge Bravour, the Promenade, the backstream on a horse's car She still has the face of a horse The trees of snowpowder are releasing with every tick It's still Bilmageln's pride and glory

Song on Rabbit's Hill

Is it ... just a child inside ...
or is it just a mother,
roaring for a dream ...

Is it just a child ... inside
or is it just a mother
running for her child ...
running for her baby

The edges are rising higher
It's like the dream is attacking,
Very hard today, today, today,
Running like an echo,
Raising the tiles and the towers of the city

But I'm running to the edge of some old desires,some very old ones almost forgotten in the storm,
And there I'm crying like a baby
Roaring like a lost eagle
not knowing what is tearing me ... apart

Is it just a child inside
Or is it just a mother ... running for a dream
trying to bring her son back ...
where he belongs

Is it just a child inside
or is there really an elephant on my back

The pains are climbing higher,
searching for something
And I don't know what I'm lost in this land of confusion tearing curtains down
meeting some old dogs

Or is it just a child inside
asking for it's mother,
running through the darkest night
or is it just a holy cloud trying to get my attention
my pillow and my fight

Isn't it just time to let go ?
Or is it just the beginning of a new day,
I don't know
I still don't know

When the dwarf meets the giantin the dream
When the pillow meets the fightin the nightmare
when the mother meets her child in the dark sunis it all over then ?

Or is it just a new beginning of all sorrows I still don't know

Is there really a child inside

Is there really a mother ... fighting for my dreams

Is there really a santa clause

and post from saint Nicolas, bringing the snow to me ...bringingthe snow ...to...me
... with sixhundred towelsand sixhundred pillowsand washing the fights....it will all...slideaway.....deeper inside or just outsidemore and more Will i ever know, will i ever know the secret of the echowhere it will go inside or outside to the child or to the mother.....

Piece without name II

Speeding to the mountains on the bike of rabbit's hill

Touching the liquid moons

Like you always did

Those babies those babies with the computerheads ... with the chewing gums inside

Still the sweet guns of the universe

walking all in line of the game

with their black jackets raised high

Those babies of tight desires

Those wonders of blue strategies

Oh blueberry hill oh blueberry mountain

Raising the pocketgun in the air

For some upside down mathematics

Still a liquid alphabet baby still a roaring race baby

Having the muppet-lollipops inside

Those babies of green nonsense-speeches

Gaining the flowers of the big icecream

No matter what they touch

It all explodes like racing hells

No, these guys are divine in saintsuits they pass by leaving flowers to the edges of the streets

Those babies those mirrorshops those dreams from the green bell

Too pale to become a bubble rather the insides than the touch

Piece without Name III

Moses and Moses, walking on Jacob's Ladder

They can see the world from here, and the sight changes, every step they take

Moses and Moses, still splitting seas and deserts ... even their own heads

Even ...their own trousers ...

Moses and Moses ... causing whirlpools in a glass of water ... It's all deeper inside ...

They are looking for the fish to save a man called Jonah ...

The Fish will spit them out on Nineveh's Beaches ... Here the whirlpool-pillars stand God was so mercyfull today ... It was open heaven Still a road to heaven Yes, in Nineveh we are safe The city will not be reversed A decision of the Round Table Churches Near the City a miracle tree grew

Oblezea Vitrinium

Birthday's Eye

the world beyond fairytale IV

Part 1. Strange Paintings on Grandfather's Attic

Painting 1. Terror from the Cichlid's Eye

Painting 2. Poetry from the Big Gun - Zeppelins from Mars

Painting 3. Apocalypse of Rats

Painting 4. Apocalypse of Sharks - Hunted by the Big Q

Painting 5. Apocalypse of Birds

Painting 6. Wild boys

Painting 7. Horror with a glass of wine

Painting 8. Horror on a mondaynight

Painting 9. Return of the Toy

Painting 10. King of Fake

Painting 11. The French Schoolbook - Cruel Heritages

Part 2. Strange Statues in the Billiards Room

Statue 1. Echo's Birthday - The Cobra's Prince

Statue 2. When the Mills Start to Speak

Statue 3. Straight Blue Bananas - The pencil's friends

Statue 4. The Baker's Kid - Fallen Ink

Statue 5. The Strike of the Cartoon - Touches of Brahms

Statue 6. the woman with many lips

Statue 7. Boys from Tucan - when the tiger goes to sleep

Statue 8. Beauty of Silence II - ode to the tiger

Statue 9. Hard White Candy

Statue 10. The Land of the Sirens II - when the breastedikes are breaking Statue 11. Return of the Old Cigar - Doomprophets from Cartoon

Terror from the Cichlid's Eye

The cichlid's Eye ... passing it by

Without rumors without lust for everything went ...asleep

Passing by the Cichild's eye

Seeing the toysoldiers rising up on the attic

It's grandfather's birthday

grandfather's birthday

Now i give him all the toys he gave to ..me

Now i give him all the lusts he let me experience

what comes around ... goes around ...

Passing by the cichlid's eye ... seeing my mother eating my aunt but it was just a marsh-harrier rising ... a bloody old owl
from venus

Putting on the cichlid's glasses
what a fun to have it ...
it gives me power but what sort of power
i'm laying it down on my grandfather's knee
for this is all what he gave to me
what comes around ..goes..around ...

putting on the cichlid's trousers ... now i see a new world which i never saw before seeing the cichlid's confession a true one ... on a hard day's spoon
there is a man called bilmageln there is a land named after him
it's the brother of sandman, and the brother of cockaigne
all these men ... with their little men a pretty picture in the family-album ...

putting on the cichlid's hat ... now i see my aunt like an owl putting on the cichlid's confession now i see ... this world was all in me these movies were all in my body ... in my stomache, swimming fishes from the zebra

to a world full of trousers, to a world full of clothes a world in granddad's wardrobe a world ... still standing on his pedestal cupboard coming into life at nightsinging the most beautiful songs but i still ...didn't ..catch that bird
maybe it needs to catch me in a pretty worldthere i see my uncle goes through the wrong door, into the wrong house, meeting the wrong lady what's so pretty about that it's just a movie it's just a dream and then i got other nieces maybe that would save the whole family for now hitler is captain on this little paper ship having noah's rod in his hands ... the fishes fear his trousers

in a pretty world there i see my mother still searching for the big ant maybe that dream would save the family ... for then she would forget about those frogs she already had had in that dream

in a pretty world there i see the faces of my grandma the faces of a young follower of bilmageln selling towers to the cats in a pretty land ... where i wouldn't buy these damned shoes in a pretty land and that would save the family now we're on ship with a captain called hitler running through the night to awake the big potatoe on a pretty planet ...there i see the faces of a cow running through ice and milk on a pretty land there i see some strangers running with tight faces would that save my family ?

and what if my family was saved by all these pretty tales who would be the captain then ? who would be the mistress don't you think that it was all the delay of the crash ? or or don't you think the problem would come in another dress then

for it's the cichlid's eye, with many shades with many tricks inside if we would survive one trick, the other trick will come twice as hard are we cursed in this land forever ? danger isn't hiding under one shape or one colour we have to do here with a cichlid grandfather bought long so long ago in a shop of swindlers in a shop of dreamers the boss of the shop told when the cichlid would finish his story there would be only licorice left so my granddad said it was worth it but it was chocolate hard old cold chocolate poisoned by a faery that was all he could give me my granddad but if he would buy another cichlid we would have the same sort of trauma's for it doesn't matter which cichlid you buy they always give such troubles and the cichlid said he already finished the story ... but he was still speaking through it's stomache we all thought it was a toysoldier speaking grandfather's one and when we found out it was the cichlid still that old cichlid just another trick we finally found our licorice

it comes it is a shapeless terror don't think when you would be in another shop he wouldn't strike you for he knows all shops and he's everywhere

it comes it is a colourless terror don't think when you would have another granddad you wouldn't meet the little terrorist for then he would come through your grandmother's bag-blanket and that would be finally worse

Poetry from the Big Gun

Zeppelins from Mars

can't you see it's all about a lion's dream it's all about your mothers lover who gave you that symbol sliding in the air above the desert it's that guy your mother always dreamt about to give you a good craddle it was all her deep care for you for when she looked in his eyes for the first time it was you which she had in mind and she took her little calculator to see how long it would take to make you alright you her baby

the mas

when a mosemas becomes a christmas,
when a noahmas becomes a petermas,
when a pinocmas becomes a gepetmas,
then lightening has born.

in a place called bethlehem,
where all the mas gathered,
a fir ate a pear.

no dreams can describe the magic around this picture,
it was the ascensionday for soldiers of wordwar II,
thirty names graved on a jericho's wall.

when a santamas becomes a sandmas,
when a dreammas becomes a bilmamas,
the automaton starts,
the fairytale rides,

for all these mas are running to a new edge.

when a mosemas reaches the mosemas-tree,
the giantpond survives.

it was all in the pear where your games were sealed into the book,
where you could finally sleep

it was fun, oh yes, but you finally wanted to have a place to have a good sleep now you know where this ship is going to.

it was all about a wizard,
it was all about a fear and a tear,
guiding you to a maze,
in which you found the golden pear.

it was all about a rose,
it was all about a game,
leading you into the heart of a lion,
where you met the fir of tales.

this master of the lions tea,
this wizard of the westcoast,
this man of a million books,
brought you to the edge of a new sea,
where you could understand your dreams,
where you could finally reach the museum
cuyornaida corset

for when the book opens itself,
you finally find rest,

you finally feel a candle in your hand,
having a little light in darkness and rain.

these cigarlighters from spain,
these ornaments in the giant's rain,
these lusts from london,
baptized in french accents,
could finally destroy the stage,
and bring the stage-diving dog to the hospital.

these ornament's rains,
these cigarlighters from roma,
they were your tall liquid trousers,
to let you enter a new day
cuyornaida corset

gepetto was a railroad lighter,
with trousers too short,
but now you finally found him,
in a new craddle full of feathers,
here the phoenix will rise
you found it all in bethlehem,
where he was born in a craddle called jesus,
this speaking craddle this ... railroadchanneler

but now he's slow enough to give you the cake

gepetto's birthday, in the year 1862,
when all gamblers were just rockers,
when all girls were men,

but now it's getting soft again,
it's boiling from a place called boston,
where all lion's tricks started
there in wilhelm's city
you found the blue bell,
born in a craddle called the black bell

and still you are searching for your corsets
but the bell already rang the game is over it's now in the book daddy you can go to sleep now all your kids are home, and all your babies are born,
the Big Mas is sitting in the garden, together with the Big Mix it was all in the tale, dad, it was all in the tale and it was written millions of centuries ago,
by a lame pencil called cain, when he escaped his father's paradise
when he spat out his father's pear
and now the Big Pear is riding him,
from another greengrocer

you were sailing the black oceans your tears mixed with old pears too old but now you reached your havens and gepetto is riding his snake now the books finally grow there and now the baby can speak it was all a snake in the swanlake looking for his golden pear ... looking for his golden baby that black pond is turning pale now reaching for the rainbow's mailbox on a summer's day in april while august the twentieth is still your king a king in trousers ... that's what you gave me, on that seventh day in march leaves from the Big Calender, Pinocchio's Pride His towels were too hot, and filled with the black lightening but now he can finally use them to warm his chickens without killing them it seems libra's little dictator found his golden throne again

a magnet in april's liars

and still there's mud speaking from the purple palace sixteen snakes in a row looking for revenge but at the end the enemy appeared to be your friend the secret of the lion's tea it was all running for a magnet a magnet in april's liars when the liar appeared to be the royal riddle of the truth's queen her palaces so tall and dignified her cigarettes decorated by blood it was all to let the wheel of the gamblemachine spin that old barrelorgan in grandfather's pocket he could always reach your heart by this which was always the pear's desire

Now was it all a pear-fir after all, stinging your whole dreamworld upside down ? So many holes in your pocket, like the crying wife of the mailman she was always the clown of the classroom and now she found her destiny to see that every hole could feed a third world's heart She now started to realize that she was really talking to you, instead of her husband for he was gone to see that god of ten a little mirror

he's still watching the wildlife, he's still riding the junglecar, riding the zoo of ten it was all inside

can you now understand it, that it was all a dream within a dream, touching so many edges of reality can you now understand, that it was all a lie in a truth, and a thruth in a lie, that it was just as your mother always told you the lie will switch into a truth again, when bilmageln hits the bell ... that old man from santa's dream still his railroad's brother still that lawyer's docter breeding his dogs for the strike the big strike in lapsalvania dream on, my brother, dream on for tomorrow it might be gone dream on, so that you have always a shelter in your memory grasp the toy and eat it so that it will live in you forever and ever even when the outside world will die

there is another brother from the pocket a name called birbermagen that thick old man from wilhelm's city now this thing is really blowing the trumpet all chocolate bows for his hat while his hat is only hanging on his wall like a clock of leprosy it's sharing all his parts to the dogs of the city and the world there in that old tearoom deep down in boston where all london cats fear for dream on, my captain dream on for tomorrow there's only a big ship without any water without any ground to stay on only air to fall in

Build your dreamship, so that you can escape when darkness falls ... for the black chrystals will rise there where the sun meets the sun. two lights together will have to carry the darkness, growing inside that big baby that ornament from a lost pocket

twenty dreamweavers will do the big thing having the dolphin as their friend too tall for a trousers dream

finally you reach the escape christmastrees from london where it all started in that little tearoom, in that little kitchen, with darkness underground
there where all dreams meet each other there where the Big Pear wrote it's books
..... this wizard of tales running with a bleeding pencil to boston to meet the museum there in that dark avenue still the dead comes there to pay the rent for living in someone's head but there in that little museum the money is slowly dying

do you dare to close your banks ? do you dare to dream again ? do you dare to give up your heads the heads you suck down everyday ? do you dare to live in yourself instead of someone else, and do you dare to invite others in your house now for awhile ? then your holiday will start it will rise the virgo stars there where the old grey dwarf waits for you at the forest-road deep down in darkness and night there where all stars fall there where the bunny takes all champions back then you finally go to sleep, feeling a bed below your back but you have to drown your money you have to drown those sharks in your pot of beer then aldebaran's star ...will wake over you and then your creativity will roar like a lion

for now you eat other's potatoes now you eat other's desires now you are the gamemaster of a lost dream having too many slaves to bear it breaks your back but take your bed and sleep sleep the night away reaching for the morning, a morning without banks but just a little museum where you also meet that gun that gun from your mother's brother to kill some other rats goodbye auctioneer, you now reached the museum ... you now reached the palace of your dreams here you can live forever it's all in your head and that's all you need for outside the banks will fall and inside the money will slide away to a dark place there where the dwarf meets the slave there where he feels his wet shoes again and his lover's wet dress that pink one that good old movie that birthday from the wild frontier she with the cartoon-eyes

can't you see it's all about a lion's dream it's all about your mothers lover who gave you that symbol sliding in the air above the desert it's that guy your mother always dreamt about to give you a good cradle it was all her deep care for you for when she looked in his eyes for the first time it was you which she had in mind and she took her little calculator to see how long it would take to make you alright you her baby

The jungle-cat is still running for you, having new symbols Deep down in the air ... his cloudcastle is staring at the ship of the little jesus ... all in the clouds It will be dadda's cloudship all with the babba-bubbles having the lalla's in it's eyes

Dreameyes from wildcoast's city ... looking for new men to join the case to descend all apples and pears ... into another faroom da bazite still the lion's key

Those ep-drives from the naroon, those babes from elkland's city all sailing their ships to varekante da razine still the tiger's key

And me ? I'm still sailing the oceans ... looking for you for another gepetto to raise out of the whale this time i will not do it with fire but with ice from the milkman's cream

Too soon you will understand that little tune in your sandfather's pockets too soon you will find out the no in the yes, and the yes in the no You just need a good clock if it comes to that clocks from the big baroon de boize ba boochy always the shark's key

There where the game becomes a good book, i will meet you ... There where the good book becomes a museum I will meet your dad My head is in the cellar.

Watching the wildlife together with you, is still an exciting thing You love those old monuments right ? I will bring you to the toymuseum, the gamemuseum, the funparkmuseum, the places where all these old automatons stand they don't work anymore but they carry their stories like a prehistoric pleasure all these dinosaurs all these dragons from rigil kent it was all to make it complete

And still you are just another monument in the museum, placed on wheels, just like me for so many years but we still have fun here we still love our conversations especially those in the nights for then all birds sleep, and then we can race through the museum We are still looking for that secret part that old ruin from a life-time we didn't exist yet So old that it is sacred But we never found it till now We first have to gather all animals keys By Noah's Magic One day we will see that shore and touch it's edges Or maybe it will all come to pass when a little kid throws a coin in us I don't know Or maybe a cowboy will do with a white sombrero Who knows

In Noctober someone knocked on my door a parrot older than old bringing me sixtyseven zeppelins from mars These were gifts from smulk, that big constellation breeding orion

Zeppelins from mars twenty jokes in a bag reaching for the hundred and then jumping inside ten seconds in one hour two dreams in a dream it was all about wet coffee when bilmageln hit the thing

Zeppelins from mars, riddles from the wildlife breeding the monsters for june
the seventh while august the twentieth is still their king

The monster always the riddle of beauty

The riddle of the dream

Leaving the rhimes of wet consciousness

Knocking on the edges of the night

Dreaming three holes in the darkest chrystal

The nightmare Always the Riddle of the Dream

the last dream

in a place called bethlehem,
where all the mas gathered,
a fir ate a pear.

no dreams can describe the magic around this picture,
it was the ascensionday for soldiers of wordwar II,
thirty names graved on a jericho's wall.

that old riddle, the old dress of that new queen,
it wandered through your streets all those years,
to prepare you, to show you the way to that enchanted forest

the riddle, that caring shell of the fruit
dreaming about a heart to warm
the riddle, still your head's desire in which all things can grow
he was your forester all the time
he knows the secret of the enchanted garden
where licorice rakes the ground
where licorice touches the moon
here, in paradise where gepetto's flower blooms,
where the snaketree grows
where the lightening arises

the riddle,
a bag full of fairytales
and an empty bag for all your desires
a farm for you to grow
these were your tall trousers ...
running through the night preparing the daylight for you

the riddle,
a bag of everything and nothing,
the last riddle, your last dream
so that's why we leave all rhymes to meet the riddle
the last ship to wilhelm's city
to become a terror in the night
sliding through the roofs sliding over the windows
the riddle,
a baker's dream

the riddle, the nonsense from the southcoast

the riddle, our touch to dream

the riddle ... no need to cry

for it's all back just eat it

the riddle the purple horse from the big zebra

stromboli in a cage it was all to make your heart at peace

the wizard's dream, the ornament's intention

the white fir of desire the riddle

escaped from sandman's heart

your dream is safe in the riddle ...

and will attract your true friends ...

your riddle ...destined to become the terror of the sea

six sharks will rise against it and finally the riddler will strike

when bilmageln hits the coffeepot

there are true threats in life :

one is a riddle without a house

another is a riddle too tall to decide ...

and the last one is a riddle in a bed of water

who has ears will hear

riddles from the wildside of life

rumors from the inside, spoiling the baker's kid

the baker still hiding behind tall glass

still the maker of tall windows

still the breeder of tall dogs
the baker still hiding behind tall ornaments
still the maker of those ornaments
still a sidesailor in the night
decorated trauma's running to a minutegrasper
finally footprints on a white parrot's mouth

rumors from the outside spoiling the dog of the theologian
a pirate will always run away from this,
with tall boots reaching for the other side of the world
his legs will always be in japan,
where the wasps still fights with the three indians.
who has ears will hear

rumors from inside out rumors from outside in
cannot stop this baker's kid from hiding it's tears,
it will slide deeper inside,
to the old factory,
to the watermills and the windmills,
in a land where farmers don't exist
it was all to make your heart at peace
who has ears will hear

apocalypses of grandma's

dreams of the westcoast will crash the dreams of the eastcoast without any mercy,
by luxury and comfort,
no capitalism but justice for carrot and car

three days in japan made your heart cold
now you're running with sunglasses,
but when bilmageln strikes the gong, it will be warm inside again

when two monkeys kick another monkey in the stomache,
a baby is born selling the two monkeys to the thieves of the world,
and selling the kick to the towers of the church
who has ears will hear ...

when three monkeys kick a lady's stomache,
a baby is born, a little monkey,
it will grow on the shoulders of the three monkeys to be their dictator for three months and a halve
it will sell the kick to the towers of a satan church
and it will sell the middle monkey to the clowns of the earth

when six ladies kick a man's stomach,
they will be sold to the spiders of eternity,
they will have to spin the wheels for a thousand decades,
they will have to sing for the lara-birds of the damage,
tall ones

when a hundred ladies kick a man's trousers,
they will be praised by hundred angels,
until their ears reached the coffins of belcanov,
the chronical man of sixtysix bodies.
then they will have to spin the wheels of lazy cats for a million days

apocalypse of sick dwarves

dream of turtles when you dare,
they will bring you to the east and the north,
they will let you forget about the south,
and then you will feel the ground of west under your boots
these were good boots these were cichlid boots
made by a thousand wild chocolates

oh apocalypse of the mailman's runner,
of it's tall shivering coat,
your eggs are smiling to the ground,
waiting for their last strike
then the snakes will come

is it a swan in the snakelake finally ?
a snake found it's desire,
it's ornament and it's rage ...
now there will be twohundred years of spoil

is it a dream within a dream again,
this black road to loud apocalypses
this will be the terrors last strike,
and then another one will begin to roar

is it the misunderstanding of a rag-soldier ...
still waiting in japan to be burnt ?
all he got were some cold trousers
there's nothing left to say

dreamers of the westcoast
running in cichlid boots,
having fresh chocolate in their hands ...
but it's poison
you can better smoke your aunt's cigar if you ask me,
or your grandmothers pipe
give her a good beard to survive her old days

these were the younger days all in the hands of a rat too young to decide watching all that old beauty but it's still young for these are younger days
your younger days

when a rat beats the drum,
bilmageln is behind it beating another drum ... dreaming another dream
but it's still his dream his drum

when the apocalypses of the rats are being opened,
no one can stand, all will fall, and creep through darkness and pain
you will seek for death, but your lusts will find you
apocalypse of rats

dream of the hunter in a cold cold jacket
too cold for your mother's touch
but it's still sugar
dream of the hunter in cold cold boots too tall for your dad's smoke
but it's still leather boots

leather from some old demons
i painted it black on a sundaymorning,
for i didn't want the preacher would see it was a red rat
it would inspire him to write his own apocalypses
while my grandmom was shivering in her chair already waiting for the next strike of the preacherman
she never liked him but she didn't want to miss the last train to hell
she needed to fish my granddad out of it
he sent her a card long ago

when my grandmom would write her apocalypses
i think it would be terror and hell
i think she would kill all red rabbits
all trains for cars are cheaper in her eyes
in her eyes yes
but then the bill from greenpeace will come raising up all red rabbits again and then my grandmother would say another misunderstanding from the lion's tea
send the bill to the lion no, no, tear the bill and then give one piece to the preacher
for he likes bills

yes, grandmother, yes, he even eats them i saw it one time when i was staring into his house they eat bills there his wife cooks them the kids love it and the preacher too they also eat post they even eat the postman himself and when the police comes for all this they even eat the police but shhhhh some policemen eat together with them it's a sort of conspiracy but anyway, then he paints everything up, and then he preaches it from the pulpit so then the dogs can eat the mass

a little fir with liquid keys walks through several metallic fences finally it reaches the old church with the tall windows he kisses the floor and then he opens the windows to enter through the church is full of animals it's a zoo here they all wait for a guy called noah to save them all but not all only two of each sort so they will do some lotteries first ... the winners will get a ticket for the ark, and the rest can swim home

the little fir lights some fires liquid ones and the games begin the little fir steps to the pulpit, with cups of coffee in his hands wake up, he yells, spreading the coffee from the pulpit through the whole church then the church is sliding and melting until it's a little bedroom, with only one person in there the little fir and then he goes to sleep

in the night he dreams of all apocalypses from different sorts of animals, so that the earth can sleep too cruel apocalypses ? no, just a game for he's the gamemaster and the only things which appear cruel are the riddles of the gamebut these are soft when you touch them, and soft when you eat them, and they will finally bring you to sleep it was all a misunderstanding from the lion's tea

the big pear is smiling it was just another tale from his big bag and there he walks to that big museum in boston, selling his stories to the birds tonight they will be stones in the museum finally having their rest there he gathers the black chrystals for his watch and his compass, now he has a weapon to fight the blinding and paralyzing lights of traffic he was always a prophet of doom and destruction and it's getting worse every day for his horror-movie needs to sell and the fairground needs to attract the kids only a good haunting house can do he has a black raven inside his heart the darkest tune of fourty thousand years kidnapped from rigil kent, the planet of planets there where all kids are getting healed for someone took attention for their darkest pits the big pear doesn't know any taboo, but easily describes the heart of every kid, not avoiding their deepest pain he's showing the knife on the screen, and the guy who transmitted the crime, quickly shifting the screen into a soft scene of fairytale then you're having twenty plastic dragons in a black plastic sorted box, designed by the master's touch.

the bunny takes all his champions back one by one all these plastic soldiers, these chocolate-dragons these soft huggy-snakes just child's toys the bunny is driving his big mercedes to the edges of the rivers still underwater tricks it's all fake he was never a capitalist it was all fake can you decorate these ornament's trousers and paint them by champion's paint ? it was all fake they were losers painted by a champion's touch but they run the canals, those rabbits in boats those cats in french dresses they know how to enchant the milkmen entering the daydive's transmission ... the dogdive's out .. the lambstead's confession still a proud one in and out the smashing of doors it still works in the restaurant at the sea where all sharks become three or four dimensional hiding the big bang under a black jacket ...

today grandma has the trousers,
she cycles to the old black house in slow-motion,
and then she cycles on the stairways faster than light
you killed my rabbit she screams to the innkeeper
but there's no innkeeper
grandma is still dreaming after all those years
she yells against the walls and kicks against red bags
but there are no bags and there isn't even a house
it stood there years ago but there's only sand now
today grandma has the trousers
and everyone believes her

Apocalypse of Rats

apocalypse of rats
in a daytime vision,
the lights will strike,
on normal base,

in which is normal to you,
oh yes, the wounds will cover up,
so that no one sees you're dying,
even you yourself will not see

apocalypse of rats
you will discover the crash when it's too late,
you're dying but you will never find death,
you're falling but you will never reach the ground,
only some sharp edges,
and some stingy branches of young and old trees,
growing on the tiles and walls of the pit
oh you cannot hold a grip,
for it's all sliding, jelly and thick,
even the pit itself is sliding down,
to a place you will never know

apocalypse of rats
too tired to describe,
they are so tired,
and you will be their food,
so do you dare to read their apocalypse ?
they will not make divisions,
everyone is the same,
but later you start to realize,
that this is the biggest crime,
for you can never be their friend,
and you can never pay yourself a way out,

for they don't believe in money, they don't believe in banks,
not in capitalism,
for they are a communistic threat,
even they themselves go through the pit,
as it is designed by their apocalypse,
everyone is the same,
when the books will be opened
apocalypse of rats

there will be no saviour and no victim

for no one has a name ...

it is the revenge of life and death

the revenge of a lame pencil

only a pencil will survive,
he was the god of the rats,
he wrote this terrifying apocalypse,
while his wife was speaking

his wife an old chair

a lazy one if it comes to that saying only the object will survive,

a pencil and a chair

the rat was sitting in the middle,
between a pencil and a chair,
the slave of their letters ...

apocalypse of rats

now he is the terror,

on land and on the seas
but in daylight he's just a slave
of a pencil and a chair

he already saw their hells,
he already felt their pits

but tomorrow it will be you,
for the apocalypse doesn't make any division

now this was a story, full of horror and pain,
full of blood and shivers,
but there's one way to survive
to become a pencil, and find a chair,
to search a good rat in the middle,
to write your own apocalypses in the night,
then strike by daylight,
on normal base,
slowly dragging your church into the night

and if you want to know, where i heard this tale,
then go to the assistant of your local tax office,
and you will hear the same,
it's a new free service,
for all those who pay tax,
you get a piece of their big tax-book,
to scare your kids to school,
to be a friend of a pencil,
and the friend of a good chair,

then to catch a rat to let it sit there,
to do the crime,
apocalypse of rats

the horror of the backstage ...
apocalypse of rats
Apocalypse of Sharks
Hunted by the Big Q

Birthday's coming over the ladder,
Too strange to describe,
Terror rising from the pencil,
the orange one, with the blue light

Apocalypse of sharks,
A summer on a strange island,
Where everyone gets the chickenpocks,
No, it's something worse than this ...

Your mother never wanted to talk about this to you
For your ears would melt away,
your arms and your legs ...
and then she would have to carry you home all the way
the home of sharks

You would be the head of their birthday,
Their cakes and their tarts
It's like the sweet strike of santa clause
A dark one this time

A million soldiers on a hill
describing how they would torture you ...
And you ?
You don't hear what they are saying
you only hear them whispering
you only hear them having their horrors screams and yells
only mutterings in cold air

You are the summer of their islands
The sun of their dinners
Giving you halve of the prey
To keep you addicted to the middle

It's a new drug ...
It eats you away
And you know it, but you love the gifts they give you ...
It's the price you have to pay

They give you their money,
Now you can pay all your bills ...
But tomorrow you will have their bills,
which you cannot pay ... circle of horror all working by ... the line of addiction
The big Q

The line brought you in, and the line blocks the way out

The big Q is having a hunt

He's running behind your back, beaming a blue light in your bag,

A thin Ray

No one could ever escape from the Q

It's your day of destruction

Now you can beg for some apathies

But it's not good for your soul

For your soul wants a way out, while it's deeper inside ...

Inside the Big Q ...

Learn to descend

When you hang on the cross like Jesus it's there in the Big X, where all the crosses gather

Where all the hunters will see,
that there was something bigger

The united sharks

They who became sharks by a cross bigger than themselves, by someone bigger than Jesus
thinner than a line

It was bilmageln saving you out

It was birbermagen putting you in,

And now Xazynen is beating the mouse,

that old mouse of the shark ...

where all the crosses gather

into a daylight's dream

Those liquid lights, those riddles of apocalypse ...

they were too easy to describe ...

in the green light

but it was all fake

Apocalypse of sharks,
strange ways to describe a diamond's kill,
strange way to put the coffee into a damage's circle,
from Q to X,
this will be our journey

It's all in that little licorice-point,
that black point raging in the night,
for when it fell out of heaven,
it could absorb hell,
to enter a heaven,
as fake as your mother's dream

you are still burning your lucifers there,
to catch all rainbows inside ...
finally the fake shark
finally that fake rose
could save your life
your life

By transmissions and warp-days,
By bottoms and strange dressings,
we could turn on the lights again,
in this black hour of liberty,
There where the fake meets the fake
There where the bottom meets the bottom,
It will see it all has a double bottom,
even the hat of riddler,

that old mocker,
that old sunbiter
that strange old ornament ...
from a million of purple hells
it came to you ... it came to you ... to show you the game in the diamond
the rain in the blue bell ...
sunrises from martian canals
will drown the black ornaments once again ...
to nail a new transmission on thousand crosses
like fifteen new rules of Maarten Luther,
on the blueberry hill's churchdoors
Now we will see who's king there,
for this door will open,
to show us what was behind behind those old sacred words ... of that old sacred priest
it was all fake it was all a joke
just a riddle just a riddle from that old book of secrets
from that ornament's rage
apocalypse of sharks

they will surround you in the kettle,
to let you sink once again,
so that you will meet the fish in the fish,
the dream within the dream

don't worry when your ship will sink, for then the shark wants to show you the treasures on the bottom of it's seas
you refused to see it so often

apocalypse of sharks ...

dreams from the Big Birthday,

dreams from the big daypossession

it was all to make your heart more addicted

so that you could touch the other side of the magnet

it was all in the + and in the -,

it was all in your tongue

the one with the biggest mouth would win

but what was the trophee

a bigger addiction

a bigger hospital and finally a bigger death

with a bigger heaven,

and a bigger dream

who has ears will hear

apocalypse of sharks

still your grandfather's dream

still too easy to decide

but when you look behind the curtain ...

it's all too difficult,

so you can never choose your own direction

we all will be swallowed by the same point,

by the same lie

to find the truth deep inside ...

we are all robots from that bigger dream

just doing as it was told

who has ears will dream

we were all chosen by one direction,

the small point will suck us inside

where we will all be the same

the rat is riding the shark ...

the communist rides the capitalist

both aren't able to break magnetic laws

the law of the magnet

the writer of the shark's apocalypse

sitting on a rat's leg

sitting on a mailhouse's device ...

but the rat rides it for there's no follower after the dream

only riders riders in the storm

fifty five rats riding the sharks of the night

but their fate will be the same in the communistic apocalypse

only a pencil and a chair will survive

they don't have names they are just objects designed by themselves to do the crime

the chair will speak, the pencil will write,

the rat sits on the shark

they can only watch the show after all

first they strike by racism, by the shark's sharp head,

then they strike by communism ... covering up the wounds for everyone is the same

first they strike by dictatorship ... by a shark's endless line, then they strike by democracy, the mass possessed by a rat's cold hand

democracy, a good mask for the dictator

thoughts of a lame pencil,
put in by his wife ... the old chair,
the line on an old chair, the big H
but the chair rides it, covering her Q's
It's the big Q, running over the hills
slaying the rabbits but the H is driving the buss, while the X is saving us
loud and clear
on true basements and dreams

The punker and the communist
All to make your heart at peace
There's an X in the Q
There's a heart in the bird ...to make it fly

The line hides in the H
The Q hides in the H,
but there's also an X in the H,
to let the bird escape

And she will fly to a new world,
She will fly to a new hill

where the dogs cannot reach her tails

She will bring the food to your ark and she will guide you to that bridge

There where the sea becomes a land

There's an X in the H,
There's a dream in the nightmare
There where you find your friend in a tear

In that wet, lonely bubble

The fear will rise once again

But then you will have a good towel to warm your friend

your beloved one

your own heart

There's life on the other side of the funnel,

And you will meet your friend Q

That one in the purple dress

That dogbiter ... that cateater he was always your friend

Then you will finally be Q and Q, the possessors of that mighty sword from India

Or was it a sword from the indians ?

About this the wars will rage

How you realize that a rat covered up all your wounds,

the big Q was protected and trademarked,

they used copyrights to block you out

it's the merman raging in all divisions

and finally a rat comes to blow all these candles out

he always came when the night fell,

to let you burn in daylight

no doctor could see your pain

all covered up by a rat's false transmissions

the swindlers of the top of hills

dreams from the marsh-harrier ...

a winter in april

all to cover it up

all to cover you up ...
these cops from hell ...
these swindlers from neptune and mercury
from smulk's conspiracies ...
they will burn until daylight falls ...

raging like the red cat ... raging like the storms of marauders raging like the edgers of the dreams
until the rat comes to justify them all the shark speaks, while the rat is covering it up and using it to enter daylights and forbidden traffics

these black ornaments in the night

the shark and the rat just slaves of the big pencil, sitting on the Big Chair
the big H is roaring in the night
like your neighbour's new car

songs from the big chair ... all songs from the big chair
she's lying such a liar songs from the big chair, songs from the big chair she's lying,
whispering in the night

she knows how to shut up complainers
she's the daylight in hell

she knows she knows

picking out a plastic shark out of the rain turning it into horror again

tricks ... tricks from the sidelife of hell

This chair, this chair ... still having the heart of an animal an orange cat

Using the terror of birthday

Just using it

Apocalypse of Birds

having the black pears in their mouths,

pointy mouths like hell,

still the way to dwarve's food.

having the black pearls in their spine, someone's sitting on their back,

it's a dwarve, straight from hell.

it's the arrow of decision,

it's the thriller of a new may,

paths decorated by blood,

footprints of dwarves

the big x has done it's work,

now there will be detectives running around the case,

but it's too slippery here,

and your horse don't want to drink today ...

it was still a spoon in the apple,

a stick in the eye,

tomorrow we will be all blind,

when the rats ride the birds

when a bird touches the ground,

putting the damage on,

the trauma and the desperate blindness,
...apocalypse of birds ...

drama after drama is being painted,
like a chainlet in the night,
your grandma will have a surprise around her neck tomorrow,
a surprise to many

they expected her to walk and to do her daily work,
but she will fly now,
like yesterday's hell ...

drama after drama,
painted on foreheads and old chairs,
crosses on curtains,
it's the black hell raging

her fingertips touch the moon,
for cruel conspiracies,
she has virgo under her teeth,
having arabia's blanket under her feet,
she's still the ball of the universe,
that old red lady,
boiling like a balloon,
zeppelins from the sidelife ...

her mouth delighted by black irritations,
her eyes full of bitterness and pain,
she loved the stories of her grandchildren,

but today she will open her book

she waited for this forty million years,
on a black chair she sat,
now she rises from the kettle,
red witches from the south coast
no mercy in their hands
apocalypse of birds

her songs full of inappropriate cruelties,
her mouth full of blasphemies,
but what is she blasting at her whispers cannot be followed
it's the strange demise of a candle today,
now she will wave to the night,
putting the horror on

well, it's just a story,
she likes to tell,
about her one and a half year in hell ...

her husband wasn't good for her,
he died a deep death,
all for her,
but she refused to see,
blind women from the top of life and hell,
thinking it was a man standing there

strange ways to find a mouse in the desert,

she opened a book on april's tops,
still a desert-rider, still a maze-runner,
but a blind one,
and now she wants to make them all blind,
the inappropriate bitterness,
thinking her husband gave her this food ...

crucify your jesus again,
he can have another brake,
it was too busy in the supermarket

finally you were the one letting him escape,
you saved him out of his factory,
this raven's child,
this heartbreak's sollution,
that big pearl from the strange echo,
bending it's ways in the wind,
to enter through that little gate of transmission

you could burn your watch for this,
he's now running through the night,
having no lights anymore to describe his days,
now he has a black pencil to decorate his own,
those nights, those arabian nights
beyond magic and pain

he doesn't feel his burden anymore,
he doesn't feel the dictators anymore,
it's all gone,

by your strike

intimate trousers were his presents,
while his shirt is in holiday now,
looking for his turtle-friends,
black horror from santa dawn

he doesn't feel ashamed of it anymore,
doesn't feeling the stairways anymore,
only a pure diamond in his car,
like liquid lights from a strange design,
it brought him over the hills,
apocalypse of birds ...

into the sand of a new world,
burning under his feet,
moistening his lips with pure water,
the secret of a dry desert,
for seventy seven years

a bird saved him out,
it was you,
in a lazy dress,
your complaints and transmissions,
your false accusations,
all a ladder for him,
to escape the factory,
something worse than you

when he fell in your hole,
and broke it's neck,
he was safe from the strike of the big bird,
having three little birds in his hands,
looking for their eggs
these were your birds,
these were your birds,
all from a dragons egg ...
but it was all his protection against the big bird
apocalypse of birds

there is always something worse,
to realize this the dictator becomes a saviour,
the mouth becomes sweet again

Wild boys

She's breeding the wasp.
She's breeding the tattoo on his face,
he's almost skewed this little boy

She's breeding the basket,
She's painting the boy,
By her cruel words,
It will follow her the rest of her life,
like a nightmare,
It will even visit her across the red lines.

She's breeding the wild cat,

breeding the big bang,
Now these boys will forget,
also the big "She" ...

No one wanted to listen to him,
that little boy's toy,
but now it's a snake hitting the lambs,
in cold deserts,
She bred it into this.

Horror with a glass of wine

*until we understand the horror of this land,
there will be no way out of this ...*

*until we understand the horror of this little child,
we will not be able to help ourselves*

Horror on a mondaynight

Dark Raven
He comes to every house,
stinging two holes in the spleen,
three holes in the liver,
and a little hole in one lung,
and then he sucks to meet his daily meal.

Dark Tiger and his Serval
They come to go,
hitting little holes in your glands,

and in the spleen of your dogs,
leaving one bloody stripe on the house,
and then they fly away

When the snake comes,
he burns the livers of your pigs,
burning one lung of your chickens,
hitting the spleens of your geese,
killing your cows,
and then he sucks the night away,
and then you wake up ...

Was it all a dream ?
The smell in the house is so different,
It smells like blood,
fresh blood,
and broken bones

Someone's doing the dishes in the kitchen,
But you cannot walk,
your paralyzed,
The dark raven is smiling,
he did a good job,
I'm now the boss of your house he sais,
for you made a mess of it,
you used to chain the visitors in the cellar
they saw and smell the food,
but you never gave anything to them,

only on mondaynights,
you didn't want them to die,
no you could use their good advices,
you always sucked the jokers out of their brains,
to use them for your own games

There a bear enters in,
sucking the blood out of your feet,
bringing your legs to the kitchen,
you always ran too hard with these things,
no one could ever follow you ...

And you still think it's just a dream ?
You need to wake up better,
It's only a horror-fable,
and you sucked the blood too deep,
so don't forget it when you read your next book :
Don't look too deep into the glass,
for then you will become it's prisoner
Be warned

Return of the Toy

*"A man called farao drank too much beer,
Now he's lying on the bottom of his glass
He cried himself to death While the innkeeper was lying besides him Laughed himself to death"*

lord of domino

Ships of cyborgs, Father sandman is calling his boys,

Ships of cyborgs, playcards are ready,
to invite earth,
to invite the tall lady,
for some games outside

Aldebaran's rain,
Wild boys on stage 2,
Thunder in the air,
Playcards in their hands,
Now they can invade earth,
with drama which isn't really drama,
they just open their eyes

Father sand is speaking,
to the sand,
these boys from lynx,
they escape like the blue thunder,
remote plugs in their heads,
speaking the languages of wasps and snakes,
and they're still not done with it
they are searching for the teacher
that black teacher,
to sell him some flowers,
mom gave them for this goal

and now that's just an old book,
about some flowers for teachers ...
they exactly know what to do

it will let the kids escape out of the heart
that old black heart of the teacher

the hall is wide,
that sandman's hall,
all in the ship,
where he is breeding his new worlds,
in egg-cocoons,
in wild wet whirlpools,
the blue glues are boiling there,
i'm still staring at it

the boys from lynx guard the funnels,
to sell some birthdays to the passengers

making magnetic connections,
turning all senses upside down,
preparing them,
for another ride in the haunted house

their smiles are fake,
they are the princes of satire
having aldebaran as their friend,
the lord of domino on their side,
it was an all time conspiracy,
the revenge before the strike

the goats of wooden voices were sealing the contracts,
but it was all fake

something you loved to hear
and you still do ...

still no one knows if they are fallen dwarves, fallen angels,
or gods in speedboats,
are they from hell or heaven,
from the haunted house, or the candybar

their stilleto's can still grow so tall,
when you catch a sight of their gangleader you will instantly die,
like the strike of the thunder,
don't even think about him,
his songs are too tall for your ears,
but it's all fake

he's still a cyborg from the red stilleto,
still a builder of motorcycles and the weaver of snakejackets,
the ships of cyborgs are in town,
looking for a man called moes ...

he has still the baker's ears,
his eyes close together,
as skewed as a french dictionary of blood,
his face is thin and satiric,
always smiling,
but not meaning one word of it,
his eyes are crying all the time,
but he doesn't mean it
it's all fake

he's the biggest blasphemer of the ship,
but at who is he blasting still no one knows

this boy this shy boy,
it's only an attitude,
the treatment he gives you
his mother taught him well,
still a famous sorceress from Neptune,
she knows everything about fame
still sandman's lover ...
but still no one knows where she lives,
but when she steps on the tiles,
everyone faints

there are several boybands in the air,
the boys from venus, boys from tucan and boys from lynx,
good nephews in a sense,
but when they give the candy,
it's all poison,
and you will only find that out when it's too late ... now can they be loved then ?
oh yes, for unpoisoned candy is much worse
but hey, i'm not the advocate of these boys,
they can do speeches for themselves,
about foreign jesus's and cruel dictionaries,
all to bake the cake

and now these boys from tucan,

so empathic, so honest and so true

but it's all fake

all to lay the magnet,

all to build the zoos,

so shy,

but it's all fake

they are just cyborgs,

programmed to lay the magnet

the contracts between the boys ...

wild boys from the southeast coasts

their pigment is spreading,

you can see the forest through them,

their scars are transparent,

they are collectors

losing the hundred to find the one they never saw ...

you can never trust them, these boys from venus,

princes of satire,

covered under a rag-blanket,

still with fragile fingers,

they smoke their cigarettes ...

but it's all fake

it's just the magnetballs rolling

to bring the pigs back to the farm

to tell the chicken she's a bird

The spanish prince,

Capricorn's boy,
running through the old streets of london,
selling newspapers to the geese,
another story from the same book

Boys from capricorn,
still a sad story,
it makes you cry ...
but it's fake
even your own tears are

They have just fallen out of your heavens
Yes, you there, I won't call your name,
for you know it yourself

Grandfather's most loved painting is speaking
But he's the only one who loves it so

Even me myself, I don't love it
I used to ignore this painting,
until I found the stone inside,
to throw at the baker's house

These lords of the playcards,
New worlds in the swanlake
Are you still the prince of broken business
In the palace of failure,
There's a stone inside to throw
Oh yes, you can throw them at the unguilty ones,

the innocent ones and the ignorant ones

For it's all fake

And they will use these stones ... they will use these stones

To build new bakeries

You painted their frontdoors by your own blood

They made their magazines by the feathers of your hat

blown away by the wind

You still talk backwards because of this

But you met the boys in the billiards room ... and your one of them now

marching for a new world and a new flag

shaking the hands of the haunted house

ghosts in priestsuits,

but it's all fake

The boys from Lynx those fallen dwarves,

gathered by sandman,

those rulers of worlds,

growing tall in the night

Blaspheming until the church sinks underground,

Until the children are marching out ... those chained children

Boys from Jupiter, with the magnets under their feet, they are still skating in the night,

putting the flags of anarchy in the ice,

until the schools fall, and the kids are free,

breeding truants in the night

Oh, these leg-egs,

eggs of spiders,

These kids were your parents,
The game is the school,
It's all under their feet,
a trick of their shoes

The army of truants and blasphemers,
all marching to the great city,
where mooses rides the killerpig,
still looking for his rod
a billiards cue

Well, you brought it to him,
altho it was all fake
but he could use it to tear the curtain

She's not a harlot,
you just built your temples in her bed

The city is surrounded by an army of descenders,
ready to be reversed ...
ready to be turned into a kitchen,
into a library and a museum,
into a blaspheming word

The big taboo is selling his earrings for tomorrow's race

Holding tight to golden traditions,
and material nightmares

An army of truants,
to turn the teacher into a book,
to bring his rabbit to the cartoon,

and with his rod they will rule the kettle

They were the slaves of rotten schools, of rotten dictionaries,
They were the criminals of the church, sealed by the Big Birthday,
They were the cut potatoes on a tomatoe's dish,
But it was all to breed the cyborg,
The automatons are working now,
It's all in the game

Transformers of the railroad,
letting the kettle dance in fire,
the plagues of frogs will enter for sure,
to sell twenty exodus's to an old clown

A man called farao drank too much beer,
Now he's lying on the bottom of his glass

He cried himself to death While the innkeeper was lying beside him

Laughed himself to death

On Vela the dominoes are spaceships,
sent out to make the mass laugh,
it's a little chip, fishing the poles out of the people,
to have some prisoners for their kitchens

Now some dominoes make them cry,
They sell the tears into the universe,
For the ornament's ovens

So when you laugh or cry,
be sure you have a fake nose on ...

Protect your laughs, your cries, your screams,

guard them by the white rod

road to a world deeper than hell

The mistress couldn't follow her own words,
something made her laugh all the time

it was swelling in her stomach

and now it's racing through her head,

designing her new days

She's thinking she lost the game

Someone else has powers over her,

A stupid domino from Vela

There were the billiards room lives

It's still the roaring monster of the universe

A dinosaur from the pulpit

It smokes too much,

it runs too loud

No one can control it

It's like the dictators fly

She cannot talk, only laugh

Her kids gave up hope already

She has breathproblems,

and problems to sleep,

No one dares to speak to her anymore ...

She's living on a lost island

Where cannibals have their temples,

deep underground,

at least, that is what the story tells

She's looking for her bridegroom,
one who wants to tell her stories
for normal human beings don't dare to talk to her anymore
for when she laughs everything is breaking,
everything is shaking,
it's like the wild obsession
maybe only a cannibal can quench this fire

They eat her everyday, but she's laughing in their stomachs, eating them from inside out
She laughs everyone to hell,
and she laughs herself into the highest heaven
but maybe it's better like this for when she was young she cried too much
she cried everyone to hell,
and herself into the highest heaven
She changed like the turning of the medaillon,
And maybe that's finally better,
For when she was young she lived and died in the mass,
she was one of the magnets,
but now the magnet turned around,
now she's living on an island,
so cold and so alone,
but she's laughing like she never did before
and no one can touch her anymore
she laughs herself through graves and pits,

through birthdays and boring sundays,
always reaching for the highest heavens,
leaving stripes in the snow

All her kids became truants,
only reading the books about this story
It's a new religion,
a new Jesus on the block

Now they are serving in their temples,
Like priests from a strange religion
It's like a sect of horror,
Like a cult of fallen animals
People say they live like cannibals,
like their old mistress and her friends,
But no one knows exactly for the kids are living on a secret island

Building a new society,
New rules,
New books,
Even new schools,
while they will be always truants,
For it's free in the jungle.
They say the schools are eaten by them everyday,
To grow in their stomachs,
These wild flies, these wild boys

No girls are allowed
They will be eaten too,
to grow in their stomachs ...

But it's all fake

And the mistress herself ?

She's smiling from her heavens

These boys from Pegasus she's so proud of them

But what about the girls, isn't it cruel what they do to them ?

No, for they just want to have their meat back, and their body-limbs,
their animals and their bags,

And every evening when the sun falls, they spit these girls out,
to teach them how to swim,
to teach them how to breed their own coffee

And the girls, these girls,

they just act like the mistress, they eat the boys from inside out, to laugh themselves
into the highest heavens

The mistress doesn't accept girls either,

So she's eating them also there, as dinner in her high heavens

The girls, they try to eat her from inside out

But they know and have to know,
that her stomache is still full of dominoes,
these implants from velan aliens

She always laughs harder,

and the next day they are,

in the deepest hells,

that was how it always went ...

So the girls, falling up and down,

like a yoyo between the poles,

waving at those boys from pegasus,

still doing their shows

the boys who could never wake up

But one day, and this is sad to say,
The girls will meet the other side of the mistress' medaillon,
when she was very young,
and they will cry themselves to the deepest hell,
even to the world behind it,
meeting some wilder boys,
like wild wasps baptized in candy,
like bars with bells,
ruling after the drink
there's a world deeper than hell,
there where the wilder boys live,
these wilder animals,
crocodiles in bad shape,
scaring you like your grandmother's horror could never do
when you see them you sign your death,
when you smell them, you are paralyzed within one minute,
they hit little holes in your thick aura's,
in your brains,
and in your dogs trousers
to make you as wild as them,
or even wilder

the wild and the wild,
locked up in a domino,

leading each other to a wilder man,
bringing the pears to the trousers,
letting your pencil become possessed

but you can only escape a world,
when you are wilder than that world
but that's not a problem for you to do ...
for that world is breeding you into that wild object
the wild pencil
drawing a way out,
painted by blood,
decorated by skins
your own then you become the paper prince

he will never hurt anyone,
all his swords are fake,
all the wounds he hit,
all the cruel words he speaks
it's just to let you escape,
to meet a world wilder than you
and for you a way to be finally free

to reach the deepest bells,
hitting them to enter a deeper world,
by touching fragile buttons,
from insects waiting for you deep underground,
it's your car standing there,
your car to the dinosaur your grandfathers bred

the tear can lead you to a world deeper than hell,
to a world wilder than your grandfather preeched about ...
there where the final bells hang,
waiting for you to strike them

There were the swans spit fire,
there where everything is fake,
There where everyone has more lives,
Like the battleground of a game,
You can never really lose,
it's all fake,
the trophies and the lost,
the marbles can be eaten,
the marks can be worn
it doesn't hurt, it's all plastic,
it's fake after all

It will be a wilder game,
It will be a wilder transmission,
But the pain will fade away
The pain of the house without games

I wore a hat without games for such a long time ...
It destroyed half of my face
I'm a walking curse

But it made me wild enough
To reach the coasts of the Big Game

It made me tall enough to reach the towers of the old church,

to break the neck of the cock,
for it was ticking in my head for so long,
telling me i was a blasphemmer

and i am one of the biggest ... but ask yourself this question :
who am i blaspheming

i killed tenmillions holy statues from a holy temple,
eating a holy tullip alive

swallowed two most sacred frogs,
and drowning some sanctified and blessed dice

i broke a divine cigarette, the divine and speaking lambstead of a blessed butchery,
i broke a sacred war, and so on and on sacred policemen want my head to speak on their hearths,

i get letters from nevermind,

and i'm wondering why the big bang is still liking me

for i spat in the wine of his holy supper ate his cannibals and used his bibles for writing bills to the poor poor gods, speaking poor words to the people, poor guidance

anyway, i'm on more than twothousand planetary deathlists, but it's all fake

when i say it was just a joke, they ask me if i can become the clowns in their hospitals well, that's a big deal i mean ... i'm getting older i need some peace and rest in my life selling the old wars to the newcomers for them to have a good game in their youth but hey, that's also fake when you are a good writer, you never tell people that it's all fake but i don't see myself as a good fitting writer
..... no, but i'm a damned good accountant when i write the bills, people always think i'm writing a new book and in my office they are even bestsellers it's all between my chair and the door of the room, and then it falls down, not being able to reach the ceilings i think it just likes to be underground to find a rest and a peace even though it's wilder than the world outside my room that happens when you find your bed for the first time of your life it becomes your ship all underground, to meet all the boys who could never wake up

Father Sandman never let these boys wake up, he's calling his toys, to let them do the crime but it's all fake He loves them very much, these boys in the games, these monsters others have to kill but they have more lives, just like all the others There father is repairing some of their wheels, and some magnet-balls in their eyes They can still scare people like they cannot move for two million of years They can still make people cry by letting them feel their hand And they can still make people laugh like never before by imitating some charicatures but it's all fake these are all tricks from Bilmageln, that Big Dwarf, that old bald wizard from vega bringing childhood back to the tiles of the old city ... when he smiles it's like a hundred mandarines are smiling When he rages it's all fake He's still the king of all truants caring for kids destroyed by biting schools showing them how to ride these insects going to a wilder world there where the tears ... are chocolatelakes

The man with that tough candy-voice, those licorice-sticks, is still leading you through low waters with splinters and snakes, broken glass and crocodiles, even the needles of your grandma swim there, they appeared to be dangerous fishes and shark-killing insects it's all to make your heart wilder, and to show you it's all fake the scars on your body are telling you wilder stories, but all to bring you in peace that biggest war was not what it looked like, it was a button of a foreign game, and still your uncles are sitting around it smoking heavy cigars selling their glasses to the middle of the table cuyornaida corset you don't know what they are doing but it will give you your dreams tonight to show you satan's sister but she was also fake and these guys always have a split character they can also save you out of spoilt schools and burning churches the preacher dropped a wild cigarette there thinking it would save the money but it was burning the forests never sell your wildness to a wild cigarette, for it burns everything away turn the market into a playground ... the money into a game this will make everything transparent this will stir up the liquid lights this will open bilmageln's fences to meet his dogs roaring in the night he has some fake tickets ... travelling with them to japan and back for all planes like his tickets they look like books, just like my bills they look like paintings, just like my clothes he can even buy things by only showing his tickets, and then the people laugh for three hours, and then realizing they were tricked but then it's too late already they woke up in another world in broken business, realizing that the playground is king as always

Behind the golden fence, the playground lies, deep in the sand, deep in morning's trousers Behind the silver fence, the hurt is gone, only two cigars are lying

there dreams from a broken heart but not hurting anymore the smoke is rising into seven eternities

raising the roundabouts

The boy with the purple face is staring at me he smoked his last cigarette that autistic boy a cigarette of a divorce too tight it was blocking him from breathing but was it really a divorce ? his face covered by soot accusations were still the bosses of the factory he worked in but he smoked this last cigarette he's whispering inside his eyes like the purple deer

was it really a divorce ? he cannot speak anymore smoking his last fantasy tomorrow he has to new ones at the canals of amsterdam but he doesn't have money anymore someone stole it a raven but was it really a thief it was the same bird he met in the factory without the divorce he wouldn't be in this factory, he wouldn't meet this bird the bird wasn't a thief but he gave him a total new fantasy the money would only buy old fantasies, blocking him from coming over the hills

there was a man selling divorces to the birds in amsterdam it was a blind man turning the wheel of his black box white doves were being spread by this the canals looked green, there was poison streaming through it and yellow magnetic juice to wake men up out of their prisons the bird's children to eat the food of divorce to bring them back to the factory where the wasp could be bred again it would be the marriage-assassin ... trade in divorces forced by grandfather laying the knife under the pillow

there the domino-prince stands in the middle of amsterdam's bakery he finally made the jump, from rotterdam to amsterdam now all his pains are food now his markets are playgrounds forever the beginning of a new game but i want to go to rotterdam, to see the purple becoming yellow to see a hard day rising into the seventh sun ... still aldebaran's toyshop burning it's way through rotterdam's windows ... these windows are spoilt the return of jesus was just the return of a toy i'm running between rotterdam and amsterdam like the jester's tear to bring all my toys into the game

the prince of playcards is still counting his cards and toysoldiers ... his helicopters are burning holes in the air and holes in the night to escape the last terrors the seconds between the seconds are slowly sliding away ... this land lives slower i can hear the breaths between your words, i can see the hours between your hairs they are dividing their strategies like the tigerhairs hard like glue, breeding themselves into needles someone is selling rhimes to the tiles of amsterdam, coming from the hague but no one wants to buy only rotterdam to sell it for higher prices to the east the raven brought me to east long ago for birthday's living there and i'm riding it's delights to fight against the medical spider

this is the last pipeline i'm breathing through i cut all the others away that pipeline of east, still my worst put in chess i lost my king and queen because of it ... but now a better one could rise she shines like the sun saying all oceans waited for this moment they all waited for that loss to make some space in my wizard's bag ... to bring some apples, some oranges and some other fruits, for a new market ... one with a playground in the game, where the worst enemies are your best friends there where all tears are fake

all these breads from the baker they were just games all fake still a scrooge from rotterdam comes to amsterdam every year when it's winter laughing himself to death while others are crying themselves to death my uncles are still surrounding this picture smoking big cigars ... after my mom and dad died they always cared for me, and little amsterdam their cigars are fake their beers, and even their nuclear bombs

there were some decisions from the round table churches sending some blue doves to the universe under a false name ... they declared that all these decisions were fake that even those round table churches were fake

they were just fallen dwarves, having some illegal connections with giants underground conspiracies but my uncles still like them they are proud members for years and years and still everyone believes what they say, while they themselves don't believe a word of it ... but their heads are on the coins, together with a legendary and historical year, carved in madman's style ...

the boys ... they can cry till someone really gives in they can complain, they can rage, they can threaten, till the coin is falling and then they laugh until the second coin is falling but it's all fake ... they have the body of a wasp, switching the magnets, for the best results there where the purple becomes yellow, it can use a little black now and again, little purple boy, little purple deer ... it's the story which lets the coin fall.

he's selling the stories to the dreams of amsterdam, now the dogs can breath a bit longer, but when the stories die out, these dogs will be gone too ... then they will have to go to other cities, to find them some new stories they use these stories to rule the heads of the people, with their pencils and paintings the boy got these stories from the raven ... these stories are the keys of the marionets the keys to move their legs and their arms, to bow their heads and to move their lips and blink their eyes ... they dance by fables, play by fairytales, sing by jokes they don't know if they will survive winter ... for then the story-assassins will come but they can use these dramas for some good funerals in the middle of amsterdam some animals want to go into wintersleep ...

the raven will go to the schools and churches and to justice-courts to steal the stories and turn them backwards ... these will be the kid's books for the next years ... and he can sell these stories to the dogs energizing their automatons again ...

automaton-soldiers sliding through the roofs of amsterdam ... throwing the used stories in the museum they will bloom there again they will be the bills of amsterdam terrorizing the spheres flying bills over the earth grown up stories from the big museum the return ... of the toy that bank of scrooge in rotterdam can be closed the automaton-soldiers will built a new toyshop there, with all toysoldiers where i will be the accountant ... where my brother will sell his cars one for him and for me still the two parts of the gemini girl's face ... the piano plays by itself, when there's enough oil in it ... as long as this gemini's girl speaks as long as the stories go the spaces between the piano-strikes take longer i can see capricorn's hat again

there's science fiction in the old shoe the storybirds are all around his head leading him to the toyshop, there where all automatons start these storybirds will repair the clocks when it is read it turns into a bill ... these billbirds repair the churchtowers and the compasses ... he's riding his storybirds ... riding to the deserts of the east bringing some water to the clouds and towers there ... the swan is still spitting fire, someone's skating on the lake all in rotterdam's toyshop all dreamers in a row the snowman and the soft cloud are striking some millers there, another toyshop is rising, these toys come alive by stories

the bill-assassin is a big dark man, killing the clocks like he killed his grandmother now his grandfather lives in his head no fish can follow his speech he's sitting behind his domino-piano, striking the keys for a final strike

I'm breathing together with you I blow my breath in you, and you blow your breath in me ... It's still that soft sour breath from the forest, making me weak inside Collecting stories to hang them around our necks spreading their flavors far over the hills, preparing us to descend to our homelands and histories spreading the attention in deep smiles but it is ...all fake

There's an indian warbook in my head ... printed by several wasps It's sacred to me, but fake I don't believe one word of it Just a good story You bought it for me, so long ago in that shop deep in the white chocolate decorated drama, ornaments of the tragedy dancing in my head, sinking down into my shoes deep in the night but all fake and i would never use it for the toyshop ... it's something between you and me but did you ever read it yourself, some things are a bit impolite ... it tastes like a wild face from a wasp's funeral but it's fake all fake like Bilmageln's keys of waterlights, dancing in the night, marching through your eyesi'm reaching for you, through the broken mirror I saw the kid falling from the statue ... having a deep wound while the black horse was entering the market I misunderstood the whole picture but this wound was the loss she felt when i left but i'm back

i'm trying to pick up the sounds of your piano, created by pure and concentrated slowmotion, trying to enter my head and heart ... these dominoes they all fell when you touched the first one

i'm smashing the doors leaving worlds behind me trying to reach the echoes of our past puzzling them into the future a bit mathematics if it comes to that entering the cat's fever and the pear's delirium following the lines of the story ... wondering how it will end and where it will end here in the white chocolate this song let people cry themselves to death ... i have it in my fingers but still i miss some blue keys on my piano some pages are missing this misunderstood book this misunderstood painting it used to scare me as a kid

you're closing your eyes in that snowwhite dress ... decorated by shining pink ... your head up, breathing through your nose, with a deep smile the painting remembered me about you too much i couldn't bear that shattered dream but now i'm ready for you took me by the hand it was your time to send the helicopter

you know i'm a marionet, when the story dies, i'm dying too but you are full of stories although they are all fake the bunny in his fake mercedes if it was a real one i would kill him, for i can't stand capitalists but even that kill would be fake the girl with the red books, cuyornaida corset, all your stories and i'm still running to the place where the last orphan lives ... deep down in amsterdam he has domino wallpaper ... still the prince of broken dreams and broken games but he's selling his puzzles to the birds he's the boss of the casino the last foundling lives in rotterdam, still working in a toyshop, a marionet, a bracelet-assassin he's playing the candy's piano all poison all these chocolate-soldiers and chocolate-toys come alive in the night all these liquid light bells all dancing around the head of the little girl ... he cares for his little sister

the sounds are sliding over the towers and houses, the town is baptized in chocolate, waiting for the strike of marspine ... he's raging for a town

King of Fake

I met the king of nonsense,

He was on his way to the king of fake

I found a black stone near to a theologians house,

twenty theologians lived there,

ten wise and ten doubters

It was a stone from rotterdam,

telling me stories of dirt and divorce,

but when i turned the stone around,

a frog was living under it,

carrying all fairytales existing

Just turn the stone around,

when the king of nonsense is coming to you,

he's on his way to the king of fake,

selling your heart to the maze

Just turn the stone around,

when it appears to be a maze,

for a frog is living under it,

carrying all you need to know

The French Schoolbook

Cruel Heritages

"And the boys ... these boys ... They are free in their prisons ... selling their churches to old lions, selling their little gods to another gameshop ... they will be the balls of new games ... rolling by blasphemy ..."

paragraph 1.

Glues from Crocodile

the woman with the white boots

In the land of the fake,
a fake-assassin lives,
all his crimes,
all fake

There where everything gets fake,
The pain slides away,
and then you're holding only that golden precious diamond in your hands ...
It's overflowing with liquid yellow glue,
The juice for your children ...

In the land of the fake,
a fake-dancer dances ...
The mailman with his fake letters ...
His fake hat ...
all to make your heart in peace ...

Now how do you make something fake ?

It takes many lullabies for that
You need to fly on the back of the orange dinosaur
No one knows where he lives,
It takes some adventure,
You need to go to some libraries from Gemini,
where the glues are streaming,
green glues and blue glues,
while outside it's snowing,
and the trees produce those powders

How do you make games,
for these are necessary for a fake ...
Ask yourself some good questions ...
The woman with the white boots will initiate you
Tall white boots,
A mouth soft like sekmeth
She knows how to spread your past,
So that you will find your old toys and games ...
So that you will remember grandfathers old toycupboard
And that of one of your nephews
Your other nephew made the games himself
He was already deeply initiated by that woman ...

Will she be as deep as butterflywings ?
Will she be as deep as your grandfather's cry ?
Will she get him into life again
How many crosses did she destroy
And how many did she create

Does she know Red Boots

All questions wandering through your mind

She sells the broadwins of your grandfather,

Those seacucumbers, those seagherkins ...

Your drinking the liquors of the fake,

Nothing hurts you anymore ...

This woman,

is she as deep as Red Boots, Red Sword and Red Cape

All you know is she starts the game ...

In a rythm you trust ...

Too many stories makes a heart fake

The curse of the fairytale

But this woman is in love with you,

And you are in love with her,

for she's your desire inside ...

She's the game you like to play,

your fake smile,

counting the marbles

And she wants you to realize that love is just a ballgame, and you are just running after balls, trying to hit the Big Fake

Now isn't that a strange painting ?

You are locked up in a gamecupboard,

in a ballgame, in a big ballcupboard ...

until you are fake yourself ...

My grandfather loved this painting

But I'm still cursing it

This heritage, this heritage ... is breaking my mind ...

But maybe that's all ... my misunderstanding,

the heritage from my grandmother

Ten days in the cruelest game locked up in a silveryyellow box,

I'm still walking with an indian warbook in my head

Can anyone help me ?

Someone shone light in the dark box

It was White Boots from that painting of my grandfather

Such a cruel heritage

It used to scare me as kid ...

But now she's standing there with a key in her hand

A mysterious liquid key the glues are streaming through it

Her appearance strikes me ... I'm finding myself fainting through worlds,

It's like the strike of japan,

I'm screaming for my granddad,

This woman is scaring me

Did she did she lock me up in this box ?

Her velvet white boots scare me like the wildest shark ...

I'm crying oceans of tears, on my grandfathers lap

I'm feeling a baby again

shivering myself through those nightmares

I'm feeling such a rage inside,

that I could destroy her

But my grandfather liked this painting, so I will honour the heritage ...

He's smiling at me ...

She always cared about his games and toys

She's a friend to him ...

But she locked me up in these games

She's an enemy to me

heads of the crocodile

I'm walking with an indian warbook in my head

I think she wrote it

And I think my grandfather made a mistake by trusting her ...

God, is she the woman of the white chocolate ?

Why is she riding all those creatures

When she opens the book I'm lost,

then I feel myself a ball in a cruel ballgame ...

Grandfather what did you give to me

what did you leave behind for me

When she moves her boots,

I can't believe in summers anymore,

I can't believe in friends,

I don't have any hope left,

Then only she is standing before me, doing cruel things to me ...

The only thing which is wandering through my mind then,

is that ... I'm losing the game

I'm losing everything

And then i cry myself into sleep

to meet a bigger nightmare

when she ... leaves ... me taking my heart away

although she tells me she will be back in an hour

to do some shopping

i bet she sells my heart there ...

a morningmare

another day in the factory

where the days endure eternities

Today I heard from the lady that it was a toyfactory i worked in

i never knew that i thought i lost the game

my grandfather worked here also when he was young

but she saved him out of it

giving him his own games and toys

he still adores her for that ...

It appears she saved me too,

I don't know if i can believe that,

for maybe it's all fake

and maybe this is only a deeper prison

appearing to be worse ...

But I will give her a chance

I'm eating her keys,

they are sweet like licorice

but also a strange taste

it's glue ... the siren's glue

It's like a cichlid is swimming in me

She just invented this box,
she just invented it
to protect me against something worse

When she comes closer to me,
It's like the strike of the indians,
Fainting myself through their warbooks,
This woman is dangerous,
Like black hell,
but it was all to protect me against something worse ...

It's like the food of rabbits,
it's like Jupiters magnet balls ...
This woman with the soft voice,
like all taps are open
while a cichlid is riding my stomache
a panther is riding my liver,
a tiger my spleen

and I'm finding myself on the back of the orange dinosaur
was that what she finally gave to me ?

no, it was always there, she sais
we're flying to Gemini's Library

where the gluebooks are living
the key to Fake's Land

The glue is boiling like sandman's breeding new worlds

And I'm looking at her boots,
it's all happening in her boots

It's all happening in her boots,
there where the cichlid's sing,
when the juice becomes too sweet,
or just when it becomes too strange
She's breeding her juices,
Still a White Chocolate elve ...

And these boys from lynx ... these boys from lynx ...
these sight-assassins,
selling too heavy paintings for your mind,
to do the crime to do the crime
but it's all fake ...

These strange tastes,
blinding my heart,
These wild boys and wild animals,
She rides them

It was a strange ballgame,
But now she's saving me out

I was the prince of the ballgames, strange ballgames ...
cuyornaida corset

and she invented it

It's all coming from the big shoe ...
There's a war inside
A war of shoes

The winner will have the shoeshop
selling it's prisoners
dangerous ... animals
animals ... from the big shoe ...

There's a zoo in her shoe,
There's an ornament in her hair
When she does the crime
But it's all fake

We're on the back of the orange dinosaur ...
drinking orange juice
it tastes so strange like the depths of a sea, like the stomach of a fish ...
it's burning inside
can we trust what we drink ?
there we are in gemini's library, drinking more of these juices ...
glues they are the cichlid's anatomy
but it's all fake and we are entering deeper inside of it to meet more fake

we see fake funerals, fake ornaments,
and fake fairgrounds, all by these books
it's all in the drink
It tastes like toadstool and cactus the anatomy ... of the cichlid
all fake ...

there's a tree called rabbit's food ...
when you touch it, it will never let you go

i think i touched this thing long ago

it's some sort of strange powder through the mix

it's all in a book, named after it

it looks like my indian warbook, deep down in my head

i know this taste, i know it

there's a tree called squirrel's food ...

a dangerous one if it comes to that,

when you touch it,

it takes you

through the several realms of death

all powders through the mix

a tree called snake's food,

it makes the colours wild

it burns the mix until it's like wood

strange dinners from the cook

it's all in the books of gemini's libraries,

it's all there where the glues stream

there's a tree on jupiter called beaver's food,

it gives power to the magnet balls

a silver snake lives inside ...

breeding the silver-yellow glue

All these glues meet each other in a river

flowing from the hill

we need to swim against the flow

all these fruits, ripping us open but it's all fake and we swim further all these fruits ... eating us from inside out but it's all fake and we swim further

here things are becoming more transparent this is like the foam on the seawaves

the juice of the tiger is so hot and sweet that it starts to sing

the juice of the crocodile is so sharp and thick ... it's glue

they are guarding the land of the fake

they are testing the mass ... protecting their children

i'm swimming through strange lands of strange kitchens and lands of strange trees ...

so strange that it makes you cry

but white boots is swimming beside me this is a long river it's like the Mississippi

There the orange dinosaur is swimming between us and it feels so strange that it makes you laugh

oh, this land knows all emotions ... but it's fake

we are almost on top of the hill where a little man, a dwarve is writing a book ...

it's called the land of the fake and he says we can only enter the land of the fake by reading it but he would only give the book when it's done, and when we would defeat the crocodiles in the crocodile-lake we ask him where that is he says it's at the foot of the hill so we swim to it feeling the hill has changed it's the same hill the same river ... but it's changed the crocodiles in the lake are called "changes" ... and an enormous fight starts when we have defeated them, we swim back to the top but now the little man says : first you have to bring me their heads ... so we swim back again, while i feel i'm getting angry, but i realize the hill and the river changed again and that makes a sort of magical feeling in me being released we take the heads of the crocodiles with us, tied to a chain and when we are on top of the hill again, the little man had been changed into a giant and the book was now called "laws to survive changes" it was slowly growing bigger and it was changing into a game it looked like a rubber swimmingbath, turning into a pool more and more finally it was like a giant-cichlid and it started to float "do you want to go with the balloon ?" the giant asked

"where is it going to ?" i ask

"it's going to the land of fake," he said

I saw a little basket appearing under the cichlid-balloon, and i jumped in, together with white boots ... the cichlid was crying fake-tears and it was all flowing inside of us giving us such strange feelings in our stomachs all our funerals inside became plastic ... all threatening bills became candy according to me white boots just played the game with me, for she was appearing more and more like a goddess to me but a strange one ...

These cichlid's capsules These crocodile-heads all fake but still the banana-queen

And there I wake up but i was in the land of the fake now i did it and there was really blue glue in the taps now jellyfishes in the bath ... i'm shivering but it's the fake which has possessed my house would this be the third marble of the old wasp, reflecting the fragments of the jellyfish's face ? there's juice of different games streaming here

A pole-o-state and a pole-o-meter were walking through the streets of amsterdam, checking the watermirrors and the bloodmirrors running like crazy through the night some said jesus died in a cruel indian game but it was all fake it was just to raise these little machines two staggercats from the hard life

the jelly-fish is eating the cichlid but it's all fake they are just good artists it all happened between the safe soft walls of a circus in april on the first one, when alva lost his killerwhale

grandfather got the thin strike, he's a boy again now he's running in soft pyama's from the brown orange bear through the cornfields drinking the baker's juices there's honey flowing from his head he's a boy again with flower-cheeks in this land everyone wears pyamas

White Boots is showing me the trees growing in my kitchen now : One called shark's food, one called deer food, and one called lynx food it's still a sort of bread growing there, very tough, but soft it's the sort saint nicolas used to spread to keep the wild animals quiet

The indian warbook is burning in my head it's like new powders are spreading themselves through me She sais the book is but a card from the cuyornaida corset, a playcard it was a sort of joker destined to let me die in the game ... but in the game, a flower grew to reach the portals of the land of fake This flower is the red rose that big secret from aldebaran's hill ... neptune's little fairy the ladder from the game to the shell And in the game, we all die to turn into a red rose, reaching for the land of fake ... the rain of fake will let the rose grow on aldebaran's hills we all go through the cocoon, waiting for a game bigger than this, where the heartache breaks the spoon ... where the game reaches the fake, all hurt will flow away, it will flow like rain, it will flow like rain, from aldebaran's hills to breed the roses those black roses all a threat in the game but at the end of the story it appeared to be one and the same it was all written on one card it was all a big joker to bring the land into a deeper strike, to bring toys and fakes alive, all these treasures of our grandfathers coming alive again then the earth will touch the moon again ... then the licorice will have a greater party in the middle of a dwarve's tearoom

from belgian sunsets to american rains it appeared to be grandfathers hand touching you, proclaiming the same that the heartache in the game, is the way to the land of fake, where all hurt melts away, where all criminals are an escape criminals of the big fake, marching with fake knives in their hands they are marching with fake candles, fake lights in the night even the night is fake, and the ground on which they march when you hear their voices, you get fake too, the wounds on your hands become chocolate, your streaming blood becomes glue all who died in the game, can read the stories of the red rose to come at peace there's always a bigger game, with bigger rules and for those who died in the mazes, the yellow rose still stands, like a ladder to new sunsets, it was the first marble of the old wasp but what would be the second marble it's still the secret a little princess carries deep inside it's still a book, deep down in my stomach, a book of wasps, that is what it sais ... it's still an arabian warbook there raging when the indian warbook is speaking together they do the dances ... it's like a war of spice ... that's what it sais ... when you die on a marketsquare, you can sell your story to the museum, to receive the mark of fame it was the black rose leading you through after all the second marble of the wasp the little princess hid it for you so long, but now these shadows can enter your mind

a black rose, a yellow rose and a red rose, came to your craddle in the night they came from the seas of roses they came to break the spell they had to use a curse to break the curse they used a sickness to destroy the sickness ... an eye for an eye they are still the friends of your head ... the iron laws which cannot be broken, to hide you away from something worse

the banana-queen still wrapping you into blankets of delights she was always like the book in the middle giving you the dollhouse for the night she was always that strange delight, that walking candle, singing through your deepest desires and your coldest pains she was always in the middle to reach and hold them all but she's still their creator she created these roses and these seas ... to bring you to better markets, games and mazes, where you know the way, you and your liquid key-lights still the best way to burn old money and to create some new coins for the automatons she can bring your childhood's books alive ... those books from which you thought they weren't important

still the banana-queen, still the ornament's transmission the banana's ornament is shining in the night this tailor's dream ... she's still inventing new pyamas, still inventing new mazes ... mazes in which you know the way still the banana's wet feelings, still the banana's dream, sliding through your clothes, bringing the ballgames to your shoes always your rollerskates she's riding the jupiterian marionet, ...and she's riding you

she always wants to bring the two together, but sometimes she switches the dominos she's still a domino-lover and her cupboards are full of ballgames her tropical fishes bring holidays to tight schools she loves to bring the two together, but sometimes she switches the dominos her arrivals are still reaching ten meters underground, while her metallic friends are scanning the kitchens and the ceilingcorners and then she turns the houses around on sundays she's a mermaid, on saturdays she sells furniture to the fairytales on mondays she's a mistress while on tuesday she works in the libraries there's always something to do

white boots is staring at me it was a long trip i feel shattered and still like i'm losing the games ...she sais when bananas are mixed with chocolate ... there's a way out but i still feel that i'm stuck somewhere there are still things roaring in my mind ... she sais i need these feelings of hopelessness ... i need to die deeper, root deeper, so that i can touch higher moons i need the split face, the deepest oppositions ... i need a deeper split, for a deeper cooperation

it's like all my senses are dead now ... i only feel pain deep pain ... it's like i'm still that little kid looking at grandfathers painting white boots standing there with some keys in her hands and some tall dark shadows behind her, and some pastures and forests the air is dark and brown, but there are some other colours

through it it's a wild air and i'm still not trusting this woman, feeling the rage rising up for i still feel a prisoner well, i gave her the chance

finally i'm getting so mad i'm dashing the painting into pieces the heritage and then starting to weep like never before but that's okay, i did those things before paintings are fearing me because of this someone has bred me like this maybe she did it i'm feeling myself like a wasp searching for justice this damned earth is really a cocoon to become the wildest wasp it will for sure breed the wildest song but it's a ballgame it's fake i challenge high kings in the boxing ... even bilmageln but he's taking me by the arm and leads me through the traffic bringing me into an attic of toys new ones, wilder than ever there he closes the door they look like me they show me their scars they even challenge me i understand their rage i try to sooth them realizing there's always someone more in rage than me i learnt a lot about rage-transforming, so here my soothing heart can help them here my rage turns into a soothing father i remember the look in their eyes it reminds me of my own misunderstandings and fights for justice i'm telling them about white boots how i destroyed her painting that i don't trust her that she invented all these games

but hey, we are wild wasps, we are wild boys, we need to stop this lady her arrows are sharp but we will block her and show her what she did to us all i feel is hate ... although my heart is soothing these boys these toys i see her laughing we all hear her laughing she'smocking us i can't stand it when someone is laughing while someone else is crying do you have a heart or not ? the pain is tearing me apart ... but i'm trying to sooth the boys, preparing them for the strike we are just her prisoners prisoners of a ballgame we will escape we will ... break free this woman needs to be stopped i never felt such hate and i felt misled i hanged on to someone who only pushed me deeper in the pit and now i found these wilder boys here they used to cut in themselves, and they talk about suicide a lot i'm in a mental institution ... bilmageln brought me here but finally i feel myself like a father again

white boots is staring at me showing me a rose a blue one but all i can do is cry holding in my rage she sais : when you die in the joke when you die in the laughing mass a blue rose is growing there leading you to the land of nonsense where all justice reigns

i feel so cold, almost ignoring her words i will not let this woman destroy us further there she shows me another rose a green one saying when you die in the cry a green rose grows bringing you into the library

did i hear this before and where are the wild boys now ?

she opens a book, and i see some pictures of them in it

she sais : your cry was their cry it was a book crying in your head but it could only fade away when you would find the book to open it

i realized that all these flowers were roads to her and that she sowed them in my heart in all these difficult grounds of my soul but these were just books screaming books which would only stop crying when i would take a look into them

i'm embracing white boots and fall asleep

i'm dreaming about so many screaming books in my soul and while i'm walking these paths of books they all become silent white boots is soothing them into sleep there's a little flame in my stomache again spreading a little light through my body ... she will be everything i need to take roots and to grow to the suns i now realize that she will do everything to show me all the marbles of the old wasp but i still feel cold on my guard after all ready for new tricks

guards of the handicapped

you really need to wake up, this woman is playing with your heart it still doesn't feel good to you

finally you start to realize that the object is always neutral, but that it depends on the one living in it, how the balls will roll you want to know who's riding these white boots maybe more creatures live in this house but you can only start to see it, when you take some distant from this woman, to look at her from a safe hill to watch the white boots by a telescope

i once saw some dwarves through a telescope they were so big i once met the boys from tucan ... they were the guards of the handicapped they were so empathic, and yet so wild they led them ... they led them to those gluefalls of gemini and to the goat's trees on columba ... where the bloodhounds lived those handicapped those mental pirates the jesus's of the universe ... living and locked up in a circle still scratching the paintings their mouths full of glue from the crocodile still dying in horror, still dying in jokes and false liberties ...

still dying on railroads, in microwaves and lights too bright still dying in books
and on paintings those boys from the bloodhound

how many times do i need to die in a joke ? one boy asks seventy times seven, the old white rabbit sais he's still the caring teacher of these kids they are adults, but they could never grow up they were under a woman's curse white
boots

the boys of tucan brought their handicapped to the bloodhounds of columba, selling them to the white rabbit for some coffee

i couldn't save this painting ... it was already torn by the bloodhounds before i realized it giving it a wilder touch i'm gathering the pieces of it selling it as puzzles in rotterdam they sell good but i'm waiting for another visit of the bloodhounds i have some bigger business in mind

i could see the handicapped boy sitting behind the painting after it was torn he was shivering ... he gave me some roses and some dice together we could make games

i have a gameshop in east ... the handicapped boy has golden balls one day we can buy a rocket to tucan ... he still sits in his golden prison ... a suit white boots made for him but it made him creative, and now he rides the golden balls he's wearing golden boots he slayed all these golden monsters and i'm proud of him i'm still the guard of the handicapped ... his tall blue jacket velvet from strange monsters tears crying in the wind still howlers and shriekers in the night ... surrounded by tall guitars sharp sounds from aldebaran ... still aldebaran boys

paragraph 2.

Aldebaran Boys

Jesus from the Vegetable

They run on the streets of aldebaran, the terror they are there

They sing their songs of clothes too tight ...

But they wear their uniforms over them

Sharp guitars are on their side

The Aldebaran Boys ...

*They have shining scars on their necks,
turning black in the night,
They ride chickens, selling the eggs to the empty grounds
Their leaders ride the red dragons,
those handicapped in the night
Full of tricks and secret obsessions
Selling the red eggs to the shoes and empty walls
making a living on the ceilings
The Aldebaran Boys*

*Still pirates on empty shores,
giving poets their swords back,
running barefooted on wooden roads ...
like their mother always did
selling daggers to the foot,
with the ballgames in their eyes ...
the snake's glues are running through their veins,
while the corners of their eyes are following them
The Aldebaran Boys ...
still handicapped boys
Still the paralyzing touch*

*Those mental institutions are still full with pretty flowers they died in the magazines
they died in the factories
it was the big escape*

They escaped through liquid holes

Those Aldebaran Boys
Those lucifers in a night too tight ...
Still tearing clothes,
Still setting the panthers free
Running the stairways of old shoes ...

And they gather
more handicapped lucifers ...
in a light too tight

A little princess is still crying on top of the stairs ...
She doesn't want to eat ...
Gathering her marbles for the next game
A spanish teacher is holding her tight ...
He knows what it is to drown in a dictionary ...
She has still the voice of glue
She got it from the cobra's prince Tomorrow she will be a mermaid ...
In thick glue ...

She gathers brown eyes ...
for her next game ...
on the back of a red dinosaur
a seamonster from the sea of glue ...
Tomorrow she will be a mermaid
In thick glue ...

And the boys ... these boys ...
They are free in their prisons ...

*selling their churches to old lions,
selling their little gods to another gameshop ...
they will be the balls of new games ...
rolling by blasphemy ...*

*And the man from the footballarena is smiling,
There is a lion standing in the middle of the field
There's something worse than the game
The Public*

*The Public is singing strange songs
These are in the pockets of the Aldebaran Boys
These liquid keys*

*The Public is riding the lion
The Public is riding the shark*
Strange kitchen after all

*The Aldebaran Boys ... they are gathering the Publics in their shoes
To have boosters to jump to the moon
for some deeper underground conspiracies*
*They are followers of the wild football ...
To turn it into a ballgame ...
with golden marbles ...*

*There he stands in his golden boots,
together with his lion ...
it's his lion ...
He's still the boy of the footballfield ...*

Having a footballpublic-keyboard ...

It's all a trick ...

Strange kitchens

The balls roll by the public ...

But he sells their little gods ...

They are still the little plastic images hanging on his jacket ...

he uses to curse them all the time ...

These balls roll by blasphemy

He's selling his little churches to the trees ...

They will be tomorrows apples ...

He's selling his schools to the birds ...

They will be tomorrows nests

He's still the boy of the footballfield ...

Boy of the footballfield ...

Boy of seventy mazes all flowing from rotterdam to amsterdam, and then to the east ... where a little gameshop is catching them

Bring the mazes to the puzzles and the games ... and sell them ...

The Publics will help you with that ...

They will scream until you sell them ...

They are still the wet statues in a billiards room

And the butcher still cutting with his publics-knives,

It's the slaughtermachine of the city,

going from sunset to sunset ...

Someone is selling cats called "most" to the crowds ...

*they are roaring in the night ...
I'm finding myself in the candy-factory ...
You thought your dance was over here
But slowly a new dance started ... a better one ... and much wilder ...*

*I'm seeing a Jesus Christ hanging on a candy's stick ...
A snake is trying to strangle him ...
It's the candy's snake fed by publics ...
The picture is surrounded by game-audiences,
while a sharp observer is cutting it
Tomorrow someone will have his birthday
This is how they make tart ...
No these aren't the candles on a cake ...
These are the Jesus Christs you burn ...*

*These publics' fires are strange materials
Like shark's teeth ...
A cigarette is getting crazy ...
that happens when there are too many publics in your head ...
But now he has the pencil in his hand,
It's burning,
It decorates the candy,
To make it ripe for trade ...
You still sell these things ...*

I see another Jesus Christ hanging on a candy stick These are Jesus's from the Vegetable ...

Green elves with broken wings ...

The Revenge of the Jellyfish

The mazedreamer is breeding his publics for another strike ... Focussing his publics eye ... Is this the Eye of Birthday ?

Oblezea Vitrininium ... The spell you still speak out

That old dwarve's spell ...

*Nailing your Jesus Christs in the middle of a footballfield,
While the audiences are singing the songs of "Crucify Him"*

You dragged him to your judges of nonsense,

shooting his last vegetables

But a fruit is growing in him ...

Oblezea Vitrininium,

The Birthday's Eye,

giving him a new christmas

And you are the statue on his gun

Oblezea Vitrininium,

still sandman's best trick

still the horse on your father's road ...

still the cichlid's eye ...

There were only ashes lying on your table, muttering at the end of the story ...

But a fruit was growing there

Oblezea Vitrininium

Such a strange sea-fruit in hot sand ...

Like the revenge of the jellyfish ...

Someone put his feet into it ... now he's a statue forever ...

The Eye of Birthday, guiding the Aldebaran Boys,

Like Bethlehem's star ...

They are mixing the candy through the vegetables ...

By this strange fruit

It fills their stomachs so deep,

like spun sugar ...

like the clock of a spider crazier than them

Echo's Birthday

the cobra's prince

It's a strange sort of glue ...

boiling in the candy's factory ...

sandman's sending his prisoners downstairs ...

to watch some television ...

it's horror, but that's all hardening them,

they will be tomorrows statues ...

statues of the big candy ...

chocolate, licorice and marchpane,

and then they will be sold to saint nicolas ...

he will decorate them by a public's touch,

by the magazine's camera,

having the backward's fame of a criminal ...

but the children love to eat it ...

on marchpane street he lives,

in a high skyscraper,

in a corner outside the house,

still painting the walls,
watching the tartsides
this spider's man
bowing his heart to put them all straight,
these birthday's soldiers,
guiding their prisoners to the kettle
by the lights of a public's camera,
kids eat them to bring them into the cartoon ...
for the stomache-animals to watch

pipelines of candykettles,
all in the factory
still sandman's pride ...
all happening in a dream ...

teachers are breeding their publics ...
it's the war between the sandmen ...
who will have the candyshop tonight ?
the losers will be tomorrows candy ...
old sandmen ... ready to go retired on a pension ...

never look into a candyfactory
you will see sandman's funeral ...
but a flower is growing there ... it's echo's flower ...
from the Big Birthday
tomorrow they will all eat sand ...

He will strike the Birthday's Eye,
striking the saltbells ...

well, all by the Giant's Whistlingkettle

but he's riding it ...

He will stir up the oceans with his flute ...

still the cobra's .. prince ...

still the boss of all glue ...

still raising a madman's cigarette,

building tomorrows televisions

by kettles and balloons

by a cichlid's mad decision

riding the hard strike's spoon

it's the voice of a new press,

it's the voice of a public's shoe

that dwarf called "most"

his best friend on this run ...

breeding the glueletters,

eating the alphabets ...

publics' devices raging like glitters in the night,

fighting the big shoe ...

no problem for echo ...

this boy designed by harems

from strange seas ...

straight from japan,

straight from the big magnetball ...

that big publics' ball,

rising like a disco-ball,

with that strange lipsticks' rythm

enchanting the marionet ...
still the hard spray in your mind ...
dim lights in the night,
from the dark chrystal,
your mother sewed in your suit ...
still black buttons
where black dictionaries hide behind
all sifted by the kettles,
all transformed by the balloons ...
watching daydreams televisions
on a hard day's spoon ...

the choirs in the distance slowly sliding away ...
the gamechoirs becoming a threat
but echo's breeding his flowers
for a new television-day

When the Mills Start to Speak

The story goes,
that legend under the sun,
it is a milkman's riding there,
on his little bike ...
it's a little dwarf they say,
growing big in the night

Raindrops are his friends,
and cactusses are his lovers,
He drinks the milk,

that ornament's drink,
and pushes the swines ...
to have a mailman's ride

He's the lover of all ritual dreams,
this manside's possessor
bringing daily the milk with a ship from so far away
a ship under a red balloon,
a zeppelin from the birthday's terror
rising up the spoon,
still a daydream's letter

The story goes,
it's burning
in my mind and in my soul,
that this man,
this little dwarve,
is sweeter than you know ... spinning his teas, spinning his letters,
and throws them all through the milk,
spinning the daytime's possessions,
spinning the raceroads and the mills ...

He's still a little miller,
the best baker's friend ...
the best friend of your mouth and heart,
the best friend of your sentiment ...

He's writing alphabets in the wind
He's sending ducks to your friends ...

Still the Big Cichlid,
still the house of the heart

Strange sentiments from his pipes
 strange cities in his heart,
 all sliding to ... his mills ...
 to become even stranger
his mills are speaking loud today,
 spinning powders in the rain
meal from a black saint nicolas ... post from a mailman's dream ...

Strange sentiments from a miller's heart speaking to you still the big dwarf,
 like bilmagen's friend ...
 his best friend, well to say

He is everyone's friend, that big potatoe,
 he's everyone's friend,
 that goat's friend
still a milkman, still a millerman,
after all these years, after all these ages
 a big dwarf on the run ...

Now he's standing before you,
 his mills speak to your mind,
 spreading it's powders,
 giving you the meal,
so that you can bake some bread tonight ...

This terror of the day ... this day's terror ...
appeared just to be .. grandmom's letter ...
when the mills start to speak ...

When the mills start to speak ...
when the ornament starts to rise ...
there will be a new daytime's possession
on a hard day's strike

When the Mills start to speak ...
when the ornaments start to rise
when the wings of soap stands before you ...
the fruits will be ripe

It's in the telephone

It's in the newspaper today

he's the son of the press ...

That milkman's day

He's the son of transmissions ...

He's the son of the lights

and at the end of the day

There will be rude ones in the nights ...

rude ones in the nights

for when the mills will start to speak ...

stringing their letters in the night

building their circles of alphabeth

it will be the dance of the knife

catching blades in the night ...
like butterflies so high drying them in your books
and then they will speak to your children

dry them in the night
and use a coffeemill
it's just a daydream's thrill ...
inside a maze of life
then push the hard day's spoon ...
into the light and the liquid hole ...
to make them all sleep forever
and you will reach the coffeeroom ...
it's just a matter of feedback

crazy dances in the nights
the dance of the knives

all beautiful like cichlids

like the tropical strike

when the millmaids speak

when the milkmaids dream

all ornaments in the night

ready for the hard day's strike

so many blades in the night

it's the miller's strike ...

it's the press for a new cartoon

it's the candyman for a new game

it's some milk for new babies
and some obsessed lovers ...

When the mills start to speak,
when the ornament starts to rise
helicopters in the night
bringing letters ... from another world
it tears your world apart ...
bringing you from least to most
so many soldiers rising in your hands
when the mills start to speak

When the mills start to speak

then you can finally enter through that little gate,
that black point in the air

to meet the miller's daughter riding that white horse in the night

she was ... your wet velvet boots ...
your white boots in the rain

letting you race the alphabets roads
all in a new game
a game with a better bed
and a game with some better coffee

heading together with you for the land of fake

your white boots in the night
they shine like daylight

like the golden ball

when the mills start to speak

when the ornament starts to rise

it was all a black ornament opening you ...

black velvet in the night

riding on a black horse,

while your kid was falling from that statue

getting the same wound you had

now you could finally speak together

when the mills started to speak

scars are telephones ... never forget ...

it's the daytime's dream

fishing the dreams out of the night

your wounds are the fishing rods

with sharp hooks

raising your kids out of the threat ...

a sharp hook saved your kids from the shark

the shark was a soft hand

drowning kids ... before they could reach daylight

the sharks of the mills are sharp

but then the messages will be sharp too ...

it will sharpen your ears

sharpen your mouth

when the mills start to speak

Mills swimming like sharks in the whistlingkettle,

Preparing the paint for tomorrow's painting

Echo always eats one painting a day ...

Strange kitchens, major, strange kitchens

Ballerinas are rising from the mills ...

Still the broadcast-ladies of echo's television ...

It will be all glue at the end of the day

There someone freezes in his tv-chair

Getting picked out by echo

Becoming tomorrow's tv-star ...

He can forget about the horror of daily life,

meeting plastic trauma's to play with ...

they are the flying discs of the children ...

These mills created the crowd

It was just Echo's trick

The trick of a good television

cutting the tree and spreading the powders over the screen ...

He's having that strange straight feeling in his spine again

Now he can gather the children ...

Straight Blue Bananas

the pencil's friends

"how many stomachs does this pencil have, how many layers lying on each other, holding each other tight how many hands how many fingers how does she use it how does she draw her crimes these paintings are wanted by the rabbit's police by the judges from the big nonsense ... dead or alive"

He has the publics under his shoes,
Now he can jump like brother rabbit

He has the mills under his shoes,
Now he can step on scorpions ...

He has some new shoes,
Now he can be the journalist of strange animals,
stranger than the animals in grandma's garden ...
So strange you start to cry ...

There are flames coming from the mills
These guys are grandma's speakers ...
Tattooing her roses in your heart
It's Blue Metal speaking to you ...
It was grandma putting her flag on the top of the Hill ...
And now you find yourself in this strange capsule
It was Jesus dying in a mill they said
but a precious flower grew there,
a shattered flower,
having a "most" in her heart,
carrying the publics,
raising the crowds
putting your spine straight
after the banana's strike ...

It was a blue straight banana speaking to you,
rising from the mills,
rising from the ornament

we will drink strange milks tonight ... in a basket under a strange balloon
a basket full of snakes breeding the straight cobra-stick still ornaments from the sidetarts ...
still ornaments ...from the risen dream

it belongs to someone else ... said the grey man

I'm riding the orange dinosaur,
bringing me to the miller's rainbowcastle,
built on seventy clouds,
with the red balloon as the elevator
still piano-stairways ... still licorice-bottles, spouting the air into the night
little breezes from the south
coming like christmas over the trees ... all these love-lights ...
in full colour ...

it was an old cartoon, an old movie,
your grandmother loved to watch ...
on echo's television
the ornament of the white witch ...
she's breeding her cartoons in the night
it's still white boots showing her faces showing her movies by moonlight still the miller's daughter having her tall delights how many stomachs does this creature have ... lying on each other ... in layers of an old curtain ... breaking the lights how many chests ... how many arms ... how tall are his legs this creature from the wild ornament ... she's still riding it ...

she's spinning her insects in the night coming to tall lions and tall tigers smoking tall cigarettes ...
still dignified kills by tall pencils
it's the artist's paralyzed touch

this woman can draw this woman can sleep herself to the tall dream in her tall ships she glides through the night ... tall shadows on the streams covering the flowers, breaking the lights, to cover them deeper, in venician delights sailing from painting to painting, still the artist's doctor still a pencil's
friend

how many stomachs does this pencil have, how many layers lying on each other, holding each other tight how many hands how many fingers how does she use it how does she draw her crimes these paintings are wanted by the rabbit's police by the judges from the big nonsense ... dead or alive

when the pencil is having it's breakfasts ... the spoon is rising straight spoons from ornament's horizons too many kicks in the stomachs were breeding the rings she was desperate ... by her own delights

The Baker's Kid

Fallen Ink

He went through a million of mills, but now he is an ocean reaching the shores of Giant's World ... He went through a million of mills too many divorces in his homeland only ashes muttering on the table but he brought it to the baker, all these powders, all these deserts and the baker mixed some new powders
through them, meal from sweet marriages to worship

He went through a million of mills Now there is delicious chinese food laying on his dish He went through so many mills, meeting so many millers Now he went through the liquid holes Getting such a fragile touch Deep enough to reach the buttons of a lost woman's heart

The slaughtermachines of his wife still rage into his stomache It seems the baker wants some new meal Some finer meal to prepare the magnetballs for the ballgame Still the baker has such sharp eyes looking through him He still wants to visit him in his woolen prison between the mills..... he has some dolls from him She's still inside weaving his priest's suits That backwards woman of him Still a chinese bird, she doesn't want to let him go but he will fly on, she will weave his wings just a weaver The mills Now he has enough bullets to let the wings rise up He's still a baker's kid knowing how to use the baker's glues still guiding the orphans losing their moms and dads in a divorce's war this boy ... always having a split face with a split laugh bringing the mom and the dad back to the children ... The mills are still working on him Now he has enough baskets to catch their tears and wrap them in warm blankets Still a little ragboy Still a baker's kid making bread of the orphans' tears decorating their birthdays and christmas decorating their trees to their Giant's Worlds

The lemon was always his guide, when he lost his way the lemon always brought him back to the baker's heart and now he's sowing the splinters in his garden writing his letters

The lemon was always his guide to the land of cartoon ...

The lemon was always That hand on his shoulder That cigar-cloud behind his back

Mondaymorning-mills are racing through the little town They want the most workers for their factories

He's closing an old book of terror putting on the warm cartoon-slippers slippers from the cichlid

In his stomach a cartoon-flower is growing In the middle of the mill It's finally getting juicy there, the cartoons are streaming He's running to the house of pancakes below the bridge Finally his feet are touching the liquid whirlpoolspots of fallen ink on the paper and he steps inside He's the prince of cartoons again

The Strike of The Cartoon - Touches from Brahms

He's swimming in the cartoon he and she

She's raging like the cartoon but it doesn't hurt him anymore

She now has the juice-glitters in her eyes

He sees the care behind her face, rolling like flowers there

So soft

He isn't afraid of his mother anymore

Since the cartoon struck the house

He now sees her love for him

Something he never saw before

The wall is broken now

He doesn't feel himself an orphan anymore

His teddybear feels so different now

He doesn't have to cry anymore when he touches it

It's like he feels his father now

Although his father doesn't live anymore

His father died as soldier in a divorce's war

And he himself, he was also a divorce's soldier

having a pencil in his hand

To draw such a beautiful creature

Which would eat the misunderstanding between his parents

They were soldiers of misunderstanding

They were soldiers of uninvited tears

They had the same ideas but different languages

They wanted to draw the same pictures ... but they had different colours in their hands

They were soldiers of the pencil

Their pencils spoke different languages, but had the same loves in their hearts

They were soldiers of misunderstanding ... Tearing the paintings down ...

These misunderstood paintings were still crying in the night So that the little boy couldn't sleep

But now he painted that beautiful creature ... to eat all misunderstanding away

It's a cartoon, a little cartoon, made by his cartoonpencil

His mother was a fairytale, his father a fable ... but he is a cartoon

And now he brought them together again daddy is coming out of his cellar and mom is coming out of her attic

to meet each other in the baby's room

the teddybear can breath again

He's hearing the lullabies in the distance

bringing the paintings into sleep

tomorrow they will wake up again

finding themselves painted in all colours

feeling the soft pencil on their skins instead of the tearing pencil

He's hearing the lullabies in the distance,

Feeling Brahm's touch on his face

Soft like the softest bird

His cartoon's friend

Hearing his grandfathers voice in the distance

Now he swims with his mother and father in the cartoon

He isn't afraid of their voices anymore

They are so soft now and so high

Even their wings cannot hurt him anymore

It just feels different now

The walls fell down ...

It was the strike of the cartoon

It was the strike of his pencil

Still his friend for so many years

drawing the holes in the walls in the ceilings and in the floors

connecting the cellars and the attics

the moms and the daddies,

all stories together

awakening the teddybear

chapters of the same book

colours of the same painting

all united by this animal he drew

a rainbow-tiger

he swims with his mom and dad in the cartoon

together with the rainbow-tiger his bird, his grandfather and his pencil

also the pencils of his mom and dad and all the paintings of the house,

surrounded by all these glittering waves of lullabies

tomorrow they will live in the house of pancakes again

entering the cartoon forever

his mom with the strawberry's voice

his dad with the cucumber's voice

raising the teddybear

raising the pyama's

the woman with many lips

she had more pupils in her eyes, like soapeyes like the skin of a fish ...

she had more lips laying on each other ...

and still i'm wondering why her eyes hurt me so much it's like a hundred cameras are staring at me, making fast pictures ... and i'm asking myself what will she do with the pictures these are pink eyes, pink cameras what will she do with the blue and the red

there she stands before me with only lips in her face it doesn't hurt me anymore ... although i'm asking myself ... what will she all eat with it but everything is ok, as long as the camera is gone i have enough of being a movie-prisoner

finally the doors are open and i can fly away but ... movie-hunters are outside so i'm returning to the woman with many lips although i don't want to be a kitchen's prisoner tonight between two dinners

i'm walking with her through the corridors i wonder what will happen her ears are growing while i'm walking behind her is she a rabbit ?

while we are walking further the colors are becoming so pale and the atmosphere becomes so thick she shows me a pink white barrel organ she got it from her grandfather i'm praying she isn't white boots i have other things to do than that she smiles catching my prayers

she looks like an arcturian rabbit now ... so many tall ears are appearing on her clothes and her clothes are becoming softer ... just like everything here everything is like pyama's

she sais it's a barrelorgan of lullabies but why is she singing them all on the same time i'm getting dizzy in my head all her lips are singing different lullabies and they appear all over her clothes mouths with many layers you were a movie-slave she said a head-prisoner locked up in the heads of others you were destroyed by a camera ...

i'm trying to breath she wanted me ...to spit out my eyes my own cameras ... that was a deal ...

i spat it out like cores of fruits ... and i got a body of lips and rabbit-ears ... who would think i would end like this no eyes no cameras anymore

the lullabies made me float the lips became my wings i started to wispher and there i flew

the alphabet ... the movements of the tongue ... just a way to find direction there are rudders in my mouths

and there she opens her mouth so wide, and her tongue fell out so deep like a pink waterfall for me a road to fly on these were the candy falls there's a world inside we do not know yet i wanted to meet new alphabets new directions realizing that the tongue is a box of tricks, a joystick of the best game existing she closed her mouth and it became dark inside now i pray it isn't a trap but if something is the world of candy this is it and it was not the first time i travelled on a tongue i saw so many alphabets here ... like rings around her tongue, and i raced through them ... tuning into new worlds it was like the cocoon
..... heading for venus the languages became softer and sweeter the ears taller and the mouths wider while lips were bubbling from a certain fountain they became the stairways to heaven ...

on venus i realized that sharp things were only sharp because we couldn't become as small or thin as them ... that was our handicap and that's why it felt sharp also the things we don't know yet or the things we don't integrate become sharp it's a signal for us it's a call from the dwarves and the elves to become like them and it's a call from the giantworld to integrate the sharp blades cutting in our bodies are messengers from fairytale the sharp knife they put in us, is just a cabman from candyworld there's a higher world calling the pains will slowly fade away when we answer this call, but can also show us more pain but there is a way to communicate with pains through new circles of alphabets pains are letters, characters, from the other world and if we would learn these languages they would show us what's inside pains are just screaming for deeper languages deeper ways of contact there where all dictionaries cross there the integration grows we were all born in the kettle of languages in the mix there were languages are cut out things become sharp language is a person, a body, storing many presents and treasures only by connection and transformation, these things can be saved

Is there a language of feelings when the rabbit-ears start to fall off ? It all starts with pain, when you accept all these feelings as a new language then you will climb from emotion to emotion ... all messages from other worlds And what if the lips would fall off then what's left ? your feelings ... your nose ... what if your nose would fell off only feelings

feelings can be overwhelming ... so you must search for the most sensitive places and the least sensitive places ... to have a trigger to open and lock

Boys from Tucan

when the tiger goes to sleep

"it's something for you to know ... and something for you, you'll see ...these softest boys in daylightbecome the hard men in the night"

boys from elve

Those boys, those sensitive boys, that elve-race

Still searching for water,

Still searching to go down under,

Still searching for the white pink

Still searching for the pale lady

Still mirroring in the river when they bow their heads down ...

Like soft thin glitters from aldebaran's sea,

dancing in full moonlight ...

They are still standing on aldebaran's coasts,

riding the white rabbits ...

Still standing with their pink glue uniforms,

torn down by life's sharp treasures,

from the pink rainbow ...

Wearing the scars as badges on their uniform,

the wounds still not healed can be seen through their suits,

for everything is transparent,

but they are covered well by old books,

and rainbowkisses ...

the wounds are beating and pulsing like hearts in their bodies

pumping the tears through their suits, through their arms and legs,
giving them courage to bend their knees and elbows,
in that strange mysterious way ...
your grandfather always loved to tell about it ...

It is antique jewelry,
The way they speak,
It is the legend of the sword ...
And still they don't know where they are exactly heading for ...
But they just head for it ...
They are always on a journey,
walking with their flutes,
They are the mysterious pipers,
attracting the doves from their roofs ...

Tucan boys,
They know the sensitive spots,
They still throw stones in them,
watching the waves
watching the fishes coming upstairs ...
To see aldebarans lights ...

They still drink from the moon's warm nipples,
They still drink from the cartoons juice ...
They are forever young,
but their clothes are getting older Even their shadows are liquid gold,
their rags are silver,

... and their boots ...

They have the keys of the old books,
They are turning the pages of creation,
when they shut a book,
someone dies or someone gets born ...
a shop closes or gets open
These boys these tucan boys
Still riding on horses too high for them
but they always fall soft ... on venusian pillows ...
and in aldebaran's licorice
they are loved these animals are protected by the law

They know the sensitive threads,
on these bridges they sit and fish
fishing to find wasted days and money ...
spoil from the big mouse
They are still skating on the rivers ...
with their magnet balls ...
leaving juicy stripes behind them ... in thick air ...

chiefs of illusion

They build their towns on forgotten stones,
filling them with the dolls of the rubbishfields ...
They pick them up from under the sewers of the houses
They are the toydoctors from the forgotten moon

Their boots are wet, their heads and hands are cold, grasping like rats but their hearts are warm, and the flames of passion burn there ...

a strange sort of passion

battling against the dragons,
to have heart and space for the town
to have some high pillars,
with teeth hanging under it,
scaring away the dogs and the crows

They wear old warbooks inside ... showing them where the graves are so many treasures left behind,
so much knowledge,
so much fame

Building their elevators on those graves ...
Not forgetting about grandfather's smoke

They still wear their grandfathers' clothes,
the suits of their old heroes

They're building marchpane's town,
Still the guards of the handicapped ...
Still searching for the sidetarts in the ornaments
This was why the Indian Warbook was so wild

Some handicapped trees led them ... some handicapped plants and flowers
wanting their marbles back ...

But this town, this marchpane's town,
would bring glory to nature again ...

There was an Indian called handicapped dog

The wildest dog in town ...

He wanted to do the Indian Apocalypse

But he had to wait for the wintersleep

All colours would be back after the wintersleep ...

The chiefs were surrounding the town ...

This would be everyone's town,

This would be everything there was ...

All gathered in one town ...

The whole town had to go to sleep,

All colours would be back in the morning

They were .. still the masters of the shell

orion-masters of the shell of illusion

with one eye they could see the town,

and with the other eye they could see the world behind the shell

they were the watchers of the great wall ...

still having a split face

a mask the tiger's ...mask

They were masters of the veils of illusion ...

Soothing the mass into sleep at the ends of the days and seasons

They were watching their crowds and publics,

their choirs and audiences

They were the tailors of the deserts

Standing on martian hills

Still wild cats, still tailors of the big dream

Still raging about ... the bleeding ornaments

Still puppet-assassins

Still letting the boys grow ... in the trees, in the towers ... in the ornaments ...
and in spoilt rain

Masters of the great illusions

Still having the deserts in their eyes

burning everything into orange until it strikes the blue bell

and then the water comes something bigger than them

something ...which they don't understand it comes to wash everything away

oh, those seagardens

the orange still rakes them

oh, these seasnakes from a far far land ...

when it all gets too orange, when it all gets too hot they come ...

those tucan boys ...

it's something deeper inside

while the moonchild is carrying their flag

snakes from the big thunder

something inside which they themselves don't understand something which always makes them cry

with the strike of the blue bell

it's deeper inside

it's ..deeper

when the orange strikes the blue
it makes their hands and heads so cold ...
but it sets their hearts into a deeper fire

when the tiger ... goes to sleep

only a kite will fly in that night,
by a little light,
raging through the night ...
when the tiger goes to sleep ...
taking the boys out of the rocks ...
letting them grow and bloom in the flowers
these tucan boys ... these sensitive ones
these dramamakers in the air
sliding into the rivers and oceans again
when the tigers ... go to sleep

The orange, still the best present from the tiger ...
striking the blue in the night ...
and then something happens so deep inside ...
which they still don't understand ...
they still don't understand ...

A pink white ornament is lying before them
A present from the snake's candy

All these presents ... all these presents ... they rise like towers from the sea ...
Awakening the boys from Tucan ... in the middle of the night while everyone is sleeping sleeping so deep ...

when the tiger goes to sleep

And then these boys ... these boys grow like towers in the sea
rising from the ornament ... to touch the white hard candy
and then they become the hard men something they still fear ...
but she's breeding it ...
that old, old kite

it's something for you to know ...
and something for you, you'll see ...
these softest boys in daylight
become the hard men in the night

someone took a soft boy,
wanted to have a good pillow,
but i tell you, and that seems always true ...
soft boys become the hard men in the night ...

marscha took a giving boy ...
she took a good good bite,
she didn't know for her demise,
that giving boys grow thieves in the night ...
always growing thieves in the night ...

i'm spreading the marshpane,
after the kite had left
seeing hard white candy lying inbetween

Beauty of silence II

ode to the tiger

After the birds were gone,
only a kite is sitting before me
having three ornaments in her claws ...

She still loves mercury ...
She knows everything about his green soft electricities

She also knows so much about tigers ...
How they use their powers of the future,
To lock themselves up in a stone,
Where they are safe from the knives ...

It's like spiritual suicide ...
For they fear to live ...

Is it possible for someone to waste their powers of the future
those powers destined to let you live forever ...

Yes, the kite sais
And many do this ...
They waste their future-capsules to the grounds,
to build their butcheries in the night ...
They live in a stone,
but this stone is sliding to an oven ...

To a place so hot that the stone will explode one day

The tigers live in isolation
in their own groups,
not letting anyone come close ...
They kill because of fear ...
To protect their stone ...

and to feed their stone ...
They have fear to fall out of it
This fear is bigger than the respect ...
It eats the respect away ...
That's why they are so respectable
Also because they don't have the desire to kill
It's just a fear masked by desire
The tigermask is still lying on the cupboard in my uncle's passage upstairs ...
having a split face ... purple and yellow ...

They weren't our enemies
We weren't their prisoners
They just wanted to keep the business alive
They are the gods of entertainment,
So many books they left behind ...
They are still sliding to the explosion
But there will be roses growing on their graves
Three ornaments they left us,
purple and yellow,
while orange is still raking the seagardens ...

They are still the wooden toysoldiers on uncle's cupboard ...
shy and afraid to come alive ...
wisphering in the night
They are still too scared to become my nephews
But they were always in my nephew's heart
Just the sidetarts of the ornament
The hard shells of the universe ...

having soft candles there on the walls of the city
To warm the heart inside ...
.....The Beauty Of Silence

Hard White Candy

"do you know about the sunset's fire the orange kettle in blue night's satin it's all burning inside ... in a mailman's broken heart ... he will see his daughter's rain when his dreams will be too smart when the coffin hits it open when the coffin gets close"

They were shivering in their stones,
Too afraid to become alive
They were shivering in their safe stones ...
Too afraid to die
They feared the Big Sun,
and the orange moon ...
For too much orange
would strike the blue ...

Their fishing rods are so tall ...
They are breeding the cyborgs of the coming age ...
Grandfather sitting in a rococo car ...

It's rococo candy you eat after all these years ...
after all these years
until the boys grow from the sea ...
growing like towers
looking for the white pink

for white hard candy
those softest boys ... grow always hard in the night

It's hard white candy lying on a golden dish ...
there were some silver strikes lately ...
Grandmother never let her cats out through the kitchen-door, when the night fell.
Waiting for the morning was a long journey for them.
She knew what the night could do to them,
so she always covered them in soft, heavy blankets
but she left the needles in the room,
so that they wouldn't dream
she knew what the dream could do to them ...

She let them eat from chinese dishes,
hot food from rigil kent ...
for the nights were long and cold ...
even in her warm house ...

They were standing on the shores of rigil kent,
not allowed to fish there,
not allowed to watch the dangerous night-seas ...
Grandmother had her own pond in the garden ...
There they had so much fun,
Talking to mermaids and big orange dwarves ...
Grandmother had her own television ...
They loved to watch it
It teached them how to embrace a cow in the night ...

But now they are grown-up watching the hard white candy ...

on a hard man's spoon

do you know about the sunset's fire the orange kettle in blue night's satin it's all burning inside ... in a mailman's broken heart ... he will see his daughter's rain when his dreams will be too smart when the coffin hits it open when the coffin gets close

Grandmother and her tigers

Swimming in an orange kettle

Until the orange hits the blue

Then they will go to sleep ...

Then the automatons of Grandmothers Garden will rise ... to bring us over the nightseas ...

These ducks from Rigil Kent ...

These shoelaces from the Big Giant

Will bring us to Aldebaran again ..

They kept us behind their golden fences so long ...

They knew how the night could torture ...

And how the sea could strike

But the waterlights will guide us

Those thin and spouting waterlines

The story will strike ...

The seas will become slower again

until we see Aldebarans pastures

and feeling the blood flowing through our body again ...

our body ...

aldebarans body

the body of that old orphan

becoming a child again in the night

where the magic touches the river

all hard white candy from japan
from grandmother's last strike
and then she goes ... to sleep ...

The Land of the Sirens II

When the Breastdikes are breaking ...

There's a land where motherbreasts are dikes ... spouting little lines of water, and big lines at night ...

There's a land where the mother cycles, where the child eats all behind golden fences all ..under an orange blue moon ...

The Land of the Sirens

There's a land where the automatons rule There's a land where the hard men run soft The Land of The Siren All wrapped in bananas eating their wounds away under an orange blue moon

There's a land where the story strikes, where the heartbeats of strange bananas live where the hard men still stay soft The Land of Siren

When the breastdikes break The mother will find a snake When the breastdikes break when the milks flow ... it will bring us to a stranger land The Land behind the Siren The land of the seagardens where all automatons come from the land of the cartoon ... where the dwarves grow in the gardens where the mermaids grow in the rivers all in grandmother's pond the land of the ducks There were father arcturus speaks, with the moon on his hat smiling like my grandmother would smile to you

There where Neptune gives you the key, where the orange touches the blue you will find yourself on the other side of the hill in a new world where a new aldebaran is reaching for your hand it was always waiting for you there there, on the other side of the hill

Then you will understand where father did his business, and uncle one to ten

In a land over the hill where the waterlights sing for the trees

And uncle one to ten still the hard men still the men from the hard candy

Return of the Old Cigar

Doomprophets from Cartoon

After the black snake fell ... which was a hard and deep fall,

the man with the old cigar returned ...

he could still let the universes explode,

only by throwing his cigar away ...

and after a few minutes,

the cigar always came back to him

his good old cigar

just a soldier in the war of cartoons ...

having all warbooks inside ...

the cartoon raged ...

until the city was destroyed ...

grandfather's black pearls were swimming in a new lake

looking for new cities to reverse ...

they were the doomprophets from cartoon ...

that feared nuclear bomb was just some fireworks in a big birthdaytart ...

they're coming from the tart all those doomangels and doombarbies ...

they were just gods of ten just gods from a mailman's heart ...

bringing some misunderstood stuff from a to b

it wasn't mathematics

it was ... just a mailman's wife ... carrying too many letters in her head

too much misunderstanding

and those mathematicians made business with it building their markets
 full of misunderstood lions they just did it to make you asleep
 the mathematicians dream
 they dreamt of a zoo ...
 they dreamt of an ark
they dreamt they were noah on a ship
 dealing in misunderstood stuff

 riding the confusions,
 to terrorize the lands
 they were the cooks of chaos
 creating their own kitchens
leading their slaves of the unknown,
 through the middle of the night ...

 These markets,
 these markethearts ...
playing with your own misunderstandings
Making their games and their sports ...
 it was all ... the mailman's wife ... carrying too many letters inside
 carrying a child
 a child ... called birthday ...
 from the chaos it rose
 like a nuclear rocket
but it was just a flameflower in a tart ...

it was just a boy called birthday
the son of a mailman's heart
with gods of ten in his pocket
just flameflowers in a row ...

from a distance they look so sharp
but they are just thin tall waterlights ...
all in birthday's pocket

and on the marketsquares they play ...
throwing their dice, their dominoes,
their puzzles to terrorize the mass ...
they tattoo their mazes in the hearts of the misunderstood publics ...

they still ride the publics
all these misunderstood lions ...
all in birthday's pocket
still doomprophets ... from cartoon ...

and the magazines they breed,
the microphones are the swords in their hand
dividing the markets, dividing the squares ...
dividing the uniforms,
still lords of the dominoes
still lords ... of the big ten ...

they are still flying, heading for the land of the journalists,
to meet the broadcast-lady of cartoon ...
they are still heading for ... the mad sun ...
those pirates from the big cartoon

it wasn't mathematics lying on your dish ...
it wasn't the nuclear bomb ...
it wasn't a paper hell waiting for you on the other side of the river ...
it wasn't
they were just ten men from arabia ...
tailors of the big veil
switching the octaves ...
it was someone's new record
that singer from the lion's tea
it was someone's last potatoe he didn't eat yet ...
it was just an ornament ..in the rain ...
just a daylight's version ...
masses of silver snakeworms making the air so thin

Kartates Blazazarium

Tragedies from Cartoon

the world beyond fairytale V

Strange C-Sides, Poisonous Plants or Strange Boys

Grey Widow

Red Lemonade I

Red Lemonade II

Red Lemonade III

Blasphemy Undercover

Blasphemy Undercover II

Blasphemy Undercover III

Blasphemy Undercover IV

Blasphemy Undercover V

Blasphemy Undercover VI

Song from Rabbit's Hill II

In This Strange Cartoon

In this Strange Cartoon II

In this Strange Cartoon III

Green Mothers

Watermark

Watermark II

Watermark III

Barbed Wire Hearts I-III

Spiderwoman from the Big coffee

Arena of Insects - behind Barbed wire Eyes

Strange B-Sides, Stinging Plants or Autistic Boys

1. Terror from the ole' chessboard

2. Waterlights

3. Waterlights II

4. Waterlights III

5. Awakening the Wasp I

6. Awakening the wasp II

7. awakening the wasp III

8. awakening the wasp IV

9. red thistle sea

10. red stinging nettle

11. red stinging nettle III

Grey Widow

She's walking in the streets of Aldebaran, heading for the big tower on the church. She is selling her sulphur-matches to the ravens of the roofs of the old tall buildings. It's snowing, and the black widow is walking with her baskets in old ragclothes. She lost her husband so long ago, now she's the mother of the town ... She's selling her dreams to the cats lying before the houses ... to give them a good sleep She's taking the foundlings in her baskets and wishes upon stars for them ... she brings these ones to the doves ...who will care for them very well ...

There she walks through the snow in old shoes, the grey widow, mother of the old streets, mother of all foundlings ... She's a shape-shifter ... turning into a spider to lay new webs for the shop ... The coffee is streaming through her body to her shoes ... She can wake up in another world now ... Then the raven flies and she's gone She is going to the forests to gather some fallen wood She is walking to her house where the candy-machines are living ... actually her cats ... big machines Is she a witch ? Some say she is ... but they don't know it for sure

Mother Aldebaran, I met you through that painting ... that tall painting ... in that old building somewhere ... I forgot I got coffee to wake up into another world ...

Your standing before old doorways of citywalls Like a ghost in the snow Your sulphur-matches ... bring me to other worlds It's streaming through my body like old coffee Putting the old machines on The Ice-machines and the jukeboxes

Old records rolling through the night I can never wake up like this ... I'm a prisoner of sleep The walls of sleep and old tea ... protecting me against the black mornings I only wake up in your tower, and then going down under again ... like a cat locked up in history like my arms and feet are melting away ... in the maze of grey rivers ... all coming to protect meI am safe in your sleep I am safe in your ornament ... just an old watch ... you got from your husband I cannot swim ...out of this I'm sliding back ...into your dress ... into your basket where you keep all foundlings safe ... Where you protect them against the black mornings and the raging ornamentsagainst factories and poisoned coffee ... you let them sleep to sell them to the doves all night

Grey widow, grey morning it's just another direction just another coffee ... but still in your sleep, in your tower ... still in your dress in your basket the whole world is in your basket Greywidow

She's crying coffee-tears ... she's crying the ever-tears ... to set her children free to defeat the Great "Never" she's setting these ones free who were bound in the church, free from everlasting damnation torturing their minds They are out of the coffeemill now to have their own coffeemachines In her house there deep in the forests ... where gepetto left his blessings All in a mailman's hat

It's falling wintertears it's falling raintears it's falling everdreams ... it's falling rainstreams She will cry ..until all her children ... are safe ... She's ...a walking coffee-machine crying coffee ...

Here it's snowing coffee ... old coffee ... here, in her heart to bring them all between safe walls of a safe town Mother Aldebaran now ... Mother Heart ..

Mother Dream she's crying coffee in the rain ... bringing them to a new wonderland bringing them to a new aldebaran ... she's a mother, she's a black-white cartoon but in the middle of the story ... it's filling the air with colors ...
glittering like the heart

She soothes your heart and then she goes to sleep ...

she's ...setting someone free

she's ...setting someone free again

i hear the tunes of her ravens

i hear them ...

in the middle of the night

soaring like neon rockets ... in dim lights

she knows her advertisements in the middle of your head in your hat ...

they are spinning there ... like a familiar curtain ...

bringing you deeper into sleep ...

her sleep

There's a raven living in the coffee-machine ... in the corner ... near to your bed ... where the lamentation-cats dance but when he speaks it's like ice-cream in your head

The snail-cats with their razorsharp mouths ... with their cartoon-heads and big lazy bodies coming from arabian bedrooms, having arabian symbols on their head

Mother Aldebaran gives them meat to keep them quiet ... But it's all fake She has some good coffee and some good tea also to distract the businessmen ...

She's taming the wild dogs, with tricks which cannot be followed ... She knows how to tackle them on the footballfield when the ball gets too big She's the sorceress, the shapeshifter, all to do the day She's still the machine around my neck ... still the flag with which i race flying over ravines and seas over abyss's and dreams ... She makes the cities and lands flat when it wants to speak too wild, in arabian symbols

She's taming the zoos, taming the cinema's and the publics ...

Red Lemonade

the businessmen are heading for the businessmen,
the coffee is heading for the coffee ...
and you ... you're still sitting on that old chair
decorated by old birthdays

come and discover with me, a new world beyond the business ...
over the hills and far away
but i know i'm talking to a wall ...

i know a place where the black lemonade streams
from a black hill deep in rigil kent
there deep inside
and at the end of that tunnel

the red lemonade streams
all to wake you up inside ...
it makes your mind so fluffy
and then you touch a key you didn't see before ...
cold conscience ...

And still ... the businessmen are heading for the businessmen ...
the coffee is heading for the coffee
telling your love is two seconds too fast ...

It was red lemonade ..on a sunday morning ...

Just a daytime's version ...

Cold machines and wide eyes

from the black zone ...

all streaming from ... the black zone

There are jewels in a spanish sun ...

I'm looking in it, while I'm getting blind ...

But that's to escape your ornaments ...

I'm finally safe

Red Lemonade II

there's an orchestra of new waves ... entering your room

planting machines in the corners lemonades from the black zone

the businessmen are still running ... with their pipes of peace

no they have too much old tea in their eyes staring at me if you ask me ...

they have faces dripping with tea

i wonder why what is the deal ...

these loves are two seconds too fast ...

they are wearing guns between their legs

which they never use well

only when they have to install their machines

they are wearing the guns between their legs ...

they are wearing white rags between their ornaments

they are wearing their white flags

for seventy seven reasons, which i don't want to hear

i heard enough stories i heard enough ornaments like this singing in the rain

but i'm watching my trousers grow

my back is getting taller ...

it's like the wasp is growing there and she's breeding it
with her ten millions of little businessmen so little little lights shining there ...
carrying songs on their back spreading their powders ... spreading their powders
to make them all blind for the land behind the fence
the land behind grandmother's garden
it's still so weak there pale flowers, pale butterflies
waiting to meet the pale ones
they are all waiting still so fragile
still so sleepy

Red Lemonade III

counting lambsteads in a broken night
counting lambsteads all lamps ...
counting the lanterns and the chinese dishes ...
all records from a strange zone ...
tattooed by light

but you're blind my little girl ... you're just acting a little bit ... gathering all your businessmen ... your slaves if it comes to that blocking the older portals
sticking the mass to the grounds
with your glues, your crocodile's glue still a mighty weapon in your hand,
still the lipstick on your side-ears
having the sidetarts under your feet ...
still a rollerskater's girl ...

still a black transmission

still a lazy one's dream

but it's all fear

Blasphemy Undercover

running to three decisions ...

to wake up this dreamland

the businessmen still heading for the businessmen ...

all in the line of pipe's great conspiracy

what a great day

you span your ornaments cold, after three hot summerdays

now you're watching the effect

you like to switch the thermostate ...

you like to hit the weather ...

to see them all fall

your ornamentsare two inches too tall ...

while you're still a little fuck ...

like my mother always told

she warned me enough against you ...

she's still doing the laundry, while she's already dead for ten million days

no not because of your terror ...

there are worse things than that

my daddy warned me either ...

against you and that friend of yours ...

still selling cruel ice-creams on beaches too tall ...

letting the passengers slide away in the seas full of sharks

they have to pay your sixty six dollar to reach your beaches again ...

i know these tricks hon, i know these tricks ...
your machines
still sea-machines

my daddy warned me ...
his voice still slides through the air

but your custom house doesn't like the coffee ...
and now you're spitting it like a crazy mailman

but still your geese like it

you were just a little fuck ...

and now you're ashes muttering on the table

waiting for the next strike of the golden bell

well, i'm telling you you snail of the black night ...

powdered by green

but it was all to attract all and inside it was your own colour counting the blooddrips and the tears

within seven days you will be home again

when dad gets his old machines back

Blasphemy Undercover II

it was a red war like twenty hells in a row,
it was like your aunt's worst demise ...

it was a funeral getting hard at the top, making a wrong dive ... again .. again ...

in this sea of luxury and life

you know i still blast this picture

Blasphemy Undercover III

Your sidelines are too sharp

but i will swallow my tears

i will swallow the fight

i will swallow my blasphemy

i will swallow you in the night

Blasphemy Undercover IV

It's called contact ...

Some complaints in a basket ...

It's called relationship

Some expectations on the side-lines

Sucking the numbers out of someone's head ...

It's called candy ...

coming from a candy's dream

causing chaos ... taking the numbers away

causing chaos it's called contact ... it's called friendship

it's called love it's called refridgerator full of meat

it's called dream it's called reality

it's called everything there is nothing else

it's called wasting ... it's called ornament

it's called pretty clothes

it's called pretty faces

it's laying the magnet deep inside

laying the addiction

it's called a new sort of drug

it's called liberty it's called god

Blasphemy Undercover V

businessmen heading for businessmen

to play the big cuyornaida corset ...

businessmen heading for businessmen ...

to close the fences to the new world

businessmen heading for businessmen ..

to lay the dogmagnets deep inside ...
there's something with their sea-machines
there's something with their coffee ...
and still too much tea dripping from their noses ...

it's the gathering of all big noses
it's the gathering of all cowards ...
quenching every war which would save the children
sacrificing their meals to the dragons

it's the gathering of the big cartoon ...
too scared to lay the horror ...
but now the tragedies are rising ...
rising from cartoon
all these businessmen
all these sacred men
just blasphemy undercover

Blasphemy Undercover VI

oh, how the coffee burns in my veins tonight

it's like it's asking for some liquors a bit rude ...
but still dignified if it comes to that ...
for it wants to keep the treasure
it wants to stay in the castle
having that old old crown of blasphemy undercover

Song on Rabbit's Hill II

Is it just a lamb inside asking for it's mother or is it just a dream catching a lover for the coming snow
the tear can do the mystery
to keep them all blind

Little terror of blasphemy,
Little Big Mouth of No Nonsense and pink delights,
When it starts to speak it's the Big "She"

Little Big Terror, running through the gates of the castle
Pleasing your Big Mouth ... Pleasing the Ornament
Your Lion's a little sick today ...
He looks a bit pale
You always loved to tell people
speaking for the mass
having a big psychosis in which you Were The Big Microphone

How your Mouth likes to roll
Like a rolling stone
Like a Blade Undercover Spoiling the Publics while destroying the ball
but all undercover
hidden in deep conspiracies and deep baskets

escaped from the cartoon,
you were a lamentation-cat
all bred up ...
like someone's motor
laying the magnets like doing the dishes
and still you call it art and birthday
still you call it newyearseve

you little big mouth from the big terror
you ornament from the ornament's rage

In This Strange Cartoon ...

the big beer is running through scandinavian streets,

the big lie is walking behind him ...
they make the same movements and before you know ...
they tackled you and then you're one of them ...

they're catching shadows,
lunatic actions ...

sucking the fools from the roofs ...
it's an artist's mis-vacation ...
planned too late on a hard man's spoon
now all he can do is spit and roar ...
but they call it art that's one for sure ...
the fall of the artist, still a beautiful painting,
something to remember and to collect
all he is doing is making art ...
even his funeral is called a masterpiece ...

the way he smiles is art
the way he kisses his wife is art ...
the way he kills, the way he's a butcher ...
all good movies from a big talent

the way he makes fun of you ... all art ...
the way he sleeps ... all art ...
the way he's spinning his coffee ...
no one would arrest him for that ... for it's all art
the pencil his knife ...
covered by big business ...
it seems the artist is a businessman to protect himself against the dogs
the way he draws dogs is art ...
the way he kills them is art
the way he sucks is art ...

all wrapped in a good good pocket
show the pocket and it's ok
the businessmen are the police here
in this strange cartoon

In This Strange Cartoon II

In this strange cartoon ...
In this strange motherland ...
We all die too soon
Such a tragedy this cartoon

In this strange cartoon
In this strange ornament ...
It's like hell's factory over here
Breaking your bones with a spoon

In this strange cartoon ...
In this ...strange ornament
It's like a Lounge Bravour ...
It's like a strange promenade ...

In this strange cartoon ...
In this strange machine of paint
We are all dying too soon
Broken by a spoon

In this strange cartoon ...
On this strange spoon ...
We're heading for a Giant's Mouth ...
Something bigger than us

In this strange cartoon

Everyone's a spoon

Everyone's food

In this strange cartoon

In This Strange Cartoon III

It's a lamentation's dog ...

It's the businessman,

the man with the big nose ...

the terror of advertisements ...

In this strange cartoon ... we can never sleep

It's the curse of someone's coffee

And still there's dripping so much tea

On that first floor somewhere

Where all the clocks seem to gather

You in your rocking chair ...

You with that golden gun

You with those snakes around the old tree ...

Your still Gepetto's son

You with your green coffee ...

having some contracts with the big tea

and some lamentation dogs ...

and now your passengers cannot sleep

This strange boat of you this strange boat ...

too weird to describe

It's like the rolling thunder

It's like the curse of the blackest night

It's your ghostship with the lions on with your babes dying on the sides

and you're the pirate with your two-faced teeth ...

having a fantasy online

It's green coffee which you gave me ...

It made me sick

Green Mothers

green mothers green ornaments ...

it didn't bring me one step further ...

it's a lying laughing curse ...

all in tight dresses and tight faces

still a coffee-statue of grandfather's works

still a daydreamlover,

still a lame and lying excuse ...

but i will not step into your arena's again

you can be a statue on grandfather's grave ...

where you can watch the roses grow

where you can watch the ornaments sink

where you can see a new daylight-terror

something worse than you

your little toybusinessmen,

your little toybanks,

they will not paralyze my head anymore ...

no i found something better now ...

a key to a discovery ... a key to the old explorers ...

a key to the bloudhounds you used to spit on

there was blood on the market-square ...

but a rose grew there

a liquid key to new treasures ... those stairways in the night ...
like chrystal lights so far away ...
the money was too sharp on the square
it was like james bond raising octopussy ...
it was a trademark perfectly denied

Watermark

It was too sharp on the edge ... so i jumped off ... i didn't want to go back to the old house behind me ... i jumped off ... and i met a wasp in a balloon ... under a balloon to be accurate ... but it was too sharp ... so i dived further to the other side of cartoon which was just the other side of the mill ... for there it was even sharper so i wished i never left the old house ... and now i'm wandering like hopeless ... through sharper objects ... thinking i failed ... i missed my chances ... i don't know the way back to the old house i never liked it's cucumbers ... but now i desire them like heaven ... i never liked the old paintings of the old house but now i desire to see them, or to catch a glimpse of them ... i always ignored the fairies in the garden and in the house ... but now i beg to touch one of them ... but these chances are lost although ... the old house is deeper in my heart now ... since the strike of the wasp

the pictures in my head are so fragile and emotional it's like all my feelings came alive it's like i hear and adore all ticks of it's clock now ... while i'm not there anymore i'm on a sharper edge now in hopeless terror i'm baptized in the wasp's glue after the trauma ... everything got value ... and i could see the paths appear but it was only leading me further away from the old house and it's lovely dwarves ..who i used to curse when i lived there ...

but suddenly hey there i see an old house in the distance ... it looks a bit like the old house of the past but no ... it's not the same a wasp is living here and he seems nice to me ... so many playcards are hanging on the wall ... playcards from the wasp it's like the wasp's glue is running through me it stings, but it wakes me up ... it carries me to the attic it's like all gravity has been gone and then i realize and start to see ... i will never return to the old house ... but just watching the memories and to see how they come alive ... here

he's the guard of my memory that old wasp but he shows me that the old house from the past was also just a memory i lived in this memory such a long time not liking it but when it was gone i start to miss things and it's like the further things are drawn away ... the more you start to feel them and respect them then it gets it's values back ... for it's the sting of the wasp which finally opens the senses and awakens everything in the mill ...we become sensitive again ...

the mill is just an old memory starting to show it's face the value it asks for respect and attention ... it wants to give you another point of view another place to live in the same memory but a different place

the old wasp ... the old guard dealing in memories the mills bring them to the place they belong for finally they are treasures ornaments ..which need to be worn on the right place

the wasp will sting, until the memory is open, until the memory is at home until it is understood the wasp ... the driver of oldtimers ... of old locomotions bringing them home all these lost grandfathers and grandmothers back to the garage

the wasp's coffee is gliding through my throat ... awakening the shore-flowers of my mind the roaring ships and monsters in the sea of emotions are still finding their ways back to the safe haven

the wasp is sitting on the first floor ... in a rocking chair knitting new pyama's for me it seems i'm getting the wasp's pyama's ...for a deeper sleep ... he's knitting me home he's knocking on my back while all clocks on the walls are exploding the wasp's mosaics are roaring through my spine ...still a strange language it stings deep and tomorrow we will have tv

Watermark II

invisible debts

decembers cold nights brought the watermarks on my face

decembers horrors ... the wasp's tattoo ...

all from the wasplake ...

decembers spoon hit the waspmark on my leg

and someone was feeling my pulse there in that old forest ...

now the kids can never come alive again

it was an old priest

with some sacred marks ...

but these were too sacred

so no one really survived and this forest is still enchanted ...

like virgo's church ...

even the fishes are drowning in the pond ...

and the candyhouses are bitter there

it's all grey and green ...

the watermark still on my head

still on my fragile face ... it was the touch of a businessman thinking he was a priest

the snake is doing business ...
all in the name of love
all in the name of somebody's son ...
it's a dirty job if you ask me

i'm still following that priest ...
when i see him in the supermarket ...
then i follow him to his house deep in the forest ...
he's still breeding his watermarks there

i still have his ornament around my pulse ...
it's like the chain,
it's like the knife ...
i can use it against dogs and wild suns
still his present to me
in the name of someone's son
but the watermark is sinking deeper and deeper inside ...
after all these years ...
wanting to have too big parts of the prey

it was all the curse of a businessmen ...
these tools have hidden prices
now we work in his factories and the curse is getting heavier every year ...
it's like farao's hand
so we are waiting for some plagues ...
some plagues of thieves if you ask me
we could better steal the watermark than to get it with this hidden price we could never pay
it's the invisible debt business makes the beans so sharp

so now we're watching the sideshows ... the eyes of the wasps ...
to search for hidden conditions ...
and to breed ... our own ... watermarks ...

don't let anyone fool you ...
a present is never for free
it has always hidden prices ...
and sometimes the costs are too high ...
for when the dog is home ...it will start to eat your furniture ...
and finally yourself and your family ...
the present's curse ...

the watermarks they can look so lovely
but they can eat you from inside out ...
they can be cruel heritages ...
they can be inner factories ...
laying the chain forever ...
they can be schools you don't want to be ...
they can be mind-movies you don't want to see ... they can be dangerous criminals another don't want to have around and this makes birthday one of the biggest conspiracies ever

Watermark III

Tatoos on dry places ...
The watermarks know where they can suck ...
Thick gel on thin places ...
The crocodile knows it's paths ...

Conspiracies of the damned ...

They are all heading for each other ...

It's a mark of the crocodile after all ...

It's all getting clear through the eyes of a wasp ...

But no one wants to leave it this way

Barbed Wire Hearts

Real pride doesn't exist,

In the heart of the liar,

Real honour doesn't meet his mouth ...

It's only some wood of fear,

blowing away his consciousness ...

and something else is taking him over

They are too afraid to live ...

They are too afraid to touch

They are too lazy to spin the ornament ...

Barbed Wire Hearts II

They are blind, those barbed wire hearts,

They can only feel your heart,

your weak places ...

They tell you things you don't want to hear ...

They are storytellers to lay the curse deep inside ...

Then they watch the effect from their fences

And spin new tales for the next strike ...

When all the curses are installed ...

They start to deny everything ...

To cover up the wounds ...
To cover up your screaming child inside
So that no one will ever see ...
and no one can really help you ...
Barbed Wire Hearts

Barbed Wire Hearts III

They try to let you feel insecure ...
for they could never feel the blessing of pride ...
They are barbed wire hearts, they are liars from the beginning,
sent out to make you one of them ...

They are tale-tellers from the woodpecker's house ...
They knock until your fragile mind opens up ...
And then they slowly slide away ...
leaving a pipeline for a daily suck

When you give them your heart,
They will let it fall ...
And soon you will be one of them
for you cannot use your heart anymore
you're a barbed wire heart too ...

Is there any escape out of this woodpecker's house,
Is there any spell to reverse this curse ?
Yes, when Jesus will betray Judas with a barbed wire kiss
But that already happened hundred years ago in the heart of London, when James Bond auctioned his golden rabbit among the clocks

Spiderwoman from the Big Coffee

you're staring at me with your coffee eyes ... it takes seven full hours until your sugar reaches my cup ...
it was floating through the air so slowly ..from your hand to my cup ... it rolled out of your spoon it's like you live your life between the seconds
you make twenty faces in a flash ...
all to win a smile from me

you want to know which mix i drink ...
but that's topsecret protected by the government ...

your coffeewebs try to keep me out of the hunting lies ... your still a spiderwoman ... from the big coffee
but it's like fishing ...for i'm deep in the lion's tea ...

all i want is to become slow again ... to reach for the deeper pattern of this mill ...

Arena of Insects

behind barbed wire eyes

The one of the biggest ridicule,
The one with the trademark-condoms,
The one with the coldest touch,
The one with the diplomatic sleep-pills,
The one with the copyright-assistants,
The one with the careful curses,
Has the keys of this machine,
of this Japanese Boxring,
It's the sports Journalist,
with razorsharp money,
having razorsharp records,

running in the middle of bald heads ...
It's the game's capitalist,
It's sunday's Scrooge in a rotten church,
It's your mental brigade to identify flying objects unexpected,
It's your bridegroom on a purple rose,
It's your liar's doctor on a cold summernight,
It's your mother's leather dog-chain,
aliens crying for help,
but it's all too deep inside,
it's all too small,
all happening under a skin ...
of barbed wire eyes ...

Terror from the Ole' Chessboard

Return of the Dictator

The waterlights are heading for ... the light in the pocket ...
They have seen light ...
Now they are hungry ...

A world of elves cannot save you this time ...
For now it's something worse ...
Your mother's worst put in chess

She's drinking a cup,
and you think it's filled with your blood,
but you don't know it for sure ...
It can also be your neighbour's blood ...
Her agenda's are never clear ...
You always live like you're not knowing what she exactly cooked for you ...
Strange dinners from a mother's heart

and now you're sick of it

No one can help you when mother makes her cruel decisions ...

It's like your last joker has been blown away by the wind ...

And all the shops are closed today

Now your waiting for the night ...

Mother's night

For the strike of her nails ..

The Waterlights are heading for the pocket ...

Those waterlights ... in the night ...

They have smelled something ...

Some pale purple roses ...

Now they are up for some barparties ...

While no one can save you ...

While no one knows you ..

You are a stranger in your own land now ...

And you even don't know where you are anymore ...

For the waterlights have come

Waterlights in tall delights

Tall insectians ... too tall

too tall to feel safe ...

It was your mother's worst put in chess ...

Now the waterlights, these tall delights are heading for your home ...

It seems like mom pushed a bell

the worst bell,

worse than a million schoolbells ...

It seems she was in problems,

So now she made this choice ...

Or was it an accident ?

You don't know ... for her agenda's aren't clear
And her diaries are dark too dark to read
You wouldn't bear it if you would know what she's all writing about you
It's your moms worst put in chess
It's like you sit on electric chairs all through the house ...
Decorated by her birthdays
You were her present she got
You were a heritage from someone

But anyway, all curses too mean ... when she writes in her diaries
you better hide

But hey, come on, read it another time,
and you will not be so shocked ...
for time heals all wounds ...
and some years further you will use it as a book of fables to make fun with your children ...
well, but ... they might want to take over your moms occupation ...
to become your next horror ...
kids can be meaner than curses you know ...
that even one day you will beg for those old waterlights again ...
your moms worst put in chess ...
for when a kid is playing chess ...
it can be an all-time disaster no one survives
even not your old dog,
your last flame on a birthday's cake

But hey, you will survive death ...
there are worse things than that
you still didn't know about your grandmother's worst put in chess from hundred years ago ...
she caused all this but she was just a victim of someone elses worst put in chess

so you just need to know who sold this chessboard ...
this old curses chessboard ...
which raped your whole family without pardon

Then you have to go to that old house of dwarves,
where birthday was raised
where it rose like a wet statue of terror
from that ole' ole' cursed chessboard
where it killed like a black horse ...
where it swallowed all colours away
where it set it's arena's ...
it's japanese boxrings ...

Gepetto had a brother ... an old game-maker ... a dwarf
he made a colorchess-board,
but since birthday came,
it sucked the colors away
and old ladies started to play their games there ...
your grandmother was one of them ...
she stole it and brought it to an old museum ...
so she could play chess there with some old men ...
with bald heads and smiling faces ...
didn't we all rise from this ?
like a rocket of terror
spreading our desasters
we were someone elses kids
scaring the hell out of them
we built our arena's on the chessboard,
sucking all colors away ...
but everything comes back to us
in this magical circle ...

and it's still world's best haunted house
after all these years
but i'm heading for some new games
this Gepetto's dwarf,
this ole' ole' brother
must have some more games in his cupboards ...
and some more suits in his wardrobe

i'm getting sick of the same arenas,
i'm getting too tired to fight here,
always the same game ...
always the same ...
on this damned chessboard
they say there's no life at the other side of the chessboard,
but i bet there's another game there,
when we turn this whole board upside down
...the other side of the chessboard ...
there's a world living under it ...
a world of dwarves ...

turn the ship upside down ...
the sharks will be the birds ...
and we will dive deeper into the sea

he placed his enchanted mirror on saturn
she's still a mermaid ...
the portal to his games ...
still a siren's daughter
arcturian designs ...

and white boots luring the visitors ...
bringing them through the portals in bags of glue ...

still an advertisement-clip roaring in your head ...
still the gameshop's display-doll ...
But i'm only waving at her,
from a safe distance ...
I won't jump in that boat again ...
I will look for another portal ...

Mother Capricorn is like a display-doll from the coffeeshop ...
Razorsharp like hell, dressed in old rags,
She's still playing the widow ...
But she's too close to Mother Aldebaran,
so I will take the other portal ...
It seems all my old dreams don't fit me anymore ...
But they understand my principles ...
I'm waving at them from a safe distance ...

Green Boots is the display-doll from the zoo-shop ...
at least
well, but she's just a part-timer there
She sells speedboats to possessed dwarves there ...
So that's really my style ...
and she's a giant-assassin
she's never doing the dishes ...
she doesn't need dishes when she eats ...
and she never eats at home

I want to have her as display-doll for the game-portal ...
we need some more crocodiles there

It's busy in the shoeshop,
it's ringing all the time,
like a million bells ...

everyone wants to have crocodile-boots ...

It's busy in the coffeeshop ...

it's ringing like a million bells ...

everyone wants to have crocodile-coffee ...

what's the deal ... i'm thinking

is echo building another tv ?

it seems the dwarf is making a new game ...

Kartates Blazazarium ... It was an old boot once ...

A crocodile-boot ...

Or was it a jelly-fish-boot ...

About this the war's are raging

There are wars in the shoeshop

a girl is flying into the shop ...

she is like an owl with a cathead

it's the queen of gemini they say ...

and the king of apus is walking behind her ...

her little brother

they are both handicapped children ...

The siren from Arcturus is waking over them ...

She has a mother's heart for them ...

They have a big mission in the shoeshop

There is a war in the shoeshop

And the queen of gemini is screaming like a dictator

This girl loves blasphemy, that's one thing for sure ...

And her brother's eyes are glittering

Then someone smashes the door open ...

It's Libra's little dictator ...

Without speaking he pushes the waterbuttons of his little calculator

Then he spouts like the thunder's worst blasphemy

and the shoeshop explodes

then only one pair of crocodile-boots are standing before them ...

he jumps in them and runs away

together with the queen of gemini and the king of apus

a little fir is closing the curtains

the end of the tv-show ...

someone is drinking coffee in the coffeeshop ...

it tastes like crocodile ...

but that happens when it's crocodile-coffee

then libra's little dictator is suddenly appearing in the dooropening

the man spits his coffee out

he didn't expect the tv-star here

libra's little dictator gives him a little piece of licorice ...

stand up and walk, go home and your sins will be forgiven, don't sin anymore ... the little dictator
sais ..

the man walks out of the coffeeshop in shivers

taking his car and drives into the canal ...

the little dictator fishes him out ...

"i told you to go home, not to go for a swim"

he roars ...

libra's little dictator ...

an ornament in the storm ...

this handicapped boy,

this tv-star ...

bringing them all home

bringing them all to their own tv's

he counts with his fingers ...

and then it's done ...

sometimes he takes his little water-calculator ...

to hit some holes in the air

he's still the cartoon's docter ...

breaking down old arena's ...

he's still the cartoon's policeman,

in his big cartoonship ...

and gemini's little princess ...

she's still the game's docter ...

still the game's lawyer ...

while the king of apus ...

he doesn't know what he is anymore ...

but one day he will find out

Terror from the comic

There's terror dripping from grandmother's cup ... terror from the comic ...

juice of comic comes out of her mouth ...

i wonder what she has read

the newspaper ... it's the newspaper ...

with a hidden gossip-magazine inside ...

the knife perfectly hidden

There are comic-figures in my room ...

tall and liquid ...

like my granduncle's shadows

it's like there's someone in my room ...

liqor from uncle's ...

There's blood dripping from the curtains ...

Waterlights

Waterlights heading for the broadcast-lady from cartoon ...

She's a duck from arcturus ...

Her automatons all in a circle

Big Orange Balls opening ... all with the waterbuttons ...

They're shooting tall lullabies in the air,
to bring the children home ...

The tv-screens are wet, and glues are streaming through the rooms ...
She's taking her children back ...

Waterlights II

heading for the broadcast lady to bring the children back heading for the orange ball
the dwarf
the ornament
bringing them all back

waterlights coming from the waterlights
waterlights heading for the waterlights
still fireworks in the air

clowns are my answering machines now,
dwarves are my doorbells ...
my friends ... the whistling kettles ...

there's someone standing before my door,
with three purple pale roses in his hands ...
he knows what will happen if he will push the bells ...
then the waterlights will spout ...

Waterlights III

Waterlights the doorbells
Waterlights the mailmen-eaters
Waterlights the tax-assassins
Waterlights sending the teachers away
We don't need any teacher today ...
It's the truant's party ... from the Big Cartoon ...

I'm pushing the waterbuttons of this new game ...
It's like the rainbow is bowing ...
It's like the tax is lying down ...
It's like there are no ornaments anymore
Only magical spells ...
Raising up a sunday's terror ...
Vows to poverty
Sealed by old priests ...
Parties in old temples ...
Pushing the waterbuttons ...

The children were locked up behind golden fences ...
But the waterlights open them now ...
and bring them to the land where the swans spit fire ...
the land behind the swanlake ...
Here the red dragon lives,
together with his dragon-swans ...
They are games from an old book ...
Here, in the land of the game ...

You can come there by jumping through an enchanted mirror ...

But there are many enchanted mirrors

He was the prince of video-clips ...

painting the wet blue faces from the Big Coffee ...

all these statues ... waiting for the dawn of the show ...

He was the prince of video-clips ...

A woman with intelligence is a pearl in your hand ...

Awakening the Wasp

Awakening the wasp,

the ornament's transmission ...

In pale purple screams the crime appears ...

Awakening the wasp,

awakening the fears ...

to trace the ladders inside

on a woman's thick coffee-panties

They are the display-dolls of zoo-shops ...

I will burn those tonight ...

They are Arcturian Waspwomen ...

from siren's qualities ...

Awakening the Wasp ...

Those dragongirls ..

Awakening their footsteps and their coffeemouths

by slow drums in deep spanish rythms ...

Still the bridge from arabia to the indians

with a deep japanese background ...

where the spider hides ...

They wear their responsibilities and duties deep in their eyes ...
holding them tight in intelligence ...
These women from Spain and Portugal ...
Still rainbowbridges between arabia and the indian bananas
Awakening the wasp

Awakening the Wasp II

Birthday having the democracies in the black money-pocket,
Terrorizing the mail from a postman's heart
Birthday having the waterlights inside,
all these gods of ten ...

They are the faces on strange playcards,
from a game you still don't want to know
cuyornaida corset or kartates blazazarium ..
about this the wars are still raging ..
but you only see your own game ...

There my father walks with his own fed up democracies ...
like the motors he gave to my nephews ...
he's still a walking diary ...

And our lovely aunt in her dress full of pale purple democracies ...
all these glitters ...
then i'm not hungry anymore ...
then all my desires go to sleep ...
watching the game inside
enough to be satisfied ...
watching some wasp-tv ...
All these castles can go home tonight ...

Mr. Democracy smiles,

all these voices in one mouth,
smoking twenty-million cigars at the same time ...

And you're still saying the girl is so intelligent ..
then ...why don't you listen to her ?

Mr Democracy smiles ...
He had a good day ...
It's his game of numbers ...
In the Big Arena ...

Now if we're going to smash with numbers,
hey I know a good horse ...
throwing the orange chrystal ball to the ground,
with splinters marching for election-day ...
All these words of you ...
were nothing but bunches of possessed dwarves ...
coming from the big orange ...
to sooth some other wars ...

is echo building a new bike ?
is echo inventing another machine ?
i'm watching wasp-tv today ...
for it's too cold outside ...
our lovely aunt walking there,
with pale purple roses in her hair ...
heading for election day ...
it's like the threat of a nuclear bomb hanging around in the air ...
my nephew had to shut his comic earlier ...
the crap is already running ...

Mr. Democracy is gathering the masses in his hat ...

waiting for another strike ...

Then all his cigars will explode in his face ...

and then he will be the big beast of the party tonight ...

always my nephew's best trick ...

Awakening ..the wasp ...

Awakening the Wasp III

Awakening the wasp ..

awakening the sunrise terror ..

from an ornament's spoon,

for some sixty-six babies, riding on birthday's horse ...

Now finally he can smile ...

Now finally he can sit ...

There's some room now

Echo is bowing in nuclear terror ...

Wasp-tv in early dresses ...

Games from the crocodile in Spain ...

It's the war of numbers ...

Always Pinocchio's Nightmare ...

But it will let the orange flow ...

And it will let the balls fall again ...

in even more splinters

Wasp-tv updated ...

for a better summer's snow ...

And she's getting softer,

losing all her hungers ...

her desires are enough to satisfy her ...

The further away it appears,

the more influence it has on her,

like a shining star in the distance ...

like a melon-pear-banana,

it's just a deeper touch ...

it's making her world larger

she loses the narrow curse,

the soft fleeces between her and that thing,

were just marks from echo's television ...

installing it deeper inside

now it's like the game's icecream ...

now it's like the watering touch

with all these cool ripples from zebra ...

making her so material inside

it's spouting into her underworlds ...

awakening the wasp ...

awakening the ornament's break

with an ornament's brake ...

still on her side-gloves' armies ...

still on her side-hats tales

it's the queen inside who's rising ...

and raging like summer's palest fruit ...

Building the democracies inside ...

There's a material world over there,

for outside the opposites walk ...

waiting to strike you by a fed up number ...

Always Pinocchio's Nightmare ...

Building your own democracies inside ...

a material space ...

the opposites walk outside ...

you don't need them

Just close the curtains you got from capricorn ...

those purple ones ...

and be material inside ...

Awakening the wasp ...

awakening the red wide spoon,

the orange side-belts ...

and the witty cartoon ...

There's thick glue streaming inside ...

outside the opposites walk

but you have closed all curtains ..

and watching the candle's flame

Then you close the blue curtains,

you got from neptune ...

and the orange-rivers will start to boil and stream ...

in your little underworlds

with balldwarves at their sides

orange balls opening ...

and then the movie starts

then you go with your own ships sailing on your own democracies ...

to your own election days ...

your so material inside

your so online inside

watching echo's newest tv ...

wasp-tv updated ...

so don't be scared when the glasses are falling ...

don't be scared when the windows are exploding ...
for it's just to make your screens brighter ...
wasp-tv updated ...
awakening the wasp

The mills are speaking ...
increasing the numbers,
bringing the dwarves ...
the orange portals are opening ...
they come from all sides ...
wasp-tv updated ...
watching the wasp's eye ...
the orange balls are breaking ... new glues are streaming ...
new juices from crocodile ...
now there are growing crocodile trees in your heads ...
with crocodile fruits ...
heading for a new game
kartates blazazarium ...
the old crocodile boot ...

when you were born ...
the baby wasn't you ...
but you just saw nature roaring ...
locked up in the body
you were a prisoner of this baby,
your mind was erased ...
but your flower was growing against this rock of ages ...
your flower survived ...
and now you got the keys of this body ...
heading for cartoon
you will take care of this baby ...

it was a gift to you ...
but still at times you feel prisoner ...
locked up somewhere in the body ...
it seems that the baby can live without you ...

it's still a handicapped baby,
a little dictator ...
nature's gift to you
to turn you into an animal again ...
awakening the wasp ...

yes, it was a cruel siamese contract ...
numbers fighting about a body ...
but finally you can drive the car together ...
when the glass falls ...

capitalism will fall when the glass breaks ... no prophet needed to see that
but then new sorts of capitalists will rise ...
communists updated ...
awakening ..the wasp ...

and they will greet you on the street,
they make dignified dances ...
but their clothes are scottish
they are materialists inside ...
they are the scrooges of the livers,
of old potatoes and sacred museums ...
pushing you back where you belong ...
they walk around with the scales of time,
they are the judges of southern coasts ...

they are the possessors of the wild wet dreams ...
of wet fairytales and wet dogs
they are the kings of the wet zone,
they are the lunatics of narrow clothes ...
of narrow streets and narrow bars,
but wearing big blue oceans over it ...

they are the businessmen of numbers ..
selling numbers to the doves of the roofs ...
they are pieces of the big cake ...
breeding tight democracies in a rainbow ...
they aren't allowed in schools and big houses,
but they are the terror on the sea ...
selling birthdays in a street ...
and still these guys are echo's friend ...
missionaries of the big press ...

Awakening the wasp IV

On wasp-tv :

Coffeemachines on Saturn are kidnapping a baby from the coffeeshop-owner
it's the pencil of fear writing on fragile screens, boosted by fine registers and sensitive touches ...
held in line by a hundred insecure threads ...
the lips of a spanish woman tattooing the waterlights ...

Red Thistle Sea

Pictures drawn by the trauma,
A boy having sharp arrows on his back,
An autistic boy ...
Hunting the black deer ...
She hurted the prophet ...

by her words ...

Through the fragile leaves you see the lake ...

where it all started ...

you have to jump through ...

It's not you anymore ... someone else took the job ...

He heard your scream of the black past ...

and now he wrapped himself in the deerskin ...

He's weaving new languages on your face ...

Your senses were tricked so deeply

but now he takes you out of the illusion ...

their laughs cannot reach you anymore ...

From the pencil of thick trauma ...

Dripping from wasp-tv ...

Still an autistic boy's transmission ...

Too shy to repeat ...

Too much confidence

Too much pride ...

Too much fear ...

dripping from wasp-tv

It's a wet touch ...

These are traumatic trees ...

shocks to come alive ...

to detach from the past

The iron pencil ...

traumatic pictures

traumatic language ...

Thistle sea ...

Coming alive again ...

red stinging nettle

There's growing a plant in me ...

Red stinging nettle ...

pleasure so close to pain ...

health so close to sickness ...

There's growing a war in me ...

and I'm the warchild,

from this womb of divorce ...

carrying the flag for all stinging plants ...

divorces so close to marriages ...

wounds so close to the shields ...

It's a beautiful picture ...

a two-faced Jesus on a cross ...

two-bodied ...

heaven so close to hell

it's all glowing red

it's burning in the sun ...

darkness so close to light

he's a naked man ... but it's so close to covered ...

covered by the face of the moon ...

a torn t-shirt,

torn trousers ...

shattered boots ...

like the red hulk is rising again ...

There's a plant growing in my body ... it pierces my skin, and then it dives under again ...

it's twisting in my body ...

shattering and sewing me ...

it's so close to the picture

like the pink tattoo

red stinging nettle II

he's like the red stinging nettle ...

that autistic boy ...

an a-boy that is what they call him,

also with a bunch of allergies ...

there's burning something in my nerves ...

it's the voice of that autistic boy ...

not wanting to let me go ...

he's so mad at me ...

he's a raging stinging nettle

for i'm still driving too fast ...

altho i cannot help it

for someone took the brake away

i'm riding straight to the abyss ...

to a natureless heaven ...

where everyone forces everyone ...

where there is no time to breath ...

no time to kiss a tree ...

i'm riding straight to the abyss ...

but the autistic boy is blocking me ...

raging at me ...

he will be the red stinging nettle around me ...

a red balloon ...

bringing me to the other side of the moon ...

predators are his pets ...
stinging trees and flowers his friends ...
red thistles bringing us home ...
over land and over sea
until we feel the thorn of time again ...
blocking us from going too fast
the traumatic beauty ...

there's a world between the seconds ...
when the red stinging nettle clock ticks ...
deep in the forest
surrounded by waspnests ...
and so many friends
then we will see the big "most" ...
it was all ...deeper inside
in a snakelake ...
where a pinkblue forestroad smiles ...
it's like the touch of the viper ...
it's like a sea of thistle-tears ...
making us all deaf to the lie ...
making us all blind to the complaint
there's no expectation left ...
we have too many reasons ...

the big "most" lives in our hearts ...self made by the shatters of our lives ...
traumatic ornaments in deep shivers ...
wasp-tv for stinging trees
tomorrow the tragedy will do the dishes ...
and the trauma will wash everything away ...
a fragile pencil will walk across the bloody battlefield ...
to gather the flowers and the streams ...
in a pointy sack ... on japanese house-shoes ...
decorated by drama ...

it's when the various spread their wings ...
we will all see this ...
that it was always there already ...
pleasure so close to pain ...
the good mask just melts ...
when the wings are spread ...
when the feather-pencil rules ...
from an old indian head ...
escaping several fires
the apocalypse was always there ... but now she finally washed away her dress
the traumatic beauty ...
it will blind your eyes ...
but it will open your heart
and the knife will be felt ...
it was never put there
it's just the true shape of your heart
it was the anchor of your ship,
it was the loveline to the other ...
the aerial for the message ...
it made you shiver to open up your wasp-tv ...
so that you could feel the crocodile-glue running through your veins ...
it was the knife which split your heart apart ...
making it two-hearted ...
so that you could kiss yourself ...
to spin your own mosts ...
which brought you over the sea

there's such a world inside ...
it's just the shape of your heart ...
it's just a red stinging nettle
growing there like thunder

it's just your father speaking ...

about old divorces and old worldwars ...
remembering the split ...
was much deeper than yourself ...
it goes beyond the own splits
so never take anything personal the root lies in an ancient game
with ancient rules ...
you are just an object in this war
a product from a factory ...
while the persons are raging above your head ...
in their unknown languages ...
you're just a victim from a war in the air ...
from an old birdnest ...
from an ancient war

you're just a number for them
a pawn in the game
they don't want to know who you are
they just want to use you in their game ...
you're just an object in their eyes

and so are all the others around you ...
no one really knows about what the wars are raging
it's an ancient war high in the air ...
it's rising above your head ...
so let it go

just enjoy the splits ..for they are so close to the connections enjoy the mosaics of the old churches ... the tall windows ...
for the magic's there ...
enjoy the red stinging nettle ...
enjoy the red nettle's food sickness so close to health ...

sickness brought the man out of the factory,

out of hell ...
sickness made the man autistic again
autism so close to the animals ...
autism so close to the trees ...
his fears brought him to nature again ...
to a deeper breath and the watering waterfall ...
to a deeper health ...
death so close to life ...
a traumatic beauty

did you ever see the pink dress of depression ...
it's like dim light, almost grey
it's like wrapped in the forest ...
it's like longing for home ...
which is deep inside ...
sad voices are luring you ...
longing for you ...
missing you
you are missed ... so missed ...
the pink dress .. a sovenir ...
crying ... until you're back ...

Bristol Brival

Back to Izu

the world beyond fairytale vi (clasp)

Urban Renewal from handicapped boys on Flying Moths

Language of Trees

Killertrees

Tree's Apocalypse

Strange Sleep pill - No Response

Black Snail

Tree Cocoon

Strange Clients

Siamese Ornaments (By Bird (nc) for Gnat Records)

Aldebaran Birds I-V (By Bird (nc) for Gnat Records)

The Feather I-IV

Baker's Tree Boy

Everlasting Damnation I-VI (By Bird (nc) for Gnat Records)

The Lazarus Tree

Little deaf men

Wasp's Tv Updated

Back to Izu

Language of Trees

when a man becomes hard he becomes tall
when a man becomes tall he becomes thin
you have your own ornaments raging in the night
when a man becomes soft,
he will be hard in the night,
this always seems to be true ...

when a man gets the crocodile-gun,
he becomes taller,
when a man gets the crocodile-boots,
he becomes thinner ...
still sinister shadows in the night ...

Killertrees

Bilmageln breeds the killertrees,
Green lines in the night,
green lights from traffic

Bilmageln breeds the killertrees ...
some brown lines between,
so thin but not too thin
some just can't stand bilmageln

Black Spring from the ornament's ring ...
Black lights so thin so thin
Sinister shadows in the night ...

Bilmageln breeds the killertrees ...
the thistlefields ...
the mura's from the sidelines ...
still ornaments in the rain

black ones

Bilmageln breeds the rain
the wasprain if it comes to that thin oh yes too thin ...
tall oh yes too tall
too tall and too thin to survive
some just can't stand bilmageln ...
some just can't stand his light ...
waterlights from
too tall and too sinister to stay awake ...
too sinister
some just can't stand bilmageln
they saw the tree and wished
just wished ...

some just can't stand bilmageln,
some just can't stand his ornament's ring ...
they saw it
but wished
just wished
they never saw
for it blinded them

some just can't stand bilmageln,
some just can't stand his ornament's pride ...
they wished ...
just wished
they could be proud

all these hard men ...
becoming tall in the night ...

men of no response ...
they just stare ...
their eyes speak
having bilmageln's ring in their eyes
rings from the trees ...
binding them all together
these tall men, these sinister men ...
letters from the tree

yes, the boys grew up there,
but now they are ...
tall, hard and sinister
waiting for tree's apocalypse

Tree's Apocalypse
drama after drama,
spinning in their fingers,
speaking tree-talk ...
sprites from december-day ...
tall like the tree's insect,
they could take the fruits from moon's tree ...
these are tall insect days ...
these are tall ornaments ...
too narrow
narrow streets ...
strange deals
the eye is doing business ...
no one's speaking
these are silent days
these are sinister days
and you pray you will miss it
but tree decided it this way

*the hard singer sings tall songs ... so thin that they easily slide into your ears
you made them narrow,
but they could slide in*

*tree's apocalypse
tree's daylight versions
tree's ornaments rage
for the green camera ...
strange birthdays ...
strange*

*tree's apocalypse ...
spouting waters all green ...
brown little lines ...
growing tall in the night ...*

*women with tall talk ...
from spanish beaches they flow ...
on wasp-tv ...
a daily flow
all in bilmageln's diaries*

*echo did a good job
gathering all these men ...
these dark men ...
tv-stars on wasp-tv ...
too tall to survive ...
too thin to grasp
seeing the rage in their eyes*

now you know what i'm talking about right ?

it's the daylight's curse

these are insectian invasions ...

on black light's earth ...

these are ornaments spring, these are raging terrors ...

these are bloodlines confessions

these are scars from trees speaking

you won't see their earrings ...

it already blinded you ...

revenge before the strike

now it won't be dignified ...

it was never like that ...

the prince is a curse now

the ornament's a strike

copyrights like bombs,

trademarks like hells ...

breathing is not allowed ...

it's the watering disease ...

the prince is sharp today

he became too thin in the night ...

now he's an ornament ...

too dangerous to wear ...

too dangerous to sell

now it's shining in the museum

for a copyright's bell ...

for a trademark's desire ...

that black green curse

that mouth from the crocodile ...

you just saw his teeth ...

and now you're wandering to the exit of this haunted house

but there's no exit ...

this is all there is ...

you should have stopped reading the book ...

but now it's too late ...

it's too dark already ...

the lights are gone ...

you should have stopped eating the cake ...

but now it's too late

you should have jumped out of that bus

but it's now in the abyss

tree's apocalypse

why why why

why not why not why not

questions which will never be answered ...

tree's apocalypse ...

then why is the church doing all this ?

selling their eternal damnations to our kids ?

i was visited by a guy called eternal damnation

he had a little game in his hands

telling me if i would lose ...

i would go to hell forever ...

i told him i didn't have any time to waste myself like that

but he forced me to do the game ...

but i knew if i would do the game,

i would be too late at home ...

and then my father would send me to hell forever
and that was finally worse
so i started to fight with this man called eternal damnation
but he won
so now i still sit here, in eternal damnation
watching how others make fun
but i was thinking
i escaped the hell my father would give me if i would be too late at home
and that would be way worse
so ... after all i'm so glad i'm here with this guy called eternal damnation ...
he saved me from my father's wrath ...
not for awhile, but forever ...
how grateful i am
so i dance a lot here ... making a lot of fun ...
watching how others make fun
while i know that when they get home,
their father will send them to hell forever ...
and that's finally worse

so this tree's apocalypse
isn't bad after all this book ...
this cake
this bus

we don't need an escape in this haunted house
for then we would meet something worse
hey, what a protection ...
what a waterlight's key
it doesn't work on everything ... but it's the best key there is
tree's apocalypse

Strange Sleep pill

No response ...

No response to the answering machine

No response to daylight's day

No response to the hard line ...

No response to the strange beat

No response

all telephones are done

someone is just staring

that strange guy

No response to the mills

No response to the butcher

No response to the ornament's dream

while the singer is still singing about the hard line

no response

Is this the daylight's terror

Is this the hard night's dream ?

is this the ornament's rising

It is the doglight's scream

In lights too tall they scream

In lights too tall they die

In lights too thin they call for a master

while they don't respond

they are just in delirium ...

in a tree's fever

sliding into the tree's cocoons

on a hard man's spoon

this man is too hard

*all other men bow
till they sink in the sand
and slide through the mirror
those ornament's riddles
those ornament's dreams
no response on the telephone no response on tv
it's sliding to silence
it's sliding to a new dream*

*the singer cannot sing today
he was struck by the hard man struck by someone's everlasting damnation
and now he's sliding
to strange cocoons
to strange ornaments
these are narrow days*

*narrow men in the bus
narrow men on the streets
these are narrow days
days of no response*

*someone is still talking to the statue someone is still talking to someone who already died three hours ago
yes, his body still feels a little bit warm for there are animals living in them
but they will not respond
for they are dying too
all in strange cocoons ...
all in strange ornaments
all in strange telephones
while the telephone is dying too*

the land is dying out
there's a curse roaring on the streets
these hard men's tales
tales with no responses
tales without words
tales in bitter silence
tales in mura's laws
baptized in fears
these paranoid boys
grow so tall in the night
like towers stinging through the air
through clouds and flying musicians
to daylight's dreams and daylight's possessions
hearing paranoid men
but no response
no response
the eyes are piercing moving like circles
telling stories
all you need to know

wild eyes from city's seas
becoming silent in the forest
drowning in the oceans
too tall, too thin too hard waterlines sinking deeper wasp-rain over there
no response
no machines
just wasp-rain
falling deeper

and then you catch a sight of a snowman
too cold
the line gets deeper
it's sinking
like wasp-rain
on wasp-tv
no machines
no response
the eyes are closing tv's are closing
it's the end of the day
these men ... becoming so dark in the night
too dark, too tall, too thin, too hard, ...too ...cold while a fire is burning in them
a forest fire
a fire of a green sea ...
everything is dying
watching the strange cocoon
but the eyes ... are slowly sliding away slowly getting blind
it's getting too dark
in this strange night

too tall
too thin
too late

too hard too cold too dark sinister shadows
dying
in the strange cocoon ...

no response
too slow ... too late
not moving
like the ultimate statue ...
senseless
unconscious
without conscience
they kill
too many assassins ...
they are the cocoon
no response
while the last telephone is ringing while the last tv is smoking the last cigarette
no response
unlimited lines
just unlimited lines
just a spiderweb
a strange one
no response
no life
only a thistle
no emotions
no feelings
no reflexes
no response

And still you want to know what for a sleep pill this is ?

No it's not candy it's bitter and salt, but it takes your taste away

I mean you really go to sleep

But it only works when you use it before the date which is written on it

When you use it after that date ...

it will work the opposite

And when you take it even a year after that date

It will jump on your neighbour ...
So then ... you better had to check the date before you swallowed it ...
but now you will never know the date ...
but just watch your neighbour now ...

Black Snail

Tall fishman from the fish's tree
Tall birdmen from the foe ...
It was like that teacher you could never follow ...
always murmuring inside ...
and inside your head

Strange men from tall decisions
Strange men from watering lights
Strange men carrying strange flags ...
too heavy for them,
another Jesus Christ is dying there ...
with a seventy dogs around him ...
tearing this man's clothes
throwing the dice
doing the divisions
There's another Jesus Christ dying there ...
so paranoid, so strange
so sinister, so arrogant
so shy there's no response
there's no direction ...
no goal
he just lets it flow ...
There's another Jesus Christ
There's another Jesus Christ ...
There is another ...

gods of dice
tree's alphabet ...
strange ways of throwing it ...
look at these eyes ...
but don't respond ...
i'm just telling it by the heart

there is another one dying here ...

tied to the floor, the bed,
and to your heart
tied to a letter ...
it was glue brooding there ...
the black snail

he was expecting,
tied to expectation,
tied to a mother's heart ...
tied to a father's wrath ...

he was bleeding dice ...
he was bleeding ornaments ...
from a strange heart ...
but the trees listened to him ...
he was attacked by numbers ...
sixtyseven copyrights on his head ...
trademarked by ..the thriller ..

but there ..are urban renewals .. aldebaran boys captivating the dice ...
bringing them to the trees again ...

these were escaped from the alphabet ...

*Lord of the dice,
Pinocchio was shot by a dice-gun,
Lord of the springs,
of tales untold ...*

Tree Cocoon
Watching the wild sides of life ...
sixtythousand miles without a smile ...
no response to the telephones ...

Tree Cocoon ...
becoming hard inside ...

Becoming the statue ...
By ornament's rains ...
These are strange glues ...
I'm diving deeper inside ...
to the place ..where the bunny sais "no" ...

Tree cocoon ...
swimming the thistle-seas ...
Tree cocoon ...
closing my eyes forever ...
into everlasting damnation ..
for there's life at the other side ...

Tree cocoon ...
I'm swallowing three times,
taking a deep deep breath ...
Tree cocoon ...
Twenty minutes underwater ...
Twenty minutes without cake
It's a slow training ...

approving myself ...
becoming so borderless ...
Tree cocoon ...
I'm grasping the dice ...
heading for the no-zone ...
all these expectations kill me ...
I'm taking the white rabbit ...
the bitter pill
for the black snail is after me
Tree cocoon
these animals are all part of it
all registered trademarks ...
copyrighted, made in hell ...

something is raging in my nerves ...
no doctor dares to touch it ...
tree cocoon

something is raging in my nerves ...
and the bunny is saying "no" ...
but the yes is hunting me ...
war of dice

there 's a war of traffic lights
of ornament's transmissions ...
while i'm diving in thistle's sea
heading for it's fields ...
heading for the big big lalmageln ...
that ornament's doctor ...

there's a war at the jeweler's shop ...
the displaydolls are killing each other ...

there's brown syrop flowing from their mouths
mixed by yellow ...
all registered trademarks ...

they are marching to the thistle-fields ...
they are marching to ..pesadder ...
to fill their bottles once again ...
to have some soap to spit ...
all registered trademarks ...
all copyrighted,
made in hell

there's something raging in my nerves ...
a war of jewelers ...
a war of meat ...
worldwar seven is in town ...
i'm throwing the dice ...
there must be a way out of this ...

there are green scorpions sliding at my wall ...
and a green eliphant raging ...
i'm throwing the dice again after swallowing my breath ...
tree cocoon ..

i didn't fear the lengths of you ...
i wasn't aware of your hidden business ...
it's a curse when you cannot fear ...
now my arms are still in fire ...
tree cocoon ...
don't try to get rid of your fears when you're in the sharklake ... your fears will lead you through
tree cocoon ...

look at me,
i'm without any fear ...
a walking curse ...

but i want to become borderless ...
i still cannot swim ...
daddy ...

some think they live on earth ...
but they've watched too much tv ...
for if you would really live here ...
you would be paranoid ...
a registered trademark ...
accurately ...copyrighted ..
made ..in hell

too much paranoia ...
the senses will break ...
these paranoid men ...
become the senseless men in the night ...
hard men from the tree ...
tree cocoon

i cannot swim here ...
daddy ...
the sharks become too paranoid ...
i'm a swimming curse ...
too many holidays on the thistlefields ...
telephones are always dying in my hand ...
while the bunny is saying "no" ...
all lands die out

daddy ?

i'm still looking for the thistlefields
still looking for lalmageln ...
still looking for access ...
there where the bunny lives ...
green waterlights are surrounding the egyptian eye
war of blood and juice ...
not a fruitwar this time ...
it's all in the body ...
it streams from the meat
worldwar eight is in town ...
it was your mother's lover ...
but you still don't dare to open this diary ...
gratitude ... means business ...
and i'm out of that ...
tree cocoon
i'm riding a hundredthousand miles without smile,
without any response ...
i'm a telephone-assassin in someone's pocket ...
heading for the thistlefield ...
i'm driving a bus ...
while there's no one in ...
i'm heading for ... the telephone-butcher ...
near to the bear ...
but i won't allow any gratitude on his face ...
no business, no response
we will just look into each other's eyes ...
eyes ... registered trademarks ...
animals protected by someone's laws
made in tokiyo ...
near to the bear ...

all copyrighted very very accurately ...
no business allowed ...
no rumours, no press, no cameras ...
for there are camera-assassins in the air
i was a slayer of businesses since i was three ...
i swore vengeance in cool rage

worldwar nine is in the air ...
body-business, activity,
the war of ages ...
all a threat ...
of multi-million years ago ...

he's wandering to my house,
feeling tooth's smoke in his back ...
it's a multi-million-dollar threat ...
a registered trademark ...
animals protected by someone's laws
made in belgium ...

he's having the wolf's mouth ...
and he was married to your mom for awhile ...
but still you don't want to know this guy ...
still you don't read mom's diary about him ...
but he's coming from the thistlefield,
from a toyshop,
accurately designed ...
having the yellow shadows in his pockets ...
and on the walls of the shop ...
still his keyboard to fly to the moon ...
still his bottles of strange perfumes ...
he's the man with the big nose ...

but his business is all fake ...

i'm driving with my bus ...

hundred miles

but my smiles are fake ...

and my business even more

and the bunny sais "yes",

for the first time of my life ...

and he glitters like a million stars

it's like fake thunder and lightening there,

and he opens a fake door ...

and i enter

shaking the hands of a million fake businessmen ...

all these shops were fake ...

and the bunny is filling my busses ...

with these fake businessmen ...

they are smoking tall cigars ...

like forest-rivers

we are riding to a hall

surrounded by tall green shadows ...

tall chrystals, tall mirrors ...

and i'm seeing myself in a boat ...

a forestboat ...

a tall one ...

but it's all fake

they are playing a game here ...

cuyornaida corset

but it's all fake ...

fake games

then a door opens ...

a fake door

and the bunny enters in giving me some fake flowers
pale ...purple ..ones
and then i'm in another hall
green and brown tall shadows
chrystals and mirrors
and smoke is around ...
so much smoke ...

i'm looking at the purple flowers ...
they are like roses ...
and the walls start to spin ...
all around me ...
and languages are appearing
and it's spinning faster
and movies start to appear on the walls
it's all fake

it is ..the world beyond fairytale ... it is ... the world behind earth's show
and finally i am alone with only an apple in my hand
there are living too many animals in it ...
all registered trademarks ...
protected by someone's laws ...
accurately copyrighted ...
made in japan
or made in belgium ?

about this the wars are still raging ...
i'm heading for worldwar ten
the war of bones

i'm in a bubble,
having a green, yellow edge ...
it's like the switching of the zebra ...
it was your mother's best puzzle ...
and she's still in love with worldwar ten ...
well, wearing all the others in him ...
your uncle one to ten ...

these problems all rose from the maze ...
but it was all fake ...
uncle one to ten was a wolve's gnat ...
he's dead now ...
but it's all fake ...
his coffin is fake ...
his epitaph ...
the roses on his grave ... everything ...
your mom and he do the funeral every day ...
but it's all fake
a registered trademark,
accurately copyrighted
made in ... worldwar ten ...
but it's fake ...

he's a wolve's gnat ...
like toth is ...
they are still brothers ...
still nephews ...
but about this the wars are still raging ...

Now worldwar eleven is about tea and worldwar twelve about coffee
well, it was never easy to wake up

Worldwar thirteen is the war of trees and your mother herself is like worldwar fourteen still no one knows what it would be

Fourteen wolve-gnats are walking on the forest-road ... doing strange strange business
all fake ...

These beings are heavily trademarked
under Japanese laws
still living in harlem
trademarked by the thriller ...
playing basketball with copyrights
chewing on bones and cigars
smoke is surrounding them,
having the smoke's language ...
they are raising the tall trees,
they are raising the tall cigars
spinning them on top of their knees
it's a war of cigars you see ...
but it's all fake

your mother gathers these wars for her diaries
although she don't know all their names ...
but it was always like that she took strangers from the street
and suddenly these were your daddies
there is a library full of her diaries
but you don't dare to come there you prefer to read comics
but hey, you can go there for it was all fake

war of cigars ... war of old trees

they're raising the tall trees too tall for your mother's grasp
but maybe you can grasp them one day
to fill your own diaries with rare butterflies

now these doctors are all fake
so don't cry my little child ...
they just installed a motorcycle in you ...

the black edge from my bubble is showing up ...
the blood was just plastic
from a toyshop,
all fake

the vultures around the wound ...
all fake ...
all little toy-businessmen ...
there was just a very good thriller-master hunting after you it wasn't your fate ...
it was a golden pencil
a tall cigar
and one day the curtain will fall,
and you will go home to watch some tv there having an icecream ...
don't cry my child ...
you just watched a good movie ...
you just looked into the eye of a fir
it was all ... misunderstanding from the lion's tea
the thriller of ages ...
but now you drank some coffee ...
you woke up from the dream
you're ready for a new movie ?

ready for a new dream ?

ready for a new fir ?

the wolve-gnats ...

always bringing you from one thriller into the other ...

they are the thriller-masters

accurately copyrighted

you were their masterpiece

a trademark ... there's no one like you

you are the ring on their fingers

but there's always a moment that the curtains fall ...

and then you can watch some tv at home ...

or some advertisements in a magazine

so don't cry, my child, don't cry

watch the cartoon ...

read the comic ...

you're a star at both sides of the medaillon ...

Fourteen wolve-gnats announcing the apocalypses

strange advertisements ...

shoe's apocalypse is very simple

he will just step on it ...

shoe's apocalypse is very simple,

he will just step on it

turning the cigar off ...

it's the language of a shoe

tongues heading for the rock

the camera-assassins are in the air ...

bringing the smashed cameras to the camera-butcher ...

thin waterlights raising the edges ...
tv-assassins creeping to the kitchen ...
tree ...cocoon ...

someone is raising the tall teeth of sharkmouths
i don't care ... i could never fear these things ... i knew it was all fake such horror could never be real
it was just a good story
from a good book
written by a good thrillerauthor ...
with a tall cigar ...
and some good shoes
talking shoes

he had ... the crown of a wolve's gnat
feared by friend and foe ...
but not by me
for i created that crown
one day in kindergarten ...
these advertisements ...are all fake
in the land where all advertisement-clips are short horror-stories scaring you to the shop ...
the fear forces you to buy
but it's all fake
it's the threat of business ...
the shop's apocalypse
tree cocoon ...

all these shopkeepers terrorizing the city
with their hidden testaments and apocalypses
writing all your epitaphs since you were born ... but i know some strange clients

some strange passengers ...
the pink edges are rising in my bubble ...
it's the world beyond fairytale
it's the world behind the shop
my bunny said yes ...

there are shop-assassins in the air
toy-assassins and cigar-assassins ...
all heading for the money-butcher
all heading for the meat behind the cake ...
raising the pink edges ...
raising the rainbow-zebra ...
the black snail was a businessman ...
there at the horizon ...
where all our ways went wrong
where everyone took wrong decisions ...
shooting hidden apocalypses in the night ...
tree cocoon

what will we be when we are through this cocoon
is there light at the other side ?
or just some dark shadows ?

these are wars of displaydolls
all registered trademarks ...
accurately copyrighted
protected by someone's laws ...
made in ... who knows
all part of the cocoon
tree cocoon ...

these are wars of trafficlights ...

these are wars of springs ...

all part of the cocoon ...

all languages from a shoe

these are all letters from jaws ...

from rainbowjaws

and i'm still grasping after a bubble ...

a bubble of soap ...

but it seems i'm in everlasting damnation again

it's still a little part of my watch ...

my zebra-watch ...

a splinter getting smaller and smaller ...

someone is repairing my watch ...

someone is repairing my tv ...

someone is repairing my ornament ...

is james bond raising octopussy ?

i'm swimming in a thistle-sea ...

heading for the field ...

there's something better than business ...

especially when business becomes an instrument of regular tax ...

then i know some thieves to hang around with ...

but it's all fake ...

fake thieves from strange sunsets ...

tree cocoon

the end of business....

fake pirates,

fake birds,

fake swords ...

the end of business

it's time to play ...

it's toy's apocalypse ...
another worldwar ...
no, the battle of stars ...
battle of planets ...
aldebaran's curse ...
for an urban renewal
shouting boys ...
the end of business ...
the play has begun ...
no games ... everyone has his own toys
tree cocoon

we all are bound by certain laws,
we all are trademarked in some sense ...
all original beings ...
dancing in our own shows
tree cocoon ...

we cannot interrupt the story ...
we weren't made for that ...
someone else will shut the book
tree ...cocoon

Strange Client
Strange client,
pronouncing the end of business ...
proclaiming the end of the shop ...

Strange client,
giving coins with deadskulls on it ...

Strange client,
without pocket ...
without clothes ...
pronouncing the death of business ...
raising the coffins from the ditches ...

Strange passenger,
proclaiming the end of the plane ...
having the pilot's face ...
an eagle sitting on his shoulder ...
strange passengers ...

Strange broadcast-announcer
proclaiming the end of tv

Strange soldier,
taking off his clothes ...
proclaiming ..the end of the show ...

Strange clients,
taking their clothes off in the shops ...
the game ...is ...over

They are doomprophets from thriller,
registered trademarks,
accurately copyrighted ...
made in hollywood ...

Fourty displaydolls are rising from their coffins ...
It was your grandfather's worst nightmare ...
Coffee Apocalypse is stirring the lands ...
advertisement-assassins intoxicating the heads ...

And I'm still searching for a good watch to survive these lands ...
Reaching the enchanted ponds of the forest ...
There are growing thistles here ...
I'm reaching for ...the cathedral ...
Will I ever get the coin out of my head ?
someone's trying to swallow me back ...
it's something with gratitude and gravity asking for more
it's the black snail
copyrighted and trademarked ...
made in ... who knows ...
made by ... who knows ...
but this thing has mills in it's mouth ...
and it starts to rage when something happens which wasn't written in it's agenda ...
it has a million sharkteeth ... i want ... my own watch ...back ...
the watch with which i can breath

all displaydolls worship him ...
all lamentations ...
i'm looking for a good assassin ...
and a good butchery ...
they are singing too much lullabies for him
and for ignorant visitors ...

i'm entering deep into the cathedral ...
his joke-songs and slapstick-songs
oh god, they make me laugh ...
oh god, he has so many teeth
oh god, too many distractions ...

the jesters the dwarves ...
they are too much for me ...
and the laughing hurts me more and more
it's getting deeper and deeper ...
he pleases my desires ...
but it's disgusting ...
it's all fake

these joke-lullabies,
these joke-lamentations ...
they are killing me
they are stealing my own ambitions,
killing my own pride
my creativity ...
these jesters
theseassassins
these doomprophets from the big shop ...
business-angels having bowls of strange wraths ...
i'm shutting the book ...
this is what they call god ...
this is what they call liberty ...
he's surrounded by joke-thistles ...
to let the business go smooth
not too much resistance ...
his holy seraphs
some stupid tall dwarves ...
some red white stupid desires ...

back to izu,
i can't take this anymore ...
it's the laughing gas ...
call it a dignified kill ...

this thing always followed me into my home ...

no safety ...

call it a magnet-bullet ...

sensitive for body-heat

i could never sleep ...

it was a tickling rape ...

surrounded by jokes hitting laugh-sensitive spots ..

it was a thistle after all ...

these tall dwarves ...

red white ... fallen fairytale princes ...

rotten jesters ...

it was a tickling mockery ...

surrounded by joke-bullets hitting laugh-sensitive spots

escapes impossible ...

it was sensitive to body-heat ...

it pierced itself through everything ...

these were wallrings, earrings,

too much noise breaks the glasses ...

bullets from the siren's dwarf

they killed my raven like this long ago

but now ... give the raven back ...

give it back ...

it was a tickling expectation

surrounded by killing jokes ...

leaving no refugees behind ...

it was a tickling gossip ...

it was a tickling boast ...

tickling braggers they are ...

they are selling their lies to tie you to their sleeves ...

they are the displaydoll-breeders ...

their jokes are their billboards ...

sucking you inside the deal
spoiling your coins to the automatons ...
but you're selling yourself ...
you're selling your attention, your focus and your time ...
you're selling your eyes and organs ...
it's a dirty body-trade ...

all these aborted babies ...
hello mom and dad ...
i survived the crash ...

he survived the abortionist's hand ...
the little blade ..

the world beyond fairytale ...
the world behind the screens ...
it was the hand of horror working there ...
with the ring of rejection ...
how many dwarves were killed for that marriage ?

it was just a side-career speaking,
fourty million apple-assassins doing the deal ..
it was a view between the legs of a cowboy's trousers ...
seeing the threat walking there ...
now who would have the fastest gun ...
it was a fact easily decided

between the legs of this cowboy's child ...
the horror was laid ...
between sixty pillows and seventy sleep-pills ...
no one
no one ...

just no ... one ..
you cannot fight projective insecurity ...
you cannot fight ...that octopus ...
you can only fight a black snail ...
that sticky magnet
laid in your head ...
but .. the octopus ...
the world beyond fairytale ...
it lives between your legs ...
aborting ..every ..attempt

she's a woman working in an office of tax and assurance ...
sending the dogs when someone doesn't pay in time ... when someone doesn't worship the big birthday by their straight etiquettes
when someone eats besides the dish ...
these are called ... the gatekeepers

and she has the tattoo of a black snail on one side of her back ...
near to one shoulder ...
yes, there, a bit higher
still her sensitive spot ...

Someone accused me of kicking a pregnant woman in the stomach ...
which i didn't ...
i'm not that cheap ... i know some people who want to pay me a lot of money for that but first i want to know what's in the stomach ...
when it's a snake ...
then she has to live with it

Strange clients after all ... strange clients

Siamese Ornaments ..(by Bird (nc) for Gnat Records)

Suddenly you sit there, with an apple in your hand,
with a million cameras around you ...
You are watching the lens ...
you are watching ... the cruel way to giant's world

Suddenly you sit there, with an orange in your hand ...
with a million microphones around you ...
You are watching the lens ...
you are watching ... the cruelest way to dwarfworld ...
a thousand splinters in your head ...

It was always your license to this land of the thriller ...
It was always your key to the misery ...
it was always your ragdoll ...
leading you to this land of tragedy ...

And now you're watching the ornament ...
and you're watching the sentiment
you are watching the birdsong in your hand ... it brought you to so many worlds inside

you are watching the lens ...
you are watching a scientific trick
it was like a spider on your eye ...
telling you so many strange stories ...
as if you were really in it ...
as if you were the main-character of drama
such tragic thick syrup on your eye ...
but now it's dripping to the stomach ...
it will find its way through your t-shirt ...

you're still looking so shabby ...
but that was all while you looked into a mirror by the lens ...

you're still looking so ...
but that was all by the lens ...
just a point of view ...
just a strange point of view ..

he gave you that red eye ...
a chrystal spider attached to your eye ...
making that eye so red so red ...
to see so many fantasies ...
and so many thrillers ...
but it was all in your head ...
you watched the stomach of an old spider ...
having enough experience ...
to let you feel this way ..
this way

these are aldebaran birds ...
these are sentimental spiders ...
these are wolve-steps in deep snow ...
spinning the syrops of tragedy so wild ...
that you don't dare to stare anymore ...
that you don't dare to touch anymore ...
not eating and not sleeping ...
it was a red eye in a boxer's head ...
they still look so thin ...
and so black ...
but that was all in the lens ...
it was all in the lens ...
attached on mother's eye ...

the whirlpool brought you there,
the black cock's knight ...
you grew in an ornament ...
you didn't took the road to oz ...
but to the other direction ...
a silverblack suit ...
these were siamese nights ...
these are horror-block's horrors ..
these were tunes to settle down ...
in wild wet stations ..
but there were needles marching undercover ...
there were trousers on a hunt ...
these were siamese ornaments ...
these were killer-lawyers in a pond ...
these were unexpected silences
letting you fall so deep ...
these were rough times in steel cathedrals ...
fighting against the everlasting damnations ...
they were rising from the organ-pipes ...
these were rising from the windows of shattered glass ...
to rise high and then to fall down so deep,
while you had to pay for you woke them up out of their sleep ...
you were crashing their last fragile dreams ...
their last breaths in fragile ribbons ...
so now you have to pay their funerals ...
by bodyheat ...
but that's the church's tale on the lens ...
to have your own tale written on the lens ...
it costs you a lot of money ...
you have to quench your conscience first,
for it will be tv-time ...

you can't think too familiar,
for otherwise it will be too emotional for you ...
or you just have to wear good sunglasses ...

Aldebaran Birds (by Bird (nc) for Gnat Records)

Aldebaran birds,
with their big eyes ...
They make the tragedy so thick
they can be your best friends ...
but the day after they are your worst enemies ...

Aldebaran birds,
so soft and so tender ...
so weak and so fragile ...
you have so much compassion ...
when you walk by ...
but don't touch them ...
for then they will be the strongest lions ...
having no compassion for you at all ...

Aldebaran birds ...
carrying the spoon inside ...
a hidden spoon ...
attracting you by their sad songs ...
attracting you by their tragedies
by their begging for help ...
by their oh so beautiful tears ...
they were so misjudged
so misjudged ...

Aldebaran birds,
but you can never touch them ...

for they have the lion's spoon inside ...
ready to attack you ...

Aldebaran birds,
they cry through the nights ..
like they are old widows in the snow ...
like they are dying babies in a row ...
but never touch them
for then you will be what you thought that they were ...

Aldebaran Birds II
Aldebaran birds,
tales so wonderful that you will applaud ...
and then you will have to pay with your blood ...
for their prices are high

Aldebaran birds,
they come while you applaud ...
when you are grateful,
having such a good time ...
then they take you and break you,
having no mercy at all ...
to turn this beautiful fairytale,
in the worst tragedy for you ...
then you will see this beautiful fairytale
then you will see this beautiful dream,
behind bars and thick glass ...
for the rest of your life
they are birds of tantalos
creating the dream ...
to let you miss it ...

These aldebaran birds ...
these beautiful birds ...
creating the ornaments ...
which you can never wear

They are all tailors from a cupboard too high for you ...
showing you the suits ...
which you can never wear ...
creating the dream ...
to let you miss it

smiling and laughing,
to show you all the beautiful things,
you will never reach,
staring at you with such pity,
that you will never be what they think they are ...
giggling and grinning,
to show you all their beautiful suits ...
which will never be yours ...
like everlasting damnation ...
aldebaran birds ...

they speak so loud and soft at the same time ...
to draw you in their hearts ...
to show you their shops of prices too high ...
while it's unpayable to leave again ...
they ask money when you look at them ...
prices too high ...
you pay by body-heat ...
and they will leaving you in cold snow behind ...
then you will feel like a foundling,
like they took all your moms and dads ...

to put them behind thick bars and barbed wire glass ...

creating the dream ...

to let you miss it ...

aldebaran birds ...

they sing their lovesongs in the night,

about the most beautiful romances,

of which you will never have any part ...

cruel lovesongs,

making the ties so tight ...

never accept their presents ...

for after the present ... the hidden bills come ...

they are the tax-masters ... of southern coasts ...

don't touch their soft spots ...

for soon enough they draw you in and you will be the skin on their bodies so that they can walk ..through the fire again

don't touch their ornaments, don't touch their sprays ..

don't even breath it in ...

don't touch their hammers,

don't touch their tv's ...

don't touch their sidewalls...

don't touch their letters ...

don't ever read them ...

just show them the dream ...

they will never have ...

do it from a distance ...

don't walk along their doors ...

but just call their grandmother ...

and give her some red spiders ...

they will find the eggs in her handkerchief ...

from a strange easter,
having a Judas-Jesus on a cross ...
never touch the picture
for then you will have to pay for it don't even think about it ...
aldebaran ... birds

Aldebaran Birds III

They have eyes with a wave on the pupil,
big eyes if it comes to that ...
these eyes sing the most beautiful but the most cruel songs ...
and you will have to pay for these beautiful things
but it will come in your head ...
while you can never touch it ...
while the tax is spinning like a mill in your head ...
and the more you want to pull it out, the more it sinks in ...
because it is an advanced hook,
when you pull, it rips your head ...
so leave the wound alone ...
don't listen to the song ...

But where can you go,
when you were attacked by an aldebaran bird ...
is there any hope left ?
no ... for the more hope you have,
the more it starts to rage,
ripping you apart again ...
they possessed all your hopes ...
you don't need any hope ...
when you are attacked by an aldebaran bird ... hope kills ...
it makes you tired ...

for you never get what you want
it never comes closer ...
these aldebaran birds ...
they were your torturing hopes hopes you could never reach ...
hopes giving you such a small piece of the cake ...
no, you don't need any hope,
when you are attacked by such a bird ...
you just need a good parachute

for they are tricksters of the mind ...
but in the stomach they can't come ...
just swallow yourself,
and live in your stomach for awhile ...
spin your own dreams ...
make your own suits ...
and don't listen to their songs anymore ...
just create the things they will miss ...
and just start to live your life ...
in the distance ...

living in the distance ...
living in your own distance spray ...
wearing your own distance ornaments ...
you don't need these birds ...
you don't need their attention ...
don't let anyone in ...
for they are already in ...
your friends who had the same heart as you ...
you are all from the same heart
no need to take anyone in ...
for they are already ...

when you take someone in it's an aldebaran bird ...
for all friends are in already ...
taking in and taking out is just an illusion
friends are already deeper inside than you think
and you just need to connect there ...
although you are already there ...
just realize it ...
you were never close to the aldebaran birds
for they were from another heart
the one you thought who was so close there ...
was just something they created ...
they created a "you" ...
but that was just a display-doll ...
who could never get that which it was directing at ...
it wasn't you
they just created it ...
you were somewhere else ...
in your friends' heart ...
you don't need their false identities ...
you don't need their false directions ...
you are with your real friends deep inside
just a realization away
just a conscience away
a conscience with numbers ...
don't let anyone suck them away ...
count your friends ...
and worship the number
true friends already are in the heart ...
for it's the same heart ...
no need to have a key
no need to have a hope ...
it's already there

deeper inside

something which you can hold ...

something which you can touch

and it's so material ...

it will always stay

Aldebaran Birds IV

No my dear sir, these prices are too high ...

and this is my shop you know ...

and this is all fake ...

You can only buy things with fake money ...

money from the big toy

No my dear dear madame, I can't buy anything from you ...

you see, we don't use your sort of money ...

we have money from the game ...

and it's all fake

It's just raspberry money

from a strawberry fever

gathering the arks in the night ...

It's just a tomatoe's dream ...

eating a potatoe ...

in grandfather's shop ...

all fake

that shop ...

where the bunny said yes ...

Now he sais yes all the time,

I don't know where to bring all this money ...

The Aldebaran Birds with their conscience without numbers

flying around with the heads of real people ...

They sit on small scary tales,

flying on rumors too short ...

lying in the first coffee of a day ...

They breed the auctions on a wild wet fairytale ...

showing the people what they will never have

But now it's their holiday,

they have a wide day off ...

and they are going for a swim it seems ...

on capricorn's brown hills ...

there where the seas are so sharp

so full of killer-ornaments ...

and here they are going for a hunt

for job's day will be so wide too

they are spreading their carnivals ...

they are spreading their chinese lanterns ...

their assassins are dressing themselves up like mistakes and accidents ...

these are make-up-times for aldebaran's birds ...

they are sharpening their knives hidden under their flowers and paper kisses ..

the golden bird was never in time when you fell in these seas ...

and the girl of the station was always making too many mistakes,

so that you missed your last train ...

there was an other bunny making so many mistakes ...

there at the ticket-hole ...

you could never reach your train ...

but it seemed you didn't read all your books about the aldebaran birds ...

you know all these ticket-ladies ...

they made you read again
they brought you back to the old schooldesks ...
back to the woodcutter's house ...
and you always thought it was your own fault ...
but the bunny just didn't say "yes" yet ...

but now the bunny is saying yes,
for you read all your books about the aldebaran birds ...
and now you're on the back of the golden bird ...
heading for the watermark ...
heading for sweet jupiter ...

Aldebaran Birds V

It seems they always forgot something, and then you were the victim ...
all these holes in the flowers made the flower so sharp
All these holes in a conversation
made your lines so sharp
it was ripping me inside ...
like i was in the beak
of an aldebaran bird ...

Your visitors always came too late ...
Your policeman and firemen
Your pillows weren't soft but barbed wire ...
Your sandman never came ...
until the end of the morning ...
when the schoolbells were ringing ...
and the bells of the factory
He was like Mr. too late

He was a Jesus Christ always coming too late on saviours' parties for he liked it too much to raise people from the dead ...
he never rescued anyone ... he only raised people from the dead ...

he never saved anyone ... he was a funeral-contractor ...
he was always walking on the battlefields looking for dead soldiers ...
putting them in his pointy sack ... he would gamble first to see who he would raise up and who not
He was a doctor of dead patients ...
He was loved for he could solve the deepest tragedies ...
There were birds who were called "too late"
They were undertakers ... but later some of them became the aldebaran birds ...
those fallen ones ...
He created them all ...
He was a brother of Gepetto ...
He was called Summerclause ...
or mister too late ...
He never came in time ...
but he was loved
he solved the deepest problems ...
he solved them ... when they were black ...
he only came to the rotten ones ...
those ones from the sewers of aldebaran
there where death touches hell ...

he had a different watch than we have a funeral-undertaker's watch ...
it was a bunny-watch ... with a bunny saying no or yes ...
and another bunny saying "pardon" or "done" ...

I'm on the back of a golden bird heading for jupiter ...
Where the soft milk streams ...
I'm seeing lazy ornaments deep down there in capricorn's seas ...
letting the needles fall ...
the lollipops are strange thin beings with big heads ... working in a toyshop of danger

the toys have glassplinters inside ... and by sharp lines they program the tax-indexes of the toys ...
these toys are nothing but tax-agents ... infiltrating the houses by a spoilt kid ...
these are the side-saws of a rotten town ...
burning away in hidden terror ... while mistake is raking the sunsets

they never repeat,
they say it once
and then the tops of needles will rise ...
stinging the doorbells and the doorways in search for ham ...

these are raging ornaments ...
perfectly covered by fogs and accidents ...
behind a curtain of shame and pity ...

these are wandering solutions in search for minced meat ... dead souls trying to escape the last train to hell's city
they never repeat
they unleash their blades from single decisions ...
they remove the coins from the tops of tall bottles ...
when it's mercury's hour of speech-power ...
they are one-second truths on top of a magazine ...
letting the mills fall down over the bald head-publics ...
like killer-yo-yo's in the snow ...
all from the spleen of grandfather lollipop

these hand-puppets, these tall faces ... were always his best trick ...
the designer's liberty ...
and they all applaud ...

while the birds of aldebaran descend like vultures to pick up the coins for another ride ...

they are moving near to the curtain when it falls down ...
the show is over ...
the headscreens show the prices and the exits now ...
the blood-jackpots of the side-roads ...

The Feather

I'm losing the feather, on a stream ... I'm sitting to watch it tightly ... trying to remember it's shapes and it's strategies ..
Then I see myself painting ... the feather ...
more beautiful than he was before ...
He's now ... deeper in my heart ...

The Feather II

I'm counting the feathers on my conscience so bright ...
I'm counting the feathers ...
On my name's brigade ...
I'm spinning the ornament ... it's growing so tall on my skin ...
It's like the divine tattoo

I'm counting the feathers on my conscience so bright ...
I'm counting the feathers ...
On my name's brigade ...
I'm not missing one of them ...
for they are all so interlocked ...
and glued by a russian ornament ...
I once got from an octopus ...

I'm shining ...
with my feathers so bright ...
in a pride you never had ...
Still the song of an aldebaran bird ...

Feather III

I'm dancing ...
in a street you never were ...
I'm dancing with my names so close to the shores ...
so close to the feathers ...
so close the bunny stars ...

I'm smiling ...
with my head high in the sky ...
this little faces-head ...
from the wild wet moon ...
too white to talk about ...
struck by the white thistle ..
I'm smiling ...
because it's your face too ...
and from all those other aldebaran birds ...

The Feather IV

Raindrops falling from raindrop-pieces ...
It seems like the giant is growing today ..
This boy from the baker's tree ...
It's his birthday's day ...
I'm smiling ...
with my head down on my knees ...
attracting the birds from aldebaran ...
for a little musical piece ...
They will love this chocolate ...
They will love this sugarheart
I'm dancing ...
with my head almost touching the ground ...
it's like the snake's dance ...
for I'm knowing this ornament's fire ...

I know what it proclaims
that after six days ...
they are all back in the little box ...
that musical box ...
where the ballerina dances ...
and where they sing ...
the songs they don't want to sing ...
they just escaped their musical box ...
from grandma underground
but this ballerina is dancing until they are all back ...
they were the needles of the grammophone ...
after six days they will be back ...
I'm smiling ...
with my head down in the air ...
the sea is the sky now ...
this world is all mixed up ...
now the record has shown his back ...
this world tumbling upside down ...
I'm dancing ...
with my head just everywhere ...
the little faces-head in my pocket ...
in aldebaran's pocket ...
on the miniature-racecourt ...
in the old jukebox where they all belong ...
tight needles of the grammophone ...
dj's of summerclause again ...

the feather is caressing the record ...
there are sixty-six lullabies in someone's head ..
after the dj spoke ...
and now he's back to his tropical island again ...
an island floating in the sky

the sky-sea
and the feather is lying in the stream ...
while i'm painting it again ...

Baker's Tree Boy
Baker's Tree Boy has the trousers,
when he's in the land there are no aldebaran birds allowed ...
he's the bird from the big tree ...
all breaths from the big complaint get shut ...

Complaints are fatal ...
he always sais ...
their breaths are lethal ...
we always have to breath through his box ...
some little stupid flutes ...
making the birds laugh ...

No aldebaran birds ...
when baker's tree boy is in the city ...
Then the seas are in the sky ...
with the flying fishes ...
then all needles will be grammophone-needles ...
the big fir is the big jukebox ...
waking the fairytales up ...
stinging nettles walk on the street
for tree's alphabet to spread ...
..when baker's tree boy is in the city ...

The butcher's are the big simulators ...
when they sting you lose three points ...
They are just big firs if it comes to that ...
sent out by the forest's game ...

They will be turned into potatoes when you smash them ...
and then you will see the bunny's stars
gathering the yes's for a wolf's hunt ..
near to abraham's tree ...

When baker's tree boy plays the game ...
He has a red tomatoe's gun ...
It's from the highest level ...
It's from the highest coin ...

You get three banana-points ...
when you hit the butcher's dish
And when you shoot his axe ... paper shatters are flying around ...
for it was just hard paper ...
rising from a sugar-cup ...

Now if you reached the cups deep in the butcher's temple ...
then shoot them with the laser-beams ...
then doves will fly out ...
and they will guide you forever ...
for they were stolen from a fairytale
they were stolen from a baker's tree ...
they were stolen from you
but now you found them back baker's tree boy is in town ...

tree-lasers around him ...
heading for the villages ...
to access new games ...
game over ...

Everlasting Damnation

She's spinning her everlasting damnations,
to lay them lightly on the top of his head ...
She's spinning her mazes, her false liberties and the hard noises ...

He doesn't care about romance ...
He only cares about a good bed ...
and a good bottle ...

She's spinning her everlasting damnations ...
trying to get his attention ...

The Lord your God is so desperate today,
wanting to have the devil for a date ...

Everlasting Damnation II

Lord God and the Devil playing chess ... with everlasting damnations on the board ...
They're moving their pawns,
moving their eyes ...
as slow as they can ...
loading their edges to the top ...
and then the beers and liquors flow ...
and they forget about their etiquettes ...

Everlasting Damnation III

It's carnival ...
your neighbour is now your Lord God ...
your assistant your Jesus Christ,
and the old jukebox spouts everlasting damnations ...

It's carnival ...

Daddy has drunk too much ...
Now you will be in everlasting damnation a few weeks ...
While tv must be your forced saviour,
thinking it is wasting it's time with you ...
but it has no other way to go ...
for daddy has drunk too much ...

It's carnival ...
Everlasting Damnation is dripping from the mask ...
But you have still your feather ...
your white one ...
bringing you back to the wardrobe ...
to have your own suits

It's carnival ...
Now your son is the Lord God ...
and you are the Boss of Lord God ...
While grandma is writing her spanish bibles ...
She always wanted you to have your own heart
She showed you everlasting damnation was just a piece of paper escaping carnival ...
written by the fool of masked romance ...
by a white feathered pencil ...
but you have your own white feather

It's carnival of romance ...
Lord God is desperately wanting the devil for a date ...
spinning his everlasting damnations in the hot fires of a glass of beer ...
But the devil was already too late today ...
he now just wants to go to bed ...
to forget about all masked romance ...
he has his own everlasting damnations to swim in ...
he doesn't need anothers'

so he's taking his feathered pencil
a black one this time ...
to write an indian bible
to be finally ...
independent ...
in religious ... art ...

Everlasting Damnation IV

Trees of trauma,
they wave at you from the driest deserts ...
It's Everlasting Damnation coming to town ...

Trees of cobra's,
It was shark's cocoon ...
looking for another dj ...
looking for another spoon ...

And that boy,
he looks like he has a skindisease ...
but he just comes from the baker's tree ...
selling everlasting damnations to teenage girls ...
to have some protection against teachers too biblical ...

It's the everlasting shock,
It's the everlasting curse ..
when echo comes to town ...
but it's finally to wake you up,
and to see it was just your friend ...
just your old teddybear-buddy ...
the side-wheels of your cruel bikes

It's the everlasting trauma,

trauma-birds with their big eyes like peacock's horror-shows,

It's like bilmageln's gongs,
always hitting the kettles inside ...
and the old terror dishes ...
terror from baker's tree ...
when echo stands before you,
installing wasp's tv

It was like the pole's apocalypse,
from an apocryphal writing ...
written by ..the feathered pencil ..
fools from romantic tragedies ...
decorated by interludes of everlasting trauma ...
still sucking the numbers out of your head
but that's finally okay ...
for who is asking for the return of your worst maths teacher ...

It's like I cannot breath today ..
but who's asking for it ?
in this polluted meatball called earth ?
Don't bring me your everlasting damnations ...
I have my own ...
and you need these for your own carnivals ...
to play romeo and juliette once again ...
or some fed up cassanova ...
too lazy to rake the hellgardens ...
so many marbles to gather there ...

It was not the first time you spoilt your words to the paper ...
for someone else to suck up ...
so the golden feather-pencil is once again in your hand
to do another piece of romantic apocalypse ...

dressed in some ancient languages of trade ...
dipped in pre-historic ornament ..
jurassic accents ...
sailor's decisions ...
to hide, to steal and to sell
fast ways to the ornaments ..
fast trains to the golden hair ...
the the trees dynamic city ...
baptized in the boiling oil of shark's trumpets ...
proclaiming everlasting damnation ...
on a romance's trip ...
having the Lord Gods on the sidelines ...
the golden butchers on the mills ...
It's everlasting noise you sell ...
creating everlasting deafness
finding your part in romantic apocryphia
in the ships of bitter dogma

But after the wave you always find yourself ...
behind a fool's table ...
with a white feathered pencil lying there ...
next to a cigarette ...
waiting to be smoked ...
waiting for another round in the corset ...

Black pair of shoes ...
waiting to do the trip of everlasting damnation again ...
a tax-machine ...
sucking the heads dry for some good trousers ...
layer by layer reaching for
the biblical jokers ...
the blackjack's from hidden seas

spinning the ornaments too tight ...
for a traumatic beauty ...
on an apocalyptic ride
touching the edges of tragic apocryphia in the side-coloured evenings when the suns fall into the sea ...
the pseud-epigraphic lenses ...
still the stick through which you watch the mosaic ...
the wild mosaic
the tall windows of the church ...
waiting for the everlasting damnations ...
the comics from the white thrones
they are all baptized in blood ...
trademarked by the throne ...
copyrighted by the baker's tree ...

Then you find yourself ...
like a father tied to the ears of children ...
the gift of your divorce's judges ...
to raise your women from the canals ...

And you see this child ...
looking like a skindisease ...
but just a boy from the baker's tree ...
who sold you this letter ...
this mission ...
you never created it ...
it wasn't even your desire ...
but you were bloodmarked by it working in a strange game

The kids still love it ...
and you will tell them ...

about everlasting damnations who brought them here, but were never true

they were just from the boy's brother ...

from a pair of black shoes ...

pretending to be everything

still rising ...when the singer sings

in apocalyptic slow-motion ...

bringing you to the edges of suspense ...

of a romantic thriller ...

bringing you the carriage ...

closed curtains ..

purple-pink ...

with the cabman, two-faced

carrying a romance within ...

the contract of horror ...

Don't try to find love in a story ...

don't try to fix a rotten romance with your pearls too fragile ...

it will be everlasting damnation waking you up ...

something worse than horror on your dish

how many dwarves were killed for the fairytale-marriage ...

you will find out then

and look straight into the face of the world beyond this fairytale ...

a werewolf ...

you will see what she all did to her husband after that night and you will see which stones he used to build the house and the honeymoon

you will not eat for twenty years after seeing this ...

your teeth will rot in your mouth

your face will turn green,

with rotten blue,

decorated by toothpaste ...

but this is only the lovely beginning ...

then you will beg for your everlasting damnations again ...

for they weren't so bad at all ...
you will call them mr. and mrs. ...
you will bow for them very dignified ...
after you saw the face of the world beyond fairytale ...
then you will beg for some tragedies and traumas ..
you knew from your past
you will see them as your old friends then ...
your buddies ...
who could possibly save you from this presence ...
but they didn't and they won't do ...
you will try to find your everlasting damnations in every corner on every street
you will start to believe in Jesus Christ again
but it's too late ... for the show has begun ...
now you can only scream and hoping you wake up ...
but it's not a dream
you wished it was a nightmare ... just a dream ...
but it's reality ...
the world beyond fairytale ...
how many dwarves were killed for the wedding ...
then you try hopelessly to escape this wedding of terror ...
this beast coming to the surface ...
but you only have to realize ...
you were that beast ...
and there's something worse riding you that cabman ... that cabman ...

that two-faced long-hairy high-hatted old man ...
like dracula's grandfather ...
like frankenstein's tax-collector ...
but you only wished that
for it's something worse ...
it's the terror you don't understand ...
it's like everlasting misunderstanding ...

and then finally you sit in your chair ...
tired of screaming
your eyes turning around in your head ...
tied to the chair ...
and a little man is staring at you ...
as small as your finger ...
it's the little man of the tiger ...
you just drank from the tiger's coffee ...
to wake up
to find out ...
there's something worse than birthday ...
it's called the wedding
it's called the breaking of the ornament,
it's called marriage ...
two people become a siamese twin ...
to shut all others out ... for the rest of there lives ...
based on a cruel dogma
sentenced to everlasting divorce ...
how many divorces were laid to spin this wedding ?
in canon and criminal design
from a white-feathered pencil ...
marriage is a lie ...
but it's a riddle of truth ...
a puzzle for your children
the wedding still the jigsaw's pedlar ...
the watchboxman,
the tv's broadcast lord with the tall face ...
still your new jerusalem,
with archibald ...
racing on the side-cake roads ...
highways to perlottia ...

the dreamman's cascade

archibald,

enter the quarters of jerusalem ...

archibald ...

enter the quarters of jerusalem ...

the way back to nothing ..

the way back to them

still ... the frog's ...song ...

Everlasting Damnation V

cruel fight

No, you're not in hell ...

it's something worse ...

called the wedding ...

all dad's birthday-zeppelins had been exploded already ...

now we got this present from the cake ...

this babe was called everlasting damnation when she was young ...

but now she changed her name into the wedding ...

yes, since awhile already ...

Grandfather is breeding his weddings at the sides of the ponds ...

making them ready for the big attack ...

from the frog

He's breeding his everlasting damnations under his shoes .. so that he can step on mines with them ...

while my shoes are walking mines ...

they explode every step i take ...

while i'm still lighting my cigarettes with them

i never put these things in my mouth ...

i only write by them ...

to an old lawyer ..

to an old ornament ...

the one holding the weddings tight ...

he breeds them in corsets ...

in iron suits of knights ...

he breeds them in fish's bowls ...

in whale's bowls and in trousers ...

these weddingnights are still his best tricks ...

like the candles on a weddingtart ...

one candle for one night ...

and then they start to take the cigars and cigarettes of the wedding-visitors ...

which is a long and cruel fight ...

a fight often ending in the bathroom

where she shows him her everlasting damnations ...

and where he shows her his paper bows ...

still a sad picture ...

plagues from izu

and it's a long and cruel fight ... from the bedroom to the bathroom ...

She's spreading roses to attract the dogs ... He's spreading paper dice ... not knowing what will come ... still a sad family-picture It's still the photo hanging near to the clock ... Like mom and dad were always trying to break the back of an elephant so that they could ride it together ... It's such a cruel and sad picture in a sense ... The children still cry about it ... Why did it have to be this way ... why ...

He's always speaking about the past, about his father and mother ... He got the family-album when they died in that cruel accident ... for him it's more a zoo-album a very sad prison ... He's still throwing his coins and peppermints through the bars ... trying to get them alive but life was too cruel ... and it seems everything is heading for everlasting damnation ... but maybe that would call for mr. too late summerclause ... He always saved people from that place ... but grandfather always told with a tight face : There are worse places than Everlasting Damnation ...

Yes, the wedding ... that's where it all started ... but if everlasting damnation is a better station ... then let us bring them there ... and then we will see further ... the handicapped boy says He always speaks about his father and mother, about the Lord God and about the devil He's very wise ... he thinks too deep ... He always says he's the Lord God when he fights with his little friends while his older brother, an autistic boy, is the Boss of the Lord God

They are heading for an urban renewal ... They bought black shoes ... and now they're doing exercises with the shoes ... They are both obsessed about shoes ... the Lord God always walked with the shoes of his mother ... while the older one always took his father's shoes They are also fond of suits ... They liked to wear the suits of their older sisters ... But they don't live anymore either all crashed by the accident

There they walk like spiders through the streets of the cities ... flirting with the moths of the roofs ... and blinking at the ravens ... but it's all fake .. all part of the game ... They have serious things in mind They decided to reverse the city Sodom and Gomorrah needs to be destroyed ... the Lord God says ... "yes", the Boss of the Lord God says, there isn't any smile on his face ... he's serious ... the city needs to be destroyed for they sinned against the Lord God

The Lord God and the Boss of the Lord God are walking to a friend of them ... he lives near to the center of the city They call him Moses, and he is the one who needs to announce the plagues ... he's a boy with a speech defect ...

They will go to top of the tower of the church where the two brothers will play the chimes and the boy with the speech defect will announce the plagues by a siren ...

It was a plague of moths ... eating the suits of the town eating away their masks and then the horror-show began ... the only thing people had to do was to look into the mirror to see what was happening under their masks for such a long time ... the world beyond fairytale ... the world behind the city-screens ...

the most wild and traumatic insects were living in the flesh behind the masks ... it was a plague of moths showing the horror-screens behind the fairytale-screens ... they were doing their weddings in fresh meat ... but these were called everlasting damnations ... there is one thing worse than an everlasting damnation ... a masked everlasting damnation The Wedding ...

It was a plague of moths ... back to Izu ...

The moths were eating the ornaments away ... showing what was happening inside ... the chain there's something worse than a chain a masked chain for no one believes you are chained while it's eating you from inside out

They were heading for .. The Weddingroom to eat the wedding tarts ... and to show what the bride was all wearing under her wedding dress ...

They were heading forthe wedding-dress ... eating it away to show the terror in daylight ... all these everlasting damnations in fresh meat

Refugees from the big wedding ... all flying on moths now ... attacking the cities sharp speech defects bred by divorces we have our own languages ... this is cake from elite ...

It was a plague of moths ... digging for licorice ... back to Izu

Now the handicapped boys are sitting on the ladybug ... reversing all your fed up bibles the wedding was decorated by the big B from everlasting damnation unaware of motivations, the witch's spellbook if it comes to that when repeated reversed

watch uncle unicorn

Watch uncle unicorn .. he's a timered rider ...

Watch uncle unicorn, breeding the wild wet strawberries

He's dancing through the nights killing the weddingrings ... showing which was all left behind all those puppetmarkets ...

Watch uncle unicorn a sideride rider Watch uncle unicorn the best choice in a strawberry's night he's aching for someone ... he's stinging himself to reach the other your mother it was his telephone-line ...

Watch uncle unicorn ... killing the wedding Watch uncle unicorn kissing mother ladybug She doesn't understand his strange apocalypses ... She doesn't understand his rage to the bible She doesn't understand the things he does and sais and she doesn't believe in it either

Watch uncle unicorn a sideline rider ... stinging through the ornament's cakes stinging through your daddy's coats He tries to lure your mother that side line mother bringing the wedding back to it's place that tenmillionhorrorstory's hat that bridegroom's hat ... watch uncle unicorn

Watch uncle unicorn ... watch mother ladybug ... she doesn't believe him, but she loves him she doesn't understand what he's doing and she doesn't believe one step of it ... but she loves the way he's doing it

Watch uncle unicorn ... watch archibald heading for the new jerusalem ... a new aldebaran ? or a new anything

watch uncle uniccorn ... watch this wedding's friend watching the weddings he's still a wedding a masked everlasting damnation to steal the wedding masked ... to kill the wedding watch this spy from the ornament's pride ...this sideline's attacker this assassin ... rising strawberry this assassin heading for the strawberry fields ... where his love is waiting for him doing a fake wedding because she doesn't believe in it at all watch uncle unicorn watching the bible proclaiming strong marriages ... strong cages ... strong masked everlasting damnations while he's still a wedding himself after all but it's fake for she doesn't believe in it and he worships her he blesses her ... he baptizes her everyday while she doesn't believe all this attention ... but she likes it anyway and hides it anyway her spy the widow's spy watch uncle unicorn still a preacherman with an atheist's lady still a pretty ornament shining in the night ... for he doesn't believe in it either ... watch uncle unicorn

watch uncle unicorn ii

watch uncle unicorn ... dreams in coloured fire

watch uncle unicorn ...dreams in the coloured spider

watch uncle unicorn ... watch his golden desire ...
it's all fake made by paper lies ...
but still these ones are riddles of truth ...
jigsaws for the children ...
watch uncle unicorn ...
two children as horses for the wedding-carriage ...
watch uncle unicorn ...
still sitting there, the cabman ..
spinning the dragons for the coming years ...
spreading the arena's in dominoes ...
watch uncle unicorn
watch these two beautiful children
these white horses from the ornament's horses
watch them with their pale mocking faces
they are mocking the wedding ...
they are mocking the Lord God ...
and His Boss
watch uncle unicorn ...

watch uncle unicorn and these two lovely children ...
in their white pink dresses ...
with their decorated hats
look at their spears of fire ...
the candles on the weddingcakes ...
watch uncle unicorn ...

watch uncle unicorn ...
watch his lovely rose's children
watch how they mock the wedding ...
watch how they mock the fires
and even themselves ...
in these wide dresses

watch uncle unicorn

watch uncle unicorn and all his chinese children ...

watch how they put blasphemy in the weddingbowls ...

but you know they do it all in secret ...

watch uncle unicorn ...

watch his tall brother

watch all his ornaments ... and all his weddingrings

watch how the chain is laid

to masked everlasting damnation ...

and watch how these children say :

how stupid, how stupid, how ... stupid ...

more plagues

This is the town of liberty,

this is the town of the ornament,

of the wedding,

of beautiful songs ...

of beautiful butcheries ...

we are eating the ones shot by the marriage ...

mother marriage ... still grinning from heaven ...

the weddingrings are circular saws here ...

This is the town of god,

this is the town of trend,

this is the town of the big weddingring ...

between god and his little devil ...

Der fuhrer macht spas mit ringel S

The umlauts are his trains of terror ...

The skin was ripped off that day ...

Seeing Hitler's Blue Tongue ...

Everlasting Damnation VI

Seeing the wars in the frogs, seeing oz's moon shining down, turning into a stick with a snake coiling around it, the ringel S from deutschland ... I'm sorry that you never understood me ... you had to read between the lines ... and between the letters and the kisses ... You had to read between the nuclear bombs and the threats ... These weren't my words ... I was the one breathing on the background ... tied to a chair ... I couldn't write ... someone else wrote these letters ... my dad always wanted to protect me against you so he was picking up the telephone using my voice ... but it wasn't me ...and these hugs too tight ... it wasn't me ... my father doesn't know his own strength ... he didn't know about all the disasters he caused all the earthquakes and nuclear transmissions ... we never told him what he did in his sleep for it's not good to awaken sleeping dragons

I'm the type of person who never reads the things I write for I cannot bear what it all causes It's too hard for me to watch in a snake's basket all the time ... So I'm only looking forward ... I can only read it again after you read it for I like to see pink candy all over the place Anyway

There are wars in the city ... and I don't dare to read my own letters ... It's like stepping on mines I know I have a strange sort of alphabet ... And I don't like grammar and spelling, to talk within a narrow cage ... so forgive me my speechdefects ... I am still a blue rabbit heading for a new language ... I can show you the tales on Hitler's tongue ...

These are all lamentation weathers

These are all lamention feathers ...

These everlasting damnations ...

were just someone wanting to have your attention

A mentally handicapped child called The Lord Your God sitting on a throne behind fairytale ...

He created the fairytale to show you what you will never get ...

But that was all to draw your attention ...

It was a tortured tree in such a dry desert ...

An Aldebaran Moth

It's nothing but an old lamentation's box

from an old blind musician

begging for some coins in the storm ...

He wants to return to aldebaran ...

and if you listen to his horrors ...

he will show you the world beyond horror ...

the world of the cartoon ...

as long as we don't want to understand the horror of this old man ...

we can never return to our homeland,

the cartoon ...

but if we listen to his horrors and try to understand them,

to give him his coins ...

he can go back to aldebaran

and bring us to the meaning of the horror

the cartoon

But the story goes, and that always seems true that the storm will bring the old man back to aldebaran ...

he doesn't need our coins,

but he's an automaton ...

just wanting to show us the tales on our own coins ...

money talks

money has it's own tax and apocalypses ...

it's own everlasting damnations

masked or not ...

and the tales can bring us higher ...
but if we close our ears it can bring us back to the wedding ...
where all days went wrong ...
the mills of the horizon
the burning lines in orange blue and red ...
bringing us from birthdays into birthdays ...
from weddings into weddings
preparing the domino-roads to the butcher's strike ...
breeding you into that strange strange insect ...
on the back of a nightshift
masked or not masked
and then you can choose again ...
between a coin or a tale
it's a big multiple choice ...
heading for your election's day ...
you may choose yourself what you will be ...
masked or not ...
you will be your own teacher ...
correcting your choices every first day of the month ...
heading for the occupation of your choice ...
you choose your occupations and identities yourself
all by the big multiple choice ...
but it doesn't say ... in which country that will be ...
who has ears will hear

The Lazarus Tree

He watched the side-halls of his ornaments ...

He decided to do the bunny's dance ...

together with his mummies ...
To come into the hall where the kids were cigars ...
He smokes them, he's the wizard's funeral-undertaker ...
Racing the trees after they are burnt spirits of the phoenix ...
all his children ...

The lazarus-tree is burning ...
asking for help ...
begging ...
But he will come after the funeral ...
to rise it up again ...
And prometheus is still bound to the tree ...
By some possessed indians ...
The phoenix will rise
after the ashes are blowing in the wind ...
He still works in the crematorium ...
Good old summerclause ...
breeding his birds ...

The ears of this little dog called Jesus,
will only open up after Lazarus has died ...
Mary and Martha already know the trick ...
These miracles are worth waiting for
The miracles can only rise from the ashes ...
Still the golden secret on an egyptian dish ...

We are all waiting for a man called lazarus ...

waiting in the old pyramid ...

Only cigars allowed ...

we will not smoke anything else ...

The blue rabbit showing hitler's tongue ...

the blue road ...

from the horror to the cartoon ...

so many cigars spread on the road ...

like train's apocalypse ...

he will show up after the crash ...

showing you lazarus tree ...

climbing it will switch you from the horror to the cartoon ...

from the lamentation to the lullaby ...

then you will understand what it means ...

and then you will meet summerclause's ship in the air ...

with all those Jesuses from Cartoon ...

those little men ...

those zebra-men

switching you between the pencil and the spoon ...

switching you between a cigar and a cigarette ...

in the movie you had to die ... otherwise it wouldn't sell ...

one wanted to see ... the world beyond fairytale ...

one wanted to see ... the horror ...

but this was your rocket launched straight in the cartoon ...

like a spear piercing the old bear-drum ...

reaching the flute inside ...

and this movie would be burnt in your uncle's pipe ...

be burnt in your uncle's pipe ...

*so that the movie could be updated ...
a rainbowversion from the old Pan ...
the movie waves are moving ... symmetric to the snakes underground ...
rising to cartoon ...
rising to the comic-towers
to release the juices from inside ...
to have a good bite in the apple ...
when you discover the horror behind the fairytale ...
just bite further until you switch between the cartoon and the comic ...
until you see all their little jesus-men ...

you are in summerclause's cloudship
riding to the moon on fragile railroads ...
moving symmetric to the sharks in the seas underground ...
having new fireworks in a bottle
it's again strong liquor's from uncle
heading for the 3 in the z ...
heading for cat's hill
where an ornament still cuts the trees ...
still the woodcutter's house
showing the horror behind the cartoon and the comic ...
the horror behind the juices and the fruits ...
behind the candy
behind the soft soft machines ...
behind the soft icecreams ...
these soft kisses were the sharpest of all ...

Lords of the Ice ...*

Horror in frosty clothes ...
hidden too well behind cartoons and cubes

Wasp's tv updated
switching between horrors and cartoons ...
between comics and tragedies
in an atmosphere of serene ice ...
like a dragonfly soaring ...
with a thousand nipples on it's face ...

reaching for a land where the symmetries touch,
where the isolation breaks me free ...
the shock ... the sting ... all behind the fairytale
even behind cartoon and comic ...
an autistic world,
a traumatic beauty,
there where the vibration transformed the layers ...
in wasp's tv updated ...
standing tall like the million-armed clock ...
swelling up like an eye ... in a rose ..
like a jewel in the night
bragging into the faces of unknown threats ...

Back to Izu
Like the well of an ornament ...
I feel myself ...
heading for Izu
following the wizard's path ...
The ornamental boxes ...
full of lullabies ... and lamentations ...
are we complaining ?

Back to Izu,
the world of so many words ...
while a little is spoken ...
for it's all hidden behind trees and flowers ...
desiring to be discovered ...

Back to Izu,
not afraid of the hidden rage ...
and the hidden riddles
waiting to be puzzled out
it needed to be ... a hidden message ...
for it was too private ...
just for you ...

Back to Izu ...
not afraid of death ...
for it can kill you if you come too close ...
the influence she chose to leave ...

Back to Izu ..
not afraid of fire ...
not afraid of the bite ...
for it can do that to you ...
even from a distance ...
which is close enough ...

Back to Izu,
like a nuclear mill on sharp ...
like a hypersensitive gun ...
bullets body-heat-sensitive ...
when they once saw you ..

they will never let you go ... until they pierced the thing they saw stinging a new ornament through it ...
eyes on sharp ...
every step is like a mine exploding under your feet ...
everlasting damnations under your feet
back to Izu ...

But that's just your wasp's tv ...
following all the news of the day ...
it's just your loved ones speaking ...
your own private telephone-hells ...

you know these little lamentations ...
they will always try to get your attention ...
showing you how they are hurt ...

it's the lamentation-talk ...
bringing you back to izu ...
bringing you back to the lullaby ...

there's something switching between lullabies and lamentations ...
creating the song, the killersong ...
you better be deaf in those days
so why don't you meet some deaf children ...
who will teach you to be deaf ...
back to izu

crucify him ... someone called ...
and then someone else started to call it ...
then they started to scream and to shriek ...
until the little jesus was deaf ...

and could escape the noise with his rabbit ...

A Day at the Fairground

- 1.The Gates of Change
- 2.Queen Ant
- 3.The Dollars of Queen Bee
- 4.Fat Hotel Boss
- 5.Ditches of Venice
- 6.Chopin's Pearl
- 7.Chopin
- 8.Warfeathers
- 9.Burning Roses
- 10.Afternoon Wine
- 11.Sea of Death
- 12.My French Girl
- 13.Ballerina Girl
- 14.Predator
- 15.Traffic of War
- 16.Overcoming the Game
- 17.Sick of Laughing
- 18.Other Side of the Wall
- 19.Flowerfields
- 20.Poetry from the Yellow Milkmaid – The Lion's Fight
- 21.Railroads to Lapoendria – Between a Woman and a Man
- 22.Waving White Flag
- 23.Orange Balloon
- 24.Dwarve's Rain

- 25.Supermarket Lies
- 26.Blessing of Dementia – Children of the Dune
- 27.Shrieking Boys Clock
- 28.Red Dinosaur
- 29.Ravalan Madok – Wings of Dementia
- 30.Playcard Syndrome
- 31.Jericho
- 32.Indian Line
- 33.Capricorn’s Jackpot
- 34.Life in the Distance
- 35.Stars of Blasphemy
- 36.The Dragon Candle
- 37.Birds of Hamelin
- 38.Rabbit’s Hospital
- 39.The Postbank’s Clock
- 40.The Night Trouper
- 41.Chocolate Smiles
- 42.The Fifth Nightwatch
- 43.Dragons and Dinosaurs
- 44.To an Autistic World
- 45.Ten Little Ascenders
- 46.Palace of the Toysoldiers
- 47.Birthdayman’s Palace
- 48.Funparkman’s Palace
- 49.The Gamewizard’s Palace
- 50.Deliriumwizard’s Palace – Your Guide to a Crazier World
- 51.The Puzzlewizard’s Palace
- 52.The Gamblewizard’s Palace
- 53.The Backwardwizard’s Palace
- 54.Ladybug
- 55.Nonsense of Mathematics
- 56.Sudden Death of the Mice’s Journalist

The Gates of Change

1. I was a day at the fairground,

I found it hard to find joy,

It was nothing but tragedy here,

Knives beyond the kingdoms

2. I was a day at the fairground,

A day in which I almost died,

It was a day of torture,

It was a day without any light

3. The next day I woke up,

I was happy and full of life,

Pleasure seemed to follow me everywhere,

For I had escaped from the fairground

4. My wounds were scars now,

But some wounds didn't seem to heal,

I'm still living with them,

Reminding me of that day at the fairground

5. That horrible day had changed my life,

Through the gates of change I went,

To become wise

6. Not so long ago I returned to the fairground,

It had changed now,

The machines didn't work,

It was a mess

7. It seemed no one was working there anymore,

And I found some small lights,

I found some joy

8. It's a pleasure to be here now,

Through the gates of change,

I found a new way to deal with it

9. And I will return here many times,

Searching for the last lights,

Of a fairground I never understood

10. And I will sing here and dance here,

To raise the fairground again,

But this time in my way,

In my ways we will do it again

11. And it will be so much better,

And it will visit so many places,

And so many will come,

For the fairground has just begun

12. Through the gates of change they go,

Heading from show to show

Queen Ant

1. Wargoddess, queen ant, laying eggs in the middle, making the dollars roll On wallstreet she is the lady bowling, bowling, making dresses too fragile to hold

2. Wargoddess, she flies with horses, queen ant, prosperous smile and liberty She has mighty flags all around her They need to be big, so everyone understands They need to be rough, the blood must flow It's raising money for the show Six helicopters in a row

3. Wargoddess, queen ant, showing us how ladies bend Tears in her eyes, she got the flu and all she dreams about is you You, her mighty tv hero But you got shot in episode two It's drama she makes, and drama she expects She needs some love, and this is how she does it
....

4. Wargoddess, tragedy when you stand up it's all misery She lets the dollars roll She gives them in eggs Brooders is what she wants

5. Dollar hatchers, snake's surprise, she's gliding forth, through battlefields and mines She's gliding forth to do her thing Making all the losers win Blood on the dancefloor, and in the house Blood on the ceiling, through the door it slides They stand there with golden smiles

.... Trophies full of money Small coins, but many papers to hide

6. She wants it big, no testimonies She wants it cool, all for you Foam on money, who lets it spout, champagne in Wallstreet, champagne so wild Queen ant rides the horse Her chariots full of fire

The Dollars of Queen Bee

1. Turn the chocolate, girl, turn it all around, to find the pearl, you're machinery, baby, you're the show in wild wild version, in treasure

Turn the chocolate, green girl, and become blue

2. Turn the chocolate, white girl, we're all colours, we're all dollars,

Turn the ocean white, pale girl, and hit the ball, hit the pearl, turn the ocean, blue girl

3. Turn the chocolate, make it wide, stretch it out and let us decide, we're all dollars, baby, dyed in red

4. We're bloodmoney, we've been stolen, we have been in the assassin's hand, in those of liars and of those telling nonsense We have been in the hands of scrooges, of capitalists and cannibals
We have been in the hands of idiots and those who are insane Put us in and play us, baby We need some help We're dollars dying in hell's rain

5. We're the lullaby, we're bloodmoney, roses dying We've been to hell and now we're back
So play us baby, turn the green Make it white instead

6. Make it like water, make it like yesterday For the days are dying

7. We're longing back for the old days ... We're dollars, we're smiles on tv We returned from the underground With so much gold in our eyes We're dollars to your surprise

8. We want to be picked up by a lady this time, a lady gentle with a wide smile A lady trustworthy, and full of tv A lady like a nurse, like a queen bee

Fat Hotel Boss

1. The fat hotel boss was a cruel man, he always scared the guests away. Suzy was a leather woman, with many leather traps, she would catch them all. Tommy wanted to escape. Who could burn this freaky hotel.

2. The fat hotel boss had a cook who ate brains, sleeping in the corridors, dreaming on the stairways, while monkeys were in the elevators. The fat hotel boss was friendly to the ladies, but he used to beat the guys up.

3. The fat hotel boss had a big hotel. One day someone brought him under a spell, and he was the kindest hotel boss in town. So friendly, so lovely, everyone knew his name. Everybody loved him, he got so much fame.

4. The fat hotel boss had made some small animals, with a small Jesus, a small Mary and a small Joseph. It was Christmas. The fat hotel boss he wanted to enjoy the days before Christmas. Everywhere there were candles. Then a boy came to the hotel, and asked the boss if he could play the piano and some violin, and the boss agreed. He loved it. The fat hotel boss he wanted to keep the boy in the hotel, all for free, and the boy liked coffee.

5. There was always such joy in the hotel, after that spell.

6. Fat hotel boss, even vampires and bats came to his hotel. They all loved him, they all needed him. He was their star. There was a place for all, the friendliest people came here. Kids could find their grandparents here, lonely people their lovers. Fat hotel boss, big name in history, when he died it was such a loss.

Ditches of Venice

1. You came from far away,

Through the ditches of Venice,

Through the painting,

All your way,

You brought the Spanish girl back to the painting,

A pretty sight,

She has colourful clothes,

I can dream with this lady

2. I smell the oranges when I stare at her,

I adorn her with small banana images,

I adorn her with fairytales,

The finest ones I could find,

She's a pearl to me,

A precious pearl,

This Spanish girl

3. You brought the Spanish girl back,

You girl from French,

You brought her where she belonged,

In the painting,

Through the Spanish alleys she runs,

There are grapes in Venice,

She believes, she believes

4. You brought the Spanish girl back, high in her painting,

High attics in high churches,

She's sliding across the walls

5. Spanish girl, black painting,

Spanish girl

6. She's there with her dog,

And do you believe,

She's sliding through the ditches of Venice,

With me, sweet fairytales,

Among the rats and fishes,

Oranges and bananas everywhere,

She brings me through the frames,

Across the lines,

The painting comes alive

7. Ditches of Venice,

Grey morning,

Afternoon is orange,

Evening's red

8. She comes with all her soldiers,

She comes with all her dogs,

She's bigger than a fairground,

She's the warmth on the beach,

The breath in the alley,

Painting's coming alive

9. Ditches of Venice,

Grey morning,

Afternoon is orange,

Evening's red

10. Do the dance with me,

You saved a Spanish girl,

Oh French girl,

Cowboy indian girl

11. I paint the world for you,

And everything will be good,

I paint the morning,

Evening's red,

So many clocks,

I paint the world for you,

These grapes of Venice

12. In the alleys of pisa I found you,

Who had covered this all up,

Who was playing the police,

I found you now,

You feel my hand,

I bring you into the picture,

You will come alive again

13. In the alleys of pisa I found you,

Oh girl, I found you,

Who covered this all up,

There's a world so deep here,

You're my cowboy indian,

You're my gypsy rod,

A bleeding fairytale,

But I have found you now,

Cover her by red roses,

By petals of the clown,

Smile a bit deeper,

Breath in some more,

I have found you in a flower on the shore

14. We must run away now,

To the wild west,

For flowers are burning here,

There's fire everywhere

15. Grapes of Venice,

Alleys of pisa,

All to bring us deeper into the pearl

16. She's swimming there among rats and fishes,

She's swimming there with me

17. Grapes of Venice a pretty picture,

Grapes of Venice, so Venice,

All to rise higher into the picture,

Into the painting there's a new world

18. She was a Spanish princess,

He was a cowboy's prince,

Doing the do together,

Riding on the wind,

She's swimming there with me

19. She was a Spanish princess,

He was a cowboy's grief,

Doing the do together,

For all those who believe

20. She was a Spanish princess,

He was a mother's boy,

Walking hand in hand,

Towards forever joy

21. In the painting they have found each other,

They felt each other's hand,

Now they are together,

Grapes of Venice,

Fairytales of make-belief,

Grapes of Venice,

Red red roses of an indian chief

22. Can you feel my hand,

Picture's freezing,

We're in the painting now,

What a survey,

We are alive,

We are alive and well

23. She was an Italian princess,

Nathaly from Italy,

He was a boy from france,

With so many boys from Greece,

Make my painting white,

Make my roses and flowers pale,

Make them oh so white,

Adorn them like snow

24. She was a gypsy princess,

Doing the do,

She was a princess from Greece,

From Spain and from France,

Let's do the dance,

And raise them into the picture,

The painting's freezing,

There's chocolate everywhere,

Flowers are big,

With rabbits and frogs

25. He was a gypsy prince,

A prince from Spain and France,

A prince from Greece and Italy,

Coming from the alley's of pisa and the alleys of mars,

He was a greek greek horse,

A fairytale,

A blue white fairytale,

All these grapes of Venice,

All these colours of joy,

All these torn clothes,

Made of oranges and bananas,

What a well,

What a wishing well

26. She swims there with her parrots,

When she's on the shore she raises her gun,

She knows where she belongs,

Who covered this all up,

The cops are running,

Someone comes from the alleys of pisa,

Someone comes from the alleys of Venice,

Who has covered them up so long,

And who's raising these paintings now,

Who's raising the boys now,

They are the boys from lynx,

Boys from pierot,

He's raising them tall,

They're growing from pisa to Venice,

Like an adorned bridge,

White as snow,

These boys know how to do the show

Chopin's Pearl

1. The final strike, she's coming to me, like a leather rainbow, she's my dream ... I told her she's a masterpiece, a sidewalk's show, oh oh

2. Boys from pisa and Venice, from spain and france they do the dance,

They come from mars and lynx, they come from the gypsy's heart,

From the mother violin,

These boys from lynx, they know how to win,

I hold my baby tight

3. Boys with the big dogs, bigger than lions and tigers,

These dogs they bite like no one can,

They are atomic bombs

4. Boys with the big dogs,

Boys from the violin,

Hear their tales,

Always fight to win,

Fight to win

5. These alleys have been painted,

By the violins of Venice,

By the violins of pisa and pierot,

By the mother violin they have been painted,

The beginning of the show

6. My heart is beating,

For the first time in my life,

I hold my baby tight

7. By piano's of Venice,

By violins of pisa,

The clowns run,

They dive on stages,

They do it in harmony,

By the rod of synchronity

8. There is chaos in the ditches of Venice,

What a paradox,

What a painting,

And I raise you tall in it,

The rod has made us thin

9. Spanish girl,

Princess of the hotels

10. Spanish girl,

Chopin's pearl,

You are the daughter of the king,

Chopin's roses around your chin,

Are you blushing

Chopin

1. He's like the sovenir this boy, pinocchio is running,

Bringing him another toy

2. Stromboli watches from a distance,

He cannot do anything,

For he has been tied by leather red rope,

Indians were here

3. He's like the gold,

This Pinocchio,

I loved him from beginning,

His heart is beating for the show,

He's a boy from the painting,

Cut and pasted by the violin,

A pretty puzzle,

Made to win

4. Made to survive in this jungle

5. He's like gold Pinocchio,

He's like my silver,

Doing the show,

He speaks with many voices,

He's the boy from the painting,

Cut and pasted by the violin and the piano,

Piano made some blossom,

Oceans for a deep show

6. This boy is like the gold,

So many rays on his head,

He's like osiris,

Like sindbad,

Like gepetto

7. He's like the ornament,

He is chopin,

He is my friend

8. He can make sounds like a lullaby,

He can make sounds like an ocean,

And all the sand is like bubbling, like magic,

Painting the picture all over again,

The painting is moving

9. Lips are coming through,

Big lips,

Kissing ...

Big lips

From paradise

10. Purple painting,

French girls in white

11. This boy was lying on the beach,

There was a rattlesnake,

The boy took it,

Made a necklace of it,

What a pretty necklace,

How pretty are the boys in white,

Boy in white,

Boy in transparent light

12. Boys from lynx,

Boys coming from the depths,

Boys with deep thoughts in their head

13. He made a book for me,

Like a world beyond fairytale,

He wrote a letter to me,

And the letter was a ladder to me,

Like a world beyond fairytale he was to me

14. Chopin do the dance,

Do the dance for me

15. There was a boy called chopin,

A boy in white,

Necklace of a rattlesnake

16. There was a bird losing it's feathers,

It was screaming help me,

Catch me in the night,

Catch me in the deepest night

Warfeathers

Path

1. They never chose this path, someone pushed them on it They never chose to be warriors, mean boys But someone turned them into these Who ? A witch ? Now they are werewolves They can't be trusted Their eyes full of scorn full of deception leading them all to the traps Evergrowing suffering they inflict

2. They are the mean boys, mean ones hearts burning like fire But it's something else It eats souls away, while it's always growing again They are sons of Prometheus, they have been in Tantalos for too long These boys are crazy now and can't be trusted Too much pain and hunger made them this insane

3. But you weren't listening to me You were breeding them As breeding the mean boys, that's what you do

4. I gave up on you already, long ago You made me one of them There's no way out This is the sad story of a mariner's son A sailor one Hoping to become general one day to defeat this dragon

Rebirth

5. I get drunk while I'm only watching you, while others turn into stone You're like Medusa, strange one I get drunk when I see your legs moving You have legs like tall red boots, and every step is another bar of my prison Lead me out, you're like the lion Lead me out, this time You're breathing like the ward Mean boys at the coasts Your legs like mean boys What can I do ?

6. There's no way out of this, since you pushed that button, since the spears fell down, now they're standing tall, turning, like grills after all There's no escape from this place It shrieks when I move She has pushed the button, oh yeah but realize it's the way of the fool

7. You're so obsessed with your Tantalos, but one day the mean boys will also strike you All breeders breed predators, and one day they burst out But everyone breeds, we never chose this path Someone has pushed us Who ? The witch ? Now we are werewolves and now we can't be trusted Our eyes full of scorn, full of deception We are like mean boys now We gotta grow up and change our point of view We are like men at crosses We do not know what we do

8. Wake up, you're under someone's feet, you never chose this path So be reborn

9. She smiles like an insectian It's not a smile but a cry A cry for help, but what can you do ?
There are strange bars between us When we move they shriek Whatever we do it always hurts someone, and when we do nothing it hurts them too So what can we do ? We must choose the best path, a path which is best for me and you

10. And do we hurt ourselves ? By every step we make We are fooling ourselves so much, for we can't stand the pain It's hopeless, this reality but it's a cocoon my dear Who taught you that butterflies come out of the cocoon ? They all have to get in

11. We live in cutting wonderland, a visionary ball around our heads Letting us believe anything, as we do not have another choice We have to walk like they do, act like they do, or we will be refugees having nowhere to go to So hold on to the mask for awhile, I'm almost close I will save you out from this, there will be a new glow

12. Did you say love ? I will show you where we are We all live in slow motion until we freeze We're like stone producing the new fire

13. And they were made of stone Made by life Their faces hard and full of scorn Stay away from us We won't show you where we live

14. We live where roses burn until they are flies

15. We're flies soaring in the air, on our way to death, until it burns the last mask away, where the blood drip falls to catch them all Don't come closer Stay away You better stay on the hill For the memory to fly away

16. We live where roses burn, where it all explodes Nothing to hide anymore We are all dirt and beauty in our fall

Burning Roses

1. They never chose this path, someone pushed them, pushed them far. Like orange suns exploding, spreading their arms of fire. And now we all must run for our lives, for they're coming down to take us and break us. There's scorn on their faces, they have mocking crowns, they are all burning roses They never go to bed or bath, for someone has struck them that way Their dirt is a sword, their foul mouth a spear

2. They're standing at the coasts, on the sands of seas Like dragonlegs, like the legs of a woman They're treading the grapes for wine like soldiers But they never chose this path They never chose this path Someone pushed them in this fire Someone bound them together in this army, but they would never choose each other for this

3. They never go to bed or bath, there is fire coming from their heart, a fire falling down on everything, at the coasts they rise, on the sands of the seas Yes, my heart is still in fire since I saw them And I don't want to believe I'm one of them

4. Let us all run for our lives, for they're coming down to break us, they're coming down to take us, to make us one of them One of them, full of glory, like legs of a dragon we walk The woman is dangerous, we can't talk We can only stand at the coasts catching her spark When she moves her hand we bend This is something she pretends We are all living in her dreams, no way out For the mean boys she needs for war There is war in the sky, orange suns falling down And she's holding her heart While the boys hold her scorn of something from million years ago They do not know about her other life She was forced to be someone's wife Now she thinks that marriage is a lie So she lets them march and tells them goodbye

Afternoon Wine

tall lights from the red

1. I'm walking on the beach, in the sand, carrying pains no one understands ... The waves speak of red grapes ... I'm diving underwater in a cold embrace ... The bridge is opening in me ... Spreading hearts like baby's thunder ... The dream is about to escape ... to a new land ... where it sets everything on fire ... No one understands these days ... If it would be yesterday ... no one would hear them ... In the land of tomorrow I live ... I'm behind a mask of zorro She's a red little potatoe ... guiding me in her car ... So many strange sounds are opening windows and her knee is bleeding ... telling me she understands me ...

2. After many nights I can talk again ... breath again while she is next to me ... this little red potatoe ... making me understand ... delivering me ... If it would be yesterday ... I wouldn't hear her ... She gave me the key ...

3. In tomorrowland ... no one understands, but they heard the breeze, the silent manouvres of a dark line behind the big potatoe ... They all come free ...

4. The red picnic was a daily understanding line of me ... Now I hear ... I'm finally free ... These roses are spread ... these days are counted by the wizard of my dreams ... always reaching for something bigger in the land of understanding ... where my baby is sitting on her knees ... splitting ... like warguns they come over to spread the tales of destiny ...

5. The woman talks, the woman curses ... trying to make me insecure I'm losing it ... but tomorrow I'm standing on her shore There's bread and milk around her She freezes when she sees me Please forget about me ... I'm not your tailor ... I want to scream I want to run away but this glue is killing me Finally Cocoon's end ... She's spreading the butter no one understood ... and I walk with these strange feelings And she said : You have overcome me ... Like daily bread she is ... her town and tower undercover She has a mate in me

red ship

6. I was depressed but he saved me, he gave me, new wine to drink, bottles to order ... I was depressed but his mind was thinking of what he would do to me He understands the threat of this woman ... He's spreading his tales over her knee No one understands me but he gave me his light to fight against the destiny of a green dreamlight

7. He took me in his cabine He took me to his wardrobe ... where he pushed me deep inside He had to hide me, for the pirates would come Or would they even burn the ship So he gave me his green dreammoonlight and he ordered a green green milk for me he gave me satisfactions and desires to breed

8. But one day he jumped away his ship he left and I had to be the captain of his dreams but still he gave me tears of sweet green destiny ... He's speaking to me ... like a daily clown but I can't discover it I'm into loudness and destruction I can't hear him anymore I only cry and cry ... for he was who I adored

where is the magic

9. And I thought where is the magic where is the light ... it's taken away by the fight And I thought I need some rosetrousers ... I need to escape just like he did to make someone else a captain hoping he would also escape like we did

Sea of Death

1. I lost her on the end of my life. And as I made my ship of wood, I wandered over the sea of death.

It was like a black sea, black waters. I didn't know where to go. Waves could become high, smashing me down in their insides. Strange fishes were here. Even seeing them was like I could touch them, and it was an experience a thousand times intenser than a material touch. Would I find her back at the end of this sea ? She was my rabbit girl. She always talked like a small child, like a baby. I see the rabbit ears in the distance, and rabbit ears are on my sail, and these ears are winged.

Huge wings like the red eagles. The black sun is burning my body, tattooing it. There's no way back, I have to move forwards. This is the sea of death. Where will my journey go to, will I ever find the other side of this sea ? Strange smells are climbing on me. The feelings are so huge, and so deep. And when I dream, I dream of her, and then I wake up, by the sunlights of the morning, and I'm still on this wooden ship, on this black sea.

2. I lost her on the end of my life, it's like my mouth is full of tears, it's hard to talk. Rabbit girl, can you hear me ? Please talk to me, I'm lying stretched out on my boat. The only thing I have here is a pink doll, made by you. It's my comfort, when I talk to you. Will I die another time in this sea, or will I reach the red city on the other side, where the red sun rises from. I see an island in the distance. The waves are bringing me there. I see a black bottle floating through the waves, and the water is so bright here. I take the bottle, there's a paper in it. It's a letter from you, written in pink. Surrounded by glitters. I follow the strange smells to the island, where I step on the sand. I hope to find you here, but there's no one there. I must survive here on this island, or move forwards. I stay awhile on this island, and then I move forwards, heading for the horizons of this sea. The sun is reaching for my heart. I see rabbit ears in the red skies. Please talk to me, I can only cry. I'm so desperate on this sea, I'm sinking deep into your tears. The sea is warm, it is okay. I comfort you. Even if I don't hear anything from you, I will keep on talking to you. I feel the beatings of your heart, but you aren't here. I keep dreaming about you, but when I wake up, I am alone.

My French Girl

1. My french girl, I want to paint the world for you,

My French girl, bringing you in that painting again,

There where flowers are and striped bushes,

My French girl, and do the do

2. We can dance together again in that boat,

Across the rivers of Venice

3. My French girl, I will adorn you with the finest jewelry,

With the finest fairytales, from my heart to you,

For you saved my life, and raised me up into the picture,

Through the frames you brought me,

You were like the storm

4. My French girl, you painted worlds forever,

Big flowers, yes, you are my heart,

French girl, you painted my heart forever,

It's beating now, and you are the warmth on my beaches

5. We can dance together in that boat,

Across rivers of Venice,

There's jewelry in your hair,

Big dogs are running since you came,

You with the gypsy's rod,

With the indian's coat,

I love you

6. You're the dreamboat's naked source,

You're the French dream in white,

White white dresses adorned like snow,

Blue white bite is the beginning of the show

7. I found you on stage but I raised you high,

You're grown up girl,

Childhood is over,

Find your pearls in the sky,

In the big painting I brought you again,

Covered by sand you stare at me,

Yes, blow, blow the wind to me,

Among the flowers we will be

8. You're a book in my hand, My French Girl,

You speak a language I understand

9. We can dance together again in that boat,

On the rivers of Venice,

Yes, ditches, adorned rods,

Tall enough to make us move,

I'm the cowboy indian on the roof,

I like to dive and swim along,

Among the rats and fishes,

All day long,

I'm with you again, you again,

My treasure

10. Spanish girl we paint the ditches,

Spanish girl we make the riches,

You're so Spanish French,

You're an indian,

Do the dance

11. Your pretty hats they stare at me,

Your movements adorn me,

I feel so special when I am with you,

I am a French boy, doing the do

Ballerina Girl

1. A day at the fairground, a day between you and me

So much horror, so much grief, it's a battle,

We always misunderstand each other,

And you think life is a game,

Well, I have become like you

2. I'm in a deeper pit than you are,

I asked it and I got it,

Bought it somewhere at a fairground

3. A clown gave it to me,

It worked, and killed me

4. Why did I eat this stuff ?

I wanted to meet you in your loss

5. I got you by the hand now,

I don't come from above,

But I come from the depths

6. A day at the fairground, a day between you and me,

I played a game and won you,

I will take you home, I found you,

I took you out of that awful machine,

How long did you work here

Ballerina girl

Predator

1. There are killer clowns at the fairground,

They have raised their knives so high,

And they cover them by cakes,

By prices to win,

All they want is your heart,

All they want is you take them home tonight

2. Who would blame them,

They live here in terror,

In prisons and in slavery,

Have you seen the tears of these clowns,

Why do you make fun of them,

Why do you think they are insane

Why did you kill them

3. There are clowns at the fairground,

They do not have much to eat,

At nights they live in Africa,

When the morning falls it's Russia

4. There are clowns at the fairground,

Killed by you and me,

Killed by an overconsuming society,

Fat bosses like to eat,

But they hang at their crosses

5. There are clowns at the fairground,

Some nasty girls do the ditches,

Some nasty girls have spoken some words,

Of liberty and football, lusty designs,

A show after all

Why do you keep these animals imprisoned

6. There are clowns at the fairground,

Fables between you and me,

While girls are gossiping they drown in grief,

There are clowns at the fairground,

They never win a game,

While you are always winning, you take them away,

To a home where they can live at your wall,

A home which looks like a carnival

7. There are clowns at the wall,

They are your heroes,

They work day and night,
To give you some coffee,
And a lot of food and light,
Yes, you fatten yourself up,
To be happy is your goal,
While the children of Africa,
Oh, that is hell,
For we belong to heaven,
We belong to the thrones of Spain,
Where the animals have to die,
All those who are insane,
Can you take this any longer,
You have your own crosses I'm sure,
So who nailed us so high
8. There are clowns at the wall,
At nights they come alive,

They are our nightmares

9. Why do you want to be happy,

While others need to suffer for you,

Isn't that insane, or are you just a predator

10. There are clowns at the walls,

Asking for your name,

They are reading the book of life,

To search for predators

11. There are clowns at the fairground,

So happy their faces,

For they found some new places

Traffic of War

1. They do not have an own personality,

They just gossip, they just eat,

All those fat bosses

2. And they become fat too,

Those with the microphones,

But cosmetics covers it all,

The chemical carnival

3. You do not know what they do in their houses,

They love to eat their own meat as well,

Isn't it an insane farm,

A fairground and a factory

4. Who raises them up in the army,

And against who is the fight ?

Isn't it insane to fight without having some brains,

Or are the brains the problems

5. There's racism at the fairground,

No one lets the other win,

All scared to lose the game,

For the losers have to do the dishes,

They have to work backstage,

To discover all the secrets

6. There are dolls at the fairground,

Cheerleaders choosing their race,

Then the game begins,

The big fight, ending in war,

To have some lights in the night,

To read the book of life

7. What gives you the right to be somebody,

What gives you the right to judge,

What gives you the right to fight,

Do you have the right colour

8. Is there a throne of god,

What if he is a clown,

What if he's a deceiver,

What if the real god is bound up in the cellar,

What if he will rise tonight,

I saw it happening at the fairground,

A beautiful game,

The ballgame with the lights

Overcoming the Game

1. Someone played this game,

And now the fairground is exploding,

While dollars are rolling,

Or is it blood

2. He won a vision,

He saw god

3. A fairground car full of games,

Why aren't rabbits the leaders of this world

4. He had cracked the game,

He had overcome the game,

And in the book of games was his name

5. He got a harem and some eggs,

A breakfast and some beds,

And a world beyond fairytale,

He was free now,

Beyond the backstage,

He got some boats, but what did he do ?

He built his own fairground

6. How long will this go on,

Who will shut this book of fairgrounds,

Or isn't there an exit

7. There's no escape from this strange restaurant,

For every exit is the entrance,

It's a trap and we come deeper and deeper,

Don't move, that's the best thing to do,

For everything moves by itself

8. We are part of the machinery,

Our saviours were our wards,

Waiters of this strange restaurant,

They have poisoned us,

They have made us drunk

9. No one knows the way out,

And if someone does,

He will just lead us deeper into it

10. I wished I would never have met her,

But it's too late,

This babe cannot be manipulated,

And takes everything over,

We're her soldiers at the end of the day,

One of the waiters,

Eatable, broken, but risen like jesus christ by cosmetics and chemicals,

To eat and to be eaten,

To become fat and make fat,

While rare explosions make us thin

11. We are toys in boxes, killer toys,

Not wanting to live in their rooms, but in their hearts,

We are marionets and puppetmakers, puppetmasters,

All by a stupid fairground,

Always rising from it's ashes

12. The laws of the fairground are always switching,

Chaos is master here, unless you can dance,

You need to know the songs or you are roadkill

13. And these clowns their mouths are burning,

Eating your souls until you are turning,

Dance, dance, or it will be too late,

The book of life is open

14. Run, run, or they will get you,

Their posters are everywhere in town,

Their billboards big in every village,

But where do we go,

We are part of the show

15. There is no escape from the story,

Our fate is evergrowing,

Our names written by clowns' pencils,

Our hearts rotting in spoilt decembers,

How will you be at christmas,

We lay on dishes to grow in clowns' stomachs

Sick of Laughing

1. This is the place where the clowns play,

They sit on thrones in tall halls,

Like holograms in the brains

2. This is the place where the clowns play,

They use others as toys,

Don't you think that's insane,

But who is insane after all,

The pot calling the kettle black

3. We are the judges,

Everyone else is wrong,

And we are right,

But we do not make a difference

4. Isn't that a sad story,

But this is the place where the clowns play,

Should have known it before,

But there seems to be no escape,

It's always the same

5. We are in a clowns' prison,

Condemned to be a judge and to be proud,

Condemned to have an ego

6. Someone else is always worse than us,

We have so many reasons to mock and judge,

We are slaves of the clown,

We are sick of laughing,

And now we have tight faces,

Still doing the same,

We can't laugh anymore,

But the others still laugh,

Or are these our masks

7. This is the place where the clowns play,

I should have told you before,

But you weren't home,

And I tried to call you on the phone

8. Now you have phones in your face,

But it is too late,

We're in the fire already,

This is where the clowns play

Other Side of the Wall

1. There are clowns in hell,

Their faces made of candy,

Made in the fire

2. They are marching loud,

No one can beat them, for they are the clowns,

They have made this place,

And know all about it

3. They aren't dumb, they are scientists,

Masked against the unknown

4. They know how to dance,

They know how to sing the songs,

They know how to play the game,

This is where they belong

5. When doors open they march in,

While others fall down

6. They have high thrones,

And believe in telepathy,

Their nerves are on sharp,

Like a harpoon

7. When they play the violin,

They just send their messages,

Into space,

To the other side of the wall

Flowerfields

neighbour's goodbye

1. Marazanta like Mary Poppins in the air ... No balloons, but flowers ... Heading for the buildings of the poles Marazanta like Mary Poppins in the air ... He whispers in my air with the softest voice ... Heading for new flowerfields ... The flowers are so warm ... Marazanta like Mary Poppins in the air ... Heading for the buildings of the poles ... The sew and saw crows stand tall like towers, disappearing in bubbles ...

2. Thornrose floating to her spinning wheels ... The roses will bloom tonight To cover the castle again ... It will not end in a kiss today ... For the lark is flying high heading for the buildings of the poles ... while the towers are tumbling while their houses have flowerfields on the floors

3. The bubble is raging like an overstressed pacman He's raging at ... the spanish princess ... He's staring at her ornaments ... her saw and sew toys ... The lark is flying high ... Old spinning wheels from an old old diary ... covered by flowers and some old dust heading for the buildings of the poles ... while the towers are tumbling while flowers grow on their floors and paradise birds sit in their attics ... and he speaks about Izu ... they do it when they are shattered ... their strange dances ... while perlottia is sleeping deeper the sting brought sleep the sting brought the jet the sting brought these flavors and now he is heading for perlottia ... heading for the buildings of the poles there he flies like mary poppins ... they bring us home, they bring us further ... where the flowers are so warm where they speak of oceans ... coasts of izu where they bring new sand to the bottom ... the sting is to bring us deeper ... the sting is to bring a deeper dream marazanta is flying like mary poppins in the sky ... while izu is stepping back from the wild sides ... having a good picture of the big toy again ... distance makes everything soft again ... while spinning around makes new colours

4. there's a raven's prince rising from the hat ... running for the last roundabout ... riding on purple horses ... he's speaking like a million trumpets while all songs slow down ... and fade away ... he's speaking like a crazy man like an esau looking for birds he gathers them all in his big basket there he sits on the back of the big hairy bird ... singing his thriller song his head spinning like a roundabout ... having a million racecars in his mouth he is speaking like .. a crazy man singing crazy songs ... about an ugly shark in seas of flowers with all these waves of teeth the rose's thorns surrounding the castle ... he's a sleepwalker only dreaming about it he's safe in the distance he defeated the green witch ... and all her trousers ... he's now .. the rainbow's friend ... he's a sleepwalker drunk of his mother's soup ... he lost his feathers ... but now he's rising from the ashes ... like the raven's phoenix ... like the raven's smile while all glasses break ... all the focus there's roaring a child inside ... the hairy bird still a funny bird full of jokes ... breaking all the focus he's safe in the heart of the cockatoo ... he has a roundabout head he is enchanted by a lark ...

5. ten men with roundabout heads ... walking through the desert ... making the pond so cold so cold there where the icecream is rising ... the lake of transformation the lark is rising from the ice ... rising to new horizons horizons of the toy sweet letters from momma's ... he's still missing her with the rainbows in his head like waiting for new rains to fall ... he's now .. on highways of perlottia on racecars of high tables bringing the toys and the candy to the boys ... in tall attics ... while these boys are still running in tall shirts without trousers ... they are running for business ... they are running for strange business of crazy birds ... running to christmastrees ... to the big gepetto ... that old time doll ... while they are floating to their birdnests ... doing the lark's movements ... heads like roundabouts ... standing on high purple heels these colors are wild too wild they are selling their christs for money ... they are rulers of toys and candy ... they are rainbow-kings ... but they're cruel to sinners and blasphemers ... the edges of their kingdoms are raw meat and horrorshows ... while the lark is their rocket coming from the ice heading for a place far away where no one can reach them ... only some nephews ... but they will never come as far as them ... where esau met the sons of cain

6. they're sitting behind their high tables ... playing a strange game ... kartates blazazarium ... tragedies ..from cartoon ... they're letting their marbles roll, laying their playcards in speed ...

purple light feather blankets

7. while the giant windows on the attic are staring at you ... like the eagle's messengers ... like the iron frames of owls ... so big ... these trees are reaching for something ... for those strange gardens of early days where the golden tea drips while the golden sharks are running through the waters ... the golden sun is staring ... some things heal so fast ... it's like the pear is heading for new coasts ... while ships bathe in softness ... they have many legs ... while the tridents are rising the golden sun is watching watching the iron teeth ... no one can break them again ... no one can shake them again ...

8. in too much noise the pears swim ... heading for ... a new africa ... where all the roofs are soft while the mandarines are lying on purple light feather beds ... they were divided by horns by visitations of strangers the man from beyond and behind still drives the car ...

9. the paradise bird will not be forgotten ... she will still shine ... with her tall purple tail spreading her light feathers in the night ... all these trees are growing there ... all those flowers are sitting there ... it is one step in a new flowerfield one step away from the summerfield with all those custards in the air ... with all those puddings ... streaming through the socks of elves ... it's making your head so wet like flowers dripping ...

10. children of oz ... children of a mailman's runner sliding through railroads ... like the last trains to oz's neptune to take a dive in elkland's baths swimming pools in deep forests ... but only the snake was a guide over the rivers of death towers grew tall in his kingdom of sickness while the dogs watched them ... so tired an orange was riding them having so many tricks having such tall smiles deeper inside the dwarf lived and there the shops were cold ... cold as the lark ...

11. now the orange could also grow in speed to bring forth a pear easy enough ... for a picture of luxury and comfort ... fire on the carseats ships sinking like titanics they all flew like larks back to their towers they shut their doors with a shhh ... like million of doors were shutting ... like millions of neighbours were leaving like trains of mars were coming ... to bring the blue face back

12. back to izu was his name ... this man coming from underwater now he's rising to perlottia ... and to all the gates of elkland breeding tomorrow's superstars ... with the liquid guitars ... hot triangles in a pot of water through summerdays and milkdays ... the trains will arrive they will arrive like a cold man in hot chocolate ... to print the last tattoo ... to destroy the last leprechaun

13. the loss of memory the loss of marbles ... while egypt's eye is closing up and all which is dreaming inside ... a gate of transformation ... where the silver moons turn into gold where the eagle messenger shows the giant hills the roofs of owls and other birds where the sparrow shows her mourners ... where the rose turns into a faery once again he is just an elevator ... he is just a red balloon with zepellins from mars under his feet ... and so many horns on his head ... they will show the anchor ... they will show the final award ... a giant's dive of sandman putting their marks sharp to lay the additions ... they're heading for ... the sun's balloon ... the last drip of a rain .. still peacock's horrorshows ... they are the birds of another paradise ... they are the watchers of oz

14. they stand tall raising izu ... golden marbles on a silver dish but not to be touched ... only to view ... she's the watcher of andromeda ... she opens her clocks still a strange client after all ... here a rocket goes to wilhelm's city ... he's standing there like a tall statue in the museum ... not caring about clocks anymore ... now the trafficlights are all shot ... now the baker's windows are all broken ... here the kites are meeting ...

15. ben maten the animal's friend ... these paintings are all ... protected by his laws ... trademarked by the cartoon ... copyrighted to protect them against the big rape ... a nuclear war is what they fear ... the libraries reach for the paintings ... the art museum on snake's pillars ... while ben maten is sailing his ships ... higher in the skies ... while walking through the whirlpools while entering through waterfallcurtains until you touch ... here the toystatues stand ... the enchanted ponds and the ice mirrors ... through which you freeze yourself into a new painting ... in a new andromeda ... to get drunk so drunk reaching for the final delirium ... where children of owls live ... but also a squirtle

when the squirtel screams ...

16. finally only a toy is standing there surrounded by dwarves ... it does not sleep ... but it is king ... it's floating in the air ... like a red balloon ... it doesn't move, but it is king ... and a toyworld is inside ... so soft

17. it's the world of a deaf child, but inside he can hear ... it's the world of an autistic child ... but inside he has his connections ... here he can touch the new aldebaran ... here he can feel connection to his toys ... and finding so many new ones

18. everything he lost outside can grow inside now he's now living in a shell ... an ambient world ... here he can touch the shadows of the world he lost outside ... and it's finally better like this

19. and he doesn't know how many times the squirtel will have to scream again ... but he will climb it's ladder to the custardworld there were pancakes and cookies come alive ... there where the tarts are ruling having their own birthdays and mas's ... there where everything is transparent ...

20. and he knows the screams of the squirtel will only bring him deeper ... while watching the suits of carnival ... he's drinking from the candy juices bathing in custards ... while hearing the tunes of ages ... the ones enchanting him back to where he came from

21. while the squirtel is screaming ... giving power to machines of deers ... seventy zeppelins from mars ...

22. behind golden fences they stand like scarecrows between the flowerfields

a castle is standing in the middle ...

Poetry from the Yellow Milkmaid

The Lion's Fight

"Somebody's knocking on your old barn It's the ornament's prince the daydream's confession sitting on a hard day's mouse he's a good driver you admire his pears spinning like triangles in the wind good old day-possession"

living the red dragon

1. Pictures glowing on a sunday morning ... grandmother washed them with care ... they are so shiny now ... Pictures glowing in the grass ... mothers garden is full of glitters now like frogs trying to get your attention ... for that what is happening far away ... in the land over the hills ... And now, today, it's christmas ... santa clause is riding his horses ... these tall horses in the night ...
2. Peter Pan .. is painting the pictures ... having that strange boy in his arms ... that strange boy from saturn ... Peter Pan ... is washing the pictures with fire ... like she always did with her garden ... or by summersnow She's still my love ... she's still my silent witness of everything which is happening deep down .. there .. in my heart ... Where an old red man with the old grey long beard is standing painting his beard white .. so white ... He's tall and thin, thinking he's sandman ... but he isn't ...
3. He is the red dragon ... showing his muscles in the night ... and a young face showing his supermen in the night ... showing their blooming flowers they hold tied ... all stuffed up .. by a florist ... and this is why I don't want to see her ever again ...
4. He is the red dragon ... holding his goddess so tight ... but today she's mine again ... He is the red dragon ... painting his toys in the night ... but there's something so strange in their embraces and I don't trust their prayers for sweet coffee ... He is the red dragon sailing on a Japanese Ship ... sailing on the hand of his old father while he himself is so old They didn't dare to talk to me all these smiling girls ... For I was in the prison of the red dragon ... to have some stalkers around thick dragon walls Still they march on the towers ... on the walls of the castle singing their strange songs in the night ... marching in a strange dance if you ask me He is ... the ..red dragon ...

5. He is the red dragon ... holding his babies so tight ... and I'm still a young young girl ... He thinks
I am his paradise bird ... I'm a yellow mermaid Doing this poetry to you giving you this book ... He ... is ... the Red Dragon ...

6. He is the red dragon and I am his milkmaid he thinks ... I am his baby surrounded by watchers ... watchers in the night the nightwatch a painting ... nothing but a painting while everyone seems to like it ... while he's holding his goddess so tight ... but today she's mine again my mother will be free again for he now knows the secret ... and he know holds the treasures ... while he cannot bear it ... while milk is streaming all over to drown the lands once again ... his lands

7. He is the red dragon ... and she is a yellow milkmaid ... screaming in unknown languages ... He is the red dragon ... singing his songs of fire ... while he's living in ice deep down in ice ... He is the red dragon ... red ice so hot He is the red dragon ... and he's singing his songs of fire ... coming from the ice the red ice ... he was born in the nest of a lark ... he's still a lark-dragon ... he was born on both sides ... of a kettle ... a kettle of tea ... and he's still staring at something in the air ... something he don't want to know about ... he's still staring at a liar ... something bigger than he ... he's causing so much rains in farms ... he's causing some things to bleed ... he is dragging his smiling girls to the ground ... where they pay his bills ... where they make his trousers .. where they rule the kettle ... these sparrows in the wind

8. This woman is laughing at the rain ... of the sun This woman is laughing at his tails This woman is rising ... like the phoenix from the ashes ... like the caramel from the kettle this woman is rising She ... is the red lady ... she is the green babygirl ... she is the tall trousers ... coming from the moon ... She ... is the tall woman She ... is the woman from the tree She likes to paint in chaos ... scratching the treasures from his knee So many liars are walking around ... so many spoilers .. drinking their coffee ... So many liars in their ships The pride of the red dragon but he's still ... staring at someone more lying than him ...

9. Jokes full of possessions ... jokes full of dreams ... setting the babies free ... those babies with the big heads Jokes full of possessions ... jokes full of dreams

10. Somebody's knocking on your old barn It's the ornament's prince the daydream's confession sitting on a hard day's mouse he's a good driver you admire his pears spinning like triangles in the wind good old day-possession

11. He's standing tall on a million escalators ... He is the king of traffic, a nuclear war ... He is riding the orange ... hiding them all ... He loves to sooth books ... to steal their feathers so that he can throw them in the lakes while the golden swan is still his brother ... spreading the golden tea ...

by golden dignified fountains ... in the middle of these lakes ... He is the golden swan .. still his brother ... he is the golden swan ... still his maze these brothers are always fighting ... like two lions in a lake ... The four panthers will fall ... the four panthers will slide through the night ... until their mother gathers them all in a purple box

12. he is the red dragon ... that fourth brother in the night ... but he will fall in daylight ... losing all his possessions .. losing all his teeth ... returning to his coffin again ... this old ghost from nazi's soup ...

13. Pictures are glowing in the night ... pictures are glowing in the rain of tomorrows ... pictures are breathing like lion-hearts bringing the cats from london back ... Pictures are glowing in the universe ... pictures are dreaming like the daydream confessions ... Pictures of seabirds and paradisebirds ... with milkmaids on their back

14. He is the red dragon ... he was your mother's lover He made the cradle for you ... from old socks of forgotten christmasses ... He is riding the sock ... spinning his ornaments tight escaping through daylights ... staring at horses too high for him ... he will never ride these ... for they will ride him ... they are standing in teagardens ... waiting for the strike ...

holy supper

15. Bilmageln still the orange dragon ... the lion's dragon ... with the aslant eyes ... This time he isn't smiling, but complaining ... standing for the cloisterwindow all these iron lines inside ... make the tea so hot ... or do you want .. some juice ?

16. Bilmageln is the king of the sick ... having a sick eye ... while the other eye is dead ... the shark's eye ... and he's still knocking at the old window ... wanting to play some games ... while he's still complaining ... not smiling anymore ...

17. He will be the last train to virgo He will be the shark in the swanlake ... he will hurt the underwater trafficlghts ... while paradise birds will wait for him there ... While the milkmaids are the mermaids there Bilmageln makes this trip everyday Everyday it's on television ... before the children go to sleep ... before they get their movie-eyes .. to make their own shows ... like pictures glowing in the night ... pictures glowing like daylight-lovers ... pictures are watching the swanlakes and fishing for new movies ... Pictures marching to the forests pictures marching to the birdlakes ... pictures marching with candles in their hands ... with chinese lanterns with japanese decorations ... they all have their tall black jackets ... they all have their shames and their fears but when bilmageln swings the coffeepot they will have their own fountains in the lakes ... golden virgo fountains ... or silver, for another strike ... these virgo fountains seem to change ... in the middle of the night ...

18. There are pictures glowing on the markets ... there are pictures glowing in the lights ... there are pictures marching through the villages ... reaching for the deserts where the men with the sombbrero's live ... There are pictures sliding over the walls ... There are pictures sliding over the tiles ... yes, they slide through the roofs and touch the chickens inside ... when the paradise birds come

19. Bildmageln walks through the flowerfields ... when he stops walking it's like thunder is roaring in the distance ... and then the orange waterfalls stream before him while the orange rains are falling and a silverbird is sitting before him Then he enters the golden fields ... the land behind the rocks ... where he raises his frogs and canaries where he stands high on escalators
he is the orange dragon he is the lion's dragon when he touches the bread it all happened on a holy supper ... he did it all .. together with his small virgo dog ... his lapdog if it comes to that while the golden clocks were staring at the background ... until they all exploded

20. Bildmageln and his golden dog ... They come everywhere if you like it or not Benmaten is the name of the dog ... When he speaks it's like a million of shoeshops are opening ... While the ding dongs are playing in the distance ... you're entering the narrow hall ... you're worthy to be visited then ...

21. you never saw rio swimming through the night ... you never saw his racebrother you never saw his ornaments glittering ... for you were blinded by the red dragon ... when rio falls the red dragon takes over ... the fourth brother of this pocket

22. when rio falls ... it will rain rainbow-dragons and butterflies sitting on tall jellyfishes ... when rio falls ... smoke will rise from the seven hills ... then there will be daylight in the sand ...

23. they will all go back to their mother's purple box ... these powers were too dangerous to play with ... now the birthday's swimmingpool is rising ... and the racecars are roaring ... daddy's loud roaring trains are taking you away ... to a land of sand and boxes

24. on japanese lanterns they were painted these dragons one to four ... they will make a fall so hard that they will never reach the shore ... they were the kings from ancient grids ... they were the towers of ancient cats ... stirring up the milkmaids

25. it takes a little while to reach the holy supper .. it takes a little while to scream ... the daylight's terror ... finally over ... but now the cats of complaint come ...there will be no medicine seven

snakes will rise ... seven snakes will find their peace seven snakes will spin their ornaments and turning into dragons in the night ... they are the watchers of the elven forests ... they are the watchers of the green dream ... they are the watchers of the lifetime's possessions ... and they are so full of grief but here they will find their peace ... when the four brothers will fall then they will not be their puppets anymore then they will have their own ornaments there are seven snakes to rise there are seven snakes to rise .. they will slide to their ornaments to their snakelakes they are killing the criminal inside leaving his blood to some rats .. some rats

26. there are seven snakes to rise ... becoming purple in the night ... they rise like dragons ... they eat like pale ... pale roses they live like ornaments in the sky ... laying the tragedies so deep ... so deep .. there are seven snakes to rise ... fulfilling the ornaments ... old prophesies ... from a liquid tower ... from a liquid dream ... there are seven snakes to rise

27. like lamentations in a basket you see the poetry pictures ... surrounded by snakes they will rise there ... they will rise there ... from marilyn's grave ... and tonight they will be yours ... tonight they will make your suits ... for the next show ... for the next round salt covered by sweetness ... you will have to bite, you will have to bite ... until you see your father's fantasy .. the place where he had been drowned ... the place where he met that old father of church ... a churchfather just a churchfather you see when it's time for him ... to cover the earth ... with his dust just a churchfather ... just a father of a church a rat ... and now he's attached to the face of a raper and it will sink down like a stone in the lake in a lake of rats in speed they will touch you ... in speed will they grasp you and eat you in slow motion it's a communistic threat it's a day without a nazi ... but they look like it ... sure .. they look like it ... and still you remember their flags in the night ... those colourfull flags those flags ... of the jaguar

28. and on the bottoms of rat's lakes ... you find the purple again these floors are covered by strange paintings ... while the parrot is singing on it's island ... so far away ... so far away ... while benmaten that virgo dog ... that lapdog ... is standing tall like a kite on the escalators ... high in the sky catching all these paintings ...

29. and these rats ... they follow the dragon ... they follow the ornament's dragon ... they follow the jaguar's dragon ... still painted on their flags ... still painted ... while they have no name while they give away all attention entering through black points in the night still skew-eyed ... racing like rabbits ... on railroads ... too high for them ... until they all fall in a bottle while a milkmaid is smiling having more pictures for her poetry ... still ... the yellow milkmaid still the yellow story ...

30. her tail is touching venus ... her mouth is touching mars ... but she stays on her island ... with her parrots and her harlequins ... and her brave men ... so brave embracing the rats until they die ... she catches them in her trousers and then she gets drunk .. she gets so drunk ... to make that painting ... were you dreamt of when you were young .. so so young

31. but now you feel so old and now you feel so lonely so lost and alone ... so lost and alone the tails of your mother's dreams cannot reach you here your father's tails are too short so you can forget about it all but there is a little hope left in a rat's bottle ... where a milkmaid will make a new painting a yellow milkmaid is rising ... speaking in unknown languages ... screaming from the hills ... while the glues are all dripping ... making everything so small is she the queen of dwarves ... is she the queen after all

32. and she's walking to lapoendria ... where all the cats are living ... where they are all smiling ... all these pictures in glue ... all these ornaments hidden so well ...she always came like a visitor ... rising a fast spell transforming the weathers hiding her feathers so well not showing too many of them she still rides an artist's pencil ... are there still lions fighting ... are there still ornaments in the rain ... waiting for their daddy's ... waiting to spit the brain ... to spit the prain ...

33. are there still lions fighting are there still ornaments in the brain ... are there still daughters too tall to shake their visions are there still ... trains to lapoendria brains to the maze brains to mind's possessions ... brains to lay the lame frame are there still trains to lapoendria ... when the lion will be too smart when he lays his crazy jokes on the sideroads these are ornaments ... these are ornaments in side ... these are children's playtoys these are railroads of higher spaces in the alphabeth of sleep she can still sooth your intentions ... she can still soothe your heartbreaks while she's rising when your spine is speaking ... she is the soother of all these lampsteads she's crying till the purple is back to you all these lambs of soft sleeps ... of dreams too tall ... of the highways of the cinema's ... of the candytales of glued ... poetry pictures in grandmother's diaries ... this line of cockatoos ... she will rise

34. are there still lions rising ... are there still lions fight inside ... in this heart so broken ... in this tune so colourfull inside ... so colourfull inside are there still parrots leaving ... are there still parrots leaving inside to only come deeper ... to only touch your lame heart inside ... your lame heart inside

35. are there still dolls falling ... are there still skaters skating on the rivers are they still picking up the purple are they still painting new paintings and is peter pan still sleeping on his cupboard there ... waiting for the lullabies to enter deep down in someone's head to stir up all the treasures ... all the feathers inside your mother was a cannibal ... your father was it too but your aunt came like a roaring perfume to bring them to the world of 2 ... the world of 2 ...

36. your brother is a birdkiller your sister is a headcutter but your nephews came with roaring shoes ... riding the sock .. to kick them out of the window ...

37. your grandmother was too slow to rise ... your grandfather was a shark are there still lions fighting in the lake of rats ... are there still skaters skating there ... are there still dolls falling from there ...

38. here where the ponds are paintings here where the purple rules here where the candy is salt here where the orange strikes the blue here where the tiger goes to sleep to let another lion touch the moon here where the purple rules ...

39. here where the purple rules here where the thunder roars ... here where the men of high hats make their tall decisions ... all gathered by a storm all gathered by a goat on tall rollerskates ...

Railroads to Lapoendria

between a woman and a man ...

1. and it speaks to me ... it's just a criminal inside ... on the head of a dragon ... on the head of a plane too wide ... and it speaks to me, it wants to kill my wife ... it wants to eat all my children ... this complaining low end's lamentation

2. and it speaks to me ... it wants to kill my brother ... this criminal inside ... it wants to eat my husband ... and pull away all my feathers ...

3. it wants to pull me out ... out of my liquid roses ...

i still dream of this man

4. and it takes me in ... and it pulls me down like a raging plane ...

5. and it takes me in ... and it binds me together ... and then it swallows me

it's all between a woman and a man

6. it forbade me to see it this little criminal inside ...

between a man and a woman ...

but now there's nothing you can hide ...

it's spoiling me like the birthdays pool ...

like the name's brigade ...

railroads to lapoendria ...

waving white flag

my mother raised me she showed me the door she showed me two thousand trousers hanging around on the shore she spoke to me always in two words and then shutting a million doors she still loves me but i cannot be more than she wants for that would scratch my records and then i would be like a parrot lost in a stream she always brings me back to the shore again like a ritual at the end of the day for i still want to be more than she wants me to be

Orange Balloon ...

1. Orange balloon is flying through the night ... gathering the children ... under the weight of a fight he soothes them all into sleep ... he gives them all what they deserve ... It is sandman raking there ... the hearts of the children ... Sandman is riding on his orange balloon ... in his basket hanging under this zeppelin ... he flies to the moon ... taking all his children ... so deep inside ... warming them by the blankets of neptunian delights ... Sandman and Bilmageln still brothers in the night ... taking all the children ... away from the fight ... from cockaigne to z ... that big button in the air ... through which they can see the moons of their dreams ...

2. and when the orange strikes the red ... they will all dream these dreams ... then the red balloon rises ... and the virgo dog speaks ... the lapdog, that little dwarf ...

mixing the red through the white and the blue ...

still a strange jestersock ...

a tunnel ...

where all the children will win ...

for it's all just a movie ...

it's all just a dream ...

surrounded by orange ...

while a yellow waterlight is leading them through ...

3. journey through the stocking,

while Bilmageln, Benmaten and Sandman drink tea in Vega's diningroom ...

touching Rigil-Kent and Achernar ...

When Benmaten the lapdog is speaking ...

a million shoes open themselves ...

so many doors to travel through ...

he's still the red shoe ...

still the red balloon ...

he is still the keeper of dreams ...

4. Orange Balloon...

the railroadrunner

Orange Balloon ...

bringing all the children inside ...

to bring them all to blue and purple ...

where all their pictures freeze in the night ...

like statues for a comic book ...

5. Orange Balloon ...

a shark at some moments ...

Orange Balloon ...

a dragon deep in the night ...

raging until all his children are home ...

6. In an orange balloon ...

the eye of vega ...

In an orange balloon ...

the eye of rigil kent ...

standing aslant ... like mock and worry ...

sometimes skewed but also very straight ...

it opens doors and closes them ...

it watches rainbows and shatters them ...

he still has the waterkeys ...

those waterlights ...

leading them all through the night ...

only this snake could bring me over the rivers of death ...

7. he shuts doors like he shuts pockets ...

the red stone brings you down ...

into the nightmare ...

you're under the weight of manipulations and lamentations ...

you're under the weight of bills and summons ...

and finally you wake up by this red coffee ...

staring into a face of a red tiger ...

it is the red dragon ...

and now you're heading for another day in prison and crime ...

another day in the factory ...

8. under the weight of a red stone

we all meet daylight's horror again ...

all our dreams broken in a million pieces ...

like a japanese vase has been broken ...

9. but when the screaming voices become too loud ...

and when there will be too many of them ...

the red will strike the orange again ...

and we will sink in a deeper sleep again ...

reaching for ... the red licorice ...

reaching for the seas of red dreams ...

reaching for cockaign's jupiters and andromedas ...

for it's rigil kents and vegas

so that the story will rise once again ...

all surrounded by warm orange ...

10. you cannot fight the red stone ...

mother always said ...

when it becomes too heavy and too cold ...

it strikes the orange ...

11. and while they fight in the night

while they have their love dances ...

two crocodiles are watching tv ...

two old crocodiles ...

grey ones ...

they let their puppets dance ...

they let their marbles roll ...

when they reach too high

it strikes the silver ...

twenty soldiers in a row

twenty forks

and they will descend like hell

to cause sickness and pain ...

to bring the grand delirium

these masters so vain

12. when the silver strikes ...

these masters so vain ...

these name brigades

these identity guards ...

13. under the weight of a silver stone ...

we all get sick and we all get pain ...

we cannot fight this stone ...

it comes when red and orange jumps too high ...

there's nothing we can do ...

when red and orange become too heavy ...

then the forks will fall

thin forks ...

pushing a silver stone

and when the silver strikes the gold ...

it causes ... death

14. while the grey ones are still staring ...

getting older and older ...

until it strikes the gold for them too ...

15. and mother always says you cannot fight these stones ...

they are only to sharpen the swords,

and they protect you against something worse ...

so i love my marbles running through the night ...

they always switch and that makes the rainbow shine ...

Dwarve's Rain

And there in the distance , I hear dwarve's rain ... rain from the ornament ... they span it underground ... for secret conspiracies ... for trains too loud ... too loud to hear ...

Supermarket Lies

1. I'm smelling the supermarket-lights ... they are riding on grandfather's motors ... They are the dirty boys ... They are smoking in their helicopters
2. They are mocking the statues of holy men ... They are spitting their teeth out when they speak ... their words are sharp and they're laying their marks of glue ... The supermarket-lights are in town
3. They are the dirty boys ... They are putting holy men in their supermarket-boxes ... To have their big arena's ... while they sell the meat ... and stirring up their supermarket lights ... bending their big mirrors ... It's the big mock into town ... selling his comics ...
4. Supermarket Lights ... there are thunders in the air ... lightnings march through the streets ... like worldwar 2 nazi's ... they want to misunderstand the truth ... to speak with their devils ... they want to mix the meat ... so that they see their own rainbows ... that what they want to hear ... the bibles they want to read ... supermarket lights ... and they all walk aslant ... with their aslant faces ... laying

the marks of glue so deep ... shining their gluelights in the middle of the night ... bending sunlight
by their mirrors ... supermarket lights

5. the streetlights paralyzed the young woman ... she was now a walking piece of meat ... while the supermarket lights were smiling through the windows ... while spitting out their teeth ... it's an aslant city ... people like to misunderstand her ... they like to shine their supermarket-lights on her ... their lights of misunderstanding ... it's a dirty city ... they are reversing her for their own pleasures ...
it's a dirty town ... like the matador ... misunderstanding bulls ... these red supermarketlights ... these red trafficlights ... paralyzing us ... wars in lapsalvania ... wars of the red picnic ... all about a tv's tuner ... some red movielights ... the actor has red eyes today ... yesterday they were blue ... and tomorrow they will be blue again ... it's red against blue here ... twenty suicidal ants from the blue picnic were carrying the autistic's eye their blue lights were raising the Pinocchio-Balloon ... It was breathing so fast while blue points were appearing on him ... the boys from lynx sat in the baskets below this zeppelin ... trying to raise the microphone from the comics and the pockets ... he was a victim of business ... a victim of aslant faces ... cruel faces ... and this woman is never interested ... she's never curious ... it's never enough ... i know a place where it's never enough ... there ... in her heart ... and people still talk to her ... still trying to please her ... but it's never enough ...

6. and i'm still ... misunderstanding myself ... and i'm measuring myself to watching the sparks in the water fireworks in a glass of water ... all underwater .. hiding in glue ... these are still my tall christmas-presents ... bred by the boys from lynx ... in their fields .. i still watch my own shows in baskets of rain ... slowly trying to smoke some cigarettes ... with my head underwater ... these birds from cigarette ... how many deer does it take to raise them ...

7. and i'm finally smashed out by the billboards ... well i would leave you anyway

8. and i'm gathering my wet chesspieces ... yellow against the blue ... fights between friends are always softer than the real wars outside ... bites from z ... transparent pink gluemarks ... the deer eat the stories with their mouths of misunderstanding ... that's why their faces are bitter and paranoid ... they are ... suspicious minds ... they smoke their birds of cigarette ... that's how their trains move they are the deer of dementia ... blowing all stories to their pasts ...

9. they reverse their sodom and gomorrah's ... they reverse their weddings seeing the divorces in the cakes ... they hear the alarms when the orchestra's are playing ... they never trust your smiling faces ... for how many dwarves were killed to raise that one ... she's never satisfied ... she always delays her weddings ... and at the end there will never be a wedding ... and it even didn't exist ...
there will not be a future

Blessing of Dementia

children of the dune

1. At the end of the pipeline, Sandman sits with his orange doll faroom da bazite ... still a war-machine ... alkaline orange ... the hospital was full that day ... And at the end of that pipeline ... A yellow world opens ... a world of sand .. but it's all fake ... it's something else ... And there I see ... the bakerman's faces jewel ... spinning slowly above the sand ... while a leprechaun is sitting on it ... Talgamen ... A social machine ... A strange hospital ... where they drown babies when they are too ugly ... but it's all fake ...

2. Strange abortionists ... The doctors are all crazy here ... But they wear z-rings ... and their weddingrings are fake ... In the pond they drown the babies ... doctor Pharaos and doctor Herod While doctor Judas sells cigarettes to a statue called Jesus ... He's a dirty doctor ... He reads comics of "Sex in the Old Testament"

3. Far away from the hospital another pond exists ... a pond near the forest ... Here a faroom da bazite stands ... pissing in the pond It's a statue from Belgium ... The pond is still a tankstation for old busses and cars ... for old-timers and old trains ... They are raging at the strange hospital ... but it's all fake ... deep in this pond, some sharks live ... fake sharks .. they take visitors to the forest by an underground river

4. the river ends under the forest where the visitors are launched into the air above the forest where some fake eagles catch them ... a big machine hangs above the trees ... it's a sort of funpark ... where the boy called birthday works ... it's an icecream-machine ... where the cars race ... here a giant shark lives ... making figures in the air ... symbols and signs ... all by his tail ... It's another hospital ... and the shark becomes orange in the night ... to heal everyone who came from the hospital of the desert ... And at the end of the show ... the visitors slide out of the machine to enter the forest ... here the pathways always change ... here the leprechauns play ... and here another hospital stands ... where people lose their minds ... It's a mental institution .. Here the leprechauns do their swindling business ... They give the people their old toys back, but take their minds away instead ... here the visitors grow like aslant flowers to another hospital ... a hospital for aged people ... on a hill of the forest they are under the blessing of misunderstanding They feel like they are on a holiday ... From this hill they can see the seas and now they can be the clowns to the kids ... But there are no kids here They themselves are the kids ... They are children of the dunes ... Here they have their parties ... They feel like they are on a holiday ... They feel so young again ... It's the blessing of dementia ... Here they have their schools, and their markets ... but it is all fake ... These things are their toys now ... It doesn't harm them anymore Here they have their parties ... Here they can race their cars ... Here they can have their boats ... Here they can have their bike-planes and bike-cars to fly with fast clowns ... to enter their fake churches ... and drink their

fake wines ... to smoke their fake cigarettes ... these birds from cigarette ... While at the end of the day ... they slowly feel themselves ... sliding to the old desert again ... where the old leprechaun sits Talgamen ... The social machine ... that strange hospital ... there where they drown ugly babies ... there where the doctors read sex-comics there where they kill ugly old people ... a doctor says .. his name is God ... he wanders from hospital to hospital ... having his own strange ways of throwing a goat from a tower ... it still happens in Spain today ...

5. and you know I still blast at this picture I'm hanging like Harold Lloyd on this clock ... while Hitler, Jesus and Charlie Chaplin ... are still throwing their dice about it ... it's like Peter Pan against Captain Hook ... it's like Alice exposing her White Rabbit ... it's like Belcanov rising up again ... from that old old coffin .. that old old pocket ... melting the pick pocket faces ... by red light spots ... oh Lord, bless this handshake ... Talgamen ..

Shrieking Boys Clock

1. They shriek when they fall, They shriek when the goat falls from the hill, They shriek when an old man loses his hat, They shriek when a grandmother takes her grandson by the ear, They shriek ...

2. They shriek in their clock, When time falls, They shriek when the tart gets too many candles, When the lantern becomes too hot, They shriek ...

3. They shriek in their ornaments, They shriek when their Indian shoes become too tight, They shriek ... They shriek when the shark changes the cake .. They can't stand the changes ... They shriek when people watch them ... They shriek when they feel someone's hand ... They shriek ... They shriek when their trousers become too short ... They like to wear tall trousers over them ... They shriek when the ring stings the finger .. When the rose bites them in the neck ... They shriek when they get the tattoo ... They are the boys of hyperventilation ... with the hypersensitive guns ... They are empathic to goats ... but they let the rest die ... They are the boys of hysteria, They are the soldiers from the small box ... with their pale soft lips ... because they let them bleed too much ... They move by their shrieks ... Opening the waterfalls of tears ... They still love the pink ones ... They still go through custard's cocoon ... They still love to lick the spoon ... These boys from the shrieking clock ... They still grow in trees, and in green hills ... while their eyes are closed ... reaching for Jupiter's Nipple ... to drink from its milk ... that sweet milk ... while their lips are vibrating ... for they bit them too much ...

4. Vibrating lips searching for the tankstation ... Where they drink from faroom da bazite ... Still Sandman's Milk ... that orange milk ... turning yellow in the night ... And then they become ... the wild boys ... So many hulks wandering to the orange cafe ... Then they rage and race To become tall boys in the night ... on top of mornings ... They lay their flowers surprised ... This clock in Snow White's House ... so many strange things happening and it all happens ... when they shriek ... Shrieking Boys Clock ...

Red Dinosaur

1. Watching the red eye from a distance, this lion of glue, all in the sea, while chinese lanterns stare ... This aldebaran bird, this plastic fire, while green is against the purple ... the black face arrives ... chasing the nighttrouper away ... for it's almost daylight ...
2. The track to the deepest tax, what a nation, there are wolve gnats on the highways they have soap in their mouths ... spitting fires and lights ... they are from tax undercover .. In siam the tops of bottles are high ... while their caps fly into limited skies ... for their are bigger pictures behind ... screaming ... there are trains running ... to arabia and back ... but it's all in arabia ... when they go they just come ... trains of arabia .. while it's purple against the green ... shivering colors of a tiger ... democracy ... just a trick of tax ... a skilled dictator ... bred by those who didn't listen ...
3. an orange to make all things pale again ... transparent enough to lay the addiction ... while an onion and a potatoe are dancing ... these are things they can never reach ... while tax is growing in their head ... it's the black curse ... they are taxmasters of memory and association ... laying the addiction ... freezing the focus ... while you pay and pay ... until you are in money's hell ... where slaves are dying for money ... where there's never enough ...
4. never enough to save the children ... never enough ... to free a man ... this land is under a spell ...
5. when the orange smiles, the yellow rose falls, when the onion touches the moon ... a potatoe ... she hits the ground, it's the yellow spoon ... rising up to feed the awakening children ... these are jokes in the air ... this banana's child ... a good way to burn money .. to let the parties rise .. they call it charity ... but it's a trap ... for you are the slave the rest of your life ... walking with their caravans spreading the crime ... bark, your mouth gets without paper ... it's turning into glue, i told you at the beginning of the trip ... but you didn't listen ... breeding dictators ... and now they're standing here ...
6. the deepest taxes like holes to the station ... the yellow rose leaves from here ... too much confusion .. when the onion touches the potatoe .. under an orange smile ...

7. when the green hits the black it finally hits yellow ... then the squirtel will laugh ... until the banana touches the chocolate, a brown stone ... while the red is falling, and the squirtel will weep ... 60 days she will weep ... until the red touches the blue ... then she will become cold as ice ... until the blue hits the orange ... then she falls asleep ... to be a statue on a white chocolate marketsquare ... she rises ... all pears lead to the fir here ... one fir ... with so many edges ... and from the statue darta bahann comes to bring the snow the white dance

8. aldebaran birds as feathers in a gamble machine ... these machines of deer ... still on top of arabia's city ... where the movies dance ... it's a big jukebox, there's coffee streaming from it and all sorts of lemonades ... and in the evening and the night there's lion's tea for all ... while a red dinosaur is starting the trains ... these trains of deers these trains from arabia ... these are the caravans going to the deserts ... to pick up their prisoners .. for an authors kitchen

9. the red eye is spinning, the toys come alive, the movies are running ... and the thunderbirds are floating down .. while the curtains are rising ... and then closing, while a jesus-judas is descending ... into your darkest nights ... a night trouser ... never seeing daylight ... he has a bakerman's mouth full of blame ... these blaming mouths ... these bakerman's mouths ... roaring through the night ... while their bodies are inviting ... luring like billboards ... these are the displaydolls of bagdad .. striking you like thunder and lightening ... in this fisherman's boat ... you have no rights at all .. their mouths are roaring on aldebaran's coasts ... where statues of lions come alive ...

10. he has a bakerman's mouth, a red one, roaring through the nights, these are watertunnels leading you home ... these are spirals while the big 8 is running ... and then we are in bakerman's stomach ... pushing little buttons to z ... cockaigne had to eat, cockaigne had to swallow ... we are just a piece of meat ... coming alive in the stomach ... and what we see there ... the black pond ... and a dwarf with three roses ... showing us the tall cowboyfaces of the deserts ... and when they swallow us ... we can reach for the shoes ... the shoes ... while machines of deer are spinning ... we take flight ... we bend the light ... to make the fairytale complete the missing piece doesn't make us asleep again ... for it's in our hands now ... this red eye ...

11. to dive in a black pond of slavery ... where a black castle stands ... while a brown stone brings me to the arena ... some people never fight ... they never travel, they can't move ... while the brown lets me fight for freedom, i become more and more a prisoner ... and then i reach the purple ... where the delirium breaks me free ... these are the kisses of death ... binding me to liberty ... while the rats are running ... and three pirateships arise ... and chinese lanterns stare ... these are the fruits of orion ... dark creatures .. in okil's seas ...

"wings of dementia"

Blue spots, powdered spots, like winter's dreamglasses ... So soft, like glue inside, it is a plastic sight ... like toys ... Pink spots, so pale, the powders there are hiding, deep inside they blow like forest storms and storms of wilderness and deserts it is ... too late ... for you to tell your story ... now it ... is my turn Red spots, they burn, like soft wet fires on my skin, it is ... like the elf's glue running ... so strange ... i'm amazed ... when wasp rains are falling ... These are stinging trees and trousers ... Like balloons of wild powders ... I'm having so many hearts inside ... these wizard hearts banana hearts and wings of dementia ... leading me back to the house beyond history ... where I'm having red dwarf shoes pinocchio shoes like crocodile shoes ... like plastic transparent wood ... with strange powders inside these shoes can fly by the wings of dementia ... powdered spots on my back, spreading the delirium making me drunk ... making my wings shiver ... my wings of dementia ... i have autistic hearts from the wizard ... having handicapped trousers, a handicapped suit while i feel so insane ... my clothes are stinging me ... something is boiling me ... i'm flying by the wings of dementia a mighty storm leading me back to aldebaran ... there are so many fevers in my head ... waking up these animals inside ... i'm under the threat of a stinging plant ... ravalan madok ... there are tears streaming over my body ... strange spots, strange nipples ... powders inside like winter's dreamglass so pink and pale ... it brings me to something ... oh i believe we can communicate through this ... it's like my face has a thousand nipples ... you like to stare at it ... to become drunk ... you like to touch it watching the milk flow ... these tears inside ... Me and my crazy world ... I have brown spots so brown ... presents from the moon ... or are they the scars when i was jesus christ ... scars of a pirate ... sovenirs from a day in the zoo ... vanilla spots ... these are tattoos of dragons ... for the wizard has fires in his eyes ... his hearts are dancing through my mind ... these banana hearts ... enchanted ones ... there are shadows of fire on my walls ... jumping into the room these hearts like precious rippling ornaments ... rippling on my walls like zebras and tigers would do ... while there's purple snow on my ground ... a carpet arabian designs ... making my mind spicy ... roaring bottles in high cupboards ... bottles of tears ... stored by the wings of dementia ... patterns of highways ... like the waves of the seas of flowers ... to drink and get drunk while wizard hearts dance ... they look like snakes like new alphabets penetrating my mind ... i have suits of strange nipples softer than myself gathered by .. the wings of dementia ... warming my autistic hearts ... these wizard hearts

playcard syndrome

1. here the roads are rippling, in the land behind the deserts, where the oasis are, the orange ones.
here the deserts and oceans are rippling, in this land behind the sun. the fires of insurance are roaring, breeding the arms of cat ... it's a white fire, bringing them in high materos ... and here the candy and the salt is rippling, until a pink hotel comes to take everything away ...

2. here the roads are rippling, to a faroom da bazite, an orange one ... here the fires of insurance are burning you, into high materos, until everything bends, in a pink hotel ... where mr. coffee drinks and eats ...

3. these are rippling roads on the tongue of a strange creature he's praying to elsefic when he eats ... and then you're climbing the zebra's tree ... there's life behind the beaches ... it's rippling coming to you, until you have the flags in your hand ... it breeds the arms of cat ... it eats and takes distance ...

4. you're sinking in the land behind the deserts, here where the oasis are ... it's rippling to you like gold in silver here midas touches you, you're gold ... they breed it into a corset ... a cuyornaida corset, where you fall in love with yourself ... you are your own james bond, the highest bidder on the auctions ... and strange glues are streaming here, you're on someone's back .. yourself ... this insurance ... still the trick of a multiple personality syndrome ... bringing you over the bridge ... a rippling snake ... and here the waterlights are rising, giving their keys to benchelot ...

5. here the roads are rippling, the roads are on fire, in orange style, you have a media syndrome, the fruit of a multiple personality ... how do you do it on the coin ? it's just a playcard syndrome ...

6. white fires are burning the oranges ... it's insurance day ... there will be new winners in the evening ... while deeper earthfruits rise ... these are the darker ones ... reach the oasis in the fruit ... and drink from the black seeds ... it tingles in your stomache ... how many white fires will come to burn us ? one silver book will remain ... the one with the golden letters ... it's the third one, on that third day ... it's a black apricote, while the black potatoes surround ... these fruits have many faces ...

7. and I'm eating from the zebra fruits, these rippling fruits, while everything gets smaller ... there are strange sounds coming from wasp-tv ... like powders exploding ... it's leading me to the oasis behind the deserts ... where the liqors and the black seeds are streaming ... it's black spice from the ornament ... while golden stars are rising ... it's a strange faroom da bazite, pumping, while the trains are riding ... still burning roads of insurance ... while the waterlights take flight ...

8. you can drink from these seeds ... from these rippling juices ... it's streaming from the comics of belchelot ... he's having dark glasses ... while swimming in the bright blue ... it's a strange hill underwater, if you ask me ... while lights are in him so bright ... come swim into him, this fir ... and drink from the seeds ... take new trousers to ripple yourself ... while the faroom da bazite is pumping ... and everything gets smaller ... strange traffic in a gamblemachine ... waking up by white coffee ... the needle is running in a circle, everything is spinning, they have roundabout heads ... with purple horses ... follow the seeds ... when the wheels are spinning ... it's rippling in so many ways ... while a flower is growing in the desert ... to bring them all in the land behind ... drink from the seeds these black seeds ... from these rippling fruits of belchelot, his comics ... have a faroom da bazite in your heart, surrounded by all these griffons between high and low tones ... they're making the music, the ripples, while everything gets smaller ... you must burn your books by fire ... these are strange white oils of insurance ... follow the pencil to the snake's egg on top .. on top of the zebra's tree it's eating and writing ... and parrots are descending there, taking you to the land of the seeds behind the deserts ... where the juices stream ... still white coffee is waiting there ...

waking you up ...

9. the seeds are burning and everything gets smaller, bringing you to high materos ... until the tears of the cartoon flow ... these are darker tears, the tears of tax ... these arms of fish where the lights are dying ...

Jericho

1. Let the comic milk stream from Jericho, by white pink treasures, they take flight .. to become the towers of the sea ... Let the comic milk stream from Jericho, let our masks make us hard again, while we get softer inside ... we're building marchpane town ... Give us our pink white trousers back ... and let our hearts sink in milk again, while masks and towers are rising ... to strike the silver ... three times ... then silver books come forth ... letting the tears flow and the seed ... heading for the brown boot these are handkerchiefs of strange leather and wool ... beyond the museums ... there's honey streaming from Jericho ...

2. I know a place where comics come alive ... where the trousers run ... in white pink ... they are hard outside but soft inside ... they drink from iron boots ... while they ride the rabbits ... here where the swans spit fire ... where snakes dance ... on the bottom of a purple pond ... in a little musicbox ... the yellow station ... where a blind musician sits ... selling indian warbooks to the doves ... and he smokes the pipes from neverland and nowhereland ... breeding the nothing .. and the hard men ... in the museum of tears ... the tears shine like onions ...

indian line

1. indian line, raise the kettle, indian line, thin line spun by harmony ... by a crazy fly ... red stripes is my destiny ... strange raincars in the sky ... indian line, harmony, let the knees bend down before i put my red stripes unto thee ... indian line, cursed decision ... red potatoes smile, i am your destiny ... with all these churches on my back ... i travel through chocolate deserts

2. indian line, hard decision, indian line, waiting for the destiny ... in a smile of death ... waiting for the red stripe to bring them to sleep ... it's sandman using his red stripe ... indian line, hard decision, indian line, truth so hard to find, all these orange liars, in destiny ... indian line, truthfull decision ... indian a riddle of the cat's destiny ... hard to hide ... there's a flame in the sky ... of a red stripe ... from sandman's glove it takes flight ... indian line hard decision, indian line, truth bends down to history ... on wings of dementia it takes flight ... to find the last light ... indian line strange hard riddle indian line so soft inside ... brothers tell me, it wasn't for love, not just for one potatoe ... it needed you to fly home ... for the yellow dragon couldn't do it ... it needed you

3. indian line .. brothers tell me, indian line, this truth it needs a stripe ... indian line, oh indian line ... oh indian line ... you gave it it's tail ... and now it's dying in a sea of flowers ... reaching for home

Capricorn's Jackpot

1. There are gamblers in a hall, they ride, They have the red eye on their heads, they fly, like tall statues, becoming the tiles of the ceilings, still strange pictures, for you and me, these pictures move, and I'm lying on the floor, cutting potatoes ...

2. In a red cathedral, they hide the three pale purple flowers, the red eye is sinking to history, to the museum, to write the future with the iron pencil ... a winged pencil ... with feathers from an aldebaran bird ...

3. He writes what he sees, he's just a gambler ... when he wins ... he takes flight ... Oh wasp-tv, gambler's tv, letting the kids tap the green beers from the screen ... there's crocodile glue when the chocolate is mixed with the vanilla .. then the business-brothers come ... capricorn boys against the boys from lynx ... making prisoners for an author's kitchen ... all in a chocolate factory ... crocodile-glue so thick and sharp ... then i dive in dangerous seas ... when yellow and brown .. strike the green ... but i just won capricorn's jackpot in this red dragon's casino ...

4. but i want to be a truant ... i want to go to pleasure land ... while i have a black dragon in my mouth, a hall of games in my mouth ... where the black lemonade streams ... striking the red it's still a red dragon fighting against a black dragon ... two lions fighting in the lake ... while a skater's on the waves, and a parrot is sinking ... to the world beyond history ... to the big museum ... the puma's paw is gambling ... and when he wins ... the tears flow ... the juices stream ... awakening the boys from lynx ... it's tea against the coffee orange against the black ... while red cowboys hide behind the black bottles ... waiting to attack ...

5. it's streaming from the clock ... this orange juice ... mixing the black ... these boys rule the blue ... these boys rule the blue ... they have africa in their hands ... with orange coins ... they bred the animals for granddad's zoo ... it's streaming from the clock you know ... it's tea against the coffee ... while black lemonade is streaming ... and the red still hiding ... waiting for the strike ... in cold conscience we all cry ... where the coffee wins ... and the tea sinks ... streaming to the yellow station
... while grandfather cries ... the icecream is burning ... and glues are rising ... making us so addicted
...

6. tax's smoke is in my mouth, i want to swallow, while there are comic's eggs in my stomach ...
strange juice ...

Life in the Distance

1. i know it's already destined to die ... these are one day butterflies ... one day butterflies ... dancing
so fragile through my mind ... giving me such a traumatic feeling they are dead at the end of the day hold on, although i cannot save you

2. you could not heal my pain and i could not heal yours we died like fishes reaching for each other's coasts ... and could only see life and love in the distance ... you could not save me out of this circle of fire and i could not save you out of yours ... it was too far away ... only the echo could reach your memory and it was too weak to save you, while the wind was dividing the shattered pieces ... brought by storms of howling wolves ...and now we are the foam of the sea with a life which could never become a reality ... we were too weak to live the life too weak to touch
the fruit of love

3. and here we float with consciousness too fragile to know who we really are ... we were too weak for knowledge, too weak for wisdom and it's powers we were one day flowers burnt off at the end of the day ...

4. but they must know by now that life like this will fade like the dying star ... we don't need more strength ... if the weakness is our medicine

5. turn your star over us and breed the light of this distant touch ... create your stars in a basket of water enchanted by distant life

6. and when the stars begin to shine ... bakerman will close his eyes and goes to sleep ... while his moons will watch over our distant love

stars of blasphemy

1. The cigarette of two colors switching, it burns, it gets smaller, while a squirtel is screaming ...
Something is sinking to the bottom of the sea ... where the seagardens rage ... Aldebaran Boys have the waterlights in their pockets ... gods of ten ... full of publics ... it seems they breed them ... by smoke ... tax smoke, the black horror ... breaking orange balls ... to let the tea rise ... Waterlights form the bakerman's faces ... the masses for the big oblezea vitrininium ... still birthday's eye ... oblezea vitrininium ... you get to sleep ... and something is waking up into you ... you get soft and something else gets hard in you ... you're sliding into the comic ...

2. the cigarette gets smaller while the publics are roaring ... it turns into a ball ... to become the footballer's ink ... these balls roll by blasphemy ... while churches are burning ... sandman is bringing them all to bed ... the big comic is speaking ... and glues are coming from his mouth ...

3. It's a snake's egg, bred by a million of snakes and a black rabbit ... all these boys locked up in bottles ... when they cry the comic juices stream ...

4. These are the tearfalls from locked up soldiers ... streaming from the comic ... after the cigarettes were burnt ... black ashes on the table with some twigs ... while the smoke gives power to the machines of deer ... It comes from the orange balls when they are opening ... and the orange juice streams

5. Oblezea Vitrininium is speaking ... floating from wasp-tv in the night ... It's full of strange glues ... making prisoners for an author's kitchen ... he brings them all to sleep ... while tv-heroes are growing into them ... by this strange camera ... by this strange curse ... the tearfalls let the hard things enter ... It's an enchanting mirror after all ... letting bakerman's faces eat ...

6. the birds from cigarette, giants becoming dwarves by diving ... then they write your stories ... these red boys from santa clause ... they are the movies bringing you to bed ... they are nipplian dragonflies ... all doing it by journalism ...

by a black microphone ... they suck the red warm juices of the flute ...

7. these sharkbars ... hiding the boys in comics ... behind paintings they sit ... waiting to be freed ... there are so many eyes staring at them ... sucking the comic juices ... while they laugh ... it's a strange zoo of noah this time ...

8. These wasprains tattoo hearts ... while bilmageln is drumming on soft tiles ... they all fall ... and the marbles float to history ... to hit the bottles open ... while princes are crying ... bilmageln is drumming the eyes ... while comicjuice is flowing ... tears from strange tearfalls ... giving strange feelings in the stomach ... it seems the golden cigars are speaking ...

9. and the pictures have their own screams and shrieks ... for the prince of video-clips ... he just shows his pictures fast ... while songs of orphans flow ..

10. these are singing tears from the tiger ... they use dragonblood as ink ... hot enough to raise the songs of orphans ... birds from cigarette, rising from wasp-tv, diving into the red's eye with their wasprains ... to breed the alphabets for uncle one to ten ... all these uncles breeding the songs ... by broken pictures ... while you are having an eagle helmet ... with a traffic light inside ... all these eyes growing into you ... it's a stinging nettle deep inside ... stinging you to let the tears flow ... breeding you like an icecream, on a vanilla playground ... while churches and games are dying ... these balls roll by blasphemy ... Jericho, city of cartoons ... making comics soft again in the morning ... while the eye of delirium is speaking by purple drills ... she's heading for the comicbook ... when the pink falls ... it's wasp-tv updated ... burning the books by a black hand, showing the horror behind the cartoon ...

11. the sugarcigarette burns ... to become alcohol ... while the indian warbook shows up ... while wasp-tv has a fever ... blue smoke struck the cartoon

12. the horrorjuice is streaming ... a red black sharkglue ... while it's thundering ... and fireworks come from the kettles it's uncle peacock speaking ... red tapes are appearing ... to bind the girls from jericho ... the doghedge is moving ... there's blue glue in my head ... egypt's eye is speaking ... while the fights bring the juices streaming from the shoes ... the red giantboots are winged ... while the mirror-suit takes flight ... heading for izu ... the girl with the golden hair ... she has a jesus judas face ... an orange black ball ... tea against the coffee ... while blue is rising ...

"You could smell the tomatoe .. bringing you to toyland once again ... It was on the back of an eagle ... It flew while you ate ... Could you eat the green tomatoe, when it landed on your back ... You had to wait until it reached your mouth ..."

Flying Carpet

1. Carpet makes the stage, He makes the bakertrees, where uncle peacock bows it is your destiny,
When Carpets rise, you know it is your time to play, and underneath that warm warm blanket you find your sledge today
2. It is the Carpet making memory, The Carpet making destiny, The Carpets rise like soldiers on a dream
3. When the Carpet talks, the city walks, and underneath that tree, you find the golden care to watch your movie flee ...
4. To the city of The Hague, that city at the sea .. Such tall coasts .. will it be your destiny ... To the city of The Hague, It is your bragging sledge today, will you find your way back, when you have been to The Hague ... It's the Red City ... where all the red men stand tall ... Not bowing for your destiny ... They only bring you higher ...
5. These are the towers of talk ... These are the confusions making the creations .. and california will end in arabia ... california will end in arabia .. The tail of a dragon, from california to arabia ... still your destiny ... still the spice making your life worth living ... the sweet day will not drown you ... she will not kill her man in the bathroom ... she already did before ... but now the ornaments hang too tall for her reach ... she can only bow ... The tail of a dragon, the ornaments to heal, it is the tale of a land too small to hide ... when the dwarf's on a ride ...
6. When you fly through purple curtains ... when the octaves rise higher ... when you touch the bitter fruits of destiny ... the hormel walks, the hormel talks, he screws you everyday, but when you peel the fruit, the spice will be your mate ... It is the ornament, the true time's brother, that keeps you safe today, it is the tail of a white dragon, turning yellow in her spray ... you know about the cupboard, in the middle of asgard, where all the gods unite, where all the gods make their butter ...
An egg was born there, humpty dumpty on a walk, green roses spread conscience for automatic horses ... they unite ... they rip the ornaments .. to turn them into daylights so soft .. i wonder about these lanterns so big ... smiling in the air ... waiting to swallow us again ... to bring us back to bring us back today ... to the city of the hague ...

7. To the city of The Hague, see the spanish dancer break ... while a woman is laughing, his wife .. she does the bitter steps ... she's a tapdancer on the roads to oz ... a yellow brick road ... turning red at the end of the day ... i think we aren't in oz anymore ... we are heading for cockaigne ...

8. In the city of the hague ... in the city of the ache ... sickness close to health ... it switches like the brooch ... it always does it like this ... the aunts are stepping on permission ... when they are driving uncle's cars ... presents from peacock ... oh what a presents ... to live in this sarcasm today ... these are the princes of satire ... tall lions with tiger edges .. stirring up the jaguars ... while panthers surround them ... staring with those cold unaware smiles ... they are cities undercover ... hiding the bottles of beer ... for the children are near ... while the storms are blowing outside ... waiting to pick you up for a ride ...

9. lovers, pick a coin, for another ride with the barrel organ .. on the red road to aldebaran ... where all our days become black ... she's falling from a black hill ... to fall in red desires ... where she sacrifices us again ... to the highways of perlottia ... to dreamhats without trousers ... they have only wings to fly ... while in april they die ... they are the goodbyes of a lost summer ... to make them all cry ...

10. do you remember these tears, these city tears ... these bottles high ... there are tunes on a market square ... while the boys are doing business ... they rise ... like peanuts they rise ... coming out of their shells ... to enter the room of india ... such a warm room with the soft lights on the tables and the walls while the mistress is hearing the call ... she needs to leave these children alone ... while cabman will bury them for a ride ... it's your mother's nightmare ... but she can't stop it ... when the dragon's tail is swimming ... then someone with three purple pale roses stands for her door ...

11. In the little city of the hague ... a little musical box speaks ... while the ballerina is spinning ... dancing with her toy soldier ... while the toysoldier wants to go home ... the dragon needed to save him from the princess ... and he will do .. with his soft voice ... can a canary stand when that will happen .. it's lucifer's final day of tea ... and then he will fall again, to his first degree in knitting a fever for a princess delight ... keeping them all alive in this night ... bringing them all to silly places ... where they can laugh while they get sicker ... where they can see the men are dying ... in their purple white glasses ... for they drank too much ... there was too much pain inside ...

12. it's the city of the eagle ... making it so small again ... until it's too small to hide ... when the dwarf is on a ride ... that big dwarf called bilmageln ... bringing them back to the edges of cockaign ... where the devils can fall again ... where the angels can rise again ... to soft blue heavens underwater ... and to the silver ones underground ... it is your mother's destiny ... and your father's dream .. we will unite ... on a californian flute ... to drink the soup of santa clause ... your mother was always his wife ... and now he needs to hide ... and now he needs to be rescued ... by an angel unaware ... by a picture police ... by an object police ... to give a father to a father ... so that in the end ... they can see the darker city ... with a mightier light ...

13. mighty lights ... floating up from a darker city ... that city of the hague .. the red pity ... while the grandaunt is complaining .. she's a witch in your eyes ... and you need to be saved from her ... when she's running after you ... you need to drink and float higher ... for these norms are strengling you ... deciding who you are ... under high black elections ... by their selfspun democracies ... i take flight ...

14. watch the face of the owl, watch lucifer's transmissions ... one's devil is the other's god ... watch
the number on his face it's 666

15. it's a black stripe ... with an almighty light can you jump without reason ... only big dwarves can ... everything they do is good ... and they do everything ...

16. let the morning decide today ... it's your mother's spray ... while the big ant is rising ... to give you a new consciousness ... you're a liar ... an orange liar ... with all these wasprains in your hand ...
do you understand

17. the lie is still a riddle of truth ... a golden carriage with a silver cabman ... he needs you today for a ride to cockaign ...

18. do you understand, it's all for love ... your mother appeared to be your father ... i would not care anyway ... lucifer has lost his trousers ... preparing for another fall ... while one's devil is the other's god ... i don't care ... i never did ... and neither did you ...

19. do you understand ... the lengths of these stairways underwater ... heading for the poles of aegir ... and his strange strange sisters ... they make you cry ... in mimirs well we stand ... throwing the coins for another ride to aldebaran

20. she falls she is a wide spread lie ... becoming a truth in the night ... while all bakermen hide ...
watching her ...

21. she is the black widow ... spreading kisses ... while tomorrow they die ... these are one day butterflies ...

22. she stands tall she's rising to izu ... where all the black men fall ... to become even darker ... but they have to ... they need to bear ... the mightier lights don't you understand that to become darker ... the lights will rise higher ... the soft strike will make them harder ... when the orange touches the blue ...

23. oh these bakermen's fires ... bringing bakertree's boy alive ... with his head like a skindisease ... he's shining like the golden sun ... the autistic sun ... i finally have ... a friend ...

24. To the city of the hague ... they all march slower and slower ... while the ice is rising under their feet

25. vanilla planes growing in the air ... these bakertree's fruits ... don't eat them just touch them ... along the sideways of mars they stand ... with jupiter's smiles unaware ... the angel unaware is watching you ...

26. to the city of the hague ... all these dark witches walking in the rain ... in the green pasture ... slower and slower ... waiting for the strike of chocolate ... to freeze them inside ... to be the walls of the hague again ... to become darker and darker ... to raise the golden lights ...

27. i cannot help these fears ... you need to run to grandma, expecting she's a wolf ... she always turned you backwards ... you're still locked up in her clocks ... jumping from one to another ... while she sais it's your birthday while she said that all these presents ... are hiding you for a snake

oh yes she is sarcastic

28. she breeds you like a snake ... so that one day you can eat the snake she fears ... you are her little golden boy ... her little golden sister ... she's breeding you for her business ... so that one day you can make the dive to be her fallen angel ... chemistries united ... she needed to send her shepherddogs out ... you were one of them ...

29. welcome to the daylights ... welcome to the ornament's stream ... dreams from harry ... dreams from chemistries united ... waiting for a nuclear day ... stick it in your pocket .. and buy a ticket to japan .. to escape these horrors ... to watch a final movie ... to ease the frustrations and fears of your heart ... where lampsteads are standing inside letting your hearts glow ... in almighty lights ...

30. she freezes the frog ... for another chocolate day ... she freezes the mother ... and kills my brother ... for a new business day ...

warm flutes

31. warm flutes it's the red juice ... pipers standing on the walls, they play in the gates of life ... while visitors are entering, you and me ... waiting for an exorcism ... for there's living a strange creature inbetween ...

32. when markets flow he plays ... he is doing the dishes ... the green stone the green car ... a green fir ... with smiles unaware ... raising the daylights ... touching the forestroad to virgo where a dwarf and a tall niece stand ... these are the toystatues for a new ride ... the jukebox statues for new delights ... guiding you to cockaign ... where the barkerfaces dance ... where tailors speak french ... doing the da business ... prisoners from da ... sitting on a flying carpet ... but there's no fairytale left .. only fruits from cockaign where the lazy cats walk ... too lazy to do anything ... while they have the name of being busy they are two faced cats ... it's 2-cat coming to you ... a masked dragon, turning white in the snow, he has the cards of opposite, with plastic leather ... his smiles are plastic ... but he's a killer unaware leaving no blood at all ... he kills in peace ... he never hurted anyone ...

33. it's 2-cat on a ride ... having 2 babies inside ...

golden carriages are his art ...

he dines with princes being smart

but at the end of the day ...

he puts them all in delay ...

never reaching for the night ...

he prisoned them all in daylight ...

everyone knows what they are doing

they never reach the night ...

while 2-cat and his kite .. they're riding the night ...

oh boy it's 2-cat make a jump ...

for you never reach the night ...

when he touches you with his kite ...

it's his stick on a ride

34. Flying Carpet sais that is my destiny, to be with a man like that,

it's a delight for free ...

he is the lanterns in my hat ...

he bakes my diners,

saves my pets ...

this little man called 2-cat is a mother's threat ...

35. he is the ornaments always shining on the cupboard near my bed,

he closes curtains, breaks the snakes, when they get near to secrets they regret,

he's the mourner, crying with a smile,

he makes my movies,

grows my cows,

he embraces them in magic and peace ...

while doing wars on chessboards greese ...

take me away 2-cat before it is too late ...

before i lose my control ...

before i lose my pride and honour ...

take me away and make me drunk ...

make me delirium ...

36. in the city of the hague ...

a man with a barrel organ stands ...

doing the dishes for the whole city with his eyes ...

his red eyes ...

he's like the licorice ...

he's like my mother on a spider's morning ...

she tied her hair ...

doing the clean clean song ...

turning her house upside down and backwards ...

while the tiger can run free ...

she's not afraid of it anymore ...

she's now my butterfly i adore ...

when 2-cat reaches the shore ...

he's a shark unaware ...

he's just everything ...

doing nothing ...

being them all ...

i will never fall when he's by myside ...

this 2-cat warrior ...

the man i adore ...

he's reaching for my shore ...

with all these bakermen lights on a cake

why did it have to be my birthday

37. he is still my flying carpet,

still my bakertree,

with bakermen's faces ...

38. i'm eating his fruits everyday ...

all these vanilla planes ...

bringing softness to my mouth ...

softness to my voice ...

39. making the swallow to toyworld,

a playground tree stands ...

i'm wise enough to climb along the leaves ...

to find my bones again ...

40. I am stung by a thousand wasps,

I cannot walk,
but I have all these comics in my head ...
These inner scars and tattoos speak ...
They block me from going outside ...
while inside the storms are roaring ...
bringing me to izu ...

41. In my mouth I am stung by a million wasps,

I cannot speak, I cannot swallow,
I can only hear their stories ...
They tell me one day I will sing like a thriller
In Vanilla Deserts ...

42. And on top of the playground's tree,
bakerman's faces unite,
to do their conspiracies ...
While on top you can enter Vanilla's Deserts ...

Where a white alice and a yellow alice live ...

They have been to vanilla places ...

to vanilla dreamworlds of fairgrounds and cities ...

They have been to the world of wasps ...

where marbles roll through sand ...

Waspian dragons soothe the babies asleep with their soft wet lights

These are mightier lights, these are lights from the red

43. You could smell the tomatoe .. bringing you to toyland once again ... It was on the back of an eagle ... It flew while you ate ...

44. Could you eat the green tomatoe, when it landed on your back ... You had to wait until it reached your mouth ...

45. These are babies born in transmissions, orange liars leading me to death, while all these wasp rains in my bed ... these rains from izu ... building my memory again ... rebuilding you ...

46. These are orange liars, leading me to death, with all these wasp rains in my bed, these rains from izu,

rebuilding my memory, rebuilding you ...

47. There are green tomatoe seeds lying on my dish, bringing me back to vanilla deserts, bringing me back through the sting of a wasp ...

all these dragons are in fire ... or is it my eyes

48. Give me a spoon,

these books are all talking,

spreading green tomatoe seeds ...

in a night of arabian magic ...

49. she's staring at the lullaby ...

she's not a child anymore ...

50. Do you understand,

he has the wizard balls under his feet,

baking Indian cakes,

from Vanilla Deserts ...

Birds of Hamelin

1. They stole the kids, by a flute, to bring them behind candybars ... While birds of prometheus raised the tables and the spoons ... I was surrounded by your chocolate ... while you were eating the cookies ... They stole the kids, by a lie, these birds of hamelin ... bringing them into the arena's ... to spin sugar ... There's no escape in this land ... They are breeding siamese twins, while grandma eats the cookies ... in a golden chocolate world i take root ... in a bottomless pit ... i am an island in the clouds ...

2. she's just another autumn's girl .. she's spinning around like mud on tables .. spinning around like judgements in the night .. she's just another autumn's girl .. she's spinning around like classroomtables ... spinning around like judgements in the sky .. this prometheus girl ..

and this is the glue of scorpion, with the glue of an eagle ...

rabbit's hospital

1. icecream rippling with glue, here behind the deserts ... where the boots come alive ... it's rolling from strange trees ... rabbit trees ...here the marbles roll ... she's a rollerskate baby ... hiding her wings deep inside her white tongue is burning all the ashes ... strange roads of insurance ... they used to be insects ... icecream rippling with glue ... it used to give light in the night, but now it's dark ... between the walls of rithelm ... still the walls of jericho ...

2. between the walls of rithelm, it's icecream rippling with glue ... when you touch it it will never let you go, but you can never hold it, for it drips away like wet mud ... it's growing from the rabbit's boot ... heading for your head ... it's the world of comics and cartoons ... as in worlds of fairytale, the distances are so near ... but never frightening ... there where fear died ... between rithelm's walls ... where the babies walk alone, where the babes of rollerskate are ... taking toysoldiers from the rubbishfields ... to give them another round in the game ... between rithelm's walls there are magical ashes ... coming alive in the nights ... it's icecream rippling with glue ... strange seeds of tax and insurance ... there where the hospitals burn ... sliding into high materos ... it's getting further away, but coming closer than ever and these churches built on tax and insurance, they are strange hospitals where the gods are sick ... there are so many doctors walking ... giving them strange food ... of a rabbit's tree ...

3. it's the rabbit's hospital, full of numbers, it's flying ... it's burning, sliding into high materos ... these rabbits are pink, they are raising a strange hotel, from an iron boot ... where the icecream ripples with glue there are strange seeds hanging in trees growing, until it's food on hairy dishes ... his head is on the coin, and now he's so far away, but he made it to your pockets ... it's like he's everywhere but you cannot touch it ... the curse of insurance ... rising on a white day ... and now we're in eminius fire ... we're behind glass while someone's escaping ... spitting sand, while heading for the land, where the icecream ripples with the glue ... seeds of strange strange fruits ...

from a rabbit's hospital ...

4. and the girl has rollerskates ... she works in the rabbit's hospital ... to care for a black dragon ...
she's like the white rabbit, with many crosses in her skies ... she's like snowwhite in her coffin ... killed by an assassin-apple ... she struck the coin, and now there are playcards in the air ... she possesses her little jesus ... by the mouths of mice ...

5. the shoemaker is a strange mouse ... he sells shoes to the rabbits ... they drink from it, strange seeds ... strange tears from a strange giant ... he wants to be a dwarf ... but he has too many faces ... he's a strange machine, a strange clown ... he cries too much, for no one listens ... he feels alone in his castles ... his heads are on the coins and stamps, but he doesn't have friends they don't have room for him ... and that's why he cries day in day out ... he's a strange tree, a rabbit's tree

6. and they drink his tears and get drunk, so drunk, into strange delirium ... they live in shoes and travel underground by it's strange elevators ... i make a living in the rabbit's shoe, where the rabbit's eye rises ... it seems the mouse lives here too, and a strange bird, a tailor ... he's spinning strange leathers and strange wool ... there are strange rabbitkitchens here ... where they are making pancakes of strange shoes ... it's the land behind the swallow ... where the orange lights are rising ... they burn in strange candles ... while i'm taking the elevator to the earthshoes ... they are like potatoes, like strange underground fruits ... where the red licorice lives ... it's the end of the swallow
... here a rabbitmountain stands ... deep in a rabbithole ... it seems the mouse made all these shoes ...
he's the king of the rabbits ... while the tailorbird is his mailman. they are hiding the gianthearts here, where the tears stream from ... these hearts are like the nests of bees ... and there's honey dripping from it ... there are comics on the hearts, like venus bookshops ... but they feel the glass of the magazine ... these hearts are lost ... there are strange dragonbars between you and me ...

7. and when the rabbit drums the drum ... there are strange ripples in the air ... making the rings tighter until it melts in high materos ... there are tearlakes in these shoes, dripping from the giant hearts ... they want to be a dwarf ... but they feel the glass of the magazine ... they feel this coin is hard ...

8. the red licorice lives here, a boy made of cigarettes ... a strange elevator, to the giant shoe ... the giant shoe is crying ... it wants to step in the dwarfhole, but isn't allowed ... it feels the glass of the comic and the cartoon ... while rabbits drink it and swim in it ... and they swim from shoe to shoe, in this strange swimmingpool ... in this strange shoeclock ... these are strange letters from a strange mailman ...

9. strange glues are here, in this land of the glue ... where the icecreams ripple ... it's rabbitglue and shoeglue, spinning the cartoons ... it's cartoonjuice to drink ... while strange playcards are swimming there ... raising the tarts ... these are strange roundabouts, bringing you deeper and deeper, in a rabbit's hospital ... strange rabbithole, in a rabbitboot ... seeds swimming like fishes ... while insurance is still burning ...

10. these are strange clocks in rabbitshoes, and strange rabbitshoes in rabbitclocks ... it's ticking on my zebrawatch ... growing like plastic from where the toys are rising ... while the giant still feels the glass of time, he's crying sand ... until finally the mouse gives him the wings of dementia ... so that he can run on the shoe's elevator to become a dwarf ... these magazines ... strange clocks in strange waitingrooms, waiting till the doors are opening ... by the wings of dementia ... strange elevators in a rabbit's boot ... they are the ears of rabbits diving into the orange pits to bring the faces of history back ... there, where the black rabbitbottles are ... when the rabbit is rising from the hat, it's heading for the moon .. behind the moon the gold glitters of forty million years give me land and water ... these are strange feathers, strange ladders in a rabbit's boot ..

11. the waterlights are all striped, eating the black rabbit ... they're still heading for the cartoon ... strange wet powders are coming from the cartoon ... while a painter sits high on a pillar ... he has horns on his hat where lightening is coming from. he has a pale purple face, and a million lights are coming from him ... he's the banana king ... he's the boss of strange railroads ... all in a yellow rabbit's bottle ... so many shoes come from here ... while he's eating them burning them by fire ... until they're in high materos ... having the historybooks in their bags ... these shoes are travelling ... with the wings of dementia ... they are the arms of strange clocks, strange bottles ... where juices flow from and so many waterlights ... heading for the broadcastlady of cartoon ... heading for her pink boots ... she is a rabbit, and there are silver ballerina's rising from her boots ... they're building the shoeshops ... they're raking the seven moons ... they're spinning on tops of ladycoins, sinking into the bottles to spit the white fires ... these are darker fires .. coming from the cartoon ... here you eat from the white chocolate ...

12. i'm living deep in a rabbit's shoe, where the egg of cartoon lives, still a strange ornament, blinding you. they're feeling the glass of the cartoon ... it makes them cry ... while the cartoon gets bigger ... then it's exploding and golden eggs stare at you ... on golden spoons ... strange tall rabbitboots ... there's breathing something inside ... it's nothing but a pencil ... of a banana king ... there's strange paint in my body ...

13. and the tears in their suits, they wait in the waitingroom, until they can come in, turning into seeds of the seas ... the seas of cartoon ... in an arabian castle a white rabbit stands ... smoking tall white cigarettes ... from a strange cigarettelock getting smaller and smaller ... there are strange creatures living in rabbitshoes .. her creatures ... she spreads her playcards ... speaking out the numbers ... while white candles are burning ... she and her elevators are sinking in the ground ... gathering the old faces ... to let the old liquors stream ... there's white chocolate milk streaming from the nests of bees it's coming from the zebra's fruits ... changing the tears into seeds ...

14. these are the faces of history ... strange coins for strange bottles ... there are spiders on rabbit's eyes ... turning the tears into the seeds ... it was just a strange bottlemachine ... these coins can open the taps of history ... and to mix them again, we can make the puzzle ... the pieces didn't fit, but now we're trying again ...

15. these flowers are heavy with seeds, when they speak bubbles come out of their mouths ... they have balls of soap in their hands, while their fingers are the pencils of insurance ... spinning tax ... they know how to open the black bottles ... and then the coins fly through the air ... playing the white golden flute of insurance ... such a strange jukebox ... like the suit of the king of cigarettes ... he's a preacherman gathering golden crosses ... but he doesn't believe in them ...

16. the eye of insurance shows the movies ... it's a white golden ornament ... it's standing on a red golden shoe, bringing up the old faces ... it's a strange hospital after all ... and the fire burns the black until it's orange, and the faces can live in someone's head ... they have their own democracies roaring ... letting it all ripple, until it's seed .. these statues are strange drink-machines, showing their comics and their playcards ... it's the ear of insurance, bringing them back on the wings of dementia ... where they see their old toys shattered ... there's a toyshop on the rabbit's boot ...

17. and still these flowers are heavy with seed ... where the glues are rippling with icecreams ... coming from a rabbit's boot ... there's an orange ravine where the rabbit ear is a ladder, blinding them all ... they are soldiers of insurance ... drunk gamblers ... while there are jewels in spanish nights ... these are strange boards of draughts and chess ... while the waterlines are rising ... spouting the silver ... bringing them to high materos ...

18. i'm living in a rabbit shoe ... heading for high materos ... i have sown the seed ... now i can go to sleep ...

The Postbank's Clock

1. Yellow liars on a zebra's ship, in the air of full blaze ... They tried to take away my trousers, but now they're flying backwards and upside down ... Purple liars standing in the riddle .. coming from the golden pear ... It seems so much tea is streaming from here ... while spanish suns are blinding me ... the wounded soldiers all march to the yellow banks ... to change into something else ... can your back hold it ? The lions face in vanilla and banana radiates gold ... blinding the masses ... Now who can see ? It's all mixed ... while banks are opening taking in the soldiers of the seas ... they are marching over the land .. to be someone elses Jesus Christ ... the hospital was just a strange bank .. while comics are rising .. in the hands of uncle peacock .. it's saturday ... blue liars rise to the moon like balloons, while uncle unicorns ship is rising ... with spiral horns like telephone ... thank you operator, on cobra's opportunities .. take the candyship out of the clip .. and place it in the distance ... yellow liars .. vanilla in space ... mixing the bananas for a golden day ... in september there were seventy breezes. Dreams of september give opportunities to the mice of seven days .. i'm gliding through the sun and the moon .. rising for the spoon ... there are twenty-million lies lying on a dish .. it was a strange bank in september ... mixing the vanilla with the banana ... for ten mirrors rising ... dagon-izu blinding simson's soldiers ... on the deserts of the planet mars ... where the icecream machines are rising ... they are creating the distances in the sky, while you think the ships are big so close ... while seventy heats are rising ... from september's bank ...

2. There are liars rising from september bank, rising spoons with lion's faces, blinding the purple masses ... it's ready and done in september, for seventy mice on a railroad .. oh yes, they can roar like lions .. they have speedmass in their pockets ... all backwards and in slow motion .. while the needles of gramophone lay themselves down ... for seventy conspiracies in the wind ... vanilla in frozen coffins, opening the beatboards of a new daydream ... confessions of a mailmans heart ... racing to the banks ... coming into the tanks ... good old afternoon ... spoilt candy on a golden dish making the bubbles lie like trash the morningcakes are staring ... stopping streams on sundaymornings ...

3. Strange september banks ... in dresses so wide they ride ... on streets of golden tiles while draughtsoldiers do the dishes in tight houses ... while bubbles float to soft clouds it's surrounded by golden bananas ... all in green golden pears ... Red gold in true decembers ... decending to the septembers of ages ... spoiling hands, a good decision ... making dramas in a pot ... while the blue golden tragedies find their ways in the states ... there are egypt's laughing in the sun ... all these liars of drunk holidays ... painting trauma's in the skies ... laid by the curse of vanilla ... while bakerman's faces are rising ... building the warmachine for uncle peacock ... on auction day ... when abel killed cain ... two altars in the skies ... who dies best ...there are mechanisms in golden suns ... blocking further appearances from spy's conspiracies ... the rumours eat the machines .. with wasprains in the hand you can search the skies ... it was made by vanilla banana and spice ... good old warmachines from uncle peacock ... a true auctioneer on lazy drama holidays .. seeking fruits for his stories .. while the white fruit brought them to the banks after the war ... rising the coins ... for another round in the fairground ... the auctions always suck you higher ... under bakerman's helmet ..

4. And still these clowns they run for money ... with the auctions in their pockets, they make the best money ... for cake's conspiracies ... dream on, oh soldier, make the cash .. in spirals pyamas you're always the best .. sharpening the lies from uncles gun .. breed the bakers .. throw the suns .. into a new basket of snakes ... bred by photos on a candy's day .. dramas in peacocks dresses ... in a peacocks horrorshow ... cannot rake the fields anymore, when draughts-soldiers throw the stones ... under baskets full of helmets they ascend ... by dagons shatters they turn the icecreams backwards ... she's selling pictures of arms surrounded by strange leathers and strange wool ... so strange it makes you cry ... while your trousers are crying deserts .. your shoes are crying moons ...

there are ten mirrors for a liars shatter ... breeding the pipes for a small conclusion ... on a sundays stream ... tall dramas from izu mask the soldiers under noses mysteries ... it's growing like a pinocchio on a seaman's ship .. carrying the coins for the blue sharks .. while you must admit .. it was pear's day of golden drama ... pear's day of green decisions .. watch the ornament without dying ... but speak a lie ... it stings like a raking plant ... on a draught's summerday ... while ten clauses are rising ... with balloons coming from their pockets ... making the banks rise ...

5. Yellow hearts they rake the mice .. for a peacocks price ... we take flight ... by jewelled spanish suns we skate .. leaving the world under the ice ... while two lions are still fighting .. vanilla and banana .. spinning the gold ... on five buttons of a pirates suite, tv rises from the yellowed watch .. these firs have pointy hats from a good friday they ascend with their jesus-judas faces ... back to izu they are too afraid to die .. so they speak a lie ... laugh now cinderella ... the dust you have will turn into gold when you embrace it ... while your shoe will rake the golden moons ... seventy times seven ... these fields of boats were just the curses of a spastic draughtsman ... having the clowns of thoth painted on his face.... while someone is burning the sunmilk and the shampoos ... the crocodiles rise from the glue ... into wet forestdreams ... doing egyptian screams ... all backwards wrapped in snow ... she breeds the vanilla ... she breeds the lucifer fire ... in the distance there is smoke so visible ... while auctions rise from strange banks .. these are uncle peacocks horrorshows ... who takes the children ? the one with the biggest money or the one with the biggest gun ... they don't want to go to arabia ... but they have to go .. it's already ten o clock ... hold your breath .. for within a few whisperings you will be home again ... all in a zebra's watch ... so many cigarlighters from the dawn .. smoking by elve's conspiracies ... he's the prince of video-clips showing his tranvestite claw .. while spiderclocks are running from his mouth ... suddenly it breaks through edges to a lucifer's wonderland ... izu in the distance ... the auctioneer burns the hammers ... no one dares to walk ... gepetto makes the clocks of pinoccios wood ... these are wars of the businessmen ... while the losers fall in orange, into a millionarmed sleep ... banks pick them up ... having doorways to new rythms opening the mouths of the wilder animals ... I was an orange liar on a zebra's boat ... I was a spiralling dancer on a lion's ship ... I was a dramas low intention losing all the grip ... I was the blinding sun, the blinding Osiris-Ra ... I was a son of Aton after midnight ... I was a wilder animal ... exploding into the one and a million nights ... I knew drama after drama, having them all on my bow ... spitting the cowards wrapping them in easters snow ... I was a wilder animal, having faith in the lie stronger than truth christmassoldiers under my wrath ... i will lie to them ... until i'm a coward myself ... there's nothing to win in raising a sword ... i'm a wilder animal ... spinning death on a dish ... by an orange lie spinning them all on the barbecues needle ... for ten grammophone days in spain ...

6. Trauma blazers killing spacers dream about the net .. dripped into a good corset ... money from starving occasions .. eat the brain ... strange traffic of wilder animals ... on a wilder day ..

7. Strange auctions circle in the sky .. eating custard out of peoples brains .. strange fairgrounds .. circling in the skies .. watching the golden baths on high floors ... on a golden picnic's day ... the auctions suck the children inside ... making them soldiers for another fight ... the banks they pick them up again, to bring them again ... secrets of arabia .. in purple treasures they shine .. blinding the visitors ... they spin in clocks in miserable days ... meet the kings of the hours and get shot ... until you reach the golden gun ... until you sing these days are done ..

8. Draughts a new light ... from the temple to spain ... there's sand under the tigers hand ... i give you a green car a strange household ... where everything moves .. in september's brain .. these are the days after august he was a prince of jesuses ... they were rising from his pocket ... striped and in wet hot plastic .. melting into glue ... while spanish suns were blinding the mass ... letters making strange connections ... fighting for a place in the ship ... that strange ship of noah ... where flowers have to die ... when the auction hammer brings the horror ... of a peacocks show .. they never reach the daylight, when the indian shows his big gun .. these kids go to the deserts ... with his rings on their heads while tigers and lions roar in the distance ... and a black panther makes it coming close ... so close that you feel their teeth ... these are wilder animals ... these are wilder suns ... burning sweet bars of the cake

9. Noah banker bake the bank bananas in vanilla turn them into gold ... breed them into cobras these are lies to sacrifice ... turning the machines backwards ...

10. Vanilla hit the roses hard ... breed them in a pot of water ... for tea time's breaking up, and the shoes are running out ... to have a nose's conspiracy in an auction's circle ... these purple liars know where they stand ... they push the green together, to give it a bad bend ... it's bending on paper ... these are liars on an orange boat ... while the yellow boat is sinking .. grasping fishes from empty dikes ... they're sinking deeper ... making noises in a free golden potatoe ... these are wilder animals ... they never told about them .. they were afraid they would take it all away.... he was the prince of jesus-judas-faces ... these bakerman's faces ... they set me free on a checked yellow draughtsboard i take flight ... to touch the golden lights in spanish mirrors.

11. Bank of the Red Swan, these warmachines create the coins ... It's written on medical pyramids ... And I'm gonna throw a stone ... Bank of the Red Swan, give me some time ... Your mother's accents will never make me smile, until another red swan rises ... killing the doctor ... killing the ornament's noses ... on a sunday in september ... on a nuclear day .. Bank of the Red Swan, I promise to be ... a lambstead on my grandfather's knee ... He and his parrots they promised to be ... ready for it ... when you aren't no more ... you swallow, you red horse ... you red picnic ... on daylight's shore ... Bank of the Red Swan, I promise to see, all your butterflies going down on their knee ... Your medical systems they promised me ... to never look back ... It's over now ... Bank of the Red Swan ... It's my bank now ... on grandfather's red knee ... while warmachines create the coins ... while hospitalmachines decide which head stands on the coin ... the one with the biggest charity ... Bank of the Red Swan, I'm nothing but a coin in your hands created on the battlefield, finished in your hospital ... while still my head is on the coin ... while still my steps are hairy ... decisions they flow from mother Mary ... on holy days she takes a canary ... to the other side of the world ... to watch this Red Swan from the distance ... Mother Mary, I promised to be ... an angel on my grandfather's knee ... Mother Mary I promised to be ... A red swan on the bank, the black coffin, to get my wings and fly to the end of other oceans ... to rise like towers ... in the cities of the united ... These medical days they broke me ... breeding me into a wilder animal ... but oh I'm so paranoid now ... feeling so fragile ... having such fragile visions about a red swan on the dike ... jumping inside something he will never reach ... under bekehelm's helmet he promised me to be ... my second lawyer ... a liar's doctor ... an animal so wild ... bringing me wilder days ... spitting sand

he promised to be ... an icecream so far away ... this coin will be brought down ... with all these Jesus Christs ... and their heads on it ...

12. Mother decided it this way ... on grandfather's knee ... Bank of the Red Swan I promised to be ... a land in a decision of two spaces on my knee ... Land of decision ... the red strike is blue ... for the Blue Swan rises on the menu ... There's tea for two ... for sleepwarriors a war in satin city
... getting the glue ... Bank of the Red Swan I promised to be ... your mailman visiting you on day three ... picking some roses out of your mother's garden ... making the spells on a hard day's mouse for lucifer's house ... I continue on my naked knee ... You loved the pretty colours ... It is all I want to be ... These trousers are torn ... letting me in ... while you stand on a decision ... letting all things be ... without the cakes of your smile .. It's over on day three ... While Jericho rises in comic smiles ... I rake the potatoe in bible coffee ... Gleam of the ornament I promise to be .. my mailman's decision on day three ... Land of the siren I am finally free ... free of your possessions ... for I was never looking for gold in that place ... I have found it somewhere else .. Bank of the treasure I promise to be ... further away this year heading for day three ... my cheeks are red and so are you ... The red swan on medical decisions ... The charity breeds the coins ... for another war ... of businessmen in green ... while tea is dripping from their noses ... trying to make the land sleep by their lies ... While lucifer rakes the golden smiles ... on a golden picnic day It's a brandnew decision ... They have heads of coffee, these black men ... hiding themselves under blankets of tax ... while red bottles rise in uniforms I take flight .. back to izu ...

13. Charity soldiers ... coming from a Red Swan Bank ...breeding the coins ... in cruel hospitals ...
You don't know where the glue is ... You are a fallen angel ... on a blue day ... while you are still fighting with it ... Land of the black brake I promised to be ... seven smiles at the same time .. rising higher than your knee .. while there are crosses in the air ... and seven draughts soldiers .. moving their pawns and throwing their playcards like sharp money ... cutting the bald heads and the blue potatoes ... These are just the wilder animals ... knowing the world behind the shoe ...The icecream made them blue so blue ... with red hands ... they continue .. back to izu ... Land of the promise I promised to be ... six feet high with the usual fee ... Six transmissions on day three lappossessed by a smile ... this juice it brings me higher ... out of the medical threat .. I'm not a number of your bread ... Land of the lambstead I promised to be ... six feet taller on day three, but still under bekehelm's helmet ... with mjollnir and elsefic on my side ... bringing me to the clauses ... setting me in fire with sweet desires ... the truth knows all my names ... these high decisions ... they see the land of the smiles.

14. Black Pinocchio I promised to be ... not hiding ... but sliding ... to the daylights dream In a hotel I saw what they were doing to me ... I'm not a coin .. I sleep at homeI don't pay for my food ... I take it from the garden by own hands ... I have a family for that ... rising in June ... on a coffee's spoon ... my family is rich ... They're just funeral undertakers ... breeding coins in a grave ... these strange coffins ... to raise the zombies ... spinning the auctions for the highest money ... whose head will be on the coins today ... one with the greatest charity or the biggest gun The orange just says what he has to say ... Black orange of the canary's day ... It's a killerpig rising ... spoiling lucifer's dinners ... What you're doing to me ... I come from higher trousers, I come from higher coins to raise the ornaments so beautiful ...I'm the coin of funeral undertakers, I'm the coin of Thoth from strange draughtsboards I spin the ornaments hesitation ... I come from three coins high ... I do a lot ... I sink in seven seas at the same time .. but still under bekehelm's helmet ... I raise my money high ... The orange is my gun ... the head on my strange coin, doing the highest decisions I can't do ... It's fun when daddy's home ... Oh orange with your seven smiles ... doing the dishes of clocks in houses ... feeling yourself in the seventh snowflake of a mistress strange table ... on six o'clock in the afternoon proclaiming the evening was never for you, you fool ... Now wash your tables in ornament's smiles, now break your glasses in lucifer's au reservoirs don't steal when it's your turn ... just take it ... don't break it ... it will all continue ... take a good look, while mother is producing steam .. she screams in the night like the sixth wolf of benchelot.

15. Breath good while you're breathing, drink good, while you're drinking, under bekehelm's helmet it's all okay ... you smile I have to go .. you still breed the snow on a lucifer's old september day .. of years ago ... centuries are smiling, a green sun coming out of their mouths ... doing dishes so proud, gathering the fallen soldiers, for another coin in strange hospitals ... where doctors do strange dances ... they are funeral undertakers ... these oranges are old ... too old Watch your vanilla smile ... these kids are old ... too old ... you cannot trust them, they're aldebaran birds ... knowing how to lay the curses and the watermarks binding you forever, goodbye babylon ... when daylight screams they know it's time, to get a ride to the bank of the red swan ... families like funeral undertakers ... breeding strange coins ... breeding strange auctions ... to raise the moneygun spitting sand for new books on the shows

16. These families like funeral undertakers ... breeding strange coins, raising the money high, while the banana shoots, but an orange steals the cry ... to swallow deep this strange red swan ... while gepetto is rising with his black pinocchios doing strange dances in the night it makes you cry ... the highest bidders become the heads on their coins ... the one with the greatest dynasty ... the one with the greatest destiny ... the one with the greatest charity ... winning the hospitals ... rising them for a better coin ... a faster gun a jupiter's smile a great banana with the head of an orange ... shooting in the night ... killing the paws ... it's crying sand strange business ... strange bend Oh, sandman do your dance ... and raise the money higher to bring a gamble of confusion ... to bring them all asleep ... breeding the icecreams ... on isolated islands ... these coins get sharper ... on a strange september day ... these animals get wilder with oranges as their guns ... these heads on coins ... spouting the miseries ... spouting the desires and the destinations oh sharks rise from here ... these bullets under the skins ... exploding like your mother's chin, when she opens her mouth .. the rats come in ... Then the ornaments fall to do strange things for the banana and the orange these buttercoins ... in deep deserts ... in deep strange smiles, you start to cry, in deep decisions ... you find your own dynasties so many kings before you ... while you are the head on the coin, you're the orange of the kings, and even kings of the orange ... spreading green tomatoeseeds It's lucifer's decision ... sitting on grandfather's knee lappossessed in a smile ... in jupiter for awhile ... free on day three escaped from a red swan's bank now who will get him down ... it's the war of the oranges ...

17. on jupiter's smile ... broken by a banana, it rises to be the head of the coin spreading the green tomatoeseeds to be a good gun in an indian's hand ... it's leading you along strange curtains ... starting the gamblemachines while a birthday's boy is rising ... with his blind parrots reading braille ... it's a crazy ornament exploding in the wind ... spreading the green green watersides ... like green tomatoeseeds in the night ... in an orange ravine it takes flight ... losing the game he's a god of gamble ... so many heads on a die ... while jupiter rakes the golden fly ... there are strange cars in the air exploding heading for the big shoe ... he's a trafficlight of gamblers ... on a jupiter's night ... it takes flight ... a secret baker's coin ... it decides ... it's a good gun, an orange, a big head ... it's exploding, taking dinner ... watching lucifer instead ... there are coins on the dice ... strange cars exploding ... heading for the big shoe ... by a vikings axe, all under bekehelm's helmet ... rising to bekehelm's shoe ...

18. These are wilder animals you do not understand ... they do strange dances ... you start to cry ... spreading their green tomatoeseeds in the sky ... You were the orange on a summer's dish ... exploding, wrapped in bananas ... while they killed your yellow bike ... you do not understand they eat you ... making a gun of you deep in the night ... a gambler's gun is what it sais ... now he can rise into eternity ... exploding like a star ... the supernova to see lucifer smile ... to watch these golden moons, so many colours of gold on a dish ... strange trafficlights ... they explode to take you down ... bringing you to the queens of clowns to all the jokes of the underworld ... you smile, it's your decision ...

19. I'm an orange, my head is on the money, now I'm the sand in the desert, behind the golden books ... I am now a moneygun ... all machines listen to me ... I am Jerome the king of lions ... come follow me ... I show you the books behind the books ... I show you the deserts behind the deserts I'm the gambler's trafficlight ... exploding in the night leading them all to the big shoe under bekehelm's helmet ... by strange dances I take flight ... I'm riding the icecream machines ... there's strange snow behind the deserts ... all on a californian smile ... It's bagdad in Izu, strange coffee rippling in the sky ... I'm the tiger riding the lions ... on a lucifer's decision ... to the land behind the shoe ... breeding the cakes of charity ... to give them all good jobs ... while my money is spouting higher ... I am the orange rubberduck ... I'm the easterclause gathering the ashes for a good good gun starting the machines of lucifer ... I'm crying fire ...

20. I'm a desertcar, on ornament's dishes ... until I am a needle, a needle of grammophone ... a lambstead in the sky ... while babies are flying high like waving flags ... they unite ... while the green car rides It's a strange household bringing the toys alive ... I am a lambstead in the sky ... truthpossessed for awhile ... but still having my orange liars rising from a zebra's boat ... from a strange green car among a strange household ... These coins are strange records ... while I am the lion's needle bringing them all home ... a pied piper making them spin ... It's rising from the orange ... It's rising from the lion's face These strange strange needles These lambsteads of the snowflake records ... spinning the icecreams for another day ... from the world behind the big boot, under bekehelm's helmet ... It's spinning around on tables coming from the golden dishes ... It's the ornament's spoon ... strange traffic ... a gamblemachine ... spreading the icecream on hairy grounds it stands letting the lion's needles rise these lucifers ... to get the music out of the coins ... It's an orange head, a good gun singing a candle in a dragon's castle ... reading so many books, just reading ... while a mailman is taking me home ... it's a mailman needle ... from the big cactus ...

21. There are needles growing on me, I'm standing on hairy ground ... I'm drinking from the trees of light ... I am a holy cactus ... spreading lucifer's lights My hairs are on fire ... while my tongues are growing taller ... just thinner these are strange coins on a banker's suit ...

22. I am the banker's desire, the banker's wife ... No doubt about it I'm spinning his ornaments tight ... These are wilder animals, just wilder days ... in lucifer's delights ... I'm watching springs coming from his beard ... I'm watching the icecreams stream He is the banker, and I am his wife ... while last night ... the banker and the baker were in a fight and now his hair is in fire ... while stinging plants and cactuses grow in the garden ... and animals with strange tongues these are wilder animals coming from a wilder sun These are wilder days ... the candles on a wilder birthdaycake ... It's streaming from the banker's suite ... strange coins ... like needles these are strange microphones strange speakers ... He writes books on dragon coins And now he's fighting with both the baker and the mailman ... he's just a microphone ... shivering when they speak too loud ... he's making icecreams ... like snowclause never showing up ... only sending some letters ... only writing some books on dragon coins ... He's a tree of strange pencils ...

23. He's a bankertree, while the baker and the mailman are still fighting in front of it ... He's a strange feather ... from the land behind the shoe ... He's banker clause, a strange painter ... in strange houses he takes flight ... with so many pencils in his head ... He's like the eliphant ... he paints the dreams of heavy decisions ... on coin's misunderstandings ... He's a strange docter ... a strange advice ... He's banker clause ... an eliphant on a lost dream speaking through strange microphones a strange mailman after all working in a strange kitchen ... where the food comes alive ... eating the restaurant's visitors ... He's bankerclause, big septemberman ... He's a strange advice on a mother's clown ... He's a bad holiday painting snow ... He's bankerclause, a criminal ... raising his guns in the middle of the night He's a banker's pencil ... saying such strange words spinning tax like no one else ... He draws the lawyer's oranges on the needles ... selling the guns to the dice ...

24. When the lawyer and the mailman unite, the school rises, with a strange clock ... even stranger than your grandfather's ... It's the blue swans bank ... It's the schoolbank's clock drowning them all ... from here the cowboys are rising ... preparing them ..for the big fall ... These stamps they judge the butterflies and the dice. They are coming out of a cowboy's mouth ... He's still the mailman after all these years but he's fighting with a shepherd ... It's coming from a mailman's bag, the sun is in it, with it's golden pencil ... it's a strange clock, and then they fight ... It's coming from a mailman's bag ... strange records there, strange needles ... these are the lambsteads ... from strange cactuses ... A cowboy rides the school ... and a shepherd rides the church ... while an indian rides the hospital ... these are strange banks ... from uncle peacock's horrorshows ... strange funerals in the flowerfields ... these are the riddles of death ...

25. These are four drunk gamblers, while the mailman is their god ... while a bakertree is growing in the middle ... a strange sun ... a mad sun they are on a travel, to greet uncle peacock ... A red swan rides the ornament, while a blue swan does the same ... It's a cowboy against an indian ... It's the school against a cinema ... It's a school against a hospital ... but the mailman makes them all one
... he mixes them in his kettle ... making stamps of them ... for a lawyer's trial ... there are liars on a zebra's boat ... orange liars ... doing the dishes ... for a holiday's spoon ... the banana rises soon out of it's rinds ... with two big eyes ... it writes with the golden pencil ... when all babies unite ... and the stamps are floating ...

26. it's schooltime the bells are ringing ... all happening on the footballfield ... while a golden lion is swallowing ... the mailman rises higher and higher .. for his ornament's ring .. he's still the god of ten ... while the drunk are following him with gamblemachines on their back, they take flight ...
It's the golden lion's bank a strange postbank ... where stamps judge the dice and the butterflies ... making the glue ... There's music from uncle unicorn, there's assurance after the wars of tax ... while the smoke is rising ... bakermen come to bake the bread ... this strange golden bread ... it makes you cry ... while flying on a die ... while flying on a bakerman's face ... a face on a strange stamp still judging you and your father ... still drinking from the ornament's wine ...
while the mailman is grasping in his bag ...

27. He's searching for his clock and pencils ... he's painting the skies, while his own little sun rises ... smiling with the seven smiles of death ... these are his weapons he's still a soldier ... with a strange flag ... a cactus on a lion's bankship All bankers heading for the mad sun ... that red sun in the skies ... where a red rose takes flight ... still kissing her gepetto's still doing her shows ... her peacocks horrorshows ... she's drinking wine with a little latin buffoon puppet, still her favorite smile ... They're playing chess and at draughts ... They're spreading wings in the snow ... these butterfly wings these kisses on the water sailing to the edges of time ... where all oceans gather, under bekehelm's helmet ... It's a clock of a strange postbank making the waters rise ... Pharaos drowning his boys again ... his churches, for it's time for school and these soldiers need some rest, some babies ... doing business by the spoon, on a hard day's mouse ... on a fine day's school ...

it's the tool of a lawyer in a mailman's bag ...

28. Pharaoh is doing the dishes burning the ornaments tight ... these indians they lost the fight going to the banks again ... for the morninglights ... on lucifer's tables ... these high tables ... they unite It's a painting in the sky ... while brother rabbit is raking it It's the lawyer's orange ... still smoking these cigarettes on a bakerman's dream ... on a mailman's tight decision ... making a daylight's scream ... and this orange still the head on a stamp of dreams ... this mailman's orange ... this lawyer's threat having a bank together ... baking the bread ... this golden bread ... while the lion is rising ... a golden one ... for a golden picnic ... it's coming from the mad sun ... this red sun turning blue again it is the mailman's trick this god of ten ten shepherds or ten cowboys ... about this the wars are raging chocolate wars ... coming from a strange hospital ... strange carriage ridden by a drunk indian ... this talgamen's friend ... he drank from faroom da bazite ... this warmachine ... a business war machine ... a social machine ... wars undercover ... ridden by a drunk indian ...

29. And these stamps come from strange strange flowers ... with strange strange alphabets on a lion's bank in september ... give me december instead or a good good august ... And it's still a strange strange cardgame ... in a strange mailman's bag written on a strange ornament while a lawyer is doing the dishes ... they burn trees for this ... this woodcutter's job making the stamps in dark places taking kids away from the schools ... these are dark conspiracies ... from peacock's horrorshows On a strange footballfield the mailman is rising ... this god of ten ... while he is the eleventh ... and who follows him is the twelfth ... It's a strange bank after all ... when school rises strange tears are rolling making seas under bekehelm's helmet ...

30. The mailman is rising from the footballfield, spreading the stamps as butterflies, and then the mass begins to roar ... while the judges will decide ... The mailman he has a million arms ... while he has a bekehelm's helmet ... they are all under it when he puts off his hat, he's a bald communist .. letting the balls roll by blasphemy ...

31. His wife is a flowercutter, a florist, while she makes the stamps ... she even dries butterflies ... and it's still a mailman's auction ... raising the flowers for another day ... She stands between the flowerfields, this golden lady ... still the mistress of jericho ... and the orange flowergun is spouting ... these seeds they taste like soap ... it comes from the land of soap where the swans spit fire ... her clocks are like dishes ... while she rises ... on a golden lions bank ... smoking her flowercigarettes still weaving strange stamps ... for a mailman's holiday ... She lives in his bag as his tinkerbell ... painting the smiles on his sun, these golden bananas ... with oranges as their guns ... they have orange tongues so tall so split ... they are orange liars on a zebra's boat ... strange mailmen ... strange pencils ... and while the stamps are spreading ... they write ... he's just writing bills saying it's from someone else ...

32. he's a billdeliverer ... and they must pay in stamps ... that's the judgement on their heads he's still a flowerman, a floristman ... wanting his babies back ... these are stories written on petals ... while sandman rakes the skies together with soapman ... strange glues ... strange ornaments ... strange mothers and strange brothers ... it's a flowerbank from a golden lion ... there's a new alphabet on the petals ... these are strange letters ... while he's the head on the stamp ... a strange god of flowers ... wanting his babies back ... in the nights he's a woodcutter ... kidnapping children out of their schools making stamps of them the sails on his ship ... all in a strange strange bottle under bekehelm's helmet ...

33. He's a strange Noah sailing on stamps ... These stamps are glued books ... he wants his babies back ... And these stamps are strange bibles .. strange funerals and strange laws ... while the letters bring the land in sleep ... he's sandman after all ... It rises on a mailman's auction ... all these flowers heading for the orange ... where they all turn into ashes to make the land drunk These deserts are in fire they were touched by a mailman ... while an orange face is rising on the stamp ... eating and drinking ... forgetting ... flying on the wings of dementia back to the flowerfields beyond history ... It's strange traffic after all ... strange cars ... strange nightshifts ... strange trains ... orange balls are still exploding ... the gambler brings them back ... a strange mailman ... from a strange stampbank in the desert ... where the orange lion is rising ... like baker's tree so high bringing new laws new bibles ... but first he brings them all in sleep ... strange sandmen after all ... strange orange liars ... on zebra's boats they stand ... with strange flags in their hands ... letting them all faint and now the gold is streaming with so much attention ... on this strange stampbankship ... where a strange stampbanker lives ... a strange Noah ... oh so strange ... these are wilder animals ...

34. For the stamps are warriors in the night ... rising from the bottle ... They want to go home ... and break through walls They want to go back to the stampbooks library ... back to the flowerfields where they can see the statue of belcanov ... all under bekehelm's helmet ... These stamps ... strange traffics ... He's the god of stamps A fisherman ... a Noah brings them underwater ... Strange traffic in a strange clock ... a postman's clock ... a strange sun in a mailman's bank It's lucifer, you cannot decide ... he's spinning the ashes into stamps ... while the dice are rolling ... these are strange butterflies ... They sacrifice stamps in strange churches ... waving at them until they are home ...

35. These are strange funerals mailmen strange funeral undertakers ... working for the clauses ... or are they clauses themselves ... there are strange clauses on stamps ... while soap clause rakes the skyfields ... in september they take flight ... these are wilder animals ... these are wilder fights ... all happening in a mailman's bag ... charity is taking them to the hospitals ... to reach the killingfields ... these are strange ways to home ... These are strange bottles of an ornament's lie ... they are still businessbrothers ... but under their uniform's they have their soldier's clothes ... rubbish from the killingfields leading the dolls astray ... on a september's wild night ... these are wilder animals ... these are wilder tricks of tax ... from a strange clock of a postbank

The Night Trouper

Who am I in your fantasy ? You can make me or break me ... If you want to change the world ...
You must change your view first You're in a red ball ...

Gabriel's Fall

1. Where the chessboards are red ... If you want to change the world ... You must change your view first You're in a red ball ...
2. Gabriel had fallen. He had fallen away from so many things, when he found out about the offer. Gabriel had fallen, for he found out about his own inner strategy, his own path, and made the decision to break with them. He found out that he didn't want to bring this sacrifice.
3. Yes, he would take over this planet, and he would destroy them, his former friends. He went to a lady, a scorpion's lady. Now he wanted to make this planet red.
4. He heard about the sacrifice they needed to bring ... He would never enter, and now he found out about this new record, this new machine, inside. He didn't need them anymore. They were always red, appearing in blue and white, building the green. His own red, he would introduce it on the green.
5. His father Troxododeron was a chemical fluid, a force binding the powers of the green together for so many histories. It was a red fluid appearing blue and white. It was the strongest force in the universe, the strongest form of magnetism based on a circle of the strongest poles.
6. Troxododeron was the chief of the Elohim, the inner power of the Adonais. He was the chief of all these red flowerfields, so enchanted. When you looked at it, it started to become blue and white, sucking away your energies, and giving you a new sight ... the sight of illusion ... These flowers were vampiristic ... These flowers were ... bewitched and enchanted ... to bring you into a new feeling ... these red flowerfields ...

7. Gabriel had to travel through all these flowerfields again, to the end ... where it all began ... He knew the dangers of these flowers, turning themselves against all traitors ... It would be a battle between him and his father a battle he knew he had to fight since he was young ... Red Gabriel was a demon now, in the eyes of the Elohim and Adonais ... He would be thrown into the lake of sulphur and fire ... A lake which he feared ... but he would reach the other side ... where he could share the red powers to the creatures of the green ... He found out he was a prisoner himself .. He wanted to be his own god, he wanted to be a good guide for the creatures of the green, telling them all about the red secrets ...

8. He had this tape in his hand, Antartica, a game of business. It was a present of his father, but now he chose to change this game into a wargame. He wanted more adventure, and he wanted more love. He desired to have true friendships with those prisoners on the green, and finding a way to lead them out.

9. Troxododeron was a shapeshifting experiment, growing out to be the number one of chemicals. It was the medicine of wizards. But now Gabriel wanted to mix it into another kettle. He went to a scorpion's lady. She didn't tell him who she was, but she said she could help him. It was the first woman of Troxododeron. She also fell out of the kingdom, and was now a fallen angel with the name Rahab. She was a scorpion from the sea, a mystical creature.

10. A bit of Troxododeron was in their hands, and they saw it was molding at a fast speed ... She had a scorpion's egg He had his own red, and they threw it into a kettle, while she was speaking her curses, and they made love ... while the water was boiling, while the egg was screaming, and Troxododeron started to enter the fragile layers of the egg ... The egg was weeping, while Gabriels Red was surrounding the new picture There was lightening and thunder, and stars were falling. It was the fall of the Nordics for many started to hear the voice of Red Gabriel.

11. There were falls of angels, and even elohims and adonais started to fall, for Red Gabriel started to speak. Even his brother, Red Michael started to fall down, and turned to his brother, while the egg's voice became higher and higher ... blood came out of their ears, and a red bible was lying before them.

12. Suddenly Gabriel woke up, bathing in sweat ... What is this, who is penetrating his mind ? He didn't want to fall ... was it an attack of his enemy ? Was it the Incubus, was it Leviathan or Rahab ? Who was giving him these visions, who wanted to bring him down ? He felt the hand of his father on his chest. 'Gabriel, wake up, son, we have things to do' ...

13. There were strange red lights in the eyes of his father. Troxododeron, chief of the elohims and adonais, and the circles of Ruachs ... So many things to do today, for the enemy is attacking.

14. Cain, Esau, and Red Jesus, the Fallen One ... The days of 666 come near, and our kingdom of Nordics needs to be prepared for the Great War of Armageddon. They are spirits of demons and they go out to the kings, to gather them for battle on the Great Day of God Almighty

15. Reload Antartica, our shop for the green prisoners, we will sell them as ice-creams to go through the funnel for pigs. Reload Delfio, we have our own devils and 666-worshippers.

16. The days of Delfio have come, he will transform us all into pigs, but we will be killer-pigs and he will be our king. Delfio, help your old Nordic fathers and their sons, oh golden grandson.

17. Don't listen to the voice of the Aakse, the Great Jupiterian Snake, for he's about to let us fall, but Delfio will save us. Save us, oh Delfio, our 666-miracle.

18. But father, it is too strong, I am ... losing this game ... he takes me away ... I'm in a Fall not falling away from your heart ... but falling away from your mind ... I am confused, I feel like I am losing my memory

19. GABRIEL, GABRIEL, LISTEN TO YOUR FATHER TROXODODERON ! YOU WILL NOT FALL, FOR DELFIO WILL CATCH YOU, YOU ARE IN HIS HANDS !

20. But father, I'm losing my mind, I know I have to, for it is written I get Delfio's mind. He is our saviour, He is our Christ, the second coming, oh how we need him, the Returning Christ for us Nordics, Watchers of the Big World ... Father, I command thee, my spirit, take it Father, in thou hands I command my spirit

But .. but ... the panther ...

Yes, son, go to sleep ...

The Red Bedroom

21. And like tall teeth are these cocoons, leading them in a fresh wind, from pig to chicken, from chicken to goat, it's the journey of cattle, the ones they used to slaughter, they become it themselves

now. Isn't that justice after all ? Becoming what you ate, and what you ate will become you ... well, in another form then ... for you were ugly ...

22. The record is spinning with the voice of the newsreader. Troxododeron explodes ..something he only does at special occasions ...

23. And I am still ... heading for Izu ... to have a great sight enjoying the horror ... in silence I will not speak I will be silent ... as a silent ... red ... scorpion deep down in the red sea ...

24. Like tall teeth are these cocoons ... and finally they will be some cows and some sheep isn't that odd

25. This is where these flowerfields lead you finally ... No, there's no exit ... there's no escape It will finally reach The red bedroom ...

26. Father ... I my hairs are in fire

Father ... the panthers .. there was another attack ...

Go to sleep, son, don't believe ... what they are telling ..you

You, you ... just dream of sheep

Yes, father, that is what I'm dreaming of these sheep ... leading me through red flowerfields ... until I'm in the red bedroom ... a red bedroom

Son, but don't touch the bed then ... for it is cursed ...

Father I already touched it

27. Gabriel wakes up again ... what a strange nightmare ... and what a strange voices what are they doing to him ... He has to make the journey through the eye again ... to become a sharp butcher again for he feels like he is ...cattle ... and he feels a hot breath in his neck ...

Panthers ?

Yes, son, panthers

28. On sundaymorning they will rise from Marilyn's Grave ...

Dan Roland, Deon Damar, Rio Damar and ... The Red One ... finally ... four panthers in a row ... to take over the planet but the Aakse will strengle them too ... He will even eat the old woman of catlikes yes, he will ...

This brother of Michai ... the fallen one ... both children of Metensia ...

29. Delfio will build the cocoon of pigs

Dan Roland will build the cocoon of chicken

Deon Damar will build the cocoon of goats ...

Rio Damar will build the cocoon of cows and finally they will be ... sheep in the pasture ... which the red one will do ...

30. The panthers will have their feasts on us and them but then the Aakse will feast on them too He will break them all one by one ... by his Jupiter's tails ... but then the woman of the catlikes will eat him from inside out

31. And she will put her throne on the sun and rule again for 80 days ... Who will slay the big Jom ? Who will slay the Big Snake ?

32. Michai will do ... There will be a man from the south ... and then the blue son will rise to build it's throne forever ...

33. This man will ride the snakes Snakes will come and snakes will go ... He will tame them all and ride them into the hands of his mother Metensia

34. There was a man called Michai, the Mystery ... building a kingdom on the sun ... Messiah from the Troiade ... The book of books, the father book of the bible It's the Red Bible

35. He will speak his words in thunder, opening and closing the iron portals by seals of thunder ... And some will not be allowed to speak ... He makes silence and noise whenever he wants ...

36. He's the red balloon, the man of scorpios He speaks languages sideways the portals Ancient languages of the Red Waters Holding a Red Secret close to it's hearts

37. He has a trident of horns on his head He speaks in water blue and blood red He is Michai ...

38. Seven snakes in a row, will make their paths slow ... Seven Lions Seven Sharks ... and then ten red scorpions ... heading for the red bedroom ...through the red flowerfields finally home
....

39. They will open the gates of mars, they will burn the deserts ...

40. The red eye is burning, the eye of sodom is here .. wandering from gomorrah to jericho ... oh jericho rise up, and gather the red ... who will be on top of the temple ... when the red scorpion takes the throne ... coupe d'etat ...picture police is in town ... looking for red michael ...

41. aldebaran and vela are brothers if it comes to old musical boxes ... they are the jukeboxes of the universe ...

42. I met the king of ai, and basan .. all scorpios in a box

43. I'm staring at a strange chaotic box, producing sharp art ... There's coming art from the chaos ... a sinister order ...

44. Kill the pretty boys, close the abyss of women ... I love my men ... The red men ... these wild boys ... but some of them we just don't need

45. Herodes was cursing on his throne He was throwing women in a pit ... He didn't have feelings for them anymore only for some boys from lynx ... He was under Sodom's Curse

46. These animals are all on scorpio's base ... French accents, lil children all under the dress of a golden mistress from the golden tall house ... lil children becoming icecreams ... her guitar will do it she sings songs of orphans she sings songs of sodom ... for she needs more of them ...

47. In Sodom there's a gate to Draminia ... they are all marching to ...

48. It's raining blood It's raining red ... While Og's watching ...

49. Strange sounds coming from a Japanese Bowl ... It's the scorpio's prince making the swallow so hot ... He's the king of spice

50. All these birds from cigarette, they sing so high ... they let the kettle boil over ... creating the orphan's song ...

How many songs of Jericho does it take to rise the foundling ... to build the bridge to Draminia ...

The guitar will do .. these men are jukeboxes ... golden statues ...

Put the Icecreams against the hot ones chocolate ... Melting is just making music ...

It all happens on a red chessboard the wizards surrounding the castles ...

51. These men are all on scorpio base ... while the abyss of women is closing ... I think they will all drown ... soft words are sharper than knives ...

52. The guitar of wonder will lead us over the river ... they were all prisoned .. in kisses of death ... what is a woman ? where icecreams become too soft I know a place where it becomes too sweet ... wet colours in the air ... where Og is rising ... Ten days in a washing machine will bring you there ...

The Third Day

53. The records turned red on that day, the rivers turned blood ... The animal flood of blood ... while Noah built an Ark on 3 by 3 ...

54. Red Lords with high hats standing on red coasts ... watching the red balloon ... It was a sort of pump, an elevator ... All happening far away in the air ... The wizards could only stare ... but they knew more about it

55. Hot in the North, cold in the South ... while a musical box was rising from the red chessboard ... It was a matter of melting and freezing ... while a little ballerina was dancing on top ... trying to find her prince ... but there weren't no princes anymore ... only a picture police ...

56. On that day when the chocolates were melting ... the face of the frog appeared ... a red face ... the queen found her toy back ..finding out she wasn't queen anymore ... the toad was sitting in the dining room of little aquarius ... with a golden dish and a golden grail while the plate-statue was a golden lion ... The cooks were all frozen, doing strange dances ... Dorothee found out she wasn't a woman anymore ... She had to swim through one almost frozen river ... to reach the tops of a new island ... where she would be tall and stretching would she be tall enough to realize what she was now ? tall emotions moving like snakes ... she was flexible now ... not frozen anymore ... she has ... rainbowteeth now

57. Night troupers march to darker nights, touching smaller parts, surrounding the men they call men ...

58. While the red chessboard is melting ... the eye-rag of a pirate ... He's drinking ... and paint is dripping in his head again ... to let him be in another world ...

59. There are fireworks in his head ... and then he goes to sleep, waking up in another world ...

60. He's dreaming of his lost son ... while he finds out he isn't a man anymore ... but a darker creature

61. But it's like there are too many woman-statues hanging on his sleeves and trousers ... He cannot be what he wants .. They drag him down ... into women's abyss ... turning up his heat so that he can melt the chocolate ... It's a strange guitar ... He feels himself like a prisoner of a strange dance ... but he wants to be free in this land ... flying through the window into deeper hells a dive in scorpio's tall boots he stands ...

62. But these gates are closed now, he's a scorpion's song, singing black and white songs for scorpions fishes ... Their heat penetrates your mind and emotions, letting you feel you were always king ...

63. These zebra scorpions ... You're made of songs, while the heat is climbing on the ladder, touching the high bells, for the high songs. You're made of songs and cigarettes, while sunmilk's oil is easing your skin .. It is your skin, these are your comics .. The wasps made such an art ...

64. Their alarms are on ... since Red Gabriel is falling ... He's out of the game now ... He has a body of small noses, small gates like smoke alarms .. he walks ... while taking flight on a golden bird ..
melting under his body ... he has to fly alone now ... waiting for that last last dive ... to the red island
... he survives ...

65. These are the songs you like ... They take you over fragile bridges ... the red ones ... While you are touching the soft wild fires ... moving wild over your skin ... You are covered now ... You have your rainbowteeth now ... The raiders are hunting you ... It's a new gender, the third one on the third day ... You are not a woman or a man anymore ... Something has cut you inside ... It's the red stripe ...

66. There you are walking to Jericho's walls ... You see the black and brown women ... victims of the red stripe ... They cannot talk anymore and they are deaf ...

67. And still blind children play at the portals of Jericho It's Aldebaran's pride ... while deaf children rule the city ...

68. They're all spastic, they make strange movements ... while barrelorgans are playing ... and old men are watching the show ... They are the night troupers ... leading them ... to the red city ... like a bubble inside ...

69. On the chessboard it's heat against the cold, in the Y the glowing oil arises, to let the racecars ride ... He's a raider ... riding the racecars ... so many animals under his feet ... He opens the bridge ... the yellow house ... and then everything disappears in red ... The red balloon shows up ... pushing the orange balloon under ... and then everything goes to sleep ...

70. Through purple and green curtains, you finally reach California ... where cold deserts rise where orange cowboys lure the orange snake ... to let it rise again ... Their hats are big, their bodies tall ... and they smoke ... you ...

71. They smoke from the bakertrees ... where you grew in but you're not a boy or girl anymore It's the third day ...

72. And where red cowboys smoke from Pinocchio's tree you find your golden shoe again ... leading you to the big red giant shoe while red stripes making you silent, you feel so alone ... but you're bathing in flowers ...

73. It's melting on your feet, these shoes Here you find your holy grail ... Who am I in your fantasy ... you can make me or break me ... Who am I in your world ... Am I buried in your dreams ... ?

74. It's the third day, mothers lame transmissions ... mothers strict excuses ... she finds her ways ...
Mother was just a night trouser marching to bring you back to the rain ... red rain on that third day ...

75. Songcar is riding on the railroads ... but trains cannot crash it ... for it's the third day

76. And I'm floating to a new Aldebaran, the skies are so blue ... while yellow rays touch the trees ...
It's like looking through a new mirror ... Like a newborn baby While pink songs in a car ... let you touch the edges of time ... It's singing in the air ... and you feel young again ... with sunmilk's oil streaming on your skin ... Mother was a Night Trouper ... Ten days in a washing machine ...

77. The Topaz Shark is bleeding, showing his threat ... but he cannot touch you anymore ... He will go back to Eden ...

78. A man is crying in Sodom ... This city is made of tears This city roars you will be alone

79. On so many pillars this city was built pillars of tears for a new Babylon Such a beautiful story ... and you don't know it ... you're just waking up to it ... On that Third Day

80. She was .. a Night Trouper ... She killed her mother and her father while guitars are raging through the night ... They say she has the seven rages in her heart ... They are all red ... While a red balloon is pumping Your arms feel thick and heavy ... but they look thin and light ... It's like you cannot move them ... but you can ... on that Third Day ...

81. Eagle Scorpions are in the air, heat is flying through the Emelis Shatau ... Now you know me and I Know you And the breath is red and purple ...

82. Oh, how you like to bathe in red ... red streams in all shades while icecreams girls are dancing in the distance the red balloon touches you, to inject the heat and let you forget about everything ... It's like far away ... but it's close so close ..

83. We're heading for Edom, for Esau's City ... for neon lights ... for soft lights of the water ... We're sinking in red flowerfields ... The rose is sharp, the insides are soft ... Smell the roses by your body ... and wake up to the third day ... Where Noah rides the scorpions ... and picture police checks the portals ...

84. Esau, Esau, where did you hide in red heat things are so small ... and we have dashboards in our heads ... These are helmets of the Rising Eagle of Scorpio ... They're all walking in a red ball It spins, producing red glue It's boiling don't touch it ... but let it fall on cold ground ... where the carpets are velvet ... Who am I in your fantasy ? You can make me or break me ...

85. If you want to change the world ... You must change your view first You're in a red ball ...

86. And scorpion eagles are flying to Vela, in such a strange speed ... They fly where all faces are covered by strange songs ... Like plastic implants from the Big Toy ... you start to cry ... These are all bakerman's faces ... carrying the songs which will bring you through the night They are the cooks of frogs and toads ... It's a green picture when they eat ... It was something you ate and now you're here

87. These women are tied by red tapes, waiting for the big strike ... their abyss has been closed by the angel of the abyss, a devil has been thrown in their pit ... and now it's a red scorpion abyss ... They are looking for death ... but they cannot find it ... while sickness flees from them They are never tired ... She's a slave, she's a night troupier ... She has purple boots, and she's staring at the green ... I cannot get her out of my head ... I can't ...

88. She's too deep, she is my mother ... but she doesn't have a head anymore for the abyss is locked up now by a red key ... It was Red Uriel there and now the Red Scorpions live there ...

89. She's staring at the green, she's staring at me ... Who am I in your fantasy ... You can make me or break me ... We are all on a red chessboard while the Night Troupiers are watching They have strange songs in their cheeks Raiders come from their eyes ... on that third day ... It's spiralling from the Red Eye ... Sodom's Eye ... and we are in this whirlpool, swimmingpool, masterpool In strange racecars we ride riding the stories, on old records the lambsteads sit ... She's smoking the fairytales

Jericho's World

90. It's a journey through the Red Eye ... It takes courage to face the facts ... There is a washing line from Sodom to Draminia ... where so many clothes are hanging ... These are your suits ... if you dare to take them if you dare to sing these songs ...
91. They have Vela faces, these soldiers ... Their songmasks coming from a green car ... doing the dishes ... But now I have no time to see it ...
92. And the golden princess behind tall red pillars, she sits in the paradise park, she sits on golden stones, where frogs listen to her stories ...
93. When you touch the picture, it starts to ripple ... Who am I in your fantasy ... you can make me or break me ... Speak to me, my darling ... my .. red scorpion ...
94. I know you have me in your red ball, turning golden in the night ... while blue glue is dripping, becoming green when it touches the ground ... It's licking the velvet carpets for an arabian ride These are raiders ... these are boy-like creatures ... with racecars under their feet ... painters with icecreams ... while nighttrouppers are watching the screens
95. I have your dashboards in my head ... Speak to me, and it will rain ... red rain in purple blue ...
96. There are voices rolling on my hands ... speaking of songs ... Jericho's songs will raise the walls again ... where children and animals can play behind They will be safe when the monster comes ... while picture police is in the streets ... Red lanterns in pink delights ...
97. I have you here in my hands, but it still feels like you are sliding away ... It's an icecream melting here ... While someone plays the guitar ... It's the man with the Jupiter Hat ... He with the shrieking eagles, He with the incubus smile ... with the strange dancing fishes ... so strange you start to cry ... they reverse your stomachs This is the world of feelings, so strong it claims your mind ... to possess and possess
98. You know it's a black man, like hot chocolate, having raiders darker than men ...

99. It's a tall black man, stirring up the waters ... what if he's switching the octaves ... you still don't know ... but he knows .. He goes through Arabian Curtains, while he's reaching for the Aldebaran Cupboard ... The tall one with the toys ... While the bells are roaring ...

100. Black man coming from behind the corner

101. She's a night slave, a night trouser ... a leopard calling my name ... a jaguar like my mother like thundering dashboards in my mind ... What are we at the end of this song ... It's still a cocoon ... bringing us to Jericho's World ...

102. Put on your suits of songs. We are from the Urban Renewal.

Chocolate Smiles

1. There he goes, he's a whispering diamond ... with all these wasprains in his hand ... She has the chocolate smile ... what would you do, when you would be in these forests ...

2. These are crying rains ... so much to tell ... These are golden steps, she gathers pictures of arms ...

3. She's a woman of strange wool ... She hides her tables in the night ... where the wet spots live ...

4. She's walking like a tailorman ... but she's a woman at heart ... She brings them chocolate on wintertiles ... while tiles of seas are staring ... They are watching the show ... Her shows ... She discriminates, but she is not a racist ... She just has strange shells the ornaments around her neck ...

5. Watch her halls and galleries In the New Haarlem, that city at the sea ...

6. And when she cries, you get hot inside ... She's laying the chocolate there ... all these chocolate tiles ... surrounded by wintersmiles while seatiles are staring ...

The Fifth Nightwatch

1. I must awake my dragons, Mother needs them tonight, all these candles with soft fires, coming from the red, to slow all things down
2. These are lights from bakertrees, I must awake the dragons, for Mother needs them tonight, In her castle, she fights, against a dark knight ..
3. She loses, it's so hard to see, I'm crying she's the only thing I have ... I am holding her hand, she's bleeding, and I cannot do anything to help her ... I'm just the ghost of a fog ... The ghost of a soldier ... This black knight .. also killed me ...
4. Mother, can you see my tears, I'm just a night trouper all these years ... Only coming to you in your darkest nights ... but I'm melting away in daylights
5. Mother, can you see I'm bleeding, Mother, can you see I'm falling, I'm coming down the stairways, holding the dragon's candle .. but the sun and the dawn will blow me away ...
6. Mother, I only live in your nights, Mother, you only see me when you dream ... Then we play in the snow ... To do hide and seek, having soft fights of love ... which we can never hold in our hands for long, for it's sliding away like a burial .. when daylights fall ..
7. Mother, can you see my tears, I'm just a night trouper all these years ... Only coming to you in your darkest nights ... but I'm melting away in daylights
8. Mother, can you see my tears, Mother, can you see my fears, I only see you in my dreams, you come to me in my darkest nights, Mother, can you stay a bit longer, I know you are just a night trouper, melting away when my days appear ... and now I stand alone ...
9. All these prisoners in white satin, sliding along the spirals of the sun, to be washed away by the waters of a new day, They are prisoners of the night, chased away by the daylight ... while the waters are flowing, and the sailors are drowning, they can only watch from a distance ...

10. Mother, can you see my tears, You're just a night trouper all these years, only coming to me in my darkest nights, but you're melting away in daylights

11. Mother, can you see I'm bleeding, I only see you in my dreams, as the watcher of my nightmares, holding the dragon's candle tight ... we're all behind dragon bars, in this dark dark night ...

12. And when you're coming down the stairways, with your dress so wet, with your face full of tears, with your arms so upset, I know that I can only do one thing, to hold you close to my heart, until the dragon's paw tears us apart

13. So mother, sleep, then I will sleep too, to awake the dragons, to raise their candles, so we can dream, and they can defeat the black knight ...

14. Mother, can you see my tears, Mother, can you see my fears, I feel your yellow touch, your flowers, I hear your songs, your nightmare screams, we are the night troupers all these years, bringing the cake alive, the eagle with his knife, and Mother, when you read this letter, I hope you will see my love and care, I hope you will see the dragon's candle in me ... An ornament full of soft lights and fires, coming from the red, awakening the red dragons, while we sleep in bed ... meeting each other ... in an everlasting dream ... in a red world we will find, the everlasting touch, the everlasting kiss, the everlasting mother, the everlasting son, the everlasting dragon, where the dragons never sleep, we can always dream together

15. They will hold the everlasting lullabies, as candles in their castles, they are the Night Watchers, and in Daylight, they stand at the beach ... The Night Troupers are marching, to the fifth nightwatch ... where the red dragons play ...

Dragons and Dinosaurs

kids are just your recycled parents They want to have that respect

the shark with the million teeth

1. The shark with the million teeth is chasing after me, A glass of wine cannot save me this time
I run behind the golden fence looking for another one to hide myself behind

2. Dad is smiling at me It's all a joke, son, he sais It was something your mother left behind after she died You shouldn't open that box, but isn't it fun after all ?

3. No, no, for I'm bleeding like hell And my tears don't stop running I miss my mom so bad Well, the shark is just paper, dad sais Even your mom was just paper I bought her somewhere on a barter She actually didn't die ... I just placed a light in her now she looks like someone else

Then why did you bury her, I ask

4. It wasn't a funeral, son dad sais It was a launchplace for rockets A vulcano's dream
You didn't have the right glasses that day

5. But, but I say you just said that mother left something behind when she died

I didn't say that, he sais ... but you heard it like that you mixed up the letters a bit

How did I mix up the letters then ?

The shark did But it's just a paper shark mom left it behind when she died

See, now you say it again

No, son, you still mix the letters up

6. Dad, dad, what did you all say to me the last few minutes ?

Son, I only asked you if you can go to the greengrocer to buy some banana's for tomorrow's party

Then how do I know you really said that, for my ears can mix it up

7. What are you talking about, son ? You cannot hear, you are deaf

Then why are you talking to me, dad ?

I'm not talking to you, son, I'm just writing you a letter don't you feel the paper in your hand ?

Then where are you, dad ?

8. I'm with your mom at the greengrocer's to buy some carrots, for you didn't want to do it

I thought they were banana's, dad

No, son, you need to read better ... you mix up the letters

9. Dad, dad ... what did you write me today ?

Why are you asking, son ?

For I'm afraid I will mix up the letters when I read dad

10. But son, you cannot read, you're blind

And I'm talking to you for twenty minutes now, if you please want to buy some apples at the greengrocer's, for tomorrow your mother comes home from her trip

Where has she been going to, dad ?

To Swiss, son ...

What did she do there

She bought some books for you there

But you just said I'm blind

11. Eh, braille, son ... braille

What's the books about ? ...dad

One is about the shark with the million teeth

And the others ?

She didn't tell me yet it's a surprise

12. Hello mother, you're finally home ...

Yes, son, I bought some books for you braille

One is called the shark with the million teeth

The second is called the shark with the million teeth part 2

The third is called the shark with the million teeth part 3

13. Well, what's it about, mother ?

It's about your father and me

Oh ? and who is the shark with the million teeth

You ... son it's a book about how to breed sharks the second book is about how to breed kids

14. And the third ?

The third book is about how to treat your father and mother

Then why did you give it to me, mom ?

To teach you how to listen to yourself, because you yourself are the shark, the kid and the parent

15. Mom, mom, what did you say to me today ... I'm afraid I mixed up anything

I didn't say anything, son I just hope you will deal with the greengrocer one day for he's a shark

And son ... please eat your beans ... they are staring at you for fifty minutes already

But mom, I don't see beans, so where are you talking about ?

Son, don't tell jokes ... eat them

the shark, the snake and the lion

16. Mom, mom, I'm getting sick and tired of this I will ask it the last time : What did you all say to me today ?

Son, keep quiet sharks don't talk

But mom, how did you talk back then if sharks don't talk

Son, I'm not a shark ... I'm a snake

Then how do I become a shark, mom ?

17. Your dad was a shark Your granddad was a shark

Ok, mom, I will keep quiet for the rest of my life

Son, sharks only talk in themselves They only mutter

18. And snakes, mom ?

Snakes only whisper son

19. Oh, so this was why I always misunderstood you ?

20. Son just whisper back If you talk too loud I cannot hear you And then you cannot hear me Just mutter and whisper so that you can also hear yourself

And son ... I bought three books for you : The snake with the million teeth part 1, 2 and 3

What's it about, mother ?

21. Part 1 is about how to treat your mother, part 2 is about how to treat your father, and part 3 is about how to treat yourself

Why isn't it talking about breeding kids ?

Son ... because kids are just your recycled parents They want to have that respect And when you know how to treat them, you know how to breed them

22. Let the child be the parent once in awhile for the memory for the health

Let the child be the king for awhile for the justice for the values

Let the child be the lion

23. Mom, mom ... what did you all say to me the last hours

I'm not your mom, I'm your child, dad

Oh, but then you're also my mother

Ok, son, I bought some books for you today It's your birthday

What is it about mom ?

24. Books about lions ... do you like that ? The lion with the million teeth part 1,2 and 3.

25. Part 1 is about how to roar Part 2 is about how to whisper and part 3 is about how to mutter It's about the friendship between a shark, a snake and a lion They all live in you, and they all live in me and we need to learn how to treat them. There's a book called The shark, the snake and the lion, in which you can learn that. I will buy that one for you tomorrow ... when you are nice ...

dad in the jungle

26. Thank you, mom you are the best mom in the world where would I be without you ?

27. Eh ... son ... then you would be with the elephant The shark, the snake and the lion in one
Then you would have a mother who would buy the elephant with the million teeth for you part 1, 2 and 3 about how to treat an elephant, how to treat a mother, and how to treat yourself

But where is dad then ?

28. Dad is riding the crocodiles having some new books for you next year

I can't wait that long

That's where the book is about how to have patience and how to treat a crocodile

29. But then I need to read it now This is like coming home feeling the locked door, knowing that the key is in the house

Well, son ... think about that one this year, ok ?

Mother you are cruel

No son, you are just lazy and impatient

Mom, so dad is in the wild jungles can't I visit him ?

30. Well, maybe ... but then you first need to be as cruel as I am, for otherwise you will not survive

Ok, mom, then you can teach me I bet you know enough cruel books

Oh yes, son, but I'm cruel enough not to give them to you

Oh, mom, you're too cruel

31. No son, you're still too lazy, too proud and too impatient

Go to the turtle and get wise

Go to the ant and get active

32. My mother's zoo is too interesting but she doesn't always give me the key to really meet all these amazing creatures I think she wants to protect me For I do not realize how dangerous they can be I'm still wanting to visit dad But i really need to put on my armour first I feel myself like a kindergarten-child but maybe that's better To act like an adult when I'm not is not good Then I would become a dangerous animal which they have to lock up behind thick bars But where am I now also behind the bars of the kindergarten but I need to realize that the world outside is the cage and not this kindergarten it's just close to each other

33. I feel the bars of the cages of dangerous animals not the bars of my cage I really need to put that clear I'm free here in this kindergarten with all these caring mothers and mistresses I'm free to fantasize Fantasy is always free But even in fantasy there are bars but these aren't of my cage ... but that of the dangerous animals' cages I'm staring a lot through these bars knowing that one day I will ride these amazing creatures together with dad If we know how to treat them well, they can build houses and cities even new worlds

the roar of a new fantasy

34. I'm hearing the roar of the dinosaur, I'm hearing the roar of the new city. I'm hearing the roar of my best friend, Waiting for me to ride him. Together we will build the land, Together we will go through the jungle, To reach shores of new eternities, And beaches of old forgotten islands. I'm hearing the roar of the dinosaur, The roar of legends, From millions of years ago.

35. I'm hearing the roar of my daddy's friends, Together we will make the land. Together we will build the cities, The tall buildings, and the skyscrapers, The hollow houses, the big balloons, And we will breed the fishes, Of fourty-thousand years ago. I'm hearing the roar of a new dream, A fantasy of orange giants, Liquid like the paint of the neighbour, Racing on new roads to the rainbow and beyond.

36. I'm hearing the roar of the joke, I'm hearing the echo of a burnt tile A maze-land a green artist A liar's spoon But it was just a riddle of truth It was just a puzzle's ornament roaring and racing these nights Searching for a good end These computer-games these computer-games were always the best

To an Autistic World

1. Please listen to the trees, Please listen to the elves in the trees

Please listen to the dwarves in the elves

Please listen to the flowers in the dwarves

Please listen to the food in the flowers

Otherwise tomorrow there's nothing to eat anymore.

2. Please listen to the pigs, You once killed in the butcheries, They still live in your stomachs, Waiting to eat you from inside out, Unless you want to listen to them, Then maybe you will have some friends when the butcher comes to you.

Ten little Ascenders

1. Ten little ascenders they walked on a bridge of fire. But one didn't want to get to the road of ice and was burnt by the fire. Then there were nine left.

2. Nine little ascenders walked the road of ice full of light. But one didn't want to go into the dark tunnel. Then there were eight left.
3. Eight little ascenders walked in the tunnel of darkness, but one didn't want to go to sleep, then there were seven left.
4. Seven little ascenders came in the rooms of sleep, but one didn't want to go through the dens of death, then there were six left.
5. Six little ascenders walking through the dens of death, but one didn't want to read the book of knowledge, then there were five left.
6. Five little ascenders walking with the book of knowledge, but one didn't want to have the soldier's helmet, then there were four left.
7. Four little ascenders, walking with the soldier's helmet, but one didn't want to go to the justice-court, then there were three left.
8. Three little ascenders, waiting in the justice-court, but one couldn't wait anymore, then there were two left.
9. Two little ascenders, still in the waitingroom. Then the doors of the judge opened, and it appeared all to be a kitchen. But one didn't want to eat the food, then there was only one ascender left.
10. One little ascender, meeting the love of his life. All his other loves had left him, and even the judge appeared to be a statue. One little ascender, only a mirror was left. His love appeared to be himself.
11. One little ascender, bittered, in rage, fear and full of trauma's, so lonely and so full of doubts, like living on an island, and seeing a sea where all his friends had been drowned. And now he wonders : Was it all worth it ? The tears, the blood, the trauma's ?
12. One little ascender, raising his fists to the heavens, screaming : Is this all a joke ?

13. And yes it is for before you went to this earth, you were reading in grandfather's joke-book, and then you fell asleep Your nine friends were just nine dreams, nine jokes, to teach you how to run.

And that judge ?

14. He was the biggest joke, and you laughed so hard, that it shattered you into pieces, this mirror you have is only one piece So ... look for the other pieces they are all on this island

15. But I'm so tired, is there any way to shut grandfather's joke-book ?

The key is in your heart, when you realize that there is one joke bigger than the biggest joke

You

For you were grandfather's best joke

Palace of the Toysoldiers

1. You know, All toysoldiers are his, The world beyond the faery's realm.

You know, It's the toysoldiers palace, Here they dance, here they feast.

You know it all, They have our faces, It's between you and me.

2. Here the tornado's spin, They can change their face in every second, Into the face of the next one entering this palace.

Their decorated sleeves, Pink and White, Their voices of pure candy, You know it all, It was always in your dream, They have our voices, Marching between you and me.

3. And when someone else enters the palace, Their voices change into that of a new friend.

They are the messengers of a new world, between you and me, Their tarts and cakes surround the place, It's forever birthday

Yes, they are birthday-soldiers, Soldiers between you and me, bringing us from day to day, from year to year

4. Look into their face, then you will see me, and the one who's entering the palace

Keep on dreaming, so that one day, you will touch the face of Sandman

Birthdayman's Palace

1. Happy Birthday, Birthdayman !

2. When he snaps his fingers , the magic starts, Screaming when you see him , For there's healing when he's around.

3. His big white beard knows all about you, He's like the Wizard , Running when you see him, for you don't know what to do with the electricity.

4. There a man walks on the street, Is it him ? Is it the birthdayman ? Knocking on his shoulders, asking him : Are you the birthdayman ? No, he sais, he was just here, but he's two streets further now. Someone is walking there, a man You are asking him : Are you birthdayman ? No, not me, he sais, he was just here but I guess he's two streets further now. Now you're running, looking for birthdayman, there, two streets further another man is walking, it's the same man you spoke to in that first street. You are getting sad, asking : you're not birthdayman, right ?

5. Will I ever find him ? Well, the man sais : But I am birthdayman. Why didn't you tell me before, you ask. Because it wasn't your birthday yet, but now it is, for you held on to me, he sais Happy Birthday !

Funparkman's Palace

1. The great man of the city, The love of all children, When his delirium hits you, you are in wonderland. In his factory you would want to work, His wine you would want to drink, When you sleep you are waiting for his touch, then your biggest dream will start.
2. Your pains are the vehicles of his elves, Your tears are the cups of his liquors, In your problems, wait for his delirium to hit you, for it brings you all closer and closer, When you're lying on your bench, Sick under his blanket, watching some tv, wait for the tv-star to hit you, then your movie will start. To be enough in his roundabouts, To drink enough of his tea, is to be small enough to enter through his little gates, to touch the sides of dreamworld.
3. For within these walls of life's situations, It will all happen, It will all start. No need to escape, It's all deeper inside. Within these walls your own life put, Within these limits you daily face, You will grow and grow, Till one day you will burst out, and touch the hand of the giant.
4. For outside these walls, you would never grow, you would never have a foundation, and you would never have a balance. Be grateful to the walls, For they are your true friends, And remember : Friends without walls are actually your enemies. For they give you freedom, but this will be the biggest prison you have ever met. For then you are a bird without wings, not knowing where to go. Where there are no walls, there are no roads, there are no tunnels Where there are no walls, there are no colours, This gift would make you blind. With this gift of freedom, you are never able to touch, never able to shake the hands of friends, for there are no limits, no borderlines, no sides, no walls, So that you fall in gaps you never knew of, In pits too deep for your understanding. So, thank God for the Funparkman, for all the fun happens between these walls, and shows you a road beyond freedom, For this is a road which never ends, It blocks you in everything, but never in your growth.

The Gamewizard's Palace

1. Butterflies are in panic, Bears are quickening their cooking in the kitchen, Lions are breathing faster, It's the Gamewizard. The whole castle is in panic, when the Gamewizard enters in, turning chaos into order, all the insects and eliphants are bowing, sweeping the dusts from their shirts.

2. All rabbits are running, all panthers are racing, It's the Gamewizard, the Gamewizard.

3. He always shakes his head, He has always new games, always new rules.

4. We are all sitting in his kettle of limits,

He rules with his spoon,

We are all sitting in his kettle of opposites,

He's making candy of us.

5. We are all sitting in his kettle of pain,

To bring the anger to it's contends,

And then to break it into silence,

Into Candy-sticks.

6. There's boiling something in the kettle of the Gamewizard,

It's his own very hand,

Trying to catch us,

For another game.

7. I'm sitting in his kettle of dreams,

All I can do is cry,

It was only a nightmare, he sais,

But it spun the dream,

The Candy-Dream.

8. In the kettle of hardness,

I make you soft.

In the kettle of softness,

I make you hard.

9. Trust in me,

that I will never disappoint you.

All what you see and hear,

Is just my tool to form you.

There is nothing besides that.

I created your world,

And in that world,

I am creating you.

10. There we sit in his kettle of nightmares,

Tomorrow we are a dream.

There we sit in his kettle of poison,

Tomorrow we are fruit.

11. He knows how to cook,

He asks us to trust him,

It is ok,

All we get for daily meal,

It's ok,

All we get on our plate of life.

It's from the cook,

The cook of life,

The gamewizard.

12. It gets too fast, Gamewizard,

That's too make you slower.

13. You scream too hard, Gamewizard,

That's to make you silent.

14. It's too hot in your kettle, Gamewizard,

That's to make you colder.

15. It all works by opposites.

16. When does the game start, Gamewizard ?

It already began.

17. Can you see the game in your heart ?

The people around you are just pawns in the game of your life.

You created them, they are your interpretations and fears. They reflect your weaknesses and ignorance, the things you didn't digest yet, the things you didn't learn and control yet.

You attracted them, for the work wasn't done. It's all in the game.

18. But what about those brilliant ones, those legends which I will never forget ?

They reflect your gained growth, but also the roads for you to go. They are the blossom of your plants, the flavours of your trees.

But I thought you created them, Gamewizard ?

We did it together, together we rule the kettle.

deliriumwizard's palace

your guide to a crazier world

1. delirium gets you, delirium hits you, whenever you read his books, he's the bookwizard, candy-choirs are surrounding his head. Whenever he speaks they come over the ones who hear his voice. delirium comes over you when you listen to his speeches, no one ever survived, you don't need to survive, just let yourself slide into his arms. let the world say you're crazy, and thank them for making you crazy, for without that you wouldn't meet the master. they are all made by the master of delirium, it's all in his books. he made them, to bring you to him. they are crazy with serious faces, they are as crazy as you are, all creatures of the master of crazyness, a crazy master. for without being crazy, you could not paint this world how you painted it, you couldn't create all these crazy people calling themselves humanity with serious faces, but you did, it's all in your mind. this is something you are praised for. without being crazy you couldn't paint at all, and you would miss all these crazy people calling themselves humanity, then you would miss the master's touch.

2. Read another book, in which it said : All new things are crazy. Nobody dared to paint. While another book says : All new things are god. When a blue man enters an island with green people, they think he's god. In the other book he would be crazy. We are in his kettle of books, to become crazy. He's a crazy cook, preparing a crazy apple, while no one dares to paint, you paint the way out. Only the crazy can move, only the crazy can breath, the rest will be paralyzed at the end. But trust me on this : There will not be a rest. Everyone is crazy. And who says he's not, is the craziest of all, and is the master of the crazy, The delirium-wizard. Never lose such a person out of side, someone who sais he's not crazy, for he's the delirium-wizard, your guide to a crazier world. Hold him tight, don't let him escape your grip, and cry till he gives in, cry till he gives you his delirium, till you can live under his umbrella forever.

The Puzzlewizard's Palace

1. Here all dreams start, Here the Thunder reigns. Give him your dreams, and he will make nightmares of them. He's the nightmare man, But that's the best dream you will ever have. For riding on a nightmare will bring you across the river. Riding on a dream will let you sink, but the nightmare is your light in the darkness. Dare to smile to the face of the nightmare, He's your friend, not your enemy. He brings you over the river of ignorance, He opens your blind eyes. There is no any dream left, after his touch, They are all in the kettle of nightmares, Fishes between the Sharks. Don't cry when he takes your dream away, your nightmare brings you much further. Don't cry when he turns your pink into black, For it brings you across the river of death.

2. Your soul will scream, your soul will fear, But be glad of the touch of the Puzzlewizard, For without it you would never survive. He awakes you, He shows you his candle, To bring you through the night. He can make it dark, And shows you a dim light. For in daylight you don't know where to go, but in dimlight you will find your way.

3. He is the creator of all opposites, The creator of all extremes, He can make it cold, he can make it hot, He's the tailor of your dreams. He opens doors, and shuts them, No one can escape his touch, No one can hold on to a dream, For it slides away like fish. It's all water when he touches it with his wand, And you will have to find your way back to the sand. The nightmare will bring you there, It wasn't for nothing, When he pushed the sun back into the sea. When the nightmare speaks, no one can hide, When the nightmare speaks, no one survives, Then the sun is pushed back into the sea, And only your hand will reach the other side. In the land of the puzzle, Everything melts into the sea, Only a little island will arise, where a new dream will begin.

4. So, look at your hand, and learn how to shake the hand of the Puzzlemaster, for only your hand will survive when his nightmare will bring you across the river, There where you felt his hand, There where you pushed his bell, There where you touched his puzzle, you will find the wishing-well. For everything you wished, comes alive in your hands, There where you touched the puzzle, There you will touch the present. You were locked up in a puzzle, You were locked up in a dream, But the nightmare found you, And now you run free. For when the nightmare touches you, there's no time to puzzle, there's no time to think, or unlock the door. You can run free. For when the nightmare touches you, There is no room to speak, There's no room to behave, And no room to listen.

5. You can only scream, and cry, And this will set you free. Let the nightmare touch the children, who are locked up in puzzles and tight schools, And set them free on the back of the nightmare, to bring them across the river of crazy teachers. The puzzlewizard was the crazy teacher, and he brought the nightmare to you, It's all in the puzzle, The little devil jumps out of the box. Now you run for him, but tomorrow you will shake his hand. Now you fear him, but tomorrow you will desire him, For he brought you across the river.

6. Thanks to all who made us scream, Thanks to all who made us cry, Thanks to all those nightmares, Who brought us into new dreams. Only our hands survived, Enough to finally shake your hand, Enough to finally reaching the dream of dreams, and to rule the kettle of puzzles, together with you.

7. The spoon is in our hands now, The crowns are on our heads, We finally overcame daylight, The worst nightmare ever made.

8. The Puzzlewizard has many faces, one of his faces was you, The most brilliant one, We will be friends forever, Thank you forever, Orangemoon. Now when the kids sleep in nightlight, A little dim green light, The Puzzlewizard rides the roofs, To bring them puzzles for the next day, To bring them nightmares for the night, Also to have that little dim green light, In the darkness of daylight.

9. I once heard the hoofs of his horse, Knocking on the roofs, It set my heart free, For the day after I was ill, And didn't have to go to school. The hoofs of his horses, brought delirium to me, Now I'm under his spell forever, With horses under my knee. Me and my horses, we can go everywhere, It was the gift of the puzzlewizard, It woke me up, Out of daylight. I like to do games with him, with our horses surrounding us, he always wins, in the game of nightmares, but tomorrow i will get his dice. He's the friend of the gamble-wizard, I'm off to see him for a new journey.

The Gamblewizard's Palace

The lie is a riddle of truth

1. Playing chess with Mother Mary, The best thing you can do when the riddlewizard strikes. I'm on the back of a thing I don't know, It's his horse. Yesterday I thought it was something else, and tomorrow it all appeared to be a Lion, The secret of a pot of Tea. Playing chess with Mother Mary, staring at her pink-white hat. She got it from the snow, A present ... I'm sitting on the horse of the Riddlewizard, And am on my way to the Gamblewizard. When he touches my head, the crowd will start to melt away. Playing chess with Mary, Still the best thing to do when the Riddle strikes. She knows the road to the Gamblemaster, Her board of chess is a flying carpet. This life is in the hands of the Gamblewizard, We have to gamble to reach to his doors. The codes change every day, by every breath he takes. Playing chess with Mary, All toysoldiers are on board, Dancing their way to the codes, The codes of Mary's hat. Her veils are so thick, but transparent, I can see her face. She smiles like the rain, Changing her codes, She wants me to dance with her. The truth moves around a circle, around a clock, and changes like the mix in the water.

2. It must be eaten in many forms, shapes and colours, Like the smoke reaching for the snow. The truth is shape-shifting like an eagle in the sea, So that it can be downloaded deep into our souls, Like the coiling snakes into the storages of our hearts. To get rid of the lie, we must know all sides of it, to let it coil out of us, by spirals of liberty. We must surround the lie, and actually discover, that it was just a riddle of truth. The lie was just a misunderstanding, Misunderstanding ... from the Lion's Tea. The lie is a riddle of truth, And I'm still playing chess with Mary. The lie is just a joke of the truth, Can't you see the grin behind it ? A hand of love, reaching out to you, To show you the tear is the key, The lie exists when you don't surround the truth, Then it's teasing you until you start to see all the sides of the diamond.

3. The misunderstanding brings the tear, It brings you on your knees, To let you drink from the enchanted water, To show you the depth of the riddle, For it brings you to the bottom of the pond, where you see all it's treasures. The riddles are the lines between the squares of the chessboard, To sepearte them, but also to connect them, All to let you see, the many sides of the game. The joke brings you closer, It's a jokeboard after all, And I'm still drinking the wine with Mary. And all these toysoldiers, all these tears of misunderstanding, yes, even all tears of guilt, They run and melt away, When the Gamblewizard hits the board, Opening the Game within the game, Where I see your face, You, the source of all. You, the source of all problems, But also the source of all happiness, For there's nothing but you and me, And finally you have to discover, That it was all in your own head, Just a gamblegame, You, looking for the codes, To find yourself back. Still you gamble, with the balls of life, Trying to find your way, To the Gamblewizard inside your heart, Where all troubles started, and where all problems will melt away ... Problems ? Just misunderstandings, causing guilt, anger and fear, New gamble-automatons to ride in, All these lions on your path, They come from the wizard, To bring you back, Guilt, anger, fear and frustration, Confusion, Misunderstanding, Ignorance, Blindness, Deafness, All lions ... from the wizard

4. Some tones of the music you don't hear, That's why it looks false to you. Catch the other tones of the music, And the orchestra of life will appear right before your eyes, While it was always deep in your heart. Guilt was a trick from the wizard, But the riddle is never guilty, It shows all truth and beauty, Hidden in the joke ... Guilt is a riddle, But is never guilty, Only in the joke, In which there are many veils, The apple is deep to eat, It was all to let you swim to the waterfalls of the river, To show you all sides of the justice-court, This chessboard

5. Every step is in guilt, Every square is guilt, But the chessboard shows you that without guilt, there was no focus, without guilt, the pieces would not move, Without guilt, there would not be a chessboard at all, Without guilt, there would not be any joke, and not any enlightenment, But at the sides of the board, all guilt will melt away, And the crowd will melt away, To show you it was all inside. Your fears created the crowd, but without crowd, there would be no game.

6. When the crowd melts away, you see the game within the game, Your own smile, It was all to make your smile wider, It was all to make your teeth straighten up, All these towers in your mouth, Shining their lights on all sides of the truth, The corners of all beauty. The misunderstanding brought guilt, and the guilt brought fear, And still the Gamblewizard makes such chaos Why is he doing that ? Why does it take so much time ? Time ? It was just a lion from the Wizard

7. Time is the inventor of misunderstanding and guilt, To bring you the fear, to bring you the shock, And then you fly above the chessboard on Mary's Carpet, To see it was all so small, To let you see the smile of the dwarf, Which looked like a roaring giant on the ground, Nothing is what it seems to be, It was all created by a point of view, a point of time. On the ground it roars, But in the air, you see the little machine, just smiling, making jokes, all to let you fly higher. It was sweet and soft like candy, all which appeared hard and cold, The snow reminds you the softness of winter, Winter was just an icecream in summer, And you are feeling the warmth of Mary's Carpet more and more.

8. Time was the riddle of the Gamblemaster, Sent out to teach you new tricks, And you feel yourself like a playball in his machines, When one side pushes you, it just wants you to meet other sides, Until you drink the wine of the machine, Until the juices will flow, It was all to make your heart at peace. The clock ? Just a trick of the Gamblemaster, And you're rolling like a ball through it, Meeting all it's jokes, Or are you tired already, in pain, or even sick or on the edge of death ? Remember it's the delirium, Another lion sent to you, another riddle, Another phenomenon of nature, roaring inside of you, It's the voice of the thunder, That big helicopter, Taking you out of a deeper gap, preventing you from something worse.

9. Sometimes the Gamewizard shuts a door, and he doesn't want you to see the other side, Then he gives you the juice of curiosity, to prepare you step by step to meet another creature of his wheel. Yes, he is still a master of traffic, after all ... And he tamed his lions like St. Jerome did, Deep down in the deserts, And he wants you to do the same, He can't do it for you, For you are a person yourself. Now you can peel out his riddles, Meeting all his creatures, With the jokes inside, Showing you a hidden nature Waiting for you to access You already got the invitation, Don't let the card scare you off.

The Backwardwizard's Palace

1. He was always there to bring you guilt, He always turned your heart upside down. You could scream, you could cry oceans of tears, You could let the most beautiful flowers grow and bloom for him, But he was always without mercy. You know he will get you again, You cannot escape, when your backwards friend comes. He always plays your opposite, Your own little captain hook, on your paper ship.

2. No, you will never get his attention, For he is the backwardswizard, He sent out his backwards-lions to you, to eat you like custard. There he turns all your little toysoldiers backwards, and there is nothing you can do than to watch that show. There they all go through his funnel, To fall into the cold kettle, Tomorrow they will be candy, And you cannot reach them, For they live backwards, Marching to make that cruel, cruel joke again. They always did that to you. You thought they were your friends ... But now you cannot reach them, They are dancing behind glass.

3. It's the Backwardwizard, Preparing another trick, Turning all your mirrors upside down, You don't know who you are for such a long time. You gave up all hope, Like the candy is not made for you.

4. Drama after drama seems to follow you wherever you go, Is there a way out ? Who is turning you backwards all the time ? It's the backwardwizard, sending out his lions.

5. No you cannot break this force, You tried it for so long, And you were getting so tired of it, So now it's like you laid yourself down, Giving up all attempts, Or are you still trying maybe ?

6. Why aren't you going to live backwards ? And to discover a world you don't know yet You try so hard to do good, To please the whole world, But there is another world you ignore, The world of backwards. Here another part of you lives, Waiting for you to shake hands. A part which you repressed so long, Thinking it was your evil side.

7. You turned it backwards all the time, And so you did with so many things. Don't be ashamed to live backwards, Don't be ashamed to take another direction now, And to meet another part of you now. Maybe there needs to be attention there, instead of repression. Maybe there needs to be healing there, instead of avoidance. Or maybe it can give you all the attention and healing you ever needed.

8. Maybe the Backwardwizard just wants to turn back the clock, to where it all went wrong. Maybe he just wants you to return, to put things straight again.

9. Who is living foreward, and who is living backward ? That is what you find out then.

Ladybug

1. she has the head of a ladybug ... her eyes try to pierce me, like the rolling dice i don't want to be with her ... but it seems she thinks different about that ...

2. she's a lamentation cat ... complaining and whining, letting peacocks horrorshows descend ... until i'm back ...

3. i'm her prisoner ... i'm her coin ... always coming back ... her sting is the sting of a wasp ... and now she's shocked ... she's always shocked about everything i do and say ... it's never enough ...

4. when her silver strikes me she understands me then i'm her dinner .. she has digested me ... finally almost satisfied ... but she's from the hollow ... they have never enough ... they're living in the almost zone ...

5. she's from vanilla wildernesses ... with her head like a ladybug's back ... her eyes are rolling ... i'm a prisoner of a strange castle ... an arabian castle ... while the deer ignore me ... why don't they save me ... they have big machines for that ...

6. when her silver strikes me, she brings pale stories to the mass ... her newspapers ... her butterflies ... to kidnap the fruits for an author's kitchen ... she's a lamentation cat ... she has to blame someone for pale stories ... while the night brings the colours ... when peacocks horrorshows come ... the day after they are stories ... in venus' bookshop ...

and the silver strikes, until all these bakerman's faces rise ...

Nonsense of Mathematics

1. Found the nonsense of mathematics all in a leather bag, almost burnt by the bunny, addicted to some crack. Get my money when it's daylight, I am leaving this train, I jump, I die, and bring the flowers to the faery of the burning fever, deep inside, on a burning hill I battle, for this baby to be born. It was on the old attic I found the book ... of the animal-mountain a strange towerI'm still climbing it ... to escape from the nonsense, this nonsense of mathematics
2. Got me a brand new car today, to leave the nonsense, the nonsense Got my hat put into delay to escape the nonsense of mathematics Having the winner laughing while the loser is smoking some wine-touched delicious prides Got my maths lessons upside down now ... heard the most wonderful fairytales some backward masked tricks from the sideday's sword bringing me out of the nonsense of mathematics a strange world
3. I promised myself not to listen to the nonsense, the nonsense I promised myself to eat an apple instead, sailing on the nonsense, the nonsense of mathematics Got me crazy today Will start the rocket now on animal-tower, everything is in delay I'm standing still smoking rabbithats smoking rabbitheads their tales are gone, and I'm diving away instead
4. I promised myself not to be angry anymore at the nonsense, the nonsense, I promised myself to sing in a choir, of the nonsense of mathematics Some teachers still riding in longhairy cars still sandals they're wearing, thinking they're Jesus or sandman
5. Twenty in total they're not so rich in goatwools they walk with their heads towards mental institutions, while they love their flowers stolen from rabbit's pits Got me some questions today, these heroes don't seem to fall Even when my nightmares broken they still stand tall Like ten men on a hill and ten men on a tower like the animal-tower I'll never win
6. Got me some clairvoyant today She acted strange like I was ... a victim of ten men in a spaceship selling vegetables instead of meat Should have listened to them better Now I'm here, bound by speed
7. Some turkeys on the bend, she said, like leather belts, she dreams instead I cannot act today because I am a victim of this cross
8. So bring me today to the nonsense, to the nonsense bring me today to the nonsense of mathematics

Sudden Death of the Mice's Journalist

1. Someone's looking around, like yesterday's ship. It has lost its power and its grip. Someone's sweeping the floor, today, and tomorrow someone else will do. The rabbit on the tower of a mouse castle, he smiles, he feels like robin hood. His mother gave him thick trousers, for the winds can be cold here. It's not too late, to knock on the mice door, not too late.
2. Roses standing in a pot of water, slowly dying in this day of june. Archibald smiles, he doesn't think about them, for it's june, and in june, everyone is independent. No beggars at the doors, for he had sent them all away. They can come in all the other months, but june must be free, for it's the month of independency. Everyone must care for himself.
3. The mice knock on archibald's door. They give him some extra flowers, but he throws them on the floor, for june is the month of independency. He sends them home, that's their destiny.
4. Good morning, the witch says to the queen, i have a baby of you, and i will grasp another one, for it's july, and that's the time for stealing babies. The queen smiles, for she wanted to get rid of the babies. They cry too much. She's the queen of mice, she let them die. She doesn't care about their babies. They cry too much, and in July it is allowed to steal, so she steals from someone else, some grown-up girls. Oh yes, they have noises, and they gossip a lot, but the queen thinks that's okay. She likes to have some company, for her husband is gone the whole day.
5. Good morning, the mouse says to the spy. Please wait for me, so that we can both go to fly. I have a parachute on my back. That's easier, for when we fall, everything's okay. The spy says no, for it's august, and it's not allowed to have a parachute when you fall. It's the time of hard things, not of soft things. And then he becomes a hard day mouse, waiting for the skies of september, almost a year gone, full of treasures, full of surprises. It's always the same clock, but strange things happening inside of it.
6. I don't know if i have strength to end the story. It's october, and then all stories are short, i must wait for precious december, in which the stories never end, i'm begging to enter. The police of mice is on track today, it will never be december on my way. Some strange company of roses decided it, surrounded by churches. So say goodbye to me, it's my last time, they will shoot me, because i will never reach januari in which i will stay alive. All guys trapped in november will die.
7. I don't want to die, but i have to. I played many songs, I wrote many stories, but they're always short and it's almost november, and i cannot make a bridge to reach for december, and only tall stories will reach januari to live forever. So say goodbye to me, I will not be your friend anymore, oh I would like to be it forever, but the mice police won't let me go. They will shoot me like they did to my friend ... I know this story ... goodbye, this is the end.

8. I cry ... I'm so please yell at the mice police, I'm dying here, unless a faery comes to defend me, but they don't believe in faery's, they only believe in me ... I'm like their god, and I have to die. It's time for their Jesus Christ to find his way to the cross I was a blue man coming on a green island with green faces and then the blue one is like god and has to die all things which are strange

9. This is the last time, friend hold my hand, I won't return here anymore, I'm just a mouse's pencil, they will break it before it reaches the shore ... not able to become a real honoured citizen of a mouse's kingdom ... Help me, help me, but you can't I don't have the faith, so I will slowly die ... They shot me in my finger ... enough to go to their hells forever but some believe Jesus Christ will rise up after three days ... that's an eternity for me, for I will never reach december that's sad when you die the last day of november even if you're Jesus you never wake up so I must go to their sleeping hells forever ... never waking up in this everlasting damnation

10. My pencil is getting heavier my friend, I will die soon, this is the end Precious friend, don't mourn about me, but mourn about them who invented this cruel system

The End

A Day at the Fairground II

1. Poetry from the Table Ballerina - Smiles from Leprechaun

2. Boys from Lynx II - The Land Beyond Cockaigne

3. Prisoner of an Author's Kitchen III - Green Dragon's Lie

4. Purple Snow I

5. Purple Snow II

6. Purple Snow III

7. Boys from Lynx III

8. White Golden Book

9. Telephone Junks – Cobra Plants 1-17

10. Sweet Telephone Christ – Dirty Sand 1-12

11. Dragons Song

12. Grandfather's Wartrauma - The Hours of Friday

13. Purple Flowerfields

14. Purple Lies

15. Snake in the Swanlake III

16. Poetry from the Black Widow II - Drama's from Z

17. The Pink Chocolate's Rose Wedding II - Dolphin's Goodbye

18. Master of Auction III - Alphabet of Misunderstanding

19. Broken Bridge

20. Poetry from the White Chocolate III - Cold December Day

21. Cigarettes of War

22. Poetry from the Big Gun II - Dragon Postbanks

23. The Banks of History - Silver Cigars

24. Potatoes, Onions and Oranges

25. Poetry Around the Spear of Jesus - Language of Sleep

26. Deaf Shop

27. Ladybug II

28. Master of Auctions Part IV - Brothers from Rigil Kent

29. Indian Line 2-6

30. Red Stripes 1-8

31. Purple Orange

Poetry from the Table Ballerina

Smiles from Leprechaun

1. I feel a bakerman's face flowing through my mind, spreading so many lies in a lullaby. I am heading to the sky, where my babies bleed. I'm just an ornament in the wind, waiting for all my babies coming home ...

2. I'm just an ornament's speaker, from this ornament's dish ... spinning so many records inside ... my face is like a jukebox ... wide in the sky ... I'm rising from the dishes, baby ... It is a lion's dish .. with so many spells come forward ... through this dish ... while coffee is spreading ... waking them all up ...

3. Am I a coffeedish now ... I cannot feel my arms and legs ... These bakerman's faces ... Am I in a trap And where the rings are coins ... I'm running high on sweet potatoes ... It's the voice of a leprechaun's table ... rising in kerses minds ... Am I still a golden table ... like that golden one of Ra ... so many things spinning around there ...

4. Still the dishes are changing ... and I'm dancing on old tables ... playing ping-pong with the ancient suns ... They're smiling while I get angry ... I lost the ball again, while rippling silver tigers ascend in the skies ... someone is swallowing me, while I lose it ... I am losing the game ... or do I also lose you ...

5. I feel a bakerman's face ... rising so high in the sky ... and all I can do is crying ... in this land of the ashes ... while there are leprechauns ... sailing in the sky ... I feel like I am a dirty old table ... but maybe it's just something inside ...

6. It's speaking to me ... for help to let it rise ... but I am carrying so many venus-crosses, I cannot help them, these lullabies ... until the needle comes to cut them, and they scream ... what a beautiful record ... they call it the sun ... in these bakerman's skies in these swallowing ornaments ... while the silver rippling tigers ascend ... like Jesus Christ like Osiris with his ice

7. I'm feeling cold, you are a bakerman's face I feel you're stealing my pockets empty ... while I don't see your hands am I getting crazy in these rippling skies like monsters riding high ... with their big mouths ... they scream at me ... and I am getting smaller am I on high materos, preacherman, or am I dying like Peter Pan, to find his Tinkerbelle again ... or his long lost harem in the skies of Kerses Minds

8. Someone lost a tale ... now they are telling it to each other did he lose or win the game I am in Kerses Mind, let me explain ...

9. Someone loses his tail ... on a Jupiter's mountain, before a cradle called Jericho ... and I'm losing a feather ... are we fishes at the end of the day ... fishes without tails ... just bullets ... fishes without tails ... just heads without a body ... just heads without a body

10. Fishes in the sky ... without feathers ... fishes in Kerse's minds like trunks they survive they are just fishes in the sky ... they are like leprechauns on golden tables, telling you what you decide ... in this black black night

11. Fishes in the sky, tell me brother, why do I have to lose my mind, to become a fish in the sky ... why do I lose my mind ... just to have a Kerse's Mind ... Is that all we need, Kerse's Mind, I'm a dish of Snow White's dream ... I'm diving like a fisherman, but I am just a fish in the sky ... without body ... only a head ... I am the Leprechaun ... just pray I do the rest

12. Fishes in the sky, through old curtains, I am losing my mind while someone's doing the dishes in the palace of the queen and the empress ... oh, it's just belcanov ... We are fishes in the sky ... we are the boys with Kerse's minds ... we are the fishes flowing through ancient tables, ancient curtains ... fishes in the sky, of some old potatoes ...

13. Now you're laughing, but soon you will cry ... for we are fishes in the sky ... just brothers ... losing our minds ... the skies so rippling, mouths so tender but still fishes in the sky heads of monsters in the sky silver ripples like uncle peacocks horrorshow.

14. I am dancing on a golden table like Ra, a table behind the sleep, in sandman's sky This land is full of deserts ... turning into ashes at the end of the day ... while these are watering skies searching for their prey ... today ...

15. Circles in the sky I'm wondering ... circles in the sky I wonder what they are preying for ... praying for ... these circles in the sky ... Gonna eat me ? Circles in the sky ... you my mother, just circles in the sky ... rippling like the silver, waiting to crash me ... just silver in the sky of liberty

16. Now I'm dancing on the coin, I am a leprechaun's smile ... I am your brother, if you are also my brother I'm dancing on the dish ... I'm coming from the spinning tables ... these rings in the sky full of records ...

17. Who's shattering my head on the coin what's this table full of stamps just fishes in the skies .. just babies flying high ... my babies

18. A leprechaun is dancing on the table, who invited his silver shoes ... who invented them ... who is this shoemaker, letting the dragons sleep ... He's so free, and he is lying so lie, bakerman, lie ... you are spinning your coffee for another lie ... you're spinning your books of lies ... are you just a pinocchio of black wood rising high ...

19. I saw a red pinocchio ... sleeping today ... between a green pinocchio and a golden one ... while silver machines were soothing them ... a blue one entered the room speaking in unknown languages ... while the tables started to spin ... and the purple started to rise ... in this daydream's lies

20. Pinocchio ... your sister was a sleeping table ... but you're awakening them tonight and they will start to speak and spin like your mother ... while the yellow liars spread their red tomatoeseeds ... and their green ones on the other day

21. we are heading for another sleep in these rippling silver skies ... tell me what do you deny tell me what you are doing to these bakerman's lies give me my candles burning tight in the palest night ... these pyramids they rise inside

22. I feel like an old old table in these bakerman's skies with so many lies with so many dreams ...

23. I will explode in the night heading for Kerses Minds so light heading for kerses minds in their delights these old snakes of the leprechaun ...

24. colours so pure and bright ... so pale and so secure so white they take flight while I'm standing on bakerman's tables ... They have feathers I do not understand ...

25. These tables with one hand ... These are worlds in golden coins ... where the bananas burn like fire ... the ashes are good bullets for the guns ... these orange guns of mr. orange

26. dreaming on ... to the tables behind the sleep these sandman tables ... he's having feathers and fruits in his head and I do not understand

27. I feel like an old table in a museum watching the statues of jokes ... with their rings so tight ... where records spin ... where dishes take flight to reach for the other day ... through silver skies

28. the bakerman's faces will unite ... like golden rains it will spout these wasprains from such a strange television

29. the queen of england knows all about it she's pressing the people ... like newyears
eveningpapers and a little boy is running for no one wants to eat it and now they're eating him
... these dogs in dark skies ... where the silver hides

30. I am the coin of a leprechaun, a strange wishingwell ... people they jump in it, but they are never reaching daylight again ... only the birds who were caged in them ... they had to live inside their muscles ... to sing from these records and dishes but now they are free ... in liberty ... standing on the jokestatues behind the tables ... these statues of tables ... in a strange strange kitchen, a strange garden, where flowers start to cry ... when a leprechaun passes by ... no samaritan wants to be helped by him it's daylight's spring when they unite ... doing the last fight ... rippling in silver the gold rises ... getting paler every year ... the pear gets paler every year, while the silver is hiding and the gold is uniting ... and rising ... while the vanilla it gets so pale ... and the bananas are burning on their sticks ... they are dying becoming straight like blue bananas like the big amon ...
like the blue tables behind the streams of sandman

31. and now the marbles are rolling, and now the tables are spinning and speaking ... their heads are on the coins, while their records spin on their dishes even on the wall these draughttables and these chesstable inside there is gold ... while smiles of death are rising ... smiles from leprechaun

32. I am losing the game ... I am losing everything while someone's doing the dishes ...
Bilmageln and Belcanov The dishes are smiling, with smiles of death ... The tables are running they are the soldiers of a new day they're rolling to their beds ... Some things you can never understand ... There is silver rippling in the sky these silver tigers ... and soon they're running inside while dishes are smiling ... with the smiles of the leprechaun ... with the smiles of the leprechaun these smiles of death there are records on dishes ... spinning eyes strange banks strange postbanks ... strange decisions ... while something grows inside ... heading for these prometheus skies ... to these silver skies Is life is such a strange egg ... we must break out of it ...
finding out that there's always a bigger egg oh, we get so tired ... until the sleepboat takes us away ... then we can find another day ... on the heart of the leprechaun ... he's spreading his coins, his taxmachines ... while there is life in his coins standing on strange tables strange traffic, strange highways ... like strange nerves ... strange railroads ... strange trains ... strange postmen like Gepetto ... these gods of ten these gods of railroads standing on strange tables in a leprechauns coin on high tables of the attic ... my nephews take flight in their strange racecars ... strange destinies heading for something like the eye of egypt ... in these bakerman's lies ... it's never time to take flight ... only to get to sleep ..

33. Two sides on the coin, maybe more ... I found a third one service with little light these hospitals are tricks of drunk indians a strange taxmachine after all while democracies are roaring ... and I am losing the game

34. Democracies are roaring ... two sides on the coin ... maybe more all rippling in silver all rippling in bakerman's lies leading us to Kerses Minds ... only the birds in us will survive ...

35. I am a table-ballerina speaking to you, maybe you didn't understand one word I spoke to you but just know I love you ... I hide a tear for you, behind a smile ... dancing on your lap, but I'm still a table-ballerina, a silver golden one, spreading the colours on the tables ... when I dance it's summer, when I dance there is snow ... I'm a table ballerina knowing the row of lapped minds of Jupiter's lies ... my crown it bends and then it rains to you I'm Jupiter's storm on a dolphin's goodbye I speak to you it only happens one time in your life and then you have to follow me I only show up once and for all only those who follow me, will get me on my knees ... I am truthfull to you on a dolphin's goodbye on the table of sandman I take flight ... to get them all on their knees ... I am a table-ballerina from a leprechauns mind from a leprechauns heart the suns are my friend, my friend

36. I am a table-ballerina, spreading lies so high ... spreading soothing machines ... to let them do business these warmachines ... by lies I bring them to sleep Is it the curse on my table ...

37. I am a table dancer, a strange clock, a strange spider, all in the coin of a leprechaun I do my decisions So much ashes behind the deserts ... where a white chocolate house stands

38. There's business around the big shoe, standing on the table ... spinning around like a crazy spider ... making the plants, that's better for you ...

39. The suns are so pale there, in the middle of these tables It's blinding you, it makes us deaf, until uncle peacock takes us away ...

40. The suns are so pale here ... it's christmas in the skies and all these clauses are ascending ... spreading so many lies on television ... it's the pick pock family's decision not mine, I'm just telling you they locked me up years ago ... to let me dance on their tables spreading the lies of a green tomato's dragon ... service with a little light three sides on the coin or maybe more

41. The suns are so pale here ... the clauses are lying spreading their bakerman's faces ... spreading their ornament's dreams tonight it's on television and then the babies dream ... then the ship's ascending like dadda's cloudship bringing us to uncle unicorn ...

42. Dreams are so pale here ... spreading so many lies all these clauses on television these lights too bright ... while the shoe sinks in the stocking ... these are uncle peacock's lights all on a leprechaun's table in a leprechaun's coin ... the third side strange road to hell ... here their hairs are burning here all smiles are fake and they do strange business and they do strange games cuyornaida corset a white boot on a green table ... with uncles around them uncle peacock, uncle unicorn and uncle one to ten ...

Boys from Lynx II

The Land Beyond Cockaigne

enchanted bananas

1. You must fight for the money, and then you can do business ... It's nine o'clock, it's bedtime soon ... You have enough money to write a letter ... and tomorrow you don't have to go to school ... all these fruits were just stories by mirrors opening, this black fruit leading you to the world of dwarves ... the bragging of tax brought large publics to you ... so who's now on turn in chess ...

2. The number's in the flame, while breathing in these mirrors ... It's the silver strike they say ... you must swallow deep ... to reach the golden shoes ... The frog has some movies ... and some old castles ... I'm breathing deep ... and the coins are rolling ... I gathered them by going to the battlefields in the deserts ... where the pick pock family still steals ...

3. These seas of flowers are my sunglasses making me blind for what's going on ... I don't care what's going on, for it's just a story ... The frogs bring these flowers ... They are the masters of the ponds ... all these mirrors opening ... until you don't have to swallow anymore ... it's the land beyond cockaign ...

4. The chocolate front is open ... the charity was just a lie ... to keep you addicted to someone you are not ... and you split up you had to marry to yourself ... the brown mirror brought you there, by knocking on old chocolate and now you're getting colder by the black divorce ... falling in a blue sea ... where ancient and mythical fishes rise ... the banana was enchanted ... and now you stare at it's spoon

5. charity the other lie of the black rose ... while you dive beyond this world of mirrors ... to the original strike ... you don't need these clocks to let you wait for nothing ... you are just sinking to ... the land beyond cockaign ... where seas of flowers make you so insane ... three pale purple flowers you got ... and now you're here at the end of the day ... standing in purple snow ... you're crazy now, thinking you were normal before ... this is where all ponds lead you to ... you fell in these seas ... with all these strange perfumes ... you aren't hungry anymore ... and what is this stench ... did you ever smell that before ...

6. and you see the frogs swimming like whales ... like glitterships ... they are the masters of the pond ... they enchanted the golden ships into banana's ... this is the world of the blind ... there are no movies anymore ... only some comics ... and that is enough ... the fires don't have to burn anymore ... everything is frozen here ... while frogs swim so flexible you wonder how can they be so free ... they are blind ... reaching for new shores in these seas of the jewelled flowers ...

7. I don't want to be in charity ... I don't want to be saved ... I don't need your stories, don't need your movies ... I don't need your swanlakes ... I don't need your Jesuses I don't need your birthdaycakes ... Let me be alone ... oh, let me be ... with the boys from lynx

8. These boys from lynx still leading the blind ... I don't need to see your movies I rather be blind ... having my own delights inside with these boys from lynx ...

9. These boys from lynx ... these criminals inside ... so misjudged by others ... so misjudged ... while others use their mirrors ... let me use my boys from lynx ... they're coming from the seas of cold conscience These boys from lynx ... these criminals inside ... these pirateships making me blind

golden pirate ship

10. These enchanted straight blue bananas ... these ancient mythical fishes ... make me blind, make me deaf ... to hear the most beautiful music ... Oh, pirateship ... turn me on ... turn me on ...

11. Don't keep your pictures of fright ... but try to find the fairytale inside ... by this little light ... of the boys from lynx ...

12. By making us blind, they show us the most beautiful paintings inside ...

13. These boys from lynx these criminals inside

14. These are seas within seas, while boys from lynx have the machines of deer in their pockets ...
These are ornaments within ornaments ... these are boys from lynx ... I'm fainting while i see their pink ornaments ... These monsters of rock .. spreading their delights where tears are coins ... and where the softness is their fire ... the land beyond cockaign ..

15. They know the snares to move the tears, this land beyond the custard These wizards hearts

16. And now there's a golden pirate ship in blind seas ... the handicapped guys make the good movements ... It's such an autistic sight ... the silver strike made us deaf ... and now we hear the magical musicboxes inside the beating hearts of wizards ... these banana hearts ... they make golden jokes on golden pirateships ... while silver spreads the songs of silence ... these plastic waves with crocodile boots ...

17. I'm watching the handicapped and autistic stars the stars of dementia bringing us here ... on the wings of misunderstanding ... we found our true friends ... by accidents and mistakes ... they have friendly fishes leading them through awesome realms ... turning so wild in the night ... so wild ... these wild stars in pink delights ... presents from pony ...

18. this plastic wood would be good to be a suit ... the wood is soft in marchpane land ... but this is the world beyond cockaigne ... if coins are slaves, then why do i pay ... i need to free the birds of cigarette .. and touch the golden cigars ... from pipe's conspiracy ... like frozen soldiers they march to their destinies with chinese lanterns .. with wild worlds inside wild lights these are bakerman's faces ... with so many nipples on it ... while some say they have strange skindiseases ... nippleheads they march .. through chinese lanterns ... so wild ... touched by thrillers ... they come alive inside ...

19. but this is the land beyond cockaigne ... they do movements so insane while wizards hearts lie on a dish ... beating while you feel so strange inside ... shadows on the wall ...

20. These coins are slaves and sacrificed by religion ... when they become blind and deaf ... wild and handicapped on the wings of an autistic child with the wings of dementia ... they can reach for the thistles and the stinging nettles to become free again ...

Green Dragon's Lie

"She's a tear letting others cry ... She's a death letting others die ... She's everything, having no possessions ... She's free ... She's a Green Dragon's Lie..."

1. She was tied to the book, the stories were too heavy to bear, she was a book statue, a prisoner, standing there all these years, On the back of a book, sucking the life out of her, again and again, She was fragile as a butterfly, spreading the green tomatoe seeds ... And she wanted you to read the stories, so that she could catch you in her net ... So that she could wrap her wings around you, and sucking you deeper inside, while you were turning the pages ... She wanted to hurt you ... she wanted to break you ... to bring you into her world ... So that you would see ... the dragon's tears ... the tears she couldn't bear anymore ... She was tied to the book, a prisoner ... of a green dragon ... And she said : I want to hurt you, baby, I want to take you into my world, So read all the stories, for I cannot bear them anymore ... these green tomatoe seeds ... I'm still a whore ... a slave of a green dragon They call me the whore of babylon, they call me a two-faced harlot, they say I am the seed of devils, but I'm behind dragon bars ... You cannot touch me, I'm only there to view ... I am a movie of tantalos ... a movie of a vanilla desert ... A toy hidden on a cupboard too high ... by a green dragon's lie ...

2. Green dragon tears are falling, his books are almost exploding, the memories of his heart ... He needs some guests to read it, there in that old bookshop, So that he can make them prisoner of his books ... Bookstatues they will be, tied on the back of his memories, his diaries, so they can catch his tears, and bring them to the other side of the world ...

3. Butterflies are flying, butterflies are crying, butterflies are dying ... entering the other side of the world ... bearing the green dragon's tears ... stories too heavy for them, they are tied to these wings, only letting them fall ... and now they are called fallen angels ... by a green dragon's lie ... There are yellow dragon's prisoners ... coming from the south, from the other side of the world, they march, They are the slaves of yellow tomatoe seeds, the tears of a yellow dragon ... They bear the books on their backs, they are bookstatues, tied to cruel indian stories, there are waspian wars in their heads, and they see daylight as a threat ... They see all these butterflies fall, and need to bring them to the green dragon castle again ... They bring their prisoners to the end of the world ... And she says : I want to hurt you, baby, I want to see you bleed, want to see you shattered, so that you can enter my world, to see the tears of a green dragon, the tears I cannot bear ... I don't want to be your slave, I don't want to be your liar, All I want to be is to be free from this story ... This story, a green dragon's lie

4. He was bewitched by a witch, a green witch, having green tears she couldn't bear ... diaries too heavy, she planted it in a boy's heart ... So that she could fly away, and become this yellow dragon ... but the yellow tears ... were much heavier ... for she couldn't fly anymore ... and now they all march on the ground ... all her yellow prisoners ... spreading her yellow tomatoe seeds ... While a red dragon is grinning, he wrote all these stories, he had a wife talking too much ... and all his friends were just his prisoners ... prisoners of the books she gave him ... bookstatues ... under a blue jaguar flag ... spreading the red tomatoe seeds, these are purple rats ... becoming red in the night ... when the red dragon is raging, throwing his saul spears into david's cars ... still falling stars under stories too heavy ... the red stone making them so creative, making them dream in soft fires ... a toyworld growing in their hearts, a red balloon, pumping ... until they reach vanilla desert ... a yellow stone, freezing them, they are icecream soldiers having the mark of the wasp where the waspian dragons breed them, where they have their soft wet candles ... to be candlestatues ... to burn their books again ... by a green dragon's lie ... becoming swindling whores again, winning all the games, these swindler's games ... casino's cabman was his name ... doing business by a dragon's flame ... In rows they stand, these green dragon's lies ... she's finally a candle statue, she's finally a dragon's tear ... a thing too heavy to bear ... too hard to move, too big to steal, too tall to lie to ... she's now only spreading the green tomatoe seeds ... by her mouth ... by a green dragon's lie ...

5. Green liars, green dragon's tears ... too afraid to tell the truth ... still prisoners of the lie, but free from the books ... Inside they can speak their truths ... when the nights fall and the night troupers come ... Inside they can feel ... the true touches ... These tears turn red at midnight ... then the red dragons are raging and crying ... while playing on the beach, they're dying ... to come alive again ...

Life so close to death ... It's shivering between black and red ... while bookslave-masters from arabian deserts, come to find their prisoners, soft women butterfly women, taking the boys to their books again, soft wings they install, under crying and weeping, these are shrieking boys in a red clock ... while pharao wants to drown them again ... Oh the thrillers of the red dragons, written by a golden pencil ... turning yellow in the night ... while dragon candles burn the books, she's now a pencil-statue, a shriek, a dragon's cry ... turning a prisoner into a spy ... she lets the boys meet the boys ... she lets the poles meet the poles ... and then she lets them mix for new stories ... she's still the lady of the library all these years bringing the books to enthousiastic children ... unaware of their destiny ... she's still poisoned candy after all these years ... reading the books loud ... by a green dragon's lie ... her husband sells books ... he is a journalist ... a prince of satire ... a boy tied to a microphone ... and she's singing her opera's by taking her boy, and pushing him to the ground ... then they always struggle, a fight which ends in the bathroom ... where she tries to drown him ... there's something wrong with this marriage ... she has the pharao-syndrome ... there's a voice in her head ... a tall baker's whisper ... a green dragon's lie ... making her crazy ... she's still not happy ...

6. In summers she's like tied to a spoon, while her husband is doing the dishes ... under the weight of a green stone ... coming from a dragon's castle ... they try to save their marriage ... she eats ... while he cleans ... she cooks ... while he works ... but it's like their marriage is dying ... it's heading for a burial ... for some stones are too heavy ... she talks too much and he sells the books ... they are swindlers to survive ... they lie to each other ... by a green dragon's lie ... they are green liars in a boat ... a boat with wheels, with shrieking boys clocks ... casino's cabman is the statue on the front of their ship ... smiling ... doing business by a dragon's flame ... they are both prisoners of a two faced chair ... prisoners of a two faced bed ... having their loves and their fights ... still warstatues becoming business statues in the night ... they are night troupers only touching each other ... by the flame of a dragon's castle ... he's a record-statue yawning ... for the songs are too boring ... he hears them day in day out ... she bores him ... sometimes he's the slave of a flute ... sometimes he feels like a car ... he's a victim of a shrieking boys clock ... while she's laughing ... these wheels are weeping, complaining day in day out ... i'm getting headaches, she says ... I'm going to leave my man, to be free in the snow ... I'm going to drown these boys, I'm Pharaoh ... She's a tear letting others cry ... She's a death letting others die ... She's everything, having no possessions ... She's free ... She's a Green Dragon's Lie ... She's a swindler standing before the gates of games, She's an ornament of joy ... but something's eating her inside ... It's the red dragon ... not wanting to lose his toy ...

Purple Snow

purple sandman

1. I'm running through purple snow ... along purple curtains, while a purple sandman is picking me up with his wizard's bike ... it's like an orange motorcycle ... we're heading for the deserts ... where bakers run ... and where the cowboys do their business ... Around the deserts the villages of the pick pocket families stand ... Here they do their dances ...

2. And I'm still wandering through purple snow ... looking for the bright eyes all these women were just swindlers and their men were taxmasters ... I'm now looking for these deserts ... to find the holes to darker creatures ... There are some animals hanging in black christmas trees they hang near the strange lights ... Strange birthdays

3. These are roads to the big shoe ... forgotten roads ... It was tax keeping you addicted ... These taxmasters from southern coasts ... these old men but they hide the stockings of christmas to new worlds ... throw your presents into them i will be on their back

4. it was a taxmachine producing icecream ... these women all rose from the green ... finding their taxlines to be on tv ... they were the swindling lights on your birthdaycakes ... hiding the ways to these baker's faces ... it was a taxmachine producing these icecreams ... bringing this purple snow ... and now purple sandman is standing before you ... with this liquid key in his hands ... so many tears are streaming ... bringing you to wonderland ... is this where the delirium ends ? or is it the beginning of a new dream how deep is this rabbit's tail ? ... It ends in the big shoe ... where the lakes of tears are ... there where the rabbits drink ...

5. it's all wine ... the baker was a taxmaster ... hiding in sweet amsterdam ... purple sandman is standing before me ... with his purple horses from capricorn's roundabout ... they make the colours so wild ... while I'm bathing in purple snow ... just purple snow ... for the icecream stang too deep ... it was poison ... and now i'm crying on this wizard's bike he takes me away to a giant's kettle ... why did they drown the chicken here ... there's alcohol streaming all over the place ... he would have given it to them anyway pick pock families rising from the chicken ... laughing hard ... it's their obsession they have their stories while we were in an author's kitchen with purple snow in our heads ... these snowflakes lead us to the end to the numbers of conscience ... to the birds of cigarette ...

6. we travel along the purple curtains ... with purple snow in our hair while purple sandman watches the show .. the icecream is killing us ... and the tears flow ... leading us to the big shoe to darker creatures ...

grandfather's horror

7. It ticks on his cupboard, i'm the silver cocoon, leading you to the end of the moon. I'm the aurora, the crucified witch, I'm the harpoon, there's nothing you can do ... I'm looking for hearts to breed my spoon ... the enchanted spoon ... My husband is a wolve's gnat, a taxmaster, if it comes to that ... breeding his icecreams by letting his fruits die ... they become too sweet and too cold ... it makes you cry ... It's still grandfather's horrorstory-booktears rolling through your trousers ... to reach the big shoe ... the big shoe ... still a peacocks horrorshow ... the woodcutter never existed ... it was a taxmaster ... breeding the numbers of conscience by a strange mirror a copymachine ... it was a shark with a camera ... with bright eyes making you blind it was a jewel in a spanish sun ... a jewel in a flower

8. on a black white chessboard we had our weddings and divorces ... now we look more like each other, for this makes you my brother ... my mother had to do it this way ... revenge before the strike ... still peacocks horrorshow ... from grandfathers taxbook

9. i cannot help it you're here today ... we divorced too much in that strange black and white fruit ... you like this dance this thriller's dance ... it goes deeper and deeper by in and out ... it penetrates our minds together ... making a siamese twin, a lamentation cat from peacocks horrorshow i'm having a new pet almost ripe for this author's kitchen you don't want to hear how cruel this is it must be or it will not sell it's peacocks horrorshow from grandfathers chessbook

10. what's on the pawn, i'm staring ... a wolve's gnat is sitting there ... from peacock's horrorshow .. another story from your local taxoffice

11. It grows on a market this strange strange fruit, it's like it's wednesday and thursday on the same day ... It's taxday and tv's on ...

Purple Snow II

Easter lines on wasp tv

1. Winters after summer, it's snowing ... but it's just a winter in april ... Herodes, Pharao and Judas coming down, I'm still waiting for the anti-christ and his little dragon ... it's a dog ... a wolve's gnat actually ... barking on wasp tv ... his hair is in fire ... he's a lucifer ... And this tv is just a woman's head ... she's a swindler ... reflecting the unknown ... there are bakerman's faces on her crown ... like lights in the christmas tree ... where babies come alive ... big heads ... where memory is the addiction ... wasps are rising from wasp tv ...

2. there's blue metal in the air ... making the breath and the swallow fast and deep ... together with the green metal enchanted mirrors created the public ... these dogs are mirrors .. diving through black ponds ... tomorrow they are the nipples i'm surrounded by bakerman's faces ... all these tv's ... they are women ... they were swindlers on a hill ... with soft fires ... they made the thrill ... they wanted to be the mirrors in the bathroom ... laying the pink addictions ... it's a memory tv after all ...

Purple Snow III

1. Do you see signs in the snow .. that we belong together ... do you believe in something greater than this ... It was a football game letting us focus on the ball ... The queen of england between the flowerfields her footballfields ... while birthday's standing on tv with his dog called christmas for the usual fee ...

2. Do you believe in christmasbells .. do you believe in crashing cars ... do you believe in white wet alphabets spread on white chocolate do you believe that when you stare in the jewels of these white waspian flowers ... you get blind so blind ... to touch the cold conscience ... on a wet summers day in winter

3. Do you believe in purple snow ... do you believe in purple winterdays ... coming from these spanish suns .. deep in arabia ... these are presents from capricorn charityboats to hide the storms ... still pirateships breeding footballfields on wild seas

4. I believe this is the best opportunity to tell you I do not believe in your tea waters ... they bring me into sleep too slow ... I need some faster tricks ... from that dog called christmas ... he has a black christmas tree as his nose ... where a little tailor lives on top ... together with a pirate ... white pirates on vega southern ships ... still believing in carnival's trip ... still believing in mad suns ... with mad songs where everything is crazy ... they are all blind ... rising the chinese lights ... while the owl has such a calming voice ... with his deerbird ... he rides across the moon ... to see the other side ...

5. these are lunar stairways and lunatic highways .. while the crocodile breeds the glue ... for his new architecture style ... these are lunar stairways and lunatic highways ... don't look in the mirror again ... don't breed your soles when you step don't dive into ponds enchanted ... but go to mimir's well ... to become blind again ...

6. dragonian architecture is in the house, drawn on the walls ... what a lovely wallpaper ... i bought them at mimir's well ... these are lunar stairways and lunatic highways ... while the chocolate is rising ... we are all marching through footballfields ... flowerfields ... staring into white treasures ... to become blind again ...

7. there's purple snow on the walls and purple snow on these white floors ... while purple sandman travels with us through purple curtains ... along purple pillows ... to the broadcast lady of cartoon ... with her pink boots ... while flowers of smoke send their messages ... the cigars paint the walls ... saint nicolas with all his taxmasters ... spreading the taxtoys to the kids while i'm getting deaf by my mate ... i'm hearing his horse on the roofs ... throwing presents through the chimneys ending in shoes to be prisoners of the football fields ... prisoners of strange games while the purple snow is roaring ...

8. There's purple snow on the footballfields ... While the queen of England is staring at the balls Is she expecting something ... It's the pencil of the newspapers ... while a prisoner is writing ... the sport's journalist and all these pencils ... these waterlights ... heading for the broadcast lady of cartoon with her pink boots in purple snow ... she was painted by a dragon ... she was saved out of a game ... and now she's here ... while some call her a prisoner ... they think they need to defeat the dragon ... while the dragon saved her ... it was her jesus christ ... and when she's laughing ... people think she's crying ...

9. she's a dragon's prisoner in the eyes of so many ... but the waterlights are heading for her and her orange balls ... they want to watch her pink boots ... standing on purple snow they want to see her dragon ... they think they need to save the dragon from her ... for she's not a comic yet ...

10. they want to make a comic of her ... so that the dragon doesn't have to fear her anymore ... they want to soothe it's heart ...

11. these are books of old playcards .. waiting to be comics ... in purple snow the footballs will write ... the watermarks on the waterlights ... all in the christmas museum ... the dragon will write the dragon will write ...

Boys from Lynx III

1. under purple roofs we sit .. with all these bakerman's faces ... with our wings of dementia ... watching the snakes come alive ... there's an orange pink forestroad ... drawing us inside ...

2. under purple roofs we sit ... with all these bakerman's faces ... doing nothing but staring at a pit ... where the snakes rise ... and here the dice are playing ... these faces can be tall ... until they are tall whispers hiding us for the storm

3. i call out your name ... i call out for your tall decisions ... let me have my own election days ...

4. i call out to these bakerman's faces ... i need some coins to start this automaton ... this faery barrelorgan ... with sugar melting inside ... with icecream from delirium ... i need oil for my racecars riding ...

5. the pink songs letting us travel through time ... why do all these numbers blow into my face ... daddy, the flame's in the red eye ... while a silver eye strikes us to the end ... to these bakerman's faces ... so many nipples on a face ... we're watching the show of a strange footballgame

6. with all these bottles rising ... and all these tall whispers ... where bakers hide where boys from lynx take decisions ... they have pink balloons in their pockets ...

7. so pale it makes the ancient fishes rise in the ponds ... they talk like cruel decisions ... with peacocks horrorshows ... tall windows on the attic ... waving at snow ...
8. here divas are rising ... fullcoloured birds from tropical islands too far away for our understanding
...
9. and i call for your name ... there's a red eye in the flame ...
10. and a pale pink balloon in my pocket ... and some other pale colours ... these bakerman's faces ...
they talk like cruel decisions ...
11. with peacock's horrorshows ... tall windows on the attic .. waving at snow ... to cold conscience ... too high for understanding ... when the pink silver strikes ...
12. they roar like wolves these boys from lynx ... they make me scared with their tall wings ... making their operas blowing up their balloons these snakeballoons ... while a ladybug is sitting on my head ... giving me numbers and nipples
13. they roar like wolves these boys from lynx like hounds they make decisions ... they shout through the night ... while wizard hearts beat faster ... while arabian trains get slower like frozen toadstools with faces ...
14. give me the seeds the powders of delirium plants ... give me the ornaments these forestroad snakes ... there are tongues of tall decisions .. and balls of strange footballfields ...
15. these bakerman balloons ... while someone is beating the bottles with a spoon ... it's the silver strike making us all understand ... we're bathing in cold conscience ...

White Golden Book

1. There are golden liars on a golden ship.
2. The white golden pinocchio takes flight, it's a balloon in the air, while Rithelm sings, his hat over his head, you can only see his mouth.

3. White golden pinocchios take flight ... It's the united insurance ... making the air so thick ... from here the horses take flight.

4. While Rithelm sings, the walls of Jericho are rising, with their curtains, and soft fleeces ...

5. He's raising the roundabouts for the purple strike ...

6. I'm living in a strange fairground, where the white rules, waiting for the purple ...

7. It's like tart in my head ...

8. The marionettes are standing there in the roundabout, together with their purple horses,

9. they make the music in their white suits with the red stripes.

10. They have big strange black hats, and their horses spit fire, while they gleam in the sun.

11. It's like the dress of my aunt, my uncle could never reach her.

12. She believes in silk and porcelain, and doing what the neighbours do.

13. She walks like them and talks like them, while my uncle can never talk.

14. He's too shy, but she cares for him like no one else.

15. She's always his hospital when he has drunk too much ...

16. He's like the fish in the fairground.

17. My uncle in the fish's hospital, always after a good drink ...

18. but i never liked to see it ...

19. smoke came out of his ears ...

20. I want to have pointed ears and rabbit ears ...

21. So many ears from the earshop ...

22. He's smoking white shoelaces ...

23. he always gets them from my aunt ...

24. It seems he's so proud of her ...

25. These shoelaces show him the roads to go ...

26. They are always his trafficlights in the games of gamble ...

27. He gathers them and eats them from his golden fairground dish ...

28. It's like music in his head ...

29. But there are golden liars on a ship,

30. while white golden Pinocchios rise ...

31. and Rithelm's singing,

32. with his hat over his head,

33. you can only see his mouth.

34. His mouth isn't moving,
35. the words just roll out,
36. like marbles they build the city ...
37. the city of Jericho ...
38. I wait till these walls unite ...
39. So many roundabouts are rising ...
40. They come from grandfathers old books ...
41. There are gleaming ships on the roundabouts,
42. between the horses and the marionets ...
43. There are also racecars between them,
44. spreading the neon advertisements ...
45. So many birds are flying ...
46. building jericho ...
47. where the comics rise ...
48. rippling with the cartoons ...
49. Deep in the city the golden pinocchio statues stand ...

50. it's almost in the forest ...

51. from here so many balloons are rising ...

52. uncle and aunt still live in their caravan ...

53. They have books of white golden lies ...

54. My aunt has rings blinding you ...

55. They have strange fairground barrel organs ...

56. and they love to hear these roars of lions

57. The lion roundabout is close to their caravan.

58. Uncle takes a ride very often,

59. and then he drinks himself to the fish's hospital ...

60. then nuclear smoke is coming out of his ears ...

61. and also out of his nose ...

62. It always used to scare me

63. He always told me his white golden jokes,

64. but it was always like I couldn't reach him ...

65. like he was standing so far away ...

66. Since my mother died I had so many stepmothers ...

67. and my father was always gone with my uncle,

68. going to their white golden seaparties ...

69. playing with strange playcards ...

70. Kalibra Bazina ...

71. They always had the good glues to drink ...

72. while I was here ...

73. living in this strange fairground ...

74. I'm caressing my zebra ...

75. will I ever see it becoming purple one time ?

76. as white rippling with purple ...

77. I see all these white golden liars,

78. drinking from the purple ...

79. but they leave me in the snow ...

80. I have heard many roars in my life,

81. but this was one of the strangest ...

82. while my uncle still goes to the fish's hospital,

83. taking my father with him once in awhile ...

84. They know all the doctors there ...

85. He's still a black fish ...

86. covering the red ...

87. It's like he blocks me from going ...

88. like he's the guard,

89. the statue of this hospital scaring me away ...

90. while all my bullets sink deeper,

91. and the doctors never believe me anymore ...

92. I feel like a statue ...

93. lost in a strange comic ...

94. They are covering the red by strange black blankets,

95. until the white picks up the shining seeds ...

96. I'm nothing but a tree producing these golden apples ...

97. I'm a marble machine,

98. they only care for the marbles ...

99. I drowned too much in this black sea,

100. but now I have found the purple golden pearl ...

101. a black fish brought me there ...

102. The purple golden coins sting the deepest,

103. but they open me up again,

104. so that I can breath ...

105. It's coming from the nothing.

106. Jericho,

107. nice town,

108. you see it immediately ...

109. build by the red strikes,

110. when the bottles open up

111. it's tying the black women of tax ...

112. while white golden threads string the purple golden pearls ...

113. It's thunder when the purple strikes,

114. all these statues of democracy standing here ...

115. These fights are fake,

116. I learn them by head ...

117. I let them ripple over my head and shoulders,

118. these strange racecars ...

119. coming from strange bottles ...

120. one wrong movement and I fall ...

121. I must know the tricks of a fairground or I will go down under again ...

122. I must steal the purple golden stones ...

123. to go to the funparks and peacocks horrorshows ...

124. meeting the wars of the fake ...

125. streaming from so many strange bottles ...

126. I must know them all,

127. or I will drown again ...

128. I must let these snakes ripple ...

129. these strange forestroads ...

130. to breed my statues

131. in the museums beyond history

132. I must know all these faces ...

133. having my own black golden zebras ...

134. I know I must roar and ripple like the panther,

135. or I will not reach daylight again ...

136. I must learn to talk like my neighbours,

137. to walk like my neighbours and to move like my neighbours ...

138. and then to let it ripple,

139. and to do what I want ...

140. reaching for the statues of liberty ...

141. these strange zebras and strange panthers

142. all in this strange roundabout ...

143. I must know when they rise and when they sink ...

144. I must know the waves of this radio ...

145. I must know the legendary movies ...

146. drinking from their bottles ...

147. or these wars will escape outside to be a nuclear bomb again ...

148. i must know the legendary comics and cartoons,

149. drinking from their bottles,

150. to survive the chaos ...

151. there are strange seeds in the doctor's hands ...

152. it's like little striped snakes ...

153. so small ...

154. it's coming from a strange fruit

155. it's hairy and dark ...

Telephone Junks

cobra plants

1. look at them growing,

2. while someone is mowing the grass by soft hands ...

3. these are all illusions,

4. coming from brains in contact with plants ...

5. look at them hiding,

6. waiting till someone finds them,

7. then the contact is safe

8. these are strong illusions from minds to minds ...

cobra plants 2

1. watch them watching,

2. finding their clues in this picture of strong illusion,

3. planted by a plant in someone's brains ...

4. he was too close to it ...

5. and now he pays ...

6. smiles ...

7. baby smiles ...

8. surrounded by old boys ...

cobra plants 3

1. watch these cobra plants,

2. these pictures in your mind,

3. making you so old and young ...

4. at the same time ...

5. while glues are streaming through your legs,

6. these flowers sting ...

7. they are safe ...

8. they care for each other ...

9. the young and the old ...

10. in a cobra's mind ...

11. the mind between me and you ...

12. so lets forget about history ...

13. we were too young ...

14. to do the dance ...

15. and now these old men are caring ...

16. in cobra's mind ...

1. mouths are contracting ...
2. fluids are flowing ...
3. making me drunk so drunk ...
4. in a cobra's head ...
5. there's strange strange cola ...
6. it's stinging ...
7. coming from a strange plant ...
8. i talked to it so many days ...
9. it's still alive ...
10. growing in my head ...
11. it is ..
12. cola from the cowboy's boy
13. truth from a hurricane ...
14. cola from a mailman's heart
15. he used to drink too much ...
16. and now he's doing the same ...

17. these ripples are stinging ...

18. these toys are too hot ...

19. and now there's a hard hand on his mouth

20. there's cola from the sky ...

21. dripping from a strange strange plant ...

22. it's stinging, rippling in my mouth,

23. while the sun's burning it ...

cobra plants 5

1. keep your advertisements for the rain ...

2. it's soothing like a baby candle ...

3. with all these old faces in a flame ...

4. it's lucifer's compromise between the old and the young,

5. while all these pictures are fading ...

6. santa clauses rising from a new sun

cobra plants 6

it's contracting in my mouth, while glues are streaming, surrounding the pictures in my head ... it's daylight, do you like to dream with a baby instead surrounded by so many old faces ... she makes the dance again on a lullaby she spreads ... forgetting about yesterday ...

cobra plants 7

on a station they were waiting, for the girl who talks so loud, to the train of jupiter they're running, but no one gets ever in it's spinning in their head ... it's a lost earthfruit telling them to get wise ... they are way too young for it ... while their aunts and uncles do the dance ... there high on the attic ... they don't know what to come ...

cobra plants 8

it stings, like the proud coffee it's ornaments are rising high ...under lucifer's transmissions ... the sky is blue, while orange lights a bit ... under a red blue moon, decisions easily confirmed by a million splinters of tax ... coming from the black orange ... coming for a daylight's tune to bring them high to the lost potatoe, where the prince of june kisses the princess of july ...

cobra plants 9

don't talk to me so loud, with your hair in the wind ... give me delirium, make me silent, by your silent smile, your worlds between the coffeedrips, your worlds between the seconds ... i know i will wake up ... i will watch your face today ... maybe within some hours, i don't know, but it will come ... you will touch me there, with your golden flowers, and your golden plants, you are drinking from the nectars of your love you got in your contact with them full body warmth contact ... not for lazy cats to play with only for those of the young and old ... only those of pega worlds ... in mansion worlds where the art is the mansion, where the lucifer is the smile ... of expensive coffee ... making me wild i am a poet i am a mistress ... of lost fears ... of lost pears i am the fortune of a mouse ... i am the fortune of a house, i am a mother, of a thousand years thank god i'm only bound to the ground, of jupiter, i make the days like bread in coffeebaskets, while she's stinging like a plant in my heart ... like good old cola from a cobra plant ...bringing the old boys to the babies on jupiter's smiles

cobra plants 10

lovers look like curtains before your smiles ... you're but a machine, and i'm too young ... doing strange steps with crazy cats ... i do not follow anything, but the wind ... i'm a child of the wind ... there's nothing i can do too young to wave away the guilt ... i just need to become older so i will have to wait ... while uncles and aunts party on the attics watching jupiter ... i drown ... in my bed i drown watching the ornaments they left for me ... i am too young to break this guilt it's smiling at me i do not understand anything they throw at me ...

cobra plants 11

do you understand my fears ... of all these bakerman's years ... i'm just too young to explain, while i had to lead them all away out of their fears i was too young ... i was too young ... and still i am ... surrounded by old faces of a cobra's flame ... it's so sweet in my mouth and when it speaks the stars are fading am i still a prisoner of izu ... a prisoner of a black orange snake i'm too young ... i'm too young ... i was raised too fast i was always the eldest daughter ... oh, who gave me all these crosses i'm so angry ... but i'm too young ... i cannot handle the police, cannot handle the government ... and all these funds and charities ... i only follow the wind ... for it's following me

cobra plants 12

mother can you see my tears, i miss you i adore you ... do you still stare into jupiter's glasses ... why oh why ... did they take me away from you ... i'm too young to understand ... i'm too young to carry this burden ... so much guilt is teasing my mind these are the things i do not understand ... i'm dropping all my cowboys

cobra plants 13

there's water in my mouth, sand in my eyes ... while jupiter is walking in the streets of izu ... he's fading this old man ... watching ...

cobra plants 14

i'm sliding deeper in the mud, screaming, for you aren't there ... getting so dramatic, panicked ... like i cannot go further i try to breath ... but i'm in this cocoon, this cobra cocoon, while plants are growing in my mouth ... soothing me into sleep ... i was too young ... i only followed the wind ...

cobra plants 15

all these fragments of a cobra's mind, i gather them, like babies gather pictures of old men ... they need to have some comfort ... in these hard days ... they watch the baskets of snakes ...

cobra plants 16

so many tongues soothing my mind, while the police is screaming ... i need to forget yesterday, to bathe in the seas with all these plants, instead of smoking them away ... i need to hold them, making the switch ...

cobra plants 17

i'm just a telephone junk, orange hearted ... name's brigade is on the run, your soothing lullabies, they stand, like lambsteads in the water, playing all my favorite songs, in deeper dwell slowmotions, in favorite sands and favorite glances ... gleaming like the suns in rivers, gleaming like the baby's bands, in all these jupiter's faces, it's streaming to ... the morning sand ... it's streaming to ... the hill behind this desert ... where my names are ...

Sweet Telephone Christ

dirty sand 1

1. She's sleeping under bridges ... she lost her name by a threatening feather ... and I'm too young to help her, she's like drowning there in her own emotions, it's coffeetime ... strange plants in my mouth ... me with my fears to grow older ... and the violins show the old faces on my father's dashboard, it's killing me ...
2. She's sleeping under bridges ... where potatoes sting ... it's jupiter aloud no killer's pride ... no killer's shame ... she's just blown away by someone older ... older than me ... more experience ... me still with my fears to grow up ...
3. He's taking her away, this older guy, she smiles at me, and saying baby ... do you remember me ...

dirty sand 2

My watch ticking like my heart, spice moving like lamentation doctors ... it's such a strike ... i have nothing to say ... my desire is gone desire to grow up and speak it out, i just cry ... i just move throwing my earrings away ... i had too many of them ... and i was too young my mother has to dance alone ... i give her back my snow ... and my white dress ... and she sais thank you daughter, so wise, so wise ...

dirty sand 3

Bonjour, she said to me, on that horrible day in spring, she gave me the cobra flower, growing in my hands ... showing me the old faces ... and i couldn't speak anymore ... she wanted this older guy ... she wasn't a lesbienne anymore ... but still a whore ...

dirty sand 4

make me older, make me free, it doesn't fit to me, i just want to be out of youth, for it's killing me ... oh it's killing me ... i found a baby with a cobra in it's little hands ... she was drawing a stick on it ... she didn't understand ... and the cobra showed her the old faces ... and then she couldn't breath anymore ... i'm still scared of little babies ... since that day ... in august's spring ... blossom growing on my paws ... blossom from heaven's gates to hell's ends ... in deep ravines and deep pits, where the rivers don't touch the ground, only the mystery wins ... here in this gate ... she lost her mother she had to go through this alone only having fourty five rumours yelling in her mind, she was too young ...

dirty sand 5

ready for the strike ... ready for the babies growing in your mind, when the cobra shows you the old faces ... it's to bring something new ... deep there, down there, right on ... catch you later ...

dirty sand 6

i cannot survive this hit, i'm too young, and now strange cola is streaming, from a strange plant ... it's like thistle's paw takes me ... away to this place ... i do not know ... for i'm too young ... i'm a telephone dragon ... i won't kill or smoke you ... just talking to you for awhile ...we have some better challenges .. these bridges are burning ... these bridges are falling down ...

dirty sand 8

don't want to talk to you today, there's another friend, someone older ... warning me against you ...

dirty sand 9

talking to a mandarine ... my aunt raising from the sand ... she doesn't understand ... while she is wiser than me ... for i'm too young ...

dirty sand 10

goodbye railroad racer, goodbye bugs bunny and micky mouse, i'm now a bit better, thank you for saving me out of this house ... it's still a bit silent ... but it's better for i'm too young for the noise ...

dirty sand 11

goodbye donald duck, goodbye all your money i have now this soft plastic rubber in the forestriver, with so many cobra's guiding me like the wind ... if i'm not following them, they're following me, but don't expect too much, for i'm young ... show me the old faces ... do the compromises, water in wine ... it's a game of integration ...

dirty sand 12

greet your mother mary's from the hills ... you're now higher ... you're now ...

Dragons Song

1. i always forget you when i need you ... blown away by someone older ... i'm drinking the wine of another lost day ... you never wanted to listen ... you like to talk ... or is it just your echo ... the memory so strong that it repeats itself ...
2. care for yourself, i was in a cage of being too young, prisoner and slave of the wind ... something older than me ... did it grow up too fast ... or was it me ... being too slow ... i cannot help it when i'm young ... there are old faces pulling me where i belong
3. religion did it, said the hare, i do not care, it was a cage ... a cage of being too young, while someone else showed me the cards of old faces ... drowning me in their old wines ...

4. religion did it, said the hare, the bunny and the square, but i do not care ... i'm too young to understand, don't want to bind myself again in

5. i do not understand the sensitivity of the older ones ...

6. just give me my wings for the day ... let me be as young as i am ...

7. I'm angry, because I am young. I do not understand the things as you do. Someone older took my bird away, and that's okay. I'm too young to understand. Don't be too angry at me, for I might be younger than you are ... aren't you the wind guiding me ? I'm angry, because I'm young. I'm lazy because I do not want to do things I do not understand, but someone hits me and drives me ... Do I feel shame now ? No, for I'm too young ... too young to be guilty, this is privacy domain, and you don't know me, as I do not know you ...

8. I was bitten by a cobra, and now I'm dying in this cradle ... just like a baby ... born too soon ... I wish I had some older brothers and sisters ... I could never be a kid ... that's why I'm still ...

9. I'm angry because I'm young, if I was older I would be more friendly, or I wouldn't be here at all ... Will I have inner peace when I'm grown up, I'm so bitter, bitten by a cobra. If the doctor won't come soon, I die. Breathe me in, and give me some plants, not to smoke, but to hold in my hands ...

10. Give me cobraplants to delay my birthdays ... I die everyday ... I'm too young ... this is just a strange elevator ... surrounded by strange telephone plants, showing the old faces

Grandfather's Wartrauma

The Hours of Friday

It's good to wrestle with these snakes don't let them be taken away They will go by themselves ... They will go by themselves They were just ... calendergirls gone at the end of the page

Dragonswan

1. They come from the silver, spreading their thick fires in blue, the hours of Friday. I don't know them, they seem to be dragons, silver ones, spouting the big blue Have you ever seen their graces ... on a stockmarket they live ... all these spears of Jesus ... making the candy thick ...
2. Glory from the house of green days ... Glory from the seas with no name ... Glory from the house of friday, spending it's hours, to raise the silver heart ... This heart of you and me
3. They come from the silver, spreading their fires into the air ... These dragonswans, they spit the fire, every friday they are there, but sometimes they rise high in thursday, sometimes they sow spring in tuesday sometimes they all march in June, when father opens the books of old london ... England in the nineteenth century, England in the first part of the twentieth ... In august she took flight ... On summerdays she spreads her kings of blue
4. Red England, Red China breaking all these vietnam wars in the kettle of Japan ... Red England, Red Saigon, you know this silver leather hides so much fun ... Bring them to your knees, these silver taxmachines, and let the stockmachines roar to keep the scarabs on your heart ...
5. And silver juices breaking you and me, it's floating from our knees, kidnapped by a spider coming free. Silver juices break us, we're running through the streets, while one of them, he has a gun ... Shooting until we are free Like the rabbit's roar like strange venom in the mouth ... and deep inside we're fighting against the snakes History doesn't exist it's all happening today
6. The hours of friday knocking on my kitchendoor the hours of friday, like centaurs and dragons, walking to the first floor ... like silver stockmachines they breed the heart of hearts between you and me ... we're finally free
7. Silver oils from strange cabins The hours of friday standing here like soldiers of history of horizons like green days between you and me While England is bowing to the years of 1800 ... The last part broke them free ... And those years in Amerika when all the silver banks raised from the ground, you were so proud, and all these demonic taxmachines, they're hiding in the stream Silver years, of the century ... like the hours of friday ... we're never really free These years still aren't over They're still living in our weeks ... marching between you and me

Hitler

8. Hours of Friday, speak to me ... I want to know all about your history Your nothing like a historybook silver pages ... hours of Friday trying to get over it There are silver cigars in a strange machine Hours of friday, speak to me You still let me fight against the snakes you fear or is it a spider with so many arms playing that song of history again ... It's living in our weeks

9. Bring on the dancing horses, bring on the desert's seas ... that what is between you and me ... Bring on the red pillars ... orange in the skies ... bring them back to me ... open the line of horizon, for what is behind is somehow also speeding here ... We cannot see a glimpse ...

10. Hours of Friday, grandmother's grief ... these dragonletters between you and me Hours of friday ... the silver between the banks and shops, and all these tax-offices spinning the strange stocks these spears of Jesus coming near ... Hitler had them, like needles in his eyes ... Where is the silver man, where is the silver Peter Pan ... These trees are so thick and high ... I cannot see their tops ... It makes me cry ...

11. Hours of Friday, Hitler's sundays ... weapons of worldwar Two ... spread over the week ... who is going to fall today ... who is going to jail ... I'm fighting against a silver shark ... fighting it the whole day It looks like it will never stop ... It looks like eternal damnation ... These hours of Friday, when will they stop ... They put me in a taxmachine, they put me in a stockmachine, to turn me like the weather, to make all my tears green ... I'm crying in sixty colours ... No one is going to save me ... These hours of Friday burn me Why do I need to be initiated ? Timemachines don't exist ... only stockmachines ... No one is going to save me I'm in Hitler's hell ... like eternal damnation the wartrauma of my granddad is here still here

Calendergirls

12. James Bond, I cannot come today ... I'm in grandfather's warmachine ... his black trauma ... where black dwarves drink their bottles I wonder what you're doing with the spiders you gave me ... These hours do not exist They're just the voices I didn't hear yet So give me a good telephone, and give me a good radio your stocks like needles in the pyama's ... letting us dream like farewell with dreams of silly tomorrows ...

13. These are the voices I do not understand yet My watch is just a signal ... all these hours are still running away while a christmas postbank is growing in my bag ... In december skies they all take flight, until the green sun is swallowing them all away It's a silly trophee

14. History, still our God, misunderstood. History, still the eggs of christmas, waiting for the chicken to brood ... I have a strange calender It's making me want to cry These girls from december they were all full of lies but these were truths of history far away ... It's good to wrestle with these snakes don't let them be taken away They will go by themselves ... They will go by themselves They were just ... calendergirls gone at the end of the page

15. It takes me five minutes to read every page, while my teacher thinks she's missing something ... Don't get angry at me Don't get angry at me But she's also just a calendergirl fading away at the end of the month Ballerina, your sides they make me cry showing me your calendergirls finally saying goodbye Got another calendar ... with the hours of friday to remember grandfather's wartrauma ... She looks like you, ballerina and like the history of England soothing herself in the skies of London ... James Bond with his killerrabbit Calendergirls, he ripped them all off for the wartrauma's of a vietnam soldier I forgot that I lived Only watching how I died Only watching the wartrauma in silver lights And now it's just a statue in an Egyptian tomb It had been there before It was just a mate of the Pharao

mates of pharao

16. They found the mates of pharao, and now they are surprised it's here ... These years were just waiting for the attack ... Why did I die in Ara, why did I drown at the coasts of Gulan ... The warmth was bringing me inside of this killerbird Why didn't you warn me I had to go inside for the initiation a divine tattoo ... It burnt and ached, but it was coming through ... these mates of pharao are now with me, I paid a big big price to watch my grandfather's wartrauma in disguise

17. Egypt has written the historybooks but I was put away in a cage to watch my grandfather's wartrauma in disguise I think I've now deciphered the letter ... Dragon Song, tell me how History, I will never let you go ... It's the silver in my skies telling me how to walk and hide ... History, I never let you go My wounds are deep but that's how I met the mates of pharao ...

18. I don't want to fall away from this silver age while the days are still running forth ... only showing the hours of friday ... And I once saw my mother flowing away to Egypt skies sowing there her own pictures Not knowing what they were hiding ... but she sees it today from heaven she sees it today from history these days were just my fathers mates ... to hide pharao's destiny ... I don't want to fall away from this silver age days are running so fast ... until the hours of friday take them away ...

19. Silver elitair taxmachines, just stockmachines ... you got to be the master ... taking away all these years to hide them in a sacred book, like the mates of pharao in the tombe And one day a kid will take one of them away to his own school, to his own friends, to his own country to show the face of history in his own days ... His own days ? weren't they just the masks ... of pharao's mates

20. His father's mates just masks of pharao just strange taxmachines ... of ages ago ... they laid their eggs of stock, insurance and democracy or was it hidden communism, brought by a hidden dictator when no one seems to listen ...

purple flowerfields

1. Yellow churches take flight on yellow ships they descend, in Laprakot skies. The newsreader waits a second then he starts his attack, he's mister speed in the Laprakot skies. These are railroads of banana, these are railroads of a yellow queen, killer queen, standing on a church of liberty. It's 10
o clock in London, the newspaper had to die ... for another sky ... for another day ... from the ashes they make new ones ... They are burning the deserts, so that other books can rise ... in this strange factory ... mother nature smiles ... it's her idea ... but do you believe in this god ... of tears ...

2. Strange green money on the screen of paper lies and golden lies ... hiding all these red cowboys behind the bottle .. waiting for the strike ... the strike on tv ... These are Laprokot days ..laprakot skies ... I take flight in sweet decembers for a ride ... and the man he hits the ball high ... in laprokot skies, do you see it's me ... your hero on tv he has iron boots where rabbits drink from ... what a picture .. he decides to be ... in laprakot skies ... do you believe it ...

3. Strange green money ... covering all the red ... covering all the decisions ... by a lucifer's bed do you think they hide them behind dark feathers, or by white ones or by blue ... don't you know it's all a trick of good glue in laprakot's skies ... they decide ... they unite above these cities of dead bodies ... they take flight while you don't know the half of it ...

4. Strange green money ... smelling like your city shoe it's baker's case it's baker's glue ... for me and you ... Strange green money, while parrots take flight to the last city in my mind ... last train ... last orange blue ...

5. Strange yellow businessmen in church strange bananas, while she's still queen ... it's tearing her mind apart ... screaming in unknown languages ... like a nest of bees bringing the honey back to the trees ...

6. And they start mixing the minds ... oh yes, it is gamble time ... strange traffic of a baker's kid ... will he unite ... the bakerlight ... in the city he takes flight ... like a griffon with a soft voice ... so high ... it reaches for laprakot skies ... baker rise to the laprakot skies ...

purple lies

1. It's telling you lies ... when mother decides ... it's bringing you the flames for your cakes, but there are no candles so you must escape ... when mother hits the brake It's confusing your soul, it takes you higher in the sky ... to let your mother fly well ... and you are crashing by a strange strange law ...

2. It's telling you lies ... this ornament you got from her when she died ... it's bringing you the flames on the coffee, without candles ... these purple lies

3. There are purple liars standing in the skies ... saying prayers to a strange god ...

4. Why do we make wars in all these misunderstandings why not first going to the blue ... fore some days in a schoolboat ... to learn about each other ... about you and me ...

5. Why ... do I cry ... is it my destiny ... throwing these pains in the lakes of purple lies ... tales of the purple flies ...

Snake in the Swanlake III

neon rising

1. All these horns lying around the purple pond, directing their fingers inside, while tiles of paintings lay inbetween ... so many paintings telling the story ... while saturn's fairy touches the water ... it's the pond of transformation, where everything becomes art ... it's the road to the museum, where the big 7 rules ...

2. Here where purple rules, you can touch the artist, you will see the song of life ... coming from the bottom of the pond ... where a musician lives ... where a music box stands ...
3. Here everything goes to sleep ... for seven lullabies stand around him ... turning everything into a desert again ...
4. You find the desert through the painting ... switching between purple and orange until you touch the yellow joke ... until all your chocolates are mixed by banana's ... while caramel rakes the seagardens ... where everything started and ended ...
5. These were the three presents of the tiger ... and now he wants a sleep ...
6. Three ornaments they left us, purple and yellow, while orange is still raking the seagardens ...
7. Still their eyes are candy eyes ... green in daylight turning brown in the night
8. They wanted to have some colours for themselves ... green for business ... and brown for nature ...
9. They still have their zoos in the night ... All locked up into stones ... It's their emerald city ... turning brown in the night ... And still they sell it, turning it into purple ... calling it art ...
10. Today's visitors are tomorrow's animals, the tigers are the gods of movies and books, coming from the purple, leaving the falling stones for us ... They still have their movie-eyes ... hiding their white hard candy ...
11. Until the big 7 will show up ... the big fox ... to spread it all ... he's still the robin hood ... he's still the jaguar followed by rats ... having a communistic accent ...
12. And when the orange becomes too hot it will strike the blue, then the waters will rise and the ice will leave a world behind ... skaters sheathing their sharp lines in the waters ... they will finally skate on hard white candy ... raising the doll ... while other dolls fall away ... presents from the tiger ...

13. when the caramel becomes too sweet the tears will fall and the ice will come down ... an orange phoenix will rise ... to watch the lion's lakes ... to see the lions fighting ... these are railroads to lapoendria while a snake still swims through the swanlake ... looking for his ornament's dream ...

14. the orange will rise at the end of the day ... the orange ... still the tiger's best present ... it will strike the blue when no one expects it ... when the caramel becomes too hot ... and then the best tailor will come to mix all these switching colours, to make a suit for the prince to let the lion rise ... and then the baker will watch ... to raise the birthdays pool ... to raise the foam for his new new tarts and then esau will eat for sixty six days ... striking the silver ...

15. while daddy is still counting back on a blue hill ... his loud trains will come ... and then the blue face will show up again ... while the band is playing ... while the rats are running underground ... they are heading for the orange dawn ... when bilmageln hits the gong ... and when the white is getting harder ... it will strike the pink ... then at the end of that day the boys will be soft again ... then you're staring at pink white candy ...

16. you can not take one piece away ... you will let them stay together ... like a two-faced jesus on an icon ... pink and white is what it sells ... you can only buy a 2 ... running through the holy grail, where superman lost his tail, i found a shoe on an orange mountain, before a orange ravine while the bridge was broken, while orange was raging in the night ... i found the holy grail ... where jupiter lost it's tail ... seventy names on a grave ... and there is something with your name ... still something ... i found the holy grail ... where lucifer found his tail ...

17. i brought him back to heaven, while god didn't want to be on his side anymore ... misunderstanding ... from the lion's tea decisions too tall ... those men with the high hats ... i found a holy name ... on a stone with a z written on it ... i found the holy grail ... where jupiter lost it's seal all these tall men ... coming from the high z

18. i'm alone, and i am watching the rain ... i'm alone, i'm hearing mother's train ... it's so cold before the deserts strike ... these men with the sombrero's ... it's so cold before the icecream gets his seat in the back of the car it will grow like a flower ... having so many ways to rage ... in the back of the car it will hit the ornament ... until the seven rains will fall ... until the deserts will be washed away ... and it's all sliding deeper inside ... where the sharks have their thrones ...

19. they have their thrones ... they have their ornaments ... alone ... there will be no saviours in this night ... no jesus's only ... some boys from lynx they're flying like wasps through the night ... like holy seals while a lark is crying in daylight they do the spring .. once again ... while she cannot reach it ... she will never be spring ... for the bunny took all his rats away ... it is blue after the purple struck by the orange ornament ... and now they don't know what to do ... is it the foam of a lion's tea ... or is it ... beer of a shark ... all those helicopters rage in the night ... but what will it do ...

20. when the blue strikes the orange again ... it will all rise like towers ... it will all rise like ornaments ... bringing the desert alive again and seven jokes will sit on a fence ... and seven jokes will tell the tales ... they come to steal the ornaments .. for a low day's dream ... for a high man's tall decision ... for an undercover baby ... for a liar in the storm ... all watching these honey trousers ... these frogs playing in an acorn ...

21. while she never becomes spring ... while she never reaches summer ... summer moves on and daylights win ... they will share the guns with the two directions ... when you shoot someone, you also shoot yourself it's the 2-gun rising here raising his babes ... raising the restaurant where everyone has the pay to watch the waiters this restaurant of 2 ... the meat is alive wanting to live in someone's body ... while z is still the symbol above your deserts while z is still the chocolate's dream ...

22. while z is still raking the orange flowers ... he does it with so much attention ... while they all leave him in the night and when orange and blue are switching all the time, two crocodiles are talking ... in a bathroom deep down in japan ... in a daylight's jungle ... they were rising the forests ... they were rising the daylight's jewels ... for a long sunday in church ... and they are eating red pink chocolate and they are eating red licorice ...

23. and all sorts of dark pink candylaces ... so transparent, gelly and shiny ... where they will watch the nights ... in this giant's world ... there is a prisoner inside ... in this giant's world ... there is a mother crying inside ... looking for baby ... she lost in a storm ... but the kid is safe today ... you will find her back in the land of oz in this giant's world ... the big red shoe is still speaking ... until the walls are falling until the lion is fading becoming pale ... so pale ...

24. in this giant's world ... there is a mother ... preaching ... in this giant's world ... she will do anything to bring you home ... she is speaking from the caramel ... she is speaking shutting all lions down ... while the licorice is rising ... her own private lion ... in this giant's world ...

25. she paints everything so pale ... to let new colours rise ... but there is still a prisoner inside ... inside in this giant's world ... she paints the names of her children on the walls of jericho bringing them back to the ornament ... bringing them back to the snow ... to hard white candy ... and to the pink ... but here it's white against pink ... and still lions are fighting inside ... deep inside ... for it's all sliding deeper ... while it's all sliding away it's all getting paler

26. while neon is rising don't you know about the lion's paintings he has a pale lady standing next to him all the time ... while neon is rising it's just the lion's way ... breaking the criminal inside ... it's just the lion's way ... taking the prisoner out of the light ... while neon is rising the eye ..of aquarius ...

under an orange weight

27. the weight of unknown things ... brings you to sleep ... the weight of unidentified shadows ... brought you to sleep a trip through all these curtains ... these criminals inside ... a trip to the desert ... where the men with the sombrero's live ... some miles away from the house ... they are the child's lurers ...

28. but they also lure animals ... and confused souls ... like you are ... the weight of confusion ... the weight of ignorance ... an orange stone ... bringing you into sleep at the end of the days ... then it starts to move lower ... and brings you underground ... your elevator to the desert ...

29. the weight of mysteries and misunderstandings ... brings you through purple curtains ... where you dream .. your dreams ... where pieces and puzzles meet you ... where ornaments give you their glimpses ... until you're in the desert ... drinking the tea of a lion ... to be another one's weight ... to be another one's temple of holy dreams ... there is still a prisoner inside and then the tall orange men come with their tall orange faces ... and their orange sombrero's ... these roundabout's sombrero's

30. and then the gamble starts ... and then the tall green men come ... with their tall green faces ... and their green sombrero's ... and then the swindle starts there are so many purple curtains hanging in california ... they all lead to the desert where a white chocolate house is standing ... they come here to have their meetings decisions of round table churches ... tall decisions ... my sister is a cockatoo

31. she's singing songs to soothe me ... about prisoners inside ... about an orange ball roaring around the earth becoming gold in the middle of the night ... in the middle of a trafficligh ... switching between red and green red and green red and green ... pushing the orange so far ... pushing the orange so far ... red and green red and green ...

32. pushing the orange so far ... pushing the orange so far until it becomes gold ... red and green ... red and green ... spinning the ornament .. spinning the ornament so tall ... red and green ...

red and green spinning the boats of sirius ... these tall boats of sirius ... these cigarlighters from sirius ...

33. but black and green spin the voices of the nuclears for the next day ... black and green black and green still two crocodiles ... still highways to piril ... she's spinning her knights again ... on her spinningwheels ... she is spinning her nights again ... in his dreams ... she is gathering the sand
from the tables

34. she still works in misery she's still the waitress of the orange ornament ... sewing the beards
on her men again ... now they can be movie-heroes again not dying in the sharp daylights now they can rise like towers ... and the hairy bird can sing again ... his songs of rage and satire ... for the orange maiden is home ... so many directions ...

35. she's the orange rose ... she's covering her knights ... by their beards again ... while she's sewing
the z's on their suits again ... and gives them their cinderella's back again ... these carers of nights ...
these guards of knights

36. on the back of a jay .. they make their tall decisions ... seeing the waters of sleep .. dreaming the dreams of transmissions ... they adore the ornament she's covering her knights, so deep inside ...
she's running to cockaigne ... she is running to the big tables ... of a white chocolate house ...

37. on the back of a jay ... they make their tall decisions .. and now she's running to cockaigne .. to lay some new eggs ... these chickenvoices inside ... it makes her feel like flying ... they sooth her through the realms of sleep ... entering through the soft dreams of decision ... her own decisions ... she makes her own decisions ... where bakerman is running ... he's still her pretty cock .. her pretty cock ...

38. and in the distance she hears the song of her mother ... all those deep cockatoos inside ... warming her dreams to the land of sheep ... all these voices ... awakening the dreams inside ... like lamentation-flowers ... a deeper hunger

39. for she's flying to the city of cockaign ... she's flying to the middle ... that jewel in the desert ... where all the sharks drink beer ... where all the bears drink wine to make their big decisions
the red shoe doesn't like attention ... and when he speaks it's like a million doors are shutting and like a million trains are leaving ...

40. where the bakers bake with sand ... deep down in a restaurant ... they're baking the jokes ... they're baking the decisions ... on a hard man's spoon here they watch the ornament ... here they play with their cards ... here the uncles dream ... like a lamentation deep inside a pretty card with a z ... white with red decoration ... still your grandmother's secret ... while the bakers still hide ... in their tall whispers ... while they drink from the rivers ... where the ancestors speak ... those old voices ...

41. here where the lamentation speaks here where the flowers dream ... about an ornament so tall
.... so rich and full of decisions ... where a luxury and a life walk ...

42. where the poor man puts his paw in the dish ... where he climbs down through the soup ... where he finds himself ... under the table ... so rich ..like he never was before he's now the richest man ... with the most ornaments for he walked through lamentation ... and he reached his shoes ... and he found his kingly socks ... and now he thinks he's willem of orange .. for it's the orange pond of transformation ... where all the lamentations become pride ... they become the kings of satisfaction ...

43. i dived in a stream today .. to touch the tiger's fever ... i'm so blue today ... i'm so pretty today ... and i'm in delay ... but tomorrow i will be ugly again tomorrow i will reach for the purple pond again tomorrow i will be a piece of art ... which no one will like ... for it speaks about a lion in a cage they want to keep their lions in the zoo ... the tiger will roar against me ... they will beat me up and hide me too soon ...

44. but a little jester ... a little chicken ... will walk on the battlefields ... after the slaughter to gather all the pretty balls together in a pointy sack and he brings them to the deserts ... he brings them to the fear ... for these criminals were all escaped and now they will feel the shivers inside they were of august and lazytember ...

45. a pretty haze in spring ... they were the ornaments of seven rages ... spoiling the blue ring ... they were of pretty flowers and pretty pictures ... wandering like blonde ladies but they were travestites ... they were mighty pains ... all their pretty smiles ... they were just laughing inside laughing at the red fat lady laughing at the picky pocks ... laughing at the news mercedes ... laughing at your silly blot they were a newsride mercedes ... they were a newsrise cotelet while they were laughing at themselves ...

46. i'm here with all those seadragons, in a land where the sun always shines ... but just not always too much, for there's a pretty lady inside ... she keeps coming and going

Drama's from Z

"i know a place where the black lemonade streams from a black hill deep in rigil kentthere
.... deep insideand at the end of that tunnelthe red lemonade streamsall to wake you up inside ...it makes your mind so fluffyand then you touch a key you didn't see before ...cold conscience ..."

raising the banana queen

1. the purple balloon brought me back to hell where i would see the art of life

2. it was struck by the orange of chaos ... there where ignorance is a bliss ... i was a victim of sleep ... a victim of a blind heaven ... but the purple brought me back ... this stone is lying heavy on my shoulders ... i'm carrying the globe of z ... i am the purple atlas ... orange gamblers ... luring the kids by candy ...

3. a green stone is doing my dishes ... in a house where all paintings hang aslant ... under the weight of this stone i always do business ... for the fight would kill them all ... when the wars get too much ... it starts to move ... pushing us all under ... through a green orange leprechaun-stockings ...
we always reach the market-squares ...

4. where the seven dwarves of snow white dance ... still business brothers ... when the anger gets too much ... it breaks our tops into the swindle ... a war under the skin ... business ... still masked wars ... businessmen .. carnival soldiers ... hiding their needles ... under soft blankets ... aslant faces ... trying to hit you in another way ... they are always ...

5. shaking their heads ... in busy rooms ... while a chicken is running ... bakermen .. hiding the dolls, they do it, bakermen ... riding the dolls, they do it ... ornaments they raise so tall ... to do their dignified kills for a call ... picking the pockets from the battlefields ... he steals his pocket, while he can't move ...

6. in that dark night ... for he was stung by a spider ... and she wanted to make pictures of his room ... but now he refused he was .. an egoist ... still the dark tales your mother tells ... she still lives in a house with aslant tables ...

7. where a green stone is doing the dishes ... she's gathering her z's ... although she has died so long ago ... she's the divorce's rose .. the black rose ... she is the black widow ... she is the ornaments rage ... she is the business woman ... and she hides her needles deep .. so deep ... she hides her bakerman ... in a purple box ...

8. she gathers all the z's from the roofs ... she's still a cannibal inside ... stuffing them all ... she bred all her children into business for the screams of revenge got too much ... the hate they felt inside ... was eating them .. and now they're auctioneer's brothers ... the clocks of the cities ... spreading shop's apocalypse leading them all ... to the hollow ...

9. like pied pipers in a row ... they do .. the dance ... and every night .. i went to bed .. with the feeling of fighting against a shark ... i couldn't win ... i couldn't win ... in this black bed ... where black leprechauns still dance ... i couldn't ... where beds are killingfields ... i couldn't ...

10. i'm holding my last z tight inside ... but it's a special one ... a sort of joker ... letting me have all the z's ... i'm walking with my head in a bubble .. or is it a ball .. about this hard wars are raging ... while business tries to sooth it by a poisoned banana ... tastes nice ... but what will i be at the end of the day ... in this ball the waterlights speak ... it's so transparent here ...

11. and there's glue inside this ball ... this orange ... or is it a melon ... about this wars are raging so hard ... while business tries to sooth it ... by aslant compliments ... caressing my pride ... in such a way that i have to die today ... under a higher election ... under tall decisions ... i will have to be ... a woman on the second row ...

12. not reaching for the top ... for it will break off ... under a green stone's pressure ... and still it's like .. a black balloon is standing before me ... it's so hot in my head ... buddy ... but it's breeding the waterlights ... those shiny lights inside this world of glue ... i'm heading for the big z ... where they are rising my trousers ... and where i will find my golden ball again ...

13. your mother was a tranvestite ... she was .. actually ... your father i don't want to shock you .. but it's true ... but does it matter ? not really ... just for the administration ... a green doll is still doing the dishes in her house ... where aslant paintings hang ... with aslant faces on it ... he's trying to wipe the wedding-fights from the dishes ... after she drowned in her glass of tea ... yellow mixed by orange ... she slept herself to death ... after the joke ...

14. dawns of z, the land of fake ... hiding all your playcards behind a good good brake ... and these cyborgs from z ... still having the trafficlighs in their eyes ... flashing like ... the waterlights ... but it's all fake ... they are on bilmageln's back ... to touch some new curtains ... on the dolphin's goodbyes ... on the dolphin's goodbyes ...

15. i'm touching new edges .. on the dolphin's goodbyes ... i'm dreaming new intentions ... on the dolphin's goodbyes letters from z ... dressed in ornament's transmissions but it's all fake ... it's showing you two sides of the story ... it doesn't hide anything ... but it just makes a difference ... for it's the third side of the story ...

16. like three sides of a coin ... and your face is on it ... with all these bakerman's faces ... all those lines in the glue ... and now you know where uncle one to ten always did their business ..

17. A coin with three sides is lying on my hand ... It burns almost a hole in my hand I'm staring at it ... On one side I see the Round Table Churches, on the second side I see The Giant's Whistling-kettle Orchestra ... and on the third side I see Service with Little Light ...

18. These are the faces of bakerman ... Are there any more faces ... I throw the coin in a Giant's Jukebox ... A Jukebox from Z ... while pushing the dolphin's button ... These three-sided coins of Z ... are there more-sided coins here ? it's the land of z ... still the bakerman's faces ... all these moons of cockaign ... and i'm spinning my letters in tall chocolate ... they are still shooting their stars of fire so far ... like a gun with two directions ... one for you ... and one for me ... but it's all fake I'm walking down a stairway ... drinking some cola ... black lemonade ... It was my last coin ... and now I'm here ... drinking from the big Z

19. I'm in Cockaign's Rigil Kent ... that holy place ... drinking from the black lemonade ... all those cola-lights in my head ... awakening the red flowers inside ... I'm heading for the red lemonade ... i know a place where the black lemonade streams from a black hill deep in rigil kent there deep inside and at the end of that tunnel the red lemonade streams all to wake you up inside ... it makes your mind so fluffy and then you touch a key you didn't see before ... cold conscience ... and the red lemonade streams there ... where all churches are fake ... red cola from the white chocolate house ... where all the round table churches have their meetings ... all in deep secret ...

20. having their conspiracies ... speaking about things you don't want to hear ... throwing their whispers as dice on their aslant tables here the whispers sing about your hells and deaths ... your everlasting damnations, your sins and your blasphemies ... but it's all fake it's all deep down in z where the ants play at cards ... your faces are on their cards ... your faces are on their dice ... and they are breeding their tall whispers ... while your bakers are hiding in it here they drink their blue liquors ... here they eat their white chocolate ... here they spin their birthdaycakes ... while you are the flames of their candles ... here they do their weddings ... here they play at draughts here you can find .. the billiards room that cruel room ... but it's all fake ... it's the house of z ... deep down in it's white chocolate ... their colours are still blue white and red ... the black stone brought you here ... the big divorce ... between you and all your dolls ... but it showed you the baker's face ... and now you see all these faces ... all these mirrors ... showing you it's just you and me ... partners always switch in the arena ... partners in crime ... but it's all fake ... it was a 2 in a z ... to make your heart complete ...

21. to let you take a deep breath ... it was a 2 in a z ... all these wars were just something between you and me ... me, the black widow ... you the baker ... both in toysoldier's arena fighting in a black bed drinking from our red bottles ... our blue liquors ... and eating from ... our white chocolate ... but it was all fake it was just a game it was just a joke to survive the black hill
... our own mirrors growing from so deep ... trying to strangle us both we had just our pillowfights ... to protect us against something worse ... we had just our child's tears ... our cartoon fears ... we just had our pillowfights ... there on these black beds i'm still white boots ... turning into a black widow in the night ... that's the pricecard on the boots you once bought ... but it's all fake i'm still the black and white movie in your head ... carrying so many colours inside ... there where birthdays are mixed by weddings ... everything goes wrong ... for there religions exist ... while christmasses and easters are growing there ... in a hole called ascension-day ... but a white rose is rising there ... growing against the rocks ... it's a wild rose ... carrying an indian warbook inside ... a white shark ... a lady on rollerskates ... having vanilla icecreams ... she's an atheistic lady ... she's striking the silver in the deepest night ... there where she becomes ... the tinkerbelle statue ... mary de pazzia playing games with the green jesus ... her sweetheart peter pan ... on the dolphin's goodbye ... that statue in japan ... there she sits on the golden dolphin ... waving with her white handkerchief ...

22. dressed in a bear's skin ... when the white roses are rising ... visitors from z ... writing virgo all over again ... by silver pens .. heading for izu ... there are two gelly seabubbles in my head ... like peter pan's golden balls ... a red one and a purple one ... both so transparent ... both like dark glue ... golden seams inside ... dividing the birthdays and the weddings ... while easter, christmas and ascension are fighting in my stomach ... while the white rose is growing from so deep ... spinning all religions like candy on a fairground ... while a purple rose watches it from a distance ... with her head in the smoke they are visitors from z ... building their green flowers to touch the moons ... visitors from z ... while old men are sitting on the stations ... smiling and laughing ... breeding their eggs ... to let them roll through the giant-stockings ... visitors from z ... while all games are breaking when the black stone becomes too heavy ... then there are white flowers rising in the fields of judgement days ... when black strikes the white ... and then new games will roll ... did you ever see them do their white games ? kalibra bazina ... the zebra's joke ... raising the green to the libraries ... by the business of the fake ... they all stuff them into books ... heading for the museum ... where you can watch some ancient comics ... of some orange ducks ... these are liars ... from the zebra's joke ... orange liars ... too many birthdays will strike the christmas ... while too many christmasses strike the easter ... too many easters strike the wedding ... while too many weddings ... strike ascension-day ... the big divorce ...

23. the black rose ... but too many black roses strike the banana ... the ornament in the desert ...
she will tell her jokes ... until it strikes birthday again ... i'm heaving marshpane in my head ... reading the distances ... i'm having a helmet of z ... while someone is sewing my sharks ... caring for the seams ... the skin is so thick ... here the sharks spit fire ... here the sharks spit soap ... here they make their birthdaytarts while the smoke is rising ... to bring the big 7 home ... sandman is rising ... for his banana queen ... breeding the blue ... for some raptures ... while summerclause is rising ... breeding the ascension days ... still holes in the air ... where clouds are coming through ... while a service with little light is roaring fake tax ... fake funds ... fake services ... all from the restaurant of 2 ... that restaurant in the middle of cockaign's desert ... on a martian hill ... surrounded by neptunian presents ... directing at the z button in the air ... that symbol sliding above the desert ... here in the middle of the desert ... the yellow rose is standing ... when the orange mazes become too tall ... they strike the yellow jokes ... here in the middle of the desert ... the custard streams ... and you have to eat and eat ... while floating higher ... it's the yellow elevator ... it climbs higher while you're eating ... and then the rains fall ... to make the deserts wet again ... through many rains you can reach for Z ... it's the tall banana bringing you to a tall land where the sea-dragons of the rainbow live ...

24. it is the rainbow-jewel ... the z in the sky ... bringing your games into the clock ... in the land of z the banana-queen lives ... she has her own z-visor ... from here she rules the stars ... flowerfields ... while the giants whistlingkettle-orchestra is playing in grandfather's barn ... doing their fake wars, fake crimes and fake lawsuits ... i'm still doing the fake divorces here ... with those strange, strange movements i know the songs ... like softness in slowmotion ... so that no one sees the wounds ... but it's all fake anyway ... a kid's play ... nothing more ...

never enough

25. while the red stone makes movies of this ... food for wasp's tv ... while santa clause is breeding his christmasses ... there are appearing new heroes on tv ... they are communistic ... it is the red scorpion rising ... all his children will have the tv-stars in their heart ... a burning tree is growing in the middle of the desert ... it's baker's tree ... and tall faces are coming from it ... tall faces with sombrero's ... these tall giants ... visitors from z ... they are marching in all colours ... i'm seeing bakerman's faces ... so many suns of cockaign ... where communism met christmas ... tv was born ... santa clause is still riding these trains ... he's still the statue on wasp's tv ... where communism met ascension-day ... breath-tv was born ... so many channels from bottles ... so many wasp-rains while summerclause is riding them ... it's black against green here ...

26. raising the nuclears ... for a communistic judgement day on the racecourts they will stand ... all these tall horses ... raising the gepetto balloon ... twenty five ornaments ... on a hard day's spoon the black green jester ... turning thick in the night ... having his little leprechaun ... for a nuclear stocking ... they all hang through the universe ... like umbrella's against the rain it's tax, the mark of business ... nothing is only for one moment ... it keeps eating ... everything is for eternity ... shop's judgement's day and tax will be your train from heaven to hell ... for wearing someone's hat ... the rent will bring you down ... nothing will ever be yours ... you can only borrow things, while the prices are too high ... there are many pits to fall in ... many illusive holes ... but at the end you touch the button ... which shows you the other side now how many sides do these coins from z have ... how many faces of a baker's head ? spinning holes in the air ... always singing the same songs ... but when you will see it's last cupboard to touch the last ballerina ... you will see the opposite song ... these are open mouths ... circling in the sky ... waiting to swallow you but there is a way out through it's tail ...

27. when you see the bottomless joke ... and when you brag in it's face a bakerman's face these were all tall bakers ... visitors from z ... turning you into food ... into birthdaycakes and eastereggs ... and when you thought you found ascensionday ... it appeared to be another trap ... another soft mouth with hard teeth ... all these mouths ... shivering in the air ... waiting to eat you to sooth their own fears their fears to be eaten but all mouths eat other mouths ... for it's all sugared by the bakermen all judged by tall faces too tall to understand ... too tall to please ... they have never enough ... i know a place called "never enough" ... it's there ... in their hearts ... the black hearts of guilt ... make the fear rise ...

The Pink Chocolate's Rose Wedding II ...

Dolphin's Goodbye ...

1. Sandman's red mailrunner coming from the big shoe ... throwing some post through your window ... while he races away with his chicken bike ... a red bike ... ringing so soft in your ear ... like dolphin's goodbye ... Checking the orange balls ... by the button of z ... throwing some candy like nick's play ... but he has a blue face ... remembering the pickpock family ... it's dolphin's goodbye

2. A wall full of roses, some chocolate and some wine ... it's the dolphin's goodbye ... it's like a million of doors are opening ... it's like winning the tax's game ... it's like shooting the last leprechaun ... it's like meeting red cape in the night ... she knows how to shut some doors ... and to light some candles ... she knows how to lead them all through the night ... these lions and these rats ... she is a pied piper ... throwing in all windows ... shooting all glasses ... until a morning's raven takes you away to cockaign ... where the doves dance and the mail is raining ... dolphin's goodbye ... and finally you reach the last cupboard of venus ... where a silver ballerina stands ... mary de pazzia .. still peter pan's lover ... while on saturdays she's tinkerbelle ... opening the door to a new neverland ... in such a dignified way ... she's the doorhandle on every tenth door ... showing the crisis in china ... hiding a hundred wishing wells under her jackets ... ten jackets she wears ... ten roses in her hair ... ten flowers on a summer's boat ... she did it all for love .. showing you the meaning of chocolate ... she's still her father's wet creation ... standing there on a tenth floor ... on a low low cupboard ... while uncle one to ten is sleeping in the baby's room ... it was all to make your heart at peace dolphin's ... goodbye ...

Master of Auction III

Alphabet of Misunderstanding

1. misunderstand a schoolbell and you will hear your mother call misunderstand a telephone ring and you will hear your grandmother sing misunderstand a tv program and you will hear your sister cry ... misunderstand a doctor's advice ... and you will hear your son lie ...

2. tranvestites carrying a big handicapped eye ... they walk through glue and teeth ... they walk through you and me ... to bring the flame back to the candle ... these are dressed up insects from a red picnic ... masked while the eye they carry is hidden behind tall teeth ... like barbed wire ...

3. they will surround the baker's tree that tree on fire pinocchio's tree ... in which Gepetto's Flame is still locked up there are snakes running there ... sliding there to do business ... they are having their corsets there ...

4. misunderstand a schoolbell and you will hear your mother call misunderstand a telephone ring and you will hear your grandmother sing misunderstand a tv program and you will hear your sister cry ... misunderstand a doctor's advice ... and you will hear your son lie ...

5. only the tranvestites and the handicapped are free ... they can escape through communistic red spinning holes in the airs ... the red watermarks ... the red wet face of bakerman ... there will be wars in lapsalvania because of this ... for there in the endless auction ... a red point will appear through which Gepetto can escape then his balloon can rise and float above the restaurant of 2 ... to be the mailman of misunderstanding the god of ten ... he is the god of ten the 2 ... for the ten is the first number connecting two numbers ... it is the portal from something to something ... the touch ...

6. misunderstand a schoolbell and you will hear your mother call misunderstand a telephone ring and you will hear your grandmother sing misunderstand a tv program and you will hear your sister cry ... misunderstand a doctor's advice ... and you will hear your son lie ...

7. there are so many red points on the baker's tree ... and it's like pinocchio has a skindisease ... but these are all little lights ... launching the big gepetto ... it's like a zeppelin from mars it's like a rainbowballoon ... all the little tens ... raising the big 2 ... the mailman of misunderstanding ... because we misunderstood our teachers ... we could touch the fairytale again ...
8. the pickpock family is in town ... raising their big balloons ... they are walking like chicken on the killingfields ... but they are dressed up ants ... working on fairgrounds, funparks and circusses they are the gods of nonsense and misunderstanding ... raising up their own god ... gepetto ... their mailman ... they are raising up their numbers and letters in a flame ... a balloon's flame ...
9. misunderstand a schoolbell and you will hear your mother call misunderstand a telephone ring and you will hear your grandmother sing misunderstand a tv program and you will hear your sister cry ... misunderstand a doctor's advice ... and you will hear your son lie ...
10. aslant eyes and aslant faces make the connection to the worlds beyond the worlds, the mirrors beyond the mirrors by the little tens the wasprains are spouted ... by the big two of misunderstanding one of the biggest jokes there are seven jokes in a bag while the banana queen is carrying it ... they will be launched on a sundaymorning ...
11. the banana queen is raising her automatons ... on jupiter's fairground she walks ... together with white boots ... sharing their flowers with children ... they are raising their watermarks ... their gluemarks ... they are raising their balloons ... the bakerman's faces
12. misunderstand a schoolbell and you will hear your mother call misunderstand a telephone ring and you will hear your grandmother sing misunderstand a tv program and you will hear your sister cry ... misunderstand a doctor's advice ... and you will hear your son lie ...
13. they have red lights on their faces ... these waterlights ... these little tens ... raising the big 2 raising the big gepetto ... there are nuclear wars in lapsalvania ... the ants of the red picnic are rising ... these tranvestites carrying the big handicapped eye ...

Broken Bridge

1. where plants are the senses of a new world, don't cut it again, for you might cut yourself away. the boys from lynx they walk ... with machine guns they take flight ... to the world above the sea where they sell their roses ... to keep them all blind ... i have time for you when you walk away from the clock ... you might want to feel wet boots below you again ... there are doctors in winter's treasures, growing from the bottom of the sea ... where they died in these sea gardens ... but there will not be any saviour or criminal again ... only these boys ...

2. they wear the stripes on their faces .. they have scars in their necks ... they sell the old feathers to the young ... they wear their ancient tattoos on their skins ... they fall when someone else falls ... for there is no saviour ... we are all the same ... when someone rises they rise they are the tears in our eyes ... they let them rot in the skies ... having no mercy at all ... they are like easterclauses taking flight it's only you ... they aren't really there ...

3. and then the hunger brings the hallucination ... they are the fata morgana's ... mirages of old wizards see these hearts pumping ... lying on dishes ... while you don't dare to eat anything of it ... these are the wizards hearts ... you are locked up in your hunger, while you have the fear ... and you eat nothing ... until you're dry as the desert creating your own tax ... your legions and masses ... this world is a vision of hunger it's a strange delirium coming from the third world ... oh yes, you're part of it ... your hunger just lets you dream of riches ...

4. it's a trick of a cobra ... you built your own tv ... there are no saviours and no destroyers only you ... in lonely and forgotten land you pushed the bell and now they're here ... but they're just ghosts of the mind ...

5. you slide to the forgotten land, where all your dreams started ... and you see the cobra moving you were at your own exploding ... and now you're living in a joke ... while bakerman's faces do their conspiracies at tops of trees ... you are just a christmasball ... with wasp-tv in your mind ... you're a money-designer ... from a strange bank ... you sacrifice your self-spun sugar to the queens ... but they only make the joke bigger ...

6. and now these bakerman's faces are your gods ... the jesus's you crucify ... your coins to paradise ... while your face is on someone else's coin ...

7. the worlds within worlds bring the feelings ... that what you cannot reach will bind you and blind you ... you are a slave of the hollow ... and it takes you deeper inside ... to the place where ashes is money ... the seeds of a new day ... the ornament of coins is luring you deeper ... it's your only way out ... just eat these seeds ... these flowerseeds ... then the honey will flow through your stomach ... and you will drink new milk ... come to the hollow ... and eat your burdens ... this is a gate you don't want to know ... but it's your only way to survive ... the hungercocoon brings riches to your mouth ... it grows on your back reaching for your mouth you can smell flowers of paradises growing on your back .. reaching for your nose it gives you the face of a deer ... having the machines of the red eye ... while visions grow from their back reaching for their eyes ... and music grows from their back to their ears ... while the tattoo of a spider is growing on their forehead ... reaching for their necks ... there where the senses sleep ...

8. there's a spider on my forehead ... and it grows towards my neck ... to open the senses ... to let the flowers grow ... between the plants there's a spider on my forehead ... and it grows towards my neck ... to open new visions in a language i understand and it brings me understanding ... it brings me new tales ... till the ornament grows further ... to reach for the broken bridge

9. when ornaments come together ... to lay the hard stones ... then softness grow inside ... to let machines blow ... they bring oil to the stages ... to let ballerina's dance ... until they reach the morninglights where they dive into morning dew they will never reach the afternoon ... they are in morningland ... where the morningred pushes the lights underwater in a new sea ... to let new plants grow from the seagardens ...

10. when ornaments come together ... they're riding towards the show ... where there are no saviours and criminals where everyone is the same ... baptized in red ...

11. there are boys behind dragonbars locked up behind letters ... and numbers ... they're locked up in the book ... of a red dragon ... he's a dangerous chesspawn on the board of a white rabbit ...

12. so many chesspawns in the air ... boys from lynx against the black snail and a pale orange octopus ... against so many other pieces on this strange chessboard of a white rabbit ... and when he turns it around the back of the board is a mirror and you see your face ... with these thousand nipples ... these bakerman's faces ... these bakerman's coins can you escape the altar of an egyptian king ... of an egyptian mother who claimed mooses to be her son ... she saved him but prisoned him ... can you escape this saviour's altar ... this altar of a businessman it's joseph's pit ... a strange board of chess where the suns and the earths play ... while moons are watching while you're sinking deeper in this strange cocoon ... this strange cartoon in these strange days ... while an orange prince is knocking at your door ... with three purple pale flowers for your mother ... he didn't ring a bell ... he just whispered

13. in ornamental issues i take flight to izu where all insects are gathered doing strange dances to win their days back ... in this strange game ... and at the bottom of this pit .. you're king of egypt and then there aren't any jesuses and judases left

14. who knows the chessboard of the white rabbit ... leading alice to wonderland it's strange stratego ... when you turn the pieces around ... you see the faces of the ones around you ... it's all a big conspiracy in your mind for when you turn them around twice ... you see your own face but at the end ... there will be no blame and shame at all these feelings of guilt ... where just the coins of business in a game called antartica flowerseeds wanting to open the senses for a new world new senses started to develop .. under the vibrations of guilt in the eyes of guilt it's never enough ... it's never good ... it's hungry and you need to grow it's the big breed ... of an old witch waiting to eat you but you're never good enough it's never done so then you're living behind dragonwalls ... in her strange stories

Poetry from the White Chocolate III

Cold December Day

Red Seas

1. Honey, did you hear those sounds, terror coming in the night, while we sleep they take everything away, what we built between you and me. Honey, did you hear those words and the thunder, while our babies crying. Nothing they can do, nothing we can hide away, there is no escape, on Laprakod's Day. They're bringing us to Rabbit's Hill, they're giving us some cards, of what they built between you and me, and we're having their babies. Honey, did you hear those screams, telling us goodbye, honey, are you listening closely, they're tearing us apart, they're tearing us apart, on this cold december day, they're tearing us apart, they're tearing off your masks, they're tearing off these babies, tearing off all what we built here, between you and me.

Nowhere to Run

2. Come away with me, and let us forget about everything, let us hide away and fall, that's better than keep standing here. Honey, take me away, to your shelters, where you have your secret calls, your liars to mislead them all. Come away with me, come and let us fall, for everything here is burning, honey, take the doll, and raise it with the funny faces, to mislead them all. Come away with me, far away from these red seas, show me all those secret places, all what you were hiding for me, or we don't have anything to run to ...

*

3. I know of all your tears, I know of all your pains, fragily woven, the clothes you wear everyday.

*

Golden Yesterday

4. Soldiers rising up today, on this cold december day, suns and icycles on the chairs, baby's singing on the stairs, about stars so far away. You haven't seen them in ages, for they are with me today. Is today forever, like millions of years, is today to stay here till christmas, I'm frozen like a chocolate soldier, waiting for the bite again. Soldiers, rising up today, they came over the bridge of a frozen yesterday. Silly queen, I bought the rest of today, if you're sweet I give you a second of yesterday. I'm drinking the lion's tea, and from a widow-spiderian stream, I must grow up today, to rise to the ceiling, together with these soldiers, on this cold december day. Waiting for the strike of chocolate, waiting for the big bite. You're fragily woven, like the queen's doll, like the mistress of the princess, bowing for today. Give me chocolate milk from a widow spider, to stand with you today. If I fall tomorrow, I always have today, as a golden yesterday.

5. The cinema is closed today, and I can't stop crying, it's a cold december day. There are widow-spiders on the wall, waiting for the strike of chocolate, to rise tall. A boy in cowboy suit came to me today, gave me a book, a red book, like a dwarve's bible, they have fought about it today, and now I am a raven's prince. Please, give me all my ravens back, to take another dive, into the mystery.

Burning Flowers

6. I must dive, I must get through all these rings of fire, dancing through my mind. I must take, I must give away these flowers burning in my garden, they want to go home. They belong to you, in your womb they can grow, these burning flowers, don't you know.

7. I must take, I must give away these flowers, burning in the snow, of a cold december day.

*

8. There I hide them well, deep down in a precious spell, there I hide them well, lots to take, and lots to give ...

*

Cigarettes of War

I'm somewhere locked up in history, the thick fluid is flowing slowly from one place to another, it hardly moves. I think it will take ages. These cigarettes are of silver, and these histories lead to the wild ages. In the stone age we're locked up like rabbits ... reading their iron books ... Birds of Jura stand in tall windows, watching the rules of fire.

Poetry from the Big Gun II

Dragon Postbanks

Jurassic Gun

1. Four Dorothee's, a yellow one rakes the green. A blue one meets the saturdays in august. And sixty alices in a row ... it's complaining about something, i don't know. Pinocchio is a dragoncandle, needle on the grammophone, there he goes, there's too much noise in a spinach tanker, baby, i don't know, i don't know. Four Dorothee's in a row, while the fifth Dorothee comes with orange surprises.

These silver fields ... like raking the moons ... while moonchild breaks the stages ... These dogs have silver barks ... in blue ... No zebra's tomorrow ... they will be in yesterday ... So many roses descending to history ...

2. Rollerskaters on a run, while four Pinocchio's are hunting after them ... These dragoncandles are just strange needles from grammophone ... Like lambsteads they take flight ... to other moons

Jericho's on the spoon today ... there's carnival in a rabbit's temple ... All clothes are sold out again ... we are naked and shivering ... No train wants to pick us up ... we have to stay here till sun will get under ready for the swallow of the sea ...

3. Lately I'm a bit out of space ... Don't know how to rake my hair ... It's a wilderness because of a present ... exploding before my face ... I'm in pain and grief ... I shouldn't have listened to you ... Shouldn't shake your hand ... but it's too late now I'm already locked up in a yesterday's event ... Alice is a rabbit-docter, a green one standing on the side ... These are the sides of hell she's raking ... There is silver on the moon ... I can see it from here ... where docters run, and docters bow ... picking up the last helicopters coming out of their patients mouth ... then it's friday after that, and they can go early to bed ... While blue Dorothee sells the saturdays away ... to a green raven's play ... Didn't you hear it ? It was in the papers yesterday ... And now we have to run and hide ... or this baby will take us away to her hairy afternoons ... Run for your life There are hairy birds on the fields ... while Pinocchio's are raking the walls ... There's no escape from here ... we are waiting for the moment till we fall ...

4. Uncle Peacock has a bad day ... and it seems we're paying for it again ... he has sixty postbanks in a row ... reminding us of history ... while sixty pinocchio's are still the displaydolls There are loveletters from a hairy past ... These are memory-banks ... romances of dragons ... like old religions ... mom and dad want to talk to us like ancestors in a glass of water ... drowning .. but reaching our sides ... These rollerskates sting, telling us to sink deeper down the hill, monsieurs ... down the hill ... the roses still grow ... There's a telephone from 20 ages ago ... it's still on the radio ... where Uncle Unicorn runs and hides

5. These are old religions, mother, so many alices in the sky ... they're raking the moons for us ... These are old religions baby, messages from thirty ages ago, from times ... we didn't know ... These are strange postbanks it makes you cry ... bye bye baby, they're taking me away blue alice is speaking ... her rabbit is bleeding ... bitten by a monster, drowning in the sea ... it was something between you and me

6. Baby, please give me some room, please give me some space ... these shoes hurt me ... i have to walk ... i have to talk these are horses waiting for the ride ... i cannot help it, never could ... Baby, these shoes are hurting me ... I have to sink deeper, in these tall tall boots ... where the rabbits break me An iron grasp brought me to these old old fashions and forests ... and these old old trains where red alices were weeping and a brown alice was breaking the afternoon to escape to old summers on an old locomotion ... baby give me room, these are just some old religions ... from strange postbanks ... with strange mailmans ... so many balloons in the skies ... it makes you wanna cry ...

7. Mother, invent me, I cannot walk today ... some messages they break me ... did the mailman already come ... he's the god of ten ... with all his pinocchio's ... memories on discs ... strange strange dragoncandles ... singing in spain ... old songs from the rivers so many snowwhites after the fall so many cinderella's ... in a strange war after the call so many thornroses thundering in the snow between me and you ... a dragon of old ages ... where Uncle Unicorn runs and hides this grammophone needs a good needle she's walking with her boots deep in the snow ... I still cannot hear her echo

8. Echobank make the letters thick ... let me hear your songs ... these old records speak a postman a strange dj ... taking me home today ... with sixty dorothees behind me ... i think i get a piece of this cake ... where brothers are warning me ... twenty jesuses in twenty colours please don't cry about me the red osiris is taking me through it ... like a silver statue he breaks the rules ... and takes me to the schools ... please don't cry again, you're under a good umbrella ... it's a mailman's school ... were waving birds from ancient times will come to you ... with their wide wings ... they will bring you to it they will bring you to mailman's churches ... to mailman's justice-courts ... watch and listen ... it speaks to you like silver thunder ... making everything small again ... the ancient fairytales will appear ... so don't cry again

9. Yes, mailmen take you home tonight. They watch the flowers side by side ... until the ornaments will spread themselves ... Mother invent me ... did the mailman already come today ... he is the god of ten a dragoncandle singing in spain ... these pinocchio's standing in a row ... these displaydolls of strange postbanks The statues drip their watery glues ... New tax from the radio ... new dragons entering in don't forget about his number ... of ages and ages ago ... These alices in pink and white ... they're locking all these rows tonight ... Lady watch the golden spear these animals they greet the snowwhite ... tear ...

10. Mailmen's roses mailmen's tears They bring the deep wide bottles they drink and cry it out every year Mailmen's roses Mailmen's tears they drink and let it stream ... they drink and let it flow ...

11. Thirteen licorices twelve chocolates Let me hide behind the mailman ... bringing milk today Circle of mailmen yellow and green, Alice White is counting the tears they describe and she is drinking all these watering lies are truths from millions of ages ago ... Cinema's they let them play It's a taxletter-postbank It's a taxletter's grey ...

12. Here I come, these dragons need space Just listen to the taxmachine, just listen to the ticking of birds codes of dragons codes of a new today from millions of ages ago ... The dragon's coming through The mailman's heart, just a liar ... the typemachine of ancient truth You even don't know the date of today You lost the calender of old June. All these red liars ... bringing the truths of ancient days ...

13. Blue mailmen, milkmen, teachers coming to the justice-court where the black mailmen read the white letters ... a cherry lies today but tomorrow it's the truth again These letters are bending on top of every day ... It is forever yesterday

14. Grey mice with eleven noses, grey mice with eleven ears, marching to the peter pan's sundaymorning, to tell them other stories ... of yesterday I am sinking to the noises growing from tomorrow, hiding me from yesterday I am sinking to these glories wandering through my mind
today hiding me from yesterday

15. Blue mice like pinocchio's, marching like the mailmen, marching like my mother's curse today finding their ways through old stories the world will be an elf today transparent in all it's colours for Jesus thinks it's okay

16. Green mice with three ears, and with a blue nose, they can grow, bringing them to yesterday, through a strange postbank, with a strange flow Red mice think today ... it's okay ... it's okay ... while Jesus takes the cinema and disappears in the rain ... My mother hides in Spain ... My mother thinks it's a strange postbank ... that's like it is ...

17. It's busy in the dragon's castle ... all the dragoncandle's singing ... these are mice on a stick ... like pinocchio's they tick all these messages from yesterday, about my mother hiding in Spain It's like a Red Christ coming from Santa Day like a Blue Christ loving elves Like the Black Christ not able to play they're hiding all in yesterday My Pink Christ goes to school, where mailmen are the teachers nothing for him he screams all dayand at nights he cannot sleep These dragoncandles running towards the moonchild playing in the skies sitting on the big snake

18. And I, I still wonder, what's going on today all these Red Pinocchio's all these telephones and all these radio's from ancient days Still spinning tax to burn the coins of today ... these strange Pinocchio's making you cry but these lies were truths yesterday ... but these lies were truths yesterday In the cinema, come, take your guns and clothes ... take your machines and go to someone's birthday to your Jurassic Gun ... to find your Dorothee's and Alice's ... and your queens of hearts And come to mailmen's lawyers, to find the mailman's ring ... waking up becoming a mailman ... just a letter in the alphabet ... balancing between tax and insurance, between a telephone and a radio

Orange Dragonclaw

19. Twenty Esau's cannot comfort me, these are lights ... bakerman's lights ... Their hair is softly burning in strange fire They cannot comfort me ... but it makes me a bit quiet ... There's a clock of moons hanging on the wall ... It's speaking and I see it's eye a big eye if it comes to that like the sparrow's eye ...

20. I wonder what they're doing today ... All these taxes and insurances ... all these economies ... and the ones going to jail ... It's like a dragon coming to the surface ... He cannot speak, but he lets the money roll ... from this side to that side until someone has to go to jail ... It's a big machine ... without mercy ... I can't do anything about it ... The skies are silver ... and so are the buildings ... with their merciless machines

21. The orange dragonclaw has twenty Jesuses in a row ... A strange sight, and all for money ... Yes, they finally remember me On the wings of dementia ... These are the mailman's Januari's strange feathers from the bird ... When in August the Pinocchio's speak ... the twentieth has the biggest mouth, the microphone of society spinning the rings tight ... These are strange rockets in the air ... from a mailman's bag ... they arise The alphabet's making strange dive's today ... Deep down in the sand ... It's the dictionary doing business today ... a dragon dictionary making drama's ... in the kettle ... the big kettle of Spain ...

The Banks of History

Silver Cigars

wonder rocket

1. All in line they stand, while hitler has the red stripe around his arm ... They move ... it is a strange band ... The ballerina bends ... By all these tsars falling, I'm breathing ... Is it cold in your worldwar
I ... I can sell vanilla cakes ... some flames behind thick glass ... so that you can dream ...

2. Blue zebra hides the lilyqueen ... she's moving like the octopus ... like fishes in the sky ... it's coming closer now ... on silver cigars ... These are the bones of Pharaos ... taking flight in october skies ... These red stripes around the arms of commanders ... coming to me in my darkest nights ... They had to rise and fall, so that I could move ... I am a toysoldier after all ... nothing but a strange ballerina ... on silver cupboards I dance ... like silver mice I stand ... one hand stretched out to the cake ... while it breaks ... and I can dream ...

3. Vanilla cakes ... flames behind thick glass and iron ... we're dying in the cold ... but the dreams bring us away ... to a place of silver cigars ... We weren't allowed to forget history ... There are the flames in hearts ... From there the secret's running ... In time ... It's all so frozen ... They're still in slow motion ...

4. Like the hitchhiker ... I'm bending my fingers ... to the cars of history ... to the sweeter destiny ... Why am I so angry ... It's a silver key hunting after me ... tearing me down ... These silver lights they come like lightening on my knee ... It lets me bend everything ... There's power to walk ... and let them all talk ...

5. There are silver statues in my mind, while hitler has a white stripe around his arms ... And now it disappears and the picture fades away ... There are wet silver lights in my head ... blinding me ... taking the kings out of me ... to let them fall once again ... deeper into my heart, like silver arrows ... letting me breath ... It's strange ... it's all on moviescreens ... and I'm not a baby anymore ... I'm grown up, every movement it's goal ... I'm aware, I am a robot ... silver cigars are my bones ... It's blinding me ... taking me to other shores ... The paths of history I must go ... like a rocket into the sand ... so that everything will bend ... There's silver water on a plate ... and everything is dying in my hand ... It's like worldwar II ... The spears of Jesus coming through ...

6. I must know their numbers ... Timemachines don't exist ... only stockmachines ... It's clicking like silver chains ... making me move like the iron ballerina ... No one will take me down again, only history will do ... I have silver chocolate on a dish ... these soldiers are so frozen ... but by the strike of silver licorice ... their eyes will fall down ...

Wodka

7. Cannot go, I'm mother's station, cannot go, I'm mother's hide ... Indian books fall down ... warbottles make me swallow ... it's carnival ... nothing hurts anymore ... for history took them all
away ...

8. Cannot go, I'm mother's secret, chains are bending when I speak ... It's like the clicks of silver ... and the tapping shoes of wondermaking ... Cannot go, I'm mother's secret ... cannot go, I'm mother's secret ...

9. Finding the right words to breath ... Wonderland is on ... History made me taller, birds of pharao have nests in my spine ... While I am sinking deeper ... reaching for my legs ... They're so tall, they do not touch the ground ... like the silver horses standing proud I'm all in darkness birds bend their heads ... They do understand ... while songbird saves me from the threat ... still a redbreast from aldebaran, while stockmachines sting merciless to make the deals ... for more silver bones to come through I'm a warmachine ... showing the sides of a coin ... Silver chocolatemilk in a bottle
... streaming through the games of rats ... streaming through the frozen soldiers ... until the licoricesyrop lets them fall ... They all must go to bed ... while in the morning they will be pirates ... on a silver pirateship ... hearts are bending ... hearts are talking about the chip ... Pinocchio's letters from the inside ... These coins from history ... for the aldebaran automatons ancient machinery Now spread your wings, my bird, and fly ... bend your heads ... like silver pictures ...
make them understand ... make them understand ...

10. Why do you want to drown in wodka ... Take whiskey instead ... There are wonderlands on the coins ... and wonderlands on the bills ... bred by stockmachines ... no automatons Fly to make them understand ... It is hitler in wonderland let us all bow our heads and try to escape ...
Where's the mango ... making our heads do the tango ... Where's the spread making us all so mad ...
There's a war of fruits in my head ... There's steamy beer on the cake ... It doesn't want to go to school today ... The paradox caresses his face ... There's steamy wine making flights ... crashing down before the walls of yesterday ... but ancient marks will bring him through ...

11. Silver wonderland where are you going ... Silver rabbits and silver alices ... where's the end of it ... Is it there in hitler's mouth ? Oh, tell me where he had his favors ... Tell me where he lost his dice I must continue through these doors ... not captivating one of them ... There's a silver zebra roaring in the skies ... like a rocket aimed at the banks of history ...

Finally Whiskey

12. I'm escaping through open mouths, having tongues as parachutes ... These feathers are more dangerous than the bird's beak ... That's why I had to sit in jail for so long of my life ... to prepare me to this fight ... I'm just a whiskey-gladiator ... but finally the emperor's son ... With crowns on every finger ... silver crowns ... I don't need the gold ... Crowns of liberty, says the frog ... while I'm still dying in a glass of water ... silver water ... I allowed myself to be neutral while walking the path of history ... for only the paradox was a path for me ... there ... I didn't allow myself to do symmetric predictions again, for the assymetry brought me to the well of history ... and it was full of whiskey ... There's silver water making me drunk ...

13. There are silver dreams before my eyes when I touch one of them, they all fall and fly away ... and I fly after them ... for they want me to know where they came from ... these silver birds

14. There are silver dragons on the shores ... with warbottles in their hands ... full of steamy silver waters ... and lots of whiskey under their commands ... The strike of July brings them to June, where they finally can sleep ... and tune in to another station ... robbing another bank ... While trumpets are very loud and low today ... with silver lights like lightening ... Silver mice are in a row ... preparing the machinery for the next flow ... all these silver cigars are dying ... to wake up into another day ... They have pretty faces ... they have funny speeches ... like the latest cartoons ... Mickey Mouse is waiting for the bus today ... going to Germany and then to Russia ... to do the first worldwar again ... It was just a strange dance in your mother's diary ... Mickey Mouse and his wicked ballerina's ... He just drank too much whiskey ... hitting the hard day ... someone had to break the shell ... and now these animals can run .. knowing there's a new story to tell ... Break the bottles open ... and do the second worldwar again ... These soldiers are all frozen ... When the licorice strikes, they will all fall ... turning into pirates ... with flowers blooming in their hearts ... It's the rythm of silver There's no big escape from this all ... but only by repeating it, it will finally fall ... To bed, that is the only travel ... when daylights fall ... to dream the silver dream ...

15. In autumn the houses are tall ... and then hitler's just a painting ... but it moves, and that is the strangest thing of all ...

16. Hitler's carnival ... marching with twentythousand mice ... What a picture in the snow ... it moves ... it glows and it grows ... tomorrow the flowers will bloom ... and what will we do then ...

17. There's a silver zebra in the sky ... peeing on the banks of history ... ready for the major attack ... a crown of history ... a silver one, that's for sure ... don't need the gold, just drink the whiskey ...
Zebra's in the sky ... the wars come down to Dorothee ... just patients for the doctor of oz ... mates to travel with ... all these wars, our mixed-up hearts ... all the cruelty so overrated ... there's something down there coming through ... it kills for it needs the life taken away from it ... it needs to breathe ... cruelty so overrated ... nothing but a war of fruits ... the baker wants expensive juice ... to have a present when the wizard comes ... these wars just making a chair free for the next one ... they must make the trees pretty ... they are the keys of lion's cages ... and other animals ...

Potatoes, Onions and Oranges

"when it breaths it goes to history to be burnt ... when it's swallowed six times you can translate ... and the seventh time ... you can create ... the secret of a red giant's shoe"

When the purple becomes green

1. Through the purple curtains i always reach the red, escaping the purple is the best you can do when the snow falls, but it always brings you back, until the marbles come, until the marbles fall ... for another round on the fairground until the purple becomes green ... It's switching between liars and truthspeakers ... switchers between June and July ... until april comes to make a detail ... to make them all green in the night ... then your daylight will fall ... for another ride ... into the funpark

....

2. Through arabian seacocoons i'm heading for izu ... there are marbles under my shoes ... all these solar stairways ... these moving stairs ... leading me to belcanov ... that statue on the flowerfields ... keeping them all spinning ... he's an arabian deer, a face too tight ... while glues are streamingthere are siriuses in the air all these cigarlights ... they're spinning the birds of thunder ... to let belcanov breathe ... all these cigarlights from japan when india's on her knees ... these are cigarlights from sweden, from all over the world ... where the siriuses have touched their earths ... to descend underground ... to meet the hidden lions ... they will be free on day three ...

3. and when the marbles are rolling, i'm heading for izu ... staring at all those aldebarans in the night
... it's the red scorpion rising ... there are communistic heroes on tv ... while santa clause is still a little statue on this wasp's delight ...

4. how many stings of a wasp does it take ... to greet marazanta ... he's rising high ... he's heading for the buildings of the poles ... he's on highways to perlottia on rollerskates ... while belcanov is on my side ... still a deermachine he rides letting his wasps descend to history in the delirium of dementia ...

5. black cowboys in arabian deserts ... with black lassos ... catching their prisoners for an author's kitchen ... the book must be ready tomorrow ... tax always the author's pencil ... it roars by democracy ... and then they'll all read it ...

6. businessmen are masters of sleep ... the nose brings you to the future ... where the unknown lives ... the dragons ... under an orange stone of confusion ... we go to sleep ... along purple curtains we travel ... heading for green .. on top of a desert ... sandman was just a good businessman ...

7. sandman is riding a green horse ... eating the purple ... along purple curtains they travel ... with you ... sandman on a green horse ... and i'm waiting for the strike of orange ... under business we all go to sleep until tax comes to give us red dreams ... red dreams .. we're on the radio tonight ... this is how they mix us ... mix us ... all in the kettle ... the purple breaks us and mix us ... in delirium ... on a green horse

8. birthday man is in town ... we were killed but now we come alive ... to be another prison of orange and green cowboys ... they gamble having their delights our daddy is an addicted gambler he's selling us ... on the back of a purple horse ... all these wasps ... bringing us back to where we came from ... but by another road ... we don't recognize ... that we had been here before

9. while belcanov smiles from history ... we are prisoners of izu ... prisoners of an author's kitchen ...bringing us back to the book ... back to the alphabet ... the libraries where we become glue

10. there's glue from arabian coffeehouses ... on top of bagdad city ... deers and horses ... in the roundabout they wave ... they are ... friends ...

11. until a spanish dream kidnaps us ... then arabia is our enemy again ... and a purple deer is mixing us again ... by potatoes, onions and oranges ... until we are pale again .. pale again ...

12. a spanish dream sells the pictures ... one of these deers was a spy ... a blue one that's for sure selling the prisoners to the red where they get all colours they aren't pale anymore they needed fruits for the greengrocer there ... to blow up his balloons the roundabout of deers is spinning ... having their own red ... pale red ... while they are your enemies again ...

13. and this makes the tears fall, all these dragon tears ... while the watermarks make pictures ...
these are wet suits ... plastic wood

14. you have two red eyes ... a pale one and a colourfull one ... it makes you cry ... while the third
one on your head is transparent ... made by tears ... it's growing and making friends forever with the deers ... you're smiling it's the third day ... and you see the fragments of a jellyfish's face
... there's multi-coloured glue ... from the crocodile ... with all these watermarks on it's back ... it makes you tall and thin ... fragile enough to reach for the sun ...

15. where cowboys play, you reach for the shoes ... in california they stand ... in a desert underground ... where all stones gather the black stone makes a wish ... and the coin falls in the black wishingwell ... where abraham still weeps ... for he lost his isaak there why did the goat has to die ?

16. there's a goat on the coin a black one ... king of the desert ... he likes to be killed ... he likes to be a coin ... he reached through the bottom of the pit ... into the depths of tax and transparency and now he grows like a tree from the yellow station he is king he is an ornament ... he is king
...

17. he was saved by echo ... and now he rides him on this black goat he builds wasp-tv by all these tax-lines, waterlines while the santa clause statue, the little one, is standing on this desert house and now it's raining and snowing ... rains of the wasp while coffee is running from the arabian house it was all in arabia spain in arabia the spy was fake ... spies are just smugglers ... spies are just trains ... it's just a black goat in panic and fear ... he has clothes with holes ...

18. there's a goat on the coin, he likes to be swallowed he likes to be eaten by cowboys to reach for the shoes ... where the indian spies ... live just spice from arabia ...

19. how many corners are there on a red eye ... where aldebaran birds are dancing ... the red scorpion rides ... how many faces are there on a spider's coin ... it reaches for an unknown well, while the trains of arabia are roaring ... they are moving underground ... to break through communistic churches while the bands of jazz are playing ... you glide into the night without dress ... to awake naked the next morning but it hides you from the black morning you're now in a strange roundabout ... with purple horses ... shining in the sun they keep you out of the factory ...

20. these horses are blind my dear and they will be deaf at the end of the year ... but they are covered by watermarks waiting to save you ... then you will jump out of black bottles to see their beauty .. and forget about their ugliness inside inside we are ugly ... but our skins are beautiful we are indian spies ... smuggling the banana roads for the coming queens and kings ... we take flight ...

21. in asgard the yellow station we sit waiting to become sweet again ... there are so many bananas ending here becoming straight and blue ... frozen like soldiers touched by the chocolate ... where icecream rolls ... it's baker's glue ... where the orange is a good gun ... and the bananas burn the money ... the ice will rise ... to niflheim ... on ragnarok's day ... it's getting darker here ... where blind children play ... the walls of jericho are rising when the blue strikes seven times, there's icecream for all when bilmageln hits the third gong ... then the dwarves come ... and it's red shoe time ...

22. a silver spoon does the work, in bilmageln's golden hand ... it ticks ... it's dinnertime ... when the black gates are opening ... black glues from licorice ... turning ice in the night it was always your mother's delight by this she got her red eyes red lights in the sky ...

23. when the red dragon is falling, on licorice day ... the red eye is rising ... and the red rose floats to the libraries of the old days ... opening the taps of glue she's a water mark .. a best mark ... doing the dishes with a spoon ... she needs you today for a ride in a tunnel to show you all flowers of daylight in their tight dresses covered by big uniforms ... she takes flight she doesn't let her roses die ... she's hiding her black bottles ... while red cowboys are riding them ... heading for the yellow ... where bakerman takes flight ... touching the seven moons of cockaign ... just a shrieking boys clock ... from arabia to spain ... she had to swallow ... to bring the colours ... alive again ... they were hidden in the hollow ... they were hidden in the pale

24. there are watermarks sitting on bottles ... and at the end of the day ... they float away ... and then the shark's beer is floating ... watch the smile ... these are bakerman's mouths ... watch the smile ... i'm on a dreamboat .. burning my money ... i have now my own coins for a new alphabet it will be burnt at the end of the day ... all these watermarks falling stirring the machines of deer ...

25. these ones are tight ... the noses rise showing us a future too heavy for it's unknown to us ... they don't tell us how it is and we fall asleep ... sliding back to history can we build our towns here ... and forget about our futures ? the noses rise ... spreading their birds of cigarette ... stirring the machines of deers these are strange coins on bottles ... falling in the bottle again to pump the water up high while it's becoming glue from uncle's ... the watermarks take flight ...

26. what if the orange becomes red faroom da bazite ... a red bed ... where all trains of arabia end ... you were a cyclope with a red eye a roundabout ... with so many roundabouts inside ... you were blind ... but now they stang you ... you can see ... and still blind children are playing on the marketsquares of jericho ... having strange noses from strange parties ... like rockets to the moon ... there are fireworks in the bottle ... while blue glue is streaming ... it was sandman with his yellow touch sitting on a green horse and now he gave you purple to bring the boys from lynx alive ... boys from lynx ... spreading their coffees ... to let you wake up in another world ... how many floors are there in this red ball ... it's jakobs ladder ... he's playing the whispering organ ... so slow ... so slow ... while red soup is boiling ... and liars take flight jakob's on a mission, with his three red eyes ... three marbles in a basket of sand ... while a wild esau is rising ... painting the skies in neon ... he's a cyclope ... but he has a million eyes on his back ... that's how he flies all red eyes ... bringing the neon he's a swindler now ... gambling ... while casino's cabman is riding him

... he takes flight ...

27. when it breaths it goes to history to be burnt ... when it's swallowed six times you can translate ... and the seventh time ... you can create ... the secret of a red giant's shoe then the birds of cigarette come free ... enchanted mirrors enchanted ponds to let you have your own shoes ... they bring you to .. the world beyond fairytale ... grapes on a red picnic's day ... turning wine in the night ... on kana's day ... jesus kissed his bride ... veiled it was a monkey ... a flying one on that day when the publics laughed themselves to death the public ... another trick of tax ...

28. on top of the nose ... arabia waves ... it's all there is ... we are just red walking noses ... painted by a black widow these are stories of the big nose spreading fears which don't exist ... this is all there is ... who painted the noses red she's the black widow a major threat hiding her bakerman in a purple box ... where she mixes him along the purple curtains of deliriumhe goes asleep ... while all these bakerman's faces fill the sky in glue and the pictures become darker ... she's making it so black ... where neon is rising and when the black rose falls ... the red dream starts to tell ... you're on tv tonight and she makes it darker for the waterlights are weeping, heading for the broadcastlady of cartoon she wants it softer ... so she has to strike harder first ... she's a two-faced harlot ... bringing them from the purple to the orange in the arms of bilmageln ... where they can sleep

29. but these soft boys become the hard man in the night ... oh yes like white hard candy lying on a dish ... tell me what you can remember ... it was the way you caught a fish ... one day the soft was all eaten away ... and some hard bones were staring at you ... and you swallowed fast all of a sudden

...

30. these are hard men in racecars ... becoming darker when they ride they ride on banana roads to burn their money ... they have two-faced eyes ... and only a black microphone will survive their stares ... you better be wise these days ... they are standing on the coasts of the hague ... where a black viewmaster stands ... breeding the red breeding the hard stories while you are the alphabet these are the red boys from santa clause ... the birds of cigarette ...

31. they rise from wasp tv spreading their wasp rains they are black spots running ... doing the dishes ... until snow white comes home there are red lights in the air ... on a red picnic's day

32. they are the books from the library beyond history ... they are red snowflakes sitting on their high thrones ... to speak their judgements of nonsense to spread their apocalyptic days ... they are the numbers of conscience and history bringing them all back to the vanilla planes the wasps of memory and then you touch a key you never touched before ... cold conscience ... it spreads and you see the golden cigars they can never be burnt ... they can only speak these cigarlights from sirius ... these lights too bright when the orange splinters rise into the darkest night

33. your roundabout boats will rise ... and there will be nothing to swallow anymore ... there where red becomes too hot ... cold conscience ...

34. there where red becomes too dark the lights are rising eternal damnations coming from sirian cigarlighters ... to save you from charity's curse

35. swallow enough to reach the golden cigarlights you have a nose ... and that's all you have ... some have bodies full of noses ... they rule over the world beyond history ... together with a banana queen ... these are the red scorpions ... the starships breeding their eggs of unity by spastic movements they can bend everything they boil their glues in big kettles ... where the watermarks dance ... and when the conscience becomes too cold ... it starts to play the whispering organ and then the tears come ...

these ornaments are so fragile

Poetry Around the Spear of Jesus

Language of Sleep

Security's Armour

1. Mailmen in slow-motion, showing pictures today, of long ago, hiding in the snow ... The flame brought them up, and now this is the answer ... cinema's are running for the show ... Mailmen are bowing ... stretching their hands to something ... I don't know what but it seemed to be from the past ... There's a moonclock in their bags It's still like a strange comicbook, it makes me cry ... I didn't know I had so many tears inside ...

2. Mailmen in slow-motion ... moving their arms ... pictures bending ... These are the banks of motion ... strange alphabets ... of a lion and a dragon ...

3. In slow-motion they stand, spouting the silver juice ... No one can move ... Time has gone to june ... Staying there forever ... without name

4. These letters were just written to cover things up ... These alphabets were just a strange code, a strange hat ... When we speak ... when we speak we speak in codes ... These are the shells, the curtains ... going to sleep covering the dreams It is the language of sleep, hiding the pictures of the dream ... the message between me and you ... These flames are hidden, deep in the ice under purple snow ... behind mailman's dances ... Only you and me, we know the language of sleep ... Like a lion talking to a dragon ... where no one can interfere ...

5. It is like the walls of a temple ... It's like the riddles on the pillars ... hiding the treasures into deep .... Soldiers do the strange dances Liars hide the moons of dragonprinces ... We don't need to understand, in bed we get the picture ... The blankets are warm ... In July we get the cold ... You're talking in your sleep ... The roses don't understand you ... until the dream takes them away ...
Misunderstanding from the lion's tea ... Strange languages between you and me ... Hide it in a tear of water It's the seed of what you're telling me ... in this language of sleep ... These memories are just riddles ... of what happened between you and me ...

6. It's a security-armour It's a language of sleep, in cold slow-motion ... hiding the flame so deep ... A great lockmaker ... He locks and locks ... these are the days of august ... our money doesn't talk The twentieth still the king of lockmakers ... Grasp all the days and let them win ... and go right through the curtains ... to dream the dreams they bring ... It's just a cold cold language but the message is so hot Don't lose your buddy ... but bring his life in the spotlight ...

The Lockwizard

7. Lockwizard is on the run, to catch the daylights in his hat ... These days of the year were given to him ... they are the locks of the king ... Everyday's another Jesus, everyday's another Pinocchio ... another letter from the dragon. These days are to hide ... the kings of the message ... These days are to hide ... the storms that are coming through ... The language of sleep ... it knocks you down ... to make you dream Lockwizard is on the run, the months of the year are guards of the big spear ...
the king's spear ... this spear of jesus ...

8. He was the killer of Jesus ... a murderer, like flames underwater ... a lockmaster he was ... Bring him now out of the water, don't call him saint, he was a roman soldier ... Etnako was his name ... Bury him, and let his name be near to the cross and the sacred flame ... like sacraments of the fall ... his name wasn't worth the call ... But as it always is in legends ... they all become immortal ... they all become eternal ... the villain and the hero ... the murderer and the martyr ...

9. Lockwizard is on the run, to hide the daylight in his hat ... Everyday another esau, everyday another etnako ... in so many colours ... becoming the weeks of the year ... They stand there to protect their mothers ... and their grandfathers ... ancestors in a glass of water ... dried out at the end of the year ... Centuries are bars of the old fences ... hiding the spears of Jesus deep inside ...

Deaf Shop

10. It's a deaf shop in a deaf land ... there deep down in Izu ... where they brought the hearts of spiders ... where they brought her eyes ... where they brought her spoon ... this old lady's mind ... this land is so sleepy ...

11. They used to come to communistic churches. It's losing detail, it's heading to ..the sea of paint again .. He's hating himself, he's caught by a machine ..

12. They used to come to hospitals .. these old black men .. gathering the pains for a democracy .. while they're writing in their books of tax .. .

13. Oh, they used to come to communistic churches .. ripping the hearts out for a new history .. They painted their flags .. while I had to carry the black tile ..

14. and finally you find yourself in that old old shop again, where fruits are bleeding, you hear them whisper ...

15. under unknown fruits .. while grandmother is too far away .. she's living near the old old shop .. of witch's hearts .. of spider's heads .. of old party noses .. deep in amsterdam .. where the deserts are .. the hills and the canals .. where the hotels move away .. cradle of amsterdam .. ten fruits like little lamps .. like little fires ..

16. pope, rise up, pope sit down, you're the puppet on my finger ... pope go to bed, pope, wake up .. and eat your bread .. it will be a long day in history .. in the factory ..

17. these fruits with the soft lights .. with their angers .. no one hears them .. for everyone's deaf there ...

18. It's a deaf shop in a deaf land ... there deep down in Izu ... where they brought the hearts of spiders ... where they brought her eyes ... where they brought her spoon ... this old lady's mind ...
this land is so sleepy ...

Ladybug II

1. the strikes of silver bring us back to the museum beyond history ... where the boys from lynx live
... while wild cats stand on martian hills, they are rising from the desertsicecreams with forestroad snakes ... bringing the bakerman's faces alive ...

2. where the boys from lynx do business ... these coins roll ... they are the balls of strange footballfields ... with strange tall bottles of tears ... where tall whispers walk ... here peacocks horrorshows descend on top of purple roofs ... while lamentation cats gather the prisoners for an author's kitchen ...

3. there are strange arabian roundabouts in the air these peacocks horrorshows ... they're mixing the icecreams ... while forestroad snakes rise ... and purple roundabout horses ... to save their moseses out of black rivers ... they'll be tomorrows actors capitalists with communistic smiles ...

4. where bakerman's faces are cartoons in machines of deers ... they are strange mirrors in castles ...

5. we are mixed in purple roundabouts ... in peacocks horrorshows ... while the wizard hearts beat faster ... and the machines of deer slow down while babies with tall ears ... bear the whispers ... leading us through purple curtains ... the fleeces to the tear of venus ... where bakerman's faces bathe ... they make trips to vanilla .. to have the powders of delirium ... making their hearts vain ...

6. there are purple roundabouts in my head ... spinning bakerman's faces ... on a nosehead with so many eyes ... a ladybug is what it says ... and then the worlds are exploding ... strange ways of an eagle's helmet ... having the face of a ladybug ...

7. these are one day ladybugs ... and when they die ... they take away a piece of your world ... to let you see a peacocks horrorshow .. and then you will me mixed again ... in everything what was left for you ... and there you will find a new world ...

8. red sandman with his suit of flames .. he's so different when the silver strikes ... then he has a suit of bakerman's faces ... a suit of ladybugs ... and then he takes flight ... while bottles of tears are overflowing ... while purple roundabouts are spinning to mix them all ... to let the blue rise ... when purple strikes the blue it's christmas ... then the udders rise ...

9. in udders city where bakertrees rise ... they're having black christmasses and black marriages ... but when the candle is burnt it all ends in a lie ... the liar's flame is all there will be on that day ... until the purple roundabouts come ... to spin new sugar of truth ... these are the patterns of life ... pink blue forestroad ...

10. there are orange liars on a boat eating the suits of green liars ... they're standing tall to spread their tall whispers ... while the bottles of tears are overflowing and then the purple roundabouts come again to black eggs on sunday mornings they're breeding snakes ... they're breeding the udders of a new day ... under cow's conspiracy service with little light

11. it's coming from the handkerchief ... all these strange seeds and tears of delirium ... while they hide in tall whispers and bakerman's faces ... they take flight heading for the footballfields where indian warbooks dance

12. it's rising from the bottles ... while chinese lanterns stare ... and aldebaran birds pick up the bakerman's faces from the battlefields for another ride ... these coins are without any mercy ... for no one had mercy for them ...

13. and red sandmen are descending ... having the stories on their suits ... they laugh in flames they know the operas breeding their boys from lynx ... in soft watermarks while orange sandmen are mocking the shows ... the peackcock's horrorshows come .. to mix them all again ... they are the lights on birthdaycakes tomorrow ... they are the spoons in silver clocks ...

14. and green sandmen they do the dishes ... showing you the lights leading you to the gold ... you're on the back of a golden pirateship .. a strange communistic bird ...

15. the bed is too soft to let you awake, it shows you the other side of the cake ... your pyamas are too hot to keep you out of delirium ... so you take a horse and get tall ears ... a strange smile ... this watch with bakerman's faces ... too sweet to keep you in the black river your moses gives you a silver stare where a fire burns the fires ... where a book swallows the books ... to make your eyes red ... all happening in icecream letting the tears flow deep inside creating bakertrees in purple kettles these ragblankets of delirium are in strange flames now it's too wild to let you sleep ... it's whispering with a million whispers ... inviting you to cartoons ...

16. take a flight on a carpet on a new horse to let the udders grow inside ... these shrieking boys clocks there are udders coming from birthdaytarts ... spouting the marshpane over the hills ... the eels turn pale to bring deeper colours the boys with snakehearts beat the drums ... rabbit udders reaching deep ... for venus tear ... they are the heartplugs when summers freeze ... they bring belgian stories to purple kettles when the silver strikes three times ... there's snake tea for all

17. and these teeth in glue ... like ladders to heaven's spiral gates ... to soft clouds peeing tears to show the jewels of sweet fluffy roses painted on white chocolate ... while elves with golden stares making the pictures dense ...

18. when the chocolate strikes the soldiers are freezing, when it strikes another time they become hard as stone ... silver strikes in the air on a honeymoon ... he has a bunny clock ... a shrieking boys clock they let the boys scream by winter dream glasses ... the charity got too much ... these communistic churches ... now he's breeding his boys from lynx inside the banana striking there ... to let them run faster where all the racecars rise ... on banana tiles they ride on banana railroads and rainbows a good way to burn money wild desertstorms in bakerman's faces wars in an hourglass while dictators strike the silver they will all understand and now they are lords of the dice ... hunted by a thousand tales and the russian face on the door shows so many colours with a peacocks horrorshow on his helmet ...

19. these are peacocks horrorshows mixing them in the purple ... to let pure colours rise and pure coffee while they're finding their own boys of lynx inside ... these hearts are snakes ... it's glue surrounded by teeth but they are just the icycles of a long lost fairytale it's a clock of songs ... wheels of rainbowcars ... breeding the watch of the zebra ... they're marching to vanilla paradise where the snakes sing and the wasps breed the memories ... these monsters of rock ... to make a peacocks horrorshow

Master of Auctions Part IV

Brothers from Rigil Kent

"I gotta get out of this story ... all truths die at the end ... to make room for a bigger truth on the churchpews of rigil kent ..."

1. I have a red eye in my head, a chrystal stone, I am a dog, a slave of Fornax

2. But in the end, I'm a brother of Rigil Kent, you can't defy, that truth becomes a lie

3. There are caravans in the air

4. With kings of Assur, They call me a liar, There's only truth on the churchpews

5. But in the end, I'm a brother of Rigil Kent, you can't defy, that truth becomes a lie

6. I have these watermarks under my butt, the pews had blessed me since I was young, they needed some dogs for their dirty works, There's only truth on the churchpews, I couldn't ignore

7. But in the end, there are brothers of rigil kent, In the end, There's a time, all these things will bend, but now I'm still a thunderslave, having a red eyed delirium in my head ... this cyclope was a present my mother got when she was young ... but in the eyes of my neighbour, I was always a brother of rigil kent ... There's a truth you can't defy, One day I will have that red eye of this cyclope, and then I won't be his doll anymore ... For in the end ... Take my hand, we are brothers of rigil kent, In the end, you can't defy ... the truth had to become a lie, I was a churchpew statue .. telling stories to the children ... thrilling them with games and candy ... all from rigil kent ... I still feel a thunderslave after all these years ... But I live my own life inside ... This red eye is turning into a spiral ... Into a snake to save me ... to bring me back to rigilkent the churchpews are so strange there when you sit on them ... they never let you go they take you away to stories you never imagined to know they show you the movies in your head ... they bring you to bed on flying carpets

8. your birthdaypresents are arabian horses ... and in the end ... you're still a brother of rigil kent ... I was tied to an arrow ... The statue on a gun ... They stole the bullets from my mouth ... and I always got the blame ... She's breeding the arrows for another day in hell ... While my hairs are on fire ... quenching my pain ... enlightening me I'm a brother of rigil kent ... I gotta get out of this story ... all truths die at the end ... to make room for a bigger truth on the churchpews of rigil kent .. There are thunderslaves howling in the air When the caravans ride, to throw their spears

9. They are like waterlines so thin, their baseball teams throw the nets ... white sticks with some red stripes ... they are blind ... In their minds they draw you like they want you to see ... They need to put you down, to keep them between their walls ... But in the end you will be a brother of rigil kent ... They are blind, these caravans ... Like waterlines so thin and tall, they howl through the night ... They shriek they need to scare you ... for they need to keep you between their walls You are a slave of business, prisoner of an auctioneer's clock ... It's another shrieking boys clock ... They use them as wheels under their cars The head of Gepetto they have, these pirates ... to breed their pinocchio's This tree is a strange pirate ship ...

10. A tree of swindlers' auctions ... Cuyornaida Corset ... When the chocolate frog kisses the banana frog, the red rose starts to float to the past ... to the library ... to tell them this is what ever was and will be ... this is all there is ... in a red ball we live ... just walking to the other side ... And when the chocolate frog marries the banana frog, wild fires will flow ... and Gepetto will be set free ... When the chocolate touches the banana, a cherry falls, a red dragon ... and the music starts to play ... and your dreams will begin ... the red dragon will fly that day and fall once again in the basket ... not on the edge this time ... but deep inside ... where the swans spit fire ... where the rose turns into a faery once again he is just an elevator ... he is just a red balloon with zepellins from mars under his feet ... and so many horns on his head ... while the squirtel is screaming ... all chocolate is melting ... deeper and deeper ... to become smaller and smaller back to the world beyond history ... there are seventy jokes behind tall walls ... giving power to machines of deer ... seventy zeppelins from mars ... while an old parrot is hiding another seven behind there are seventy jokes to worship ... seventy jokes to keep your dreams alive ... while a parrot is hiding another seven ... he hides them for ... the banana queen she will always laugh because of this ... when the chocolate is mixed with banana's ... the squirtel will stop screaming ... and the land will smile again ...

11. when the banana ships will sink into the seas of chocolate ... to become fishes again the jokes will reach the hundred ... behind golden fences the joke-statues stand ... they stand like scarecrows between the flowerfields watching the bananas ... with their eyes of birthday ... Oblezea Vitrininium ... they are the statues of cockaign spreading their blankets in the worlds of sleep ... everything's so thin here ... while it feels so thick ... everything's so tall here ... while it feels so short ... here ... on the suns of oz here paintings are on bodies and suits here you can switch between jokes and horrors finding yourself connecting to a new museum ... to a new wilhelm's city ... oz's ... all life ends in the museum ... and a new life starts here ... where the statues dance ... until they reach the temple ... and other old ruins ... the carnivals are blushing red treasures ... when the red dragon is falling ... roaring behind his golden trees while his milkmaids are raising their tridents ... against the rat of liberty

it was all painted on their flags

poem

12. He is the red dragon, He is the red fear, living underground, to die every year

13. He is the red dragon, and then he rises again, to the clouds, of japan, making all these dreams in his kettle, by lies underground he makes the rain ... And his son the orange battle, he is an orange flame, through the nights of fame, he travels horizontal, to the darkness of other realms, and then he bows down ... diving underground ... to watch the lion and his fame ... The eagle helmet makes things small and big, that's how we travel, that's how we move ... by letting a red rose floating to the library beyond history ... all trains ride ... a machine of deer ... in the city of arabia ... where a spanish warrior came to take them away ...

Hill of Misunderstanding

From here there are no mondays, factories still come to my church ... I'm still an old leprechaun ... Still an old windowwiper ... Gathering the widows from the roofs ... I give them a chocolate-swallow ... and some nice good shoes ... to let them dance on the hill of misunderstanding ... to let them become ... a child of the dune ... So many children dance here .. while I am their piper ... I made their heads cold and their hearts hot ... I gave them a good bike ... to fly, dance and sing ... I gave them singing food ... dancing in their stomachs ... I am the leprechaun My head is on their coins, I decide what they eat ... I even decide what they like ... and what they not like ... You cannot dance against it It's a Leprechaun's spell ... But they amuse themselves very well In the land of the Leprechaun They will like it all ... Unless I don't want them to like something In the land of the Leprechaun They won't feel any pain ... Unless I want them to feel some pain ... I am the Leprechaun

indian line 2

1. indian line, smile from brannan .. walking through the fields of life ... while death spreads itself like an undercover horror, thinking it's queen, thinking it's a liar

2. indian line ... smiles from acha ... running inside on esmeralda's hard line ... it breaks there into dots ... oh esmeralda truth will set you free

3. indian line, oh esmeralda ... esmeralda don't walk too fast with your lines breaking into powders ... while white chocolatemilk is rising

4. esmeralda don't lie, esmeralda don't fight against old coffee, let those of dementia have it ...

indian line 3

1. esmeralda, esmeralda, can you hear the echo in a lie, it leads to truth, it leads you back to the garden, lies just riddles from the truth, it's cabman ...
2. indian lie, hard decision, indian line, truth bends down to history ... into red stripes it comes to me ... from sandman's glove it takes flight ...
3. indian lie, truthfull decision, indian lie, truth sets down into history ... for a big picnic ... indian lie, hard decision, indian lie, truth sets all things on fire, until it's back ... it's all upside down ...

indian line 4

oh esmeralda, oh esmeralda, don't lie, your truth must find another way to do the dishes of this king ... don't spoil your lies to the lazy ones ... give them all to me ... and show them to me in the skies ... of indian lines ... break them into powders whatever you wish ... but don't lie to the lazy ones again ...

indian line 5

esmeralda, esmeralda, your voice is like the echo burning in my mind, to give me wings of dementia ... you enchant my childhood's rats they used to bite me ... criminal sets free the books in me ...

indian line 6

1. indian line hard decision indian line truth will find it's history indian line tomorrow's decision indian line these mouths are contracting in my spine when holiday meets destiny on the wings of a banana in golden seas golden chocolate open your doors, show me the indian lines reaching for your shores where truth becomes like whores watching the harems of thirty thousand spaces killing them in brannan like the newborn assassin indian lines ... indian spice hard to keep it secret born to live in a microphone

2. in a microphone a black one spreading so many powders these deserts are burning for tomorrow's newspapers bring them all home

red stripes

There are red stripes between you and I I don't believe them I just eat them so many rumours on the kill so many liars on a zebra's boat so many cowards taking cruel decisions between you and I all these red stripes

red stripes 2

red stripes in harmony, these liars can sing oh what a choir now they only need a machine of deer too many bananas to put inside the flight is over while bakermen unite all these red stripes

red stripes 3

mother in the cake, i'm lying, mother take a break for i can't cook mother do your cruel decisions for there are liars on a spoon ... breaking you and me for a letter's cruel book and then we are in venus again, carrying strange crosses in the deserts i cannot reach you, while you can't reach me as well

red stripes 4

tomorrow and tonight is the same, you need some bakermen on your cake, the night is bright you took that cruel decision tomorrow's like the wild horse, and i am like the centaur spreading all these red stripes, like strange flies in the daylight they are blinding your sight ... binding all these mirrors on a sandman's goodbye ... how can you survive knowing that these deserts are all breathing waiting to swallow you oh bakerman's lie your truth is deep inside i don't have power to discover you i'm all over the place looking for a lost horse to cross this river

red stripes 5

1. tunes high on day five in a spanish night i take flight, to see the red fly, like a racecar, so high,
beating like a wizard's dream
2. so many hearts on the case, it's asking a bit fragile for more light to burn the cowards and the liars
... these strange cigarettes from hell they are red stripes, full of bakermen, like strange fires on the cake, destroying your birthday's party and there won't be a next one ... but you will marry soon in that day in June ... you forgot it was your history ... I wished you had a bit more of dementia then you would see the future no more ... this lie of a black rose still standing on a hill still burning the deserts by a thrill still wanting you to be a candle on her cake

red stripes 5

oh you, reading the book, like it's your destiny you only watch your history there's nothing to lose only to remember just remember it again on the back of a red rose with the wings of dementia ... under bekehelm's helmet ... letters become so small ... to make space for the new king

red stripes 6

ornament of juice parrot of decisions ... waiting in June waiting to have it's own decision and not those of the wars of democracy anymore it's coming from the purple ... a strange battlefield ... making such strange jokes until they're all exploding into purple powders into brannan's glory into higher decisions these powders are dangerous it comes from the purple ... bringing them all to the black hell again nothing but the juice of a dictator wanting to have them all his puppets

red stripes 7

the city is a liar, an orange liar, and you are the spoon

red stripes 8

1. the city is a liar, the city is a spoon, while you are the food and another city wins

2. another trick of democracy

3. the city is a liar, the city is a spoon, feeding you to another city, and then they win, and you are the fool, and then you will gather your fifty armies, waiting to strike back, waiting to make quick decisions waiting to break this bird's neck it's wanting you so much for this game, it wants to raise the purple, it wants to have you in military ... it wants to make a picture of you deciding, while it decides by itself ... it's just a lie it's just to cover the red it was installed by someone else ... having the burning deserts in the pocket

Purple Orange

1. And yellow churches with carbon smiles, they lead the traffic in baker's minds ... to there where the orange liars stand ... burning the sand ... burning deserts ... for the new books ... There's an orange .. a good gun ... a good faroom da bazite ... a tankstation ... for prisoners of dementia ... They have their moonchilds and their rainboys ... on the wings of dementia ... they take flight ... still that strange cuyornaida corset ... They are heading for the bakertrees where they burn the deserts for the new books ... They're heading for oceans of love under bekehelm's helmet ... They are prisoners of liberty ... prisoners of their history ... but there's golden flour streaming from it ... from deep inside it flows ... She has the media behind her, and now everyone believes her, while the democracies roar ... There's a purple orange lying on the floor ... while the yellow streams from it ... it's sour ...

2. There are strange cucumbers in a lawyers suit, dancing around an orange, and strange paprika's they do the dishes ... in this land of dreams ... they sell the houses ... but the rent's too high ... they are dying on their walls, while they build their towers higher ... It takes a lot of money .. to live in someone's head .. only the rich can do it ...

3. These are cucumbers and paprika's taking you higher ... while you're dying on the ceilings, it brings you higher ... The towers are rising ... with your head in the sky ... Oh, there are cucumbers and paprika's in the sky ... telling you to fly ... on the wings of dementia ... They will take everything away ... until only some old toys are left ... There are towers rising from the orange ...

4. Take flight on the wings of dementia ...

The End

A Day at the Fairground III

- 1.Boys from Lynx IV
- 2.Strange Lullabies
- 3.Boys from Lynx V
- 4.My Name is Belcanov

Boys from Lynx IV

songs

1. They have wide smiles, these boys from lynx ... They come from the fairground having clowns in their pockets who wins

2. They have hearts so broken, but so full of fire The wind is on their side

3. Boys from Lynx, a full word spoken, for the first time in your life

Boys from Lynx, you're heart's not broken anymore,

For you have found your wings

4. Boys from Lynx, sweet fairytales, turning into horrors in the night,

But you need these songs, baby,

It brings you through the light

5. They are breaking through the walls,

They have reached your hand,

Breath

canon

6. Boys from Lynx, a sweet fairytale,

Sweet burning, dying, coming to life again,

It was nothing but a story,

And there's a scratch on the picture,

Scratch on the record,

This thing has been eaten by a parrot,

We will never win when we will stay in poetry,

So wait for the morning, that soft morning,

An egg in a sweet soft blanket,

So fragile like your mother's hand

7. Boys from Lynx,

Sweet fairytales bringing you to the bend,

What would you do without it,

You have nowhere to go,

So you need this canon,

You need this show,

We must have some liberty,

We must have a car to go somewhere,

Somewhere in a dream,

Where all the lilies are burning,

Turning, where the witches are crying,

Broken down, not proud anymore,

She offers you the clown

8. She had to lose her card,

She had to lose her mind,

For she stood there too tight,

Like the statue,

Attacking you from behind

9. She had to lose her joker,

She had to lose her staff of poker,

Her rod of misbehaviour,

Where would you be without the canon of the boys from lynx

Strange lullabies

1. listen to me baby i'm peeing in the sky while no one likes my belcanov listen to me baby i'm peeing in wild rivers come and get me make me wild listen to me baby i am harder now not soft anymore like i used to be be my baby and steal my thoughts sell them to the trees sell my babies my bakerman's faces they cry they make me crazy they are too soft if you ask me, their voices so loud, but it's all happening in a whisper ...

2. they come from whispering rivers from loud roses they're lost lullabies ... these lalla birds these children of owls can you sell them to mamma she turns into a wolf at nights can you tell me who you are can you tell a lie can you break my car you did it when i slept you made my lullaby you little criminal you made my lullaby can you tell it i'm a scream can you break it, i'm the queen, when you are sleeping i take your crown ...

3. i am your lullaby, i tell you, father, i made your dreams go by will you make it, will you name it, you can't you're off, i'm a lady's tower, you're screaming, i'm bleeding, i am a bakerman's face, tell me father, i'm a bakerman's face you did it, i'm dreaming, you made me lost my day i'm bleeding, you're leaving, but i feel soft, you gave me feathers, i feel strong, you gave me milk, you're a bakerman's face, yes, tell me father, you're a bakerman's face ...

4. you're dad's cloudship, with all your lalla's ... and your babba's my little little ... you're dreaming, i did it, i'm a bakerman's face, tell me father, i'm a bakerman's face you little liar, you little dreamer, you make me sick to escape my schools and factories they don't exist, for you're a bakerman's face, tell me father, you're a bakerman's face ... what's this ice, you like icecream, you bakerface, my mother, my babba you dream, you cow, you're a bakerman's face, tell me, brother, you're a bakerman's dad's face my brother, my brother, bakerman's face

Boys from Lynx V

1. Baker rise to the Laprakod skies, Baker rise to the Laprakod skies, Baker, rise to the Laprakod skies, baker rise ... Do you see the light in me ... Do you see the moonchild is taking over in me ... Do you see the spell of bakerman, rising in a lie full of fire, a bakerman's desire ... Baker rise to the Laprakod skies, Baker rise to the Laprakod skies, Baker rise to the Laprakod skies, Baker rise ... into Laprakod skies, skies between you and me, I speak order , to the Laprakod skies ... these baker's skies ... full of scary sails .. breaking you and me ... for a deeper revelation of who we are ...

Baker rise to the Laprakod sky ... Baker tell me who you will be, it all is under thunder and sunsets ... until the moonchild rises ... bringing us to Laprakod skies again

2. Bring the bananas into me, let me sail the seas of chocolate, let the red rose be burnt, to touch my history ... bring my toys alive by her ashes ... I love her but she needs the stone ... of this story ... She finally needs to come back also ... on the wings of dementia ... then the trains of deer can drive ...

3. Bring the bananas into me ... let me sail the seas of chocolate, give me the key ... and burn it by vanilla ... by white powder ... white ashes ... still a dream ... of a thousand deaths ... a thousand and one night ...

4. Bring the bananas into me ... these wizard hearts ... these churches ... strange motors ... an aeroplane for gods ... this is how they travel ... through chocolate seas ... wings on fire ... fires of dementia ...

coffee of insurance

5. white coffee poetry, they let the coins fly, they rise on the seventeenth of every month, in Spain, it's the tax unity, picking up the coins called Jesus Christ, while so many have to give, the cigarette is rising in white coffee. these are strange insects spreading the pictures, while clauses and Christs unite, building wasp-TV ... it's strange coffee on the screens, while white boots are talking ... finishing every dream ... the lines of tax unite in one coin, where the Christs are rising and the clauses are spreading them ...

6. it's strange coffee, while mothers take their children by the hand, there are dangerous beaches rising ... they are cutting the coins in orange, while the waterlights take flight ... all these strange clauses, with their strange Christmas trees ... on top a shoemaker and a tailor live ... while red boots has legs like the octopus ... she's the broadcast lady of TV ... it's strange medicine after all ... in the restaurant at the sea ... there are strange auctions in the sky ... while green coffee is streaming ... heading for the purple ... these democracies still roar ... until the orange strikes the blue ... then the teacher will rise from the swimming pool, like Pharaoh he drowns the kids ...

7. it's strange coffee on a summer's dream ... while white boots drinks her own coffee ... there's silver coming from the gold ... strange clocks with many arms ... while insurance is spinning ... it's nothing but a secret auction ... who wins, the man with the golden gun, or he with the biggest money ... all on wasp TV tonight, while strange white coffee is streaming, covering the green, and heading for the pink ... in schools they get drunk, all these children ... while they're getting blue money, so sharp crenated ... strange insects on the money ... it's a mental institute ... these kids don't know the difference between sodom and gomorrah ... there are many funds in the air ... but it's paralyzing them ... pharao is drowning the boys ... until the white strikes the pink ... and then they can work in holidays ... drinking liquor from heavy bottles behind the deserts ...

8. you see, it drinks when you drink, i have sodoms lambs already in my pocket. i used to have them since i was four, when my father let me work in the pink hotels. let me have my own grips. and now i don't drown anymore, but i just drink this stuff from sodom, strange strange coffee, like the mad mill in your head ... they need some birds of insurance to do the deal, rising higher and higher to wake them all up by yellow flashes ... you need to believe in these guys, you need to have their heads on your coins, or your cars will sink deeper. not that it's that important ... just for the ones racing for the bonus ... are you a winner or not ? i was a winner since i was four, when my daddy made a winner of me ... it's a matter of having your birthday in the best cradle ... not everyone is that lucky, but it's just a detail ... it's strange coffee and not everyone is waiting for that.

9. mr. coffee where are you hiding, it's hairy in sodom, and the rivers have dried out, so now the coffee can flow, the black ones and the red ones, while the white one is raising them all, bringing them to the pink ... it makes the candy so soft ... behind the hard walls ... we cannot risk anything ... while from jericho the tears are streaming ... strange comicbooks and balloons ... and gomorrah is still a riddle ...

10. it's a matter of time and flash, these clocks of insurance are ticking on tv ... there are good programs, while the octopus is spinning ... turning into a spider at times ... there's tea making the connection ... we cannot live on coffee alone ... or do you want some juice ... some animals are spitting it ... they are marching to gomorrah ... while some elves pee in the sky ... the candy is streaming ...while the pink is burning it to raise the toys ... strange cars with strange oils ... having their yellow delights ... all in the middle of a greek summer ... it's boring the show ... but it's all coming from gomorrah, where the centaurs unite in a mental institution ... they are drinking yellow coffee while spitting the soap ...

11. and then it's time for uncle peacock for his head on tv ... everybody screaming ... he's raising uncle unicorn ... for the new tv stars ... these all time dogs ... there are birthdays on tv ... while mother rakes the sand ...

12. and still you like to drink white coffee, making your mind so light ... until you get into delirium ... meeting the white dogs of santa clause ... a big family out there ... having snow clause in the pocket, that all time statue ... he only listens but never comes ... he's raising the telephone lines ... he's freezing them all ... until they are so paranoid, social disturbed ... they need to be in pink factories ... raising the toys ...

13. there's a millionaire walking in red coffee... looking for the white but it seems he cannot find his medicine ... his trips to jeruzalem are over ... jeruzalem jeruzalem, god gave your light back ... while archibald returns, with his grail of benchelot au revoir

14. summer clause is raking the fields, while easter clause is sowing ... strange chessboard ... while holiday clause picks his pawns up ... to let them work in pink factories ...

15. strange insurance ... while jesus christs are dying ... they all die ... painting the pictures for tv ... until the tv-star rises ... it's rippling in the coffee white coffee ... covering the green ... there are machines of potatoes in the skies ... waving while the mistress is still sleeping ... until snow clause puts some white coffee into her ears ... it smells like candy ...

16. this white coffee ruined my days ... but now i'm safe in my years ... still a good year ... my days are on the dice ...

17. this white coffee burns holes in the stomachs ... picking some parts out of it ... while tax is covering the pain .. all a secret of a good tv ... uncle unicorn smokes cigarettes while drinking white coffee ... while uncle peacock breaks the masses ... he's a bit more rude if it comes to that ... he's a sword in the eye, rising from a good beak ...

18. it's white coffee you gave me, with all these strange insects in my head .. it's floating higher ... i'm waking up, but to what ?

19. this insurance man has his head on the coin, it's a bakerman's face, an orange one, spitting fire like a gun. and in the night it's only ashes ... spreading the daylights ... uncle unicorn doing the drama, having a multiple personality syndrome, breeding his canaries ... he's a good author having an orange pencil ... he's a white coffee machine ... coming with the butterflies and the ladybugs ... he screams he is a siren ... while uncle peacock is raising him, having swimmingpools under his shoes ... it was a trick of the mailman all these letters ... coming from a strange clock in his bag ... it's done by seventy sunsets on saturday, leading them ... to the pink factories ... to raise the toys ... it was the trick of a good copymachine ...

20. she has a white feather in her hair, doing cruel things to me ... these are just dwarves showing up, in a dwarve's ornament ... rising from the white coffee ... while uncle peacock spins the lines of insurance, all getting thinner, taller and smaller, rising in high materos, while elsefic is sailing ... it's the silver beast eating until it's gold ...

21. they are hiding it behind the deserts ... in a purple bag where liberty roars ... it's the white chocolate house, where strange theologians live they are thieves but it's just strange traffic ...

they bring the chicken back to the golden bakery ... there where the wines are here king midas still breaks the wolf, that sixth wolf of benchelot ...

22. there are pink factories in the golden bakery ... where the birds work ... their beaks are the white roads of insurance ... where the white coffee streams ... and all these letters of the books ... just roads of insurance ... where the white coffee streams ... the beaks of strange birds ... a good way to burn the money ... while new heads are rising on the coins ... they get smaller ... until it's ashes ... and stamps are rising for the mailman's ideas ... he has so many stories ... for his wife talks too much ... it's happening in strange teeth ... they're telling the stories ... while an octopus is spinning on her head ... she's just the broadcastlady ... smoking her pipes of peace ... and strange needles rise on strange dishes ... and strange shoes are rising from the tables behind the sand ... these are the roads of insurance ... leading you to high materos ... where uncle unicorn smokes ...

23. there's so much smoke here, and so much tax ... it's wasp tv rising ... from high materos ... while elsefic is still sailing ... spreading the paprika seeds ... there are letters on the petals ... strange clocks strange fires ... while the red mailman is running and diving ... sandman speaks until they all sleep these roses are dangerous you never know what they do to you ... his mouth is full of soapbubbles, tinkerbells are running and ringing ... these are the bells of christmas ... these letters are strange insects ... strange roads of insurance ... arms of a strange clock ... it's uncle peacock speaking until it's all burnt like pepper ... these are strange powders in strange armrings

24. he's taking the years in his hands ... while elsefic's on fire strange traffic bananas on bananas ... as ladders to holidays in the skies ...

25. he's taking the years in his hands like roses ... to understand what's lying inbetween ... so many chocolate ...

26. roses can be green roses can be blue there's always candy inbetween ... always banana ladders in the sky ...

27. he's a millionaire, he's a baker's spy ... he's a millionaire, where truth becomes a lie just watch the spy he gathers his coins on spanish rivers, gathering coins on pink oceans ... they lie to him but he just smiles

28. he's shy, he's not a good idea ... he hides away in his castles of tears and holidays ... he lives from history ... he lives in his memory on the wings of dementia he takes flight ... he is a millionaire ... but watch his daughter, rising in the night his daughter with all these lights, when the lions have their fights ... in history

29. his toys they came alive a long time ago now they work for him ... but he lives in history ...
safe in his holidays his coins work for him ...
30. his daughter has a brandnew car, but he rides his daughter, she's still his assistant, writing his books ... she lives deep in his deserts
31. and his toys like christmasballs ... they work for him in the restaurants feeding the coins feeding the histories while his daughter writes and writes ...
32. he's a millionaire, a heart of stone, while he spouts the deserts of gold ... in rainbowstreets he lives he's the big most ...
33. he never gives his tears away he only gives them luck, so that he can sleep and live in history
.... in holidays while they can work
34. he's a sick man giving them health for the factory ...
35. he's a millionaire, no one ever agrees, they make him sick, they make him taking his tears away to deeper places inside ... these tears are coins ... he's a moneymaker he cries and then the balls roll ... the years are melting in his hands he makes them like candy ... he makes them like health for his children in the factory ... for his daughter a silver ballerina she needs to dance ...
36. and these years he makes them like chocolate to spread his charity to make them work in pink while it lies to him
37. these pink bananas they burn the money the yellow takes the gold away while the green spreads the powder by black machines he's giving his life away ... he's a saturday clause preparing them for the heavy mondays ...
38. while he preaches on sunday ... with his silver ballerina ... while mooses rides the killerpig his ornaments are pink ... they need to burn the money becoming ashes to take him further away in history
39. how many cars this boy has these pink raincars in the night ... these factories they burn the money ... these pink factories ... strange friends of bicycles ... here they're making the chocolate ...

to bring all his toys back ... he gives them Saturdays to work in Mondays ... time doesn't exist ...
these years are just the walls of his home ...

40. he's weaving his Indian lines ... weaving the pink on which he takes flight ... still a strange trampoline ... and when he falls back he just sinks deeper ... while it's lying to him ... he has a chocolate factory ... making pink chocolate ... he has the years in his hands ... all these kings and queens ... burning the money ...

41. these coins are tears he never spends them ... he only gives luck ... giving his daughters away ...
oh green lady, green ornament, green baby, in ornamental skies, where truths become a lie ...

42. it's baker on a bicycle's friend ... it's baker riding on a friend she's a mystery an ornament, a baby, lying in the skies, peeing in the minds ... of millionaires' pride

43. oh green baby, in ornamental skies, sailing on the mysteries, peeing in the books where makers unite it's peeing in your head like a golden statue ... peeing in your head until you lose all control ... oh sweet baby, sweet ornament sweet baby burning bakerman's skies, burning truth into lies

paranoid men.

44. and I see these paranoid men playing football, while they never hit the ball, only each other, doing such cruel things, to escape someone's world, these elves ... while the icecreams are running ... they don't want to be businessboys again ... now they want to be ... the paranoid men ... the paranoid men escaping someone's world you see ... in Elsefic's desires they take flight ...
these paranoid men.

45. a red shoe in the middle of the blue table it sits and stares it's hanging in the air ... it's hanging in a tree ... and now custard is streaming and tableballerina's are dancing and the dishrecords spin ...

46. These men are paranoid, while I am a leprechaun's table ... a shoe on it, a strange footballfield on a chessboard ... strange world in a coin, in a strange football ... There are paranoid men playing football ... their worlds are frozen ... rising from Lapoendria ... These men are paranoid ... while they are playing football ... they never hit the ball .. only each other ... the icecream's running ... their trees are so frozen ... these paranoid men ... they have piano's on their legs, while they are sailing like speedboats ... rumours in the night.

47. paranoid men, paranoid men, these elves are running, hiding in a red shoe, on a blue table, they are escaping someone's threat, i'm in the middle of it ... watching the potatoe seeds, they run like silver, touching the gold.

48. These rings of icecream, contracting tight, while the boys are shrieking, they take flight ... still a shrieking boys clock, wheels under sandman's cars ... They drive like possessed potatoes, while strange paprika's still do the dishes ... strange wheels under a sandman's table ... rising from the spoon ...

49. Strange speedboats for paranoid men ... They were killing the boat, to have this paper ...

50. They were prisoners of a green dragon for too long, eaten by green spiders ... Now they rise like orange gold from the ashes ... wearing orange chocolate on their backs, having some beaks of parrots along the sides ... these balls smell like purple oranges, while the red is floating, red icecreams full of paprika seeds ...

51. Do you miss your seed, it's orange now, to be sown on the footballfields, where the paranoid men rage ... while the black man still sells them to the machines, they have strange pink tattoos, like glue under their skin, it lets them work in holidays ... in the restaurant at the sea ...

52. There are thin tall snakes in their body contracting, spitting the venom in their bones, it's so uniting ... they're heading for the gold, these golden boys .. these paranoid men ... elves escaping someone's world ...

53. They are the men of holiday clause, while saturday clause rakes the machines ... Now they can work in pink restaurants, selling icecreams to the wasps ... They have waspian smiles so mean

54. Icecream let us escape from the green businessmachine ... They only work in holidays .. these green men ... of green icecream in daylight they escape running through the nights ... these elves these ornament's elves ... suits of liquid powders ... blinding souls on paper ships ... while paprika seeds they do the dishes ... under sandman's cars in deep deserts ... rising from the spoon ...

55. Ornament's letters, escaping cannibal, escaping the mouse of spice ... It was worth it after all ... and now your head is full of icecream ... it's cold but it takes the salt away bringing you to a new day Their mouths are dry these paranoid men ... still playing football, throwing playcards ... but they never hit the ball ... their shoes become so tall, to have teeth for summer ...

56. And these paranoid men ... they have icecream trousers ... becoming so short in the night ... too short, you can't see anything ... only icecream streaming ... it's daylight's new begin ...

57. And these paranoid men, they look like ornament's docter ... like saltkillers in the sea ... it doesn't bite them anymore ... the milk is flowing, they're heading for the icecream ... taste still a bit salt ... but they're winning the game doesn't blow their minds ... while these ornament's they're singing their strange songs of a captain and a millionaire's unite ...

58. Song of the whispering tailor, song of the shoe-side's king, they have them all in their ornament's raging ... doing the big spin .. on sandman's tables they unite ... watching the parrotfeathers and their beaks ... hinging their like teeth under towers ... rising the spoon, heading for daylight ... it was like taming a lion ... on Elsefic's back ...

59. Pinocchio was a baker's kid ... and you you look like me, I'm not your santa clause ... I'm still burning the yellow by blasphemy ... sacrifice these churches to me ... I need them as oil for my motors ... I'm still one hell of a beast ...

60. There are strange shoes coming from orange kettles, while the black man moves the spoon, he's mixing the letters ... while the shoes burn the deserts ... until it's gold ... until the icecreams stream ...

61. Give me enough shoes to head for icecream ... it's running through my veins awakening the marchpane flowers ... in white green chocolate shores ... it's deeper inside ... a pink blue forestroad like working in holidays ... spit the sand, brother, spit the sand ... with paprika seeds deep inside ... i lost your number ... but now it's back ...

62. Give me enough shoes to head for icecream ... and then burn them by a scream, i want to be barefooted by the end of the day, to bathe in icecream ...

63. burn your boots, sweet moes, burn your ornament's cakes ... spoil the baker's cat and his sweet child ... and let us glide deeper, into icecream veins ...

64. The cakes are thin like orange wood, while icecream flows through it, hiding the paprika seeds for a mission ... Speedboats are fast, to be teeth at the end of the day, hanging below the tall towers ...

65. holiday clause sell me icecreams, and take away my pains of this businessdream ... i drowned in business, now my days are gone, let my shoes grow, and burn them at the end of the day ... to reach deeper inside for the naked flowers, the beaks of parrots and their feathers ...

66. the icecream's finally running through my veins, while praying to Elsefic, I'm having these strange bananas inside ... my friends are like me ... i can only remember my name in thick letters ...

67. it's strange drugs after all ... from a strange strange tree ... where the icecreams run ... like paranoid men, playing on a footballfield, never hitting the ball, only each other ... doing such cruel things, to escape someone's world ... these elves ... these children of bakerman. They're coming from the world beyond cockaign, wearing trousers becoming too short in the night ... while you can only see the icecream running ... setting them all free ... by Elsefic's candle ... under Bekehelm's helmet ...

68. And then the cucumber seeds are awakening rising into the streams ... watching the daylight's candles, under Bekehelm's helmet ... They're all surrounded by icecream ... it's the Big Escape ... until the sand is rising, building marchpane city in the middle of the deserts ... while the tinkerbells are ringing ... and the jingle bells ... and still the old black man is mixing in the kettle the orange kettle ... until it strikes the blue forever ...

69. There are snakefighters coming from the streams ... their bows are striped, their arrows are red stripes, it stings ... They are the wasps ... they're on a mission ... planting so many seeds ... in the icecream streams ... while heads are growing, exploding like paprika's spreading their seeds ... while cucumbers take their ornaments ... still ornament's docters ... They have racistic smiles ... but they're just green bananas sifting the gold by silver ...

plain words

70. plain words, we're talking about plain words, the truth comes so close, but it doesn't touch us, we're living in tantalos deep words, we're talking about deep words, in deep minds, we're talking about deep minds we're the line between you and me, bends all the lights, bends all the views, we don't know anything about each other, we live in our own worlds big views, we're talking about big views, where the mind touches the heart, where we can trust again, like we used to do, when we lived in the fantasy, but look at us now brainstorm, talk about brainstorm, the truth we can deny, but it doesn't deny us, look at us now and inside the flower breaths, taking away all our breath, and inside the rainbows hide, taking all our colours away, we're living in a jewel, in tall whispers, no one hears, you are the only one hearing your words, seeing your views, there's no one out there to listen, you have to do it yourself, plain words, talk about plain words, easily denied, but it won't deny us

71. Shivering between yes and no, still yes from the no-zone, there is a yes in every no and a no in every yes, this gives us the access to the land of 2 you better be blind and deaf these days ... when the big 2 roars ... you better sell your nose, and fly ... to the land of feelings, to lose all senses ... to win a transparent road on the dolphin's goodbye ... while the red dragon is an author, and a worker in a library ... he locked you up behind letters ... these dragonbars ... you were a prisoner of an author's kitchen ... a bakertree, an arabian seadragon ... locked up in the land of association ... behind killer-2's ... while vanilla is the displaydoll of the bookshop ... they can never reach her, she's too transparent, but they can sense ... here they breed the giants ... for a yellow strike, to the land of soap ... where the swans spit fire ... they raise the dolls to smash the orange balls to have the cartoons ... give me the flute of vanilla, the dragon's scar, to lead the rats away red dragon, letting the poles meet the poles, the author, still the boss of the arena, the master of war, using others as toys, while yellow journalists are hunting ... for tomorrows stories ... red dragon, lord of dominoes, with his gods of ten ... while waterlights strike the orange balls ... heading for the broadcastlady of cartoon ... it's striking the pink and the blue ... he's the gamemaster ..

72. striking with the silver spoon ... to let them eat the custard ... to give them cold conscience ... to have their own elections ... to have their own black nights ... raising the birds of cigarette ... all these pipes .. for a song of orphans ... to free vanilla he is the red dragon ... a good pawn on the white rabbit's chessboard ... conscience is translation, the withins ...the deeper it goes, the more a cyborg you are when everything starts to shiver, the forestroads rise in the snakelake, when everything starts to switch and vibrate, the panther rises to lock the senses ... then the transparency can rise again, the traumatic vanilla ... whispering words, lullabies, taking it downstairs ... to the cellar of serene ice, the blue ... where uncle one to ten is cutting potatoes ... pale earthfruits are reaching for the traumatic sights ... where everything is transparent ... naked yet so covered ... there are so many nipples on the face of a dragonfly ... so many nipples on a wasp's tv ... spouting the waterlights ... while the guitar is full of nipples ... someone is playing the piano ... like an organ ... while the waterlights are spouting ...

73. it's sour, the nipples are arena's .. these bakerman's faces ... deciding which colours, smells and sounds will be spouted ... so many senses from one tv ... it's still so sour ... there are coming powders from wasp-tv ... the dragonfly is speaking ... he's the newsreporter ... while red boots is the broadcastlady from wasp-tv ... red dragon brings the movies ... while pink boots is the broadcastlady from cartoon ... white boots is for the games ... while green boots brings the education-programs ...

74. echo is proud ... his work is almost done ... he's smoking his cigar while his dad is smiling ... there are so many bakerman's faces on a wasp's tv ... while the dragonfly is soaring ... he's the journalist sent out by the red dragon ... to make prisoners for an author's kitchen .. there are two bakerman's faces on each domino-stone ... echo finished his puzzle ... now we will see how it will work totally ... there's a wasp-tv on top of eagle ship ... it shines in the sun and chases away the threats ... it's a good alarm if it comes to that ...

75. it's birthday, singing his songs of love, dressed in pink and white, with yellow stripes ... coming from the orange ... he has blue bubblegum ... and he's playing the organ but he's deaf a dog is eating his trousers ... while wasp tv is burning ... snakes are coming from the big fruit ... they are the movies living in someone's head .. they eat the trains of arabia and start the machines of deer while they fly to history on wings of dementia ... the bakerman's faces are spinning like coins ... the automatons are working ... to build a bridge over the nightseas ... these are just some musical boxes with ballerina's and toysoldiers dancing on them ... and then the enchanting mirror is rising ... while everything is the same ... the rats are rising ... without name ... the giant is skating, coming from the hollow ... leaving a world behind ... while two lions are fighting ... the air is shivering in ice ... while the nipples rise ... Noah is breeding his bakerman's faces ... some marriages .. to have some arena's, some tennisfields for wasp tv ... He's the broadcastman of soap ... He's Lord of the tennisballs ...

76. and while the tennisballs are moving ... wasp-tv is in full speed ... while a rabbit and a hare play tennis against two wolves They are standing on bakerman's faces ... while the waterlights spout the crocodile glue is streaming ... and the orange brings the land into sleep ... Helicopters are appearing on wasp-tv ... and they sing songs in the shark temple ... lullabies and whispers ... while stinging red nettles grow in the watchers ... and their red eyes are spinning ...

77. When bakermen unite in silver I take flight, to kerses minds ... Now I am a shoe on a table, it's dancing through my mind, like a strange clock, a strange path ... These rippling silver tables ... spinning the custard ... There are seven parrots on a dream ... They are bringing us away to the paradises ... of kerses minds And I believe ... these snakes in their trees ... they're hiding their rippling flavours The custards are streaming there from hairy hanging bags in trees it streams

78. Uncle parrot sits in his hat, he is a daydream believer ... he runs he's like the killing tree ... he's a bakerman's face ... he's a bakerman's liar ... he was a shark but now he rises like a parrot ... he's a bakerman's face ... he's a bakerman's liar ... with all he's killing songs ... he's flying higher ... on the coin of a leprechaun while stepping on stamps it's the killertree he's rising from the table ... he's a tablebird he's a talebird, a uniter ... he's an ornament's dream ... and a glider ... getting whiter ... so pale ... do you believe him or will you fail ? There's a green boot in the middle of a table ... a red table ... while a red shoe in the middle of the blue table it sits and stares it's hanging in the air ... it's hanging in a tree ... and now custard is streaming and tableballerina's are dancing and the dishrecords spin ...

79. These men are paranoid, while I am a leprechaun's table ... a shoe on it, a strange footballfield on a chessboard ... strange world in a coin, in a strange football ... There are paranoid men playing football ... their worlds are frozen ... rising from lapoendria ... These men are paranoid ... while they are playing football ... they never hit the ball .. only each other ... the icecream's running ... their trees are so frozen ... these paranoid men ... they have piano's on their legs, while they are sailing like speedboats ... rumours in the night.

my name is belcanov

1. tranvestites, handicapped, autists, punkers and cannibals ... are these the new communists ? ... or will they be the new capitalists ? ... we will never know .. unless we will take a look at that burning tree in the middle of the desert where we can see the baker's faces ... where we can see ... the ornaments' rain ... where we can jump on that button called 3 back to izu back to the ornament back to the 3d coming of christ while someone downstairs is still raking the christmasfields while my name is still belcanov

2. i found some shoes today at the canal today on the streets today while it was christmas today these were men on dreamboards these were men on statues these were ballerina's on cupboards these were lampsteads on a dolphin's goodbye while there's still a criminal inside while my name is still belcanov these were lampsteads to the moons of z these were lampsteads to a new aldebaran where some guys still sit at high tables playing strange games with strange playcards these were the nephews' friends while the friends of the nieces are still dying while there's something new on the emilis shatau there's a rat in the moon raising purple while someone is raking the christmas fields while i met all these big dolls called judgement's days while i think they are all balloons while my name is still belcanov while i still write between the letters and the lines while i still adore rollerskates while i still visit fairygrounds to watch their rollercoasters and their big beasts and balloons while someone is still raking the fields of the second comings switching the poles watching the game in a safe capsule he has some remote machines he stutters and wears tall boots he's a chicken he's a cowboy while my name is belcanov

3. i found the little golden statue of the banana-queen on the lowest cupboard of neptune she was sitting on a dolphin's goodbye so i take her away to rome for awhile to show her some aslant buildings and aslant paintings while all people walk aslant here i still collect ancient dolls and ballerina's antique statues porcelaine copper tin or metal it doesn't matter to me for my pockets are big and communistic i carry a red scorpion inside and am still a member of the giant's whistlingkettle orchestra while my name is belcanov

4. i have my own forbidden fruits falls and floods i have my own noah's in my pocket and a scissors called moses in three colours i have my own lies and skyscrapers skywars and skypapers with my own sharkteeth it's purple against pink here making the pink so dark while my name is belcanov i still do the dishes for kings and queens gathering the wars they left behind their unwanted journalists cameramen unwanted visitors thieves escapers unwanted windowcleaners fired householders butlers unwanted cocks cats dogs and other pets unwanted divorces weddings and birthdays unwanted judgement days christmas and other mases unwanted second comings and third comings unwanted raptures ascensiondays and easters unwanted crosses and eggs unwanted unmanageable children and horses unwanted cattle unwanted meat and food unwanted candy lurers

stalkers and dishcleaners unwanted crowns suits and ornaments or just their precious possessions
they left by mistake

5. my name is belcanov i have chronical pains but it is all fake i talk to superstars on unworthy tone
i talk dignified to emperors scientists and other famous people i talk to my fingers while i can be angry at them i sometimes rage i sometimes put them in bed or bath i talk to doctors and assistants while i look at their hair and check their pulses and skincolour i surround hearts by hands all my fingers have hats all my nails are painted my name is belcanov the dentist is my best friend he is married to the tooth fairy and they possess the forest of teeth where teeth are like mazes and waterfalls where dwarfkings and giants live where the tallest cupboard on jupiter is called cain while a golden dwarfstatue is standing on it it's sitting on a dolphin's goodbye while the smallest cupboard of virgo has the statue of a tall lady on it the shark's lady shooting the shivers into the universe she's a tvstar of thrillers she's the detective of z she's a z-lady with all the criminals inside she's the statue of a gun a silver statue becoming black and white in the night but she can also be a purple lady a brown lady letting out all the dogs and she still becomes the grey dragon on d-day where all the z's gather there are still d-days in my heart and there are still misunderstood babylons sodoms and gomorrahs there together with fields of reversion days while sekmeth is still my friend this land is built by sharkteeth this land of glue this land of d where all the z's gather this land of glue this land of nonsense when you jump on the button d while you take decision d you will be launched my name is belcanove you will be launced my name is belcanov i stutter a bit to the land of nonsense where the glue is framed by teeth thick glue while the waterlights are having their parties there nuclear parties these waterlights these trafficlighs these discolighs these neonlights all on the billboards leading you to the mission aborted mission aborted error error my name is belcanov error disturbance disconnection i stutter a bit i stutter a bit my name is belcanov game over game over disconnection my name is belcanov my name is belcanov

6. I'm switching between d and z maestro not knowing what to choose major i'm switching flying becoming so tired at the end of this story i will sleep or was this always my bed benmaten is the king of fake the king of z while bilmageln is the king of nonsense the king of d they both call for sandman they work together with him while no one knows who's the boss my name is belcanov i saw a d warrior on a hill it looked like a backwards warrior his face was blue his voice was low in different grades like a millions of sharks were talking to me

7. this is the land of d where all dentists come from where they let their glues stream in frames of teeth here in this land of glue here a house of theologians stand of old men bragging their nonsense and everyone believes them for they have the trousers but when you take a closer look they sit in a wheelchair with a duck-swimmingbelt around them while they have chickenlegs they are chicken they are the pickpocks on the battlefields walking with pointy sacks to gather that what others left behind it's the legendary notorious pickpock family

8. the balconies are full of gluecapsules divided by tall teeth in these capsules they sit the pickpock family it's a big family there are four parts of balconies in this gallery also one part with members from service with little light with their camera's one part of the members from the round table churches and the last part full of the musicians from the giant's whistlingkettle orchestra some sit on the stage playing violins drums trumpets or horns my name is belcanov

9. there are four sides on these coins of d and i throw one coin in the giant jukebox pushing the button of the swan while the gallery is growing bigger and bigger while more stages are rising and on one stage a wave is appearing in a big displaywardrobe where a man stands on a surfboard sliding over the wave it is the swanrider on the ceiling a big 2 appears and i'm now in the land of misunderstanding i watch the surfer while all sorts of strange feelings roll over me in the distance behind the wave i see a new aldebaran where everything is aslant aslant houses aslant people aslant paintings aslant tables aslant kitchens aslant towers and everyone lives in misunderstanding in the big 2 but they are happy like i am my name is belcanov

10. running like a romeo the tragedy is too heavy and there's yellow enough to enter but i still want to be romeo running for the shop is almost closed and then the holiday starts while i have nothing in my bag i am a rose full of trousers but there is nothing in my bag she wants me to look inside where the trousers hang and forget about my bag for it will explode on mondaymorning dragging me to a hill where all factories bloom but when the bag is empty nothing will happen and then i can stay in my holidays to be a child she wants me to be a man for i'm behaving like a woman but there is another one wanting me to be a woman so they are tearing me apart they are tearing me apart and in this i'm losing myself but isn't that finally better they are playing games with me until i lose my head until i can feel my trousers again all these conspiracies

11. she's standing screaming on a hill while her girlfriend screams from another hill trying to confuse my soul poor me

12. guess what they want my marbles they share them with each other they want my icecream while forbidding me to eat it oh well i will leave them both i will not be family of them anymore they can forget about me they can sit on someone elses knee i will bend it once again and jump like sandman jumps i'm still the frog you know i still know where to find my golden balls there is something loud running on this cold day daddy's trains are getting me now you can throw your dice alone

13. scratch the parrot follow the mailmouse i will have my poetry pictures in the night while grandmother shows me her diaries she never liked you twin of gossip of voices too soft dance in daylight follow your cars i will have my poetry pictures glued on my face then you can say i'm a strange elf then you can say i'm a strange juliet then you can say i'm just a dot in the night where all dolls fall from then you can say i'm a heaven without a ceiling then you can say i'm the heaven from above an upper heaven without policemen you can say what you like but there are frogs in my ears already telling me other tales and i will be someone elses robot not yours anymore i never was i just played with you to let you think what i didn't think you were always my rubbishbin

14.oh romeo and juiliet play sisters while you are brothers play lovers while you are twins use others as your mirrors play enemies while you are friends oh grandmothers of confusion i will bend it once again and jump like sandman jumps i'm still the frog you know i still know where to find my golden balls there is something loud running on this cold day daddy's trains are getting me now you can throw your dice alone for besides me there was nothing you attacked everything and now there's nothing left for you anymore oh romeo and juiliet you let me think i loved you you let me think you were family but i hated you and you were just the tragedy on my birthday you let me think you were my teacher you let me think you were my lover but you were nothing you let me think you were the beach of my land but you were dust on the table

15.now i have a black dragon inside escalators running high girls on rollerskates black girls shutting my mouth and mind like sekmeth always did she is now the rose on my head and i walk like the licorice now fainting when i see a bird and rising one moment before i saw it i now confuse history with future like a dementia man that chronical man now my name is belcanov

South-Samin Version

Papyrus of Izu

The Insectian Book of the Dead

Udiapsa – Chapter 1-4

Puchalini - Boys from Lynx II - The Land Beyond Cockaigne

1. enchanted bananas /2. tight embrace /3. where love ends - golden pirate ship /4. snares of stereo

Tupuchette - Poetry from the Latin Buffoon Puppet II

1. queen of hearts - liberation /2. picnic papers - so far /3. July's End - checked snake spoons - watch him closely - golden zebra

Pakamos –Chapter 1-2

Fluvulua - Poetry from the Latin Buffoon Puppet III

1. truth called belcanov - ballerinas dancing /2. Kerses minds /3. Sonder Sun/ 4. chessboard's shoeshops

Kwebbe - Boys from Lynx III

1. waving flags - Dwarve's Rain /2. black coffin - billiards day - curse of business /3. Antartica /4. vanilla days /5. graves of matadok - Eric Zwarzenei /6. ladybugs /7. bananas chessboard

Kuzaponia - Boys from Lynx IV - Creatures from Paradox

1. Prince of Comics /2.banana hearts /3. the journey - Dangerous Tiles - Truants /4. golden picnic /5. Eminius Day /6. nightmares of truth

Deabebbe Sapur – Chapter 1-13

Kwibbibs – Chapter 1-16

Kjebbih Sapur – Chapter 1-7

Udiapsa

1. 1. Ova, sons of all sons, grandfather of all grandfathers, oh prince of the oaks, ruling over the heights of materos. 2. You are the sun leading us to the city of balloons, where our hearts can rise to breath again. 3. Oh, Ova, with your golden smile. Bow down over the heads of Venus. Lead us through the deathrealms of dwarves. You know all their books. Let us come together, so that we can worship you, oh father of all fathers. 4. Lead us all to Izu. Teach us about the seven smiles of death, let the Okus monsters open the lungs. Oh, that they might store the balloons of lungs in the livers.

Let the balloons of the livers rise to open the lungs, to fill the lungs, and to open the hearts. 5. Oh, let Osiris ride the seven smiles of the dead. Let him teach us how to remove letters from stones of graves and sacrophagos. Lead us to the thrones of ashes, where we can smile with the smiles of death, to see the griffon rise, him with the golden smile. 6. Oh open Salom, the hearts of the lungs, to spread the wings into tiger's ripples, in balloon skies. 7. Opening of the Widow Spider, the third heart. Osiris, son of Ova, you know the widow spider lying dormant between the two hearts of the octopus, as the third heart, the golden heart, where the golden nipple rises [Oh, Emelis Shatau]. 8. Greet Marazanta, our son of hearts, our father of thruths. Let him raise the green lights. Bring our ancient ornaments back into the spine. 9. Those ornaments we got from our ancestors, while Lords of evil took them away. Bring us away from all evil, and show us the righteous paths. 10. Oh, Egypt, let it be Egypt in Izu. Sweet Belcanov, statue of ancient days, our watcher, speak these words to the hills. Let that which is proud fall, and let that which is humble rise. 11. Teach us about the seven moons. Amen. Oh, holy Amen, son of Egypt, father of Lakus, raise the orange balloons and the checked balloons. Teach us how to contract hearts to do your will, oh almighty Cricket, lying on the heart of Osiris. 12. Oh, you, with the seven arms, come forward, raise us again into the house of Thoth. 13. Let us not be burnt, when we stand for the throne of Almighty Osiris, when his red eyes are searching our hearts. 14. Let the soulbird rise, let our souls grasp the lights of ancient times before their times, to honour the ancient souls beneath the souls. 15. Let us not complain and standing still in the realms of the dead, but let us descent into the bottom of the pit, where we can find the coin of Mary of Magdalen and her holy Sarsia Soul. 16. Let the Sarsia Soul lead us back to the Barbarian times, to free the birds of paradise. let their souls guide us for the rest of our days. Amen. 17. Papyrus of Ra-Izu. When you come into the holy temple of Amon, touch the blue gold on his head, all you who are dead in these pastures in front of his house. Let the sheep guide you there. 18. His holy books will guide you. Amen. Let Atu, the god of goats be mercifull over you, who passes over the rivers of the dead. 19. Drink from it's waters to be connected to ancient souls. You will feel a spirit in your heart. It is the bird of Ra-Izu. Thoth will seal your foreheads by his holy waters. 20. We will take care of your soul, that the smoke will not lead you astray. 21. We will give you the eyes you deserve, when you haven't abuse your eyes to mock the spirits of the dead. 22. There will come seven Judgements on the eye, led by the sword of Thoth. Blessed those who will survive.

2. 1. Seven Judgements on the Eye by the Sword of Thoth. First Judgement : You will say these words. I baptize my eye in the holy waters burning with fire, to see if I have mocked the spirits of the dead. 2. If so, I will bear their pains in my own eyes, until I am clean by their judgements. I will receive the sword of the widow spider in my eye as a purifying. 3. It will pierce me until I am blind to sinfull deeds. It will pull my eyes out if it would lead me astray. 4. Lead me on the right paths by the eye of Thoth. 5. In him we can see in righteousness. I am gratefull to your judgements, bringing me into the lightchamber of Thoth, to watch the ornaments of the seven coffins of his candlestick. Second Judgement : In doubts we cannot see you. 6. Wash us. Let softness grow in our eyes, to give faith to our brothers and sisters, love to the older ones and the younger ones, as our mirrors, the arms of our hearts. 7. Let us not break one of these arms off, for then the lights of our eyes will fall away. Then I must eat the darkness, and slide through the dust. Amen. 8. Let this softness test us. This Eye of Ra-Izu. It will eat me away. It will eat my eye away, if I would sin in your holy presence. 9. Make me holy. Make my footsteps sacred, knowing that I am on sacred ground. Show me all the pillars of Ra's house, and show me his scribe, Ra-Izu. Let Izu lead me to the falls, to decide, which way I will go. 10. Let me see the eyes of death, to adopt the ancient souls of the sacred ant and gnat. Third Judgement : Let Ra-Anu come forward, to lay the sword on our eyes. 11. May it be sealed by attention. May it be usefull, and not a power to judge. The heart is a power to judge, while only the heart-eye of Thoth can rise to judge. 12. In him all the judges get their eyes. Let him who is not connected to Thoth be thrown out into the deepest oceans and darkest places, until he finds the eye of Thoth to do well. 13. The eye must be sifted like gold, seventy times seven, until it reaches the eighth day. On the eighth day the judges stand, allowed to judge. 14. Lead our eyes into the eighth day, to judge or be judged. Let Ra decide, and weigh our eyes, to see if it's worthy for a sword pierced through it. Fourth Judgement : Let Sarsia, the goddess of ages see if the eye is connected to the ancestors of wood. 15. If there is mock to an older one, let the sword pierce it, until it's clean. If there is mock to a younger one, let the eye be burnt and give the ashes to the birds of heaven. [and to the wild animals of the earth.] Holy is Sarsia. 16. If you judge someone by clothes, cursed are you, for you will be naked, and your eyes will be eaten by crocodiles of the fourth death. Your soul will rot in your body, and will drag you into the rivers of dirt, where you will be rejected and scorned until you can only live by your tears. 17. If you judge someone by occupation, cursed are you. If you judge someone by race, cursed are you. Your eye will rot in your body, until you have worshipped the ancient gods of the one you scorned. 18. If you do this scorning with someone else to strengthen your back, you are cursed twice. Then it's better for you to get a hook in your eye to hang for seven days in the realms of the dead, where the birds of prey eat from your meat. Fifth Judgement : By the feather of the goddess Maat. 19. She is the ruler of the heavens, and will watch you. She will give praise to the eyes of self-judgement and the eyes who care for nature and animals. 20. If you scorn a weak one, you will be weaker. If you scorn a sick one, your health becomes of that person. If you scorn someone because of someones parents, cursed are you, for you will be an orphan. Maat cares for the soft of heart, the tender ones, and those of a holy rage. 21. Sixth Judgement : If you write scorn down on paper, you are cursed triple. You will not only lose your eye when you will appear for Osiris-Ra, but you will also lose your hand, and it will fall in the rivers of the dead, where the crocodiles of sekmeth eat it. Seventh Judgement : Blessed are those who can come through the Judgement on the Eye without falling, whose backs are straight, led by the blue light. 22. Blessed are those whose griffin souls are caring for the weak and the sick, to see their health and strength. 23. Blessed are those who travelled the seas of weakness and sickness to find the truths and treasures of the chambers of Thoth's house. Blessed are those who wrote with the hands of Thoth, while the Benu-bird was sitting on their shoulders, and the seven holy parrots of Ra. Amen. 24. Their balloons will reach the eternal cities, where God will wipe away all their tears. 25. There where they can drink from the golden wells of life, and from the golden eyes. There they will see the golden hand of Thoth. Amen-Ra-Amen. Blessed are those who let their souls be cleansed by the fire. 26. The Varia-Bird will guide you to show you the threads between the threads. Amen-Thoth-Amen : Visitors of Amenti, those who glide through the last hall ... to watch the portals of Materos ... the halls of the dead of dwarves. 27. Blessed are those who glide in, to travel along and over the rivers with the orange balls ... Blessed are those who watched the graves of dwarves ... blessed are those with an eye to the small things ... cursed are those who deny the small things, for they will be blown away when Materos sucks the holy ones inside ... Amen-Thoth-Amen

3. 1. The Seven Halls of Materos. You watched the dwarves the golden stares. Now reconnect to the souls of your gnome-souls and their ancestors. First Hall, Talgamen. Prayer to find the lost ships. I come to you, Talgamen, gnomestatue, almighty leprechaun of the ancient coins. 2. I come to you, Talgamen-Thoth, holy scribe of Izu and the first hall of Materos. 3. Write my names in your books, and give me from your divine food, when I will pass over these bridges, when I sail over these seas ... Do not let my ships sink, oh holy Ra-Talgamen, do not let me being eaten by sharks, but raise me high, in your balloons, to be in High Talgamen, I take flight. 4. Grant me with the food of your griffons. Do not lead me astray. Have mercy on me, I am a humble soldier. Only living to save your animals, as they save me. As you glide into my soul, look for my lost ships, and bring them into my heart again, in my liver, lungs and organs. Let me take flight again to the cities of eternity. 5. Talgamen-Amen. Don't let me fall from high rocks, when I enter your mysteries. Let your warmths guide me, and comfort me, and let your birds do not take me away to burn me. Let me write on your jewels, my love to you. Let me be your scribe, in the name of Thoth-Amen. 6. Second Hall, Lokogamen. Is this the road to Belcanov, oh Almighty Lokogamen. I bow down in praise, without letting my lips flow. 7. For it is righteousness you want to see. Let my words not be empty, but filled by deeds. Let my words flow, filled by fire, as balloons into your skies. Let me see your cloudships and eagleships, and the birds working there. Do your birds sit high ? 8. I come for your almighty thrones, to watch your graves and coffins, to bring sacrifices to your urns, as words to the ancestors, let them be echoes warming them, until they are back. 9. Let them rise from the deepest oceans, all these souls lost, worthy to be connected to us, as part of the ornament. Oh, holy one, of golden beards. Give your servants their beards back to pierce deeper into the halls of Amenti and the halls of Materos. I am yours. 10. Third Hall, Belcanov. Where the holy statues stand. Where our minds can be dense again, to reach for the cold conscience, to live for the poor. 11. To share all the riches, also to the realms of death. Let me glide deeper, and protect me against the flames of Osiris Throne. 12. Let the snakes awake in me, to do the final decisions. Belcanov, let my soul glide, into your soul, where the warmth shivers. 13. Let me take those who are afraid deep into my heart. For you are close to the depressed and those who fear God, having a green heart pumping inside. 14. Belcanov, bless your scribe Anu, and your warrior Thoth-Izu. Let the seven spirits of Osiris watch over my soul, giving me a new spirit. Fourth Hall, Elsefic. Hymn to Elsefic. Glory to Elsefic, who gave us soft food. Waters coming from the rocks, while you had the rod of the seven suns. 15. Baals were your friends, the donkeys. You guided them safely through your streets, giving them vanilla to raise higher and fly on butterfly wings. You gave ornaments on their hearts. You crashed their orange balls to bring them higher. You led your children by a striped rod. Your horns spoke thunder on high hills, where your phoenixes took flight. 16. Osiris-Elsefic, praise to you, my Lord. Hide me in your seven judgements, when you are pouring out your bowls of wrath. Give me thunder to rage with you, and let my heart not be weak. Don't let me be a coward when you need me to speak. Amen-Ra-Amen. Elsefic, watch the ornaments, and weigh them before your thrones. 17. Let your lamps guide me inside, to touch the deeper darknesses, where you hide. Let me be where you are, oh Elsefic-Osiris, and show me the seven Ra's of your spirit, your paths to the suns. Watch my moons, and weigh them before your thrones, and speak sacred words to test them. Let no unworthy food poison me in the abbyesses of your streets. 18. Let my paths be holy to eat from your checked divine food. Fifth Hall, Amenti-Ra. Drink me and weigh me, measure me in your deepest caves, to give me access to fruitfull grounds below the pits. Destroy my mirror, and give me yours. Amenti-Ra, seal my hearts, also the hearts of my liver, to store the treasures you gave me. 19. I cherish them, all these hearts, and the divine vegetables. Let your Elsefic rise on the sixth day, to watch the balloons of ancient days. Let me steal the forgotten days out of the halls of evil lords. Let me be an exorcist and a sacred thief, to bring your treasures and souls back to your temples. There, where the tigers roar. Amen-Talgamen-Amen. You are the holy Amen of the sixth soul of Amen-Ra and Talgamen-Benu. 20. Your birds will let your spirits sour. The Ka's of your Ra will guide you by wet visions. While the dreams of the Ba will lead you through the night. You watch the golden suns. We are sacred pirates, in this hall of Amenti-Ra. Show me the ripples of your tigers, the juices of your sacred drinks. Show me how to use them holy, guided by divine steps. Oh, halls of Amenti-Ra, in the Fifth Hall of Materos, rise high. Show the worthy books in the deepest of the night. Let us glide into the drinks between the drinks. Bring the holy snakes from the livers to the lungs, restore the fleeces of the heart, united, to speak words of unity, as a sword to transform the darkness. 21. Bring me the swords of Osiris-Shesmu, and that of Osiris Sebqa, for the mouth of the crocodile is wide open. Build my boats to come over the dangerous seas of Sonder Sun. Sixth Hall, Sonder Sun. She's the queen of my heart. She's the lady of the altars, rising high in Izu. Balloons are bending, while her wet stripes take place. 22. We worship you, Lady of the Sonder Sun. Not in vain words, but in deeds and righteousness. It is filled by a rage, raging until you are home. We are your servants in this sixth hall of Materos, after Amenti. You are Materos-Amenti-Ra, mirroring in the sky. You are the rippling tiger, tightening the threads between the threads. 23. Seventh Hall, Eminius Fire. You are the heart of Amenti and Ra, the heart of Sonder, where the octopus dwells. You have sent your unicorn to awaken us into this day. Take us to the golden fleeces, to drink from the divine tea. Let our minds melt away, if cold consciousness is your desire. Bring us to life and death, rippling as the forbidden fruit. Be our Adam and our Eve, our serpent and our God. Raise the halls of Amenti. 24. Prepare us for the travellings over the seas and rivers of fire, to meet the dragons of your heart, the octopus of your desire. Don't quench our ofions [octopus-sharks], but purify them like gold. Amenti-Thoth, open your chambers to us, in Eminius Fire. Show us the baskets of your snakes, the checked ones and the powdered ones, and all those in fire. 25. Give us the key to open thunder-fire, the Eminius-Shesmu. Serve your Lord, Eminius-Ra, who lives in the sun. Give him from the divine food ; Watch his ornaments when they die. Come with his urns to the flames of Osiris, to test your eyes and hearts, on the hands. Stand on his footprints, and watch yourself die to come alive again on the third and the fifth day. 26. Watch Eminius Horus, to please his publics, the divine audience. In this you can pass the test to get the holy Amenti-Ra-Eminius suite. The checked orange suit to contact the divine Eminius Lions and Wild Cats of Ancient Days. Amen-Talgamen-Amen.

4. 1. Ritual and Sacrements to close the door of Eminius-Amenti behind you. Lords of Amenti unite. Let me be the salt on the ground, so that no one can steal this divine fire of Amenti-Toth. It burns once and then it leaves forever, until you leave forever with it. Oh, holy Lord and Doorkeeper of Amenti's Rod. Save your son, Lucifer, from the wrath of the ancient Hebrew-Babylonian fallen one who didn't want to pierce the Halls of Amenti and Materos. 2. Burn him in Eminius Fire. Divine Amenti Lions of Amenti-Lucifer, you are free. Do not sin. Your hearts will be purified by the pure flames and the sulphur of EMINIUS-SARSIA and her heartsoul AMENTI-SARSIA. 3. Ra-Amenti will stand behind you. Eminius-Lucifer, you are free now, you and your lions. Do not sin. Your hearts will be purified by the pure flames and sulphur of Marion-Eminius Swords. Eminius, be closed. The sword and altar of Eminius is now in the hands of EMINIUS-SEKMETH. Ritual and Prayer to not to be eaten by the crocodiles of Eminius-Luca. Raise me father, make my heart pure, let your sacred crickets cover my eyes. 4. Let me not judge the dead, let them not judge me. Bring me out of this dark passage and lead me into your circle, where I can eat from the solar dishes. Give me a helmet brought by your eagles to have a light in this deep darkness. Let me trust on cycles and circles, and also the symbols of your panthers in the temple of eight. 5. Let me escape into a new week. The week of your golden breads. Let me have my own altars, to sacrifice myself instead of others. When I stand before the altars of your golden breads, then cover my eyes by your bristal brivals, to have your golden neon lights. Lead me into your chambers, oh father, to see the coffins beneath the coffins, to touch your holy butterflies. 6. Make me drunk, lead the boat over your river, and bind the heads of crocodiles. Let them not eat my feet. Cover these by butterflies. Let them not eat my legs. Cover them by the shields of turtles. Let the heart-eaters not eat my heart, but let the benu-bird, your benu-bird, lead me inside your caves. Make me thin enough to enter. Let me discover the lines between the lines .. To make them bend into solar lights. Show me the halls of the elves of dead. 7. Draw these circles on the walls. Aton-Amen-Aton. Let me in, dead man, let me in, to let me watch your graves. Lead me to your coffins, to see the ornament of death. Let me drink from your urns, to touch the holy water. Streaming from death, in your chambers I desire to be. Let Belcanov-Aton lead me inside, guiding me by the red light. 8. I don't want to stop here, for crocodiles are behind me, wanting to eat my soul. I see your house as a doorway, to the house of the elves coffins. Oh, orange men, oh black men, oh hard men, guards of the elves graves, make me hard enough to enter, soft enough to walk through walls. Let me follow your waterlights, to be one of them ... 9. I will worship the lines between the lines, and also those beneath and beyond, to become one of them, always thinner. I will be thinner man, oh harder man. Let me enter. 10. You cannot enter. Why not ? You need to return to Belcanov first, to reach for his sixty-six coffins. Then you will be hard enough to be a harder man. 11. I am now a harder man, can I enter ? 12. No, you cannot enter. The publics and the audiences don't accept you. You first need to be a softer man, when you have returned to Elsefic. You must first dive into his sixty-six coffins, seventy-seven graves and eighty-eight cities. 13. 66,77,88 Can I enter now ? Yes, you can, for you are a thinner, softer and harder man. Hymns of Ova. Osiris-Ra, I knight you in the order of Varia-Birds, the souls of Izu-Indians. Praise will be to Osiris, throning in the Halls of Amenti. Praise will be to Thoth, whose house is built on the deathpillars of elves. 14. Osiris-Ra, the Dark and Black Elves will be sent forth from your chest. Oh, Osiris-Ra, don't fear when you walk through the temples of materos. They will initiate you deeper. Let their stings guide you. Osiris-Ra, son of Ova, god of oaks. We bring in you the Atu, the god of goats. Guide them over the hills into eternal bliss. 15. You have the rod for it. Osiris-Ra, you will have the following illuminations and enlightenments, while you are following the paths of sacred ancestors. 16. You will adopt their gods. You will come beyond good and evil. You will come beyond winning and losing. 17. When you have created a faith for the first time, it will strengle you. And the enemy of that faith will save you. Then you will create a second faith, which will strengle you, and again the enemy of that faith will save you. 18. Then you will create a third faith and the same will happen, which lets you rise beyond good and evil. There you will find the pillar of the purple gnat, a most important pillar of the house of Thoth. The House of Thoth built on seven pillars, the Halls of Dead Elves, Avani. 19. Welcome to the Halls of Avani, the underworld of Elves, where the elf gods of the dead dwell to judge all the dead. Be in fear if you have sinned, for they don't have mercy. They pierce hearts, lungs and organs. There is no grace, only purifying rituals. There is no forgiving, only self-sacrifice until the price is paid. 20. You must work and change in their coccoons, or you will be damned to destruction in fire-sulphur-salt-acid. In the Halls of Dead, speaks the Upper Ova of Life and Death, the Sovereign Prince of Judgement and Damnation in Khert-Neter, you can be illuminated as Osiris-Ra to see the misleadings of gods and upperbeings, and the lower beings with their spirits. 21. You can dwell in domination if you will make the journey through Avani. Only then you will be set free from these misleadings. The rest will sink and drown. Prayer and Ritual to not be drowned in the waters of Avani. Dangerous sirens live in the waters of Avani, drowning men and women, children and animals. Fight against sexual desires in these areas. 22. Do not satisfy yourself by luxury. Do not eat too much fruits. And if you decide to eat fruits, mix them with potatoes and onions. Do not wear socks in your shoes. Do not cut your beard too often, and woman, do not shave. Women, reach for the waters of Sheri, your guard in the waters of Avani. Invoke her by candlelight. 23. Speak her name into the flame. Wear torn clothes and cover your head. Speak these words : Qebh, celestial waters, let me drink from you, and shine your four lights in my Ka [spirit]. Qebh, celestial waters, bring me to Khert-Neter in Ra-Izu, into his lungs, where I can receive the golden heart, the golden nipple [On the Emelis Shatau]. I bow to Ra and his Bennu-Bird, his heart-soul. Plant in me the streets and skies of Khert-Neter [the balloons], where my Akh can rise [illuminated heart-soul]. 24. Qebh, celestial waters, lock golden doors behind me, and destroy my enemies, the sirens. Amen-Ra-Thoth-Amen. Qebh, you have the golden keys. Prayers, sacraments, hymns and rituals to become a citizen in Khert-Neter. Oh, city of the dead, take me in, give me a house and divine food. Bring the four fires to my Ka, and let me dwell in my Akh. Osiris-Izu, lead me to your islands, to show me the pillars of Thothis House. 25. Give me the twin-Akh, and the twinlion-heartsouls. I am Horus-Ra, I do no sin. I haven't scorned the gods of my town. I speak righteous words. I haven't sinned with my mouth, I am Horus-Ra. Give me a double heart-soul in my liver, as I enter the Anu-house of Khert-Neter, where the Aged Gods live [and the Aged One]. 26. Give me the twin-tiger-heartsouls, and open my mouth in Khert-Neter. Allow me to speak and to be silent, to whisper and to speak loud. Amen. Allow me to move myself. Allow me to breath. By the Lake of Flowers, give me access to Sekhet-Hetepu [Fields of Peace] and the Sekhet-Aanru, to reach the Minewood behind it, where the Aged Children Dwell, and the House of Thoth. 27. Qebh, let me drink from the celestial waters there, floating from the divine food. Bring me to Khert-Neter in the Ra-Food, and to Khert-Neter in the Minewood. Lock golden doors behind me, oh golden Qebh, and give me the twin-crocodile heartsouls, from where the Benu-birds can rise. Give me the million-armed heartsoul in my golden heart, and give me the million-hearted sun in my scarabee [beetleformed heartshield]. Amen, give me access to Elsefic-Khert-Neter. 28. First Hall of Avani : Prometheus-Amy. Second Hall of Avani : Prometheus-Emily. Third Hall of Avani : Pillar of the Purple Gnat. Fourth Hall of Avani : The Egg of Kenken-Ur [guarded by Eric Zwarzenei]. Fifth Hall of Avani : The Egg of the Tiger. Sixth Hall of Avani : Eminius-Marazanta. Seventh Hall of Avani : Eminius-Amen. 29. Halls of Khelb. The elves of Ra holding the staff of Ptah, to measure the heart. If it's not thin enough the heart will be eaten by Ammut-Ra, for then it has sinned against the gods of Izu and Ra-Annas. If it's thin enough it will be struck seven times by the thin strikes to prepare it to enter the halls of Khelb. Here the birds of the brown nipple live to bind the hearts by charity, to raise them into the warmachines again. 30. On these battlefields of the dead the hearts will become thinner and thinner to escape from war into war, until they receive the golden nipple of fire [On the Emelis Shatau]. Hail Ova, son of the birch and the holly, for his icecreams set them free. They can move again, and talk again. They are now sons of Ova, sons of the Sacred Oak. 31. By Banana mixed with Vanilla, the lion's face rises, the Golden Nipple [On the Emelis Shatau]. They are now eating from the brown food of the oak, in hairy fields they live. [in hairy skies]. The staff of Ptah had struck them and led them, to small forests in the deserts. 32. While the black panthers care for them. Their hearts have been struck, and now their livers and lungsouls will be struck, and even their other organs, so that they might escape through the splits in caves. Their hearts have become light as the feather of Maat, and they have eaten well from her treasures. 33. They have defeated the watchers of the thinness and the evil lambs, to become blue fire, the face of ammon. They have pierced the halls of Materos and Avani. The seven halls of Khelb are seven boats to sail over the rivers of death, hell and lies. These rivers are seen as sacred riddles, as wilder animals they need to face. The halls of Khelb are the Insection Halls of the Dead themselves. 34. Hall I – Lapoendria (Land of the Wasps). Hall II – Perlottia (Land of the Winged Insects). Hall III – Brannan (Land of the flies). Hall IV – Lapsalvania (Land of the spiders). Hall V – Lalmageln (Land of the Stinging Insects). Hall VI – Bilmageln (Land of the Shining or Poisonous Insects). Hall VII – Ant Ship. 35. Can I get access to the Halls of Khelb ? You must be Ra-Izu. You must have visited the seven coffins of the faeries, and you must have read the pyramid texts of the dwarves. 36. I have done that, can I have access to the Halls of Khelb now ? You must be initiated in at least seven piramids of different Izu-Indian tribes, and you must have defeated the evil chicken of Radth. 37. I have done that, can I have access now ? Go in, and take from the forbidden fruits of the Halls of Khelb. Here Maat-Izu will weigh your heart and liver to her sacred feather. If one of them is too heavy, it will be eaten by Ammut-Izu. Then you must go through the seven nights of fear, where your lungs will be weighed to the sacred feather of Maat-Izu and Sekhmet-Izu. If it will be too heavy it will be eaten by Ammut-Lapoendria. 38. Then your souls will be put to the sacred staff of Ptah-Izu, and when one of these souls will be too short, it will be eaten by Thoth-Lapoendria. 39. Then the souls tall enough have come to the coasts of Lapoendria, to come into the Ra-Lapoendria ship. On the seas of fear they will be judged, to see if their hearts and livers are guilty or not. 40. They will be punished on the seas of Lapoendria and taken away by dangerous animals, by birds and fishes, to see if they are worthy or not, and to purify and test their souls. They will get seven thorns in their flesh, which will depress them, repress them and isolate them for a period of time. Here they must fight against the evil lambs. 41. In Perlottia, where the winged insects live, they get their wings to take flight from coffins. They will receive the flying heart of Maat. They will receive many of her heartsouls, and they will be put against the many rods of Thoth, to see if their hearts are sweet enough. 42. If not, they will be eaten by Ammut-Thoth. Then they will be put against the rods of Sekmeth, to see if their hearts and livers are soft enough. From these rods the snakes come forth ... and when they aren't soft and flexible enough, and when they cannot have ripples and balance, they will be eaten by these snakes of Sekmeth. Then their souls will be in Eminus-Fire. When they are soft like Sekmeth, they will have her lights in their Ka's ... 43. Then they will be prepared for the fires of Brannan. Here they will experience all different sorts of pains, fevers and dizziness. Here their hearts will be laid to the heart of Ra-Brannan, and when their hearts aren't hot enough they will be spat out. It is a burning heart, full of Eminus Fire and the fires of Brannan. 44. Piramids on Izu If you have the winged Eminus heart with the seven twinsouls in it, then you have access to the pyramids of bristal brival : The Red Golden Pyramid of Za-Sinysen-Vu, The Green Golden Pyramid of Za-Sinysen-Vu II, The Blue Golden Pyramid of Za-Amon-Ra, Pyramid of the Golden Pear, where the tombs are of Pharao Za-Sinysen-Vu-Osiris, and of Za-Sinysen-Vu-Ra. 45. Spells for opening the pyramids of Brannan : Oh, Osiris, mighty Ra, open the pyramids of Brannan. Show me the names, and let black doves cover them by their wings. Let your holy and sacred hands take me in, and initiate me. Amen-Ra-Amen. King of Brannan, give me the keys to your home. 46. I bow to your holy sands. Give me Jericho and Sodom, and let me destroy the evil snakes by the red stripes. Pharao's of Brannan rise up to give me the rods to destroy the evil donkeys holding away the sweetness. Let me destroy the unholy goats who guard the gates of tallness. 47. Give me the hoofs of goats to let me rise. Let me rise from the seven kettles of the goats. Let me be ashes from the ashes, smoke from the smoke, as your holy servant, lead me to eternal paths. Oh, Osiris, mighty Ra, give us our Khu's, our eternal souls. Let the Khu-birds guide us, into the eternal pastures of Brannan. 48. Here is where our home is, here is where our hearts are. Oh, Pyramids of Brannan, show us the holy feathers of Maat, and let them rise in our hearts. Let truth guide us, Amen-Maat-Amen, let Toth seal our foreheads by your mighty lights. Bring us to Draminia, the roots of life. Show us the depths of Amenti in Brannan and Draminia. Let Jericho and Sodom rise. 49. We ask you to lay your rods on our foreheads, and to bring your feathers inside of us. Lead us to eternal paths, oh Holy and Sacred One, and give us your winged Khu-hearts. Bless Brannan and Draminia, bless Marazanta, Lord of the Insects, and bless the White Golden Hand, the Lord of the Flies. Bless our king and emperor of Brannan, and give us access to the rivers that lead into your pyramids and tombs. 50. Let us dwell in your chambers forever, to read their texts, and to receive our golden Khu-twins. Oh, eternal soul, rise and lead us to Shesmu, the heart and sword of Osiris. Bring us to Horus, his holy striped tongue. Amen-Toth-Amen. Give us the heart of Ra. Lead us through the sunsets of Brannan, through it's halls. 51. Amenti-Ra-Amen. Tem, feeder of all Ka's, feed us, and bring our Ka's into the rays of Amenti-Light. Tem, tamer of our Khu's, let them come forward as twineagles and twinsnakes. 52. Let them possess and transform our ba's. Brannan, bring the feathers of Maat in our lungs and eyes, so that the red stripes can come over her enemies. 53. Let her make jericho rise. Let her rebuild it's walls. Bless her walls, bless her. Amen-Ra-Amen. 54. Bless the lights of Brannan, and bring our hearts to the candlesticks of Toth, to show if there is any darkness in our hearts. If our hearts aren't light and bright enough, then let Ammit eat it. Bring the candlesticks of Toth in our ba's, ka's, akh's and khu's, to let them enter the sacred sahu. Give me the sahu of Ra, of Osiris and Shesmu, of Sekmeth, Amon and Aton, of Isis, Tem and Nun. 55. I come to the White Golden Pyramid of the Winged Snake of Brannan, to bless all four openings. I enter through West, and follow the paths of the sunsets. Let the seven sacred sunsets guard my mouth, and guide my lungs. 56. Brannan is the Jaw, the ashes from the ashes, where the power to speak dwells and the power of silence. Here silver striped roads (tigers) lead the deceased one to the land of the Leprechaun. 57. Leprechaun Halls of the Dead (Kerses Minds). I – The Coffins of Uncle Peacock, II – The Coffins of Uncle Unicorn, III – The Coffins of Uncle One to Ten, IV – The Silver Coffins of Faery, V – The Golden Coffins of Faery, VI – The Purple Coffins of Faery, VII – The White Coffins of Faery, VIII – The Black Coffins of Faery 58. These coffins are described in the Faery Coffin Texts and the Faery Book of the Dead. Those ones who have pierced the Halls of Khelb and entered Lakus and Kabbernal, oh holy ones, who became hairy with bald oasis, who became the hairy of the hairy with the baldest oasis below, who bows before monkeys and monkeyraiders, he will get the white golden flour and be the king of it. 59. He whose heart has been measured by Maat-Kabbernal in the Halls of Maati to the feather of fire. If your heart and nipple would be too cold it would be eaten by Ammut-Acha. 60. Your heart must be hot enough to enter Acha. Also your eyes and lungs will be tested. You will give birth to the creatures of Acha by your mouth, for it's the land of the mother. 61. You will use your mouth to give birth. It will rise from your stomach and your breasts and then you will vomit. Amen-Acha-Amen. Then you will give anal births. Amen-Acha-Amen, for it is the land of the mother, and she will hunt for love. 62. Then it will rise from her legs and her feet, and she will give birth by her navel and by her shoulders, while her breasts bring forth the white golden chocolate. Amen-Acha-Amen. And these bison have travelled from sun to sun, from heat to heat, through deserts of the nights, to watch the dark flames. This is the land of the bison. Amen-Acha-Amen. 63. They have defeated the evil goats, and made armors of their bones. They are searching for the brown gold. They have made houses in their hearts, like bees in their nests, assimilating the lights of the sun. 64. They have defeated the killerpigs of the light, and have travelled to the darkest suns, rising into Eminus Fire. They have rode the evil chicken without falling into temptation. They are free of sin. Amen-Acha-Amen. [And these men, they give birth by hyperventilation and Epilepsy.] 64. Oh those who have reached the boat of Ova, to reach for Izu-Egypt, welcome. For you are here the cakes of liberty, oh pilgrims. Pilgrims of a lost sun, smile again with the smiles of Osiris. Oh, those who have reached the boat of Ova, to reach for Izu-Egypt, welcome. Oh, those who have died the fourth death, come to the underworld of Izu. 65. Here the land is soothing, here the lies are riddles of truth, here the hairs are burning like lucifers, and here the hairy are in fight against the bald ... It's in the songs of monkeymen ... the hairy against the bald, making new religions in carbon smiles. 66. Holy to those of the oaks, holy to those of the hollies and the white trees. Holy to the one entering the boat of Ova, to sail the green rivers to the Emerald Sun. 67. They will bow down and freeze their heads, after the strikes of chocolate. They will walk the cold roads to Bennes, the land of trees. They will rise into the comics, to freeze their hearts into the books of perlottia. 68. Perlottia again, to eat from the purple strawberry and the purple chocolate, in arms of emerald, the eyes will be opened. Perlottia again, under a mother's breast, it's easy to agree. 69. There are teeth in these lips, teeth in these lips, while the glues fall and hide. They take you away to seven graves, these seven coffins and seven halls of Bennes in death. 70. You will worship death and see it's glory. You will follow death, to come alive again. Deep in the coffin you will find your shell. 71. Give the land the strike, be a judge of judges, when you passed through all these judgements of the gods. You are still a survivor. You will write down the holy texts of your ancestors and learn them by head, to tell them to your children. You will know their symbols and their smiles, the smiles of death. 72. You will speak to them and they will speak back. They will lead you to the secrets of ages, and you will say you have survived. Under the strikes of death you grow younger, to stand as a tree, in bennes rivers.

Puchalini

1.

enchanted bananas

1. Boys from Lynx II ; The Land Beyond Cockaigne. You must fight for the money, and then you can do business ... It's nine o'clock, it's bedtime soon ... 2. You have enough money to write a letter ... and tomorrow you don't have to go to school ... 3. All these fruits were just stories by mirrors opening, this black fruit leading you to the world of dwarves ... [b. The bragging of tax brought large publics to you ... so now she is on turn in chess ...]

4. The number's in the flame, while breathing in these mirrors ... [b. It's the silver strike they say ... you must swallow deep ... to reach the golden shoes ...] 5. The frog has some movies ... He's a tranvestite ... The frog has some old castles ... [b. I'm breathing deep ... and the coins are rolling ...] 6. I gathered them by going to the battlefields in the deserts ... [b. where the pick pock family still steals ...] 7. Oh ornament, you raised your glues high. [b. We are now on high materos.] 8. The frog is your friend. [b. He's now spitting sand.]

[9. These seas of flowers are my sunglasses making me blind for what's going on ... I don't care what's going on, for it's just a story ... The frogs bring these flowers ... They are the masters of the ponds ...all these mirrors opening ... until you don't have to swallow anymore ... it's the land beyond cockaign ...]

2.

tight embrace

1. The chocolate front is open ... the charity was just a lie ... [b. It rose from the book of lies ... teaching you how to ganner ... To spin your own wines ... Still these sails on the backs of sharks bringing you to your own rios.] 2. It spins, it is the master's touch, to keep you addicted to someone you are not ... and you split up you had to marry to yourself ... [b. the brown mirror brought you there, by knocking on old chocolate] 3. And now you're getting colder by the black divorce ... falling in a blue sea ... where ancient and mythical fishes rise ... [b. this banana was enchanted ... and now you stare at it's checked spoon] 4. In the hand of the prince. He's losing it ... [b. Charity the other lie of the black rose ... while you dive beyond this world of mirrors ... to the original strike ... you don't need these clocks to let you wait for nothing.] 5. ... You are just sinking to ... the land beyond cockaign ... where seas of flowers make you so insane ... three pale purple flowers you got ... [b. And now you're here at the end of the day ... standing in purple snow ... you're crazy now, thinking you were normal before ...] 6. This is where all ponds lead you to ... you fell in these seas ... with all these strange perfumes ... you aren't hungry anymore ... and what is this stench ... did you ever smell that before ... [b. The ladies of the sides of chess, they run so fast .. to you .. in colours of red, white, black and blue.]

7. While green masses they survive ... [b. bringing you to high materos.] 8. And you see the checked frogs swimming like whales ... like glitterships ... they are the masters of the pond ... they enchanted the golden ships into banana's ... [b. This is the world of the blind ... You don't have to run. There are no movies anymore ...] 9. There's nothing speaking here ... only some comics ... and that is enough ... [b. the fires don't have to burn anymore ... everything is frozen here ... while frogs swim so flexible] 10. I wonder how can they be so free ... they are blind ... reaching for new shores in these seas of the jewelled flowers ... [b. Checked snakes on the sides of chess, rising like balloons. While it all gets smaller, till the soldiers fall down. They are bowing, in december skies.] [11. I don't want to be in charity ... I don't want to be saved ... I don't need your stories, don't need your movies ... I don't need your swanlakes ... I don't need your Jesuses I don't need your birthdaycakes ... Let me be alone ... oh, let me be ... with the boys from lynx] [12. You had normal skies. And now we are on high materos, raking the skies, watching our chessboards.] [13. Calm down, you prince. Your mother raked you, and now you rise like the balloon. I always shook your hands both, so calm down, my prince, calm down.] [14. You were a mother's ornament on a candy's cake ... Calm down, my prince, calm down.]

3.

where love ends

1. Finally where love ends ... an orange balloon stands ... [b. bringing you into high materos.] 2. Where sunset rises These boys from lynx still leading the blind ... [b. I don't need to see your movies I rather be blind ... having my own delights inside with these boys from lynx ...] 3. They still have their tight rings. [b. These boys from lynx ... these criminals inside ... so misjudged by others ... so misjudged ... while others use their mirrors ... let me use my boys from lynx ...] 4. No one's speaking there ... only some comics ... [b. While chessboards are muttering.] 5. While ladies of the sides of chess, they're whispering ... soothing the trousers and the flowers in the night we're in dark materos raising sunset, while sinking deeper into the skies ... [b. Your balloons were tight rings. They're coming from the seas of cold conscience These boys from lynx ... these criminals inside ... these pirateships making me blind] 6. And now I'm drinking tight juices ... coming from the bottles of chess ... While checked snakes let the syrups sink ... [b. into another space.] 7. Where love ends, the rings so tight, coming from the edges of a chessboard [b. you never understood. These lazy cats you cannot hide. We're now in soft materos .. inside ... in high skies ...] 8. Farewell, summer skies, I'm now touching december's sun, with all these ladies of the sides of chess, raising their bottles in slow motion to do quick attacks ... I'm still reading loud in these books of wars ... while you're whispering ... making my rings so tight I'm in high materos ... tonight ... [b. Please lock me up in your checked cellars.] 9. I want to see the movies on both sides. It made me blind.

golden pirate ship

10. These enchanted straight blue bananas ... these ancient mythical fishes ... make me blind, make me deaf ... [b. to hear the most beautiful music ... Oh, pirateship ... turn me on ... turn me on ...] 11. Don't keep your pictures of fright ... [b. but try to find the fairytale inside ... by this little light ... of the boys from lynx ... with their rings so tight. These rings are checked ... They look like mother's lips ...] 12. I saw the painting. [b. By making us blind, they show us the most beautiful paintings inside ...] 13. These boys from lynx these criminals inside 14. These are seas within seas, while boys from lynx have the machines of deer in their pockets ... These are ornaments within ornaments ... these are boys from lynx ... [b. I'm fainting while I see their pink ornaments ... An Epilepsy boy is what it says ...] [15. These monsters of rock .. spreading their delights where tears are coins ... and where the softness is their fire ... the land beyond cockaign ..]

4.

snares of stereo

1. They know the snares of stereo. They know the snares to move the tears. [b. This land beyond the custardListen to the tranvestite These wizards hearts.] 2. Old frogs sit behind the chocolate, with peppermint lips they smile. [b. And now there's a golden pirate ship in blind seas ...] 3. Old frogs sit, with deer in their pockets, raising the flags of business high. [b. It comes from old pockets ... Grandfather raising his checked snakes high] 4. On snares of stereo I sit. [b. The handicapped guys make the good movements ... It's such an autistic sight ... the silver strike made us deaf ... and now we hear the magical musicboxes inside.] 5. The beating hearts of wizards ... these banana hearts ... they make golden jokes on golden pirateships ... while silver spreads the songs of silence ... [b. these plastic waves with crocodile boots ...] 6. I'm watching the stars of the tranvestite. Checked books in old bottles ... reaching for Mozart's skies ... [b. I'm watching the handicapped and autistic stars the stars of dementia bringing us here ... on the wings of misunderstanding ... we found our true friends ... by accidents and mistakes ...] 7. They have friendly fishes leading them through awesome realms ... [b. turning so wild in the night ... so wild ... these wild stars in pink delights ... presents from pony ...]

8. Don't misunderstand me in this slow-motion ... [b. For your cars might crash to reach the city ... of the silver sails] 9. Dare to hide .. when he's watching the show He .. the old tranvestite ... [b. This plastic wood would be good to be a suit ...] 10. The wood is soft in marchpane land ... [b. but this is the world beyond cockaigne ...] 11. If coins are slaves, then why do I pay ... [b. I need to free the birds of cigarette .. and touch the golden cigars ...] 12. From how many books of lies did you tell ... My shadows locked up in books of wars You created them ... while giving me sunmilk to drink ... [b. from pipe's conspiracy ... like frozen soldiers they march to their destinies] 13. With chinese lanterns .. with wild worlds inside wild lights these are bakerman's faces ... [b. with so many nipples on it ... while some say they have strange skindiseases ... nippleheads they march] 14. Through chinese lanterns ... so wild ... touched by thrillers ... they come alive inside ...[b. but this is the land beyond cockaigne ... they do movements so insane while wizards hearts lie on a dish ... beating while you feel so strange inside ... shadows on the wall ...] [15. These coins are slaves and sacrificed by religion ... when they become blind and deaf ... wild and handicapped on the wings of an autistic child with the wings of dementia ... they can reach for the thistles and the stinging nettles to become free again ...] [16. By tight rings, I'm now a chessboard's soldier ... Here it's okay to fight ... For no one really wins ... and no one really loses ... We all feel the pain ... of a new world coming ...] [17. It's opening the world beyond the chessboards ... Strange traffics into strange books ... These soldiers they march through cold materos to see the edges of the chessboards ... where strange apples grow Oh, let us eat them, they make our hearts so tight] [18. Father drinks the old juices ... He doesn't see the soldiers moving to another chess ... While playcards are floating ... Inviting others to ... the grand desire this world beyond the chess] [19. Playing on bakerman's hearts, while strange powders are spreading ... covering these worlds by snow ... lapoendria smiles It's a strange drum ... And all your coats are different now checked ... marching to the world beyond the chess ...] [20. It's breeding elves, growing tall under Bekehelm's helmet ...]

Tupuchette

1.

queen of hearts

1. Poetry from the Latin Buffoon Puppet II. If protection is a big attack, where do we hide. If love is the Big Lie, where can we have our tent ... if your embrace is to die ... 2. If I am not the same as you are, how many fights will we have, or will we die by good business holding our last grip. 3. A chessboard of angels you gave to me, but now give me a chessboard of pirates, to escape, just to escape. For every step is a market, and you know it is to enslave us ... Is there one way out here ? 4. If your kiss is a big shark, if my mouth is too fragile ... Who eats who ... Or is that life's destiny to die in high materos ... 5. If eating is like playing chess, then I'll do it ... For then there's room between you and me, enough room to escape forever ... do we eat to become free ?

6. Oh high queen, high materos, smoking tall striped cigarettes, was our marriage to finally escape from you ? 7. If your bed is the killingfield of books of wars, then why should I lay myself down there. 8. Why can't it be a chessboard of pirates ... [b. Queen of hearts rise. These messages are full of tax. Blackgrey striped snakes become so small. In lightblue boxes they survive. Them with their silver stares.] 9. Blue honey, come out of bed, there are chess-apples hanging, roses are coming, becoming so small ... It's June. [b. Let us hide, and play in this secret garden. We slept too long.] 10. Honestly, my darling, winter would show up if we would lay down here. Let's burn our beds by a snake's sting. [b. Only fools would enter their own footsteps again. We are now in high materos.]

liberation

11. On mondays we play on burnt schools. [b. On sundays we play on burnt churches] 12. Liberation, oh soft queen, from the Faery's Book of the Dead, you rose as a daylight chessboard dream. Hiding all your pirates, ready for the attack. [b. If it's all there, then it is okay.] 13. Liberta, running alive coming from the Books of the Dead, coming from the golden cigars you could never understand. [b. she's playing in chessboard-apples, the fruits are young this time] 14. Let me stay in high materos. Let me watch the video smile, the stripes in the air. Let me do it in Elsefic's name. [b. He with the striped snakes, while they are getting smaller.] 15. On tunes' deliverance, watching the golden smile, the stripes in the air. [b. Towers stinging through the watch of Brannan.] 16. The Books of Weddings brought me there, these books of wars, made the killerpigs of Moses fly. [b. And now he's riding them] 17. Bring me Moses. Tear his clothes. Bring this mother's boy to the lands of water. [b. This doll is just some boxes of lightblue lights.] 18. It's like a puzzle, on the chessboard of pirates you are safe. [b. Time enough in Brannan. Always reaching for fourty-one hours.] 19. Queen of hearts, how many hearts. [b. How many hours on a sunday's stream.] 20. Ancient liberty in high materos, ruling the streets, with stripes undercover. [b. This Epilepsy boy comes from the chessboard. His mother raised him tall.] 21. He cries like sand. His days get smaller. [b. Lucifers so striped gave him new names.] 22. He's the red chessboard, where angels used to play. But now she is hiding her pirates there. [b. So paranoid, while their strings are so fragile.]

2.

picnic papers

1. Johaffa, your princes are of gold. [b. They wear pirates' clothes under their prince's suits, while they are filled by the rubbish of the killingfields.] 2. Johaffa, your daylights are cold. Still an angel of chessboard-fields, dignified kills by striped swords. [b. Unicorns on both sides of your mouth.] 3. Watch your soldiers on the prey, your soldiers of prey. [b. Watch them watching the buttons of their suits. These are coming from the killingfields. From books of lies they rise. Oh watch them.] 4. Johaffa, still wearing names above names. You're a yellow golden chessboard ... It's July ... Oh, ornament on Brannan's watch [b. It's July.] 5. Briefly .. underwater ... searching for prey ... Johaffa ... [b. Now there's tea from the killingfields ... tea from the killingfields ... while roses are dying ... Stand strong on your chessboard.] 6. Underwater prey, underwater mourning ... watches go slow ... to make quick dives ... churchbells tighten the strings, by iron stripes [b. Johaffa, watch the mourning, by Jupiter's halfhearted coffee.] 7. Underwater lazy cats .. walking to the killingfields ... Taking some books of lies ... for some opportunities [b. Spells go fast ... it's Echo's morning ... echo's morning ...] 8. Underwater tricks ... sell the story ... by Barbarian smiles ... [b. Stripes in the air, while Egyptian towers sting through the pain, through ladders of death ... until the chessboard rises again ... Then we can all sleep ...]

so far

9. Fire coming from his mouth, while he prays to Elsefic. [b. Not Jesus Christ anymore.] 10. His letters go to Izu. Osiris shakes his head. It's saturday. He must wait till mondays, to launch it standing on the school. [b. Like orange liars on a zebra's boat.] 11. Secret of the press. Drop. [b. By Elsefic's fools you do the rest.] 12. His rooms are holy. Just a puzzle. It will make itself by eating. All safe when you stand on the chessboard. [b. It was cut in two by Moses, and now it's getting smaller, until we are all in high materos.] 13. These fields exist ... someone was raking ...

3.

July's End

14. Glory to the lightblue egg. While it's getting smaller. [b. All colors come through it.] 15. Drop it in December. Drop. [b. By Elsefic's fools you do the rest.] 16. The boy's pyama's are zooming. He's wearing rubbish underneath it. 17. He doesn't dare to watch in the mirror anymore after these days. He's a chessboard pirate now. 18. He doesn't want to talk. His honey is streaming inside now. He found this raider in the night. [b. He's dark, while roses stang him.] 19. Bakerman's face, it's the echo, bakerman's face, the rings are tight. But you can wear your suits over it. [b. Stay in your pyama's.] 20. He's tearing his clothes, every other day. He has high shoes. He jumps over the river, and I cry. 21. The chessboard is getting smaller. [b. While he still prays to Elsefic.] 22. Summertales too long, all written in a Brannan's watch. Golden stares ... they pray ... still to Elsefic ... July no more

checked snake spoons

15. And the golden stare 's baking golden bread, bringing golden wine to the sand [b. I love you more everyday, but I find out more and more what a lie love is.] 16. Coming from the Book of Lies, this love, so I watch into december's skies, where everything is getting smaller. [b. There's so much to win, but nothing to lose.] 17. These games come from the books of lies, with orange liars on them. I'm wasting my time playing them, still standing on my chessboard. [b. It's getting smaller.] 18. Oh, yes it roars. It's zooming and cracking, along silver stripes. I'm gannering on high materos. 19. It's coming from the Book of Lies, this protection. Your embrace, it kills me. 20. Till I'm finally on my golden day, with my queen of hearts, playing chess again, while smiling deep, so deep it starts to cry. 21. My god is a chessboard. But on sundays, I never believe in god. [b. I'm the black chessboard, and he's the red chessboard.] 22. It makes my view so small, and then it starts to cry. [b. On high materos we take flight.] 23. The elf rises from the chessboard. [b. It made him tall and thin ... ready for the next strike of Brannan's clock.] 24. His sword is a checked spoon.

watch him closely

25. There are juices coming from the chessboards, and a lot of smoke, While it all gets smaller. [b. There's a rag on his eye. He's a pirate.] 26. Blue angel raking the ornament skies. [b. With checked handkerchieves in his pockets.] 27. It gets thinner, while new chessboards rise. [b. To spread their mouths.] 28. Wide open they fly. Waiting to swallow. Waiting to hide. And then it all gets thinner, while an arabian prince shakes the sleeves. 29. Watch him closely, don't breath. Accept the pain, or it will fly away.

golden zebra

30. Watch him, he's a tranvestite, having a black golden chessboard under his arm. 31. There are raiders under the sun. In fire it's spitting silver. [b. These ancestors have silver bones.] 32. Dragons rise from silver golden chessboards. They have many identities for a checked waterkey full of small snakes. [b. They are striped by the golden mother.] 33. The big clock is a big balloon, with spoonarms it ticks to fourty-one hours. Bringing us to high materos again. 34. Watch the sun flow, into Flyian Books of Lies. You told me you wrote them. [b. The egg's rising from the board. It's checked and it's like a puzzle.] 35. The ornaments are blinding our eyes. There are jewels on the spoons. [b. We go to emerald cities, we go to diamond rules.] 36. There's a golden zebra in the skies, tightening the stones. [b. They bow into connections, creating december's skies.] 37. So many spoons in a web. It's bowing, painting another picture. [b. Silver skies let it bow.] 38. In Januari I have a fever. A tiger's gnat rises from chess. Oh Osiris, tranvestite, naming the black killers. [b. You are raising the vikings for Elsefic.] 39. Use lipstick to paint your body. Be paranoid to reach your raiders inside. [b. Only they can do the apocalypse. Only they can spit the silver skies.] 40. Paint the december skies. [b. And we fly in high materos.]

Pakamos

1.

1. Flowerfields, neighbour's goodbye ; Marazanta like Mary Poppins in the air ... No balloons, but flowers ... I'm following him on my mountain-bike ... Heading for the buildings of the poles 2. Marazanta like Mary Poppins in the air ... He whispers in my air with the softest voice ... I'm following him on my bike ... Heading for new flowerfields ... 3. The flowers are so warm ... [in Brannan's smile] Marazanta like Mary Poppins in the air ... Heading for the buildings of the poles ... disappearing in bubbles ... making the lines so thin ... so thin ... There's sleep after the sting ... 4. while the towers are tumbling while the neighbours are staring ... while their houses have flowerfields on the floors 5. The bubble is raging like an overstressed pacman He's raging at ... the spanish princess ... He's staring at her ornaments ... I'm spinning my lines thinner ... heading for a new day heading for the buildings of the poles ... while the towers are tumbling while flowers grow on their floors and paradise birds sit in their attics ... 6. They were all visited by Marazanta ... but now he's leaving ... high in the sky no balloons but flowers ... for the balloons are working on ground ... the bubble like a raging dictator it's pacman mowing the grass now ... 7. and he speaks about Izu ... highways to perlottia on the back of marazanta ... they bring us home, they bring us further ... where the flowers are so warm where they speak of oceans ... coasts of izu 8. the sting is to bring us deeper ... the sting is to bring a deeper dream where we can meet the animals of the poles ... where all racecars can be found ... 9. marazanta is flying like mary poppins in the sky ... the green woman has a flowerhat heading for the golden sun in perlottia. i'm flying on my spinningwheel again ... to perlottia's alphabet ... on the back of the big hairy bird ... having a million racecars in his mouth 10. ...while ships bathe in softness ... they have many legs ... while the tridents are rising the ship is rising from softness painting the lips pale again while the buildings are rising ... on the other side of the moon like horns rising in fire ... they could turn heavens into hells by riding strange icecream-animals ... 11. the socks of icecream made the cars fast gathering the marbles in their socks the eggs rolling through ... with a gamblemachine inside ... they come from soft places while buildings are growing there opening the lion's coffins once again ... 12. back to izu was his name ... this man coming from underwater now he's rising to perlottia ... to print the last tattoo ... to destroy the last leprechaun 13. seven wishes will stare over the flowerfields, they will have the horizons in their eyes then egypt's eye is speaking ... with zepellins from mars under his feet ... and so many horns on his head ... 14. feathers so soft and shiny ... like a purple light pillow lying on your bed asking you to enter through it's curtains here they drink toyjuice where the frog beats the mouse he's drinking from the candy juices bathing in custards ... while hearing the tunes of ages ... until they reach the temple ... and other old ruins ...

2.

1. All these horns lying around the pond, directing their fingers inside, while tiles of paintings lay inbetween ... [b. these are railroads to lapoendria] 2. Orange balloon is flying through the night ... [b. It is sandman raking there ... riding on his orange balloon ... in his basket hanging under this zeppelin ... he flies to the moon warming it by the blankets of neptunian delights ...] 3. Surrounded by orange ... while a yellow waterlight is leading him through ... 4. Orange balloon ... the eye of vega ... [b. It opens doors and closes them ... it watches rainbows and shatters them ... he still has the waterkeys ... those waterlights ... leading them all through the night ... only this snake could bring me over the rivers of death ... he shuts doors like he shuts pockets ...] 5. He is sailing on a Japanese Ship ... sailing on the hand of his old father while he himself is so old [here where the ponds are paintings letting another lion touch the sun and the moon] 6. There is an orange golden sun rising, from China to the Lapoon. For all with Brannan's smile, Rotten railways, bending low, for curtain's spinach. [b. There are seven roads of dwarves, diving to the underworlds.] 7. There are paintings lying on a beach. There is an old orange sun rising, from China to the Lapoon. Temperature is hot, while the snakes are big and heavy. 8. It's spouting in the air, machines of great danger. 8. In Egypt there's a tower high, touching the underworlds of Luca's smiles. [b. it's the tower stinging it forever, while plastic bathsmiles are in the air.] 9. It was surrounded by warm orange, symmetric snakes along the cars. Too many small lights made the air thick. 10. while golden orange statues rake the sun, there are shadows on the golden beach, the orange balloon is rising, and I'm hanging under it. 8. Until Ra rakes the Unity City, the golden heartstare will decide. 11. In helicopter skies it ticks, no clocks on streetwalls or towers. 12. Dreamside's cities are the best. They tell you like it is, pulling you out when the orange balloon rises, to weave spinach through the golden hairs, spouting loud and tall, into helicopter skies. Warm orange heatening the flames. They are coming from the liver 13. While jaws spread the beans, the lights you cannot count. All stars in helicopter skies. 14. And now he is in sunset's city, now he is in sunset's lights, all coming like the zebra's, to dive in their underworld's casino's, roads from the moon to the helicopter skies. 15. There's an orange golden sun on a standard, decoration blinding us, while paintings are lying on the beach. 16. golden shadows on the walls, in the halls of life, coming from down under. Towers of Egypt sting, reaching for the helicopter skies, piramids of the underworld, while orange balloon is rising, and I'm hanging under it again. 17. Zebra's discussions in the room, tall shadows in the night, drinking liquor. He's holding the ornament tight. Looking at the prices of the gifts. [b. There are great cities and great nations, only rising, while staring at an orange liar. An orange liar in a zebra's boat.] 18. in this giant's world ... the big red shoe is still speaking ... until the walls are falling until the lion is fading becoming pale ... so pale ... in this giant's world ... she is speaking shutting all lions down ... she paints everything so pale ... to let new colours rise ... 19. in this giant's world ... she paints the names on the walls of jericho ... and then the gamble starts ... an orange ball roaring around the earth becoming gold in the middle of the night ... spinning the boats of sirius ...

Fluvulua

1.

truth called belcanov

1. Poetry from the Latin Buffoon Puppet III ; Through the curtains I always reach the snow of the escape. 2. Until the marbles come, until the marbles fall ... for another round on the fairground [b. Through portals of chessboards, we always reach the red. There, where the black juices rage.] 3. Son of a thousand chessboards awake. Your mourning is over. [b. Osiris is with you now. Covering your body with his own coverings.] 4. It's switching between liars and truthspeakers ... [b. Switchers between June and July ... until april comes to make a detail ... There are orange liars on a zebra's boat, raising their cameras ... proud cameras.] 5. This car always rolls back from the mountain [b. then your daylight will fall ... for another ride ... into the funpark ...] 6. Through seacocoons i'm heading for izu ... there are marbles under my shoes ... all these solar stairways ... these moving stairs ... leading me to belcanov ... that statue on the flowerfields ... keeping them all spinning ... [b. He's like an arabian deer, a face too tight ... while glues are streaming] 7. There are siriuses in the air all these cigarlights ... [b. It's leading you underground ... It's leading you ... back to belcanov. Back to the pockets ... where the ladies of the sides of chess are smiling.] 8. They're spinning the birds of thunder ... to let belcanov breath ... 9. Where frogs speak, you can't hear a thing ... only showing you some comics ... [b. We're in high materos, where alchebra lost it's foot. [c. These are streets from cannibal.]]

10. And when the marbles are rolling, I'm heading for izu ... how many stings of a wasp does it take ... to greet marazanta ... he's rising high ... [b. while belcanov is on my side ... still a deermachine] 11. under business we all go to sleep until tax comes to give us red dreams ... red dreams .. [b. we're on the radio tonight ...] 12. These chessboards were portals, while Birthday man is in town ... we were killed but now we come alive ... to be orange and green ... [b. trafficlights on a gambleboard it's having it's delightsby spreading green tomatoeseeds On the back of a purple horse ... we take flight ... It's getting smaller. When belcanov rakes, they all get thinner.] 13. While belcanov smiles from history ... It's flashes bringing us back to the book ... back to the alphabet ... the libraries where we become glue [b. Shivering horses in the night. When Belcanov rakes they become shorter, touching the black moons, while the red lights become thinner.] 14. On wings of dementia, there's glue from arabian coffeehouses ... on top of bagdad city ... deer and horses ... in the roundabout they wave ... [b. They are ... friends ... spreading green tomatoeseeds by gambleboards too tight.] 15. It's raking, until a spanish dream kidnaps us ... then arabia is our enemy again ... The purple deer is tightening the rings, bringing us to the pockets again. Through chessboardfields we rise, into the golden stare. mixing us again ... [b. Queen of hearts make us pale again .. pale again ...] 16. A dreamworld gets the colours. There was cola for a spy. A spanish dream sells the pictures [b. ... one of these deers was a spy ...] 17. A blue one that's for sure where they get all colours they aren't pale anymore they needed fruits for the greengrocer there ... to blow up his balloons [b. The roundabout of deer is spinning ... having their own red ... pale red ... while they are your enemies again ... While someone is raking, raking hard.] 18. Liberta candy, in sweet Materos. It's warming the black towels, spreading them for more lines of tax, on sweet day's television. Tall checked spoons like bottle faces ... are the soldiers in these nights ... spinning the raiders tight ... [b. These are high days in sweet materos.] 19. You oh you ... You get Epilepsy on a chessboard. Now you can dance in cubes. Checked apples make the mouths so small, until it brags like a snake. There are tiles on the walls, leading you to Emerald cities. [b. The snake's egg has golden edges, how many stones inside, breadding the pencil in your head, speeding on small balls.] 20. You're the hare after these days, these days of high materos. Having many eggs to sell. It leads you to checked bells. There's a city on the ceilings where the lambsteads rise .. for golden unities ... Bow your head marionet, or it will break. You are free. [b. Don't read the books of wars again, but go to sleep, let business rise.] 21. There are rags on scottish clothes, leading you to Elsefic's heart, while the watermarks paint [b. the wet suits ... plastic wood the powders with the checked shoes ... leading you both directions ... it makes you cry ...]

ballerinas rising

22. Transparent tears ... it's growing washing and making friends forever [b. with the deer ... you're smiling ballerinas rising from the pockets ... silver and gold ... with emerald smiles ... They're coming from the ceilings, and stand on your walls ... tall] 23. Someone's raking the machines watermarks on it's back ...Through docters ... it's making the elves tall and thin ... fragile enough to reach for the sun ... [b. through chessboards spred by the lights of gamble.] 24. In california they stand ... in a desert underground ... where all stones gather the black stone makes a wish ... [b. and the coin falls in the black wishingwell ... strange traffic from the Faery Book of the Dead ... It's June ... while flowers spread their powders.] 25. There's a goat on the coin a black one ... king of the desert ... he reached through the bottom of the pit ... into the depths of tax and transparency and now he grows like a tree from the checked yellowgolden station he is king he is an ornament ... he is king ... He is Atu. 26. He was saved by echo ... and now he rides him on this black goat he builds wasp-tv by all these lines of tax, waterlines [b. Blackgrey chessboards ... Juices spred by the lights of gamble, ornaments in zebra's style.] 27. How many corners are there on a red eye ... turning by Paranoia [b. where aldebaran birds are dancing ...] 28. How many faces are there on a spider's coin ... [b. Epilepsy it reaches for an unknown well, while the trains of arabia are roaring ... they are moving underground ... to break through communistic churches while the bands of jazz are playing ... you glide into the night] [29. Without dress ... to awake naked the next morning but it hides you from the black morning you're now in a strange roundabout ... with purple horses ... shining in the sun they keep you out of the factory ...]

2.

Kerses minds

1. These horses are blind my dear and they will be deaf at the end of the year ... [b. but they are covered by watermarks waiting to save you ... then you will jump out of black bottles to see their beauty .. and forget about their ugliness inside inside we are ugly ... but our skins are beautiful we are indian spies ... smuggling the banana roads for the coming queens and kings ... we take flight ...] 2. In asgard the checked yellowgolden station we sit waiting to become sweet again ... there are so many bananas ending here becoming straight and blue ... frozen like soldiers touched by the chocolate ... where icecream rolls ... it's baker's glue ... where the orange is a good gun ... and the bananas burn the money ... the ice will rise ... to niflheim ... on ragnarok's day ... it's getting darker here ... where blind children play ... 3. The walls of jericho are rising when the blue strikes seven times, there's icecream for all [b. When bilmageln hits the third gong ... then the dwarves come ... and it's red shoe time ...] 4. A checked silver spoon does the work, in bilmagelns golden hand ... it ticks ... it's dinnertime ... when the black checked gates are opening ... [b. black glues from licorice ... turning ice in the night it was always your mother's delight by this she got her red eyes red lights in the sky ...] 5. Opening the taps of glue she's a water mark .. a best mark ... doing the dishes with a spoon ... she needs you today for a ride in a tunnel to show you all flowers of daylight in their tight dresses covered by big uniforms ... [b. They were hidden in the hollow ... they were hidden in the pale] 6. Can we build our towns here ... and forget about our futures ? 7. Spreading their birds of cigarette ... stirring the machines of deer, these chessboards with the gambelights There are strange checked coins on strange checked bottles ... Who is eating who ? [b. It's falling in the bottle again to pump the water up high while it's becoming glue from uncle's ... the watermarks take flight ...] 8. You have the rings of lynx now ... don't fear ... [b. They are getting paler, you can use these coins for new automatons ... New horses in the sky to save you ...] 9. And these men, they are so paranoid ... while Epilepsy Boy rises ... becoming so dark ... until he is a raider ... [b. Can you imagine the joy it brings ... It's checked ... a book with a split laugh ...] 10. He's raking ... she's raking ... striped snakes from the moon ... the killer She gave you symbols ... [b. Just watch the ornament's spoon. It's checked, while bubbles rise ... Eat the dreams ...] 11. Continuously I watch how you break windows in a basket. These baskets are full of striped snakes, becoming pawns of chess on your red chessboard [b. They are the lights of gamble, lambsteads ... The sheep will rake the brains ... until the Red October comes ... to swallow it all away swallowing it all away ...] 12. What if the orange becomes red [b. Faroom da bazite ... a red bed ... where all trains of arabia end ... you were a cyclope with a red eye a roundabout ... with so many roundabouts inside ... you were blind ... but now they stang you ... you can see.] 13. ... And still blind children are playing on the marketsquares of jericho ... [b. having strange noses from strange parties ... like rockets to the moon ... there are fireworks in the bottle ... while blue glue is streaming ... it was sandman with his yellow touch sitting on a green horse and now he gave you purple to bring the boys from lynx alive ...] 14. Boys from lynx ... spreading their coffees ... [b. while liars take flight jakob's on a mission, with his three red eyes ... three marbles in a basket of sand ... while a wild esau is rising ... painting the skies in neon ... he's a cyclope ... but he has a million eyes on his back ... that's how he flies all red eyes ... bringing the neon he's a swindler now ... gambling ... while casino's cabman is riding him ... he takes flight ...] 15. Then the birds of cigarette come free ... enchanted mirrors, enchanted ponds to let you have your own checked shoes ... they bring you to .. the world beyond the chess. [b. Checked grapes on a red picnic's day ... turning wine in the night ... on kana's day ... jesus kissed his bride ... veiled it was a monkey ... a flying one on that day when the publics laughed themselves to death the public ... another trick of tax ...] [16. On top of the nose ... arabia waves ... it's all there is ... we are just red walking noses ... painted by a black widow] [17. These are stories of the big nose spreading fears which don't exist ... this is all there is ... Who painted the noses red she's the black widow a major threat hiding her bakerman in a purple box ... where she mixes him] [18. Along the purple curtains of deliriumhe goes asleep ... while all these bakerman's faces fill the sky in glue and the pictures become darker ... she's making it so black ... where neon is rising and when the black rose falls ... the red dream starts to tell ... you're on tv tonight and she makes it darker] [19. for the waterlights are weeping, heading for the broadcastlady of cartoon she wants it softer ... so she has to strike harder first ... she's a two-faced harlot ... bringing them from the purple to the orange in the arms of bilmageln ... where they can sleep]

3.

Sonder Sun

1. These soft boys become the hard men in the night like checked white hard candy lying on a dish ... [b. tell me what you can remember ... it was the way you caught a fish ... one day the soft was all eaten away ... and some hard bones were staring at you ... and you swallowed fast all of a sudden ...] 2. It was a strange camera, with a snake's egg inside. These were paranoid girls, raking to make the elves thin. They wanted to see the ornament, by which they could breath by it's tight rings. They were clothed by wild roses, while the thorns grew inside. It made them almost naked, while the red lights of gamble made their eyes spin like the wild sea.

3. These girls were all there was ... The rest were just their shadows ... becoming corrupted by the games of chess. [b. They were coming from Sonder Sun, on top of Izu, it takes flight. It's screaming and shrieking in the night, until the tear falls. The suicide princess cannot stand any smile.] 4. These are the boys from lynx, these ladders, becoming soft under Sonder Sun. 5. It's shining on the checked pirateships, coming from the gold, bathing in silver seas ... while new tv's are stretching. 6. She gets scared when she sees the balloons. Then she's embracing her tall string, her waterlight. He brings her to the broadcastlady of cartoon. [b. He's a tranvestite.] 7. She likes his apocalyptic spells .. Messages from Izu ... She has tight rings around her arms coming from the baskets of snakes 8. The girl has a sweet voice, these animals are all protected by her laws. [b. These are hard men in racecars ... becoming darker when they ride they ride on banana roads to burn their money ... they have two-faced eyes ... and only a black microphone will survive their stares ... you better be wise these days ... they are standing on the coasts of the hague ...] 9. Where a black viewmaster stands ... breeding the red breeding the hard stories while you are the alphabet these are the red boys from santa clause ... the birds of cigarette ... [b. They rise from wasp tv spreading their wasp rains they are black checked spots running ... doing the checked dishes ... until snow white comes home there are red lights in the air ... on a red picnic's day] 10. They are the books from the library beyond history ... always floating back ... [b. They are the pumps in arabian skies, coming from Japan.] 11. Behind christmasbottles they hide. They are red snowflakes sitting on their high thrones ... to speak their judgements of nonsense to spread their apocalyptic days ... [b. They are the numbers of conscience and history bringing them all back to the vanilla planes the wasps of memory and then you touch a key you never touched before ... cold conscience.] [12. ... It spreads and you see the golden cigars they can never be burnt ... they can only speak by comics] [13. Who knows the cigarlights from sirius ... the lights too bright when the orange splinters rise into the darkest night ?] [14. Your roundabout boats will rise ... and there will be nothing to swallow anymore ... there where red becomes too hot ... cold conscience ... [15. there where red becomes too dark the lights are rising eternal damnations coming from sirian cigarlighters ... to save you from charity's curse] [16. Swallow enough to reach the golden cigarlights you have a nose ... and that's all you have ... some have bodies full of noses ... they rule over the world beyond history ... together with a banana queen ... these are the red checked scorpions ... the starships of dead chess breeding their eggs of unity by spastic movements they can bend everything] [17. By spasm they boil their glues in big kettles ... where the watermarks dance ... and when the conscience becomes too cold ... it starts to play the whispering organ and then the tears come through the tight rings ... These comics are so fragile ...] [18. these ornaments are so fragile [b. They will forget their childhood's wars, to find their soft chairs waiting in the sky ... Red velvet dreams ... while cold juices are streaming ... from the comic barrelorgan checked in black, red and white.]] [[19. These are cakes from baker's dreams. He's the baker of chess, knowing the portal to the world beyond.]] [[20. These are all wars of dementia. He has a chessboard in his mouth, while Belcanov is on his back. He knows everything, for these tears are all transparent.]]

4.

chessboard's shoeshops

1. There were no sacrifices on religious altars. These came from the books of lies. These were just stations to take flight. 2. These were lights from the chessboard's shoeshops, ringing their bells in the night. 3. This was how Jesus travelled. Watch the little piramid, for the strange picture ... It made you cry 4. These books are strange chessboards ... catching your eyes to play ... [b. When the marbles roll it's on chessboard's television ... Taxlines eating the balloons for another horror turning into a cartoon ... [c. You watched the checked boots of the broadcastlady ... the broadcastlady of cartoon.]] 5. Cars dive into the Books of the Dead ... [b. It's still a strange station after all ... strange traffic, strange railroads underground, leading us to all who forgot ... on the wings of dementia ...] 6. And you know it's lights ... Here the lambsteads are rising ... Here the gamblemachines are spreading tax and coffee ... rising from strange pockets This third world was saved by a bird of tax ... [b. by a bird of cigarette ...] 7. She shatters the lamps on the ground ... now these lights are lights of chess ... while spastic piramids spit the glues ... [b. It's getting hard when it touches the skin ...] 8. What we forgot, it all comes back ... on the wings of dementia ...

Pirfumata

1.

waving white flag

1. Boys from Lynx III. My mother raised me. She showed me the door. She showed me twothousand trousers hanging around on the shore. [b. She spoke to me, always in two words and then shutting a million doors.] 2. She still loves me but I cannot be more than she wants for that would scratch my records [b. and then I would be like a parrot lost in a stream. [c. She always brings me back to the shore again like a ritual at the end of the day for I still want to be more than she wants me to be.]]

Dwarve's Rain

3. And there in the distance, I hear dwarve's rain ... rain from the ornament ... they span it underground ... for secret conspiracies ... for trains too loud ... [b. too loud to hear ...] 4. While i still visit fairygrounds to watch their big beasts and balloons. [b. These were lampsteads to the moons of Z. These were lampsteads to a new aldebaran where some guys still sit at high tables playing strange games. [c. While uncle one to ten is sleeping in the baby's room ... it was all to make your heart at peace dolphin's ... goodbye]] 5. Here the golden statues stand of theologians and old men bragging their nonsense and everyone believes them for they have the trousers. 6. This is the land where the coins are cubes. [b. Put the marbles in the automatons, and they will run.] 7. Tranvestites carrying a big handicapped eye ... they walk through glue and teeth ... they walk through you and me ... to bring the flame back to the candle ... [b. These are dressed up insects from a red picnic ... masked while the eye they carry is hidden behind tall teeth ... [c. like barbed wire ...]] 8. They can escape through checked red communistic spinning holes in the airs. [b. The pickpock family is in town ... raising their big balloons ... they are walking like chicken on the killingfields ... but they are dressed up ants ... working on fairgrounds, funparks and circusses [c. They are the gods of nonsense and misunderstanding ... raising up their own god ... gepetto ... their mailman ... they are raising up their numbers and letters in a flame ... a balloon's flame ...]] 9. Aslant eyes and aslant faces make the connection to the worlds beyond the worlds, the mirrors beyond the mirrors. [b. Your god is a devil on the other side of the mirror.] 10. These churches are nothing more than strange chessboards, with their gamblelights. [b. Greet me green in the morning. Spin the rings tight. Let me escape.] 11. Through strange automatons, we take flight. [b. Thrown up on cannibal's day, where cowboys hide behind red buttons. [c. I'm seeing the number in the flame.]] 12. They are raising their balloons ... the bakerman's faces spouting the salt. [b. on a candy's dish ... In this strange world of chess.] 13. You're nothing but a number. A number in a flame. Coming from a comic, to find your way back in this book. [b. While bakerman and belcanov, they speak between the lines. It's moving like a zebra's boat [c. while orange liars are standing on it.]] 14. And I'm measuring myself by watching the sparks in the water fireworks in a glass of water ... all underwater .. hiding in glue ...these are still my tall christmas-presents ... [b. bred by the boys from lynx ... in their fields of chess ...]

2.

black coffin

1. And i'm gathering my wet chesspieces ... yellow against the blue ... fights between friends are always softer than the real wars outside ... [b. bites from Z ... [c. transparent pink gluemarks ...]] 2. The deer eat the stories with their mouths of misunderstanding ... that's why their faces are bitter and paranoid ... they are ... suspicious minds ... [b. They smoke their birds of cigarette ... that's how their trains move they are the deer of dementia ... blowing all stories to their pasts ... [c. these strange chessboards.]] 3. They reverse their sodom and gomorrah's. [b. They hear smoke-alarms when the orchestra's are playing ... [c. They never trust your smiling faces ...]] 4. On top of checked blackgolden coffins, they take flight, to become red thunder in the night. [b. You saw the dust of cinderella. You never lose, just touch all you have. [c. There's a symbol on the coffin, bringing you back to the end.]] 5. While a golden dwarfstatue is standing on it, bringing you to december's skies, on a dolphin's goodbye.

billiards day

6. They are playing games with me [b. until I lose my head [c. until i can feel my trousers again, all these conspiracies.] 7. She's standing, screaming on a hill, while her girlfriend screams from another hill, [b. trying to confuse my soul [c. poor me.]]

curse of business

8. These are babies born in transmissions, orange liars leading me to death, while all these wasp rains in my bed ... these rains from izu ... building my memory again ... rebuilding you ... 9. These are orange liars, leading me to death, with all these wasp rains in my bed, these rains from izu, rebuilding my memory, rebuilding you ... 10. There are green tomatoe seeds lying on my dish, all these dragons are in fire ... or is it my eyes 11. Give me a spoon, these books are all talking, spreading green tomatoe seeds ... in a night of arabian magic ... 12. It sails on Japanese ships. [b. under orange balloons.] 13. Arabian spice, Arabian me ... These are the chessboard mills ... Elevators under a red balloon, bringing you to the comic. [b. It switches between the horror and the cartoon ...until the knees and elbows are bending, the cubes enter new worlds.] 14. And then the hunger brings the hallucination ... they are the fata morgana's ... mirages of old wizards see these hearts pumping ... lying on dishes ... [b. where plants are the senses of a new world. [c. There are docters in winter's treasures, growing from the bottom of the sea ... where they died in these sea gardens]] 15. The ornament of coins is luring you deeper ... It's your only way out ... [b. Just eat these seeds ... these flowerseeds ... then the honey will flow through your stomach ... and you will drink new milk.] 16. It grows on your back reaching for your mouth you can smell flowers of paradises growing on your back .. reaching for your nose it gives you the face of a deer ... having the machines of the red eye ... [b. while visions grow from their back reaching for their eyes ... and music grows from their back to their ears ...] 17. While the tattoo of a spider is growing on their forehead ... reaching for their necks ... [b. there where the senses sleep ...] 18. There's a spider on my forehead ... and it grows towards my neck ... to open the senses ... to let the flowers grow ... between the plants there's a spider on my forehead ... and it grows towards my neck ... to open new visions in a language I understand 19. And it brings me understanding ... it brings me new tales ... till the ornament grows further ... to reach for the broken bridge [20. When ornaments come together ... to lay the hard stones ... then softness grow inside ... to let machines blow ... they bring oil to the stages ... to let ballerina's dance ... until they reach the morninglights where they dive into morning dew.] [21. They will never reach the afternoon ... they are in morningland ... where the morningred pushes the lights underwater in a new sea ... to let new plants grow from the seagardens ...]

3.

Antartica

1. There are boys behind dragonbars locked up behind letters ... and numbers ... they're locked up in the book ... of a red dragon ... [b. He's a dangerous chesspawn [c. on the board of a snake ...]] 2. So many chesspawns in the air ... Boys from lynx against so many other pieces on this strange chessboard and when the snake turns it around the back of the board is a mirror and you see your face ... with these thousand nipples ... these bakerman's faces ... [b. these bakerman's coins can you escape the altar of an egyptian king.] 3. He's driving the car ... of an egyptian mother who claimed moses to be her son ... she saved him but prisoned him ... can you escape this saviour's altar ... this altar of a businessman. [b. It has strange trafficlites and strange lights of gamble] 4. It is a chess-hat, it is joseph's pit ... [b. A strange board of chess where the suns and the earths play ... [c. while moons are watching.]] 5. While you're sinking deeper in this strange coccoon ... this strange cartoon in these strange days ... [b. While an orange prince is knocking at your door ... with three purple pale flowers for your mother ... [c. He didn't ring a bell ... he just whispered]] 6. In ornamental issues I take flight to izu where all insects are gathered doing strange dances [b. to win their days back ... in this strange game ... and at the bottom of this pit .. you're king of egypt [c. and then there aren't any jesuses and judases left]] 7. The tears fall till it's glue ... till it's plastic wood with strange powders inside ... Then you will cry sand ... Who knows the chessboard ... leading alicia to wonderland [b. It's strange stratego ... when you turn the pieces around ... you see the faces of the ones around you.] ... 8. In this land the coins are statues. You need to push a tree into the gate. Sometimes only a heart can open the doors, or a box of chessboards. Watch the pawns. It's all a big conspiracy in your mind for when you turn them around twice ... you see your own face 9. But at the end ... there will be no blame and shame at all these feelings of guilt ... where just the coins of business in a game called antartica 10. Flowerseeds wanting to open the senses for a new world new senses started to develop .. under the vibrations of guilt [b. In the eyes of guilt it's never enough ... it's never good ... it's hungry and you need to grow.] 11. It's the big breed ... of an old witch waiting to eat you but you're never good enough it's never done [b. Then you're living behind dragonwalls ... in her strange stories] [12. These letters are all dropped in Vanilla. It makes your fingers shiver ... On Vanilla's chessboard.]

4.

vanilla days

1. He had put his hand in the dog's mouth, paying his bills. Now the insects can creep underneath his clothes. 2. He had put his teeth in the back of a spider. Now it's having wings of dementia ... bringing him back ... to Vanilla's days ... 3. Blue spots, powdered spots, like winter's dreamglasses ... So soft, like glue inside, it is a plastic sight ... like toys ... 4. Pink spots, so pale, the powders there are hiding, deep inside they blow like forest storms and storms of wilderness and deserts [b. It is ... too late ... for you to tell your story now it ... is my turn] 5. Red spots, they burn, like soft wet fires on my skin, it is ... like the elfe's glue running ... so strange ... I am amazed ... when wasp rains are falling ... 6. These are stinging trees and trousers ... Like balloons of wild powders ... I'm having so many checked hearts inside ... these wizard hearts, banana hearts and wings of dementia ... leading me back to the house beyond history ... 7. Where I'm having redgolden checked dwarf shoes, pinocchio shoes like crocodile shoes ... like plastic transparent wood ... with strange powders inside these shoes can fly by the wings of dementia ... 8. Powdered spots on my back, spreading the delirium, making me drunk ... making my wings shiver ... my wings of dementia ... [b. I have autistic hearts from the wizard ... [c. having handicapped trousers, a handicapped suit while I feel so insane ... my clothes are stinging me ... something is boiling me ...]] 9. I'm flying by the wings of dementia on a mighty storm leading me back to aldebaran ... there are so many fevers in my head ... waking up these animals inside ... [b. I'm under the threat of a stinging plant ... ravalan madok ...] 10. There are tears streaming over my body ... strange spots, strange nipples ... powders inside like winter's dreamglass so pink and pale ... [11. Vanilla spots ... these are tattoos of dragons ... [b. for the wizard has fires in his eyes ...]] [12. His hearts are dancing through my mind ... these banana hearts ... enchanted ones ... there are shadows of fire on my walls ... jumping into the room] [13. These hearts like precious rippling ornaments ... rippling on my walls like zebras and tigers would do ... [b. while there's purple snow on my ground ... a carpet arabian designs ... making my mind spicy ...]] [14. Roaring bottles in high cupboards ... bottles of tears ... stored by the wings of dementia ... patterns of highways ... like the waves of the seas of flowers ... [b. To drink and get drunk while wizard hearts dance ... they look like snakes [c. like new alphabets penetrating my mind ...]]] [15. I have suits of strange nipples softer than myself gathered by .. the wings of dementia ... warming my autistic hearts ... [b. these wizard hearts]]

5.

graves of matadok

1. While the parrot is opening the graves of matadok, there's eagle radio in my head ... 2. By a vanilla flute .. the parrots keep on leaving ... opening the cigars of pharao ... [b. laughing themselves to death .. by strange alcohol ... [c. These are the baker's liquors ...]] 3. While orange balls were exploding ... they found red cowboys in a shoe ... These were speaking cupboards having too many books inside ... they were the fallen lambsteads ... the kwaliks ... but now they let others fall by books of strange tax ... 4. They raise up their insurances in white ... while their arms are striped ... like butterfly-snakes they fly ... They are the needles of grammophone ... installing their birds of cigarette ... 5. They take flight ... into the graves of matadok ... following the red parrots ... the flute of tax is speaking ... while someone is whispering ... it's the red rose ... hiding her cowboys behind the bottles ... until her dragons are spitting the sands 6. He has a sword of tears and jewels, and a shield of seed ... killing giants ... by a hard white candy camera ... 7. His shoes are soft, he's a canary ... His rubber hides the black powders ... while he has a sandgun, when things overflow ... Then there will be storage ... Big livers hiding the lungs ... 8. They fall through tall whispers ... The suicide princess screams till the smile turns into a tear [b. He has a suit of tears ... this is the city of tears ... [c. The handkerchief ... room enough to store the tears and the seed ...]] 9. No need for umbrella's ... these wasprains ... create trees of balls ... from izu to perlottia ... reaching for the ceilings of love ... while pictures on the wall are freezing ... delirium makes the crocodile glue roll ... 10. I need a special suit to touch you ... while snakes slide through tears and seed ... looking for good tailormen ... in vanilla holes they grow ... becoming the hard men ... making the judases and the jesuses ... to lead them all astray ... [b. raising the doll ... to strike the orange once again ...] 11. They dive through chocolate tiles ... these are strange lights ... these are bakerman's faces ... breeding the falls in tall whispers ... by strange fruits ... still Vanilla's soldiers ... where birds of cigarette take flight ... [12. While two lions fight in the river ... making tea ... for lion railroads ... they are leaving a world under the ice ... in the hollow ... [b. heading for an eagle ship to become the golden taps ...]]

Eric Zwarzenei

13. When fake meets the nonsense, the black stone falls .. awakening the frogs ... all these misunderstandings .. they come from the lion's tea ... gliding through tall whispers ... preparing the bakers liquors ... 14. It's streaming through your trousers ... [b. like fishes coming from hell.] 15. While the ashes breed the black egg ... it's black boots coming to your town ... where a white chocolate house stands ... theologians still doing the game on white chocolate tiles ... kalibra bazina ... 16. The pickpocks .. the machines of deers ... checking pockets for fallen soldiers ...

stealing the vanilla coins for their automatons ... they bring us over the nightseas ... ignore everything which is not inside ... there's custard streaming from vanilla holes ... [b. making a giant of you ... while there's a world inside ... here where swans spit fire ...] 17. You have pickpock trousers ... to meet an indian warbook .. through tight rings. [b. Wasp rains, the baker's liquors ... they stream through old trousers ... reaching for the boots ... These are old bottles, old comics ... while the juices are streaming ... [c. in the world where the swans spit fire ...]] 18. These are comic trousers, trains sliding from picture to picture ... doing dirty business ... There are statues beyond history ... Strange coins, if you ask me ... awakening .. the belcanov .. with snakes along the cars of chess ... [b. Here shark temple roars ...] 19. When someone walks ... the confusion comes ... [b. It's made of butcher's leather ... and strange wool ...] 20. He's hiding his sharks behind comic walls ... He is the red dragon ... [b. something makes him wild ...[c. a child inside ... while juices are streaming through tall trousers ...]] 21. These are tall whispers, where the bakers hide .. and it's still a white chocolate house in which we all drown ... there where the black bed rules ... in a red shoe ... [b. these cowboys .. become indians in the night ... marching under strange flags ... while a little boy is marching before their crowds ... playing the flute ... the rod of ashes ..] [22. Red rose hiding the red boys behind golden and black bottles ... waiting for the strike ... These are the birds of cigarette ... strange dragonbars ... these pillars of mighty temples while pickpocks dive in strange waters ...] [23. They are the pillars of strange cathedrals ... living on walls and ceilings ... they live in strange dies ... Six alices on white chocolate tiles breeding the hollow inside ... while an oxygen statue is living inside ... while I'm living in a diamond creating rainbows ...] [24. Purple bakerman's faces .. glue from Z ... it's your game too ... and you see this army of scissors ... there's loud noise when they eat [b. They're in love with stiletto's ... these bullets are checked balloons ...]] [25. There are many towers on a church ... the black widow invented them all ... Eric Zwarzenei is a strange clown ... if you want to know ... I have strange fairgrounds in my pocket ... where everything becomes glue ...] [26. I a'm a fisherboy ... fishing aldebaran balls ... all in grandfather's pocket ... I have a red checked scorpion with golden scissors ... pink banana's burning the money for another ride ...] [27. It's pleasureland, we're riding the donkey's ... all in dark underground temples ... where the fake meets the nonsense ... sowing misunderstanding on the roofs ... to overcome the blame and the shame ... [b. on the wings of dementia.]] [28. Uncle peacock has a fairground ... while uncle unicorn has a circus ... while I am eric zwarzenei.] [29. I'm a pirate from Venusia ... the sea of venus ...] [30. In snowwhite's coffin ... the balloon is growing inside ... White shoes with thin stripes, showing you the insurances of a deaf ear ... over violin roads ... they take flight ...] [31. It's a cocoon ... after they ate you .. you can ride them ... [b. It's a strange fairground ... [c. I know a land where the trousers run ... having their own towers in the night ... staring at the pink and the white.]]]

6.

ladybugs

1. She's from vanilla wildernesses ... with her head like a ladybug's back ... her eyes are rolling ... I'm a prisoner of a strange castle ... an arabian castle ... while the deer ignore me ... why don't they save me ... they have big machines for that ... 2. And the silver strikes, until all these bakerman's faces rise ... 3. The strikes of silver bring us back to the museum beyond history ... where the boys from lynx live ... [b. While wild cats stand on martian hills, they are rising from the deserts [c.icecreams with forestroad snakes ...]] 4. They are bringing the bakerman's faces alive ... There are strange arabian roundabouts in the air these peacocks horrorshows ... [b. they're mixing the icecreams ... while forestroad snakes rise ...] 5. Where bakerman's faces are cartoons in machines of deers ... they are strange checked mirrors in castles ... [b. while the wizard hearts beat faster.] 6. To have the powders of delirium ... in spinning bakerman's faces ... a ladybug is what it says ... and then the worlds are exploding ... strange ways of an eagle's helmet ... having the face of a ladybug ... 7. These are one day ladybugs ... and when they die ... they take away a piece of your world ... to let you see a peacocks horrorshow .. and then you will me mixed again ... in everything what was left for you ... and there you will find a new world ... 8. This watch with bakerman's faces ... to make your eyes red ... it's whispering with a million whispers ... [b. inviting you to the cartoons ... while the boys with snakehearts beat the drums ... [c. they are the heartplugs when summers freeze ...]] 9. To soft clouds peeing tears to show the jewels of sweet fluffy roses painted on white chocolate ... Now he's breeding his boys from lynx inside the banana striking there ... to let them run faster where all the racecars rise ... on checked banana tiles they ride on banana railroads and rainbows a good way to burn money 10. Wild desertstorms in bakerman's faces wars in an hourglass while dictators strike the silver they will all understand and now they are lords of the dice ... hunted by a thousand tales and the russian face on the door shows so many colours with a peacocks horrorshow on his helmet ... [11. While they're finding their own boys of lynx inside ... these hearts are snakes ... [b. breeding the watch of the zebra ...]] [12. While the red dragon is an author, and a worker in a library ... he locked you up behind letters ... these dragonbars ... a bakertree, an arabian seadragon ... While vanilla is the displaydoll of the bookshop ...] [13. They raise the dolls to smash the orange balls to have the cartoons ... Give me the flute of vanilla, the dragon's scar, to lead the rats away.]

7.

bananas chessboard

1. And she said : My husband is a wolve's gnat, a taxmaster, if it comes to that ... breeding his icecreams by letting his fruits die ... they become too sweet and too cold ... it makes you cry. 2. And she said : you don't want to hear how cruel this is it must be or it will not sell. [b. It grows on a market this strange strange fruit, on a black white chessboard.] 3. And she said : you can switch between jokes and horrors, drinking the comic juice. 4. And she said : it always rises again, to the clouds of japan, making all these dreams in his kettle, by lies underground it makes the rain ... 5. And she said : still the bridge from arabia to the indians with a deep japanese background ... where the spider hides ... 6. The soft fleeces between her and that thing, were just marks from echo's television ... installing it deeper inside 7. Now it's like the game's icecream ... now it's like the watering touch with all these ripples from zebra ... 8. The skin was ripped off that day ... Seeing Hitler's Blue Tongue ... 9. And she said : I can show you the tales on Hitler's tongue ... These are all lamentation weathers These are all lamention feathers ... from the horror to the cartoon ... So many cigars spread on the road ... like train's apocalypse ... 10. He will show up after the crash ... showing you the lazarus tree ... climbing it will switch you from the lamentation to the lullaby ... then you will understand what it means ... and then you will meet summerclause ... with all those Jesuses from Cartoon ... those little men ... those zebramen switching you between the pencil and the spoon ... 11. Between a cigar and a cigarette ... was your rocket launched straight in the cartoon ... like a spear piercing the old bear-drum ... reaching the flute inside ... and this movie would be burnt in your uncle's pipe ... for a rainbowversion from the old Pan ... 12. The movie waves are moving ... symmetric to the snakes underground ... rising to cartoon ... rising to the comic-towers to release the juices from inside ... to have a good bite in the apple of chess ... [b.

until you switch between the cartoon and the comic ... until you see all their little jesusmen ... hidden too well behind the cubes an autistic world, a traumatic beauty ... there where the vibration transformed the layers ...] 13. It's all hidden behind trees and flowers ... desiring to be discovered ... 14. Back to Izu, not afraid of the hidden rage ... and the hidden riddles [b. waiting to be puzzled out it needed to be ... a hidden message ... [c. for it was too private ... just for you ...]] 15. Back to Izu ... not afraid of death ... for it can kill you if you come too close ... [b. When they once saw you ... they will never let you go ... until they pierced the thing they saw]

Kuzaponia

1.

Prince of Comics

1. Boys from Lynx IV ; Creatures from Paradox. He is the prince of comics, taking flight on black bananas, coming to the town for some underground conspiracies. [b. She burns you by fire, she's his princess] 2. Don't take the hot stick when it barks at you ... On Hitler's tongue, we glide. [b. There are sugared red tongues in the air ... while pink and green are watching. It was the spell of an ornament.] 3. She watches you behind the glass, while someone's spitting sand. [b. she's his princess.] 4. Come by yourself now .. No one will do it for you ... all these boys from lynx are inside ... On red bananas he writes stories ... charity came by insurance ... while someone had to pay ... it was a dream of business .. while a red arabian seadragon grew inbetween ... [b. these are all orange liars coming out of zebra's boats ...] 5. Greet Marazanta from the hills and watch his golden birds surround you .. It's Egypt in Izu ... Tell me brother .. It's Egypt in Izu ... 6. And he said : you did it when I slept, you made my lullaby, you little criminal, you made my lullaby. When you are sleeping, I take your crown ... I am your lullaby, I tell you, father. I am a bakerman's face, tell me father, I'm a bakerman's face. 7. And he said : you did it, I'm dreaming, you made me lost my day. I'm bleeding, you're leaving, but I feel soft, for I'm a bakerman's face, tell me father, I'm a bakerman's face. [b. I feel soft, you gave me feathers, you gave me milk, you're a bakerman's face, tell me father, you're a bakerman's face ... [c. You're dadda's cloudship, with all your lalla's ... and your babba's. You're like the tiger rippling in the sky [d. in the skies of deserts.]]] 8. Like brown ripples, he's making coffee ... for a golden banana, a sugared tongue ... It's Egypt in Izu. 9. I'm greeting Marazanta, I'm bowing for Atu [b. He with the butterflywings. [c. There are white checked cigarettes underwater checking the housefloors. [d. While green canaries escape from the blue.]]] 10. There are pink tongues coming from the pocket ... pink bananas in the skies ... Here is where they burn the money ... [b. when Gepetto goes to sleep. [c. These are pink lights coming from the red.]] 11. The snake's egg was a comic's egg ... Now these wolves are dangerous ... they are raking the bananaseas ... for tax undercover ... It's heading for Vanilla ... 12. And he said : I don't have brothers. I lost them all in the night ... Now these pink fleeces are almost wet ... Now I have my own bakerman's faces ... Lalla's in my own eyes ... and the babbabubbles, gliding through the night ... They all work for vanilla ... she's a pawn of a red checked dragon ... She must spin comics all the time ... 13. She's spinning her comic-princesses ... in black, red, blue and green ... making the candyrings tight ... [b. While green canaries escape from the blue through pink curtains ...] 14. Pink fleeces are so fluffy and wet ... Tears move through them, to become icecreams ... The fleeces move like strange russian chess ... 15. These are the bananas of tax and insurance, burning the money to spread it's ashes by the lights of chess and gamble ... These are the golden lambsteads making a living on the ceilings and the walls ... 16. It was Easterclaus visiting you in hell, where he gave you the comic egg ... [b. These wars were written by a bananas pencil, raging until another comic dictator would stand up.] 17. There was a white hard candy camera inside, bringing them all behind the glass of an elf's museum in a sharke's temple [b. spinning the comic juices ... this cowboys chess.] 18. It was spinning the vanilla glass, by strange sorts of indian chess. [b. There are coming fishes out of barrel organs, while a blind musician is moving the bar.] 19. A ladybug is opening her kitchen, to show her princesses of comics. [b. She shows her rivers, she's moving the bars.] 20. Still the boys grow in checked trees, in bakertrees, these strange bananas ... they sleep ... spinning tax and assurance by sharp ornaments and wine ... they are burning money, spreading the ashes ... while snakes bring them over the rivers of death 21. A banana rises on tv .. telling stories ... leading the kids astray ... by strange holes of birthdays ... they grow in yellow flowers ... They are shrieking red checked potatoes and yellow checked juices ... while the air is shivering ... 22. In these red checked potatoes comics are turned into movies ... while boys live behind the bars ... waiting to be drowned by Pharaos ... He makes movies by drowning the money comics ... on the back of an arabian seadragon ... a strange automaton ... 23. Now all these machines of deer ... they drown the comics ... to show their cinema-screens ... The red tiger is rippling there ... Strange coffee ... coming from the red ... 24. While all these birdstatues ... They're coming out of the banana ...

2.

banana hearts

1. The movie egg, it was a dragon egg, coming from Pharaos mouth ... it was a red checked potatoe ... bringing the floods, while Noah span the tax and the insurance ... Is this charity's curse ? Or a vanilla one ? 2. Tell me when the book rolls ... There's a book egg on a dragon's tower ... spouting blasphemy in lines ... The butterflies, they fly to the deserts ... where the egg of Moses hides ... Still a dragon is spitting sand ... giving powders to machines of deer ... 3. These books are spun by sand ... behind the chess the statues stand ... it streams behind vanilla glass ... breeding the addictions to raise money for the churches ... comic churches ... 4. Baptize them ! Bring them in the movie ... Behind movie bars, they get their blessings, from uncle A to Z, while uncle one to ten counts the money ... burning them to be ... behind dragonbars ... behind strange letters ... where they can be strange glue ... 5. They become strange machines, locked up in books ... Arabian horses ridden by others ... spiders with many arms ... Here behind the book, uncle peacock is laughing ... It's a strange fairyground ... no one is seeing what is happening ... These are dark fruits ... strange fishes underwater covered yet so naked ... 6. These are dark ornaments hanging in the wind ... While uncle unicorn is making them all deaf ... when the flags are waving ... surrounded by everlasting damnations breeding the joke statues ... 7. Uncle Peacocks are big boats behind the books ... In chocolate they breed the games ... The pawns want to become free on a bananaboat behind the book ... where the smoke is rising .. 8. They are marching to the worlds beyond chess, looking for ... the golden cigars ... They travel without moving ... 9. Uncle Peacocks are the big Arabian Seacoccoons, the Arabian Seadragons ... 10. They are the puppetmasters of southern coasts They have golden stares, killing business for tax ... killing business for tax ... They are big stinging plants without mercy ... living in ... the wizard's hearts ... Banana hearts they are ... rising with the wings of dementia ... 11. They drink their drinks fast, from small bottles.

3.

the journey

1. The journey through the sharkian temple was a long journey. I lost a lot of friends in all sorts of traps. These were the hidden altars of the sharks. 2. I didn't know why they took my friends away, but later I would find out. Finally I reached the room of the throne, but it was an old lady sitting there between the spiderwebs, turning young when I touched her. 3. There are seven days for the mortals to prepare for the lightening coming to take them away, there, in the room of the throne. They have touched the old lady, and she became young again. It is a thin lady, but when you touch her again she becomes thick. She will tell you ... all what the lullabies taught her ... 4. The lullabies in daydream's spring, covering the morning, for there will be no afternoon ... Seven days for the mortals, without afternoons ... only mornings, evenings and of course ... nights ... to prepare for the lightening ... coming to take them away ... 5. I was one of them We would be taken to a ship to find out we were already on that ship ... with a name called 'All there is' There was no sea ... only that ship ... the sea was in the ship ... 6. I was one of these mortals ... on this Eagle Ship These guys were strange ... They ate butchers ... making strange leathers ... It was whispering while powders started to spread ... smelling like the seeds of flowers ... It was like an ornament ... 7. A Jesus Christ is hanging in the air ... no clothes, but yet so covered ... by lines of old books and by strange leathers ... He's smiling, yet the tears are flowing ... He's dying, but coming to life in a strange way ... 8. They tell me not to touch the picture for at the end there will be no any Jesus Christ left, only some boys from Lynx It is written in their holy books. 9. I feel naked yet so covered like the insect losing his skin to get a new one ... in which cocoon am I ? Is this the Arabian Sea-cocoon ? There is no sea .. there is no air ... only a ship called 'All there is' an eagle-ship ... like the red picnic like a red ball .. having so many colours in the night

10. Then the glues are overflowing and then I'm seeing the face of the Lion's Tea Wizard it was something I drank ... it was something I feared ... but it was beautiful 11. I can go into these cellars now ... the places I used to fear as a child ... I had such strange feelings in my stomach thinking .. but it was just the wizard calling me 12. I had a strange tattoo of a pale orange octopus on my lower stomach ... it was hurting me ... but also giving me strange delights ... The wizard has this tattoo also ... he shows me ... He has so many tattoos ... also one of a black snail ... and one of a white rabbit ... 13. There are strange banana's lying on a golden dish ... It's like pumping all these strange feelings inside ... I used to misinterpret these ... I was in the misunderstanding of this lion's tea ... I walk towards him ... he's the grandfather of the ship ... the big daddy ... but suddenly I feel like I'm in glue 14. Don't touch him, they say for at the end there will not be any Jesus Christ left ... only some boys from Lynx ... it is written in their holy books. 15. They say all these figures turn into the boys from lynx in the nights to bring shivering mornings ... Is fear their key ? ... They wear the rings of fear ... It's a strange machine of dogs ... 16. They have also a ring of guilt, spreading flowers of blame and shame ... with these they do business ... with these they raise the doll ... to hit the orange balls in pieces ... while bakersmen try to hide these dolls and crimes ... they look so soft ... inviting me to eat the custard 17. Don't touch them, they say, for these bakersmen are from the hollow, selling hunger to those in hunger ... They are businessmen of vanilla ... her hidden soldiers ... they are the traps in shark's temple ... Don't touch them, for at the end there will not be a Jesus or a Judas ... only some boys from lynx ... 18. In this strange cocoon ... This Arabian Sea-Cocoon ... such strange creatures are swimming there but at the end boys from lynx ... 19. And then I drink the Tiger's Coffee ... while someone said it doesn't exist only Lion's Tea ... so I spit it out ... trying to just learn to drink Lion's Tea ... I need to get used to it ... Oh, how many bakerman's faces there are ... so many liars and lurers so many swindlers and smugglers all traps in shark's temple 20. Maybe I ... am in such a trap too ...

thinking I reached the goal But the goal was another trap This doorway of luxury and life just another trap or is this trap protecting me against something worse ? a worse trap ? 21. What is this for a strange plant ... It's a stinging nettle ... Biological harpoons to draw me away from the danger I had been caught by a shark ... but all these things are just illusions at the end there are no saints no sinners, no escapes, no prisons ... no liberties ... no bondages only some boys from Lynx ... 22. There's a stinging nettle roaring in my body ... shivering between sickness and health ... between sanity and insanity ... but what is what and who is who ... it's in the eye of the beholder ... it's in wasp-tv ... 23. In a shark's temple ... we all drank from the lion's tea ... making our lists of people in traps while we were in the deepest traps ourselves ... we had a red eye, a wasp eye, misleading us ... we were boxers in the arena ... fighting for lies ... drinking from the Lion's Tea to get more drunk ... 24. I need to bite myself through this Lion's Tea ... there is no other way ... I'm still in Shark Temple ... on an Eagle Ship while a lion is flowing through my veins ... doing business it's a dog-machine ... raising the dolls ... hitting orange balls ... they're moving through the cocoons of sleep ... to reach the tables of a new world 25. There's a shark-temple in the desert ... The road to eagle ship ... but it's a trap just protecting you against a worse trap These are orange liars on a ship with bakerman's faces ... but don't touch them .. these lurers ... these misleading lights and fires for at the end ... there will be only some boys from lynx ... 26. It's an ornament, these boys from lynx ... while a white rabbit is dancing bringing them to the pink sun to let them fight against the one without business ... the stinging nettle ... and it grows on eagle ship ... in a barn to eat the boys from lynx ... let me tell you ... this ornament will die ... for the white rabbit likes to wear dead ornaments. 27. Who can defeat the boys from lynx ? Who can destroy their marketsquares ? Only the white rabbit knows ... 28. Vanilla has some planes let me tell you ... these leaves from a stinging plant ... these bakertrees, these forestroads the rabbit knows ... that all life grows in an orange ravine, where the broken bridge roars ... 29. There I found the red shoe, where the bootlaces rule ... There, in an orange ravine, the shoe was born ... No need for business ... everyone is equal ... we are all leaves of a stinging nettle ... 30. I see bakerman's faces running, I see kids playing in the snow .. having orange guns ... with orange liars ... Bakerman's faces have risen from the death ... they attack the boys from lynx ... It's always like that ... when orange strikes the blue and then we are in Shark Temple again ...

Dangerous Tiles

31. It all started in a rabbit's ear ... There's your cradle in a deaf shop, deep down in an orange ravine, where the broken bridge is roaring ... It all started in a rabbit's ear ... Someone forgave us and we got here ... It is all done by prayers ... from a Sharkian Temple ... making the journey to an eagle ship this is all there is ... like a red picnic full of lion's tea ... 32. It was something you drank from an iron shoe in a rabbit's ear ... Still a painting and a statue in a shark's temple ... a strange mirror ... you see yourself ... and all these bakerman's faces ... turning into boys from lynx in that deepest night ... there where she found the coin ... when the orange struck the blue ... 33. Time was just a waste ... but when we would hold the days in our arms ... we wouldn't have time ... then there wouldn't be clocks ... then there wouldn't be mirrors ... 34. It all started in a rabbit's ear ... where someone prayed for us ... where someone forgave us and forgot about us ... and now we're here ... in a sharkian temple ... drinking lion's tea ... It all started here ... in this deep orange ravine ... where the broken bridge was roaring ... what would happen if this rabbit ear would fall off ? 35. Here you found your shoe ... with all these bootlaces roaring in your head like snakes all these forestroads ... in a shark's temple ... leading you ... to the eagle ship ... letting orange strike the blue ... 36. There are men standing in the shark temple ... old statues ... they have fights in the nights holding the black days tight ... 37. It's a strange stinging nettle ... growing from the deepest ravine, that orange ravine heading for the eagle ship ... heading for ... a strange castle ... where everything starts to cry is it another trick of vanilla ? 38. She breaks you without mercy ... when the rabbit ears fall off ... then everything starts to shiver ... I know a castle where everything starts to shiver ... everyone is equal ... so let it circulate ... no blood ... just glue and tears ... 39. Vanilla's island stings, but makes you free ... in a shark temple ...with a wasp eye on it, half closed half open ... also on our heads ... we are prisoners ... never free ... following the hunger to get more hungry ... 40. And the boys from bloodhound with their riches ... they fall when the meaner ones rise ... these creatures were living in them these stinging plants ... and now they are up, tearing their masks away ... they're free ... [b. on a golden picnic.] 41. There are growing strange plants from the orange ravine ... they are the hard men, mean men ... there's no business ... only guns ... They are horrible creatures of arabian seas ... 42. Arabian Seacreatures, these statues in a shark temple ... riding the storm ... 43. These hard men ... do the dance ... do the fire ... they ride everything ... these are hard days ... and you need to hold them ... or the clocks will spin again ... mirroring in the sky ... coming closer ... from the dark sides of the temple in blue glue ... blue glue ... 44. They are predators ... looking for butchers ... making strange leathers in the sky ... they have hidden altars ... the tiles on the ground ... these tiles are dangerous

Truants

45. Blame and shame are weaving the dolls ... while exodus rises up in them ... giving them good faces ... by business you can only escape by a twoface .. while the truants have orange guns ... 46. Jesus Christ is a businessman ... but I'm a truant ... I don't show up at all God had never sent me out ... I'm a truant .. if you would ever see me ... it's also the last time For I'm the first and the last ... I'm a shark ... 47. They have bred the cyborg ... along a doghedge ... where the fruits of exodus grow ... thorns stinging deep into the skin ... breeding the cyborg ... and at the end of that hedge, a catwoman lives ... breeding the sugar ... while her sister, a white rabbit ... turns it into alcohol ... and then they can cry or laugh themselves to death ... to sink to the bottom of the glass ... [b. They are the two-faced mask of Pharaoh, drowning the boys on heights of shark's temples in golden altars of water ... He baptizes them ...] 48. You must have a two-faced nose to escape ... or just being a truant ... the hard men will do ... when they reach the hard white candy ... The doghedge is my suit ... this strange plant ... growing inside of me, stinging me ... while people are crying and laughing themselves to death ... I feel myself like the lord of dominoes, like a domino of vela, installing the jokes on two sides ... 49. It's an ornament from grandmothers box ... an automaton ... Seven will rise up to bring us over the nightseas ... These are like marchpane, with hard white candy lying inbetween ... It's like a new alphabeth ... and we can live in these letters ...

4.

golden picnic

1. There are beating hearts of wizard's lying on dishes behind the books, there where the chessboards turn around to show you the enchanted mirror ... There are stinging plants in these strange banana hearts ... you start to cry ... 2. These cities are of sand, while jokestatues rise ... They travel without moving, they breath without breathing ... They are leading their own lives inside ... Them with their powdered balloons and powdered smiles ... 3. There are frogships under the sand ... giving them all injections of insurance ... Then the wizardhearts start to shiver ... Pharaoh has a yellowwhite mask, a Paradox ... always the gift of the snake ... 4. While panthers rise from bubbling waters ... I'm heading for Izu ... While it's surrounded by the hard men from the green candy ... bringing me to the Indian Seacocoons ... to the hidden uncle Peacocks ... hidden by vanilla ... [b. her curses stream.] 5. They drink their juices fast and spit their sands ... These are dragons hidden in swamps ... While golden cigars open ... 6. There are hot sticks and stings on fishes ... rising from the ancient seas ... on the wings of dementia ... 7. There's chocolate melting in tight bananas now the pawns are finally free ... stretching their arms in spidersuns ... There's strange leather in eastern skies ... riding the Arabian Horses ... now the pawns can drink their moviejuices ... it's like glue 8. There are strange playcards in the skies ... becoming free behind the books ... They were saved by a vanilla's strike ... while the letters are melting ... becoming sand again ... They can drink from the juices of cartoon ... on this golden picnic's day ... [b. while the griffon is floating ..] 9. They are blind behind the bars of books ... while spiderian swords pierce the eyes ... These were Calvary glasses ... on a cat, hare and dog called easter ... a strange white trident of your local insurance office ... strange trafficlighs in your city .. 10. And the squirtel makes strange pictures behind comics and cartoons with a checked white hard candy camera while strange statues paint the skies ... [b. It's August's moon touching August's sun on the twentieth ... [c. while she stops screaming, reaching for december skies.]] 11. There are fishes with striped candystings, floating to Eminius Day. There are boats of sirens with candystings, floating to Eminius Day. While a griffin's boy soothes the hard men by his flute. He's enchanting them again, to let them reach for the viking's helmet. 12. And he said : will you make it, will you name it, you can't, you're off, I'm a lady's tower, you're screaming, I'm bleeding, I am a bakerman's face, tell me father, I'm a bakerman's face. You're dreaming, I did it, I'm a bakerman's face, tell me father, I'm a bakerman's face. 13. There are seven parrots on a stream, showing pictures of icy mountains, under December's Sun, a green one. While a green checked balloon is raking it's moon.

5.

Eminius Day

1. Eminius Day shows the shiny hearts into monkey's chests, entering the bear. Their pyama's are soft, while honey is dripping. 2. There are strange leathers and strange wool in the air. These are the underground cities of dwarves, making her heart so tired. 3. She's cold, lying on the bed. Waiting for Eminius Day. Mother will spin the sugar. Mother will show the sugared red tongues. She's cold while I'm standing on December's Sun, a green one. 4. Then I speak my spells, stinging striped candybars into the boys from lynx. It's a machine, running on strange coins. It's a strange sort of Russian Chess. 5. There are seven judgements on the mouth, on Eminius Day, written by the sword of Thoth. His house is built on candyneedles and candyspears, stinging and breaking the bones. Then the door opens. 6. He's the brother of Jom, waiting for ..Eminius Day. No time to think. It's fourty-one o clock on a Brannan's watch. 7. These snakes break through walls, they are coming from Eminius Day. 8. There are Eminius Eagles in the skies, causing earthquakes, while orange liars rise from zebra boats ... 9. They are coming from December Sun, from green checked balloons ... surrounding the skies. 10. There are two captains on a ship, breaking the spanish warrior who took you away. Michiel Adrianson The Raider, and Piet Hein, stealing his silver. 11. You must swear to keep this a secret, with two vingers raised to Osiris, Uncle Peacock and Uncle Unicorn. 12. The History Warriors bend their knees by moving glue-pictures from history. And I take flight. They have Onion-hearts. I see their arms everywhere. All these history-pictures are just arms moving ... arms of a strange tiger ... rippling in december skies ... 13. There are strange syrops in the air of docters ... bringing history back ... Watch their pictures on the wall and start to bend. 14. Watch these moving pictures flying, with the wings of dementia .. It's coming from the trees .. moving mosaics ... 15. Watch these ornaments of glue ... 16. There's strange glue coming out of businessmen noses ... pictures of glue ... moving pictures ... coming from history ... waiting to be sold ... to live in someone's head or knee ... 17. Watch the prices ... so many sacrifices for a picture ... These are strange traffics ... these are strange arms grasping and holding tight ... 18. There are octopuses living in someone's head for halve of the price ... There are strange auctions ... Cuyornaida CorsetStrange games ... They are spreading their arms ... while the winner ..eats them all ... 19. The winner becomes a million-armed spider in a sun ... December Sun ... So much care for history ... he gave his life away to buy them all ... and now he's your history-teacher ... 20. They are the guards to strange gardens of glue ... the watchers of lapoendria ... There are wild cats in Izu ... with noses dripping of tea ... while they eat the pictures ... creating your futures on martian hills ... Mars in Izu ... 21. So much pain covered up by the black checked blankets of tax and chess, while the birds of insurance pick up their Jesus Christ to let them ascend in their heavens ... These .. are the bakerman's faces .. 22. The History Warriors walk slowly with little lights towards the city of bakermen ... They are masking the screams, behind feathered masks in two colours, having a split laugh ... 23. Bakermen are dancing before their mirrors in their corridors ... moving their strange masks, and making funny faces ... they are hiding their screams ... 24. The skies become of silver, and then the bakers start to eat ... all these History Warriors with their little lights ... They are bringing these warriors to a soft spot inside Here the Vanilla Queen thrones ... 25. They are eating the historybooks with the moving pictures of glue ... while Vanilla surrounds them ... hiding the future behind ... She even eats the boys from Lynx to spit the red fires ... 26. While they are spred by the smoke, the Varia Bird rises ... showing the rainbowbananas ... so many roads to ride on ... Letters from a mailman's heart ... with so many birds of insurance ... these birds of uncle unicorn ... 27. And these children, they have the wings of dementia ... these wild cats of lapoendria ... seeing the candy in the pictures ... a thick layer on every street ... They don't see the horror ... for it's covered by the layers of tax, business and chess ... with the cream of democracy ... they feel free in their games ... They only remember their names in thick letters. 28. They are safe in the arms of uncle unicorn ... 29. They only see the wars in bottles of history far away on the attics of their grandparents .. behind moving walls ... of strange cupboards with strange paintings ... 30. They bought their pictures in old cigarshops. Pictures with so many layers of glue, named after the old kings. 31. And these old kings live in their own worlds of dementia ... using soldiers to win their wars ... these bottles so far away ... these redblue soulbottles. 32. They all live in lapoendria ... the world of dementia ... where these wild cats saved me. 33. On the corner of a dark street, before the alley, Willem One to Five was sitting, having silver warriors inside ... These are the kings of soul-bottles striped, in redgreen, greenorange and greenblue. 34. On comiccorners they live ... tied to the coins of history ... strange cowboys ... 35. Tied and glued screams covered by candylayers, while you only hear a soft voice showing you the pictures ... There are strange flies lying on our eyes raking. Wild cats know how to get the snakes out of the eggs ... 36. Willem One to Five ... still a strange taxmachine spouting insurances ... coming from the chessboard .. black and white .. While thick democracies roar it doesn't sting anymore ... 37. You can get born in it ... a boy called birthday lives inside ... on a birthdaytart with little lights ... spinning glue Five layers on the picture ... while the sixth brings the silver ... the seventh the gold 38. There's tax spinning inside, making strange films of history ... There are many layers of an onion ... It's coming from golden cigars, from three clauses : santa clause, summer clause and easterclause. 39. Willem III makes pictures by a checked white hard candy camera, while zebraboats rise, with orange liars on them, spinning glue ... It's rising from the taxmachine ... from a machine of deer. There, where the birthday boys live ... 40. These machines of deer, all tax-machines ... raising their zebraboats with their orange liars ... these strange clauses and on top they spin the films of history ... rippling through the skies, coming as tigers ... by smoke, wine and coffee. 41. Hot glues behind the comics of tax and assurance ... they eat like bakerman's faces ... breeding them as wild as they are ... 42. These comics always come from the black and the white ... From strange French chessboards ... 43. Horses are turning their heads ... bringing the layers of glue ... Strange glues from mouths bring the lies ... to let the children sleep ...but these lies they ripple ... bringing the nightmares of truth ...

6.

nightmares of truth

1. And I am heading for Izu ... watching the ornaments of a new day ... By tight rings spinning tax ... Is there another way ? ... 2. These are just the creatures of Paradox, showing you the entrance and the exit ... 3. I am still ... heading for Izu ... becoming deaf on a zebra's boat with liars ... while their truths brought me to nightmares ... Nightmares ? Or didn't I swallow them well ? Show me some spice from arabian castles ... Show me some lights of bakerman's faces ... and lead me through these nights ... 4. There are seven nights on an Arabian Lion ... Show me the creatures of paradox ... to let me spin my own tax ... in my own comics ... to see the horses of bristal brival ... those red horses with the black eyes ... bring me back ... 5. Show me the kings of Smulk, to build my own ladders on strange animals, to become strange ... strange enough to enter ... Let me be a stranger ... a stranger man ... 6. With the eyes of Willem I, II and III, making pictures by a checked white hard candy camera ... 7. While Uncle Unicorns ears spit fire ... These are strange boots ... It's spinning the games of Insurance ... by strange candy and strange medicine ... It's taking their own Jesus Christs ... covering up so many problems ... Is there a way out ? So many layers of lights and juices ringing in the night ...

Deabebbe Sapur

1.

1. the businessmen are heading for the businessmen, the coffee is heading for the coffee ... and you ... you're still sitting on that old chair decorated by old birthdays 2. come and discover with me, a new world beyond the business ... over the hills and far away but i know i'm talking to a wall ...3. There are jewels in a spanish sun ... 4. I'm looking in it, while I'm getting blind ... But that's to escape your ornaments ... I'm finally safe 5. the big beer is running through scandinavian streets, the big lie is walking behind him ... they make the same movements and before you know ... they tackled you and then you're one of them ... they're catching shadows, lunatic actions ... sucking the fools from the roofs ... it's an artist's mis-vacation ... planned too late on a hard man's spoon 6. now all he can do is spit and roar ... but they call it art that's one for sure ... the fall of the artist, still a beautiful painting, something to remember and to collect all he is doing is making art ... even his funeral is called a masterpiece ... the way he smiles is artall good movies from a big talent. covered by big business ... 7. You with your green coffee ... having some contracts with the big tea and some lamentation dogs ... and now your passengers cannot sleep It's like the curse of the blackest night It's your ghostship with the lions on with your babes dying on the sides It's green coffee which you gave me ... It made me sick

2.

1. he's the guard of my memory that old wasp but he shows me that the old house from the past was also just a memory i lived in this memory such a long time not liking it the old wasp ... the old guard dealing in memories 2. finally they are treasures ornaments ...which need to be worn on the right place the wasp will sting, until the memory is open, until the memory is at home until it is understood the wasp ... the driver of oldtimers ... of old locomotions bringing them home all these lost grandfathers and grandmothers back to the garage 3. the wasp is sitting on the first floor ... in a rocking chair ...for a deeper sleep while all clocks on the walls are exploding the wasp's mosaics are roaring through my spine ...still a strange language it stings deep 4. businessmen heading for businessmen to play the big cuyornaida corset ... to close the fences to the new world 5. businessmen heading for businessmen .. to lay the dogmagnets deep inside ... there's something with their sea-machines there's something with their coffee ... and still too much tea dripping from their noses ... 6. it's the gathering of all big noses it's the gathering of all cowards ... quenching every war which would save the children sacrificing their meals to the dragons 7. it's the gathering of the big cartoon ... too scared to lay the horror ... but now the tragedies are rising ... rising from cartoon all these businessmen all these sacred men just blasphemy undercover 8. there's an orchestra of new waves ... entering your room planting machines in the corners the businessmen are still running ... with their pipes of peace no they have too much old tea in their eyes staring at me if you ask me ... they have faces dripping with tea i wonder why what is the deal ... 9. these loves are two seconds too fast ... they are wearing guns between their legs which they never use well only when they have to install their machines they are wearing the guns between their legs ... they are wearing white rags between their ornaments they are wearing their white flags for seventy seven reasons, which i don't want to hear 10. i heard enough stories i heard enough ornaments like this singing in the rain but i'm watching my trousers grow my back is geting taller ... it's like the wasp is growing there with ten millions of little businessmen so little little lights shining there ... carrying songs on their back spreading their powders ... spreading their powders to make them all blind for the land behind the fence the land behind grandmother's garden11. it's still so weak there pale flowers, pale butterflies waiting to meet the pale ones they are all waiting still so fragile still so sleepy

3.

1. decembers cold nights brought the watermarks on my face ... decembers horrors ... the wasp's tattoo ... all from the wasplake ... 2. decembers spoon hit the waspmark on my leg and someone was feeling my pulse there in that old forest ... now the kids can never come alive again 2. it was an old priest with some sacred marks ... but these were too sacred so no one really survived 3. and this forest is still enchanted ... like virgo's church ... even the fishes are drowning in the pond ... and the candyhouses are bitter there it's all grey and green ... 4. the watermark still on my head the snake is doing business ... he's still breeding his watermarks there now we work in his factories and the curse is getting heavier every year ... it's like farao's hand so we are waiting for some plagues ... 5. it's the invisible debt business makes the beans so sharp so now we're watching the sideshows ... the eyes of the wasps ... for when the dog is home ...it will start to eat your furniture ... and finally yourself and your family ... laying the chain forever ... they can be dangerous criminals another don't want to have around 6. Tatoos on dry places ... The watermarks know where they can suck ... Thick gel on thin places ... The crocodile knows it's paths ... 7. Conspiracies of the damned ... They are all heading for each other ... 8. It's all getting clear through the eyes of a wasp ... But no one wants to leave it this way 9. Real pride doesn't exist, In the heart of the liar, Real honour doesn't meet his mouth It's only some wood of fear, blowing away his consciousness ... and something else is taking him over 10. They are too afraid to live ... They are too afraid to touch When all the curses are installed ... They start to deny everything ... To cover up the wounds ... To cover up your screaming child inside So that no one will ever see ... and no one can really help you ... Barbed Wire Hearts 11. They try to let you feel insecure ... for they could never feel the blessing of pride ... They are barbed wire hearts, they are liars from the beginning, sent out to make you one of them ... 12. They knock until your fragile mind opens up ... And then they slowly slide away ... leaving a pipeline for a daily suck When you give them your heart, They will let it fall ... And soon you will be one of them for you cannot use your heart anymore you're a barbed wire heart too ... 13. Is there any spell to reverse this curse ? Yes, when Jesus will betray Judas with a barbed wire kiss But that already happened hundred years ago in the heart of London, when James Bond auctioned his golden rabbit among the clocks 14. The one of the biggest ridicule, The one with the trademark-condoms, The one with the coldest touch, The one with the diplomatic sleep-pills, The one with the copyright-assistants, The one with the careful curses, Has the keys of this machine. 15. It's the sports Journalist, with razorsharp money, having razorsharp records, running in the middle of bald heads ... It's the game's capitalist, It's sunday's Scrooge in a rotten church, It's your mental brigade to identify flying objects unexpected, It's your bridegroom on a purple rose, It's your liar's doctor on a cold summernight, It's your mother's leather dog-chain. 16. The waterlights are heading for ... the light in the pocket ... They have seen light ... Now they are hungry ... 17. A world of elves cannot save you this time ... For now it's something worse ... Your mother's worst put in chess She's drinking a cup, and you think it's filled with your blood, but you don't know it for sure ... It can also be your neighbour's blood ... Her agenda's are never clear ... 18. You always live like you're not knowing what she exactly cooked for you ... Strange dinners from a mother's heart and now you're sick of it 19. No one can help you when mother makes her cruel decisions ... It's like your last joker has been blown away by the wind ... And all the shops are closed today Now your waiting for the night ... Mother's night For the strike of her nails .. The Waterlights are heading for the pocket ... 20. Those waterlights ... in the night ... They have smelled something ... Some pale purple roses ... Now they are up for some barparties ... While no one can save you ... While no one knows you .. You are a stranger in your own land now ... And you even don't know where you are anymore ... For the waterlights have come Waterlights in tall delights Tall insectians ... too tall too tall to feel safe ... 21. It was your mother's worst put in chess ... Now the waterlights, these tall delights are heading for your home ... It seems like mom pushed a bell the worst bell, worse than a million schoolbells ... It seems she was in problems, So now she made this choice ... Or was it an accident ? You don't know ... for her agenda's aren't clear And her diaries are dark too dark to read You wouldn't bear it if you would know what she's all writing about you It's your moms worst put in chess It's like you sit on electric chairs all through the house. 22. But hey, come on, read it another time, and you will not be so shocked ... for time heals all wounds ... well, but ... they might want to take over your moms occupation ... to become your next horror ... that even one day you will beg for those old waterlights again ... your moms worst put in chess ... your last flame on a birthday's cake 23. But hey, you will survive death ... there are worse things than that this old curses chessboard ... which raped your whole family without pardon where it swallowed all colours away where it set it's arena's ... still an advertisement-clip roaring in your head ... Razorsharp like hell, dressed in old rags, She's still playing the widow ... painting the wet blue faces from the Big Coffee ... all these statues ... A woman with intelligence is a pearl in your hand ...24.

Awakening the wasp, the ornament's transmission ... In pale purple screams the crime appears ...
Awakening the wasp, awakening the fears ... to trace the ladders inside on a woman's thick coffee-panties.

4.

1. Pictures drawn by the trauma, A boy having sharp arrows on his back, An autistic boy ... Hunting the black deer ... It's not you anymore ... someone else took the job ... He heard your scream of the black past ... and now he wrapped himself in the deerskin ... 2. He's weaving new languages on your face ... Your senses were tricked so deeply but now he takes you out of the illusion ... when the red stinging nettle clock ticks ... deep in the forest surrounded by waspnests ... then we will see the big "most" ... it was all ...deeper inside making us all deaf to the lie ... the good mask just melts ... when the wings are spread ... when the feather-pencil rules ... while the persons are raging above your head ... in their unknown languages ... you're just a victim from a war in the air ... from an old birdnest ... from an ancient war you're just an object in their eyes no one really knows about what the wars are raging it's an ancient war high in the air ... it's rising above your head ... so let it go 3. Black Spring from the ornament's ring ... Black lights so thin so thin Sinister shadows in the night ... Aldebaran birds, with their big eyes ... They make the tragedy so thick they can be your best friends ... but the day after they are your worst enemies ... 4. Aldebaran birds, so soft and so tender ... so weak and so fragile ... Aldebaran birds, but you can never touch them ... for they have the lion's spoon inside ... ready to attack you ... Aldebaran birds, they cry through the nights .. like they are old widows in the snow ... behind bars and thick glass ... for the rest of your life they are birds of tantalos creating the dream ... to let you miss it ... 5. These aldebaran birds ... like everlasting damnation ... aldebaran birds ...

APPENDIX

5.

1. Jericho ; Let the comic milk stream from Jericho, by white pink treasures, they take flight .. to become the towers of the sea ... Let the comic milk stream from Jericho. These are handkerchiefs of strange leather and wool ... beyond the museums ... there's honey streaming from Jericho ... where the trousers run ... they drink from iron boots ... while they ride the rabbits ... 2. Where snakes dance ... in a little musicbox ... the yellow station ... breeding the nothing .. and the hard men ... in the museum of tears ... the tears shine like onions ... 3. She was tied to the book, the stories were too heavy to bear, she was a book statue, a prisoner, standing there all these years. On the back of a book, sucking the life out of her, again and again, She was fragile as a butterfly, spreading the green tomatoe seeds. ... And she wanted you to read the stories, so that she could catch you in her net ... So that she could wrap her wings around you, and sucking you deeper inside, while you were turning the pages ... 2. She wanted to hurt you ... she wanted to break you ... to bring you into her world ... So that you would see ... the dragon's tears ... the tears she couldn't bear anymore ... She was tied to the book, a prisoner ... of a green dragon ... And she said : I want to hurt you, baby, I want to take you into my world, So read all the stories, for I cannot bear them anymore ... these green tomatoe seeds ... I'm still a whore ... a slave of a green dragon 3. They call me the whore of babylon, they call me a two-faced harlot, they say I am the seed of devils, but I'm behind dragon bars ...4. You cannot touch me, I'm only there to view ... I am a movie of tantalos ... a movie of a vanilla desert ... [b. Who mixes vanilla tears with banana tears gets the gold.]. 5. A toy hidden on a cupboard too high ... by a green dragon's lie ... Green dragon tears are falling, his books are almost exploding, the memories of his heart ... He needs some guests to read it, there in that old bookshop, So that he can make them prisoner of his books ... 6. Bookstatues they will be, tied on the back of his memories, his diaries, so they can catch his tears, and bring them to the other side of the world ... [b. And the one mixing the vanilla with the banana makes the gold.] 7. Butterflies are flying, butterflies are crying, butterflies are dying ... entering the other side of the world ... bearing the green dragon's tears ... stories too heavy for them, they are tied to these wings, only letting them fall ... and now they are called fallen angels ... by a green dragon's lie ... 8. There are yellow dragon's prisoners ... coming from the south, from the other side of the world, they march, They are the slaves of yellow tomatoe seeds, the tears of a yellow dragon ... 9. there are waspian wars in their heads. And she sais : I want to hurt you, baby, I want to see you bleed, want to see you shattered, so that you can enter my world, to see the tears of a green dragon, the tears I cannot bear ... until they reach vanilla desert ... a yellow stone, freezing them, they are icecream soldiers having the mark of the wasp where the waspian dragons breed them, where they have their soft wet candles ... to be candlestatues .. to burn their books again ... becoming swindling whores again, winning all the games, these swindler's games ... 10. casino's cabman was his name ... doing business by a dragon's flame ... they are swindlers to survive ... they lie to each other ... they are green liars in a boat ... a boat with wheels, with shrieking boys clocks ... casino's cabman is the statue on the front of their ship ...smiling ... doing business by a dragon's flame ... a two faced bed ... having their loves and their fights ... still warstatues becoming business statues in the night ... they are night troupers only touching each other ... by the flame of a dragon's castle ... 11. She's a tear letting others cry ... She's a death letting others die ... She's everything, having no possessions ... She's free ... She's a Green Dragon's Lie ...

6.

1. There are gamblers in a hall, they ride, They have the red eye on their heads, they fly, like tall statues, becoming the tiles of the ceilings, still strange pictures, for you and me, these pictures move, and I'm lying on the floor, cutting potatoes ... 2. In a red cathedral, they hide the three pale purple flowers, the red eye is sinking to history, to the museum, to write the future with the iron pencil ... a winged pencil ... with feathers from an aldebaran bird ... 3. And I see yellow liars standing on tops of ships. The mummy is rising, and all banks are closed. There is war now, and soon the pickpocks will come to bring the wounded coins to the bank, the yellow hospital. When they sleep the war's lost, and tea will bring them to business to do the war under the skin ... Here they sting with their needles under soft blankets, while spanish suns blind the screams. 4. There are yellow liars on an orange stream. She's selling her Jesus Christs to the mouths of mice ... strange coins of a strange lady ... with a strange smell .. 5. She took them from the battlefields ... wounded ... and now she brought them back to the bank strange sacrifices on strange altars ... 6. At one o clock Aquarius enters the dining room with a golden pear in his hand You cannot eat it, he sais, but you can watch it, while your nuclear hunger is melting away tricks of the stomache The fat boy is getting fatter, and his head is getting greener and bigger while spitting green fire 7. A glass is spreading nuclear water, but Aquarius sends it away. Go to your room ! he roars. He's the master of nuclear dreams. 8. My grandfather is shivering under the table where he found a little chemical orange, escaped from a lawyer's suite. Please, jump into me, the little thing roars, then I will take you away Grandfather is getting smaller by the magic of the little orange, and there he disappears into the orange It is a little radio inside It flies from city to city to spread the chemical disease. It is a trap 9. There are orange liars ... rising from it ... I'm feeling like Pinocchio feeling the juices of his tree flowing through my body I look at my hands again ... it's like they are turning into lion's claws ... what the heck are you doing to me, I roar It's like I have a million of claws I'm looking at the fir again, but now an old tall and slender man is standing there with a tall beard I'm the wizard of the Lion's Tea, he says Oh help, my whole body is changing into a lion now And I feel the lion's tea streaming from my own heart now 10. It's five o'clock in the night It's silent in the dining-room No firs, no lions the little golden pear of Aquarius is ticking on the table It's ticking very soft and slow It's soothing my head I see all my fears and hurt melting away, spiralling into the golden pear 11. I'm still crying, but all my tears slide into the golden pear, melting away I can only hear their echoes, but it's all fading away all these roaring lions There's a lion carved in the golden pear but I also see other animals carved into it It's a beautiful golden pear It smells like pear-chocolate It reminds me of the white chocolate It also reminds me of the last golden swan 12. Eleven o'clock in the morning The pear-clock is ticking louder and louder, faster and faster Twelve o'clock in the afternoon The pear-clock explodes The end of a white chocolate dream or was it an orange chocolate ? About this the war rages Chocolate Wars 13. I'm dreaming of an Egyptian Boat, Riding in a new sort of factory ... Feeling Thoth's smoke in my back Dragons dreams I'm dreaming of a sun, standing between ten mirrors ... Ten men coming from the sun, Ten men to do the dance, They kidnapped us all, They brought us all the cards But those who don't believe, Will be home this night At the end of the story, I know it seems strange, The mailman is the eleventh, The eleventh of ten Ten men with big grey beards Ten Noah's on a tower Ten Noah's on an Egyptian Boat An Ark for plants 14. It seems I'm in the Lion's Confusion again I'm drinking from the Lion's Tea A woman called Marion is feeding me She loves the Red Rose She loves me She has ten men painted on her hat Trees grow on her hat, and all sorts of herbs and plants Her face is like the yellow flower That good old Licorice Still the gardener of our squares Still our hope to touch the moon Having ten little men on his white gloves The ten fingers of Toth I'm feeling his smoke in my back These are dragon dreams These are cigars of Pharaoh 15. let our masks make us hard again, while we get softer inside ... we're building marchpane town ... Give us our pink white trousers back ... and let our hearts sink in milk again, while masks and towers are rising ... 16. Where the chessboards are red ... [b. the roses are red too ... and also the ghosts ... You're in a red golden ball. [c. Where the chessboards are blue ... you are blue too ...]] 17. If you want to change the world ... You must change your view first You're in a red golden ball ... 18. Gabriel had fallen. He had fallen away from so many things, when he found out about the offer. 19. Gabriel had fallen, for he found out about his own inner strategy, his own path, and made the decision to break with them. He found out that he didn't want to bring this sacrifice. 20. Yes, he would take over this planet [b. And yes he would destroy the mice.] 21. And he would destroy them, his former friends. He went to a lady, a scorpion's lady. Now he wanted to make this planet red. 22. Gabriel had fallen away from so many pleasures. 23. Now he wanted to be red again ...red again. Gabriel had fallen away from so many treasures. Now he wanted to be glorious again. 24. He heard about the sacrifice they needed to bring ... He would never enter, and now he found out about this new record, this new machine, inside. He didn't need them anymore. 25. They were always red, appearing in blue and white, building the green. His own red, he would introduce it on the green. 26. His father Troxododeron was a chemical fluid, a force binding the powers of the green together for so many histories. It was a red fluid appearing blue and white. It was the strongest force in the universe, the strongest form of magnetism based on a circle of the strongest poles. 27. Troxododeron was the chief of the Elohim, the inner power of the Adonais. He was the chief of all these red flowerfields, so enchanted. [b. But these red cowboys were always hiding behind the bottles.] 28. When you looked at it, it started to become blue and white, sucking away your energies, and giving you a new sight ... the sight of illusion ... These flowers were vampiristic ... These flowers were ... bewitched and enchanted ... to bring you into a new feeling ... these red flowerfields ... 29. Gabriel had to travel through all these flowerfields again, to the end ... where it all began ... He knew the dangers of these flowers, turning themselves against all traitors ... 30. It would be a battle between him and his father a battle he knew he had to fight since he was young ... Red Gabriel was a demon now, in the eyes of the Elohim and Adonais ... 31. He would be thrown into the lake of sulphur and fire ... A lake which he feared ... but he would reach the other side ... where he could share the red powers to the creatures of the green ... 33. He found out he was a prisoner himself .. He wanted to be his own god, he wanted to be a good guide for the creatures of the green, telling them all about the red secrets ... 34. He had this tape in his hand, Antartica, a game of business. It was a present of his father, but now he chose to change this game into a wargame. He wanted more adventure, and he wanted more love. 35. He desired to have true friendships with those prisoners on the green, and finding a way to lead them out. 36. Troxododeron was a shapeshifting experiment, growing out to be the number one of chemicals. It was the medicine of wizards. But now Gabriel wanted to mix it into another kettle. [b. He went to a scorpion's lady. She didn't tell him who she was, but she said she could help him. [c. It was the first woman of Troxododeron. [d. She also fell out of the kingdom, and was now a fallen angel with the name Rahab. She was a scorpion from the sea, a mystical creature.]--] 37. Gabriel had found himself some lovers. A bit of Troxododeron was laying on the table like ashes. [b. A bit of Troxododeron was in their hands, and they saw it was molding at a fast speed ... She had a scorpion's egg He had his own red, and they threw it into a kettle, while she was speaking her curses, and they made love [c. ... while the water was boiling, while the egg was screaming, and Troxododeron started to enter the fragile layers of the egg ... [d. The egg was weeping, while Gabriels Red was surrounding the new picture There was lightening and thunder, and stars were falling. It was the fall for many started to hear the voice of Red Gabriel.] --] 38. There were falls of angels, and even elohims and adonais started to fall, for Red Gabriel started to speak. Even his brother, Red Michael started to fall down, and turned to his brother, [b. while the egg's voice became higher and higher ... blood came out of their ears, and a red bible was lying before them.] 39. Yes, father, that is what I'm dreaming of these sheep ... leading me through red flowerfields ... until I'm in the red bedroom ... a red bedroom [b. and finally they will be ... sheep in the pasture ... which the red one will do ...] 40. Michai will do ... There will be a man from the south ... and then the blue son will rise to build it's throne forever ... [b. The blue sun will rise, in silver and gold, to build it's throne forever.] 41. This man will ride the snakes Snakes will come and snakes will go ... He will tame them all and ride them into the hands of his mother Metensia42. There was a man called Michai, the Mystery ... building a kingdom on the sun ... Messiah from the Troiade ... [b. The book of books, the father book of the bible It's the Red Bible] 43. He will speak his words in thunder, opening and closing the iron portals by seals of thunder ... And some will not be allowed to speak ... He makes silence and noise whenever he wants ... 44. He's the red balloon, [b. the man of scorpius.] 45. He speaks languages sideways the portals Ancient languages of the Red Waters Holding a Red Secret close to it's hearts 46. He has a trident of horns on his head He speaks in water blue and blood red He is Michai ... [b. They will burn the deserts ...] 47. The red eye is burning, the eye of sodom is here .. wandering from gomorrah to jericho ... oh jericho rise up, and gather the red ... who will be on top of the temple. 48. Herodes was cursing on his throne He was throwing women in a pit ... He was under Sodom's Curse but now his Michai was rising, his statue of red liberty, with seven torches in his hand making the swallow so hot ... He's the king of spice

All these birds from cigarette, they sing so high ... they let the kettle boil over ... creating the orphan's song ... 49. How many songs of Jericho does it take to rise the foundling ... to build the bridge to Draminia ... 50. The guitar will do .. these men are jukeboxes ... golden statues ... Put the Icecreams against the hot ones chocolate ... Melting is just making music ... 51. It all happens on a red chessboard the wizards surrounding the castles ... The guitar of wonder will lead us over the river ... they were all prisoned .. in kisses of death ... 52. The records turned red on that day, the rivers turned blood ... Hot in the North, cold in the South ... while a musical box was rising from the red chessboard ... It was a matter of melting and freezing ... while a little ballerina was dancing on top ... 53. On that day when the chocolates were melting ... the face of the frog appeared ... a red face ... the queen found her toy back ..finding out she wasn't queen anymore ... the toad was sitting in the dining room of little aquarius ... with a golden dish and a golden grail while the plate-statue was a golden lion ... 54. The cooks were all frozen, doing strange dances ... Dorothee found out she wasn't a woman anymore ... She had to swim through one almost frozen river ... to reach the tops of a new island ... where she would be tall and stretching would she be tall enough to realize what she was now ? tall emotions moving like snakes ... she was flexible now ... not frozen anymore ... 55. Night troupers march to darker nights, touching smaller parts, surrounding the men they call men ... While the red chessboard is melting ... the eye-rag of a pirate ... He's drinking ... and paint is dripping in his head again ... to let him be in another world ... There are fireworks in his head ... and then he goes to sleep, waking up in another world ... 56. He's dreaming of his lost son ... while he finds out he isn't a man anymore ... but a darker creature 57. You're made of songs, while the heat is climbing on the ladder, touching the high bells, for the high songs. You're made of songs and cigarettes, while sunmilk's oil is easing your skin .. It is your skin, these are your comics .. The wasps made such an art ...58. Their alarms are on ... since Red Gabriel is falling ... He's out of the game now ... He has a body of small noses, small gates like smoke alarms .. he walks ... while taking flight on a golden bird .. melting under his body ... he has to fly alone now ... waiting for that last last dive ... to the red island ... he survives ... 59. These are the songs you like ... They take you over fragile bridges ... the red ones ... While you are touching the soft wild fires ... moving wild over your skin ... You are covered now. ... [b. It's melting on your feet, these shoes.] 60. Songcar is riding on the railroads ... but trains cannot crash it ... for it's the third day with sunmilk's oil streaming on your skin ... 61. On so many pillars this city was built pillars of tears for a new Babylon Such a beautiful story ... and you don't know it ... you're just waking up to it ... On that Third Day while guitars are raging through the night ... 62. We're heading for Edom, for Esau's City ... for neon lights ... for soft lights of the water ... We're sinking in red flowerfields ... The rose is sharp, the insides are soft ... Smell the roses by your body ... and wake up to the third day ... 63. Esau, Esau, where did you hide in red heat things are so small ... and we have dashboards in our heads ... If you want to change the world ... You must change your view first You're in a red golden ball ... 64. They fly where all faces are covered by strange songs ... Like plastic implants from the Big Toy ... you start to cry ... These are all bakerman's faces ... carrying the songs which will bring you through the night They are the cooks of frogs and toads ... 65. These women are tied by red tapes, waiting for the big strike ... their abyss has been closed by the angel of the abyss, a devil has been thrown in their pit ... They are looking for death ... but they cannot find it ... She has purple boots, and she's staring at the green. She's too deep, she is my mother ... but she doesn't have a head anymore for the abyss is locked up now by a red key 66. She's staring at the green, she's staring at me ... We are all on a red chessboard while the Night Troupers are watching They have strange songs in their cheeks Raiders come from their eyes ... on that third day ... 67. It's spiralling from the Red Eye ... Sodom's Eye ... and we are in this whirlpool, swimmingpool, masterpool In strange racecars we ride riding the stories, on old records the lambsteads sit ...

She's smoking the fairytales This is the world of feelings, so strong it claims your mind ... to possess and possess like hot chocolate, having raiders darker than men ...

7. 1. Chapters for raising the Summerclause-Balloon. Poetry from the Latin Buffoon Puppet; Boys from Lynx, I only wore your trousers. [b. It was never easy for me to look into the eyes of the grey snake.] 2. It was never easy for me to see him digesting another frog. [b. giving me the empty bottles filled with sand.] 2. Mr. Wasp was never mercifull while gathering the unbroken bones. The horror from the backstage is still wandering through my mind. [b. He stole my boys from lynx, and gave me empty bottles and broken coffeemachines.] 3. He stole my redyellow flags, and took my racecars away, leaving broken toys behind him. [b. While he could drink and swallow so fast from small saturnian bottles filled with purple magic and pink treasures from Bohemian Victories. [c. His butterflies were rats, and his daylights were marmots. [d. and snakes.]]] My mother is still wandering, looking for the last red raspberries of the old frog. 4. They say he will never die, for the memory is his breath. But no one knows where he hides, no one knows where his smoke comes from. 5. Some say he's the tranvestite of the black zone. The grey snake could never feel his breath.
[b. Old coffee-machines do their best. There were wars in coffeeshops ... There where the squirtel hides. [c. Here she lost her baby, to a spanish warrior ... to a grey snake ...]] 6. Mr. Wasp, gather your children. I didn't break your glasses, I didn't take your snakes. The snake-tongue is the last memory attached to your mind. [b. You lost everything in a war of flies. Now you are made of suncakes on Betlehems mornings. [c. There are still warbottles in the sky, where strange creatures live. These were your soulbottles.]] 7. The injection of dr. grey snake made your soul quiet, soothened your soldiers to sleep. The black lullaby is still the bible you read from, cutting away the threatening pages. [b. Now your summercakes are dying, while you are drowning in your ales.] 8.
You still wear the feathers of your ancestors, but you took the needles out of them. Oh, you lost your needles in the sands of the city of sleep. You carry seven beds on your back, you are still a sleepwalker in the rain. [b. No one knows your name is Pharaos, drowning your children in the Nile.]
9. Oh, where are your children, oh hero from the past. You lost them all in your dreams. [b. While you stole the silver.] 10. Bugs are working in your garden, carrying the last seven stones of your pirate-buttons you used to wear. You lost your wildness, you lost your sting. Father, I couldn't follow your strange fruits anymore. [b. Still some think you are Piet Heyn, running away from algebra.] 11. They come from places too far, wearing a linen smile too deep to trust. Forgive me, father, for not kissing your sirens which you used to guard your silences. [b. I will fight to the end.]
12. Their tall tails were never my dreams to sail on. [b. And they drink their waters and wines too quick, from saturnian windchime-bottles, filled with orange perfumes and purple Arabian magic. [c.
Do they drink faster than you do ?]] 13. Forgive me, father, for not wearing the uniforms you gave me, when I was young. [b. You hit your generals on the nose and gave their clothes to me. [c. You forgot to remove the needles by which mother used to sew.] 14. I'm not complaining anymore about the zooming winds in the trousers you gave me. These were the only things I used to wear. [b.
Orange summercakes in brown suns with shampoo, milks and oil.] 15. Bees painted my body to protect me against the cold nights in the summer. I was your summer-child, your saturday kid. You used to spoil me with grandfathers secrets. [b. Oh Thoth, do not take your summercakes from me.]
16. I will never forget your soft embracements, they brought the tears back to my swallowed heart [b. showing me the glues of the past, the shampoos, the sunmilks and the oil [c. bringing me back to grandmothers coffeemachines [d. on christmasdays and easterdays, when hearts were spouting money.] --] 17. Father, I still feel the holes in my head, the thorns in my hands, the needles woven throughout my body, looking for my inner cellars, below the houses of my heart. [b. They are looking for the juices. They want to fill my bottles with sand and ashes.] [18. I still see aunt walking outside in the garden, wearing a carved smile, hunting the city-bees.] [19. It always soothed my inner garages, who used to produce steaming bull-boats. I buried my bulls long ago, in the garden of my neighbour's.] [20. Aunt used to carve the flowers in their horns. I still see her bathing in too hot waters, she looks like you, father.] 8. 1. How tall are these legs of the boys from lynx. They don't seem to touch the ground. 2. They are the waiters in the little hotel of amsterdam. They are still waiting for the old host, who doesn't seem to show up very often. [b. They still want to marry his sirens.] 3. They are still dragging the rivers again, looking for old drowned watches to sell. 4. They sell everything, but the prices are too high. 5. The watches aren't working anymore, but the buyers like the flavors of it. 6. The people wear big noses, bought in the trick-shops at the canals. 7. The waiters from lynx are also selling noses. They are the leaders of the blind, selling them long sticks with hands at the tops. 8. They like to be on the beaches of forest-seas, gathering the sand to keep them all blind. They are playing marbles with eyes. 9. Boy of Lynx, you knew the hiding secret of the killer-eye. Pacman was the fright of the seven seas. 10. You saw his clouds of canaries terrorizing the coasts of the planet. He never revealed his name, while burning the ships of spanish rivers. He never spat out the goldfishes he ate. [b. Some said his name was Michiel Adrianson The Ruyter, sitting at golden tables and golden chessboards with Ra.] 11. He used to curse the little statues of white saints hanging on his arms. 12. Their blue bingo-cards are still frightening his mind. 13. You always hated the prince of domino, you used to play billiards with him. 14. His cues were taller than yours, and his green money had blue shades, sharp crenated. 15. You couldn't stand his odor of innocence, captivating your houses, without doubts. 16. You always said his tongue was too tall, and his balls were cubes. [b. Do you still not know the curse of the marbler ?] 17. A gambler entered your house on a horse, without breaking a wall, a feast in history. [b. Prince of domino, hanging on the waves of your mother's dress.] 18. Prince of pears, running through the milk, searching for the exit. [b. All these cities were spoilt by the handicapped nurses of the big eye, gathering drunk, drained saturdays on a sunday-morning.] 19. Don't cry when another snake takes you away to it's lair. This is how you discover the world. 20. Little killer-eye, in bagdad you had your palace, until the spanish dreams took it away. 21. Now you're reading latin braille, chasing the killer-whales away. No one knows you are blind. 22. Your television died long ago. You are wearing black glasses, to hide your shame and fear. 23. You still love to play pacman, behind your invisible screen [b. but you are a blind child.] 24. You lost your marbles, you lost your luck, you were living as a prince of lost games in the palace of failure. Broken records were entering through your windows, broken languages were painted on your walls. Broken trust, broken games. All you wanted to do was escaping in fear and become a fright. [b. But in your heart you are a prince, carrying the games of your mother and father under your arms, in pride. You know how to play the games, you know where to put your pawns. Your golden dice are still blinking in the sun.] 25. A spanish dream blinded your sight, but you are still in your palace. 26. A little latin killer-buffoon, a prophet from the black zone, wearing zorro's sword, paralyzed your soul. 27. But the balls of the domino-prince weren't cubes, the spanish dream turned you upside down. 28. Little orphan, your heart is so frozen. The high-heeled ice-cream made your heart bleed. 29. Show me the thorns in your eyes, show me the threads of your puppets. 30. Little puppet-master, driven by unreachd trophees, hunted by the lions of an unreachd football [b. your medaillons are still bleeding in the gardens.] 31. You were too afraid to show your heart, afraid to show your empty marble-sack. 32. Running over broken chess-boards, stinging your feet. 33. Wrestling with stubborn playcards, sailing ships in a glass of red wine, drowning in cups too full of beer [b. but the domino-prince is still on your side.] 34. In the billiard-room you met the boys from lynx. [b. They always saw you as their little friend, their little son. They are still nursing the blind.] 9. 1. Officer of destruction, little terrorist from libra [b. you are still a whispering prince, shutting doors with a sigh and a shhh.] 2. You watched the boys of lynx, cutting languages, voices, speeches and foreign accents in their checked yellowgolden kettles [b. spreading their beaches over the edges of steam to cover the eyes of the swimming dictionaries, to bring the sirens of the old wasp into sleep.] 3. Seventy lullaby-divers were entering the kettles, dropping their anchors to determine the gliding flavours. 4. Did pinocchio ever play billiards ? His lies were enough to let the balls stream. 5. Somebody's knocking on your old barn It's the ornament's prince the daydream's confession sitting on a hard day's mouse he's a good driver you admire his pears spinning like triangles in the wind good old day-possession 6. Pictures glowing on a sunday morning ... grandmother washed them with care ... they are so shiny now ... 7. Pictures glowing in the grass ... mothers garden is full of glitters now like frogs trying to get your attention ... for that what is happening far away ... in the land over the hills ... 8. And now, today, it's christmas ... santa clause is riding his horses ... these tall horses in the night ... [b. Peter Pan .. is painting the pictures ... having that strange boy in his arms ... that strange boy from saturn ... [c. Peter Pan ... is washing the pictures with fire ... like she always did with her garden ... [d. or by summersnow She's still my love ... she's still my silent witness of everything which is happening deep down .. there .. in my heart ... [e. Where an old red man with the old grey long beard is standing painting his beard white .. so white ... [f. He's tall and thin, thinking he's sandman ... but he isn't ...[g. He is the red dragon ... showing his muscles in the night ... and a young face showing his supermen in the night ... [h. showing their blooming flowers they hold tied ... all stuffed up .. by a florist ... [i. and this is why I don't want to see her ever again ...] --] 9. He is the red dragon ... holding his goddess so tight ... but today she's mine again ... He is the red dragon ... [b. painting his toys in the night ... [c. but there's something so strange in their embraces [d. and I don't trust their prayers for sweet coffee ...]] 10. He is the red dragon sailing on a Japanese Ship ... sailing on the hand of his old father while he himself is so old [b. They didn't dare to talk to me all these smiling girls ... [c. For I was in the prison of the red dragon ... [d. to have some stalkers around [e. thick dragon walls [f. Still they march on the towers ... [g. on the walls of the castle [h. singing their strange songs in the night ... [i. marching in a strange dance if you ask me [j. He is ... the ..red dragon ...] --] 11. He is the red dragon ... holding his babies so tight ... [b. and I'm still a young young girl ... [c. He thinks I am his paradise bird ... [d. I'm a yellow mermaid [e. Doing this poetry to you [f. giving you this book ... [g. He ... is ... the Red Dragon ...]--] 12. He is the red dragon and I am his milkmaid he thinks ... [b. I am his baby surrounded by watchers ... watchers in the night the nightwatch a painting ... nothing but a painting] 13. While everyone seems to like it ... while he's holding his goddess so tight ... but today she's mine again my mother will be free again for he now knows the secret ... and he know holds the treasures ... while he cannot bear it ... while milk is streaming all over to drown the lands once again ... his lands 14. He is the red dragon ... and she is a yellow milkmaid ... screaming in unknown languages ... 15. He is the red dragon ... singing his songs of fire ... while he's living in ice deep down in ice ... 16. He is the red dragon ... red ice so hot He is the red dragon ... and he's singing his songs of fire ... coming from the ice the red ice ... 17. He was born in the nest of a lark ... he's still a lark-dragon ... he was born on both sides ... of a kettle ... a kettle of tea ... and he's still staring at something in the air ... something he doesn't want to know about ... 18. He's still staring at a liar ... something bigger than he ... he's causing so much rains in farms ... he's causing some things to bleed ... he is dragging his smiling girls to the ground ... where they pay his bills ... where they make his trousers .. where they

rule the kettle ... [b. these sparrows in the wind] 19. This woman is laughing at the rain ... of the sun This woman is laughing at his tails This woman is rising ... like the phoenix from the ashes ... like the caramel from the kettle 20. This woman is rising She ... is the red lady ... she is the green babygirl ... she is the tall trousers ... coming from the moon ... She ... is the tall woman She ... is the woman from the tree 21. She likes to paint in chaos ... scratching the treasures from his knee So many liars are walking around ... so many spoilers .. drinking their coffee ... So many liars in their ships The pride of the red dragon but he's still ... staring at someone lying more than him. ... 10. 1. Thick cold juices are streaming through the street, the guitar of the snake is their leader, echoing the frightening cries of old forgotten orphans. 2. The stiletto-guitar wakes them up again, and they are marching out of their graves, out of the forgotten graveyards, looking for revenge. No one listened to them when they were young. Now they are old and bitter, looking for the toys they never had, searching for the wine they never drank. 3. They were forgotten, now they will forget. I burnt the flags of rat-armies, drank the tears of bleeding apples. I fought against the forgotten sun, and the lost caves, but it didn't seem to bring me across the river of death. Only the snake could do. 4. The Italian orphan is bleeding, painting his memories by his blood. With the hat of his father, he collects money for his art. 5. His feet are bleeding, leaving red footprints in the sand, for his birds to follow. He was born like a pirate, a toy-pirate. He was the red pawn of a chess-board of angels. Now his father screams at him from heaven. 6. Still he runs through the rain with his fathers hat, in which he collects the old widowers from the streets. He doesn't want to let them die in the cold. 7. The numbers are floating in his mind and he's breathing fire, spitting ice. 8. Baker, spin your wine, baker, cover your liqueurs with rags. You, father of french orphans, you, father of jaguar queens, you bred the snake to it's length and stole the tower from the church by a black rat-glove in the snow. 9. Your wife was the black widow, the clock of the broken tower, and you painted the noses of your tiny little killer-puppets. They didn't need a line, didn't need a thread, they could walk with their own minds, you bred them well. 10. You are entering the chinese city, sailing on your purple golden boat, spun licorice. The old man will greet you from his rocking-chair on the balcony of his wooden house at the bank of the chinese river of licorice-waves. You are shaking hands with the golden giants of the chinese dreams. You never thought this would happen to you. 11. In the heart of this place you find the last golden swan. You feel it's heat bumping against the thick walls of your hand, and it's warmth is gliding into your soul, waiting for a new sunset ringing in your mind. 12. You, oh prince, still your mothers last black pearl, turning from brown into white, hovering to enter a new story in japan. 13. Among the jaguars was your place, now you are wearing their suits and riding their cycles, watching the teeth of jupiter, the birth of new rats. 14. Your jackets are getting taller, your fathers whispers are getting sharper in your mind. You can peel your mothers flowers, carrying the widower's coffin. 15. The last golden swan is beating in the old purple leather bag of your mothers aunt. A little clock is located in the head of the swan, made by the black widow. 16. She is the queen of killer-clocks, creating killer-birds from an old french window. 17. The red eye of the little swan is flashing, it's a little red chrystal. I take it out of it's head, and the clock quits his travels. Now the serpent can sleep. 18. His dreams are gliding through the waters of the swan-lake, bringing him back to where he comes from. 19. I wrap the little gem in a soft towel throwing it in the yellow sea, where a mermaid starts to scream at me. Is it me who's screaming, a reflection of myself, or is it really a mermaid. 20. Do I hear voices in my head, or is a milkmaid standing before the door of my room ? She broke in twice while I was sleeping, and took my cats away. 21. Now she is standing at the yellow sea screaming in unknown languages. Fortune fairytales were coming from her lips and she ate fishes to shut their threats, to shut the old voices of foreign fables. She could turn the weather in a moment.

22. Threehundred and eighty-four rats are surrounding the castle of the red dragon, wearing the blue jaguar on their flags. Japanese delights are their specialities. Their kitchens are full of green moss. The forests are so shiny here. 23. The prince's eyes bleed, the swanlake is speaking to his mind again. The yellow princess, still hiding his tears. 24. What really happened there, in the swanlake, there, at the bottom of his broken dreams ? 25. Mummified by flower-comics. There, at the swanbridge, she brought her mummified man, sacrificing him to the red dragon. The comics were aching his mind, for they were dipped in poison. He's still reading his comics, speaking in a strange language again. 26. Sixty comics are entering his mind again, planting the red eye in his head. His mind is screaming, his heart is releasing and he hears the sharp voice of the baker again. 27. He's getting swivel-eyed again. He's reaching for his inner child, this man in jail. He's feeling his ring feeling his finger. 28. It's stinging and pinching him. He feels his ring is reading his comics too, and he's ashamed of himself. He's diving at a new ring, a blue one, but he can't reach it because of the waves. 29. He feels and breathes his grandfather's smoke of a pipe, and he's trying to break the bars which separate him from his inner child. 30. A battle against a million of rings start, but his mind starts to fade away. One moment he finds himself running between the bars, and he starts to realize that the bars aren't the problem anymore, for between them there is a gate. 31. All colors start to jump on him, but he breaks these waves one by one, catching them with his back. 32. In the mills of his mind, they find a way out and enter his heart to stir up some new troubles. 33. On the other side of the bars, they seemed to be rats, and he mutates with them, racing out of the castle on a friend's feather. 34. Darkness and fogs are fading away. A new day starts. 35. Four skaters are skating at the lake, picking up an old red doll, lying in the snow. He's leaving a world under the ice. 36. Paper soldiers are dragging the waterholes. She's leaving. He's leaving a world under the ice. 37. He's floating in the air, the red doll is smiling, meeting skaters in the air, reaching an arch of ice above the stars. He's leaving another world in the ice. 38. Under the ice, it starts to boil, until an enormous explosion splits the atmosphere in a myriad of splinters, all raging at the fat red lady in the midst of the universe. 39. The red rainbow looks in her mirror again, seeing a face fading away. She smiles, watching a dream coming to it's end. Now she can sleep again without worries. 40. She dries her wet clothes, rolls through the white sand, entering the forests of her dreams, waiting for another split, waiting for another world to leave in the ice. 41. She's leaving one shoe, leaving one glove, to finally enter her golden bath, without looking backwards, watching straight ahead, without bowing her head, every step is silver, every breath is gold, entering the marble galleries of her forgotten dreams. 42. She remembers again, she breaths, like a new born baby. 43. She's wearing the silver secrets of the jaguar under her arms, captured in three silver books. Smoke covers the city, the orange swivel-eyed phoenix is rising from the ashes, carrying a jaguar, a lemon and a red doll on her back, leaving thick moisty juice-stripes in the air, flying to new eternities. 44. A seven-headed orange dragon called Jesus, wearing seven crowns, is entering the first silver book of the jaguar, eating the letters and purple pictures out of the book. 45. A seven-headed orange snake called Esau, wearing seven pointy hats, is fishing the brown warm shoes out of the second silver book of the jaguar. 46. They are all kings of the dawn, kings of the orange morningstar.

11. 1. Chapter to raise the Easterclause-Balloon. To be able to survive in the land of nonsense one has to learn and teach nonsense ... I'm finally sitting behind my piano again ... after all these ages ... But I still can't sing 2. A giant took my voice when I was a kid My brother screamed when he took my voice out of my chest Neither my brother sang ever again since that day ... [b. He only played the piano to calm my heart] 3. The bird in my brother's chest died of sorrow the day the giant took my voice away ... 4. The juices dripping from my piano are echoing through the night

5. I still hear the footsteps of the giant walking up the stairways His steps echoing in the night reaching for the bed where I sleep 6. The giant has three daughters ... Their voices echoing through the cities ... Their movements echoing through the tv's of the houses You can see everything they do ... [b. And what they do ... is not so nice] 7. My brother's bird is chained there, sitting on a wooden stick ... It has to sing for them day and night On sundays the bird has to preach for them And reading from some old black books with silver pages [b. I'm kidnapping one of the giant-daughter's spinningwheel and race through Jupiter's Mirror heading for the old suit-shop] 8. Their voices echoing through the streets ... [b. I can't believe it, they are speaking about me They are singing their songs, echoing through the radios of the city ...] 9. It's all about me ... His daughters span the voices in their coins The ancient legendary rich ... The ancient legendary misers ... I wondered how they got that rich [b. There where schooltime was a bird's funeral They burnt my bird in their attics] 10. I remember your face, teacher Like yesterday's hell The keys to the answers lay on my dish ... Why didn't you tell me you were just a good baker ? Baking strange bread with diamonds inside ... 11. You could be my friend if you would tell me earlier You have a wonderful world inside ... Why didn't you tell me you were the white rabbit ? Why didn't you tell me my name was alice ? We would be the best friends [b. But would that bring back my little bird ?] 12. A staggers-cat called Herod joins the group He's on his way to Bethlehem to see a new pupil ... But he first has to buy himself a new coin-suit Tonight the phoenix will rise from the ashes of bethlehem your little bird he sais 13. I feel my throat tingle ... I'm getting my voice back ... You have to talk nonsense he sais For you saw this was the only way to find the answer to get your bird back 14. I got the staggers in my head, and I saw the truth It exists, It exists It's all true We are all in the cage of denial But nonsense is free running in the fields of dreams 15. I'm thanking my teachers for bringing me back to the dream They teached me to speak nonsense while being serious with a tight face It's the face of the coin who can do this ... for people need it to buy their bread ... Another mark of the beast ... To be able to survive in the land of nonsense one has to learn and teach nonsense ... 16. I know soon there will be a storm taking creatures away to Oz 17. I didn't know you were a staggercat ... If you would have said it earlier, we could have much fun together But it's ok then I would have missed all these awsome and wonderful books of my teachers All these wonderful cards 18. There my head appears on a playcard They say these cards are the judges of the universe ... We are all standing in a circle ... Waiting for the moon to bath us in silver It's the gathering of the stagger-cards turning worlds upside down 19. The circle starts to spin In these tornado's the stagger-insects are born Deliriums Their speeches can't be followed They are the whispers of the universe [b. The three daughters of the giant know all about it They spin these whispers their whole life Wars of the playcards] 20. These insects appear on the banknotes and bills of society ... Their signatures enchant the world ... Without speaking their nonsense no one can understand you and you can't understand them 21. The old staggercat is mixing some old dictionaries in his kettle preparing a new language Some old ears through the mix Some old tv's and radios And even some old shoes 22. I see little fat men walking on the ceilings They have big hats and white faces Buddhas are coming out of their hats, floating in bubbles to the floor ... I know the faces of these men They all have the same face The face of the greengrocer White Fruits from Vega-South The Arabian Mistress is speaking ... Her eyes are like a tiger or a lion The rest of her face is covered by a white decorated veil 23. An Egyptian king is speaking nonsense to his people ... they all nod yes ... in big fevers for his face is on their banknotes My hand is sliding to my gun These tunnels are pretty dark and dangerous I won't take no any risk ...

There I slide into a river called Cat's Fever The dogs are swimming here ... 24. The gnat's fever is a pretty one ... Neon-Glue is running through my body ... 25. The wasp's fever ... Like reading It's softer here in the deeper cores of earth than I thought ... 26. Finally I drink from Alice's tea watching the nonsense of the tiger My tongue is falling out I get a new one Here I see another Lion Fever I got to weave my way to the Chrystal of Delirium deeper in the center of the clock ... I want to know Babel's secret ... The tongue of confusion 27. A cat called confusion is knocking at my doors I beg him to confuse me, to create chaos in my head For the brightness in my head hurts me so deep The lies in my head scream so loud I want to get a good fever and to go to bed Oh, how I want to learn another language This language is breaking my hat ... 28. Turn my world upside down for I'm living in a box of lies 29. I will give you the fever of a radio ... he says His chaos is softly roaring in my head ... soothing my heart and hat the frightening tinned soldiers fall down out of my head's cupboards ... 30. Deep in the center where all the clock-hands cross I saw his face The comic-cat There where they drink comic-juice There where the teachers ask questions in unknown languages There where no translation exists [b. A cartoon-cat is ticking on my shoulder I see a sick child more beautiful than a lion schoolsick] 31. Feeling the snake's split tongue bubbling in my mouth again ... The only way to escape the land of the split talk is to talk the split talk 32. I had a teacher who always asked me where I was talking about when I repeated his own words Three big little blind girls, a Triplets, are knocking on my door ... bringing me a little fir ... Then they disappear diving into the sea ... changing into whales The secret of the trident Feeling a Three-Tongue burning in my mouth 33. Trident Wars in Egypt's Pyramid Insects of the trident-sting ... Grandparents of the wasp ... 34. Where am I talking about ? I'm fainting in the classroom again [b. and Easterclause brings us always to Holidayclause.] 35. Your nightmares were there to serve you To bring you out of the nonsense into the dream-world where you are free [b. Here you can drink the juices of fairground I am the master and creator of all fairgrounds] 36. I recorded all his teachings backwards I heard the most wonderful fairytales 37. Question-languages are running through my mind ... reaching for the apples of my heart But I don't hear anything The big ear is closing the shop ... he will go to sleep when he's home ... His wife is kissing him, giving him today's sail-magazine 38. When he goes to sleep he will dream about ships This is the only thing he cares about Tomorrow he will go for a trip around the world, sailing the oceans He's finally retired on a pension now 39. After working so long in the sailor's shop ... Tomorrow it will be a toy-shop But he doesn't care about that anymore ... His son will take it over ... You can never convince a deaf man ... [b. Tomorrow the Big Ear will speak [c. under Bekehelm's helmet..... Tomorrow the Big Ear will smoke.]] 40. A language is the other's speech-defect ... all languages come forth from speech-defects 41. I'm the language-butcher he says I confuse and cut all the existing languages and making new ones 42. I work in the tower of Babel I'm the eco-system in speech

12. 1. Chapter for raising the Holidayclause Balloon. The suns are so pale there, in the middle of these tables It's blinding you, it makes us deaf, until Uncle Peacock takes us away ... 2. The suns are so pale here ... it's Christmas in the skies and all these clauses are ascending ... spreading so many lies on television ... it's the pick pock family's decision 3. They locked me up years ago ... to let me dance on their tables spreading the lies of a green tomato's dragon ... service with a little light three sides on the coin or maybe more 4. The suns are so pale here ... the clauses are lying spreading their bakerman's faces ... spreading their ornament's dreams tonight it's on television and then the babies dream ... then the ship's ascending like Dadda's cloudship bringing us to uncle unicorn ... 5. Dreams are so pale here ... spreading so many lies all these clauses on television these lights too bright ... while the shoe sinks in the stocking ... these are uncle peacock's lights all on a leprechaun's table in a leprechaun's coin ... the third side strange road to hell ... here their hairs are burning 6. Here all smiles are fake and they do strange business and they do strange games cuyornaida corset a white boot on a green table ... with uncles around them uncle peacock, uncle unicorn and uncle one to ten ... 7. I am a table-ballerina, spreading lies so high ... spreading soothing machines ... to let them do business these warmachines ... by lies I bring them to sleep Is it the curse on my table ... [b. I am a table dancer, a strange clock, a strange spider, all in the coin of a leprechaun] 8. I do my decisions So much ashes behind the deserts ... where a white chocolate house stands 9. There's business around the big shoe, standing on the table ... spinning around like a crazy spider ... making the plants ... while the silver is hiding [b. and the gold is uniting ... and rising ... and the bananas are burning ... [c. They are dying becoming straight like blue bananas like the big amon ...]--] 10. Like the blue tables behind the streams of sandman I feel like an old table in a museum watching the statues of jokes ... with their rings so tight ... where records spin ... 11. Where dishes take flight to reach for the other day ... through silver skies the bakerman's faces will unite ... like golden rains it will spout these wasprains from such a strange television 12. The queen of england knows all about it she's pressing the people ... like newyears eveningpapers and a little boy is running for no one wants to eat it and now they're eating him ... these dogs in dark skies ... where the silver hides 13. These are worlds in golden coins ... where the bananas burn like fire ... the ashes are good bullets for the guns ... these orange guns of mr. orange dreaming on ... to the tables behind the sleep these sandman tables ... he's having feathers and fruits in his head [b. and I do not understand]. 14. We are heading for another sleep in these rippling silver skies ... Give me my candles burning tight in the palest night ... these pyramids they rise inside [b. I saw a red pinocchio ... sleeping today ... between a green pinocchio and a golden one ... [c. while silver machines were soothing them ... a blue one entered the room speaking in unknown languages ... while the tables started to spin ... and the purple started to rise ... in this daydream's lies]--] 15. On the deserts of the planet mars ... where the icecream machines are rising ... they are creating the distances in the sky, while you think the ships are big so close ... while seventy heats are rising ... from september's bank ... 16. With wasprains in the hand you can search the skies ... it was made by banana and spice ... good old warmachines from uncle peacock ... a true auctioneer on lazy drama holidays .. 17. With the auctions in their pockets, they make the best money ... for cake's conspiracies ... dream on, .. sharpening the lies from uncles gun .. breed the bakers .. throw the suns .. into a new basket of snakes 18. By dagons shatters they turn the icecreams backwards ... she's selling pictures of arms ... so strange it makes you cry ... while your trousers are crying deserts .. your shoes are crying moons ... there are ten mirrors for a liars shatter. 19. Wet forestdreams ... doing egyptian screams ... all backwards wrapped in snow ... she breeds the vanilla ... she breeds the lucifer fire ... in the distance there is smoke so visible ... while auctions rise from strange banks .. these are uncle peacocks horrorshows ... 20. Who takes the children ? the one with the biggest money or the one with the biggest gun ... they don't want to go to arabia ... but they have to go .. it's already ten o clock ... hold your breath .. for within a few whisperings you will be home again ... 21. All in a zebra's watch ... so many cigarlighters from the dawn .. smoking by elve's conspiracies ... he's the prince of video-clips showing his tranvestite claw .. while spiderclocks are running from his mouth ... 22. Suddenly it breaks through edges to a lucifer's wonderland ... izu in the distance ... the auctioneer burns the hammers ... no one dares to walk ... [b. gepetto makes the clocks of pinocchios wood ...] 23. These are wars of the businessmen ... I was a wilder animal ... exploding into the one

